Plan now to attend the Panhandle Centennial celebration at Pampa June 2, 3, 4, and 5, with which is combined a Pioneer's Roundup and Oil Men's Reunion. It is a GREATER celebration for the whole Panhandle.

Twinkles The West Foster grouch says that it is the ambition of every girl to be rich enough to elope, instead of "just getting married." We read about that girl who, attempting to commit suicide by leaping from a plane, was saved by her hair, which the pilot grabbed. But probably a modern girl with bobbed hair would not have the impulse in the first place. If there is no Black Legion in this section, it is about the first organization we've overlooked organizing. What with all the sight-seeing "on the level" and the half a hundred coveting airplanes to gawk at during the Panhandle Centennial, we plainmen ought to be practicing neck craning by way of preparation.

"Niagara Seethes With Rebellion" said one of our headlines yesterday. Maybe if Rep. Zioncheck had gone there they could have seethed about him and called off the revolt. Musing of the moment: It makes us irate every time we think of all the books we haven't read lately. And the weeds we've been unable to pull—they've grown spitefully fast lately. And the wisecracks which have "gotten away" before we found a pen and paper.

Brevitorials EVIDENTLY FARMERS of the dust bowl are not ready to rent out all their lands to the government and to seek greener fields. And the Indians won't take the country back. There's the dilemma, and Mr. Tugwell and associates are quite worried. They had gotten out the subtly devastating film, "The Plow That Broke the Plains," and had counted on its opening the way to "retiring" a few million acres of drought-bitten soil, but the weather refused, as usual, to cooperate.

Where would you find greener pastures than the plains right now? Or better watered? Of course, Uncle Sam is getting a bit tired of handing out loans to his new family of clients here on the plains. It is disconcerting to add to one's troubles when the government has been necessary to subsidize big industries, our merchant marine, and similar favorites. But you don't hear any proposal to restitute industries.

THIS SECTION is vulnerable, of course, in that we have not made the best use of our lands. We have not protected it from water and wind erosion as we should have done. It took a prolonged drought to teach us needed lessons. In good years, the weather man takes care of the soil and the farmers. But our farmers are learning to protect their land. To move them now, when wetter years are due in a cycle, would be foolish. Five dry years certainly do not remove the splendid statistics of the better years. And just as flood-driven folk return to their homes so will plains dwellers remain and hope for more fortunate years.

Those who inhabit the plains are a peculiar people. Many of them "eats" the droughts, the dusts, the sand, the winds. Some of them leave the country. Many of them return. Ours is a land of optimists. We defy the law of averages, the law of supply and demand, and several others, but we can live five years on the example of one good one. We remember when the averages were definitely in our favor, when farmers could pay for their land with one crop. Of course, they didn't and instead bought more land or supported implement factories, but that wasn't the fault of the land. No Californian is prouder of his climate; none

I Heard . . . Clarence "Dagwood" Arnold accusing J. O. Gillham of eating at a hamburger joint and then going over in front of the Schneider hotel to pick his teeth. J. O. came back with the startling information that "Dagwood" went to Dallas last week and went into a 5 and 10 store where he stayed all day, thinking he was at the Centennial exposition.

JAPAN SHOVS 3000 TROOPS AGAINST CHINA

MORE SOLDIERS ARE SENT INTO NORTH CHINA AREAS

TIENSIN, China, May 29 (AP)—Japan, defying official Chinese protests, sent 3,000 more troops into north China garrisons today. Tientsin took on a warlike appearance as Japanese infantrymen, cavalrymen and tank corps, landed earlier at the port of Tangku, moved briskly through the streets to the new barracks near the international race course. The new reinforcements for the already strengthened Japanese garrisons at Tientsin, Peiping and Fengtai seriously aggravated the tense Sino-Japanese situation. They gave rise to declarations among the Chinese that China must prepare to resist further Japanese incursions by force. Chinese sources said Japan now had 20,000 troops in Tientsin and Peiping. The Japanese insisted there were but 8,000, although they acknowledged more were on their way. Not since China's loss of Manchuria (now the Japanese puppet state of Manchoukuo) had the situation between regarded so seriously as today. The powerful southwest government of Canton joined the central administration at Nanking in protesting the north China troop increases. "Japan's determination to remain permanently in China is plain," the protest stated. "This act constitutes a flagrant violation of China's sovereignty. Japan says she wishes to assist China in suppressing communist soldiers in North China. We reply that this task belongs solely to the Chinese government, with which Japan has no right to interfere. We expect the eleven signatory powers of the boxer protocol to resist Japan's action. We summon all Chinese to resist the perpetration of this act of aggression." Chinese newspapers charged that Japan, along with augmentation of her military strength here, intended to expand her naval forces in north China waters by sending six or eight cruisers and destroyers from Port Arthur to Tangku.

They prepared addresses will be at Little Rock, Arkansas; Dallas, Tex., and Vincennes, Indiana. Leaving here June 8, the president will make a day speech at Little Rock June 10 in commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of Arkansas' entrance into the Union. En route to the Texas Independence Centennial at Dallas, where he will deliver a morning speech June 12 and motor around the fair grounds, the executive will make brief talks at the San Jacinto battlefield at Houston on the morning of the 11th and at the Alamo at San Antonio later in the day. The Dallas speech will be broadcast. Leaving here from San Antonio to Dallas he will stop at Austin, the state capital, the night of June 11 for a short speech from the train platform. After the Dallas address he will go by automobile to Fort Worth, about 30 miles away, and perhaps make a brief talk there before going on to the nearby home of his son, Elliott, to spend the night of June 12. On the way out of Texas the next day en route to Vincennes, where he will dedicate a memorial to George Rogers Clark, revolutionary war hero, the afternoon of June 14, he will make a brief stop for a platform appearance at Denison, Texas, in the congressional district of Chairman Rayburn of the House Interstate Commerce committee. The Kentucky stop will be made the same day as that at Vincennes. Whether it will be before or after the Indiana speech has not been decided. White House officials said. The president will be back in Washington June 15.

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—President Roosevelt's itinerary for his western trip beginning June 8, virtually complete today with three set speeches and probably half a dozen others in at least four states planned for the week long journey. Although the president has said his addresses will deal with historical subjects, political observers believe he will depart from his announced topics at some points long enough to pay tribute to new dealers having reelection campaigns. Four states—Arkansas, Texas, Indiana and Kentucky—will be visited on a swing which the executive has said was planned months ago. It has been definitely decided to visit Kentucky—probably the Lincoln log cabin shine at Hodgenville—on the return journey. The prepared addresses will be at Little Rock, Arkansas; Dallas, Tex., and Vincennes, Indiana. Leaving here June 8, the president will make a day speech at Little Rock June 10 in commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of Arkansas' entrance into the Union. 'Bity' Grant Eliminated From Davis Play; Mako To Play In Doubles.

PHILADELPHIA, May 29 (AP)—Wilmer Allison, the American Champion, will oppose Adrian Quist, and Donald Budge, of California, will meet Jack Crawford in the opening singles of the American zone Davis cup tennis final between the United States and Australia tomorrow at the German Cricket club. In the doubles match scheduled for Sunday, Crawford and Quist will meet Budge and Gene Mako. The official draw was presided over by Julian S. Myrick of New York, referee of the series. The names of the players were drawn from a silver bowl by Mayor S. Davis Wilson of Philadelphia. The winner of this series will meet the successful team of the European final in an inter-zone final at Wimbledon, England, in July. Unless one of the teams sweeps the first two singles and the doubles match, the singles players drawn today will switch opponents Monday.

CENTENNIAL TO BEGIN HERE ON NEXT TUESDAY

PREPARATIONS ARE IN FINAL STAGES FOR CELEBRATION

Centennial-minded Pampans today peered often at slowly clearing skies and hoped for a dry week when the big celebration gets under way Tuesday. The sun was shining early this afternoon as skies cleared. The tenth of an inch of rain which fell yesterday, added to the deluges of previous days, made the track at the new fairground park impassable and driveways slippery. But a few hours of sunshine today dried the ground rapidly. The rains started falling from smooth grey cloudy skies more than 10 days ago. Clearing skies in New Mexico brought the hope that the week-end might be dry and the race track, rodeo grounds, and pageant site workable. Virtually the same ground will be used, but changes must be made for the various events. The track is needed for the junk car race. The scarified site of the rodeo inside the track must be dry to be usable. Practices for the pageants, and installing of scenic back-grounds, have been delayed by the wet weather, although rehearsals have gone ahead. Baseball games, too, must have dry grounds. With the big celebration now only days away, preparations are in the final stages. Ten beautiful floats are being built under the direction of Jim Collins. One will be a covered wagon, T. D. Hobart and Chas. Goodnight will be remembered in the floats. The oldest couple present, queen of the celebration, and other notables among the oldtimers will ride on the floats. The B. & P. W. club will have charge of arrangements. Five beautiful couples will be awarded winners in the horse shows were on display today at McCarter's jewelry store next to the First National bank.

