Chinese Official Talks With Truman

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall today held their second foreign affairs conference of the week. The Chinese crisis was believed to be foremost among the problems up for early discussion.

Even as Marshall entered the White House at 9:45 a. m., (EST) the press office announced that Mr. Truman would receive Chinese Ambassador Wellington Koo later in the day.

Marshall talked with Mr. Truman for 25 minutes. He declined when he left the White House to tell reporters anything about the discussion.

He said he always left it to the President whether anything was to be given out about a White House conference.

There was no immediate indication of the purpose of the Truman-Koo meeting. But it stirred speculation that advanced progress has been made by the President, General Marshall and other top government officials in their study of what to do about the China situation.

Some officials believe the Communist sweep in China is certain to cost the United States more billions in foreign aid over the next few years whether or not grand scale aid is given to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

As policy planners here see the picture, two points stand out: 1. If President Truman and Marshall determine that China still can be saved from Communism — and decide to go ahead with an aid program—they will have to ask the new Congress for several hundred million dollars at least. And that would be just a starter, since any new China program is regarded as a long-term undertaking.

2. If in spite of American help or without it—all China falls to the Communists, the task of rebuilding Japan and providing it with a stable economy will be much more costly. That is because Japan would find trade relations with Communist China more difficult.

In addition, if a Communist China should prove actively hostile to the west in the cold war, military leaders might consider it essential to strengthen American defenses in the Western Pacific. That, however, is no more than a speculative possibility at the moment.

These factors, as well as the impact of a Soviet victory in China on the whole anti-Communist struggle, are believed to be before Mr. Truman and Marshall as they cope with the problem of developing their China policy to deal with present crises.

Secrecy covered the question of whether Marshall will continue as secretary of state or soon retire.

Some word on this and other questions was possible later today. Marshall arranged to hold a news conference today (2:30 p. m. CST) after his talk with the President.

Meanwhile, it is understood that Chiang, in connection with his appeal to President Truman for urgent assistance, proposed that a prominent American military leader—someone with great prestige—be sent to head the country's military mission in China.

Judge Rules Jesse Jones Able To Be Questioned in Court

NEW YORK—(AP)—A federal judge has ruled that Jesse Jones is well enough to be questioned as a witness, after being told that the Texas banker recently stayed up until 2 a. m. playing poker and drinking whisky.

In the ruling yesterday, Judge Samuel H. Kaufman turned down a plea that it would endanger the health of the 74-year-old former head of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. for him to appear as a witness in a suit.

Attorneys seeking Jones' appearance claimed that if a man's heart can stand the strain of backing a straight in a poker game with a $4,000 pot, and losing to an opponent's four fours, he can stand the strain of testifying.

Questioning of Jones was sought by attorneys for James A. Moffett, longtime federal housing administrator, in a $6 million suit against the Arabian American Oil Co., Inc.

Last Nov. 15, a Park Avenue physician filed an affidavit saying Jones had a severe heart condition. The affidavit expressed belief that for Jones to testify "would be detrimental to his health."

Yesterday, Moffett submitted an affidavit saying that on Nov. 18 "the witness Jones played poker at the 29 Club, located at 11 East 21st Street, until approximately 2 a. m. on Wednesday, Nov. 17, and in the course of the evening he said Jones consumed large quantities of whisky."

The affidavit added that "the stakes ranged as high as $4,000 a hand and on one occasion the said Jones backed a straight in a pot involving approximately $4,000 against four fours. No doubt backing a straight against four fours with a $4,000 in the pot has been the cause of many a heart-ache, but to my knowledge, it never has been recommended as a cure for heart trouble."

Moffett, who also is a former Standard Oil Company executive, claims the $6 million is due him for services rendered the Arabian American Oil Co., Inc. while

Recruiter Is Given Honor

M-Sgt. Davis A. Brown, of the Pampa Army Recruiting Station, has been selected as the outstanding recruiter of the El Paso District for October.

Sgt. Brown, according to the Army publication, "Fourth Army Recruiter," has obtained more enlistments than any other canvasser in the Amarillo Main Station Area.

Capt. John G. Henry, adjutant at El Paso, said: "Sgt. Brown's personal appearance and conduct have always been above reproach. This, coupled with diligent performance of canvassing duties and his quickness to perform extra-curricular activities, has made him a valuable asset to the recruiting service."

CLEMENCY IS DENIED JAP WAR LORDS

TOKYO—(AP)—General Douglas MacArthur today denied clemency for Japan's 25 top war criminals and ordered the execution of Hideki Tojo and six others who dreamed of conquest but lost an empire.

As sole reviewing officer, he declined to use his power to lighten any of the sentences determined by the international military tribunal—seven to die on the gallows; 16 to spend the rest of their lives in prison, two to lesser prison terms.

The supreme commander called his task "utterly repugnant" to him. He closed his review of the war guilt case with a plea to Divine mercy for the Japanese to pray on execution day—yet to be made public—to help the world keep the peace, "lest the human race perish."

Attorneys for five defendants planned to appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States, which has never yet intervened in international war crimes cases.

MacArthur, in his statement, said he saw no reason for him to intervene. Whether the prisoners should have been prosecuted at all was not for him to say. But the two-year trial itself, he went on, was a fair one; every safeguard was made to "evolve justice."

Truman May Tune Down His Price-Ration Control Plan

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A slight but welcome dip in living costs raised the possibility today that President Truman might tone down his demand for "standby" price control and rationing powers when Congress meets in January.

Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said a continued ebb in prices, washing out the need for drastic controls, would be "swell."

But he didn't predict that would happen. "It would be like seeing a fever chart go down," Nourse told a reporter, "but we aren't drawing any conclusions yet."

His comment came after the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported last night that its cost-of-living index for October showed a dip of one-half of one percent. This was the first drop in seven months for the index as a whole.

Another top government fiscal official said privately he believes inflationary forces still have the upper hand. And Chester Bowles, one-time boss of OPA and governor-elect of Connecticut, said after a White House visit that Congress "unquestionably" will act against inflation.

Behind all the guesswork lay the big question of what will happen overseas—how much money will have to go for foreign aid and national defense.

Some influential White House advisers are known to feel that any substantial rise over Mr. Truman's present $15 billion ceiling on next year's military outlays could set the inflation spiral whirling again.

On the other hand, Nourse has said that, while it is not for foreign aid pending a rearmament, "deflationary evidences would by this time have become clearly evident."

BLS said food alone was responsible for the October drop in living costs. Groceries and meats declined "substantially" to carry the index down despite price rises in all other major commodity groups, the agency said. It was the third straight monthly drop for foodstuffs.

The consumer price drop reflected a high August and September. It stood at 7.3 percent above the 1935-39 average.

The relief for housewives was slight, however. The index was only half a percentage point under the record high of August and September. It stood at 7.3 percent above the 1935-39 average.

Most of the District I representatives of the Texas State Teachers Association will leave this afternoon for Dallas to attend the 70th annual convention, Thursday through Saturday.

Leaving today will be Mrs. A. Aubrey Jones, J. L. Spencer, H. A. Gordon, Huey Laycock and Knox Kinard. Frank Wilson will not go to Dallas until tomorrow.

Nearly 15,000 educators are expected to attend the convention. National school authorities will speak at three general sessions of the convention and at a number of sectional meetings.

A total of 53 sectional sessions and 23 breakfasts, lunches and dinners have been arranged. The special meetings will consider a variety of educational interests to Texas teachers.

Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor University, Waco, will deliver the sermon at the annual Thanksgiving morning service to be held at the city auditorium.

Induction May Face 75-100 Men in Area

Between 75 and 100 Gray, Roberts, Wheeler and Donley County men face immediate induction into the armed forces before they ever fill out their questionnaires. Local Board 52, U. S. Selective Service said this morning.

The information came through the Austin office of the U. S. Selective Service and pertained to those registrants who have moved since their registration without notifying the board of their change of address.

Miss Charlyne Jaynes, chief clerk of the board, told The News this morning that he had received orders to immediately place each registrant whose questionnaire is returned undeliverable into 1-A.

Upon receipt of the undelivered questionnaire local board officials are instructed to trace the missing registrants and send him his order to report for induction. If the registrant cannot be traced within a reasonable length of time he is turned over to the state's attorney in Fort Worth, who will turn him over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Board clerks now are mailing out questionnaires to the earliest age groups, those born in 1922, 1923 and 1924. Of the questionnaires mailed out, between 75 and 100 have come back stamped, "not at" or "undeliverable."

Registrants are required by federal law to notify their draft boards of any change in address, whether it be from one street to another in the same city, or from the present address to any other county or state.

James Brothers, Carpenter, Dies

James Albert Brothers, 58, a carpenter living four miles west of town on the McKinney Lease, died at 8:30 p. m. yesterday in a local hospital.

Brothers was born July 8, 1890, in Keyesport, Ill., and had been living in and around Pampa since 1928.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nancy Fay Brothers; by four daughters, Mrs. Ruby June Wren, Mrs. Mack E. Taylor, Mrs. Dorothy Nell, all of Pampa, and Mrs. Lloyd E. Wright of San Diego, Calif.; by two sons, George W. of Pampa and James O., who is stationed at Kodiak, Alaska, with the Navy; and by 10 grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements, to be conducted by the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home, are pending the arrival of relatives.

Scarlet Fever Reported Here; Cases Are Mild

Several cases of scarlet fever have been reported in Pampa, but no more than the usual number for this time of year, Dr. Malcolm Brown, city health doctor, and Dr. Julian M. Key, county health doctor, said this morning.

One of the sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Veach, 201 E. Francis, has it, and two children on Charles.

The cases are relatively mild and the doctors do not believe the disease will reach epidemic proportions this year.

Rotarians Dance, Eat At Frolic

Surrounded by decorations in a Thanksgiving motif and to the music of a string band, Pampa Rotarians and their wives danced at play on the floor of the club's Thanksgiving Ladies' Night frolic last night in the Palm Room, City Hall.

