Plan now to attend the Panhandle Centennial celebration at Pampa June 2, 3, 4, and 5, with which is combined a Pioneer's Roundup and Oil Men's Reunion. It is a GREATER celebration for the whole Panhandle.

Twinkles
Well, most everyone can welcome Tom Hunter in the governor's race—now we'll not have to remember any of the many candidates except Tom and Jimmie. Highway robbery would be flattering to most of us if the robbers would only be kind. But one never knows when the thugs may in an ugly mood—and that makes us nervous.

While old men are playing golf (not to mention the others) and the younger men and boys are playing ball this spring, we wonder what the women and girls do with their time when not dusting. After attending another session of the Panhandle Press association and hearing the debates, we conclude that all of the editors are columnists by inclination, but perhaps most of them are a bit too lazy to do this daily chore.

Of course, one or two (not WORDS) Panhandle columnists are reputedly too lazy to do anything but write a column. Maybe not lazy, either—just tired out what with attending meetings and banquets from day to day.

Musing of the moment: Skippy, the family dog, asks us to publish this Associated Press item from Marion, O.

Fritz, a mongrel airedale shepherd puppy, ended a 13-day vigil happy. His mistress, 16-year-old Elizabeth Stinson, nursed him through a serious illness once. So when she came down with appendicitis, he tried to respond in kind.

He sat outside the hospital door in darkness and in sunshine, in snow and bitter cold. Nurses persuaded him to eat after a few days, but he showed little interest in food.

When Elizabeth was wheeled out to go home, Fritz leaped joyfully on the stretcher. He yelped all the way home behind the ambulance. At home he took up guard at her bedside.

Brevitaries
FROM THE Panhandle Herald we take the following by "Honest Bill" Miller:

To Gilmore Nunn, who is the manager and guiding star of the new Pampa radio station, we will say that the programs are coming in just fine over here in Panhandle. Just confidentially Gilmore, we can hear your program 70 per cent clearer than the Amarillo station, and that ought not to make you feel too bad. And what's more there are a lot of people who're listening in for your Pampa programs. I had three different people at Amarillo and one at Spearman tell me they heard my talk over your station. After that I began walking up and down the street asking everybody if they heard my broadcast Saturday night. I find lots of folk who hear the new Pampa station, but it seems they missed the sixteen seconds that I was on the air.

It sure is amusing to us innocent by-standers to watch Pampa and Amarillo. There is a real friendly rivalry between the two cities. Border and sympathy goes out to the under dog. That is the smaller city with lots of spunk. Gilmore Nunn, the Pampa Daily News publisher and owner of the new radio station, introduced Wes Izzard, the Amarillo radio station manager as the man who changes the needle. Wes came back with a veiled hint that he powered all-Panhandle station KGNC.

I Heard . . .

That other strong baseball teams are quietly being organized and that instead of having a "big three"—Pampa, Borger and Amarillo—in the Panhandle, it will be a "big four" or even a "big five." Latest reports are from LeFors where Phillips is getting under way and from Skellytown where a team is in the making.

This corner is making another appeal to Canadian born citizens in and around Pampa to come to the NEWS and register for the United States-Canada meeting of the Kiwanis club Friday noon. Persons born in Canada, regardless of whether they have received naturalization papers or not, are to be guests of the club and Judge Newton P. Willis, program chairman, is desirous of having the names of the guests in advance.

MILLIONS REMEMBER SAN JACINTO

ALLRED TALKS OF HEROES ON FREEDOM SITE

JUST AS HARD TO BE HERO IN 1836 AS NOW, SAYS HE

HOUSTON, April 21. (AP)—Gov. James V. Allred emphasized the need for patriotic leaders and willing followers to meet the pressing problem of the present in an address today to the multitude assembled on the San Jacinto battlefield to celebrate the Centennial of the decisive engagement of the Texas revolution.

"There are always some who sigh for days of old romance," the governor said. "Who would not be a hero when all the world was keyed to fighting pitch? They ask, for the men and actions most often seen in retrospect are those most fit to withstand our gaze.

"At no time in history has there been or can there be any surplus of men who place first the interest of their people and their state. It is not alone the individual who could serve in public office and for this or that consideration chooses not to seek it whom I challenge here. The functions of our democratic system depend upon the whole electorate, and the man who denies his time to jury duty or fails to cast the ballot won by Crockett's blood takes by so much the luster of the victory.

Lions Will Go To Grandview's Picnic Thursday

Pampa Lions on Thursday will go to Grandview to attend an annual picnic, instead of meeting locally as usual.

The Lions and members of other civic clubs have been invited to be guests of the Grandview community. Since the day is the regular meeting date of the Lions, the clubmen voted to hold this week's session at Grandview.

Games will be played after the barbecue at noon. The clubmen will leave the First Baptist church grounds at 11:15 a. m. Thursday.

Great Publicity Drive For Local Centennial Begun

One of the biggest publicity campaigns in Pampa's history is a half of the Panhandle Centennial celebration of June 2, 3, 4, and 5 and the city and territory generally is getting under way.

Programs were being taken to Lions clubs at Panhandle and Borger today. Many trips of this kind will be made in the next few weeks.

On May 11 or 12, when the West Texas chamber of commerce meets in Amarillo, seven Pampa bands will stage the greatest parade of its kind in Texas history. The four ward school bands and the high school and junior high school organizations will parade, joined by the Panhandle Centennial cowboys—headed by Harry Kelley—on a special advertising float the celebration. This exceptional demonstration of Pampa music has already attracted much attention where it has been announced.

REVENUE BILL INTRODUCED IN HOUSE TODAY

PASSAGE WILL BE AIM IN NEXT THREE WEEKS

WASHINGTON, April 21. (AP)—By a 15 to 8 vote, described by members as along party lines, the House Ways and Means committee today gave formal approval of the new tax bill.

WASHINGTON, April 21. (AP)—A revenue bill designed to promote taxation reform and raise between the $700,000,000 and $800,000,000 was introduced in the house today by Chairman Doughton (D., N. C.) of the Ways and Means committee.

The 249-page measure was tossed in the bill hopper immediately after the house convened—seven weeks to the day after President Roosevelt had asked congress for taxes to finance the new farm program, the added cost of prepayment of the bonus and to plug the gap left in this year's revenues in invalidation of AAA processing taxes.

The major feature of the bill contemplates complete revision of the corporation tax system. It would levy a graduated tax on corporation income, based on percentage of earnings withheld from distribution to stockholders.

With the relief bill, the bulky revenue measure was the major business standing between Congress and adjournment. In an effort to get the bill to the Senate as soon as possible, House leaders planned to give them the right of way on the floor for the next three weeks.

The Doughton bill, in addition to revising the corporate tax system, would:

1. Apply the 4 per cent normal income tax rate to corporation dividends, which now are subject only to income surtaxes.
2. Place a flat rate on dividends to foreign stockholders.
3. Repeal the present corporation income tax and ultimately the capital stock and excess profits taxes.
4. Impose an 85 per cent "windfall" tax on processors who avoided

George Briggs, retiring manager, will remain on duty until after the Centennial.

Probe Lawyer Goes After Company Witness

WASHINGTON, April 21. (AP)—An effort to show that approximately $13,000,000 of license "contract" fees paid the American Telephone and Telegraph company by operating companies last year came from the pockets of telephone subscribers was made at a federal communications commission hearing today by Samuel Becker, special FCC counsel.

Moving to lay a broad foundation for a rate study later, Becker continued rapid-fire questioning of company witnesses in the FCC investigation of the huge utility.

After clashing yesterday with President Walter S. Gifford of the company, when the latter failed to answer questions directly, Becker today delivered a sharp reprimand to C. H. Heiss, comptroller of the company.

Heiss had testified that the A-T&T was not a "holding company" in the usual sense of the word, explaining: "It does not hold the stocks of associated companies in the sense of buying and selling them like

COMPLETION OF RACE TRACK IS IN SIGHT HERE

Completion of the race track at the new fairground park is now in sight. Four-inch posts and railing arrived today for the fence and was being hauled to the ground.

Most of the moving of dirt has been done. The city commission is to take action immediately on construction of chutes and pens for rodeo and other purposes. The commission did not meet last night because of the absence of Mayor W. A. Bratton and Commissioner Marvin Lewis, who are on a business trip downtown.

During the week-end, City Manager C. L. Stone and Commissioner W. T. Fray, Jr. to Gayton, Okla., to inspect rodeo and sales pavilion arrangements. Yesterday the same men went to Amarillo to interview WPA officials.

They were told that WPA allocations were so small that for the sake of five ways the materials could be made for materials. Completion of many projects will be delayed until more funds are made available in this district.

TEXANS CROWD BATTLEFIELD FOR CEREMONY

HUNDRED YEARS AGO INDEPENDENCE WAS WON

HOUSTON, April 21. (AP)—While the Lone Star flag fluttered proudly high above the roofs of modern skyscrapers, Texans in all walks of life joined today to honor the memory of Sam Houston and his handful of hardy, young pioneers who won Texas independence from Mexico at San Jacinto one hundred years ago.