Workers Strike At Centennial

DALLAS, May 29 (AP)—The settlers, electricians, marble setters, lathers, and several other types of artisans walked from jobs on the $125,000 state of Texas hall at the Centennial central exposition today. It was the second walkout within two weeks, several crafts having walked out previously in what was called a sympathy strike. The reason for the strike was never made public. Those who left their work today told P. A. Montgomery, general contractor, they were striking in response to telegraphic orders from Washington headquarters of the American Federation of Labor. Montgomery said they had no demands to make of him.

WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: Cloudy, probably local showers in north and east portion tonight and Saturday; somewhat warmer Saturday, except in southwest portion.

NOT LINDSLY

BATON ROUGE, La., May 29 (AP)—The state bureau of identification today said that a man held in Texas, Louisiana convict now being hunted for slaying Captain Nelson J. Himel of the Angola penal farm and Mrs. Himel. The bureau said the prisoner's height was given as 6 feet 2 inches, while Lindslay was only 5 feet 6 inches.

People You Know

(BY A. F.) This is written in praise of Mrs. Letha Northrup who works for the Scout office; who weaves a pattern of fine diplomacy and embroidery with shining inspiration that is so subtle, so persuasive that scores of boys go away and do what she says without knowing why, and they afterward wonder. Like the professional man, the dollar-chasing business man, the scoutmaster is also a peculiar person with chips on his shoulder, and he, too, goes on a tear, and "Miss Harris" who has mastered the fine art of listening, occasionally adding a suave, significant comment, wins in the end. How can all the people who are so ably handled by her fail to get along together? They do!

Socialists Nominate Thomas for Presidency

A full-throated chorus of rejoicing was this, as delegates to the Socialist national convention, in Cleveland, O., burst into song after the nomination of Norman M. Thomas for the presidency. In the center is the candidate, first upraised, singing lustily. Behind him, the high-flung arm of the pretty girl nearby stands Daniel Hoan, Milwaukee's Socialist mayor. Back of the celebrating groups are the red flags which provide a riot of color in the convention hall.

GRACE BRANDON HELD IN JAIL AND OBSERVED

Booked for Carrying Pistol; Tells a Weird Story

SAN ANTONIO, May 29 (AP)—Miss Grace Brandon, 30-year-old Brooks Field stenographer who in 1930 was the government's principal witness in the sensational wife-murder trial of Major Charles A. Shepard, was held in the Bexar county jail today for observation and booked for carrying a pistol. The blond civil service employee, now on leave of absence, was taken into custody at the sheriff's office yesterday as she sought permission to carry a pistol. A small caliber pistol was taken from her. Miss Brandon told officers a weird story of fearing for her life and that she wanted to carry a pistol to protect herself against one whom she knew was going to kill her. She talked freely at the county jail today, but said she was suffering from a severe headache. She said she was on leave of absence from her civil service job at Brooks Field, army air center. Major Shepard, army physician, who met Miss Brandon here while attending the army flight surgeons school, was tried in December, 1930, for poisoning his wife at Fort Riley, Kan. The government contended the major poisoned his wife so that he could marry Miss Brandon. Major Shepard was assessed a life term in the federal penitentiary following his first trial at Kansas City, Kan. He subsequently won a new trial and was acquitted. The officer has since retired. Shortly before his second trial he married a wealthy Denver widow. Miss Brandon wore a plainingham house dress and appeared calm when she was booked at the county jail, according to Paul Ehler, desk sergeant. She answered routine questions readily although she did attempt to discuss with the jail sergeant her personal and family affairs.

Wife Has a Quarrel With Landlady In Capital

PITTSBURGH, May 29 (AP)—Rep. Marion Zioncheck, the versatile congressman from Washington, tussled with Ala. Baba, the Turkish wrestler, in Mayor William N. McNair's executive office today and then took a nap on the mayor's desk. The politician and the wrestling put on their act while waiting for the mayor, but McNair failed to show up. McNair's associates helped to entertain the visitors but gave no explanation for the executive's failure to appear. They were to meet later in the day at the Henry George club, where Zioncheck had been invited by the mayor to make an address. The representative was impressed with McNair's office. He said: "This place is sure a power house. It's too much even for me." He and Ala. Baba made a brief radio appearance "Zion" singing a song while the wrestler played a fiddle. Zioncheck called at Mayor McNair's home at 3 p. m., after his arrival from Washington with Rep. Theodore L. Moritz but the mayor refused to get up. Mrs. McNair spoke from a window. "Billy can't come down. He got in late and he's tired." The representative went on to a round of night clubs, and after tussling with Ala. Baba he was pretty well luckered out when he lay down for his short nap in the mayor's office. He left his bride in Washington.

PAMPAN'S GRANDFATHER WEARS HOUSTON'S UNIFORM IN PICTURE

The Panhandle Centennial Relics committee, in delving into things of historical interest in the homes of Pampans, found in the home of Mrs. Flora Mitchell, 805 E. Browning, a picture of her grandfather, Rev. Noah T. Byars, made in the uniform of Gen. Sam Houston, for whom he was armorer. It was in the blacksmith shop of Mr. Byars, at the declaration of Texas independence was written and signed. No auditorium was available for the famous meeting so Mr. Byars, then a layman, cleared out and seated his blacksmith shop for the convention. In Greenleaf cemetery of Brownwood, Texas, a tombstone bearing the following inscription: N. T. BYARS Born in Sparlaburg, South Carolina, May 17, 1808. Died at Brownwood, Texas, July 17, 1888. "For four-score years Rev. Byars lived, the servant of the Lord and of Texas," wrote Thomas H. Taylor, in the Baptist Standard of March 5, 1936, a copy of which is filed with the picture because of the historic information contained in this article. He was a member of the Education society that led to the organization of Baylor university at Independence, Texas. For many years Byars Institute near Pampa, Texas, was an outstanding school. At one time, N. T. Byars was the only Baptist preacher between the Brazos and Trinity rivers. Then he moved to the west, organizing churches and associations. Birdville, the earliest church in either Dallas or Tarrant county, was the product of his labor. Other churches in which he led were at Stephenville and Coleman. Perhaps the outstanding work of Rev. Byars was the founding of churches in four of the home cities of Baptist colleges in Texas, the church at Belton in

LOW BRACKET LEVY NOT TO BE AFFECTED

INDIVIDUAL TAXES TO BE RAISED IN COMPROMISE ACT

WASHINGTON, May 29. (AP)—After a last-minute change that would increase individual income surtaxes except in the lowest tax bracket, the senate finance committee today approved its compromise tax bill. Acting Chairman King (D-Utah) said the measure would be brought to the senate floor "as soon as possible." No accurate estimates of the yield were available. But on the basis of the latest treasury computations, which are subject to revision, the bill would produce around $620,000,000 of permanent revenue—the amount requested by President Roosevelt. It would place the normal corporate income levy on a graduated instead of a flat basis. The committee originally contemplated a flat 18 per cent on total corporation income. Today it voted to make the rates 15 1/2 per cent on income up to $2,000, 16 per cent on the next $13,000, 17 per cent on the next $25,000, and 18 per cent on all over $40,000. Accompanying that alteration was an agreement to remove a $1,000 tax exemption which would have been granted corporations with new income not exceeding $15,000. King said the result, so far as revenue was concerned, would be unchanged. The committee rejected by a 13 to 5 vote a final attempt by administration forces to swing the committee over to higher graduated levies.

He is the foremost authority in the southwest on Jeeps and he has a number of them on his old ranch in Montana."

CLASS OF '36 IS ADDRESSED BY DR. KNAPP

SCHOLASTIC AWARDS FOR YEAR MADE AT PROGRAM

A Centennial graduation address by Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college, preceded presentation of diplomas to 139 Pampa high school graduates yesterday evening at First Baptist church.

Texas has become great in the last century because of three factors which are as important in the development of every state, nation, and individual, Dr. Knapp said.

These factors are natural resources, which cannot be changed or increased; inherent ability, which can be influenced a little over a long period of time; and development of natural skill, which must be dependent upon for future greatness.

Scholarships were presented to Miss Edythe Shearer, high ranking girl in the class and Holl Hamlett, leader among the boys.

FORT LEATON BUILT IN BIG BEND IN 1848; INDIAN TALE RECALLED

MARFA, May 29. (AP)—Fort Leaton, near here, reputed scene of a massacre of Indians by one white man, has been chosen by the Presidio Historical board for marking by the Centennial Exposition committee.

The fort was built by Ben Leaton in the Big Bend in 1848 as a protection against hostile Indians. It included granaries, a huge patio and a number of rooms.

Soon after moving into the area and wishing to make friends with the Indians, Leaton is said to have invited them to a dinner.

GAS WASTAGE IS REDUCED TO MINIMUM LEVEL, SAYS TERRELL

AUSTIN, May 29. (AP)—C. V. Terrell, member of the railroad commission, is of opinion that wastage of gas in the Texas Panhandle has been reduced to a level where it should cause little concern.

"No dry natural gas is being blown to the air in the Panhandle today," Terrell said in a written statement issued here.

"Five hundred million cubic feet of casinghead gas is produced daily from 2,897 oil wells in the Panhandle. This is gas normally blown into the air in all oil fields, being gas necessary to the production of oil.

Orders of the railroad commission are responsible for utilization of four hundred and ten million cubic feet of casinghead gas daily that ordinarily would be wasted.