Clad in overalls and gingham dresses, they bid on boxes placed on the front table that contained their names for the box supper. Under the auctioneering hammer of "Pinkey" Vineyard, the boxes went to the highest bidder (one each with a limit of $1.37 for a box) in overalls. The prize winning box, brought by Mrs. Maxine Evans, was for a five dollar limit.

Mrs. Evans won a silver tray for the prettiest box. It was selected by a secret committee of three Rotarians. She was presented her reward by Steve Matthews, president of Rotary.

She was assisted on the auction block by Don Foster, Mickey Ledrick, Rex Rose, and Ben Gull. When the 40 boxes were sold and the supper over, a barrel of cider was put on (See ROTARIANS, Page 6)

Opinions Differ Greatly on Proposal To Overhaul State's School System

AUSTIN—(AP)—Today's meeting of the Gilmer-Aikin Committee here brought into sharp focus violent differences of opinion on its proposed overhauling of the state's public school system.

Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction, opened what promises to be a major legislative battle yesterday with a blistering attack on preliminary proposals of the committee named to study reorganization of the schools.

In a letter to Gov. Beauford H. Jester, he called the proposals "undemocratic" and urged the Governor not to call a special session of the Legislature to consider the report.

Jester himself, who has not made up his mind about the special session, gave the Gilmer-Aikin proposals what he called "approval in principle" but he reserved fuller comment until the report takes final shape.

Dr. Woods said he did not want to see the report "forced down the throats" of the people without giving them full opportunity to study it.

In a letter to all county school superintendents, Dr. Woods said the 33 proposals of the legislative committee could be boiled down to these:

1. Financing the public school system by an economic index "by which they will work out the amount of taxes to be paid by each county in the state. The economic index is set up by a state authority . . ."

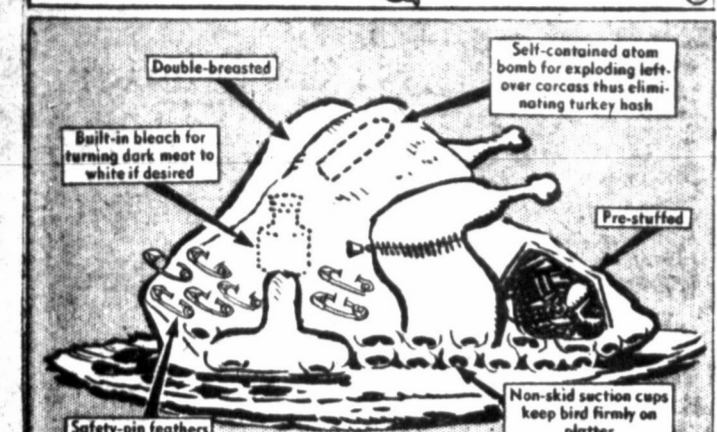

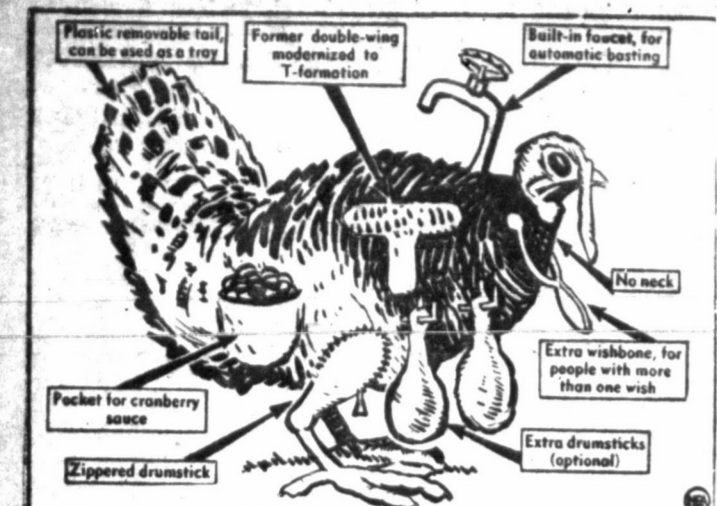

2. Reorganization of school districts by a central authority set up in Austin. "It destroys local self government, the county superintendent's office, and the county school trustee's office."

3. Reorganization of the State Department of Education by having the state superintendent appointed by an elective board.

Woods referred the Governor and the county superintendent to his own 16-point program for public education. He characterized it as progressive, but not "a radical departure from our present organization." It was published first in April, 1947, before the Gilmer-Aikin Committee was authorized by the 50th Legislature to make its study.

Woods asked the county superintendents to call meetings of local boards, school people, legislators and citizens to study and compare his and the Gilmer-Aikin plans.

Commenting at his press conference yesterday on the preliminary proposals of the Gilmer-Aikin Committee, Jester said:

A BIRD OF AN IDEA!—Did you ever get to day-dreaming about what a perfect Thanksgiving turkey might be like? Well, our artist did—and came up with the sketches above. He says that these improvements should evolve in a hundred years or so. He also says (famous last words!) that the turkey of the future will have more meat, because evolution depends on survival of the fittest.

Pampa to Observe Thanksgiving Day

To start the city-wide observance of another day of Thanksgiving, all Pampa churches again unite in early morning union services.

Services this year will be held at the First Methodist Church, 201 E. Foster, at 8 a. m. tomorrow and will be conducted by the Rev. Henry H. Tyler, Jr., newly appointed pastor of the First Christian Church.

The News Will Not Publish Tomorrow

Tomorrow is one of the very few publishing days during the year when there is no edition of The Pampa Daily News. Employees will have the day off.

The next regular edition of The News will be on Friday, day after tomorrow.

The News' radio voice, KPDN, will carry the latest news. Readers are urged to tune to 1340, Mutual's outlet for the Top of Texas.

Contract Let For Drilling Water Wells

The low bid of the Layne Texas Company of Dallas for drilling three new water wells south of town for the expansion of the city's water system was accepted yesterday by the City Commission.

The low bid of $31,032.50 for drilling three 600-gallon, gravel well walls was about $9,000 under the estimated cost of around $40,000 made by the city's consulting engineers.

This bid is for drilling, sampling and testing the capacity of the wells, only, and it does not include installing the pumps, motors, and building the pump house.

No bid for the proper size pump and motors could be accepted now until the actual capacity of the wells is known. According to samples taken from test holes already drilled, the capacity of each of these wells is expected to be at least 600 gallons a minute and possibly more.

According to his bid, the contractor will guarantee the capacity of the well, with a bonus for whatever he can assure the city each well will produce over 600 gallons.

Three bids were received by the city yesterday morning. H. H. Heiskell of Pampa bid $38,709; the Alldie Wells Co., of Denver, (See CONTRACT, Page 6)

Firemen Extinguish Automobile Blaze

Firemen were called to the Gulf Service Station, 422 W. Foster, at 10:30 a. m. today to put out a car fire. Fire Chief Ernest Winborne, said.

The car, belonging to Kenneth Huey, 402 E. Browning, was heavily damaged.

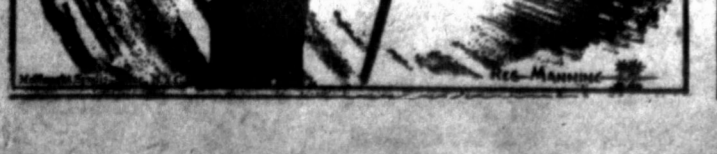

Every Holiday --- WE HEARD . . .

One man, anyway, will have turkey for Thanksgiving. Several weeks ago he told his grocer "to save him a turkey." Forgetting to mention the size, the man now has 25 pounds of turkey for tomorrow.

That the 21 members of the 20th Century Club have voted 100 percent to erect outside decorations at their homes for Christmas. Sponsored by the club's American Home and Youth Conservation Committee, the move is in accord with the city's home decoration program.

J. Aaron Meek, principal of Sam Houston School, was so inspired by the forward to the booklet giving instructions for the annual home decoration contest of the "Flight of Santa Claus," prepared by the decoration committee, that he had it copied for each of his pupils. Let us, the forward says, "exemplify the spirit of Christmas by creating a warmth that will reach to Heaven and express our heartfelt thanks to our Maker for all that we possess.

PAMPAN LEADS NTSC PARADE

Miss Hilda Burden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burden, 1601 Charles, Saturday led the North Texas Homecoming parade at the Pampa State College in Denton. Mr. and Mrs. Burden drove to Denton to see Miss Burden, a Freshman at the school, leading the parade composed of floats, bands and riding clubs. She rode a white horse and wore a black and white pinstriped Western outfit with white and gold boots and a Stetson hat. Her saddle was black and white leather. Miss Burden is a member of a riding club at the school.

She and a friend, Miss Helen Lynch of Dallas, will fly from Denton today to spend the Thanksgiving holidays in the Burden home.

Special Services Held Tonight at Church of God

The Rev. A. R. Mitchell, pastor, will deliver the Thanksgiving message at the special Thanksgiving program to be held at 7:30 tonight at the Church of God, Reid and Campbell Streets.

A play entitled "God Is Love" will be presented by Eessie Paffel, Travis Mitchell, Finis An-Marin Gee, Shirley and Ann-White, Mary Ruth Strickland, Martha Phillips, Sara Anne Ruf and June Phillips.

Songs and poems suitable for the occasion will also be given. There will be no Young People's Service on Friday night this week. Everyone is especially invited to attend tonight's service.

Services for Thanksgiving Day At Science Church

Thanksgiving Day services are held each year by The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and its branches throughout the world. The Thanksgiving Day service of First Church, 901 N. Frost Street, Pampa, will be held at 11 a. m. Thursday, Nov. 25. The order of service includes the reading of a Lesson-Sermon on the topic of "Thanksgiving," and opportunity is afforded for testimonies of gratitude to be expressed appropriate to the occasion. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

The Golden Text is "Offer unto God the best of yourselves" (Psalms 69:14).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body; and be ye thankful" (Colossians 3:15).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father, and blessed is that man who seeth his brother's need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good" (page 618).

Sitting Pretty Is Best For Poise

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The way in which you sit down to chat with older friends tells them instantly whether you are going to be a fidgety or a poised conversationalist.

