Plan now to attend the Panhandle Centennial celebration at Pampa June 2, 3, 4, and 5, with which is combined a Pioneer Roundup and Old Men's Reunion. It is a GREATER celebration for the whole Panhandle.

Twinkles

When a speeder is afoot and watching cars go by, he thinks everybody is a speeder but him, although he may be a flagrant offender himself.

Pity the poor business man. Much of his business is wasted through bad checks and unpaid bills—about which the public is largely ignorant.

Wooden nickels, proposed by the Centennial group, are all right—we have no trees to lose and as far as we know the things won't compete with any Panhandle industry.

Pampa may not need parking meters, but a few calendars placed on posts on Cuyler street might be helpful.

Dictatorships, successes depend upon the dictators, says Mrs. C. S. Wray, who has the reputation of being a pretty fair one in her household.

Musing of the moment: "Ethiopia will fight to the last man," says a headline. We'll bet he sure makes tracks. Things we'd like to do: Make travel movies, write our way around the world, do nothing but write a column of brownings, have time to experiment with flowers, spend a year in Europe and progressively other years in Central and South American capitals, just to learn the habits and history of Latin America; read a book every week.

Brevitaries

RECENTLY WORDS SAID:

Two arguments rage endlessly here in the News family. One is over what ill effects result from inhaling dust. The second is over what medicines or foods to use in avoiding colds. Each new illness, symptom or printed article inspires new arguments. Doctors are quoted endlessly. So far it is contended that dusts and colds have prejudiced the arguments with their frequency.

To which "State Press" in the Dallas News replied:

"To inhale dust is to put sand in your craw, Mr. Hinkle—if we may venture to speak of your inhale inferior anatomy. You'd do better to go that, of course, and be a help to you. But we must exhibit some diffidence, not being your doctor. Has your doctor told you that breathing dust does you no harm, unless mayhap you ingest it too greedily? As for using special foods or medicines for avoiding colds, that is for individual decision, just as every cold is an individual visitation. "No two colds are alike." That which will stop one cold in its tracks may have no effect on another cold. The dust storms have tended to make the people believe that they have something to do with colds and influenza. The doctors disagree, but the conviction of this column is that inhaled dust dries up a fluid cold. It operates like sand in soup. It absorbs the aqueous particles. The old writers, you know, used sand for blotting their ink. That was before blotting paper was invented and served an excellent purpose. By the way, speaking of dust storms, State Press saw a letter recently from a somewhat famous artist living in Vermont. Somebody had sent him an invitation to visit the Texas Centennial and see Texas. He replied that he thought it hardly necessary, inasmuch as Texas was visiting him. "I wonder if I am quite honest in not shoveling it up and sending it back," he submitted. He was told to keep it, that there was plenty more where it came from, and really it was not Texas, anyway, mostly Oklahoma and Kansas."

And with all those words State Press again proved that if he lived in the Panhandle he would be a loyal citizen, dust or no dust. As a matter of fact, State Press has distinguished himself by his sticking ability. A small town (perhaps) editor, he sent to the big city and stuck. Instead of adding on the cool (night) plains he endures those stifling downy nights—not to mention chiggers, folks who just must hear him speak, and the necessity of finding three-cylinder words for comment on one-cylinder editorials.

AS A MATTER OF TRUTH, State Press is an institution in Dallas and the area in which the Dallas News circulates. Not as garrulous on the typewriter as Old Tack, he excels the latter in broadcasting on the hoof and, indeed, hoofing it above with some young ladies who seem to admire him, shiny top and Voices of 3,700 children will join in Texas songs this evening at Harvester park, where pupils of Gray county will gather for an outdoor songfest to which the public is invited.

Old songs of the range and trail, patriotic songs, and favorite southern melodies will make up the program. A massed band of 150 members, from Pampa, McLean and LePors schools will play a half hour concert to open the program and will accompany some of the songs.

Primary, junior, and senior choruses will sing separately for some selections, and together for others. No admission fee will be charged. Hundreds of residents from over the county are expected to make up the audience.

W. B. Weathered, county superintendent, assisted by superintendents of the independent school districts, has been in charge of arrangements. Pampa pupils rehearsed for the songfest yesterday afternoon.

7 PAMPA BANDS WILL PLAY AT WTCC MEETING

Amarillo Convention Will Have Record Number

AMARILLO, May 1 (AP)—Pampa will hang up at least one band banner at the West Texas chamber of commerce convention here, May 11-13.

To none of the 17 annual meetings held by the organization has any one city sent seven bands. But Pampa proposes to send seven bands to the eighteenth annual meeting.

Jed Rix, convention manager, at first expressed doubt that a city the size of Pampa had seven bands. So the Pampa chamber of commerce has forwarded pictures of all seven bands to convention headquarters.

There are nearly 300 musicians in the seven organizations.

Four of the Pampa bands are from ward schools, two are from high schools and the other is the Panhandle Centennial cowboy band.

"With seven bands coming from one town there is every indication that there will be more musical organizations at the Amarillo convention than at any other in the history of the West Texas chamber of commerce," declared Mr. Rix.

Throughout the three days of the convention the Memphis Gold Medal band, official organization of the West Texas chamber of commerce, having been designated last year at Plainview, will be on hand.

W. C. Milam, director of the Gold Medal band, and F. V. Clark, Memphis chamber of commerce secretary, came here recently to make arrangements for housing the 80-piece band.

Reservations are being made for many more bands.

GREENVILLE, May 1 (AP)—Mrs. Velma Patterson's trial on a charge of poisoning her 12-year-old daughter, Dorothy, was recessed suddenly at noon today to enable Judge Charles Berry to confer with attorneys and there were indications that the action would result in the defense resting its case without calling the defendant to testify.

Previously, it had been considered likely Mrs. Patterson would be used by defense attorneys to refute statements of prosecution witnesses. However, some court attaches felt there still was likelihood of her testifying.

300,000 REDS MARCH IN NEW YORK PARADE

750 WAR PLANES FLY OVER SOLDIERS IN RED SQUARE

(By The Associated Press)

sands of soldiers in Moscow's Red Square, a plea for peace by Adolf Hitler, and a long communist-socialist parade in New York were highlights today of the observance of May day, labor's international holiday.

Workers paraded in many countries, and in several European states soldiers marched.

In a demonstration of Soviet Russia's military power, tanks and armored cars rolled past Lenin's tomb. A fleet of 750 war planes dived over columns of troops.

Police estimated 300,000 persons would march in the New York parade, where for the first time communists and left-wing socialists joined forces.

Germany's May day was a "joy day" of thanks to Hitler, who told a youth rally, "We cannot use a generation of mama's boys."

Later, speaking in Berlin to thousands of May day marchers, Hitler stressed his love of peace.

"In hatred-ridden Europe, we want to preserve peace," he said. "Do not let the politicians abroad who do not understand us I would say. Leave us alone to work out our own problems and you get on with your own."

Great festivals of workers took place in the industrial cities of France. Hyde Park, London, was a rallying point for huge assemblies of thousands of Red banners waved in Madrid's May day parade, and a holiday spirit prevailed as 60,000 celebrators marched.

Austria heard an announcement by Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg that 15,000 youths of the class of 1935 would be called for compulsory federal service—partly of civil and partly of military character—in October.

Filipino workers paraded peacefully in Manila, under the watchful eyes of police and constabulary men equipped with guns and gas bombs.

Three Mexican workers organizations launched separate observances in Mexico City, where heavily reinforced guards were on duty.

A blazing cross with a placard lettered "We will not tolerate communism. (Signed) Ku Klux Klan," was found by police in a Cleveland suburb. Cleveland communists planned a rally on the public square.

LeFors Well Is Flowing Oil, Gas

Flowing between 10 and 11 barrels of oil an hour with more than 3,000,000 cubic feet of gas, the No. 3 Bruce Bull well of the LePors Petroleum company was attracting much attention today.

The well is in section 3, block B-2, H&G survey, in central Gray county.

The flow was found to drop about 150 feet in less than two locations in a southerly direction from the company's nearest well. Whether it amounted to a pool extension of the "high" was being debated today. It was flowing from the granite wash at a total depth of 2,903 feet. Sea level at the location is 2,875 feet.

"The well will be produced 'as is' for the present, according to E. J. Dunigan, but it may be deepened later. The Texas Pipeline company has the connection. The Texas company has the only offset, on the east.

Concessions for Amusement Center To Be Awarded

The Panhandle Centennial association is making tentative plans for an amusement center at the new fairground park. The plans are in the hands of the association to bring in several rides. Concessions will be granted to various clubs in Pampa and in the neighboring towns.

Anyone interested in putting in concessions may make proposition in writing and leave them at the Board of City Development office in the city hall or write to the Panhandle Centennial association at Pampa.

GRAY COUNTY FARMER ASKS APPROVAL OF NEW SOIL LAW AT ELECTION ON MAY 16

By JOHN TURCOTTE

The voters of GRAY COUNTY on May 16 will be called on to vote on the question of whether or not a wind erosion district should be formed in the form of high winds or excessive rains do the same. In my estimation, the proper conservation of our soil is the greatest issue that is confronting our nation today. Thinking of the black blizzards of dirt that have swept the bread basket of the nation for the last three years. Think of the millions of tons of the very richest part of our soil that has literally blown away and which is gone forever as far as you and I are concerned. Think of what all this waste would mean in terms of

FLORIDA-BOUND, ELUDES ARREST

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Rep. Marion Zionscheck of Washington was believed today to be streaking toward a Florida honeymoon, leaving behind him the new charges of speeding and three pet turtles.

Zionscheck, with his stenographer, eluded a traffic policeman who was on a hunt for him on the Mount Vernon Memorial highway leading into nearby Alexandria, Virginia. Finally at Hunting Creek—George Washington's favorite fishing spot—the policeman flagged Zionscheck.

He accused the representative of going 62 miles an hour. The answer, the policeman said, was a lot of "cuss" words. So Zionscheck was taken to the Alexandria police station accused of speeding and disorderly conduct.

The congressman escaped jail when a professional bondsman put up $200. Whether the bond would be forfeited if he failed to appear in court today was a moot question. Some court attaches believed it might, but Zionscheck's lawyer planned to appear for him and waive preliminary hearing.

A few hours after the incident one of Zionscheck's friends and neighbors here found a note under his door, presumably written by the representative.

Congressman Marion A. Zionscheck of Washington and his bride, the former Ruby Louis Nix, it said, "took off for Florida this afternoon. Zionscheck was dressed in a natty brown sport suit and Mrs. Zionscheck in a white ensemble."

