

Small Says Texans Must Pay Either Selective Sales or Income Tax

BYRNS, GREEN FIGHT MORTGAGE BILL

WTCC ELECTS FORT WORTH'S MAYOR JARVIS

EASTLAND ATTORNEY IS NAMED FIRST VICE- PRESIDENT

AMARILLO, May 13 (AP)—Brownwood was chosen as the 1937 convention city, and Mayor Van Zandt Jarvis of Fort Worth was elected president at the closing session here today of the West Texas chamber of commerce's 18th annual convention.

AMARILLO, May 13. (AP)—State Senator Clint Small predicted today that unless Texas adopts a selective sales tax to provide revenues for old age assistance and other obligations, the people within 12 months would be making renditions on a state income tax.

The Amarillo legislator told the West Texas chamber of commerce, in the closing session of its annual convention, that tax-payers would not stand for a higher levy on gasoline and that other sources, except natural resources, had been tapped to the limit.

"For the past six months legislators have been wondering how funds can be obtained to pay the obligation created by the old age assistance bill," he said. "After exhaustion of all other possible means of raising this money, only a state income tax or a sales tax remain."

Small said a sales tax he proposed would be based only on "practical necessities" and not on state necessities of life.

He expressed the belief that such a sales tax would arouse the interest of everybody in the tax problem and, by making it personal, discourage resistance to bills, extravagant, needless expenditures.

His omnibus tax measure would increase the levy on crude oil and sulphur 25 per cent, and the natural gas tax would be hiked 33 1/3 per cent.

Existing state debt of $12,000,000, he said, and the state needs $15,000,000 in new revenue. He believes these increases in natural resource taxes and the selective sales levy would meet the situation.

Hindenburg Has Lots of Leg Room

It's hard to believe that this group of napping passengers, lolling in a comfortably furnished lounge room, are air adventurers making trans-oceanic flight history. But they are, for the picture was made in the lounge room of the dirigible Hindenburg when the big ship was over mid-Atlantic on its record flight from Germany to America.

Roosevelt Leads In Voting In West Virginia And Ohio

DYING MAN IS INSTALLED AS MEDICAL HEAD

Physician in Seattle May Not Live Thru Day

KANSAS CITY, May 13 (AP)—An impersonal thing known as "procedure" was cast aside by 6,000 leading medical men in tribute to their new association president, installed on the assurance of a hospital bulletin he would live 24 hours more.

In Seattle, Dr. J. Tate Mason, 55, listened by radio yesterday to the convention of the American Medical Association. He was its president-elect, but was unable to attend the convention because a blood clot has necessitated the amputation of his left leg.

The time came for the doctors to decide whether he should be installed. With trembling voice a personal friend of Dr. Mason's interpreted the judicial committee's interpretation of the constitution.

Senator Neely Takes Big Lead Over Holt

By LEONARD B. SHUBERT
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—Ohio's primary election results commended sharp attention in the capital today as incomplete returns showed substantial leads for President Roosevelt and Robert A. Taft in the democratic and republican presidential contests.

The chief executive had a 13 to 1 lead over Colonel Henry Breckinridge, foe of the new deal, on the basis of an incomplete count of the state's 8,579 precincts in the party's presidential preference ballot.

Taft, "favorite son" candidate supported by the Buckeye state's republican organization, appeared to be piling up an increasing lead over the veteran Idahoan, Senator Borah, in the struggle for national convention delegates.

In the voting for republican delegates at large, the favorite son slate of eight candidates was ahead of a Borah ticket of seven. In most of the district contests for which returns were available, Taft men also led. Twenty-five Taft candidates and three Borah men were in the van in such tests, with some districts still to be heard from.

7 CHILDRESS STUDENTS HURT IN CAR WRECK

34 Seniors on Way To Picnic at Park

ALTUS, Okla., May 13 (AP)—Seven persons were injured, one critically, when an automobile bearing Childress, Texas, high school students to Medicine Park, Okla., for an all-day outing skidded in gravel and overturned in a deep ditch two miles west of here today.

Most seriously hurt was Mrs. Monte Bretherton, 42, of Childress, mother of one of the students, who suffered severe head injuries.

The other occupants of the automobile, all cut and bruised, were: June Bretherton, Mary Ruth Carandine, Mary Hardy, Mary Taylor, Peggy Sweeney, and Kathryn Pieratt, all Childress high school seniors.

BANDS RECEIVE BIG OVATION IN AMARILLO

THOUSANDS AMAZED BY SIGHT OF SEVEN BIG BOONS

Pampa's seven bands entered in the West Texas chamber of commerce convention parade in Amarillo yesterday received great ovations and commendations both during and after the march.

Lunches for the musicians were bought by the Pampa chambers of commerce, which sponsored the trip. The cowboy band sponsored by the Centennial committee here and headed by Harry Kelley played for the press-chamber of commerce secretaries banquet at noon and later broadcast over KGNC from the Amarillo hotel.

The Sam Houston ward school band also was heard on this same broadcast.

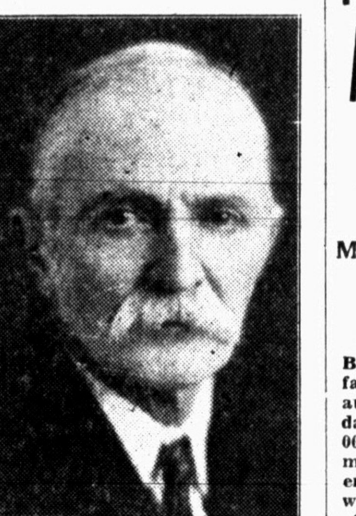

Signs on cars and on the truck bearing the cowboy band advertised the Panhandle Centennial to be held here June 2-5. Announcements also were broadcast. Uniformed Boy Scouts carried banners announcing the names of bands.

Concerning the bands in the long parade, the Star-Telegram said this morning: "Pampa amazed the thousands of people who lined the streets by presenting not one but six bands. There were the Senior high school band in green and gold, with the big Harvester banner in the lead; the Junior high band in purple and white; the Horace Mann school band in purple costumes with gold helmets. Then came three bands of little fellows, some of them no bigger than mascots of others. The Baker school in black and silver; the Sam Houston school in gold and blue and the Woodrow Wilson school in red and white paraded. Besides, there were the Pampa Cowboy entertainers."

J. S. Wynne, Pampa pioneer who is a member of the WTCC board of directors, was busily representing this community in the business sessions of the convention.

Garnet Reeves and George Briggs of the B. C. D. staff received verbal assurance from many WTCC directors and officials concerning delegations to the local Centennial. J. Ben Critz, manager of the Dallas chamber, and Wilburn Page, manager of the Wichita Falls chamber, were among the managers who said they would bring groups to Pampa June 2-5.

PUERTO RICO GETS 'LOAD' OF ZIONCHECK

Honeymooner Finds Himself Among Rioters After Car Wrecks and Calls 'Law'

SAN JUAN, P. R., May 13. (AP)—Puerto Rico's serious nationalist movement and the ebullient Representative Zioncheck of Washington found themselves entangled today.

Neither the Nationalist party nor the other party, apparently had any desire to continue the mesalliance.

Zioncheck, here on a honeymoon, attained island-wide interest Monday by a series of automobile mishaps. Last night he found himself in the center of a riot of high school children who were demonstrating in favor of the establishment of Puerto Rico as an independent nation, outside the jurisdiction of the United States.

Neither the congressman's driving nor the independence movement had any relationship with the other, but before last night's demonstration was ended Zioncheck asked that the United States Marines be called out.

TAX ACT SEEN AS SCHEME TO EVADE LEVIES

MORGENTHAU DEFENDS BILL; BYRD AT- TACKS IT

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—Backers of the Frazier-Lemke farm debt refinancing bill claimed another victory in the house today as the controverted $3,000,000 measure reached the amendment stage and a substitute "Federal Reserve system" for agriculture was held out of order.

Chairman Jones (D., Texas) of the agriculture committee, leading the fight against the Frazier-Lemke measure, sought to substitute a plan under which Federal Land banks would issue notes as the Federal Reserve banks now do.

The Land Bank notes, he said, would be backed 60 per cent by farm "paper" and 40 per cent by gold. He proposed that the notes be used with a view to refinancing farm debts at 2 per cent interest.

Rep. Woodrum (D., Va.) was presiding when the substitute was held out of order.

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—Speaker Byrnes took the house floor today in the fight over the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage refinancing bill to read a letter from William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, opposing passage of the $3,000,000 measure.

Green's letter, the speaker said, recited that the A. F. of L. executive council now meeting in Washington had gone on record as against the bill "largely because of its inflationary features."

"We know," the speaker read, "that which inflation of the kind proposed in this bill is adopted, commodity prices rise and wages stand still."

Twinkles

G-Man Hoover goes right out and gets his man. Now if Mr. Roosevelt adopts the same tactics, the campaign will soon be over.

Wonder what a girl who is proud of her figure thinks when an artist refers to her "tors" and realizes her best qualities with those of several other girls to make a picture worth putting on magazine covers?

Our idea of a miracle: That Wellington Junior accordion band, instead of teaching a dozen children to play the thing in unison!

Newspapers are improving. They have found that the word "rats" fits the headlines as well as the first names of the public enemies.

Old staff Pampa: "Here comes the band!"

Musing of the moment: Skippy, the family pup, has recovered a mite of the prestige lost with arrival of the Young Man. Skippy had the poor judgement to pick a fight with a big dog while a car was passing, was partly run over, but will recover. Oysters make good soup, but you can have the oysters.

Brevitorials

WHEN THE complete program for the Panhandle Centennial celebration here June 2-5 is released, the dear public will get a shock. Not even the general committee realizes how varied is this year's program, simply because each committee in its enthusiasm is expanding its plans rapidly. No persons, of any age, should find a dull moment during the celebration. In fact, any person who misses a day of the program will regret the loss.

Hours will be needed to see all of the exhibits, view the parades, air show, horse show, rodeo, visit the concessions, see the ball games, go to the dances, hear the one-act plays, see the pageant, hear the noted speakers, and greet the friends who will be here for the occasion.

Before the Centennial opens, there should be a city-wide clean-up, beginning with municipal properties and extending to every residence. Hours will be needed to collect and burn all the loose paper.

MAYBE YOU remember, as recalled by the Pampa Credit association bulletin:

"Fifty years ago, women wore hoop skirts, bustles, petticoats, corsets, cotton stockings, high button shoes, ruffled cotton drawers—raised big families."

"Men wore whiskers, square hats, ascot ties, red flannel underwear, big watches and chains—worked 12 hours a day and lived to ripe old age."