You will be "typed" as a fidgety young thing if you shuffle your feet, wiggle your legs, wriggle around your chair or cross and uncross your legs. You will also demonstrate a lack of poise if you tug at your clothes, toy with a necklace or bracelet or re-arrange your hair.

No matter how ill at ease you may feel with an older person, you can hide it if you'll sit quietly. The more quietly you sit, the more poised you will appear to be.

The best way to give the impression of poise is to walk quietly to the chair in which you are going to sit. Turn, back up to it, adjust your skirts and sit down easily. Then lean back in the chair. Sit with legs pulled back as close to the chair as possible, and keep knees and feet together. If you cross your legs, the crossed leg close to its uncrossed mate. Don't swing that foot or dangle your slipper.

Every now and then, umbrellas should be given thorough cleaning to keep them in good condition.

Old Friends Have Annual Meeting

Mrs. J. J. Crutchfield and Mrs. Fanny Skaggs were hostesses at a one o'clock luncheon Friday afternoon in Mrs. Crutchfield's home, 1008 Christine.

The occasion was the annual meeting of a group of friends who at one time lived in White Deer and who come together to visit and renew friendships.

Miss Georgia Crutchfield made pictures and the group registered in the birthday book. Organization was also discussed and Mrs. Jim White acted as chairman.

Elected were: Mrs. Skaggs, president and Mrs. R. A. Thompson, White Deer, secretary-treasurer. The president appointed Mrs. Jim White, Mrs. J. C. Freeman and Mrs. Julia Powers as a committee to draft a constitution and by-laws. Next meeting was set tentatively for February.

Others present were: Meadames May Coffee, F. E. Tubb, J. C. Jackson, Harry Edenhorough, Manuel Brazil, Edgar, Marvyl Kirby, Canyon; Girtha McConnell, Lov-ing, and May Skaggs.

* WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

It's a wise wife who chooses happily married women for her friends.

Because women borrow unhappiness from each other. One woman who is down on marriage, suspicious of men, and convinced that men get the best of everything, can have a powerful effect on her women friends.

With no trouble at all she can make them begin to wonder if they're really as well off as they think they are.

She can make them dissatisfied with their lives, making what has seemed easy-going contentment suddenly look like dullness.

CHANGES WHOLE OUTLOOK
She can make them feel put upon if they are going through a period of hard work and doing without. What they once looked upon as being "real partners" to their husbands can be made to look like getting the worst end of a bad bargain.

So the woman who is happily married and wants to stay contented with her lot in life had better not get on intimate terms with a dissatisfied wife.

Such a wife spreads dissatisfaction. And it seldom seems to work the other way.

Instead of several happy wives changing an unhappy wife to their attitude toward men and marriage, the unhappy wife makes the happy ones begin to doubt and wonder.

The safest thing for happy wives to do is stick together.

Oil Production Sets New Record

TULSA —(AP)— The United States' crude oil production set another record during the week ended Nov. 20 with a 5,656,635 barrel daily average, the Oil and Gas Journal reported.

This figure was 39,295 barrels more than the previous week and a gain of 23,920 barrels over the last high mark reached in the week ended Nov. 8. Kansas production accounted for most of the gain with an increase of 28,150 barrels to 307,600 barrels.

Other major advances were in Michigan, up 2,500 barrels to 45,200; Oklahoma, 1,400 to 44,900; Colorado, 1,750 to 48,970, a new high for the state this year; Montana, 2,090 to 28,520, also a new record for the year; Wyoming, 6,780 to 169,090, another record; and California 100 to a 1948 high of 980,000.

The Eastern area gained 100 barrels to 63,100; Florida was up 25 to 700; and Illinois' increase was 900 to 179,500.

Mississippi's decrease of 2,350 to 127,550 was the largest. Indiana was down 900 to 26,000; Kentucky dropped 400 to 24,100; Arkansas was off 400 to 81,500; and Louisiana slumped 450 to 498,250.

Production was unchanged in Alabama, 1,350; Nebraska, 350; New Mexico 134,605; and Texas, 2,523,850.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK —(AP)— The test of leadership in a time of crisis comes in the hour of decision.

The leader no longer can keep in balance the advice of the men under him who say a thing can't be done—and the advice of the men who say it can.

He has to act. He has to decide, knowing history is ready to make him a bum forever or a hero, temporary or permanent.

There is perhaps no better or more dramatic illustration of this in our time than the decision by Gen. Dwight Eisenhower to hurl two American airborne divisions into action as advance guard for his main landing forces in Normandy.

General Ike tells the story in his fine and simple written memoirs, "Crusade in Europe."

Six days before the Normandy operation was to begin Air Chief Marshal Leigh-Mallory came to him. Leigh-Mallory protested it would be "futile slaughter" to send the two American divisions—the 82nd and 101st—into the Cherbourg Peninsula.

A frank, able and honest officer, Leigh-Mallory predicted 70 percent of American glider strength and 80 percent of the paratroops would be lost before they even landed.

This forthright opinion by a chief air advisor upset Eisenhower greatly.

"I went to my tent alone and sat down to think," he wrote.

There he reviewed the whole situation again.

"If I should cancel the airborne operation, then I had either to cancel the attack on Utah Beach (one of the two main American landing sites) or I would condemn the assaulting forces there to even greater probability of disaster than was predicted for the airborne divisions."

Pampa News, Wednesday, November 24, 1948 Page 7

Eisenhower felt that to give up one of the landing beaches would threaten the success of the whole invasion.

And so, alone in his tent, Eisenhower came to his decision—to use his two divisions, the flower of American airborne power, according to his own plan.

On the night they were to take off, he went to the 101st Division himself. "I stayed with them until the last of them were in the air, somewhere about midnight," Eisenhower wrote.

A few hours later at his own headquarters he got word the landing was successfully underway. Air Chief Marshal Leigh-Mallory, he recalls, was "the first to call me to voice his delight and to express his regret that he had found it necessary to add to my personal burdens during the final tense days before D-Day."

The history of the war says: "It was the largest and most efficient airborne operation in five years of war. The allied forces landed exactly as planned and plane losses ran to less than three percent of those suffered by the Germans in Crete."

But the decision to send them—it will be long remembered by the distinguished warrior-educator who now has pitched his tent among the classrooms on Morningside Heights:

Doctors Report Polio Drug Seems 'Not Very Effective'

Hunter Shoots Deer in 'Self-Defense'

KILGORE —(AP)— Howard E. Alexander of Kilgore went squirrel hunting near Carthage this weekend but got an 8-point buck in self-defense.

The deer tried to run over him, Alexander said, "so I killed it with some No. 6 shot, in self-defense."

See The News Classified Ads.

"apparently not a wonder drug and apparently not very effective," two pediatricians said.

The drug is named darvirus. It was tried on human patients after laboratory tests showed that it helped protect mice from the polio virus.

The report was a preliminary study on some patients in Texas and North Carolina who got the drug. It was stressed that it is still too early to tell how effective the drug may be.

The report was made to the American Academy of Pediatrics by Dr. Clifford C. Grulee, Jr., associate professor of pediatrics at the University of Texas Medical School, Galveston, and Dr. Robert B. Lawson, professor of pediatrics at the North Carolina Baptist Hospital, Winston-Salem, N. C.

"The preliminary examination of some patients at treatment centers in Texas and North Carolina shows that darvirus is not very effective, although it may help to some extent," they said.

"It apparently cannot be counted on to prevent paralysis in humans, or to aid materially in a patient's recovery."

They reported on patients who were studied carefully for weeks after receiving the drug, and compared with other patients who were not given it.

Any drug or treatment for polio is extremely hard to evaluate, because of the nature of the disease. Many patients recover completely, and it can't be predicted how severe any attack will turn out to be. Also, it's almost impossible to find two cases of infantile paralysis that are exactly alike.

The judgment on darvirus will have to wait until other reports can be compiled from other physicians, Drs. Grulee and Lawson said.

Animal experiments with anti-polio vaccines hold promise that ultimately a vaccine can be developed to protect humans," the physicians added. As yet, there is no vaccine for humans.

IN LAST 16 MONTHS... MORE MEN VOLUNTEERED FOR THE ARMY than chose jobs in any other business

HERE'S THE RECORD

Between July 1, 1947, and October 21, 1948, a total of 214,616 forward-looking young American men signed original enlistment contracts with the U. S. Army. This number is greater than the number of men who obtained jobs with any other American business during the same period.

During this sixteen-month period the total of all enlistments in your U. S. Army amounted to 341,969. Of this group, 93,473 veterans returned to the Army—men who had discovered that the U. S. Army offered them more than civilian life. And in the same period 83,870 men re-enlisted to continue their satisfying, productive Army careers.

Thousands upon thousands of intelligent young men are finding worth-while, remunerative and satisfying careers in the Army. And every day more men are taking advantage of the unlimited opportunities the Army offers — opportunities that can't be duplicated in civilian life.

For instance, in the month of August, 1948, alone, 44,204 signed enlistment contracts of three years or more with the Army.

Today fifty-seven per cent of the volunteers in the Army have had previous military service — enjoyable, happy service which they want to continue.

This impressive record is solid, conclusive proof that the Regular U. S. Army offers the kind of career opportunity that the young men of our nation demand—an opportunity not only to learn but to serve at the same time.

WHY MEN RE-ENLIST

Ranking high among the reasons thousands of men give for selecting or continuing careers in the Army are the chances for rapid advancement in their chosen fields. Today the Army is expanding fast. This expansion means unlimited opportunity for promotion of skilled, highly trained men.

Advancement is important; however, there are many other good, sound reasons why so many intelligent men choose to stay in the Army. Here are but a few:

- ★ On the day a man enlists the Army starts a retirement-benefit "stake" for him which continues to grow as long as he stays. At the end of six years he has established an equity which compares with a retirement benefit of $6,250.
- ★ Army technical schools offer the most advanced and specialized training in interesting, practical fields—give technical "know-how" you'd have to pay for in civilian life.

HERE'S WHAT THE NEW ARMY OFFERS YOU

Before you choose any career, compare it with a future in the Regular U. S. Army. Never before has the Army offered such tremendous opportunities for a real career to the alert, ambitious young men of America.

