MEXICO EXILES CALLES AND ADVISERS

WORDS

Words are things—
Words are things—
Words are things—

Twinkles
Personally, we never envied persons who have time to fish. But we do envy those who have time to fish, know where the fish are, and can catch them nearly every time.

Is professional baseball work or play? Erroneously, we believe, the average fan thinks of it as play.

Time just won't leave things alone; first thing we know Shirley Temple will be growing up.

According to Mister H. Hoover, the new deal has corrupted all thinking and all things on this earth, and St. Peter may be the next one affected if any of us democrats ever go to heaven.

Warning to parents: In taking children to wet climates, the tots are apt to get nervous when it rains unless the phenomenon is carefully explained.

Musing of the moment: Two arguments rage endlessly here in the NEWS family. One is over what ill effects result from inhaling dust. The second is over what medicines or foods to use in avoiding colds. Each new illness, symptom, or printed article inspires new arguments. Doctors are quoted endlessly. So far it is conceded that dusts and colds have prejudiced the arguments with their frequency.

Brevitorials
IF YOU'RE LOOKING for milestones, you might dig a hole and set up KPND as one of them in the life of the Pampa Daily News—the 30th. The NEWS is now in its 30th year, as the volume number shows. Launching of a radio station in conjunction is one of the biggest sidelines that any newspaper ever attempts. We have talked about KPND for a long time. It is now only a matter of hours until it can speak for itself. And we hope, put in a word for its parent institution now and then.

Latest contributor to the flood relief fund is Dr. W. S. House, local Methodist minister, who sent a check for $5. Pampans have given more than $80 for aiding the flood sufferers. They were asked to give not less than $105. Texans as a whole have given only 27 per cent of their quotas. Coloradans have given 114 per cent. Why the difference? Soon will come the call for relief of tornado victims in the third worst disaster in years.

MORE FACTS on the flags of Texas:
1836-1845—The Lone Star flag of Texas consisting of one red and one white stripe, rectangular, and one blue stripe, perpendicular and equal to one-third of the length of the flag and containing a white star central. (See Chapter 87, General Laws of the State of Texas, passed by the 43rd Legislature at the Regular Session of 1930, and Act of Congress of the Republic of Texas, approved January 25, 1839.)
The first standard of the Republic of Texas, approved December 10, 1836, was provided for as follows:
"Be it further enacted, That for the future there shall be a national flag, to be denominated the 'National Standard of Texas,' the conformation of which shall be an azure ground, with a large golden star central."
When Texas became a state in the Union December 29, 1845, she retained her noted Lone Star Flag as the State flag.
1845-1861, present date—The Stars and Stripes of the United States have flown over Texas since 1845, with the exception of the four-year interim of the War Between the States.
Flag of the Confederacy, 1861-1865—The Stars and Bars, consisting of two red stripes, a blue field containing seven white stars.
Texas was one of the first seven states to form the Confederacy, whose cause was lost in 1865.
Reading around a fan shaped arrangement of the six flags, the following is the paper order: France, Confederacy, United States, Texas, Mexico, Spain.
Rules of heraldry, criminal and civil statutes, and the code of the United States Flag Association govern the placement of the flags. The United States flag must hold point of honor position or the position of center or highest point of the group. The Texas flag should be on the left of the flag of the United States or to the audience's right.

HINDENBURG IS LIMPING HOME; 2 MOTORS OUT

GETS PERMISSION TO FLY ZEPPELIN OVER FRANCE

By MELVIN K. WHITELEATHER
FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, April 10.—Germany's new zeppelin, the Hindenburg, was limping home from its maiden voyage to South America today, zeppelin company officials said, with two of its four motors out of commission.
For 14 hours—since it first became known that the Hindenburg had asked the French government for permission to fly over France on the shortest route to Friedrichshafen—the officials had denied reports of engine trouble aboard the ship.
Capt. Hans von Schiller, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, companion ship to the Hindenburg, said the new zeppelin finally reported early today that one motor had gone out completely, and that the second was functioning improperly.
The Hindenburg was sighted over Lyon, south central France, on the Rhone, at 12:15 p. m. (6:15 a. m. C. S. T.) and continued its northward course at reduced speed and low altitude. Permission to Hindenburg to use the regular route of the Graf Zeppelin up the Rhone valley was an exception, for the ship was in trouble.
He said the Hindenburg was now making 105 kilometers an hour compared to its average of from 120 to 140 on the outward flight.
The condition of the engines and storms over Biscay Bay, in the Atlantic between France and Spain, however, the captain said, made it desirable for the Hindenburg to take the shorter Rhone course home.
Von Schiller said the ship was not in danger.
Carrying 38 passengers and a crew of 40, the Hindenburg reported it had resorted to the Rhone route with France's permission, after first plotting another path over the Mediterranean, Italy, and Switzerland.

NEW SANCTIONS AGAIN HANGING OVER ITALIANS

New Negotiations for Peace Planned at Geneva

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY
GENEVA, April 10.—New negotiations for peace between Italy and Ethiopia may start in Geneva next Tuesday under the threat that, if they fail, new sanctions may be decreed against Italy.
The "committee of 13," of the League of Nations which adjourned today to meet next Thursday, requested that Dr. Augusto Vasconcellos of Portugal, president of the league's sanctions committee, convene that body "when he considers it useful in the interest of peace."
It was also decided that the members of the sanctions committee should be warned that their presence may be required at any moment.
Unconfirmed reports circulated among the delegates that Premier Mussolini intends to enthronize a puppet emperor of Ethiopia at Dessau when and if his soldiers subjugate the last strongholds of Emperor Haile Selassie's forces.
The session of the committee of 13, composed of every member of the league council except Italy, was marked by wrangling between Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, and Pierre-Etienne Flandin, French foreign minister.
Eden insisted that the committee

Widow Is Denied Death Damages in Strange Trial

LAKE CHARLES, La., April 10.—After a moonlight court session on the old Spanish trail at the scene of a fatal accident, Mrs. Ruth Aultman of New Orleans for a second time has been denied damages for the death of her husband, Orin Aultman, in the accident.
At first trial of the suit Judge Porter denied damages for the plaintiff, but granted a new trial so that he could further acquaint himself with the circumstances of the accident.
There upon a moonlight night at 1:30 a. m. April 8, exact time of the accident, the judge reconstructed the physical features on the highway near Lake Charles in a midnight court session and took the place of Aultman at the wheel of an automobile reenacting the crash.
Today the court records showed that judgment had been denied.
Aultman was fatally injured on Jan. 20, 1935 when his car crashed with a truck Mrs. Aultman entered suit for damages of $12,500 against the Union City Transfer company of Beaumont, Texas, owners of the truck which the plaintiff claimed was parked on the highway on a moonlight night.

Exiled

Gen. P. E. E. Calles, former "iron man" of Mexico, was forcibly exiled by the administration of President Cardenas, former protege, today.

'STRONG MAN' IS FLYING TO UNITED STATES

FORCIBLY PUT ABOARD PLANE BY LEFTIST GOVERNMENT

BROWNSVILLE, April 10 (AP)—Former President Plutarco Elias Calles of Mexico, summarily arrested and exiled by the Mexican government, arrived at Pan-American airport here today with three of his followers in a trimotored plane under guard of seven army officers.
Secretly arrested after midnight and rushed out of the southern republic with the one-time "strong man" of Mexico were Luis Morales, former minister of labor; Luis Leon, former minister of the interior and agriculture; and Rafael Melchor Ortega, former governor of Guanajuato.
The plane carrying the men left Mexico City at 8:12 a. m. and landed here at 12:50 p. m. United States immigration and customs men met the ship to expedite clearing Calles and his ousted followers through the port without delay.
Gen. Rafael Navarro, commander of the military zone of the Valley of Mexico, arrested Calles in his bedroom at the former president's Santa Barbara ranch outside the capital and told him:
"By orders of President Cardenas, you must leave Mexico because the conditions of the country so demand."

Gory Penitentes Atone For Sins

'Cristos' Crucified in New Mexico Mountains

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 10.—Deep in hidden mountain valleys of New Mexico and Southern Colorado, "Los Hermanos De Sangre Cristo" will complete expiation of their sins in blood and suffering today.
The holy week devoted to rites of self-punishment gradually increasing in severity, will be climaxed this Good Friday in ordeals symbolic of the crucifixion of Christ.
Already "Cristos" of the isolated Spanish-American penitente villages have made their dread marches to El Calvario, their backs bloodied from lashing, their heads weighted with crowns of cactus thorns, and their bare feet torn on rocky paths.
The rude, heavy crosses were placed last night on Calvary summits, to the accompaniment of shrill-piping "pitores," doleful lamentation and the cracking of thorn-studded whips.
In some villages, the crosses will remain there, unused. But in others, the "hermano mayores" elder brothers of the blood, will insist that the week-long re-enactment of Christ's passion be brought to a

'Lady in Red' To Be Deported

CHICAGO, April 10.—Mrs. Anna Sage, the "woman in red" credited with leading desperado John Dillinger to his death, resigned herself today to deportation to her native Rumania.
Refusing to accept her claim that department of justice officials promised her immunity for her part in the killing of Dillinger by federal agents, the United States circuit court of appeals yesterday issued a mandate for Mrs. Sage's deportation as an undesirable alien.
Bitter in defeat, Mrs. Sage, who earned the sobriquet "the woman in red" because of her flaming attire on the night she led Dillinger into a ring of officers outside a North Side theater, said government officials had given her "a dirty deal."
Mrs. Sage said she would be ready to depart from Chicago at the call of the bureau of immigration. Her husband, Alexander, a railroad worker, and her son, Steve, will stay behind.
Mrs. Sage said she will make every effort possible to reenter the United States within a few years. The deportation order resulted from a conviction in Gary, Ind., on charges of operating a disorderly house.

