

FLOGGING VICTIMS TALK--U. S. AID TO CRUSH BLACK LEGION IS WANTED

2 CONFESS IN THE DEATH OF YOUNG WORKER

KILLED 'BECAUSE HE KNEW TOO MUCH,' PAIR SAY

DETROIT, May 25. (AP)—Murder and kidnap charges were asked by Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea today for 13 members of the Black Legion held here in the slaying of Charles A. Poole, and for 12 John Does who may have attended the meeting at which Poole's "execution" was planned.

The prosecutor, declaring the vigilante society is "an outlaw organization national in scope," announced he would ask the "Department of Justice to help us drive it out of existence."

Two of the men held, McCrea said, had admitted that Poole, a young WPA worker, was "put to death because he knew too much," and not because he had been accused, falsely, of beating his wife.

The thirteen named in the warrant recommendation were: Harvey Davis, a "colonel" in the black-cloaked order which has a death's head for its insignia; Dayton Dean, accused of emptying two pistols into Poole's body on a lonely suburban road May 13; Ervin D. Lee and Urban Lipps, both of whom McCrea said have confessed; George C. Johnson, Paul R. Edwards, and Edgar Baldwin, who are accused of having been present at the killing; Howard Gill and Lowell Rushing, relatives of Poole by marriage; Thomas R. Craig, John Bannerman, John B. Mitchell, and John S. Vincent.

James Roy Loran, one of the men detained last week, will be released, McCrea said. Three others, Bert Graham, Leonard Lipps, and Luther Glasgow were released previously.

Investigations were under way into several unsolved deaths as state and local agencies sought to determine if they were linked with the Black Legion, which Harry Colburn, McCrea's chief investigator, said had 135,000 armed members in Michigan alone.

DETROIT, May 25. (AP)—The federal government will be asked to aid in a fight to "uproot and destroy" the Black Legion, Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea said today.

"The Black Legion is an outlaw organization, and we are going to ask the government to help us drive it out of existence," he said.

The prosecutor also announced that two of the 13 members of the vigilante band held here in the death of Charles A. Poole had admitted that the young WPA worker "was put to death because he knew too much."

The two confessed, McCrea said.

MUNICIPAL BANKRUPTCY ACT INVALID

Byrns Advocates Definite Action Against Townsend

House 'Not Going To Be Flouted,' He Asserts

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP)—Speaker Byrns and Rep. Bankhead, the democratic leader, told members today that definite action must be taken against Dr. F. E. Townsend for his defiance of a House investigating committee.

At a joint press conference at which they said the House was "not going to be flouted" by Townsend, the old age pension leader's walkout on the committee and subsequent defiant statements were ample basis for a contempt action.

The action defied the powers of Congress to make investigations, Bankhead said, "and some action, of course, must be taken."

Byrns said if the "House is not willing to assert its authority it would destroy all future congressional investigations."

Speaking personally, the speaker said he believed the case should be turned over to the federal court instead of being tried in the House.

"With a contempt trial before 435 members there is no telling how long it might last," Byrns said, referring to the concerted drive for early adjournment.

SWANSON BACK — FDR AND CABINET REJOICE

President Roosevelt's happiness over the surprise visit of Secretary of the Navy Claude A. Swanson, shown with him in the auto seat, was responsible for this rare photograph of a cabinet get-together on the White House lawn. When Secretary Swanson, gravely ill for several months, reached the White House, the elated chief executive immediately adjourned the regular meeting of department heads. Then they reassembled on the lawn outside for this unusual scene. Grouped about Roosevelt and Swanson are shown, from left to right: Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace; Secretary of War George Dern; Under Secretary of State William Phillips Jr.; Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr.; Attorney General Homer S. Cummings; Vice President John N. Garner; Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace; Rear Admiral Adolphus Andrews, acting secretary of the navy; Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper, and Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes.

Section Is Soaked By More Than 2-in. Rain In Week-End

MUD SPLASHES IN DUST BOWL AFTER DELUGE Residents Eye River Flowing Bank Full At Beaver

GUYMON, Okla., May 25. (AP)—Drenching rains which fell during the week-end in part of Oklahoma, Texas, and Kansas brought at least a temporary end to "black blizzards" in a large part of the nation's dust bowl area.

While the Oklahoma Panhandle's dust was turned into mud by the hardest rains in three years, torrential downpours in Texas sent the Colorado river near Columbus out of its banks and soaking rains in widespread sections of Kansas benefited wheat crops.

The Texas Panhandle received moisture which brought cheer to farmers.

"The rains in this vicinity will start vegetation growing even if we receive no more moisture for a while," said H. C. Haver, Texas county agent.

At Beaver, residents turned out in large numbers to witness the unusual sight of a river, flowing bank full, after 27 1/2 inches of rain had made sodden fields of what once were sand dunes.

The North Canadian river, which had been virtually dry for three years, ran bank full by several inches.

Goodwell had two inches of rain; Boise City 20 inch; Stratford, Tex. 1.32 inches; Elkhart, Kas. .79 inch; Dalhart, Texas, .60 inch; and Hooker, Okla. 1.15 inches.

Pampa Business Men Urged To Attend Banquet

Any business man who has not yet purchased a ticket for the banquet tonight of the Pampa Credit association may get at the door, it was announced this morning. The event will start at 8 p. m.

Tickets are 75 cents for this first annual banquet in the dining room of the First Methodist church. The audience is expected to reach 150.

Travis Lively, president of the association, will preside and will introduce W. H. Patrick, well-known banker of Clarendon, who will make the main address.

Judge Small Of Wellington Dies

WELLINGTON, May 25. (AP)—Judge E. H. Small, 76, father of State Senator Clint C. Small of Amarillo, died here early today. A heart attack was responsible.

A pioneer settler, Judge Small came here in 1891.

He was a retired cattleman, merchant and at one time had been president of the Farmers and Merchants State bank at Shamrock. He probably was one of the best-known men in the Panhandle.

Funeral services were arranged for 5 p. m. tomorrow at the First Methodist church in Shamrock, with the Rev. R. Thompson of Amarillo officiating. He will be buried in a Shamrock cemetery.

Judge Small was survived by five daughters and three sons: Mrs. Fred Holmes, Mrs. Temple Atkins and Mrs. E. H. Kramer, all of Shamrock; Mrs. Walter Mount of Amarillo; Mrs. Templeton of Wellington; Senator Clint Small of Amarillo; Horace Small of Oklahoma City, and Hugh Small of Wellington.

Much Rain Continues To Fall Over The Panhandle

A week-end chorus of frogs was music to the ears of plains residents as rainfall from overcast skies totaled 2.44 inches. The total for the month up to 8 a. m. today was 3.56 inches.

This morning was darkly cloudy, but with light spots showing up on the horizon as the drifting masses of water vapor changed positions.

And from this sky came a misty drizzle at mid-morning.

Railroad dispatchers found the rainfall at every point of contact, ranging from an inch to more than three inches for the week-end.

Formerly dry lake-beds which swallowed previous rains without leaving a drop of water in sight, are now widening into mirror-like lakes.

Roads are slippery and cut into deep ruts where heavily traveled, fields are soft and holding water in listed rows and terrace structures.

Yesterday Pampa crops were filled to the brim at times, although heavy downpours were brief and intermittent.

Much traffic between Shamrock and Amarillo was routed by Pampa over the McLean-Pampa paving betw...

5-4 DECISION DELIVERED BY HIGHEST COURT

ANOTHER LAW PASSED BY NEW DEAL IS THROWN OUT

BY JAMES A. DOUTHAT, Associated Press Staff Writer. WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP)—The Supreme Court today wiped out the law enacted in 1934 to help cities, counties, and other political subdivisions reduce their indebtedness through federal bankruptcy courts.

A five to four decision held the act violated the rights of states, and therefore was unconstitutional.

Justice McReynolds spoke for the majority and Justice Cardozo for the minority. Chief Justice Hughes and Justices Brandeis and Stone agreed with Cardozo.

"If obligations of states or their political subdivisions may be subjected to the interference here attempted, they are no longer free to manage their own affairs," the majority opinion said.

It was set forth that "the will of Congress" would prevail over them, should the law be allowed to stand.

Justice Cardozo asserted that great care had been taken under the legislation to "maintain inviolate" the "governmental powers of the state and its subdivision," and "the statute is constitutional."

The ruling reversed a decision by the Fifth circuit court of appeals which upheld the legislation.

The act had been challenged by certain bondholders of the Cameron county, Texas, water improvement district No. 1.

"Notwithstanding the broad grant of power of Congress to lay and collect taxes," the majority said, previous decisions show "that Congress could not levy any tax on the bonds issued by the respondent (water improvement district) or upon income derived therefrom."

"So to do would be an unwarranted interference with fiscal matters of the state—essentials to her existence. Many opinions explain and support this view."

"The especial purpose of all bankruptcy legislation is to interfere with the relations between the parties concerned—to change, modify

Radio Programs Publicize Pageant, Cavalcade On Sunday Afternoon

The next rehearsal of El Dorado Centennial pageant will be held tomorrow night at the high school gym, weather permitting.

Centennial attractions were glowingly depicted over radio station KPDN yesterday. Mr. Guill talked briefly, describing pageant and rehearsal plans.

Lee Bowden's Rotary club troop and troop 7, sponsored by the Presbyterian church, Berger, gave a 30-minute broadcast about the Cavalcade.

Mr. Bowden was assisted by his assistant scoutmaster, Ely Fonville and Scouts Clarence Cunningham and Lewis Nichols.

Those from Berger on the program were Scoutmaster Crookes and Scouts Jack Robinson, V. K. Aubrey and Lewis Nichols.

Listeners called in to praise both programs.

L. O. Johnson, chairman of the radio committee for the Cavalcade, announced that the Hoover troop had been invited to give the program next Sunday from 5:30 until 6 o'clock.