Reading further the friend learned that the bride had suggested the honeymoon be spent in Miami, but the bride-groom countered with Tampa.

"Zionscheck said 'Pampa,' the note continued, 'because of its excellent golfing facilities and his desire to show the natives some real golf.'

In conclusion the note stated that the congressman's three performing turtles (Zionscheck trained) had been entrusted to a friend.

ONE BELIEVED DROWNED AND FIVE INJURED

DAM GIVES WAY AND 6 FARM FAMILIES ARE MISSING

ELK CITY, Okla., May 1 (AP)—One man was believed drowned, five persons were injured, six farm families were unaccounted for, and east-side Elk City counted flood losses of thousands of dollars today in the wake of heavy rains and a freakish twister.

Rescue crews searched for a man identified tentatively as George Bates, about 40, of Chicago.

The man believed to be Bates was swept into a roaring torrent two miles east of here when his automobile stalled on a bridge over the path of waters turned loose when Elk City's $350,000 dam at its 40-acre reservoir gave way.

Elk City officials said the families lived in low lands a few miles below the reservoir, and that unless they had advance warning they might all have been lost.

H. C. Colton, his wife, and three children were injured when a twister demolished their tenant farm home southwest of here as the family stood watching the storm.

Lady Took Cardui During Middle Life

Women who are entering middle life will be interested in the experience of Mrs. L. C. McDonald, of Paragould, Ark., who writes: "I cannot say anything but good about Cardui. I think it is a grand medicine. I took Cardui during change of life. I was so weak, so nervous, I could hardly go. I just dragged around. I had fainting spells and would just give down. My back and head hurt. I knew I had to take something to give me strength. I read of Cardui. I took about seven bottles. It gave me relief and strength. I am now 60 years past, and can do a pretty good day's work in the house and garden."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician. (Adv.)

6,850 KILLED IN BATTLE IN EAST AFRICA

ITALIANS CLAIM 5,000 ETHIOPIANS WERE SLAIN

By GEORGE C. JORDAN
(Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)
ROME, May 1.—Italy, preparing for a general mobilization or "sbanata" in celebration of victory against Ethiopia, was informed today that the most recent fascist advance in East Africa cost 6,850 casualties.

Marshal Pietro Badoglio reported that his southern forces had occupied Daggah Bur, 150 miles south-east of Harar, after capturing Sasa Baneh, 25 miles away, in a 16-day fight.

The commanding marshal of Italian armed forces in East Africa said: "The enemy lost more than 6,000 men. Our losses were 50 officers dead or wounded and 1,800 troops dead or wounded."

Badoglio's communique said: "The warriors of Ras Nasibu who were defeated at Sasa Baneh fled along the caravan route to Jijiga."

"The advance guard of our three columns united in perfect precision and occupied Daggah Bur yesterday morning, April 30."

"The pursuit continues despite continuously adverse atmospheric conditions and flood conditions of the rivers."

"The enemy lost more than 5,000 men. A search of the battlefield, 100 miles, several dozen machine guns, and five artillery pieces."

"Our losses from April 14, on the part of the great battle, to April 30, were 50 officers dead or wounded and 1,800 troops dead or wounded of whom 1,400 were Libyan and Somaliland volunteers."

"On the northern front, our troops occupied Debra Sina and Teneber hill, while another column reached and forded the Gadula river, about 100 kilometers (62.5 miles) from Addis Ababa."

"In the Debra Tabor sector there were numerous important submissions of chiefs."

"The news that the Italian legions were virtually in sight of Addis Ababa while Gen. Rudiofio Graziani and his men in the south were pushing forward toward Harar whetted Italy's anticipation of a great victory celebration."

"This was the second time Premier Mussolini summoned the black-shirted men and the women of the fascist auxiliary, comprising almost half of Italy's population of 44,000,000, to gather in military formation in 7,329 cities, towns and villages."

"One day less than seven months ago, the first adunata was called, the day before Italy's East African army marched across the Eritrean border into Ethiopia Oct. 3."

"Marshal Badoglio's main motorized column of 15,000 Italian national troops was reported within artillery shot of Addis Ababa on the eve of the warning of imminent mobilization."

"Italian press dispatches said the troops were 75 miles northeast of Addis Ababa."

"Rumors persisted early today that the first fascist patrols were already at the city limits of the capital."

Spirit of the Pampas

Pampas of Texas, you're a land set apart!
An Empire with vast domains;
Strange rhythms possess one and quicken the heart
When viewing your great panorama.
We thrill to the songs of each soft-throated bird,
Blue skies and soft misty mornings;
To low undertones of a breeze scarcely heard,
Incandescence of shimmering sage.
Miles of steel tracks with heavy corrals,
Giant grain elevators and high water towers;
Ponderous rhythm from gushing oil wells,
Enhanced by your own natural powers.
Billowing wheat from the eye can't escape,
Winding highways and gay boulevards;
Cities of steel dot your great landscapes,
Airports, white sands, cattle, and winds!
Reiterated cry of coyotes that lure
Breaks the prairie's peculiar silence;
Mountains and canyons that are not miniature,
An extensive desert, throbbing with life,
Texans, be proud of your beautiful plains,
Of modern pioneering to the tune of machines;
Be proud of your people as well as domain,
Their progressive spirit cannot be broken.
—Marie Waters, Mobette.

peace, saith the Lord, unto the wicked" (Isaiah 48:22).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "The great dragon" was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him (Rev. 12:9).
The lesson-sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "He that touches the hem of Christ's robe and masters his mortal beliefs, animality, and hate, rejoices in the proof of healing; in a sweet and certain sense that God is love (page 569)."

SCOUT CAMPOREE
MERCED, May 1 (AP)—Five hundred Boy Scouts from the Rio Grande Valley are expected to attend the annual Valley camporee at Harlingen, May 8 and 9. The boys will engage in contests the second day in the arts scouting has taught them. The events will comprise first aid, knot tying, signaling, water boiling, human signal tower, flapjack cooking, wall scaling, scout's pace and bagging. Rating will make a troop, a standard, a star, a circle, or a triangle, instead of grading first, second and third.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, May 1. (AP)—Football has its co-captains and now baseball comes up with co-managers. Yessir, Sioux City, S. D., in the Nebraska State League, has signed two master-minders for this season. Ken Guenther of the LAJAY ARGONAUTS, who nobody but that way knows what the idea is. But just can't wait till the season opens May 12 to see what happens. Just try to imagine Bill Terry directing a team from the bench and Casey Stengel field generalizing the same outfit from the coaching lines.

Max Schmeling picked up $500 for three minutes on the air last night. Tip to big league scouts: Take a look at Gordon Clarke, home U. He's hitting .382 and has bobbled only once in 119 chances. Could William Terry have been talking about some other guy when he wise cracked that Roy Parmelee couldn't finish a game? Chalk up another smart deal for Rogers Hornsby who is just about the best trader in either major.

Everybody seemed to think $50 was the highest price ever charged for a prize fight. . . but a fellow in Detroit says he has an advertisement to prove fans were socked $60 for Dempsey and Willard at Toledo. . . And Francis Albertanti says every member of the International Sporting Club paid $500 to watch Georges Carpentier beat Battling Levinsky for the light heavyweight title at Jersey City. . . Now you tell one.

So Kunnel Bradley has shifted to Brevity? Well, well, stick to Bantler. The Kunnel has plenty of good Kentucky dollars down on that nag.

STALCUP HOPE FADES
AUSTIN, May 1 (AP)—Hope of Virgil Stalcup, convicted slayer of Sheriff W. B. Arthur of Dickens county, for executive clemency to save him from execution early Monday dimmed today as the board of pardons recommended adversely on a plea for commutation to life imprisonment.

11 KILLED IN CRASH

DALLAS, TULSA TIED FOR SECOND PLACE

After days and days and days of bickering and dickering the Pampa-Danciger Road Runner and the Amarillo-Phillips Parrot have come to an agreement. The two birds will officially open night baseball here on Monday night and will then go to Amarillo for the opening on Wednesday night.

FINALS IN EVENTS TO BE HELD SATURDAY AT AUSTIN

BASEBALL LEAGUE

Tournament dope ran true to form through the quarter-finals and odds were given that Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas would conquer Miss Hilda Urbanke of Austin and youthful Miss Betty Jameson of San Antonio would step into the finals with a victory over Mrs. Otto Armstrong of El Paso.

The Houston Buffs were back in the Texas league lead today with Dallas and Tulsa tied for second place.

In the battle of words, the Road Runner spokesman was Harold Miller and the Parrot was Fred Huth. The parrot had the better of the talking but he couldn't catch up with the Road Runner to put across his argument, so an agreement was reached.

AUSTIN, May 6 (AP)—Leading athletes and scholars in rural and city schools competed today for athletic and academic honors in the twenty-sixth annual University of Texas Interscholastic league state meet.

TO DOZ.

Chandler dropped the four-journalist figure, Mrs. Jack Antonio, from the 1 and 1 victory.

The lights at Road Runner park will be installed tomorrow. The reflectors have been cleaned and repainted and are now as good as new. Amarillo is erecting new lights and will have them ready for the opening night game.

Heavy registration of teachers and coaches forecast a good attendance at the annual league breakfast Saturday to discuss important proposed changes. Roy Bedichek, executive committee member, expected interest to center around proposals that the league adopt a rule against payment of coaches' salaries.

Coating a Building in Denmark

Christian Troelstrup, Copenhagen clothing merchant, demonstrated that ingenuity wasn't an American monopoly when he covered the sides of his store with 1,000 overcoats of which he wanted to dispose in a hurry. This is how the store looked before the customers arrived and the police had to be called out to keep order. But he sold the coats.

WOODUL TO HEAR CASE
AUSTIN, May 1. (P) — Acting Governor Walter F. Woodul said today he would hear the plea of Virgil Stalcup's mother and wife for commutation of Stalcup's death sentence tomorrow afternoon and would announce a decision shortly thereafter. Talking by telephone from Fort Worth, Woodul said he had made some study of the case.

DICKENS KIN DIES
LONDON, May 1. (P) — A Coroner's verdict reported today that the death of Ethel Dickens, 71-year-old grand-daughter of Charles Dickens, the British author, was due to an overdose of a sleeping pill, but that there was insufficient evidence to show under what circumstances the poison was taken.

