Violent crimes on rise in state

ders, rapes and robberies occurred and prison overcrowding that forces with greater frequency in Texas last year while the incidence of property crimes dipped slightly, the FBI says.

The state's rate of violent crime which spans murder, manslaughter, before," he said. "In the Dallas area rape, robbery and aggravated assault surged 10.3 percent from 1990 to 1991.

That's almost three times higher than the 3.6 percent hike posted nationwide, the FBI said in its annual national crime snapshot released Sunday. The Uniform Crime Reports are compiled from data provided by over 16,000 local and state law enforcement agencies.

100,000 Texans, 840 were touched by violent crime last year, up from 761 the year before.

The incidence of property offenses — spanning burglary, larceny theft and motor vehicle theft — was down in Texas over the same period, falling 1.2 percent. Nationwide, property offenses were up 1 percent.

For every 100,000 Texans, 6,979 were affected by property crimes last year, down from 7,065 two years ago. Over 1.3 million of the 14.9 million crimes reported nationwide last year occurred in Texas. The state far exceeded the national average of 5,898 crimes per 100,000 inhabitants, posting a rate of 7,819.

Texas reported 2,652 murders last year, up 263 from the year before; 9,266 rapes, up 516; 49,700 robberies, up 5,403; and 84,125 aggravated assaults, up 10,218.

Aggravated assaults marked the biggest gain among violent crimes, rising 11.4 percent from the year manslaughter rate increased 8.5 percent, and rapes were up 3.7 percent.

Automotive theft increased 3.9 was down 2.7 percent and theft dropped 1.7 percent. There were 312,693 burglaries, 734,261 larceny thefts and 163,830 auto thefts.

The FBI stats show Dallas had the state's highest murder ratio in 1991. But Dallas Police Chief William Rathburn said that trend is being and Odessa with 2,254. reversed this year. > 'What people learn in prison is how to be more violent than they were right now, the average person sent to prison can expect (to serve) 22 days for each year sentenced to prison."

Rathburn said he was "not at all pleased" with state efforts to alleviate prison overcrowding with a $1 billion bond referendum approved last year by voters. "They ought to move forward on a crisis basis with the construction program," he said, The FBI said that for every instead of a "crisis basis" to grant early release to offenders.

Attorney General Dan Morales agreed through a spokesman that prison overcrowding is forcing the state let both violent and non-violent offenders off early

Within the next year, the state's prison capacity will be increased by 13,000 beds with another 12,500 completed within three years, said Morales spokesman Ron Dusek.

"That's going to make a big difference when these cells come on line," he said.

Among other FBI findings:

—Texas exceeded the nation's rate of 9.8 murders per 100,000 inhabitants, posting a rate of 15.3. Only the District of Columbia and Louisiana had higher rates, with 80.6 murders per 100,000 in D.C. and 16.9 in Louisiana. The two states more populous than Texas recorded rates of 14.2 in New York and 12.7 in California.

—The Dallas area had the state's before. Robberies were up 9.9 per-cent, while the murder and reported per 100,000 inhabitants; followed by the Houston area with 22.9; and Galveston-Texas City with 18.5.

The Odessa area reported more percent, posting the only hike in rapes than any other metropolitan property crimes surveyed. Burglary area in the state, with 85.6 per 100,000. Following closely was Midland with 81.7 and Longview-Marshall with 79.7.

—The Waco area had the state's inhabitants, with a 2,430 rate; followed by San Antonio with 2,300;

LEFORS — Lefors City Council the city to do work on a new water

Jamie Johnson with OJD Engineering Inc. of Wellington provided the City Council with a chronology of when the city first started looking for good water to drill a water well after receiving a grant from the Texas Community Development Program through the Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs.

The city's water is currently high in salt content, which Johnson said is not life-threatening, but which may not be aesthetically pleasing.

The city's search for good water started south of town when Malouf have said. Abraham of Canadian agreed to donate 40 acres of water rights to the city. However, testing in the spring and summer of 1991 showed that water was high in chlorides and total dissolved solids.

"At this point it was clear that the proposed site south of town was unacceptable, and it was abandoned," Johnson said.

Johnson said he then worked on costs estimates for treating the existing water supply and for finding an alternative place to drill a well. After researching the treatment aspect and costs associated with it, definitely be able to supply the Johnson advised the city to "consider treatment only after exhausting wells could be kept for backup. all possibilities for obtaining a new

"The water that's feasible to go and get is at Mrs. Youngblood's,' Johnson said.

