Mussolini Annexes Ethiopia

ITALIAN KING GIVEN TITLE OF 'EMPEROR'

MARSHAL BADOGLIO IS NAMED VICEROY OF KINGDOM

By ANDRUE BERDING Associated Press Foreign Staff

ROME, May 9.—Premier Benito Mussolini tonight announced to his millions of subjects that Ethiopia had been placed under the full and complete sovereignty of Italy...

Afterward, he shouted to his people: "Officers, non-commissioned officers, privates, all armed forces of the state in Africa and Italy, Italians, men and women..."

"The Italian people have created an empire with their blood. They will fertilize it with their work and will defend it against anyone with their men..."

"Will you be worthy of it?" A tremendous "Si!" answered him. "This cry is like a sacred vow," Il Duce responded.

"Again the crowd shouted "Si!" "...which binds you before God, before men, for life and for death," the Dictator continued.

"Backshirts, legionnaires, salute the King!" A tremendous "Viva Il Re!" roared back.

The center of a blinding concentration of searchlights, Mussolini stepped onto the balcony from successive meetings of the Grand Council of Fascism and the Italian Cabinet.

These bodies, highest in the land, had given instant approval to the documents.

His words, granting the imperial title of the Exalted Italian Emperor to Victor Emmanuel for himself and his successors, carried also by radio to millions in the far corners of the earth.

In the closely packed Venezia square, massed files of troops in steel helmets, carrying rifles, gas masks and artillery and machine-gun parts, served notice on the world to keep hands off Italy's new Empire.

MAHAN GIVEN SIXTY-YEAR PRISON TERM

Pleads Guilty To Charge Of Kidnaping Boy And Is Taken To Island.

TOCOMA, Wash., May 9.—(AP)—The government closed its books on the $200,000 George Weyerhaeuser kidnaping case tonight by putting William Mahan in Federal prison on a 60-year sentence.

The scar-faced robber-thief-kidnaper, bowing his head far down over a brilliant red necktie, pleaded guilty and today to kidnaping and conspiracy charges, quickly received the long sentence and two hours later was "dressed in" at nearby McNeil Island penitentiary.

He spoke only in monosyllables, refused Federal Judge E. E. Cushman's offer of legal aid and invited immediate pronouncement of sentence, which he took without any outward show of feeling.

Despite the stiff sentence, the government still held a potentially heavy threat over his head—an indictment charging extortion through the mails. An additional life sentence could be imposed upon him on the count, should the government press the case.

With good behavior, Mahan will be eligible to apply for parole in 2 years—when he will be 53 years old.

SHERIFFS WIN AFTER PARLEY WITH ALLRED

ARMY COLONEL NAMED CHIEF OF STATE DEPARTMENT

AUSTIN, May 9, (AP)—L. G. Phares resigned today as director of the department of public safety, a resignation which was accepted against his will by several Texas sheriffs.

The public safety commission appointed Lt. Col. Horace H. Carmichael, assistant adjutant general, to succeed Phares, who was retained as chief of the highway patrol, a division in the department which also embraced the drivers' license bureau.

Albert Sidney Johnson of Dallas, who announced the resignation in a statement explaining the reasons, said the changes were effective immediately.

Phares' selection as acting director when the department was organized last fall was protested by a group of sheriffs who yesterday conferred with the governor and commission to further their opposition to his appointment April 7 as director. Johnson said the sheriffs endorsed him for chief of the highway patrol.

Dissension split the commission when Phares was promoted to director. One member, D. D. Baker of Seguin, resigned and W. H. Richard of Austin was appointed to succeed him.

Johnson said Phares asked to resign because a fight being made against him "by certain parties" could "only result in injuring the department and retarding its law enforcement program." He praised Phares "as a man and a public official," and said the charge he had not been fair to Rangers "is without merit."

To dispel possible friction, Johnson said, Rangers were allowed to report directly to the commission. Johnson believed Phares' action was for the best interest of the department. "A vigorous fight is being made upon him and the department is rapidly being drawn into politics," he said.

Governor Allred praised Carmichael as "a good man with lots of experience, and I think it is a good choice." A World War veteran, Carmichael served as assistant adjutant general during the administration of Governors Dan Moody and Ross L. Sterling, during which time Rangers were a part of that department.

Dramatic Skits To Be Broadcast This Afternoon

Radio station KPDN will devote an hour and a half in three 30-minute broadcasts this afternoon to the Panhandle Centennial exhibition to be held here June 2, 3, 4 and 5.

The feature program of the broadcast will publicize the Cavalcade of Scouting to be given the evening of June 2 and will be presented by local scoutmasters from 5:30 until 6 o'clock. The committee expects to announce complete plans for the floats which will have "sustained courage" for their theme.

No Limit Made On Joining CCC —Time Is Short

Final instructions have been received for CCC enrollments to take place daily from now until May 15. All applicants must report at the designated camps before midnight May 15. An unlimited quota of white applicants who can qualify has been received. Eligibility requirements are the same as those of the last enrollment, the chief of which are single boys between the ages of 17 and 28 inclusive, unemployed, whose families are receiving aid through the Texas Relief commission, Rural resettlement, or county welfare organization, where the family has had former relief status. Applicants must be able to stand a physical examination and must be able to make their own arrangements to get to the designated camp.