On the one hand you have the chance to serve your country while learning a new trade or skill—to further your education in important fields. And on the other hand there are the financial advantages, the job security, the retirement benefits, the chances for rapid promotion, the free medical and dental care that are yours in the Army.

A career in the U. S. Army is an opportunity that just can't be beat. And it's a lifetime opportunity! Get the full details now at your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Office.

Texas Medical Assembly to Meet

The Post Graduate Medical Assembly of South Texas will hold its fourteenth session in Houston Dec. 7, 8, and 9. This organization is one of the pioneers in the idea of bringing post graduate medical training to the busy doctor's home. This year it will bring to Houston fifteen outstanding doctors, teachers and leaders in their specialties, to give an intensive course in recent developments in medicine and surgery.

Cancer, a condition which assumes greater and greater importance, is to be discussed from all angles by authorities of international reputation.

Through this assembly the standards of medical practice are raised in accordance with the scientific advances in all large centers of the world. The meeting is open to all ethical doctors and nurses who wish to attend.

At the controls of the Navy's newest carrier jet plane, when it made its initial flight tests at the Naval Air Test Center, Patuxent River, Md., was Capt. F. M. Trappnell, above. Captain Trappnell, of Elizabeth, N. J., piloted the Chance Vought XF7U-1 in its air trials.

Economist Says HST Tried To Control Free Enterprise

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Economist Harold G. Moulton said today the Truman administration attempted in 1946 to "control the vitals of free enterprise"—something, he said, which Franklin D. Roosevelt never tried.

The president of the Brookings Institution, a private research organization, declared that while the Roosevelt reform measures "did come in conflict with the private enterprise system," they did not "strike directly at the basic principle."

But, he said, Mr. Truman's postwar effort to keep wartime controls on such things as prices was a development "much more far-reaching in its potential impact upon the operation of the private enterprise system."

In a pamphlet on "economic systems"—one chapter of a larger work to be published by the institution later—Moulton said:

"Ostensibly these controls were to be retained only to guide and stabilize the economy during the period of transition but there were many within the administration who were interested in their permanent use."

Consulting that a "hybrid system, involving price and profit controls, cannot endure," Moulton said such "partial planning" has weaknesses for which the only solution is complete planning.

"Such a program as it progressed would lead, inevitably, to regimentation of the masses and would be difficult to differentiate from communism," he said.

However, he added, that does not leave uncontrolled free enterprise as the only alternative.

"It remains possible," Moulton said, "to maintain a system of government regulation which establishes 'rules of the game' and sets certain acceptable standards of performance, without assuming the vital functions of business management or destroying the essentials of the competitive free enterprise system."

He listed five reasons why "a democracy such as ours is inherently incapable of achieving a unified program of government control."

1. Since the government itself is not unified, it might be impossible for an administration to get its economic plans approved by Congress.
2. No new administration could scrap all existing laws and substitute a new set, but rather "The government's economic policy is inescapably a mere composite of the policies of past and present administrations."
3. "Even within the executive branch there is divided responsibility," with various independent agencies frequently in conflict.
4. "There remains a fundamental division of power and responsibility between federal government and state and local units which... serves to impede the development of a truly comprehensive national program."

5. Politics and "the power and influence of... special interest groups" are bound to play some part in government economic policies.

Jester Commends Spofford Woman

AUSTIN —(P)— Gov. Beauford H. Jester in a special ceremony Monday bestowed the commendation of his office on Miss Anna Lee Jameson of Spofford for outstanding work in promoting air marking for Texas pilots.

The Governor noted that Miss Jameson's endeavors in the establishment of six new air markers in the sparsely-settled Southwest Texas ranch country will aid air navigation during the coming winter months.

"Because of the value of these roof top signs as navigation aids, because of great comfort and con-

Banker Contributes Fund to Boys Home

WACO —(P)— H. W. Meredith Mineola, Tex., banker, has contributed $95,000 to the Methodist Home here which will be used to build the Meredith Home for Boys on the campus.

Supt. Hubert Johnson of the Methodist home said the Meredith Home for Boys will consist of ten home-like cottages, rather than dormitories. Construction will start immediately.

idence they offer to the pilots flying by visual flight plan, and because of the lives they may save, this multiple installation merits the highest commendation and praise," the Governor said.

Experts Say Few Turkeys By Christmas

DALLAS —(P)— There is a shortage of Thanksgiving turkeys and the shortage will be worse by Christmas, according to 15 experts.

At a planning meeting here at which the men hope to further research work within the turkey industry, they said Texas' supply of turkeys will drop short of last year's production by 10 percent.

"There are more orders for turkeys now than can possibly be filled," declared Walter Cardwell, manager of the Lulling Foundation for agricultural research. "Over half of those persons expecting a turkey for Thanksgiving dinner will be disappointed."

Prices are also higher than last year, said F. S. Beamblossom, poultry marketing specialist, Texas A. & M. College. Last year oven ready turkeys cost from 60 cents to 62 cents per pound. This year the price will range from 75 to 80 cents.

"However, that price is still lower than those of other competitive meats," he added.

Reason for the price increase, he said, was the cost of production and the demand for turkeys. Such a demand, he said, will naturally force a price increase.

"About 3,250,000 turkeys have been produced in Texas this year," Beamblossom declared. "Of those 90 percent are moving on the Thanksgiving market, and over half of those are being shipped out of state. By Christmas there will be no turkeys."

Those lucky enough to get turkeys this year will find a better quality meat, the group agreed. Feeding cost dropped slightly this year, they explained, and encouraged growers to produce better fowls.

Teeth? You Said a Mouthful

At the ripe young age of 11 months, Donald Barrett of Springfield, Ill., has a gleaming set of 16 teeth. His mother, Mrs. E. D. Barrett, says babies are usually two or three years old before they acquire that many choppers.

Oil Fire Fighter Gets Own Well

HOUSTON —(P)— H. L. Patton, who has traveled all over the world fighting wild and burning oil wells, is finally going to get his own well and right in his back yard.

"If this one blows out I won't have far to go to get to work on it," Patton declared.

The well is going to be drilled by the Gulf Refining Company, Patton said, and will be No. 1 O. L. and H. L. Patton, located on his 1,100-acre ranch about 36 miles north of Houston.

Patton recently has moved his fire fighting headquarters from his Houston warehouse to the ranch near New Caney so that he can have shops, warehouse and all equipment at one site, he said.

Texas College to Broadcast First Opera on Television

DENTON —(P)— A history-making television broadcast of North Texas State College's opera workshop production of "Carmen," has been scheduled over WBAP-TV Sunday, Dec. 12, at 9 p. m. Miss Mary McCormic, opera director, announced.

The broadcast, which will climax a tour of four Texas cities by the workshop troupe, will be the first time an operatic production has ever been given over television, Miss McCormic said.

A special stage will be constructed at the WBAP-TV studios near Fort Worth to accommodate the production. The broadcast will last about 45 minutes and will include the climactic third act of the opera which has its setting in the smugglers' hideout.

Arrangements for the broadcast have been made through J. P. Harrison, president of the Denton Chamber of Commerce, with Harold V. Hough, vice president and radio director for WBAP-TV, and James M. North, editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

"Carmen" is the sixth full-length opera to be produced by the NTSC School of Music's opera workshop under the direction of Miss McCormic, who is a former star of Paris Opera-Comique. Miss McCormic made her own operatic debut in "Carmen" 26 years ago with the Chicago Opera Company.

A native Texan, Miss McCormic later went to Europe and became the first American woman in 60 years to be signed for the Paris-Opera-Comique.

A 46-piece orchestra, a chorus of nearly 30, and 10 principals are to be used in the broadcast. Conductor will be Dr. Walter H. Hodgson, dean of the NTSC School of Music. Before the broadcast, the operatic production will be presented in Marshall, Dec. 1; Fort Arthur, Dec. 2; Dallas, Dec. 7, and Denton, Dec. 9 and 10.

Tentatively scheduled to sing leading roles in the broadcast are Martha Pender of Abilene as Carmen, Bill Blankenship of Gatesville as her lover, Don Jose, and Marvin Solley of Louisville, Ky., as Escamillo.

Other members of the cast are Marjorie McClung of San Antonio as Micaela, Jim Bob Nance of Amarillo as Zuniga, Pat McConnell of Tulsa as Mercedes, Daisy Haynes of Kilgore as Frasquita, Adrian McClish of Amarillo as El Dancairo, Stephen Farkas of Bridgeport, Conn., as El Remendado, and Edgar Stone of Dallas and Nail Davidson of Beaumont, alternating as Morales.

The Bizet opera will be given in English.

Library Group Says Texas Ill-Served

AUSTIN —(P)— Texans can't brag about their public libraries, the Texas Library Association says.

The reason such boasting is not in order is that only 14 percent of the state is served by such libraries, the association said in a statement today.

The association and another organization known as Texas Friends of Libraries started a statewide drive for a $200,000 public library development appropriation from the 51st Legislature.

ALLIANCE PLANNED

Deer Loses Fight With Machinery

READING, Pa. —(P)— A six-point buck deer had a brief skirmish with man's modern machinery—and came out with a bleeding mouth.

Samuel Johnson, furnace foreman for the E. & G. Brooke Iron Company, tells this story of the battle between machine and beast at nearby Birdsboro.

The animal wandered into the firm's engine room Sunday night, leaped between the engines and fell into a 12-foot pit below the machines. It tried to spring out but was struck in the face by the reciprocating arm of an engine.

Workmen entered the pit, cornered the deer, tied a rope around his antlers and dragged it up.

Then the buck broke loose. It headed out the doorway toward the ore pits—and fell into a 16-foot hole. Again the deer was lassoed and dragged out. Again it broke loose—and fled into the woods.

Two out of every three American soldiers who reached France in World War I participated in battle.

Let 'er blow...

The one thing that won't help you through the winter is a lot of talk. So we'll make it brief:

Change now to winter-grade Conoco N^o Motor Oil for faster starts, peak winter engine performance and the full-time protection of OIL-PLATING.