The main celebration was on the sacred soil 20 miles from Houston where approximately 900 ragged recruits under Houston routed Santa Anna's army in 18 minutes, thereby paving the way for the extension of the United States to the Pacific ocean.

The battleground observances included a Catholic field mass, one of the greatest religious ceremonies in the history of the south, a program by the sons and daughters of the Texas republic at which Gov. James V. Allred was the principal speaker, and the dedication of a massive monument to the pioneer Mothers of Texas.

Every color of the rainbow was represented in the cast of the religious program, which was witnessed by many thousands. There was the modest brown of the Franciscan friars, the khaki of the soldiers and Boy Scouts, the blue of the sailors, the black robes of nuns, the white of Dominican friars, the purple of Monsignori, bishops and archbishops and the bright green and silver of the Knights of St. Gregory.

Four archbishops and 27 bishops marched in the procession to the altar erected where Sam Houston's young sharpshooters impatiently awaited the order to attack. Archbishop Joseph E. Rummel of New Orleans was the celebrant of the mass and Bishop John J. Conlan of Los Angeles delivered the sermon.

The name of San Jacinto is written large in the annals of this state, and indeed in the history of the entire nation. Bishop Conlan said, "Deservedly it takes a place of decisive distinction with Valley Forge and Yorktown among the memorable battles of America's fight for independence."

The battleground road was lined with automobiles at dawn as thousands made their way to the all-day observance. Hundreds of others went by boat down the man-made canal connecting Houston with the Gulf.

Catholic leaders from all parts of the nation, their vestments emulating the colors of the rainbow, were represented in the cast of the religious program, which was witnessed by many thousands.

Power Companies And Government Clash Over Loans

WASHINGTON, April 21. (AP)—The government and private power companies clashed in the District of Columbia Supreme Court over the constitutionality of PWA loans to finance the building of public utilities, with each side scoring one technical victory.

Objection by government counsel to testimony that service rates of the Alabama Power company, one of the biggest in the country, were made to finance new structures, was sustained yesterday by Chief Justice Wheat.

Later power company attorneys scored when Wheat admitted testimony that the company was negotiating with six Alabama cities to get them its local power plants before PWA loans and grants were made to finance new structures.

The company is one of four private utilities concerns contesting the constitutionality of title 2 of the National Industry Recovery act which created the Public Works administration. Others to be heard are the Texas Utilities, the Iowa City Light and Power company and the Oklahoma Utilities company. A

Their suits were combined in an effort to restrain Secretary Ickes from advancing $2,908,000 in PWA grants and loans to 10 municipalities.

Heavy Showers Dot Section

40 degrees last night and the wind went to the north. There was a sprinkle of rain yesterday afternoon.

While this community received more symptoms of a "rainy spell" than actual rain, heavy showers fell southeast of here. Nearly an inch of precipitation was reported from Shamrock, where the downpour was very heavy while it lasted. Light showers fell on the south plains.

Just when plains residents had begun to hope that the dusts were gone for the season, a gusty wind last night whipped a yellowish, stifling pall over this area. It settled during the night, and the air was rain-washed today. The duster seemed to be more local than territorial, and to accompany the shifting air currents incident to the rains.

DOCTOR GIVES LAST MESSAGE TO A RELATIVE

ONLY FEW HOURS WILL ELAPSE BEFORE MEN ARE REACHED

(Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)
MOOSE RIVER, N. S., April 21.—Although the two men trapped in a gold mine had indicated they were prepared for death after nine days of suffering, hope that they yet might be rescued alive before nightfall was expressed at noon today.

Michael Dwyer, Nova Scotia's minister of mines, who personally is directing rescue efforts, stated: "A few hours at the outside should suffice to reach the men."

However, he disclosed that 20 feet of fallen material still lay between the rescuers and the imprisoned men.

From 141 feet below the surface, Dr. D. E. Robertson, Toronto surgeon, had given what was believed a farewell message for himself and Charles Alfred Scadding, trapped with him in the depths since Easter Sunday night.

Their companion, Hermann Magill, Toronto lawyer and part owner with Dr. Robertson of the mine, lay dead in the narrow corridor toward which mining crews were attempting to dig.

In the vanguard of the rescue party went draggermen, Nova Scotia's skilled mine rescue workers who have been trained intensively in the art of boring through solid rock and loose dirt to men caught under ground.

Behind them labored scores of volunteer workers, the "men with guts," for whom Dwyer had called to cart debris out of the rescue shaft as the draggermen wielded picks and shovels in advance.

With desperate rescue workers still uncertain as to when they would be able to break through the underground pit, Dr. D. E. Robertson asked that his brother-in-law, Charles Ivey of London, Ont., come to the tube to take down instructions.

Those instructions were for what rescue crew failed to reach the tomb in time.

Dr. Robertson apparently despairing of the relief which had been promised, frankly told Charles Alfred Scadding, mine time-keeper, after a night of anxiety during which the rescue workers believed they were close to their objective, but still had not reached it.

The imprisoned men evidently envied the freedom of the same fate that fell their companion, Hermann Magill, who perished early yesterday after being trapped with Dr. Robertson and Scadding by a cave-in Easter Sunday night.

EDITORIAL

ON PASSING A LAW

"There ought to be a law," and so we have not one law, but thousands.

The legislative mill at Washington is a vast and complicated one. The thousands of proposals introduced in each Congress will give the observer of national affairs a good idea of the great variety of problems and the many interests affected. More than 20,000 bills and resolutions, some of them short, others 200 or 300 pages long, are submitted to every Congress. No legislator, however industrious, could possibly read all of them.

The introduction of a bill is simple. Any one of the 435 members of the House or the 96 senators can submit a measure merely by dropping it in the basket at the clerk's desk. After this is done, the bill is then printed and referred to a committee. There are 80 standing committees in congress, 47 of which are in the House. Many of these committees are divided into subcommittees and bills are assorted, studied, and in some instances hearings are held. Only a few hundred of these many thousand bills are ever reported to the House and placed on the calendar for action.

The great number of bills which deal with taxation and revenue are referred to the Ways and Means committee, which is presided over by Congressman Robert Doughton of North Carolina. These measures are distributed to various subcommittees and are then handled by the main committee.

Among the other major committees following this procedure are the Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee, of which Sam Rayburn of Texas is chairman; the Banking and Currency committee, headed by Henry Steagall of Alabama; the Appropriations committee, headed by James P. Buchanan of Texas; the Post Office committee, headed by James Mead of New York; and the Agriculture committee, of which Marvin Jones of Texas is chairman.

The Agriculture committee is a good example of committee activity. Several hundred bills are pending before this committee, ranging in subject matter all the way from the crops and live stock produced on the farm and ranch to their manufacture in the great mills and packing plants and their distribution in finished form in the markets of the country. In addition, the committee handles the credit legislation for agriculture.

These agricultural bills are distributed according to subject matter to five committees. The subcommittees then go over the measures, have hearings, make changes, and ultimately report to the main committee.

The chairman of any one of these major committees in the House is kept extremely busy, not only by the responsibility of steering through the House whatever legislation his committee presents, but also by the necessity of keeping up with the activities of his various subcommittees and in helping to determine which of the various measures will be reported to the House for action and the forms in which they will be submitted.

Many additional changes are frequently made in measures in the House and Senate before a final vote is taken. It is the custom for bills to start out with the clause, "Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives," and sometimes amendments are adopted which strike out all the wording after this clause and insert entirely new wording. This leaves nothing of the original bill but its number.

Sifting the 20,000 bills presented to each Congress is an intricate undertaking, but the procedure is based upon a hundred years of experience. The first parliamentary rules of the House were prepared by Thomas Jefferson. These are embodied in what is known as Jefferson's Manual, and may be found on the desk of every Congressman. With the changes and modifications which experience has made necessary, this manual of 1801 still is the guide for procedure in the House.

The work of senators and representatives has greatly increased with the expansion of business and the development of the country. Their daily mail is heavy, but with the orderly procedure developed through the years, it is surprising how well the experienced legislator keeps up with the business of making laws, especially those pertaining to the section he represents.

It is often suggested that we need more senators and congressmen. We doubt that this need is indicated by the above facts.

BARBS

One thing about elections such as the one held recently in Germany, very few people found it necessary to pay election bets.

A Hollywood electrician says red light makes people irritable, and green brings peace and calm. But any auto driver knows that.

"Eight-pound giant" molar found in Missouri." Without a fuller description, it's difficult to decide whether it was the one we had called the other day.

The California women's club which decided to send fingerprints of its members to Washington might save time by mailing its deck of cards.

Mr. Hoover suggests that the New Dealers adopt as a symbol the white rabbit. Maybe it's because they have been giving him gray hair.

Cleveland boxers have formed a union, which probably is the only such organization which would strike by refusing to strike.

In Hungary, where two notables recently missed each other, there is an anti-dueling law. Possibly because there is always a chance someone might get hurt.