EXPOSITION TO BE READY JUNE 6—NO FOOLING

Maze Of Incomplete Buildings Seen On Grounds

DALLAS, May 25. (AP)—Twelve days to go we shall not fall. Signs emblazoned with this slogan gave speed to the crews of hurrying workmen at the Texas Centennial grounds today as they rushed desperately to complete the $25,000,000 exposition by June 6.

To the visitors, wandering through the maze of incomplete buildings and littered grounds, it seems well nigh impossible to finish the big job in time for the opening deadline.

Centennial officials, undaunted by the thousands of details remaining to be completed, are confident that everything important will be ready when the grounds are open to welcome the general public.

One sees crews of negroes laying squares of turf on the hard packed ground around gaunt buildings. Hot on their trail come men with lawnmowers, busily trimming the grass even before it is settled in place.

Scaffolding still frames the unfinished state of Texas hall, rising majestically beyond the unfilled reflecting basin just inside the main entrance. Many other buildings are mere shells.

ALLRED'S RECORD UNEXCELLED

So excellent is the record of James V. Allred, serving his first term as governor, that one wonders why anyone opposes him for renomination. If the people of Texas properly show their appreciation of the young governor in the Democratic primary, he will get a majority and renomination on the first ballot.

It may not be amiss to list some of the governor's major accomplishments:

The state finances are in excellent condition. There is a four million dollar surplus in the school fund. The deficit is one of bookkeeping only.

Creation of a creditable state police force is under way despite the difficulties created by the remnant of the old-time Ranger force. The state police department promises to be a source of pride to the citizenship.

Ten millions of dollars was appropriated with the governor's approval for the aid of crippled rural school districts and widely disbursed as far as the governor could control the matter.

The governor is carrying out in letter and spirit the will of the people as expressed in the liquor control law. The governor made good appointments to the board is self-supporting and some two and one-half millions net have come into the treasury.

The governor set up a workable old age pension system. The federal social security board pronounced the set-up the best any state has submitted and its matching state contributions dollar for dollar. Sixty thousand old age pension checks averaging $20 will go out July 1.

A 50-million-dollar highway improvement program will be under way by July. It represents a combination of state federal and relief funds capably brought together by the governor's highway department.

Oil companies are taking no part in the race. They are not backing or opposing Allred and contributing not a cent to any gubernatorial candidate.

Allred by his personality and oratorical ability, has given the state immensely valuable advertising. This contrasts favorably with what happened in previous years. The governor is at the present moment one of the state's best assets—Dallas Dispatch.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The big winner in the Republican primaries seems to have been Mr. Roosevelt.

That's because Roosevelt and Democratic candidates have been piling up larger votes in various important states than have the Republican candidates, particularly in California, Illinois, and Ohio.

The Ohio primary system is a comparatively scrambled affair, and arbitrary conclusions usually are not to be drawn there from the bare figures. But informed men who four months ago were saying that the state was lost to the Democrats, now concede that Ohio would land in Roosevelt's lap if the election were held today. This group includes certain Ohio Republican congressmen, speaking in their frankly confidential moments.

One big factor they cite is that of organized labor. The United Mine Workers have only about 30,000 members in the state, but labor there is as strong for industrial unionism as anywhere. This means that most of its voters will follow the lead of John L. Lewis, who is strong for Roosevelt.

Furthermore, Ohio experts declare, Roosevelt will get the bulk of the Townsend vote and the Coughlin vote.

Ohio, with 26 electoral votes, is described oftener than any other state as "pivotal."

Senator Borah's defeat by old guard Republicans of Ohio proves beyond all question that his campaign for the presidential nomination is futile, since the popular support which he sought in his war against "monopoly" and party bosses just hasn't materialized.

That means that the issue as to Borah boils down simply to the question whether there is any possibility that the Idaho senator will bolt the party ticket after the convention and, if there is, how high a price he would demand and how high a price the convention's dominating forces would pay to keep him on the reservation.

Over at Democratic national committee headquarters the boys confidently predict that many who have voted for Borah in primaries will cast their ballots for the Democratic ticket in November, regardless of what the senator does.

They're sure this will more than make up for the defections from the party indicated by the primary vote polled by Henry Breckinridge, who was defeated by Roosevelt 20 to 1 in Pennsylvania, 5 1/2 to 1 in Maryland, and 15 to 1 in Ohio.

Roosevelt's big vote in Ohio tended to quiet the oppositionists who read a large and unfavorable portent into Breckinridge's Maryland vote. The Breckinridge vote there can be largely attributed to anti-New Deal sentiment inherited from the late Governor Ritchie and preserved by Senator Tydings; the apathy of the party machine at primary time; and the persistent slashing attacks on the New Deal by Frank Kent and H. L. Mencken in the Baltimore Sun.

Maryland may be considered a doubtful state, but the Republicans will have a Roosevelt 1932 vote of 314,000 to 184,000 for Hoover to overturn.

TONY LAZZERI DRIVES IN 11 RUNS HITTING THREE HOMERS AND A TRIPLE

YANKS RAISE MARGIN OVER BOSTON TEAM

CARDS AND GIANTS WIN THEIR GAMES IN NATIONAL

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON JR. Associated Press Sports Writer

It looks as if the Yankees will be hard to stop as long as Tony Lazzeri and Frank Crosetti continue to vie with Rookie Joe Di Maggio for the Italian vote of the New York fans and the honor of setting the pace for the revived "murderers row."

The colorful "De Mag" should have the credit, perhaps, for the Yanks' hitting revival which has kept them at the top of the American league standing but today the veteran Lazzeri is the hero everywhere from Mulberry Bend to Telegraph Hill.

Tony, putting to rest all reports he isn't as spry as he used to be, staged a hitting spree in Philadelphia which produced six home runs in two games and a new American league record for runs batted in during a single contest.

Another odd record or two fell before Tony's bat as he led the Yanks to a double victory over the Athletics Saturday and the most one-sided triumph of the season, 25 to 2, yesterday.

In Sunday's game Lazzeri drove in eleven runs, hitting three homers—two with bases full—and a triple. That surpassed by far the old American league record held by Jimmie Fox and fell just one sliver of Jim Bottomley's National league standard. The six homers in three consecutive games was one more than the mark held by Babe Ruth and several others while the record book fails to show any player hitting two homers with corners crammed in one game. To hold up their end of the argument, Crosetti smacked two homers and Di Maggio one. The Yanks hit eleven homers in two consecutive games for a new major league mark.

The week-end triumphs enabled the Yanks to increase their margin over Boston to 2½ games as the Red Sox absorbed a 4 to 12 drubbing from Washington yesterday. Jake Powell and 19-year old Buddy Lewis led the attack on the gold-plated pitching staff, the latter with two doubles, a triple and a single, the latter with a homer, triple and two singles.

One-sided scores marked the entire program as the Cardinals and Giants kept pace in their duel for the National league lead. The Cardinals won their second straight game with a 10 to 7 victory over the White Sox while the St. Louis Browns 7 to 5 on Luke Sewell's home in the ninth.

The Cards, a half game ahead in the senior circuit, trimmed the Cubs 7 to 1. A crowd of 22,500, the largest at St. Louis since the season's start, saw the effective combination of Roy Parmelee's five-hit flinging and a 17-hit attack that drove Curt Davis to cover in his first start for Chicago. The Giants, packed by Sam Leslie, who smacked a homer, triple, double and two singles, won five trips to the plate, routed the Phillies 13 to 5.

The Cincinnati Reds went into a three-way tie with Chicago and Pittsburgh for third place in the standing by trouncing the Pirates 12 to 1 behind Al Hollingsworth's 15 hits in support of Van Mungo and trounced the Bees 11 to 2.

Lloyd Brown of Cleveland turned in the day's outstanding mound performance when he blanked the world champion Tigers with nine hits and no runs in six innings. The Indians routed Schoolboy Rowe in two innings as Hal Trosky's ninth homer of the season featured their opening attack.

OLYMPIC PROSPECT
IDABEL, Okla. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Tom Foster of New Boston, Tex., trainer and caretaker of bloodhounds, who came here recently to aid in the search for an escaped convict, believes the dogs need daily practice. Friends said he would unlock the Bowie county jail door, select a prisoner and give him his freedom if he could earn it by eluding the hounds.

"In all the years I have had charge of the dogs," Foster said, "I have lost only one man."

Tulsa Takes Fourth Place After Walloping Indians

Four Straight Wins Registered by Oilers

(By The Associated Press)

The Tulsa Oilers, on a winning streak, moved into the first division of the Texas league today by virtue of a pair of wins over the Oklahoma City Indians yesterday. The Oilers now have won four straight contests.

The thrillers last night, 3 to 2 and 2 to 1, made the inter-city count stand at six wins for Tulsa out of the seven games the teams have played this year.

In the opener Max Thomas outlasted Hugo Klammer. Klammer allowed but four hits to Thomas' five but the Tulsa batsmen pecked more effectively, scoring the winning run in the final frame.

The situation was practically the same in the second game. El Selway of the Oilers allowed six hits, one less than Eddie Marreau. The Tulsa nine won the nightcap, as they did the opener, with a single-run rally in the ninth.

The Dallas Steers split a doubleheader with Fort Worth and lost a few percentage points as Houston's game with San Antonio was postponed because of rain.

The bats of the mauling Mavericks were silenced in the first game as Al Shealy held them to seven hits and shut them out, 6 to 0.

The Steers came back to win the nightcap, 6 to 2, collecting 13 hits as Jim Parker's accurate hurling limited the Cats to 6 hits. Rensay Dallas, catcher not previously listed in Dallas' "murderous row," cracked out four hits to lead his mates at the plate.

Beaumont, hot on the heels of Dallas in third place, whipped the Gatewood Buccaneers twice, 4 to 1 and 6 to 0. McLaughlin outpitched two Exporters in the first encounter and Cook held the Pirates to three hits in the second.

Chapman Takes First Round in British Amateur

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 25 (AP)—Playing in cold, rainy weather, Dick Chapman of Greenwich, Conn., won his first round match today in the play for the British amateur golf championship, defeated by W. Lawson Little.