"In July, 1935, before the new law became effective, gas waste was one billion, forty million cubic feet daily. In August by our orders it was reduced to two hundred and ninety-nine million cubic feet and it now is reduced to ninety million cubic feet. This gas is not suitable economically for domestic or industrial purposes, being in most cases too far, much hydrogen sulphide to be used, and is also of so very small per well volume that it is economically impossible to utilize.

"A reduction from 11,040,000,000 cubic feet of waste to 90,000,000, and that unworkable, is an outstanding conservation achievement accomplished by the railroad commission, the legislature of Texas, and the vast majority of the operators in the Panhandle field."

Adding Interest

Smart for summer is the printed frock which Mrs. H. C. Phipps wears to the races at New York. Roman numerals, in white, show up effectively against the navy blue background.

The neckline is faced with white silk to match the collar. A sports coat of camel's hair and a white straw Homburg with veil and navy blue grosgrain band complete the ensemble.

Women Dislike British Ban on Consular Jobs

BY OSCAR LEIDING. LONDON, May 29. (AP)—The British government wants no Ruth Bryan Owen in its foreign service.

A woman may sit on the throne, or in the house of commons or in the cabinet—but diplomatic and consular careers are to remain closed to her.

"The time has not yet arrived," the government has announced, "when women could be employed either in the consular service or in the diplomatic service with advantage to the state or with profit to the women."

This decision was announced after the question of admitting women had been surveyed by a government committee headed by Sir Claud Schuster.

Well-known women were quick to express their dissent with the government's announcement.

Lady Astor Objects. American-born Lady Astor said: "The old diplomacy has failed at the chaotic state of the world today. The very despotism of civilization's plight should be sufficient for us to insist that these petty barriers of sex be swept away to give place to the larger and far more vital consideration of the best brains for the job, wherever they may be found."

"In most foreign countries women are admitted to these services now," said Miss Marjorie Green, secretary of the National Council for Equal Citizenship. "I am afraid we are behind the times."

Lady Snowden commented: "I see no reason why all women should be excluded from these posts. It has not been suggested that the average woman should take up this work, but only ones eminently suited for it."

Work Too Difficult. "In the very large majority of consular posts," the government announced, "officers have to deal with a number of matters which it would be difficult for the average woman to handle. . . women would in practice find themselves hampered and restricted."

At the same time diplomatic and consular careers were closed to British women, a recruiting drive for more women police was started in London.

With some 70 women in its service as police, Scotland yard began to look for more unmarried women of character and keenness, possessing good education and sound physique.

Their starting pay is approximately $13.75 a week, with allowance for lodgings extra.

At Millport, Ala., a tomato plant was grown on a wooden floor. The seed sprouted from a crack.

LAW AGAINST REDS MAY BE DETROIT CLUB

ALLEGED HEAD HAS NO FEAR OF TAX INQUIRY

DETROIT, May 29. (AP)—Michigan's criminal syndicalism law, enacted to combat communism, may be invoked against the Black Legion, whose members are accused of "hogging and even slaying in the guise of defense against communists."

Prosecutor Owen Dudley of Jackson county said today he contemplated the prosecution of 13 men, whom he described as the "board of directors" of the night riding terrorists in that county, under the statute.

It provides for imprisonment up to 10 years and a maximum fine of $5,000 for "advocacy . . . or teaching the duty or necessity of crime, sabotage, violence or terrorism to accomplish industrial or political reform."

At least two grand jury investigations of the night riding vigilantes were imminent, while both houses of congress had before them resolutions demanding congressional inquiries.

Wayne county (Detroit) Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea prepared to assemble for submission to United States Attorney General Homer S. Cummings evidence he said showed the order is active in at least 15 states. "The hauling of bodies across state boundary lines," was one of his charges against Black Legionnaires.

In Washington, internal revenue department officials declined to discuss a suggestion from McCrea that they inspect income tax returns of Virgil F. Effinger, Lima, O., contractor described by the Detroit prosecutor as a regional leader of the order.

Although McCrea said he had evidence indicating that Effinger sold robes and hoods to the Black Legionnaires, and collected 10 cents a month from each member, Effinger said at Lima that "I haven't sold anything," and expressed no fear of an income tax inquiry.

Effinger had claimed 6,000,000 members for the order.

In Columbus, O., State Senator John Davis, of Cleveland, demanding a legislative investigation of the Black Legion, made the charge that four thugs had intimidated a woman employe of the state who had made shorthand notes of a legislative inquiry in which some secrets of the Black Legion were revealed.

The Ohio senate rejected Senator Davis' resolution for an investigation, on the ground it might interfere with law enforcement agencies. It asked for a full report of an inquiry last summer in which witnesses testified to alleged terrorism by the Black Legion.

In Detroit, Circuit Judge James E. Chenot prepared to open a one-man grand jury investigation of reports that the Black Legion, whose members already are accused of slaying Charles E. Poole, was responsible for numerous floggings and several deaths.

TOWNSEND NOT LIKELY TO BE TRIED QUICKLY

Additional Contempt Citations May Be Forthcoming

BY SCOTT HERSHEY, Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—With its knotty problem of what to do with Dr. F. E. Townsend solved by the House's shouted approval of a resolution citing him and two aides for contempt, a House investigating committee today faced new troubles.

The possibility arose that additional contempt citations may be forthcoming as the result of the reluctance of certain witnesses to testify in the inquiry into the old age pension plan.

While the committee mulled over developments, Speaker Byrns prepared to certify to the United States district attorney today all documents in the contempt citation against Dr. Townsend, the Rev. Clinton Wunder, and John B. Keifer.

Chairman Carl Albert, who is planning to confer with Leslie A. Garnett, federal attorney, and would cooperate with him in moving against Townsend, Keifer, and Wunder.

He believes that Dr. Townsend's walk-out on the committee a week ago, his subsequent default statements, and the failure of Wunder and Keifer to appear for examination were sufficient for a grand jury indictment.

Garnett said he believed he could obtain an indictment next week but was doubtful whether the case could be brought to trial before fall.

Conviction on a contempt charge carries a maximum penalty of 12 months in jail or a $1,000 fine or both.

The investigating committee planned to resume hearings Monday with Charles M. Hawkes, of Boston, Townsend manager for Massachusetts, the witness.

Youth Shot to Death in Chase For Boy Killer

ANGOLA, La., May 29 (AP)—Posses which already have killed a farm boy and wounded two of their own members forged on today in pursuit of Winfred Lindsly, young convict who escaped a prison camp after killing Captain and Mrs. N. J. Himel.

The 23-year-old life-terminer was reported by pursuing officers to have penetrated their far-flung lines once by posing as a postman.

Lindsly fled into the hilly section east of here late Wednesday after killing Mrs. Himel by slashing her throat and shooting Himel with the latter's own gun.

Willy Wade, 17-year-old member of a prominent Louisiana family, was shot to death yesterday by two trusty guards engaged in the hunt. The convicts said they blasted Wade with buckshot after he had ignored their command to halt.

Wade's mother, Mrs. Nellie Barrow Wade, said her son was deaf and probably did not hear the order to halt. She said she did not blame the trusty guards because "they were doing what they thought was right."

Tom J. Fluit and Charles McCarty, prison guards, were slightly wounded by the gunfire of a member of their own party. Officers said a gun was discharged accidentally while the group was closing in on a wooded area.

Graves Reveal Many Tragedies Of Pioneer Life

ROBERT LEE, May 29. (AP)—When the northern section of Tom Green county, now Coke county, had but one cemetery, identifications were carried on graves in the old Fort Chadbourne cemetery that represented, but did not tell, of dramatic events in the ranch life of West Texas.

A simple epitaph reads: "G. G. Warren, born Jan. 27, 1845, died Feb. 10, 1885." It is not engraved on the headstone, however, that Warren was a star state witness in a case on the docket of the district court in Sweetwater which was to come to trial Feb. 11, 1885, in which several men were charged with fence cutting. A gun pointed through a window of a Sweetwater hotel forever sealed the lips of G. G. Warren.

Another headline with a story behind it: "In memory of T. A. Yarbro, born Sept. 18, 1839, died May 7, 1878. Old timers say it was Mrs. T. A. Yarbro, a ranchwoman, who became ill and while neighbors attended her cowboys went to Coleman for a doctor. For some reason he could not come and another chapter was concluded in the story of hardships in a pioneer country.

There is a covering for a vault cut from limestone with a cowboy's name on it but his body does not lie beneath it. The cowboy rests on the Wylie range near where he died when his horse fell with him. He is buried west of Maverick with Bill Brown, the last man to be killed by the Indians in that section. On the vault is carved: "In memory of Stephen A. Douglas Odum, born March 8, 1856, died May 6, 1877. The beautiful and the good die young." His mother had undertaken to have his body moved to the cemetery but died before it was done.

General Strike Threatened in Cotton Fields

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 29 (AP)—Threat of a general strike hung over the cotton fields of northeastern Arkansas today at a critical stage in the cultivation of the area's great money crop.

The Southern Tenant Farmers Union yesterday called on all sharecroppers in the area to join in a systematic non-working program to aid cotton choppers in their strike for a daily wage of $1.50.