Nazi election theory: an affirmative vote is a vote against persecution; vote "no" and see what happens to you.

Doctors didn't know what to do with that Louisiana woman who talked for seven days. From experience, they knew it was futile to say, "Yes, dear."

Those Clevelanders dosed with liquor to test a new "drunk detector" want to know how long this martyr-science business has been going on.

In the east that motto may have changed to "Put aside for a floody day."

Educator criticizes little red schoolhouses. Still others frown on the big red colleges.

People who believe that prehistoric monsters that once roamed America were peculiar to that part of the world will find consolation in the fact that the bones of huge elephants and saber-toothed tigers at the Texas Centennial Exposition which opens in Dallas June 6, a million years ago they roved the Texas plains.

DENNARD WILL TAKE TRACK-FIELD TEAM TO REGIONAL MEET ON SATURDAY

MORGAN WILL RUN 440-YARD AND IN RELAY

SIX PAMPA BOYS TO ACCOMPANY COACH TO CANYON

In a bitterly contested track battle yesterday, Sherman Morgan won the right to represent Pampa high school in the 440-yard dash and a leg in the relay at the regional track and field meet in Canyon Saturday.

Morgan battled Roy Showers, Bob Drake, Glen Maxey and Roy Lee Jones, winning by a comfortable margin. Albert Ayer, anchor man on the relay team, also ran the race, and nosed Morgan out with a beautiful finish.

Coach Dick Dennard will take six boys to the regional event. Preliminaries will begin at 9 a. m., with the finals set for 2:30 p. m. The Harvesters will have representatives in most of the events. The dashes and pole vault may not have Pampa boys participating.

Boys who will accompany Coach Dennard to Canyon will be Albert Ayer, Junior Strickland, Moose Hartman, W. J. Brown, Ivan Noblitt and Sherman Morgan.

One regional record is held by a Pampa athlete. J. R. Green of last year's team put the shot 47 feet 7 inches for a new record. Ford Wheeler will attempt to break the mark this year.

Harvester athletes won two other first places last year when the relay team, (Hays, Haner, Elkins and Dunaway), raced the distance in 3:46.6 and Dunaway hurled the javelin 163 feet 2 inches. Green placed fourth in the javelin. Dunaway also took a second in the pole vault. Hays was the other Harvester to place with a second in the 440-yard dash.

FORTY BOYS REPORT FOR JUNIOR TEAM

Road Runner Park Is Over-run With Candidates For Boys' Baseball Team

Joe Parkinson, Little Road Runner manager, was agreeably astounded and overwhelmed after a try-out afternoon when between 40 and 50 boys, all filled with a burning desire to play baseball, reported for the team's initial practice at Road Runner park. The field simply overflowed with prospective candidates for the team.

Manager Parkinson will observe the boys all this week as they throw the ball, catch it and bat it, and by Saturday he will pick a tentative roster of 14 boys. Practice will begin every afternoon this week at 4:30 o'clock and continue for an hour or so. One would have thought by the looks of the mob of boys that Coach Odus Mitchell has issued a call for candidates for a Harvester football team.

The response, said Harold Miller, manager of Road Runner teams, was just another sign that Pampa has become baseball-minded. They like the sport, he declared, more than any other except football. Parkinson said numerous boys with real talent showed up, and he believes that the Little Road Runner aggregation will be hard to beat.

Miller said the Road Runners were proud to have the opportunity of sponsoring a boys' team, of teaching them the game.

New suits have been ordered for the team. The boys will play their first game at Road Runner park against Phillips' 66 crew on Sunday afternoon.

Athletics And Browns Win Over Yankees And Detroit

Dizzy Dean Gives 9 Hits but Records First Win

By Andy Clarke.

The Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Browns, American League underdogs, are crowing today after having jumped into the win column for the first time in the new season.

Each with five straight defeats against them, they took the field yesterday to topple two of the mightiest powers of the circuit. The Athletics, displaying artillery reminiscent of a better day, downed the New York Yankees 12-1 while the Browns defeated the champion Detroit Tigers 9-6, belting Tommy Bridges and Schoolboy Rowe from the box in the process.

These uprisings were the prime features of a day on which the Pittsburgh Pirates at last ended the jinx that Roy Henshaw held over them and Dizzy Dean, although touched for nine hits, recorded his first victory of the season.

It took a pinch single by Loville (Chubby) Dean with the bases loaded on the ninth to bring the victory smile to the lean features of Connie Mack. The A's hammered Walter Brown and Bump Hadley for 14 hits but they were hard-put to outscore the Yanks who whacked 10 bingles off the slants of Doyle and Turbeville.

The Browns were trailing 4-0 going into the seventh inning when they opened the siege that resulted in a total of nine runs in two frames. The sight of a double by the condition of Manager Mike Cochran of the Tigers who was out of the lineup, suffering from eye strain.

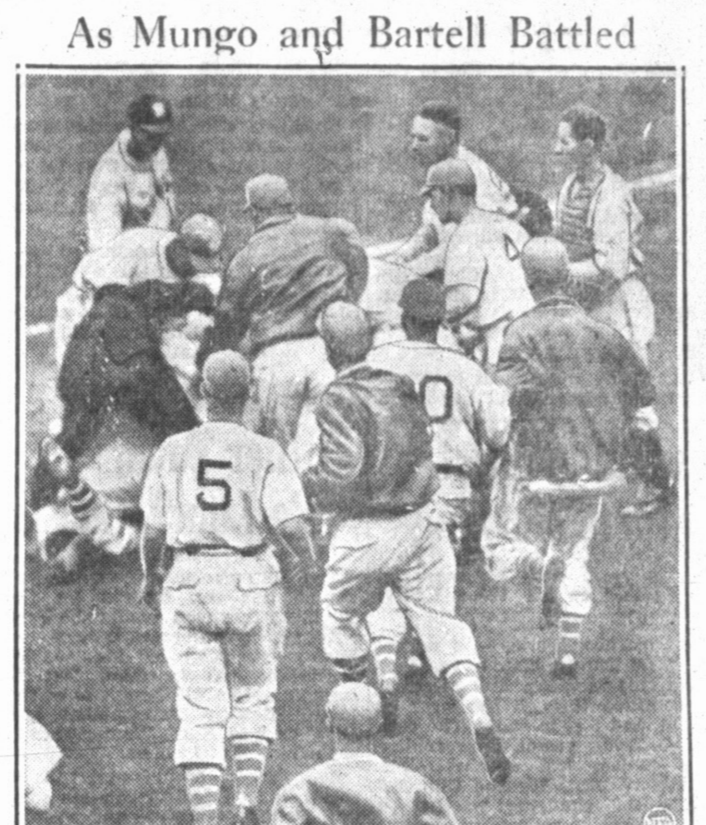

A home run by Gus Suhr, captain and first baseman of the Pirates, was necessary to banish the jinx that has seen Henshaw win seven straight games against the Pirates. Suhr's homer, the fourth of the game, came with two aboard and two out in the last half of the ninth and gave the Pirates a 9-8 margin over the Cubs.

Dean has Manager Frankie Frisch to thank for his first victory, an 8-7 win over the Cincinnati Reds. The Cards scored five runs in a ninth inning rally that was started by Frisch when he belted a double to send home three runs. Of the nine hits against Dizzy, one was a homer by Bill Myers, one a triple and three were doubles.

In the first doubleheader of the season, the Washington Senators and the Boston Red Sox broke even, the Sox winning the first game, 6-5, and losing the second, 6-2. Pete Appleton spiked the guns of the Red Sox in the afternoon game, allowing but five hits. Ed Lanier and Jimmie Fox each connected for homers in the morning encounter.

The 4-hit pitching of Vernon Kennedy was the feature of the White Sox 5-1 win over the Indians while the Boston Red Sox broke even, the Sox winning the first game, 6-5, and losing the second, 6-2. Pete Appleton spiked the guns of the Red Sox in the afternoon game, allowing but five hits. Ed Lanier and Jimmie Fox each connected for homers in the morning encounter.

As Mungo and Bartell Battled

The Giants-Dodger feud broke into the open again at the Polo Grounds when Dick Bartell, New York shortstop, and Van Mungo, Brooklyn pitcher, came to blows after Bartell had hit toward first base. Umpires, managers and team mates are pictured trying to untangle the belligerents. A bean-bat tossed by Mungo set off the fireworks.

Each with five straight defeats against them, they took the field yesterday to topple two of the mightiest powers of the circuit. The Athletics, displaying artillery reminiscent of a better day, downed the New York Yankees 12-1 while the Browns defeated the champion Detroit Tigers 9-6, belting Tommy Bridges and Schoolboy Rowe from the box in the process.

Remodeling At Baseball Park Will Continue

Remodeling of the entrance to Road Runner park and enlarging of the new box seats will be started immediately. Business Manager Harold Miller announced yesterday afternoon. Work will be completed by the next home game which will be on May 3 against an as yet unnamed opponent. The game will probably be broadcast over station KFDN, Pampa Daily News.

