Levelland Lobos Slip Past Mules 14-6

Friday night, November 2, the Muleshoe Mules all but dropped out of the running for the district championship with their second consecutive district loss, this coming from the hands of Levelland by the count of 14-6.

In the first half, Levelland was outplayed all over the field by the home team as the Mules compiled 140 total yards and nine first downs to 32 total yards and two first downs for Levelland. However, the first half ended in a 0-0 deadlock with the Muleshoe blowing two scoring opportunities with lost fumbles.

In the first half, Muleshoe tailback David Wheat picked up 104 yards rushing.

In the third quarter, Levelland moved out to a 14-0 lead with both touchdowns being either set up or scored on long runs by Lobo halfback Gary Behan who ended up the night with 2-1 yards rushing.

From then on the Mules had to play catch up football and could do little to even the score until only five minutes remained in the game.

The one score came on a 15 yard pass from quarterback Don Long to tight end Perry Stockard. The try for two failed and the Mules got the ball back one more time as the clock ran out on them.

Next week the Mules will battle Canyon at Canyon for their third district game.

Second Season Of Tritacale Study Begins

First plantings on the second season of a continuing tritacale study has been completed at the High Plains Research Foundation.

According to J. Joe Wright, associate agronomist in charge of new crops research, the tritacale study has been expanded this season to include studies on row spacings and seeding rates. Last year, studies included dates of plantings, irrigation methods and fertilizer rates and some variety studies.

Wright reported that arrangements had also been made to start a tritacale selection and introductions program this year. In cooperation with CIMMYT in Mexico, and the University of Manitoba in Canada, tritacale selections are being made available for testing in this area. "What we will be looking for are new spring types exhibiting winter hardiness," Wright said.

He said that the tritacale symposium conducted recently in Lubbock was very successful. "It is expected that in 1975, the international symposium will be conducted jointly here at the Foundation and in Lubbock," he stated.

The contract for the tritacale work is with Tritacale Foods Corporation of Muleshoe.

First Baptist Will Have Revival

John Mock has made an appeal for a Writ of Habeas Corpus to decide whether or not he had a fair trial when he was convicted in January of 1971.

Testimony of subpoenaed witnesses was heard Wednesday, October 31, and the hearing is to be continued on November 16 in the Bailey County courtroom.

Cattle Feeders Handbook Available

A comprehensive new reference book, "The Texas Cattle Feeders Handbook," has just been published by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with Extension Services of nine other Great Plains States, and provides timely information on all aspects of commercial cattle feeding, notes County Extension Agent Spencer Tanksley.

The new publication is composed of 50 bulletins or fact sheets, 25 of which are Texas publications and 25 from other states, announces L.A. Maddox, Extension beef cattle specialist.

"The whole endeavor is a part of the Great Plains Cattle Feeders Committee Project. We plan to make available a wide range of technical material of higher quality than ever before. New and revised information will be mailed to subscribers from now through September 1, 1975," Maddox added.

Co-authoring the handbook with Maddox are Dr. John Sweeten, Extension agricultural engineer in animal waste management; and Dr. Dennis B. Herd, Extension beef cattle specialist-nutrition.

The handbook includes broad segments of information on nutrition, feed preparation and storage, animal health, feedlot management, feedlot planning and equipment, figures for feeders, waste management, a feeders, waste management, and a section for miscellaneous publications and information, explains the county Extension agent.

This publication, numbered B-1133, sells for $10, which includes a subscription to any new fact sheets developed between now and September, 1975. It can be ordered through the Department of Agricultural Communications, Texas A&M University.

"We believe that this handbook contains the largest amount of organized information on cattle feeding that is available in Texas," adds Tanksley.

FOOTBALL ACTION . . . Pictured is some of the football action that took place Friday night, November 2, at the Muleshoe-Levelland football game. After a hard fought battle, the Levelland Lobos won the game by a score of 14-6. This gives Muleshoe two losses in district competition with two more games to be played. Next week the Mules will take on Canyon there and then the next week, November 16, the Mules will play their final game with Perryton here in Muleshoe.

Nine Amendments On Ballot Here Tuesday

Bailey County voters will trek to the polls Tuesday, November 6, to vote on nine proposed amendments to the Texas constitution.

Polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Voting Precinct One will vote at the Bailey County courthouse; Voting Precinct Two will vote at the West Camp Baptist Church; Voting Precinct Three will vote at the American Legion Hall; Voting Precinct Four will vote at the Three Way School; Voting Precinct Five will vote at the First United Methodist Church (use south entrance); Voting Precinct Six will vote at the Bula School; Voting Precinct Seven will vote at the Needmore Community Center; and Voting Precinct Eight will vote at the City Hall.