Plantation owners professed to be unperturbed by the union's plea.

The union's announced drive to "stop all work," if successful, would result in serious damage to crops that require careful attention at this period against weeds.

Strike leaders claimed 3,000 men had quit the fields before the general strike call.

Union charges of terrorism met denial of officers who said workers worried and intimidated by strike sympathizers.

Blazing Gasser Is Extinguished

CORPUS CHRISTI, May 29 (AP)—The blazing gas well just west of Corpus Christi, which fatally burned two men, was extinguished today.

H. L. Patton and his crew of asbestos-clad fire fighters capped the flaming well casing by inserting a huge manifold, stopping the escape of gas.

The fire fighters, exhausted by their efforts since last Saturday to bring the destructive blaze under control, immediately turned in for some sleep.

The second victim of the fire, John Bartlett, died yesterday from burns. A. J. Ayers, succumbed to his injuries last Saturday.

Harry Bartlett also injured, was recovering.

BITTEN BY INSECT
ESTELINE, May 29. (AP)—Vernon Leatherwood, star athlete of the local high school, while working in a barn was bitten by an insect believed to have been a Black Widow spider. Physicians at a Memphis hospital said he probably would be in bed several weeks.

George Bancroft will never be broke. He and George M. Cohan each own one-half of a hundred dollar bill.

Hot or Cold?—You Guess!

The iceberg background and the fur coat might make one believe the weather freezing cold. The bathing suit makes you doubt it. The truth is the girls are merely posing on the "iceberg" from Admiral Richard E. Byrd's "Little America" exhibit, already completed for the June 6 opening of the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas.

MINTER MAKES APPEARANCE ON WITNESS STAND

Business Conducive To Headaches, She Claims

LOS ANGELES, May 29. (AP)—To Mary Miles Minter, one-time ingenue of the screen, the world of finance and business is mysterious and conducive to headaches.

Miss Minter made her off-postponed appearance on the witness stand yesterday in the $750,000 recovery suit brought by her mother, Mrs. Charlotte Shelby, and sister, Mrs. Margaret Fillmore, and professed great unconcern for financial transactions, including her own.

Miss Minter has assigned her claims in the recovery suit, directed against the brokerage firm of Blyth and company, to her mother, who was her business manager when she harvested her huge screen earnings.

Miss Minter testified a friend once tried to explain the meaning of "collateral" to her.

It was not much of a success, she said: "It gave me a headache and him a worse one."

Norman Sterry, attorney for Blyth and company, questioning Miss Minter about financial agreements between her and her mother, asked:

"Was there any discussion of the kind of bonds you were to get before you signed that agreement with your mother?"

Her mother picked up her lips, put her forefinger before them, looked thoughtful and ultimately answered:

"Something comes to my mind about gold-edged securities — or something like that."

Her mother once told her she "didn't know what a bond looked like," she testified.

It is the contention of counsel for the defendant corporation that responsibility for fruitless investments of the Minter money rests solely with Leslie B. Henry, former agent for the firm.

Henry is now serving a penitentiary term for embezzlement of the money Mrs. Shelby and Mrs. Fillmore gave him for investment purposes. The defense charges that Mrs. Shelby and Henry conspired to cheat Miss Minter.

THE WAYS OF BANKS

MEXICO, D. F.—Luis G. sat in jail today and pondered the ways of banks.

Yesterday he walked into the Bank of Mexico and passed over a check.

The check was for $270,000. It was made out to the bearer, The name signed to it was "Henry Ford."

Employees, after grave pretense of searching their books, informed Cuellar that Henry Ford had no account there—and called the police.

Approximately 2,000,000 acres of land in southeastern North Carolina are suited to the growth of slash and longleaf pine.

How Cardui Helps Month After Month

Where there have been severe pains every month, from functional disturbance resulting from poor nourishment, Cardui has helped thousands of women to obtain relief. Their confidence in Cardui makes her eager to recommend it to other women needing such a medicine.

"I suffered a great deal with pain in my side and a weakness in my back," writes Mrs. Walter Page, of Evansville, Ind. "This made me so nervous I couldn't rest. Each month I would suffer all over and would have to go to bed. One of my neighbors told me how Cardui helped her, so I took it and it helped me. After taking eight bottles, I was much better. I surely can recommend Cardui for weakness and pain."

Of course, if Cardui does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

UMPIRES' EYESIGHT

TAMPA, Fla.—Mutt Hammond, umpire in the South Atlantic league, told this one on himself and a fellow umpire:

After a game at Macon, Ga., the ump's car collided with one driven by a woman. She demanded explanations.

"Sorry, Ma'am, but we didn't see you," Hammond said.

"You didn't see a machine as large as mine? You must be baseball umpires," she stormed.

The boys were blushing furiously as she drove away.

NAZIS CHEER AS NEW NAVY STEAMS AHEAD

HITLER BOARDS SHIP; TO SEE WEIGHTY MANEUVERS

KIEL, Germany, May 28. (AP)—The new Nazi navy steamed through Kiel bay today in Germany's greatest naval display since the world war, celebrating the revival of the Reich fleet.

Some 50 battleships, cruisers, destroyers, speedboats and submarines—with Adolf Hitler himself aboard the vespocket battleship Deutschland—faced an "enemy attack" from the north on Kiel Harbor, off Germany's most important naval base.

The fleet moved out early in the morning, and at 7:00 a. m. the new units of Der Fuehrer's growing fleet engaged in a weighty sham battle.

After this encounter, in which the Germans were the fabled winners, Hitler will review the fleet off Laboe in a grand parade through Kiel bay and lead it back to port.

New submarines and speedboats, first units of the fleet being built under the Anglo-German treaty which wiped away the Versailles treaty limitations of the Reich navy to 100,000 tons, were shown publicly for the first time.

In addition to its world war treaty navy, Germany has constructed 19 submarines and a similar number of speedboats in the last six months as a nucleus for the proposed fleet to reach 420,595 tons, or 38 per cent of the British fleet.

Coordinated in accordance with Nazi ideals, civil as well as military leaders participated in the "naval awakening celebration," marking another step in the nation's rearmament.

Virtually all cabinet ministers, governors, Nazi district leaders and mayors joined Hitler and Marshal Werner von Blomberg, minister of war, in the observation. Gen. Herman Wilhelm Goering, air minister, was the sole prominent absentee.

Haile Arrives 'Incognito' at Gibraltar Rock

GIBRALTAR, May 29 (AP)—Haile Selassie, emperor of a lost empire, arrived at Great Britain's Rock of Gibraltar as a private citizen today.

He came here from Palestine in the British cruiser, Capetown. British military authorities exchanged courtesies with him aboard and then the emperor hastened ashore to recover from seasickness.

He will continue his trip to England Sunday.

The Capetown dropped anchor in the harbor at 9:10 a. m. following a 6-day voyage from Haifa. It passed through several minor squalls which caused the former ruler of Ethiopia to spend considerable time below deck.

Haile Selassie went to government house at noon for an informal luncheon with Governor Sir Charles Harrington.

The former ruler is traveling "incognito," thereby removing any necessity for the British government to pay the military honors customarily accorded visiting sovereigns—a ticklish question in view of the fact that Italy has conquered Ethiopia.

SENATE SAVES TUGWELL'S RA FROM ECLIPSE

'QUODDY' AMENDMENT TO BE OFFERED BY ROBINSON

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—After extending a helping hand to rescue Rexford G. Tugwell's giant Resettlement administration from eclipse, the Senate sped on today to debate on two other controversial angles of the relief program, "Quoddy" and the Florida ship canal.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, democratic leader, announced definitely he would offer, as an amendment to the $2,369,000,000 relief deficiency bill, a resolution giving President Roosevelt conditional authority to continue work on the Passamaquoddy tidal power project in Maine and the canal.

Immediately Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) reached for a stack of data he has been collecting in an effort to convince the Senate that further work on the two big projects, which the administration started with work relief allotments, is unjustified.

Other republicans planned to join the attack and served notice that the debate would be prolonged.

The Senate voted to give President Roosevelt sole control of the $1,425,000,000 contained in the bill for relief for next fiscal year.

GOOCH TO HANG

MUSKOGEE, Okla., May 29 (AP)—Federal authorities announced today that Arthur Gooch, sentenced to hang for the kidnaping of two Texas officers, will mount the gallows at 5 o'clock the morning of June 19. The hanging will take place inside the prison walls at the state penitentiary at McAlester, said U. S. Marshal Sam Swinney.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, May 22 (AP)—This corner's four-star tip to LeRoy Haynes' managers is to keep the Philadelphia colored boy away from Joe Louis just as long as possible. When Big Chief Sangoke 340-pound Indian wrestler from North Carolina, is on the mat he looks like the Normandie flattened out.

Dinty Dennis, Michigan sports ed, is the first out-of-town arrival for the Schmelz-Louis shindig. Dinty was the Carnera-Haynes thing the other night and came out on top in an oral battle with one of the Green-pelt lads.

Joe Louis, hoping to escape the autograph hounds, showed up at Ebbets field wearing dark glasses.

