Wage Dispute Still Far From Settlement

Operators, Miners Sending Case Back To The WLB

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—The soft coal operator-union wage negotiations veered back toward the War Labor Board today with the producers represented as convinced both sides are too far apart for further conference table talk to do any good.

Edward R. Burke, spokesman for the southern Appalachian operators, said last night the parleys over underground travel time pay had about broken down. He said the producers would report to the WLB tomorrow that there is "no chance" for an agreement.

Burke added that he was expressing the view also of Charles O'Neill, representing the northern Appalachian operators. O'Neill himself did not comment.

"There is not any basis for reaching a settlement unless the miners recede from their present demand and Lewis (John L. Lewis, U. M. W. president) has given no indication that he will do that," said Burke, former U. S. senator from Nebraska.

Lewis demanded $2 a day pay increase for more than 900,000 miners, representing compensation for 90 minutes time spent in travel underground. The operators said 48 minutes at straight time, short of $1, was enough. Lewis then came down to $1.50 on a 30-day trial basis, and that was rejected.

Meanwhile, there were two walkouts and Interior Secretary Ickes as government operator of the mines since May 1, said the nation lost 11,000,000 tons of production as a result.

The $1.50 figure cropped up as a compromise in Illinois yesterday. Operators there agreed to such an increase for the state's 23,000 U. M. W. coal diggers.

Ray Edmundson, state union president, accepted it as a basis for negotiations and said this "should serve as somewhat of a pattern for the rest of the industry."

Strike Bill Under Study

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—Senatorial opposition to legalizing strikes in government-operated war industries pointed today toward the junking of house-approved plans for a secret ballot and a 30-day cooling off period before walkouts could be called.

Although house conferees contended these provisions in the Connally-Harness anti-strike bill applied only to privately-operated war industries, the five senate members of a joint conference committee were said to be unanimously opposed to any section which might—even by inference—be interpreted as sanctioning another coal mine strike while the government controls the pits.

The conferees committee sharpened a section providing for the fining or imprisonment of any person who instigates or aids in interrupting production in a seized plant or mine by a strike.

Under the broad authority accorded them by parliamentary rules, the conferees reportedly agreed to expand this clause to reach any person who abets or encourages another in instigating a strike.

The committee restored a senate-approved provision authorizing the government to seize war plants or mines where production is interrupted by labor disputes, a section the house apparently had ignored on the assumption the president already has this power.

French Govt. Will Form War Cabinet

ALGIERS, June 8 (AP)—The new French empire government convened in full dress session today, moving swiftly toward formation of a war cabinet as its last organizational step necessary to throw the unified weight of vast French territories back into the battleline against the Axis.

With appointment of the war committee, this central French authority, with its seat in Algiers, will be complete, administering the public affairs of 60,000,000 Frenchmen and subjects, an army presently estimated at 300,000, and a great African and insular domain with its vital strategic and material resources.

More Bombs Poured On Italian Outpost Island Of Pantelleria

Allies Step Up Attacks—U. S. airmen struck at Pantelleria again Monday, also smashing rail and ferry facilities at Messina, Sicily, and at Reggio Calabria, Italy, allied headquarters announced following the crushing air attack on La Spezia (1) over the weekend. British planes hit at Axis shipping off Greece (2) and British submarines attacked shipping off Monte Carlo (A) between Corsica and Italy (B) and in the Gulf of Policastro in Southwest Italy (C).

Food Conservation Programs To Start Here On June 14

Food conservation demonstration for Big Spring women will get underway on June 14 and continue for a period of several weeks in an effort to help urban women solve their winter food problem this summer.

Mildred Atkinson, assistant county home demonstration agent, will be in charge of the program, according to an announcement by Elbeba Merle Boyles, county home demonstration agent. Arrangements have been made for use of the West Ward school kitchen—which also provides ample seating space for class members—during the various demonstrations.

The service is being provided free of charge by the Texas A.&M. extension service in hopes that the conservation of food stuffs will be multiplied this summer.

Miss Atkinson will take her class members through all phases of canning, will teach them proper technique in kraut-ing, pickling, drying and brining of food. In the case of dehydrated foods, she also will go a step further in instructing women in the proper preparation of the material for cooking.

To provide the food drying demonstrations, the Texas Electric Service constructed and donated an "apple box" dryer with four trays. This will be used by Miss Atkinson, and Miss Boyles indicated that demonstrations would continue all summer with it.

Women interested in the conservation instructions were urged to contact Miss Boyles or Miss Atkinson at the county agent's office, or attend the opening meeting at the West Ward school a week hence.

All Types Of Planes Join In Attack

Eleven Enemy Craft Downed While Allies Lose Two

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 8 (AP)—The concentrated strength of the Allied Northwest African air forces poured a deluge of bombs and fire onto Italy's sentinel island of Pantelleria yesterday.

Formations of every type of plane, from Flying Fortresses to small Warhawks, flew to the attack, Allied headquarters said, giving rise to smoke clouds which soared 4,000 feet above the battered island and drifted wide over the sea.

Eleven enemy planes were shot down in the onslaught when outnumbered defenders tried to ward off the waves of attacks. Two Allied planes were lost.

The smoke pall spreading from the bombardment reached almost to Sicily, 65 miles away, in the late afternoon.

In one of the shortest communications in recent months, Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters said "many missions were carried out by heavy, medium and fighter bombers" against Pantelleria. No other targets were mentioned.

Fortress gunners accounted for six of the 11 enemy planes shot down yesterday when interceptors tried to break up the heavy formations.

Warhawks tangled with an enemy fighter group and shot down four more.

Fighter-bombers from Malta attacked warehouses, road transport and signal lights at Pozzallo, Comiso and Cape Silla in Sicily.

