Central Figures In Custody Battle

Workers Quit In Local WPA Strike

25 LABORERS TAKE A WALK-- FIVE PUNISHED

METHODS OF WORKING AND WAGE SCALE BLAMED

Labor disturbances among some of the men employed by WPA on the Pampa fairgrounds project, apparently had been amicably settled today after flaring up last Friday and again yesterday. City Manager C. L. Stine said today that in order to bring peace to the workers, who had complained of their wage scale and methods of working, five alleged leaders of the discontented group today were under five-day suspensions, imposed by William Hekey, Pampa, district supervisor of WPA projects. Approximately 25 of the 62 laborers employed on the project walked off the job yesterday when the matter was not settled. Stine said Hekey and J. R. Caldwell, WPA welfare official, straightened the matter out, Stine said, by suspending the leaders and talking with the rest of the men relative to pay scale and working conditions. Some of the two dozen men who quit their jobs yesterday had returned to work today and others are expected to be back on the job Monday. Stine said that the work was progressing in an orderly manner today with all of the men apparently satisfied with conditions. "The work is moving along better than ever today," the city manager said. "No further trouble is anticipated." It was reported that the men complained, in addition to their working methods, that Amarillo WPA laborers were being paid a higher scale than is being paid on the Pampa project. The local wage rate for laborers is 30 cents an hour. Stine said that Project Foreman Richards, in charge of the local fair-

23 MAJOR OIL COMPANIES OF U. S. INDICTED

Total of 84 Accused of Violating Anti-Trust Laws And Manipulating Prices.

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 4 (AP)—The government today moved to serve warrants on 23 major oil companies and 61 others charged in a federal indictment with violating the Sherman anti-trust laws through manipulations which increased the retail price of gasoline. Names of all but two of the defendants, including 58 individuals and three trade journal publishing companies, were withheld pending service of the warrants. Details of the single true bill, part of a partial report of the special grand jury investigating trade practices in the oil industry since May 4, were announced last night by U. S. District Attorney John Boyle. The report was delivered to Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone on July 28 as the jury recessed until Aug. 19, when the inquiry was scheduled to resume. Boyle said specific charges were that the defendants "combined and conspired"—beginning in February 1935, and continuing to the present time—to increase and fix prices of gasoline sold in interstate commerce, chiefly in Wisconsin, Michigan, In-

Comet Loses Its Tail; Scientists Sorely Puzzled

WILLIAMS BAY, Wis., Aug. 4. (AP)—Pellier's comet in the northern sky puzzled astronomers in the darkness before dawn today by losing its tail. All trace of the long, broad ribbon of brightness which streamed from the comet's head as it sped toward earth disappeared from the telescopes at Yerkes observatory of the University of Chicago. "No one knows" what happened, Dr. Otto Struve, observatory director, said in reporting the tail's disappearance. "There should be the appearance of foreshortening," he explained. "The size of the tail should seem to be cut down as the comet approaches the earth, but it should not disappear."

BLOW ON HEAD THURSDAY IS FATAL TODAY

CHARGE FILED AGAINST CAFE-BEER PARLOR OPERATOR

Charlie Nugent Earp, 43-year-old White Deer farmer, died in Roswell hospital this morning at 8:20 o'clock of injuries received in a cafe fracas Thursday evening at White Deer. J. W. Blankenship, proprietor of the cafe, was charged with murder and his bond was set at $5,000 after he waived preliminary hearing at Panhandle. Witnesses differ in their stories of the quarrel between Earp and the restaurant owner, but it was generally agreed that his head injuries were due to blows with a bottle. There were several wounds on his head. A skull fracture above the left ear caused his death after an operation failed to save him. An assault charge filed against Blankenship after the fracas was changed by Sheriff T. B. Harris of Carson county to a murder charge this morning. The body was taken in charge by the Pampa Mortuary. The funeral is to be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock at White Deer Baptist church by the Rev. Herman Cox, pastor. Burial will be in White Deer cemetery. Pallbearers will be Hubert Kealey, Connor O'Neal, Sammy Kotara, Riley Richardson, Johnny Rapstine, and Floyd Pipes. Mmes. J. W. Evely, Jack Freeman, E. H. Grimes, and Herman Cox will be in charge of flowers, and Mrs. Neal Edwards of music. Surviving Mr. Earp are the widow and four daughters, Hazel, Veda, Dorothy Jo, and Charlene; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Earp, who reside north of White Deer; two brothers, P. J. Earp of Panhandle and A. J. Earp of White Deer; and three sisters, Mrs. Grace Sharrock of Sudan, Mrs. Bessie James and Mrs. Eunice Rapstine of White Deer. Mr. Earp had been a resident of the White Deer community for 18 years.

CITY DISCUSSES BUYING WATER STORAGE TANKS

Will Determine If Oil Flavor Can Be Removed

Further discussion of water storage for the city's waterworks system occupied principal attention of city commissioners at their regular meeting in city hall last night. The commission again discussed the matter of assurances that the oil taste can be removed from steel tanks which they contemplate buying for the storages. "If we can be assured that all of the oil flavor can be taken from the tanks, we will go ahead with the purchase of two of them," City Manager C. L. Stine said. The commissioners still are awaiting word from a New York concern which has been asked to submit plans for renovating the tanks. It planned to purchase two 55,000-barrel tanks. Commissioners also discussed the meeting of city officials which will be held in Dallas tomorrow in an effort to bring united pressure to obtain PWA funds for Texas, which was dropped out of the last allocation of money. Pampa officials decided not to send a representative to the meeting but will abide by the group recommendation and lend support to its activities.

Half Inch Of Rain Falls In City; Clouds Continue

NAVAL BUILDING RACE TO START ON JANUARY 1

Britain Opens With 2 Battleships; Japan With 4

Editor's Note: From the capitals of the large nations comes news of plans to increase naval strength. The following article gives a clear picture of the situation.

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE, Associated Press Staff Writer. NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—The great naval building contest among the major powers has been definitely set to get under way in earnest on January 1—the earliest possible date allowed by treaty.

Britain has just taken the initiative with the announcement that on New Year's Day she will lay the keels of two battleships, the biggest and most expensive of all sea-going fighting machines.

This will be a few hours after the expiration of the naval pact which precluded such construction. It is a decade since England built one of these floating forts.

For the first time in some 15 years the United States will embark, it is reliably indicated, on a similar program to keep abreast of Britain.

Japan, the other member of the big three, promptly signaled that she would build not two but four of these vast implements of death. This is in line with Nippon's demand for parity with American and England and her notification of withdrawal from the naval treaty because she could not obtain equality.

France, Italy and Germany already are building battleships, and Russia is embarking on naval expansion. The expenditure will be heavy.

FIRE PUT OUT

A burst of flame which started early this afternoon in the McGee and Smith body shop quickly spread over the entire building and damaged the body shop, the Motor Inn service station. Merchandise of the Cal Farley Tire shop in the same building was moved out into the street. The fire department battled the flames thirty minutes before they were brought under control. It is believed that paint in the body shop ignited and caused the fire. Firemen reported that a bucket of paint caught fire soon after they arrived. The building was water-soaked and smoke-seared. Cuyler street from Kingsmill avenue was blocked off to allow space for stringing hose.

Mercury Soars To 94 Degrees At Noon Today

Cooling effect of an hour-long rain which fell in Pampa yesterday afternoon, lasted for only a few hours and the city today was in the grip of another hot and sultry spell which sent the mercury to 94 above at 11:30 a. m. today. At 2 o'clock this afternoon, the thermometer was only two degrees short of the 100-mark.

Yesterday afternoon's rain which began falling at 4:10 p. m., was not quite as heavy here as in other sections.

Pampa received .56 of an inch precipitation. Amarillo was deluged with the heaviest downpour since the rains of last spring. Scattered rain-fall was reported in the Oklahoma Panhandle and parts of New Mexico.

The local rain was accompanied by thunder and lightning. At Amarillo there was nearly an inch of moisture. The local shower covered about a ten-mile radius.

Shortly before the rain the mercury had gone to 88 for the day's high. In an hour's time it dropped 15 degrees. Minimum temperature was 66 last midnight. It had jumped to 84 at 10 o'clock this forenoon and then took a ten-degree climb in the next hour and a half.

Pampa Youths Play In Band At Centennial

Three Pampa youths played in the all-star P. F. A. band at the state convention held last week in Stephenville.

The Pampa delegation and their sponsor, J. L. Lester, was comprised of Jack Allison, Bob Mann, A. C. Cox, and Elsey Vanderburg. They first three boys were chosen for the all-star band.

The youths were chosen from among 250 V. A. departments scattered over the state and honor was brought to Pampa in their selection to play with 100-piece band.