The ticket window will be moved to a separate building in front of and facing the entrance. The entrance will also be changed to give more room.

New box seats, built in a hurry, have been found to be too small for comfort. They will be deepened 18 inches to give more "leg room." They also will be complete by the next home game. A few of the boxes are still on the market. Harold Miller at Danciger Refineries is in charge of sales.

The Road Runners will be away from home next Sunday, playing in Borger where they will meet the Huber Blackfaces. Huber, here Sunday afternoon, will be a blood-thirsty bunch of birds who will go to Borger next Sunday.

Big Gene Ledford has asked Manager Sam Hale for the mound assignment. The lefthander went to the box in the ninth inning last Sunday and Brown, a lefthander, pitched the game. Ledford wants revenge against the lineup of lefthanded hitters on the Blackface team and he may get it unless Dilbeck, another pitcher, gets the ball.

Nash or Chody will be the probable choice of Manager Huffman of Huber. Nash is a newcomer from Palestine and Chody is the Road Runner nemesis from last season. He was hit rather freely the three innings he hurled here Sunday and the speed ball artist might prove anything but a jinx to the birds this season.

Sports Roundup

(By Eddie Brietz, Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—What's going on in sports? Well, for one thing, the hottest wrasslin' war in years is brewing. . . . All because Dick Shikat flopped Danno O'Mahoney and won the heavyweight title when he wasn't supposed to. . . . Whether Dick got his signals crossed, or just decided to give the "trust" the works and the devil with it, doesn't matter. . . . The "trust" is out to get him in a big way.

Right now they are trying to force Dick into a match with any one of a half a dozen tried and true "trust" who might be able to dispose of the German as easily as they could have licked O'Mahoney had they been given the nod. . . . Looks like a hectic summer.

You should have seen our jints hustling and hollering against the Phillies yesterday. . . . Even Ole Hoss' Travis Jackson gives you the impression he'd try to steal a base on the slightest provocation. . . . Is Ned Irish, the basketball impresario, going to bolt the Garden and hook up with Mike Jacobs? . . . The Washington Senators are on their way—meat not this year, but watch them in 1937. . . . Herr Max Schmeling is due today. . . . And Herr Max Joe (Yussel der Mussel) Jacobs promises plenty of "profits" aboard the Bremen. . . . Some of the lads insist the tennis powers pulled a fast one in leaving Eunice Dean of Texas off the Wightman Cup lineup—as alternate, anyway.

All Messrs. Dean are showing one and all just how badly they miss that early spring work. . . . You can't get in shape for baseball playing golf or pitching hay.

THE FIGHTER ONE OF BIG 5 ENTRIES IN KENTUCKY DERBY

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Judged solely upon actual performance this year, the "big five" among the probable entries in the Kentucky derby on May 2 are Brevity, Indian Broom, The Fighter, He Did and Gold Seeker, the latter a filly. Two of the colts have world record performances to their credit.

Joseph E. Widener's Brevity, winner of the mile and an eighth Florida derby in 1:48 1-5, which at that time tied the great Discovery's world mark for the distance, is the heavy favorite to capture the mile and a quarter classic at Churchill Downs.

Major Austin C. Taylor's Indian Broom, which ran a sensational race in the $10,000 added March banks handicap at Tanforan, lowered Brevity's record to 1:47 3-5, but he carried only 94 pounds compared with Brevity's 120.

SPORT SLANTS

Western and Midwestern swimmers may have appreciated the hospitality of Yale in staking the National Collegiate A. A. championships in the New Haven pool but carrying of the major honors of the competition was a mighty poor way of showing that they did. Only one representative of an eastern college managed to win a title and even he was not a member of Bob Kiphuth's vaunted squad of natators. That honor went to Charlie Hutter, Harvard's sensational sophomore, who scored in the 100-yard free-style event to give the Crimson its first national title.

Jack Medina, of the University of Washington, again proved tireless as he collected three championships—the "220", the "440" and the 1,500-meter free-style. It was Medina's third consecutive slam and served to emphasize the fact that the husky Seattle youth appears to be Uncle Sam's best bet to stave off the determined bid the Japanese will make in Berlin to repeat the Olympic victory they scored in such sensational fashion four years ago at Los Angeles.

Sideliner in 1932 Jack sat on the sidelines in Los Angeles as an alternate member of the relay team and did not see active service. He set the 1935 Olympic Games as his goal and has worked steadily with that objective in mind. Above all else he wants to win the Olympic "440" and the chances are that he will be successful. His principal rival is likely to be the captain of the Japanese squad, Negami. Medina holds two decisions over Negami, both scored in Japan.

The youngster, Charlie Hutter, who saved the East from utter rout, will bear a bit of watching. He's a fighter and coming along mightily fast. He is perhaps the most improved swimmer in the country in the past year.

A year ago he was just another swimmer on Coach Hal Ulen's

2 Are Wounded In Gun Battle In Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, April 21 (AP)—Clarence Sparger, who federal agents said was a member of the Walter "Irish" O'Malley gang, was shot three times and a federal agent was wounded in an early morning gun battle at a Hickman Mills tourist camp five miles south of here today.

John Langdon, companion of Sparger, surrendered after 15 federal officers and state highway patrolmen surrounded the cabin.

W. A. Smith, head of the department of justice office here, said Langdon was wanted for Dyer act violations.

Sparger was shot three times twice in the back and once in the leg. He was brought to St. Joseph's hospital here. Smith declined to disclose the name of the federal agent who was wounded.

Smith said Sparger was sought in connection with the robbery of the First National bank of Neosho, Mo. March 2, 1935. The officer said Sparger's wife was in the cabin with her husband and Langdon.

GRID PRACTICE SCHEDULED TO BEGIN MONDAY

The second period of spring football practice, scheduled to begin this afternoon at Harvester field, will not be called until next Monday. Coach Odus Mitchell announced yesterday afternoon.

A full length game with the exes still enrolled in school will be staged at the end of two weeks, probably on the afternoon of May 8.

Coaches will spend much of the two weeks teaching the boys more blocking and plays for the game against the exes. Defense will also be stressed.

This year's team will be small but mighty. The boys want to play football and there are no big fellows who have clinched starting berths. The fight for starting honors is still on, as coaches say.

TEXAS TRACK MINUTE PLANS LAID FOR WINNING OF $15,000 RACE

BY FELIX R. MCKNIGHT, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The story behind the story of The Fighter's victory in the $15,000 Texas Derby at Arlington Downs Saturday:

Odds-on choice at post time, the Milky Way farms' entry of The Fighter, Sangreal and Doran almost bumped into disaster. Minute plans were laid for the winning of the race, with Trainer Bob McGarvey figuring The Fighter and Sangreal should run one-two at the finish.

Doran was named the pace-setter. The horses bolted from the chute with Doran on the outside. Jockey Alfred Robertson, astride The Fighter, got away on top on the inside.

Doran, left at the post, was mired far back in the field after 100 yards. Jockey Robertson looked around desperately, sighted Danny Brammer atop Sangreal and followed anxiously.

Sangreal, followed by Rushaway, started to the inside and started a terrific pace. The Fighter settled back in third position and trailed the leading pair. First it was Sangreal by a neck and then Rushaway as the lead horse tore down the back stretch.

At the stretch turn The Fighter made his move, passed the two faltering horses and came in the winner. Sangreal, rated equal to The Fighter, weakened rapidly and chased the field far from its intended place.

At that Trainer McGarvey gave Jockey Brammer's quick thinking credit for the victory. Neither Sangreal nor The Fighter like to set a pace. It robbed Sangreal of a chance at winning—but why win the Texas Derby for the Milky Way entry.

(By The Associated Press)

The San Antonio Missions had to go to innings last night to defeat Galveston, 2 to 1, leaving the Buccaneers the only Texas league team without a victory. "Dingle" Crocker, former Houston high school athlete, played a big part in Beaumont's victory over the Buffs. In addition to playing a jam-up game at second base, the rookie got a pair of hits and batted in one run. The Buffs remained in the loop lead.

The Oklahoma City batters had a big evening at the expense of Johnson, pounding the Fort Worth hurler for 12 hits and their third victory in a row over the Cats. Kieamer, pitching 7-hit ball, held the Cats scoreless until they put across their lone counter in the ninth.

George Dumlap Jr., New York—Twice winner of the intercollegiate title and 1933 national amateur champion.

Harry Given, Seattle—A slugger from the tee, he is given his chance because of his victory in the Pacific northwest championship.

Johnny Goodman, Omaha—Former national open champion, quarter finalist in last year's amateur, recently added the Mason-Dixon title to his list.

F.ynolds Smith, Dallas—This newcomer went to the semi-finals of the 1934 national amateur and to the fourth round of last year's amateur.

George Voigt, New York—A member of the 1930 and 1932 teams, he won and lost one in these matches.

Ed White, Bonham, Tex.—On the team for the first time because he won the intercollegiate title last year and went to the fifth round of the amateur.