The battering of volcanic little Pantelleria started off in the morning with American, British and South African Bostons, RAF Baltimores and American Mitchells and Warhawks dealing out widespread havoc.

American Boston crewmen reported that their formation blew up two buildings and caused six other large explosions in the target area.

German Messerschmitt 109s and Italian Macchi 202s patrolled the sea between Pantelleria and Africa, trying to divert the Allied fury and the Warhawks bagged two ME-109s and two Macchi-202s in two strenuous dogfights.

19 Jap Planes Are Shot Down

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—United States fighter planes shot down 19 Japanese Zero fighters and damaged six others in an air battle near the American-held Russell Islands in the Solomons, the navy reported today.

The engagement occurred Monday, Solomon Islands Time. That morning, a communique said, approximately 40 to 50 Japanese Zeros and torpedo bombers were attacked by U. S. fighter planes in the vicinity of the Russell Islands. Nineteen Zeros were shot down and six damaged. U. S. losses were seven planes, but three of the pilots were saved.

Turning to American operations on Attu, the navy said eight Japanese were killed there yesterday and that eleven more of the enemy killed themselves with grenades after being surrounded by U. S. army troops in Chichagof valley. The total known enemy dead at June 7 is 1,876.

Italy Reports Allied Invasion Attempt On Lampedusa

LONDON, June 8 (AP)—The Rome radio reported in a broadcast recorded today by the Associated Press that Allied forces had attempted to land on the Italian island of Lampedusa, east of Sicily, about 70 miles off the Tunisian coast, but were repulsed.

The Italian communique said the island had been under repeated aerial attacks.

The enemy attempted a landing on the island of Lampedusa, the war bulletin said. "The attempt was carried out by British units. It was promptly repulsed by our defenses which sank several enemy naval vessels."

Battle Orders Given To The Pacific Fleet

Conference Between Admirals King And Nimitz Disclosed

By The Associated Press Battle orders for new Allied blows against Japan were apparently in transit today as Washington disclosed that Admiral Ernest J. King had conferred on the west coast with Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the Pacific fleet.

Simultaneously, Prime Minister Churchill declared in London that "the might of America is laying an ever stronger grip on the outlying defenses of Japan and offering every moment to the Japanese fleet to supreme challenge of sea power."

Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, asked if King's meeting with Nimitz and Gen. George C. Marshall's recent meeting with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in North Africa indicated that the top officers were carrying reports of the Churchill-Roosevelt meeting to their field commanders, replied:

"Possibly that would be one very good explanation."

Knox said the gradual strengthening of the Pacific fleet was progressing. Churchill declared that the problem of sending "more speedy and effective aid to China," as well as bolstering Australia and New Zealand, was never absent from Allied consideration.

Meanwhile, a Chinese army spokesman said China's great "rice bowl" was no longer in danger as a result of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's great victory over the Japanese invaders along the upper Yangtze river.

Supported by American planes, Gen. Chiang's armies were pictured as having crushed a multi-pronged Japanese drive into the Chinese granary regions and now threatening the big Japanese base at Ichang.

Hearing Slated For Abandoned Baby

Date for a hearing on the "Rest Room" baby, found abandoned here in a service station rest room several weeks ago, has been set for Saturday morning by 70th District Judge Cecil Collings.

At the hearing, the court will determine whether the baby is a dependent and neglected child.

Meanwhile, the Rev. W. A. Nicholas, superintendent of the West Texas Children's Aid and Welfare Association in Abilene, who was here Saturday, took the infant back to Abilene to the home until the court's decree.

The Ramirez government was sworn in last night, succeeding the short-lived provisional government of Gen. Arturo Rawson, who resigned suddenly yesterday after wresting control from isolationist President Ramon S. Castillo in a lightning revolution Friday.

In a communique outlining his immediate policies Ramirez said: "The Republic of Argentina affirms its traditional policy of friendship and loyal cooperation with the nations of the Americas in conformance with existing pacts."

"With respect to the rest of the world its policy is for the present one of neutrality. The provisional government believes, moreover, that it is necessary to express that it sustains the principle of absolute autonomy of states to set up their own standards of government."

"It is that concept it will not tolerate any foreign influence because the Argentine people maintain and will maintain in the face of any vicissitudes that might occur the representative form of government in conformance with the constitution."

Italy Reports Allied Invasion Attempt On Lampedusa

LONDON, June 8 (AP)—The Rome radio reported in a broadcast recorded today by the Associated Press that Allied forces had attempted to land on the Italian island of Lampedusa, east of Sicily, about 70 miles off the Tunisian coast, but were repulsed.

The Italian communique said the island had been under repeated aerial attacks.

The enemy attempted a landing on the island of Lampedusa, the war bulletin said. "The attempt was carried out by British units. It was promptly repulsed by our defenses which sank several enemy naval vessels."

Says Air War Will Be Stepped Up; Sub Menace Declining

LONDON, June 8 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill, giving the house of commons a review of his war conferences in Washington and North Africa, hinted today at vast Allied offensive moves in the making, promised an intensification of the air war against Germany and voiced confidence that the U-boat menace was being rapidly overcome.

Optimistic but restrained, his statement served to confirm the British public's summer hope that a large scale Allied invasion of Europe is not far off.

Churchill announced that 258,000 Axis prisoners had been captured in the Tunisian campaign—an increase of 24,000 previously published figures—and disclosed the British Eighth army had suffered 11,500 casualties and the First army 23,500.

He revealed that the RAF is employing "very long-range aircraft called 'VLR' in the that May was the best month of the anti-submarine campaign since the United States entered the conflict.

Warning against over-confidence, Churchill told commons that much hard fighting lay ahead before final victory could be achieved.