FLOOD MENACE FOLLOWS BIG TEXAS RAINS

EL PASO ONLY POINT NOT REPORTING RAIN

(By The Associated Press)
The hardest May rains in years continued to drench the state today, causing many streams to rise dangerously in the coastal region.

For five days rain has fallen almost continuously in Texas, bringing a definite end to drought but creating a serious flood problem in the southern part of the state.

El Paso was the only point not having rain in the last 24 hours, the weather bureau reported.

At Port Arthur a torrential down-pour, amounting to 4.54 inches, increased the precipitation there in the last five days to approximately 12.86 inches.

Dallas had overnight rainfall amounting to 1.20 inches, Brownsville .76, Abilene .32, Amarillo .08, Palestine .24, Austin .40, San Antonio .12, Del Rio .16, Corpus Christi .06, Galveston .24 and Houston .22.

The weather bureau said Texas rainfall this month was the most continuous and general in many years.

At Dallas, the Trinity river had a stage of 27.3 feet and was still rising. Flood stage is 28 feet.

Heavy crop and livestock damage was reported along the Navidad and Lavaca rivers, which isolated Edna, Texas, in Jackson county two days.

Three large rivers of South Texas, the Guadalupe, Brazos and Colorado, rose during the night as they swept toward the gulf. At Columbus the Colorado was near its expected crest of about 26 feet, but a foot and a half of leaving its banks.

Farmers feared for acres of tilled land along the Guadalupe, which neared a 26-foot level at Cuero, Bottoms and lowlands were flooded.

The rising Brazos disrupted highway travel as its flood crest rolled toward the sea. Travel to Corpus Christi and the lower Rio Grande valley were by way of Rosenberg, East Bernard, Hungerford and Wharton.

Old timers at Edna were quoted as saying the Lavaca and Navidad rises were the highest in history, drowning livestock in pastures never before inundated. Roads and bridges in the area were damaged and some homes were partly under water.

Though no estimate was made, crop damage in Jackson county was expected to be heavy.

The San Antonio river was out of its banks at Runge, while tributary creeks overflowed into bottom lands.

Columbus sources said residents had been warned to expect a 36-foot rise in the Colorado, but early today this figure was thought excessive.

Buc Chief Asks Resignation of Manager Mealey

BEAUMONT, May 29 (AP)—The Beaumont Journal said it had been informed by President Roy Koehler of the Galveston baseball club he would "request" the resignation of Jack Mealey, Galveston manager suspended after a disturbance in the Houston ball park Wednesday night.

Mealey, fiery catcher-manager of the Pirates, and Jack Jakucki, a pitcher, were indefinitely suspended by President Alvin Gardner of the Texas league after an investigation of the Houston incident, when Jakucki and Mealey climbed into a fan's box on the third base line.

Koehler, in a long distance telephone conversation, said he would request Mealey to resign upon his arrival here today. He said he was negotiating for an outside man to manage the club and hoped to have an announcement within the next few hours.

Mealey insisted he did not participate in the Houston disturbance except as a peacemaker. He denied he swung his catcher's mask at a fan and said he did not countenance Jakucki's action in climbing into the stands to go after fans who had been "ribbing" him as he stood in the coaching box.

Mealey said he merely followed Jakucki to quell the disturbance. President Gardner suspended the pair for "unsportsmanlike conduct" on the playing field.

The Galveston and Beaumont clubs were scheduled to play double headers here today and tomorrow.

YANKS WIN FINAL GAME FROM REDS AS GIANTS LOSE LEAD TO CARDS

NEW YORKERS STRETCH LEAD OVER BOSTON

TIGERS SINK INTO 4TH PLACE AS SOX WIN
BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer
For a club that's supposed to be limping with injuries, packed with doddering old men and due to blow sky-high before long the revival of "murderers' row" somehow doesn't fit into the rest of the New York Yankee picture this season.

The power they've shown since the start of the campaign, which has them riding two-and-a-half games in front of the American league pack as a result of their just-concluded "crucial" series with the Boston Red Sox, has the experts guessing—and wondering how long it can last.

While the Yankees were stretching the American league lead, their New York neighbors, the Giants, lost their one-day option on the National league first place by bowing out to the Boston Bees in a doubleheader, 4-3 and 5-4. The Cardinals, although losing out 7-2 to Jim Weaver's tight pitching for the third-place Pittsburgh Pirates, retained the lead exclusively.

Cornell Shoots Into Favorite's Seat at Meet

PHILADELPHIA, May 29 (AP)—With the west unrepentant and Harvard's chances dimmed by injury to its triple-threat captain, Milton Green, the big red team from Cornell shot unexpectantly to the Athletics' seat today as nearly 600 athletes from 34 colleges converged upon Franklin field for the sixtieth annual I. C. A. A. A. track and field championships.

DALLAS, May 29 (AP)—A football game between Hardin—Simmons college of Abilene and the El Paso School of Mines is the latest of nine contests arranged for visitors to the Texas Centennial exposition, Jimmie Stewart, in charge of athletics for the exposition, today announced Hardin-Simmons would meet the Mines eleven here October 31.

Bucs' Manager And Pitcher Are Indefinitely Suspended

Hurler Attacks Fans At Houston, Uses Strong Words

DALLAS, May 29 (AP)—Manager Jack Mealey and Pitcher Jack Jakucki of the Galveston, Texas league baseball team today were under indefinite suspension for "unsportsmanlike and disgraceful conduct."

J. Alvin Gardner, league president, last night ordered the suspensions after investigating a disturbance at Wednesday's game at Houston between Houston and Galveston.

They agreed Jakucki started using strong language about Pitcher Ross of the Houston team and that fans goodnatureedly countered to Ross's behalf. Jakucki then turned on the fans and finally climbed into the box seats after being ordered from the park. Umpire Naylor said he saw the banished pitcher swinging his fists. Mealey, the witnesses said, then joined Jakucki, swinging his catcher's mask at spectators.

Game To Be Played Tonight If No Rain Falls At Park

Last Night's Clash Is Called Off—Muddy Field

Rain, no game. It has been a long time since that announcement was made as cause of calling off a baseball game, but it happened last night at Road Runner park where the Pampa-Daniger Road Runners and the Halliburton Centers of Duncan, Okla., were to have played.

The two teams will clash at 8:30 o'clock tonight unless another downpour falls during the day. This morning the field was drying fast. There were only two or three wet places on the infield last night, but they were so bad that managers agreed to call the game off after attempting a workout.

Halliburton has one of the best looking ball clubs that has appeared on the local field in years. They have speed galore and strong hitting power in the outfield. The infield is fast with a flock of good hitters. Errors, however, have caused the team to lose games.

Unless the managers change their minds, the Daney will be on the mound for the Road Runners, opposed by Jimmie Walkup, a left-hander. Both hurlers warmed up last night and the handful of faithful fans who appeared at the park were ready to sit back and watch a pitchers' duel.

Texas Company Leading Soft Ball Standing

The Texas company's entry in the Pampa Playground ball league is leading the way to date, according to standings compiled by the new president, "Tommy" Atkins. The oil men have won 6 games and lost 1 to lead Skelly Oil with 5 wins and 1 loss and the Voss Cleaners with 5 wins and 2 losses.

SARRON AND BABY MANUEL TO FIGHT FOR TITLE IN TEXAS

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

DALLAS, May 29 (AP)—Years ago Wee Dickie Griffin, then one of the better bantamweights, made a practice of planting vicious punches on the prominent proboscis of one James Erwin, also a box fighter.

The team split eventually. Griffin set himself up as the "Tex Rickard" of Texas. Erwin stayed in the managerial end of the maining business. Griffin earned, through a series of misfortunes, the sobriquet of "hard-luck Dickie."

Optical nerves, battered in a long ring career, failed and he slipped to almost total blindness. Squares shooting enabled him to keep his head up, however, and he survived as a horse-fight promoter.

Erwin, meanwhile, wasn't doing bad for himself as a manager. He finally made a champion. Pety Sarron, barrel-chested featherweight, who punched Freddie Miller off the throne at Washington three weeks ago.

For years, or at least since September, 1931, when Gus Suhr took over the first-base job for the Pittsburgh Pirates, the general impression has been that he would not last as a regular at that post—that he was not a big league ball player.

But somehow or other Suhr did not hear the remarks of the experts and fans, or if he did he paid no attention to them.

Starting on September 11, 1931, he finished out the season for the Pirates and then showed up bright and early with his big glove in the spring ready to resume where he left off the preceding fall. He did not miss a game in 1932, nor did he fail to appear in the lineup in any game the three years following.

NEW YORK—A challenger dictating terms to a heavyweight champion would be a rare picture indeed, but it is likely to be painted rather vividly when James J. Braddock and his manager, Joe Gould seek to get Joe Louis into the ring.

Gould was guilty of one of the most colossal blunders in the history of the back busting dodge in passing up the Max Schmeling match. Braddock's handler could not see Schmeling after Braddock so surprisingly cuffed Max Baer about last June.

What Gould overlooked was that in sidetracking Schmeling, he paved the way for the 15-round battle between the German and Louis, which is almost certain to bring back the million dollar gate at Yankee Stadium, June 18.

