

Effective China Aid Would Cost U.S. Five Billion

Truman, Marshall May Resume Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top administration official estimated today it would cost the United States around $5 billion to try to save China from the Communists.

This official, asking not to be quoted by name, told a reporter he is convinced that only a program of that size, combining both military and economic help, would stand any chance of success.

He added the $5 billion figure has been mentioned by several cabinet officers in discussing what—if anything—can be done to help the hard-pressed Nationalist government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

The official did not profess to know, however, whether President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall got around to talking about any such specific estimate in their first post-election conference yesterday.

The White House reported only that the two men reviewed the whole range of foreign relations, including China, all of Asia, and Europe.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross called Marshall's report "very informative" and said the secretary might return for further talks today.

Diplomatic authorities described Mr. Truman as eager to reach a decision on China quickly so he can reply in greater detail to Chiang's urgent appeal last week for more American help.

The main factors confronting the President and his secretary of state are these:

1. Whether it is too late, as some government officials are known to feel, to help Chiang's Nationalist army, and

2. Whether the cost of an "adequate" China aid program could be fitted into the budget without forcing the treasury to dip into its red ink.

The official who told of the thinking in terms of a $5 billion undertaking said it has not been determined how many years the program might require.

One estimate came over the weekend from former senator D. Worth Clark who visited China for a Congressional committee. He said an "all out" program would cost $1 billion the first year and $800 million annually thereafter until the Communists are defeated. The money would be used to buy military supplies and prop up China's currency.

The $5 billion figure would include funds for a third purpose—purchase of huge quantities of consumer goods, such as food and clothing, for Chinese civilians. The objective would be to discourage hoarding and black market operations.

The State Department has estimated total wartime and postwar American help to China at $3,600,000, including lend-lease and military and economic aid in the form of both loans and outright gifts. The current program involves an outlay of $400 million.

Scouting Is 'Do' Program Says Leader

Highlighting the 30th annual Adobe Walls Area Council banquet in Borger last night, Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell, chief Scout of the Boy Scouts of America, said Scouting is a "do" program and parents should work with their children on the "do" program by giving the children something constructive to do.

"Boys like to be part of some gang," Dr. Fretwell said. "Some boys are fortunate and are in the Scouting program, which takes the place of a gang."

Dr. Fretwell said he hoped the Scouting program would never be made easy. A Scout, to reach the top, must put forth his best.

Harold W. Lewman, Region 9 executive, presented Silver Beavers awards to C. L. Mathewson, former mayor of Guymon, Okla., and V. G. Fitzjarrod, who has worked for the Phillips Company for the past 25 years.

At noon yesterday, Dr. Fretwell spoke to 35 school administrators at the top of Texas area in the Palm Room of the City Hall. He gave his formula for working with youth as "to stay young with them." He cited schools and Scouting as examples of "cooperative undertakings" on the part of the adult and children alike.

"The hardest thing to learn in a democratic society like ours, is that privilege and responsibility are closely coupled," he said. "There should be a united effort on the part of the pupils and teachers, the Cub and Boy Scout and Scout leaders to make a cooperative enterprise to get particular things done."

During the luncheon, the High School sextet, composed of Naneen Campbell, Arvilla Patterson, Johnnie Sue Hart, Betty Joyce Scott, Junice Ann Fable and Jewel Rockle, sang "A Prayer of Thanksgiving," "Ave Maria" and "In the Still of the Night."

At the banquet, the Bergerettes, High School quartet, also presented selections.

Jack Hamilton, Painter, Dies

Tilford Nelson (Jack) Hamilton, 54, resident of Pampa since 1938, died at 3:30 p. m. yesterday in a local hospital.

Hamilton had been a painter and painting contractor for several years and was the business agent for the painters' local union.

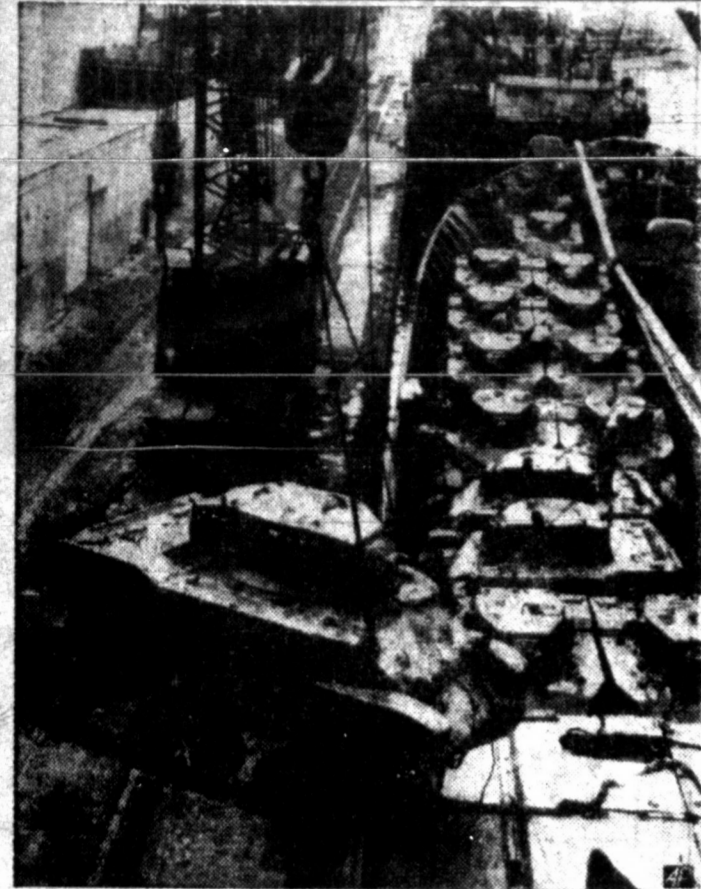

He is survived by one daughter, Marjorie Hamilton of Houston; one son, Roy Hamilton of Austin; by three brothers, John of Childress, Sam of Paducah, Tex., and J. E. of Oklahoma City; and by his mother, Mrs. Eliza Hamilton, and his sister, Miss Elizade Hamilton, both of Paducah.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow from the First Methodist Church in Paducah, with burial in Cooper, Texas.

TANKS BOUND FOR CHINA—Thirty-six M-3 tanks are loaded aboard the SS Andrew Jackson in Houston before the ship sailed for Shanghai, China. Houston customs officials said the tanks, war surplus, originally were to go to Mexico but when the State Department export license came through, it was for China. The tanks had been held two months at Beaumont.

Communists Open New Offensive on Suchow

NANKING (AP)—The Communists opened a new push today on Suchow, key to Nanking and Central China. The immediate objective was the defense bastion's only airfield.

Gen. Chen Yi's Red veterans punched out of the southeast under the cover of low clouds. Weather cut down the effectiveness of the government's air force which was the major factor in turning the Communist assault in the first phase of the Suchow battle last week.