He said it was "anyone's guess" as to how long a well would last at the location and he also said it was unknown if the salt problem would eventually show up in that well.

"It's possible this salt has natural origins," Johnson said.

Some of the salt water contamination is also believed to have come from salt water injection into the Ogallala aquifer by one or more companies in past years, City Council members and Lefors residents

Johnson said he would recommend drilling on the Youngblood land and also asked the council for direction on whether to draw the system so it would go into a storage tank to blend with water from the three other wells in operation.

Council Member Pat Seely said she was opposed to blending the good water with the salty water and asked if the one well would be able to supply enough water for Lefors' needs.

Johnson said that if the well will produce 400 gallons a minute, which it is expected to do, it would needs of Lefors and the other water Please see WATER, page 3

The efforts of the group are currently focused on keeping the Canadian River in Hutchinson and Roberts counties in the public domain and in enlarging the Lake Meredith Natural Recreation Area by incorporating 10,000 acres of federally owned land in Potter County.

TPRA officers said Sarpalius' support is instrumental in accomplishing both of the goals.

In addition to those goals, the TPRA intends to work with the Texas Parks and Wildlife on their promise to increase public recreation opportunities in the Panhandle. TPRA officials said the group will assume a leadership role in protecting and improving natural resources on the lands after they are secured.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Let Peace Begin With Me

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. Only when man understands freedom and is free to control himself and all he possesses can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government, and that men have the right to take moral action to preserve their life and property for themselves

Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is, thus, consistent with the coveting commandment.

Louise Fletcher

J. Alan Brzys Managing Editor

Opinion

GOP needs to look at facts

Conservative Republicans, led by Housing Secretary Jack Kemp, want President Bush and the GOP to embrace a "growth agenda" of tax cutting to get the economy moving and to instill vitality into a campaign bereft of ideas and vision. Naturally, the status-quo huggers around the president counter that big tax cuts would be irresponsible, the deficit being as big as it is.

So once again, we come around to the debate over the relationship between taxes and revenue. The supply siders have been ridiculed for a decade for claiming that higher tax rates don't always translate into a bigger tax take, and that, conversely, lower taxes don't necessarily yield less revenue.

You have to wonder why there's any debate any more, because the supply siders' general analysis has long since been vindicated. When the Reagan individual income-tax cut of 25 percent was phased in between 1981 and 1984, there was no loss of receipts, except for fiscal year 1983 (from the recession). In 1981, $285.9 billion was taken in from the income tax; next year, it was $297.7 billion; revenues declines to $288.9 billion in 1983, with the recession; but in 1984 they were up again, to $298.4 billion; and they leaped to $334.5 billion in 1985. Some supply-side "failure."

What if a 25 percent income-tax reduction were implemented today? Even if you assume that the Reagan-era phenomenon wouldn't be repeated, and revenues would go down, not up - a leap of faith that's apparently a matter of doctrine in the president's inner circle - you're still talking about decreasing total federal income only by $128 billion (25 percent of the estimated 1993 income-tax yield of $515 billion). That would leave overall federal revenues - inflow from all remaining taxes - at $1,386 billion. Hardly a piddling amount Indeed, that sum is actually greater than total federal outlays of fiscal year 1991, when $1,323 billion was spent. So would it really be a dangerous risk to implement today the same kind of tax-cutting program that launched the Reagan revolution? Not if the lessons of that revolution mean anything.

Now if only the strategists around George Bush who seem reluctant can be disturbed out of their "pragmatist" slumber and made to look at some facts.

Black leadership

Bill Cosby is a great guy, but is he a black leader or a role model for black kids? How about movie producer Spike Lee, Sister Souljah and Los Angeles' Crips and Bloods? According to some in the news media, Cosby and Lee are black leaders and role models, and at the minimum, Sister Souljah and the Crips and Bloods are to be consulted on earthy matters concerning Reaganomics and black people. In a way, black people are really lucky. We have hundreds of role models and leaders to tell white people, and us, what we think and

My heart really goes out to white ethnics of various persuasions. Americans of Irish, German, Jewish, Italian, Polish, Greek Korea, Chinese, Japanese and Armenian descent and other assorted white people have neither role models nor leaders. Give me the name of a Jewish or Japanese-American leader. Are those Americans just adrift, wandering aimlessly, wondering what to do or think, while earning a high income?