Chapman, one of the six Americans out to bring the title back to the United States for the third successive year, defeated Kenneth W. Greig of St. Andrews, one up, in his 18-hole opening round.

C. H. H. Tolley, top-notch British amateur whom Chapman will meet in the second round this afternoon, eliminated another American, T. D. Boardman of South Hamilton, Mass., 3 and 1.

No other well-known entrants played in the eight first-round matches. Match play will continue all week over the famous St. Andrews course for the championship won the last two years by Little but left vacant when he turned professional.

Golf Tourney Is Delayed By Rain

Matches scheduled for play Saturday and yesterday in the city golf tournament had to be postponed because of heavy rain. Several contestants have still to play off the second round and a few matches are still unfinished in first round consolation.

The tournament committee was scheduled to meet some time today to decide whether to continue the tournament another week. Finals having been scheduled for next Sunday or to have third and fourth round play during the week and final play next Sunday. M. A. Graham is chairman of the tournament committee.

Play to date has been close. Many matches have been taken into extra holes and one-up victories have been more numerous than lopsided results.

The rain will improve the fairways considerably but will handicap the unwary players by filling up the small lakes which dot the course.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)
Jake Powell and Buddy Lewis, Senators—Led attack on Boston hurlers. Former got two doubles, triple and single and scored three times. Lewis drove in four and scored three runs on home run, triple and two singles.
Luke Sewell, White Sox—His 9th inning home run broke up pitching duel between Babe Phelps and Tommy Thomas of Browns.
Lloyd Brown, Indians—Limited Tigers to two singles.
Tony Lazzeri, Yankees—Drove in 11 of Yanks' 25 runs against Athletics, hitting 3 homers, 2 with bases loaded and a triple.
Leroy Parmelee, Cards—Checked Cubs with five well-spaced hits and drove in three runs with two singles.
Sam Leslie, Giants—Found Phillies' hurlers for homer, triple, double and two singles in five times at bat.

BOROTRA SEES CHANCE FOR U. S. IN DAVIS CUP MATCHES

PARIS, May 25 (AP)—Lanky Donald Budge and perennial Davis Cupper Wilmer Allison have a "fighting chance" to wrest the famous mug from England's grasp this year, in the opinion of Jean Borotra.

"Bouding Besque" Borotra, most colorful and last of the famed "Four Musketeers" still playing tennis, told members of the American club in Paris that the United States team should eliminate both Australia and Germany in the preliminaries.

"England ought to win," he predicted, "for Fred Perry is still the greatest tennis player living. But don't bet on it. I won't take any responsibility for this forecast."

Borotra is glum about French tennis prospects, though he maintains France might conceivably come out on top if all other competing players should lay down on the job.

I-C 4-N MEET WILL BE HELD WEEK-END

CALIFORNIA'S BIG 3 WILL STAY AT HOME

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—The east and the western seaboard, the extremes of the collegiate track and field world in more ways than one, set out this week to see what they can do about duplicating the feats already recorded by the stars of the mid west and the south in their sectional college championships and semi-final Olympic trials.

So far it looks like a very good thing for the waning prestige of the eastern colleges that the big three of California, Southern California, Stanford and the University of California, decided to remain at home this week. That trio has dominated the Inter-Collegiate A. A. A. meet for a dozen years and could be expected to triumph again this year if they hadn't scheduled the coast tie meet for Friday and Saturday, when the I. C. A-A meet will be held at Philadelphia.

While some of the weight tossers, such as Anton Kishon of Bates, and Irving Fulwider of Yale, and some of Rhode Island may surpass the feats of the far western and Big Ten acts, only a few runners and jumpers at Saturday's meet are likely to appear in the same class.

Eddie O'Brien, the flashy Syracuse quarter miler, is finally recovered from a knee injury and may do some speedy stepping at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania's Gene Venke is among the top milers, Harvard's Mill Green looks like a point winner in both hurdle races and the broad jump, Phil Gould of Bowdoin proved himself a capable hurdler at the New England intercollegiate last Saturday. However they are only a few among the big field of competitors.

Meanwhile the western conference meet last week-end produced no fewer than ten athletes whose feats entitle them to consideration in the Olympic trials to be held in the south. Forest (Spec) Taras of Georgia, who had run the 120-yard high hurdles twice in the world record time of 14.1 seconds in the Southeastern conference meet the previous week, did it again to win the southern A. A. U. title. His mark has not yet been accepted.

Jesse Owens, Ohio State's negro flash, stood out like an ink spot on a clean sheet of paper in the Big Ten meet. Without exerting himself unduly, he won his four specialties, the 100 and 220 yard dashes, the broad jump and the 220 yard low hurdles with creditable performances. His 220-around a curve in 21.1 seconds clipped a tenth off the American record held by Ralph Metcalfe.

Don Lash, who led the Indiana team to victory by scoring ten of its 47 points, gave Owen a real run for his glory. The slender Lash chopped big slices off the conference records for the mile and two miles with times of 4:10.8 and 9:19.9.

Bob Osmond to Michigan tied the accepted world record of 14.2 in winning the high hurdles. Ray Ellingwood of Chicago turned in a snappy quarter and Charles Penske of Wisconsin gave Lash an argument in the mile.

Big Jack Torrance, the world record shot putter, and Glen (Stits) Hardin, 400-meter hurdles record holder, won their events so handily at New Orleans they didn't have to perform outstanding feats, but one newcomer broke into the limelight when Roland Romero of Loyola of New Orleans negotiated 50 feet, 4 inches in the hop, step and jump. All qualified for the final Olympic trials at New York in July.

RAIN HALTS PREPARATIONS FOR OKLAHOMA INVASION

The heavy rains of Saturday and yesterday put a crimp in Manager Sam Hale's program of work for his Road Runners in preparation for the invasion of the Halliburton Cementers of Duncan, Okla., on Thursday and Friday nights.

Manager Hale was all set to put his charges through stiff workouts this afternoon and tomorrow. He was especially anxious to give his hurlers a lot of practice throwing everything in the book at his batters.

Halle has a few mound artists who will have to show their form soon and the best way is to give them lots of work.

Halliburton will send a team composed mostly of former league players to Pampa. The starting lineup will have only three players who have not worked in the big time or in class A competition.

Lee Daney, little Indian right-hander, will probably be Manager Hale's choice for mound duty Thursday. The game will not be called until 9:15 o'clock because of banishment at local theaters. The Friday night battle will begin at 8:30 o'clock. The starting hurler will probably be Carl Stewart although it is hoped that Rex Dilbeck will be able to take his turn following a severe cold.

Halliburton's pitching staff includes Luther Roy, formerly with Cleveland, Harry White and Jimmie Walkup, both former Fort Worth Cats, John Jaul Jones from the International league and Mike Pruitt. All will be ready for mound duty.

ECKHARDT'S SENT BACK TO MINOR LEAGUE

FAMED ATHLETE FAILS TO MAKE GO OF IT AGAIN

DALLAS, May 25 (AP)—Huge, rollicking Oscar Eckhardt, University of Texas athletic legend and king of bush league batters, has made his fifth, and last, journey to the big show. ... Even Brooklyn's daffy Dodgers, where he was expected to fill like a glove because of his antics and notorious hitting, has shunted him back to the minors.

The big fellow, noted for his strange batting stance, mad and awkward dashes in the field and frequent urge to steal bases already occupied, should have been a natural with the Dodgers. ... But he wasn't. The terrific batting average he built up in the Coast league last year to lead all organized baseball soon dwindled to the size of Dick's noted hatband.

His batting average probably will soar up among the leaders in the class AA circuit. ... He always claimed it took hot weather for him to get steamed up. ... He never stayed around in the majors until the thermometer reached its June and July peaks.

Casey Stengel, Brooklyn manager, was warned by Gaby Street, coach Eckhardt months ago. ... Said Eckhardt to Casey: "This fellow Eckhardt is a great hitter, but when he's batting for heaven's sake don't look—just listen."

This and that: Johnny Fraser, golf professional at Camp Bealy near Houston, has finally taken up golf. ... Genial Johnny, after receiving his mail at Camp Bealy for years as a golf pro, decided there was something to it. ... He's started playing and already breaks 100. ... Ideal fishing conditions prevailing in Gulf waters have resulted in numerous large catches of mackerel near Fort Isabel. ... Fishing guides tell you hauls of 50 to 75 are common. ... An estimated 2,500 king mackerel have been taken out of Gulf waters by the rod and reelers recently in one of the largest runs on record. ... Texas sports editors are still lambasting Judge Landis for his answer to Slip Madigan regarding lifting of college players from schoolwork by major league clubs.

ELECTORAL SYSTEM OF TODAY WAS NOT ORIGINAL INTENT OF AUTHORS OF THE CONSTITUTION

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.
WASHINGTON, May 25.—When the democratic national convention meets in Philadelphia it will mark the twenty-seventh such gathering and when the republican national convention meets in Cleveland it will be the twenty-first, as an organized political group, the democratic party is nearly a quarter of a century older. Other conventions will be held such as those of the socialist and possibly the prohibition parties, but they are not taken very seriously by the American people. Even though prohibition once was imposed upon the country, the prohibition party was not responsible and no candidate of that party ever has received so much as one electoral vote.

The two-party system and the nominating convention system were phenomena not foreseen by the framers of the constitution. They represent an evolution in American politics. Every American has heard of the electoral college and understands that it operates as a purely perfunctory adjunct of the American electoral system. That is true today but that was not the original design. It was thought that the presidential election would be made by the electors chosen in the constitution would be chosen as men of eminence especially qualified to select a chief executive. They were to be chosen as free agents who would be expected to look over the field and then name the man. Within a decade this system was broken down. It was found that it would not work.

The first forerunners of the modern national conventions were caucuses held among members of Congress. But this was a violation of the intent of the constitution because the constitution provided that no member of either house of Congress may be an elector. There was so much popular objection to the congressional caucus system that it was abandoned and state legislatures took over the task of nominating candidates. Only two presidents, however, received their nominations exclusively from state legislatures. They were John Quincy Adams in 1824 and Andrew Jackson in 1828.