Following is a resume of the nine amendments as prepared by Rep. Bill Clayton:

Election time is almost here again. On November 6th we will vote on nine constitutional amendments.

Our present Constitution was adopted in 1876. Since that time, 343 amendments have been submitted and 212 have been adopted by the people. The original Constitution plus 212 amendments make a lengthy document. Because of this, the voters on November 7, 1972, adopted the amendment that created a Constitutional Commission and set up the procedures for a Constitutional Convention which will begin the second Tuesday in January of 1974. The Constitutional Revision Commission has finished its work and will present it to the delegates next month. As a delegate to the Convention, I hope you will let me have the benefit of your thoughts on constitutional revision. I hope to set up meetings in each of the towns in the district between now and January to meet with anyone who desires to address themselves to constitutional revision.

The November 6th election, however, deals with some very crucial areas in our present constitution. There is a possibility that a new constitution may not be adopted by the voters. Should this happen, we will continue to operate under our present constitution--with or without these new amendments. It is for this reason that I urge you to give special attention to this election.

Now to the matters at hand--the nine amendments we will be voting on on November 6th. Space will require the analysis to be brief, but I hope it will help you in deciding the issue.

Amendment No. 1--on the ballot authorizes annual sessions of the legislature and increases the legislative pay from $4,800 to $15,000 per year. Those for this amendment say Texas government is a $5 billion a year business and requires more attention than it did in years past; therefore it requires full-time representatives and compensation to retain or to get good people interested in serving in the legislature. Those against this amendment say $4,800 a year is what the pay was when a representative ran for the job and that the cost of government is high enough now.

Amendment No. 2--on the ballot is a proposal that would give single adults with real property the same protection and security from forced sale for debt of their homestead that is now given to families. It also provides that a family homestead may not be abandoned without the consent of both spouses. Proponents of the amendment argue that single adults deserve the same protection against creditors as do married adults and there should be no discrimination. Opponents say there is an increasing number of single adults and because the homestead exemption was designed primarily to protect innocent family members of the debtor and not the debtor himself, it therefore should not be extended to single adults.

Amendment No. 3--would extend the $3,000 ad valorem tax exemption to the homestead of unmarried adults. Those for the amendment say that the present law that partially exempts homesteads from state and county tax purposes for persons 65 and older discriminates against single persons. Those who oppose the amendment say that the exemption should sharply reduce tax revenues that are urgently needed at this time and unfairly shift the tax burden.

Amendment No. 4--would provide notice to cities and counties and give them the authority to approve or disapprove the creation of conservation/reclamation districts. Those for this amendment say that it will give those cities and counties some responsibility for the bonded indebtedness of these districts that lay within their territories. Those against say that the cities and counties already have ample opportunity to voice their approval or disapproval of plans of a municipal water district when state agencies and legislators are considering their creation.

Amendment No. 5--would provide that counties and cities bordering the Gulf of Mexico may levy a tax for construction of sea walls and breakwaters by majority vote of the resident tax payers. This would not effect our area; however, supporters of the amendment say many of the Texas coastline communities cannot raise enough tax to adequately protect themselves against hurricanes, while on the other hand, the opponents say that man-made barriers such as sea walls will speed erosion of the beaches and destroy the recreational value of the shoreline.

Amendment No. 6--if passed, would grant the district court the general jurisdiction of a probate court and would authorize the legislature to adjust the jurisdiction of the courts in probate matters. Those who are for this amendment say it is needed to meet public demand for a simplified, efficient probate system. Those who oppose this amendment say the legislature, under present constitutional authority, already has created county probate courts and county courts with sufficient probate jurisdiction.

Amendment No. 7--would provide an additional $100 million in state bonds for the veterans land fund and would also extend the classification of those eligible to include surviving spouses of an eligible veteran. Those who favor the amendment say that there are veterans who have not exercised their rights under the Texas veterans land program of buying land with money from the state at low interest rates. Those that oppose the program say the high cost of land makes the small amount you receive from the veterans land fund insufficient to purchase a tract.

Construction Meeting Will Be Held Here

A pre-construction meeting for highway projects on Farm to Market Roads 1760 and 3216 have been scheduled for 11 a.m. Friday, November 9, in the Highway Department Warehouse at Muleshoe.

The purpose of this meeting is to promote safety to the traveling public and construction personnel and to discuss the project's plans, specifications and the contractor's plan and schedule of operations.

