To Save Fliers

Nine Airmen Are Stranded In Greenland

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Dec. 16. (AP) - American air crews, equipped with ski-planes and gliders, will make a perilous attempt today to rescue nine U. S. fliers, huddled on a bleak Greenland snow bank. The U. S. Newfoundland Com-gliders took off last night from Westover Field, Mass. on the first leg of the rescue mission. They were accompanied by Lt. Col. E. Court Is Asked who will supervise the rescue.

Seven men were stranded when their C-47 was forced down last Thursday. Two more were added Monday when their B-17 fortress, trying to rescue the seven, nosedived into a snow bank. None of the nine was injured, officials said. Air Force officials said they had no late reports on the condition of the stranded airmen, but said they had been dropped supplies, including small hearing units. The men were reported dug into snow banks in an effort to escape a biting snow storm, sweeping the 8,000-foot ice cap where they are stranded. Temperatures on the day's historic war crimes arguwindy heights were reported at

Rescue directors said gliders will be released from the two transports and should be able to make the quick, short landing which is the only type possible in that icelocked area.

With HSU's Grid Foe, It's Score Or Else

Simmons University, the bowlingest team in the country, plays its tenth football game of the season -beg pardon, post-season-Saturday, and don't be surprised if it ends up 97 to 97, or it might be a 101-101 tie.

Anybody can score on Hardin-Simmons but not everybody can

The Cowboys already have played one bowl game, battling College of the Pacific to a 35-35 deadlock in the Grape Bowl at Lodi, Callf

Shrine Bowl. Ouachita is hereby warned that it mustn't concern itself with a little thing like a first down-it must shoot for a touchdown every time it has the ball.

Dec. 30 Hardin-Simmons winds up the bowl campaign by playing Wichita in the Camellia Bowl at Lafayette, La. There is no truth in the report that Wichita wants to have two footballs in that game, with Hardin-Simmons using one while it uses the other. But it doesn't sound like a bad idea, considering the way the Cowboys get touchdowns.

Hardin-Simmons has won four, lost two and tied three this campaign, scoring 249 points to 188 for

The games it lost were pretty wild affairs, too. Arizona beat the Cowboys 20-14. Texas Tech licked Hardin-Simmons 28-20.

Take those other games: The Cowboys started out rather mildly by seoring only one touchdown as they stalemated with Cincinnati 7-7. Then came Arizona. Next Mardin-Simmons beat New Mexico 28-19 in a glittering "defensive" duel. And Hardin-Simmons and Texas Mines played to a 27-27 tie. Oklahoma City University was outscored 34-21.

Hardin-Simmons only had to make three touchdowns to whip West Texas State, which got only one. The next week Arizona State of Tempe rolled up 25 points, which would seem enough to win in an average game, but Hardin-Simmons got 68.

And then there were Texas Tech and College of the Pacific. Another distinction held by the Cowboys is being up in the air more than any other football team. Hardin-Simmons will be making its sixth plane trip when it goes to Little Rock tomorrow.

Dodd Will Attend Austin Conference

E. C. Dodd, president of Howard County Junior College, is due to be in Austin this weekend for a pair of conferences.

He will participate in a meeting of the Texas Junior College Athletie conference, which is faced with some eligibility decisions. One has to do with a dispute between Navarro and Wharton colleges, and the other with Wayland's status in its transitory stage between junior and senior college status.

Dodd also will take part in a meeting of junior college presidents on legislative matters scheduled to come up when the 51st legislature convenes in January. He will go from Austin to Texarkana to visit his mother, who is seriously ill.

It will be a surprise to some to learn, ethough they pan sanctimonious tribute to the constitution, that these amendments embody what we know as the "bill of rights," which give our demoseracy much of Ms individual dignity and

Just as a refresher for all of us, we'd the to highlight the things these amendments provided:

Freedom of religion, speech, press, assembly and to petition government for redress; right of the states to have mi-Miss: freedom from arbitrary quartering of soldiers in homes; freedom from search and seizure without due process

Freedom from incarceration without

We have just passed the anniversary due indictment, from twice being tried for the same offense, from testifying against oneself, from losing life, liberty and property without due process of law, and from public seizure of property without fust compensation.

The right to a speedy and public trial by a jury, the right of knowing the nature of charges brought against one, to be confronted by accusing witnesses, right of having counsel for one's defense.

Freedom from excessive bail, fines and unusual or cruel punishments; the retention of rights by the people; the reservation of rights, not delegated to the federal government, by the states.