He made it plain, that plans laid in Washington called for "the most intense and violent" attack upon the Axis and referred to "operations now impending in the European theater" as if they were a foregone conclusion.

The plans, he indicated, embrace all aspects of the global war. He reported particularly that Allied commanders in North Africa were "resolute in the plans they have made" and that their troops are eager for the attack at the earliest moment.

Churchill referred to the Tunisian victory as one of the greatest military disasters that had ever befallen Germany—comparable to the Nazi rout at Stalingrad—and said there was no doubt Hitler had expected his armies in North Africa to hold out until August.

Declaring that the "Germans seem to be staking their hopes on the U-boat war," he asserted that Allied successes in overcoming this menace may well prove the "fatal milestone" in the battle to smash Hitler's power.

And he gave assurance that nothing can turn Britain, the United States and Soviet Russia "from our endeavor to accomplish the complete destruction of our foes by bombing from the air in addition to all other means."

The prime minister alluded to the far eastern phases of the struggle by declaring that "the steady wearing down of German and Japanese air forces in proceeding remorselessly."

"The enemy who thought that in the air would be their weapon of victory are now finding it the first cause of their ruin," he said.

While disclosing that complete agreement on "forward steps" in the prosecution of the Allied war (See CHURCHILL, Pg. 8, Col. 3)

Gen. Marshall Back, To Talk To FDR

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, had an appointment with President Roosevelt today to talk over his trip to North Africa.

Marshall returned last night after participating in overseas conferences with Prime Minister Churchill of Britain and Allied commanders. While details were lacking, it was presumed they went over plans to carry the fighting to the continent of Europe.

Marshall's engagement was at noon. Two hours later the chief executive expected to attend the first meetings of his new war mobilization committee headed by James F. Byrnes. The meeting will be held in the cabinet room.

OPA Price Roll-Back To Be On Vegetables Next

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—A senate committee inquiring into the administration's authority to pay subsidies to compensate for a roll back in the retail prices of meats and butter was informed today that the Office of Price Administration next intends to depress fresh vegetable prices.

Questioned on how far OPA intends to go in the roll back-subsidy program, Richard Gilbert, economic adviser to Administrator Prentiss M. Brown, disclosed that regulations for the vegetable price decrease already are being drafted.

"We expect," he said, "further to reduce the cost of living about one half of one per cent in the roll-back on fresh vegetables."

Nazis Start New Talk Of Offensive

LONDON, June 8 (AP)—German propagandists, reverting again to drum beating, have suddenly shifted from talk of defensive to offensive action, but British sources suggested today the new tone is merely an attempt to bamboozle Allied leaders working on invasion plans.

The new line, first apparent in a Berlin broadcast last night, was begun only four days short of the anniversary of the start of the Nazi summer offensive in the Kharkov area, on June 11, 1942 and in the midst of increased air activity on that front in recent days.

Germany's first attack on Russia also was sprung in June—on June 22, 1941.

Some sources here thought the shift in tone might be intended to stiffen German home morale, but Morley Richards, Daily Express military writer, conceded the Nazis might try to wrest the initiative from the United Nations.

"To do that," he wrote, "they might attack again in Russia or attempt invasion of Turkey or Spain to jeopardize the flanks of the Allied armies stretched across the southern Mediterranean."

"Last night's propaganda seeks to suggest one or more of these three plans are being considered."

A DNB military commentator declared from Berlin last night that "Germany is prepared for both defensive and offensive military actions." This commentator replaced Lt. Gen. Kurt Dittmar, a leading Nazi military analyst, who asserted last week that Germany planned a purely defensive strategy.

For the past week Nazi propagandists generally had harped upon Germany's need of replenishment and rest before undertaking further offensive actions.

The new line also contained hints of strategic surprises and formidable new weapons. Last night's Nazi military commentator declaring an Allied invasion would only enable the Axis to "show its power."

Flood Moves Down Trinity

By The Associated Press Trinity river flood water pushed downstream today, threatening lowlands from Dallas to Long Lake, while the Sabine and Neches rivers blocked highways, submerged telephone lines, and interrupted railroad service in the East Texas and Grand Saline-Mineola areas.

Dallas weather observer A. M. Hamrick said the Trinity was four feet above bank level at Rosser, some 20 miles south of Dallas, and rising slowly this morning.

He said he expected the stream to start falling tomorrow after rising another foot or two at Rosser, but that lowlands as far south as Long Lake, near Palestine, were threatened as Charbone Creek and other branches added high water to the main stream.

The river was three feet above flood stage at Trinidad and still rising.

Telephone company officials reported today that lines out near Mineola since yesterday, were expected to be in service by noon.

The Texas & Pacific Railroad still was routing trains around Grand Saline's Sabine overflow at Silver Lake, seven miles east. Some trains were going via the Cotton Belt through Texarkana, others via the T&NCO from Dallas to Corsicana, thence via the Cotton Belt to Big Sandy.

Mrs. Hattie McKlesky's group was in charge of the world outlook program which was held at the meeting Monday afternoon, and those taking part were Mrs. Albert Smith, Mrs. Royce Satterwhite, Mrs. Robert Hill, Mrs. H. Keith, and Mrs. H. C. Runyan who sang a solo.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. H. H. Haynes, Mrs. M. L. Musgrove, Mrs. I. Sussner, Mrs. H. Clyde Smith, Mrs. H. F. Taylor, Mrs. W. A. Miller, Mrs. A. C. Bass, Mrs. S. R. Nobles, Mrs. H. N. Robinson, Mrs. M. A. Cook, Mrs. R. W. Thompson, Mrs. Robert Hill, Mrs. Ollie Cordill.