Who speaks for Greek-Americans? What do Armenian-Americans think about U.S. alliances with Turkey? When have you heard a media person condescendingly tell Jane Fonda, "You're a wonderful role model for WASP children"? Jews would be in an uproar if Bryant Gumbel interviewed

Italian-Americans feel if Ted Koppel had Nicky Scarfo on ABC's "Nightline" as someone who represented the feelings of underprivileged Italians? I wonder how many Irishmen consider Reagan or Ted Kennedy their leaders. If it is asinine and insulting to declare actress Rosanne Barr, comedienne Phyllis Diller or Rep. Barney Frank leaders and role models for varieties of white people, why is it different when it comes to Bill Cosby, Spike Lee or Colin Powell for black people? Could the assumption be that white people are smart and can make it without leadership, and black people are too dumb?

Young people need role models. But there's only one kind of role model that's going to amount to a hill of beans: hard-working, honest, clean-living Rosanne Barr on his "Today" show as a recognized parents who have high expectations for their chiltlements in the occupied territories. How might model could be come significant other such as free us?

uncles, aunts, grandmothers, ministers, the cop on the beat or the neighbor down the street.

Sometimes people say to me, "Williams, you're a black leader!" Nonsense. Open rebellion in my own household is proof positive that I can't lead. besides, there are some black people who will tell you that Williams doesn't think black and therefore cannot be a black leader. That charge confirms some people's suspicion that black is a state of mind, a political opinion, as opposed to a race; with that vision, it is conceivable that white people can

Some people may say that white people ar Europeans, one big happy, non-oppressed family, and hence require no leadership. Nonsense! European history is full of episodes where one group of whites attempts to slaughter another group. This slaughter preceded the Norman invasion (1066 A.D.) and continued through World War II. look at what they're doing to each other in Yugoslavia. Europeans didn't act that nicely when they came to the United States and slaughtered each other in a war just to set Williams' people free from slavery, which by the way, puts an interesting twist on the black reparations issue. Who owes whom? Are whites in debt to blacks for slavery? Or are blacks in debt to the descendants of tens of thousands of poor whites, who never Jewish leader and had her pontificate on Israeli set- dren. The reaction was pretty much the same. "It's ugly as hell," a woman was quoted as saying in the papers.

At a Braves-Dodgers baseball game at Atlanta Stadium, Whatizit was introduced to Hawks and hockey Flames, who've since moved to 45,000 baseball fans during the seventh inning

They booed it.

Somebody said it was either a blue tooth or a water droplet with Jimmy Carter's smile.

I have no idea what it is, but if a bunch of them got into the woodwork of your house, I think they would try to eat it.

The only good thing about Whatizit is the appropriateness of its name. Whatizit, indeed.

What the hell is it?

We were laughing about Big Victor, this huge mechanical Indian that was in right field at Atlanta Stadium when Lee was with the ball club. When the Braves scored a run, Big Victor was supposed to come alive in celebration.

The problem was Big Victor was just this big dumb-looking thing who blocked the view of some fans in right field.

"The fans hated him," said Lee, who also swears Big Victor wasn't his idea, "They used to pour beer in his joints so he couldn't move.

"Whatever became of Big Victor?" I asked. "He was at a moonshine still exhibit for a while," Lee said," but the last I heard of him he was up in Cherokee, N.C., somewhere."

Then, Lee told me about the ice-skating fire hydrant.

It was the shortest lived mascot in Atlanta sports rock.

I suppose anyone familiar with Atlanta sports history should not have expected much from the new Olympic's mascot, given the mascot history in

Let us not forget that when the Atlanta Falcons entered the National Football League in the mid-'60s, it had a real life falcon as the team mascot.

Regulated to death

Federal regulation of the economy is now so out of control that it is likely costing the average American family more than the $10,000 it pays every year in federal income taxes.

Depending on how the costs are calculated,

American families are now paying between $8,388 and $17,134 per year for federal regulators to enforce, and for people and businesses to comply with a mind-numbing profusion of intrusive rules.

Why do we need all these rules? To take care of problems that frequently don't exist, of course. For example, proposed new amendments to the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA), now being considered by Congress, will cost anywhere from $2 billion to $30 billion per year. RCRA aims to reduce trash and garbage by mandating recycling and making businesses reduce

But as John Cady, president of the National Food Processors Association, notes: "Packaging - parficularly food packaging - poses no risk to public health or to the environment. In fact, food packaging actually decreases the amount of food waste." Even the EPA, which never saw a regulation it didn't like, admits that the RCRA amendments are unneeded, and would be "unnecessarily costly."