The new offensive added to Communist pressure steadily building up against the Nationalist Second Army group all along a great arc to the east and south of the city 130 miles northwest of Nanking. Other Red forces were reported moving against Suchow from the north.

Sheriff's subpoenas were going through the mails today to 43 Gray County men empaneled on the first Petit Jury list for the September Term of 31st District Court.

The list includes 26 Pampans, eight from McLean, five from Lefors, three from Groom, two from Laketon and one from Abilene.

Subpoenaed to report at 10 a. m. Nov. 29 are: Malcolm Denson, J. E. Reeves, Clifford F. Jones, Bob Clements, C. B. Homer, A. D. Eads, Vernon R. Stuckey, Clyde M. Jones, Roy L. Burns, H. A. Wright, J. C. Mitchell, J. R. McKimmings, I. C. Coffey, Billie B. Davis, Roy Bourland, Erwin Pursley, James R. Ayres, E. E. Shelhamer, Crawford Hughes, Holly Gentry, Sherman Olson, H. Bendebender, Clinton Henry, John W. Adams, Ewing Williams, and Grover Haskell, all of Pampa.

Joe Willis, Byrd Jones, C. W. Burdine, James M. Payne, C. W. Bogan, Bob Black, Lester Campbell, Pete Fulbright, all of McLean.

Roy Parks, George E. Smith, R. C. Ogden, E. M. Wiggins, W. R. Combs, all of Lefors; Walter Jones, Ben Lockhart, both of Laketon; George Latta, H. F. Harrell, F. B. Farley, all of Groom; and W. H. Miller of Abilene.

Without full air support for the defense of Suchow, the Nationalists were expected to be in for a rough time. The Communists apparently had regrouped and reformed completely after last week's heavy battering. They had been caught unprotected on the Suchow plain and the Nationalist IAR Force blasted them in clear days and moonlight nights with bombers and fighter-bombers.

Eastward from Suchow, Gen. Huang Po-tao's Nationalist Seventh Army Corps was believed all most reduced to nothing. His forces took the full force of last week's Red assault in the defense of Niuchuang, 33 miles east of Suchow.

The official central news agencies said forces moving from Suchow to the relief of Huang's battered outfit were only about ten miles away. But other sources said there seemed little hope that any appreciable number of Huang's troops still would be able to fight.

Another government force, the 12th Army Corps, was working slowly toward Suchow from the southwest. It was last reported southwest of Suchow, which was believed still in Communist hands. The 12th Corps' mission was first to take Suchow, then move on the 67 miles to Suchow.

There was the possibility it will meet strong Red opposition as Communist Gen. Liu Po-cheng has strong forces south of Suchow but there was no indication he was moving yet to intercept the 12th.

City Receiving Bids on Wells

The City Commission this morning was receiving and opening bids for the construction of three water wells on its recently leased property southwest of town.

By noon, no concrete action was taken by the commission on acceptance of any of the bids.

Parking meter company representatives were meeting this afternoon with the commission.

An All-Family Affair Will Open Holiday Festivities at McLean

McLEAN (Special)—The holiday season will be opened here Dec. 11, and the opening event will be an all-family affair, sponsored by the Recreation Board of the city.

Weather permitting, the party will begin at 6 p. m. in the downtown area; but if the weather is bad, the event will be at the Grade School Gym, it was said.

There will be a brief concert by the school band and chorus, and the audience will join in singing Christmas carols. Bill Miller, local bandmaster, will be in charge of the program.

Santa Clauses, whose appearance will be sponsored by the McLean Lions Club, will arrive on a fire truck around 6:30. He will be ready to pass out candy to each child of grade-school age and younger. (The Lions Club will also sponsor the home decoration contest, with prizes being planned for three classes of entries—best outdoor decoration, best decorated window, and best decorated doorway.)

Support Given Initial Plan Of Partition

PARIS (AP)—The East and West appeared today to be moving toward firm support of the original United Nations partition of Palestine.

Australia joined the United States and Canada in reaffirming her position on the Nov. 29, 1947, division of the Holy Land between Arabs and Jews.

Australia's John D. L. Hood submitted a draft resolution upon the 58-nation Political Committee to set up a conciliation commission of five members or less. It would ask the Arabs and Jews to negotiate a permanent peace.

Russia's spokesmen frequently have said in Security Council debates on Palestine that Russia stood by her support of partition.

Today the Yugoslav delegation said the Nov. 29 partition plan still should be the basis of final settlement. Yugoslavia follows the Soviet line, although at times she does so without Russian guidance.

The original partition plan proposed a Jewish state of some 5,600 square miles, divided into three parts and populated by about 950,000 persons. The largest segment was the Southern desert area, and it also included a central coastal strip and Eastern Galilee in the north. The Arab state was to be of 4,700 square miles and about 815,000 inhabitants. Jerusalem was to have been an international area.

Britain now has before the committee proposal to use the report of the assassinated mediator, Count Folke Bernadotte, as a basis for settlement. Bernadotte proposed giving the Southern Palestine desert of the Negev to the Arabs. The Jews point out they were given the Negev under the terms of the plan.

The new offensive added to Communist pressure steadily building up against the Nationalist Second Army group all along a great arc to the east and south of the city 130 miles northwest of Nanking. Other Red forces were reported moving against Suchow from the north.

Ex-Pampan Is In New Post

W. T. Williamson, former city manager of Pampa and building contractor here for several years, assumed his new position today as city manager of Edinburg, Tex., the Associated Press reported.

Williamson was city manager here from 1938 until 1940, when he went into business as a building contractor. Among the buildings he erected in Pampa are the Pursley Motor Company, 105 N. Ballard, and the Masonic Temple, 420 W. Kingsmill. He made his home here at 825 N. Faulkner.

Williamson served for a short while as city manager of Lindsay, Okla., before accepting the position to succeed E. H. Cruse at Edinburg.

Steve Matthews, present city manager of Pampa, succeeded Williamson in office in 1940.

Rumors Tito Is Turning to The West Are Brushed Aside

BELGRADE (AP)—Informed sources brushed aside today a rash of rumors inside and outside Yugoslavia that Premier Marshal Tito is turning to the West, and that the country is suffering a critical economic crisis.

Some tried to read into Tito's speech last week before the Slovene Communist Party Congress a warning to Russia and the Cominform that unless they stopped their attacks and discriminatory trade acts, Yugoslavia would turn to the West for the goods she needs.

But most people here found the speech more of a guide on the country, where economic data is considered a state secret, shows no such turn is taking place. There is no speed up of trade talks with Western nations. Some trade negotiations are going on with Western nations, but these are considered normal and were started before the Cominform came to grips with Tito.