D. 1936, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court as No. 4236, wherein Clifton M. Whitten is plaintiff, and Jewel Whitten is defendant, and said petition alleges that plaintiff and defendant were duly and legally married on or about December 16, 1932, and were separated without fault on the part of the plaintiff on June 12, 1932, that plaintiff has been an actual and bona fide resident and inhabitant of the State of Texas for more than twelve months and of Gray County for more than six months immediately next preceding the filing of this petition, that the defendant's residence is unknown to plaintiff, but that he believes she resides in Oklahoma; that there are no children of this marriage, and no community property; and that defendant abandoned plaintiff on said date of separation, which conduct on the part of the defendant the plaintiff alleges constitutes abandonment for more than three years, with intention of living separately and apart from the plaintiff; wherefore plaintiff prays that the defendant be cited by publication to answer this petition and that upon final hearing hereof that plaintiff be granted a divorce from the defendant.

THIMBLE THEATRE Starring POPEYE

BREVITY FAVORED TO WIN KENTUCKY DERBY TOMORROW OVER 15 COLTS

THREE OTHER HORSES PICKED AS FAVORITES

BOLD VENTURE, GRAND SLAM, GRANVILLE ARE WATCHED

By ORLO ROBERTSON Associated Press Sports Writer LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 1. (AP)—

Their last workouts a matter of history, sixteen three-year-olds, one of them a filly, rested in their stalls today as the derby fever tightened its grip on this thoroughbred capital in preparation for the 62nd running of the turf classic at Churchill Downs tomorrow.

From the highways and byways came the racing claims in the greatest throngs since the post-war depression. So great was the influx of horsemen and horse followers, many high in social and political life of the nation, that the hospitality of the city was taxed to the utmost.

Close to 60,000 are expected to pick the quarter-mile long grandstand and overflow into the flower-covered infield tomorrow. The congestion will be so great, however, that many will get only a fleeting glimpse of the horses as they march stately over one of the quarter miles for the purse of $40,000.

The horses themselves played little part in the pre-race hysteria. They went through short workouts this morning and then retired to their closely guarded stalls to wait the call to 'Boots and Saddles' tomorrow at about 4:30 P. M. (CST).

Along the rail, in packed hotel lobbies, and at the track, the arguments were loud. Bettors were nearly developed as the hardboiled joined the visitors in attempting to settle the race after partaking of Kentucky's famous hospitality. Hot tips were to be had on every corner without asking.

But after it had all simmered down, Joseph Early Widener's Brevity remained the horse to beat. Winner of five of his six races, the bay flash has come up to the classic in perfect condition. He equaled what was then the world record of 1:48 1/2 for one and one-eighth miles in winning the Florida derby. His one race and workout here took nothing from his standing.

Widener has never won the derby but this appears to be his year. If the track is fast, Brevity is expected to be held at 7 to 5 or shorter odds. If the going is heavy, he'll probably still retain his position as the favorite but at longer odds.

The track was sloppy for yesterday's races. The weather man predicts local showers tomorrow but holds out a 50-50 chance that the sun will shine at derby time.

For the first time in many years, the hardboots were not shouting for Bradley. The master of idle hour, winner of four derbies and usually a strong supporter of his own horses, is none too strong on Bien Joli and Banister. He jumped on the band wagon and selected Brevity. But it is recalled that neither Burpo King nor Broker's Tip winner in 1932 and '33, respectively, was highly regarded.

If Brevity is beaten, the consensus is that it will be by one of three horses—William Woodward's Granville, Morton L. Schwartz's bold venture or the Bomar stables' Grand Slam. The latter probably will rival Brevity for favoritism if the track is muddy for a fast run his best two-year-old races over heavy tracks.

Granville comes from a derby family. Trained by James Fitzsimmons, Granville's sire, Gallant Fox won in 1930 and then sent out another son, Omaha, to take last year's running. A victory of the Fox's son would establish a derby record, for no winner ever sired two victors.

Fitzsimmons especially is well fortified. In addition to Granville, he will saddle the Wheatley stable's Teufel, the colt that beat the Woodward star in the Wood Memorial, and Merry Pete, a fleet but unknown bay. The latter, from Woodward's Belair stud, will be started with the idea of carrying the leaders along at a rapid pace while his more highly regarded stablemates settle in their stride, ready to strike in the stretch.

Question Marks Bold Venture comes up to the race well seasoned by hardships. He was injured in the Arlington Futurity last year and later escaped from a fire in a railroad car in which two other horses were fatally burned. His six furlong workout of 1:13 1-5 over a sloppy track yesterday left the railbirds wondering if Max Hirsch, veteran trainer, has a real horse in his barns.

Of the others, A. C. Taylor's Indian Broom is the big question mark, possessed of a world of speed, the former plater lowered the world record for one and one-eighth miles to 1:47 3-5 in beating Top Row at Tanforan. True, he had only 94 pounds on his back at the time but since arriving at the Downs he has fairly burned up the track in morning workouts. The big question is whether he'll carry 126 pounds over the distance.

The battle of jockeys will bring two former winners into the competition. Charley Kurtsinger, who won with Twenty Grand, will be upon Mrs. Silas B. Mason's He Did. Uncle Mack Garner, at the age when most jockeys are content to

Peewees And Little Road Runners To Battle Sunday

Leadership in Junior Baseball League At Stake

No baseball game ever played in Pampa in May has excited as much interest and attention as the clash between the Magnolia Peewees and the Little Road Runners scheduled to begin at 2:30 o'clock at Road Runner park Sunday.

Although the season is only a few weeks old, the rivalry between the two groups of boys dates back from way last year. Last season the Peewees walloped to a finish teams that present Little Road Runners then played on, including the Longhorns and the Jack Rabbits.

There are certain boys in the Road Runner lineup who will be aching to vanquish their diminutive foes.

Last season, Harold Nicholson, manager of the Peewees, and some of the other Little Road Runners played on teams that were trounced by the Peewees.

The game to be played Sunday assumes importance in the eyes of players of both teams because if the victory is one-sided it may indicate that the victors will have easy sailing in the Panhandle Junior baseball league which got under way last Sunday when the Little Road Runners routed Phillips 66 boys 25 to 0 in seven innings.

The junior highway birds showed top-notch ability to field, hit the ball, and Paul Montgomery struck out the Phillips boys almost at will.

However, it is quite certain that the game would have been much closer if Esslinger, Phillips hurler, had not pitched 12 men on bases for as many scores. Wild pitching resulted in infield errors which otherwise would not have occurred.

Manager Joe Parkinson will likely start Montgomery on the mound again Sunday, and if he keeps the Peewees from hitting it'll be the first time since they began playing together more than two years ago.

The smallest and youngest player in the Peewee lineup, Grover Lee Heiskell, is the most consistent hitter. The Peewees will have the best catcher in Doyle Auld, and Claude Heiskell may be more than a match for Bob Bailey who holds down first for the Junior birdmen.

The Peewees have not been defeated in two years by a junior team, and they are planning to put another victory on the books Sunday. Their pitcher will probably be Amos Reed. Their big bats will be Claude Heiskell, Billy Morrow ss, Grover Foster lf, Dale Mills 3b, Others in the lineup are J. B. Buckingham 2b, Glenn Dull of "Key" Rafferty pitcher, Coach Roy Marshall and Howard Buckingham, sponsor, will be in charge of the Peewees.

Others in the Little Road Runner lineup include Fred McGahey ss, Carl Noland and Cunningham catchers, Brownie Bunting, Ferrel Heard.

NEWLY ORGANIZED POLO TEAM TO PLAY SATURDAY, SUNDAY

The Reds will be in Pampa tomorrow and Sunday. This time it will be El Rojo polo team from Plainview, here for a two-game series with the Pampa Polo club's newly organized quartet.

Game time on both afternoons will be 2:30 o'clock with admission 25 cents for children and 40 cents for adults. Cars will be allowed to park around the entire playing field. The field has been drained and rolled since the rain.

Despite all kinds of unfavorable conditions, the Pampa players have been practicing long and hard to perfect their game. They worked on a soft field, in clouds of dust and in cold and raw weather.

Their horses have responded to hard work and can now "turn on a dime and give a nickel change".

Polo is new to Pampa. Only two games have been played here and they were staged under a weather handicap which kept all but a few faithful fans away. It was so cold that players could hardly stick on their horses.

There are many persons in Pampa who have never seen a polo game. Some think it a silly game. Yet polo is one of the fastest games of the century. It is a combination of terrific speed, uncanny skill, strong wrists, and superb horsemanship.

Each team is composed of four players. At the "kick-off," or in polo the toss-in, the players line up on each side of a middle line and the referee throws the ball between the two lines of players. Then the battle for possession of the ball begins. Play is continuous until one team has scored or the ball is knocked out of bounds, or a foul committed.

A period of chukker lasts seven minutes, or longer. If, at the whistle, the ball is not in play the chukker ends. If, however, the ball is in play, the game continues until a goal is made or the ball is knocked out of bounds, or until one team or the other has committed a foul.

Both teams appearing here tomorrow and Sunday will be superbly mounted. Pampa players may have an edge on speed, while El Rojo will shade the locals in experience.

The probably starting lineups will be: Pampa—Harwell, Reynolds or Studer at No. 1; Overton at No. 2; Cooper at No. 3; Burrows at No. 4. Plainview—Humphries at No. 1; Crenshaw at No. 2; Norris at No. 3; Stephenson at No. 4.

MISS JAMESON AND CHANDLER VANQUISH FOES

FAVORITES EXPECTED TO WIN IN SEMI-FINAL ROUND

By FELIX R. M'KNIGHT Associated Press Sports Writer SAN ANTONIO, May 1. (AP)—Semi-final play started today in the 20th annual Texas Women's Golf association tournament with only a 16-year old high school lady to carry the torch for the younger stars.

Tournament dope ran true to form through the quarter-finals and odds were given that Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas would conquer Miss Hilda Urbankie of Austin and youthful Miss Betty Jameson of San Antonio would step into the finals with a victory over Mrs. Otto Armstrong of El Paso.

The co-favorites are tourney foes of several years with Miss Jameson yet to hold a decision over Mrs. Chandler.

Mrs. Chandler dropped the tourney's most colorful figure, Mrs. Jack Lapham of San Antonio, from the running with a 2 and 1 victory while Miss Jameson eliminated Miss Helen Warren of Dallas, Texas' latest "teen age sensation."

Miss Urbankie, long rapping at victory's door in Texas tournament play, continued her fine shot-making with a 3 and 2 win over Mrs. W. Negley of San Antonio while Mrs. Armstrong remained in the running with a one up triumph over Mrs. R. E. Winger of Fort Worth.