Further information can be received by those interested from either the TRC case worker or county welfare worker. Applications for enrollment will be made daily.

This is the first opportunity for an unlimited quota and, coming at the time when WPA is making drastic reductions in case loads is expected to provide many families the means of livelihood for several months, besides giving the boys enrollment in some of the finest training available to them.

STATE POLITICS AROUSES DEMOS AT CONVENTION

Harmony Flees as Resolutions Are Debated

ABILENE, May 9. (AP)—Showing a semblance of the fiery spirit which has characterized former sessions, Young Democrats of Texas raised so much objection to a resolution for harmony with the national party and state officers, that the controversial portion was withdrawn by the resolutions committee.

The part expressed confidence in the duly constituted officers of the state, and commended such officers as fully capable and qualified, and was opposed by numerous delegations on the ground that it would place the organization in political partisanship during the coming Texas election, whereas, the unit is bound to refrain from advocating any candidate in a Democratic primary. The resolution, as commending the national administration was then adopted.

Houston was chosen as the next convention city and Jack Burroughs Jr., Dallas, selected president, during a closing business hour, which wound up the two-day session Saturday afternoon. The two other most important positions, that of national committeeman and of chairman of the executive committee, went to Earle B. Mayfield Jr., Tyler, and Oscar A. McCracken Jr., San Antonio. The latter, with French M. Robertson of Haskell who was permanent chairman for the convocation, was given commendation by the executive committee for the speedy and harmonious manner in which convention business was arranged and presented.

Alex Schneider made a business trip to LeFors yesterday.

Big Bag Held Down With Help of Spectators

BY GREGORY HEWLETT Associated Press Staff Writer LAKEHURST, N. P., May 9. (AP)—Safely berthed after a few exciting moments at the end of her record-breaking flight from Germany, the mighty zeppelin Hindenburg tonight was refueled for the homeward journey.

A half hundred civilians sprang to the ropes when a shift in the wind threatened to tear the great airliner from the hands of a small landing crew of sailors.

Her powerful motors purring with smooth rhythm, the newest and greatest of Germany's sky cruisers settled majestically down at the naval air station as the morning sun rose over the horizon.

Bearing 51 passengers, a crew of 56 and a cargo of mail and freight, the Zeppelin had spanned the 4,381 land miles between Friedrichshafen and Lakehurst in 61 hours, 57 minutes. It left the German base at 3:30 a. m. (eastern standard time) Wednesday and reached the air station, its United States port, at 5:23 a. m. today.

Preparations for the return flight, scheduled for Monday night, went ahead. Hydrogen gas to replace that lost in the two-and-one-half day passage and in the necessary "valving" at the landing was to be replaced tonight.

Passengers, interviewed after they had cleared the customs and completed with other regulations, expressed satisfaction with the performance of the ship and termed the passage "smooth."

People You Know

Two years ago the school teacher went to the home of the boy, her favorite pupil, who was ill of appendicitis. Without saying a word, the mother began weeping. "He's going to die." The child had on a starched shirt.

Then he had 3 brothers and 2 sisters. The oldest was a boy, 14.

Last week, the teacher heard someone say: "His Mother is dead." Then she learned the mother and two girls died last summer; that the 4 little boys have been hatching all winter in a house that is half-fallen down. Their father works in a town 30 miles away. The skin on the faces of the boys is drawn tight by malnutrition, a medical term for starvation. The boys look at you with steel-grey eyes as if to say, "I'm starving but what of it!"

That is a human interest story for you.

INDIANS WILL OPEN AGAINST SKELLY TODAY

GREGORY AND KEELING TO DIVIDE HURL- IN DUTIES

The Pampa-Busy Indians will open the baseball season this afternoon against their old diamond rivals, the Skellytown Oilers. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock on the Skellytown diamond.

C. O. Busby, organizer of the team, has named Glen Moore manager. Moore will be behind the bat for the opening game. Harold Gregory and Benny Keeling will divide hurling duties this afternoon.

The Indians have been working out for two weeks. The boys are fast rounding into form. Practically the same team that has carried the name of the Indians for two years will be in uniform again.

Skellytown's team was organized last week with players from the old Skellytown nine and the Stanlind Oilers out for practice. A starting lineup has not been worked out and batteries were not available yesterday.

Canzoneri Wins Over McLarnin

NEW YORK, May 9. (AP)—While all Broadway buzzed with echoes of his spectacular defeat of Irish Jimmy McLarnin last night little Tony Canzoneri, the lightweight champion, trained his sights on still bigger game today.

Nursing a badly cut nose in a midtown hide-away, one of the greatest little battlers of all time flung a challenge toward Chicago and the camp of Barney Ross, the welterweight king.

"First I want to get Lou Ambers out of the way," he said. "Then I'll be ready for Ross. I'll give McLarnin another bout, too, if he wants it.

Except for his damaged nose, Tony came out of last night's bruising bout in good shape, but he plans to rest for six weeks before beginning training for Ambers.