The convention system, a system whereby citizens gathered and made known their choice, started in the middle Atlantic states in a very small way. At first it was employed only in connection with county elections. The merit of the system as expressing the popular will began to be recognized and the next step was its use in nominating state candidates. The first national nominating convention was held in 1831 by the Anti-Masonic party. William Wirt, the nominee, was, therefore, the first candidate for President to be nominated by national convention. He received seven electoral votes.

Two-Thirds Rule Introduced.
The convention system was definitely launched. The Anti-Masonic party had been beforehand with their nomination in 1831, perhaps believing that a longer campaign would advantage them. In 1832, the democratic party held its first national convention. This convention is especially important as it is regarded as the first one held in part, at least, for the purpose of providing party discipline. Andrew Jackson was determined that Martin Van Buren should be named vice president as his running mate. Van Buren was not popular. "Mr. Van Buren was not the free choice of the democrats for the office of vice president," Edward Stanwood in his History of the Presidency, Jackson, of course, had his way and party discipline prevailed. How often since has a convention been used for the same purpose!

That 1831 Anti-Masonic convention was a first party discipline convention. It was decided that each state should be entitled to as many delegates as it had members in the two houses of Congress. It also decided that nomination should be only by a three-fourths majority. The purpose of the plan for greater than majority rule and, the next year, the democrats adopted the same plan as to the number of delegates but modified the three-fourths rule to a two-thirds rule and this despite many attempts to break it, has been the rule of democratic national conventions ever since.

Although the whig party had been organized in 1834, it did not hold its first convention until 1839 when it nominated William Henry Harrison, but only by a majority vote and as the whig party was being regarded as a predecessor of the republican party, the latter party's majority rule may be regarded as having originated then. Although Van Buren was nominated by the democrats by a unanimous vote on the first ballot, General Harrison was elected.

The convention system now was thoroughly established. It is remarkable to note how few changes there have been. The Anti-Masonic party convention adopted an Address to the People which may be called the first party platform, and that system has been followed ever since. The national republican convention which nominated Henry Clay in 1831 appointed a committee to notify the nominee formally, and that system has been followed ever since. There have been some changes in apportionment of delegates but the basic theory of keeping them in relation to membership in Congress persists.

DECISION DUE THIS WEEK ON POWER POLICY

PLAINVIEW LOAN WILL BE SUBJECT OF RULING

By JACK FISHER
Associated Press Staff Writer.
WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Chief Justice Alfred A. Wheat of the District of Columbia Supreme Court is expected to rule this week on the constitutionality of one of the new deal's most far-reaching activities—a $200,000,000 public power program financed by the Public Works Administration.

He will hear final arguments Tuesday. Jerome Frank of the Supreme Court is expected to rule this week on the constitutionality of one of the new deal's most far-reaching activities—a $200,000,000 public power program financed by the Public Works Administration.

Newton D. Baker will present a final plea for the power companies Tuesday. Jerome Frank of the Supreme Court is expected to rule this week on the constitutionality of one of the new deal's most far-reaching activities—a $200,000,000 public power program financed by the Public Works Administration.

The utility lawyers have challenged the PWA power program on three major grounds:

1. That the 1935 relief act is unconstitutional. Attorney Dean Acheson described it as "a vague and hurried piece of legislation," which gives the President "almost unlimited power to spend $4,800,000,000 as he sees fit."
2. That even if the act is held valid, the power projects do not come within the terms of the act.
3. That the power companies will be fatally injured by government competition.

The government's investment in the projects is estimated to be $200,000,000. Alexander Holtzoff, special assistant to the attorney general, answered the first charge with a detailed defense of the 1935 relief act. He argued that it was not an illegal delegation of power since the possible uses of relief funds were clearly specified.

John W. Scott, government attorney, submitted a report made by Secretary of Interior Ickes to Congress, which, he said, contained a complete program of public works. Acknowledging that the municipal plants would compete with private firms, Scott contended that all 10 cities had decided to build their own power systems long before PWA was established.

"This program cannot be called a deliberate attack on private industry," he said, "because only 85 out of 8,000 PWA grants involve local electric plants."

The towns involved in the suit are Decatur, Guntersville, Russellville, Hartsville, Sheffield, Florence, and Cummins, all in Alabama; Hominy, Okla.; Plainview, Texas; and Iowa City, Iowa. They have been offered PWA loans and grants totaling $2,444,000.

gation must be polled man by man. The democratic party has been using what is known as the unit rule. This means that, if a majority of the delegates of a state delegation favor a given candidate, then the whole block of votes is cast for that candidate. The minority members have no voice in the preference primary made since the preference primary came into use, in theory at least. Where certain delegates have been instructed in primaries to vote for a certain candidate, they may cast individual votes even though in the minority. The subject of the unit rule of the delegation is concerned. But even that has not been regarded as compulsory. The instructed delegate may either hold his peace or vote with the majority of his delegation, but only by a majority vote and as the whig party was being regarded as a predecessor of the republican party, the latter party's majority rule may be regarded as having originated then. Although Van Buren was nominated by the democrats by a unanimous vote on the first ballot, General Harrison was elected.

Chapter 15.
JEWELS RETURNED.
Hope spelled out the motto.

"Hilarious! Merrily! I like that, too. . . Is that his house?"
"As it used to be," said Dirk.
"You see Hans Joris wanted to do something big, so he copied the town-hall back home, and called the place 'Schlechterortveid'."
"Big enough!" she smiled.
"Too big for English Admiral Lowrie, when he married a Joris and became head of the family. He didn't like Dutch things anyhow, so when a fire destroyed part of the castle he rebuilt it. . . In good colonial fashion. Gothic towers and a colonial wing. We're an awful hodge-podge, inside and out. Your room now. . . It has all the Dutch furniture that's left in the house. The old kas. . ."

"The kas?"
"That old painted wardrobe is a kas. There were kasten in all the bedrooms. Almost everything was complete program of public works. Acknowledging that the municipal plants would compete with private firms, Scott contended that all 10 cities had decided to build their own power systems long before PWA was established.

"That's the motto I choose."
Dirk said, "Can't I sell you Merrily? Or Favorable Winds? They suit you better."
"No, they suit you. My shield is scarred."
She rose, the book in her arms. "I'm taking it upstairs. May I?"
"Of course. Aren't you. . . aren't you a Joris, too?"
"Perhaps. That's why I want to read it. It's. . . something to live up to."
Dirk went upstairs with her, carrying the book. He was disappointed. He had thought they would have the evening together. At her door he said:
"Don't forget lunch. The Lawyers' Club."
He gave her the address. She would remember, she told him, and they said good night.

When the door was closed she laid the book on the table beside the bed. The bed had been turned down, and one of her own nightgowns folded on the pillow. After a moment she moved noiselessly to the door before a mere announcement, and she read it quickly.

Dirk explained that Connolly had mislaid some of the data.

"Your father's name, for one thing, and the city you hail from. Or it may be Connolly doesn't know the items that belong in the society columns. At any rate, I have them, and tomorrow's issue. . ."

She turned to him, a little pale. "Please don't. One account is enough."
"I think so, too," Dirk answered. She had seemed slightly relieved on reading the notice, grateful apparently for its brevity. There would be no second account if she did not wish it. He went with her to the elevator.

"So you're going shopping?"
"She answered thoughtfully. "What color does he like—for evening, I mean?"
Dirk hardly knew Rupert's preference in colors, and mentioned his own.

short, a mere announcement, and she read it quickly. Dirk explained that Connolly had mislaid some of the data.

"So you're going shopping?"

"She answered thoughtfully. "What color does he like—for evening, I mean?"

Dirk hardly knew Rupert's preference in colors, and mentioned his own.

"White," he said.
It might be Rupert's color, at that, since Elinor so often wore it. He reflected that a box had come for Rupert that morning, a small, precious-looking box. He himself had signed for it, and carried it up to Rupert's room. Rupert having already left for White Plains.

He dreaded the moment when that should find the box, dreaded it for Hope. She with her anxiety as to Rupert's choice in colors!

"White," he said again, for after all it mattered greatly to himself what she should wear. "White, and for daytime, brown—that sort of rusty brown."

She thanked him gravely, stepped into the elevator, and smiling a goody, disappeared.

Rupert found the box on his arrival home. It contained the jewels he had given Elinor during the six years of their engagement.

He opened it, looking at the strand of pearls that had been his mother's, the twin bracelets he had bought at Cartier's, the brooch, the ring, the necklace. . .

Their very touch, he had thought, would be like touching the flesh of Elinor. He would have thought, too, that receiving this box from her, he would have sat down to an evening's steady drinking.

He looked at his watch. Hope would be in her room, he reflected. He had telephoned her two hours before that he would not be home before eight, that she was to have dinner without him, and be dressed for their evening together. She was dressing now, Nora assisting her. He had met Nora going to her room on his arrival.

Rupert lifted out the strand of his mother's pearls, and opening his desk, dropped them within. Then, the box of jewels in his hand, he knocked on the door of Hope's room. Dirk has a difficult moment, tomorrow, at the theater.

26TH VICTIM SLAIN
JERUSALEM, May 25 (Palmer) (AP)—The 26th Jewish victim of the present Palestine disturbances was found slain today on Mt. Scopus. The body was identified as that of Jacob Reznick, 36, long a resident of Palestine, who was formerly employed by the General Jewish Federation of Labor at Haifa.

Mrs. Helen Barr of Hayes, Kans., is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. C. Green.

Dirk was conscious that the black dress looked somewhat different, less demure—a curl that the change in it was due to the hat, a rakish scrap with a swirling feather.

"Stunning," he said.
She sparkled. "Look under the table."
He looked, and as he did not come up at once.
"My shoes!" she exclaimed.
"On your shoes!" I could say."
He came up then to find the water at grave attention.

After lunch he took Hope to the Joris offices—a few doors away, and dignified quarters that had once commanded a view of lower Manhattan and the Battery, but that now were hemmed in by new growths of steel and stone.