Indeed, Yugoslavia's first team of negotiators presenting in Moscow trying to renew the annual short term trade agreement. There are no reports on how the talks are going. The fact that the delegation had to wait months for visas and have been three weeks in Moscow without signs of progress indicates the Yugoslavs are not faring so well.

It is difficult to guess how far Russia is willing to go in economic sanctions against Yugoslavia. Tito charged however that the Russian orbit and the Soviet Union are treating Yugoslavia "worse than they did the capitalists."

"Supply of many goods," says the Federal Reserve Board in its latest bulletin, "is now in better shape than it has been for some time. Prices than at any time since before the war."

And demand itself hasn't been showing the old zip it had in earlier postwar periods.

People have been spending less on making good on their savings, and putting more of it into savings. Business has slowed down its buying.

Department store sales have dropped below last year in dollar volume for two consecutive weeks, and retail sales in general haven't been showing their old month-by-month climb.

Starts on construction of new homes have been declining since April—suggesting, as the Federal Reserve Board put it, "resistance to the part of buyers to current high prices."

Price-resistance is a factor in the retail and department store sales picture too, officials say, although they add that unseasonable weather and perhaps a return to the old "last minute" Christmas shopping might have as much or more to do with it.

A Washington economist is viewing all this with extreme caution, recalling that there were wrong forecasts when some similar depression occurred in the spring of 1947 and in the opening months of 1948.

The Federal Reserve Board says, for instance, that "many of the underlying forces operating to bring about further (inflationary) advances still present today."

A couple of major lines it cited were heavy new demands for goods, materials and labor resulting from increasing foreign aid and a military expansion program that so far has hardly begun to make itself felt.

Without these two programs, many Washington analysts say, the inflationary period already would have ended.

Blizzard Takes High Toll of Sheep on Range

GOODLAND, Kans. (AP)—Livestock men figure they lost a high toll of sheep in the blizzard that hit the Southwest yesterday in last week's blizzard.

From scattered, incomplete reports by farmers still digging their animals from snowdrifts, the loss of sheep was estimated Monday night at 25 percent.

The loss in cattle was estimated at only five percent, however, because the cold was not so severe. Sheep generally piled up or went down when their fleeces became loaded with snow, and the 75-per cent covered them with drifts. Cattle heads broke up, drifted and wandered before the wind.

Fewer sheep than usual had been shipped into Kansas from Texas and other Southwestern states this year because dry fields kept the crop small.

The biggest loss was expected east of here in Thomas County, where 70,000 to 100,000 sheep were located. There was an unconfirmed report last night that 50 percent of a flock of 11,000 was lost in that county.

Looper Services Set Tomorrow

Funeral services for Mrs. Ruby Nell Looper, 27, who died early yesterday morning in a local hospital, will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow from the Miami Church of Christ with J. R. Perkins of Pampa officiating.

The body will lie in state in her Miami home from 4:30 p. m. today until service time tomorrow.

Mrs. Looper has been living in Miami for the past four months after moving from Highfill, Ark. In addition to her husband, J. C. Looper, she is survived by four daughters, Greta May, Lela Marie, Carol Nell, and Brenda Joyce, all living at home; by her mother, Mrs. L. A. Davis and by a half-sister, Mrs. Grover Peek, both of Los Angeles, Calif.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow from the First Methodist Church in Paducah, with burial in Cooper, Texas.

SIGNS INDICATE INFLATION MAY HAVE REACHED ITS PEAK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Has inflation at last reached its peak or perhaps even passed it?

There are new signs today that this could be so. But somewhat similar signs appeared in early 1947 and are more to be bowled over by another upsurge in the boom.

Among the latest indications emerging from government reports in the last few days are these:

A two-month decline in the consumer (cost-of-living) index until, in October, it was only moderately above last January's level.

Also, a dip since August in the general index of wholesale prices and retail prices in October. The index dropped slightly below the level of last January.

Not all prices have gone down. Those for metals, which play a major role in determining the price course of many goods, have advanced more sharply than in 1947.

Prices, however, are only one factor on the scoreboard showing how the inflation contest between supply and demand has been getting along.

"Supply of many goods," says the Federal Reserve Board in its latest bulletin, "is now in better shape than it has been for some time. Prices than at any time since before the war."

And demand itself hasn't been showing the old zip it had in earlier postwar periods.

People have been spending less on making good on their savings, and putting more of it into savings. Business has slowed down its buying.

Ailment in Legs Forces England's King To Cancel Australia-New Zealand Tour

LONDON (AP)—Illness forced King George VI today to take a complete rest for at least six months.

An official announcement from Buckingham Palace said the 52-year-old British sovereign is suffering from a circulatory ailment in his legs that "only recently has become acute." His 1949 tour of Australia and New Zealand has been postponed.

A medical bulletin signed by five doctors and incorporated in the Buckingham Palace announcement said, "A defective blood supply to the right foot causing 'severe' pain."

Palace informants said there was reason to believe a blood clot caused this condition.

The announcement, which came as a complete surprise and shock to the British Empire and Commonwealth, said his doctors had been completely rest for the King. Palace sources said George would fill no public engagements for at least six months.

The King's doctors stressed that his general health, including his heart, "gives no reason for concern."

The doctors gave no specific medical name to the King's ailment. The possibility that he is suffering from phlebitis was suggested, but responsible sources declined to go beyond the official statement.

In their bulletin, the doctors said that "no doubt the strain of 12 years has appreciably affected his resistance to physical strain."

"It would be hazardous," they added, "to embark upon a long journey which might delay recovery and involve serious risk to limb."

The King, who ascended the throne in 1936 and will be 53 Dec. 14, was to have sailed with Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret in mid-January on the tour of Australia and New Zealand. They were to have traveled in the battleship HMS Vanguard, via the Panama Canal.

The decision to postpone the tour was taken only after high level discussion. The prime ministers of Britain, Australia and New Zealand concurred in the doctors' decision.

Pointing up the significance of the postponement, palace sources said it would not have been made without "due cause and reason."

Five doctors have been giving the King leg massages and electrical therapy for more than a week. These will be continued.

U.S. Holds To Position On Berlin

PARIS (AP)—The United States delegation to the United Nations Security Council today held its position that a solution of the Berlin crisis, the unusual step of authorizing a statement by a spokesman in answer to reports from Berlin that an authoritative American official there saw no basis for agreement on Berlin in the U. N.

The spokesman's statement to newsmen reiterated that the Western powers have pledged their full cooperation in assisting Council President Juan A. Bramuglia in his efforts to solve the crisis.

The spokesman said: "The actions of Soviet authorities in Berlin are increasingly preventing the lawful city government from exercising its functions. Such actions obviously do not contribute to reaching a solution which the president of the Security Council and the other five members associated with him are seeking to achieve."

The three Western powers, on the other hand, have pledged their full cooperation in assisting the president of the Security Council in his efforts. They are working continuously along those lines.