The band played at each convention session and last Saturday afternoon gave a concert, going from there to Denton, Commerce, Greenville and Arlington to give concerts on successive days. On Thursday the Pampa boys played with the band for three concerts at the Texas Centennial, one of the programs being broadcast over a nation-wide radio hook-up.

Young Vanderburg represented the Panhandle Plains district as its official delegate.

WEATHER: Generally fair tonight and Wednesday, except local thundershowers in the Panhandle this afternoon or tonight.

OWENS BREAKS OLYMPIC BROAD JUMP RECORD

Negro And 2 Other Americans Win At Berlin

BERLIN, Aug. 4 (AP)—Topping off by Jesse Owens' record smashing broad jump victory for his second title of the 11th Olympiad, Americans swept all three men's track and field finals, and broke even in two women's events today. It was one of the biggest days the United States ever has enjoyed in Olympic competition.

The tan thunderbolt from Ohio state bettered the Olympic broad jump record five times, winning the championship with a leap of 26 feet 5 21/64 inches, after bettering the Olympic 200 meter record of 21.2 seconds with successive performances in 21.1 seconds, pacing 11 others, including Mack Robinson of Pasadena, Calif., and Bobby Packard of Rockford, Ill., into the semi-finals.

BERLIN, Aug. 4 (AP)—Jesse Owens, Ohio State Negro all-around star, won the Olympic broad jump title today, following up his earlier triumph in the 100-meter sprint.

Owens won his second title of the eleventh Olympiad with a leap of 8.06 meters, 26 feet 5 21/64 inches, shattering the previous record of 25 feet, 4 1/2 inches made by Edward Hamm in the 1928 games.

The Ohio flash, who also is entered in the 200-meter sprint in which he is favored to win and become a triple Olympic champion, was short of his world record of 26 3/4 inches. The latter mark was approved last week by the International Amateur Athletic Federation records committee and now is pending final acceptance of the I. A. A. F. Congress.

Glenn Hardin of Greenwood, Miss., won the Olympic 400-meter hurdle championship.

Hardin, holder of the world and Olympic records of 50.6 and 52 seconds, respectively, won the gold medal in 52.4 seconds.

Johnny Loaring of Canada was second; Miguel White of the Philippines, third, and Joe Patterson of Oklahoma City, fourth.

Outstanding developments in the Olympic games today were: Helen Stephens, Fulton, Mo., girl, won the women's 100 meter title in 11.5 seconds, four-tenths of a second faster than the listed Olympic record.

Jesse Owens, Ohio State Negro ace, twice bettered the Olympic record for the 200 meter dash in preliminary trials and twice broke the Olympic record in the broad jump preliminaries.

Texas To Seek More PWA Funds

AUSTIN, Aug. 4 (AP)—The planning board will send a delegation to Washington this week in efforts to induce the Public Works administration to allocate more funds to Texas.

The delegation will confer with Harold L. Ickes, PWA administrator, and Harry Hopkins of the Works Progress administration. The move was adopted on the suggestion of Hull Youngblood, San Antonio industrialist.

The board has been informed that an acute unemployment situation would result in Fort Worth should the PWA withhold funds on projects for which the city has voted bonds.

"Great numbers of workmen are still idle in the larger cities," according to the board.

The delegation will meet tomorrow with the League of Texas Municipalities in Dallas for a discussion of the situation.

Salesman Robbed Of $50 At Night Club Near City

A Fort Worth traveling salesman was wondering today about southern hospitality as exemplified on a visit to Pampa last week-end.

As a result of his pondering over the matter, a Gray county man was under $1,000 bond awaiting action of the September grand jury.

The traveling salesman, M. L. Cox, of Fort Worth, decided to see a little of Pampa's night life while in the city. In his rounds he stopped off at a night club near the city.

While there, according to his charges made at the examining trial in Justice of the Peace James L. Todd's court, he was robbed of $50 in an unquiet manner.

order to make a thorough search of his clothing.

Cox was clear down to the last sock on the only foot he had left, according to his claim, and when he took it off and dropped a $50 bill he had hidden there. Cox says the holdup man took his $50.

Not satisfied with this, according to the traveling salesman's complaint, the alleged robber topped off the act by banging him across the head with the butt of the pistol.

This required surgical attention and eight stitches in his ear, to say nothing of a gash across his forehead.

The man Cox accused was arrested later by Deputy Sheriff Ben Lockhart and was charged with theft of $50 from the person of the traveling salesman. An additional misdemeanor charge of assault and battery was placed against the man, who denied the allegations in total.

According to the information brought out at the examining trial, Cox and the man he accused were the only two persons in the room at the time of the alleged holdup.

Borger Road Plans Pushed By Pampans

Garnet Reeves, manager of the Board of City Development, and Jim Collins, chairman of the board's highway committee, with several others, went to Amarillo today to confer with WPA officials relative to the plans of the Pampa-Borger road.

Work on the road, outside of the Borger city limits, was scheduled to start this week, and local officials were making the study today to determine just what can be expected in the way of pushing the project to speedy conclusion.

Rotarians Will Meet At Scout House Wednesday

Members of the Rotary club will hold their regular meeting tomorrow at the Scout home of Troop 20, Rotary-sponsored troop, beginning at 12:10. Lunch will be served there and a program will be provided.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM Last night one of the Lard boys (must have been Roy) bought his ticket to the baseball broadcast and gave it to the ticket-laker, Berl Feland. He sort of sidled up to Berl and then cozed away after saying, "Hello Rat-Hole!" and then Berl remembered how when he first came from Nebraska to the Panhandle he worked on a well with the Lard boy. One day Roy told him to go and see something. "It's over there in the rat-hole." Berl looked hard at him and said, "What-cha tryin' to do Get fresh?" "No," was the reply, "but you are." (If you know anything about oil wells you will know what the rat-hole is.) Ever since then, Roy has called Berl "Rat-Hole."

Angel Arrested In Roswell For Burglary Entry

Morton L. Angel, 33, released here last week following his arrest as a suspect in connection with a safe robbery at Longview, is in jail again today, this time in Roswell, N. M.

Angel was arrested there yesterday with Duncan Thomas, 28, and charged with attempted burglary of a department store safe.

Thomas, told Roswell police he was released last April from the Texas state penitentiary after serving 14 months of a seven-year burglary sentence.

Angel was picked up here on the night of July 25 by Deputy Sheriff O. T. Lindsey and state highway patrolmen, after Lindsey recognized the man from a police circular as being wanted for burglary in Longview.

He was held in the Gray county jail for four days and then released when Longview authorities failed to claim the prisoner.

According to word from Amarillo today both Thomas and Angel have lived there. Thomas was convicted in Amarillo about two years ago in connection with a store burglary.

FOOD PRICES ARE 30 PER CENT HIGHER THAN 3 YEARS AGO

ANOTHER BIG RISE ALREADY GOING STRONG

PRICES TO GO ONLY AS HIGH AS ABILITY TO PAY

CHICAGO, Aug. 4. (AP)—Faced with rising food prices because of the drought, householders in city and hamlet sought to determine today how their family budgets might be affected.

It cost the average man 30 per cent more to feed his family in June than it did three years ago, the Department of agriculture estimated. Market analysts now seek to ascertain what the rate of increase might be this year—with farm prices at the highest general level since 1930.

There was agreement in the commodities markets that the general level of food prices would rise. The upturn is under way. The figures on grocery bills invariably parallel in various degrees the figures chalked up in the big commodities and wholesale markets that the general level of food prices would rise. The upturn is under way. The figures on grocery bills invariably parallel in various degrees the figures chalked up in the big commodities and wholesale markets that the general level of food prices would rise.

Adverse weather in North America, parts of Europe and the southeastern hemisphere have cut world wheat supplies to a level indicated as the lowest since 1927. Unless rain falls soon, experts contend the domestic corn crop may be the smallest since 1881. Other crops, including many common vegetables and fruits, have suffered. Poor pastures, and lack of feed has cut milk production. All this has already been reflected in the wholesale markets.

Economists asserted food prices at retail counters probably would show a gradual upturn, but food prices could go only as high as the general ability of consumers to pay.

Retail prices in Chicago—considered typical of many cities—showed butter, quoted on an average of 39 cents a pound, was 10 cents higher than a year ago. Milk is up a cent a quart at 12 cents. Eggs are two cents higher at 35 cents a dozen. Cheese is up three cents. Potatoes are more than double. Cabbage is quoted at seven cents a pound compared with two cents a year ago. Carrot, five cents a bush are double. Green beans, 15c a quart, are triple. At the same time many items on the grocery list are lower.

Flour rose with the recent sharp upturn in wheat prices but bread has not changed. Wholesale prices for standard pack canned goods have advanced an average of around 10 per cent since July. Many canners asserted they will have small packs of peas, beans, corn and tomatoes.