Edwin Feulner

Unfortunately, RCRA is typical of most federal regulations - expensive, inefficient and unneces-

Businesses are panic-stricken over how to comply with the new Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), which will force them to spend an estimated $65 billion to make their workplaces, sales floors and other facilities accessible to the handicapped. Those businesses not driven into bankruptcy by the act will pass the costs on to you and me tion of Independent Business: "So much about the law is vague that business owners won't know until they've been sued whether they're in compliance." The 1991 Civil Rights Act, the latest smokescreen for racial quotas in the workplace, will similarly produce a litigation bonanza for lawyers – and we'll pay for that too. Nicknamed "the guilty until proven innocent law," the act requires employers to prove in court that they haven't discriminated in their hiring practices when the ethnic and racial mix of their workforce is not a mirror image of the community's.

These are only the latest regulatory outrages. A variety of laws and regulations administered by the EPA, Consumer Product Safety Commission, Food and Drug Administration, Occupational Safety and Health Administration and other federal agencies are currently strangling the U.S. economy.

The executive branch recently extended a freeze on further regulation, but even that is a little too late. In less than four years the cost of regulation has risen more than twice as much as it did in the

A view on abortion

To the editor:

Since both abortion and the economy are of high visibility during this / Pampa election most may not realize that they are strongly interrelated

Since the Roe v. Wade decision by the U.S. Supreme Court, 15 million plus abortions have taken place.

How much food would be required to feed 15 million people? How many farmers, ranchers, and food processors would be involved in the growth, production, and processing of this food? How much clothing would be required to cloth 15 million people? How many automobiles would be purchased by 15 million people? How many houses would be required to be constructed for these 15 million people? How much energy production would be required to heat and cool these houses and run these automobiles? This list could go on for another several pages.

Don't you think that God was wise and knew what he was doing when He said,

"Before I formed you in the womb I knew you, before you were born I set you apart" (Jeremiah 1:5)

God thinks that we are persons "in the womb." God knew the ramifications of abortion "on-demand." A part of the economic woes we are facing in this country is just one of these ramifications. I pray that none of us think that we know more than God.

Robert Fischer

On 'puerile performances'.

The first Republican presidential candidate I voted for was Alf Landon in 1936, he was opposing President Roosevelt who was running for his second term. Mr. Landon received 8 of the 531 electoral votes. If I had been old enough in 1932, I would have voted for the perennial Socialist candidate, Norman Thomas. F.D.R. in his first term adopted, as his own, the Socialist platform in total. I had four years to witness socialism in action. That is when I concluded this country did not need a Socialist government, It was twenty years later that President Eisenhower, 1952, returned the United States to a free enterprise competitive capitalist sys-

In the 56 years of voting I have not witnessed such a puerile performance of two candidates. Both candidates remind me of two boys, one saying "you did" and the other saying "I didn't."

Despite the unsavory name calling I will continue to support the Republican candidates. Each political party has their share of glib tongued ill informed backers. The Republicans have Buchanan and Gingrich, while the Democrats have Jackson and Sarpalius. I am often asked "Why do you continue to work for the Republican candidates?' The answer is in the difference in economic philosophy of each party. The Democrat Party continues to hold to the Keynesian, Galbraith belief that the economic well being of the country is dependent on the government spending and "investment" in the economy and that the government should work toward the equal distribution of wealth. Whereas the Republican Party adheres to the economic theory of Milton Friedman, Bill

Simons and Phil Gramm. Their belief is there should be a minimum of interference, by the government, in the freedom to compete and allow the market place to work for maximum economic development and economic growth whereby the entrepreneur creates jobs for maximum benefit for all. This cannot be accomplished if the capital funds are syphoned off, through unrealistic taxation. Any reduction in taxes creates capital for the entrepreneur to expand and create jobs.

Since the government contributes nothing to the GNP, any funds spent by the government takes money from the capital available for economic growth. The equitable distribution of wealth, first proposed by Karl Marx, leads to stifling of incentives and eventual economic collapse.

Let's vote to maintain our free enterprise capitalist system. Support the Republican candidates.

Yours truly, W.A. Morgan

Rodeo directors a fine group

Back in July, Pampa, Gray County, and the surrounding area was once again treated to an outstanding rodeo at the Pampa Rodeo Grounds.