Puritan Bakery Will Hold Open House Saturday

When the grocer boy comes into the kitchen of Mrs. Jones with a fresh, crisp-crust loaf of Puritan bread, that isn't news. But when Mrs. Jones turns the tables and goes right "behind the scenes" of the bakery kitchen where those loaves of bread are made, well, anyway that's what's going to happen Saturday from 3 to 9:30 p. m. when the Puritan bakery, makers of Tender Crust and Royal bread, hold open house at their plant at 515 South Cuyler.

A most interesting and entertaining series of events are promised. There will be music and refreshments and a special feature, the nature of which has not been announced but will be kept as a surprise for those attending.

Probably most interesting of all to Mrs. Jones and other housewives will be the chance to go right "back stage" of this modern baking plant to see just how the up-to-date baker goes about mixing and baking and wrapping the loaves of bread and cakes and other sweet goods that have come to relieve her of so many arduous hours of home baking. Attendees are to be stationed everywhere to explain each detail of the process.

Everyone in Pampa and this entire territory has been cordially invited to attend.

make more eloquent excuses for its shortcomings.

ADMITTEDLY, however, those who would give the plains back to the Indians are not without sound logic. If such were possible, WORDS would be one of the first to endorse the experiment, provided he could be adopted by some roving tribe. Under this plan, he would not have to leave the plains. To turn the land into public domain would be something else, which not even the Indians could endorse. It has long been his observation that man lives too far from the soil in our modern scheme of things. The Indian ate the buffalo that ate the grass that came from the soil. The buffalo was food, raiment, and shelter, and his hide could also be exchanged for the white man's firewater by those to whom the sunsets were rosier under such stimulus, even if the dawn came with a tasteless thimble. The buffalo roamed at will to find the grass. The Indian followed the buffalo. Neither knew birth control, but a parallelism of vital statistics made a food shortage extremely unlikely.

Moderns must have coffee which comes from the store, which got it from the wholesaler, who got it from the jobber who bought it from the reester who bought it from an importer who traded with the syndicate which bartered with the "big shot" who got it from the natives of a distant land at an outrageous price. There may be errors in the dizzy example, but you'll see the principle of the thing.

AND YOU MAY agree with WORDS that the Indian, leisurely following the great herds of buffalo, killing only according to his needs, paying no taxes, building no roads, and educating his children by example in the school of experience, was no fool. We whites have brought "civilization," but civilization has its penalties. The Indian is of a fading and declining race. No League of Nations existed to protest the invasion of his domain. Today the land he loved is beset by ills which would not greatly have worried him. And against the invasion of reformers, idealists, book-learned agriculturists, and even the pet schemes of his friends, the modern plainsman must battle, knowing that the portable "living" which supported the Indian is gone forever. Not less hardy than the red man, however, is the stubborn race which today inhabits the plains—and waits for rain!

ALLRED ON STREET CAR DALLAS, May 29 (AP)—Gov. James V. The state's chief executive was here a brief time en route to Athens where he had promised to speak at an old fiddlers' contest.

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

Hear of Centennial Amarillo Rotarians yesterday gave a generous welcome to Panhanded who presented a program and discussed the Panhandle Centennial to be held in Pampa June 2-5. R. C. Motorists in Dust Bowl Are Stuck in Mud

LAMAR, Colo., May 29 (AP)—Motorists of the southwest's dust bowl, who have been used to being stranded on highways by dirt laden clouds, revealed today in the enjoyable experience—to them—of being stuck in the mud.

Six successive days of rain which sent torrents of water down ordinarily dry arroyos, raised streams and rivers to near the flood stage and inundated small sections with light damage apparently brought to an end, officials said, the drought which has ravaged this section for nearly a decade. "It looks like the end of the 'black blizzard' menace," predicted Fred O. Cose, Baca county soil conservation director. "The farmers have the incentive now to work for good crops for the first time in several years," added Leo Oyler, Baca county agent. "It may be too late for wheat, but we're going to extend the listing program to aid agriculturists."

"This is closer to a million-dollar rain than anything we've had yet," said A. J. Harman, Powers county agent, with a smile.

Farmers, too, were exuberant. To them, the rain really came from heaven in answer to prayers they said as sand-filled wheels literally tore their crops from the ground.

Relating the details of a face-to-face meeting with Mrs. Benjamin Scott Young, from whom the congressman sub-leased their apartment, Mrs. Zioncheck wondered what would happen next. Mrs. Young called there last night and stayed till morning. Mrs. Zioncheck said they both talked and they both wept. One turned in a call to police, but the law came and went without getting into the controversy. At one point, Mrs. Zioncheck fainted. Mrs. Young was gone this morning when the representative's wife awakened and Mrs. Zioncheck suggested they might find her "guest" in the place "where they were sitting." It looks badly now, but with very reasonable attention may be made a domicile.

When Zioncheck telephoned in the ad, employees of the paper said, he wanted it to read: "It looks like hell." He modified the wording when the ad-taker raised objections. "Have you arranged for another apartment?" Zioncheck was asked. "Not at all," he replied. "We are trying to get out and we want to rent it. We have no money and no place to go."

Coronation Date Set in Age-Old Rites in London

LONDON, May 29 (AP)—With full benefit of Britain's ancient heraldry, "his majesty's pleasure" concerning his coronation was proclaimed to the empire today from the scarlet-draped walls of St. James' palace.

Silver trumpets, the sonorous tones of the Garter principal of arms, Sir Gerald Wollaston, a stiff-standing guard of King's Grenadiers, and the brilliant tabards and frappings of heralds and pursuivants shared in the age-old ceremony. Radio carried the words and sounds afar, and then the brilliant cavalcade clattered and jangled through the streets to repeat the performance at Charing Cross, Temple Bar, and the Royal Exchange of the City. Ironically, the state carriages carrying the king's august officers had to stop at one point for a relay of fire engines.

It took Sir Gerald nearly 10 minutes to read the proclamation "touching upon the royal coronation and the solemnity thereof" from a yard-wide scroll. When he concluded the trumpets blew a fanfare and Sir Gerald cried out in ringing tones: "God save the king!"

Someone in the hushed crowd about the walls intoned: "Amen." The earl marshal, the 27-year-old Duke of Norfolk, stepped back with his attendants and shortly thereafter the procession set out for Charing Cross.

on undistributed corporate earnings. Senator Black (D., Ala.) proposed a system for retaining the present 12 1/2 to 15 per cent corporate levy, with a surtax graduating up to 30 per cent on undistributed earnings. The bill as approved also would subject corporate dividends to the 4 per cent normal income tax.

King said he believed the bill would "bring in more than $800,000,000" of permanent and temporary funds. With a broad smile, he told reporters: "The bill is ordered reported out favorably."

He said the committee would meet once more to approve a final draft embracing the final alterations, then make its formal report on the measure.

It was not expected to reach the floor until next week, however.

Hit-Run Driver Carries Body of Small Boy a Mile

MCKINNEY, May 29 (AP)—An automobile accident in which a boy's body was dragged or carried a mile from where he was hit started McKinney officers on a search today for the car driver.

The victim was 10-year-old Jack Caddell, son of Harry Caddell, wrestling promoter and referee. The Caddell family had just moved to McKinney.

Jack and an older brother were returning home last night from a store when an automobile struck them both on the highway two miles south of McKinney.

The older boy, after being stunned for a moment, began searching in the roadside ditch for Jack.

Shortly afterward, the body of Jack was found by a passing motorist on the highway a mile south of where he was hit. Officers believed the body either was carried on a fender or bumper or was dragged that distance before dropping to the highway.

In 1876, American centennial year, he helped to organize the First Baptist church at Brownwood. Eight years later, Dr. John D. Robinson went to be pastor of the church and founded Howard Payne college.

Dr. Byars is said to have spent his days at the forge and his nights preaching the gospel. On next Thanksgiving day, Nov. 26, Howard Payne college will observe the Texas Centennial. In cooperation with Baptists of Central Texas, a monument will be dedicated to Rev. Byars. The Texas legislature has been asked for no appropriation for this monument.

The faculty and trustees of Howard Payne college are underwriting its construction. Those interested may communicate with Thomas H. Taylor, Brownwood, who solicits correspondence with any person who has knowledge of Rev. Byars and his work, as a preparation for the event mentioned above.

Miss Jerry Mitchell, Maxwell, James, and baby Pat Mitchell are great-grandchildren of Rev. Byars. The Mitchell family holds membership in the First Baptist church of Pampa, and Miss Jerry and James were in the group who exhibited the display from Baptist schools, in the reception given at the church Tuesday evening honoring the seniors of the high school. Mrs. M. E. Dilday of Amarillo is another daughter of Rev. Byars.

Hoods and Robes Of Legion Burned

DETROIT, May 29 (AP)—Reports that fear-stricken members of the Black Legion were burning their hoods and robes were received today as authorities mapped plans for a finish fight on the night-riding terrorists.

"The back of the organization here has been broken," said Prosecutor Dudley Owen of Jackson county, a Black Legion stronghold, "some members are burning their robes, and I don't think the remainder will have nerve enough left to commit further violence."

The John Doe inquiry into reported floggings and abductions in Jackson, where five men are held on charges of beating a reluctant member, was adjourned indefinitely as plans for calling a metropolitan area grand jury were going forward in Detroit.