STEWARDS AND AUXILIARY HAVE CHICKEN SUPPER

The Board of Stewards and Woman's Auxiliary met at the First Methodist church Monday evening for a chicken supper and a monthly business meeting.

The supper was held on the church lawn and hostesses were Mrs. Lee Warren, Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscapes, Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. G. W. Chown, Mrs. M. A. Cook, Mrs. D. F. Bigony and Mrs. Clyde Denton.

Highlights of the evening's entertainment was instrumental numbers played by Mrs. C. E. Shive and M. E. Ooley. They also furnished accompaniment for group singing.

Approximately 61 persons attended the affair, and it was announced that Mrs. M. E. Ooley's group would entertain on July 5.

How to Defrost Your Electric Refrigerator Quickly

You can save time and keep frozen foods from thawing by using a quick method of defrosting your electric refrigerator. Consult your refrigerator instruction book for a defrosting method recommended by the manufacturer, or try the suggestions below.

1. Turn the control switch to "off" and remove everything from the freezer compartment. Wrap frozen foods with several thicknesses of paper and put them on a refrigerator shelf. They won't thaw out in the short time required to complete defrosting.
2. Fill a pan or baking dish with hot water and place on the bottom shelf of the freezer compartment. Do not use the quick-release type ice trays for this purpose, as they usually are coated with a thin film of wax that will wash away in hot water.
3. Clean the food compartment and racks with a solution of one quart of cool water and a teaspoonful of baking soda. By this time, the layer of frost should be melted from the freezer compartment, which also should be cleaned with the soda solution.
4. Wipe the refrigerator dry and refill the ice trays. Old ice cubes collect food odors and sometimes acquire a stale taste. Then turn the control switch to "on".

Boom To Sports After The War Seen By Texas College Leaders

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Texas college presidents, athletic directors and coaches believe sports in the post-war world will be like this:

1. They will be substantially enlarged so as to make possible general participation.
2. There will be unparalleled emphasis on physical fitness.
3. Spectator interest will be greater.

These general observations were gleaned from questionnaires sent out by the Associated Press to all the colleges and prep schools of Texas.

There were a few who disagreed but throughout the list of answers there appeared one point on which practically everyone saw eye to eye. This was:

The present program of physical fitness should be maintained and the sports program should be arranged so that everyone can participate—not just the stronger fellows who need it the least.

In fact, President E. N. Jones of Texas A. and I. thinks the federal government may step in with some supervision and subsidization in order to maintain a vigorous type of physical education for the average student.

James H. Stewart, athletic director of Southern Methodist, looks for a decided boom in athletics because of the impetus given by the war. President Pat M. Neff of Baylor thinks there will be more sports and physical education.

M. E. Sadler, president of Texas Christian university, says he anticipates that the sports program will be radically revolutionized in the post-war world. "It is possible that more attention will be given to the systematic program of physical education of all students," he said.

"A sport for every boy and a boy in every sport," comments D. K. Bible, athletic director of the University of Texas. "If the schools do not look after physical training, the army and navy will."

Morley Jennings, director of athletics at Texas Tech, says if the war lasts a considerable length of time "we will have to rebuild. If the war is over in another couple of years, sports should start again with and in full force, with many of our athletes returning to school in better physical condition, more matured, and teams will be stronger than ever. I predict that in any case much emphasis will be placed on physical fitness for all students and intramural sports will be stressed."

W. N. Corder of Texas Lutheran college says the war may change conditions but not to the extent of eliminating the major sports. "To me, athletics is all important," he wrote. "I believe all boys need sports. In the past there has been too many on the bench."

President J. J. Delaney of Schreiner institute says no change whatever. "We shall fall back in the same old groove," he said.

Dean E. E. Masters of Kilgore college says: "Judging from the World War, all forms of athletics will receive a great deal of interest, both from players and fans."

President T. O. Walton of Texas A. and M. declares the war has shown the need for continuation of all kinds of sports. He sees no changes but on the other hand thinks some few activities may be added.

John E. Gray, president of Lamar college (Beaumont), predicts there will be a post-war sports boom, particularly in physical contact games.

President H. W. Stilwell of Texarkana Junior college, says he hopes there will be a change in the old conception of sports. "There should be more participation by all students and less grandstand playing," he commented. Stilwell charged that sports have been professionalized and players subsidized and "then claims made that no compensation is given for participation. Be honest—pay the players openly and quit teaching boys to cover up dishonesty."

Dean Walter R. Glick of Texas Wesleyan thinks there will be permanent obstacle courses on the college campuses.

From last Sunday until next Saturday the total activity in baseball's big leagues amounts to only 15 games. One of these was played last night as the Brooklyn Dodgers stopped off at Pittsburgh on their way home from the west and padded the Pirates 4 to 1.

Fred Fitzsimmons, whose lone loss to Pittsburgh in three years came earlier this spring, was in good form as he scattered seven hits and smothered all the Buccaners batters except Frankie Gustine. Gustine collected four hits, one of which was a triple that led to a run in the first inning.

But the Dodgers solved Southpaw Wally Hebert in the eighth for four runs on a walk and four hits, the last of which was a double by Bob Bragan.

The victory returned the Dodgers to a virtual tie with the St. Louis Cardinals for the National league lead although the Redbirds continued to lead in the percentage column, .600 to .580. The Dodgers have won three more games than St. Louis, but also have lost three more.

Today all clubs in both leagues are idle and some of those which also had yesterday off will play only one game before Saturday, when the full forces will be resumed.

There will be three games in each league tomorrow, the National bringing together Boston at Brooklyn in a twilight affair, Pittsburgh at St. Louis and Philadelphia at New York while the American league bill of fare calls for Chicago at Detroit in a twilight tussle, St. Louis at Cleveland and Washington at Boston.