Mrs. Lapham, who won her first state title in 1913 and added four more before 1929, played well at the outset of her match with Mrs. Chandler and held a two hole lead at the end of six holes. A birdie three at the fifth, where she dropped her second shot within six feet of the pin, and an other three at the sixth where she blasted from under the overhanging side of a bunker inches from the pin, gave her a working margin.

Miss Warren's game bid against Miss Jameson had the gallery buzzing until the final green, where Betty dropped an eight foot putt for a birdie four to win, 2 up. Both youngsters scored 39's, three over men's par, on the first nine holes and made the turn all square.

Miss Jameson, shooting a wide hook into the wind, dropped three tee shots out of bounds on the tenth hole and went one down, she grabbed the eleventh hole to square the match, halved twelve and thirteen and won the fourteenth with a par three. Mrs. Warren fought back at the fifteenth with an iron shot that placed her ball near the hole and she dropped the putt for a birdie three. They halved sixteen but Miss Jameson took the seventeenth with a par four and the eighteenth with a birdie.

Miss Warren scored 39-41-80 and served her warning for future play. Mrs. Armstrong, always up on Mrs. Winger found herself losing big leads under her opponent's steady stroking and was forced to protect a one hole lead, finally by halving the last three holes. Mrs. Armstrong carded an 85, Mrs. Winger, 86.

Although erratic, Miss Urbankie finally settled down and played beautifully on the last eight holes to eliminate Mrs. Negley, the tournament "dark horse." Miss Urbankie was only three over par for the last eight holes and was expected to give Mrs. Chandler a battle for the finals' berth.

Phillips And Road Runners To Play Here Monday Night

HOUSTON BACK IN THE TEXAS LEAGUE LEAD

DALLAS, TULSA TIED FOR SECOND PLACE

(By The Associated Press) Today's games: Dallas at San Antonio. Fort Worth at Beaumont. Oklahoma City at Houston, night. Tulsa at Galveston, night.

The Houston Buffs were back in the Texas league lead today with Dallas and Tulsa tied for second place.

A 3-2 win over the Oklahoma City Indians last night put the Buffs back on top, a spot Tulsa held for one day after jumping from fourth place in a single game.

Herbert Moore, young left-hander, held the Indians to four hits, the same number the Buffs collected off Marleau, Easterling and Schesler.

The Dallas Steers made five runs in the first two innings of Muncie and four in the sixth off Hunter to down the San Antonio Missions, 9-5. A well-executed double play in the ninth averted a Mission rally after San Antonio scored once on a walk with the bases loaded.

Chuck Hostetler hit a single with the bases loaded in the ninth to give Galveston a 3-2 win over Tulsa. Eddie Cole, ace Galveston hurler, deserved a shut-out. A misjudged fly in the opening inning gave the Oilers their runs.

The Fort Worth Cats continued to make noise from the cellar, backing the 5-hit pitching of Fred Johnson to beat Beaumont, 2-1, for their second win in a row after losing 12 straight.

All clubs have reduced their rosters to the required limit of 17 active players each.

Pampans Will Go To Amarillo Wednesday Evening

After days and days and days of bickering and dickered the Pampa-Dancer Road Runner and the Amarillo-Phillips Parrot have come to an agreement. The two birds will officially open night baseball here on Monday night and will then go to Amarillo for the opening on Wednesday night.

In the battle of words, the Road Runner spokesman was Harold Miller and the Parrot was Fred Huth. The parrot had the better of the talking but he couldn't catch up with the Road Runner to put across his argument, so an agreement was reached.

The lights at Road Runner park will be installed tomorrow. The reflectors have been ordered and painted and are now as good as new. Amarillo is erecting new lights and will have them ready for the opening night game.

So now the feud is on. "Country, Cordwood, etc." Davis and his Amarillo boys figure they are good since they downed the Japanese All Stars, 1 to 0. The Road Runners have not been bragging.

Game time will be 8:15 o'clock with admission 25 cents for women and 40 cents for men. Fans will think they are entering a big league ball park when they arrive for the game. The entrance to the Road Runner pen has been rebuilt, box seats have been enlarged, the field has been fixed and the park given a general overhauling.

The Pampa Road Runners have three of the strongest traveling ball clubs in the nation coming here for a four game series during the next two weeks.

1,200 PUPILS COMPETING IN LEAGUE MEET

AUSTIN, May 6. (AP)—Leading athletes and scholars in rural and city schools competed today for the twenty-sixth annual University of Texas Inter-scholastic league state meet.

Preliminaries in track and field were first on the program, followed by elimination events in other contests with more than 1,200 school boys and girls entered in the respective divisions. They were survivors of stiff county, district, and regional competition. Finals in all events will be held tomorrow.

Heavy registration of teachers and coaches forecast a good attendance at the annual league breakfast Saturday to discuss important proposed changes. Roy Bedichek, executive committee member, expected interest to center around proposals that the league adopt a rule against payment of coaches' bonuses from gate receipts, revision of the 8-semester rule and suspension of schools from the league where affiliation is terminated or denied by the state department of education.

In addition to track and field, rural pentathlon and tennis, contests were scheduled in debate, declamation, ready writing, extemporaneous speech, journalism, typewriting, art, 3-R, and one-act play.

VOTING DATE SET WASHINGTON, May 1. (AP)—Currency inflationists and their opponents prepared today for a house vote May 11 on the Frazier-Lemke farm debt refinancing bill, calling for $3,000,000,000 in new money.

ed and the Aztecas are again on the road. All three of the visiting clubs have been on extended winning streaks against some of the strongest teams in the southwest. The Davids are favorites in Pampa. Last season the Mexican Charros team, many of the players being old Aztecas, made a hit with Pampa fans. The negro has never been in this section before.

All Not Well With Brevity, Rumors Claim

LOUISVILLE, May 1. (AP)—Reports that all was not well with J. E. Widener's Brevity spread over Churchill Downs today as 18 three-year-olds, including all the favorites, were named for the 62nd running of the Kentucky derby at Churchill Downs tomorrow.

The rumors regarding Brevity, 7 to 5 choice, spread following the unexpected entry of Mrs. P. A. B. Widener's Dnieper, a stablemate, and a none too impressive workout by the favorite. Yesterday Danny Stewart, who handles Dnieper, said his horse would not be named.

Pete Coyne, trainer of Brevity, emphatically denied that anything was wrong with his famous colt but clackers were none too impressed with Brevity's workout of 62.2-5 seconds over the stick and holding track.

Albert Mott, stable agent, was the first in the secretary's office to file the entry of Dnieper but when asked why he did not also enter Brevity replied: "Not yet." He refused to amplify his statement.

Brevity's entry was not long in following, however. Coyne filled out the blank himself and with a smile said:

"He should win tomorrow. He's a Saturday horse, having won all his races on that day."

bread, meat, and clothing, not only to the producers of America but to the city dwellers as well.

Listen, my friends, it is time that you and I do a lot of good hard thinking and for one time "let's think right and let every voter go to the polls on May 16 and vote right."

The history of all nations of the earth has and will be written in terms of soil fertility. The fertility of the soil is the greatest wealth that any nation can possess and therefore will determine the greatness of any nation and of any people. The security of our own nation depends on our food supply and that food supply depends on just how we conserve and care for our soil. Secure is that nation which is secure in its food supply.

Man, of all the creatures of the earth, is the most wasteful of good things that Mother Nature has supplied for our needs. For more than three hundred years the farmers of America have planted and reaped as they pleased. When their farms became depleted in soil fertility by erosion or otherwise, they pushed up stakes and moved westward to a new country, but today the west is gone, and that brings us to the stark reality, "THAT WE HAD BETTER BE SAVING OF WHAT WE HAVE LEFT."

Scientific research has shown that it takes over four hundred years for nature to create an inch of new soil, and in the light of this fact it brings to our minds that the dirt storms of one season can do more harm than nature can restore in a thousand years.

There is something wrong with our economic system when it forces the farmer of the nation to literally "mine" the fertility from his soil and in so doing lay the foundation for the worst dust storms the western world has ever known. It is time that you and I call a halt on such a system and if we do not "heed the warnings," in a few years our children will see erected in the form of drifting dunes of black silt a monument to the gross stupidity of such a system.

I further wish to call your attention to the suffering and death that has been caused from "dust pneumonia" during the last few years. Ask your doctor; he knows the story.

And in the housewives of this country. Remember the back-breaking hours of toil that you have been called on to do in order to keep your home a decent place in which to live.

To the merchants of Pampa and other towns of the county, I would ask, "What has the dust storms cost you in depreciated values on merchandise and what has been the extra cost in trying to keep your place of business clean and inviting to your customers? So let us all vote for this measure, and do our part to have our soil, not only for ourselves but for the future generations. After all they will have the same right to food and clothing that we have. A vote for this measure is a vote for a better and brighter America.

It is my hope that the Pampa Daily News will find space to print between now and May 16th a copy of the States Wind Erosion Law for your consideration.

all... A mere man... we've never clearly understood State Press' peculiar fascination for the speaker of the sexes, unless similar traits attract. The other side of the WORDS family, for instance, can find it within reason to refer to State Press' as "dear." We've heard other ladies refer to him as "cute." Actually, he looks like a transplanted cotton farmer who never bent his back to pick much cotton, or who at least has recovered from the curvature of the spine ordinarily associated with such manual labor. But in any context of words or women, our vote is for the Dallas columnist.

WASHINGTON, May 1. (AP)—Business opened fire on the administration tax bill before the senate finance committee today when the Philadelphia chamber of commerce branded it "an unsound piece of legislation."

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, May 1. (AP)—Specialties accounted for gains of 1 to 3 or more points in today's stock market, but the list, as a whole, was narrow.

There were a number of rather weak spots, including American Telephone, which was off more than 3 at one time, and trading verged on dullness. The close was fairly firm. Transfers were around 1,250,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, May 1. (AP)—Good rains over parts of domestic winter wheat territory, together with disappointing action of the Liverpool market, did much today to pull wheat prices down.

Beathish figures on probable winter wheat production were also a weight on values. For the state of Kansas, the newest current estimate of yield was 131,625,000 bushels.

Wheat closed weak, 1/4-1/2% under yesterday's finish. May 87 1/2-98, July 86 1/2-87, corn 1/4% down, May 63 1/2-64 1/2 up, and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to a rise of 22 cents.

A definite reason for the advance was lacking. Most of the buying was in the nature of price-fixing by domestic and Canadian mills. The trade supplied the contracts.