"Stores burned coal oil lamps, carried everything from a needle to a plow, trusted everybody, never took an inventory, placed orders for goods a year in advance, and always made money."

"Today: Women wear silk stockings, short skirts, low shoes, no corsets, an ounce of underwear, have pet dogs, and go in for politics. Men have high blood pressure, wear no hats (some no hair), drink

Two Killed in McAlester Break

McALESTER, Okla., May 13 (AP)—Two men were reported killed today in a daring break from the McAlester penitentiary brickyard.

Warden Roy Kenny said he believed at least 12 of the 160 prisoners assigned to the yard fled after an exchange of shots with guards.

Kenny said C. D. Powell, about 50, foreman of the brickyard, was one of those killed.

Buckboards and Surreys Wanted For Centennial

Wanted by the Panhandle Centennial exposition: Surreys and buckboards.

Any person in this section of the state having either a surrey or a buckboard or who knows of any that can be secured for the celebration on June 2, 3, 4, and 5, is asked to get in touch with H. E. McCarley at McCarley's Jewelry store, first door north of the First National bank, or by calling him at 750 or 384 and leave the information.

Horses also will be needed to draw the vehicles. Owners who will loan or rent horses should call immediately. The vehicles will be used in the parades and also to be driven around the city by local dignitaries.

Field Mass To Be Held Here During Centennial

A Centennial military field mass will be one of the attractions of the Centennial celebration here June 2, 3, 4, and 5. It was announced by the Centennial committees that the Holy Souls Catholic church would celebrate the mass here at 10 o'clock a. m. June 3, all men's day of the exposition.

Protestant churches have been invited to hold religious services in connection with the celebration.

Father Wonders of the local church said that arrangements for the field mass which would be held in Central park are being pushed. Church dignitaries of the Southwest are being invited to attend. A huge altar will be erected in the park for the service part of which will be sung by a large choir which will come from all over the Panhandle. Thousands are expected to attend the mass which has been a feature of Centennial celebrations elsewhere in the state.

the Weather
West Texas: Partly cloudy in north, unsettled in south portion tonight and Thursday.

People You Know

There is a lonely grey man who sits days after day looking down from a window on cars and people going by on the crowded street.

He is sitting there for months. Sometimes mildly sometimes angrily eyeing passers by; brooding day after day. Oh, one can see there are visions that foment and seethe in his brooding mind.

Eagles to Hold Giant Air Show At Centennial

The Texas Eagles is the name selected by local aviators to replace the name, Wing-Over club, under which the flyers have been meeting.

Plans for a monster air show during the Panhandle Centennial celebration were advanced at last night's meeting in the city courtroom. Invitations were extended to Mike Beecher, great stunt pilot; Art Goebel, sky writer; Lee Miles, speed flier, and other notables to be here during the celebration.

Men-Only Show Tickets To Go On Sale Here

Tickets for the oil men's stag show on June 3 during the Panhandle Centennial celebration here will go on sale at Fatheree Drug No. 4 at 1 p. m. tomorrow.

The show will be on the stage of La Nora theater and will be for men only.

Tickets will be $ 1.10, $1.65, and $2.20. All seats will be reserved. The show was booked in Oklahoma City.

I Saw...

A bright-eyed, handsome young gentleman yesterday whose good humor and personality engaged the fascinated attention of this corner. He was Robert Walter Bly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bly, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Doucette.

A crowd of wistful eyes fastened upon a complete Boy Scout uniform on display—belonging to boys who are not able to buy the uniforms. This corner has a long list of names of Boy Scouts members of every troop in town, who are not able to buy uniforms but would work their fingers off at a job that would enable them to buy the various garments. They need the uniforms particularly at this time, since the Cavalcade of Scouting will be held during the Centennial.

JUNIORS ENTERTAIN SENIOR CLASS AT ANNUAL BANQUET

Business and Professional Women's Club Elects Officers Headed by Mrs. Gee

GYM IS MADE INTO CANOPIED BANQUET ROOM

DECORATIONS ARE IN ELABORATE TEXAS MOTIF

Streamers of red, white, and blue were hung in a section of high school gymnasium, and canopied tables arranged last evening for the annual junior-senior banquet. Juniors chose a Texas Centennial motif for their dinner honoring graduates.

Texas flags and flags of the nation which have governed the state decorated the tables. Favors were maps of the state with pictures of Pampa high school on the face.

Elmer Watkins, junior class president, acted as toastmaster and welcomed the guests after the group had sung the Doxology. J. R. Green, president of the senior class, responded to the welcome.

A Centennial dance was presented by Dorothy Jo Moore, and an accordion solo by Helen Jean Shellebarger. Brief talks on various phases of the Centennial were made by Supt. R. B. Fisher, Principal L. L. Sone, Coach Odus Mitchell, and Ernest Caba.

The high school's Little orchestra, directed by Winston Savage, played during dinner and afterward when the tables were cleared away and the students danced for an hour. Dinner was served to 310 persons, members of the two classes and of the high school faculty. Sophomore girls in home economics classes, who acted as waitresses were La Marie Courson, Lois Foster, Clara Marie Hartell, Donna Jo Berry, Evelyn Jo Edeien, Martha Price, Jeanette Cole, Betty Ann McTaggart, Helen Jean Shellebarger, Mary Elizabeth Seeds, Yvonne Hendrix, Barbara Johnson, Ysleta Davis, Teresa Campbell, Phyllis Crocker, Helen Arndt, Florine Cotten, Lillie Mae Redman, Wilma Dee Abernathy.

Preparations for the banquet were in charge of junior class sponsors. Miss Clarence Branom arranged the program; Miss Angela Strnad was in charge of the menu and table decorations; Miss Cox of flags for decorations; Doyle F. Osborne of finances; Mrs. E. L. Norman and W. N. Anderson supervised room decorations.

Senior Sponsors are Miss Zenobia McFarlin, Mrs. Hol Wagner, Mrs. Frances Alexander, Mrs. M. G. Gordon, and Harry Kelley.

Program Tea Is Given for First Grade Mothers

Mothers of first grade pupils at Horace Mann school were served tea and cake when they met at the school building yesterday, then heard a program directed by Mrs. Clyde Oswald.

Miss Liowell Shelby, school health director, was the speaker. She discussed the symptoms of scarlet fever and things parents can do to prevent spread of the disease. The program included a story by Vada Lee Alden, songs by pupils of Miss Mary Reeves' room, readings by Thelma Joy Mitchell, Joyce Osborn, and Beatrice Foster, and an acrobatic dance by Vada Lee Alden. Mothers present were Mmes. Alden, Anderson, J. B. Niver, W. H. Board, L. C. Childers, N. B. Cooper, Earl Walker, Ben Reno, O. V. Hoy, Grace Estey, L. P. Wade, J. D. Mitchell, J. V. Thomas, George Shelton, A. C. Jones, H. T. Beckham, J. H. Allen, R. Gidwell, George Alden, H. E. Stevens, J. D. Wilson, Oswald, J. R. Vandever, J. W. Foster, W. A. McCrate, and Douglas.

Mrs. Laura Brown was elected president of Ester club for next year. Mrs. Emory Noblitt vice-president, Mrs. Jess Clay secretary, and Mrs. John Hall treasurer, at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Jess Clay. A bingo party was planned for Tuesday at the I. O. O. F. hall. The next club meeting will be on May 26 with Mrs. Chris Baer.

Jolly Nine Club Is Entertained

Mrs. Charles Bush entertained Jolly Nine Bridge club and a guest, Mrs. Bob Sowder, yesterday afternoon at her home. Mrs. Virgil Lumberg received the award for high score, Mrs. A. C. Lovell for second low, and Mrs. Bert Isbell for the highest club bid. Mrs. Sowder was presented a guest favor. Other players were: Mmes. L. E. Brickell, Dick Holmes, Alice Howard, and Ethel Carroll.

MIAMI HOME IS MEETING PLACE FOR CLUB HERE

Mrs. W. R. Campbell Is Hostess to the 20th Century

Twentieth Century club went to the home of Mrs. W. R. Campbell in Miami yesterday afternoon for its meeting. Mrs. R. B. Fisher presented the interesting program on famous bells and bell towers.

She told the stories of bells famous in history and romance, and spoke of modern bells and bell towers.

Books to be placed in the city library were presented at the meeting by several members who did not attend the club's annual book shower last month. Mrs. Clifford Braly, vice-president, was in charge of the business meeting in the president's absence.

A salad course and iced tea were served to a club guest, Mrs. J. P. Vicars of San Jose, Calif., and to Mmes. Paul Kasishke, R. Earl O'Keefe, Tom Rose, Edwin Vicars, A. H. Doucette, Ivy Duncan, Ray Hagam, Raymond Harrah, Fisher, and Braly.

Hopkins School And Club To Be Carnival Sponsor

Hopkins school No. 1 and Hopkins Home Demonstration club will be joint sponsors of a carnival at the school building Friday evening at 7:45. Proceeds will be used by the students for a trip to Carlsbad caverns, and by the club to send a member to the state short course at A. & M. college this summer.

A one-act play will begin the evening's entertainment. A Bingo stand, cat rack, and lunch counter are among the carnival attractions that will add to the fun.

Residents of Hopkins community and their neighbors and friends are invited to be present.

Poppies Received For Sale May 23

Poppies which will be distributed on the streets here Saturday, May 23, to be worn in honor of the World War dead have been received by Pampa unit of the American Legion Auxiliary from the hospital at Legion, where they were made by disabled World War veterans. The Auxiliary's preparations for the annual Poppy day are going forward rapidly under the leadership of Mrs. L. D. Blasingame, chairman.

The poppies are made of crepe paper in exact replica of the wild poppies of France which grew along the World War battle front, the one touch of nature's beauty in that region of death and desolation. Hundreds of disabled veterans have been given employment through the winter and spring shaping the little flowers for the Auxiliary. The work has been conducted in 60 different hospitals and convalescent work-rooms.

Poppy-making work is restricted to disabled veterans receiving little or no government compensation, with preference being given to those having families in need of their support. Materials are supplied by the Auxiliary and the men are paid one cent for each completed poppy. The number each veteran is allowed to make per day is restricted so that the work may be spread among as many needy men as possible and prevent over-taxing the workers' strength.

Making poppies is considered valuable occupational therapy treatment in the government hospitals. The work gives the disabled men an interesting, profitable occupation, relieves them of the long hours of idleness, and is a positive aid to recovery.

Beauty to Wed

One of the most beautiful June brides who will trip to the altar this year is Valerie S. Froehnik (above), popular daughter of the Austrian minister to the United States, who will be married at Washington, D. C., on June 1, to Jean R. L. de Sibour, son of Viscount J. Henri de Sibour.