Amid the encircling monoliths there seemed something stable in the dingy comfort of the Joris offices, something rooted and secure. The presence of Judge Blaise Joris, Dirk's and Rupert's father, seemed still to pervade the place, as the light of a master star continues to fall on the earth long after the star has passed.

Hope met Sanford Joris, and the members of the Joris staff, lingered in Rupert's private sanctum. She was interested in his secretary—efficient, thirty-odd—in the books on his glassed-in shelves, in the street below his window.

Dirk finally enticed her forth to look at his own office, and the morning paper which lay on his desk.

He had folded the paper at the account of the wedding. It was

BLALOCK PROPOSES NEW PLAN FOR TEXAS REPRESENTATION AT PHILADELPHIA CONVENTION

'WE'LL HAVE HARMONY IF WE HAVE TO FIGHT FOR IT'

SAN ANTONIO, May 25. (AP)—Myron Blalock of Marshall, chairman of the democratic state executive committee, today proposed a new plan for representation of Texas democrats at their national convention.

In order to reward deserving workers as well as insure prominent leaders would not be offended, he suggested that four delegates be chosen from each of the 21 congressional districts and 16 delegates-at-large be selected from the whole state. These 100 delegates would have seats on the Philadelphia floor.

In addition, 16 alternates to the delegates-at-large would be named, but would not have floor seats, in view of the decision of the national committee not to permit enlargement of delegations with seats and consequent confusion.

"This seems to be a workable arrangement," Blalock said, "and I will recommend it to the convention."

The original plan had been to elect two delegates and two alternates from each district and eight delegates-at-large, with alternates. Blalock made his proposition as the executive committee met to prepare a temporary organization for the convention proper beginning tomorrow. It was in line with multiple predictions of "Harmony" from virtually all leaders.

Blalock was slated to call the convention to order, and Congressman Sam Rayburn of Bonham was designated to sound the keynote of endorsement of President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner.

"This will be harmonious convention," the committee chairman said. "We will have harmony if we have to fight for it."

Some evidences of friendly dissession were observed, however, over the choice of a national committee-woman. Friends of a number of candidates were working busily, despite the word passed about that Mrs. Clara Driscoll Sevier of Corpus Christi, the incumbent, was receptive to another term.

There was no argument in sight over the position of national committee-woman, filled for the last two years by Vice President Garner. Leaders generally said he could have the job again if he wanted it, and Karl Crowley of Fort Worth, solicitor of the postoffice department, said Mr. Garner was willing.

"The President has named General Farley want Mr. Garner to be vice chairman of the national committee," Crowley said, likewise voicing the vice president's regrets at being unable to attend the convention because of congress.

Incidentally, Crowley, prominent in party councils, said the outlook for the democratic national campaign, financially and otherwise, was "fine."

"Money we need is rolling in, and the picture is bright," he said. "This is due to improved business conditions and the fact the people are feeling better."

"In Texas, we are going to give the President a majority of more than 1,000,000 votes, as well as contribute substantially to the sinews of war in other states."

Blalock removed probably one source of controversy with a declaration that Governor James V. Allred regarded the convention as concerned with national affairs only and would not seek endorsement of his administration or permit his friends to seek it.

Other possible issues included: The proposed abolition of the two-thirds rule of which democrats have nominated presidents for 100 years; the child labor amendment; the Townsend pension plan.

Democrats were clearly divided on the question of the two-thirds rule, the abolition of which has been recommended by Postmaster General Farley. For example, Vann Kennedy of Austin, state committee secretary, sponsored a resolution adopted recently by the Travis county convention opposing abolition.

A Houston delegate was reported bringing along a resolution on the Townsend plan, but leaders said, although the man might be given a chance to speak, his resolution wouldn't get far.

State Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston reiterated he was ready to make a few remarks in opposition to the new deal if he had an opportunity.

"Eleven billion dollars a year for FOOD?"

That's how much American women spend. If you are buying food for the so-called "average" family of four your share is at least $11 a week.

The job of getting the most out of that eleven dollars requires thoughtful planning, if not ingenuity. You've got to keep a supply of staples on hand—flour, sugar, shortening, baking powder, essential condiments and spices. A variety of breakfast cereals is required. Milk, butter, eggs and cheese figure in meals constantly. Tea, coffee, cocoa and canned fruit juices are consumed daily. Fresh, as well as canned fruits and vegetables, can't be overlooked. Meats, and fish—either fresh, smoked or canned—demand that you buy them. Jellies, jams, relishes and canned soups insist upon a place in your market basket. And last, but not least, is bread three times a day.

So what's the best rule to follow in buying this wide assortment of food? How can you avoid monotony in meals. How can you discover new menus and recipes? How can you have enough money left over each week from your food allowance for a few tasty luxuries that make meals more appetizing? How can you save time and money in buying?

Well, you can tramp through the markets daily—looking, pricing and comparing. But there's an easier way—a more accurate way—a more up-to-the-minute way—

MISS GRAHAM AND MR. WADE ARE MARRIED THIS MORNING

SERVICE READ AT CHURCH AT EIGHT O'CLOCK

BREAKFAST FOLLOWS WEDDING AT HOME OF M. GRAHAM

Miss Melba Graham and Tom Wade were married at 8 o'clock this morning, in an impressive service at Holy Souls Catholic church. The Rev. Joseph Wonderly conducted the ceremony, which was attended by a number of relatives and friends.

Mrs. Walter F. G. Stein played the Bridal Chorus from Wagner's "Lohengrin" as the organ processional. Miss Evelyn Graham was her sister's maid of honor, and Mr. Wade was attended by Herbert Vaeth. Little Judy Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Smith, was flower girl.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, George Gill of Lawton, Okla., wore a gown of white tulle in princess style with long sleeves and a long veil. Her bouquet was of white roses. Miss Evelyn Graham's frock was of pink mousseline. She wore a small pink hat and carried a bouquet of pink snapdragons. The tiny flower girl was dressed in pink dotted net, and scattered flowers from a silver basket.

The church was decorated in pink and white flowers and ferns. Music was by the choir, directed by Mrs. Lynn Boyd.

After the ceremony the wedding party and a group of friends were entertained with a breakfast at the home of Mrs. Melba Graham. The wedding cake, surrounded with pink and white carnations and baby breath, centered the table. The bride cut the cake, which was served by Mrs. B. O. Lilly. Mrs. Pauline Blagg of Lubock poured coffee, and Miss Evelyn Graham was at the bride's side.

Pink and white gladioli decorated the room. The table was lighted with pink candles in triple candelabra, and laid with a cut-work cloth.

Guests, in addition to the wedding party, included Messrs. and Mrs. Arthur Teed, Lynn Boyd, Clyde Fatheree, D. J. Gibbon, R. E. McKernan, W. J. Smith, R. Earl O'Keefe, and Harold Simms; Misses W. H. Davis, E. D. Caskey, Walter DeBerry, M. F. Roche, and Frank Carter; Misses Ruth Britton, Irene Irvine; Walter Loftus of Amarillo, D. J. DeLaney, J. W. Graham Jr., and Virginia Graham.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Graham, was graduated from high school here and attended Stephens college at Columbia, Mo. She has been employed for several years in the offices of the Panhandle Insurance company.

Mr. Wade, whose parents reside at Whitesboro, is a member of the law firm of Cook, Smith, Teed, and Wade. Both are popular young residents of Pampa.

Recital Program To Be Postponed As Health Move

At the request of city health authorities, the Junior Folies, annual recital of the Vincent studio, will be postponed to an indefinite date in cooperation with the move to check spread of children's diseases here.

"We who have worked on the program regret the postponement, but are glad to cooperate with health officers in their plan," said Kathryn Vincent Steele, studio director. "This program will be given later in the summer. Those who have bought tickets are requested to hold them, and they will be honored at other studio programs through the year."

Services Twice Daily Conducted By Church Here

Despite rainy weather, good progress is reported by the minister, Paul A. Thompson, at the revival in Central Church of Christ. Evangelist Claude McClung of Fort Worth is speaking each day at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. and will continue his sermons through next Sunday.

A large number attended a song program yesterday afternoon, and also the regular services. Out-of-town visitors including H. P. Cooper of Christ, and his family; Mrs. Cooper, and Mr. Jackson of Shamrock; Mr. and Mrs. Bohannon of Hereford.

Since the revival started on Friday, each sermon by the evangelist has dealt with some phase of faith. Melvyn Douglas made his theatrical debut in high school as a Hindu in a play called "The Little Princess."

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES HELD IN WHITE DEER

School Closes With Activities of Graduation

WHITE DEER, May 25.—Twenty-nine seniors received diplomas at the graduation exercises here Friday night. Margaret Potter was the highest ranking student in the class with a four-year average of 91. Jacques Buchanan was second with a four-year average of 90. Carroll Common was the highest ranking boy.

Instead of the traditional graduation program, "The Light of a Pageant—An Educational Progress," in eight episodes was presented by the high school. Each episode was introduced by a senior girl, representing the lights of Health, Preparation for Vocations, Knowledge, Training for Home Life, Citizenship, Training for Leisure, Character, and Achievement, with a prologue and a Epilogue by the Light of Education.

The seventh grade graduation exercises, held on Wednesday night, also were in the form of a pageant, "Texas Through the Years," a colorful spectacle of Texas history. Thirty-one students received certificates of promotion. Joe Frank Risden was honor student of the class, with Joycelyn Jackson ranking second. These two students also were awarded the American Legion medals for most worthy students.

"The Antler," the first annual published by the students of White Deer high school in several years, was received last week.

The 78-page leather-bound volume is a complete record of the activities of the entire school system for the past year. It carries individual pictures of each member of the school board, the faculty, and the high school student body, group pictures of each grade in the two, grade school, a favorite section, a snapshot of the entire school system or individual pictures of each athletic team, club, and organization in the school.

The art work, which was done by Le Verne Edwards, senior, and Ernest Richardson, sophomore, is especially commendable for its cleverness and appropriateness.

Claudine Black was the editor-in-chief, and John Williams, the business manager. The sponsors were Misses Odessie Howell and Gladys Holley.