The department of agriculture has assured the public there is enough food on hand to feed the nation for the next 12 months though supplies of many staples are below normal.

Women Deplore Mud-Slinging In Texas Politics

DALLAS, Aug. 4. (AP)—Texas women may put the skirts to political mud-slinging.

Mrs. A. C. Zehner, club woman and political leader, announced a move was afoot to form a society for the prevention of mud-slinging—its chief aim to be the elimination of personal abuse in Texas political campaigning.

As a start, candidates in the democratic run-off this month, she said, will be polled on whether they would agree to refrain from such tactics. Mrs. Zehner said much could not be accomplished this year but that "plans could be laid for the next campaign."

Johnson County Picnic To Open

ALVARADO, Aug. 4. (AP)—Alvarado prepared today to entertain thousands of visitors for the opening tomorrow of the forty-fourth annual Johnson county picnic and other settlers reunion.

The spirit of early Texas and its struggle for independence will be the general theme of the four-day program.

A parade will start the celebration tomorrow morning.

Lowell Crocker, Godley, will give the address of welcome and R. T. Graham, Alvarado, the response. The principal speaker of the day will be Dr. W. J. In an effort to support charges that Dr. Franklyn Thorpe, shown left below in Los Angeles courtroom, often entertained women in his home, the top picture was offered in evidence in the child custody-divorce suit of Mary Astor, film star, against Thorpe. Miss Astor's lawyers declared the photo was that of the doctor embracing Norma Taylor, blond dancer. Miss Taylor indignantly denied she ever breakfasted in bed with Thorpe, as plaintiff's counsel alleged. She said she visited the Thorpe home only as an appendicitis patient. ## OIL NEWS AND NOTES

■ Panhandle and Other Fields ■

210 WELLS OPERATED
KILGORE, Aug. 4. (AP)—A total of 210 wells were completed during July in the East Texas oil field, according to figures released today by the engineering department of the railroad commission's headquarters here. New completions brought the field's total to 21,095 wells.

Although there was no change in the production schedule of 2,32 per cent of the field's hourly potential production, the allowable figure increased only 1,108 barrels. The small increase was due to lowering of the potential, following tests run by the engineering department at various points over the oil belt.

On August 1, the hourly potential amounted to 12,958,214 barrels and the allowable 429,918 barrels. Of the 21,095 wells in the field, 15,801 were classified as marginal wells.

OIL PRODUCTION DROPS
TULSA, Okla., Aug. 4. (AP)—A decrease of 9,808 barrels daily in the nation's oil production for the week ending Aug. 3 was reported today by the Oil and Gas Journal. The daily production was 2,951,030 barrels.

California showed the greatest decrease, the state's daily production of 660,750 barrels representing a decline of 15,400 barrels.

Oklahoma recorded a decrease of 7,145 barrels daily for a total of 412,075, while the total state of Texas produced 1,157,129 barrels daily, an increase of 5,374.

In East Texas there was an increase of 1,321 barrels for a total of 433,978 barrels.

Louisiana's daily production was 231,880 barrels daily, a decrease of 987 barrels, while Kansas' output was 156,025 daily, 1,300 barrels less than last week.

Eastern fields including Michigan, increased production 7,488 barrels daily for a total of 45,771 barrels.

An increase of 2,390 barrels daily was shown in the Rocky Mountain area, the daily production totaling 59,820 barrels.

THREE STATES CAST BALLOTS IN PRIMARIES

MISSOURI ELECTION IS WATCHED CLOSELY BY OBSERVERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—Political leaders watched for any possible hints of national sentiment today as voters of three states cast their votes in primaries.

The primaries were a series of 11 which will be held this month, were in Missouri, Kansas and Virginia.

The Missouri voting involved something of a test of strength between the Thomas J. Pendergast democratic organization of Kansas City and supporters of William Hirth, Columbia farm leader.

Hirth, running for the democratic nomination for governor, assailed the Pendergast group. Opposing him for the nomination was Major Lloyd C. Stark, nurseryman who had Pendergast backing.

For the republican nomination the fight was three-cornered. Candidates were Jesse W. Barrett, former state attorney general, James J. Barrett and Claude L. Lambert.

In Kansas, the home state of Gov. Alf M. Landon, leaders of both parties strove to get out a big vote, for psychological purposes. Candidates for governor, senator, representatives and other posts were being nominated, but in many cases there were no contests.

There was interest in the bid of Senator Arthur Capper, republican, to secure renomination over two rivals, Walter Nieberger, Tonganoxie editor, and H. L. Stout, Fort Scott business man.

Virginia, traditionally democratic, had only two contests for democratic nominations to the national House of Representatives. Senator Carter Glass was not involved in the primary, having already been declared his party's nominee for Senator.

Political observers watched with interest a close race in Kentucky, where a primary was held last week. Senator M. M. Logan held a plurality of about 3,000 over former governor J. C. W. Beckham for the democratic senatorial nomination as tabulation of votes neared completion.

TEXAS SPORT NOTES

DALLAS, Aug. 4. (AP)—Official prosperity note: Texas league paid admissions are 20 per cent over attendance figures of this date last year. 34 per cent over the 1934 gross through July and well over any total of the last five years.

Good early summer weather in the northern division is chiefly responsible for the welcomed pick-up. The Shaughnessy play-off plan is playing a big part.

Second Baseman Les Mallon of Dallas, fined $50 and suspended three days after a run-in with Umpire Eddie Palmer, came close to drawing complete banishment from baseball.

Frankie (Dingle) Croucher, Beaumont second sacker, who played one game for the Exporters last year, is now the talk of the loop with a mounting batting average and dazzling fielding that is certain to land him in Detroit's spring camp.

Johnny Watwood's dislocated and torn ligament in the index finger of his left, and throwing hand, likely will keep the slugger Houston first baseman out of the lineup the remainder of the season.

Two of the oldest pitchers in the league, Curt Fullerton of Dallas and James Brillheart of Oklahoma City, are leading the mound parade with 15 and 14 victories, respectively.

Don Schumacher of Dallas, Texas amateur golf champion, has entered his eleventh consecutive week of tournament golf—minus considerable poucentage.

Gangling Norman Rowland, the 17-year old unknown who shot Schumacher out of the Meadowbrook tourney at Fort Worth, is the son of Smiley Rowland, veteran professional. He will try for the state junior title at San Antonio.

Houston's "cut" on the gate receipts in two recent Fort Worth games was $18 and $35.

When Oklahoma City won the Texas league last year, it became the seventh different city to win the flag in seven years.

Elmer (Gober) Dean, of the baseball Dean brothers, has been given an "unconditional release" as peanut salesman in the Houston park, reports say.

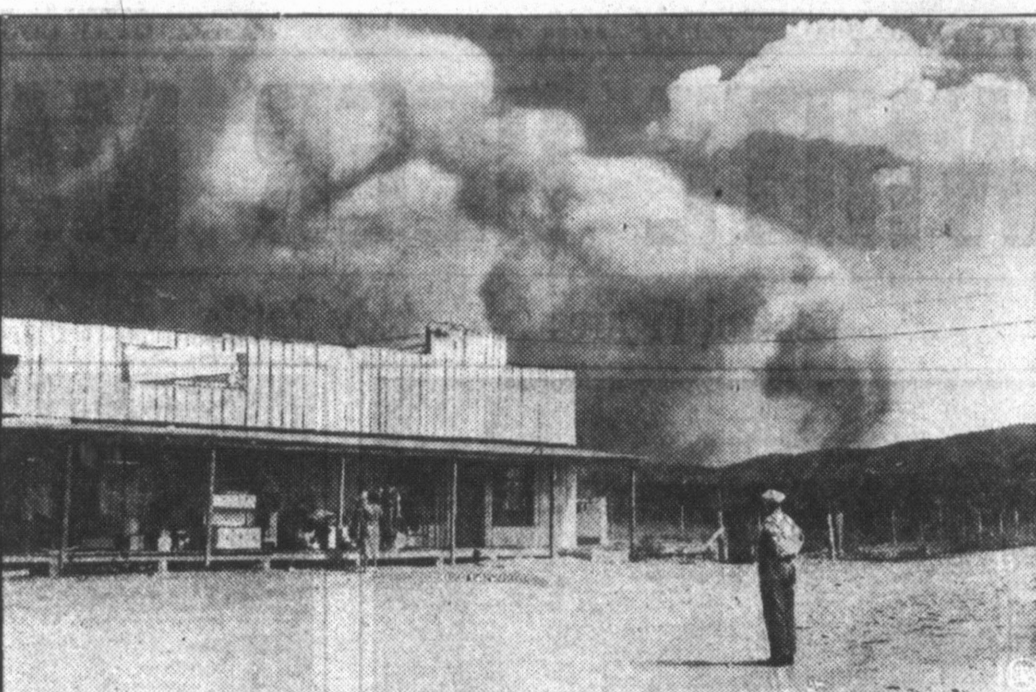

The talk of Coach Nick Dobbs' Wesley college Panthers of Greenville playing the Vanderbilt freshmen at Greenville the day before the Vandy varsity plays Southern Methodist at Dallas in October.