A June Bride — In Coiffure Only

This would be a portrait of a lovely June bride, her coiffure bedecked with orange blossoms, except that it isn't the marry month. Eleanor Whitney isn't a bride, and those flowers are mock orange blossoms. Nevertheless, the novel arrangement that sets off the brown ringlets of Hollywood's petite dancing star should supply altar-bound girls with a suggestion or two. Certainly it will give young men romantic ideas.

GRADUATES AT McLEAN WILL RECEIVE DIPLOMAS FRIDAY; SEVENTH GRADERS THURSDAY

Seniors Are in the Midst of Class Activities

McLEAN, May 13. — Beginning with the senior play on April 23, followed by an overland trip to Carlsbad caverns and then the annual Junior-Senior Round-Up in the parlors of the Presbyterian church on the evening of April 30, the senior activities of the McLean high school seem to be well under way.

"Eleven billion dollars a year for FOOD?"

That's how much American women spend. If you are buying food for the so-called "average" family of four your share is at least $11 a week.

The job of getting the most out of that eleven dollars requires thoughtful planning, if not ingenuity. You've got to keep a supply of staples on hand—flour, sugar, shortening, baking powder, essential condiments and spices. A variety of breakfast cereals is required. Milk, butter, eggs and cheese figure in meals constantly. Tea, coffee, cocoa and canned fruit juices are consumed daily. Fresh, as well as canned fruits and vegetables, can't be overlooked. Meats, and fish—either fresh, smoked or canned—demand that you buy them. Jellies, jams, relishes and canned soups insist upon a place in your market basket. And last, but not least, is bread three times a day.

So what's the best rule to follow in buying this wide assortment of food? How can you avoid monotony in meals. How can you discover new menus and recipes? How can you have enough money left over each week from your food allowance for a few tasty luxuries that make meals more appetizing? How can you save time and money in buying?

Well, you can tramp through the markets daily—looking, pricing and comparing. But there's an easier way—a more accurate way—a more up-to-the-minute way—

SAM GRAY, WITH A'S SIX YEARS, TO PITCH FOR ROAD RUNNERS TONIGHT

AZTECAS WILL BE HERE FROM MEXICO CITY

OLD TIMER IN GOOD CONDITION FOR GAME

Sam Gray, former major league pitcher, is scheduled to be on the mound tonight when the Pampa Road Runners meet the Aztecas of Mexico City in the opening game of a two-game series. The two clubs will play tomorrow night. Both games will be called at 8:30 o'clock with regular admission being charged.

The old timer joined the ranks of the Road Runners Monday. He is in good condition, having been working with the Dallas Steers for the last two months. Gray is a right-hander and one of the craftiest moundmen ever to toe the rubber for the Philadelphia Athletics, where he stayed for six years, and for the St. Louis Browns, where he spent four seasons. He healthily forced Gray to retire from organized baseball in 1934.

Only information received here about the Aztecas is that they are sparkling defensive players. Local fans remember the Charros players from last season and are wondering if any of them will be here with the Aztecas. Several Charros players had previously played with the Steers, and it is likely that they have rejoined the team.

Doc Talley, king of the House of Davids, told Road Runner officials that the Mexicans have a powerful outfit this year. The team hitting is stronger than that of former Mexican teams and the pitching is up to par, according to Talley.

The Road Runners will be after their fifth win of the season tonight. Nearly 2,000 fans jammed Road Runner park to see the Monarchs take a 3 to 0 game from the Road Runners on Monday night. Another big crowd is expected tonight to see the Aztecas in action.

On Sunday afternoon the Road Runners will try to throw off the Huber jinx and take a game from Blackfaced. Game time will be 8 o'clock. Former Huber Blackfaced has won two victories over the Birds, already this season.

Cleaners Take Phillips 5 to 4 in Thriller

Voss Cleaners and Phillips 66 staged a battle in the playground ball league yesterday afternoon before 450 yelling Phillips fans with Voss Cleaners coming from behind in the last inning to win 5 to 4.

Doey, Phillips hurler, fanned 18 men and allowed only two base hits but lost the ball game. He developed wild streaks at times and his support faltered him at crucial points. Morrison hurled winning ball for the cleaner-men, allowing only four hits. His support was sparkling at times.

Voss entered the final inning one run behind. The first man walked and went to second on an out. Crocker then came through with a single to score the tying run. He made second on the throw-in. Alender became the hero of the game when he crashed out a single to score Crocker with the winning run. The Baptists continued to gain momentum as they swamped the luckless Christians 11 to 2. Ben Wright, catcher, and Grate each hit home runs for the winners. McNally and Poe worked for the Christians. Blair hit for the circuit.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Al Thomas, Browns—Pitched six hit game and shut out Yankees to break team's 13-game losing streak.

Vic Sorrell, Tigers—Shut out Red Sox with three hits.

Ed Brandt, Dodgers—Held Cardinals in check while mates pounded Dizzy Dean and won.

Bill Brubaker, Pirates—Led Pirates' attack against Bees, driving in three runs with a homer and two singles.

SCOUT NEWS

All members of Boy Scout troop 80, First Methodist church, will hold their regular meeting tomorrow night at 6 o'clock at the city water tower in the northwest part of town where they will erect the 16 by 10 log cabin which they will construct in the opening scene of the Scout Cavalcade. The logs, brought from Oklahoma, are already sawed in proper lengths and notched. If bad weather prevails, the troop, as previously announced, will meet at the church instead. Otherwise all members of the troop are asked to be at the water tower at 6 o'clock. The boys must attain such proficiency between now and the Cavalcade that the cabin can be constructed and dismantled within seven minutes.

Brazil Moves Against Smuggling

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Argentina and Uruguay, two of Brazil's ten peripheral neighbors, are to be invited to discuss border smuggling. Both have lower tariffs than Brazil and offer what this country considers constant temptations to smugglers.

GOLFERS HAVE ANOTHER DAY TO QUALIFY

Time Will Not Be Extended After Deadline Which Is Tomorrow Evening.

Pampa golfers who expect to compete for the list of valuable prizes offered in the city tournament have only one more day in which to qualify. The deadline has been set for dark tomorrow night and it will not be extended, according to M. A. Graham, chairman of the tournament committee.

The set-up is for six flights or 88 players but if more than that number qualifies, another flight will be added. Prizes will go to winner and runner-up and winner of consolation play in each flight but the championship bracket, where the winners and runner-up will receive awards.

Because numerous golfers have been unable to qualify to date and will be unable to play tomorrow, the tournament committee has agreed to give those players a qualifying score on payment of their $2 entry fee. The score given them will be the average of games played this season on record at the clubhouse.

Not all of the 50 players who have paid their entry fee have qualified. Tomorrow is expected to see the course crowded with last minute qualifiers.

Grover Austin Jr., one of the city's ace golfers, may be unable to play in the tournament. Austin received a badly injured hand while at work Monday and it is doubtful if the wound will heal in time to allow him to compete.

Up to last night J. H. Hulme had registered the low qualifying score with a 74. Gentry Kidd shot a 75 yesterday in qualifying. R. L. Burke had an 82 and E. H. Behrman carded a 92.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BREITZ

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 13. (AP)—Hate to spoil a good story, but Joe Di Maggio is no $75,000 beauty. . . He cost the Yankees just $25,000 cash, plus ball players supposed to be worth $15,000 more. Fashion hint: Lefty O'Doul, known far and wide as "the man in the green suit," has shifted to a dazzling plaid. . . Also, James J. Johnston has parked his spats for the summer.

New York, the largest city in the country, with three major league ball teams, found itself without a game to go to Monday. . . Sweet day, too. . . Two fans were bemoaning the fact in Lindy's. . . Said one: "Pity there's no ball game, but the Jints are in Philly and the Yanks are travelling. . . Where are the Dodgers?" Inquired the drinking companion. . . Aw, there were some-where around the bottom of the league," replied No. 1 disgustedly. . . Bill McKechnie is one of the few big league pilots to order morning practice as a regular diet.

Was Mr. W. Winthrops of Omaha hot the other day? . . . He walked into a cigar store and made a 50-cent baseball parlay. . . Then he treated everybody and walked out again with $102.90. . . All he did was pick 11 winners. . . Could have had 12 but he didn't want to wait for the result of a night game. . . Paste his name in your hat. . . That bird may come in handy during the next football season. . . In pro-schilling Buddy Myer with a $500 diamond ring, emblematic of the 1935 batting championship, Senator Harris of Mississippi referred to Buddy as the "champion batsman of the American association." . . Cuch. . . Are the pros chuckling at Lawson Little's failure to qualify for the open? . . . Oh, no.

GEORGE McQUINN

AGILE FIRST BASEMAN FOUNDS OUT SLICK DEFENSIVE INFIELD. OF CINCINNATI REDS, BUT HAS YET TO ESTABLISH HIMSELF AS A MAJOR LEAGUE HITTER. . .

ROAD RUNNERS HAVE BETTER PITCHERS THAN STICK POWER

With seven games behind them, the Pampa Road Runners have four in the win column and three on the loss side. Stellar pitching has accounted for the wins more than the hitting ability of the club.

This year's team is an "about face" from the team last season when the power was in the stick. With Nell, Scaling, Seitz, and Brickell pounding the ball to all corners of the lot, the Road Runners got away to a good start. This year the base blows have been few, the leading hitter in the seven games having a batting average of only .296.

Al Summers, little, second baseman, and Ben McLary, shortstop, are leading the batting list with eight hits on 27 trips to the plate, giving them an average of .296. Manager Sam Hale is a close second with 7 hits on 24 trips to the plate, for an average of .292.

Only one home run has been registered and it went to Lefty Cox who hit for the circuit in Amarillo. Lee Daney and George Bulla led the pitchers in percentage with a win each against no losses. Bulla hurled only two innings but got credit for a win. Daney appeared in three games but was only on in the deciding end of one. Gene Ledford has performed the strong-man stunt and has two wins against one loss. The other losses went to Dilbeck and Stewart.

More power is in the making. Manager Sam Hale announced yesterday. The team this year is scrappy and on its toes all the time. The veteran Hale is a firm believer in every man being able to go to top speed all the way or not to go at all. He has the birds hustling all the time and that is what the fans like to see.

FROGS GETTING REVENGE FOR LICKING THEY TOOK NOV. 30

BY FELIX R. MCKNIGHT, Associated Press Sports Writer.

DALLAS, May 13. (AP)—Publicists at Texas Christian university are still applying the salve to 1935 football wounds. . . They would have John Pan note that the Horned Frogs are getting revenge on Southern Methodist for the licking they took November 30, last.