The United States policy was stated in a letter which, under the direction of the President, the secretary of state sent to Mr. (Herbert V.) Evatt, and Mr. (Trygve) Lie Nov. 17.

There he said, among other things, that the government of the United States remains ready to carry out loyally the Security Council resolution of Oct. 25, 1948.

Court Denies Plea Of Negro Student

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — A three-judge federal court denied a Negro's plea to attend classes at the University of Oklahoma on a non-segregated basis.

The Negro is G. W. McLaurin, who began graduate work in the university last month—the first of his race ever to attend the state university at Norman.

The court ruled the retired professor was receiving equal educational opportunities with those of white students and added it is "within the power of the state to recognize racial distinctions between its citizens and to classify them."

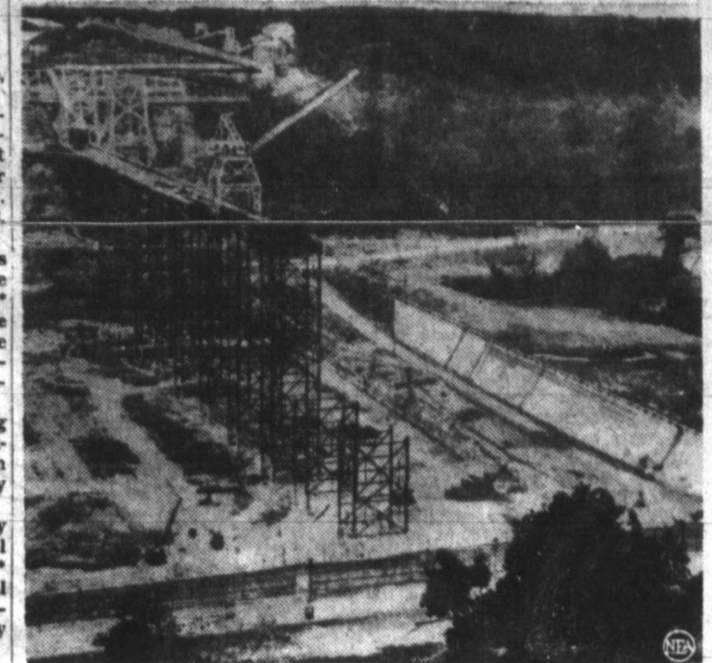

McLaurin—seeking a doctor's degree in education—was ordered admitted to the university last September by this same court. The three judges held Oklahoma's

Arkansas Dam Begins to Take Shape on White River

Skeleton for the Bull Shoals hydro-electric dam begins to rise (above) on White River, Ark. To build it, 4,000,000 tons of rock will be moved from a quarry seven miles away along the winding conveyor belt system at right.

FLIPPEN, Ark. — (NEA) — Crushed rock began arriving at a dam site on the White River this month, after a seven-mile trip that will continue for some two years.

Army engineers thought they would have to build a railroad to move more than four million tons of rock from the quarry here to the site of the fifth largest hydro-electric dam in the United States. Then they considered a gigantic trucking operation.

Instead, a belt conveyor has been installed. Limestone passes through two crushers and falls into a 20,000-ton "surge" pile, from which the belt conveyor picks it up and carries it the seven miles to where the Bull Shoals Dam is under construction. The conveyor was designed and manufactured by Hewitt-Robins, Inc. of Passaic, N. J. It is described as the longest ever used except for the nine-mile affair used when the Shasta Dam was built, and consists of 21 separate "flights," each driven by an electric motor.

The Bull Shoals Dam is being built by a pool of contractors for the Army Engineering Corps, at a cost expected to be about $88,000,000. It will provide flood control for more than a million acres of land, and provide enough electric power for the needs of Little Rock, Tulsa and Springfield, Mo.

Car Is 'Standard Equipment' for Home

WASHINGTON — (AP) — In his 1928 presidential campaign, Herbert Hoover envisioned two cars in every garage. But it remained for Perry Brothers, prominent Washington builders, twenty years later, to offer a car and garage with every house.

Arnold Perry, head of the capital firm, says this offering is "no campaign promise." He actually furnishes a brand new Crosley station wagon, valued at $1,077, with each of his new houses in suburban Bethesda, Md. And, he reports, he is doing a land-office business — "with Republicans and Democrats alike."

"Buy a house with a car as standard equipment," is the slogan. "Some builders put in deep-freeze units, or television sets, or incense burners. Why not a car in every garage?"

Negro Boy Preacher Proves Very Popular

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — (AP) — A 12-year-old Negro, son of a barber shop porter here, is receiving invitations to preach from churches all over the country. He is Howard Chubb, a student at junior high school. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Chubb.

The child preacher has delivered sermons at Knoxville, Tenn., Cleveland, Ohio, and Indianapolis, Ind. W. W. Taylor, pastor of the Westside Baptist Church, where the youth is a member, says he receives daily requests from many cities for the boy to preach.

Young Chubb helps his father shine shoes after school.

Ultimate control of the rich German Ruhr — industrial key-stone of Continental Europe — is providing one of the toughest issues to be settled by America, Britain and France.

Twice now the Ruhr, with its wealth of iron and coal, has been the arsenal of an aggressive Reich engaged in world war. The Allies have sworn that never again shall Germany be able to utilize the treasure of the Ruhr in this manner.

However, the Ruhr is so important to the rest of Western Europe that its strength must be restored. Here lies one of the greatest steel-producing areas of the world. Europe can't recover economically while the Ruhr is impotent and this means that the Marshall Plan also is dependent on it.

Not so long ago that problem seemed fairly simple. Just keep the Ruhr under rigid military control while the war damage is repaired and manufacturing is got underway.

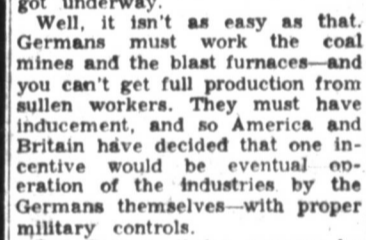

Well, it isn't as easy as that. Germans must work the coal mines and the blast furnaces—and you can't get full production from sullen workers. They must have inducement, and so America and Britain have decided that one incentive would be eventual operation of the industries by the Germans themselves—with proper military controls.

But France, thrice overrun by German armies in seven decades, is insisting on international operation of the Ruhr. She is afraid to let Germany control an asset which is a potential war threat.

France's General Charles de Gaulle says the decision to turn the Ruhr mines and mills back into German hands is "the gravest decision made so far during the 20th Century." He adds: "England and America flatter themselves they can make something of the Reich to oppose Russia. Perhaps they can. But perhaps they can't. Hitler didn't have any difficulty in reaching an accord with Russia when he wanted to dominate Europe."