Faster starts: Winter-grade N^o is especially refined to lubricate your engine even when the temperature plunges. It's free-flowing.

Peak winter performance: When you drain out that thick, dirty summer oil, you say goodbye to balky engine response. Winter-grade N^o puts June under the hood!

Full-time protection: A special added ingredient fastens an extra protective film of lubricant to metal surfaces... OIL-PLATES every working part... cuts down "dry" friction starts and general engine wear. Let winter blow...

Oil-Plate and go!

Harvesters and Bulldogs Taper Off for Grid Game

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 the Pampa Harvesters write "finis" to their 1948 grid campaign when they play host to the Berger Bulldogs in a game which will decide the runner-up for District 1-AA laurels.

Both teams seem to be very evenly matched, and to state either one as a definite favorite would probably be a mistake. Both seem to possess about the same overall strength, considering speed, power, passing, and reserves.

The Harvesters, however, will be missing one of their key line-men who was injured last week in practice. Phillip Payne, rugged 185-pound Senior, who has established himself, by his sterling line-play, as a definite contender for all-district honors, will miss his first game of the season due to a pulled muscle. Phillip has spent most of the week on crutches, and it is very doubtful whether he will even be in uniform.

All other Harvesters regulars will probably be ready to go. Filling in for Payne will be Leon "Lon" English, capable 180-pound Senior. Lon started the Graham game.

Bill Bond and Gail Smith will probably alternate at one end position while Derral Davis holds down the other.

Three boys will probably take turns at the tackle slots, and all three will be playing their last game in a green and gold uniform. Bo Jack Phillips, stocky 185-pounder, Ralph Hutsell, tipping the scales at 175, and Lefty Troop, another veteran weighing 185 pounds, are the trio. All three boys have proven themselves capable of holding down either tackle position.

In the absence of Payne, Leon English will probably draw the starting nod. English played on the Curritias last year and has seen lots of action already this year. At the other guard position will be Jimmy Hill, husky 180-pounder. Hill is short with lots of power and has joined Payne and English in making the guard positions two of the best fortified in the Harvesters forward wall.

At center will be the only Junior in the line. Bill Runyon, another 185-pound athlete, who also played on the Curritias last year. Paul Boswell, another Junior, will work from the pivot slot on all punts.

The Harvesters backfield has been paced by two speedy halfbacks. Co-Captains Jack Williams and Wesley Kieth. Kieth is a 145-pound speed demon, elusive, shifty with lots of deception, while Williams weighs 155 pounds and carries lots of power with his speed.

At the fullback slot will probably be Harbord Cox, hard driving 160-pound Senior. Cox was injured early in the year and a Sophomore, Jimmy Hayes was found to be a capable replacement. Hayes and Carl Kennedy may also see action at that slot tomorrow. In the backfield, Wesley Kieth and Jack Williams will start at the halfback slots, Harbord Cox at fullback, and either Carroll Smith or Lamar Lively at quarterback. The latter pair will probably alternate in the field generalship.

Seven Bulldogs Play in Last Game for Berger

BORGER — The final scrimmage session of the year out of the way, Berger's Bulldogs are slated to taper off here Wednesday afternoon prior to their Thanksgiving Day invasion of Pampa.

The game will bring the curtain on Berger's 1948 season and it will write finis to high school football for seven of the Bulldogs.

Of the seven, all are starters except Head. A guard, Head plays behind regulars Chambless and Dalton. Picher is a tackle while Dalton, Hampton and Glass are backs.

Thursday's finale will feature Berger's single-wing against Pampa's T-formation attack, the Bulldogs' stout line play against the Harvesters' accurate throwing barrage and a battle for second place in District 1-AA.

Coach Trickey Ward has announced that the Bulldogs will eat in Berger around 10:30 a. m. Thursday and will board their bus for Pampa at 10:45.

A host of followers of the Carbon City club will be on hand for the 2:30 p. m. kickoff in Harvesters Park.

They Can't Win

NEW YORK, (AP)—Texas A and M, where the Alumni paid $20,000 to get rid of Coach Homer Norton after last season? stands a good chance to be the "losingest" football team in the nation this fall.

The Aggies have lost 11 straight games. They wind up their season tomorrow against Texas with Texas heavily favored.

Nineteen other college teams haven't won a game this year, an Associated Press survey showed today, and 15 of them won't get another chance. Their schedules are completed.

One of the most prominent of the always-beaten teams is Navy, loser eight straight, with Army coming up Saturday.

alternate in the field generalship. All in all, of the Harvesters play the brand of ball they're capable of playing, and have played at various intervals, it looks like the local lads will come through with their eighth triumph of the year probably by no more than a one-touchdown margin.

Phillips-Lefors Tickets At Chamber of Commerce

From all indications the Phillips-Lefors scrap here next Saturday afternoon should turn out to be a real game. Both teams have spent a tough week of practice in preparation for this bi-district championship game.

Any Pampa resident who desires to obtain tickets for this game may purchase them at the Chamber of Commerce Office. It was announced yesterday. The tickets are for seating on the Pampa home side of the field.

Aggies Have Opportunity For Upset

AUSTIN, (AP)—A physically fit but apprehensive Texas Longhorn football team came to the eve of its annual tussle with Texas A and M today alerted against an all-out Aggie effort.

The winless Aggies—underdogs by every statistic in the books—could salvage lots of satisfaction from a dismal season by breaking a long-standing jinx and whipping Texas on its home field.

Not since Memorial Stadium was finished in 1924 have the Aggies defeated the Longhorns here. If they could shatter that jinx this year, it would help them forget a string of nine straight losses in a disastrous season.

Longhorn coaches have kept reminding the squad this week that the Aggies have everything to win and nothing to lose. Today's workout was expected to concentrate on that, with some attention also to an Aggie passing offense featuring "Burl" Baty's humping.

It has been a scoring threat in virtually every game this season. Thirteen first-string Longhorns will be playing their final game in Memorial Stadium and little Jim Lowrey, a reserve Senior halfback, will listen in from his hospital bed. He will undergo a knee operation this afternoon.

Topping the list of Senior Texas starters are Dick Harris, great center and Tom Landry, back, co-captains.

The others are Lewis Holder, George Petrovich, Victor Vasicek, Ed Kelley, Dale Schwartzkopf, Charley Tatum, Sam Callan, Geo. McCall, Peppy Blunt, Byron Gilroy and Frank Guess.

That includes a large segment of the big, fast-charging Longhorn line rated by many as tops in the Southwest Conference. Coach Blair Cherry is depending on them to make a fine showing and smear the Aggie offense in their last appearance here.

Last-minute sales of left-over student tickets saw the few remaining admissions melt away under brisk demand and a crowd of 68,000 was expected.

Texas' football squad gets the "comeback" title for 1948. In three Southwest Conference games, the Longhorns have overcome half-time scores to win, against Rice, Baylor and TCU.

Longhorns to Beat Aggies, Sooners Picked Over A&M

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK, (AP)—Stabbing this week's football winners with a turkey pin-feather:

Army vs Navy: The nation's no. 1 gridiron spectacle that will lure 101,000 fans, plus President Truman. He is sitting on the Navy side this year but that is likely to be the "Middies' sole distinction. Army goes into Saturday's fray with an all-winning record, Navy with an all-losing list. Neither streak will end here.

Georgia Tech at Georgia: Johnny Rausch's passing Saturday will be too much for the Engineers who have lost two of their last three games. Georgia is Bowl fodder and the players know it. Georgia.

Cornell at Pennsylvania: Thursday's top game with the Ivy League title at stake. Loss of Hillary Chollet and Jeff Fleischmann, both first string backs for Cornell, by injuries is too much of a handicap for the New Yorkers, Pennsylvania.

Kansas at Missouri: The Midwest version of the Yale-Harvard series. Kansas hasn't recovered from the Oklahoma shock. It is another Thanksgiving classic. Missouri.

Washington at Notre Dame: Howie O'Dell reportedly quit as Yale coach last fall to get into the football big time. He will regret his decision by Saturday. Notre Dame.

Tennessee at Vanderbilt: Vanderbilt teams almost always stumble when they encounter Tennessee. But this speedy Commodore team is different as Tennessee will discover Saturday. Vanderbilt.

Oklahoma at Oklahoma A & M: Oklahoma has Jack (The Magnificent) Mitchell, Darrell Royal and Buddy Burris all in shape and that is plenty. This is another Saturday affair. Oklahoma.

Mississippi State at Mississippi: Saturday's card is dotted with civil wars. Here's another. The record says that Barney Poole will close this seventh year of college football with a victory. Mississippi.

Texas A & M at Texas: Remember when this annually was one of the year's most important games? They will meet Thursday with only state-wide prestige at stake. Texas.

Clemson at Auburn: Bobby Gage's throwing gives his mates a big edge in this Saturday rum-puss. Clemson.

Skipper over the rest in a hurry: EAST Thursday: Brown over Colgate, St. Bonaventure over San Francisco, Muhlenberg over Albright, Saturday: Boston College over Holy Cross, Maryland over West Virginia, Fordham over New York University.

SOUTH Thursday: Wake Forest over South Carolina, Virginia Military over Virginia Tech, Richmond over

Washington & Lee, Davidson over Furman, Dayton over Chattanooga.

Friday: Kentucky over Miami (Fla.), Rollins over Stetson.

Saturday: Florida over Alabama, North Carolina over Virginia, Tulane over Louisiana State, Villanova over North Carolina State.

MIDWEST Thursday: Miami (Ohio) over Cincinnati, Nevada over Wichita, Western Reserve over Case, Missouri Valley over McMurry, St. Louis over Kansas State.

Saturday: Detroit over Tulsa, Washington (St. Louis) over St. Louis.

SOUTHWEST Thursday: Texas Mines over New Mexico A & M, Abilene Christian over Howard Payne.

Saturday: Arkansas over William & Mary, New Mexico over West Texas State, Rice over Baylor, Southern Methodist over Texas Christian, Texas Tech over Hardin-Simmons.