Since that day, the Mustangs and Froggies have met in athletic combat 14 times. . . The Christians have come off best in 12 of the meetings. . . Victories were registered in basketball, baseball, track, and tennis. . . The Frog golfers failed, lost two matches to the Mustangs.

Huntsville awaits a game of cops and robbers next Sunday. . . The Dallas police baseball team, which once threatened to sign Paul (Daffy) Dean, plays the Huntsville striped Tigers. . . The Tigers recently thumped the Houston officers.

The Echo, prison system publication, writes: "After playing nip and tuck with the cops for years, we all lose. . . Nip and tuck is their racket, with them usually 'tucking' somebody away for quite a spell. . . We are the ones who get 'nipped'. . . On Sunday, the 'Thieves' and the 'Cops' meet on common ground. . . Using the same weapons, a ball or two and a lot of gloves and sticks. Don't let your sentiments rule your betting hand, as we are informed the Dallas 'Cops' are as adept at ball playing as they are at 'nipping' and 'tucking'."

BROWNS PICK ON YANKS TO BREAK STREAK

ST. LOUIS TEAM WINS GAME AFTER 13 DEFEATS

BY ANDY CLARKE, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The New York Yankees, leading the American league race, are wondering whether the St. Louis Browns are going to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery.

The Browns were the bane of the Yankees last year, turning very savage when the McCarthys were in the opposite dugout and then becoming just as docile when the Tigers happened to be the foe. They were a big help in Detroit's march to the flag.

The Browns, with 13 straight defeats behind them, picked on the Yankees yesterday to break their losing streak, with a 7-0 shutout. The Red Sox also were shut out, 5-0, by the Tigers and so the Yankees remained in the van of the race but Manager Joe McCarthy hoped the Browns weren't going to renew an old habit.

Vic Sorrell turned in the best pitching performance of the day when he let the Red Sox down with three hits. The Tigers collected eight hits, one of them a homer by Goose Goslin.

Dizzy Dean was shelled with 13 hits as the Dodgers beat the Cards 6-2 with Ed Brandt winning his first game of the season. The game was marked by bickering between Manager Casey Stengel of the Dodgers and Leo Durocher of the Cards and they met behind the grandstand after the game to settle their differences. Durocher said Casey hit him with a bat but Stengel insisted that it merely was his fist. Frankie Frisch broke up the battle.

For the second day in a row, the Giants won a ball game in the ninth inning. Travis Jackson hitting a clean single to score Mel Ott for a 5-4 win.

The Cincinnati Reds sent the Phillies into the National league cellar when they beat them 6-4. Lew Riggs, Reds' third sacker, sent home the winning runs as he singled with the bases loaded and two out in the seventh.

Darkness and an approaching thunder storm halted the Bees-Pirates game with the score 6-all in the tenth inning. It was a free-hitting contest in which 24 hits were made off seven pitchers, four of whom worked for the Bees.

Two other games were called on

OIL NEWS AND NOTES

OPTIMISM IS IN SADDLE AT TULSA'S SHOW

in consumption keeping well ahead of production.

Every indication was for a summer of heavy consumption with the highways in greater numbers than ever before in newly purchased automobiles.

Many a refiner reported a good pickup in contract shipments during the past week.

GLOOM GONE AS OIL EXPOSITION OPENS

TULSA, Okla., May 13. (AP)—They have taken a lot of the bogeymen out of the oil game.

With the big-wigs of the petroleum industry fanned here today for the ninth International Petroleum Exposition, it was impossible not to discern a distinct note of optimism among the men who represent the manifold branches of the business.

Gone was the gloom which two years ago hung over from the days of lush production and oil at "two bits a barrel."

The calamity howler was replaced by a man who talked hopefully of the present and future.

There was a great deal of pride of accomplishment among the oil men. Many talked of the technical advances in the refining end. There were few who would not agree that orderly marketing methods, proration of production and methods of control by the business itself had put stability into an endeavor which a few years ago was a cut throat affair, subject to fluctuations that produced whirlwind periods of prosperity and depression.

And as for the strides taken—there has been more progress in the last year and a half than in all the rest of my 39 years in the oil business," said one old timer.

"This exposition is a tremendous thing," said W. G. Skelly, president of the show. "It shows the oil business is going places."

Most refiners were sanguine about the gasoline price situation.

They agreed readily that refined output and stocks were at a high point but they were quick to cite computations showing an increase

INCREASE REPORTED

TULSA, Okla., May 13. (AP)—The Oil and Gas Journal reported today an increase of 43,731 barrels daily in the production of crude oil in the United States for the week ending May 9.

Total production for the nation was 2,918,641 barrels daily compared to 2,918,641 the previous week.

Most of the major producing areas shared the increase. Oklahoma showed an increase of 5,825 barrels daily for an average of 537,825 and East Texas increased 1,852 barrels to a total of 547,739.

For the total state of Texas the daily production for the week was 1,170,712 barrels, an increase of 5,242 barrels.

Production was down in Kansas, decreasing 7,425 barrels daily to a total daily average of 144,200.

California had a sizeable increase of 22,400 barrels daily for an average of 583,900 while Louisiana increased 3,268 to 219,205 barrels.

Eastern fields including Michigan increased production 4,411 barrels daily making the daily average 142,195.

In the Rocky mountain area there was a hike of 10,530 barrels daily, making the total daily average production 123,410 barrels.

PRESSURE DECLINES

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—A sharp bottom hole pressure decline in the East Texas oil field today prompted anticipation in some quarters that the field's June allowable would be reduced.

Commissioner Lon A. Smith said engineers reported that pressure dropped 7.2 pounds from April 4 to May 12, or .550 pounds per 1,000,000 barrels withdrawn compared to a drop of 346 pounds in March.

He accompanied the figures with a charge, however, that they were not "even near accurate," and asserted he would press his fight for a higher East Texas allowable in a statewide proration hearing tomorrow. Smith said pressure was gauged from tests on about 30 wells.

"I cannot think engineers can find any 30 wells that will be indicative of the conditions of a large field with over 20,000 producing wells," he said. "It is not reasonable.

DALLAS BEATS HOUSTON 16-5 AND BUGS WIN

STEERS RUN IN SEVEN SCORES IN 7TH INNING

(By The Associated Press)

Today's games (all night).

Houston at Dallas.

Galveston at Fort Worth.

San Antonio at Oklahoma City.

Beaumont at Tulsa.

Dallas walloped Houston, 16-5, and Galveston beat Fort Worth, 9-4, in the only Texas league games played last night. The other teams had an off day.

Dallas put together 17 hits and four walks in seven innings for their run-away victory which featured a seven-run rally in the seventh.

The victory left the Steers nine percentage points behind their victims for second place in the standings. Each Dallas player hit safely at least once and Harvel led the batting parade with two singles and two doubles. Montague and Stroner hit homers for the Steers.

A two-run rally in the ninth ruined another Fort Worth chance to win a ball game. The loss to Galveston was the fifth in a row for the cellar-holding Panthers. Fort Worth scored twice in the first and as many times in the third and then held Galveston scoreless three innings. The Bugs counted once in each of the seventh and eighth and then shoved across the winning runs in the final.

I do not accept it as a fact. I shall continue my efforts to obtain a larger output for East Texas."

V. E. Cottingham, the commission's engineer, has recommended in previous hearings that East Texas be limited to 425,000 to 440,000 barrels daily.

Last month the allowable was cut from 2.85 to 2.74 per cent of the average hourly potential on the report that pressure had declined 4.77 pounds. Estimated production on May 1 was 440,000 barrels. New computations automatically increase the allowable.

CLUB CATCHES ON FIRE AND 4 ARE KILLED

TORCH DANCE LEAVES HALL A PLACE OF HORROR

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13 (AP)—Two men and two women were killed early today when the toe of a torch dancer transformed a gay San Francisco night club into a flaming hall of horror.

The hat check girl was trampled to death as the 50 patrons stampeded from the lane exit from the Shamrock club at 560 Geary street in the hotel district of downtown San Francisco. The other three died of suffocation in the closed second floor room.

Nine were injured, three of them so seriously they were kept at the emergency hospital.

The dead are: Jo Dickinson, hat check girl, San Francisco.

Mrs. Elsie Marler, 32, of Petaluma, Calif., whose husband formerly was part owner of the Shamrock.

Robert Pattison, Berkeley, Calif. John Mason, San Francisco.

The fire started suddenly, unexpectedly at the height of gaiety during the torch dance of Betty Blossom, headline performer of the club.

As she danced about the darkened, low ceilinged room with a torch in each hand, she kicked one of the torches so that its flames leaped up to the filmy draperies which covered the entire room.

Flames swept quickly through the decorations. Horror swept the crowd. Screaming, shouting, they dashed for the only exit. Miss Dickinson was in their path. She was knocked down and trampled to death.

Some collapsed on the dance floor. Others dived into dressing rooms or the ice box.

The flames were quickly smothered without spreading to other parts of the two-story building.

"This is criminal," said Charles Dullea, captain of police inspectors, after inspecting the place. "There was no air in the place."

"There was only one exit and entrance at the foot of a steep stairway with an abrupt right angle turn."

"All the windows were boarded up. I am going through every night club in San Francisco to see if such conditions obtain elsewhere."

SOUNDS EASY
STUART, Fla. (AP)—Catching rattlesnakes with his bare hands isn't so difficult, says Newt Chase, Martin county farmer and trapper.

Chase says he makes a couple passes with his hands, presumably to disconcert the snake, and then looking it in the eye, grabs it just back of the head.

"I've caught a hundred of 'em and ever been bit yet," he added.

JUDGE UPHOLDS PLEA OF ICKES' AIDE IN SUIT

Refuses to Accept a Book by Ickes as Evidence

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—Government and private power company attorneys contester in the District of Columbia Supreme Court today over the question of whether the Public Works administration has illegally attempted to carry out a national electric power program.

Newton D. Baker, counsel for four utility firms attacking the constitutionality of PWA, tried to put in evidence a mass of books and newspaper clippings, in his effort to prove an "illegal plan" followed by several new deal agencies.

"We don't intend to take Mr. Ickes' word for what he claims to do with relief funds," Baker told the court. "We want to examine every word he has said, and all the things he has done and proposed to do."

Chief Justice Alfred A. Wheat refused to accept in evidence a recent book by Secretary Ickes, which, Baker contended, described the program. The justice upheld the plea of Jerome Frank, PWA general counsel, who claimed that such evidence had already been ruled immaterial by the Supreme Court in a recent TVA decision.

"These plaintiffs are the same ones as those who brought the TVA case," Frank said. "And they are trying to bring again before the Supreme Court the same arguments it has already rejected."