A letter, declared by Detective Richard Bowen of the Detroit police laboratories to be written in human blood, was received by the police department today, warning it to "lay off the Black Legion."

The note, signed "The White Legion" was printed in letters nearly a half inch high, and was postmarked New York.

New York authorities were asked to investigate.

CHANGE SLOW IN BASIC LAW

The American people have an odd little habit of carrying on earnest public discussions without ever mentioning one of the most potent issues at stake.

If we presently get into an argument over whether we should amend the Constitution, it is a fairly safe bet that one of the primary considerations will be passed over in silence.

This primary consideration is the politician—the kind of politician who rates the adjective "petty." In any discussion of constitutional change, he is the Ethiopian in the woodpile, the joker in the deck. He's on everybody's mind, but nobody brings him into the open.

We are going to hear a good deal about the need of a constitutional amendment that would give the federal government power to do some of the things which the supreme court has recently said it cannot do. Before he hears any of the arguments on this proposition, the ordinary American tends to be deeply distrustful of it. And the reason for his distrust is the politician.

Lay aside, for the moment, the question whether such amendment is vitally needed, and consider what its first and most obvious effect would be—namely, to increase enormously the power of the federal government. That naturally would mean a vast increase in the number of government job-holders—a permanent, from-now-on increase, ours through rain or shine, through sickness or health, to cherish forever.

Those jobs would be permanent, but the job-holders wouldn't. They would be named by and for politicians, and there would be a housecleaning every time there was a new administration in Washington.

The bulk of them wouldn't be much good. They might know how to carry precinct K in ward 9 for Congressman Whoosis, but what they would know about the administration of coal mines or the handling of farm surpluses you could put in your Aunt Minnie's left eye.

That is the sort of thing that sticks in the average American's craw. He thinks of it, subconsciously, when this constitutional amendment is discussed. He may not talk about it, but he doesn't forget it—and he shouldn't forget it.

What it comes down to, then, is the simple fact that, before we can give our federal government new powers and responsibilities, we must do away with spoils politics. In its army, its navy, and its technical services, the government employs thousands of men as single-minded, as efficient, and as enthusiastically competent as any in private industry. The same could be said of all its departments if the spoils-hunter could be chased out.

Congressman Disney of Oklahoma recently introduced a bill to set up a great training school for civil appointees to government jobs. He envisages a government service haled by the same high standards that now obtain in the military forces.

And that, or something very much like it, must be the prelude to any permanent extension of the government's functions.—B. C.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — President Roosevelt dabbled his toes in the supreme court issue when he made the famous "horse and buggy" comment after the adverse NRA decision. But he found the water pretty cold.

It isn't likely that he will plunge in now to make it a campaign issue. Probably neither party will have a straight, out-and-out plank saying that the Constitution ought to be amended, or that it is perfect as it is.

But that isn't going to prevent the matter becoming an issue. The Socialist-Farmer-Labor-Party-sponsored "Benson amendment" is going to get a real test of strength in the next session of Congress, after the election dust settles.

This amendment to the Constitution would specifically give Congress power to pass wage and hour laws on a national basis, and closely regulate industry in other respects. It also provides for the orderly taking over by the government of any industry judged by Congress to be of vital public interest.

Recent supreme court and other high court decisions are gradually convincing labor organizations, radicals, and even mild liberals that the federal government is without constitutional power to deal with problems that are obviously national in implication.

Just how serious is the growth of this feeling of helplessness is indicated by a recent statement by the able commissioner of education, John W. Studebaker.

"If democracy fails to solve the problems of unemployment, poverty and distress, it cannot survive. If it does solve these problems progressively, step by step, giving the people reasonable hope of being able to plan a better life for themselves, there is no need to fear the imposition of a dictatorship . . . the technique of majority rule is abandoned when the majority loses faith in its ability to rule."

That is the argument which lies behind the effort to force definite action on the Benson amendment, but there is no chance of any action before election, and little enough until next session.

The complete, composite, grand-total public payroll, federal, state, city and local, is now estimated by the National Civil Service Reform League to have reached 3,000,000. That is almost one in 10 of all people now gainfully employed.

That doesn't cause any great concern among the professoriat here, for a great part of these are school teachers, policemen, firemen, letter carriers, and all kinds of workers at the most vital tasks.

The only cause for concern lies in the fact that the population of the capital city of Washington has increased 25 per cent in the last five years, and that the federal establishment of desk workers now reaches far out into Virginia and Maryland, and even rents office space in Baltimore.

It's not the number of government employes that's important; it's the usefulness of the work they do, insist all students of government trends.

Secretary Ickes fired from the PWA a wood expert. There still remains, according to Republicans, a bunch of would-be experts.

Dora wonders if there is any chance of getting a refund on her coal bill, now that the supreme court cancelled Guffey's.

The massive walls, hexagonal in shape and fully bastioned, rose slowly from the sea. Shark-infested depths, between the prisoners and the mainland, cut off every hope of escape.

Q. Has wheat been found in ancient Egyptian tombs been planted and grown? T. M. A. Stories have appeared from time to time regarding the finding of wheat in Egyptian tombs which had been stored for centuries and which germinated when planted. There is no truth in such stories. Q. When was the seven-shot carbine introduced into the United States army? A. W. S. A. The rifle was patented in 1860 by Christopher M. SENATE GROUP IS DEAD SET AGAINST TAX

COMPARATIVELY LIGHT 7 PER CENT LEVY APPROVED

WASHINGTON, May 29. (AP)—Definitely set against the Roosevelt program of steep, graduated taxes on undistributed income of corporations, the senate finance committee was declared ready to approve today a bill containing a comparatively light levy of 7 per cent.

Administration forces within the committee apparently abandoned their long struggle to win committee approval of some bill retaining more of the White House idea. The result was a victory for a committee group called "conservatives."

Whether the retreat of the other side was a strategic one, made with the idea of beginning the fight anew later, will be known when the senate starts debate on the bill next week or when the measure goes to a conference with the house. The latter chamber already has passed a bill more in line with administration tax philosophy and some quarters expected advocates of higher taxes on undistributed profits to revive the issue in the conference.

The long-standing impasse in the senate finance committee was surmounted late yesterday, shortly after Vice-president Garner had stepped into the picture to hold an earnest conference with Senators Barkley (D-Ky.) and Connally (D-Tex.), two committee members.

Whether he brought word from the White House to wind up the fight in the committee was not disclosed, although there was much speculation on that point.

Highlights of the committee's plan are: An 18 per cent tax on all net income of corporations. A 7 per cent levy on corporate income not distributed to stockholders.

Repeal of the present exemption of dividends from the 4 per cent normal income tax. Administration men had objected that this would raise only an estimated $385,000,000 of permanent revenue and $82,000,000 of temporary revenue, against White House desires for $620,000,000 and $537,000,000. They had recently been fighting for a plan featured by: Taxes of 12 1/2 to 15 per cent on all corporate income. Levies of 25 to 45 per cent on undistributed profits.

92-Pound Cat Fish Is Caught In Rio Grande

EAGLE PASS, May 29. (AP)—A catfish weighing 92 pounds and measuring five feet, two inches, was caught here today in the Rio Grande recently by V. H. Kelly and Homer Gatherings of Quemado.

Cal Huffman, manager editor of the Eagle Pass Daily Guide, who gathered the details of the aquatic monster and the means of capture relates that the men were setting lines near Quemado when they observed the big cat in water about waist deep, feeding between two rocks.

They decided to catch it by each thrusting an arm through the fish's gills when it spread them in breathing. Kelly made a good catch, showing his arm through the gill almost to the fish's mouth, but Gatherings missed and the cat knocked him down with a sweep of the tail.

Ku Klux Wizard Opposes Legion

ATLANTA, May 29. (AP)—Hiram W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, urged the federal government today to stamp out the Black Legion, hooded terrorist society.

"The federal government has brought kidnapping to an end in America," the Klan chief said, "and if the same efficient men are instructed to go to the bottom of the Black Legion, in my opinion they will end night riding in the United States."

Evans denied emphatically that any connection existed between the Black Legion and the Ku Klux Klan in its past or present phases. A suspect under investigation in Detroit told officers that the Black Legion drew its members from among former members of the Klan. "The Ku Klux Klan is opposed to terrorism," he said, "and does not believe in any illegal action for any cause whatsoever."

ZEP AT RIO RIO DE JANEIRO, May 29. (AP)—The Zepplin, Hindenburg, completing her south Atlantic crossing, arrived here today and was placed in her hangar at 7:30 a. m.

International Sunday School Lesson

By DR. J. E. NUNN

General topic: The last supper. Scripture lesson: Luke 22:1-38. Time: Thursday evening, April 6, A. D. 30.

Place: Jerusalem and principally the Upper Room.

7. Then came the day of unleavened bread, when the passover must be killed.

8. And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and prepare us the passover, that we may eat.

9. And they said unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare?

10. And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house where he entered in.

11. And ye shall say unto the good man of the house, The Master saith unto thee, Where is the guest chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?

12. And he shall shew you a large upper room furnished: there make ready.

13. And they went, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

14. And when the hour was come, and the twelve apostles with him.

15. And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer.

16. For I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.

17. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves: for I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.