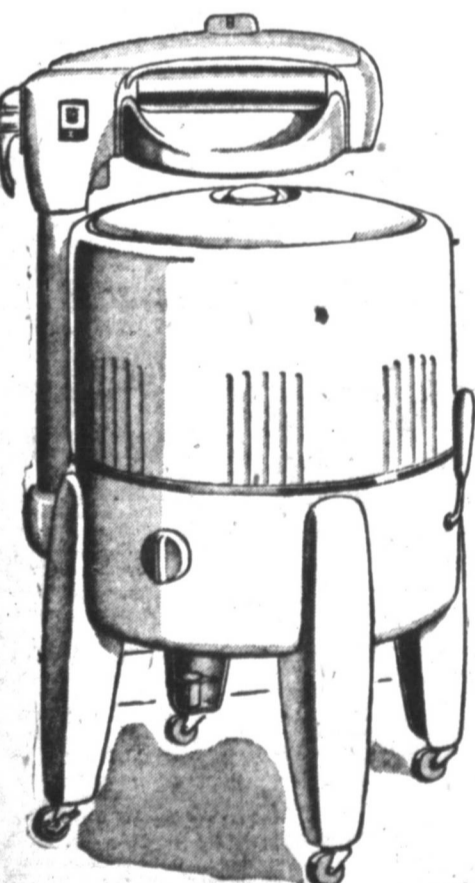

That's a disturbing thought, and knowing France very well I should say the average Frenchman would agree largely with De Gaulle. They haven't forgotten how Hitler tore up the Versailles Treaty in 1936 and goose-stepped his troops into the Rhineland. Then came World War II.

U.N.'S WORLD SEAL

The official United Nations Seal, approved by the General Assembly in 1946, represents a map of the world, as seen from the North Pole, surrounded by olive branches. Centered on the Greenwich Meridian, it extends to 60 degrees latitude South. The map is inscribed in gold on a field of smoke-blue. Water areas are white. The seal, or emblem, is also featured in the United Nations flag, etched in white in the center of a smoke-blue field.

Class A Play This Week

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS —(AP)—The three-way Texas Schoolboy football extravaganza starts this week with the Class A Division, the small towns—first to swing into a state championship play-off.

Next week marks the start of the City Conference and Class AA state championship rounds.

It's the first time in history for the Interscholastic League to have more than one title race. Favorites for the championships are considered by this corner to be:

City Conference—Woodrow Wilson (Dallas).

Class AA—Port Arthur.

Class A—El Campo.

These will not be the general choices of the critics. Most of them think Arlington Heights of Fort Worth is the City Conference team. Others look to the San Antonio District to produce the champion from among Breckridge, Thomas Jefferson or Alamo Heights. We do not agree. The most improved team and the most powerful potentially of all appears to be Woodrow Wilson. This team has everything it takes.

Port Arthur has been the Class AA favorite from the start. But the Yellow Jackets jace the real dark horse of the race in the opening round. Baytown is something to worry about. We think this game will produce the team that will take the title.

You will hear mostly of Mt. Vernon and New Braunfels in Class A. But El Campo is our choice. Mt. Vernon has shown it can beat and New Braunfels has been in its own way since it lost its star backfielder.

Speaking of schoolboy football, there have been some disturbing situations this season regarding assaults, both physical and mental, upon the officials.

Ablene High School, for instance, has been placed on probation by the Interscholastic League as the result of a physical attack on an official by a spectator. In this case the school was not directly to blame but has been informed it must control the situation. A further infraction can bring suspension of the school for one or two years.

The Interscholastic League takes the view that most of the trouble is instigated by coaches running onto the field and arguing with the officials, thus inciting the fans. It was not that way in the Abilene case but Rhea H. Williams, athletic director of the league, says it has been in Abilene. In the heat of gridiron battle a coach undoubtedly has trouble controlling himself and will jump to his team's defense if he thinks the rules are not being interpreted correctly. However, it is the duty of the coach to control himself that he will not incite the fans or his team. He can go on the field and question a decision but he doesn't need to do it with a mad flourish.

It is to be remembered that officials are human just like coaches and players—that they may make a mistake. The fact remains, however, that they don't make anything like as many as the players and the coaches and certainly a lot fewer than the fans.

That line used by Dusty Boggess one time to a coach who told him he had called a lousy game always comes to mind when

Hall Named President Of Border Olympics

LAREDO —(AP)—William N. (Bill) Hall has been elected president of the Border Olympics, the seventh running of which will be held here March 11 and 12.

The Border Olympics annually are the nation's first outdoor track and field meet.

Hall said the objective of this year's meet was 1,000 athletes from over the Southwest. Three states—Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma—were represented last year.

Chester C. Wine, Robert Cohen and W. F. Houser have been named vice presidents. Fernando L. Pena, secretary-treasurer and R. W. Parker, meet director.

There are words between the coach and the referee or umpire. Boggess said: "Well, I didn't call as lousy a game as your team played."

Fans and coaches must remember that the ones who really suffer in such instances are the schools. The Interscholastic League has the power to penalize the school unless the coaches and crowds are properly controlled.

PAMPA BOWL

Golden Bears vs. Wildcats

PASADENA, Calif. —(AP)—Michigan's football power apparently still hovers over the Rose Bowl. Such was one line of thought today as the newly fashioned lineup for the annual New Year's Day battle was discussed.

It'll be California of the Pacific Coast Conference against Northwestern of the Big Nine.

Conference faculty athletic representatives, by secret telegraphic ballot, voted California into the big bowl for the fifth time.

Oregon, tied with California in conference standings, lost out—unbeaten in conference play, but defeated in the battle of the ballots.

That's where the Michigan influence may have exerted itself. The Michigans, by Big Nine rules, were barred from appearing twice in succession in the Rose Bowl, where last New Year's Day they actually massacred Southern California's Trojans, 48-0.

Last Oct. 2, less adroitly, perhaps, they blanketed Oregon, 14-0. Theoretically, the faculty minds aren't supposed to dwell on non-conference results.

But, taking not a thing away from Pappy Waldorf's good-looking Bears, it is barely possible that one or more of the faculty eyes paused "unconsciously" over that Oct. 2 occurrence.

The actual vote remains a deep secret; open to speculation, but never, according to Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt, to be answered. Even the count, he said, might put some of the conference brothers on the spot.

Perhaps the thought, but some skeptics said they thought conference politics might have figured, and California outmaneuvered Oregon in the long, lost weekend.

How did Stanford, Oregon State, UCLA, Washington, USC and Washington State vote? How about little Idaho and Montana, who supposedly dislike California because California won't play 'em (and let them get in on a fat gate once in a while)? Your guess is as good as the next.

Such was the debate—the applause from Cal's legions of students and armies of alumni, and the groans from Oregon's faithful but less numerous array of supporters.

Cal and Northwestern, all agree, will offer an afternoon of hard football, and the $2,500 seats in the rose-adorned platter will be filled and overflowing.