Chapter six of Ickes' book—"Back to Work: the Story of PWA"—the center of today's controversy, outlines "a comprehensive program of the public works for the conservation, development, control, and utilization of water power for the general of electrical energy and its transmission and distribution to consumers."

"Mammoth power plants, with intricate generators large enough to supply whole cities, are being erected beside the dams; land is being cleared for huge reservoirs, and big transmission lines are being strung up to carry to home and factory the low cost electricity that is to come," the disputed chapter reads. "This activity is only the beginning of a national plan to increase the supply of electric power and bring down its cost."

Justice Wheat is expected to rule late this week on the power company's plea for an injunction to prevent allocation of $2,444,000 for the construction of 10 municipal power projects located in four states. The companies involved are the Alabama Power company, the Texas Utilities company, the Oklahoma Utilities company and the Iowa Light and Power company.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Walker left Monday on a visit to Fort Worth. They returned last week from a trip to California.

HINDENBURG IS SOARING BACK TO AIR BASE

SHIP MAINTAINS SPEED OF 71 MILES AN HOUR

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER (Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)

Aboard the Zeppelin Hindenburg en route to Germany, May 13.—Favored by a good tail-wind over the great northern circle, the zeppelin Hindenburg sped into the second stretch today of its return flight across the Atlantic to Germany.

Despite fog and falling winds during the first day's run from Lakehurst, N. J., the airliner maintained an average speed of 71 miles an hour yesterday for the first half of the flight to its home base at Frankfurt.

(A radio report gave the Hindenburg's position at 4:00 a. m. C. S. T., at 49.33 degrees north latitude, 26.32 degrees west longitude, about 3,100 miles east northeast of Lakehurst.)

The airship, following the northern steamer route over the Atlantic, rose to an altitude of 3,000 feet yesterday, the commanders hoping to find sunshine for the 48 passengers. They gave up after several hours and descended to a lower, equally foggy level.

A lack of winds during much of yesterday's journey reduced the speed to 55 miles an hour, but faster time at intervals raised the average to 71, and by late last night Captain Ernest Lehmann looked for the rising tail-wind to speed the ship east.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, president of the zeppelin company, was in a jovial mood after this demonstration of good-will by the United States upon the Hindenburg's record first flight to America of 61 hours, 38 minutes.

He beamed with pleasure when informed of reports that a triumphant reception awaited him upon his return to Frankfurt.

Oil Testimony Will Be Studied Prior to Orders

In the records of the Railroad commission today were facts and arguments concerning several outstanding problems in the Panhandle oil field, on which rulings will be issued after study.

For more than two days, Col. Ernest O. Thompson, chairman, and other Commission officials and representatives of the attorney general's department heard testimony on gas-oil ratios, water exempt wells, and other issues.

Commission officials have stressed that water exempt wells throughout the state are taking a disproportionate part of the state allowable.

In the Sunray area, unusual porosity was said to be resulting in an exceptional water and gas flow with the oil. Corrections in taking of tests of bradenhead wells were asked in terms of other types of wells.

Operators testified that to cut off the water was, in most instances, equivalent to killing or depleting the wells. In some instances, it was emphasized, alternatives resulted in water encroachment on other leases.

Off-the-record discussions indicated that in the background of the problem was the belief among operators that many wells in the state have been deliberately completed to produce water in order to obtain a greater allowable production for gas and oil.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Wynne, Mr. and Mrs. De Lea Vicars, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Walker, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Thomas and Misses Roy Riley and Leora Kinard of Pampa; and Mrs. Alice Crawford, Wynne Crawford, Mrs. Cornelius, of Amarillo enjoyed a picnic in the Palo Duro canyon Sunday which was celebrated by the party as Mother's day.

Mrs. A. B. Zahn is confined to her home by illness.

Mrs. E. M. Boyd was taken from Pampa-Jarratt hospital to her home this morning.

ALL RED LIVES UP TO PARDON. POWER POLICY

RECOMMENDATIONS OF PARDON BOARD FOLLOWED

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—Pardon records showed today that Governor Allred has backed up his advocacy of removing sole pardoning power from the chief executive by effecting a somewhat similar system unofficially.

Recommendations of the pardon board were followed in practically all cases. A few, principally furloughs and paroles, were granted without recommendation of the advisors.

Governor Allred advocated, in a speech before the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, adoption of a constitutional amendment which would limit the governor's pardoning power to cases recommended by a constitutionally created board of pardons.

J. B. Keith, chairman of the board, said 1,275 clemency reports were filed last year, of which a large majority were favorable.

Keith estimated the board's reports this year averaged about the same as last year in number. In the first four months of this year, the governor granted 309 clemencies, including 21 full pardons, 52 conditional pardons and 603 general paroles.

Governor Allred has kept abreast of cases recommended by the board. Edward Clark, his secretary, said only seven recommendations awaited action at this time.

Clark said Governor Allred had kept pace with the pardon board better than any governor of recent times. He said a recent check of records showed that little time elapsed between the filing of a report and either granting of clemency or rejection of the application.

Clark said the governor found work of the board highly beneficial, "for they don't recommend any bad ones, especially those convicted of robbery with firearms." He said clemencies granted by the governor against advice of the board principally were for youths.

COURT AFFIRMS DEATH DECREE OF CARRASCO

CONVICTED OF SLAYING HUDSPETH COUNTY RANCHERS

AUSTIN, May 13. (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals today affirmed the death sentence of Antonio Carrasco, convicted in Hudspeth county of the murder of Mrs. Riley Smith in Culberson county, June 2, 1934.

The charred bodies of Mrs. Smith and her husband were found in their burned ranch home southeast of Van Horn.

The court overruled Carrasco's contention of race discrimination in selection of a jury. Carrasco, a Mexican, contended his race was not considered by the jury commissioners in drawing prospective jurors.

"There is nothing in the record to indicate that Mexicans were excluded or discriminated against solely because of race," the court stated.

"There is nothing to show that the 60 Mexicans residing in the county were male voters. That Mexicans had not been rejected is shown by the fact that they had served on grand juries as late as 1932."

In order to sustain the allegation of discrimination, the proof must show that Mexicans were excluded or discriminated against solely because of race.

The appeals court also sustained the trial judge's refusal to quash the special venire on Carrasco's allegation that there were only six Mexicans summoned and stated it failed to find proof the sheriff discriminated against Mexicans in summoning talemans.

Evidence bearing on the death of the husband was admissible, the court stated.

"That the killing of deceased and her husband both grew out of the same transaction and were practically contemporaneous is shown by the evidence," the opinion continued.

"The crimes were intermingled and blended with one another and so connected that they formed an indivisible criminal transaction."

"The killing of the husband of the deceased was a part of the res gesta of the killing of deceased."

Carrasco reported to Van Horn residents that he had been out on the Smith ranch watering stock and returned to find the house burning.

He said he feared Mr. and Mrs. Smith were in it. He was linked to the crime by blood stains on his boots, by tire marks on a truck backwards, and by a bloody shirt found in his bed clothing and by blood stains on his leg.

Smith's rifle, shotgun, and pistol were found in Carrasco's room.

Carrasco made a written statement to officers but repudiated it at his trial and contended he was away from the ranch house when the couple was slain.

And it may be added that while many persons urge us to go back to the good old days, practice economy, and rely on the institutions handed down by our forefathers, we talk of reducing tax burdens, yet make forward never backward.

Texas Quads Are Feted in Gotham

NEW YORK, May 13. (AP)—The 20-year-old Keys quadruplets—Mona, Mary, Leota and Roberta—arrived today for their first visit to New York, distributing invitations to attend the Centennial celebrations this year in Texas.

The four girls, juniors at Baylor University, Waco, Texas, came from Callender, Antario, where they called on the Dionne quintuplets and Dr. Allen R. Daxot. Their next stop is Washington.

Dressed in blue and smiling happily, the girls began their day's program with a look at New York from one of its tallest skyscrapers.

They rushed away to a Kiwanis club luncheon. Sight-seeing, a round of calls and singing on a nationwide broadcast were to occupy the remainder of their visit here. They plan to leave for the nation's capital tomorrow.

CHALLENGERS OF ITALY ARE AGAIN DEFIED

TO DEFEND CONQUEST WITH ARMS, SAYS EDITORIAL

By CHARLES H. GUPPILL (Copyright, 1936, by The Associated Press) ROME, May 13.—Premier Mussolini's Popolo D' Italia defied challengers of the new Roman empire today with a warning that "the Italian people created it with their blood, they will cultivate it with their labor and defend it against anyone with their arms."

The editorial in Il Duce's newspaper coincided with the return from Geneva of Baron Pompeo Aloisi, who was recalled yesterday as Italy laid before the League of Nations implicitly the choice of accepting the fascist empire or losing Italian membership.

Informed sources read in the editorial a slightly veiled reference to Great Britain in the words: "The Italian people ask themselves why the occupation by some powers of civilized and even independent countries should be considered legitimate while Italy's occupation of territories horribly depopulated by barbaric organization and slave trade should be illegitimate."

The editorial asked, "in the name of what Wilsonian paragraph does an extremist crowd living in the shadow of idle factories on subsidies from far-off empires pretend to deny to Italians not only subsidies of the work of others, but the divine and human right to work and live?"

Premier Mussolini's summons to Baron Aloisi to come home was interpreted in informed circles as a warning that Geneva must recognize Italy's conquest of Ethiopia.

Attorney General McCraw and Rep. Eugene Worley are due to arrive here by plane sometime tomorrow, according to a communication from Worley.

Mrs. Floyd Stevens of LeFors was admitted to Pampa-Jarratt hospital last night.

Detailed statistics on the number of corporations which would have paid more today not submitted by Morgenthau today, as they had not been requested, but he was asked to prepare them.

His figures, laid before the committee in a closed session, showed that 600 corporations reported net income of $1,000,000 or more in 1934. If they should have distributed their earnings under the new plan in the way they actually did, 283 would have had their taxes reduced by 50 per cent, and 136 of these would have paid nothing.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.), who had requested the information, told newsmen the figures "prove my contention that many prosperous companies will evade taxes" under the proposal for taxing corporations only upon how much of their income they withhold from distribution.

"I am more convinced than ever that the bill is very much to the advantage of the strong company and disastrous to the small company," Byrd added.

FAIR INDICED HASKELL, May 13. (AP)—C. Matura, 65, a farmer, and Clarence (Buny) Abston, 34, neighbor of Mrs. Rebecca Coursey, 28-year-old Ol-Brien woman who was beaten into insensibility last Thursday night, were indicted by a grand jury here today on charges of assault with intent to murder.

McCRAW SCHEDULED Attorney General McCraw and Rep. Eugene Worley are due to arrive here by plane sometime tomorrow, according to a communication from Worley.