WILD DRIVER IN CITY IS CHASED BY SPEED COP

One Injured, 2 Cars Damaged by Truck On Thursday

A wild ride through the business district, the north residential district, and finally eight miles north of Pampa on the old Miami road, ended yesterday afternoon only after City Traffic Officer A. B. Johnson had fired eight shots at a fleeing truck he was chasing and it had run out of gasoline. Only one shot hit the truck as it bounced over dirt road at about 70 miles an hour.
The driver of the truck was to be charged this afternoon. Sheriff Earl Talley said today. He was turned over to county officers by the city policeman, with Johnson on his wild ride were Sam Fenberg and B. H. Behrman.
According to Johnson, the truck crashed into Sam Fenberg's car as it was being backed from the curb. He was called to the scene of the accident, where he instructed the driver to go to the police station. Instead of doing so, the driver drove at high speed along Cuyler, Kingsmill, and Somerville streets, hitting a car belonging to Lonzell Kennamer which was parked across the street from the Pla-Mor auditorium. Without stopping, the truck zig-zagged through north Pampa, finally reaching the Miami road.
During the entire distance, the city police car was close behind the truck. It was not until the race had progressed several miles north of the city that Officer Johnson tried to stop the truck by shooting at the tires. Johnson opened the car door and stepped on the running board. Sam Fenberg, who was in the front seat of the car, took the wheel while the officer shot from the running board.
Soon the vehicle started to slow down and finally it stopped. The officer discovered that the truck had run out of gasoline. He brought the driver and a young brother back to the city.
Jake Burkett, salesman for the Ben Williams Motor company, received a skull injury when the truck struck Kennamer's car. Mr. Burkett was standing with one foot on the running board of the car, talking with Mr. Kennamer. The rear of the truck struck the parked car, hurling it over the curb. Mr. Kennamer was not hurt.
Fenberg's car was badly damaged at the rear and along one side.

Troops Established Dictator of Mexico

Associated Press Foreign Staff
One can delve almost anywhere into the life of General Plutarco Elias Calles and pull out material to tickle the palates of adventure-loving readers.
Yet Mexico's "strong man" shunned the aura of romance and thoroughly detested publicity. Many think he would have been a powerful figure in any country.
He had his bitter enemies—hosts of them and he had his warm friends. It is safe to say that for every person who called him a scoundrel there was one to hail him as a savior of his land.
Think of his life as a book and turn to a few chapters before the last. He bears the signs of age, has already been president, is still the guiding will. Weariness and illness peer out through the severe lines of his massive face, but one perceives that the iron determination is not gone.
Rides With Troops
He is aboard a troop train thundering north to put down another rebellion. He wears boots and a khaki shirt and is poring over maps. Thousands of Indian soldiers are riding on the roofs of box cars that string out behind. Inside are horses, replacing the women who usually accompany the soldiers to war. Calles will have none of it this time. Horses are more in demand.
The writer of these recollections thinks something should be done to stop a band of rebels which is advancing down the coast. He is himself conducted into the presence of the general.
"We have 10,000 men coming up on Torreon from Monterey," the commander explains patiently. "An-

PENNER'S DUCK UNFROCKED AS L. A. MINISTER

Fowl Is Stripped of Ecclesiastical Habiliment

LOS ANGELES, April 10.—The Rev. Drake Googoo—Joe Penner's pet duck—was unfrocked as a minister of a Los Angeles religious organization today.
A spokesman announced the radio and screen fowl was stripped of his ecclesiastical habiliment on the grounds of "insubordination" for failing to report to the "mother church" within 60 days of the time his certificate was issued.
With Penner's permission, the duck had been used in an investigation by the Los Angeles Ministerial association of asserted large-scale ordinations made here.
Dr. Isaac Ward, pastor of Hollenbeck Presbyterian church, chairman of the inquiry, said the association would discuss as a consequence plans for petitioning the state legislature for a change in the statutes requiring more rigid courses of training for doctors of divinity and ministers of the gospel in California.
These plans will be bronched at a meeting of representatives of more than 400 churches in the Los Angeles area next Thursday, Dr. Ward said.
"The Ministerial association feels that the laws of a state which make it possible for a duck to be ordained a minister of the gospel are not serving society in the way that they were intended," said Dr. U. L. Di Ghillini, association investigator.
"It is the intention of the association to seek a change in these laws rather than to prosecute church organizations which may be operating outside the true spirit of the law."

'DUST' AND 3 OTHER PLAYS TO BE GIVEN IN FINALS TONIGHT

HOPKINS BANS FLORIDA CANAL FROM RELIEF

QUODDY PROJECT ALSO LEFT OUT OF PROGRAM

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON, Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Members of the house appropriations committee said today they had given positive assurance by Harry L. Hopkins that none of the $1,500,000,000 relief appropriation would be paid for the Florida ship canal or the Passamaquoddy tide-harvesting project in Maine.

The relief administrator, who spent two days before a sub-committee in a hearing on President Roosevelt's request for $1,500,000,000 for next year, has completed his testimony but it will not be made public officially until the committee reports the relief bill to the house.

Committee members quoted Hopkins as saying that all of the proposed appropriations would go to his Works Progress administration except for a limited sum to Rexford G. Tugwell's Resettlement administration.

Republican members immediately asked that Tugwell be called, but Chairman Buchanan (D., Texas) said it had not been decided whether any further hearings would be held.

Hopkins' committee members testified that the proposed appropriation

By DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: Jesus Triumphs Over Death.

Scripture Lesson: Luke 24:1-12.

1. Now upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them.

2. And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3. And they entered in and found not the body of the Lord Jesus.

4. And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments.

5. And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead?

6. He is not here, but is risen:

probably would not last through next year unless business absorbed a large portion of the unemployed. He was reported to have said that another appropriation was likely to be asked early in 1937.

Committee members said Hopkins made it plain that none of the new appropriation would go to the Public Works administration or to other big construction projects not specifically authorized by congress.

He indicated that the great bulk of the money would be used in continuing the WPA program of job construction for the direct employment of jobless. Despite his assurances, however, republican members planned to demand that the bill carry a definite prohibition against any further hearings would be held.

Hopkins' committee members testified that the proposed appropriation

The Women Return to the Disciples - Ver. 9-11

As soon as these excited women had seen the empty tomb, and heard the words from the angels, and had realized what had happened, they started back to tell the disciples, especially the Eleven, about what had happened. When one lady came and held him by the arm, she said to him, "I have seen some one else about them. They must have thrilled with the news as they ran back that early Sunday morning. Luke does not tell of any of the events that happened on the way back to town. But Matthew says: "They departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring their disciples word. And as they went, to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him."

10. It was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and other women, that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles.

11. And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they believed them not.

12. Then arose Peter, and ran unto the sepulchre; and stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.

Introduction

The twenty-third chapter of Luke gives us the account of the closing part of the trial of Jesus, the matters connected with the journey to Galilee, the events involved in the Crucifixion itself, and the burial of the body by Joseph of Arimathea in his new tomb; the sympathizing women having prepared spices and ointments. Following this we are told by Matthew that the Pharisees and the tomb sealed and a guard placed over it lest the disciples steal the body, and claim that Christ had arisen.

"With Jesus dead and buried it was indeed a dark hour for his followers, especially since the matter of his resurrection was not as clear to them as to us. For the time being it looked as if his enemies had triumphed and he had gone down in defeat. Undoubtedly many of his followers felt like saying up and going back to their old tasks. Unless he should fulfill his prophecy of raising up the temple of his body in three days, as he said, he would be just another false prophet. The hour was tense."

Our Living Lord

"One often hears it said that Jesus Christ. I would alter that statement by making it "a living Jesus Christ." The Christ who can be my Savior and the world's Savior must be an actually alive and present Lord Jesus; not a dead prophet of Nazareth, but a Jesus who won the victory over the tomb, and fulfills his promise to abide forever with his followers in the power and presence of his Spirit. The world needs constantly to be reminded of this truth and fact of a living Christ. Notice that Jesus and the "resurrection" was the constant theme of the preaching of the earliest church (Acts 2:31, 4:2; 17:18). Every recurring Sabbath, the first day of the week, the day of our Lord's resurrection, should recall this fact to our minds."