Of course these are but high spots. We recommend that you get a copy of the constitution and read it, particularly the first 10 amendments. You'll gain an appreciation for the fact that these are at least a part of what people mean when they speak vaguely of "our way of life."

Delinguent Tax Campaign Can Balance Load, Clear The Rolls

City and Big Spring Independent School district board members have taken preliminary steps to faunch a campaign for collection of delinquent taxes.

If we understand the gentlemen rightby the object is not to penalize anyone anduly, but rather, on the whole, to help the majority of taxpayers. This stems from the fact that failure of part to ear ry their load means that those who do meet their tax obligations as nearly as possible are oblidged to shoulder the part represented in delinquent accounts.

In previous experience with suits here, the various agencies (which must besome a party to the suit) usually try to work out some arrangement with owners who are desirious of attempting to pay their accounts. Only when all possibilities have been exhausted has the resort been to the courts. In other words, the object is not to sue just to be suing.

Beyond stimulating some collections; the suits can accomplish a clarification for the rolls. Oddly enough, as complicated as it is, the tax suit sometimes is the simplest means for clearing titles on some forgotten pieces of property. It frequently is a handy means, too, for putting some bits of property back into circulation.

With delinquent accounts now down to minimum, it will be more convenient to put rolls in sound condition than at some future date when the volume might complicate matters. In this respect, the action already is tardy.

Chiang's Chances Are Nil For Escaping Surrender

An AP Newsfeature THE SITUATION OF GENERALISSIMO Chiang Kai-shek's nationalist armies in sace of the Chinese Communist offensive is so critical that he will have to perform the hat trick if he escapes surrender or negotiated peace. It is a moment of grave concern for all nations engaged in combatting the Bolshevist world drive. Figure it any way you will and the vast country of China, housremains an important part of the global defense against the Red aggression.

AUSTRALIA IS TAKING GRAVE NOTE of this threat to her own security. The Bydney Daily Telegraph sums up the position like this:

"Hitherto we have planned our defense along lines which connect up with Britain, her navy, and her possessions east of Bues. We now have to put far more emchasis on our collaboration with America. "If the United States needs bases in our area, she should have them. We are essen-Hal to her Pacific defenses. She is equally essential to ours. We have to admit the possibility that, out-flanked by strong enemy bases on the mainland, America's defenses in Japan may fail. That would put Australia in the front line again." The Australian government is making plans to cope with spies and saboteurs in

Naturally the United States hasn't overlooked any of the facts of this crisis in considering what, if anything, can be done to save China from the Bolshevists. However, Washington reads the signs as indieating that we must be prepared to write off China as an almost certain loss.

THIS DOESN'T MEAN THAT AMERIes won't give further aid. It does mean, as I understand it, that Uncle Sam regards it as wholly unfeasible to try to put the Nationalist government on its feet at this late date with a colossal expenditure of our resources.

Rather-as reported by my colleague John Hightower, AP diplomatic expert in Washington-the United States is concentrating on securing a non-Communist western Europe. That is the significance of the current negotiations looking towards a North Atlantic military alliance among America, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg.

In short, from the strategic point of view western Europe is regarded as relatively the more important at this crucial juncture

Then one day-if you're one of about 30 per cent of the people-it seems to explode. Maybe there's only a dull pain, or maybe it's a blinding pain, and then death, or long months of lying quietly in bed. Last night the public health service said heart disease is still the No. 1 killer, that

I've wondered what it did to him and to his thinking about himself, Then I found a man who had such an

Big Spring Herald,

There was a terrible feeling, like indigestion, not a sharp pain, just that dull feeling that sent him to the doctor.

The doctor took a cardiogram, a check on the heart. My friend asked him, deadpan, when it was over:

"Well, what's the score?"

"It's a heart attack," the doctor said. "How much time do I have?" my friend

"I don't know," the doctor said. "You may live 10 years, maybe 20, maybe till 65. I can't tell how your arteries are." It was a terrible shock. I guess my friend had thought his arteries would be all right till he was 100. Anyone feels that way, I guess. My friend's attack was mild. He could sit up in a chair most of the time and read. He told me: "I looked out the window, day after day, and my whole life went before me. I thought: Suppose I die today or tomorrow. What different does it make?

"I CAN'T SEE WHERE IT MAKES much difference, except to my family. It wouldn't make much difference to me. I've lived my life. I know what being alive in the world is.

"I've tried to live it without hate or prejudice for any other human being. People to me have always been people. I've had no illusions about them. Some have been horrible. Some have been wonder-

"I know that if enough of us act decently with all other human beings we may work out a civilized society. I think we can do that. I'm not sure we can.