Three former Greenville high stars, Bert Marshall, "Tarzan" McElreath and Ralph Hinton, will be candidates for Vandy's frosh eleven.

And Henry Kraka, Greenville's noted former coach, is now handling the commodore first year team.

Transfers of the Glasswater franchise in the East Texas league to Mount Pleasant will take place soon unless Gladeswater fans show more interest in their nine, East Texas agents report.

'SEX APPEAL' IN LIQUOR ADS DEcriED BY LIQUOR INTERESTS

By PRESTON GROVER
WASHINGTON — It used to be principally the dregs who complained against the "sex appeal" in liquor advertising, but now the cry against it has been taken up by certain liquor interests hoping to keep the industry within the bounds of propriety.

The proposition is interesting as evidence that the liquor interests may be wary of the dregs' power and are trying to give them no handle upon which to fasten a comeback campaign.

Ernest C. Kennedy, an executive of one of the largest distillers' corporations, told a conference of state liquor administrators of a 14-point code of good advertising and selling conduct his organization planned to adhere to, even if it had to go it alone.

He said large distillers and distributors were disposed to keep within bounds of "decent" even though federal regulation of them had been limited by recent Supreme Court decisions.

But the big fellows, he said, could not enforce good conduct on the little ones, such as retail dealers. He seemed fearful they would let their eagerness for business lead them to use advertising and sales methods which might bring down upon them the wrath of dregs and the general public.

He asked the administrators to apply the code to the little ones, using state laws as authority, of which he said they had plenty. Summarized, his code proposed:

That no illustrations of women be used in liquor advertising, and no appeal be made especially to women buyers.

That no appeal be made to children or youths, including college students.

That no liquor advertising be put on the radio or in Sunday papers, and that advertisers avoid associating liquor with Santa Claus, Easter rabbits, alluring outdoor or bathing scenes, or handsome army officers.

That no illustrations feature ships' officers, locomotive engineers, aviators or others responsible for human safety.

Dregs still strong
Perhaps no irony was intended but Kennedy also urged that no liquor advertisements be placed in religious publications, "irrespective of

KAUFMAN WAS MARY ASTOR'S LOVER, CLAIM

EX-HUSBAND CONDONED AFFAIR, ACTRESS TELLS COURT

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4. (AP)—A fragment of testimony by red-haired Mary Astor—that her ex-husband knew of her relationship with Geo. S. Kaufman, playwright, and condoned it—was a cryptic passage today in superior court records.

Cross-examined by Joseph Anderson, counsel for Dr. Franklyn Thorpe, the film actress testified that she and the Hollywood physician discussed his contemplated divorce.

"You know Kaufman has nothing to do with this divorce," she said she told her husband. "You've known about George Kaufman since last fall. You condoned it."

Court was then adjourned until next Monday, shutting off any attempts by Anderson to develop explanatory footnotes to the bit of testimony. Adjournment was taken to allow Miss Astor to resume work at her studio.

In an affidavit introduced earlier in the contest between Miss Astor and Dr. Thorpe over custody of their four-year-old daughter, Marylyn, the physician alleged that Miss Astor recorded in a diary her love for "George."

Kaufman, who has had a hand in writing such comedy skits as "Merton of the Movies," "Once in a Lifetime" and "Of Thee I Sing," was informed of Miss Astor's testimony. "I have nothing to say," commented the playwright. "I am not interested in anything Miss Astor may have testified to."

Anderson sought by his line of questioning to draw from Miss Astor that she consented to allow Dr. Thorpe to obtain a divorce and custody of Marylyn because of her love for Kaufman.

"Isn't it a fact," Anderson asked, "that the reason you left the divorce go by default was because you were in love with a man by the name of George S. Kaufman?"

Miss Astor angrily retorted: "It is not a fact."

Sensational proceedings when the trial is resumed were promised by one of Dr. Thorpe's attorneys, A. P. M. Narlian.

"We're going to have to let the whole thing come out now," Narlian declared. "We hoped to pass over some parts of it, but we can't with her statements about Dr. Thorpe hanging back. We're going to subpoena John Barrymore and a lot of other people."

Need Of Revival Is Discussed At Christian Church

"There are two great reasons why we need a revival," declared the evangelist, P. H. Elliott, last night at the First Christian church where he is conducting an evangelistic meeting, assisted by R. L. Allston, song leader, and Howard House, pianist and crayon artist.

"The first reason for a revival," he continued, "is for the sake of those who are lost. We don't hear that word 'revival' very often now days. We are getting away from it. It is very difficult for a mother or a father to realize that their children are going to be eternally lost unless they accept Christ as their Saviour. We have been drifting down thru the years toward the belief that everything is all right any way and that everybody is going to be finally saved whether they do anything about it or not. But friends, that is not the Bible teaching. The Bible teaches that unless one accepts Christ as his Saviour, he is lost."

One of the best musical numbers was the vibraphone solo last night, with the choir humming an accompaniment. Tonight Mr. House will make a picture illustrating the song, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross." The song will be sung by a quartet composed of Miss Dorothy Southard, Miss Betty Jo Townsend, Mr. Allston and Roy McMillen. Services begin each night at 8 o'clock.

A thin coating of butter should be spread on one side of each slice of bread. Butter not only increases the food value of the sandwich, but aids in preventing the bread from absorbing the filling.

Flowers In Home Extend Welcome

Flowers and growing plants add a living touch to the atmosphere of a home; they are as necessary as tastefully selected furniture and pictures. A few flowers simply arranged and put in the right place extend an air of friendly welcome to our visitors.

The simple arrangement in the illustration consists of a few pale pink gladioli, some stalks of light blue delphinium, and rubrum lilies in a sea green vase. With the tall spikes of gladioli and delphiniums in the back of the bouquet, the few lilies near the base give a focal point or center of interest. The simple lines of the vase and its neutral tone complement the flowers; it has no design or decoration to detract from the beauty of the blooms. Its tall shape is in keeping with the tall flowers and the top is broad enough that the stems are not crowded. The sword-like leaves of the gladioli add interesting vertical lines that harmonize well with the long spikes.

The placing of flowers in the home is very important. If possible, they should be placed against a plain wall where their colors and form appear to best advantage. They usually show well against backgrounds of even tones as found in the simplicity of modern interiors.

When selecting flowers at the florist's shop, keep in mind where they are to be placed in the home, both in regard to colors and their form or character. A low bowl of baby zinnias may be just the thing needed for one place, while a tall slender vase filled with a few spikes of gladioli or delphiniums will be better for another.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE,
NEA Service Staff Writer.
"More and better picnics," is a slogan that I, for one, endorse wholeheartedly.

These August days, it's almost a rule in our family to pack a hamper two or three times a month and set out for a cool, wooded spot to eat our supper. Picnics save dishwashing, table linen and table setting. More over, we all enjoy them. Picnicking so often, I've learned a few tricks about packing outdoor lunches.

Pack Lunch Carefully.
First of all, the food should be firmly and neatly wrapped in order to be fresh and appetizing. It must be packed, too, so that it's easy to carry. Waxed paper is an invaluable aid and so are moisture-proof bags of transparent cellulose film. Paper napkins, paper plates and paper cups, easily disposed of after the meal, are so attractive and inexpensive that everyone delights in using them.

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Dr. I. N. Tucker entered a hole-in-one golf tournament.

After finishing his entry, he walked out to the contest hole—the 160-yard eighth at City park—and smacked the ball with a four iron. It trickled into the cup.

He rushed back to the clubhouse, only to learn the competition wasn't to begin for two weeks.

BANQUO'S GHOST

If one thing is certain about the Spanish revolution it is that it is a class struggle. Large numbers of peasants, reports show, have joined the rebels, yet it cannot be denied that two opposing sets of political and economic thought are warring against each other.

Until 1931, the land owning classes dominated what might be called the feudalistic country of Spain, except in more industrialized provinces such as Catalonia. Throughout history the peasants had suffered from the inequalities of opportunity inherent in a feudal society. Inevitably, as technology swept the world, a breaking point was reached. Adjustments had to be made.

Unfortunately for the immediate future of Spain, forces were on hand which goaded the cries of discontent into a sullen roar of blind anger against the old leaders of the country. Everything those old leaders did, the new elements preached, was the class conscious action of economic overlords who desired only to keep the peasants in perpetual subjection.