The Women Visit the Tomb

Ver. 1-3

"Women have always shown a peculiar interest in Christianity. It is true at the present, for without them the ranks of our church-goers and workers would be thin indeed. It has been truth throughout the history of Christianity, as seen in missionary activity. It was true in the days of Christ's earthly ministry, as we have seen in those that accompanied him and helped to support his work. It was true even while his body lay in the tomb. The heart of woman has always been sympathetic to Christ. So we are not surprised that as the first streaks of day appeared on Sunday certain women went to the sepulchre. Perhaps they had been awake much of the night thinking about the matter. Luke says it "was early in the morning" (24:1). This early going shows their deep concern and anxiety. And as they went we are told by Mark, they said to one another, "Who shall roll us the stone from the door of the sepulchre?" (Mark 16:3) Imagine their surprise when they got there and found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus" (Ver. 2-3). Matthew explains how it happened by saying "There was a great earthquake; for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the

RE-ELECTION OF FDR URGED BY LABOR LEADER

C. OF C. PRESIDENT ATTACKS NEW DEAL

By LEONARD B. SHUBERT

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—A chamber of commerce charge that the "handy whipping boy of politicians" and a labor leader's call for the re-election of President Roosevelt were added today to the growing record of this big campaign year.

In a radio address in which he did not mention any political party, President Harper Sibley of the chamber of commerce of the United States said business should serve notice that "the misrepresentation and glorifying of business must be stopped forthwith."

He declared that "prejudices and antagonisms" have harvested "dragon's teeth in the form of hoisted and unwise laws, cumbersome restriction of legitimate enterprise, agitation of needless industrial dislocation of goods and crops, and the heaping of still further burdens of Texas and public debt upon the backs of those already straining to make ends meet."

Sidney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, called upon labor to support Mr. Roosevelt in November. Addressing members of his union in New York last night, Hillman, one of the organizers of "labor's non-partisan league," which is backing Mr. Roosevelt, declared the president's defeat would badly handicap labor.

"Labor is interested vitally in the re-election of President Roosevelt," he said, "and for the very same reason that all the enemies of organized labor in the country, to quote one of their own spokesmen, are 'ganging up' against the president's re-election."

Republicans in Wisconsin meanwhile were called upon to present a united front in the November elections.

Edward J. Semp, chairman of the state executive committee, which supported the unopposed slate against Senator Borah of Idaho in the presidential preference primary, said the intra-party fight was over. Borah won 21 of the state's 24 convention delegates.

In a campaign speech at Decatur Ill. last night, Borah declared that "we are building a bureaucracy which is sucking the very life-blood of the nation in taxes."

DEFENSE PACT FOR AMERICAS IS ADVOCATED

GUATEMALA PRESIDENT PROPOSES PLAN FOR PEACE

By STANLEY P. RICHARDSON, Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 10—A concert of American nations, pledged to mutual assistance in case of foreign aggression, has been proposed to President Roosevelt by General Jorge Ubico, president of the Republic of Guatemala.

The plan, presented for consideration by the All-American peace conference to be held this summer at Buenos Aires, in effect would call upon all the nations of Central and South America for their adherence to the Monroe doctrine.

To preserve peace among the American nations themselves, the Guatemalan chief executive suggested a permanent court of inter-American justice, modeled generally after the world court at The Hague, with jurisdiction to settle by arbitration all disputes among them.

President Ubico's proposals were submitted in the form of a suggested draft covenant, included in his formal acceptance of President Roosevelt's invitation to the conference. They first must be approved by the conference agenda committee before they can become a part of the program.

He advocated a general treaty of "solidarity and mutual cooperation." It would be an organic system of inter-American legislation designed to maintain peace, promote commerce, advance the development of communications and contribute to the cultural and social welfare of the respective countries.

Such a treaty would be based on the doctrine that common continental interests exist among the American republics "and principles fundamental to their existence as members of the international American community."

Texhoma Case To Be Appealed to Supreme Court

AUSTIN, April 10 (AP)—Attorney General William McCraw said today attorneys started perfection of an appeal to the United States Supreme Court on the Texhoma-Consolidated Gas production test suit.

A recent opinion by three federal judges striking down a railroad commission order enforcing the rate-making provisions of the act was studied by attorneys in a conference at Houston.

McCraw said two major pipe lines, the Lone Star Gas company and the Northern Texas Utilities company, advised him they would carry out the gas proration scheme. The companies prepared contracts for allowable production of American Natural Gas company wells at four cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

"These agreements for ratable takings," he said, "made despite the fact the court knocked out the gas proration order, will help considerably."

About three weeks will be required to prepare a statement of evidence and findings of fact and of law constituting the basis of the court's opinion.

Sen. Costigan Will Not Seek Seat This Year

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The unexpected announcement that Senator Edward P. Costigan, Colorado democrat, would not seek reelection brought expressions of respect today from senate liberals.

At the same time, speculation arose as to the effect of his retirement upon national as well as state politics.

Costigan's office, in an announcement last night, reported ill health would prevent his entering the Colorado primary.

Political observers believed that Gov. Ed G. Johnson, democrat who has been antagonistic to certain of the administration's relief and agricultural policies, might be a candidate to succeed Costigan.

Colorado's junior senator, Alva B. Adams, expressed his surprise at the retirement retirement, said he regretted the decision and added that Costigan "has a national reputation and Colorado will be sorry to lose such an outstanding leader."

FDR Returning To White House

En Route with President Roosevelt to Washington, April 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt, traveled out of the tornado torn south today on his way to his White House desk.

Returning from his annual fishing cruise in southern waters, Mr. Roosevelt stopped last night in the devastated towns of Gainesville, Ga., and expressed to the saddened folks his pride in their spirit.

"This storm has affected many states and communities," said the president to the hushed throng assembled about the dark station. "Two things stand out that make us proud as Americans. In the first place all agencies of all kinds have cooperated to the limit, not only sincerely but with way practical results. The other is the fine spirit that all of you in Gainesville have shown. You have cooperated to bring order out of chaos. You have shown a determination to rebuild a bigger and better city. We are proud of you as Americans."

The president returns today to the White House after an absence of almost three weeks devoted largely to fishing in the bright sunshine of Bahamian waters.

Joan Blondell hopes her son, Norman Scott Barnes, 3, will become an artist when he grows up.

OLD SETTLERS REUNION TO BE DAY'S FEATURE

STATE NOTABLES AND BAND WILL BE PRESENT

By HARRY E. HOARE, Sports Editor, Pampa Daily News

ALANREED, April 10 — The Alanreed Independent school district tomorrow will celebrate the completion of its $17,000 gymnasium, the latest evidence of progress in the school's rapid advancement in classification.

W. E. James of Austin, first assistant state superintendent of schools, will be the principal speaker at the dedication ceremony. Mr. James will bring personal greetings from State Supt. L. A. Woods, who will be unable to make the trip. Mr. James is prominent in state affairs and is a speaker of note.

Also present to take part in the ceremony will be J. D. Wilson of Canyon, district deputy state superintendent. State Representative Eugene Worley of Shamrock, County Supt. W. B. Weathered of Pampa, and others will be on the program.

An old settlers reunion will be held in the afternoon when former students, school board members, faculty members and citizens will meet for a program and renewal of acquaintances.

The gymnasium and renovation of one of the school buildings, was made possible through bonds and not through government grants. J. C. Berry of Shamrock was architect. Davis, White, and Fletcher of Pampa were the contractors.

Constructed of brick and stucco, the new gymnasium-auditorium has a playing floor 45 by 78 feet, a large stage with beautiful velour drop curtain, and a seating capacity of more than 300. Three hundred chairs have been purchased for use at concerts, etc. A large home economics department is located in an annex at the rear of the gymnasium.

Renovation work on the old school plant has been completed at a cost of $2,500. Included was a new entrance to the building, new stairs, and decorations.

Members of the school board when the work was authorized were Hartley Davis, president; J. P. Elms, Carrol Burdine, Roy Sherman, Paul M. Bruce, George Oakley, and Oscar Tibbets. W. E. James has been business manager for years. J. W. Dillard is superintendent of schools.

The Alanreed Independent school district serves 198 square miles of territory in Gray and Donley counties. Last year the Alanreed district was consolidated with two adjoining districts, McClellan and Eldridge. The school was soon after granted third year affiliation and classification.

The school has an enrollment of 230 pupils, many brought to school by bus. They formerly attended rural schools in the area.

The school system has been completely reorganized and now has an accredited first class high school with fourth year affiliation and classification expected to be granted immediately.

The high school has been producing exceptionally strong athletic teams the last few years. The first football team in school history won a high place in the class C division last season. The school basketball team represented Gray county in the District 2 tournament in Pampa in March. The track and field team won the county class B championship in McClellan last week.