"I've been married. I know what it means to subordinate some of your own ideas to someone else's so there can be peace within a home, at least.

"T've had children, I hope I've done a good job with them. I'll never know for sure, because they'll live longer than I."

Karl Mundt Has More Common Sense Than His Investigating Colleagues

(Copyright 1948 by Bell Syndicate) WASHINGTON, - Grover Whalen. New York's famous and popular greeter, is sole witness to the only conversation between President Truman and Gov. Dewey during the recent campaign. It occurred at the opening of Idlewild Airport last June, when Whalen introduced Truman to Dewey. On this occasion Truman

the cuff remarks. "Governor," he said, "what do you want to get into the White House for? There's nothing but trouble." COMMON-SENSE made one of his proverbial off-

Senator-elect Karl Mundt of South Dakota has more prestige and common sense than any other member of the House un-American Activities Committee. Unlike some of his colleagues he knows the difference between right and wrong

Writing to a South Dakota constiruent about the knock-down, drag-out tactics of the committee. Mundt frankly admitted:

"I agree with you about the procedural methods of the House Committee on un-American Activities. For your information, Congressman Nixon of California and I have been working for some weeks on a new set of rules to govern the procedure of our committee. Just as soon as Chairman Thomas is back, we expect to have the committee anprove these procedures.

"Thomas," continued Mundt, "is a hard fellow to control, as he is a bit of a publicity seeker and is also of a highly impetuous nature.

While he usually has the facts pretty well in hand before he speaks up in public, still I do not like his method of making a public statement about an individual until he has had the opportunity to be heard before the committee. I feel certain that the abuses of which you rightfully complain are going to be corrected within the next two or three weeks."

MUNDT IN GRANDSTAND Not merely three weeks, but nearly 12 months have passed since that letter was written. In the interim. Parnall Thomas has been relegated to the sidelines. and here's what's been happening under the two congressmen-Mundt and Nixon-who did not approve Thomas's "publicity-seeking." It was on Nov. 19 that the Baltimore atterneys for Hiss and Chambers called the Justice Department and revealed that secret State Department documents had, turned up in the Hiss-Chambers slander suit. Hard-working Alex Campbell, assistant attorney general, went to Baltimore that same day. It was 21 days later, Dec. 1, that alert Robert Stripling, attorney for the un-American Activities Committee, first heard about the secret papers. He has since admitted that he learned about them through an item by Jerry Klutz in the Washington

Immediately he telephoned Whittaker Chambers, the ex-Communist egent, and asked him to stop in when he was next in Washington, Chambers, an old friend, did so, and promised to get some additional documents for the un-American Activities Committee.

This was done via the pumpkin at the Chambers farm in Westplacing the microfilm in a pump - was born.

kin was nothing more than a clever scheme to hit the newspaper headlines. Because the microfilm was not placed in the pumpkin until after the conversation between Stripling and Chambers

SOME MICROFILM RUINED After the un-American Activities Committee got the microfilm, however, it lost two rolls-because of amateur bungling. Instead of sending the film to the FBI to be developed, the committee was so anxious to keep its pumpkin-discovery out of the Justice Department hands that it sent the film to a friend in the Veterans Administration. There two rolls were exposed to the light and are now worthless. Meanwhile, D. M. Ladd, assistant FBI director, went up to the un-American Activities Committee and asked that the microfilm be turned over to him. Assistant Attorney General Campbell made the same request, so did Attorney General Tom Clark. No result for one whole week. Finally, the nonpublicity-seeking Mundt and Nixon yielded. Another backstage move which the public didn't know about occurred when the committee called ex-state department official Henry J. Wadleigh. During an hour or so of grilling, Wadleigh refused to say anything. Previously and secretly, however, he had told his story to Alex Camp-

Campbell had asked him not to testify before the committee because of section 3486, title 18 of the U. S. Code, which states: "No testimony given by a witness before either House, or before any committee of either House, . shall be used as evidence in any criminal proceeding against him in any court."

Campbell has also warned the un-American Activities Committee officially and by formal letter that testimony by witnesses before it might prevent the Juntice Department from using this evidence later in criminal prose-

However, the non-publicity-seeking Mundt and Nixon have continued their frantic search for the headlines just the same.