As has been the case for the past many years, the rodeo was very entertaining, the quality of the participants was extremely good, and a good time was had by all. That being said, there was something else this year at the rodeo that really was apparent. The grounds in and around the arena were in the best shape this writer ever remembers. The grass was well moved and had the appearance of receiving some concerned attention, there was the obviously new paint everywhere one looked (I am told Ronny Hadley is a buzz saw with a paint gun), and the new handicapped ramps and rails were something that those in need of the help truly appre-

We here in Pampa are very fortunate to have a group of very dedicated individuals who expend many, many hours of their valuable time working on and improving the annual rodeo and the facilities associated with it. As a result of their commitment, Pampa has the distinction of having a very well thought of and well known professional rodeo that attracts some of the very best rodeo talent in the United States and Canada. This nationwide recognition is by no accident, but rather is the result of many years of hard work and dedication by members of the Top of Texas Rodeo Association both past and present.

Next time you see an individual wearing one of the distinctive blue rodeo director's shirts, it might do well to shake that person's hand and tell him "job well done."

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

By Danny Bainum Grandma's prunes were never like this. Simmer 2 cups pitted prunes about 15 minutes in 3 cups dry wine with 3/4 cup sugar, a cinnamon stick, a thick slice of lemon and a curl of orange peel. Remove prunes and reduce syrup to 1-1/2 cups. Chill. Simply super over ice cream.

Easy-to-broil flank steak tastes great when it's crusted with herbs. Marinate with 2 Tbs. dijon mustard and a little minced garlic and rosemary, then broil. Just before it's done, add parsley and fresh bread crumbs and broil a minute more. Let stand before slicing thin.

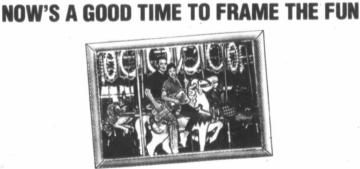

You can make sophisticated mango sauce in minutes in your processor All it takes is 3 mangos peeled, pitted and chopped, 2 Tbs. orange uice and a spoonful of sugar. Great on fruit, cake or ice cream.

On a big day at New York's Madison Square Garden, the chef reports, 40,000 fans ate 500 hamburgers 12,000 sodas, 8,000 hot dogs, 400 pizzas, 1,000 cups of coffee, 3,500 pretzels, 9,000 beers, 458 cones of cotton candy, 1,000 orders of french fries and 1,500 boxes of popcorn.

Words of wisdom

We wrote the first "Words of Wisdom" column for publication on March 31, 1991. Since that first collection of wise sayings appeared, we have received hundreds of your favorite quotations.

We also have readers who say that these columns are their favorites. Often someone will say that they found a gem of philosophy to post on their wall or share with a friend.

We want to thank all of you who have shared bits of wisdom with us. We will continue compiling this type of column occasionally as long as you send us your favorites and express your enjoyment.

From the mailbag:

* Every great man, every successful man, no matter what the field of endeavor, has known the magic that lies in these words: Every adversity has the seed of an equivalent or greater benefit. –W. Clement Stone

*Don't let the opinions of the average man sway you. Dream, and he thinks you're crazy. Succeed, and he thinks you're lucky. Acquire wealth, and he thinks you're greedy. Pay no attention. He simply doesn't understand. - Robert E. Allen

* If you want to know how to run a big business, ask a man who's never owned one. -Unknown (This holds true for raising children and training dogs, as well.)

* Evil triumphs when good men do nothing. -Edmund Burke

- * You can't build a reputation on what you're going to do. * Everyone is a self-made person, but only the successful admit
- * Blame-all and Praise-all are two blockheads. –Ben Franklin * The winners in life think constantly in terms of I can, I will and I am. Losers, on the other hand, concentrate their waking thoughts on what they should have or would have done, or what they can't do. -Dr. Dennis Waitley. * If you tell the truth, you don't have to remember anything. -Mark Twain

* If it weren't for the last minute, nothing would get done. -

* Work only half a day. It make no difference which half - the first 12 hours or the last 12 hours. – Kemmons Wilson (Personally I prefer my half day somewhere in the middle.)

* Those who agree with us may not be right, but we admire their astuteness. - Cullen Hightower

* Ideas are funny little things. They won't work unless you do. -

* It certainly pays to advertise. There are 26 mountains in Colorado higher than Pike's Peak. -Unknown

* We need old friends to help us grow old and new friends to help us stay young. -Letty Cottin Pogrebin

* The government not only has the bad habit of living beyond its income, but also beyond ours. -Unknown

* Sometimes the most urgent and vital thing you can possibly do is take a complete rest. -Ashleigh Brilliant

* Fear is the dark room where negatives are developed. -

* Everything starts as somebody's daydream. - Larry Niven * Always bear in mind that your own resolution to succeed is

Club holds 'Industry Appreciation Dinner'

The Desk and Derrick Club of Pampa held their annual "Industry Appreciation Dinner" Tuesday evening at the Pampa Country Club.