Charley Yates, Atlanta—His victory in the 1935 Western amateur won him a spot for the first time.

Albert (Scotty) Campbell, Seattle—He has twice won the Canadian amateur and was recently voted by sports writers as the man most likely to take Little's place.

M. E. WOMEN TAKE PAGEANT TO AMARILLO

CIRCLES PLAN VISITS TO THE ANNUAL MEETING

Many members of First Methodist Missionary society are attending the annual meeting of the Women's Missionary society of Northwest Texas conference this week in Amarillo. Pampa women are to present a pageant on today's program.

Mrs. S. A. Hurst is director of the pageant, which portrays missionary work in Mexico. In addition to the cast, other members of the society here will visit the conference during the three days it is in session.

A fellowship banquet at 7 o'clock this evening will be a special feature, and election of officers and a vesper service at 6:30 are scheduled tomorrow. Meetings are at Polk Street Methodist church. Women from 68 counties are attending.

Pampa plans were completed yesterday at circle meetings when missionary lessons from The World Outlook magazine were studied. Mrs. George Walstad was hostess to circle one, and Mrs. H. B. Carson leader of the devotional and business session.

Topics were discussed by Mrs. T. C. Lively, Mrs. T. B. Barron, and Mrs. B. S. Via. After the benediction by Mrs. Hodges, a salad course was served to 16 members.

Circles two and three met together at the church, where Mrs. John Henney was hostess. Mrs. Sam Sheppard conducted the business meeting for circle two. Mrs. W. J. Daugherty for circle three.

The opening prayer was by Mrs. Joe Shelton and the devotional by Mrs. Lee Harrah. Mrs. Harrah was assisted in presenting the lesson by Mrs. Lewis Robinson and Mrs. John Skeely. Refreshments were served to 14 members of circle two and 11 members of circle three.

Mrs. Fred Radcliff and Mrs. Glen Radcliff entertained circle four at the former's home. Sentence prayers and a devotional message by Mrs. A. W. Babione opened the program. Discussions were by Mrs. C. E. Waller, Mrs. Martel Peters, Mrs. R. O. Pearce, and Mrs. A. C. Green. Refreshments were served afterward to 22 members.

"THE LIVING JEFFERSON," by James Truslow Adams (Scribner's). If the reader of James Truslow Adams' "The Living Jefferson" opens it with the idea that he is about to read a biography of Jefferson, or a dispassionate discussion of Jefferson's ideas and ideals, he will have a shock. For Mr. Adams, one of the most prominent and most respected writers of popular history, has produced (with entire frankness) a campaign document.

He passes over the main facts of Jefferson's life with intended speed and superficiality. The conduct of the Jeffersonian and the Hamiltonian systems is more generously treated. And then Mr. Adams begins his tract, which will delight Hoovervians and antagonize Rooseveltian supporters. Probably what will annoy supporters of the Roosevelt deal will be less Mr. Adams' argument, than the manner thereof.

For in the last chapter he does a quite remarkable thing. He has shown definitely and ably throughout the book the Jeffersonian belief in the Jeffersonian personal liberty, founded as it was on Jefferson's experience as a member of Virginia's upper class, and suited as it was to the agricultural state which Jefferson visualized.

Then, in that astonishing chapter, he admits that today's America is not Jefferson's nor much like it and still applies the Jeffersonian philosophy to the present. Deserving the realm of history entirely, he checks up on Roosevelt's promises and those of his party. He declares that for some months in the crisis, which Roosevelt found at his inauguration, the president performed admirably. Then he checks up his deviations from promise and platform—and eliminates from the discussion the possibility of continuing crisis.

Roosevians will probably feel that this is hardly the critique to be expected from a man who, like Mr. Adams, has spent years working in England. They will say that the crisis continued, changing as it went, and that remedies applicable in the early months of the Roosevelt regime were not necessarily applicable in the later stages of the disease. And they will, perhaps, admit deviation from a literal statement of Jefferson's liberalism, while claiming adherence to his inner philosophy. It is a pretty situation, curiously stated and argued by Mr. Adams.

Germany Building Fortifications on Rhineland Border

PARIS, April 21 (AP)—The newspaper Excelsior reports Germany has begun building a line of steel and concrete fortifications in the remilitarized Rhineland along the Dutch, Belgian, and French frontiers.

The dispatch, from a special correspondent at Wiesbaden, says "a redoubtable belt of fortresses" corresponding to France's frontier fortifications starts at the Eifel forest on the Dutch line and extends via Aachen, Treves, the Saar, the Palatinate and the Grand Duchy of Baden to the Swiss border.

The construction has been going ahead so rapidly, said the dispatch, that laborers at Forsten near Aachen, struck for 12 hours in protest against overwork.

In a certain case in said court, No. 4151 and styled Thos. H. Dunn vs. C. C. Boman, J. S. Morse, Irvin McCreeky, Banking Commissioner of Texas, and C. T. Ware, placed in my hands for service, I, Earl Talley, as sheriff of Gray County, Texas, did on the 6th day of April, 1936, levy on certain real estate, situated in Gray County, Texas, described as follows, to-wit: Lots 1, 2, 3, and 4, Block 103, in the town of McLennan, Gray County, Texas, and levied upon as the property of J. S. Morse and that on the first Tuesday in May, 1936, the same being the 5th day of said month, at the Court House door of Gray County, in the town of Pampa, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., by virtue of said levy and said order of sale, I will sell said above described real estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said J. S. Morse.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Pampa Daily News, a newspaper published in Gray County.

Witness my hand, this 6th day of April, 1936.

EARL TALLEY,
Sheriff, Gray County, Texas.

Rebel Charges Plot to Throw Out Townsend

LOS ANGELES, April 21 (AP)—Forces are operating within the ranks Townsendites, "rebel" leader George Higley charges, to out Dr. Francis E. Townsend as head of the old age pension movement he founded.

"Plans are now being made for a meeting of the national directors at which an effort will be made to obtain the resignation of Dr. Townsend of the grounds that his health is failing under the tremendous pressure of his work," Higley told a mass meeting of his insurgent followers.

"They want to send him to a sanitarium for at least a year. This can be expected within three weeks."

While Higley, who led a bolt from the parent Townsend organization of 1,800 members of club 93 in Los Angeles, was addressing his faithful, Frank Arbuckle, national and regional director of the movement, told a meeting of regular Townsendites he would request the national directorate to revoke Higley's charter.

Rep. Joseph A. Cavanagh, democrat, of New York, member of a congressional subcommittee investigating Townsend affairs, said the insubstantial body would be here for at least two weeks.

Waterflooding Planned.

AUSTIN, April 21 (AP)—Rising crude prices today directed attention of owners of depleted Texas oil fields to possibilities of a waterflooding process to strip sands of remaining crude.

Two companies obtained permission of the Railroad commission to experiment with the artificial method in North and Central Texas. The commission awaited with interest reports on the projects.

Crude markets stabilized at a relatively high price broke an economic barrier which made Texas tardy in utilizing the method to drain certain types of fields. Operators in Pennsylvania, Oklahoma, Kansas, and Illinois previously proved its worth.

With heavy production permitted from fish fields and low prices, the process was unprofitable and therefore undesirable. Better prices and firmer demand swung the economic pendulum.

Owners of shallow producers from certain sand formation fields cast about for a means of recovering oil which other methods had failed to bring to the surface. The waterflooding process was effective in some instances and too costly in others.

E. O. Thompson, commission chairman, termed the Texas experiment "practically attempts in furthering conservation." Extent of use in Texas, he said, would depend upon results of initial trials.

Commission engineers estimated 30 or 40 per cent of oil which otherwise would be left in place underground could be produced by waterflooding in one experimental lease.

J. E. Bailey of the commission's technical staff said the process likely would yield best results in furthering conservation. Extent of use in Texas, he said, would depend upon results of initial trials.

Germany Building Fortifications on Rhineland Border

PARIS, April 21 (AP)—The newspaper Excelsior reports Germany has begun building a line of steel and concrete fortifications in the remilitarized Rhineland along the Dutch, Belgian, and French frontiers.

The dispatch, from a special correspondent at Wiesbaden, says "a redoubtable belt of fortresses" corresponding to France's frontier fortifications starts at the Eifel forest on the Dutch line and extends via Aachen, Treves, the Saar, the Palatinate and the Grand Duchy of Baden to the Swiss border.

The construction has been going ahead so rapidly, said the dispatch, that laborers at Forsten near Aachen, struck for 12 hours in protest against overwork.

In a certain case in said court, No. 4151 and styled Thos. H. Dunn vs. C. C. Boman, J. S. Morse, Irvin McCreeky, Banking Commissioner of Texas, and C. T. Ware, placed in my hands for service, I, Earl Talley, as sheriff of Gray County, Texas, did on the 6th day of April, 1936, levy on certain real estate, situated in Gray County, Texas, described as follows, to-wit: Lots 1, 2, 3, and 4, Block 103, in the town of McLennan, Gray County, Texas, and levied upon as the property of J. S. Morse and that on the first Tuesday in May, 1936, the same being the 5th day of said month, at the Court House door of Gray County, in the town of Pampa, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., by virtue of said levy and said order of sale, I will sell said above described real estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said J. S. Morse.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Pampa Daily News, a newspaper published in Gray County.