Other United Nations navies told me. The next Luftwaffe, intent on bombing England into defeat, was itself defeated in part because of radar. With this instrument, the British "looked" directly into Germany and occupied Europe, "saw" the enemy planes shortly after they rose from the ground.

And, as the aerial fleets approached England, the vastly outnumbered RAF was at the right place at the right time to meet the German attacks.

The Nazis had not the slightest inkling of what was going on. They flew again and again to the attack. Then they switched to night bombing. But radar sees as well at night as in daytime, and the result was somewhat the same.

"Why do you think the Italian fleet stayed in hiding?" I was asked. "Fairly, it was because there was some strange thing its officers couldn't figure out. That strange thing was radar. They could never leave port without the British navy knowing it and doing something about it."

The battle of Cape Matapan could be named, I was told, "the first great naval battle of radar."

A British fleet sailed up to an Italian fleet in inky darkness. Each British ship used radar equipment to select a target. The Italians had no idea there was a British vessel within hundreds of miles. All set, the British turned searchlights on the astounded enemy, blasted ship after ship to the bottom of the Mediterranean, then withdrew. Hours later, with every British vessel miles away, the Italians still afloat fired great salvos in complete confusion. There was nothing around for them to fire upon except the Italian warcraft.

My introduction to radar came last year. I was an Associated Press correspondent aboard the senior escort vessel on a convoy trip. I was permitted to see the radar equipment after a warning that nothing could be written about it, nor could its existence be hinted at or its name used.

I learned that radar transmits waves which keep going if interrupted, but rebound if they strike some solid object, even the periscope of a submarine. A receiving set catches the returning waves and instantly computes the direction and distance of the object.

One day our convoy was joined by a second group of ships. Our skipper was told that during the night a vessel had straggled away and now was alone somewhere on the sea, easy prey for a submarine. Our ship searched for the straggler, its radar sweeping the vast stretch of water. We steamed a considerable distance, losing sight of the convoy. At last the radar showed a contact and we raced over the horizon directly to the straggler and shepherd him to safety.

On nights so dark that the eye could see nothing, radar kept our skipper informed about every ship in our convoy. We "looked" for miles in every direction to make sure no submarines were creeping up for an attack. We checked our aerial escort, frequently watched the passage of planes miles away. Enough can be told about radar to disclose it as the wonder weapon of the war.

Jimmy Bevins' Title On Firing Line Tonight

CLEVELAND, June 8 (AP)—Long-armed Jimmy Bevins puts his so-called "duration" light heavyweight championship on the firing range tonight in a 15-round affair with Lloyd Marshall, claimant to the California light heavy and middleweight crowns.

Matchmaker Larry Atkins expects 10,000 customers to part with $75,000 for the privilege of witnessing the outdoor skirmish in this city's lakefront stadium.

Bevins won his duration diadem in an elimination tournament staged by Atkins and is listed by the National Boxing Association as the logical contender for the 175-pound title held by Coast Guardsman Gus Lesnevich.

The Cleveland negro competes on and hasn't lost a fight since either side of the 175-pound mark Heavyweight Bob Pastor decisioned him in April of 1942. Jimmy later evened the score with Rapid Robert and beat Lesnevich in a non-title bout. He also owns wins over Tami Mauriello, Lee Savold, Anton Christoforidis, Edward Charles, Billy Soose and Joe Muscato.

The dusky marshall is also a native Clevelander but has done most of his scrapping on the West Coast. Bevins is an 8 to 5 favorite.

Bums Beat Pirates To Gain Near Tie

The major leagues drew up what they called a "tight" schedule this year to curtail all possible travel, but their program has run into a "loose" spot this week even though it doesn't call for added mileage.

Big Ten To Carry On Grid Program

(This is the first of a series dealing with the prospects of college football this fall.)

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
CHICAGO, June 8 (AP)—The mighty, sprawling Midwest is determined to live up to its tradition of turning out great football teams this coming season, despite the tremendous handicap of war.

Every major school is resolved to play a full schedule. Freshmen will be used for the first time.

From Ohio to Nebraska and from Minnesota to Oklahoma, coaches of 20 conferences agreed their outstanding problem—a terrific manpower shortage—can be met.

In the "Big Ten," rated as the nation's strongest intercollegiate conference, schedules drawn two years ago have been revamped to provide 15 additional games with strong Midwest service teams like Great Lakes, the Iowa Pre-Flight Seahawks and the Camp Grant Warriors.

The Big Ten concentrates on opponents in its own ballfield, to ease the transportation problem.

A great share of the credit for the way the Big Ten affiliates have banded together to keep football going belongs to Maj. John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics for the Western conference. He has been steadfast in his fight to maintain college sports during this emergency.

Ohio State, 1942 Big Ten title holder and voted national champion in the Associated Press poll, had only eight upperclassmen and 24 freshmen left at the end of spring training, and Coach Eam Brown said only 12 of them would be around by fall.

Schools of fair importance which have quit football are Creighton university and Toledo, Ohio, university. Both regarded as essentially basketball strongholds and North Dakota's two largest schools, the university at Grand Forks and the agricultural college at Fargo.

The University of Detroit is a doubtful starter.

Some coaches will be forced to comb the civilian male enrollment for a suitable starting eleven. Illinois, Michigan, Northwestern, Purdue, Minnesota and Notre Dame—which will have Navy V-12 trained—obviously will have a decided advantage with this potential talent available.

The Big Six, accused by one faculty representative of "whistling in the dark," has voted without much optimism to carry on.

Except for Creighton, the Missouri Valley conference will operate although travel will be curtailed sharply.