All interested persons are welcome to attend the meeting.

Food And Fiber Month Proclaimed In State

Sure, everyone knows that agriculture is big business in Texas! But just how big is it? With November designated as Food and Fiber Appreciation Month in the state, now is a good time to take a brief look at the bigness of Texas Agriculture, points our County Extension Agent, Spencer Tanksley.

First of all, agriculture in all its phases -- agribusiness -- adds more than $10 billion to the Texas economy each year. Agribusiness provides employment for about 30 per cent of the state's labor force.

Of the state's 168 million acres of land area, 142 million are devoted to agriculture.

Realized gross farm income in 1972 totaled $4.7 billion, up 13 per cent from 1971. However, farm production expenses totaled $3.8 billion, almost 23 per cent higher than in 1971. This left realized net income 19 per cent below that of 1971, but a boost in farm inventories brought total net farm income up 28 per cent over in 1971.

Texas is the third leading state in total agricultural cash receipts behind California and Iowa. However, farm production. However, it leads the country in producing cotton, grain sorghum and rice and is the top cattle producer. Texas also leads in the production of sheep and wool, goats and mohair.

The state is also a leader in other enterprises:

Fourth in agricultural exports, leading in cotton and rice exports and second in hides, tallow and meat products.

Third in vegetable production, leading in cabbage, watermelon and spinach and second in onions, carrots and cantaloupes.

Second in grapefruit production and third in oranges.

First in native pecans and TOP SELLERS . . . Ricky Mata and Kem Bales tied in selling the most newspaper subscriptions for the Muleshoe High School Band. They each received $12.50 for their efforts. The entire band sold $822.75 in subscriptions and the band will receive 35 per cent on renewals and 50 per cent on new subscriptions of the above amount.

Pep Will Hold Annual TG Festival

The 28th Annual Thanksgiving Festival will be held at Pep, Texas on Thursday, November 22, in St. Philips Parish Hall and Educational Building.

The Pep Famous Sausage, Turkey, Dressing and all the trimmings will be served from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. and from 5 p.m. until 7 p.m. Adult plates will be $3 and children under 10 will be $2.

Preparations are being made for carnival attractions during the day for all ages. A general auction will be held at 6:30 p.m. and a dance will be held at 9 p.m. featuring music by a western band.

Everyone is welcome to join in the festivities.

Consumer Price Index

WASHINGTON -- The Consumer Price Index rose 0.3 percent in September to 135.5 (1967-100), the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U.S. Department of Labor reported.

Higher mortgage interest rates and price increases for apparel and some foods--notably cereal and bakery products and restaurant meals--contributed significantly to the rise.

The effect of these increases were moderated by declines in prices of some other foods, particularly fresh vegetables and poultry.

The September index was 7.4 percent higher than a year ago. On a seasonally adjusted basis, the August-to-September increase in the CPI was also 0.3 percent. The food index declined 0.1 percent; and the nonfood commodities index increased 0.1 percent after seasonal adjustment. The services index rose 0.9 percent.

In the June-to-September quarter, the CPI rose at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 10.3 percent compared with 7.4 percent in the quarter ended in June and 8.6 percent in the quarter ended in March.

The food index rose at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 28.8 percent. The rate of increase was more than in the June quarter, primarily due to the sharp food price increase in August, and overall about the same as in the March quarter.

The nonfood commodities index increases at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 2.6 percent in the September quarter, half as fast as in the June quarter. The services index rose at an annual rate of 7.4 percent in the September quarter, compared with 4.5 and 3.6 percent in the two preceding calendar quarters.

The index for food purchased in grocery stores declined 1.4 percent in September, but the index for food away from home--restaurant meals and snacks--rose 1.9 percent.

The drop in grocery store food prices was about twice the usual seasonal decline. Fresh vegetable prices fell substantially. Fresh fruit prices also decreased. Poultry prices declined sharply, and pork and egg prices moved down from their high August levels.

Prices rose for most other food items. The increase was exceptionally large for cereal and bakery products. Prices of dairy products and some processed fruits and vegetables rose sharply. Prices of meats, other than pork, and fish continued to increase.

Food prices in grocery stores were collected on Sept. 4, 5 and 6. The price freeze on all foods except beef was terminated on July 18. The freeze on beef prices ended on Sept. 10.

The index for nonfood commodities rose 0.4 percent, slightly more than is usual for September. The index for apparel commodities rose seasonally, reflecting higher prices for fall and winter clothing, particularly for women's and girls'.