"Singing Halfbacks," Plus. Evidently the boys of White Deer high school think not!

Of the 16 members of the Boys' Glee club during the past year, 11 have been on the football team from one to the year and 10 have played on the football squad for an equal length of time. Two members of the boys' quartet were first string men on the football team this year. One of these was also a three-year man in track and basketball, and the other was on the basketball team.

With all this musical talent in the athletic squads, the fans entertained between halves by a concert instead of the usual pep squad stunts.

Breakfast Given As Compliment To Group of Seniors

A breakfast was served to high school seniors who attend the Presbyterian church, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Sweatman yesterday morning. Messrs. Sweatman, F. M. Foster, Timm, and L. Burney Shell, were hostesses.

Strawberries, waffles and sausage, and coffee were served in informal style to the graduates who later were special guests at morning services of the church.

Guests were Mrs. Frances Alexander, teacher of the high school class in Sunday school, the Rev. L. Burney Shell, Mr. and Mrs. Don Foster, Misses Flora Deen Finley, Rosemary Hampton, Mary Price, Lillian Rice, Georgia Timm, Catherine Snell, and Ann Sweatman; and Holt Hamlett, Jim Arndt, Melvin Quails, and George Nik.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON HEARD BY GRADUATES

CLASS IS ADDRESSED BY MCKENZIE AT VESPER HOUR

A baccalaureate sermon by E. C. McKenzie, minister of Francis Avenue Church of Christ, was delivered to 143 high school seniors at First Baptist church in a vesper service yesterday afternoon to begin commencement week.

Taking as his subject, "Making Life Worth While," the speaker quoted his text, "For what is your life?" from the book of James.

"You are a product of your own thoughts and efforts," he said, "and 50 years hence the same thing can be said whatever you are. You do not blame entirely the powerful forces of heredity and environment for your life, because men and women have succeeded in spite of them, by exercising the power of choice."

"You will find knowledge insufficient to make a life of single blessedness," Florine McKinney, charming screen actress, is honey-mooning with Barry Trivers, Hollywood screen writer, after their wedding in London. A lyric soprano, Miss McKinney is a native Texan.

COUPLE MARRIED AT PANHANDLE WILL LIVE HERE

The marriage of Miss Jane Osborne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Osborne of Miami, and Wiley Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Reynolds of Pampa, was solemnized at Panhandle Saturday evening. Miss Claudine Jeffries and Buck Hundy accompanied the couple from Pampa and were the only witnesses to the simple ceremony.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds are members of pioneer families of the eastern Panhandle. He is a grandson of Mrs. Phoebe A. Worley. This marriage is the second between members of the two families. Last year Miss Ruth Reynolds, sister of the groom, and Jake Osborne, brother of the bride, were married.

Miss Osborne, who was graduated from Miami high school last spring, has been attending West Texas Teachers college at Canyon, and will remain in school until the term closes this week. After that time, the couple will be at home in Pampa.

Mr. Reynolds was graduated with the class of 1935 from Pampa high school, completed the course at New Mexico Military Institute, Roswell, in 1934, and last fall attended Denver university.

ASPARAGUS IS GROWN. Prior to May 5, 40 feet of 3-year-old asparagus crowns had meant $4.30 to the food budget of Mrs. C. B. Haney's family of the Market Home Demonstration club. Asparagus, the earliest spring vegetable, is plentiful, Mrs. Haney had included it in the family diet 21 times, and had carried nine pint jars for winter use before May 5.

Wendy Urges Bowling. HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Wendy Barrie, actress who wants to gain rather than lose weight, recommends bowling—for an hour twice a week. It doesn't steal pounds, she says.

Six months before she came to Hollywood a clairvoyant friend predicted a screen career for Paula Stone. She's in the movies now.

IL DUCE AIMS FOR TRIUMPHS IN ECONOMICS

BUSINESS CONQUEST OF ETHIOPIA IS PLANNED

BY ANDRUE BERDING, Associated Press Foreign Staff.

ROME, May 25 (AP)—Fascist Italy, under Premier Mussolini's orders, began marching "straight ahead" today, aiming at new triumphs—this time in the economic field.

Immediately after Il Duce's latest declaration, "we will march just as straight ahead in the future," the kingdom's guilds and credit institutes marshaled their resources for economic conquest of the empire already conquered by arms.

When Mussolini proclaimed, several weeks before the Italo-Ethiopian war started last October 3, "we will march straight ahead," his phrase was interpreted universally to mean the East African conflict was inevitable.

His echoing of this phrase, however, during yesterday's celebration of the twenty-first anniversary of Italy's entry into the World war, was interpreted in well-informed circles as meaning not necessarily war but more probably economic and social development.

The European situation, nevertheless, was still far from clear. Marshal Pietro Badoglio, commander-in-chief of the Italian armies in East Africa, chief of the general staff and vicerey of Ethiopia, was embarking at Massawa, Eritrea, for Italy.

With him was Major Giuseppe Bottai, governor of Rome and new governor of Addis Ababa.

There was bad blood between the Italian and English governments over the dum dum bullet affair, in which the English charged an attempt was made to fabricate evidence that British firms supplied illegal ammunition to Ethiopia.

"There was uncertainty over the attitude of the new French government, coming to power in June with the new chamber of deputies in which the "people's front" of socialists, radical-socialists and communists held a majority.

Finally, there was an Italian feeling of the League of Nations might postpone consideration of the Italo-Ethiopian question from the council's June 16 special session until the autumn assembly, meanwhile continuing application of sanctions against Italy.

In this case, complete Italian withdrawal from Geneva was considered by informed sources to be certain.

King Edward Flies To Visit Vessel

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., May 25. (AP)—King Edward flew from Windsor today—the second time he has taken to the air since becoming sovereign—to head Britain's royal family in a final inspection of the giant liner Queen Mary.

The monarch was in the air 31 minutes, landed at the Eastleigh airfield five miles away and drove to the dock to meet Queen Mary and other members of the family who came from London by train.

"It was the first flight for Edward—first English monarch ever to ride in a plane—since he traveled by air from Sandringham to London Jan. 21, to assume the role just after the death of his father, King George.

On the question, with some members declaring he should be turned over to the courts instead.

DOCTOR IS DARED TO OFFER HIMSELF AS AT WITNESS

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP)—The hostile camps of Dr. F. E. Townsend and "a" house investigating committee "dared" each other today to engage in verbal combat at close quarters.

James R. Sullivan, committee counsel, issued a pronouncement calling Townsend a "rich man" declaring that his Townsend weekly adventures "communist doctrine," and saying:

"I dare and challenge Dr. Townsend to appear and offer himself as a witness."

The old age pension leader, who walked out on the committee last week and went to live in a Baltimore hotel, issued a statement "Flatly denying" an assertion by committee Chairman Bell (D-Mo.) that he left the committee room because he knew evidence soon to be produced would be "damaging and devastating."

Saying that he departed because the investigation was an unfair "inquisition," Townsend added: "This investigation has been in progress for many weeks, all of which time Townsend leaders have been constantly waiting for the startling disclosures which Mr. Sullivan and Mr. Bell have been promising."

From the Townsend camp came hints that the Bell committee would not have the "courage" to hall Dr. Townsend before the bar of the house for trial on a contempt citation.

The committee is sharply divided

NEW MARXIST PARTY FORMED BY SOCIALISTS

'OLD GUARD' TURNED DOWN; LEFTISTS SEATED

CLEVELAND, May 25. (AP)—Once more, the Socialist party is split.

"The 'old guard' of New York—the faction of rightists led for years by the late Morris Hillquit and now by Louis Waldman—set forth today to organize a new Marxist party, not only in New York but on a national basis.

The split came yesterday after the national convention of the Socialist party stood by its national executive committee and the leadership of Norman Thomas, turned down the "old guard" and seated the Thomas leftist delegation from New York.

It came after virtually an entire weekend of emotional debate and bitterness over principles and personalities.

All compromise efforts were to no avail. In the first place, the "old guard" had turned its back on compromise; and especially on one proposal, advanced by Mayor Daniel Hoan of Milwaukee, that the 44 seats be divided on the basis of the proportional vote in the April primary in New York, in which the leftists defeated the "old guard" and gained control of the city and state committees.

"The 'old guard,' in the words of Waldman, 'wants all the entire delegation or nothing.'"

While the convention, after wrangling for two days over the New York dispute, belatedly got down to drafting its platform and discussing candidates, the "old guard" met in conference with the rightwing forces of other states.

Quickly, a committee, with Waldman as chairman, was formed to draft the plans for the new party, select a name and pick a provisional executive committee.

In New York, the party will probably be organized before July and it intends to enter the fall campaign with a state ticket.

Socialist milestones: 1901—The present Socialist party was founded at the "unity" conference in Indianapolis. The three principal groups organizing the party were: Two different factions that broke away from the old Socialist Labor party, one led by Victor Berger, of Milwaukee, the other by Morris L. Hillquit, of New York; and the Socialist Democratic party built by Eugene V. Debs out of the remnants of his old American Railway union.

1912—William (Big Bill) Haywood and others in the Industrial Workers of the World were expelled from the party.

1919—The Socialist party was split over adherence to the third (Communist) international organization by the Bolsheviks. Two leftist groups broke away, organizing the Communist Labor party and the Communist party, both later merged into the Communist party of today.

VERGEE PURCHASED

ST. LOUIS, May 25. (AP)—William Dewitt, assistant general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, announced last night the outright purchase from the Philadelphia National league club of Johnny Vergee, utility infielder. The amount involved in the cash deal was not disclosed.

Skeet Shoot Is Won By Amarillo And Shamrock Men

Yesterday's rain gave impetus to the invitation skeet shoot instead of causing its postponement. "Gunmen" from Pampa, Shamrock and Amarillo competed for three cash prizes.

Shorty Caldwell and Tom Perkins, both from the Pampa club, tied for first place with scores of 92 out of a possible 100. Jack Kirsh of Shamrock took second place with 91 and Dee Caldwell of Amarillo was third with 89.