Many to-morrow students of Alanreed schools will return for the dedication of the new building. Members of the school board in past years will also return. Speakers will include high school officials in the state.

A full day of entertainment and ceremonies will feature the opening. The program will begin at 9 o'clock with a concert by the Shamrock high school band. The invocation will be by Rev. V. U. Henderson of Vernon, formerly of Alanreed, at 10 o'clock.

W. E. James, business manager of the Alanreed Independent school district, will introduce the chief speaker of the morning, W. E. James of Austin, first assistant state superintendent of schools. The two men are not related.

J. D. Wilson of Canyon, district deputy state superintendent, will make an address, which will be followed by a dedicatory song by R. E. Page of LeFors.

Eugene Worley, representative from this district, and W. B. Weathered, county superintendent of schools, will address the gathering before noon when a barbecue and basket lunch will be served.

An old settlers reunion will be staged in the afternoon, beginning with a band concert by the Shamrock organization. The invocation will be by the Rev. S. T. Greenwood of Alanreed.

John B. Hesse, former county superintendent and long time resident of the county, will preside. Walter Harding will be the first speaker. G. E. Castleberry and others will follow playing "fiddle" music. A quartet will render several numbers.

Talks will be made by R. M. Gibson and C. H. Reeler, former school board members. The school history will be told by W. J. Ball, member of the school board in 1902. A reading, "Students," by Mrs. C. L. McMurtry, music by a quartet, and band music will close that portion of the program.

A volley ball game will be played in the new gymnasium at 4:15 o'clock. At 4:45 o'clock there will be a basketball game with Eugene Worley and W. B. Weathered selecting a quintet to meet the Alanreed high school team.

A faculty play, "The Blundering Herd," will be given at 7:45 o'clock to close the dedication program.

SCRIBES WILL BE GUESTS OF ROAD RUNNERS

BANQUET PROGRAM TO BE BROADCAST OVER KPDN

Manager Sam Hale of the Pampa Road Runners and Manager Mike Gazella of the Ponca City Angels will tangle over the air Saturday night before they meet at Road Runner park on Sunday afternoon when the Pampa team opens the baseball season with the Ponca City Angels, Western association champions. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock with admission 25 cents for women and 40 cents for men.

The word battle will take place at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow night when the Road Runner baseball club will banquet scribes of the Panhandle and managers of the visiting team and of the clubs in this city. It will not be the first time the two veterans have tangled. Hale is a former Philadelphia Athletic star while Gazella played his ball with the New York Yankees.

The banquet, to be in the Eagle Buffet at 6:15 o'clock, will be for 14 visiting newspapermen, the president and manager of the clubs at Amarillo, Borger and Ponca City and members of the Road Runner club. Gilmore N. Nunn will be hostess. The program will be broadcast over radio station KPDM Pampa Daily NEWS station which went on the air for the first time this morning. Music will be by Ralph Emerson and his KPDM orchestra which will play over from the Eagle Buffet every evening.

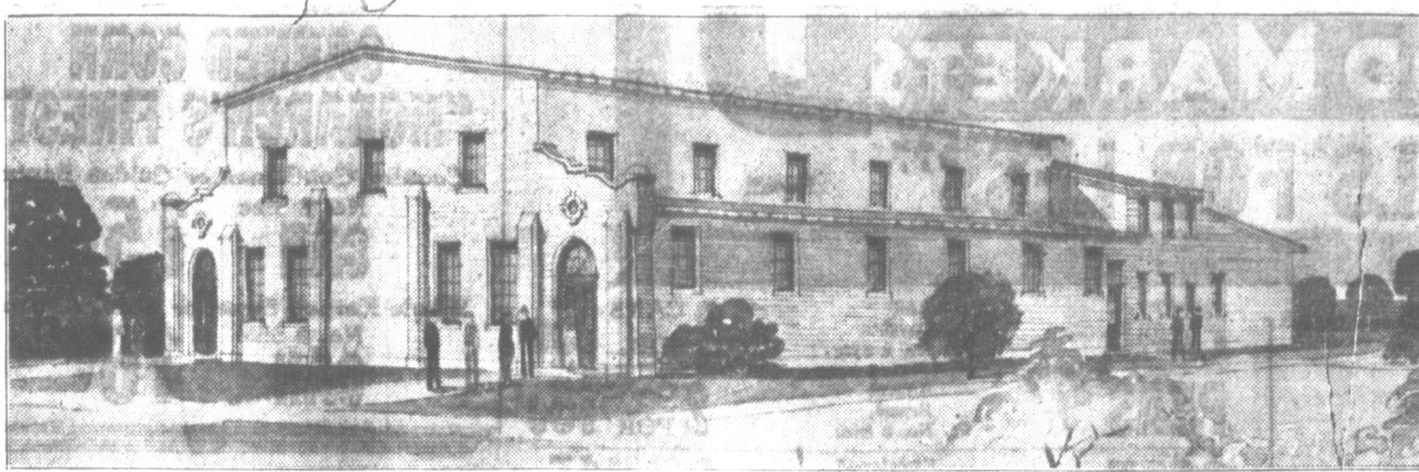

Opening of the 1936 season is expected to be a gala affair with the fair sex providing the color. It happens that the game will be played on Easter Sunday when all will be out in their wraps. The "hot" fan will like to sit in the front seat and razz the players will also be on hand. The "I told you so" and the "I could have done better than that" boys will be there giving advice to the veterans.

Manager Sam Hale has not named a starting lineup for the game. He is expected to start Ledford on the mound and Lisle behind the bat. The first base assignment is in doubt. Al Summers will be at second, Ben McClary at short, and Sam Hale at third. Grover Setz, Don Bailey, and McNabb are expected to anchor the outfield. The Road Runners will have lots of hitting power in the lineup. Manager Hale and the veterans from last year have been hitting the ball hard and far. Bailey and McNabb have been doing very spectacular work during practice and will be given a chance to show their stuff.

A newcomer, Jennings Goode of Canadian, is also expected to get his chance in the outfield. Goode comes from down in Fisher county but is from Canadian. He is a big fellow with a natural swing and plenty of power. Several other newcomers may also be seen during the game.

Ponca City will field a team composed mostly of veteran youngsters with Tim Joe Berry, former Ross, Runner, on the mound. The Angels have been training in California and will stop off here en route home for the opening of the season.

Alanreed's New $17,000 Gymnasium To Be Dedicated Saturday

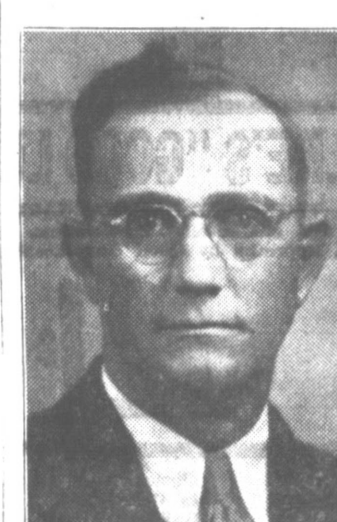

Dedication of Alanreed's beautiful new gymnasium-auditorium will take place tomorrow when W. E. James of Austin, first assistant state superintendent of schools, will open the door. Many other school and state officials will be present. A program which will begin at 9 o'clock in the morning will last throughout the day and will include music, addresses, barbecue, oldtimers program, athletic contests and a play. The beautiful new building is of brick and stucco. J. C. Berry of Shamrock was the architect and Davis, White and Fletcher of Pampa the contractors. An annex will house the home economics department. The gymnasium has a playing floor 45 by 78 feet. It has a seating capacity of 300 for athletic contests. Three hundred chairs have been purchased to be used for concerts, etc. Locker rooms, showers, dressing rooms and all modern conveniences are included in the building. D. V. Biggers, West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, is the athletic director. His basketball team won the county championship last season. The team played in an underused space in an old building. Alanreed's first football team won Class C honors last year.

Representative

EUGENE WORLEY
Hon. Eugene Worley of Shamrock, state representative of the 122nd legislative district, will be one of the speakers at the program opening Alanreed's new gymnasium tomorrow. His talk will climax the morning program and the young representative will lead a basketball team which will play the first game in the new gymnasium. One of his team-mates will be W. B. Weathered, county superintendent of schools.

Business Manager

W. E. JAMES
The business manager of the Alanreed Independent school district is W. E. James, a resident of Alanreed for 11 years. Mr. James donated an old brick building in Alanreed from which much of the material for the new school gymnasium was taken. He is also secretary-treasurer of the Alanreed National Farm Loan association.

FIRST GAME IN TEXAS LEAGUE TO BE SUNDAY

STEERS WILL BATTLE CATS IN FORT WORTH

(By The Associated Press)

Texas League teams put on final training touches today. The first game of the season will be played Sunday at Fort Worth between the Dallas Steers and the Fort Worth Panthers. The other teams will play their first games on Tuesday.