Disclose SMU High Scoring Choice Today Sul Ross in Orlando Bowl

DALLAS —(AP)—The odds today appeared to favor Southern Methodist University in the Cotton Bowl. There was nothing official and the name of the visiting team being sought was kept a closely guarded secret, but unofficial sources said Southern Methodist's Dallas New Year's Day bowl game, voted North Carolina as their preference. Now it's up to the Cotton Bowl to get the Tar Heels.

Dan D. Rogers, chairman of the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, announced the visiting team would be made this afternoon.

The squad, which clinched the host spot in the Cotton Bowl for the second straight year by beating Baylor 13-6 last Saturday, voted in the Cotton Bowl game, voted North Carolina as their preference. Now it's up to the Cotton Bowl to get the Tar Heels.

The Sul Ross team already has made its plans for the trip to Orlando. The Lobos will leave the afternoon of Dec. 25 and go to Del Rio, Tex., thence to Houston Dec. 26, Baton Rouge, La., Dec. 27, Tallahassee, Fla., Dec. 28 and Orlando Dec. 29.

Coaches Paul E. Pierce and William H. Perryman will take a squad of 35 to the Tangerine Bowl.

Sul Ross features a fleet backfield and a massive line led by Big John Waldrum. The backfield star is Ted Scovon, who is the nation's leading scorer with 144 points. Sul Ross also is the nation's leading team in scoring.

Southern Methodist, The Tar Heels meet Virginia Saturday while Southern Methodist closes its Southwest Conference campaign the same day against Texas Christian.

Reports indicate that the Orange Bowl is giving the Cotton Bowl strong competition for North Carolina, an unbeaten, one-sided team that whipped Texas in the Southwest Conference 34 to 7. The Cotton Bowl offers $105,000 to each team—more money than the Orange Bowl affords.

The fans already were talking about a meeting of two of the nation's greatest bowl games—Walker, Southern Methodist's All-America, and Charlie (Choo-Choo) Justice of the Tar Heels.

It was reported that next to North Carolina, the SMU players chose Georgia, then Oklahoma, Tulane and Clemson. The latter, an unbeaten team, reportedly is welcoming a bid to the Cotton Bowl. Clemson played here in 1940, beating Boston College 6-3. North Carolina still has a game left on the schedule the same as

BETTER BOWLING

By BILLY SIXTY

SHOW OR SCORE: Some bowlers get the idea that sheer force and speed will knock down more pins. They seem to feel it is a matter of individual strength and the only reason some bowlers don't smoke the ball down the alley is because they can't.

Again and again I'd like to say, not only for the ladies, but for everybody, that speed is not essential. It is the SPIN on the ball and control that brings consistently high scores.

Forcing the swing to get more speed makes the bowler's arm swing abruptly, without the very necessary slide. This sudden stop produces a jerk of the arm that either brings the ball down with a thump behind the foul line, or throws the arm away from the true swinging arc and kills direction.

Find out your maximum and most efficient speed when you practice, and then don't exceed your carefully determined limit. It is important that every bowler do this, and in the beginning if possible. Regulate your speed by concentrating on the push-away. After you've found the best formula, use the same amount of push-away for every ball until the action is mechanical.

Among advanced bowlers, you can usually detect an unconscious effort to get additional speed when the ball drives persistently high on the head pin, or crosses over to the so-called Brooklyn (½ pin pocket) side of the setup.

Rushing to the foul line and hurrying the swing for extra speed causes an abrupt stop of the stride. This forces the right shoulder and hip to turn too much and the arm swings to the left. So, develop a free, easy swing, timed with the footwork and finish up with a smooth slide. That's how to knock the pins down... not by scaring them to death.

Navy Will Torpedo the Army Harvesters Picked Over Borger

Season's Upset Champion

Egad! Gentle readers, I trust there will be no moaning at the bar now that we reach the end of the pigskin season, and I take leave of you to prepare for a busy indoor campaign.

In departing, I am confounding all the experts by predicting the most stunning upset of the year—Navy to defeat Army by a touchdown.

And that is all you will hear about the ivory tower until spring comes, the lambs gambol on the green and I will select the order of finish of the major league races.

There will be a number of bowl games, to be sure, but I intend to refrain from a public pronouncement on these post-season extravaganzas.

I have my own private bowl affair about New Year's, and it usually keeps me very busy.

I suppose all of you will want to thank me for my excellent service in 1948. You needn't write, however—I'll take it for granted.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK —(AP)—The ultimate in pro football nonsense likely will be reached about a month from now with both major leagues playing their championship games.

In the NFL, the game is set for a meeting between the winners... the National League still calls its final tussle the "World Championship."

BROTHER ACT
This may be an old one, but it usually is revived when the going turns sour. Brothers get together. In 1928 Joe Turnesa shot a fine score in the U.S. Open, only to be beaten out by Bobby Jones. Brother Mike, who was a stay-at-home then, was wedding a green at the Elmford Club when an excited member received the news and told him: "It looks like Joe is going to win the open." Mike just looked up calmly. "Why shouldn't he win?" Mike asked. "All he does is play golf."

Harvester Eleven in Long Workout for Turkey Day

The Pampa Harvesters went through a lengthy drill yesterday afternoon in preparation for the Thanksgiving Day game with Borger on the local gridiron.

Coach Tipps put the line through a rugged hour of line blocking and tackling, with the emphasis on the blocking. Meanwhile, Coach Nooncaster and the backfield men spent an hour working on pass defense, which will prove most valuable when the Bulldogs take the field Thursday.

The team looks to be in good shape, both physically and mentally for their last game of the year, the last high school game for many of the boys, and they are determined to win it.

At the same time, the Guerrilla football team was suiting up in their preflight for the cameraman. A couple of the boys were really 'cast' for this picture. Center G. D. Holmes and Buzzy Tarpley, tackle, were hobbling around in uniform, and on crutches, each with a leg still in a plaster cast as a result of football accidents this season.

The Guerrillas finished their season in fine style with an upset 25-6 victory over a highly favored Amarillo team. Coaches Bond and Frizzell can be highly proud of their charges' play this season.

Borger Preparing to Mass Upon Pampa Thursday

BORGER —(Special)—Coach Rickey Ward was slated to send his Borger Bulldogs through their final scrimmage season of the year here Tuesday afternoon in preparation for their Thanksgiving Day engagement with the Pampa Harvesters.

The Bulldogs, who have won six and dropped three this season, will be at top strength for the season finale. Local observers are calling the game a "toss-up." It will be Borger's strong line play against the Harvesters' potent passing game.

