CAR FOLLOWS WIFE BEFORE HOUSE BLAZE

NEIGHBORS HEAR AUTO LEAVING HOUSE AFTER BLAST

FORT WORTH, April 24 (AP)—Mrs. Charles Engle, wife of the diminutive shortstop on the Fort Worth baseball team, was fatally burned in a mysterious fire which swept her duplex apartment here today.

Mrs. Engle died in a hospital approximately five hours after her almost nude body was found in front of the door of her apartment by firemen.

Police discredited a theory advanced by neighbors that Mrs. Engle had met with foul play. Some investigators believed the fire was caused by a gas explosion but officials of the Lone Star Gas company said an investigation revealed all gas connections were closed, no leaks in the line and the only flame in the house—the pilot light in a hot water heater—was still burning after the fire.

Engle, with the Panthers at Tulsa, Okla., for a series was notified of the tragedy and rushed here by automobile with Umpire Joe Pate.

Mrs. Engle and Mrs. Joe Perrost, wife of a Fort Worth outfielder, spent last evening at the home of Mrs. Al Chasley, whose husband is a Fort Worth pitcher. They left about 10:30 p. m. and Mrs. Engle drove Mrs. Perrost to her home.

En route they were followed by another automobile and drove around the block in an effort to elude their pursuers, whom they thought to be boys playing a prank.

Mrs. Perrost said Mrs. Engle warned her as she left her home: "If they follow you again, don't stop—drive to the police station."

Shortly before a muffled explosion was heard at the Engle apartment and a passerby discovered the house ablaze, neighbors told police they heard a machine leave hurriedly. Police believe, however, the car was driven by W. E. Puhler, "Tommy" manager from the duplex and drove to the nearest fire alarm box.

Fire Lt. L. R. Ayres broke a window and stepped on Mrs. Engle's body as he entered.

Mrs. Engle's body was found on the floor in the living room, toward the door. She was clad only in her hose and one shoe. The other shoe was found on the floor of the living room.

Blood and strands of hair on the wall were found just below a window. All windows were closed. Firemen found the greatest damage in the bedroom. The bed and other furniture were seared and Mrs. Engle's clothing, lying across the bed, had been slightly burned.

On a small stand beside the bed, firemen found a box of newspapers still folded, and under them the automobile and house keys.

Firemen found a radio, which Mrs. Engle brought home from the Shealey residence, connected.

Beaumont Well Becomes Torch

BEAUMONT, April 24. (AP)—The luckless McCarthy No. 1 Longue well, which was a wild cresser and burned for hours, caught fire again today and Glenn McCarthy, young independent operator, announced that all hope of salvaging the well was gone.

The new fire broke out when a spark originated by flying stones ignited gas and oil.

L. Baker, drilling superintendent watching the spray of gas and oil, under tremendous pressure, shooting from the well, said he believed two stones, apparently weighing about 200 pounds each, hit each other some 200 feet in mid-air.

He was sitting in his automobile a short distance away at the time and saw the flames turn the stream of gas and oil into a blazing torch. The flames were visible for only about a mile from the well because of the heavy cloud of steam generated from the mud, water, oil and gas distillate.

Oil that had sprayed the surrounding territory for the last 24 hours also was ignited.

OPPOSED PIPE LINE
WASHINGTON, April 24. (AP)—B. V. Rains, director of the Willacy county, Texas, irrigation district, testified today he and another district official had opposed in vain substitution of redwood for concrete for a pipe line during discussion of plans in 1934 for a $4,850,000 Public Works administration project.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Havens and daughter, Virginia, left today for Oklahoma City where they will make their future home.

ETHIOPIAN SURRENDER IS DENIED

MANY VENIREMEN DISCHARGED AS STATE SEEKS JURY TO TRY MOTHER FOR POISONING CHILD

Mrs. Houdini to Make Last Effort To Talk to Dead

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 24. (AP)—Mrs. Harry Houdini announced her plans today for a "last supreme effort" to establish contact with the spirit of her famous magician husband who died nearly 19 years ago.

She revealed a compact which she said she entered with Houdini, Charles Carter and Howard Thurston, whereby the first three who died would make "one final attempt" to contact the survivor.

She will prepare for this effort, she said, by arranging a public seance in which hundreds or perhaps thousands will join. If possible, a nation wide radio broadcast will be arranged so that other thousands may unite their psychic forces in the attempt to receive the message from "the other side," she disclosed.

Thurston, the last of the three magicians to survive, died 10 days ago. At that time Mrs. Houdini disclosed that she had engrained in her home an intricate pair of handcuffs used by her husband in one of his feats and which she declared she believed only Thurston might have opened.

Houdini had promised to attempt to open the handcuffs after his death, his widow said, in addition to delivering a secret code message known only to herself.

Tydings Would Give Freedom To Puerto Rico

WASHINGTON, April 24. (AP)—Declaring that his proposal had the support of the Roosevelt administration, Senator Tydings (D-Md) today pushed a plan under which Puerto Rico could obtain independence if it desired. He accused Puerto Ricans of being ungrateful to the United States.

Introducing a bill for a referendum in which the island people would determine their future status, Tydings referred yesterday to recent disturbances, in which Puerto Ricans seeking independence were said to have taken part.

These troubles were followed by the assassination of Colonel E. Francis Riggs, insular chief of police.

Senator Tydings' bill, which bears certain resemblances to the Philippines independence act, attracted

Brinkley Accused Of Negligence In Trial At Del Rio

Widow Says Husband Died After an Operation

DEL RIO, April 24. (AP)—Mrs. L. A. Wynn of Henrietta wept today as she described in district court the death of her husband, in Little Rock, Ark., after an operation in the hospital at Del Rio of Dr. John R. Brinkley, former Kansas "goat gland" specialist.

She seeks $40,000 damages from Brinkley, charging that Wynn's death in September, 1934, resulted from negligence and incompetency. Brinkley, denying the allegations, previously had testified the operation on the prostate gland in April, 1934, was a success.

Mrs. Wynn said she knew nothing of her husband's "removal" to Little Rock and never would have consented.

PREJUDICE AGAINST DEATH PENALTY IS HEARD

GREENVILLE, April 24. (AP)—Prejudice against infliction of the death penalty caused many veniremen to be discharged today as attorneys struggled to find a satisfactory jury to try Mrs. Velma Patterson on a charge of poisoning her daughter, Dorothy McCasland, 12.

The work of selecting a jury progressed very slowly, attorneys questioning ten veniremen—nine of them being accepted. Only three jurors were in the box and they were the ones approved yesterday.

Of 23 veniremen examined, 13 were disqualified because of prejudice against death as punishment for a crime, or imposition of the death penalty on circumstantial evidence, or because of fixed opinions. The state used two of its 15 challenges and defense attorneys four.

The court was crowded, with women spectators freely sprinkled through the room. Many of them occupied themselves knitting during the tedious process of examining veniremen. Some had brought their lunches.

Attorneys conceded that probably today and part of tomorrow would be required to complete the jury.

Mrs. Patterson, freshened by a night's sleep, paid close attention to the examination of veniremen and often conferred in low tones with her attorneys regarding the individuals questioned.

The accused woman laughed heartily during a brief lull in proceedings when District Attorney Henry Pharr and her attorney, G. C. Harris, engaged in banter. She frequently smiled and whispered to her mother, sharply contrasted with her previous court appearances, when she appeared decidedly dejected and under strain.

Traxler Driving Car With Gray County Plates

Pete Traxler, wanted in Pauls Valley, Okla., for the murder of a policeman and for other crimes in Oklahoma and Texas, was driving a car bearing a Gray county license tag when seen in Sayre, Okla., yesterday, county and city officers have been notified. Traxler escaped from a trap in Wichita Falls Tuesday night, but his companion was captured.

Police in checking back in their files discovered that the license tags on the Traxler car were stolen here last week. They were taken from a car belonging to J. C. Culp.

Traxler was driving a Ford V-8 coach when last seen. License plates on the car were Texas, 413-201. Officers believe Traxler and his companion were in Pampa and stole the tags from the Culp car.

Missing: Don Juan Garner, Last Seen As Congressman

BROWNSVILLE, April 24. (AP)—Vice-presidents seem to just fade out of the picture.

Take the case of John Garner, who used to be known by his first name to every sun-burned citizen along the Texas border.

An aged Mexican living in Hidalgo county, unable to produce a birth certificate in conjunction with his application for an old age pension, told Frank Crow, district supervisor, of two men who had known him for more than 50 years and could swear to his age, one lives in Edinburg.

"And then," the old man said, "there's Don Juan Garner, who used to be congressman, but I've lost track of him lately."

WILL BATTLE TO LAST MAN, CLAIMS HAILE

ADDIS ABABA, April 24 (AP)—An Ethiopian government spokesman said today that Emperor Haile Selassie again was in control of all Ethiopian territories outside the Italian lines.

The spokesman denied reports of a mutiny in the north but admitted that a chaotic situation arose during the rapid advance of the Italian vanguard to Dessay saying that the Emperor's armies were forced into disorderly flight by gas attack.

The spokesman declared today his nation would fight the Italian invaders to the last man.

Even if Addis Ababa fell into Italian hands, he asserted, the war will be carried on with the fascists on the defensive against Ethiopian guerrilla tactics.

Italian reports that Ethiopian officials had decided to send a mission to Marshal Pietro Badoglio, bearing a white flag were declared by the spokesman to be "intentionally false."

The spokesman minimized the efforts of any Italian entry into Addis Ababa, pointing out that many native races and chiefs refused even to enter the capital, considering it a "white man's town."

Twice this morning, a single Italian tri-motored plane appeared over Addis Ababa. After the second visit, many shops closed, fearing a bombing attack.

Emphasis was laid by observers upon the presence in Addis Ababa of Crown Prince Asfa Wosan, who discussed with the cabinet and tribal chiefs defense plans for the capital.

The crown prince's important conference with the government leaders came as reports were issued that "several thousands" of the invaders had been slain in a battle on the southern front.

At the same time the northern Emperor's army, under Emperor Haile Selassie, was said to have "endangered" Dessay, the new Italian headquarters, and to have blasted out whole sections of the highway down which the forces of Field Marshal Pietro Badoglio were pressing toward Addis Ababa.

Italian dispatches today were flatly contradictory of Ethiopian claims.