More than 100 members, employers and special guests were in attendance. Ronda Norris, President of the Club, and employed by Bourland-Leverich Supply, presided at the meeting. June Hall, employed by IRI International, gave the invocation. Linda Slaybaugh, employed by National Bank of Commerce, introduced the special guests. Julie Greer, employed by Mon Corp, gave the announcements.

Raymond Henry, Senior Firefighter and Executive Vice President of Operations, Red Adair Blowout Specialists, was the guest speaker for the evening. Henry gave a slide presentation and discussion on "Kuwait Oil Fires -1991". He has participated in every facet of the Red Adair operations, both in firefighting and management. Since joining the company in 1964, he has worked very closely with Red Adair, developing and refining the skills that he used in controlling wild wells all over the world.

Scott White, co-owner of WO Operating, was presented the "Boss of the Year" award by Nancy Allen, employed by Gray County Tax Department and Chairman of the award by Roxanne Jennings, Cree Companies for over 10 years. Pergeson, secretary to White, submitted the nomination.

Rig count drops by

HOUSTON (AP) — The number of working oil and gas rigs in the United States dropped by 21 this week to 668, Baker Hughes Inc. said Friday.

The count lagged behind last year's total of 799 rigs, the Houston tool maker said. Earlier this summer, the rig count dropped to a record low of 596. Last week, the tally climbed by 11 to 689.

The count is the widely watched index of domestic drilling activity. It represents the number of rigs actively exploring for — not producing oil and natural gas.

Baker Hughes has kept track of the count since 1940. The count

Harvesters get mixed reviews after scrimmage

By MARK SPENCER Sports Editor

ALTUS, Okla. — A happy ending at the Harvesters' final preseason scrimmage Friday wasn't enough to wipe thoughts of serious concern from the mind of Pampa Coach concentrating on that early." Dennis Cavalier.

"We have lots and lots to do," Cavalier said. "I think we made point. some improvement this week, but this point. We need to get better."

The Harvesters met the Altus team, for about three hours before 1,500 fans in a two-situation scrimmage that resulted in dual performances — one good, one bad — for Pampa.

The first segment pitted the first and second offenses and defenses in 12-play possessions that began on each team's own 30-yard line.

In what looked like a flashback to last week's scrimmage against Lubbock Estacado, Altus burned the Harvesters second team defense on a 40-yard pass and a 16-yard touchdown pass four plays later for the Bulldogs' first score.

Offensively, the Harvesters first offense had some success during the 12-play possessions but came away with nothing to show for it.

Behind four carries of over 12 yards, the Harvesters drove to the Bulldogs 15-yard line but could get no further.

On their second possession, Pampa running back Marc Hampton and quarterback Tony Cavalier only 11 in eight plays. broke free for two runs that helped the Harvesters drive deep into Altus territory.

On Pampa's 12th and final play from the Bulldogs' five-yard line, however, the drive ended when Tony Cavalier and center Brad Smillie misconnected on the snap.

In one possession, the Altus Bulldogs, an Oklahoma Class 6A first team gained a total of 12 yards, was sacked twice and intercepted by Pampa safety Gregg Moore. In another possession, Tony Cavalier intercepted Bulldogs quarterback Rick Vernon twice in five plays.

What momentum might have been gained at the end of the 12-play possessions snowballed for the Harvesters somewhat during the second half of the scrimmage.

DAVIS OK: Pampa senior Dave Davis had to leave Friday night's scrimmage with an injured right knee, but he said it was not bothering him Saturday morning. On the play that injured Davis, Pampa tailback Gregg Moore was running a sweep toward the Harvesters sideline. Moore appeared to be out of bounds when he was hit by Altus defensive back Ernie Fink. A brief shoving match broke out between the two teams, but it was quickly broken up by the Harvesters coaches. After the players cleared, Davis was seen on the ground. He walked off the field after a few minutes with a slight hyperextension. Davis shouldn't miss any playing time.

OFFENSIVE WORDS: The Harvesters found fairly good success with their rushing game Friday. However, there is still concern about the passing game which has struggled in Pampa's two scrimmages. "I started off badly in the first series of downs and got a little frustrated," Pampa quarterback Tony Cavalier said. "I think we've come a long way from last week in our running game, but we need to work on our passing a lot.