Prices were higher for houses, fuel oil and coal, textile house-furnishings, and most household durables.

The effects of these increases were partially offset by price declines for gasoline and new and used cars. New car prices did not decline as much as they usually do at the end of the model year.

Food Stamps Available At Post Office

Muleshoe Postmaster Spencer Beavers announces that beginning November 1, food stamps will be available for purchase at the post office in Muleshoe on Monday through Friday, except on Federal holidays.

Food stamps may be purchased between the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. by persons certified as being eligible by the State Department of Public Welfare.

The person will receive an identification card at the time he is certified and will receive an Authorization to Purchase (ATP) card in the mail each month. Both cards must be presented at the time of food stamp purchase.

that they haven't ginned a great deal of cotton yet.

Shafter Gin Co. reports having ginned about 70 bales of cotton and said that last year at this time they hadn't even begun ginning.

Again the good weather in October contributed greatly to the early start of harvest.

Muleshoe Co-op Gin reported that they had already ginned about 20 bales.

The bulk of the cotton harvest will come in this month if the weather holds out.

I have often said that government gets itself in trouble many times simply because people are complacent and do not take a part. I don't think this is the case with people in our area, and I would encourage each of you to study these amendments and to participate. Go to the polls and vote. Your vote could make the difference.

These are just a few of the things that Texas is noted for on the agricultural scene. Agriculture continues to grow and to become more diversified, and it must do so to meet the ever-increasing demands for high quality food and fiber products, points out Tanksley.

Green Bolls In Ricked Cotton Not Advisable

LUBBOCK -- Efforts to handle defoliated cotton by ricking can get producers into trouble, says an agricultural engineer here.

Roy Childers, Lubbock-based specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that because of a bumper crop cotton season, more defoliated cotton is being harvested. Farmers, in an effort to handle the increased volume on schedule, are ricking this defoliated cotton.

"This haste could make waste," he says.

"Defoliated cotton sometimes has green trash material and green bolls. These are not as prevalent in frost-killed cotton. Green leaf trash and green bolls are estimated to contain 70 percent or higher moisture," he adds. "If this material is placed in the rick, it can cause the cotton to heat and thus deteriorate in quality."

Some producers also have toyed with the idea of shutting off the green boll separator in their harvesters and placing all the green bolls in the rick.

"This could be disastrous," he exclaims.

The engineer explains that in cotton which is 90 percent open, a 2,300-pound bale would comprise 2,070 pounds of burr cotton. With an average of six percent moisture, the 90 percent open cotton would yield 125 pounds of water.

The other 10 percent would be green bolls. At 70 percent moisture, it would take 766 pounds of green bolls to get 230 pounds of lint. Based on that figure, Childers estimates the bolls would contain 536 pounds of water.

This totals 2,836 pounds of material which goes into the rick, he says, of which 661 pounds is water. By placing high moisture material in the rick, the six percent moisture content would be raised to an average of over 23 percent.

ballot, amendment no. 9,--would exempt certain personal and real property of non-profit water supply corporations and cooperatives from property taxation. Those who support this amendment simply indicate that a rural water supply should be treated the same as a city water supply and that it should not be taxed for state and county ad valorem tax purposes. Those who oppose this amendment say that such an exemption would give the non-profit organization an advantage over privately owned water supply corporations that are in the business of selling water for a profit.

Market Report

COLLEGE STATION -- Consumers will find the red meat and fryer chicken counters more attractive this week.

"Fryer chickens remain the number one bargain in many meat department," Mrs. Gwendolyn Ciyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, pointed out.

"Watch for pork values on a number of fresh and smoked selections--with best ones on loin and shoulder cuts.

"Weekend bargains include end-cut roasts and chops, hams, picnics and shoulder roasts and steaks. Also be on the look-out for attractively-priced liver and sausage," she added.

Beef prices seem to have steadied, with features on some cuts, the specialist continued.

"For best buys, look to arm and blade pot roasts and steaks, stew meat, ground beef, round steaks and roasts, rib steaks, and liver.

"When finding an attractive special on roasts, be thrifty and buy two--one to cook now and another to freeze."

Although priced considerably higher than a year ago, frozen turkeys are hitting the market in good supply, Mrs. Ciyatt said.

"Fresh fruit and vegetable items in ample supply at the most economical prices include apples, juice oranges, bananas, pears, Tokay grapes and cranberries.

"Also potatoes, lettuce, celery, sweet potatoes, cabbage, carrots, dry yellow onions, rutabagas, hard shell squash, collards, mustard and turnips and greens."