GAS WASTAGE IS LOWEST IN LAST DECADE

LAW NOT INTENDED TO STIFLE
CARBON BLACK INDUSTRY;
SOME COMPANIES MOVING.

AUSTIN, April 24. (AP)—Railroad commission sources said today that wastage of natural gas in the Texas Panhandle, once so gross that national attention was attracted, had been reduced to the lowest figure since 1926.

In that year an estimated 650,000,000 cubic feet daily was blown into the air. This wastage mounted to a maximum of 1,065,000,000 cubic feet last July and now is said to be 300,000,000 cubic feet.

Recently William T. Chantland, counsel for the federal trade commission, testified before a congressional committee in Washington that enough gas wasted daily in Texas to supply the national demand, but Ernest O. Thompson, railroad commission chairman, commented that Chantland probably referred to conditions no longer existent.

Gas being discharged into the air was said to be chiefly from oil wells having no connections for disposing of the gas. Such wells are authorized under the conservation law and railroad commission regulations to produce within the ratio of 10,000 cubic feet to each barrel of oil and to "pop" the gas unless there is a connection.

Some wells have a much higher ratio, and operators claim they cannot reduce it without killing the wells. A hearing on operations of these wells was conducted in Austin several weeks ago, looking toward reduction of the ratio, and additional testimony will be taken at a general hearing in Pampa, Texas, at Amarillo, May 11.

The state's gas conservation act without initial court assaults on its waste provisions, but commission orders to enforce ratable takings were voided. Appeals on both sections to the Supreme Court of the United States were planned by losing sides.

Proceeding with enforcement, Attorney General William McCraw and commission said the law was not intended to stifle the carbon black industry, sufficient sour gas and casinghead gas being available for its purposes. Commission engineers noted some switching to sour gas areas by companies previously utilizing sweet gas.

Partly because of increased demand from the carbon black industry, the allowable for sour gas in the Panhandle for May was increased by the commission from 403,310.00 cubic feet to 446,000.00 feet daily. The commission cut the allowable from 557,000.00 feet as nominated to take care of casinghead gas.

E. A. Vance of LeFors was a business visitor in Pampa this morning.

People You Know

The crumpled burned up automobile, with the rusty tin showing dull black-brown, sat alongside the Automobile agency. Two boys, squirmy and jumpy, about thirteen each, went with the tall man. They circled around him and jumped from square to square of concrete. They dalled at the burned up automobile and eyed its insides sharply. Then they called to the tall man.

They ran bringing him a lovely white human tooth they found on the floor of the crushed burned up automobile.

Legion Completing Plans For Convention May 2-3

A. D. Monteith, commander of the Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion, and other local veterans are completing plans for the regular spring convention of the American Legion and Auxiliary of the 18th district which will be held at Pampa and Saturday and Sunday, May 2-3.

The high point of the two-day meeting will be the joint meeting of the Legion and Auxiliary on Sunday. At this meeting, which is open to the general public, Mrs. Ada Muckleston, national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, will be the featured speaker. Mrs. Muckleston is the head of the largest women's organization in the world, with a membership even larger than the combined enrollment of the Federated Clubs.

The Saturday program includes the registration of delegates, entertainment for the ladies, Forty and Eight "Wreck," dance, parade, and various other entertainment stunts.

Sunday will be devoted to the joint session open to the public, church services, and business and service meetings.

Mrs. Floyd L. Sloan, Amarillo, 18th district president, will preside at the business sessions of the Auxiliary, and Van W. Stewart, Perryton, 18th district commander, will direct the Legion meetings.

In addition to the national president; Mrs. Tillman Jones, Post, Texas, department Auxiliary president, Mrs. William J. Danforth, Fort Worth, national executive committee woman, Mrs. W. M. Benton, Amarillo, member joint child welfare committee, Mrs. Van W. Stewart, Perryton, member state finance committee, and numerous other Auxiliary officials will attend.

The Saturday program includes the registration of delegates, entertainment for the ladies, Forty and Eight "Wreck," dance, parade, and various other entertainment stunts.

Twinkles
Sending jobless aliens home is all right in many respects, but there are some Americans abroad who, we hope, are not forced to come home and bring their foreign following with them.

Editor R. B. Haynes of the Miami Chief, in a recent factious moment wrote that small town newspapermen "dine on wind and rabbit tracks." But we doubt that jack-rabbits are so scarce in Roberts county.

Some of the most eloquent radio announcers speak only Spanish. Most Americans ought to study the language. Most Americans ought to study their own language.

Skippy, the family dog, hates cats with all his 15 pounds, but he hasn't even one mouse scalp to his credit.

Fists have replaced swords, but the average man is no artist with either.

Musing of the moment: The Young Man out at our house at 3 months of age shows an alarming love for bright lights. Maybe he will outgrow the tendency. Every mail brings a new life of London. If this continues, we'll probably have a weak moment and read one of the sugar-coated discourses.

Brevitorials
AMONG THE finest persons in the world are those who live in the Grandview community. And living there are some of the finest cooks. Every cook must bake half a dozen pies and a couple of cakes at the annual picnic. Grandview is one place in which you can get "tight" without being drunk. Even those who habitually diet cannot resist the temptation to eat until eating more is a physical impossibility. And those who succumb to the lure of the lowly vegetable. Breakfast coffee drinkers add another cup. That's the way Grandview affects you. If you are favored with an invitation to one of the annual picnics, take our advice and attend.

This column is asking Uncle Sam to turn out a few Texas Centennial stamps with a Panhandle Centennial over-print. Such stamps are valuable to collectors and would afford the city and area much publicity. The regular stamps would have something like: "Panhandle Centennial, Pampa, Texas, 1836-1936," printed in black ink. Most stamp collectors would wish one or more of the stamps but, because of their scarcity, they would command a premium in a few months or even weeks. And every collector would wish to know about the Panhandle Centennial. If our Uncle can print such stamps for other Texas celebrations, why not also for ours?

MAY 1 IS approaching and we have not arranged for a 10-gallon hat, boots, and a flaming shirt. Jaycees promise jail sentences for all members who are not so attired. Personally, we think only drugstore cowboys wear big hats when not on dress parade. Being a working man, we have no time to parade. Besides, it is undignified to chase big hats in a spring wind. And the winds are not yet through with us for the season. Boots are all right if they fit, and if they are combined with appropriate attire. All our shirts are white, but if we're going to wear a loud one, we want nothing short of a Big Bertha. We hope some of you will visit us in jail. . . . And by the way, ask Gilmore Nunn about his snake-eyes shirts.

Ignorant are they who think the United States and Japan have anything to fight about. So explains Sotaro Suzuki, business manager of the Tokyo Giants baseball team. Suzuki while in Berger with his surprisingly fast little team said that Japanese people admire the United States. In baseball they have a common interest. Japan has hundreds of teams, a new professional league, crowds of up to 60,000, and as much interest in the American world series as our most rabid fans.

SUZUKI SAID that the Japan's emperor does not wish war. He has the support of the people. The reign of militarists will be short-lived. Japan must expand, but Japan does not wish war with Russia. . . . Japan knew baseball 60 years ago when American engineers played it over there. Women do not play, but they

MAIN BODY OF ITALIAN ARMY IS ON MARCH

TROOPS HAVE BEGUN MOVEMENT TO CAPITAL

BY GEORGE C. JORDAN.
(Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press.)
ROME, April 24.—The advance of the main body of the northern Italian army on Ethiopia's capital, Addis Ababa, has begun, Marshal Pietro Badoglio reported today in a communique.

The commander-in-chief of the fascist forces in East Africa announced the occupation of Uorra Iru, about 38 miles south of Dessye, on the road to the capital.

Today's was the first communique mentioning a general advance against Addis Ababa from Dessye, 165 miles northeast of the capital and former headquarters of Emperor Haile Selassie.

Uorra Iru, the first main town on the Imperial highway from Dessye to Addis Ababa, was occupied by a column of native Eritrean Askari without encountering resistance.

At the same time, the advance of the southern army persisted with the occupation of Adea and Gabreher on the Somaliland front.

The communique said: "On the northern front, a column of Eritrean troops occupied Uorra Iru without meeting any resistance."

"On the Somaliland front, our advance continues in all sectors. In the valley of the Faf river, God, Adea, and Gabreher were occupied."

"Aviation bombed enemy defense systems along the line thru Sasa Behah, Buliale, and Daga-medio."

The Eritrean column which took Uorra Iru, signaling the start of the main offensive against Addis Ababa, was among the units of 30,000 Italian troops that moved up around Dessye, massing for the final grand assault.

Aerial squadrons protected the fascist advance guard, already well down the road to the capital.

International Sunday School Lesson

By DR. J. E. NUNN

General topic: Jesus looks at wealth and poverty.

Scripture lesson: Luke 16:19-31.
19. There was a certain rich man, who was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day.

20. And there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate, full of sores.

21. And desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table; moreover the dogs came and licked his sores.

22. And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom: the rich man also died, and was buried;

23. And in hell he lifted up his eyes, being in torment, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom.

24. And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame.

25. But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things; but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26. And beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed; so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence.

27. Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my Father's house:

28. For I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29. Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.

30. And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent.

31. And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.

Golden text: "The rich and the poor meet together; the Lord is the maker of them all."—Prov. 22:2.

but it is often secured by evil means and used for evil purposes.

By using it in philanthropic and charitable enterprises one is able to make friends who will help in times of need here and also lay up treasures in heaven. Then comes that memorable verse: "No servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon."

(Ver. 13.) Money must be made a means and not an end. We are to use our money in good enterprises. Spending it on self and foolish activities is sinful. Those who endow Christian colleges, build orphanages, or put money into a church are carrying out in a higher realm the teaching of this parable.

The Rich Man and Lazarus

Ver. 19-31

This is a parable of our social obligations. The law of God is fulfilled in us only as we have a benevolent attitude to all our fellow men. "He that loveth his brother abideth in light." (1 John 2:10.) "Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer." (1 John 3:15.) This is what is spoken of as the "social gospel." The word hate does not necessarily mean malignant antipathy; it means merely the absence of love. We cannot be neutral here. "We are under social obligation in proportion to our strength. The gifts of health, wealth, learning, high station, and the like enable us to be helpful to our fellow men in larger degree, and a Christian spirit will prompt a social service commensurate with our advantages."