England Sits Up And Takes Note Of Great Omaha

KEMPTON PARK, Eng., May 9 (AP)—England learned about Omaha today.

Starting his first race over the British turf, the big chestnut from William Woodward's stable, America's leading three-year old last year, easily defeated five rivals in the one and one-half miles of the Victor will stakes.

Omaha passed three of his opponents, Montrose, Lobau and Marshall Fields' American-owned Enfield, like they were standing still at the head of the stretch, and automatically established himself as the favorite for the Ascot gold cup to be run June 18.

At the finish the son of Gallant Fox was one and one-half lengths in front of Montrose, carrying the silks of Mrs. MacDonald Buchanan with Lady Abergevny's Lobau another five lengths back. Despite the fact it was his first race over the turf and he was running the "wrong" way of the track, the American champion was the odds-on-favorite at 4 to 5. Enfield was among the also rans.

Today's race was the first for Omaha since winning the classic at Arlington Park, Chicago, last July.

Tornado Sweeps Area in Texas

Joy Morrison, 20, of Trenton, Fannin county, Texas, was electrocuted when he picked up the end of a wire blown down by the storm.

In Denton county, Texas, searchers recovered from Hickory creek the body of Hick Myers, 82, swept from his horse as he forded the raging torrent last night.

F. W. Gaegle, 50, patient in a San Antonio hospital, was killed by lightning Friday as he fished. Sam Corley, 45, wrecked his automobile in a storm and was killed. W. K. McDaniel, 85, was killed in a tornado which struck Bonham, near the Oklahoma border.

Rainfall at Tyler was measured at 6.70 inches at noon Saturday. A tornado struck near the city's airport, blowing down two barns and uprooting trees. The same storm lifted and whipped to earth again at Lindale a short distance westward. Here several houses were destroyed and their occupants injured.

At Omaha, Morris county, Texas, a terrific wind injured two persons. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Story were the victims, hurt when their new home was wrecked. Furniture was carried a mile by the gale.

GROOM SEEKS OFFICER
 A petition signed by over two hundred Groom citizens was presented to the commissioners' court of Carson county Monday by a committee headed by J. W. Knorpp. The petition asked that a peace officer be appointed by the county and paid by the county to be stationed at Groom.

Completion of U. S. Highway 66, which goes through Groom, has attracted a large amount of through traffic between Chicago, Ill., and Los Angeles, Calif., and has also attracted a number of desperate criminals who prey upon these tourists. A number of hi-jackings have taken place in the vicinity of Groom within the past few weeks and Groom people feel that it is the duty of the county to supply an officer to protect that section of the county.

COYOTE CHASES HOUNDS

When residents of the Marella Community in Collingsworth county get a bunch of greyhounds together and go on a coyote hunt the incident is more or less ordinary—but when a coyote goes hunting for greyhounds, well, that's news.

Last Tuesday afternoon five members of the Claunch family were walking down in the river bed near the Claunch farm, when they looked down the river and saw three objects rapidly approaching them. Much to their surprise, the objects turned out to be greyhounds, and close behind them was a large coyote in hot pursuit.

The coyote followed the dogs until he saw the five men who were watching him, and then he made for the south bank.

GEOGRAPHY HAS LARGEST PART IN COST OF BUILDING HOMES

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—One of the most certain things about the geography of the United States is that it is not, save politically, one country and, indeed, a Man from Mars or even from some less distant place could scarcely believe that Maine and Arkansas, North Carolina and Kansas, are parts of the same country. Different languages are spoken in different regions, different thoughts obsess the inhabitants, there are different customs and mores. A new mark of difference which has just been brought out by federal agencies is that the cost of building a house in one section of the country is far different than in other sections.

This does not mean that it costs more to build a house in an exclusive neighborhood than in a slum district or one in the middle ground. Land values are barred from the consideration entirely. The study has been made on the basis of identical houses without regard even to landscaping and planting or even interior decorating. Costs of material and labor form the basis of the comparisons and the figures indicate that there are wide differences. If you live in Providence, R. I., for example, this typical house can be built for $6,442 which is 26.8 cents per cubic foot. If you live in Columbia, S. C., you can build the identical house for $4,337 or 18 cents per cubic foot.

When one comes to figure the annual interest on money invested in such a house, in addition to the original cost, it will be seen that Providence and Columbia can scarcely be regarded as in the same country from the economic point of view. To be sure it would cost a lot more to live in the Providence house, too, because of the long winter during which fuel expenses would have to be met. Presumably, repair costs in Providence would be higher also.

In connection with their broad housing program, the Federal Home Loan Bank board and the Home Owners' Loan corporation have been making these studies. One of the principal reasons for wanting the information is need for some index as to the number of persons who may be expected to build their own homes. The framing of a national housing policy is believed to be, in part, dependent on such knowledge.

It is recognized that there are large differences in land values in different parts of the country and large differences within the same city, so land values have been entirely eliminated. Only the standard house has been considered.

House For Average American Family.

This standard house has a cubic volume of 24,000 feet. It has living room, dining room, kitchen, and lavatory on the first floor; three bedrooms and a bathroom on the second floor. In the basement, there is but one large room containing heating and laundry facilities, while in the garret there is an unfinished space, but a space capable of being finished into two rooms.