Boyer is superintendent of dependent schools in Jackson County. His school is "one-of-a-kind". It is underground. He said, "The Temperature is the same in summer and winter. The acoustics are good, and nobody is afraid of a storm."

Boyer's wife teaches in the school and loves teaching and working with children.

Featuring among the collection: a whale oil lamp circa 1850; signal boat lights dating around 1900; bicycle lantern; skating lantern; miner's kerosene lamp dating between 1880 and 1910.

He also owns a 1910 vintage laboratory light and a 1904 patented Boy Scout camping lantern, which was also displayed. Mr. and Mrs. Boyer have traveled through New Mexico, Colorado, Arkansas, Texas and most of Oklahoma to find the lanterns.

The family--more than any other force--determines the kind of people we are and the kind of people tomorrow's citizens will be. The personality and character of people, after all, determine what tomorrow will be says Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Long sweaters of crocheted and knit are in the news. These range from hip length to coat length. Long dresses of crocheted and knit are being seen.

HOBBY CLUB SPEAKER . . . Lee Boyer, superintendent of dependent schools in Jackson County, gave a program on lanterns to the Hobby Club Thursday, November 1, at 2:00 in the Mule shoe State Bank community room. He has collected lanterns for 18 years and has 125 in his collection.

Mrs. Inez Sanders of Morton came in to see her mother, Mrs. Hardin and Mrs. Emmanuel.

I read this little item recently and it means so much just knowing our senior years may help some one that might need our council and our prayers and little things we may do or say. "Old age is a time to counsel the young, to help the troubled to comfort the lonely, the sick and the needy. The more meaning you have found in life, the clearer will be the meaning of old age." May God give us the wisdom we pray.

Rose Chapter Plans Projects For Year

On October 17, the Rose Chapter had a meeting at 4:00 p.m. in the Homemaking foods lab. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss upcoming projects.

The first thing discussed was impact which is where the organization concentrates on one or two main projects a year long and makes them really work and succeed. Suggested for the main projects were:

Clean up and redecorate the two girls' bathrooms in high school; make a poster of all the teachers in the four schools and switch them all around so the teachers can see and get to know what all the other teachers look like and teach; celebrate the teachers' birthdays in the different schools by taking two cakes or something every two months or so; and go down to the nursing home and do volunteer work.

A letter with these suggestions on it will be sent to each FHA member, and each will vote on which two she would like to do. The two with the most checks will be the projects for the year.

Also in the letter will be a chance to vote on the Sweetheart Banquet and whether or not to have it. Whatever is decided by these votes will be what goes.

The freshmen have all turned in their fish and now the time has come to find the winner. The committee for counting the names on the fish are Carol Brown, Debbie Purcell, Janet Hopper and Vickie Griffin. Janet Hopper is in charge of finding a prize for the winner. The winner was announced at the installation of officers held Monday night at 7:00 p.m. in the auditorium. Ross and Rossbud officers were installed together. Refreshments were served afterward in the Homemaking kitchen. Those who served were Janet Hopper, Vickie Griffin, Debbie Purcell, Linda Balderas, Jana Garrett, Tammy Webb, Regina Poteet, Connie Floyd, Alta Ramm, Cindy Chandler and Danita Throckmorton. Practice for the installation was held Sunday, October 21, at 2:00 p.m. in the auditorium.

The Halloween Carnival booth was discussed next. It was decided to raffle off tickets for three stuffed animals. A first, second, and third prize were given. There was a rest area and sale of candy, ice cream, candied apples, etc. The committee to continue on the discussions were Alta Ramm, Cindy Hall and Tammy Webb.

It was next discussed whether to have officers uniforms. It was decided to have skirts, blouses and sweater. The committee to decide on the pattern and material is Sherrell Rascoe, Janet Hopper and Regina Poteet. Officer pins will be separate and can be ordered if desired but will not be necessary. Encounter pins will be presented to each girl by the chapter when she finishes each level.

The meeting was adjourned, but everyone who was interested stayed afterward so Danita Throckmorton could tell how she is to work on. Then she will write down the level and write the different sections with her goals for each. At least three goals need to be put down and more can be if desired. When each goal is reached the girls need to note it with how she reached it. These should be turned in to Danita Throckmorton or Carol Brown; and if the girl has achieved that level, she will receive her pin and may go on to the next level. These need to be started as soon as possible.

DDKG Adds New Members

by Jana Oyler

Die Deutsche Kulturelle Gesellschaft met Thursday, November 1, in the cafeteria, with nine new members and the six original members attending.