Veterans Seize American Legion Hall in France

PARIS, May 1. (AP)—Four American veterans who once faced German fire maintained a hold today on Pershing Hall, Paris headquarters of the American Legion, and declared it would take more than the building committee and French police to oust them.

With six other prominent members of the Paris post, the Legionnaires "barricaded" themselves in the hall last night, determined to keep possession of the building until they could hold a meeting tonight to seek means of filling their empty treasury.

The building committee, which had ordered the $500,000 structure closed last night because of indebtedness, called police to clear the hall. A riot car came, with sirens screaming, and police rushed into the building.

The Legionnaires remained, however, the police declining to undertake forcible ejection without a court order.

Of the ten original campers, four held the hall throughout the night. They are James Macalese of Fargo, N. D., Peter McKay of Brooklyn, N. Y., John Hunter of Great Falls, Mont., and Julius Snowhill of Quincy, Ill.

Golden Rule Is Urged in Talk By Lance Webb

Golden rule week was observed at the Kiwanis club today with an interesting talk by the Rev. Lance Webb. He stressed that the golden rule be observed in business and everyday life just as the good Samaritan observed it in his work.

Joe Bryan, commercial manager of radio station KPND told of his first impression of Pampa when he came to live in his home.

Miss Cara Wagner, KPND studio pianist, played several popular numbers.

Garnet Reeves, manager of the Pampa B. C. D. was introduced as a new member. He has been a member of the Lubbock Kiwanis club before moving to Pampa. A letter from the secretary of the Lubbock club was read by R. A. Selby which told of the splendid work he had accomplished for their club.

Visitors today included Kiwanian R. E. Page of LeFors, E. D. Kelly of Perryton, D. Kleth of Ft. Worth, George Briggs and W. C. Williams.

The PEOPLES COLUMN

I received a communication yesterday from the Railroad commission of Texas; and the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association that the drought relief rates that were to be in effect until April 30 have been extended to June 30.

This reduction in rate will apply on feed and cubs in all counties in the North Panhandle country. The reduction is one-third of the freight rate, or approximately $2.20 per ton, or $44 for a minimum car of 20 tons.

I thought you would be interested in this information for the benefit of your readers since it applies to your county.

I want to commend you on the excellent newspaper that you are editing. It is a well balanced, newsy publication. I enjoy particularly your column which I try to get each day.

With best wishes, and awaiting the pleasure of seeing you during your Centennial, I am
Very truly yours,
C. A. STUDER.

Thanks: Your thoughtfulness is appreciated. Carl, We'll be seeing you.—Ed.

LIBRARY PETITION IS BEING CIRCULATED THROUGH COUNTY

In order to complete a petition that is being circulated in an effort to secure a county library, a group is making a drive from Saturday of this week to Saturday of next week.

The petition has been making excellent progress, having already secured approximately 50 per cent of the required number of signers.

During Saturday and next week, about 25 workers will be busy in the county circulating the petition. To those who have not read the publicity that has been given the library movement there always are many questions. Some of the most frequent and pertinent of these are:

1. Where will the library be located? Answer: The location is established by law in the county seat.
 2. How does the outlying district benefit by the library? Answer: A central library in Pampa would be of little value to the other districts of the county, but by establishing branches in each of the towns of the county and providing transportation books to be circulated throughout the county and made available to every citizen in the county. All this of course comes under the administration of the commissioners court and the librarian whom they employ when and if the library is established.
 3. How is the library paid for? Answer: Provision is made in the State Library law for the maximum expenditure of 5-cents on the $100 for libraries. This is included in the statutory limitation of the amount that the county may collect, i. e. (25) and not in excess of that amount.
 4. What does it cost the individual to support the library through taxation where any property is owned. The use of the library is absolutely free, subject to the regulations of the court and librarian.
 5. Who may use the library? Answer: Any white person is entitled to privileges subject to the above mentioned regulations. The petition circulated for the library is exclusive of Pampa and was so stated because of the greater ease with which the library could be established and arrangements made whereby Pampa enjoys the services of a library.

EDITORIAL

THE UNICAMERAL LEGISLATURE

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of six articles by G. H. Nelson of Tahoka, state senator, on a subject about which there is nationwide discussion at this time.)

ARTICLE II

It may be that there are some who do not understand the proceedings necessary for the making of a law. I am, therefore, as briefly as possible going to outline to you what is necessary to be done before a law is placed on our statute books.

Let us start with what is known as a Bill or a proposed law being introduced in the House of Representatives. One of the members of the House at the proper time will state to the Speaker that he has a bill he desires to introduce. This bill is taken by such Speaker and referred to the proper committee. At the proper time, this bill is considered by this committee after notices have been given to those who desire to present evidence on either side of such question. The Bill is then voted on by the members of that committee as to whether it shall be reported favorably or unfavorably to the floor of the House. If it is reported favorably, it is then called up in its proper order on the calendar of the House for discussion. There it is amended, often many, many times, following which a vote is taken by such House to determine its passage.

If the Bill succeeds, after its amendments, in passing the House it is then sent to the Senate where it is again referred to the proper committee. There again everyone is notified that hearings will be had thereon. After the same testimony is taken before this Senate committee which had been formerly given before the committee in the House, it is then voted by that committee out to the floor of the Senate.

In its proper course it comes up for hearing on the floor of the Senate. There it is amended again and again. Finally, a vote is taken to determine its passage. Should it be passed by the Senate it is in most cases very different from that Bill which came from the House of Representatives. The Bill is then sent back to the House of Representatives for them to concur on the amendments having been placed on the same by the Senate.

In most cases this concurrence is refused making it necessary for a free conference committee to be appointed from each of the two Houses to consider the Bill. Should the ten men on the free conference committee so desire, they will amend this bill and finally report it to each of the two houses in the form deemed most desirable to them.

The day of amendment is over after the free conference committee has concluded its work. The House and the Senate must each pass that Bill in the form written by such free conference committee. Should the Bill succeed in passing both the Houses, it is then engrossed and sent to the Governor for his signature. After his signature is placed thereon and the proper time has elapsed after the adjournment of the Legislature, the Bill becomes a law of this State.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The strong movement in Congress to gum up the WPA continuation program by earmarking for public works some $700,000,000 of a proposed $1,500,000,000 appropriation comes straight from the hearts of its promoters.

Unborn babies in the form of thousands of fondly imagined city halls, school buildings, hospitals, and sewer systems are crying for a right to exist, and the cries become particularly poignant in a year when every congressman has to run for re-nomination and re-election.

Those public works were promised, publicly bragged about by Democratic congressmen, and funds actually appropriated for them by Congress. That's what makes it so hard when a member's enemies at home yell, "So what?"

Town meetings were held, plans drawn, and bond issues voted after Congress thought it had earmarked $900,000,000 of the work relief fund for non-federal PWA loan-grant projects and $450,000,000 for housing projects.

The whole PWA program was based on those figures—until Roosevelt cut them down to $330,000,000 and $100,000,000 respectively.

About 6,000 projects consequently are still on tap ready for action—if congressmen who sponsored them can only touch the Treasury for them.

PWA now claims to be employing, directly and indirectly, about 800,000 people. This number will fall off sharply toward the end of the summer and dwindle to probably about 100,000 by the first of the year.

By election time the effect of the decline in PWA operations may be painfully obvious in the steel and cement industries.

Mr. Kurt Grunwald defied the Senate lobby committee and got away with it. He is a field representative of the du Pont-financed Farmers' Independence Council of America and refused to give the names of people he had visited in the middlewest.

The committee's decision not to bring Grunwald before the Senate for contempt was due to a strong desire not to make itself seem ridiculous. Grunwald was small fry, and excessively valuable, as well as belligerent.

His irrelevant sallies in a German accent drew repeated laughter from the committee audience and to have hauled him seriously before the Senate would have been fatal to senatorial dignity and perhaps to the committee as well.

Committee revelations that the du Pont family has been willing to give thousands of dollars to anyone who would set up an anti-New Deal organization and give it a fancy name are serving as valuable Democratic propaganda.

But from a publicity standpoint it would seem that Chairman Hugo Black must be about to pull a big fish up on the witness stand. An internationally known Wall Street banker, who was down here last year to lobby against the Wheeler-Rayburn holding company bill, is a distinct possibility for the honor.

According to a New York physician, stutters avoid a life of crime. Police would probably arrive before one reached the word, "s-s-stick-k-up."

Scientists have just developed a super-explosive from corn. The idea was probably furnished by a prohibition toper.

MORE THAN PLATTITUDES TO BE NECESSARY IN COMBATS WITH ACCIDENTS ON ROADS

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 1.—

There appears to be an increasing consciousness on the part of the American public that something more than platitudinous warnings must be produced if the annual death toll on automobile streets and highways is to be cut down. In times past, there was much criticism directed to railroad companies and city traction lines because of fatalities at grade crossings and elsewhere. A later survey of the situation reveals that these agencies were never the offenders that individual owners and operators of the millions of automobiles on the highways have become.

Although railroads, in cooperation with local authorities or acting alone, have eliminated more than four grade crossings each day for the last decade, there has been no net gain. In 1926, there were 233,701 grade crossings over Class I railroads and now there are 234,178, an increase of 477 crossings, 477 more menaces to life and limb.

Yet it does not seem reasonable to blame the railroad companies. In the very period in which there has been this addition to grade crossings, 14,476 were eliminated at high cost. While a grade crossing is being eliminated by construction of a bridge or an underpass, another one is being created. Perhaps it is a real estate speculator who owns property abutting on a railroad or even lying on both sides of the track. In subdividing his property and cutting it up into lots and streets, he may create half a dozen new grade crossings.

It becomes increasingly apparent that some better sense of planning must be undertaken if the toll of life in this field is to be reduced, but grade crossing fatalities are but a small part of the total. The planning must embrace every kind of traffic activity.

There has been a considerable amount of local legislation designed to decrease the killing and maiming of persons on the streets and highways. The liability of drivers has been increased and campaigns have been carried on aimed at the careless and reckless drivers. The courts have cooperated in many places, not only imposing heavy fines and, in some cases, prison sentences with no fine alternative, but depriving drivers of their permits for varying periods. At the National Capital, for example, a first offense results in a 30-day removal of permit and repeated offenses will bring permanent deprivation. The driver is sentenced to permanent pedestrianism or to being a passenger. He may not drive again. He has proved himself too serious a menace to his fellowmen.

The Iowa Plan
The State of Iowa has taken drastic steps in an effort to bring about a real and lasting reform. It has organized the Iowa State Safety Council. In New England, the New England Council has been active in fostering safety work and in a number of other States a new realization of the importance of preventive traffic work has been made manifest.