Gypsy Weather

BY MARGARET BELL HOUSTON

CHAPTER I.
BROKEN ENGAGEMENT.

HERE had never been a woman in the house as long as Dirk could remember. Just his brother, Rupert, and their father. And now just he and Rupert. Unless, of course, you called Mary, the house-keeper, a woman in Dirk's rather nazy opinion, Mary was a voice, a black apron, and a bunch of keys. And naturally there were housemaids and laundresses and 20 or 30 years ago there had been Dirk's nurse-maids, Genevieve in particular. But there had been no woman in command of this unobtrusive professional.

However, there would be a woman now, Lowrie Wood, with its great stone castle that had overlooked the Hudson from the gloom of oaks and hedged gardens for more than a hundred years, was to have a mistress again. Elinor Fleming's mother had gone at last, and Elinor was due to marry Rupert to whom she had been engaged for six years.

Dirk was glad. Elinor had always seemed to belong to Lowrie. Every fortnight or so she dined there, wearing a fitting queenliness through the beautiful vaulted rooms, or sitting opposite Rupert at the long Flemish table, with the portraits of dead and gone Jorises watching them from the wall. Elinor sat there tonight, Old Timothy who had been with the family since the days of Dirk's grandfather had seemed to divine that there was something special in the occasion. The tall silver epergne in the center of the table, bright with tangerines and black Elbert grapes, glistened. Dirk and Elinor would think materials and labor would be cheaper and yet it costs over $1,000 more to build our standard house in Cumberland than in Baltimore.

Rosnoke, Va., is among the most economical cities in which to build, according to figures. There the house may be erected for $4,508 or 18.7 cents a cubic foot. Richmond is higher with figures of $5,946 and 21 cents per cubic foot.

To the local labor and material costs is added an arbitrarily fixed sum to cover certain overhead expenses including public liability and workmen's compensation costs and a flat 10 per cent as builder's profit. Even if it is an owner-builder, he will have to employ a contractor. Such a profit is low and it is doubtful whether the work could be contracted for at that rate in all localities.

Everyone who has ever built a house for himself is well aware that the final cost has been more than the estimate, even allowing what had first been believed wide tolerances. Something else, some change always occurs before the end of the job and means extra cost. But this study has the merit of giving prospective builders in various places a general basis of calculation.

There was a bishop, and she herself had always seemed to Dirk like some figure from a stained-glass window. Strange that she should have stepped down from her violet niche to accept the earthly, faunlike Rupert, erratic even before he had begun his heavier drinking.

Somewhere back in the family there had been a Croon Joris who was a little mad. How else could they explain the violent and outrageous things he did? His portrait by Jan Steen—a rare thing—hung now above Elinor's head, like a sword of Damocles.

Dirk could not account for the comparison, moving so darkly through his mind, except that the portrait might have been of Rupert dressed in seventeenth-century armor and cape.

He came back with a start. Elinor had said something more. She had said something in a voice that held no trace of breaking. The words were still vibrating in the room.

"I am going to marry Gage Seymour," she had said, and the stem of Rupert's wine-glass had snapped in his fingers. The bowl of the glass had toppled, rolled, lay in a red stain. Elinor seemed not to see.

College Meets All Demands of Young Strikers

PULLMAN, Wash., May 9 (AP)—Students of Washington State college who went to class today did so only because they wanted to. A student strike had brought the desired effect before it was a day old.

A faculty committee met virtually all demands made by spokesmen for 3,200 students who remained away from the classroom yesterday.

The movement began as a student protest against minor social conduct rules set up by the dean of women, but the list of "demands" grew rapidly.

Now co-eds may go serenading Friday and Saturday night dates may last until 1 a. m. Instead of midnight, men's and women's houses may have social mixers until 7:30 p. m. Wednesdays, and class attendance is not compulsory.

CENTENNIAL FIELD MASS WILL BE HELD IN AMARILLO TODAY AND BROADCAST OF IT GIVEN

Arrangements are being completed for the Centennial celebration which is to take place in Amarillo today at 10:30 a. m. As has been done in several cities of Southern Texas during the past few months, a Solemn Pontifical Field mass will be celebrated at Ellwood park, across from St. Mary's Academy, at which a large number of people from many parts of the Panhandle will be present. Two archbishops and seven bishops of the Catholic church will be in attendance, as well as a host of monsignori, clergy, and people. From as far west as Reno, Nevada, Bishop Gorman will make the journey to Amarillo, and as far east as New Orleans a group of Sisters of the Incarnate Word are coming to join in this Texas Centennial celebration.

The sermon will be preached by His Excellency, Most Rev. Francis Kelley, D. D., Bishop of Oklahoma City and Tulsa. Music will be rendered by the National Guard band and a group of fifty soldiers will serve as a guard of honor. A volley of 36 guns will be fired at the moment of consecration, and six buglers will sound taps at the close of the service. Lunches are being prepared for the many hundreds of guests who will attend this celebration from outlying cities.

The former Bishop of Amarillo, His Excellency, Most Rev. R. A. Gerken, D. D., now Archbishop of Santa Fe, New Mexico, has been invited to attend as celebrant of the Pontifical Field mass.