The Steers showed good form yesterday in defeating the Tokyo Giants, 4 to 1, and were favored to defeat the Japanese again today.

Manager Harry McCurdy of Fort Worth, saying his lineup was virtually ready for the opener, studied his pitching prospects. His crop of 15 mound candidates has dwindled to seven and McCurdy said he was undecided on a fourth starter. Fred Johnson, Al Shealy and Ed Greer were assured assignments.

Reduced to 19 players, the Houston team prepared for a practice game with an amateur all-star nine tonight. The team is within two men of the league limit on players.

The Galveston Buccaneers showed fine form in downing the Bartlesville club of the Western association, 6 to 4, in the opener of an exhibition series.

Bill Tully pitched six-hit ball to give the San Antonio Missions a 6-1 victory over the Mexico City Aztecs. Hal Witte, veteran southpaw, signed his contract and the Missions announced purchase of Ralph Riehl, second baseman, from Indianapolis. The Tulsa Oilers celebrated a 10 to 4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

More training games were sought by the Oklahoma City Indians. Manager Bert Niehoff said he likely would arrange a Sunday tilt with Ponca City.

The News' Want-Ads bring results.

Time Supply Is Race Favorite At Fort Worth

ARLINGTON DOWNS, April 10 — Time Supply, if Owner Frank A. Carreault accepts the issue, will spot his rivals weight advantages from 11 to 37 pounds in his Texas racing debut in the $5,000 added frontier exposition handicap tomorrow.

In assigning weights to the 23 nominees for the mile and one-sixteenth race, racing secretary Charles J. McLennan put 127 pounds on the handsome son of Time Maker, which last year harvested $30,295 in purse money and this year won the San Antonio handicap at Santa Anita before finishing a bang-up second to Top Row in the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap.

McLennan classified H. C. Hatch's Ariel Cross as second best horse by giving him a 116-pound package and ranked the Milky Way stable's Whiskulo and T. C. Worden's Billy Jones next at even terms with 110 pounds each.

Featherweight of 90 pounds was given the Three D stock farm's Texas and Kentucky derby candidate, Irish Ford.

DAVIS TENNIS MATCHES WILL START TODAY

AMERICANS EXPECT TO SWEEP SERIES AT HOUSTON

BY FELIX R. MCKNIGHT.
HOUSTON, April 10 (AP) — Two eager youngsters, Bryan (Bitsy) Grant and Donald Budge, were ready to start the United States Davis Cup team today on a campaign to retrieve the coveted trophy taken from American shores nine years ago by the French.

Both in top form, Grant and Budge were odds on favorites to topple the two ranking Mexican Davis Cup stars in opening singles matches of inter-zone play at the River Oaks courts.

Grant, Atlanta's mighty mite who vanquished Capt. Wilmer Allison in the Houston invitation finals a few days ago, drew Daniel Hernandez, second ranking Mexican player, while Budge, the United States' second ranking player, was paired with Esteban Reyes, Mexico's No. 1 netter.

In a final warmup, the 20-year-old Budge showed he had reached the form that enabled him to defeat Bunny Austin, Baron von Cramm and Adrian Quist last year, by defeating Grant in three out of four sets.

John Van Ryn, the Philadelphia veteran who will team with Allison in the doubles match tomorrow against the Mexicans, then took Grant as a partner and romped on Budge and Gene Mako, Los Angeles youth, 7-5, in a single practice set.

The Americans left the courts confident they could sweep the Mexican series.

The Mexicans, with Capt. Guillermo M. Archiga, as the spokesman, also pronounced themselves ready after a grueling practice session and predicted the Americans may be surprised.

Archiga liked the chances of Reyes, 24-year-old star. He scored Mexico's only victory last year when Gene Mako was forced to default in the fifth set of a spectacular match because of cramps.

The order will switch Sunday

The University of Texas Longhorns winners over four of the six other Southwest conference teams, today were considered almost sure shot repeaters for the loop track and field meet as interest centered on a dual title between Rice and Texas A. & M. at College Station.

Counting in all but one event, the Longhorns collected 78 9-10 points yesterday to walk away with a four-way meet at Fort Worth. Baylor and Texas Christian staged a merry fight for second place, which Baylor won by 2 points. The count was Baylor 34 9-10, Texas Christian 34 7-10, Southern Methodist collected 23 10 points.

A feature of the meet was the close race between Gruisen of Texas and Clark of Texas Christian in the 100-yard dash. The Judges gave the decision to the Texas star after a conference. Time was 9.9. No conference records were equaled at the meet.

The Longhorns previously defeated the Texas Aggies, 75 to 47, in a dual meet but, have not met Rice or Arkansas.

Rice, featuring Wallace in the hurdles, Petty in the discus throw, and Wallace, Petty and Brothers in the relays, was favored to beat the Aggies. A. & M. counted upon Parks in the mile, Breedlove in the hurdles, Wilkins in the high jump, Richter in the discus, Lindsey in the shotput and Sweeten, Helbing, Wilson and Decker in the mile relay.

TEXAS MAY RUN INTO TROUBLE AT BAYLOR DURING WEEK-END

(By The Associated Press)

There could be trouble for the runaway University of Texas baseball team in two week-end feature Southwest conference games with Baylor at Waco.

Pushing Texas for top place honors are the Texas Aggies. They encounter the Texas Christian Frogs in two games at College Station. The Farmers paced by Pete Dowling, catcher, who is hitting .890 to lead the conference, have belted the ball at a .377 team average. Willie Walls, Frog first sacker out with a shoulder injury, will be replaced by Darrell Lester.

Rice Institute, without a victory so far, will entertain the Southern Methodist Mustangs at Houston. The Methodists will send Bob Finley and Olfier to the hill while Rice will depend upon Mike Seale and Harris Lodge.

Two new members were voted into the organization, and an application was heard. The next meeting was announced for Thursday at 8 p. m. in the lodge hall.

Mother Advised Ailing Daughter To Take CARDUI

Many, many women have taken Cardui on the advice of their mothers who had been helped by it. "I would have severe cramping spells," writes Mrs. F. C. Allen, of Smithdale, Miss. "I would get nauseated, and feel faint and would have to go to bed. I would be very nervous for two or three days. I was afraid to go away from home, for fear I would faint and fall. My mother, having used Cardui with good results, advised me to try it.

"I am so glad I took Cardui and got relief, for it has done wonders for me."

If you suffer this way, send to the drug store for a bottle of Cardui and begin taking it today. Of course, if Cardui does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Faith said his deputy had not been discharged because of the trouble but likely would be held here several days. The sheriff said the shooting caused considerable feeling at Deatur. Officers quoted Neal as saying he stopped Fox, his wife and Shelby Fowler on the highway to question them and that an argument resulted, causing him to shoot in self-defense. Sheriff Faith said he was informed Neal was threatened with a knife but that Fowler declared he did not see a knife. Mrs. Fox drove away shortly before the shooting, officers were told. ### ACTION TO GET SAFETY AT SEA DELAYED, CLAIM

Roper Denies Charge As Furure Is Created

WASHINGTON, April 10. (AP)—A furure over the American merchant marine, which included a charge and denial that Secretary Roper delayed action to increase safety at sea, attracted attention in the capital today.

These four developments stood out in the complicated situation:

1. Billings Wilson, fire prevention official of the American Association of Port Authorities, who Secretary Roper had taken no action to promulgate technical regulations to safeguard crews and property on oil tankers, though congress last August authorized it to do so. Since August, Wilson said, 12 lives have been lost in catastrophes to boats handling dangerous cargoes.

2. Denying this charge, Roper said at Charleston, S. C., that "we are doing all we can to expedite matters. We are just as anxious to pursue a program of sea safety as others are to effect highway safety."

3. Joseph B. Weaver, chief of the commerce department's bureau of navigation and steamboat inspection, said that there had been "numerous interruptions" in the operations of American merchant ships. He said the causes of the interruptions would not be known until the windup of an inquiry he is making. He said his chief, Roper, had requested a "complete analysis of the situation."

4. Roper said there were no reports before him on numerous interruptions of operations. "If the inquiry shows that there is sufficient evidence, the matter will be placed before me for investigation," he said.

Weaver's formal announcement that an inquiry into "interruptions" is under way followed two days of conflicting reports in the commerce department.

Roper and Assistant Secretary J. Monroe Johnson declared at first they knew nothing of the inquiry, and that it was being made without their orders.

PEANUT PLANT BURNS
SAN ANTONIO, April 10. (AP)—Fire believed to have originated in electric wiring on the fifth floor of the Bain Peanut company on the Quintana road last night destroyed the plant, causing damage of more than $100,000.

Miss Betty Sue Zeigler, student in Oklahoma City university, is here to spend the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Ziegler.

SCIENCE ADVISES AGAINST MEALS LOW IN NEEDED "BULK"

Reports ALL-BRAN Supplies This Dietary Adjunct

Scientific tests have shown that meals which miss the proper "bulk" tend to cause common constipation. This condition causes discomfort, and may lead to headaches, loss of appetite, even serious disease.