Needless to say, these new voices were those of another class conscious element, the Marxists and other radicals mistakenly devoted to the gospel of class struggle. Much of their criticism was sharpened on the grindstone of truth, but the hunger for justice was whipped into the passion of hate.

Some of the upheavals of recent times have not been motivated by disciples of the class struggle doctrine who now, for the most part, are in power. Yet they have lived in the spirit of hate and have kindled that flame in multitudes of peasants and laborers. They may beat down the present rebellion but always they must be on the alert to strike down the phantom of hate they have created. Therein lies the folly of a doctrine that arrays class against class. The ghost will not be downed.

EFFECT OF LOOSE PAROLE

Ignazio (Lupio, the Wolf) Saitetta, New York's grizzled Mafia terrorist and the oldest living big-time gangster in the United States, is back behind the bars. Therein lies a pretty good lesson in criminology.

The 60-year-old racketeer had been released on parole from Atlanta in 1920, after having served half of a 20-year sentence. But he went right back to his old game. During the last few years the hand of the "Wolf" and his homicidal organization has lain heavily on New York's citizens, exacting tributes in a gigantic racketeering scheme almost without parallel. So the government repaired its error of 16 years ago and flung Saitetta back into jail.

Which is another example of the necessity of guarding the country's parole power, if we are to be safe from return of our Saitettas.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON.—This is the GHQ of the great effort of John L. Lewis and his followers to organize the five-billion-dollar steel industry.

It is also the seat of as sympathetic a government as ever watched a major industrial conflict develop in America.

If you want to follow the Battle of Steel blow by blow, you will have to train your telescope on Washington as often as you turn it to the actual firing line.

You will have to watch the quarters of the Committee for Industrial Organization, the handsome offices of Lewis and the powerful United Mine Workers two blocks away, and the American Federation of Labor building, where an executive council has pondered whether it dared suspend any or all the 12 C. I. O. unions, with their 1,250,000 members.

And you will have to watch the White House and half a dozen federal agencies where what happens to the C. I. O. in its struggles with both the steel corporations and the A. F. of L. craft unions is a matter of intense concern.

Steel is the industry on which our machine civilization rests. It is the most powerful foe of organized labor. Its defeat would bring labor victories in all mass production industries—and probably a turn in history.

Not only does the C. I. O. drive in steel and other industries tie in closely with the political campaign; success of this demand by labor for an economic and political voice may influence the trend of events for decades.

Already it is common talk that the C. I. O., if it lives, will be the nucleus for a strong labor or farmer-labor party in 1940.

For this year, however, there is a close alliance between John Lewis and Franklin D. Roosevelt. Lewis sat in at the White House on the Democratic platform plank for labor.

In Washington and in Pennsylvania, Lewis, who is nobody's humble lieutenant, is using the Democratic politicians. And they are using him. New Deal strategists think they have a fine chance in Pennsylvania.

Steel, pitching the key for Big Business in its relations with labor, is the outstanding target of those who would translate Roosevelt's attacks on "economic royalists" literally and specifically.

Nevertheless, Roosevelt want no steel strike before November. Neither, apparently does Lewis. There is some fear that the industry will precipitate hostilities, not only for political effect, but in the hope of strangling the organization drive in its infancy.

Nor does Roosevelt want to see a complete split between C. I. O. and the craft unions, for there is reason to fear that many right wingers in the labor movement might then turn against him.

The C. I. O. is the heart and soul of Labor's Non-Partisan League, which, under George Berry, is now signing up central labor unions over the country to work for Roosevelt.

The will of a Philadelphian specified that his pallbearers were to drink 10 gallons of wine. The question arose: Who would carry the pallbearers?

After a bystander pulled a gun, King Edward rode on calmly. But anyone who would keep on riding a horse, after his experiences, wouldn't mind a mere bullet.

A Spanish noble is looking for a throne. If he comes to America, he might some day be king, which Rev. Gerald K. Smith hopes to make every man a.

tion of the value of sunlight, we as yet know comparatively little on how the sun's rays effect these desirable results. For sunlight is composed of rays varying greatly in range, some being short and some long. The short waves of the ultraviolet range are practically all reflected from or absorbed by the outer, horny layer of the skin. Some of the longer, ultraviolet waves, the visible waves and the near infra-red, waves penetrate more deeply. Where, however, by which of the rays the different beneficial results are effected, remain to be learned.

However, sunlight, especially in excessive doses, can produce injurious effects. The most evident are sunburn and heat burn. Some individuals are photosensitive and when exposed to too much sunlight they may become very sick.

Excessive sunlight also produces a number of skin diseases, and some scientists believe that overexposure to sunlight may bring about damage to the central nervous system.

is yielding, and tends to follow the line of least resistance, the results are apt to be unfortunate.

There is, for example, Mabel B., who has spent her life seeking a husband who will take her parents' place. Mabel does not want to grow up and think for herself. She still follows a childish pattern of life, is unable to make a decision, or act independently. She fears young men and is photosensitive and will probably end up an old maid's darling. If she succeeds in finding a man who is willing to undertake the responsibility of managing her life.

Everyone, old or young, should periodically go over his habits, and be ruthless about discarding those which are outworn.

And parents should in the same way go over the habits which they have taught their children, exchanging new habits for old, as regularly as they refurbish their children's wardrobes.

Chapter VII

When Ann came down to breakfast she felt that some of the guests at the hotel eyed her askance. She was sure she knew what they were thinking; she was the girl who was running around with that wild galoot, Jaime Laird, who lived across the lake at the Majestic. Flying high! They all knew who Ann was, what she did in the city, and how old she was.

She was weeping climbing tops. The porch sitters took up their positions and waited for something to happen. One or two genial old ladies dropped a stitch or two in their knitting when Jaime's long roadster came roaring around the lake, to stop in a whirl of dust before the Glenwood Inn.

Ann went down to meet him and they drove away on the Cascade road, toward the Marcy trail. Jaime seemed changed. Ann thought—perhaps she imagined it—that his face had a little more color this morning. Perhaps it was the result of the crisp mountain air.

They were content to say nothing, to throw back their heads in the breeze.

"Is this a very steep mountain?" Jaime asked.

"It's the highest in the Adirondacks," she said firmly.

Jaime pretended to faint, and she had to catch the wheel to keep them from swerving off the road. "You juvenile!" she said laughing. "You perpetual clown."

He faced her. "Do you like me?" "I'm afraid I do."

The climb they were attempting wasn't arduous. They were going only part of the way up the mountain. At first the trail was no more than a leisurely uphill walk. As intervals Jaime stopped and pointed out flora beside the path. Once they stopped to watch tiny lizards in the grass.

This experience was something entirely new to him, and he thrilled to it like a small boy. His face was flushed when they came to the roaring cataract which graced the side of the high mountain lake called by the Indians Lake Tear-in-the-Clouds.

He leapt out to the big boulder in the very center of the raging flood, and waited for her to follow. Ann jumped, and he held her in his arms. They were both laughing hilariously when they sat down on the rock-island to catch their wind.

It hadn't been a bad climb, and now they were enjoying one of the most beautiful sights in the mountains. The sun, playing about the peaks, painted the water in fantastic mauve and purple. The roar of the water was pleasant in their ears. A faint cooling spray came up at intervals to revive them from blissful lethargy.

Jaime smoked and was silent, contemplating the grandest sight about. Ann leaned back on the rock, and watched the cirrus clouds chasing one another in the sky.

"You see how marvelous it is up here?" she said. "This is a real vacation spot."

"At least it's better than that dark little hole—the betting room. But it was too much work getting here!" Jaime smiled lazily down at her.

She sat up suddenly. "Jaime, why don't you do something? People love you. They are charmed by your charm, but they want to slap your hands and say, 'Get some ambition!'"

Jaime laughed at her. "I think you like me—just as I am," he said, and moved to kiss her.

"Conceded!" she answered, evading him.

He looked benevolently hurt, and sat very still, hugging his knees up to his chin. "All right, Jaime will be a good boy."

He looked up at the trail which led toward the top of the giant peak and said, "Should we climb or not?"

"Do you want to?" Her eyes were eager again.

"If you want to," he said with extreme courtesy. "I think I could go it until lunch time. After we've had our lunch we can start down again."

"Let's go!"

They came back to the little inn at a quarter to 4. Jaime went to his own hotel, pleasantly tired. He had to go to the racing room and see how much money he had lost on the day's races. He was losing steadily.

After a hot shower Ann felt refreshed and joined the crowd for tea in the lobby. It was hard to realize she had arrived at the resort only the afternoon before.

The hostess, Almee, was busy introducing new guests, and Ann felt like one of the oldest now. Almee talked to her like an old friend.