MERRY-GO-ROUND Some guests wondered why Secretary of Defense Forrestal wasn't at the Gridiron Dinner last week when most other eabinet members were. Inside reason was that Forrestal was invited one month ago, but declined. Then, about a week ago, he changed his mind, sent word he wanted to come. The answer was: Sorry, all seats at the head table are taken." . . . Forrestal hit the ceiling . . . Despite reports, Margaret Truman is planning no concert appearance in Europe . . The men who will revive the old Philadelphia Record are: Matt McCloskey, building contractor: Arthur Greenfield, real estate man; John B. Kelly, ex-Olymic champion and former chairman of the Philadelphia Democratic County Committee; Luther Harr, city treasurer; Isadore Ostroff and Stanley Wohl. Former Governor Cos of Ohio and John Knight of the Knight newspapers, also bid for the Record but lost. . Bootlegging is on the upsurge again, and Internal Revenue agents have redoubled their drive against it. Moonshiners are 50 per cent more active this year than in

Television Will Be Success Because It Pays Advertiser

from Big Spring as you might think... According to reports from the Fort Worth area where Texas' first video station began operation early this fall, programs may be picked up with reasonable clarity within a radius of 100 miles.

Otherwsle, if a station were established as near as Abilene or Odessa, it probably would be within range of the city.

The greatest obstacle, at the moment is the great cost of facilities for a station -right at $1 million for the best. However this and any other drawback will be overcome without a doubt. The reason being that the medium has already proved its worth as a commercial sales instrument and you can rest assured that when anything makes a dollar in the U. S. it's a cinch for speedy success despite bans that minor league baseball or any other organization may place on it.

A single advertiser is already spending $1 million annually on television programs. Over 480 advertisers in this country are giving it a place in their budget. The reader needs only to look at the is taking place .- ADRIAN VAUGHAN

Television may not be as far away meteor-like rise of FM radio to see that video set prices will soon be rivalling those of radios. Already portable receivers that sell for around $200 are being put out. Salesrooms are crowded with every type of receiver desired for immediate delivery at prices from $150 up.

. The Houston area will have television starting January 1. Thus a large segment of the Texas populace will be receiving the new sight and sound medium that started practically from scratch' late in 1945. Who knows what we'll have two years from now.

Programs for the new southeast Texas station will consist of remotes of all noteworthy sporting and cultural events of the area and local news coverage. National and world events will have to be flown in on movie film as a CBS service until the new co-axial cable from the East reaches the state next year. Then there will be few spots on earth that won't be accessible soon to viewing from the front rooms of the section when anything big

Sergeant's Invention Aided In Normandy Breakthrough

Jr., made only one invention in his lifebut it helped win the battle of Normandy. It was this unheralded young sergeant who figured out a way for American tanks to crash through the French hedgerows.

across France Recognizing that the "suggestion box" principle pays off on the battlefield as we'l as on the industrial front, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower pays tribute to "Bud" Culin in his memoirs. I set out to get the sergeant's own story. and found him less impressed with his own invention than was his commanderin-chief. Ex-Sergeant Culin, a slender, blond, mild-looking man of 33, now holds an office post here with Schenley Distillers,

This led to Gen. Patton's famous dash

"I commanded a light tank in the 102nd Cavalry Reconnaissance Squadron," he said, "and my invention, if you want to eall it that, was something anybody in the front lines would have come up with in a few days. Our squadron just happened to be the first to try it out and develop it."

FOR SIX WEEKS AFTER THE LANDing in Normandy the American Army made advances measure in terms of yards rather than miles. The landscape offered almost as much resistance to progress as did the dug-in enemy.

The chief obstacles were the famous Normandy hedgerows. They were massive banks of dirt, centuries old, and topped by thick growths of shrubbery and small

"When our tanks hit them, it was like Siegfried Line.

NEW YORK, P-CURTIS G. CULIN, cracking into a stone wall," said Culing "And if we tried to climb over them, the under belly of the tank was exposed. The German anti-tank guns then could rip us open like sardine cans. Our own tank guns were pointed at the sky-useless. We couldn't defend ourselves."

The problem was to find a way for the tanks to force a path through the hedgerows, guns firing, instead of clamoring over them. At first combat engineers were sent out on foot to blast holes in the hedgerows. But they were picked off by German infantry.