NEXT: The Harvesters play host to the Garden City (Kan.) Buffaloes at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Harvester Stadium. It is the regular season opener for both teams.

Vincent issue only one problem baseball's owners face

NEW YORK (AP) - Fay Vincent won't be the only issue dividing the baseball owners who gather Thursday at an airport hotel outside

Chicago. The fractious fight that has Balkanized baseball's hierarchy has its roots in collective bargaining, a national recession, egos, television and the varying agendas of the 28 teams. And it raises the possibility of the fans' worst nightmare: yet another lockout.

No matter what the outcome, it's clear the national pastime's reputation is being damaged by the day.

"Effectively calling each other fools and buffoons ... has the capacity to be far more damaging long term than all of the long-term disputes between owners and players," said Donald Fehr, head of the Major League Baseball Players Associa• ANALYSIS •

Like stress on a fault line, pressure has been building, compounded by the inability to accept authority and construct coalitions. But money is at the heart of the matter, as owners begin to position for further battles with the players' union. Some teams threaten a long lockout ers each have until Dec. 11 to decide until players agree to a revenue participation proposal similar to that of the NBA.

Rangers' Brown able to win more after curing self-defeating attitude ARLINGTON (AP) — There were times last year when Kevin Brown may have been his own worst enemy.

Despite his impressive resume, Brown expected perfection every time he pitched for the Texas Rangers. He could rattle his own concentration by making a bad pitch, or be thrown out of whack by a miscue behind him.

Then something happened in the offseason.

Maybe it was his session with a sports psychologist. Maybe it was just the realization that at 27 he was ready to become a dominant player. On Friday, Brown gave another glimpse of what he can do, no-hitting the Chicago White Sox for 6 2-3 innings en route to a 4-1 triumph and his 17th victory. "When you think you have this game figured out, it reaches back and proves you don't know a thing," Brown said.

"I didn't feel I had overpowering stuff; more mediocre than anything. I was trying to go out and the get the ball to the plate and have them put it. in play. I was thinking more about winning the game."

Brown was ticketed for staroom from the beginning. He was a member of Baseball Digest's 1989 All-Rookie team three seasons after being the fourth player taken in the

This year, he's kept his focus. His fastball is still popping in the low 90s and he has been able to keep his slider down in the strike zone. He's done little things, too, like allowing only seven home runs and developing a knack for holding

"Brown is always tough," said

Chicago's George Bell, who went 0-for-4 with a strikeout Friday. "Last time, we scored some runs early, but tonight he came in with a different attitude and it showed.'

Robin Ventura had two doubles for the White Sox — one to break up the no-hitter and another to end the shutout in the ninth. It was the sixth time this year Brown has lost a shutout in the last inning.

"He was really effective because he kept the ball down," Ventura

Brown began his turnaround in spring training and his success snowballed through the early part of the season. He began the year 14-4, started the All-Star Game and earned the victory.

He lost his next three starts, but has since gone 3-1 with two no decisions, both of which were won by the Rangers.

"The thing about Kevin is not to think about 20 (wins) but to think about the next one. He shouldn't want to put any more pressure on himself than that," Texas manager Toby Harrah said.

Harrah said Brown's performance Friday didn't surprise him.

Kevin was hitting spots and throwing the ball hard. In the seventh, I was thinking he had a chance (at a no-hitter). He can (throw one) any time because of the velocity of his pitches," Harrah

2:05 remaining gave the Los Angeles Raiders their first victory of the preseason, a 30-26 triumph over the previously unbeaten Houston Oilers on Saturday.

The Raiders (1-3) moved 82 yards on 12 plays for the winning TD after Cody Carlson's 12-yard scoring tions. pass to Corey Harris had put the Oilers (4-1) ahead 26-23.

Carlson's pass to Harris came two plays after Darryll Lewis intercepted Todd Marinovich's pass and returned it 16 yards to the Los Angeles 16, but Marinovich bounced back to guide the Raiders to the winning touchdown.

After Bell put the Raiders ahead, the Oilers drove to the Raiders' 24 before losing the ball on downs with 22 seconds to play.

Marinovich threw a 52-yard touchdown pass to Tim Brown with 10:49 left to give the Raiders a 23-19 lead.

Ernest Givins caught two touchdown passes in the third quarter to put the Oilers ahead before Marinovich's long pass to Brown.