"We're going to have a steak roast on the lake shore tonight," she said. "Wouldn't you like to come, and bring your young man?"

"I'd love it, Ann told her. "But I'm afraid Mr. Laird is engaged."

A cheerful, masculine voice boomed behind them. "But Im not, and I love steak roasts!"

Ann turned to see the stalwart figure of Lefty Ponds. "Oh, it's you!" she said. "Almee, this is Mr. Lefty Ponds. He's a guest here."

Dallasite Tries To Kill Slayer Of His Brother

DALLAS, Aug. 4 (AP)—Champ Farrow, brother of a man slain in a liquor store fight today, was arrested after police said he tried to force his way into jail to kill his brother's slayer.

A. B. Farrow, 41, liquor store proprietor and former policeman, died from bullet wounds officers said were inflicted by a man who told them he was formerly a bodyguard of the late Mayor Cermack of Chicago.

Police said Champ Farrow threatened the jail elevator operator with a pistol after the alleged slayer was arrested and said "I'm going to kill him."

They said a policeman lunged at Farrow and disarmed him. Farrow was charged in county criminal court with carrying a pistol and aggravated assault on an officer.

Holland Farrow, another brother, said A. B. Farrow was shot when two attendants in the liquor store tried to remove two men from the place. He said the pair were taken to the door and one turned and fired one shot, fatally wounding Farrow.

Holland said he ran into the street and fired at a taxcab the two men boarded. He said his bullets missed their mark.

Police arrested the slayer in a downtown hotel a few minutes later.

Drought Says 'Nothing New' On PWA Status

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Aug. 4 (AP)—WPA Administrator H. P. Drought said last night there was no necessity for a Texas WPA-PWA conference to determine whether local relief labor is available for stationed PWA projects.

He said he was in constant touch with PWA headquarters in Fort Worth and that there was "nothing new" on efforts to find certified relief labor for public works projects.

He made this announcement after Senator Tom Connally announced he had received word from Washington that WPA merely would determine whether there is relief labor for PWA jobs. Connally said WPA of Drought and Julian Montgomery, PWA administrator in Fort Worth, confer.

From Washington it was announced recently some Texas PWA projects were being held up because proper relief labor was not available.

HADLEY WHIFFS 14 MEN BUT MIDGET CAFE BEATS ROAD RUNNERS 3 TO 2

DENVER CLUB WINS TILT IN NINTH INNING

COX COMMITS THREE ERRORS AT FIRST BASE

By HARRY HOARE, Daily News Sports Editor

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 4.—Pampa's Danziger Road Runners lost a thrilling tournament game to the Denver Midgets 3-2, last night when Pitcher Hadley weakened in the eighth, permitting a base on balls to be followed by a home run.

The team still remains in the running today, however, two defeats being necessary for elimination. The Runners won their first game Friday night from Leyden, Colo., 12 to 2.

Lee Daney, who hurled the Pampans to a neat victory in the first tournament clash, was not in uniform for the second tilt because of a torn ligament in his left side, and it was doubtful if he would be able to hurl the third game, scheduled either this afternoon or tomorrow afternoon.

Hadley, Amarilloan, who joined the Road Runners for last night's game, set a new record when he fanned 14 batters last night, besting Satchel Page, giant Negro, who fanned 12 yesterday afternoon.

The Pampa-Midget game was a beauty to watch from the thrill standpoint. The game was scoreless up until the last half of the eighth when Hadley walked Ferguson who scored ahead of Lee, Denver rightfielder, as the latter smacked a homer over Centerfielder Seitz's head inside the park.

Pampa tied it, up in their half of the ninth, Brickell walked, Littrell singled for his second hit one of the evening, and Hale's one-base bingle scored Brickell. Then Littrell scored on Cox's fly.

There was plenty of excitement in the stands as the Midgets came into bat in the last half of the ninth with the score two-nil.

They had made up their minds to break up the ball game in a rally. It happened. They opened the inning in double-quick fashion with singles right off the bat by Payne and Malloy. Stewart relieved Hadley at this point. Pister was safe on Cox' error.

Pitcher Burns decided he might as well see the thing up, so he singled to left, scoring Payne, and the game was over.

Lee, Denver rightfielder, was dynamite at the bat. He led the Midget attack with his home run and two singles. Malloy also had two singles.

The game was played in the cold. It had rained all of Monday afternoon here. The ground was soft and the balls took weird hops or stopped completely dead. Coburn, another Amarillo player, joined the Road Runners yesterday.

Clouting to Crown

LAKETON WINS FROM CARBON CLUB 10 TO 6

TENTH VICTORY IN 14 STARTS CHALKED UP BY TEAM

Spotting Western Carbon six runs in the first two innings, Laketon's defense rallied behind Alf West to grab a 10 to 6 decision Sunday for their tenth victory in 14 attempts this season.

Western Carbon lost no time getting to West, who held them to a single hit three weeks ago for a 2 to 0 win, and pushed their tallies across on five errors, two hits and a base on balls. West pulled his support together and held the Black Faces to three harmless hits the remaining seven innings. West grew better as the game rolled along, but his control left much to be desired.

Out of the grimy dust came third baseman McLaughlin to star for Laketon. Knocked out by a "bean ball" in the first inning, McLaughlin recovered to score three runs on three times at bat, getting a home run and a single plus two hits. After getting on his first game, McLaughlin threw out five men at first base and made a couple of putouts. Looper's triple, Barnes' and Ritchie's doubles, aided the Laketon cause in the fifth when Laketon scored eight runs after being held to that point in one hit by Mayes.

Laketon will play Shell on their home diamond next Sunday.

JESSE OWENS WILL PRESENT TREES TO 3 OHIO SCHOOLS

BY GAYLE TALBOT, Associated Press Sports Writer.

BERLIN, Aug. 4 (AP)—Ground-keepers in three Ohio schools might as well look around for handy spots to plant some oak trees this fall—genuine Olympic oaks presented with the compliments of Ohio's speediest son, Jesse Owens.

One is going to the junior high school in Cleveland, where Jesse first found he had lightning in his legs. Another is bound for his Cleveland high school.

The third is destined for the Ohio State University campus where he now goes to school.

One tree is already packed for shipping, a reward for his victory in the Olympic 100 meters final.

Owens confidently expected to collect the second today after the broad jump is finished, and run up a couple of installments on the third in the 200 meters event.

None would accuse him of overconfidence. He simply knows what he can do.

That's a grand feeling standing up there before all those cheering and the band playing the Star Spangled Banner and everybody saluting," Jesse said.

"I never felt like that before. I loved it and I'm going to stand up there two more times.

One of the first of the crowd of athletes who jammed into the room to see the shares with Dave Albritton, Ohio State high jumper, to congratulate Jesse was big Jack Torrance, the 300-pound Baton Rouge, La., policeman.

"Great stuff, Jesse. Wish I could have delivered like that," said the shot putter.

Two record breaking performances in her first appearance on the heavy stadium track left Helen Stephens of Fulton, Mo., in a class by herself in the 100 meters event. Stella Walsh appeared as the lone possibility to make Helen hustle to win the first of several Olympic crowns she has in mind.

Borger Gulf Team To Enter Softball Meet Next Week

ROWE SMACKS CLEVELAND IN 9-4 CONTEST

Managers Will Meet On Wednesday Night

Another Panhandle city is to be represented in the district softball tournament here next week, with entry of the Gulf team from Borger. Entries will close tomorrow, and a schedule for the games starting Monday will be made as soon as possible afterward.

Managers of all teams in this vicinity are asked to meet tomorrow evening at 8 at the Post-Mosley Norge store in the Combs-Worley building. Team managers from other cities are invited to attend the meeting if they wish. With Jack Kretzinger, district softball commissioner and tournament director, they will discuss definite tournament plans.

Use of Road Runner park has been granted to the softballers on an evening of the week when the Road Runners are not playing. The Skellytown diamond is also to be used for tournament games. It is already lighted, and temporary bleachers are to be erected and the playing field put in a tip-top shape.

Indications now are that about 20 teams, men's and girls, will be entered in the tourney. Amarillo, Canadian, LeFors, Borger and Pampa are represented in the entries already made. Teams must have their list of players filed with Mr. Kretzinger by tomorrow night to qualify for tournament play. Each club is allowed as many as 18 members, including the manager.

The only entry fee will be two new regulation balls, to be paid before the team plays its first tournament game. The winning teams will receive medals given by the Post-Worth Star-Telegram, and will be eligible to compete in the tournament at Fort Worth in September.

Plans to be made at the meeting tomorrow night will include those for the opening game, when Harold Kretzinger of Wichita Falls, state commissioner, will be present.