Avoid these faulty meals by adding Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to your menus. It supplies generous "bulk" in convenient form. This absorbs moisture, and gently exercises and cleanses the system. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and contains iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is often more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables as it does not break down within the body. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN may be served as a cereal with milk or cream. Sprinkle over soups, salads or other cereals. Or work into appetizing muffins, breads, waffles, etc. It adds a delicious nut-sweet flavor to your recipes.

How much better than taking patent medicines—sometimes harmful! ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

'IRON MAN'

other 10,000 are closing in from San Luis Potosi. There are 10,000 more with me. That's 30,000. Don't make it more."

"But, mi general," persists the visitor, "what about the column driving down the coast? Aren't you going to do anything about that?"

Infinite Scorn
He is favored with a look of infinite scorn. "That's not a column," says the strong man dryly. "It's a disorganized mass. We'll take care of it later." And he does, quite thoroughly.

Only a few days before, all the country seemed to be springing up in arms against the government. Those were sleepless hours for Mexico City. It was pretty nearly hemmed in and grim faces haunted Chapultepec Castle.

Then, from his little house at the bottom of Chapultepec hill, came the former president. Getting sworn in as minister was a detail. A steely gray moustache and a confident smile came to inhabit the former home of Maximilian.

Things started taking a different turn almost at once. Rebels holding the port of Vera Cruz suddenly found counter-rebellion in their ranks. The new uprising triumphed and declared for the government. Generals began wiring in assurance of their support. One in the north, however, said merely that he was sending troops to the capital.

Troops Beaten
Were these troops friendly? Calles guessed quickly. Almost before the country was aware, he had started three armies against them. They evacuated Monterrey, they evacuated Durango, they evacuated Torreón, and they were caught and beaten near Jimenez, in the state of Chihuahua.

Visit for a moment the roadless Mexican prairies, where Gen. Lazaro Cardenas, now president, rides with Calles' troops, wearing goggles and a bandana handkerchief over his mouth. Plough the choking dust kicked up by the sinewy ponies, and—on to Torreón.

Holes in the streets and here and there a shattered building show where federal armies have rained their bombs. Nothing remains of the great central market-place except a few charred walls. As the rebels moved out and the loyal troops moved in the building had broken unaccountably into flames.

Calles sends for the newspapermen—three Americans and a German. "What is the news?" Calles invites publicity something remarkable must be going on.

They find him seated by a telegraph operator in his temporary headquarters. "Good evening," he says. "I have news for you." He does not smile. He is courteous, but not friendly.

Captures General
There is a pause. One of the correspondents coughs and asks "What is it, mi General?"
"Again there is silence. When the announcement comes it is without introduction, without detail.

"We have captured General Aguirre," the strong man says in a voice that conveys no trace of feeling. Evidences of emotion are all on the part of the newspapermen.

"Caramba!" Their eyes light up, their fingers itch for the typewriter. Aguirre led the revolt at Vera Cruz. He escaped when the town was recaptured. Also—it is generally said that Calles had regarded him almost as a son.

"That means—" suggests one of the visitors.
"—He is to be court-martialed tonight," supplies the general, in the same toneless voice.
"—And that—" prompts another of the correspondents.
The general does not answer.
"—That means he will be executed at dawn, does it not?"
Calles inclines his head—slowly, affirmatively. He says no further word until his guests are leaving. Then it is a simple "Buenas tardes."

So ends a chapter. There are many like it in the life of Plutarco Elias Calles, one-time country school teacher.

POULTRY

in which 12 persons were killed. The leftists also claimed that he was fomenting anti-government agitation in an attempt to provoke the intervention of the United States in Mexico.

Ostensibly, General Calles had refrained from political activity since December when he returned from six months' voluntary exile in the United States after losing his control over the nation's politics last June.

The government, however, apparently feared he was trying to regain his old political power through the regional confederation of workers and peasants, which has been controlled by Marones.

As a result, General Lazaro Cardenas, the president of the republic, ordered the arrests, which were carried out with the strictest secrecy.

Calles was interviewed only yesterday by the Associated Press at his Santa Barbara ranch outside the capital. At that time he denied any interest in politics and it was obvious that he had no premonition of his impending exile.

At midnight, Gen. Rafael Navarro, commander of the military zone of the valley of Mexico, threw a strong force of troops around Santa Barbara.

General Navarro and three officers entered Calles' bedroom where the former president, for four days past, had been ill with influenza.

Navarro said: "By the orders of President Cardenas, you must leave the Mexico because the conditions of the country so demand."

Calles replied: "I am your prisoner, since I have no forces, and you may take me to an airplane or before a firing squad. I consider that the conditions of the country are due, not to me, but to the government itself."

Accompanied by three sons, one daughter, and other friends, the former strong man was taken to the airport where the other three prisoners already were waiting.

Frank Dobie, fiery Texas University professor and author, will deliver the address. realistic culmination. Here, the tortured "Cristo" will be laid upon the cross he laboriously dragged to its place. Rawhide thongs or soaked hempen rope will bind him to the spreading arms, and he will be suspended until human endurance can stand no more.

Then he will be cut down. His wounds will be dressed with sacred unguents prepared by the "enfermo." Honors will be showered upon him, and the brothers will rest again for another year, secure in the belief that their sins have been washed away by blood, in a manner worthy of the suffering of Christ.

In other days nails instead of thongs were used, and "Cristos" frequently were never taken down alive. Now, even the modified crucifixion is relatively rare, but the group expiation which sometimes takes its place is equally severe.

The arrangement quoted places the two obsolete flags of France and the Confederacy beneath that of the United States. It places the three flags of Spanish descent on the right hand side of center line.

Criminal and civil statutes of Texas are very definite and strict in regulations as to the use of the flag of the State and the United States. Any representation of the flag of Texas on a piece of merchandise or advertising is prohibited.

(See Chapter 7, Revised Criminal Statutes, and Chapter 87, General Laws of the State of Texas, 42nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1930.)

Symbols of the United States flag are: Stripes, the Thirteen Original Colonies; Stars, one for each state; red for courage; white for liberty; blue for loyalty.

The Texas law says the three colors of the Lone Star represent bravery, loyalty, and purity.

BRUNO'S FILE IS CLOSED BY STATE PRISON

Anna Takes Clothing, Photographs and About $200

TRENTON, N. J., April 10. (AP)—New Jersey state prison clerks today filed away a businesslike folder filled with sinister and re-ribboned documents, and closed the case of "Bruno Richard Hauptmann, No. 1740."

Four documents were warrants of death. Sandwiched between them were three orders that staved off death until high courts could determine the merits of Hauptmann's repeated pleas that he did not kill the Lindbergh baby.

Nothing stood between the last death warrant and the certificate of execution, granted Robert Elliott that it had been "duly executed."

Atop those papers were Mrs. Anna Hauptmann's application for possession of the body, and her receipt for his personal belongings.

Yesterday the widow came to the prison, where she had visited her "Richard" every week for over a year. She took away the clothing he wore to prison from the Flemington jail, $200 sent by autograph seekers to her husband's cell and 25 photographs of their four-year-old son, Manfred.

Richard's ashes lay in an urn in the Bronx today, but the Mercer county grand jury continued investigation of charges that Paul Wendel of Trenton committed the crime.

In Brooklyn, N. Y., District Attorney W. F. X. Geoghan said he had found a photograph of one of the four men Wendel said "abducted" him there in February, held him prisoner 10 days, and "tortured" him into "confessing" the kidnaping.

Geoghan would not name the suspect, but said he was an "ex-convict," and predicted he would be "picked up soon."

ITALY

ROME, April 10. (AP)—A mournful silence pervaded Rome today as devout Catholics flocked to the city's 400 churches for traditional Good Friday commemorating Christ's sacrifice for mankind. Particularly from noon until 3 p. m.—the hours the Savior hung on the cross—the streets of the city were hushed by suspension of ordinary activities.

In the places of worship, the solemn atmosphere was intensified by the absence of candles and tapers and the somber black and purple draperies shrouding the sacred images.

In the four great Roman basilicas, worshippers venerated the holy cross and heard sermons based on Christ's reproaches to his crucifiers and viewed relics of the passion and death.

Pope Pius attended a special Good Friday mass in the Sistine chapel, celebrated by the papal secretary of state, Cardinal Pacelli, in the presence of 16 cardinals.

Traditional local Good Friday ceremonies were conducted in many Italian villages.

Illness Fatal to 71-Year Old Woman

Mrs. Lucinda Minerva Pickle, 71, died in a hospital here last night after a three-day illness. She has been a resident of LeFors the past five months, making her home with her daughter, Mrs. N. L. Baumgardner.

Survivors are her husband, J. M. Pickle; two daughters, Mrs. Baumgardner and Mrs. Maude McElroy of Parsons, Kan.; 16 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

The body was being taken today to Greenville by the Pampa Mortuary. The funeral and burial will be tomorrow at Eter Lake, near Greenville. Mrs. Pickle was a member of the Baptist church and the Woodman Circle.