Mrs. Floyd Stevens of LeFors was admitted to Pampa-Jarratt hospital last night.

CONFEDERATION OF WORKERS OF MEXICO IS GREATEST IN REPUBLIC

MEXICO CITY, May 13. (AP)—Vicente Lombardo Toledano's up and coming Confederation of Workers of Mexico, although but ten weeks old, is looking for new worlds to conquer.

Four delegates are in the United States explaining Mexican labor's revolutionary program to American workers endeavoring to bring labor organizations of the two nations into closer cooperation.

Cablegrams sped last week to workers to the south of Mexico conveyed the confederation's May Day salute and proposal that representatives of labor groups in all nations of the two continents get together in an American "continental union of workers."

The fiery Lombardo Toledano, who deserted the schoolroom and the author's desk to turn labor leader, favors Mexico City, Buenos Aires or Panama as the site of the proposed international labor congress, which he hopes can be held late this year.

Favorable replies have been received from Argentine, Chilean and Uruguayan workers, the confederation announced.

The young, fast-growing confederation, which denounced at its birth the Communistic doctrines Lombardo Toledano espoused briefly after his return from Moscow last year, has reached out into Mexico's 28 states to bring into its fold regional and independent unions.

Today it comes close to realizing its self-description as the "single union," and giving its leader founder more power than any other man in Mexico save President Lazaro Cardenas.

Almost "willy-nilly" the government, which had announced plans to form its own "single union" before Lombardo Toledano launched the confederation, has had to swing in behind it.

Evidence of its strength and discipline was offered in abundance May Day when an estimated 100,000 well dressed, well behaved workers, men, women and children, paraded through the streets of the capital.

Lombardo Toledano and his aides set the number marching at 119,000. Reports from cities in the states indicated fully 600,000 Confederation followers engaged in the international labor day observance, they said.

Some opposition remaining, however.

Blistered against the STM are members of the Regional Confederation of Mexican Workers, or CROM, sponsored by ousted Ex-President Plutarco Elias Calles during the four years, 1924-1928, he was Mexico's chief executive.

Chief Cromista strength is in Orizaba, Cordoba, Veracruz, Atlixco and Puebla, and several times recently Cromistas have clashed with CTM workers.

On May Day, however, alert, strategically posted police and soldiers kept the CTM paraders and the 12,000 to 15,000 Cromista marchers apart, so the latter's resentment toward the former found expression only in "abajos" for Lombardo Toledano as an "exploiter of labor."

Scarcely less hostile toward the "new CTM" are members of the old General Confederation of Workers, or CGT. In Merida, Yucatan, on May Day blood ran as the two groups clashed.

Herman Laborde's Communist party of Mexico likewise has little use for the CTM.

Laborde, who got some 20,000 votes when he ran for president on the Communist ticket against Cardenas, recently declared Lombardo Toledano erred when he said "Mexico is not yet ready for Communism," and added:

"The present syndical organization is not enough to achieve the ends the working masses desire."

The Confederation's envoys to the United States are Agustín Guzman Velasco, secretary-general of the syndicate of mine and metal workers; Eduardo Soto Innes, secretary-general of the syndicate of oil workers; and Alejandro Carrillo and Victor Manuel Villaseñor, members of the national executive committee's international relations commission.

After participating in May Day exercises at New York, the four were to visit labor headquarters, universities and civic centers in most of the larger cities of the United States on behalf of Mexican labor's revolutionary program.

Doctor's Trial Begins in China

SHANGHAI, May 13. (AP)—Dr. John Colbert, one of the best known American physicians in China, was put on trial in United States district court here Tuesday on a charge of attempting to murder his young fourth wife—a case as mysterious and obscure as the Orient itself.

The 50-year-old doctor, smilingly protesting his innocence, sat side by side with the wife he is accused of trying to poison.

District Attorney Feltham Watson accused him of a slow and scientific campaign to kill her. The courtroom was crowded.

VALLEE'S FAY ASKS DIVORCE FROM CROONER

CRUELTY IS ALLEGED IN NEW COMPLAINT BY FAY

LOS ANGELES, May 13. (AP)—The married life of Rudy Vallee, curly-headed tenor, which crashed in legal discord three years ago, is due for a quiet finale in a Los Angeles divorce court.

A complaint alleging cruelty was on file today by dark-eyed Fay Webb, daughter of a police chief, whom Vallee described as his dream girl when he made her his bride in Orange, N. J., July 6, 1931.

The filing was preceded by what Mrs. Vallee's counsel, Ben C. Cohen, said was a "satisfactory and amicable adjustment of their financial affairs."

As the divorce action virtually ended a five-year marital story of bicker and banter, alleged boy friends and alleged girl friends, ecstatic reconciliations and sorrowful farewells, a supplemental agreement was signed to one in which Vallee in 1933 agreed to pay his wife $100 weekly.

The new agreement provided "certain sums" for Mrs. Vallee, her counsel said, in addition to the $100 a week, which will continue to be paid her until, if ever, she remarries.

Vallee will not contest the divorce, Cohen said.

The complaint of the band leader's wife recited a series of incidents to show his "ungovernable temper," "great emotional outbursts," and "roving theatrical life impaired her health, destroyed her peace of mind and made her lose weight."

The man who used to sing "I'm Just a Vagabond Lover" criticized and derided his mate and engaged in "acrimonious discussions" over trivial matters, the document alleged.

No mention was made in the complaint of any other woman in Vallee's life. In a separate maintenance action which later was dropped, Fay had charged her husband with misconduct.

Neither did the complaint mention Gary Leon, broadshouldered adagio dancer and schoolboy chum of Miss Webb in Santa Monica, who was named in the maze of litigation that followed their separation in April, 1933.

Negro Seeking Part of Reward

TRENTON, N. J., May 13. (AP)—William Allen, the negro who four years ago today discovered the body of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., is actively seeking at least a portion of the $25,000 reward offered by New Jersey.

Allen said a few weeks ago he had an interview with Governor Hoffman.

The governor told him, he said, that he wasn't much in the picture, but he pointed out that if he hadn't found the baby's body on Mt. Rose Hill, two miles from the Lindbergh home, Bruno Richard Hauptmann could not have been executed.

His chances to get a portion of the reward will be decided by New Jersey's chancery court, which was asked to settle the claims by New York and New Jersey police.

Others claiming it are William R. Strong, New York bank teller; Walter V. Lyle, New York gas station manager; and John Lyons, Lyle's assistant.

Black ironwood is the heaviest wood grown in the United States.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, you feel sluggish, tired, and your bowels are constipated. You get constipated, your whole system is lagged and you feel lousy and the world looks lousy.

Takeatives are only milkshakes. A mere bowel movement does not get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these top pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

PARTIES OFFERED A PLATFORM

One of the year's first platforms is offered to both the republican and democratic parties by "The United States News," an independent weekly newsmagazine of national affairs, published in Washington.

The platform calls for a series of novel planks, many of which have never before been adopted by either of the major parties.

There are thirty planks calling for a reorganization of government. Among them are the following:

Removal of the Bureau of Internal Revenue from the Treasury and its establishment as an independent agency headed by an auditor-general with a 15 year appointment.

Conversion of the Department of Justice into an independent agency headed by a solicitor general appointed for a long term and charged with giving Congress advisory opinions concerning the constitutionality of proposed legislation.

Establishment of an Administrative service for all persons below cabinet rank, with a personnel commission to review the qualifications of all government employees every five years.

Creation of a non-partisan commission appointed for life charged with making a continuous check on the usefulness of government departments.

Legislation to make it a penal offense for any member of Congress to approach any person in the executive establishment with respect to disbursement of public moneys or to appear before any department in an attempt to influence any award involving public money.

A law prohibiting endorsement of candidates for government jobs by any member of Congress.

Requirement that appointments to the Federal judiciary by the President should be made from panels submitted by the American Bar association.

Power in the hands of the President to veto any single item in an appropriation bill without invalidating the entire measure.

A budget system under which disbursements above totals accepted at the beginning of each session of Congress could be made only with approval of two-thirds of both houses.

A single six year term for president and vice-president.

The authors of the platform say: "To draft a platform that really represents the best interests of the people is one thing and to expect for one moment that such pronouncement would ever be adopted at either national convention this year is perhaps a forlorn hope."

But the platform has many features desired by thoughtful persons.

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News' Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. What is the origin of the game called London bridge? T. B.

A. This is a very old game, and is supposed to have originated in the custom of making a foundation sacrifice at the building of a bridge. The tug of war at the end possibly signifies the contest between powers of good and evil for the soul of the victim sacrificed.

Q. Does King Edward VIII play the accordion? H. J.

A. The king plays on the concertina, an instrument of the accordion family.

Q. How far does bock beer differ from regular lager beer? J. S.

A. The American bock beer of today is usually made with specially selected hops with the addition of caramel and high dried malts to impart the darker color and bock flavor. It is a heavier beer and aged very much longer than regular beers.

Q. Should a floor that has an inlaid linoleum be varnished or waxed? S. A.

A. Wax is more satisfactory.

Q. How wide is the promenade at Ostend? S. S. D.

A. This popular Belgian resort uses the seawall as a promenade. The digue or seawall is three miles long, 40 feet high, and 35 yards broad.

Q. Did the husband of Mrs. Pankhurst share her enthusiasm for women's suffrage? H. D.

A. Dr. Pankhurst assisted in the formation of the Women's Franchise League, in 1889.

Q. For whom is Goucher college in Baltimore, Md., named? R. H.

A. It is named for John Franklin Goucher (1845-1922) who was president of the institution from 1890 to 1908. At that time it was called the Woman's College of Baltimore.

Q. Is parliament a three or a four-syllable word? G. T.

A. Three syllables. It is pronounced as if spelled parliament.

Q. How old is the Loyal Order of Moose? F. M.

A. This fraternal society was founded in 1888 at Louisville, Ky., by Dr. J. H. Wilson.

Q. What does Phi Beta Kappa mean? E. H.

A. The title of the honorary fraternity consists of the names of the initial letters of three Greek words meaning philosophy, the guide of life.

Q. In politics what is meant by a steam roller? M. R. H.

A. This term is descriptive of the manner in which the faction in control of a political convention or legislative body may force through a slate or program previously determined upon. The use of the steam roller at the republican convention of 1912, through the control of the national committee, gave the term and the procedure wide publicity.