Witness my hand, this 6th day of April, 1936.

Evidence Ready In Wendel Case

BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan prepared today to lay evidence before the Kings county grand jury, seeking indictment of six persons, including possibly the "master minds."

Martin Schlossman, 30-year-old laundryman already was charged in an affidavit with a role in the detention of the disgraced Trenton attorney "for the purpose of having him sign a confession that he kidnapped the Lindbergh baby."

Search for three others was under way in Detroit and Cleveland.

The possibility that Schlossman himself would buttress the prosecution of "higher ups" appeared in a statement by his counsel, Samuel Leikowitz, that "certain master minds are behind this entire case and we hope to bring them all to the bar of justice."

Geoghan made a point of announcing he had found "not a scintilla of evidence that points to Gov. Harold Hoffman."

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By ROBBINS COONS

HOLLYWOOD—After more than 50 years in show business, Fred Stone looks around and opines that the best advice he can give ambitious youngsters is to stay out of show business.

He qualifies that, of course. "What I mean," he says, "is that there are too many young people wanting to break into the business without being really qualified for it."

"It's those dancing and drama schools," he pursues with a gesture of disgust. "You see 'em all around town nowadays, youngsters who ought to be keeping their minds on their lessons and all they're doing is tapping, tapping, tapping. Go into a drugstore and you see kids around the soda fountain, practicing taps as they sip a soda."

"Most of 'em are tackling something they've got no business trying. My own girls? Well, I saw it that Dorothy, Paula and Carol finished their education before they started in show business."

"Myself? I didn't get much schooling. Not because I didn't want it, mind you. I was too busy making my living to have any time for much formal education."

"But that's what I'd tell the kids nowadays. Get through school first, and then if you still want to try the theater, go to it."

Motor Car Problem

The departure of Mae West and Marlene Dietrich from the Paramount fold simplifies one problem at that studio: the appearance on the lot of the stars' limousines.

The Dietrich machine, until Miss West arrived, was the only car allowed to pass through the gates.

GASSER STILL WILD

BEAUMONT, April 21 (AP)—The wild McCarthy-Longe No. 2 gasser defied efforts to cap it today.

Lengths of casing were hurled high into the air and the roar of the well increased until it could be heard audibly in Beaumont—10 miles away. The crater was spreading.

The well caught fire when it blew in last Thursday and burned fiercely until it choked itself off. Since then, workmen have been struggling desperately to cap the well.

Guards watched all roads leading to the well, keeping spectators half a mile away as a precaution against the hundreds of telephone calls poured into the newspaper office here as residents of Beaumont sought to find out the meaning of the roar of the well.

TOMORROW MARK OPENING OF P-TA MEET

District Conference To Continue Three Days

The district conference of the Parent-Teachers association will open in Pampa tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock when the state director will discuss plans for the coming year.

The P-T-A group will have its "Centennial dinner" tomorrow evening at the Schneider hotel at 8:15 o'clock. The affair will be open to the public, both men and women. Plates will be 75c each, and all reservations must be made by noon tomorrow. H. C. Pipkin, of Amarillo, will be the main speaker.

All high school P-T-A reports will be given Thursday morning. In the afternoon, from 5 until 7 o'clock, a tea will be given for all P-T-A workers. An educational program is scheduled for Thursday evening. A luncheon will be given Friday in honor of both old and new officers. Plates will be 50c each.

No local high school P-T-A meeting will be held this month, since the regular meeting day comes during the conference period, Mrs. R. W. Lane, president, has announced. The May meeting will be held May 14, when officers for the coming year will be installed.

Annual Material Goes to Printer

The high school annual has gone to press and will be ready for distribution in about a month, Mrs. Hol Wagner, sponsor, announced yesterday.

Not all of the material has yet been returned from the engravers, but it is expected that the material will be ready by Monday or their annuals will be re-sold, it was announced yesterday. Mrs. Wagner requested that anyone who wishes to buy a yearbook see her at once.

The final pictures were made Thursday when photographs were taken of the National Honor society and the Interscholastic league literary contestants.

Work Paid by NYA Helps 3 Students To Stay in School

An organization which is proving of definite value to a group of high school students, which has received little publicity for its work is the NYA, or the National Youth administration. This is a governmental agency which provides needy students with work to help them remain in school.

Pampa high school is now allowed 13 students by the NYA. The duties of these students vary. Some earn their money as laboratory helpers for science teachers; others do extra work in the library; while still others do janitor work.

The students work 24 hours a month at 25c an hour, the total pay being $6.

Another organization which is adding these students is the local student loan fund, which lends money to the boys and girls who work for the NYA, until they receive their government checks.

Glee Club Will Go To Canyon to Sing

Sponsors of the high school glee club have accepted an invitation for the organization to sing as part of a massed chorus in the Buffalo stadium at Canyon May 1. The local club will sing two songs alone.

The glee club will sing at Canyon in the morning, and then return to Pampa to sing massed chorus of Gray county choral clubs at Harvester park at 8 p. m.

PHS GIRL WINS THIRD IN STATE LATIN CONTEST

Betty Shryock Given Essay-Writing Honor

Betty Shryock, a second-year Latin student, won third place in the state Latin essay contest, it was learned here Saturday. More than 480 students from 98 high schools over the state took part in the contest.

Miss Shryock won first place in the district Latin essay contest held April 4 in Quanah, and her essay was forwarded to Austin to be entered in the state contest.

The subject of her essay was "The Founding of Rome." The essay, written in Latin, was required to be from 500 to 1,000 words in length. They were based on special reading done before the contest.

Miss Shryock is a first-term junior who is spending her first year in school here. She came here from Tulsa, Okla., a second-year last week in the district ready writers' contest held here.

NOTABLE NOTHINGS OF P. H. S.

By The Nimble Nil-Wits

The coming of spring seems to have brought with it an epidemic of matrimony for P. H. S. students. Everyone who hasn't had a handful of wedding bells is at least rumored to have done so. Jack Walstead says he'll wait until summer.

And with marriage uppermost in the minds of a great many students, even Snopcer is looking for a suitable mate. If you're interested, look him up.

Rumors (false, of course) of marriage have surrounded the romance of C. D. and T. S. However, at a time like this, anyone who has a steady is suspected of marrying her.

What's this Snopcer hears about Jean Gillespie and Clarence Arnold? More gossip, evidently.

Jim Arndt is plenty mad. His flame has been flirting with another boy!

Did you notice Maxine mooning about the halls Monday? Reason—Rex Rose was away at Galveston.

Miss Branom told Betty Horner that she did not care to be quoted on anymore Inquiring Reporter questions. It seems that she did not know she was talking for publication last week and so didn't devote serious thought to her answer.

Sooner or later, this warm weather affects everyone. Even Chris Martin is reported to have started romancing. The cream in his coffee is said to be Mildred Pearce.

Snooper saw: Rosalene Vaughn, a former A. H. S. student, in school Monday.

Albert Ayer trying nobly to make up lost distance in the relay race.

"Alice the Goon" McMahon screaming at the top of her voice at the track meet.

Lillian (Jilted) Rice trying to win the National Fibbers' contest, but she failed to be convincingly.

Helen Arndt wearing a Texas Tech bra-let.

Dear Editor:

Hopefully,

PAMPA CONTESTANTS TO SEEK REGIONAL HONORS IN MEET TO BE HELD IN CANYON SATURDAY

Will Enter Athletic And Literary Events

Following their success in the district interscholastic meet here last week, a number of local students will go to the regional meet to be held in Canyon Saturday. Pampa high school won the meet with a total of 85 points, as compared with the 50 points of Panhandle, which was second, and Borner's 35 points, which was third rank. Both athletic and literary honors were won by P. H. S. students.

Those who placed first in the track and field events were Albert Ayers in the 440-yard run and Moose Hartman in the discus throw. However, all contestants who placed as high as fourth in athletic events are eligible for participation in the Canyon meet. Those boys are: Junior Strickland, Ivan Noblitt, W. J. Brown, Albert Ayers, Moose Hartman, Glen Maxey, and Bob Davis. E. N. Dennard is coach of the squad.

In the tennis boys' singles, Ralph ("Lefty") Hamilton won first place and will journey to the regional meet also.

John Austin, Elmer Watkins, Kenneth Brown, and Melvin Watkins will take part in the regional golf tournament.

Those who won in the literary events for Pampa and who will represent P. H. S. in the Canyon meet are: Colleen McMahon in girls' declamation and Mickey Ledrick in extemporaneous speaking.

Perfect spelling paper written by Alta Marie Terrell and Edythe Shearer have already been sent to Austin.

The one-act play cast made up of Arvo Goddard, Mary Adams, and Dick Kennedy, and directed by Ben Gull, will compete for regional honors.