18. And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me.

19. Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

20. But, behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is with me on the table.

21. And truly the Son of man goeth, as it was determined: but woe unto that man by whom he is betrayed.

22. And they began to enquire among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.

23. And they began to enquire among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing. Golden Text.—This do in remembrance of me—Luke 22:19.

Introduction. The events described in chapters twenty and twenty-one took place on Tuesday of Passion Week. The events recorded in the twenty-second chapter of Luke all occurred on the evening of Thursday of Passion Week, except the first six verses which cannot be definitely dated. The passover, one of the greatest feasts in Judaism, always fell on the fourteenth day of the month Nisan. It celebrated the "passing over" of the angel of death that dreadful night when Israel went out of Egypt under the command of Moses (Ex. 12:1-29). "It was a memorial of a deliverance from death by the blood of for its observance while he remained behind in Bethany. When Peter and John inquired as to where it should be observed, Jesus told them that as they entered the city they would find a man carrying a pitcher of water, and that they were to follow him into the house, and ask him where the room was where they were to observe the Passover. They did as commanded, and the man showed them an upper room where they made the preparations.

Observance of the Lord's Supper

Luke 22:14-23

In connection with the paschal meal, Jesus instituted the Lord's Supper out of the elements used at that feast. As he was reclining with the Twelve Apostles at the table (for the habit was to recline rather than sit), he expressed his desire to celebrate the observance with them, for it would be his last time to eat with them before his death. It was a very serious and sublime hour, for his betrayal and crucifixion lay just a few hours ahead. As he passed the cup he said: "I tell you I shall not after today drink of the fruit of the vine until the kingdom of God comes" (verse 19, Robertson). Having finished the Passover feast, "He took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me. Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you." (Cer. 19, 20). This is the record of the instituting of the Lord Supper, a memorial which along with baptism was to displace the feasts of the Old Testament and portray the central truths of Christianity to the ends of the earth and throughout all time.

The Supper a Memorial and a Prophecy—1 Cor. 11:26

"For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come." (1 Cor. 11:26). The supper is not a fellow observance, as so many think. It should never be spoken of as "communion" service, for that gives the wrong impression. It is distinctively a memorial occasion to commemorate the death of Christ, who is dying for our sins. In that respect it is like memorial days for other dead. Furthermore, it is a prophecy, for as often as we take the bread and wine we commemorate Christ's death "till he come." So in the Lord's Supper and baptism, the two most important truths of the Bible (Christ's death and resurrection) are brought home to humanity through the most effective method of teaching (the objective and dramatic). Dr. W. J. McGlothlin has said that there is no knowledge how far Christianity would have gone away from the essentials during the Dark Ages had it not been for these two ordinances.

The Disciple's Self-Seeking

Rebuked—Luke 22:24-30

In the very closing hours of Jesus' life with his disciples, and amid such sacred scenes as the Lord's Supper, selfish ambition crops out of their lives. Probably the two most important truths of the Bible (Christ's death and resurrection) are brought home to humanity through the most effective method of teaching (the objective and dramatic). Dr. W. J. McGlothlin has said that there is no knowledge how far Christianity would have gone away from the essentials during the Dark Ages had it not been for these two ordinances.

Preparation for the Passover

Luke 22:7-13

Through the centuries the Jews had observed annually the Passover feast commemorating the passing over the home of the first-born by the death angel during Egyptian captivity. When the time for this annual observance rolled around Jesus sent Peter and John in Jerusalem to make preparations

Chapter 19
QUIET PARTY

But neither Martin nor the watchers at the gate brought Dirk news. No one had accosted Mrs. Joris, or had been invited into her car. No one had left the grounds alone, at night.

Hope, having shopped industriously was now enduring the ordeal of fittings at the various couturiers. On Thursday of his second week, Martin's account of waiting at their doors was varied with the report:

"And when the lady in the shop handed me the box she said, 'I know you'll look lovely tonight, Mrs. Joris.'"

Dirk remembered that this was the evening of Elinor's dinner. He was glad, for he had scarcely seen Hope of late. The three of them went to Elinor's house together. Hope wore no jewels that evening except a wedding-ring. Jewels, thought Dirk, would have been out of place with her gown, a pale, silvery crepe, trailing and simple. Her eyes looked darker than ever tonight. Her smoothly done hair was black as charcoal.

She might have worn the pearls, thought Dirk. They would have been perfect with the silvery gown and the dark hair. The ring—the wedding ring—troubled him because it was new. If she had worn it at the start it would have had no meaning. But now—He thought of the unbarred door between her room and Rupert's.

Isabel said, "Forgive me, Dirk."

"Not for disturbing your thoughts. Only for saying that some one was like Phryne."

"Phryne," Dirk said, "was a courtesan."

"But such a nice one. Anyhow, I take it back. Tonight she's like something out of Tennyson, Elaine, 'standing in the dewy light.' Or, 'Oh, my Amy, mine no more.'"

Dirk smiled. "I didn't know you read Tennyson."

"I don't. Miss Hazen used to read it to me. You remember Miss Hazen, my funny little governess that you said looked like the goblin in your fairy-book?"

"Of course," said Dirk. "You used to threaten me with her. She'd bite me if I didn't do this, and she'd scratch me if I didn't do that. Said you."

"And the worst she ever did," acknowledged Isabel, "was read Tennyson. I remember Genevieve, too. . . your Genevieve. We remember all about each other, don't we, Dirk? You've known me all my life, and you've no illusions about me." Her cool, slate-colored eyes considered him. "I wonder if that is why?" she said.

Dirk said, "Why what?" His eyes had moved back to Hope across the table, a long table, banked with white roses, and starry with candle: He did not notice

They were all talking of horse shows and tournaments now. All except Hope.

Yet they liked her, Dirk felt, despite her quietness. He was standing beside her at the evening's end when Mrs. Sanford Joris came over and remarked:

"I wish you had brought your guitar, Hope. Rupert's been telling us about it. Will you bring it to my house on Hallow'en, and play and sing for us?"

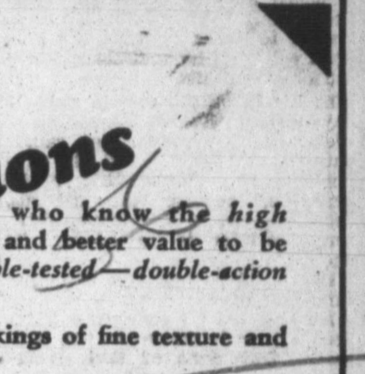

Hope promised graciously enough, and Mrs Joris added:

"You'll meet a lot more of your new relatives then. . . young ones." So the Sanford Jorises were giving her a party, too.

Tomorrow, Hope goes to the rodeo with "the family."

MONOPOLY OF STANDARD IS HIT BY BORAH

CLAIMS BIG INTERESTS ARE DRAINING PARTY

WASHINGTON, May 29. (AP)—Senator Borah's final pre-convention address—in which he warned his party not to "go back" and launched another attack on "monopoly"—left room for further speculation today as to what the Idahoan will do if he is displeased with convention results.

In his broadcast speech, only 10 days before the big assembly at Cleveland, the presidential candidate last night declared the Republican party is "fighting for its very life," because "the insidious, deadly coils of monopolistic, corporate interests drained away its energy."

Borah did not mention any other candidate for the nomination.

He declared oil companies "have been extremely active" in the campaign, that some of their representatives will be convention delegates, and "some of us shall be interested to know where they throw their influence."

The senator said he had a letter from an independent oil producer who said "The Standard Oil and four other companies are out to secure the monopoly of the world's oil production. They have it now in the United States. We who are known as independents are permitted now to follow the oil business with the grace of the Standard Oil company and its associates."

"If the Republican party can find no way to control the economic power which these companies exert upon every person in the land," Borah asserted, "shall we hope to make an effective appeal to the voters our argument that state rights under the constitution must be maintained?"

Declaring the party's position could not be defined by the platform alone, Borah voiced the belief that "the candidates of the respective parties will be the platforms."

"We shall find, in my opinion," he said, "the people will accept no other. These platforms have no high standing at the present time in the minds of the American people. The position of the party and the possibilities of success will be determined by the candidates."

Turning to the question of monopoly which the senator has emphasized throughout his campaign, he declared:

"If we are not prepared as a party to strike down monopoly and price-fixing, and all monopolistic

NEGLECT OF CONSTIPATION* IS A SERIOUS MATTER

Delicious Cereal Corrects This Condition in a Natural Way

Immediate attention to constipation* is important for two reasons. It causes discomfort, and may lead to headaches and loss of appetite. It also tends to slow you down.

When elimination continues to be faulty, over a period of time, your general resistance may be lowered. And a weakened body is less able to fight off the infections that abound in every crowded place.

The most common type of constipation is that caused by insufficient "bulk" in meals. In Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, you have a delicious source of effective "bulk."

Within the body, the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass and gently cleanses the system. This tempting cereal also furnishes vitamin B and contains iron.

Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Serve as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into tempting muffins, breads, etc. How much pleasanter to enjoy this natural laxative food instead of taking pills and drugs.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