A large sanctuary and altar are now under construction on the grounds of St. Mary's Academy facing Ellwood park. Many thousands of people are expected to attend as a tribute to the memory of Texas soldiers who fell at the Alamo, were massacred at Goliad and triumphed at San Jacinto.

The music of the National Guard band, the singing of the especially augmented choir of over 50 voices and the sermon of Bishop Kelley will be broadcast by Station K. G. N. C., Amarillo, beginning at 10:30 a. m. A description of the entire ceremony also will be given.

Father Joseph Wonderly, pastor of the local Holy Souls Catholic church, said yesterday that plans race into full swing, a grant two months before the first democratic primary. Thompson lived at Alvord for nine years, later removing to Amarillo.

Issues in the race, which will be for a place on the commission as the chairmanship rotates biennially, apparently centered on administration of oil and gas conservation and proration laws. Early statements of other candidates indicated oil would provide the main theme.

Since the commission was established to regulate railroads, supervision of motor buses and trucks, and appellate rate regulation over certain types of utilities have been added to its duties.

Thompson was elected four years ago for the unexpired term of Pat M. Neff, former governor and now president of Baylor university. Thompson previously had been appointed. The full term is six years.

INFANT IS BURIED

The funeral for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Case was held Friday at the Holy Souls Catholic church, with the Rev. Joseph Wonderly in charge. Burial followed in Fairview cemetery with the Chas. Duenkel Funeral home directing. The child died Thursday night.

MOTHER

(Tribute to Mrs. H. L. Powers.)
Our friend and neighbor has gone.
Her mission in life's fulfilled.
Her round of daily tasks is done,
Those busy hands forever stilled.

Trials and heartaches no doubt she had,
But serene and smiling her face.
Her happy way made others glad,
Reflecting her inward grace.

With routine tasks her days seemed filled,
She'd never wasted a moment of time.
In needlework her hands were skilled—
Quilts, embroidery, with stitches so fine.

For her a plant or shrub would grow
Where others had no luck at all.
'Twas in her touch—she loved them so
Her flowers bloomed from spring through fall.

If someone were ill, not feeling good,
She'd find time, as soon as she heard,
To pick a flower, prepare some food,
Offer it with smile and cheery word.

Then invalidism came to her one day.
For many months, with loving care,
Her children sought to smooth the way
Through pain and suffering hard to bear.

We marveled at her patience great.
Her cheerful mein, her smiling face—
A mem'ry sweet, poised to emulate.
We loved her, admired her Christian grace.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The size of the audience which listened to the "canned dog food" speech of Senator L. J. Dickinson (Rep., Ia.), fluctuating as it did between a low point of one senator and a high water mark of five senators, might be taken as an approximate measure of the enthusiasm in Washington over the senator's candidacy for the presidency.

Failure of the speech to make an effective issue, and certain aspects of it which incited to laughter, provided an example of the sort of thing which confines the Dickinson support to tiny fragments of the Republican party.

Few who sat through the senator's long and dreary keynote speech at the Chicago convention four years ago have ever quite forgiven him. It is at least a tenable theory that Dickinson's aspirations for the presidency were settled then and there.

But "Hell Roaring Dick," as he is called, had a secret conference with Herbert Hoover a few weeks ago and all who talked with him thereafter noticed a new gleam in his eye. They gathered the distinct impression that, second only to Mr. Hoover, Senator Dickinson was Mr. Hoover's candidate for the Republican nomination.

When Dickinson rose to tell the world that 20,000,000 cans of dog food were being consumed by human beings, everyone felt that this was his first big blast in a plunge for the presidency.

Publicity sheets from western headquarters of the Republican national committee were distributed in advance with text of the speech and "description" of its delivery. This said it was a "sensational" speech, told how Dickinson emphasized certain points "with studied deliberation," and declared he had exhibited cans of dog food to the Senate.

As a matter of fact, Dickinson displayed no dog food and had to explain that he had it in his office. All this was another example of the Republican national committee's fuddled publicity, which is rapidly becoming notorious—causing the strategists behind the Governor Landon candidacy to tear their hair.

It gave newspaper correspondents a chance to write funny stories and Democratic senators a chance to take a lot of the edge off the Dickinson speech.

This calls to mind the rumor that Prof. Asher Hobson, one of the Republican national committee's new "brain trusters," inspired the Dickinson manuscript. Until recently Hobson was connected with the Department of Agriculture and the new AAA soil conservation program. His colleagues regarded him as rather a New Dealer.

There are certain dangers in attaching a "brain trust" to a political organization and the Republican committee has been having trouble with one or two of its brain trusters, whose ideas as to solution of national problems are so logical as to be more radical than New Deal panaceas.

The Democratic national committee, perhaps on the theory that brains and politics don't mix, won't allow a brain truster within half a mile of it, although the administration itself is full of them.