Death, The Leveler

Death works a great change (Ver. 22). The rich man died and so did the beggar. By death the beggar lost his poverty and the rich man lost his wealth. His riches went into other hands; not one penny of it could be his now. As a cold and helpless corpse he was with his unfortunate neighbor. The only source of his satisfaction came from his material possessions; when they were gone nothing was left to him. This is the folly of drawing life's satisfactions from what cannot endure. "And the rich man also died, and was buried." (Ver. 22.) Nothing is said about any burial of Lazarus; it has been thought by some that he was simply thrown into a ditch.

A Great Gulf Fixed—Ver. 26

"And besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, that they that would pass from hence to you may not; and that none may cross over from thence to us." The great teaching of this terrible verse is that there is absolutely no hope for the lost in the next life ever being brought out of hell into heaven. What men are when they leave this earth, as far as the principles of their characters are concerned, and their attitude toward God and their fellowmen, will characterize them for all eternity. "The scriptures tell us about hell in order that we may never go there. The Word of God makes plain the way of life and salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, who bore, in our stead, on Calvary's cross, the bitter anguish that lost men must endure

Introduction

This chapter is made up almost of two parables, one on the unjust steward and the other on the rich man and Lazarus.

The Unjust Steward—Ver. 1-13

The aim of this is to teach the use of funds by the Christian in such a way as to bring rewards rather than punishment here and in the life to come. By wise investment in kingdom activities, one is to lay up treasures in heaven, gaining favor with God and man. Facing the loss of his position, the steward said to himself, "I cannot dig; to beg I am ashamed." (Ver. 3.) He was too proud to beg, and too weak physically or too lazy to do manual labor. So he concluded: "I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses." (Ver. 4.) In other words, if he was to lose the lordship he would work in with the renters. This he would do by re-mitting a portion of their rents, for in those days tenants paid their landlord with part of the yield instead of money.

Christ's Application of the Parable—Ver. 8-13

Christ does not approve the dishonesty of the steward, but rather his foresight, and suggests that righteous people should have as much. Then he adds: "Make to yourselves friends of or by means of the mammon of righteousness." The latter is not evil in itself.

eternally after they refuse his grace."—H. A. Ironside.

The Privilege of Being Helpful to Others

To understand and accept the philosophy of Christ is to turn oblation into privilege. The presence of the sick and starving beggar at his door was the rich man's chance to be noble, not merely a disagreeable obligation. We sometimes think how blessed it would be to live in a perfect world, one free from poverty and all human misfortune. If there were no poor, there could be no charity. Mercy, forgiveness, patience, sacrifice—these are the virtues which enrich characters and distinguish noble souls; but what are these but our reactions to human frailty and distress. There could be no Good Samaritans if there were no hapless victims, robbed and beaten on life's Jericho road. It is difficult to see how any of could do any good thing in a world where no one needed us.

What Shall It Profit?

Indeed, what shall it? What shall it profit a man to gain the entire material world and lose sight of his personal and spiritual values? Dives is an authority on this subject. There came a time when he would have given all his wealth for a drop of cold water to cool his burning tongue. It does not profit a man anything to gain even the world if in gaining it he loses his soul.

Evidence Piles Up Against 'Goat Gland Specialist'

DEL RIO, April 24 (AP)—Attorneys marshaled additional evidence today in the trial of a $40,000 damage suit against Dr. John R. Brinkley, former Kansas "goat gland specialist" and politician.

Mrs. L. A. Wynn of Henrietta, Texas, charging negligence on the part of Brinkley, asked for the damages in connection with the death of her husband in November, 1934. Wynn 64, died at Little Rock, Ark., after undergoing a gland operation at the Brinkley hospital.

Calling Brinkley to the stand as the first witness yesterday, Mrs. Wynn was sent away from the hospital while in a weak condition.

Brinkley denied the allegation. He testified that the operation was successful and that Wynn left of his own accord. Brinkley said he understood Wynn died of a throat ailment.

Wynn's sons, Claud and Fred testified that they found their father in Little Rock shortly before his death.

Eccentric Held For Slaying of A Photographer

SAN JOSE, Calif., April 24 (AP)—Peter Voss, elderly eccentric, faced murder charges today for shooting an amateur photographer who took his picture without offering any money for the pose.

The victim was Dr. Jasper Gattuccio, 31, a dentist, who died last night from head wounds inflicted on a highway south of San Jose about noon yesterday.

Voss, whose burro-drawn, covered wagon is a family sight here, was arrested immediately by two deputy sheriffs who saw the shooting.

Dr. E. W. Mullen, superintendent of Agnew State hospital, examined Voss and pronounced him "hopelessly insane." The psychiatrist said Voss appeared resentful and complained he usually was paid a small sum for posing.

PAIR IN MINE DESPAIRED OF BEING RESCUED

ROBERTSON BELIEVED THAT RESCUE WAS IMPOSSIBLE

(Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press.)

MOOSE RIVER, N. S., April 24.—Through the long, dark hours before their rescue from the Moose River gold mine, Dr. D. E. Robertson and Charles Alfred Scadding, despairing of life, it became known today from the full story of their 10-day entombment.

Dr. Robertson, practicing his profession as physician even through his own danger, helped Scadding to keep alive and held Herman Magill in his arms when the third man died.

Patiently and quietly, the two survivors conserved their strength, facing their dangers sensibly and working to overcome them until the miners of the tunneling rescue crew finally arrived.

Only today, when Dr. Robertson was recovering rapidly in an emergency hospital here, and Scadding being treated in the Halifax hospital to which he was flown, was the whole, dramatic story learned.

Four sharp cracks, like giant rifle shots, warned the three men of approaching disaster Easter Sunday night while they were making an inspection tour of the mine.

All three leaped from the main operating shaft to the 141-foot level and for four hours after the cave-in, they heard the grinding and rumbling of the earth continuing like thunder.

During this period, Dr. Robertson believed the whole mine area had collapsed and that rescue was impossible.

More imaginative, Scadding pictured the mine shaft-house as toppling into the pit. Carrying its crew with in and thus barring rescuers from any knowledge of the whereabouts of the entombed men at the time the fall occurred.

Magill, already ill when he entered the mine, was too sick to worry about the chances for rescuing. His two companions, during the first five days of their imprisonment, saw little chance of rescue.

They could not hear dynamite blasting at the surface or the diamond drill.

For two days after the cave-in April 12, they burned bits of dry wood in hope the smoke would filter out and be seen above. By Wednesday, their supply of wood was exhausted and they had no indication their signals were detected.

The three slept well during the first few days of their entombment, and hunger did not cause them great suffering. They drank water freely.

When they slept, they locked themselves in one another's arms to preserve what heat foodless bodies would generate.

Because they did not hear the diamond drill break through to their underground pit last Saturday night, the three did not tell the world they lived until early Sunday morning.

When a flare was dropped into the shaft through the diamond drill hole they retreated as far as they could, fearing that they had caused a loose stick of dynamite to explode.

Only when a siren sounded through the hole did they realize that communication had been established.

They rushed over, shouting and tapping the pipe, and the miners above knew then for the first time that the three were alive.

After communication was established, Magill did not talk to his wife, although Dr. Robertson and Scadding spoke often.

Magill did not want his wife to know he was in a serious condition suffering from stomach ulcer, pleurisy and pneumonia.

For hours, Dr. Robertson held Magill, his partner in the mine venture, in his arms, trying to keep him warm. Monday morning, less than 24 hours after the diamond drill broke through, Magill sat up suddenly, spoke incoherently and in two minutes he was dead.

While Magill, 30 years old, succumbed, the 62-year-old Dr. Robertson contracted a cold, and Scadding, 44-year-old timekeeper, suffered from "trench feet." They lost surprisingly little weight, however, because they had plenty of drinking water.

TIGERS, DODGERS AND ATHLETICS TURN ON CONQUERORS FOR VICTORIES

REDS DEFEAT 'DAFFY' DEAN IN 8-6 GAME

RIGHT-FIELDER BREAKS LEG IN BROOKLYN BATTLE

BY ANDY CLARKE
Associated Press Sports Writer

A trio of major league managers and one of the hired hands were holding up their heads with an unmistakable air of pride today after a day of redemption which wiped out the memory of a few unpleasant afternoons.

Mickey Cochrane's Detroit Tigers, champions of the world, took a wide decision from the St. Louis Browns, twice their conquerors, yesterday; the merry men of Casey Stengel, becoming serious after dropping their first three games to their hated rivals from across the river, belted over those Giants, and the venerable Connie Mack's Athletics, beaten three times by the Red Sox, turned and notched a victory against the golden boys.

Billy Myers, Reds shortstop, hammered out a home run to beat the St. Louis Cards, in atonement for his error that enable them to tie the score.

There was a note of dismay in the Dodger rejoicing, however, Randy Moore, right fielder, broke his leg while attempting to steal second in the second inning of a bitter duel which went ten frames. A pinch single by Sidney Gautreaux sent home the winning tally in the 4-3 triumph.

Cochrane took off the black glasses he had been wearing on the sidelines because of eye trouble, and led his champions to a 10-0 win over the Browns. He got two singles, Gehring and Greenberg got three hits each and Goslin two.

The Reds won by 8-6 as Paul Dean went to the showers after allowing nine hits in seven innings. Paul Derringer, ace tosser of the Reds, was nipped for 15 bingles himself.

Harry Kelley, a rookie from Atlanta, gave the Philadelphia customers a ray of hope concerning the rebuilding plans of Connie Mack, who outlasted Wes Ferrell, who went only four innings and then went on to win his ball game, 9-1, allowing but three hits.

It was Kelley's first major league victory and but for Jimmie Fox's third homer of the year he would have had a shutout.

Johnny Allen held the White Sox to seven hits for a 6-0 shutout in

HORACE MANN SENIORS LEAD WITH 5 WINS

SAM HOUSTON ON TOP IN JUNIOR SECTION OF LOOP

Entering the home stretch in the ward school playground contest, the Horace Mann seniors are perched on top of that division with five victories against no defeats. Sam Houston is leading the junior section with four wins and one loss.

The schedule is to be completed by May 13 when the team in each division with the best percentage will be declared champions. Several postponed games will have to be played.

Baker school has withdrawn its junior team from competition. Standings to date:

Seniors	W.	L.	Pct.
Horace Mann	5	0	1.000
Sam Houston	3	3	.500
Woodrow Wilson	1	3	.250
Baker	1	4	.200

JOCKEYS FAVOR BREVITY

NEW YORK, April 24. (AP)—The boys who ride 'em favor Brevity to win the Kentucky Derby but by no such margin as the trainers gave the J. E. Widener colt.