Q. How many miles of telegraph and telephone wires are there in the United States? K. S.

A. Those in use measure 87,677,586 miles.

Q. What caused De Quincy to start the opium habit? E. R.

A. While at Oxford he acquired the habit of taking opium by using it to cure an attack of neuralgia.

Q. What is the name of the sculptor who executed Victory of Samothrace? L. M.

A. The sculptor of this statue in the Louvre is unknown. It was executed to celebrate a naval victory of the Macedonian ruler Demetrius Poliorcetes over the Egyptian general Ptolemy in 306 B. C. The statue was discovered in Samothrace in 1863.

Q. Where is the memorial to The Magic Flute? E. G.

A. The Magic Flute House where Mozart composed his famous opera is on the Capuchin Mountain near Salzburg, Austria.

Q. What countries besides the United States regulate the amount of gold people can keep? W. M.

A. Several other countries, notably Germany and Italy, do not permit individual possession of gold. Great Britain limits possession to $50,000. Mexico and Canada have no restrictions on possession, but an individual cannot export gold from Canada without a permit. Russia does not allow export and in many other countries export can be only by permit.

Q. I understand that the National Youth administration provides funds for aiding in the education of needy students. What is the average grant, and is provision made for college education? J. J.

A. During the school year 1935-36, $27,000,000 was allocated for student aid. This was to provide for as many as 200,000 students to attend high school on an average monthly grant of $6 each; 100,000 students to do post-graduate work on an average monthly grant of $25 to $30 each.

Q. What are the boundaries of the Jackson Purchase in Kentucky? H. M.

A. The Jackson Purchase of Kentucky is bounded on the east by the Tennessee river, on the west by the Mississippi river, on the north by the Ohio river, and on the south by the State of Tennessee.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON. — The Passamaquoddy fiasco has gone beyond the screwy stage and into the grotesque.

Gov. Louis J. Brann of Maine has been in Washington lately and says he will stay around until he is promised that work on that great visionary tide-harnessing power project will be resumed. The terms on which it would proceed, it is said, would mean a New Deal flip-flop and salaam to the "power trust."

Recently the army engineers working on the project, who have gone ahead just as if Congress hadn't balked at spending any more money on it, decided to build a Diesel plant at the site. This would produce power during the nine-hour daily slack tide period when the tides wouldn't produce it.

This plant would be known as a "standby," but it would develop as much power in an hour as would be produced in the other 15 hours of the day and it would cost only $3,000,000, as compared with the $36,000,000 estimated for the cost of the whole project.

You have a perfect right to ask why the government doesn't simply build a Diesel plant—or a couple of them—and forget all about harnessing tides. But the engineering aspect of the Quoddy mess is nowhere near as smelly as the political aspect.

The original Quoddy conception of Col. Dexter Cooper called for collaboration between the United States and Canada on a $150,000,000 project which could have supplied great gobs of cheap power.

Canada wasn't interested. Cooper reduced his plan to a $60,000,000 scheme, which would leave the way open for Canadian operation later, with water to be pumped to take care of the nine-hour slack tide period.

The politicians realized that was a lot of money and cut the sum to $38,000,000, which was all right except—experts now say—the final project wouldn't produce enough—or cheap enough—power to be worth anywhere near its salt.

The Diesel plant was finally proposed when engineers found the basin into which they had intended to pump water had a sandy bottom and wouldn't hold it.

No official group of engineers ever approved the Quoddy project after it had been whittled down. The chief factor behind White House approval appears to have been the romantic imagination of President Roosevelt, to whom the thrilling notion of harnessing the ocean has a great appeal.

Close behind him was the late Secretary Louis Howe, who always stressed the importance of achieving Democratic victory in Maine in her September, 1936, elections.

After about $5,000,000 had had been spent, Congress refused to appropriate another $9,000,000 requested by Roosevelt to carry on the work in the next fiscal year.

The administration regarded Quoddy and Brann as its two big vote-getters in Maine. More and more it has come to lean solely on Brann, but if Quoddy is resumed this year it will be because of Brann's insistence.

Before believing the statement of a Canadian official that there's nothing a woman cannot do, he must prove he actually saw one pass a mirror.

The grim thought pops up that, if the two men entombed in Nova Scotia had been trapped in an American mine, the rescuers might have been PWA workmen.

The crooner who last night wailed, "What's the Name of That Song?" didn't even seem familiar with the tune.

According to a New York critic, "the writing of poetry can't be taught." Or fought.

As the man said when paying the bill for his wife's new hat, "Anything for a laugh."

Dusting The Covers Of Texas History

AUSTIN, May 13.—Culture was not lacking, ever, in the early days of Texas. It was apparent to prospective settlers who read the account of Arthur Tkin, English Consul to the republic. Tkin prepared "A Guide to Emigrants," and had it published in London in 1841.

confident that, on account of his worth and virtues, he will become highly acceptable to you, and that his holy ministry will be greatly useful to the republic over which you preside with so much glory; nevertheless, I so commend him to you, as that whatever benefits you may confer upon him, I and my eminent colleagues will consider as conferred upon us.

Executive Department, Austin, (Texas), Dec. 24, 1840. To His Eminence, Cardinal Fransonius, Prefect.

Arrested at Center, Tex., Mrs. Reba Childs, 25, above, faced trial on a charge of murdering her invalid husband, Mosie Childs, 35, extensor of Shelby county. The alleged confession of Terrance Bramlett, 21, discharged CCC worker of Jefferson, Tex., stated that he and Mrs. Childs planned the slaying, to obtain the victim's property. Childs had an estate worth $30,000, police say.

RESOLUTIONS APPROVED AT WTCC MEETING

AMENDMENT LIMITING REPRESENTATION IS PASSED

AMARILLO, May 13. (P)—Interests reached a high point at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention today as the hundreds of delegates went into the final session to elect officers.

Brownwood and Wichita Falls staged lively campaigns for the next convention after other contenders were eliminated.

J. S. Birdwell of Wichita Falls, John J. Gallaher, mayor of Graham, and Milburn McCarty of Eastland were candidates to succeed Ray H. Nichols of Vernon as president.

Miss Marguerite Walling of Childress was crowned queen of the region by Nichols at the convention pageant, "the West Texas Cavalcade," last night.

Seeking to protect political power of agricultural counties with comparatively scattered population, the convention passed a resolution favoring a proposed constitutional amendment that no county shall have more than seven members in the state house of representatives unless its population exceeds 700,000 an then only in "proper ratio for such increase."

Other resolutions included: Favored strict conservation of oil and gas resources of Texas.

Asked for another general hospital for insane to be located in West Texas.

Favored establishment of an army air base at Roswell, N. M. Endorsed the standard public health measure and establishment of a sanitary zone along the Rio Grande.

Publishers at the convention started a movement for a West Texas Quadri-Centennial celebration in 1940 in commemoration of the crossing of the state line in 1840 by Coronado.

Amon G. Carter of Fort Worth and R. L. Thornton of Dallas, member of the Texas Centennial commission, told the convention that the coming celebrations at Fort Worth and Dallas were for all of Texas and visitors to the state and that there was no idea of competition between the two events.

Pair Charged in Beating of Aged Haskell Woman

HASKELL, May 13 (P)—C. Matura, 65-year-old Haskell county farmer, and Clarence Abston, neighbor of Miss Elizabeth Coursey, aged O'Brien resident who was beaten into insensibility at her home last Thursday night, were charged in justice court here today with assault with intent to murder.

Both men have signed statements in connection with the attack on Miss Coursey, County Attorney Ben Charlie Chapman announced. Matura, said Chapman, admitted beating the aged woman with a piece of harness and implicated Abston, who according to the Matura statement would inherit Miss Coursey's house and lot if she were dead.

The 39th district court grand jury, which adjourned ten days ago, has been recalled for Wednesday morning to investigate the case.

Both Matura and Abston remained in the Haskell county jail, under bonds of $10,000 each, set by R. H. Davis, justice of peace, before whom they were arraigned at 11 o'clock today.

Miss Coursey, who is 76 years of age and frail, is in a serious condition in the Knox City hospital. She has not regained consciousness, suffering from deep wounds about the head.

Tulsa Petroleum Exposition Opens

TULSA, Okla., May 13 (P)—Tulsa put on its bib and tucker today, shook out the bunting, tuned up the band and got down to the business of acting more than ever like the oil capital of the world.

For the next ten days the big moguls of the petroleum industry will be concentrated here to attend many a meeting of specialized groups and to argue and experiment at the ninth International Petroleum Exposition.

The show is a veritable world's fair of oldtime, a place where oil men engaged in every branch of the industry can come to look over technical and popular progress made in the past two years.

Throughout the period of the exposition various national associations of oil men will hold their annual meetings.

First on the long program was the mid-year meeting of the American Petroleum Institute with 46 committees of the divisions of production and marketing starting a series of meetings Wednesday.

Today no less than a score of sub-committee meetings were in progress. A. J. Byles of New York City, president of the A. P. I. was in town lining up things for the meetings.

The institute's board of directors will hold their mid-year meeting Thursday.

SHOT TO DEATH
SAN ANTONIO, May 13 (P)—E. E. Frasher, 41, automobile salesman, was fatally shot in the apartment of his former wife at a tourist camp here Tuesday. He died in county hospital an hour later.

G.O.P. 'Platform's' Under Way

Political oratory soon will resound through Cleveland's Public Hall, but just now the huge auditorium echoes to the beat of hammers. These carpenters busy tear up planks preparatory to laying 30,000 square feet of new maple flooring for the Republican National Convention opening June 9. To complete the task swiftly, two shifts of carpenters, 50 to a shift, are employed. The scene above pictures the rear of the main arena of the huge hall, expected to seat 15,000 at the conclave. Preparation of the auditorium is a WPA project.

Chapter Four
CIRCUS QUEEN
"Enter" the woman intoned and bowed forward. Arriving at Dirk, she smiled, showing rather bad teeth. She looked him over, a blue-eyed young man in white summer-flannels and light shetland topcoat, a bare-headed young man with drops of rain on his bright chestnut hair. A young man all alone.

"Come in," she said more softly. "I tell your future and your past. I tell names and places. I conceal nothing."
It sounded much too thorough, and as Madame Chowdhury lifted an inner curtain, beckoning with a fat dark hand, Dirk murmured that he was merely looking for some one, and dropped the flap.

No knowing when Isabel would appear, and there would be the session with Madame Chowdhury for Natalie before they could leave. He had left the umbrella in the car, would wait in the main tent out of the wet. Buying a ticket, he went in, found a seat low in the reserved tiers.

The trapezists were performing, flying here and there to swing from each other's hands. The rain dripped through the seams of the tent. The rungs to which the performers clung must be wet, he thought. Presently the man and woman in their pink tights bounded to the ring and ran out, making way for the clown, a spotted, tumbling fellow whose entrance woke a squeal of juvenile laughter.