After the minutes were read, the Treasurer reported on finances. It was discussed having a skit for the whole school and caroling for Christmas.

Each member will be assigned a week to make a poster to increase interest in German.

It was decided to have a party on Wednesday, November 21, from 4-6 p.m. The party will be at Jana Oyler's house, and German food will be served.

The President then appointed a committee to write a Constitution. Members are Steve Block, Carl Newell, Jana Oyler, and Franklin Smith.

Coaches

This past week was open for the Mules as they brushed up on fundamentals in preparation for the Levelland game.

Against Damas, the Mules' team made too many mistakes to win, both offensively and defensively. In the remaining district games, a person should look for a better effort in both phases of the Mule's game.

Levelland has a good running back in Sam Mitchell and the Mules must contain the Lobo running game in order to beat Levelland.

A bright spot for the Mules is Damas' loss to Canyon which left the district race wide open as far as the Muleshoe team is concerned. Also a few players injured earlier in the season have started to recover.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEX.--Some 230,000 aged, blind and disabled receiving state aid are being notified they will get final welfare checks from the State Welfare Department in December.

The federal government assumes responsibility for their assistance January 1, under the new Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program administered by the Social Security Administration.

Medical and social services and food stamps for eligible persons will remain the responsibility of the state welfare agency.

The elderly who get Social Security checks will continue to receive them along with a second check from SSI if they qualify under the federal program.

Most recipients will get higher assistance payments under SSI. Some, however, will receive less. Residents of nursing homes or institutions will remain eligible for medical assistance.

The State Welfare Department will continue to furnish the needy with glasses, dentures, hearing aids, prescribed drugs, medical services and food stamps if they qualify.

Eighty-four per cent will receive more money; two per cent will lose assistance altogether; reductions can be expected by nine per cent and five per cent will get about the same amount.

In most cases of loss or reduction, benefits will be compensated through state-administered social services programs like foster care for the aged and homemaker and chore services enabling people to remain in their own homes rather than enter nursing homes.

SSI recipients can get food stamps if their amount of benefits is not greater than the amount of welfare grants added to the amount of the food stamp bonus coupons they are eligible for in December.

MARIJUANA CASES TO GET REVIEW--Gov. Dolp Briscoe said he will seek a case-by-case review of some 300 persons serving prison time for possession of marijuana.

Briscoe promised a policy statement when the Court of Criminal Appeals finalizes its ruling that resentencing provisions of a new drug law which sought to permit sentences of present inmates to be shortened. The new law lowers first offense marijuana possession penalties to a misdemeanor.

The Governor indicated he will ask the Board of Pardons and Paroles to make recommendations to him in each case for possible pardon or executive clemency. Preference will go to first offenders sentenced for possession of small amounts of marijuana.

Meanwhile, Briscoe differed with some of his top supporters on priority for distribution of funds from his big October 30 fund-raising dinner. Dinner co-chairman Joe Kilgore said the "first commitment" on the expected $750,000 or more will be to Briscoe's 1974 re-election campaign. Briscoe said he is not yet a candidate, and his idea of first priority financially is retiring the deficit from his two prior campaigns (which once ran as high as $800,000).

RURAL DEVELOPMENT URGED--A Governor's Conference on Rural Development heard calls to join in promoting increased employment and economic expansion in declining small communities.

Waco Congressman Bob Poage said it is cheaper to revitalize the rural areas than to prevent deterioration of sagging major cities.

Governor Briscoe said he can't reverse migration to cities, but he wants to offer Texans "a wider range of choices of where they live and work."

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White urged a statewide program to finance family farm agriculture and rural recreation facilities.

COURTS SPEAK--A Cameron County youngster whose parents live in Matamoros, Mexico, is entitled to attend Brownsville public schools since he lives there with a legal guardian, the State Supreme Court held.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed and remanded the convictions of two Dallas men for the killing of three deputy sheriffs in 1971 due to improper prosecution arguments to the jury about "open season" on police officers.

The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a 50-year sentence of a Bexar County man for rape of a nurse.

A Milam County district court entered an agreed judgment for the state requiring Aluminum Company of America to complete an 11-point air pollution abatement schedule at its Rockdale plant and pay $20,000 in civil penalties.

Intercontinental Steel was ordered in Houston to pay $3,000 in civil penalties to the city and state for violating open burning regulations.

NEW INDUSTRY PROSPECTS COUNTED--Texas Industrial Commission has registered 286 prospects during a campaign to attract out-of-state and foreign industries to the state.