R. C. Dalton, shifty tailback who has counted 66 points thus far, will spark Borger's running game from the single-wing attack while Wesley Kleih and Jackie Williams are expected to power Pampa's T-formation ground game. If it turns into a duel of backfields, Dalton can call on full-back Jerry Glass, another tripple threat from the single-wing attack while Wesley Kleih and Jackie Williams are expected to power Pampa's T-formation ground game. If it turns into a duel of backfields, Dalton can call on full-back Jerry Glass, another tripple threat from the single-wing attack while Wesley Kleih and Jackie Williams are expected to power Pampa's T-formation ground game.

The highway to Pampa is expected to be jammed early Thursday as Borger motorists jockey for positions and better seats. The Carbon City gang is apt to invade in mass, leaving back perhaps a cop or two to watch the town.

Borger's record:
Borger 0, Capitol Hill, Oklahoma City, 26

More Bowl Bids

WACO —(AP)—Baylor University may play Wake Forest in the Dixie Bowl game at Birmingham, Ala., New Year's Day.

Athletic Director Ralph Wolf last night said the Bears had been contacted by game officials and "we hope to go to the Dixie Bowl."

Wolf said three other bowl games had contacted him about securing Baylor. He said these were the Delta, Harbor and Azelia Bowls.

Wake Forest was reported to have been selected as one of the teams for the Dixie Bowl.

Amarillo Voted Second Place In State Race

DALLAS —(AP)—Port Arthur again was rated by sportswriters in Texas as the No. 1 high school football team in the state.

The Dallas News poll of sportswriters today showed Amarillo, Waco, Baytown, Texarkana, Austin, Odessa, Lamar (Houston), Arlington Heights (Fort Worth), and Breckenridge rounding out the first ten teams in that order.

McMurry Wins Crown
By The Associated Press

McMurry took the punch out of the Texas Conference's big game this week by clinching the title last night.

The Indians, who shared the crown with Hardin last week, rolled over Southwestern, 34-14, to wrap up the championship.

Ablene Christian and Howard Payne tangled Thanksgiving Day in the conference's last big game. This one would have decided the title McMurry lost.

GALVESTON —(AP)—Wharton Junior College has been signed to play in the Oleander Bowl here Dec. 29. Horton Norton said.

Lone Star Conference Is Settled

The fourteenth season of the Lone Star Conference will soon be history. Only one conference and one nonconference game remain to be played.

The University of Houston, in fifth place, plays Sam Houston at Houston Thursday night in the last conference tilt of the year. Both of these teams lost last week, the University of Houston to champion Southwest Texas at San Marcos, 3 to 0, and Sam Houston to Stephen F. Austin, 21 to 0, at Huntsville.

Sam Houston has not won a game this year. A win for the University of Houston Thursday night would place them in a tie with Trinity for fourth place. The other game will be played between Trinity and Hardin at San Antonio Saturday night.

Last week Trinity won from the strong Oklahoma City University team, 6 to 0, at San Antonio. North Texas defeated the crippled East Texas team 27 to 7, as expected to end the season for both. North Texas ended in second place and East Texas in sixth place.

Curiosity Conquers Blindness

Fourth-grade pupils of the California School for the Blind wanted to "see" an Army transport. The Navy arranged for them to visit the General D. E. Aultman, a transport, in San Francisco. Touring the ship from bow to stern, they "saw" with their hands, as they're doing here, to inspect the ship's anchor.

States Advised to Build Own Small Irrigation Projects

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — All 48 states of the National Reclamation Association were reelected by the board of directors. Association members were told individual states must build their own small irrigation projects instead of asking the federal government for assistance.

The speaker was Fred E. Buck, chief engineer and member of the Montana Water Board. Small projects have been an immunity will also be used to fight tuberculosis among Finnish children with many members calling for government aid in building "family size irrigated farms."

The President of the United States and his Interior Department are solidly behind an expanded reclamation program for the 17 Western states.

This was detailed here in messages to the conference by President Truman and Interior Secretary Julius Krug.

"Our continuing objective is full mobilization of our water resources," the President said in his telegram to the 2,000 delegates. "We must see that the benefits from irrigation and public power are spread widely among the people so that opportunities for economic security and advancement be made available to the largest possible number of people."

The President also came out for the family-size irrigated farm and for federal construction of transmission lines from federal power projects. He said he regarded these last as necessary to assure lowest public power to the West.

Krug said one result of the election that returned the Democrats to power in Congress was a vindication of Michael W. Straus, the reclamation commissioner. The 80th Congress attached a rider to an appropriation bill setting up engineering requirements for reclamation jobs that would have purged Straus and Richard L. Hoke, regional director at Sacramento, Calif. Neither is an engineer.

How Should Congressman Cast Vote? Asks Columnist

WASHINGTON — Here's a question you can try on your wife or the man next door — and then duck.

In the new Congress of 1949 how should your senator or congressman vote? Democrat or Republican?

1. The way his party leaders want him to.

2. The way his constituents — meaning you, the people back in his district — tell him they want him to vote?

3. Or use his own head — no matter what you or the party leaders say and vote as he wants?

Which of the three ways would make you feel he's doing the job for which he was elected?

In actual practice most congressmen — at least all three things mentioned above, depending on the issue in each case.

The Political Science Association says:

"Where conflicts of interest arise between his district or state, his party and the country as a whole, he must remember that his primary obligation is to the general welfare."

In a speech on the job of a congressman, Senator Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, has said: "The average legislator, early in his career, discovers that there are certain interests, or prejudices, of his constituents which are dangerous to trifle with."

"A difficult case is where the prejudice concerns the fundamental policy affecting the national welfare."

As an example he took the poll tax and isolationism. In his own state of Arkansas, people can vote. Since it has not been abolished there, it must be assumed the people of Arkansas want it.

Is it of fundamental importance that Congress pass a bill to wipe out the poll tax in all states? Fulbright said he doesn't think so, no matter what anyone outside of Arkansas says. So, he said, "I shall follow the views of the people of my state."

But he said he thinks a strong United Nations is of fundamental importance. So even though he said the people of his state were against the U.N. he voted for it.

Parker County Has Circuit Riding Horseback Pre

A Poppy for Remembrance

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD Associated Press Staff

Parker County still has a circuit-riding horseback preacher, a grizzled, kindly old farmer-philosopher who spends Saturday in the saddle to deliver the word of God on Sunday.

Every weekend for 54 years, 78-year-old Benjamin Johnson Forbes has traveled by horse or buggy to preach in the churches of Parker and neighboring counties.

"When I wore out my last buggy," he says, "I couldn't get another one. So for 16 years Ollie has been carrying me."

Ollie is Forbes' 20-year-old paint mare, a fat, patient creature which pulls the preacher's plow five days a week and totes him to and from his guest pulpit assignments the other two days.

Before Ollie, Brother Forbes, as he is known, had a sorrel horse 23 years.

"The sorrel was too rough to ride but he sure could get along with that buggy. Ollie rides smooth and easy. She's a 'fox trotter' and a single-footer but mostly a fox trotter. A 'fox trotter' is a lot easier on a man than a jog trotter."