The Iowa Plan is receiving no little attention and it is not unlikely that it will be used as a model for organizations in other States. Five years ago, certain Iowa leaders were brought together by the American Legion and undertook to do something about safety, but not much came of the gesture. It was realized that the crusade had to be made more intimate. So last winter another meeting was held and the organization of the state by counties began. Already half of Iowa's 99 counties have safety councils organized and the work is still progressing.

There is a general State Council which is made up of representatives of various State wide organizations and a representative from each of the 99 counties. But more important and reaching down to the rank and file of Iowa citizens are the separate county councils. These have individual members. Each member pays a fee of 50 cents. Ten cents of this goes to the propaganda work of the State Council. The rest is used for local work and for the purchase of a mobile ambulance to be placed on the members' cars. There is a distinctive design for each county.

The National Safety Council, a country-wide organization, has given the Iowa council the benefit of its direction. While safety everywhere is urged, safety in bathtubs, on step-ladders, and on polished floors is a part of the general program. It is traffic safety which is being stressed.

Rules to Be Observed
The Iowa council is striving to press upon every member his own personal responsibility. Safety can be achieved not by repeated statements of simple rules but by a realization that every person must obey the rules. Each member in Iowa is required to take the following pledge and to think of its constantly as a real and vital obligation:

- To drive carefully and at reasonable speed.
- To observe all traffic signals and stop signs.
- To refrain from passing on hills.
- To take curves cautiously and on the right side.
- To signal my intentions before turning or stopping.
- To take nothing for granted with regard to the other driver.
- To give strict attention to my driving and to drive only when physically and mentally fit.
- To have my car inspected at least twice a year for brakes, lights, and other safety features.
- To guard the safety of all children as I would that of my own.
- To look upon the safety of my passengers as my personal trust and responsibility.
- To be as courteous in my car as I am in my home.
- To obey all rules of safety in my home and at my work and as a pedestrian on the streets.
- A sort of driving Utopia would result from strict compliance with the terms of this pledge, and while utopian conditions are difficult to achieve, the Iowa council at least is making a start. W. Earl Hall, Managing Editor of the Mason City Globe-Gazette, is president of the Iowa Safety Council, and other men and women leaders from various parts of the State are active in forwarding the work.

The members are not to take their duties lightly. They are expected to attend regular meetings in the interest of traffic safety. They are expected to plague each other and non-members with telephone calls and other communications to the end that traffic safety will be a subject constantly on the minds of the automobile drivers and the pedestrians too.

Automobiles do not drive themselves. They are operated by human beings, and Mr. Hall and the other officers and members are certain that maximum safety can be achieved by constant vigilance. If the human drivers of the cars obey simple rules and above all obey the simplest rules of courtesy, the loss of life and the economic loss to the state can be minimized. It is regarded as more than likely that many other states will adopt the Iowa plan, with a resultant saving of thousands of lives a year.

CHAPTER XXXI.
Bill crossed the room and flung up a window. Toby felt the choking fumes in her throat. She groped for the electric switch, found it.
The room was just as it had been, but there was no sign of Harriet.
"Where is she?" Toby cried. "Oh, Bill, where is she?"
The kitchenette of the apartment was little more than a cupboard. In fact it had been one once. Bill pulled the door back and disappeared inside. The sting of the gas was sharper with the door open.
Toby cried, "Bill—!" and ran forward.

"But, doctor—!"
"No time to waste now," he said brusquely. "The sooner we get her to the hospital, the better. That's all I can tell you."
Later Bill sat with Toby in the dreary hospital waiting room. Her eyes were red-rimmed, the handkerchief she twisted in her hand a limp, moist ball. "What time is it now?" Toby asked.
"Surely it can't be much longer! They ought to know by this time. Why doesn't someone come and tell us, Bill? Do you think they've forgotten—?"
"They'll tell us, Toby, as soon as they know. I don't think it will be long now."
"But it's been a long time already. Oh, Bill, it's all my fault! I shouldn't have left her alone to-night. I knew how she felt. If I'd stayed with her, as I should have, it wouldn't have happened."
"You mustn't say that, Toby."
"But it's true! And there isn't anything I can do now. I'll never forgive myself. Never, Bill, if she should die."
"Don't say it, Toby. You mustn't let yourself go to pieces like this. Besides, Harriet's going to be all right. Just remember that. She's going to be all right!"

It was another 20 minutes before a nurse came and told them, "Miss Holm is resting quietly now."
"Can I see her?" Toby asked.
"The nurse shook her head. "Not tonight. She's very weak and the doctor doesn't want her to be disturbed. I imagine that you'll be able to see her tomorrow morning."
Toby was there next morning, she found a pale and wan-faced Harriet lying back against the pillows of the hospital bed. Harriet said, "I'm sorry, Toby. I guess I've made everybody a lot of trouble."
"Darling, it's all right now. You had us horribly frightened last night, but now everything's all right. The doctor says you'll be yourself in just a few days."
"Yes, I know."
The few words seemed to have exhausted Harriet. Toby lingered a few moments, and then a nurse said that it was time for her to leave.
From then on, her daily routine included as much time at the hospital as she could spend there. Bill came with her once, and another evening she arrived to find Marty Hiatt sitting beside Harriet's bed. There were flowers in baskets and vases about the room—so many that some of them were on the floor.
Harriet's illness had been reported as the result of an accident. She had many friends and all were solicitous about her recovery.
"Why, the place looks like a florist's shop!" Toby exclaimed.
Harriet smiled. "It does, doesn't it? It's lovely of people to send them, but I feel selfish with so many flowers when some of the patients haven't any at all. I've asked the nurse to take part of mine to some other rooms."
Marty nodded toward Harriet. "She looks fine, doesn't she? All she needs is to get some color in her cheeks."
She did, look better, although she was still weak. The doctor had ordered that she should remain at the hospital a few days longer.
Toby was cheerful at the hospital, but privately she was worried. Since the day Harriet had received Clyde Sabin's letter she had not mentioned him. Did she still feel that life without Clyde was not worth while? That was why she had done this dreadful thing, of course. There couldn't be any other reason.

If Harriet would only talk about it! But she didn't. She was sweetly appreciative of everything that was done for her. She lay back against her pillows like a pale shadow of herself. The verve and sparkle, the gaiety that everyone associated with Harriet was gone.
Only one person besides Toby knew the truth about the "accident" of the escaped gas—Bill. Toby discussed the problem with him.
"What worries me," she confided, "is what may happen after she leaves the hospital and comes home. Everybody knows she was to be married. It will be awfully hard for her to go back to work."
"She ought to go away some place for a while."
"I think so, too," Toby said, "but she doesn't seem to be interested. She isn't interested in anything any more. That's the trouble. Bill, do you think she'd try—?"
He understood what she meant before the words were out. "Not a chance," he said. "Don't you know, Toby, that once anyone has come as close to the finish as Harriet did, they never make a second try? They realize, I guess, just how much life

"I hope you're right."
"Of course I am. I can show you figures to prove it."
It was Marty Hiatt, eventually, who made the suggestion that was carried out. Harriet was back at the apartment, still pale, still with the far-away expression on her face, still silent about her plans for the future.
Marty dropped in one evening after work. "I've got an idea," he announced. "You can't go back to work for a while, Harriet. At least, you shouldn't. The country's what you need. I have an aunt who lives in a little town up farther in the state. She's the finest cook in the world and there's nothing she likes so much as to have someone around she can fuss over and take care of."
"She'd be tickled to death to have you come up for a week or two, or as long as you want to stay. You see, the old girl gets sore of loneliness. Likes to have someone around she can talk to. I've been promising for months to run up and see her. If you'll come along, we can drive up next Sunday."
Harriet said it was awfully nice of Marty, but she couldn't impose on his aunt.
"Impose on her? Why you'll be doing her a favor. Honestly—I mean it!"
"It would be grand for you, Harriet," Toby urged. "You know the doctor said you shouldn't go to work right away."
Two days later a letter arrived from Mrs. Abigail Dinwiddle—a letter that revealed Mrs. Dinwiddle to be exactly the sort of person Hiatt had described her as.
"It was sweet of her to write me, wasn't it?" Harriet said. "But, of course, I can't go."
Nevertheless, when Sunday morning arrived, Marty Hiatt halted his car before the apartment and presently was helping Harriet in and stowing her suitcase into the rear. Toby found it lonely after Harriet was gone. The days had been so full that she had had little time for herself. Now she had more than she knew what to do with. For no reason at all, calls from the studio dropped off.

"They'll pick up again," Sally at the Model League office, assured her.
Toby hoped they would. Jay Hillier was out of town. Bill seemed to be busy at his job; at any rate, she didn't hear from him. Then the weather turned hot. It was June, but the sun beat down on the pavements as though it were August, and what breeze there was only added to the discomfort. People said they "felt it" because the heat had come so suddenly.
Toby, finding the apartment unbearable, set off one afternoon for a movie. The theater, at least, would be cool.
She reached the avenue and halted, waiting for the traffic light to change. A young man in a white suit was also waiting there. He turned and said, "Why—Gorgeous!"

Naval Bill Is Given Approval
WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—A record peace-time naval appropriations bill providing $531,068,707 for adding more ships, air fighters and men to the nation's sea defenses was approved today by the House appropriations committee.
Authority to build two new battleships was granted—provided any foreign signatory of a naval treaty should begin capital ship replacement.
Frankly stating it had in mind the apparent mandate of Congress in the Vinson-Trammell treaty, navy act of "a navy second to none," the appropriations committee said its bill would add to funds otherwise available to give the navy $592,237,707 during the 1937 fiscal year beginning July 1.
The bill's total was 49,337,328 above the 1936 appropriations of $481,731,379 but $18,522,592 under the $549,591,299 budget estimates.
Although specific amounts were not allotted for starting the battleships, Admiral William H. Standley, chief of naval operations, has told the House naval committee funds were available for beginning work on the vessels.
The bill allowed $168,500,000 for continuing construction on 84 vessels of various types, exclusive of battleships, and laying down 12 new destroyers and six new submarines. This leaves 23 destroyers and 8 submarines undestroyed for that may be built under existing agreements.

MORE THAN PLATTITUDES TO BE NECESSARY IN COMBATS WITH ACCIDENTS ON ROADS

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 1.—

There appears to be an increasing consciousness on the part of the American public that something more than platitudinous warnings must be produced if the annual death toll on automobile streets and highways is to be cut down. In times past, there was much criticism directed to railroad companies and city traction lines because of fatalities at grade crossings and elsewhere. A later survey of the situation reveals that these agencies were never the offenders that individual owners and operators of the millions of automobiles on the highways have become.