The Rev. L. Burney Shell, who has been quite ill with flu the past two weeks, is able to be out and will conduct services Sunday at First Presbyterian church, where he is pastor.

Miss Elaine Riley is spending the week-end visiting her parents at Lake Dallas.

Chris Martin is confined to his home by illness.

'AMERICAN'S CREED' IS BEST SELLER

Eighteen years ago, William Tyler Page, Republican clerk of the House of Representatives, was awarded $1000 for composing the prize-winning "American's Creed," setting forth in 100 words the "basic principles of American political faith."

The creed at five cents a copy, is still one of the Government Printing Office's "best sellers." It has been memorized by millions and is recited in schools from Florida to Alaska. The Daughters of the American Revolution and other patriotic societies have furthered its distribution by observing April 3 each year as American's Creed Day. Two hundred and fifty thousand copies of the creed were sent to the trenches during the war. It has been put to music and has been done in Braille for each blind institute in the country.

At his office in the Capitol recently, Mr. Page told a correspondent for The Monitor (Boston) that the demand for the creed is still steady. Scarcely a week passes that a large order for copies is not received. Its popularity, he explained, has come about without any publicity or sales campaigning on his part. "My friends have urged me to publicize it," he says, "but I tell them that if it can't go over of its own momentum, it ought not to go over." Each year the creed's author goes in person to the opening session of the annual D. A. R. congress to lead the 2000 delegates in a recitation of it.

Mr. Page composed the creed in 1917 when Mayor James H. Preston of Baltimore, offered an award of $1000 in a contest proposed by Henry Sterling Chapin of New York. The aim was to obtain the briefest possible summary of American political faith founded upon fundamentals distinctive in American history and tradition. Approximately 3000 creeds were submitted.

Mr. Page was well versed in patriotic literature. For 20 years previous to the time he wrote the creed, it had been his custom to spend the Fourth of July each year in his library reading historical documents. From them he learned pertinent lines which he put in a form similar to that of the Apostles' creed.

The result was as follows:

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed, a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice, and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag; and to defend it against all enemies.

In a celebration held in the House on April 3, 1918 the creed was officially accepted by the United States Commissioner of Education for use in public schools. Mr. Page used his $1000 to buy Liberty Bonds.

"The American's Creed," Mr. Page says, "is not to be interpreted in a provincial or selfish spirit, just as there is nothing provincial or narrow about the principles of our republican form of government. The successful development of these principles has proved an influence for good throughout the whole world."

As Pampa children repeat this pledge, it is important that they understand it in terms of today's world. The explanation is not easy in the face of many seeming contradictions.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The Landon presidential boom is suffering from a mild attack of what is facetiously referred to in Washington as "Hearstitis."

There is no evidence yet that this has seriously affected Governor Landon's position at the head of the Republican parade to Cleveland, but it has given the Landon forces visible concern.

Landon's manager, John Hamilton, lit out of Washington for a two-week western trip and by this time should have arrived in California, where symptoms first broke out, to apply ointment.

Meanwhile, the enemies of the Landon candidacy have been darting about with their paint-brushes as if intent on making a minor dose of measles appear to be a fatal dose of smallpox. Democratic strategists, who regard the Kansas governor as the most dangerous man in the Republican field, don't mind helping Landon's rivals with this job.

Trouble began when Landon, upon William Randolph Hearst's insistence, it is reported, and over Herbert Hoover's vigorous objection, allowed his friends to file a pro-Landon slate of delegates in California against an uninstructed slate which was largely pro-Hoover.

Hooverites and other Hearst enemies in California became incensed and some observers believed Landon faced defeat in the only primary he had entered. But since most Landon backers believe Hoover secretly covets the nomination and Hearst early gave Landon his powerful backing, the decision was easy to understand.

Lately, however, word has been coming from Wall Street of a tendency to view Landon with more doubts than previously, especially in view of the seemingly important place occupied by Hearst in his campaign. Anti-Landon politicians privately preach that Hearst must be allowed to dictate to the party. All this coincides with:

1. Public attacks on Hearst by New Dealers, who have been bursting with the desire to cut loose. They will pull no punches, believing incidentally that every sock at Hearst is a sock at Landon.

2. Efforts of certain groups to trot out Senator Dickinson of Iowa, Senator Steiwer of Oregon, and others as available candidates—to say nothing of "Dark Horse" Vandenberg of Michigan.

3. Increased worry over a possible post-convention bolt by Borah, stressed especially by anti-Landonites. Landon's enemies have been so eager to puff up the importance of all this that no one can tell yet how serious his candidacy is being affected. His managers are trying to find out.

When grandpa boasts he used to swim on the site of that downtown hotel, the young idea now has a comeback, "Pshaw, I remember that flood."

"Eight-foot Alton, Ill., lad towers high over his dad." A regular block off the old chip.

The Detroit inventor, unable to explain why he shot his spouse, might have been testing the gun's recoil.

RED EMBASSY IS BLOCKADED BY JAPANESE

CLAIM ESPIONAGE NEST UNCOVERED IN TOKYO

BY JOHN LLOYD,
Associated Press Foreign Staff,
MOSCOW, April 10.—Reactions between Soviet Russia and Japan have been aggravated further, an official Soviet statement said today, by a "veritable blockade" against the Soviet embassy in Tokyo.

All Japanese employees of the Soviet embassy have been arrested, the grounds that an espionage nest had been uncovered in the embassy.

The statement was published in the newspaper, Izvestia, official government organ, which referred to an alleged intrusion into the offices of the official Soviet news agency Tass at Tokyo yesterday as a step in a plan fostered by military fascist circles "to create Japanese-Soviet tension."

A Tass dispatch said its Tokyo office was invaded by four Japanese who ordered the correspondent to leave the country in the name of the Japanese people.

The dispatch said the correspondent called police, who persuaded the intruders to leave the building after announcing they would return for the correspondent's answer.

Evidently the provocations on the frontiers of Outer Mongolia and the U. S. S. R., are insufficient for adventurist, military elements, the Izvestia statement said.

"They are striving to supplement them by actions against our embassy and our workers in Japan."

"This attitude toward the embassy of a foreign state is unprecedented in civilized countries. It is supplemented not accidentally by unpunished attacks of ruffians on workers."

LOVE'S LAMENT
AKRON, O.—Police Captain Ray Williams might have remarked that love did not laugh at the locksmith who fitted the door of a downtown drug store. At midnight the telephoned from the pharmacy. "I was telephoning my girl and the proprietor locked up his store," came in the perturbed voice of a youth. Police and the owner let him out.

LEAGUE GROUP OF 13 QUILTS FOR ONE WEEK

COMMITTEE OF 13 HAS FAILED TO DRIVE FOR PEACE

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY (Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)

GENEVA, April 10.—The League of Nations conciliation committee of 13 adjourned today until next Thursday after encountering apparent failure in its drive for a quick Italo-Ethiopian peace.

The committee instructed its chairman, Salvador de Madariaga of Spain, to get in touch again with representatives of both belligerents in Geneva—not at Rome—after Italy's spokesman turned down his first request for a statement here of the fascist peace terms.

The committee also discussed the feasibility of calling the sanctions committee of 18 into session in the event that de Madariaga's peace negotiations met further failure.

Diplomats of the Locarno powers, simultaneously, resumed their consideration of the urgent problem of the Rhineland situation.

A four-power political and military front against Germany was proclaimed by a French spokesman to be the aim of France today.

France insisted upon satisfactory guarantees against any German fortification of the Rhineland, the spokesman said.

The French, holding that Adolf Hitler had made no gesture toward conciliation in the Rhineland, considered that conciliation of the crisis had failed.

Therefore, the French spokesman said, the alternative program laid down at London of Union of Britain, France, Belgium and Italy against Germany should function.

The French maintained Britain and Italy should immediately come to the assistance of France and Belgium in accordance with the Locarno provisions respecting "any measures which shall jointly be decided upon."

Informed sources said indications were that Italy would participate in the Locarno power deliberations with an attitude of reserve.

Baron Pompeo Aloisi was believed to have told French Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin already that until sanctions were lifted, Italy scarcely would be in a position to make Locarno commitments against Germany.

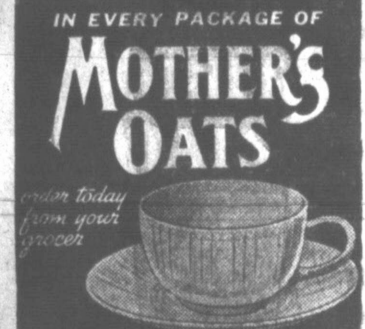

France sought a liquidation of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, and a removal of League of Nations penalties from Italy.

Informed sources believed Britain, however, would struggle to keep open the negotiations with Germany and would not admit that conciliation had failed.