FEDERAL DEPARTMENT OPPOSES QUOTA BASIS FOR CONTROL OF OIL IMPORTS TO THIS COUNTRY

ASPHALT INDUSTRY IS DEMANDING MORE PROTECTION

Russell M. Brown, attorney for the Independent Petroleum Association of America, in a weekly report writes in part as follows:

"The date for the hearing on the Disney oil import bill which has been promised by Chairman Doughton of the House Ways and Means committee was to be delayed until Mr. Doughton's return to Washington. It is quite possible that the State Department may object to adoption of the section of this bill which establishes quotas for the importation of foreign petroleum and its products. The State department has been insistent that no legislation should interfere with its freedom of action in negotiating reciprocal trade agreements with other nations. It is also known that the State department is, by policy, opposed to the establishment of quotas. In the previous administration, the State department was opposed to the proposal of either a tariff or the excise taxes upon petroleum imports which were nevertheless voted by Congress. Should it officially oppose a quota limitation of oil imports, it will be consistent with its long policy."

"The large number of those in the petroleum industry who would be vitally affected by the termination of the present discrimination in favor of foreign asphalt and this actually means everybody in the domestic industry now have an opportunity to express their position to the Senators and Congressmen as well as to Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas who introduced in the Senate, Wednesday, April 29, an amendment to the Federal Aid Highway bill, requiring the exclusive use of domestic products and materials in the construction or repair of highways built with federal funds, when these are produced in this country in sufficient quantity. A copy of this amendment was given in the brief submitted by this association to the House committee on roads and accompanied our report No. 116, dated March 27, 1936. This amendment has been proposed in the House by Congressman Willburn Cartwright of Oklahoma but which was not acted upon by that body."

"The adoption of this amendment would revise that part of the domestic asphalt industry which has been lying dormant because the domestic market has, in large degree, been turned over to importers of the foreign product."

"The Senate committee on post-offices and post-roads in its favorable report on the Federal Aid Highway bill, quotes the Bureau of Internal Revenue figures to the effect that 9.8 per cent of all revenue collections are derived from petroleum taxes or taxes on the automobile industry, the exact figure being $296,086,984."

"A monopolistic situation, granting practically exclusive rights in government asphalt contracts, appears to be given to paving contractors in New York City because they are under contract for the yearly requirements with various oil companies who confine their output to imported asphaltic crudes, according to a letter from H. E. Collins, assistant director of procurement, dated August 27, 1935. Provision is made in the Domestic Origins act or other legislation for granting exemptions from the clear provisions of that act merely because importers of asphalt have tied up by contract paving contractors in New York City or anywhere else. The adoption of this policy ignores the attempt of Congress to determine the character of materials to be used in highway construction and actually permits importers through their contractual relations to bid and decide upon the specifications and the exemptions to be made."

"Regulations putting into effect the Oil Leasing act which was signed by the President, August 21, 1935, have not yet been issued by the Department of the Interior, although eight months have passed since the act went into effect. It is reported that nearly 3,000 requests for approval have been delayed because of plans under permits have been filed with the department and action on these has been delayed because the regulations have not yet been approved. The Interior department states that it may be several weeks more before action is taken. After business had awaited these regulations for eight months the Interior department issued a statement to the effect that lack of approval of unit operating plans filed by holders of oil and gas prospecting permits does not prevent the permittees whose permits are otherwise in good standing from going ahead. In the absence of regulations, many permittees cannot be certain whether their plans accomplish the statutory purpose of conserving oil and gas resources since determination of that question is left to the Secretary and must agree with regulations which have not yet been drawn. Incidents like this lend force to the arguments of those opposed to any federal control program."

"J. D. Collett, president of O'Keefe & Collett, Fort Worth, Texas, addressed the Round Table on Natural Resource Policies, part of the annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce, on State Responsibilities Concerning Petroleum and Natural Gas Resources." Mr. Collett pointed out the limitations on the present interstate compact, remarking, "I do not believe that state compacts will reach their maximum efficiency until they are limited only

"Gypsy in Us" Puts Americans On Road Often

It must be the gypsy in us. One of the country's best-known travel experts predicts from his reputation on the prediction—that between 35 and 40 million Americans will take interstate trips, averaging more than 3,500 miles each, this year.

The president, Joe T. Thompson, national director of the Conoco Travel Bureau, Denver, declares that indices of this imminent travel boom are "plentiful." For instance, he says:

"We recently let it be known we would furnish a free 'Touraide'—bound personal itinerary containing maps and a hotel and tourist lodge guide, and bearing the motorist's name in print on the cover to motorists planning long trips. This was to replace old-style folding road maps."

"Requests for these touraide have come in so fast from all over the continent that we have had to employ 327 clerks on three seven-hour shifts. Although they're putting out 4,000 touraide a day, 25,000 requests have piled up. We'll probably give out 400,000 of these touraide before we get through with the year's travel business."

Explaining how he arrived at his estimate that upwards of 35 million Americans will take a handful of gasoline and he'll take his family and head for the open road. The predominant American malady is nostalgia for the mountain, plain, river, plateau or verdant valley beyond the horizon, and automobile touring is the favorite antidote.