Five of twelve jockeys, many of whom will ride in the race, selected Brevity in the Associated Press' annual poll of the country's leading racers. The trainers vote 7 to 5 for the future book favorite.

Heavy stickwork gave the Yankees a 10-6 win over the Washington Senators.

Larry French won a pitchers' duel with Ralph Birkofer as the Cubs nosed out the Pirates 2-1.

The Phillies defeated the Boston Bees 5-3 with Leo Norris and George Watkins driving in all of the Phillies' runs.

Eddie Pullian Will Be Manager of 66 Crew

Shaw Park at LeFors, already conceded to be one of the best and most picturesque in the Panhandle, has been leased by the Phillips 66 baseball club from the Pampa district. Phillips is now organizing a strong team.

The diamond has been set in grass. It will be several weeks before the grass will have a good stand, however. In the meantime, improvements to the park will be made in preparation for the opening of the season.

The Phillips club was organized last year with Eddie Pullian as team manager. This year it is the ambition of the club to build a team that will be rated with the topnotchers of this section. Practice has already started and several new players have been signed.

No games have been scheduled but within the next few weeks, Phillips will be ready for a tough season.

Local Thinclads To Compete in Regional Meet

Six Pampa high school boys, accompanied by their coach, E. N. "Dick" Dennard, will leave early tomorrow morning for Canyon, where they will participate in the Regional Interscholastic league meet, track and field division.

The six Pampa athletes won the District 2 track and field meet here last Friday, piling up 28 points to nose out the White Deer Bucks with 23 points.

Competition is expected to be the greatest in recent years. District 3 has come back again with some of the outstanding performances in district competition and the reign of district 1 and district 2 will be challenged.

Boys who will accompany Coach Dennard to Canyon will be Albert Ayer, Junior Strickland, W. J. Brown, Sherman Morgan, Ivan Noblitt and Moose Hartman.

Free haircuts and shaves for charity hospital patients were demanded by a member of the San Diego county board of supervisors.

HUBER'S NEW PITCHER MAY FACE PAMPANS

ROAD RUNNERS TO TRY FOR REVENGE IN GAME SUNDAY

The Pampa-Danciger Road Runners will be away from the home lot Sunday afternoon, but that should not keep fans away because the Little Road Runners, entrants in the junior league, will meet the Phillips 66 junior in their first game of the season. Game time will be 2:30 o'clock.

Manager Sam Hale will take his team to Borger for a return game with the Huber Blackfords. Borger took a thrill-packed 5 to 4 battle from the Road Runners last Sunday.

Slim Dilbeck, new pitcher from Nevada, Mo., has a slight edge in the battle for starting honors. Dilbeck and Gene Ledford have been working hard all week, each hoping for the starting assignment. The elongated boy looked better than ever in workout yesterday and unless something happens between now and Saturday afternoon, he is likely to get the nod. Ledford is not out of the running, however. The big fellow is in perfect condition and rarin' to go.

The Road Runner manager has been working on offensive power all week. He has been changing up the stance of some of his players and the move is expected to produce results.

Borger's playing field has been worked over and is now in good playing condition. Dirt was hauled in to cover the caliche on which the games were played last season. The grandstand has also been remodeled.

Manager Huffman is likely to send Nash, his new hurler, to the mound against the Road Runners. If it is not Nash, it will be Byron Chody.

WEATHER-PROOF

Your Motor with Phillips 66 POLY GAS

Spring... Summer... Autumn... Winter

This 100% Custom-Tailored Gasoline PROTECTS and PRESERVES ENGINE-PERFORMANCE

Changeable April weather can't affect your motor, if you use the new Phillips 66 Poly Gas... the sensational motor fuel which is enriched with extra energy units by the scientific POLYMERIZATION process.

This is why. Every month, our refineries match and re-match Phillips 66 Poly Gas to the specific climate in each city and town in which it is sold.

Nine years ago, Phillips originated this method, CONTROLLED VOLATILITY, to protect your motor performance from changes in the weather. Ever since, Phillips has been out in front, preeminent in the field of weather-matched motor fuel.

In April, Phillips 66 Poly Gas is a between-season motor fuel. In July, it is a cooler summer gas. In winter, it is a fast starting winter gas... Always 100% custom-tailored to deliver peacemaking performance whether it's spring, summer, fall, or winter.

Note the economy and finer performance of Phillips 66 Poly Gas, which begin with your very first tankful.

BUCCANEERS FINALLY WIN GAME; TULSA ALSO WINS

(By The Associated Press)
Dallas at Oklahoma City (night).
Fort Worth at Tulsa.
San Antonio at Houston.
Beaumont at Galveston.

The Galveston Buccaneers finally won a game, nosing out the Beaumont Exporters, 5 to 4, last night after six unsuccessful starts.

Other results were Tulsa 10, Fort Worth 7; Oklahoma City 10, Dallas 4; Houston 8, San Antonio 7.

The Buccaneers were pressed all the way and had to rally for two runs in each of the eighth and ninth innings to stop the Exporters.

The Bucs took charge in the fifth, however, and a triple by Pinch Hitter Fagan, a base on balls, a stolen base and a safety put the cellar holders over.

The game got rough at Tulsa in the eighth frame when "Babe" Bowwell, heavy hitting Oiler, threw a bat at Terhune. Fort Worth Cat pitcher, Fans streamed on the diamond and mixed with players in a general free-for-all. Gendarmes finally separated combatants and all concerned were rushed back to playing positions and seats in the dugouts and grandstands. And then the Panthers went on to lose their sixth in a row.

The Oklahoma City Indians pounded upon four Dallas hurles for 15 hits for their fifth straight victory. Dick Whitworth, Indian hurling ace, kept the Dallas blows well scattered. Fullerton, Parker, Doring and Ambrust failed to silence the Indians' bats.

Marty Martin hit two doubles and a brace of singles in helping Houston down San Antonio in a free-hitting contest. Houston collected 13 hits off Miller, Fletcher, Talley and Walsenborn and San Antonio got 12 off Forsythe, Ovensros and Ross.

Little Road Runners Look Peppy, Potent In Practice

Infield Performance And Batting Are Impressive

If the dark horse entry in the Junior baseball league, Phillips 66 of the South Pampa field, is as rough as the Little Road Runners looked in a practice session yesterday, local fans had better flock to Road Runner park Sunday afternoon for the season's opener. The game will begin promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

The strength of the Phillips boys is not known exactly—it is known that Manager Ben Romines has several big boys that are good players, and some little boys that are good players. He has three pitchers Elmer Solinger, Melvin Turner and Ben Day. Walter Williams is the 66 catcher.

The Junior Road Runners began working out this week, but they've accomplished much. Their batting was better than fair, and their infield practice was decidedly impressive. Yesterday afternoon, Manager Joe Parkinson had Harold Nicholson at third, Denver Hubert at second, Bob Bailey at first and Fred McGahey at short-stop, and their pep and ability amazed observers who knew the boys had been at it only four days.

Thus far, Manager Parkinson has only one boy who wants to pitch—A. C. Miller, 15-year-old, who was hit freely by junior teams here last year but who has a new brand of stuff this season. Other boys out yesterday were Brownie Boyington, Mage Keyser, Jack Crane, Ferrel Heard, Jack Cunningham, Gene Weatherford and Nolan. Cunningham and Nolan are out for the catcher's post.

The Phillips roster will include Buster Roberts, Norman Cox, James Dewey, Seth Cox, Robert Moddrell, Sam Highwalt, Roy Enok, Fred Vandenberg, Walter Taylor, Jack Termin, in addition to those already named.

While the Little Road Runners and Phillips are playing here, Hoover will be at Canadian. The Peewees will not play the Amarillo Mavericks as originally scheduled. The Mavericks, unable to play on Sunday, cancelled the game. The Peewees are trying to match a game, but if they are unable to, they will likely watch the Road Runner-Phillips tilt.

Grant to Play Hal Surface in Semi-Final Tilt

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., April 24. (AP)—Bryan (Bity) Grant, Atlanta's Davis cup star, stepped out today against Hal Surface, Jr., high ranking Kansas City player, for the right to meet Don Budge in the finals of the Mason-Dixon Tennis tournament.

Budge holds one final berth by virtue of a shaky victory yesterday over Gene Mako, his fellow Californian and Davis cup teammate, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Budge and the winner of today's match will meet Sunday for the spring tourney title.

Budge and Mako teamed up after the singles warfare in a doubles combination to meet Clifford B. Sutter of New Orleans and Surface today. Wilmer Allison of Astin, Davis cup captain, and John Van Ryn, Philadelphia doubles ace on the squad, were matched against Grant and J. Gilbert Hall of New York.

Texas Stealing Play in Penn's Famous Relays

PHILADELPHIA, April 24. (AP)—Three thousand athletes—some of them with their eyes on this summer's Olympics—battled today and tomorrow in the 42nd renewal of the University of Pennsylvania's relays classic.

Following time-honored custom they start out at 2:15 p. m. with the colorful 400-meter burles, an Olympic event in which Charles Beetham of Ohio State is heavy favorite. They will wind up late tomorrow with the stiff four-mile relay, in which Michigan, Army, Michigan State, and possibly Penn with Gene Venzke, are expected to battle it out.

LUNCHEON AND TEA ARE COURTESIES TO P-TA DELEGATES

CLUBS OF CITY AND IN COUNTY ARE HOSTESSES

CONFERENCE EVENTS THURSDAY INCLUDE BROADCAST

Complimentary to delegates, a tea and a luncheon were the social events of the eighth district Parent-Teacher conference yesterday. The Gray County Home Demonstration Council and Board of City Development were hosts at the luncheon in First Baptist church, and the Council of Women's clubs entertained with a tea at city club room.

The Home conference theme, was stressed at the luncheon. Covers bore pictures of an attractive Gray county farm home, that of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lewis. Red flowers and candles formed the centerpieces.

George Briggs, executive secretary of the Board of City Development, was the speaker. He presented the home as the ideal place to train children in the art of living, saying that home influence is almost the only force in the first six years of the child's life, and is largely responsible for his character.

Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent, was toastmaster. She introduced honor guests, the state and district officers, and Miss Ruby Masburn, district home demonstration agent, as well as the home demonstration club presidents who with Mrs. E. A. Shackleton formed the local hostess committee.