Forbes lives in the Balch Community of Parker County, 12 miles south of Weatherford. He owns 265 acres, most of which he leases to his daughter and son-in-law with whom he resides. But he reserves for himself and Ollie a small orchard, a garden and 10-acre plot on which he grows corn, feed and corn. "I also own a couple of hogs."

Up at dawn, Forbes farms until dusk five days per week. He works without rest, not even taking time out for lunch. "Ollie and I figure two meals a day are enough for us."

A minister of the Church of Christ, Brother Forbes preaches in Parker, Palo Pinto, Erath and Hood counties. "Distances don't make much difference Ollie and I get up early and travel late. And we take the near cuts — just strike right out over the fields and little roads and once in awhile we hit an old road, no longer in use, that I traveled decades ago. A man can really think back riding an old road, for an old road's like meeting an old friend."

While following the plow on weekends, Forbes composes and rehearses his sermons. "I followed Brother Forbes across my ranch the other day," a friend says. "He didn't know I was there and I listened to one of the best sermons I ever heard."

And Forbes declares: "A man can lose himself and prepare a sermon on horseback. He never could do in a car — most likely he'd find himself in a ditch."

Sometimes, riding along on Ollie, Brother Forbes reflects on the state of the world. "I've always been an optimist and hope I always will be. I think every man should be a realist. There's a great world crime wave on now, but crime waves ebb and flow like the ocean tides."

A native of Pettus County, Mo., Forbes came to Collin County, Texas, in 1889. He went to Add-Arn Christian College at Thorp Spring, Hood County (a school that later became Texas Christian University). After leaving the college in 1898 he taught school in Parker and Hood Counties before settling down to his main occupation as a farmer.

Brown-eyed Brother Forbes was Parker County's representative in the Texas Legislature from 1926 to 1932. Slightly built and of medium height, he weighs 140 pounds. His thick crop of hair is now gray. "Once it was red as a woodchuck — folks could warm their hands over it in the winter." Overall, a cotton shirt and an old straw hat cannot hide the innate dignity of this quiet, serious, well-loved man. There is dignity in his weatherproof face, in his manner and voice, and in his strong, toll-scarred hands that dignity is there.

To find the oldtimer you follow a lonely country road a dozen miles south of Weatherford. You go through a couple of barbed wire fences, cross a cottonfield past a shop your car at the bank of a dry river. After that, you are on foot and you follow the river a quarter of a mile, cross it and walk through snagging brush another quarter of a mile and then catch a sight of Forbes and Ollie, plowing.

This year, he and Ollie plowed and picked three acres of cotton which yielded a bale, and five acres of corn which amounted to 125 bushels. All that, besides the feed crop. Forbes never hires help. "Ollie and I do every lick."

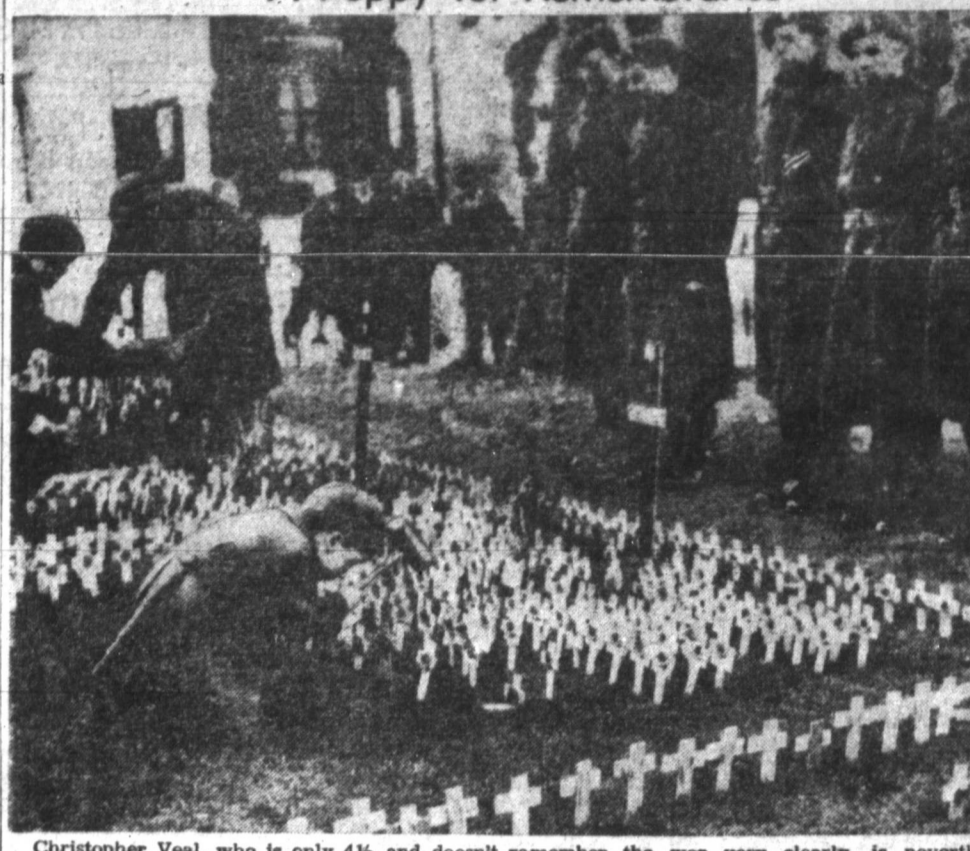

The pair are admirably suited. "Ollie goes along nice and slow but she keeps going. When I was younger and after I wasn't so young, I followed a team of mules but those plowed mules just wore me down."

Forbes has a son and a daughter. His wife died in 1931.

He never sets any fee for his sermons — just takes any pay the churches want to give him. He spends Saturday nights at the home of the brethren. "I'm always welcome."

Brother Forbes can read the New Testament in Greek as easily as in English but he usually reads the Bible much any more. "I've read it so many times that instead of reading it, I just turn the words and chapters over in my mind."

He preaches without notes. "Folks have been a-ter me to read down some of my sermons for the young men who will come along when I'm gone." He stood aside

Christopher Veal, who is only 4 1/2 and doesn't remember the war very clearly, is nevertheless solemn and serious as he hammers his memorial poppy into the ground. The ceremony took place at the Field of Remembrance outside London's Westminster Abbey.

deep in the sandy loam of his lonely field, surveyed those 10 acres and sighed: "I'll do it if I ever have enough time." He smiled faintly at this and added: "No man ever has enough time."

SAVE MY GOLDFISH

BRIDLINGTON, England — (AP) — It looked like curtains for Sammy the goldfish. The hot sun shining through his glass bowl at Miss M. King's house set the window drapes afire. Pretty soon the whole room was blazing. But Sammy wasn't broiled. Firemen rescued him and saved the house. He's as perky as ever now.