Elevations in Los Angeles city limits range from sea level to 2,785 feet. The limitations placed by statute upon production in each of the statutory states. They are not going the whole route when they agree to consider only physical waste. He added that he hoped that other states would adopt the compact idea and that the scope of the compact would be broadened. He also urged that all members of every board and commission administering conservation laws be made eligible only if qualified by actual experience and training in the oil and gas business. In regard to imports, he said, "Another matter of interest to the state lies in the constant threat to their domestic production from imported petroleum and its products. No state has authority to prevent the shipment of imported crudes or products to refineries within its borders or to its industrial consumers. The volume of such importation might reach the point of almost or completely annihilating the local producers but the state could, on its own initiative, do nothing about it. It can, however, and should lend its support to the effort to secure federal regulation of imports, restricting the importation of foreign crude oil and products to some reasonable percentage of the domestic demand."

Gray County Far in Lead With Tests—Three New Gassers in List.

Fifteen new wells added 5,594 barrels of oil and 62,688,000 cubic feet of gas to the daily potential production of the Panhandle field in the last week. Twelve of the tests were oil wells.

Oil Plants Are Expanding; Texas Units Included

Over the past few years expansion of existing refining facilities and erection of costly new refineries to handle petroleum products has been an outstanding feature of industrial development in the states from Maryland to Texas. Many millions of dollars are being invested in highly efficient new units, representing the newest offerings of research engineers, chemists and equipment manufacturers cooperating with leading oil companies.

The M. W. Kellogg company, with general offices and works at Jersey City, N. J., recently completed and has work now under way on important installations, notably in Texas. At the Texas City plant of the Pan-American Refining company it is installing a combination topping and cracking unit designed for a capacity of 36,000 barrels daily. At the Atlantic Refining company's plant at Atreco, Texas, the Kellogg contract calls for a combination topping and cracking unit of 20,000 barrels daily capacity, along with miscellaneous refinery equipment.

Among the installations recently completed are the following: Magnolia Petroleum company, Beaumont, combination topping and cracking unit with stabilizer, 32,600 barrels daily capacity. Magnolia Petroleum company, Fort Worth, revamping an existing cracking installation, 2,000 barrels daily capacity. Magnolia Petroleum company, Beaumont, revamping of four existing cracking installations, 12,000 barrels daily capacity. Gulf Refining company, Port Arthur, absorption and stabilization unit, 8,000 barrels daily capacity.

UNEQUAL WITHDRAWALS TO BE CHARGED MONDAY AT HEARING IN AMARILLO FOR THIS AREA

LOCAL ASSOCIATION URGING MANY TO ATTEND

One of the most important recent hearings involving the Panhandle oil field will be held in the Herring hotel at Amarillo Monday, beginning at 10 a. m.

Lynn Boyd, secretary of the Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners association, has written letters urging many persons to attend and make their wishes known. The hearing will be held on: 1. Present gas-oil ratios of oil wells; 2. Present methods of granting water exemptions on oil wells in the Panhandle district; 3. conditions in the Sunray area of Moore county.

"Certain producers are being discriminated against by unequal withdrawals and it is to your interest, as well as to the interest of the entire Panhandle district, that you attend this meeting," Mr. Boyd wrote.

Notice is being given of a hearing in Austin May 14, at the Stephen F. Austin hotel, to determine whether water, as legally defined, is taking place in this state, and whether any rule should be promulgated or changed.

As usual, all purchasers of oil within the state are being notified to submit to the Railroad commission their nominations for oil to be purchased in June. Similarly, purchasers of gas are to make their nominations.

Attention also is being called to section 3 of House Bill 266, as follows: "It shall be the duty of all persons, companies or corporations producing natural gas from any gas well to ascertain and determine during the months of January, and July, respectively, of each year hereafter, through appropriate tests, to be made in the presence of oil well owners, and the supervision of a representative of the commission, and under uniform and generally recognized methods, and under regulations which shall be prescribed by the commission, the open flow and rock pressure of each gas well from which natural gas shall be produced, and verified reports thereof shall be filed with the commission on or before the 10th day of each of the months aforesaid, which said reports shall become a permanent public record and shall be open to the inspection and examination of the public, and which said reports shall disclose the name of the representative of the commission who was actually present when such tests were made, if any person producing gas from the same common reservoir be dissatisfied with the test as made and reported, such person may demand a second test to be made in the manner herein provided and in the presence of such person as his representative."

The commission is making preparations to have representatives available during the month of June 1936, to witness the testing of all gas wells in the state. Producers are asked to communicate with the supervisor of the district in which the wells are located, advising him the date most convenient and the length of time that will be required to witness the testing of wells.

PLAINVIEW, May 7 (AP)—Field test of a giant windmill is expected to start soon on the farm of C. M. Smith near here. The mill will have a steel wheel 22 feet in diameter and is to be mounted on a 40-foot steel tower. This is the first mill of the type shipped into Texas and the representative of the maker plans to test it for a year on the Smith irrigated farm.

Another Test in Childress Area Is Expected to Start

CHILDRESS, May 9.—It has been learned that the Alma Oil company will drill a shallow test to 3,000 feet on the Buckle L ranch 5 1/2 miles south of the No. 1 Yarbrough well.

The new location is in the southwest quarter of the W. Shelton survey, Cottle county. It is 11 miles south of Childress, and about 1 mile east.