CATS CAPTURE 6TH PLACE IN TEXAS LEAGUE

DALLAS TAKES 6 TO 5 VICTORY FROM BEAUMONT

(By The Associated Press)

TODAY'S GAMES.

Beaumont at Dallas (night).
San Antonio at Fort Worth (day).
Galveston at Oklahoma City (night).
Houston at Tulsa (night).

From the eminence of sixth place league standings the up-and-coming Fort Worth Panthers could look over the green pastures of the first division today—a region they haven't explored this season.

Since the shift of managers in mid-season, the Cats have put on a sustained drive. Their campaign has raised them two notches out of the cellar they so long occupied.

Last night the Panthers inched closer to the descending Beaumont club, taking a close one from San Antonio, 4 to 2. Catcher George Susce did the hero role with a smashing homer worth two runs in the last half of the ninth. Before that it had been a nip-and-tuck pitchers' affair between San Antonio's Ash Hillin and Jackie Reid.

Dallas fans were given a foretaste of the football campaigns as the home towners justified Beaumont into a 4-to-5 defeat. Tony Rensa, Steer receiver, introduced effective line-smacking between San Antonio's winning run in the ninth. Out fully a yard to all appearances, Rensa scored when his bulk crashed into Catcher George Tebbets, who dropped the ball at the impact.

Houston alone found the bat work easy, submerging Tulsa 8 to 1. Heine Schube annexed two home runs and two doubles to lead his mates on a free-hitting spree good for 29 bases.

Old Dick Whitworth of Oklahoma City blanked Galveston 2-0, allowing six hits, never more than one on an inning.

Rams Trimmed 8-3 By Shell

A bombardment of hits by Shell and a couple of errors by the Rams broke a 2 and 2 tie in the eighth inning Sunday, and Shell finished with the long end of an 8 to 3 score.

Home runs by Trenary and Sullivan and a three base hit by Gregory boosted the tally. Other hitting for Shell were divided among C. Austin, Feltner, Harvey, and C. Austin. For the Rams, Wilson, Harvey, and Kretzinger led the hitting.

Osman and Trenary pitched for the winners, with Oiler and Stokes catching. The Rams also used two pitchers, Baer and Harvey, while Clemmons caught the entire game.

Shell has a game scheduled at Laketon next Sunday afternoon.

Favorites Find Tough Sledding In Net Tourney

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 4 (AP)—The favorites went into the second round of the 46th Meadow Club men's invitation tournament today wondering if the rest of the road would be as rocky as the first day's journey.

One high rated player, Hal Surface of Waldo, Mo., ranked 12th nationally and a Wimbledon competitor this year, lost to young Billy Reese of Atlanta, in straight sets, 6-4, 7-5.

Last year's finalists, Frank Parker, Spring Lake, N. J., and J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., managed to stay in the running.

Norcross Tilney of Orange, former Princeton tennis captain, gave Parker plenty of worry before the latter won, 9-7, 2-6, 6-2. Hall needed more than an hour and a half to dispose of Robert Underwood of Pasadena, Cal., 6-4, 5-7, 6-0.

Sindary Wood, former Davis Cup star and seeded No. 2 in the tournament, got off on the wrong foot against Henry Culey, of Santa Barbara, Calif., and had to go into extra sets to win, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN and Mike Jacobs ended their controversy over the staging of the James J. Braddock-Max Schmeling heavy-weight championship contest when they agreed to stage the scrap under joint auspices in the Garden's Long Island bowl between Sept. 24 and 30.

Smith Pockets $1,200 Prize

SEATTLE, Aug. 4 (AP)—MacDonald Smith wore the Seattle open golf championship crown today and pocketed $1,200 first prize money by reason of the six-stroke drubbing he gave Ralph Guldahl in their 18-hole playoff.

The master stylist from Nashville, Tenn., and Glendale, Calif., traveled the hilly, wooded course in 65, eight strokes under par and two under the competitive record. Guldahl, St. Louis, hung up a 71. He got second money—$760.

Sections of North Carolina and South Carolina and finally was buried in the cemetery of the Third Creek Presbyterian church near here.

The schoolmaster left written documents in Bennettsville, S. C., saying he was born in Scotland in 1787; but it is said he made this affidavit because he wanted his identity kept hidden.

Again, "substantiated" legend has it that on his death bed he said: "I am Marshal Ney of France."

To Reopen Grave

The marshal was said to have had a small silver trepan in his head, placed there as a result of a saber wound. When the grave of the teacher was opened 50 years ago, no trepan was found.

Charles W. Allison of Charlotte, N. C., who has studied the mystery for years, is directing preparations to search the grave once more for whatever may be found to throw light on the puzzle.

Dr. J. Edward Smoot of Concord, N. C., says he has gathered a great deal of material about the schoolmaster and marshal and is convinced they are the same.

Will Sift Earth

Allison says digging into the grave will begin about September 1.

"We may find the silver trepan, and we may not," he remarks. "If any bones remain, we may find a bullet or bullets in them. We plan to make an excavation about 10 or 12 feet and sift every bit of earth through a wire screen.

"We have another angle to investigate. The school teacher left written documents and so did Marshal Ney. We are now trying to obtain copies of the marshal's handwriting from France, and when we have these, handwriting experts should be

Floods Damage Colorado Area

WALSENBURG, Colo., Aug. 4 (AP)—Tired volunteers searched for missing persons today in the flood-ravaged section in the heart of this southern Colorado town, where the rain-swollen waters of the Cucharas river caused an estimated $500,000 damage last night.

Barricades were flung up about hundreds of evacuated houses in the flood area. Searchers combed the ruins for bodies of possible victims while anxious friends and relatives waited outside the barricades.

Sheriff Claude Swift said it was reported two automobiles were seen turning end over end as a wall of water rumbled through here down the usually dry river bed.

MYSTERY OF NAPOLEON'S MARSHAL SOUGHT FROM 90-YEAR OLD GRAVE

STATESVILLE, N. C., (AP)—A tiny piece of silver, a bullet in a bone or the flourish of a schoolmaster's pen is expected this September to dispel the century-old enigma of the fate of Marshal Ney.

For years dispute has raged over whether Michael Ney, Napoleon Bonaparte's famous military strategist, and Peter Stewart Ney, Carolina school teacher buried near here, may have been the same person.

Historians disagree. Some say the master swordsman of France was executed before a firing squad December 7, 1815, for high treason; some say the execution was faked, that Marshal Ney was permitted to escape to America.

Schoolmaster a Fencer

At any rate, a French fencing master and school teacher named Ney landed at Charleston, S. C., in January, 1816. He taught in many

WEDNESDAY IS "GARNER DAY" AT CENTENNIAL

Loafing And Fishing Interlude Ended For Trip

UVALDE, Texas, Aug. 5 (AP)—Vice-President John Garner raved up his fishing and loafing today for a whirl at the centennial celebration.

Sore muscles lingering from a fishing jaunt, when he did most of the rowing, did not hinder his eagerness for the trip to the Dallas exposition, where he will be an honored guest tomorrow.

"I am at their service," Garner said he he helped his wife with packing and other last-minute preparations for their afternoon departure. They planned to spend to-night in Austin as guests of Gov. and Mrs. James V. Alford and then drive into Dallas to participate in "Garner Day" festivities.

The Vice-President appeared to be in the best health he has enjoyed in years. For weeks he has been taking it easy around his tree-shaded Uvalde home, slipping away occasionally with fishing cronies to snag bass.

On the last junket, he decided to let Ross Brumfield and other friends with him do the casting while he rowed the boat "to get in condition."

Separate luncheons have been arranged for Garner and Mrs. Garner in Dallas tomorrow and, at night, they will attend a banquet. Afterward, the Vice-President will speak in the Cotton Bowl. He said his speech would be non-political but he would not comment on it.

"I have nothing to say along that line," he said, hurrying away to give final instructions to some workmen tidying up the grounds around his house.

Several of Garner's Uvalde friends will be at the Dallas banquet. From the Dallas exposition he will go over to Fort Worth to the Frontier Centennial there. Then, according to his plans, he intends to return home a while before plunging into the impending political campaign. He has never disclosed just what part he will play in the campaign but is expected to be active.

Texas grows more onions than any other state in the union.

MAN'S BROTHER STORMS PRISON HOLDING KILLER

Ex-Bodyguard From Chicago Is Held In Shooting

DALLAS, Aug. 4 (AP)—Suave, mustached George W. Redston, who told officers he was formerly an investigator in the Chicago state attorney's office and bodyguard for Anton Cermak, Chicago's assassinated mayor, was arrested today after the killing of A. B. Farrow at his luxurious downtown liquor spot.

Three hours later the slain man's brother, Champ Farrow, armed, stormed the city jail with the proclaimed intention of slaying the accused killer. He was overpowered.

