HEIRESS ENGAGED TO PRINCE

The Indianapolis auto speedway, scene of the annual Memorial day race, was partly flooded as nearby creeks overflowed their banks. Two drivers entered in this year's race, Ernie Triplett (front) and A. B. "Deacon" Litz, got some fun out of the situation by paddling a canes around the course as they walted for it to dry out for practice runs. (Associated Press Photo)

NATIONAL ORATORY WINNERS

John Hamilton Phillips of Kansas City was voted national oratory champion and Grace Colliflower of Washington was named alternate at the tenth annual oratorical contest in Washington. Phillips won the championship by a close margin on a prepared oration on "The Living Constitution" and an extemporaneous address. (Associated Press

Public Works—
New Yorkers who have been called in on the public works program say the main idea is to offset the usual summer slump as much as possible. The initial bond issue Colombia. will run pretty close to a billion dollars and act al work will begin en many projects within a month after the bill is passed.

Financing— The New York banks made it The New York banks made it known that they would be happy to advise the Treasury on the best in sihod of financing the public works bond issue. To their surprise because they thought they were regaining prestige—the government was painfully uninterested their conviction on the subject.

Woodward explained the reason he voted for the horse racing proposal was that it was contained in a bill which would "save the state four and one haif million dollars."

The race track proposal was attached as a rider to the departmental appropriations bill.