Grant, now a private first class at Kelley Field, won 6-4, 6-1, 4-6, 7-9 and 6-2, in the feature match yesterday.

Grant and Karl Kamrath met John Hickman and Harold Polka today for the men's double crown.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, June 8 (AP)—The guy who didn't look it leaned across the table to capture the listeners undivided attention. . . . "Interested in racing?" he demanded. "I can tell you a lot about it. First skating race I ever won was at Latonia race track. . . . The question was surprising one to hear at an ice rink on a Hot Spring afternoon but after a few minutes with Earle (Skater) Reynolds you come to expect almost anything. . . .

INTRODUCING THE SPEAKER
Reynolds is 75 years old, with bushy gray hair, but he's still young enough to skate and to tutor a couple of troupes of roller skaters he has touring with the big circus. . . . He has been a jockey, speed-skating champion, player, for ten years he was personal betting commissioner for John W. (Bet-a-Million) Gates as a theatrical man he taught Anna Held to perform on roller skates. . . .

NOT QUITE A MILLION
The fabulous John W. Gates' nickname may have been an exaggeration, but Reynolds gives him credit for making the largest wager ever made at a race track. "It was on Sysonby at Brighton Beach on July 29, 1905," Skater said positively. "Mr. Gates bet $420,000. Sysonby opened at 2 to 10 and Mr. Gates backed him off the boards at 1 to 5. . . . He won $92,000 on that race—and was $12,000 loser on the day. . . . He bet $30,000 on a horse ridden by Ambrose Clark in the jumping race and the horse fell at the first jump. . . .

Lester Patrick, boss of the Rangers' hockey team, remembers Reynolds as the man who introduced goal nets to hockey and Skater thinks that's probably true. . . . when the Spalding Roller polo team visited Canada, they took along some new-fangled goal devised by Reynolds and gates with gish-net attached to the uprights. . . .

UNFINISHED BUSINESS
The drawback about listening to Reynolds' reminiscences is that he has too many and one leaders to another. . . . Well, maybe he'll be back Sunday and you can have another listening session.

AP is ready wherever invasion comes!

THE Associated Press plans its war reporting for this and hundreds of newspapers as a general plan a campaign—for in advance!

Months before the invasion of Africa, AP's Chief of Foreign Service, John Evans, strengthened the staffs in London, Cairo, the Middle East. Likewise, AP looked to its communications.

The result was AP flashed the first story from the Second Front. It continued to provide readers of this newspaper with superior reporting to the finish of the campaign in Africa.

Meanwhile, AP prepared for the invasion of Europe. It is ready with a chain of American-staffed bureaus that virtually ring "Fortress Europe"—London, with more than a score of seasoned war reporters under AP Chief of Bureau Robert Bunnelle; Algiers, with the crack staff under Chief of Bureau Edward Kennedy that covered the African campaign; Cairo, with a staff equally experienced and assigned to the Mediterranean and Near East; Bern, in the heart of Europe; Madrid, Stockholm, Ankara, Moscow, not to mention roving correspondents from Iceland to Iran.

At home a corps of specially recruited experts under the direction of AP Foreign News Editor Glenn Bebb, is on hand to edit the news of invasion. Many were AP foreign correspondents in Tokyo, Berlin, Paris, London, Madrid, Rome.

Thus AP and this newspaper are ready—at home and abroad—wherever, whenever invasion comes!

Radars Proves Itself As The Wonder Weapon Of The War

By E. V. W. JONES
MIAMI, Fla., June 8 (AP)—Radar, one of the truly secret weapons of this war, has emerged from its tight-spun cocoon of mystery after doing enormous damage to the Axis.

Nearly a year ago, when even the name of this amazing radio apparatus was confidential, I saw it used by a United States warship to shepherd a straggler back into a convoy, to sweep the seas to make certain no submarine was creeping near for attack, to locate airplanes and landmarks in inky darkness, and to keep a magic eye on ships out of sight over the horizon.

These are valuable results, but they represent the commonplace use of radar (pronounced radar). Officers of our own and

Galveston Taxicab Drivers Lay Off

GALVESTON, June 8 (AP)—Taxicabs disappeared from streets here after members of Local Union No. 858 of Cab Drivers voted last night to stop service as a protest against what they said was discrimination against them by city police.

Drivers said their action was not a strike but said they would say off a few days until some understanding could be reached. Chief of Police Fred M. Ford denied any appreciable number of tickets had been given cab drivers and denied union leaders' assertions that the drivers had been fined more heavily than other citizens.

Island-By-Island Conquest Is 'Out'

HOUSTON, June 8 (AP)—Judging from the time it took U. S. forces to wrest Guadalcanal from the Japs, "it would take 500 years to regain every Pacific Island"—so that is not a part of the American military picture, Glen Clements, Associated Press war correspondent, said in an interview. "There will be fighting in the streets of Tokyo before the Japanese will give up," he added, predicting the struggle in the Pacific will continue long after the European continent has been subdued. Clements said he expects to return to the Pacific war zone.

A former city editor for the Houston Post, Clements joined the Associated Press in Dallas six years ago. He was in New York, Atlanta and San Francisco before leaving for Guadalcanal last August.

He accompanied the American raiders over Wake Island last Christmas eve, when the longest overwater flight made by American planes balasted Japanese installations.

to think she was going to be married here. A few short weeks ago, Fort St. John had been little more than a name to her.

Powell and Bill came back an hour later.

"Everything's settled," said Powell, kissing Penny.

Bill said, "Cleve's packing. He's leaving for Edmonton on the next plane. Told us to say good-bye to you."

Penny's mouth went dry. "Cleve—leaving? But why?"

"He plans to have treatments for his arm there, then enter the service," Bill explained, watching his sister closely.