They were Meses. O. G. Smith, C. P. Couts, J. H. Wade, Clyde King, Lawton Hoffer, E. E. Clark, Chester Nicholson, Fred C. Fischer, Joe Lewis.

Tea in Dutch Theme.
A Dutch garden was arranged for the tea. A grass carpet covered the floor, with beds of red tulips on the borders. Tulips also bordered the stage, where the high school's Little orchestra played. Members wore Dutch caps.

Mrs. S. A. Hurst, in a costume brought from Holland by Mrs. Gaston Foote and complete even to wooden shoes, headed the receiving line. Others to greet the guests were Mrs. Raymond Harrah, president of the Council of clubs; Mrs. J. M. Turner, president of the City Parent-Teacher council; Mrs. J. E. Griggs of Amarillo; Mrs. A. Y. Troutman of San Antonio; Mrs. H. F. Godeke of Lubbock; Mrs. J. M. Crain of Amarillo; Mrs. H. F. LaMaster of Perryton, state officers; Mrs. R. B. Fisher, Mrs. F. M. Oulerson, Mrs. J. W. Garman, Fred Radcliff, and Miss Josephine Thomas, presidents of clubs in the council; Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, district

Reich's 'First Lady' and Son

The "First Lady" of Nazi Germany is lovely Frau Magda Goebbels, wife of the dynamic and powerful Minister of Propaganda and Public Enlightenment, and—because Reichstuehrer Adolf Hitler is unmarried—the recognized official hostess at most of the

were ushers who directed visitors to the club room.

Program From Studio.
Also on the conference program yesterday was a radio broadcast from the studio of KPDD. The Amarillo Mothersingers, directed by Mrs. J. W. Sanders, opened the half-hour with two songs, Comrades of the Road, Wilson; and Paeon to Summer, Suppe. Mrs. Griggs, district president, responded briefly to an introduction.

Mrs. Troutman, state chairman of health, spoke of the health program of the state congress, and Mrs. Godeke, state parliamentarian, spoke of relation of the state and national organizations to the home.

Ernestine Holmes played an accordion solo, Whispering Hope, and Minnie Belle Williams and Anita Andrews sang a duet, La Colondrina, accompanied by Mrs. Philip Wolfe. Mrs. Wes Lizard of Amarillo, district chairman of radio, was a studio visitor during the broadcast.

Little Miss Dodson Dodson and Roy T. Cone, in Dutch costume, president-elect, and Mrs. J. M. Dodson, poured tea. They were in Dutch costume, as were Meses. Lee Harrah, R. S. Lawrence, A. M. Teed, and Clyde Gold, other presidents of Pampa clubs who assisted in serving.

Entertainment in addition to the orchestra music was a Dutch dance by Misses Joyce Turner and Shannon Chapman, a violin solo by Miss Helen Poolas, and piano solos by Mrs. Winton Rowntree.

Ernestine Holmes played an accordion solo, Whispering Hope, and Minnie Belle Williams and Anita Andrews sang a duet, La Colondrina, accompanied by Mrs. Philip Wolfe. Mrs. Wes Lizard of Amarillo, district chairman of radio, was a studio visitor during the broadcast.

He listed aims of the present high school, and outlined new tendencies. The high school must be not only "child-minded," but "social-minded," he said, adding that the chief aim is to fit the child for a place in society.

Of mental hygiene, Supt. Rhodes said that attention has turned in recent years from need for treatment of mental unbalances to need for prevention. He advocated less haste, more calm and accuracy in the schoolroom, where the child needs to feel adequate to the task set before him to do the best work.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Black and Hazel Black of Fort Worth were in Canadian Tuesday, en route to Higgins to spend a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Clark of Pampa visited in the W. E. Clark home the first of the week.

SOONER EXECUTED
MALESTER, Okla., April 24. (AP)—James Hargus, 27, was electrocuted at the state penitentiary here today for the fatal shooting of L. D. Mitchell, Tulsa police officer, in 1934. Hargus had protested late yesterday to prison officials that he was getting a "raw deal," and that he shot in self-defense.

PHASES OF EDUCATION ARE DISCUSSED BY SCHOOL HEADS ON EVENING P-TA PROGRAM

YEARBOOK OF PAMPA UNITS RANKED HIGH

District educational chairmen were directors of last evening's program of the eighth district Parent-Teacher association conference, with Mrs. W. B. LaMaster of Perryton in charge.

The afternoon session had been devoted to reports, election of officers for the next biennium, a parliamentary skill by Mrs. H. F. Godeke of Lubbock and Mrs. Lewis Goodrich of Shamrock, state and district parliamentarian respectively, and a founders day pageant by West Ward association of Borger. A question box conducted by Mrs. A. Y. Troutman of San Antonio, state representative, closed the program.

MUSIC was by the Sam Houston school band directed by A. C. Cox, and by the Mothersingers from Amarillo, directed by Mrs. J. W. Sanders. The Junior High school band serenaded after the luncheon.

Reports included that of the yearbook judging committee, presented by Mrs. LaMaster. Books were judged in two divisions, printed and mimeographed. The five best were selected from each group. Of printed books, mention was made to B. M. Baker of Pampa, Vega, Panhandle, Pringle, and Stratford. For mimeographed books, Robert E. Lee of Childress, Horace Mann of Pampa, West Ward of Wellington, Conway, and Weatherly were cited.

Mention for special features was given to the Lipscomb county council, for a complete book at small expense; Amarillo city council, for the most elaborate book; the Wellington High School Calendar, a nine-month-old son. She enthusiastically praised the delegates that have pushed women out of industry and back into the kitchen.

Perryton Band Plays
The evening program started with music by the Perryton school band. A trio from the Pampa-Gardolite club sang "The Pampa-Gardolite Club Song." Speakers were Supt. C. M. Rogers of Amarillo on the Liberalized High School Curriculum; Supt. L. H. Rhodes of Dajhart on Mental Health Hazards of the School Child; and Supt. W. B. Irwin of Perryton on Physical Education.

Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, district chairman of school education, introduced Supt. Rogers, who traced the growth of the high school since its inception in 1821. Doubling enrollment in each decade since 1880 has brought changes, he said, in methods, and changed methods to the secondary school, he said.

New School Presented
He listed aims of the present high school, and outlined new tendencies. The high school must be not only "child-minded," but "social-minded," he said, adding that the chief aim is to fit the child for a place in society.

Of mental hygiene, Supt. Rhodes said that attention has turned in recent years from need for treatment of mental unbalances to need for prevention. He advocated less haste, more calm and accuracy in the schoolroom, where the child needs to feel adequate to the task set before him to do the best work.

Supt. R. B. Fisher of Pampa, district chairman of parent education, introduced this program.

New demands on the school tend to fill the curriculum and crowd out time for play, Supt. Irwin said. Physical education is not a by-product of education, but an essential he stressed, and health cannot be taught to the child, but must come as a result of his practice.

Mrs. LaMaster closed the program by stressing briefly the need for continued character education, which she termed the most important of all types of learning.

LARGEST PARADE
SAN ANTONIO, April 24. (AP)—This city's Fiesta De San Jacinto was to reach its grand climax at 3:30 p. m. today with the start of the longest Battle of Flowers parade in the history of the celebration. The queen of the fiesta and her court were to make their first public appearance since the coronation at the municipal auditorium Thursday night.

"Probation After Death" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, April 26.

The Golden Text is: "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath broken us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead" (I Peter 1:3).

Among the citations which commend Cardui:

Cardui Helped Three Times

At three different times, Cardui has helped Mrs. Ike Wright of Sealy, Texas. "I used Cardui, when a girl, for cramps, and it helped then," she writes. Next, after marriage, she reports having taken Cardui when she felt weak, nervous and restless before her children were born. And during middle life, it helped her again. "I was miserable," she explains. "I did not have an appetite. I was very blue and upset. I remembered Cardui had helped me, so I took it again, and soon began to pick up. I ate and had more strength. I kept up the Cardui and did not have any more trouble. Is it any wonder that I recommend Cardui to all my friends?"

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician. (Adv.)

Evangelist

The Rev. Buford W. Batin, pictured here, is to conduct daily services at the Church of the Nazarene, 323 W. Francis, for two weeks beginning Sunday. The evangelist is president of the young people's division of the church in the Abilene district.

The lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "He that eat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new... He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son" (Revelation 21:5, 7).

The lesson-sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is the origin and ultimate of man, never attainable through death, but gained by walking in the pathway of Truth both before and after that which is called 'death'" (page 487).

Sunday 11 a. m. Sunday school 9:30. Wednesday 8 p. m. Reading room open Tuesday and Friday 2 to 4 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use the reading room.

BIG OPEN AIR FETE PLANNED FOR FOR TALK

100,000 WOULD HEAR ROOSEVELT ACCEPT NOMINATION

By LEONARD B. SHUBERT
WASHINGTON, April 24. (AP)—Democratic leaders arranging June convention plans today considered the idea of holding a giant open air ceremony at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, to notify President Roosevelt of his renomination.

Party leaders estimated that around 100,000 persons could watch the ceremony and hear the president's speech of acceptance in the University of Pennsylvania athletic field.

New deal chiefs will meet tomorrow in Philadelphia to complete arrangements for the convention. Meantime Senator Borah of Idaho, candidate for the republican nomination, sent a telegram to Col. Frank Knox of Chicago, another candidate, saying that efforts were being made to persuade Illinois delegates to "disregard the wishes of the people." The senator asked Col. Knox if he approved of such efforts.

Borah said friends of Knox were trying to get votes for the publisher from delegates in districts carried by the Idaho senator in the primary April 14.

Knox in New York, said he had not yet received the telegram and declined to comment until its receipt.

The Illinois primary vote is advisory only, and not binding on the delegates. Borah's campaign managers have claimed 26 of the 49 district delegates. Knox has said all but one of the delegates were "Knox men."

At a New York conference of several Borah supporters yesterday, Carl G. Bachmann, Borah campaign manager, declared the senator "is in this fight to win the nomination."

"He is not interested in compromises, or any other deals, or agreements, direct or indirect," said group meets in church basement.

8:00 p. m. Evangelistic service. Sermon subject: "The Nobleman's Son." Special music. Every one is cordially invited to worship with us.

Bachmann. "The only way he can be taken out as a candidate is by the convention in June."

Addressing the Kansas society of New York last night, Henry Justin Allen, publisher of the Topeka State Journal, described Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas as "the outstanding figure in the American political scene today."