A 71-yard touchdown run by Bell early in the third quarter gave the Raiders a 16-6 lead before Givins caught his scoring passes on Houston's next two possessions.

"They have all the talent in the world," Torretta said. "The only thing is inexperience playing with each other.'

Injuries eliminated two projected starters. Senior tackle Mario Cristobal, a returning regular, failed to recuperate from knee surgery last spring, and junior guard Brad Shirey broke his leg in practice Aug. 18.

They have been replaced by sophomore Zev Lumelski and freshman Alan Symonette, who changed positions to fill the gaps. Sophomore center Tirrell Greene and senior tackle Kipp Vickers are also new to the first team.

Size is not their problem — the by the coaches going against our front five averages 279 pounds. But at Iowa, in front of 70,000 Hawkeye fans and a national TV audience, lack of savvy could hurt.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Dear Abby is on a two-week vacation. Following is a selection of some of her favorite past letters from 1972 and '73.)

DEAR ABBY: I am a longtime reader of Dear Abby and am constantly amazed at the people who sign themselves, "UNLOVED, SAD, LONELY, UNWANTED, FORGOT-TEN, DESPERATE," etc.

I am no "Dear Abby," but I do know that these people need to get involved with others, and oftentimes the way to solve one's own problems is to try to give a little happiness to someone else.

Some time ago, I called a nursing home and asked them to send me a list of patients who seldom, if ever, received mail, packages, cards or

When the list arrived, I was first amazed, then saddened. I expected perhaps three or four names, but their list had 21 names on it! Because the list was so long, obviously presents were out, as my means are limited, so I started sending inexpensive greeting cards

There are many opportunities during the year to send them a bit of cheer. Birthdays, Christmas, Valentine's Day, Easter, or even just a "friendship" card.

I sign it "Your friend" to let them know that someone cares. It lifts their spirits and doesn't cost much, and it doesn't take much time.

If clubs, churches or other organizations would adopt this plan, more people could be reached. These older folks have little in their lives other than memories. They live for today, so let's put a little sunshine into their lives.

DEAR CAMILLE: Thank you for a beautiful suggestion. If this idea catches on, you'll have started something that will bring inestimable happiness to thousands. Bless you.

LOCKHART (AP) - At Rancho San Francisco in Lockhart, a 20year-old white Huasteca mare called Feather kicks up her heels in a green pasture lit brilliantly by the midmorning sun. Raised in the vast woodlands of the Kiamichi mountains in southeast Oklahoma, she has little use for human contact and one time kicked out the trailer tailgate, as if to make her feelings perfectly

But if Feather is indifferent to the human race, her value to us is incalculable. The last of a breed originally descended from northern Mexico, Feather's progeny will help keep a broader breed category, the American Indian Horse, from succumbing to a similar fate.

Feather's owners, Nanci Falley and Scottie Stevenson, have operatistry from their Lockhart ranch since

The Lockhart women are members of the American Minor Breeds Conservancy, an organization devoted to promoting livestock animals in risk of extinction. When the two took over the registry, it listed just 400 horses, none of them purebreds. Now the worldwide count is about missionaries. The horses trans-1,600 and 300 of those are pure-

Falley, who formerly raised Arabian horses, now has 25 American rear legs that allow them to squat Indian horses (also called Spanish horses). A few of the animals travel with her to festivals and other gatherings to educate people about the horses' long history.

Their lineage can be traced to back to Columbus and Spanish conquistadors of the 15th and 16th centuries who brought the horse to North America, Falley says. A mixture of Barb, Arabian and Andulasian blood, the horses were considered the best in the world at that

The breed's survival, Falley says, intrigued both by horses and history is symptomatic of its toughness. The American Indian horse contributed to the making of a number of Amerihorse, American Saddle Horse, Tennessee Walking horse and others.

In addition to its link to the past, the American Indian breed is known for its perceptiveness, Falley says.

Writing checks to cover your monthly bills is expensive enough. Why pay an additional fee for each of those checks?

Switch your checking account to AmWest where there is no per check charge. And for six months, there's no monthly service charge regardless of what your balance is. At AmWest Savings, we offer several checking accounts without per check charges. No monthly service charges are added when you maintain the low minimum daily balance. And, if you open an AmWest Ideal Checking™ or Texas CheckingsM account now, there's no monthly service charge for six months no matter what your balance is. Because when it comes to your money, we know you'd like to keep as much of it as you can. Visit your local AmWest branch today for more information about this special offer.

- Texas Checking^s