FAR WEST Thursday: Utah over Utah State, College of Pacific over Fresno State.

Friday: St. Mary's over San Jose, Brigham Young over Arizona (Tempe) State.

Saturday: Marquette over Arizona, Michigan State over Santa Clara, Oregon State over Nebraska, Penn State over Washington State, Loyola over Pepperdine, San Diego over Santa Barbara.

Last week's average: 53 correct, eight wrong, .867 average. Season's figures: 566 correct, 121 wrong, .828 average.

Dick Bagley, Syracuse tackle, is the largest grider on the Orange Squad. He stands six feet, five inches and weighs 295 pounds.

Air Bombing By Longhorn

COLLEGE STATION, (AP)—The Texas Aggie fans whooped it up as scheduled around their football rally bonfire last night—after thwarting an "enemy" attempt to ignite the blaze prematurely.

The culprit, a University of Texas student who dropped homemade "bombs" from the air on the bonfire, was under temporary suspension at Austin.

It was an outbreak of the high spirits which usually prevail just before the annual Thanksgiving Day game between the Aggies and Texas. Both schools customarily collect huge stockpiles of scrap for their bonfire rallies.

Here's what happened yesterday: An unidentified University of Texas student equipped himself with railroad flares and "bombs" made of five-gallon gasoline drums. Then he took to the air at Austin, headed for College Station.

He made five passes over the bonfire stockpile here and dropped both "bombs." One missed. Aggie students guarding the stockpile put out the flares and pulled the other gasoline drum out of the pile.

One alert guard at the stockpile got the serial number of the plane and reported it. When the bombardier landed at Austin, dean of men Jack Holland was waiting for him—with news of his temporary suspension.

Dean Holland then formally tendered his school's apologies for what the called "break of sportsmanship." Aggie officials accepted the apologies.

Texas, by the way, lights its bonfire at Austin tonight.

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Hassel—News Sports Editor

WHO DUN IT? What National League pitcher, after winning his eighth game of the year, found he had beaten every other team in the League?

THE BEAR FACTS: A pair of Texas outstanding pigskin pitchers are performing now in the National Football League. One a grizzled veteran of many campaigns, having one of his best seasons, is Sammy Baugh. The other a youngster, pining away the hours on a plank on the Chicago Bears' bench, is Bobby Layne.

As aforementioned, Slinging Sam is having one, if not the best, of his pro seasons. He has been writing many new records in the books in all phases of the aerial game.

But what of Bobby Layne, the Kid, Bobby is the Baby of the Bears, and has been treated as such. He has had little opportunity to display the talent that brought him such great fame while at the University of Texas. He has been third string quarterback behind the veteran Sid Luckman and the Notre Dame All-American Johnny Lujack.

In fact, Lujack has practically taken over the No. 1 quarterback job from the Columbia veteran. He has shown himself to be a very capable field general in the play for pay game, and is a magnet on defense. It has been rumored that Luckman intends to retire from the pro game and turn to coaching in a mid-western university.

Owner-coach George Halas of the mighty Bears has seen fit to insert Bobby into the line-up only in the late stages of the games, giving him little opportunity to get the feel of the much rougher pro game, especially the way the Bears play it. Perhaps he feels that it is best that Layne sit out the season and gain most of his experience from watching the masters play. Perhaps he has found the youngster doesn't fit into his team plans.

The Bears are tied for the league lead with the World Champion Chicago Cardinals, and cannot afford to lose a game as the Cards have a small powerhouse themselves with Trippi, Harder, Angsman and Pitchin' Paul Christman. Every time the Bears step onto the gridiron they are facing a team that has been pointed to meet and defeat them. They are the primary target for all other teams in the league. Whatever the reason that young Bobby isn't playing it is probably

National League Homer King Dead

BALTIMORE—(AP)—Lewis R. (Hack) Wilson, who held the National League home run record, died in City Hospital yesterday.

He was taken to the hospital Monday when he became ill and doctors said he died of internal hemorrhages complicated by a condition similar to pneumonia.

Wilson, 48, was hurt in a fall at his home last month and was hospitalized about a week.

He came to Baltimore in 1941 and got a job in a war plant, but in recent years he had been an employee of the Municipal Parks Department. He started as a laborer and last summer was made manager of a park swimming pool.

Hack broke into the majors with the New York Giants in 1924 but joined the Chicago Cubs two years later and reached his peak in 1930, when he smacked out 56 home runs and drove in 190 runs. That runs batted in record still stands in the major league.

He was bitter because he had never been able to find a non-playing job in the major leagues. He started slipping soon after his great 1930 season, was involved in some trades, and finally bowed out in 1934.

"I guess getting back into baseball is all I think about now," he said in a recent interview. "So far I haven't had much success. I've written to almost all the important men I know, but the answer is always the same: 'Sorry, we're all filled up.'"

Sportatorium Friday Mat Card Ready

Promoter Vic Burnette will feature a twin main event on his Sportatorium wrestling card next Friday night.

In one event the Hammond Hoosier, Dory Funk, will throw his weight around with Olan Boynton, a skilled veteran from Amarillo. Last weekend Funk applied his knee lock and toe twist to Al Getz twice, to win two out of three falls from the former Southwestern Junior Heavyweight champion.

In the other match, Eddie Gidcon will tangle with Benny Truedell, a former Canadian Junior Heavyweight champion. Bearded Benny was referee of last week's bouts, and saw considerable action himself. Twice he was on the bottom of the pile, and had difficulty extricating himself.

Friday night the referee will be Glen Dieton, one of the best and fairest referees to work the mat. He will form a huge J-A-K-E on the field.

The plaque will be presented in midfield by Athletic Director D. X. Bible, Col. George Hurt, band director, and C. L. (Ok) Higgins, captain of the 1928 football team.

Mighty Nevada Offense May Establish Several

BOWLING

NEW YORK—(AP)—Having shattered two national college marks in forward passing, once-beaten Nevada goes after a fistful of other records tomorrow when the Wolfpack winds up a highly successful football season against Wichita.

In eight games, Nevada has averaged an unprecedented 484.8 yards per contest by both rushing and passing. If it nets 287 yards against Wichita, it will break the record of 482.7 yards averaged over a full season by the great Army team of 1945.

Its aerial game has accounted for 2,181 yards and 25 touchdowns—both new records—and its total of 125 completions is far and away the best in the country. In announcing the weekly statistics for major colleges today, the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau disclosed that Nevada needs only 13 pass completions against Wichita to break the seasonal record of 147 set last year by Mississippi.

The ten leaders in each department: Total offense—Nevada, 484.8 yards averaged per game by both rushing and passing; Army, 429.6; Michigan State, 416.7; Notre Dame, 402; Hardin-Simmons, 398.3; Oklahoma, 394.2; Miami (Ohio), 383.5; Missouri, 381.4; Georgia Tech, 380.2; Texas Mines, 378.

Rushing offense—Army, 344.5; average per game; Texas Mines, 337; Notre Dame, 334.4; Michigan State, 312.3; Oklahoma, 301.9; California, 278.8; Missouri, 275.2; Hardin-Simmons, 268.6; Cornell, 262; Detroit, 259.3.

Passing offense—Nevada, 268.9 yards average per game; Georgia Tech, 186.8; Tulsa, 187.8; Georgia, 185.7; San Francisco, 184.8; Michigan, 180.4; Davidson, 148.1; Minnesota, 142.8; Columbia, 142.2; Boston College, 141.6.

OPINION ON BOARD

AUSTIN—(AP)—The State Board of Plumbing Examiners may not use its funds to pay expenses of instructional institutes for plumbing examiners, an attorney general's opinion held.

Basketball Association of American teams will play doubleheaders in New York Chicago, Indianapolis, Boston, St. Louis and Philadelphia this season.

NEW YORK

Having shattered two national college marks in forward passing, once-beaten Nevada goes after a fistful of other records tomorrow when the Wolfpack winds up a highly successful football season against Wichita.

In eight games, Nevada has averaged an unprecedented 484.8 yards per contest by both rushing and passing. If it nets 287 yards against Wichita, it will break the record of 482.7 yards averaged over a full season by the great Army team of 1945.

Its aerial game has accounted for 2,181 yards and 25 touchdowns—both new records—and its total of 125 completions is far and away the best in the country. In announcing the weekly statistics for major colleges today, the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau disclosed that Nevada needs only 13 pass completions against Wichita to break the seasonal record of 147 set last year by Mississippi.

The ten leaders in each department: Total offense—Nevada, 484.8 yards averaged per game by both rushing and passing; Army, 429.6; Michigan State, 416.7; Notre Dame, 402; Hardin-Simmons, 398.3; Oklahoma, 394.2; Miami (Ohio), 383.5; Missouri, 381.4; Georgia Tech, 380.2; Texas Mines, 378.

Rushing offense—Army, 344.5; average per game; Texas Mines, 337; Notre Dame, 334.4; Michigan State, 312.3; Oklahoma, 301.9; California, 278.8; Missouri, 275.2; Hardin-Simmons, 268.6; Cornell, 262; Detroit, 259.3.

Passing offense—Nevada, 268.9 yards average per game; Georgia Tech, 186.8; Tulsa, 187.8; Georgia, 185.7; San Francisco, 184.8; Michigan, 180.4; Davidson, 148.1; Minnesota, 142.8; Columbia, 142.2; Boston College, 141.6.

Elizondo Wins TKO

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Taking revenge, Tony Elizondo scored a second round technical knockout last night over Joey Martinez of El Paso in a scheduled ten-rounder here.

Elizondo, former Texas middleweight champion, had formerly been kayoed by the El Paso boxer.

Thanks to many people for many things

THIS IS THE SEASON OF THANKSGIVING . . .

And there is much for which we can all be thankful in this great country of ours.

Certainly we are thankful for a bountiful harvest of grain and corn, for a high level of production and employment, for a standard of living that is the envy of the world.

Most of all, perhaps, we are grateful for our American heritage . . . freedom of opportunity, freedom of choice, freedom to think and worship according to our own beliefs.

We Feel as a Chevrolet dealer it is an appropriate time to convey our sincere appreciation to the people of this community for their loyalty, patience and understanding.