A man stood at the performers' exit not far from Dirk. Heavy-set, dressed in loose-fitting rather seedy clothes, he leaned against the edge of the tiers, watching the rings. A weathered panama hat was pulled down on his face, throwing it in shadow, a face thick-set like his body, heavy-jawed, with a bulbous nose and a ragged black mustache.
An unlighted cigar twisted at the corner of his mouth, and his eyes stayed with the clown and the ringmaster, not missing a move, not laughing. It was an old story to him.

A gust of applause and laughter followed the exit of the clown. "Firefly!" the ring-master shouted, and Dirk turned to see a girl flying into the arena on a coal-black horse. The girl was dressed in red-tight red trousers, flaring at the ankles, silver buttons down the side, a silver-and-red bolero, a white sombrero.

Slim and straight she stood, taking off her hat as she came, holding it in her hand. Her hair rose and fell, a long curling bob, black as the horse. She seemed as much a part of her mount as if she had been a flaming wing.

Now she had dropped into a saddle, had flung her sombrero on the ground. Round and round the ring she went, the horse gathering speed. Suddenly she had swooped under him, had left her saddle, was in it again, while the crowd applauded. Now she stood with one foot on the horse's head and one in the saddle, crouching slightly, a flying pose, a beautiful pose.

The man in the panama hat still stood at the exit. There was no anxiety in his face any more than there had been amusement while the clown performed. He was endowed with faith, or with indifference.

It was over. Firefly had dropped again into the saddle, had leaped over to recover her sombrero, waving with it to the applauding crowd, putting it on. Now she was standing as she had stood at the first, was riding from the ring.

Dirk, clapping loudly, stood as she passed him. Their eyes met, and a little smile touched the corners of her mouth. Dirk snatched the rose from his lapel, and with a deft movement flung it to her.

"Bravo!" he shouted.

She caught the token lightly, thrust it into the neck of her blouse, galloped out.
Almost at once the horse returned, reins dangling, the clown jumping at his side, endeavoring to mount him. Now he succeeded, attempting to stand on his back as the girl had stood, succeeding with a flash, only to bend forward with stiff knees and grip the pommel, shaking first one pantalooned leg in the air, and then the other, affecting to be in a paroxysm of fear.

Round and round they went. No one was afraid for the clown. He was so funny. His painted grin was so funny. How could any one be afraid when he who whoopingly, jittersingly feared for himself?
The man in the panama hat was gone from the exit. Firefly, the girl-rider, stood in his place. Not quite in his place—back farther in the shadow, slightly outside the tent. A dark green cape was thrown about her slight red figure, and she stood watching the clown.

Amid the roars of laughter Dirk stepped down. He wanted to ask Firefly where she had got her pony. A Spanish poney, it looked like. He wanted to tell her it was a beauty, and she was a darned plucky rider. He hoped she wouldn't mind.
Suddenly she was aware of Dirk, and turned.

An eerie face, honey-brown under the rouge. Long lashes beaded with make-up, amber-brown eyes, wide now, and rather startled, a curved mouth lacquered in carmine. Dirk's rose showed at the edge of her blouse, dead-white against the spangles, and the warm gold-olive of her skin.

A glance at him, and a glance back of her into the dark of the lot. Dirk apologized, and said:

"You took me off my feet with your riding."

Again that little smile at the corner of her mouth. Again her eyes went to the clown.

"I'll bet you can ride, too," she said.

"What makes you say that?" he asked.

"The way you watched."

So she had noticed him.

"I like you, a little," he told her. "Not like you."

Suddenly she whitened, and some one screamed. She was gone from him, flying toward the ring. People were standing in the tiers. People were in the ring. The black horse had slipped and fallen. They were lifting him off the clown.

Democrats Strive To Kill Mortgage Refinancing Bill

WASHINGTON, May 13. (P)—Mustering all available strength, democratic leaders of the house strove to kill before tonight the $3,000,000,000 Frazier-Lemke bill for refinancing farm mortgages.

Foes of the measure branded it "Iniquitous" inflation. Its advocates denied that it was inflationary. Last night, after a day of torrid debate, Rep. Lemke (-ND) said confidently "we're in."

(The bill would authorize the printing of $3,000,000,000 in new money to refinance farm indebtedness. Farmers would pay 1 1/2 per cent interest and 1 1/2 per cent on the principal annually over 47 years.)

Some members of the Frazier-Lemke bloc favored a last-minute change in the bill in an effort to garner more votes. Under this plan, the new loans to farmers would be limited to about 80 per cent of land valuation, instead of 100 per cent as in the existing legislation.

COWBOY NAMED COLONEL
BATON ROUGE, La., May 13 (P)—The first colonel commissioned by Governor Richard W. Leche today was Dan Sheldon, young Tilden, Texas, cowboy who caught the executive's fancy at a recent Fort Worth, Tex., rodeo. The governor, a horse lover, was impressed with the broncho-busting tactics of the Tilden performer and told him if he won he would make him a Louisiana colonel.

Vienna Ditches Old Radios
VIENNA (P)—Nearly 1,000 radios have been destroyed here in a dealers' campaign to replace outmoded apparatus with new.

Just Sharing a Few Key Notes

"Now, Fred, here's a tip from an old-time keynoter," probably is what Senator Alben W. Barkley, left (Dem., Ky.), was telling Senator Frederick C. Steiwer (Rep., Ore.), when, as shown above, the 1936 Democratic and Republican convention-keynoters had a get-together at the Capitol. And Senator Barkley had a right to hold forth on What Every Keynoter Should Know, for the Kentuckian also rang up the curtain at the Democrats' 1932 convention in Chicago.

SOME OFFICIALS FEAR CAPITOL MAY BE DESTROYED BY FLAMES

AUSTIN, May 13 (P)—Some state officials are admittedly uneasy over the possibility that one day the magnificent capitol may be destroyed by fire, but the board of control believes it has taken all precautions possible with the money available.

"A fine old building," remarked C. V. Terrell, railroad commissioner, "but sometime they are going to lose it."

John Wallace, board member, estimated recently that the cost of complete fireproofing would be no less than $3,000,000 and might be considerably more. Valued at approximately $15,000,000 the structure was built more than 50 years ago.

Complete fireproofing would entail removal of thousands of feet of wooden flooring, wainscoting and partitions, the last of which have increased enormously because of demand for new offices.

"The greatest hazard unquestionably is in the basement where large quantities of records are stored," Wallace said. "The library, for example, has more than 1,000,000 newspapers and there are the records of the comptroller's department and the historical archives."

Preventive measures include location of extinguishers at strategic points, construction of fire doors which automatically cut off the east and west wings and the elevators, removal of debris and regular inspections by watchmen, day and night.

Last year, moreover, electrical circuits were placed in conduits, eliminating one of the gravest hazards, and an engineer, a graduate of A. & M. college, was employed to do nothing but look after the building. The secretary of the board previously had performed that duty.

"The engineer is a safety proposition," Wallace said. "We had needed him for years. The board secretary had too much to do."

One of the most pressing matters, in Wallace's opinion, is the removal of the wooden shelving in the basement. The last legislature turned down an appropriation to replace it with steel.

The state does not insure its buildings with private companies, adopted a policy some years ago, by legislative resolution, of "carrying its own insurance." The argument was that, after taking all precau-

LEAGUE FEARS IL DUCE MAY JOIN HITLER

ITALY IS CONSIDERING WHETHER TO RESIGN FROM LEAGUE

GENEVA, May 13. (P)—Whether Benito Mussolini and Italy will resign from the League of Nations and join forces with Adolf Hitler and Germany worried diplomats today.

Well-informed Italians said the possibility that Italy would resign from the league, following the example of Germany, should not be excluded—as a possibility.

Such an act, political observers surmised, would mean the political alignment of Europe in two camps, and might even bring about the resuscitation of the famous "triple alliance"—the military association of Germany, Italy and the former Austro-Hungarian empire.

(The power of this alliance was broken at the outset of the world war when Italy turned her back on Kaiser Wilhelm and Emperor Franz Josef to throw in her lot with France, Great Britain and Russia—the "entente cordiale.")

Diplomats said they believed Premier Mussolini would try to ascertain the eventual attitude of the council members concerning Italian sovereignty over Ethiopia and the continuance of economic and financial sanctions.

They said they believed it likely that Mussolini would resign from the league before the council has a chance to discuss the question if he thinks the council members will remain adamant on both points.

Hungarian spokesmen said they anticipated that if Mussolini breaks with the league, he will seek to influence Hungary and Austria to do likewise.

Some Geneva diplomats, meanwhile, said they gathered from German newspapers' outspoken admiration for Il Duce's Ethiopian conquest that Germany is beginning to find Italy "more interesting."

The council, concerned by possibilities of Italian resignation, dropping, replacement of any building destroyed would be cheaper than payment of premiums. Wallace agreed the state would have been out many millions in premiums on the capital alone.

At one time Lee Simmons, then head of the penitentiary system, had to obtain legislative approval before he could insure certain state-owned automobiles driven by convicts. Because of accidents, he thought insurance desirable.

ped formal consideration of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict temporarily today, turning to less controversial questions.

Kasper Quads Are Doing Well Again—Gifts Are Arriving

PASSAIC, N. J., May 13. (P)—The Kasper quadruplets, Frances, Frank, Ferdinand and Felix, were "doing fine" today, both physically and financially.

St. Mary's hospital, where the tiny tots had a brief sinking spell yesterday, reported the physical progress.

To look out for their economic welfare, the quadruplets had a business manager, Mayor Benjamin F. Turner of Passaic, and a host of admirers. Gifts were arriving at the Kasper home in Little Ferry and one enthusiast reported he had ordered a baby coach for four.

Emil Kasper, 32—a week round house laborer, and Mrs. Kasper, mother of two children besides the quadruplets, signed papers naming the mayor business manager of the four infants.

There goes another million!

Another million bottles of Budweiser—and the day not yet half spent. Count....count....day after day! What made it the biggest-selling bottled beer in history? Taste and talk! People taste it.... and talk about it to other people. They tell you that only Budweiser tastes like Budweiser.... that its utterly distinctive, dry flavor will continue to please you long after you've forgotten less distinguished brews. How about another bottle?

Largest bottling plant on Earth. The demand for Budweiser made it necessary. Capacity: 2,799,300 bottles per day. Fifty-five freight cars can be loaded simultaneously on its basement tracks... forty-four more at outside platforms. Visitors are cordially invited to inspect our plant.

Beer used as money? Yes—for hundreds of years. German monks in the Ninth Century were first to accept beer in place of coin. The practice lasted for centuries and spread to England. Think what purchasing power a bottle of cold Budweiser would have had in those days!