"We tried to get him to stay on," said Powell, "at least until after the wedding. But he wouldn't. Darned discourteous. Resigned his job, too."

Penny said wildly, "Cleve can't go! He's got to stay—got to!"

Both men stared at her, startled by her vehemence. But she didn't care.

Registrations Coming In For Scout Camp

Registrations have started coming in at a steady rate for the tri-district Boy Scout camp opening at the city park Monday, H. D. Norris, field scout executive, said Tuesday.

Interest in the evening seemed to be mounting on the strength of the program which is designed to carry out the scouting wartime slogan of "toughen up and buckle down," he said.

Troop No. 5 leaders indicated their boys might follow the troop unit plan of preparing its own food during the camp. Fees for boys by this route is 50 cents for the week, whereas it is $8 if the camp furnishes the food.

Registrations have been entered by troops No. 5, No. 1, No. 4 of Big Spring and from Westbrook and Coahoma. Most of the others would be represented, said Norris, and he expected a large number from the Midland and Odessa districts.

Emphasis is being placed on the swimming program, for there will be special instruction designed to teach boys how to take care of themselves in water as well as mastering life saving methods. In handicraft they will make pack racks to complete outfit for less than a dollar, will learn tin can craft, will develop marksmanship, and follow a rigorous but adventurous hiking program.

The whole idea for the camp, said Norris, "is to teach the boys to make the most with what they have."

Churchill

effort had been reached during his conferences in London, Churchill said he could make no predictions as to what may happen in the near future.

"It is evident, however," the prime minister declared, "that amphibious operations of peculiar complexity and hazard on a large scale are approaching."

Churchill added that "operations now impending in the European theater of war have been fitted into their proper place in relation to the general war," but gave no hint as to what these operations might be.

He declared that the sudden collapse of the German and Italian armies in Tunisia was significant, but warned that "no undue expectations should be placed" upon this development.

"We are prepared to win this war by hard fighting and if necessary by hard fighting alone," he said.

Churchill opened his first war review since the statement he gave the house on Feb. 11 after the Casablanca conference by declaring: "As the Allied war effort passes into the offensive phase and as its scale and pace grows continually, more and more frequent consultations between the staffs and those concerned with the high control become necessary."

Outlining the results of his recent conferences in Washington and Algiers, Churchill said:

"At Washington the entire expanse of the World War on which the mellow light of victory now begins to play was laid open to British and American leaders.

"We have shown we can work together," Churchill added. "We have shown we can face disaster. We have still to show we can keep ourselves at the height and level of successful events and be worthy of good fortune. Perhaps it might be the hardest task of all."

He declared that "a complete agreement about the forward steps has been reached between the two governments" of Great Britain and the United States.

"There have been no sort of differences such as occurred in the last war inevitably on account of the forces at work between politicians and military men," he said.

Churchill referred to the plans made in North Africa as "plans I can best describe as directed to the application upon the enemy of force in its most intense and violent form."

"It is evident that amphibious operations of a peculiar complexity and hazard on a large scale are approaching," he said, but declared: "I can give no guarantee any more than I have in the past of what will happen."

Germans, Reds Trade Air Blows

MOSCOW, June 8, (AP)—Official disclosure that the German air force raided the industrial center of Gorki, 250 miles east of Moscow on the Volga river, for two night running emphasizes the belief the observers here that the conflict is now taking on more of the character of a war of attrition—with the zero hour near.

(The Germans announced last night in a Berlin broadcast that they had raided Gorki for the third successive night and had set large fires with 500 tons of explosives and 100,000 incendiaries).

It was at Gorki where Ford engineers helped the Russians build their great automobile factory, which since the war has been converted into a giant armaments center.

STAMP DRIVE COMING

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—The nation's postmasters were directed today to stock up on war savings stamps in preparation for what the postoffice department said would be "an extensive drive" by the treasury "to sell war savings stamps through retail stores, motion picture theaters and newspaper boys."

Wall Street

NEW YORK, June 8, (AP)—Stocks underwent another moderate drubbing from profit-takers in today's market although most lowers put up a fairly respectable defensive battle.

Further slipping tendencies were evident at the start. At the worst minus signs ran to 2 points or so. Offerings never were unduly pressing and, with dealings slow intervals, a little support arrived after mid-day. Near the close extreme recessions were substantially reduced in the majority of cases and here and there small advances appeared. Transfers were around 1,100,000 shares.

Earl Plew Named IOOF Noble Grand

Earl Plew was elected as noble grand of the local Oddfellows lodge when members met Monday night at the IOOF Hall. Named to the post of vice grand was Dike Talbott.

A good crowd attended the lodge meeting, it was reported. Other routine business was disposed of at the session.

Home Nursing Is Authorized For School Students

School board members in session Monday night elected another teacher for the summer school staff, named three teachers for the Kate Morrison school and authorized the adoption of a Red Cross home nursing course to be incorporated into the school curriculum.

Miss Letha Amerson was named to the summer school staff while Mrs. Warren Edson and Mrs. R. C. Crans were elected for the Kate Morrison school. Marga S. Coverdill was also named as supply teacher through August for the Morrison school.

Mrs. G. G. Sawtelle, secretary of the local Red Cross, and Florence McAllister, home economics supervisor for the district, spoke on the need for the Red Cross nursing course to be taught in the regular high school schedule and the board voted its approval.

W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, said that the course would probably be included in the physical education department in order to reach the largest number of girls possible. The Red Cross is to furnish a nurse instructor for the course.

Vet. Of Guinea Battles Due To Visit In City

Pvt. Roy M. Smith, a hero of the Buna mission campaign in New Guinea and recipient of the Purple Heart medal, is due to visit here next week with his uncle, J. A. Adams.