Allen declared the republicans "will win with Landon" in November.

SAFE ROBBED OF $1500
SAN ANTONIO, April 24. (AP)—Two armed men held up four employees of the downtown office of the Coca-Cola Bottling company here this morning and robbed the safe of $1,500. The men, well dressed, were admitted into the office by a clerk who thought they were customers.

WHAT YOU EAT HAS A LOT TO DO WITH HOW YOU FEEL

Correction of Constipation* Is Often a Matter of Menus

For years, the medical profession has insisted that proper diet is more effective in promoting health than the indiscriminate use of patent medicines. Today, they are seeing their teachings bear fruit.

For instance, millions of families have learned that common constipation is largely due to insufficient "bulk" in meals. Many of them correct this condition by the regular use of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

This delicious cereal supplies generous "bulk" in effective form. Within the body, its "bulk" absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently this clears out the intestinal walls.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and contains iron. It may be served as a cereal with milk or cream, or cooked into tempting muffins, breads, etc.

Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN often, if not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all"—but it does correct common constipation.* It is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Pickle Follows Wife in Death

Sixteen days after his wife passed away, James Madison Pickle, 74, followed her in death at the family home...

Mr. Pickle is survived by a daughter, Mrs. M. L. Baumgardner of LeFors, a sister, Mrs. W. M. Ray, Alton, Okla., two brothers, M. A. Pickle and George Pickle, Aberdeen, Miss., 16 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

The body will be sent to Greenville by Pampa Mortuary. Burial will be Sunday afternoon by the side of his wife.

BRINKLEY

R. E. Taylor of Wichita Falls, attorney for the plaintiff.

"No," said Mrs. Wynn. "They didn't tell me a thing."

"Would you have agreed?" "Never."

"Why?" "I would rather have brought him home and let him die there if he had to."

She said Dr. L. H. Marshall, in whose Little Rock hospital Wynn was found, said there was no indication of cancer; that instead, he appeared to be suffering from a tumor on the prostate.

Mrs. Wynn described hearing Brinkley's advertising and his (Wynn's) desire to go to Del Rio for the operation.

"He thought it would do him good," she said.

Sanders Funeral Held Here Today

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, April 24. (AP)—The stock market whipped up a selective rally late today, with Chrysler and scattered industrials doing most of the work.

Steel and a number of other issues, however, failed to participate in the come-back. The close was irregular. Transfers were around the 2,000,000-share mark.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 24. (AP)—In nervously shifting trade, wheat scored gains late today.

Speculators were wary of the selling side of the wheat market because of persistent death of moisture southwest, and owing to lack of response at Liverpool to price downturns here.

Wheat closed firm, 3/4 above yesterday's finish. May 10 1/2-1/4, July 9 1/2-3/4, corn 3/4 up, May 8 1/4-3/4, oats unchanged to 1/2 lower, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10 cents.

Parker Is Named Head Conspirator In Wendel Case

BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 24. (AP)—Ellis H. Parker, Jr., son of the Burlington, N. J., chief of detectives, was characterized by District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan today as the "real conspirator" in the kidnaping and torture of Paul H. Wendel, whose repudiated confession to the Landbergh kidnaping delayed the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

Parker, indicted with four others yesterday, remained at large today, although there were rumors he was on his way here from New Jersey to surrender.

"We know that Parker, Jr., was the real conspirator in this case," Geoghan said. "He concocted the whole plot and it was he who pointed out Wendel the night he was kidnaped."

The district attorney said the younger Parker had taken a room at a New York hotel under the name of Al White and it was there that details of the kidnaping were discussed with the four men who were indicted with Parker.

Harry Bleefeld, 61, and Martin Schlossman, two of those indicted, are now being held. The other two, Harry Weiss and Murray Bleefeld, have not been located.

Pampa high school dramatic club presented a health pageant directed by Ben Gordon and Philip Noland. The Horace Mann Glee club sang, with Miss Loma Groom directing.

Canadians Are Kiwanis Guests

United States-Canada day was observed by the Pampa Kiwanis club today as a part in the international observance throughout the two countries.

B. H. Behrman and Harry E. Hoare, Canadian born residents of Pampa, participated in the program by telling interesting stories of their home communities. Mr. Behrman was born in Toronto and Mr. Hoare in Guelph.

The Panhandle centennial was discussed by members and plans were made to help in making it an outstanding success.

A delegation of Pampa Kiwanians will go to Wellington tonight to join with several other clubs in an inter-club meeting.

The Pampa club will also put on the program for the Amarillo Kiwanis club in Amarillo Monday.

Visitors today besides the ones on the program were Dr. R. A. Webb and L. C. Peckicord.

Contract for the new high school auditorium, let recently to O. L. Boyington, has been approved by the state PWA office, but it calls for an expenditure larger than the funds available. The board of education is seeking a revision of the PWA grant to permit the building as approved in the bid. An answer on the request is expected soon.

CHARGED IN DRIVING

BROWNFIELD, April 24. (AP)—Vernon Abbott, an automobile salesman, was charged with driving while intoxicated this morning as a result of an automobile accident in which Miss Oleta Jenkins, a beauty shop operator, was injured fatally. The mishap occurred on highway 51 a half mile north of Brownfield city limits at 3 o'clock.

COLUMN

are enthusiastic fans. Soft ball is nearly unknown. A hard rubber ball is used instead. It is hard to hit, but when the bat connects the ball is away for base hits. The Japanese are great fielders, good pitchers, but rather poor hitters. Their rate of improvement, however, indicates that before many years they will be formidable foes for our best teams.

It's too bad—you may never live to receive an old age pension. The average age limit of eligibility is 65 years. The expectation of life for a baby born today is 61.26 years if it survives its first year. This is 12 years longer than the expectation of life a generation ago. New Zealand boasts the longest record, with an expectancy of 64.04 years. In Europe, only Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and Holland equal the record of the United States.

BUT WHILE our lives are stretching, the opportunities for earning a living are shrinking. Young men do better work in most lines, have fewer accidents, less sickness. Industrial concerns know this, insurance companies base their rates upon it. The man beyond 40 who has not attained a proficiency above the average faces an increasingly hard fight for employment. It is hazardous for him to change vocations, particularly to change locations. Old age security is, therefore, increasingly desirable.

To Sink Well Under Governor's Mansion

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 24. (AP)—Determined to tap oil sands directly beneath the gubernatorial mansion, Governor E. W. Marland has ordered a slanting hole drilled from a derrick 120 feet east of the residence.

The process is known as "whipstocking" or directional drilling. The well, upon which work was progressing today, is the fifth location on state property near the mansion and state capitol.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 24. (AP)—Trading fell off around noon, but prices held their early gains as May sold at 11.31 and July at 11.24. New crops were steady with Oct. at 10.42 and Dec. at 10.41.

Weekly trade and spinners reports released during the morning were favorable. Bradstreet's referred to the present high peak in retail business as showing signs of being permanent.

Mrs. C. A. Johnson was able to leave Pampa-Jarratt hospital yesterday afternoon.

Committee Talks Of Other Ways To Get Money

WASHINGTON, April 24. (AP)—Some members of the Senate Finance committee, skeptical of the revenue raising powers of the tax bill being debated by the House, were talking today of other ways to get the money.

Whether the discussions would develop into a concrete move to write major changes into the bill, which makes sweeping alterations in the corporate tax structure, was not yet apparent.

Most committee members had not yet decided whether they would go along with the plan, although there had been some critical comments on the proposal from Democrats as well as Republicans.

Observers recalled, however, that as similar hostility in the House committee diminished quickly when alternatives such as increased income taxes on lower brackets were mentioned.

While Senators were getting their first look at the bill, it was being warmly debated on the House floor, in a general discussion scheduled to extend into next week.

all the more attention because he is chairman of the senate territories committee. He scored what he termed "ingratitude" of Puerto Ricans for the "millions" in federal money poured into the islands.

The attitude of the Puerto Ricans, he asserted in the senate, "makes us question the worth of American institutions as being fitting for the people to live under in Puerto Rico."

Under the Tydings bill, a plebiscite would be held in November, 1937. If the Puerto Ricans voted for independence, a commonwealth government, which still would retain links with the United States, would be set up for four years. After that the islands would be granted complete freedom.

A commonwealth government recently was established in the Philippines. It is to be followed by an independent regime in ten years.

The Tydings measure provides that when the Puerto Rican commonwealth is created, spending of United States funds there shall come to almost a complete stop.

Tydings also declared he had evidence that there was "disgraceful, corrupt and fraudulent" registration of voters in Puerto Rico last January.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Walker visited in Dalhart yesterday.

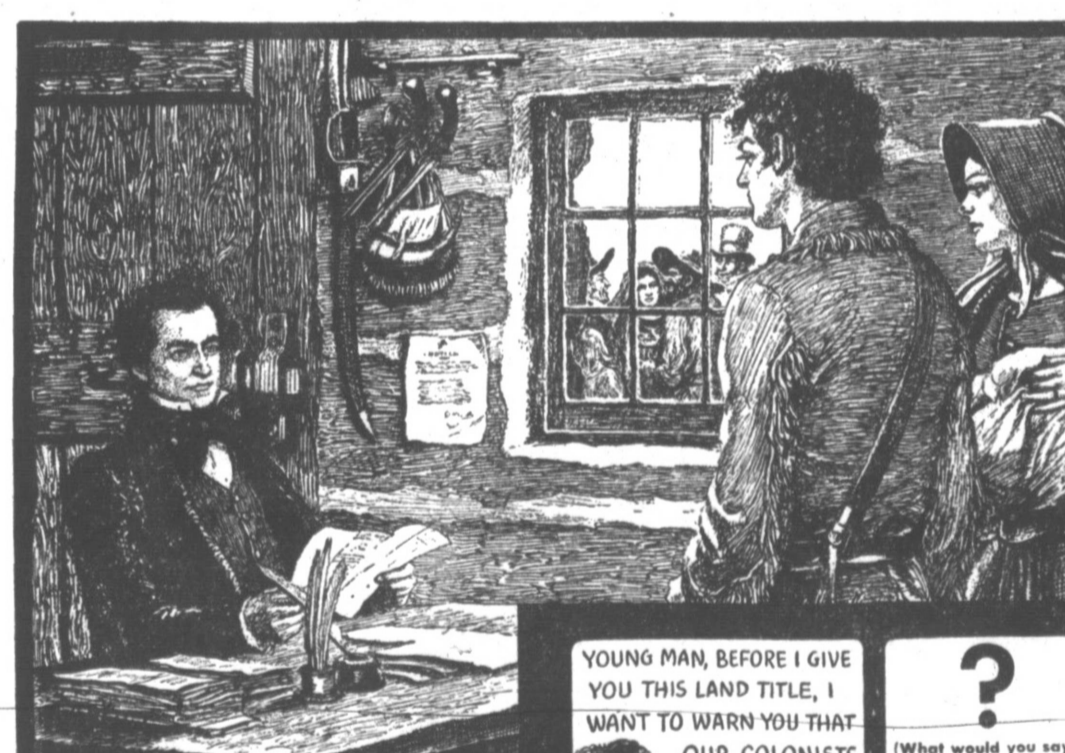

KIDNAPERS INDICTED

BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 24. (AP)—The possibility of additional indictments was indicated today in the kidnaping of Paul H. Wendel, repudiating "confessor" to the Landbergh kidnaping. With 5 men named in true bills yesterday, District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan said the additional indictments might be forthcoming against "persons not within the jurisdiction of Kings county (Brooklyn)." He refused to amplify the remark.