Scores were "top" considering the weather, many of the contestants shooting with the rain falling.

The local club plans to sponsor other invitation shoots during the summer months.

'Front Porch' for G.O.P. if Landon Is Nominated

This picturesque old mansion soon may be in the national spotlight, as headquarters for the Republican campaign for the presidency. If Gov. Alfred M. Landon of Kansas wins the G. O. P. nomination in Cleveland, his official residence—the executive mansion in Topeka, pictured above—will be a Mecca for party notables from all over the country, and, on its rambling veranda, campaign plans will be hatched during the coming summer and fall.

His Rangerette escort informed him he will be guest of honor at the Exposition headquarters on the opening day of the $25,000,000 Exposition, June 6.

Gov. Landon Confers With Two Ardent Backers

Gov. Alfred M. Landon, to the nation at large, may be an outstanding candidate for the G. O. P. presidential nomination, but to his most intimate companions, shown above with him, he's more than that. Nancy Jo Landon, 3, and her brother, John Cobb, 2, assert he's the best dad in the whole world, and a dandy companion in a romp. Note the resemblance between Nancy Jo and her father, as she helps him relax from his cares of office. And though the governor is becoming used to the limelight, young John apparently doesn't relish the glare of the photo flash-bulb.

Ranger Rides to Hotel Register

Bellhops at the Book-Cadillac Hotel at Detroit didn't know exactly what they should do when Capt. Leonard Pack, head of the Texas Centennial Exposition Rangers, rode his horse up to the desk to register during the recent Texas Press Association tour. They finally gave the captain a room and the horse a bale of hay.

Carries Bid

This homing pigeon, which Rangerette Marjorie Thomas is releasing from the grounds of the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas, was one of 40 carrying invitations to 40 newspaper publishers of the Southwest to attend the opening of the $25,000,000 show June 6.

Oldest Car to Run in Texas Parade

The first Oldsmobile sold in Dallas, still owned by Mrs. Sam Lewis, now of Sanger, Texas, will be a feature of the motor section of the huge parade marking the opening of the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas June 6. The above photograph was taken in 1905.

Double-Playing a Trout

A snappy double-play, from Eddie Collins to Charlie Miller, put one of Moosehead Lake's trout into the frying pan of the vice president of the Boston Red Sox. Collins, taking a few days' vacation, is shown as he slipped one of the Maine lake's noted warriors into the net of his guide, Miller.

Bond of $200,000 for Karpis' 'Host'

His bond set at $200,000 on a charge of harboring Alvin Karpis, imprisoned gang leader, Fred Hunter is shown above, handcuffed, handkerchief at his face, after his arraignment in New Orleans. Hunter, alleged former minor Ohio gangster, and a woman were taken into custody by G-men when Karpis was captured.

Bluebonnet Girl Goes to Hollywood

Frances Nalle, 21, chosen from 300 aspirants as the Texas Centennial Exposition's "Bluebonnet Girl," is in Hollywood on two weeks leave of absence, taking a screen test with Universal studios. Recently, in New York, she was called by Walter Winchell "the most beautiful girl I've ever seen." Babe Stapp, right, a favorite to win the Indianapolis Speedway classic on Memorial Day, is shown above with a 10-gallon hat which was presented to him by officials of the Texas Centennial Exposition which opens here June 6. With him is Joel Thorne, of Arizona.

Peace Essay Wins $5000 Scholarship

WINNER of the $5000 scholarship awarded by Eddie Cantor for the best essay on how to keep the U. S. out of war is Owen Matthews III, Portland, Ore. He finished second, winning when the first-announced victor was disqualified.

San Francisco-to-Dallas or Bust—It Didn't Bust

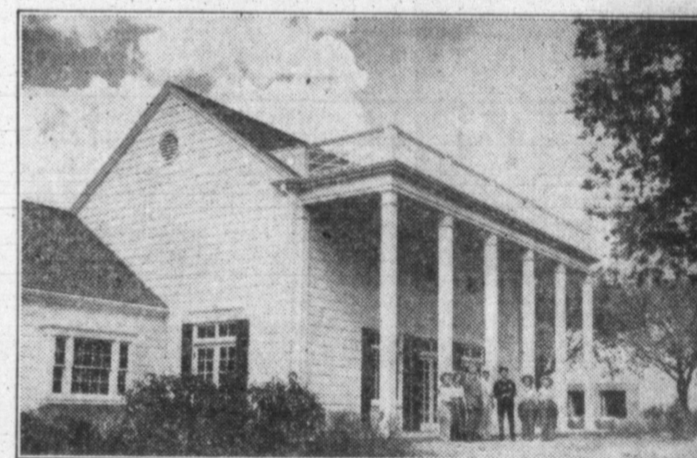

Paul Hubbard, of Los Angeles, brought his 1900 Schacht "run-about" from Los Angeles to Dallas and the $25,000,000 Texas Centennial Exposition grounds in one month and 15 days. Leaving San Francisco in February, he stayed two weeks in Los Angeles, then left there March 5, promising Exposition officials he would be in Dallas April 20. He was. The photo shows Rangerette Helen Stamps and an Exposition police escort showing him around the lot, where the big fair opens June 6.

Here's the architect's sketch of one side of the "Streets of Paris." One of the last buildings started one of the Midway attractions at the Texas Centennial Exposition broken for the show last week.

Dallas Hospitality House Opened

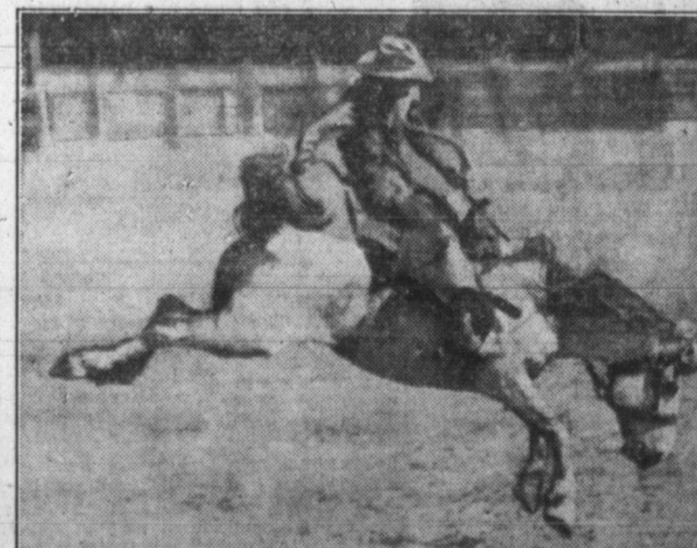

Because of the many pre-exposition visitors to the Dallas lot of the Texas Centennial Exposition, which opens June 6, the Conoco Hospitality House, modeled from an old southern mansion, has been thrown open to the public for use by pre-Exposition crowds.

Rangerette

Leah Hicks, Paiute Indian of Reno, Nevada, has been made an honorary captain of the Rangerettes for the Texas Centennial Exposition opening in Dallas June 6. A student of Bacone Indian College, she will play an important part in Exposition activities.

How'd You Like to Ride This One?

"Chief Bear," one of the 150 going through a mild practice workout. The horses and 100 steers for the "bulldozing" contests, already are in Dallas for the June 6 opening of the $25,000,000 fair.

ADJOURNMENT BY NEXT WEEK END SOUGHT

TAX AND RELIEF ACTS STAND IN WAY OF CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, May 25. (AP)—New dealers and their critics organized today for the last big struggle of this congress as democratic leaders bent every effort to push the tax bill and the $1,245,000,000 relief appropriation down the home stretch and to adjourn at the end of next week.

The senate finance committee gathered today to polish up the revenue measure, and perhaps to add one or two amendments, including a half-cent-a-pound excise levy on sugar to raise $66,000,000. The aim is to bring the measure up to $620,000,000 in permanent revenue requested by President Roosevelt. As it now stands, the treasury estimates the yield at $580,000,000.

Democratic leaders were confident the relief measure would pass the senate in a few days and that debate could begin late this week on the revenue bill. They predicted that too would pass with votes to spare.

Republicans prepared to fight. Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) took the field with a declaration that "any punitive tax on undistributed earnings is inevitably an assault on thrift and prudence."

He announced he could not "consent to an amazingly blind and destructive procedure which concentrates all congressional attention upon raising $600,000,000 more in taxes and completely ignores the comparatively easy alternative of saving $600,000,000 by economies and elimination and by substituting a rational reform formula."

Vandenberg is fighting for a decentralization amendment to the deficiency bill carrying $1,425,000,000 for relief for next fiscal year. Instead of being handled by WPA direct, the money would be administered by states, which also would have to put up a share of the cost.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) was hopeful that the senate finance committee could complete its work today on the tax bill and turn it over to the senate. Some other senators figured the task could not be finished in less than two or three days, although they expected no further major changes in the bill as it now stands.

Stanley Forker, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Forker, was able to leave Pampa-Jarratt hospital yesterday afternoon.

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

Still in Camp

Roy Wallrabenstein, former director of the Pampa-high school band, is an officer in charge of a CCC camp 6 miles from Silver City, N. M., he writes in a letter to Supt. R. B. Fisher. The camp is at an elevation of 7,000 feet in a beautiful location. Men in camp are receiving educational training through a plan worked out with the Teachers College at Silver City. Mrs. Wallrabenstein, who was ill when the family left Pampa, is still in an army hospital at El Paso, but is slowly improving.

To Have Luncheon

Three-H and Bethany classes of the First Baptist church will have a joint luncheon tomorrow, it was announced this morning. The time will be 1 p. m.

Something New

Pampans are invited to something new in the way of a good-will trip on Wednesday night and the local chambers of commerce urge as many as possible to go to the Skelly Schafer gasoline plant, seven miles west of Pampa. The picnic supper will be a minor part of the occasion. Headlining the program will be two playground ball games under the lights near the plant. The Pampa Sluggers and South Side Lassies, Pampa's two girls' playground ball teams, will meet at 8 o'clock. A second game will be between the Skelly Schafer plant team and one from the Dixie Creek Oil company, two of the creek men's teams in this section.