For Despite Chevrolet's production of more cars and trucks during 1948 than any other manufacturer there is still a long "waiting list" for America's most-wanted cars and trucks.

Chevrolet is doing everything within its power to maintain and increase production. Meantime, we would like to express our thanks . . .

Thanks to Buyers and Prospective Buyers of New Chevrolets for your generous recognition of the honest value built into this first-choice car in the low-priced field. More people have bought Chevrolet cars and trucks, during the eighteen-year period from 1931 to date, than have bought the cars and trucks of any other manufacturer.

Thanks to Those Who Are Waiting for Orders to be Filled for your patience and understanding. You can be sure we are doing our best to treat all customers fairly . . . doing our best to speed the day when we can give you the good news, "Your waiting days are over!"

Thanks to Service Customers for the opportunity to keep your present cars in safe driving condition. We have tried to serve you well, and appreciate your patronage.

Thanks to all whose friendship and favor have helped maintain Chevrolet's leadership . . .

Thanks for your patronage which has made

Berlin Takes Up Smuggling

A fuel shortage in Berlin's western sectors, caused by the Russian blockade, has produced a flourishing smuggling operation. Trucks, like this one, come from the Russian zone with cans of "propanas," a by-product of gasoline. They are sold openly in the western sectors. (Photo by NEA-Acme staff correspondent Joe Schuppe.)

Writer Sees Resolute China Capable of Fighting Back

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — We guarded the front door and then found out someone had set fire to the kitchen.
That's just about the spot we're in now.
We blocked the Russian Communists at Berlin, and still are blocking them.
In the meantime the Chinese Communists have been overrunning China and may take over the country very soon.
At this moment it doesn't seem that we can do very much.
Right now we're pretty tied up trying to help Western Europe so the Communists can't take over there.
It's questionable that we could pour enough strength into both places at the same time to do this job.
President Chiang Kai-shek has been no howling success in China. Under his leadership, the country has gone to pieces, riddled with inflation and starvation.
But if the Chinese Communists win and Chiang's government falls, what then? It looks like a sad sight from our viewpoint. Take a look:
Here are some population estimates. China—475 million; India—322 million; Korea—27,000,000; Indo-China—27,000,000; Burma—17 million; Netherlands East Indies—72 million; Siam—7,676,000.
That's a total of 947,666,000 people in Asia. If the Chinese Communists take over the 475 million Chinese, the pressure on splinters.

Texas Will Have Versatile Senate Team in January

By TEX EASLEY
AP Washington Service
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Texas will have a versatile team in the Senate next year.

The veteran 71-year-old Tom Connally and the dynamic Lyndon B. Johnson—whose 40 years make him a youth compared with the average senator—should complement each other.

Twenty years of service in the Senate, coupled with the power and prestige that goes with the chairmanship of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, will make Connally a top-flight figure in the government when the Democrats assume complete control next Jan. 3.

The mere mention of his name when a state matter is being taken up with a governmental department commands respect and attention.

Senator-elect Johnson has vigor and personality—assets that will help offset his lack of seniority in a lawmaking body where seniority counts for much.

Of course, Johnson is wise in the ways of Washington and he has more experience in Congress than the average colleague with whom he will serve. His service in the House, dating from April 10, 1937, is longer than 72 of the 96 senators who served in the upper body and two of those men will not be senators when the 81st Congress convenes.

Connally is renowned as an orator of the old school, and though the years are slowing him up somewhat, he is still a master both of flowery speech and invective.

Johnson, on the other hand, seldom has spoken on the House floor. But he has been able to get things done through making friends with the right people in the right places.

Presumably, Senator Johnson will operate in the same manner as has Rep. Johnson.

Johnson's Senatorial committee assignment is a question. When he took his House seat 11 years ago he went immediately on the Naval Affairs Committee, a major assignment. Most freshmen congressmen have to start off on minor committees. But Johnson got off to a fast start with the personal backing of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The young Texan's service on the House Armed Services committee (created by a merger of the naval and military affairs groups) would seem to qualify him for the same committee in the Senate.

Johnson also has been on the Joint Senate-House committee on atomic energy. Whether he continues in that group is a big question, for Connally also is on it as a Senate representative.

After his appointment to the atomic committee, Johnson spent many long evenings poring over scientific works in quest of knowledge of a stupendous subject. Should Connally find his Foreign Relations Committee chairmanship a full-time job, he might yield his atomic assignment to his junior colleague.

On the House side of the Capitol Texas will be involved in a number of committee shifts. When the late Rep. Milton West of Brownsville announced early in the year that he could not seek reelection as to who might take over his coveted spot on the House Ways and Means Committee.

The Texas delegation will have to put up a scrap to keep a spot on that powerful committee, but with Bonhan's Sam Rayburn serving as speaker they might succeed.

Both Clark Fisher of San Angelo and J. M. Combs of Beaumont have been mentioned for the position.

Combs also has shown considerable interest in international problems and with the Democrats, as the majority party, being entitled to more places on standing committees, Combs might get on the Foreign Affairs Committee. Not since Federal Judge Luther Johnson resigned two years ago to go on the U. S. Tax Court has Texas had a member on that group.

Texas also may have a fight on its hands to keep its place on the Armed Services Committee which Johnson surrenders. The Lone Star State still has a member on that body, Rep. Paul J. Kilday of San Antonio, who will be only two positions behind the chairman.

Rep. Olin E. (Tiger) Teague of College Station and Ken Reagan of Midland, whose district includes Fort Bliss and Biggs Field at El Paso, would like to get on armed services.

Some Texas members are high up on other committees and probably would not care to change.

Rep. W. R. (Bob) Poage of Waco will be third on the Agriculture Committee. Rep. George Mahon of Colorado City and Lubbock will be third on appropriations (Albert Thomas of Houston will be fifth); Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana will be third on banking and currency and will head the special House Small Business Committee; Rep. Lindley Beekworth of Gladewater will be third on interstate and foreign commerce; Rep. John E. Lyle of

Arkansas Town To Pick Champion Wild Duck Caller For Nation

STUTTGART, Ark. — (AP) — Are you one of those persons who think the call of a wild duck is just so much quacking?

If so, here is a warning—you had better stay away from this Corpus Christi will be second on postoffices and civil service.

Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine will move up on the Public Works Committee, which handles all flood control and navigation projects, such as the Trinity River improvement program and dredging of shipping channels connecting with the Louisiana-Texas Intracoastal canal.

Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls likewise moves up on the Judiciary Committee, a group on which every lawyer aspires to serve. It handles such important legislation as that concerning immigration and parts of the civil rights program recommended by President Truman.

Eastern Arkansas city next Saturday or get a good set of ear plugs.

On that day, the world's champion duck caller will be selected from a group of sportsmen who think the quacking of the game bird has all the musical appeal of a symphony orchestra.

Some of the contestants will imitate the call of the duck without the benefit of a caller. The contest has been won twice by a man who has depended on a flexible larynx to reproduce the language of the zowl.

CHASSIS PRICE RAISED
DETROIT — (AP) — General Motors Corp. Monday raised prices of GMC truck chassis $90 to $175 and added another $10 to the cost of cabs for the trucks. Panel bodies also were increased $50.

In the United States, the supply of peat is estimated to contain 12 million tons of dry fuel.

HE discovered the letter a second time only within the last quarter of an hour before leaving to go home, and as equally by accident as it had been thrust upon him in the first place by happening to thrust his hand blindly into his pocket for a handkerchief.

Reminded of its presence, he looked at it more closely than he had on the street in presence of Madame Tellier. He saw then what had misled him. The little curl, following the "Mr." so tiny as almost to escape detection, was meant for an "a."

He went back to the paper once more; turned this over, glanced at the bottom of its reverse side.

"Your ever-loving and distressed Bertha."

It was from her sister, in St. Louis.

"Distressed." The word seemed to cast itself up at him, like a barbed fishhook, catch onto and strain at his attention.

He did not intend to read any further. It was her letter, after all.

Somehow the opening words held him trapped, he could not stop once they had seized his eyes with their meaning.

My own dearest Julia: I cannot understand why you treat me thus. Surely I deserve better than this of you. It is three weeks now since you have left me, and in all that time not a word from you. Not so much as your safe arrival, whether you met Mr. Durand, whether the marriage has taken place or not. Julia, you were never like this before. What am I to think? Can you not imagine the distracted state of mind this leaves me in—

Waltz into Darkness BY WILLIAM IRISH

THE STORY
Time, 1899 Place, New Orleans
Louis Durand, 27, a well-to-do bachelor, has been corresponding with Miss Julia Russell, whom he has never seen. He has proposed marriage and she has accepted.

According to her picture, Miss Russell is dark-haired, strong-featured, and young. Durand goes down to the dock to meet the boat that is to bring her from St. Louis. He is dumfounded when an exquisite young blond creature introduces herself as Julia. She explains her little deceit by saying she didn't want him to fall for just a pretty face.

Durand is enchanted with her and they are married. Certain things puzzle him however. Julia Durand goes down to the dock to meet the boat that is to bring her from St. Louis. He is dumfounded when an exquisite young blond creature introduces herself as Julia. She explains her little deceit by saying she didn't want him to fall for just a pretty face.

IX
It was quite by chance that he happened to go through the street in which his former lodgings were.

And it was equally by chance that Madame Tellier, his erstwhile landlady, happened to come out and stand for a moment in the entrance just as he was in the act of walking by.

She greeted him effusively, with shrieks of delight that could be heard far doors away in either direction, flung her arms about him like a second mother, asked about his health, his happiness, his enjoyment of married life.

"Oh, but we miss you, Louis! Your old rooms are rented again—to a pair of cold Northerners (I charge them double)—but it's not the same." She ceased her rather large nose distastefully. Suddenly she was all alight again, gave her fingers a crackling snap of self-revinder. "I just remembered I have a letter waiting for you. It's been here several days now, and I haven't seen Tom since it came, to ask where your new address is, or I would have forwarded it. He still comes around now and then to work for me, you know. Wait here, I'll bring it out to you."