The new well lies just 3 1/2 miles south of the abandoned Sun well drilled to a depth of 4,300 feet with oil showing. It is almost in the center of the North and South forks of Pease river.

The Alma Oil company's derrick now standing on the abandoned No. 1 Yarbrough location, is to be used on the new well. Heavy machinery belonging to the Noble Drilling company is still on the No. 1 Yarbrough location, but it is believed that a lighter rig will be brought in to put down the shallow test.

A shot at the shallow oil and gas producing sand struck at a depth of 2,770 feet March 1 on the No. 1 Yarbrough is believed to be the idea of the Alma Oil company in putting down the No. 2 Yarbrough. Oil observers here are admittedly less confident of the results of the test than they have been with other wells put down in this section, since the abandoned Sun well, which did not make a producer, lies almost exactly half way between the No. 1 Yarbrough where the shallow sand was struck, and the No. 2 Yarbrough, the Alma company's latest location.

The new location centers a large block of land now under Alma lease. It includes 8,000 acres of the Buckle L ranch, and some recent acquisitions of the Alma company on the OX ranch of Cottle county. The OX ranch is now under the control of the Aetna Life Insurance company.

"The new location is a quarter of a mile from the northern boundary of the OX ranch, and if it makes a producer of either oil or gas it is expected to open up developments throughout COLLEGE COUNTY. Meanwhile the Alma Oil company has begun to check-board the oil lands surrounding Kinkland. Having allowed several thousands of acres to fall delinquent in rental payments, the company has paid rentals on 800 acres of land in all directions from the Mollie Lou.

COLBERT AND COLMAN ARE HERE IN FILM

ANOTHER STORY OF FOREIGN LEGION TO BASIS

Motion picture fans who breathlessly followed Ronald Colman in "Beau Geste" and who adored Claudette Colbert in "It Happened One Night," have a new threat in store for them in "Under Two Flags." It is the picture which brings these two titans of the screen together in roles that surpass even the most magnificent of their past triumphs.

Produced under the direct supervision of Darryl F. Zanuck, this drama of surging power, tumultuous love and searing conflict set in the Sahara comes today to La Nora theater.

Miss Colbert plays the role of "Cigarette" in this adaptation of Quind's immortal story of the French Foreign Legion. A lovely flirt, she toys with the affections of Victor McLaglen, Legionnaire major, until she meets Colman, a member of the ranks. Then she impulsively loses her heart to him.

The drama gains in power and intensity with the appearance of Rosalind Russell, fragile English beauty. Before he is sent out to the desert to help stem an Arab revolt, Colman has declared his love for her.

Hemmed in by hostile forces, McLaglen vainly attempts to destroy Colman, whom he believes stands between himself and Miss Colbert. But Colman saves his force by a daring ruse, and a magnificent charge of the Legion, led by Miss Colbert, results in the defeat of the Arab forces.

The magnificent supporting cast of forty character stars includes such prominent players as Gregory Ratoff, Nigel Bruce, C. Henry Gordon and J. Edward Bromberg. Frank Lloyd directed this unusual spectacle with its thousands of extras and its sweeping and magnificent natural backgrounds.

FRANCHOT TONE hopes some day to return to his "first love," the stage.

He said so, in an interview on the set of his new picture, "Exclusive Story," with Madge Evans coming today to the Rex theater.

"Certainly I like motion pictures," he said, "or I wouldn't be here. Particularly, I wouldn't have signed a long-term contract."

But there is a possibility that Mrs. Tone, otherwise known as Joan Crawford, may make a foothold debut with him.

Before coming to Hollywood, Tone had a swift and astonishing success on the stage. He was hailed by critics as the most intelligent and promising young actor seen in many years.

Deeply interested in dramaturgy, even beyond his own work, Tone helped found the now powerful Group Theatre, and starred in many of its hits.

"You see," he continued, "I'm not particularly interested in fame. Otherwise I'd stick to pictures. But I'm interested in going back to the stage again."

But his interest doesn't end with acting.

Ford - FOR ECONOMY

MORE MILES PER GALLON IS GOOD ...
MORE MILES PER DOLLAR IS BETTER

ENTHUSIASTIC sales talk often begins and ends with gasoline mileage. Some salesmen would like you to believe it is the whole story of automobile economy. But drivers ought to know better.

The big items of car economy are low first cost, low up-keep cost, and low depreciation. Savings here can make a great deal of difference in cost per mile.

Gasoline mileage is more of a talking point than an economy factor.

Here are the big items that make the Ford an economical car:

- More value for every dollar you pay.
- Lower cost for repairs and service.
- Long life. Slow depreciation.
- The up-keep cost of today's Ford V-8 is the lowest of any Ford ever built.
- Quality means economy and the 1936 Ford V-8 gives you more real quality than any other low price car. Made to closer precision limits and of better materials, there is no waste anywhere. Many dollars are saved by Ford production methods and low-profit policy. Those savings are put back into the car.

You pay a thousand dollars more for any other car with the power and performance of a V-8 cylinder engine. No other low-price car gives you modern Center-Poise Riding, safe, sure, dependable mechanical brakes with 186 square inches of braking surface and Safety Glass all around at no extra cost.