Although railroads, in cooperation with local authorities or acting alone, have eliminated more than four grade crossings each day for the last decade, there has been no net gain. In 1926, there were 233,701 grade crossings over Class I railroads and now there are 234,178, an increase of 477 crossings, 477 more menaces to life and limb.

Yet it does not seem reasonable to blame the railroad companies. In the very period in which there has been this addition to grade crossings, 14,476 were eliminated at high cost. While a grade crossing is being eliminated by construction of a bridge or an underpass, another one is being created. Perhaps it is a real estate speculator who owns property abutting on a railroad or even lying on both sides of the track. In sub-dividing his property and cutting it up into lots and streets, he may create half a dozen new grade crossings.

It becomes increasingly apparent that some better scheme of planning must be undertaken if the toll of life in this field is to be reduced, but grade crossing fatalities are but a small part of the total. The planning must embrace every kind of traffic activity.

There has been a considerable amount of local legislation designed to decrease the killing and maiming of persons on the streets and highways. The liability of drivers has been increased and campaigns have been carried on aimed at the careless and reckless drivers. The courts have cooperated in many places, not only imposing heavy fines and, in some cases, prison sentences with no fine alternative, but depriving drivers of their permits for varying periods. At the National Capital, for example, a first offense results in a 30-day removal of permit and repeated offenses will bring permanent deprivation. The driver is sentenced to permanent pedestrianism or to being a passenger. He may not drive again. He has proved himself too serious a menace to his fellowmen.

The Iowa Plan has taken drastic steps in an effort to bring about a real and lasting reform. It has organized the Iowa State Safety Council. In New England, the New England Council has been active in fostering safety work and in a number of other States a new realization of the importance of preventive traffic work has been made manifest.

The Iowa Plan is receiving no little attention and it is not unlikely that it will be used as a model for organizations in other States. Five years ago certain Iowa leaders were brought together by the American Legion and undertook to do something about safety, but not much came of the gesture. It was realized that the crusade had to be made more intimate. So last winter another meeting was held and the organization of the state by counties began. Already half of Iowa's 99 counties have safety councils organized and the work is still progressing.

There is a general State Council which is made up of representatives of various State wide organizations and a representative from each of the 99 counties. But more important and reaching down to the rank and file of Iowa citizens are the separate county councils. These have individual members. Each member pays a fee of 50 cents. Ten cents of this goes to the propaganda work of the State council. The rest is used for local work and for the purchase of a metallic emblem to be placed on the members' cars. There is a distinctive design for each county.

press upon every member his own personal responsibility. Safety can be achieved not by repeated statements of simple rules but by a realization that every person must obey the rules. Each member in Iowa is required to take the following pledge and to think of its constantly as a real and vital obligation:

- To drive carefully and at reasonable speed.
- To observe all traffic signals and stop signs.
- To refrain from passing on hills.
- To take curves cautiously and on the right side.
- To signal my intentions before turning or stopping.
- To take nothing for granted with regard to the other driver.
- To give strict attention to my driving and to drive only when physically and mentally fit.
- To have my car inspected at least twice a year for brakes, lights, and other safety features.
- To guard the safety of all children as I would that of my own.
- To look upon the safety of my passengers as my personal trust and responsibility.
- To be as courteous in my car as I am in my home.
- To obey all rules of safety in my home and at my work and as a pedestrian on the streets.

A sort of driving Utopia would result from strict compliance with the terms of this pledge, and while utopian conditions are difficult to achieve, the Iowa council at least is making a start. W. Earl Hall, Managing Editor of the Mason City Globe-Gazette, is president of the Iowa Safety Council, and other men and women leaders from various parts of the State are active in forwarding the work.

The members are not to take their duties lightly. They are expected to attend regular meetings in the interest of traffic safety. They are expected to plague each other and non-members with telephone calls and other communications to the end that traffic safety will be a by-product constantly on the minds of the automobile drivers and the pedestrians too.

Automobiles do not drive themselves. They are operated by human beings, and Mr. Hall and the other officers and members are certain that maximum safety can be achieved by constant vigilance. If the human drivers of the cars obey simple rules and above all obey the simplest rules of courtesy, the loss of life and the economic loss to the state can be minimized. It is regarded as more than likely that many other states will adopt the Iowa plan, with a resultant saving of thousands of lives a year.

There he was with Harriet in his arms. "Raise the other windows," he directed. "Do you know where to get a doctor?"

He put Harriet on the davenport and they did everything they could think of to revive her, but she was still unconscious when the doctor arrived. He made arrangements immediately to take her to a hospital.

Authority to build two new battleships was granted—provided any foreign signatory of a naval treaty should begin capital ship replacement.

Frankly stating it had in mind the apparent mandate of Congress in the Vinson-Trammell treaty-navy act of "a navy second to none," the appropriations committee said its bill would add to funds otherwise available to give the navy $592,237,707 during the 1937 fiscal year beginning July 1.

The bill's total was 49,337,328 above the 1936 appropriations of $481,731,379 but $18,522,592 under the $500,253,971 budget estimates.

Although specific amounts were not allotted for starting the battleships, Admiral William H. Stadjeff, chief of naval operations, has told the House naval committee funds were available for beginning work on the vessels.

The bill allowed $168,500,000 for continuing construction on 84 vessels of various types, exclusive of battleships, and laying down 12 new destroyers and six new submarines. This leaves 23 destroyers and 8 submarines unprovided for that may be built under existing agreements.

Where Italians Crushed Foe

Less than 7 months after Italy's legions began their invasion of Ethiopia, Emperor Haile Selassie's black warriors have been cut down and driven back by Mussolini's blackshirts, native Askaris, and bomb-laden planes, until Italy's grip closes on Ethiopia's capital, Addis Ababa, bringing complete victory near. This map shows important dates and extent of the Italian advances as Mussolini insists that peace shall be made only on his own terms. Arrows indicate the path of Italy's attacks; the shaded area, the territory occupied. At the right is Crown Prince Asfa Wosan, who, Rome reports intimate, may be Italy's puppet emperor if his father, Haile Selassie, abdicates.

Milestones of American Genius

Monument to General Robert E. Lee erected at Richmond, Virginia.

ROBERT E. LEE

GENERAL ROBERT E. LEE has been described as the finest flower of the South, but North, East and West honor him no less, not only for his soldierly qualities but for the integrity and nobility of his personal life.

Born in Virginia on January 19, 1807, with a splendid family heritage of patriotic service and genuine culture, Lee received an excellent education in the South and at West Point, where he majored in the engineering branches of military science and graduated with high honors.

Active military service came to him first in the Mexican War, when he was nearly forty years old. He was assigned critical engineering tasks and carried them out brilliantly. It was the completion of one of these hazardous tasks that was praised by General Winfield Scott as the greatest feat of physical and moral courage in the entire Mexican campaign.

Pleasant years as head of West Point followed, and later an army assignment in Texas. Then came the decisive year 1861 and the secession of Virginia from the Union. General Lee followed the deepest dictates of his patriotic conscience, he resigned his commission and offered his services to the native State. He became Commander-in-Chief of the Confederate forces.

For him it was not a war to defend slavery, but a defense of his concept of State rights, his home, family and the traditions of his native State. He proved himself a masterly commander and won the respect and admiration even of those who fought against him.

General Lee's devoted wife was a great-granddaughter of Martha Washington. The last years of his life were spent as President of Washington University, now known as Washington and Lee University. He deliberately chose this vocation despite flattering offers in other fields, in order that he might help rebuild the disrupted educational system of the South. He died on October 12, 1870.

In every section of our land the memory of this leader of genius is enshrined in granite and marble. The monument shown above is at Richmond, Va., the city he defended so ably.

Maybe Just Small Talk, But Interesting Expressions

From the attentive expression of Speaker Joseph W. Byrns, left, as he hearkens to the words of Vice President John N. Garner, one might judge that something momentous in statecraft was up. Or maybe it's just a simple little query, such as, "Wonder if Congress ever will get ready to go home?" Anyway, it's a fine study in expressions that these notables provide in this interesting picture.

Following California's example, Colorado has put up its bars against wandering workers from other states. National guardsmen here are shown as they turned back a motoring family of Texans, sugar beet workers, at the Oklahoma Panhandle border. Gov. E. C. Motorists Barely Missed as Boxcars Topple Over

This shattered heap of boxcars provided a new and astonishing peril for motorists when a New York-Chicago freight train of 24 cars was derailed on a Plymouth, Ind., viaduct. One boxcar landed exactly on the spot from which a motorist frantically backed away as he saw the train leave the rails. Four more cars crashed down on the opposite side of the trestle within six feet of other autos halted by a traffic light at the viaduct. No trainmen were injured, though 1000 feet of track was torn up in the derailment.

THE prehistoric dragonfly, uncovered in Kansas, is believed to be a representative of the largest species of insect that ever inhabited the earth. It lived during the Permian Age, about 150,000,000 years ago, at a time when there were no birds or mammals in existence.

THE California earthquake of 1906 generated enough energy to have lifted a cubic mile of earth 6000 feet into the air. Our heavy coast defense guns, at time of discharge, release only enough energy to lift a ton 15 miles. And yet, the California quake was of only moderate intensity.

IN measuring time on earth we have several natural units. One is the time required by the earth to turn on its axis, or the day. Another is the time the earth takes to travel around the sun, or the year, and a third is the time between successive appearances of the moon in the same phase, or the month.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, May 1. (AP)—The fuss over the nude memorial to the pioneer Texas woman appears to have entered a second stage. The news writers having had their day, the editorial commentators have put in a hand.

There, as in all stories, divergence really begins. Reporters, writing the spot news, stick to the facts, but the editorial writers, guiding and reflecting public opinion, go far ahead.

One editorial writer, who had hoped for better times in Texas art when the state board of control chose committees of experts to pick Centennial artistic memorials, finds new cause for apprehension since the politicians stepped into the controversy.

He quoted Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul that pioneer women of Texas might have been short on clothes but were long on modesty, and remarked that the Houston politician might know nothing about art, but certainly knew where the votes in the forks of the creek lay.

Another took the view after seeing a picture of the model—obtained incidentally from the artist in New York, not from Austin—that the issue was not nudity, but whether the artist had correctly interpreted the spirit of the pioneer woman. He thought not.