David Seyffert will take part in the extemporaneous speaking contest. Kathryn Snell will compete in the shorthand contest.

Winners in the regional meet will go to Austin for the state meet May 4 and 5.

Panhandle Is Jinx Of Local Debaters In Meet Saturday

With three inexperienced members, the Pampa debate team marked the climax of their season with a complete performance in the district meet here last weekend.

Norman Cox, Don Taylor, and Mary McCallum, the three who had no experience prior to this season, made rapid improvement during the year. Betty Jo Townsend, who was a member of last year's team which won in the district meet, also showed marked improvement.

The girls' team won from Spearman and Borner in the district Saturday only to be eliminated by the Panhandle team, which won the district cup. The local girls tied with another team for third place.

The Pampa boys' team were also eliminated by a Panhandle team. An experienced team from Clarendon won district honors in the boys' division.

Comedy Abounds in Junior Play To Be Given Here in May

If you like to laugh, if you want to forget your troubles, if you have a good sense of humor, then you are certain to be "tickled pink" over the junior class' production of "The Campus Queen" in the month of May.

The play will be staged in the City auditorium May 8-9.

Students associated with the production said yesterday that its author, Robert Ray, has written many stage successes, and that in "The Campus Queen" he has taken an incident that really happened and written a play that is packed with funny lines, humorous situations, and witty dialog.

Much time is being spent in practice on the play, and careful attention is being given to detail and characterization.

Banquet Date Set For Thursday Night

The Pan-American banquet to be given by high school Spanish classes will be held Thursday, according to Miss Cox. The date was originally set for last Friday, but the affair was postponed until this week because of delay in the arrival of materials.

Favors, decorations, and programs will carry out the Pan-American theme. South America, Central America, Mexico, and the West Indies will be represented in the materials used.

The Pageant of the Americas will be staged, and Mexican food will be served.

Loan Fund Offers Help to Students Needing Assistance

Cast of One-Act Play Will Seek Regional Honors

If you are in need of clothing, glasses, money for cafeteria bills, or anything else that is essential to your staying in school and doing good work, a way has been provided for you to get the necessary funds.

The Student Loan fund now has about $150 in its treasury. This money is not in use when it might be helping students who seriously need aid. Mrs. Alexander and Miss Branom, sponsors of the group which has built up the fund, said yesterday that loans would gladly be made to those students who meet the requirements.

It was stressed that students should not refrain from asking help for fear that it would be regarded as charity. The loans are made on a business-like basis, and the fund is similar to the funds available in most colleges and to which many college students have recourse.

Many expense items have been cared for by students through the fund. Glasses, food and lodging, and similar things have been taken care of through loans.

KID' DAY WILL BE STAGED BY SENIORS FRIDAY

Outing and Theater Party Included In Plans

When they were children, they aspired to be seniors; and now that they have achieved that state they yearn to have Time to turn back in its flight.

The seniors will re-enact their childhood days Friday, which has been designated as "KID" day. At least, all seniors who have paid their class dues will do so.

Seniors who wish to take part in the activities of the class Friday will be unable to do so if they have not paid their dues. The dues are payable to Evelyn Bicknell, the class secretary-treasurer.

In addition to the other activities of the day, the class has planned to have luncheon at a cutting in the city park, and a theater party has been arranged for the evening.

Seniors who are planning to go to Carlsbad must have all arrangements made by May 7. It was announced yesterday that the trip has been postponed from May 10-12 to May 15-17, the change being made because the crowds expected at the cavern on a New Mexico holiday scheduled for the earlier date made it inadvisable to make the trip at that time.

The Inquiring Reporter

Because of the "spring-y" attitude being taken by most students in P. H. S., it might be well to have a little "kid" day. How you can tell when you're in love?

"You feel like you're flying round and round and don't know where to light."—Mr. Cabs.

"Oh, kind of breezy and fantastic."—Gai Penace.

"I don't know, but I'm in love."—Theda Cox.

"I don't know—what do you think I am, an encyclopedia or a master mind?"—Juanita Hall.

"Everybody is different, but I have a funny feeling around the heart."—Mervyn Bicknell.

"Love is a feeling that you feel like you feel when you feel like you never felt before."—Mr. Nuckols.

"I'm a woman-hater! I've never been in love."—Jim Arndt.

"It's indescribable! It's a marvelous sensation! It's a grand feeling."—Mrs. Massa.

"You're setting on top of the world."—Don Taylor.

"You never know you're in love until it's all over."—Jeanette Cole.

"Oh, Sick!"—Arvo Goddard.

"You feel like a rattlesnake had bitten you."—Mr. Selby.

"You break out in a rash."—Virginia Mason.

"Oh, you're always jealous, and forever imagining things."—Floyd Stevens.

Did You Know—

That David Seyffert is moving away from Pampa? He is going to Van, Texas, soon. (He placed fifth in the interscholastic league typing contest last week-end.)

That the seniors are going back to childhood for one day this week? Friday is the date set for "kid" day.

That 13 P. H. S. students will participate in the regional meet in Canyon April 25?

That Betty Shryock won third place in the all-state Latin essay contest?

That a certain Evelyn Bicknell and Miss Branom made dire threats to the Inquiring Reporter for asking innocent questions for the papers? If any murders take place in the near future, don't be surprised.

That the Texas history students are planning to broadcast over KPDN, giving talks on events in Texas history? Mr. Cabs has asked that history students wishing to take part, see him.

That Mr. Cabs is a good cook? Ask anyone who tasted the fish he cooked the other day.

That spring is surely here, from all appearances, for the young men and the young women are turning to thoughts of love and matrimony?

That Mickey Ledrick is certainly getting popular of late? The girls in Texas history class simply can't resist winking at him even while he's making a talk!

That Miss Branom thinks Borden March is a "timid, shrinking violet"?

That Miss McFarlin thinks a letter should not be closed by saying "I'm gonna close"? She says that if you close the persona will know it without the added information.

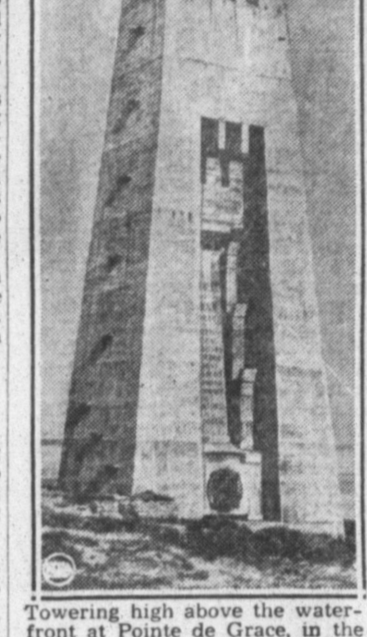

That Georgia Tinnin, after a week's illness, is back in school?

That it rained yesterday? There was so little of it that was almost unuseful?

That six-weeks exams are due this week? Better start cramming, 'cause teachers are giving hard ones. It is rumored.

would again broadcast the victory of the Amarillo Sandies this year when Pampa Harvesters were defeated.

SINCE THIS column has turned out to be a Pampa edition here's a more complete report about our good neighbors. Pampa is planning an outstanding Centennial celebration this year. The event will be staged June 2, 3, 4, and 5. Business will contribute liberally to make the celebration a success. A race track is being built. Pioneer day with representatives from every Panhandle city is planned. Boy Scout day with 12000 of the Panhandle is another feature. Pampa is stressing the fact that this is not a Pampa celebration but a Panhandle event. Leaders have hope of getting President Roosevelt to come to Pampa for one day during the big Panhandle event. (End of article.)

SPRING FEVER, that seasonal malady which accompanies the first warm days and early blossoms, has become more or less of an epidemic. Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer, reminds the citizens of Texas with some suggested precautions.

The most outstanding symptom of spring fever is the urge felt by both old and young to get out into the open as often as possible. While people are getting all the benefits possible from contact with Mother Nature, Dr. Brown urges the use of common sense precautions. Some of the glamour has been taken from the swimming hole by the modern pools, but it is more than offset by the sanitation and safety devices which promote health and save lives. Swimming now can be learned by everyone, without the needless sacrifice of lives and without the constant threat of typhoid fever which is a hazard of every out of the way swimming place.

"With the first excursions into woods and fields in quest of wild flowers, every body should remember that about 75 per cent of snake bites occur on the lower extremities. Snake bites could be prevented to a large extent by wearing boots or heavy leggings and being cautious.

"If one should be bitten by a rattlesnake, prompt action is necessary and a doctor should be called as soon as possible. No time should be lost in removing the poison by suction. Apply a tourniquet above the wound and make cross-cut incisions over the fang marks. Suction should be applied for at least half an hour. The most dangerous fluid is farthest away from the wound; its absorption must be prevented as it is the source of the systemic poisoning. Release tourniquet every 10 or 15 minutes for about a minute at a time.

other holding companies—and that is a feature of some holding companies that have been criticized."