South Carolina farmers received $21,823,284 in rental and benefit payments during the life of the AAA.

ACTORS ROBBED

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 10 (AP)—A "quiet little man with a gun" walked through the patio and into the dining room of Madge Evans' home early today. The movie actress, her brother, Tom, and Russell Hardie, actor, were munching a midnight snack. "Be quiet and nobody will get hurt," said the man. "And hand over your cash." Evans, who reported the incident to police, said the robber took $3 from him, "about two dollars in change" from Miss Evans, and $30 from Hardie.

Chicago election officials announced a record of 1,644,198 voters in the city, exceeding by 309 names the next highest registration of 1932.

BOOT PAD SEEN

COLEMAN, April 10. (AP)—J. C. Carsey, 75-year-old boot-maker of the Voss community, believes the Texas Centennial will cause thousands of persons who heretofore have worn only shoes to buy boots. Carsey began work in a boot shop when he was 7 years old but was 18 before he made his first pair. He said he used to make a good many square topped boots but has not made a pair in 20 years. Chapter XIII

It was one of those deceptive March days when brilliant sunshine and a clear blue sky call the unsuspecting out of doors—to face, not balmy breezes but a snapping, wintry wind.

Toby Ryan walked briskly, clinging to the narrow brim of her hat, which looked as though, at any moment, it might dance away. Toby had been calling at studios, making the rounds as new models are advised to do in the hope of future calls for work. The last call had taken longer than she had expected and now Toby was in a hurry. In 20 minutes she was due at a studio on lower Madison.

She reached the intersection, saw a bus on the opposite side of the street, headed down town. Toby ran for it, climbed on board just as the doors were about to bang shut.

She dropped her fare into the coin box and slipped into the nearest seat with a sigh of relief.

The pictures Toby was to pose for were for a company that made hats—not expensive, one-of-a-kind hats to be sold in exclusive shops, but the sort displayed in department stores with $3.49 and $4.98 price tags. It wasn't likely it would take more than an hour or so—

A voice at her elbow interrupted. "As I live and breathe! It's the girl with the blue eyes."

Toby turned. It was a moment—a long moment—before she recognized the young man beside her. His top coat was rough tweed and his hat was a gray felt. Toby said, knowing very well that she should not have said it, "Oh—hello."

"You don't know what a shock this is," the young man went on. "Meeting you again. Just like this. Why, I've looked everywhere for you—actually everywhere—"

Toby said, "You're the man who bought the rhinestone clips, aren't you? Fifty-nine dollars' worth."

"Yes. And I'm the man you bumped into on the street corner one morning about a week ago. Remember?"

Toby's eyes told him she did. "By George!" he went on. "You're even prettier than I thought you were."

It was the wrong thing to say and he recognized this almost instantly. He said, "Oh, please don't be offended. I only said that because it's true. You're prettier than any other girl I've ever seen. Why shouldn't I say it when it's true?"

Toby had risen. Murmuring something he did not hear clearly, she pushed her way toward the door. A moment later the bus halted and she stepped down to the street.

On the sidewalk she turned—and raised startled eyes. The young man was beside her.

"Why—!" Toby began.

He said, grinning. "You don't think I'm going to risk losing you again, do you? Not a chance! Remember, we were going to have dinner together. I waited an hour for you that night. Now, listen, why don't you forget whatever it is you were going to do this afternoon and come along with me? We'll go over to Tony's—"

There was something about him that made it hard to refuse. "But I can't," Toby said.

"Oh, but of course you can. And, what's more, you're going to. I'll tell you what we'll do—"

Toby shook her head. "No," she said. "—really I can't. And I've got to go now. I'll be late if I don't."

"Then when can I see you? Will you meet me for dinner?"

She said, smiling a little because it was all so ridiculous. "You've forgotten that I don't know you. Why, I don't even know your name."

"My name," the young man said, is "Timothy Jamieson. And you wrote it when you made out the charge for those clips—or whatever you call the things. I was hoping you'd remember."

Toby did remember, then. She asked, because she really was curious, "What in the world did you do with all those clips?"

"Really want to know?"

"I really do."

"Well, it's a long story but if you'll meet me for dinner—"

Toby saw a clock on the building across the street. The hands pointed to 4:25. Without waiting to hear more, she exclaimed, "Oh, I've got to hurry!" and fled.

She was breathless when she opened the door of the tenth floor studio. A woman in a green smock came forward and said, "Miss Ryan?"

"Yes. I hope I'm not late—"

The woman glanced at a wrist watch. "No," she said, "by my time you're a few minutes early. The photographer is busy with another model, but you can go in the dressing room and get ready. You'll find the hats you're to wear on the table."

Toby went into the dressing room. Thank fortune, that clock on the street had been fast!

It was an hour and a half later when she emerged from the building. Dusk had fallen and shop windows were lighted. Ahead, street lights glowed in the semi-darkness. Toby stood at the entrance for a moment, looking to left and right.

But there was no young man in a tweed topcoat and jaunty gray felt anywhere in sight. Toby hadn't really expected that there would be. She just wanted to be sure. He'd said that he did wait, that other time—

That, Toby promptly assured herself, was nonsense. Since when had she taken to believing the "lines" of fresh young men, trying to pick up dates? He was a fresh young man. What else could you call him—coming to the store the way he had, asking her to have dinner with him when they hadn't even been introduced? And he must have thought she was the sort of girl who would accept such an invitation or he wouldn't have asked her. The idea of believing, even for a minute, that he was different from the other fresh young men! So, it wasn't different; he was exactly like the rest.

No, she'd never see Mr. Timothy Jamieson if that really was his name! Hurrying toward the avenue, she told herself she didn't even want to see him.

It was Wednesday, the night she usually had dinner with Bill Brandt, and she met him at their favorite cafeteria. The little table they favored, in a corner shadowed by the balcony, was vacant.

Toby set a plate of chicken and noodles and another of perfection salad on the red-and-white checked table cloth, discarded the tray and looked across at Bill.

She said, "I think I'm going to have a chance to pose for some really important pictures next week! I was in Tone & Raleigh's studio this afternoon and they practically promised me—"

She went on, relating the day's adventures—except, of course, the encounter with the young man on the bus. Bill was always interested in everything Toby did, the places she went and people she met.

"Say," he said, "that's fine! You're getting on, Toby. Heading right for the top. Didn't I tell you?"

She didn't notice as she talked, important names rolling glibly from her tongue, quelling figures that would have seemed enormous a few weeks ago, that Bill had little to say. Once she asked, "What are you working on now, Bill? Anything new?"

"Same old chores," he told her. "Toby didn't ask questions. She remembered something another girl who modeled had told her, launched into the narrative.

They finished the evening with a movie. It was a picture starring Norma Shearer, and Toby, intent on the screen drama, could not forget that the glamorous heroine once had stood, even as Toby Ryan, before the cameras of commercial photographers. Of course Toby wasn't dreaming of a Hollywood career. Nothing like that. Still it was exciting!

They took the subway home. Toby didn't need to rise early the next morning, but she knew that Bill did. The light from a street lamp shone down on them as they stood before her rooming house. Toby suddenly noticed Bill's coat. It wasn't an expensive tweed, nor was it cut on smart lines. It was just an ordinary, two-year-old coat. Bill looked—well, a bit shabby. She'd never thought about it before.

She said goodnight then. She looked over her shoulder from the top step, smiling as she usually did, but it wasn't Bill she was thinking of. She was thinking of a young man with brown eyes beneath a jaunty gray felt—a young man she was never going to see again. Of course, it didn't make the slightest difference—

Toby turned her key in the lock and went inside. From the open door at the end of the hall the rooming house keeper's voice called, "That you, Miss Ryan?"

"Yes, Mrs. Moeller."

The woman appeared in the door. "There's a message for you. Come just a little while ago."

Toby said, "Why, how in the world—!" and reached for the slip of paper.

He brought a new bow and arrow set with him, a bow made of bois d'arc owned by Oklahoma Indian chiefs, and numerous other bows. He gave an interesting talk on archery and demonstrated important points in archery. He also brought along a 25-foot bull whip and showed how to crack it. Before the meeting was dismissed, refreshments of cheerios and poppies were given the boys and the three visitors, Ben Horn and Robert Morrison, and Mr. Clark.

A fire-building contest will be held next Thursday night after two new games are played, it was announced.

COMPLETES WELL

MULESHOE, April 10. (AP)—Farmer James L. Gregory intends to prove that drought can be successfully combated in the Panhandle. He has completed a water well, 94 feet deep and 18 inches in diameter, which will irrigate his 200-acre farm near here at the rate of 1,400 gallons a minute. A farm tractor is used temporarily to operate the centrifugal pump, but Gregory expects to install a stationary engine to hoist the water which will be distributed by gravitation through irrigation channels.

When enrollment at the Model school, near Estherville, Ia., dwindled to four pupils the board of education voted to close it and to arrange their transportation to Estherville schools.