She patted him three times in rapid succession on the chest, as if cajoling him to stand patiently as he was for a moment, turned and whisked inside.

HE had, he only now recalled, rather ruefully, completely overlooked having his mailing address changed from here, his old quarters, to the new house on St. Louis Street, when he made the move. Not that it was vitally important; his business mail all continued to go to the office, as it always did, and of personal correspondence he had never had a great deal, only his courtship letters with Julia, now brought to a happy termination. He would stop by the post office, on his way home, and file the new delivery instructions. If only for the sake of an occasional stray missive such as this.

Meanwhile she had come back with it. "Here! Isn't it good you just happened to come by this way?"

He gave the inscription a brief glance, simply to confirm it, as he took it from her. "Mr. Louis Durand," in spidery penmanship; the rare capitals, M, L, and D, standing out in black enlargement, the minuscule letters too finely traced and too diminished in size to make for legibility. However, it was his own name, there could be no mistaking that, so he questioned it no further; thrust it carelessly into the side pocket of his coat and promptly forgot about it.

Their leavetaking was as exclamatory and enthusiastic as their greeting had been. She kissed him on the forehead in a sort of maternal benediction, waved him steadily on his way.

He completed his errand, he returned to his office, he absorbed

I'D LIKE TO BORROW $100,000 FROM YOUR BANK!

$100,000? ER—MAY I ASK WHAT YOU WANT THE MONEY FOR?

SURE! I WANT TO START A BUSINESS! A BIG BUSINESS!

I SEE! WHAT KIND OF A BUSINESS?

I WANT TO START A BANK NEXT DOOR!

Vic Flint

WE DON'T OPEN UNTIL AFTER THE FIRST OF THE YEAR—BUT WE'RE IMPROVING THE FIELD AND THERE'LL BE PLENTY TO KEEP RED BUSY ALL THROUGH DECEMBER!

THEN WHEN THE SCHOOL DOES OPEN HE'LL STAY THERE UNTIL IT'S TIME TO REPORT TO OUR SPRING TRAINING CAMP—AND BY THAT TIME SCHMIDT WILL HAVE TAUGHT HIM A LOT!

IT'LL REALLY BE A SWEET BREAK FOR HIM, MICKY!

GEE—YOU BET IT WILL! IT'S GONNA BE JUST WHAT HE NEEDS!

Mickey Finn

I INSIST I TAKE YOU TO THE MOVIES, MICKLE OR I WON'T GO... AND I INSIST I TAKE YOU PAPA OR I WON'T GO.

HERE! HERE, WHAT'S ALL THIS? I SUPPOSE YOU GOT PREFERENCE AND LET THE MOVIES BE ON ME? FATHER, YOU ANGEL!

WELL, I SETTLED THAT IN A HURRY—AHEM, HOW LONG HAD THEY BEEN ARGUING? THEY STARTED DEAR...

THE VERY SECOND THEY HEARD YOU COME IN THE DOOR.

Bugs Bunny

Y-I-IPE! I GOTTA HUSTLE IF I'M GONNA MAKE IT!

'SCUSE IT, LADY, BUT I'M IN A ANWFUL HURRY!

SORRY, DOC, BUT MY TIME IS VALUABLE!

PRICES CHANGE AT 5 P.M.

ONE!

I SUPPOSE YOU'VE GOT A PUPPY, TOO.

NO, MA'AM.

WELL... MAYBE YOU'VE GOT A LITTLE KITTEN.

NO, MA'AM.

YOU MEAN YOU DON'T HAVE ANY KIND OF A FUZZY CREATURE AT YOUR HOUSE?

ONLY ON SATURDAYS. MY POP NEVER SHAVES ON SATURDAYS.

Illiterate Indian Now Wealthiest Industrialist

By S. BURTON HEATH

NEW YORK (NEA)—It has taken illiterate Seth Ramkrishna Dalmia 15 years to make himself the biggest, richest industrialist in the second most populous nation in the world.

Now, at 55, he has turned his Indian business empire over to the husband of his favorite daughter, and has started a one-man, world-wide campaign for world peace and world government.

Dalmia started his first sugar mill in 1933. Today he has so many companies, in so many different fields, that it is doubtful if he could sit down and list them without forgetting a few.

A tabloid summary of his holdings, prepared by a press representative, takes one typewritten letter-sized page. It boils down that far by lumping things like "a chain of" cement factories, electric power companies, chemical works, "a number of" collieries; "large agricultural holdings," and winding up with the vague "and many other concerns."

These are not picaresque outfits.

Beware Coughs From Common Colds That HANG ON

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Dalmia controls an airline with an issued capital of 350 million rupees, which is about $105,000,000 in U. S. money. When he bought The Times, India's foremost daily, to promote his peace views, he laid down seven million American dollars, cash on the barrel head—and then went out and bought and started eight more newspapers all over India.

Many men, capable of doing all that in 15 years, would also be capable of remembering the names of all their companies. Dalmia thinks he has wonderful memory. "It is so good," he volunteered, "that I don't need notebooks. Why, I can remember hundreds of telephone numbers."

But just a few minutes previously, he couldn't remember in what year he forked over those seven-million odd bucks for one newspaper. An aide recalled that it was no longer ago than two years.

When Dalmia received this correspondent in a hotel suite, he wore a white dhoti and a white kurta. Together, they looked like a suit of white linen pajamas. The dhoti is the top with high collar line, and either slips on over the head or buttons on at the side of sight. The bottoms of the kurta legs are gathered in around the ankle.

On his head was a dark flannel cap. He kicked off his slippers, and curled bare feet under him in an overstuffed chair. He doesn't shake hands. Instead he puts palms together, under his chin. He explained that this shows, to guest or friend, the same humility man gives to his God when he prays.

Through a door Mrs. Dine Shindim, his newest wife, peeked in to see what was going on. She wore native garb, but not the diamond nose she had in her pierced nose when the Dalmias arrived at LaGuardia Field. That diamond was just feminine ornamentation, and not the caste mark as has been reported, though she is of higher caste than her husband and to his expressed pride—much better educated.

Dalmia had four wives. The first died. He left the other two, his seven daughters, one son and grandchildren in India. His favorite daughter, whose husband was given a full half share in the Dalmia empire, and now runs it, was Dalmia's second wife, who did not come to New York.

Dalmia himself is of lower caste. Some of his Indian visitors here have emphasized this slyly by leaving their jodhpurs, but they have respected his achievement and industrial and financial power by being very nice.

He started working at $3 a month, got up to $15 a month, and turned to speculating in metals, commodities, stocks. He seemed to have the Midas touch. "Even my mistakes turned into money," he said in broken English.

He came to this country to get people interested in world peace and a world government. He has spoken at the universities of Louisville, Alabama and Indiana, and is trying to get millions of signatures to a peace pledge.

He has been persuaded that his original world government plan had serious flaws, so for the moment he is trying to get people to think in terms of peace and universal brotherhood. He has offered $4000 for the best book on world peace, and $15,000 for his best effort to promote it, for each of the next three years, and will extend the offer if it brings results.

"I'm no saint," he says, bringing up his palms in the praying gesture, "though I'm trying to be one. I've done a lot of bad things. But now I'm trying to do all I can to persuade people all over the world to turn to spiritualism, which is the only thing that can ever bring about world peace."

TELEVISION SPREADING LONDON—(AP)—The British television audience is growing steadily. The General Post Office reports 3,450 persons took out television receiving licenses in August to run the total up to 61,700 in Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

Radio receiving licenses including television numbers 234,466. There were 508 prosecutions during August for listening in without them.

Harold Lloyd Safety Man Says Busses Needed

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP)—Harold Lloyd, the shy guy with the horn-rimmed glasses, is planning yet another screen comeback.

I have this on authority of Harold Lloyd, the hearty millionaire, bowler and Shrine bigwig. "I have just the germ—you might call it the weenie of an idea for another picture," he told me. "It is the kind of thing that only I, or somebody else who has been in the business for a long time, could do."

The comedian has other film plans, too. He is going to reissue one of his great old films, "Movie Crazy," made in 1932.

"I tried the picture out at a theater in Redonda Beach," he related. "I would say that 65 percent of the audience didn't know me, or at least didn't know my work. But the response was terrific."

"So I am going to put it out again—if I can get the right kind of presentation. But if it isn't presented nicely, it's not worth my trouble."

Lloyd said the film hasn't aged much—in fact, the women's skirts are the same length as today's. His "Diddleback" picture made three years ago but not yet released by Howard Hughes, is even more dated because of the "old look" skirts.

The comedian expressed disappointment with his latest film, "I have great faith in Preston Sturges, (faith enough to be eating in Sturges' restaurant—ed.) But he is a writer and he knows exactly what he wants. I couldn't make suggestions to him. There was too much talk, talk, talk and not enough 'sight' comedy."

He added that is the trouble with today's comedies: "They are wedded to words." It's funnier to see things than hear them.

"You'll find that your great comedy directors—Leo McCarey, Frank Capra, George Stevens, etc.—aren't tied down by a script. Comedy must be spontaneous; it may arise from a prop you firl on the set, somebody's pan, or anything."

The new sheaths that cover umbrellas when not in use serve to turn them into swanky walking sticks, and protect the fabric from closet dust.

Exactly what he wants. I couldn't make suggestions to him. There was too much talk, talk, talk and not enough 'sight' comedy."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh
Television on the Farm
Buck Childs' home has become mighty popular ever since he got that television set—one of the few sets in our town, outside of Andy's Garden Tavern.
Not only do the kids stay home nights, but the neighbors drop in to see whatever's being telecast. And Buck and the missus always make them welcome, with a mellow glass of beer or ale (with cider and cookies for the youngsters).
While I guess everyone admits that television still has far to go, it's not hard to see that it will some day be as much a part of American home and farm life as the temperate glass of beer that Buck serves, and the hospitality that goes with it.
And from where I sit, anything that adds to gracious living in America—brings folks together for temperate, quiet entertainment—is a boon to this home-loving land of ours. (We're thinking of buying a television set ourselves!)