"Did I ask you anything about the features of holding companies that have been criticized?" Becker demanded.

"Not directly," the witness replied. "Then why did you volunteer that statement?" Becker pressed.

"I like to give complete answers, the witness said. Developing testimony that the A. T. & T. received approximately $13,000,000 from associated companies last year in return for services performed under "license contracts," Becker asked Heiss whether this money had not come originally from payments by telephone subscribers to individual companies.

"It is paid from any money the companies have," Heiss responded. He added that operating companies may receive some revenues from advertising, dividends on stockholdings and interest on loans.

Becker, however, branded this revenue as "comparatively insignificant," and reiterated that fees paid under the license contracts "are provided almost entirely by subscribers."

"Yes," Heiss replied, "but we don't tag the dolls."

gained on this ground a hundred years ago today.

"How can the man who falls in such simple duties as his commonwealth assume to say he would have done so much when all of Texas either fought or fled? The man who cannot discharge a little trust will not be worthy of a great place."

"Added to this eternal scarcity of civic consciousness there is the inescapable decline of private concern for public health which has accompanied the growth in wealth and power of every state since Nineveh and Babylon."

"The honor and glory of the Lone Star state is as much in our hands today as it was in those of Austin's colonists. We can if we will make Texas just as resplendent in the eyes of the world as it was then."

"It is not enough for us during this centennial year merely to observe the lives and achievements of our forebears of a hundred years ago. The centennial of Texas progress will be meaningless, the sacrifice and valor of our forefathers will be in vain, unless Texans of this privileged generation renew the pledge they sealed with blood upon the battlefield."

King Can't Attend Elizabeth's Party

LONDON, April 21. (AP)—Uncle David sent a note of apology today to soften the disappointment of Little Princess Elizabeth, second in succession to the British throne, who had expected the wearer of the crown of Britain to attend her tenth birthday party.

The note said "Uncle David," otherwise known as King Edward VIII, was prevented by state affairs from attending his niece's party.

The princess drew some consolation from the opening of hundreds of presents from all parts of the world.

Due to a family rule she may not keep many gifts sent by persons unknown to the royal family.

MINERS

joined the crew still striving frantically to rescue the two survivors before they died.

Another call went out for volunteers—able-bodied men willing to carry out rock and earth as miners dug.

Earlier Dr. Robertson, speaking up a telephone connection from his pit on the 141-foot level, told the men at the surface that he and Alfred Scadding had just enjoyed two hours sleep and were "feeling fine."

They were fed through the 100-foot bore made by a diamond drill, and it was believed they could be kept alive at least 24 hours more.

During the night eight volunteers went to the dangerous Reynolds shaft, believed to lead to the spot where Dr. Robertson and Scadding were held, to replace a similar number of weary workers who had collapsed from exhaustion.

Other Nova Scotia and Ontario miners who had been on the job more than 24 hours without sleep were ordered to the bunkhouse.

Engineers said rescue was close—measure in feet—but that it might be hours before a hole was hacked through the last barrier of rock separating the rescue crew from the 141-foot level.

Physicians at the surface said Dr. Robertson was suffering from a cold, contracted during his long confinement in the damp underground prison and that Scadding had "trench feet," the malady once suffered by soldiers in France from exposure to moist ground.

Besides the two men in the cavern where they sought safety from rising water was the body of McGill 30-year-old Toronto lawyer and Dr. Robertson's partner in the purchase of the old Moose River mine three months ago.

Throughout the night, Dr. Robertson had kept in communication with the mine head where his wife waited, dreading that she might finally receive the same word that sent Mrs. McGill, broken-hearted, back to her two small children in Toronto.

In a dramatic conversation with his brother-in-law, Charles Ivey, Dr. Robertson described the terrible experience of April 12 when "the whole room fell in."

"There were heavy crashes and another rush of air," Dr. Robertson said.

"After another hour it all crashed down. For a while we made no more movements. We were caught in there. It slipped away to the next level. The shaft above the level was quite clear up 132 feet. A big log fell across the timber. The whole roof fell in."

Dr. Robertson, a note of hysteria creeping into his voice, expressed fear during the night that the rescuers had lost their direction.

"Ask them to make a noise," he called over the telephone, seeking positive assurance that the relief which had been promised him so often was near and certain.

"We can't hear them drilling now," he complained. "We could hear them drilling in the shaft before."

At that time, the miners were tearing out soft earth with their brodered with bluebonnets, the flower of the Lone Star state, participated in the solemn military mass which featured the ceremonies.

More than 1,500 parochial school children from scattered sections of South Texas formed a huge living Texas flag which later was transformed into the Stars and Stripes of the United States. A choir of 300 male voices sang the Gregorian chant.

The old and the new in warfare were represented by a reproduction of the cannon at Gonzales which fired the first shot of the revolution and the latest anti-aircraft guns brought from Galveston by the 69th coast artillery.

Two San Houston, direct descendants of the hero of San Jacinto, represented Gov. E. W. Marland of Oklahoma at the ceremonies. They were Sam Houston, 3rd, professor at the Oklahoma military academy at Claremore and a friend of the late Will Rogers, and Sam Houston, his 4th, 5-year-old son.

Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel of New Orleans was the celebrant of the mass and Bishop John J. Cantwell of Los Angeles delivered the sermon.

Soldiers from the coast artillery regiment, high school R. O. T. C. cadets, and Boy Scouts attended in uniform. Besides Archbishop Rummel, other archbishops present were Arthur J. Drossertis of San Antonio, J. E. Mitty of San Francisco, and R. A. Gerkin of Santa Fe.

Gov. James V. Alford was scheduled as the principal speaker at a patriotic program sponsored by the Sons and Daughters of the Texas Republic. The day was to end with the dedication of a Claremore monument to the pioneer Masons of Texas and vesper services by students in the Houston schools.

San Jacinto day observances were held throughout the state. One of the most notable was that at San Felipe, site of Stephen F. Austin's first colony and the capital of the colonies up to the time of the revolution. Gov. Alford planned to go from Houston to the Austin county village to participate in the ceremonies there.

AMARILLO BID OKAYED

FORT WORTH, April 21. (AP)—Construction of Burnett county's $135,000 courthouse will begin next Tuesday. It was announced at PWA offices here today. Plans and specification of the superstructure for the Amarillo Junior college administration building have been approved and bids will be opened May 8.

Numerous revisions have been made in the bill but Hill intimated that the revenue gains and losses occasioned by the alterations just about balanced.

He said it was estimated $40,000,000 would be picked up by placing investment trusts undergoing complete liquidation under the graduated capital gains and loss tax.

That, Hill said, would permit many trust holdings, which it is desired to liquidate, to pay a tax as low as 33 per cent.

Half of Elks Ball Proceeds Will Go To Cafeteria Fund

Tonight at the Pia-Mor auditorium the Pampa Elks club will stage its annual charity ball. Fifty per cent of the proceeds will be given to the local school cafeteria fund.

Ralph Emerson and his orchestra will provide the music and will also present an entertaining floor show. Dancing will begin at 8 o'clock and last until the early morning hours. More than 200 tickets have been sold in advance.

Members met last night and completed plans for the big undertaking.

STOLEN CAR FOUND

A car belonging to Jack Bellah of LeFors was found by City Officers W. C. Dillman and Weldon Wilson several hours after Mr. Bellah had reported it stolen from where he had parked it near the Santa Fe station last night.

Mr. Bellah reported to officers about 7:30 o'clock. They found the car parked in front of Levine's Store on Cuyler street near midnight. It had not been driven far, the officers said.

palities for construction of publicly owned and operated power systems.

The cities involved are Florence, Decatur, Sheffield, Tucumcila, Russellville, Gunterville and Hartselle in Alabama; Iowa City, Ia., Plainville, Texas, and Hominy, Okla.

Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, and Dean Acheson, who resigned as undersecretary of the treasury in November, 1933, represented the power companies.

The Plainview, Texas, project was described by Acheson as "a waste of funds and a duplication of facilities already over supplying a limited market."

"The private power system now operating will be reduced to scrap value," he said. "A municipal plant would not constitute a Public Works project within the meaning of the act. It was not decided on until after the private company had failed to sell its plant to the city at one third the cost of a new plant."

payment of AAA processing taxes. Chairman Samuel B. Hill (D., Wash.) of the tax sub-committee which did the spade work on the measure said no official estimates as to the prospective yield had been made. But he indicated he thought the measure would produce upwards of $800,000,000.

"In my opinion," Hill said, "we are not losing any money from the original estimates."

Those estimates added up to $799,000,000—$501,000,000 from the new corporation tax plan, $100,000,000 from the windfall levy, $83,000,000 from temporary continuation of the excess profits and capital stock taxes and $25,000,000 from imposts on dividends to foreigners.

Numerous revisions have been made in the bill but Hill intimated that the revenue gains and losses occasioned by the alterations just about balanced.

He said it was estimated $40,000,000 would be picked up by placing investment trusts undergoing complete liquidation under the graduated capital gains and loss tax.