"O'ne day my commanding officer called a meeting of non-coms to get suggestions." said Culin, "I didn't know anything about mechanics or engineering, but I had seen a lot of German iron roadblocks. "I suggested putting sharpened chunks of iron from these roadblocks on our tanks so we could dig through the hedgerows." THEY TRIED IT. THEY WELDED four flanges to a crossbar, fixed it to a.

tank-and the 15-ton vehicle pitch-forked its way right through the nearest hedge-"Gen. Bradley heard about it and came down to watch a demonstration," said Culin. "He saw it worked, and swore us to secrecy. He then secretly had 600 of our frontline tanks equipped. They were used to spearhead our attack." The device caught the Germans completely by surprise, and the American Army made a successful breakthrough of the Nazi lines at St. Lo on July 25th, 1944 -the breakthrough that earried to the

Strong Controls And Much Higher Taxes Are In Offing

WASHINGTON, Behind the White House scenes, the President's right and left wing advisers have been locked in another of their languid but embittered struggles. The issue has been the President's policy on economic controls and taxation. And the outcome can apparently be summed up in the six bleak words-strong controls and much higher taxes. In these palace battles, even the composition of forces is sometimes difficult to discern exactly. But there are signs, nonetheless, that the present struggle has shown an interesting variation from the rrevious pattern.

The leading advocates of boldness have been the White House counsel, Clark Dlifford, and Dr. Leon Keyserling of the Economic Advisory Council. These two devised the ten-point inflation control program which the President offered to the special session of Congress in November. 1947, against the virtually unanimous advice of his Cabinet. Their position thus year politicking remains unchanged, as does Truman's reliance upon them. It is a change, however, that the Cabinet has remained largely aloof, except that Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder has given his customary advice to go slow. And it is also an important change thir time been Dr. Keyserling's chief, the chairman of the Economic Advisory Couneil, Dr. Edwin Nourse, and the Director of the Budget, James Webb. The lineup discloses the existence of two schools of thought about national policy, both beginning with almost the same assumptions, but divided on the crucial points of timing and range of governmental ef-

The great advantage of the "go-fast" faction has been their previous successes, prior to the fall session last year, and the summer special session this year. Perhaps a greater effort might have been made by the "go slow" group on those earlier occasions, if they had regarded the President's messages to the two special sessions as anything more than statements to clear the political record. They were well aware the messages would not be acted upon by Congress then. They are more than a little rueful to discover that these mere scraps of paper of the past have now become a program for positive action, by a President just triumphantly re-elected with a strong sense

The economic controls for which the

gress are in fact the same controls that he fruitlessly proposed to the now fallen. but once so complacent Eightleth Congress. In November, 1947, and again last summer, he pressed a wide ranging and ambitious plan. It included controls of consumer credit and bank credit; regulation of commodity speculation; materials allocation and inventory controls; strengthened rent controls, selective price controls, and standby powers to ration scarce goods. At the summer special session, the last Congress acted only in a limited way on the recommendations for controls of consumer credit and bank credit. The other recommendations were ostentatiously not considered. But they will be considered this time. The President now speaks with the confidence and authority of his great personal victory on election day. He means to fight for the program which was once laughed off as mere election-

He will fight also for much higher taxes. The Democratic Congressional leaders blanch at the mere thought, but within the Administration the need for higher taxes is unanimously admitted. The question is not whether taxes must be raised, but how. The Treasury has little liking that the chief champions of caution have for excess profits taxes, which inevitably penalize new enterprises with no earlier record of good revenue. But on the issue of the higher corporation taxes favored by the Treasury versus the excess profits taxes favored by the "go fast" faction in the White House, the advocates of the stronger course again have the same advantage. The President recommended an excess profits tax to the special session last summer.

The mere preservation of consistency is not the only argument being used for excess profits taxes, however, Industrial profits have risen from $12.5 billion after taxes in 1946, which was then an all time high, to another all time high of $18.1 billion in 1947, to a third estimated all time high of $21 billion this year. These huge profits for industry are considered strongly inflationary They are also an open invitation to labor, to make further inflationary fourth-round wage demands. Tax the profits and halt the inflationary cycle, has become the watchword.

The aim is to raise as much as $5 billion of added government revenue by new taxation. The projected excess profits tax is not expected to produce more than about half of this sum

Stores To Give Shoppers Break, Will Close Later

Several Big Spring stores will suspend regular closing schedules next week to accomodate customers during the rush period for Christmas shopping, the retial merchant's committee of the chamber of commerce has announced.

Due to individual established policies, the committee has not developed a definite closing schedule for city-wide observance. However, store owners and managers who wish to keep their establishments open during evening hours have committee approval to do so. Several managers already have indicated that they will remain open for business until 7:30 p. m. each day beginning Monday and continuing through Christmas Eve, while others will not change their regular schedules.

The chamber of commerce retail merchant's committee has suggested that each firm take steps to notify customers of its Christmas week closing schedule.