Currently Pvt. Smith is convalescing in a Houston hospital from a recurrence of malaria while visiting his mother, Mrs. S. I. Turner, in Houston.

On three weeks leave from treatment for his left hand, which was shattered by a Jap bullet as he aimed his rifle.

Pvt. Smith was in battle only two weeks, but he was almost constantly in action during that time. When his ship arrived at Port Moresby, Jap bombers tried to sink it before the men could disembark. Flown over the Owen Stanley mountains, his unit was carried to within eight miles of the front, from whence it's members had to hack their way through dense jungles.

He was a member of a scouting party and frequently was almost upon Japs before he sighted them. Once he spotted an enemy pill box a few feet ahead.

"Figuring they didn't see me, I jumped up and picked off the three Japs before they could duck. Then I ran on the rest and started firing. They fired back and threw hand grenades, but I managed to fire 20 times, but I counted five dead ones."

Wounded, he crawled into a thicket, died under water and made his way to his unit and was subsequently returned to Australia and then the states. He said Jap snipers were bad, many of them women, and that Jap soldiers were barbarous.

Pvt. Smith attended school here as a youth years ago and visited here before joining the army Oct. 8, 1941.

Classifications Changed Again

Selective service classes have been changed materially to correspond with new regulations, and most of the changes have to do with the No. 2 and No. 3 classifications.

Several classes, notably 1-B and 1-B (objector), 2-B, 4-H, etc. are out.

Those in class 1-A, 1-A (O) or class 4-E are still those who are available for military service.

In class 2-A are registrants necessary by reason of civilian occupation. Those in class 2-B are necessary by reason of war production work, and those in 2-C are those without dependents who are engaged in agricultural pursuits.

Registrants who maintain a bona fide home relationship for children are classed 2-A. Similar cases but whose occupation is in agriculture are in 2-C. The 2-D class is maintained for cases where induction would cause undue and extreme hardship.

Coccidiosis Seen As Threat To Poultry Flocks

Frequency of thundershowers led County Agent O. F. Griffin to issue Monday to poultry raisers against the possibility of coccidiosis in the flock.

Warm, damp soil will be ideal for rapid propagation of the coccidia bacteria in the space of a few days it is possible to have the infection all through the flock, he said.

For curative and preventative purposes, he suggested the use of milk as a feed. Chickens convert this into lactic acid, which eliminates the bacteria while serving as a good food at the same time. If it is impractical to feed milk, then mash with 2-3 per cent of dusting sulphur (325 mesh) will do the job. In event of serious or threatened infection as much as five per cent sulphur may be used for two or three days.

The agent also suggested that leaky hydrants, troughs, or watering bowls be repaired and that puddles around the poultry yard be drained.

Chickens infected with the ailment may first be spotted by their droopy appearance, although this is not a sure sign. Figuratively, they "have their heads in their pockets." Later as the infection becomes serious, blood will show up in the droppings.

Registrations Coming In For Scout Camp

Registrations have started coming in at a steady rate for the tri-district Boy Scout camp opening at the city park Monday, H. D. Norris, field scout executive, said Tuesday.

Interest in the evening seemed to be mounting on the strength of the program which is designed to carry out the scouting wartime slogan of "toughen up and buckle down," he said.

Troop No. 5 leaders indicated their boys might follow the troop unit plan of preparing its own food during the camp. Fees for boys by this route is 50 cents for the week, whereas it is $8 if the camp furnishes the food.

Registrations have been entered by troops No. 5, No. 1, No. 4 of Big Spring and from Westbrook and Coahoma. Most of the others would be represented, said Norris, and he expected a large number from the Midland and Odessa districts.

Emphasis is being placed on the swimming program, for there will be special instruction designed to teach boys how to take care of themselves in water as well as mastering life saving methods. In handicraft they will make pack racks to complete outfit for less than a dollar, will learn tin can craft, will develop marksmanship, and follow a rigorous but adventurous hiking program.

The whole idea for the camp, said Norris, "is to teach the boys to make the most with what they have."

effort had been reached during his conferences in London, Churchill said he could make no predictions as to what may happen in the near future.

"It is evident, however," the prime minister declared, "that amphibious operations of peculiar complexity and hazard on a large scale are approaching."

Churchill added that "operations now impending in the European theater of war have been fitted into their proper place in relation to the general war," but gave no hint as to what these operations might be.

He declared that the sudden collapse of the German and Italian armies in Tunisia was significant, but warned that "no undue expectations should be placed" upon this development.

"We are prepared to win this war by hard fighting and if necessary by hard fighting alone," he said.

Churchill opened his first war review since the statement he gave the house on Feb. 11 after the Casablanca conference by declaring: "As the Allied war effort passes into the offensive phase and as its scale and pace grows continually, more and more frequent consultations between the staffs and those concerned with the high control become necessary."

Outlining the results of his recent conferences in Washington and Algiers, Churchill said:

"At Washington the entire expanse of the World War on which the mellow light of victory now begins to play was laid open to British and American leaders.

"We have shown we can work together," Churchill added. "We have shown we can face disaster. We have still to show we can keep ourselves at the height and level of successful events and be worthy of good fortune. Perhaps it might be the hardest task of all."

He declared that "a complete agreement about the forward steps has been reached between the two governments" of Great Britain and the United States.

"There have been no sort of differences such as occurred in the last war inevitably on account of the forces at work between politicians and military men," he said.

Churchill referred to the plans made in North Africa as "plans I can best describe as directed to the application upon the enemy of force in its most intense and violent form."

"It is evident that amphibious operations of a peculiar complexity and hazard on a large scale are approaching," he said, but declared: "I can give no guarantee any more than I have in the past of what will happen."