Mrs. E. S. Morgan was taken to her home from Pampa-Jarratt hospital yesterday. She entered the hospital for treatment of burns on March 3.

REVOLT RAGES IN HONDURAS SAYS REPORT

REBELS ARE MOVING ON GOVERNMENT TOURISTS SAY

BY JOHN P. McKNIGHT.
(Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, April 24 (AP)—Travelers arriving by air from Nicaragua reported today a bloody revolt broke out in the Central American republic of Honduras, with rebels moving on Tegucigalpa, capital of President Tiburcio Carías government.

Senora Anita Lagos de Lopez Gutierrez, widow of one-time president of Honduras, Gen. Rafael Lopez Gutierrez, who lives here, said she received information indicating that the insurgents were successful in their first engagement.

Her reports said rebel forces defeated loyal troops, commanded by Col. J. Ines Perez and Col. Juan B. Chavez, at Duyure, 10 miles from Teotecacinte and about 35 miles southeast of Tegucigalpa, and drove them across the border into Nicaragua.

The travelers, after coming here by airplane from Nicaragua, southern neighboring republic of Honduras, brought word that rebels who they said were under the leadership of Gen. Ines E. Duenas, were advancing toward Tegucigalpa from three sides.

These reports could not be confirmed immediately.

The travelers explained the absence of direct advances from Honduras with an assertion that President Carías had imposed a strict censorship on telegraph, telephone, and postal communications.

Senora Lagos said she understood the rebels were well supplied with arms and ammunition for campaigning in the mountainous country of Honduras.

She named as leaders of the reported movement Gen. Duenas, Gen. Eusebio Rivera, chief of the Honduran army general staff; Gen. Concepcion Peralta, Gen. Mariano Bakiron Anduray, Gen. Tacho Guardiola, Gen. Valle Carretero, Gen. Felix Vasquez, Gen. Santos Guillen, and Col. Alfredo Lara.

IT'S THAT SEASON AGAIN! COLUMBIA, S. C.—Hamp Napier, Columbia fireman, said on a recent fishing trip he got a bite, pulled in his line and found he had hooked a pair of spectacles. "I figure the lens was muddy and the fish overran the bait," theorized Napier.

LINDYS TO RIVIERA PARIS, April 24 (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh were believed to be on the road to the Riviera today, after coming to France quietly aboard a British freighter, but their exact whereabouts was a mystery. The flier and his wife, who had been living in Wales since early this year, landed at Boulogne yesterday, bringing their own automobile, and inquired about the roads to the Riviera.

BUSINESS: BIGGEST SPENDER FOR RECOVERY

Staggering as have been the emergency expenditures of the federal government to meet depression needs, private business has dipped still more deeply into its reserves and paid out still larger sums to keep the country running, as nearly as may be, on an even keel.

The total is 26 1/4 billion dollars, concentrated chiefly in the years 1931 and 1932 with a tapering off in 1934.

On the other hand, the federal government has paid out in excess of what it has received in taxes during the four-year period from 1931 to 1934 12 1/2 billion dollars.

After allowing for the fact that the government excess expenditures cover only four years while those for industry are spread over five years, industry's contribution is more than double that of the government.

Where did the money come from?

In the case of industry, it came from "rainy day" reserves—earnings by corporations which were not paid out as dividends. The prosperity year of 1929, for instance, had added to these reserves nearly 2 1/2 billion dollars, helping to swell them to the vast totals from which depression losses were paid.

In the case of the government, the money came from borrowing against future tax receipts.

First they are paid. Later they are to be collected.

To whom was the money paid?

First they were earned. Then they were paid.

In the case of the government, the money came from form of dividends which had not been currently earned. Those who received this part of it were the stockholders. Another part went to pay expenses of operation, when these were in excess of earnings. Its recipients were workers and those who supplied materials for carrying on the business. It helped to keep the wheels of industrial activity turning. It maintained employment, especially of skilled workers.

In the case of the government, the money was spent chiefly for actual relief of distress and went immediately into circulation again to buy things that were currently needed. In this form it operated to keep up the pressure of demand, which is the power unit of our economic system.

Other large parts of the government's outlay were poured into the credit reservoir, which was being drained to dangerously low levels by the relentless suction of deflation.

To the banks and other financial institutions went a large share of this money in the form of loans. Another portion was used the same way to keep many railroads from bankruptcy. A considerable part of these advances have been repaid. Some of the money was used to save farms and homes from foreclosure, although this portion was employed more as a pump primer to enlist private credit under government guarantee.

Still other large sums were poured out for public works, extending all the way from flood control and road building to the construction of low-cost housing. This part of the outlay served at once to provide increased employment directly on the projects undertaken and also in that portion of private industry which supplied the materials purchased.

Finally, what is there to show for these vast excess outlays by private industry and the government?

Industry points to the fact that it has carried on during the nation's worst industrial storm with its matchless plant intact—even improved so as to go ahead with greater efficiency than in the earlier years. Its heritage of industrial skill—the human factor—has suffered, but not as seriously as if reserves had not been drawn on to keep operations going.

Government, on the other hand, claims to have met its responsibility for relieving misery, at least to a point that prevented the breakdown of the social order. The American form of government is still intact.

Moreover, government spokesmen point to the substantial public works which will remain for decades or centuries as monuments to the present crisis. Other billions are expected to be repaid to the treasury, since they are in the form of repayable loans or other earning assets.—United States News.

BARBS

It was risky for the Red Cross to ask for contributions in the flood crisis, since Italy absent-mindedly might have supplied a few bombs.

For years, a terrible boner in baseball has been termed a Merkle. Henceforth, four balls may be referred to as an Al Smith.

It has been revealed the A. T. & T. financially backed a picture, "Once in a Blue Moon," plot of which probably dealt with a man who got the right number.

A European judge decided that, just because she tried on hats for nine hours straight, a woman wasn't necessarily insane. But then he didn't see the hats.

That old problem of an irresistible force meeting an immovable body pops up again in the news that there have been agitators among WPA workers.

"Ali Baba wins Detroit wrestling match for fifth straight victory." If it's the same Ali Baba, it's a swell break for his 40 managers.

It's an ill flood, etc. During the recent inundation, no one in Pittsburgh was arrested for jayswimming or rowing past a light.

It will be a joke on the tourist who travels to the west this year, to learn that it had blown past him on the way out.

ANSWERS to QUESTIONS

A COLUMN Of Facts you have often wished to see in print. Read it daily!

by Frederic J. Haskin

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News' Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q How many brands of cigars and cigarettes are there? J. L.
A. Printers' Ink says that the Tobacco Merchants association estimates that there are more than 250,000 registered brands. Only a small percentage of them are on the market. It has about 2,500 in its active file but estimates that about 5,000 are on the market at the present time.

Q How many gallons of water per second go over Boulder Dam? L. M.
A. Thirty thousand gallons of water a second pour through the dam.

Q Was Alec Templeton, the pianist, born blind? Is he an American? C.
A. Mr. Templeton has been blind since birth. His parents are Scotch and he was born near Cardiff in Wales.

Q How much money is collected annually in admission fees at Mammoth Cave, Kentucky? P. M.
A. This year, with a record number of 63,862 visitors, the operating profits amounted to $73,061.18.

Q What state conducted the first successful experiment in the use of cotton in roads, H. K.
A. South Carolina was the pioneer in the use of cotton for roads. In 1926 the State Highway department constructed a 200-foot stretch of cotton fabric-treated asphalt roadway. A sample of the fabric was examined on June 18, 1935, and found to be in as good condition after nine years of service as when new.

Q What are spring lambs? J. M.
A. The true spring lambs are born in January and February and fed on milk to make them especially appetizing. According to market terminology, they are spring lamb only until June.

Q Was Edward VI a child prodigy? G. F.
A. Edward VI, the only child of Henry VIII by Jane Seymour, was only nine years old when he succeeded his father as king of England and supreme head of the church? At the age of 13 he had read Aristotle's Ethics in the original and was translating Cicero's De philosophia into Greek.

Q How many universities are there in Germany? M. H.
A. Germany has twenty-three universities.

Q When did John Galsworthy make his first trip to America? F. S.
A. It was in 1912, when he came over to supervise the production of his play, The Pigeon.

Q What is the origin of the expression, appeal from Philip drunk to Philip sober? E. R. M.
A. Valerius Maximus tells the story of Philip of Macedon. One of his female subjects, not satisfied with a decree of his while in his cups, appealed to the only higher court—the same man in his right mind—and won her case.

Q What was the speed record of Always Faithful, U. S. Army homing pigeon? G. R.
A. Always Faithful won the Chattanooga national pigeon race, against 1114 other flyers, flying 715 miles at an average speed of 47 miles per hour. The pigeon received a gold medal for outstanding performance in the year 1935.

Q Where does the Delaware river meet tidewater? H. G.
A. It meets tidewater at Trenton, N. J., 130 miles above the mouth. Below this city the river becomes a broad sluggish inlet of the sea with many marshes along its side, widening steadily into its great estuary, Delaware Bay.

Q What were the three parts into which all Gaul was divided? R. B. W.
A. Gaul was divided into three sections as follows: Aquitania (south of the Garonne); Gaul proper (modern Central France); and Belgica (very roughly Belgium).