Already 38 have located in Texas. Thirty-eight others have visited the state during the last year, and nine have announced intentions to locate plants in Texas.

Prospects included 35 from New York, 31 from California, 26 from Illinois, 16 from Pennsylvania, 11 from Massachusetts, 16 from Japan, five from Canada, four from Germany and one from Denmark.

APPOINTMENTS--Don Rives of Marshall will succeed Steve Oaks of Houston January 1 as executive assistant to Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby.

Governor Briscoe named to the State Board of Medical Examiners Dr. Joe T. Gilbert of Austin, Dr. Robert B. Harris of Houston and Dr. Carlos D. Godinez of McAllen and reappointed Dr. Howard R. Coats of Tyler.

The Governor appointed Mrs. Ben Carpenter of Irving to the Texas Woman's University board of regents.

He picked for the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners Dr. Ronald M. Garrett of Waco, Dr. John F. Stewart Jr. of Giddings and Dr. Charles E. Courtion of San Angelo.

His choices for the State Board of Registration for Public Surveyors were Bennis (cd) W. Meeks of Center and Irving H. Webb of Buchanan Dam. Briscoe appointed B.C. Lively of Livingston to the Trinity River Authority Board of Directors and A.R. Johnson of Arlington and Mrs. Louise Massey of Monahans to his Committee on Aging.

An investment in Your Future ATTEND CHURCH

"For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also"

SURE HANDS OF THE SURGEON

A child walks... an arm is straightened... a growth is removed... these and many other things are the result of the fine work of the surgeon. This is an occupation and a labor worthy of appreciation.

A star... a new born baby... the world itself... these and many other things reveal God to us. "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handiwork."

Psalm 19: 1

God has wrought a great work. Let us show our love and appreciation by worshipping him in Church

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Banana Peels And The Law

So many people are injured by stepping on banana peels and other slippery substances that lawyers talk about "slip-and-fall" as a separate branch of law. And special rules are invoked to determine questions of legal liability. Take a typical case:

A housewife, shopping at the market, skidded on a banana peel, fell, and sustained a broken arm. When she filed suit for damages, the management argued that the peel had probably been dropped by a careless customer—not by an employee of the market.

But the woman pointed out that the peel had been lying in plain sight of four checkout clerks—and that two other employees had walked right past it shortly before her accident. This was poor maintenance, said the court, upholding the woman's claim.

Generally speaking, the management of a store is liable for a slip-and-fall accident if it knew—or should have known—about the hazardous condition. This may call for a kind of detective work in figuring out how long the slippery material had been lying on the floor.

For example, liability in one case was based largely on the fact that the ice cream on which a man slipped had pretty much melted; in another, that a lettuce leaf was "old, dirty, and mashed" when stepped on; in another, that a fallen piece of candy had heel marks in it.

These telltale clues helped to prove that the object had been on the floor long enough to have been observed and cleared away, if store employees had been on their toes.

On the other hand, the management may be able to pin a negligence label on the victim himself for not having been more alert.

Furthermore, a store cannot be held liable merely because the accident happened on its premises. Thus, a man who slipped on a pencil found himself unable to win damages from the market where it happened.

The court said there was simply no way to discover who had dropped the pencil or how long it had lain there. Placing blame on market employees, said the court, would be a "mere guess."

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz October 23 strongly reiterated his stand against export controls on cotton or other agricultural commodities and expressed the belief that his position is gaining support among the sometimes control-happy powers of Washington.

The Secretary's statements were made in a Washington conference with 10 executive officers of cotton producer organizations from across the cotton belt and a representative of the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, who was chairman of the producer group, said "We came away feeling somewhat better about prospects for continuing unrestricted sales to our foreign customers, which is extremely important to the cotton industry and to our area in particular."

The possibility of exports being curtailed, as proposed by the domestic textile industry and some consumer advocates, has been and continues to be a major threat to the current boom in cotton prices and to further development of foreign markets.

The session with Secretary Butz was requested by producer organizations to express their collective gratitude and continued support for his effective opposition to con-controls.

"In this instance as in others the Secretary has been one of the cotton producer's very best friends," Johnson said, "and he is deserving of the highest praise for having withstood the pressures that have been exerted on him and his office from a number of directions."

According to Johnson the Secretary agreed with the producer contention that controls on cotton exports are in no way justified and would be more harmful than helpful to the industry and to the nation.

"In the judgement of those at the meeting," Johnson said "with the Secretary's valuable support and with help from our other friends in Washington, export controls do not appear to be on the near horizon."