Brotherhood to Meet

Men of the Presbyterian church will meet for a Brotherhood dinner and program at the church annex tomorrow evening at 7:30. Women of the church will serve the monthly dinner.

Personal

Mrs. Ben Ward and children, Gloria Jeanne and J. E., have returned from a 10-day visit in Oklahoma City. They also attended the oil exposition in Tulsa.

Mrs. R. L. Bonner Dies Here After Lengthy Illness

A blood transfusion failed to save the life of Mrs. R. L. Bonner, 27, last night in a local hospital. The donor was Earl Carlson, volunteer fireman. Mrs. Bonner had been in failing health for some time.

Mrs. Bonner had been a resident of the LeFors community for two years, residing on the Shamrock lease two miles from town. Mr. Bonner is production farm boss for the Shamrock Oil & Gas company.

Surviving Mrs. Bonner is her husband; three stepsons, D. M., Raymond, and Roy Jr., all of LeFors; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Hunt of Hankstead; three sisters, Mrs. Ruby Aver, Mrs. Georgia Bell Stanton, LeFors, and Mrs. Mary Ann Griffin, Amarillo; a brother, Perry Hunt, Amarillo.

The body was to be taken to the family home at 2 o'clock this afternoon, there to remain until 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock tomorrow in the Church of Christ at McLean, where Mrs. Bonner was a member, by the Rev. Andrews, pastor. Burial will follow in McLean cemetery in charge of G. C. Malone funeral home.

that their earlier statements that Poole was slain because he mistreated his wife were false, and that the real reason for the "ritual execution" was that Poole, a non-member, had come into possession of secrets of the Black Legion society.

The discovery of Poole's bullet-pierced body on a little-traveled township road May 13 set in motion investigations which disclosed the existence of a wide-spread national organization with a reported membership of 135,000 armed men in Michigan alone.

Thirteen men, including seven of the police name as being present when Poole was shot to death as he slept before his abductors, were under arrest here; another, said by state police to be a brigadier general in the Michigan Black Legion, was held in Jackson for investigation into a reported fogging death; and Detroit police were on the trail of a mysterious "state commander" who apparently had fled over the week-end as one revelation into the hooded order followed another.

National officers were being sought in other states.

Flogging Victims Tell

Much of the information came from flogging victims who responded to a public appeal by McCrea after the prosecutor had promised protection, he said, and details of the night-riding organization were obtained from literature seized in several raids.

At least three investigations here are being conducted into the Black Legion which, State Police Captain I. H. Marmon said he had been informed, may have been responsible for 30 deaths in Michigan.

In Detroit, police sought to link the sinister hooded order with the death of Rudolph J. Anderson, 40, from a gunshot wound last December. A rifle lay near the body in Anderson's parked automobile, and the death was recorded as a suicide.

Capt. Marmon said he was told that the Black Legion made its "executions" appear as suicides.

Anderson was a fellow employe of Harvey Davis, a "colonel" in the order, and Dayton Dean, who are held in connection with the fatal shooting of Charles A. Poole, on May 12.

Larry Colburn, chief investigator for Wayne county prosecutor, Duncan C. McCrea, said he was informed the Black Legion had 100,000 members in Michigan, all armed, that it refused to countenance withdrawal, and boasted it had "no ex-members except those that are six feet under."

Guard Suspended

Mrs. Ernest said Ray Ernest, also a state prison guard, was in the party that seized her husband. Ernest was detained on a charge of possessing illegal weapons after a raid on his home disclosed several weapons, ammunition, a hood and robe bearing the skull and crossbones insignia of the Black Legion, a whipping strap, and literature describing an organization referred to only as the L. O. T. P.

Warden Harry H. Jackson of the state prison suspended Ernest yesterday. He said any other prison employe found to be connected with the order would be dismissed, and investigated a list of names, including those of several guards, found in Ernest's possession.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, May 25. (AP)—The attention of the stock market today was centered on industrial specialties, a number of which were pushed up fractions to around 2 points.

At the same time many other sections of the list were neglected, and there were sufficient soft spots in evidence to attract a moderately irregular close.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 25. (AP)—Despite notices that 1,104,000 bushels would be tendered in settlement of May wheat contracts tomorrow, the price of that delivery rose strongly late today.

Newsiness of traders was persistent regarding the outcome of tomorrow's developments as to May wheat settlements. Notwithstanding announcements 260,000 bushels had been sold into storage here and 75,000 bushels bought to come here from Kansas City, highest prices of the day were scored in the final transactions.

Wheat closed flurried, 1/4-1/2 cents above Saturday's finish, May 95 1/2-3/4, July 85 1/2-3/4, corn 5 1/2-3/4, up, May 63 1/2, oats at 1/4 decline to 1/4 advance, and provisions varying from 17 cents setback to 30 cents gain.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 25. (AP)—The market held net gains averaging 25 cents a bale during the morning, largely the result of a scarcity of contracts, rather than any definite buying interest.

The price fixing in July lent firmness to this option and it held at 11.43. Oct. was up 6 points at 10.44 and Dec. was up a similar amount at 10.42.

visitor finds himself in a vast room, some 70 feet square and 50 feet high, with gaunt steel girdles showing.

Farther along, the squat log structure which will house ranger headquarters stands out as a windowless unroofed skeleton. Inside hundreds of workmen are laying flagstones in a patio. The Alamo reproduction likewise lacks interior finish.

The wooden framework of two buildings loom up across the way. They had been started only a day or two before. Officials started another $50,000 building today, announcing two weeks would see it complete.

The puzzled visitor wonders how all this work can be done in a scant 12 days. A superintendent points to the hundreds of men, working the clock around. They view with pride the speed with which they have thrown up the towering walls of these many buildings. Landscaping and other finishing touches they regard as trivial.

The vast layout has taken its definite shape. Its modernistic structures already are dressed in their bright paint. Huge murals, gaily done in blues, orange and brown, add color to the scene. Exhibits are being moved in.

Three heroic female figures, each standing 40 feet high, gaze down on the main promenade. A fourth, still in her plaster of paris cast, is partly hidden under scaffolding.

Somewhere, gay music blares out heard all over the grounds. A glassed-in broadcasting station is trying out its equipment with recorded music. A pair of rankers amble up on their piano pianes; pause to listen.

A block away, visitors pause for a stein in a German sidewalk restaurant, already doing a lively business. Along comes a truck with a red-faced policeman getting to a trailing crowd. Hundreds follow the truck, listening to his description and identification of each building.

Night falls and giant searchlights cut through the sky lighting their beams for miles. Momentarily colored spots are tried out. Then the switches are pulled and blackness falls. Another piece of the exposition's mass of equipment has been tested and found ready.

her body shipped back to her native state in the case of a journey of many hundred miles. Her husband remonstrated with her, pointed to the expense. When questioned slowly, she declared that it was not love of her native state that prompted her demand, but a strong dislike for being buried in a cemetery such as Big Spring has.

THE HANDLER IN Panhandle Herald—When one makes a long automobile trip through the south, he realizes that gasoline taxes cost a lot. Practically every southern state charges a six cent state gasoline tax, compared with four cents in Texas. There is a tendency of tens of thousands of people from the north to go south in the winter, so the tourists are helping a lot to build good roads in southern states.

MULESHOE JOURNAL

A farmer well-known around Muleshoe who has three sons now grown to manhood recently told a friend that he thought he had a big mistake in educating them off of the farm. None cares enough about farm life to stay at home and help him. This farmer blames the attitude of his sons toward farm life on the kind of education they received in high school. In that school the big idea seemed to be to get a white collar job in some city. He contends, and he may be right, that those who teach rural boys and girls should take more interest in farm life and farm homes.

or impair the obligations of their contracts.

"The statute before us expresses this design in plain terms. It undertakes to extend the supposed power of the federal government incident to bankruptcy over any embarrassed district which may apply to the court."

Bondholders attacking the law owned approximately one-tenth of the $800,000 bonds outstanding.

They said they were offered only 48 per cent of the face value of the obligations under the reorganization plan.

The Southern Texas federal district court held the act invalid and dismissed the debt refunding plan. It required a $400,000 loan from the Reconstruction corporation.

Under the legislation, the agreement had to be approved by the federal court and a majority of creditors ranging under certain conditions from 66 2/3 to 75 per cent. The act recently was extended to 1940.

It was introduced by Rep. Wilcox (D., Fla.).

Accident Victim Is To Be Buried At Former Home

Funeral services for Raymond Hartell, 42, were to be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the First Methodist church by the Rev. Gaston Foote, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, Oklahoma City, and the Rev. W. C. House, pastor of First Methodist church here. The body will be sent to his former home, Pleasant Hill, Mo., by the Charlie Duenkel Funeral home.

Mr. Hartell was killed instantly Saturday afternoon when his car struck a concrete head wall on highway 66 near Erick, Okla. He was en route from Fort Worth and Smackover, Ark., where he had been on a business trip.

Surviving Mr. Hartell are his wife, one daughter, Clara Marie, his parents, and one brother.

Pall bearers named were Don Donovan, Dutch Hoffman, West Godfrey, Cecil Harless, Frank Yearly, and Dick Jones.

Flower girls named were Charlotte Rhodes Malone, Jeanette Cole, Helen Arndt, Dorothy Jo Moore, Martha Price, and Lois Foster.

Music was to be in charge of R. B. Fisher.

Well-Known LeFors Resident Is Dead; Funeral Tomorrow

A familiar figure was missing from the streets of LeFors this morning with the passing of O. J. Doan, 87, who died in a local hospital this morning. Mr. Doan had been a resident of LeFors for nine years and was known and loved by young and old.

Surviving is his wife and a niece, Mrs. Anna Adams of Linnen, Mo. Funeral services will be conducted at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Methodist church, LeFors, with the pastor, the Rev. Lloyd Jones, reading the services. Burial will follow in LeFors cemetery in charge of the G. C. Malone Funeral home.