Q Who was the first President to attend an egg-rolling at the White House? L. F.
A. Baby McKee, grandchild of President Benjamin Harrison, instituted Presidential appearances at the Easter festival by persuading his grandfather to go out and see the children.

Q From what material is rayon made? C. D.
A. Rayon, or artificial silk, is a lustrous, continuous thread formed by dissolving cellulose, either as cotton linters or wood pulp, in a suitable solvent; passing this fluid through a spinning machine; solidifying the product in a mixing bath; combining and twisting the resulting filaments into a thread, purifying and bleaching this thread, and finally transferring it into the type of package in which it is to be sold or used.

Q What causes the deviation of a magnetic compass on shipboard? J. C.
A. Errors of deviation are caused by the magnetism which is built into a ship by hammering during construction, the character of the ship's cargo, the effect of the earth's magnetic field on the soft iron of the ship, change in temperature of the ship's magnetic material, change in the trim of the ship, the course, or even a lapse of time.

Q How long should a good coat of paint last on the outside of a house? M. G.
A. From three to five years.

BLACK MAKES RED
ST. LOUIS—Too many black ink purchases—$9 worth in two months—threatened to put the St. Louis county hospital office in the red. County Auditor Edwin O. Harper investigated, and discovered a meticulous janitor had been emptying, scrubbing and refilling the hospital ink wells each morning. Well—Harper stopped that!

SETTLEMENT
HOUSTON—For damages in a traffic accident, an out-of-court settlement provided $10,000 for David L. Blair, 68-year-old Goose Creek oil field worker. He met his boss on the street, told him the news, and said, "I want to get off this afternoon. I want to go over to Beaumont and get the $10,000 check that's waiting for me. I'll—" He then collapsed. In a few minutes he was dead.

CHAPTER XXV

Duryea telephoned for Toby to come to his studio the next morning. They were to start work at once on the series of photographs for the Hillier Soap company.

And set to work they did. It was harder than anything Toby had ever done, and not all of it was before the camera. Duryea sent her to a hairdresser — one whose name was famous. The hairdresser snipped and combed and waved, and when Toby saw the results she had to admit that it was an improvement. The new haircut, in some indefinable way, provided the perfect frame for her face. Artfully executed, it had the look of complete naturalness.

Her hair must be kept in the same shining perfection, and so a series of regular appointments was made. Three times a week Toby went to the beauty salon. Her skin was flawless, but it, too, must be kept that way. An expert changed the line of her eyebrows slightly, while a manicurist worked on her nails. A young woman who seemed to know a great deal about cosmetics produced a powder that exactly blended with Toby's skin, a rouge so natural looking that it defied detection.

Duryea, who instituted these changes, insisted that that was important. Toby was not to have the artificial appearance of a sophisticated young woman. She was to be youth itself, radiant and untouched.

Her costumes were selected with this idea in mind. Dozens of boxes were delivered at the studio from one of the most exclusive shops in New York. Toby tried on the dresses and hats, and Duryea eyed them critically, making selections. When they had finished with them the costumes went back to the shop.

Harriet seemed almost more excited about all this than Toby herself. She was particularly interested in the clothes Toby was to wear.

"Maybe you'll be famous!" Harriet exclaimed. "You know there was that girl a few years ago. She wore a felt hat in a photograph for an advertisement—a plain felt hat, shaped and dented like a man's. It was an exclusive model, but in just few days manufacturers all over the country started making hats like that. Everybody went crazy about it. And the girl who'd posed for the photograph got offers from the movies and from a big musical comedy."

"What did she do?" Toby asked. "Well, she took the stage job for a while, and kept on posing and pretty soon she married an awfully rich man. They went away some place — I don't remember where. Just think, Toby! Maybe it will be like that with one of your pictures!"

"I don't think so." "But it could be!" Toby shook her head. "Things like that only happen once in a lifetime," she said. "Besides, I'm not looking for a rich husband."

"What kind are you looking for?" "None." The news that Toby was the model chosen for the Hillier advertising campaign had reached other studios. Immediately the others wanted her to pose for them, too. Toby took as many of the assignments as she could, turned down the others. Rates for her services doubled.

"Make all you can while you can get it," Sally of the Model League advised shrewdly. "A girl has to look out for herself."

Yes, Toby had learned that, too. A girl has to look out for herself. She scarcely ever went out evenings. Usually she came home from work so tired that all she wanted was to drop into bed. And she must be fresh and rested in the morning. The slightest bit of tiredness in her face would show before the relentless camera.

Wary of this Spartan routine, Toby agreed one evening to go out with Harriet and Clyde Sabin and Clyde's friend, Tom Garside. They were going to a restaurant that had recently opened. Newspaper columnists had praised the place, and a dance band, famous for its radio broadcasts, played there.

Harriet said, "It will be good for you, Toby, to get out for a change. Besides, we don't need to stay late."

So Toby had agreed. She wasn't seeing much of Harriet lately. Neither of them seemed to be at home when the other was. And Toby had put off similar invitations, by declaring that some day she would go.

Tom Garside worked for the same company as Clyde Sabin. He was a salesman, but he traveled in a different territory than Clyde. Garside had sandy hair and rather red cheeks and he slurred his words slightly. He told Toby that his family had lived in Virginia, though he had left there long ago. She rather liked him except that it seemed strange to have an escort who was old enough to be her father. Garside appeared to be several years older than Clyde.

The men ordered cocktails and Toby thought both of them drank rather more than they should. With each drink Clyde Sabin's spirits seemed to rise. He ordered an expensive dinner and was insistent that it should be cooked exactly according to instructions. He sent a request to the orchestra leader to play a certain tune and, when they played it, took Harriet off to dance.

Garside said to Toby, "Would you like to dance?"

"The music was tempting and she said that she would. But Garside proved to be a clumsy dancer. When the number was finished she was glad to go back to their table."

Clyde Sabin greeted them, beaming. "Great orchestra," he said, "and great music. I know the fellow who wrote that song—" He was off on a long-winded anecdote about an encounter in a bar-room.

Toby looked at Harriet and thought, "What can she see in him?"

But Harriet, apparently, saw in Clyde Sabin a knight in shining armor. She listened to his stories, eyeing him with rapt, smiling attention.

The food came and was served, and presently the orchestra played another number. This time Sabin asked Toby to dance.

Reluctantly, she agreed. No one, Toby was determined, was to know her distaste for the man.

The music was a fox trot, a melody for which extremely sentimental words had been provided. Sabin began to hum the tune softly as they moved off among the dancers. He was a good dancer; their steps were harmonious, smooth.

Sabin's hand tightened slightly on Toby's shoulder. "You're all right, baby," he said. "You and I can get along—"

She turned, pretending not to hear, and asked, "Is that Harriet over there?"

"Where?" "But it was not Harriet, as Toby had known it was not. She wished Sabin would not hold her so closely. They circled the floor and a member of the orchestra began to sing the words of the tune. Words that rhymed "nearest" with "dearest," and "kisses" with "blisses."

Sabin said, "Listen, baby, you and I ought to get better acquainted. You're the type of girl I like. How about slipping out together some afternoon—"

She mumbled an answer, evasive and incoherent as her thoughts. Sabin did not seem to notice. The music ended and he followed her back to their table. Over her shoulder, he said confidently, "Remember, some of these days I'm going to give you a buzz."

Toby was spared from answering. Harriet looked up, smiling, and asked if they had enjoyed the dance.

"It was great!" Sabin told her heartily. "Your little friend here knows how to step. She and I could do solo stuff with a little practice—"

He laughed at his own joke, and went on with another. Toby brought out her vanity case, pretending to be engrossed in it. She felt humiliated, angry. This was the man Harriet was to marry in a few weeks! He knew that she was Harriet's closest friend, and yet he had dared to suggest that they should "slip out together" some afternoon. It was disgusting. It was outrageous.

The dreadful part was that Harriet was going to marry Clyde Sabin. It would be a hideous mistake—but what was there to be done about it? Harriet was in love with Sabin, counting the days until their marriage. There was no use to tell her that Sabin was a philanderer—or worse. Toby, with her instinctive dislike for him, was inclined to think he was much worse.

She knew suddenly that she could not stay through the evening, listening to Clyde Sabin's jokes and avoiding his eyes. She could not dance with Tom Sabin and be trampled by his clumsy feet.

Toby leaned toward Harriet. She said, "Listen, my head's aching fearfully. I think it must have been the lights this afternoon. I had to stand under them for so long. I don't want anyone to come with me, but I'm going home—"

They wouldn't hear to her going alone. Instead, Sabin paid the check and they all got into a cab and rode to the apartment. Harriet was concerned but Toby insisted she would be quite all right alone and that the others should go on. After a time they did.

Toby went upstairs, undressed and slipped into a negligee. She was still rattling at Sabin, dismayed at the thought of his marriage to Harriet.

She turned out all the lights except the parchment-shaded table lamp. Then she sank down on the davenport and leaned back against the cushions. Why did anyone as sweet as Harriet have to fall in love with a man like Clyde Sabin? Why were so many things like that—?

The telephone shrilled and she crossed the room to answer it. Toby said, "Hello," and a man's voice answered.

For a tremulous instant her heart seemed to stop completely. It was Tim Jamieson.

Costen of St. Louis told members of the American society of orthodontists, in session here today.

He said these headaches are caused by pressure of the point of the jaw and skull against nerves in the head.

Dr. Costen, professor of otolaryngology at Washington University School of medicine said a study of more than 100 cases shows that this pressure also may be responsible for deafness and abnormally dry mouth.

Loss of supporting molars on their wearing down through excessive chewing of any kind throws the end of the jaw bone out of line in the mandibular joint, the speaker explained.

He said such pressure also applied to the tube connecting the back wall of the nose with the ear produces a type of deafness similar to catarrhal deafness. Dr. Paul G. Spencer of Waco, Tex., was installed as president of the society yesterday after serving one year as president-elect.

Our Own Family's Recipe

—we got something in it probably no other folks in the world have got!

Time and again we keep remarking to each other how lucky we are in having something no other folks in the world have got. I mean us having our own Family's recipe based on all the years of distilling experience that 3 generations of us Wilkens have had. I say it's up to us to be as particular about every bottle of our Family's Whiskey as if it was the one we was going to drink at home. So that's how it is—the bottles of Wilken Family Whiskey we drink and the bottles you drink are one and the same!