"Well, maybe the issue is the interpretation," said a press correspondent, "but if we had written about the interpretation when we spotted that statue the story would have been worth about 100 words. The public would rather read about nudity."

The board of control evidenced great reluctance to release a picture of the model. A commercial photographer had pictures but would not release them without permission of the board and the board said it would have to obtain permission of the artist.

The latter, William Zorach, solved the problem by giving evidence who asked pictures in New York, whence they promptly were broadcast throughout the country, even to the portals of the board's offices.

One explanation of the board's conduct was that it wanted to protect its committee on art, which chose the model. Another was that it felt a little mystery wouldn't hurt the publicity for the Centennial. Representative Roy Hofheinz, youthful legislator of Houston, barged into the press room and was asked an opinion on the model. "I'm not an artist, but I believe I could do that good," he said. "I don't like to see the beautiful figures of men and women blasphemed by sorry work."

AUSTIN, May 1. (AP)—Part of the main Capitol floor has been torn up preliminary to installing a beautiful new one of terrazo to cost approximately $27,000.

Names of famous battles in the Texas war of independence from Mexico, as well as seals of the nations which governed Texas, will be inlaid.

The names of battles and the seals will be used, that is, if no serious controversy develops over them, and the board of control, seeking to get the work done, is hoping there will be none.

An original idea of working in the names of heroes was discarded after objections that Texans would not like to walk on such names.

Citizens of Holland, small town north of Austin, are having some difficulty electing a city marshal. April 7, Mortie A. Crocker, the incumbent, and his opponent Claude Crocker, received 66 votes each. In a second election each received 117 votes.

Gov. James V. Allred estimated approximately 70,000 persons attended ceremonies at the San Jacinto battlefield April 21 and had it not been for rainy weather there would have been more.

"There was some difficulty, of course, handling such a throng," he said, "but it was very well done. You needed a siren to get anywhere."

Rain fell throughout his speech. Texans in New York are planning a big reception for the delegation which will tour a number of states in the South, East and North to advertise the Centennial.

A letter to Gov. Allred from Dudley F. McCollum, associate professor of education in New York university and president of the Texas Centennial club of New York City, said, elaborate preparations were being made.

"We are hoping to have on our reception committee Col. and Mrs. E. M. House, Dr. and Mrs. David F. Houston and other outstanding Texans living in New York," the letter said.

"We are also inviting the governors of New York and of the states adjoining New York."

International Sunday School Lesson

By DR. J. E. NUNN

General topic: Jesus teaches forgiveness, humility and gratitude. Scripture lesson: Luke 17:1-19.

1. And he said unto the disciples, It is impossible but that offenses will come; but woe unto him, through whom they come!

2. It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, than that he should offend one of these little ones.

3. Take heed to yourselves; if thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him; if he repent, forgive him.

4. And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and again turn to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.

5. And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith.

6. And the Lord said, If ye had faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye might say unto this sycamore tree, Be thou plucked up by the roots, and be thou planted in the sea; and it should obey you.

7. But which of you, having a servant plowing or feeding cattle, will say unto him by and by, Go and sit down to meat?

8. And will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken, and afterward thou shalt eat and drink?

9. Doth he thank the servant because he did the things that were commanded him? I trow not. So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants; we have done that which was our duty to do.

10. And it came to pass as he went to Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee.

11. And as he entered into a certain building, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood far off.

12. And they lifted up their voices, and said, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us.

13. And when he saw them he said unto them, Go shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, that as they went, they were cleansed.

14. And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God.

15. And he fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks and he was a Samaritan.

16. And Jesus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed? But where are the nine?

17. And he said, Be ye kind one to another, tendered hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake has forgiven you.

Introduction: Entering upon a new chapter which brings to a close this marvelous series of teachings uttered by our Lord in one single day, while he was ministering in Perea, we come upon teachings concerning four distinct and more or less unrelated subjects:

1. The sin of causing others to stumble—Luke 17:1-2.
2. The law of forgiveness between men—Luke 17:3-4.
3. The power of faith—Luke 17:5-6.
4. The parable that reveals our

POLITICS at random

By BYRON PRICE (Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

For reasons well hidden under the surface, the launching of the pro-Roosevelt "labor non-partisan league" has aspects and possibilities usually lacking in similar ventures.

It always has been a disputed point, whether the "labor vote" can be lined up with any semblance of solidarity for any Democratic or Republican presidential candidate at any time.

Some labor leaders have felt, however, that if ever such a thing were possible, it would be in a year like 1936, when class distinctions are much emphasized and party lines badly tangled.

Therefore the advent of the new league was certain to attract wide attention. Is it the beginning of a cohesive political action, at last, on the part of labor? The question cannot be answered at this writing, but one generally overlooked fact presents itself:

While outwardly the league is dedicated to harmonize labor support behind the President, certain elements exist which hint, instead, of a possible transference to the political theater of organized labor's big family feud.

Strike Is Acute For years, two factions within the American Federation of Labor have been at odds. Recently the quarrel has become acute.

One faction wants all workers in each big industry organized into one big union. The other wants individual unions based on occupation.

Those who want to organize by industry alone include George L. Berry, head of the printing pressmen; John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers; and Sidney Hillman, president of the clothing workers. A principal in the other group is Daniel J. Tobin, head of the teamsters.

Berry was chairman of the Democratic national committee's labor division in 1928. Tobin held the same position in 1932. For some months he will have appeared that Tobin, not Berry, would have the job in 1936.

In this situation, Hillman came to Berry with a problem. Hillman is a member of the Socialist party, and so are many members of his union. How could these Socialists be lined up for Roosevelt without the of these nine men going their separate ways, and never coming back to thank the Lord for what he had done for them, one is really amazed at the ingratitude displayed. Yet are we not all guilty every day of neglecting to thank the Lord for his many undeserved, marvelous rich gifts to us." H. P. Lind.

The Cleansing of the Lepers As Jesus went through Samaria and Galilee on his way to Jerusalem, he entered into a certain village and was met by ten lepers. They stood afar by the roadside. Usually they asked for alms, but when Jesus came by they called out: "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us" (Ver. 13). Instantly Jesus heard their outcry and responded, as he always did, He told them to go show themselves to the priests. As they went, they were cleansed. "One of them when he saw that he was healed turned back and with a loud voice glorified God, and fell on his face at his feet, giving Him thanks."

"Where Are the Nine?" Ver. 17 "And Jesus answering said, were not the ten cleansed? But where are the nine?" Christ actually was hurt by the ingratitude of the other nine. When one really thinks necessity of joining the Democratic party? The two of them put their heads together. The league resulted. They called Lewis, a Republican, by telephone. He approved the idea. Fooled William Green. So far as appears, the league was formed without consultation with President Roosevelt or the Democratic national committee. Nor is there any indication that William Green, head of the A. F. of L., knew anything about it until he read the newspapers. Now where does this leave everyone concerned? If Roosevelt is re-elected, will credit for his labor support go to Berry, Lewis and Hillman instead of Tobin? And if so, will that faction have first say at the White House about labor policy and labor legislation? Will the league tail wag the A. F. of L. dog, not only in matters of politics, but with respect to the internal affairs of organized labor as well? Berry's friends deny that the league was formed as a nucleus for a labor party in 1940. Yet in these troubled times, it is impos-

Allred Inspires Persons in Far Parts of World

AUSTIN, May 1 (AP)—Gov. Allred's designation as "outstanding young man of America for 1936" by the United States Junior chamber of commerce brought him requests from Porto Rico and Canada for his photograph and advice.

Two men in Muskoka, Ont., Canada, wrote "Dear Mr. Governor" for an autographed photograph for a new coffee shop named "The Lone Star." The governor's picture, they said, was the "only thing missing to make it perfect."

Assuring the governor they were "Texas boosters," the men said they had heard so much of the Texas Centennial Rangers they would visit the state this summer.

A 19-year-old high school senior at Cayce, Porto Rico, asked for the governor's "good thoughts and inspiration to go my way through life up to the top."

The boy, Jose Esteban Lopez, said he was "a real aspirant to be somebody in the future" and recalled that the Texas governor was "a poor boy and you have reached up to the governorship of the biggest state in our union."

Texas History is Dramatized Here For Lions Club

A history of Texas in "love scenes" was given for Pampa Lions yesterday by the Fourth grade of the Horace Mann school.

Love for Texas was exemplified by pupils taking the parts of Indians, Cabeza de Vaca, Robert de la Salle, Santa Anna, Stephen F. Austin, Sam Houston, Wm. B. Travis, Ben Milam, John Bull, and Uncle Sam. Alene Vaughn and Reba Culpepper represented Texas. Joe Hernandez was applauded for his work in the role of Santa Anna.

The children were directed by Miss Lema Jane Butcher, their teacher, and Miss Josephine Thomas, principal of the school.

Delegates to the district convention at Childress Monday and Tuesday will be Bob Rose, A. M. Teed, Chick Hickman, C. H. Walker, Dr. H. H. Hicks, Dude Balthorpe, and Jack Dunn. Olin E. Hinkle, president of the local club, will accompany the group and will speak at a breakfast Tuesday. Lion Teed will be the club's voting delegate.

CONSTIPATION* MAY LOWER RESISTANCE TO GERMS

Can Be Corrected by Natural Laxative Food

Common constipation is due largely to insufficient "bulk" in meals. It is a condition that should never be treated casually.

Long neglected, it may contribute to a general run-down condition. Your body lacks the strength it needs to fight off infection. You are much more likely to pick up a serious illness.

Guard against common constipation. Make sure the meals you eat contain plenty of "bulk." Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a generous source of effective "bulk."

Within the body, the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, and gently cleanses the system. This delicious cereal also furnishes vitamin B and contains iron.

Two tablespoonfuls daily, with milk or cream, are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN often. If not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN in some form each day, either as a cereal, or cooked into muffins, breads, etc. Eat it regularly for regular habits.

Guaranteed by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

STILL HUNTING MINE
FORT DAVIS, May 1 (AP)—The legend of the Lost Nigger gold mine continues to live. Robert C. Withers recently picked up a hitch-hiker

Mexican giving his home as Pecos, who said he had been hunting for three months along the Rio Grande in Brewster and Presidio counties for the "Lost Nigger mine." He had exhausted his supplies and was returning home for another grubstake. The legend dates back 40 years when a negro cowpuncher, working for the Reagan outfit in

Brewster county left one morning and didn't return for days. He brought back some nuggets of gold and a tale of finding a gold mine, but the mine couldn't be located. It became "The Lost Nigger mine," for which many prospectors have searched.