Inspector of Detectives Will Fritz said the Chicagoan admitted he fired the shot but did not know he had killed Farrow. He escaped in a downtown hotel several minutes later.

Champ Farrow appeared at the city jail shortly after dawn, held a pistol on the elevator boy and said he was "going to kill the man that killed A. B." officers said.

Jail Supervisor S. C. Martindale lunged into the elevator, struggled with Farrow and wrested the gun from him. Farrow was placed in a solitary cell, charged in county court with carrying a pistol and aggravated assault upon an officer and later freed upon bonds of $500 in each case.

Holland Farrow, another brother, told officers that he and an attendant at the liquor spot, attempted to remove two men from the premises. One of them suddenly drew a gun at the door, wheeled and fired. The bullet struck A. B. Farrow, entering his arm and ranging through his chest.

Customers screamed as the killer leaped to a taxi and drove away. Holland Farrow grabbed a gun and fired two shots at the cab, one of which went wild and the other smashing a plate glass window in another night spot across the street.

Police said the Chicagoan appeared at the city hall and asked for Police Captain Max Doughty, and when informed he was off duty, disappeared.

He told Inspector Fritz he went by his home, changed clothes and went to a hotel, where he planned to meet friends.

Police, tipped that he might appear at the hotel, seized him as he talked over a house telephone.

Inspector Fritz quoted the man as saying: "I didn't know it hit anybody. I had been out to the Centennial and had managed to get a job. I was supposed to start work Tuesday. The man out there gave me a $10 advance and I came back to town and went to this place. The next thing I knew, bang—it had happened."

The Chicagoan said Farrow had threatened him and the Holland Farrow and another man had "man-handled" him.

He told officers he was married and had three children, aged 13 months, four years and 10 years. He has resided here more than two years and was formerly worked as a special investigator in the state's attorney's office at Chicago and had served as Mayor Cermak's bodyguard and secret investigator.

He said he was not with Cermak when he was fatally shot in Florida in an attempted assassination of President Roosevelt.

Farrow served on the Dallas police force from 1923 to 1930.

Texas University 'Nazified' Says Rep. Maverick

AUSTIN, Aug. 4 (AP)—Rep. Maury Maverick of San Antonio protested today what he said were attempts to "Nazify" the University of Texas.

The protest was an outgrowth of appointment of a faculty member to supervise the Daily Texan, student newspaper. Maverick called the action "censorship."

"That my university should adopt the policies of the communists and fascists in suppressing freedom of speech and press is astonishing," he said.

"The board of regents has issued a decree nazifying the university. Their ukase sounds almost exactly like the press decree of Hitler, communist Russia and fascist Italy."

"University authorities should have judgment enough to know that if they restrict the liberties of others and put the gag on the students they will themselves have the gag put on them."

Maverick conferred with Governor James V. Alfred and Dr. H. Y. Benedict, university president, and made written protests to H. J. Lutecher, Stark of Orange, chairman of the board of regents, President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago, and Dr. J. W. Studebaker, national commissioner of education.

since each battleship may cost something like $50,000,000. But they are only one item in the contest.

This year's program alone, if equally distributed, would cost nearly $4 for each person in America, $9 in England and $8 in France. Italy has a low mark of $3—not overlooking her huge and continuing military expenditure in the Ethiopian adventure.

The latest naval estimates for the year 1936-37—and they may have been altered in some cases since issued—are:

United States, $325,546,000; Britain, $349,850,000; France, $250,860,000; Italy, $135,246,000; Germany, not announced; Russia (for military defense), $3,108,000,000; Japan (for military defense), $689,000,000.

qualified for the 400 meter hurdle final.

Bobby Packard and Mack Robinson qualified with Owens for the 200 meter semi-finals.

Gisela Mauermayer of Germany eclipsed the Olympic record in trials of the women's discus throw.

With a single exception, America's wrestlers maintained an unbroken winning streak. Roy Dunn was eliminated in the heavyweight division.

Shortly before Owens' record-smashing leap, Helen Stephens, Fulton, Mo., captured the 100-meter final and gold medal. Her time was 11.5 seconds. She beat Stella Walsh of Poland, the defending champion by almost two meters.

Miss Stephens' time was one-tenth of a second slower than the 11.4 she ran in yesterday's first trials and which International Amateur Athletic Federation officials accepted today as the new world mark despite the fact it was made with a favoring wind.

Owens actually looked bad in breaking the record. Jesse appeared uncertain as he changed his pace near the takeoff and made a three-point landing on the right side of the pit.

On the second jump, Owens broke his new Olympic record, hurtling through the aid 7.87 meters, 25 feet 9 27/32 inches.

"Richards was told," Stine said, "that if the men returned to town that he would more than likely lead the procession in an ambulance."

"There has been no violence of any kind, however, it was stated. On Friday several of the men, employed in pushing dirt into the park dam, dumped their wheelbarrows into the mud and refused to continue.

Disgruntled workers have been causing minor troubles for several months, the city manager declared, but it was not until last Friday that it flared beyond control.

The five men who were suspended yesterday each was given five working days off and told that they could return to work at the end of that time if they were willing to abide by orders of the project foreman.

District Supervisor Heisk was out of the city today and could not be reached for a statement.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 (AP)—Renewal of heavy selling as trade approached an end, pushed the corn market down for the second time today to 4 cents a bushel lower.

Wheat gave way with corn and dropped about 4 cents. Late selling of corn was based largely on predictions of unsettled weather east of Mississippi, leading hope for a check of crop deterioration.

Corn closed flurried, 2 1/2-3/4 under yesterday's close, Sept. 1.10 1/2-1/4, Dec. 1.11 1/2-1/4, oats 1 1/2-2/4 off, and provisions unchanged to 2 1/2 cents lower.

Bitter Fighting In Gateways To Madrid Reported

(By The Associated Press)
In five theaters of war, Spain's popular front government threw manpower and shell against Fascist insurrectionists today, the most bitter fighting centering in the mountain gateways to the capital city of Madrid.

Dead littered the battlefield, said advices from Somo Sierra, after government lines repulsed rebels in the Guadaramas.

On another type of front—that of international relations—the French Socialist government grappled with the question of non-intervention in Spain.

Complicating France's attempt to obtain a general European agreement to let Spain settle its own internal quarrels was a report from Tangier, in the international zone of North Africa, that officers of two German warships in Ceuta had been received by a revolutionary.

Their host, said the report, was Gen. Francisco Franco, leader of the 18-day revolt against the Madrid Leftist government. Advices from Spanish Morocco related the German battleship Deutschland and the destroyer Luchs arrived off Ceuta yesterday to be greeted with siren blasts and cannon salutes.

Spanish Morocco is entirely rebel-held.

NOVEL FEATURES OF THIS YEAR'S CAMPAIGN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Charging that three arm threats were used to force trade unionists into the John L. Lewis camp, the prosecution today pressed the "trial" of Lewis and 11 other American Federation of Labor chiefs accused of rebellion.

John P. Frey, a federation official who is seeking to have the A. F. of L. executive council adjudge Lewis' committee for industrial organization guilty of insurrection, announced he would present documentary evidence that men had been threatened with beating to induce them to vote for industrial unionism.

This charge, voiced before the council gathered for the second day of the "trial," added new bitterness to the internal quarrel in the A. F. of L.

Lewis and his committee remained adamant that three arm threats in a mass production industry workers should generally be organized into one big industrial union regardless of craft divisions.

This has aroused the ire of craft union leaders dominating the A. F. of L. council, several of whom seem determined to suspend the Lewis faction from the federation.

Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and his associates, are leaders of more than 1,000,000 trade unionists.

Thomas Writes Landon A Letter

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Norman Thomas wrote Alf M. Landon today that the governor's record is "a matter of deep concern to the workers."

Charging that there was lack of protection of health and safety of workers in the lead and zinc area and "outrageously low" living conditions, the Socialist candidate wrote: "The entire situation is a blot" upon Kansas, Missouri, and Oklahoma. "Certainly," he added, "Kansas has done nothing to set a standard of hope and confidence for the workers."

Thomas expressed hope that the Republican candidate would give his views on efforts to organize sharecroppers and steel workers.

Thomas said he was "less enthusiastic about the Wagner labor relations law than some of its sponsors, because I fear what might happen to the workers under it if the government should become reactionary or semi-fascist."

Expressing the hope the Republican presidential nominee may see fit to discuss the law from the standpoint of its desirability, the Socialist candidate explained why he had supported it.

"I do believe in principle that by their very nature company unions are not and cannot be, a free expression of the interests of the workers, and are therefore not a suitable instrumentality of collective bargaining," he wrote. "The right of collective bargaining is essential to the workers. For this reason I have supported the Wagner law."