In addition to Johnson from the High Plains, representatives attended the meeting from the Texas Rolling Plains, the Lower Rio Grande Valley, South Texas, Louisiana, Arizona, California, Arkansas, the Southeast and the Producer Steering Committee of the National Cotton Council.

Care should be taken that any State actions with regard to forward contracting of cotton in Texas is effective, equitable, practical and compatible, according to Cotton Fanning, Executive Assistant at Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Fanning made this statement at a hearing conducted October 26 in Lubbock by Representative E.L. Short of Tahoka, Chairman of the Food and Fibers Marketing Subcommittee of the Texas House Agriculture Committee.

Noting that the major problem with forward contracting is in the area of contract performance, he said much discussion in Texas and across the Cotton Belt has to date failed to arrive at the "perfect solution" and the PCG was therefore unable to make specific recommendations to the Subcommittee.

"I can say, however," he continued, "that whatever action the Committee takes or considers taking should meet four criteria:

"It should be effective as a means to make forward contracting a better marketing tool;

"It should be equitable in that it will not unfairly jeopardize the interests of either party to a contract;

"It should be practical in that it will not cause either party to incur prohibitive costs or unnecessary inconvenience, and

"It should be compatible with procedures used elsewhere in the Cotton Belt, to the end that Texas producers will not be placed at a competitive disadvantage."

He concluded by saying "To meet all these requirements will not be an easy thing, but if any useful purpose is to be served, they must all be met."

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm gets into some deep matters this week, more or less.

Dear editor:

This is not only out of my field but also over my head but for the past few days I've been struggling over how we can use our Constitutional scholars.

According to what I've been reading in the newspapers, there is a great division of opinion in Washington and around the country over what the Constitution says on such matters as whether or not the President has the right to withhold his tapes even if they might contain evidence in a criminal trial, or over the question of whether a Vice President can be indicted before he's impeached.

Some Washington officials say yes to both questions, others say no, so what do they do? They call in outstanding Constitutional scholars. And what do the scholars say?

Some say yes, some say no. In other words, after a lifetime spent in studying the Constitution, the scholars can't come any closer to a unanimous agreement than the rest of us, most of whom have never read the Constitution all the way through in the first place. I'm not going to say that the scholars have wasted their time, but I suspect they've been given the wrong questions. You don't have to have memorized the Constitution to know it doesn't say anything about tapes, but if you got as far as the 8th grade you know it says all men are created equal, not necessarily in talent and brain power but equal before the law, and it doesn't excuse even Presidents and Vice Presidents from this splendid treatment of the human race.

I didn't intend to get so serious, I just wanted to point out that when you consult more than one scholarly authority on any subject you're likely to come out with more than one answer. If you want to know what the Constitution says on most issues, figure out what would be fair and you'll find that's what it was trying to say. I don't think the Constitution says anything about this, but after a lifetime of scholarly studying of the matter, I've noticed that in the long run you wind up tired-er than in the short run.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Same Game Game, New Rules For Ag. Producers

COLLEGE STATION-----
"Who's on first, what's on second?"

"Some farmers and ranchers may be in a quandry over the present state of affairs, but the ball game hasn't changed--just the rules," says Cecil Parker, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"For the first time in a long while, agricultural producers find themselves in a situation where both costs and prices are rising. In recent years, production costs have risen while prices received for agricultural products remained generally stable. But now prices are also moving up and producers are finally seeing the outcome of the ball game in a different light." The Texas A&M University System economist points out that farm prices, costs and demands for farm products have reached a new plateau during the first half of 1973. But how long will this situation continue?

Parker expects present conditions in the farm economics picture to continue until at least 1975. "Record crops are expected this year and in 1974 and there should be no drastic change in domestic and foreign demands for agricultural commodities during the next two years."

According to the economist, U.S. farmers could realize a gross income of about $85 billion this year. This would be a 23 percent, or $19.5 billion, increase over 1972. Of course, production expenses have also shown a record increase and could be up about $12 billion by the end of the year.

During the first six months of 1973, costs of farm-originated production inputs--feed, seed and feeder cattle--averaged 35 percent above the first half of 1972. At the same time, production inputs of non-farm origin--fertilizer, fuel, equipment--increased only 7 percent during the first half of 1973 compared to the same period last year.

What do the coming months hold as far as farm costs are concerned?

"Record crops this fall should lower feed costs somewhat," believes Parker. "However, the prices of those input items not originating on the farm will continue at a high level and may even increase due to increased production costs."

Wise persons keep their reputations by keeping their tongues at rest.

Grandson--Yes, mam. He doesn't put no expression in it at all.
