East Texas Refiners Seek Lower Freight Rate To Southwest

DALLAS, (UP)—Testimony introduced in behalf of refinery operators of East Texas who are asking for a change of railroad rates into the southeast on the idea they are damaging to refiners in Eastern Texas was heard here today. H. Mattingly, representative of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Glenn Davis, manager of the Dallas office of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, said establishment of the rate sought by East Texas refiners will help that industry. He testified the change would not be harmful to refiners in Shreveport and in Arkansas.

Supporting testimony was given by R. R. Mains, of Tulsa, Okla., who said he represented a Longview refinery.

Mattingly with Len A. Smith of the Texas Railroad Commission, will hear testimony on railroad rates on cotton between inland points in Texas and Oklahoma and export points.

Smith said the refined oil hearing, said he would represent the Texas body tomorrow. He explained interior compresses want lower rates to ports, while railroads and port compresses oppose any reduction in tariff or changes in regulations that are sought by the interior cotton shippers.

The reduction is sought from the Fort Worth and Denver and the Rock Island-Burlington roads.

131,452 Enter Gate At Texas State Fair In First Three Days

DALLAS, (UP)—Attendance at the Texas State Fair is running ahead of last year. Crowds Wednesday celebrated Dallas Day.

For the three opening days the total gate was 131,452 persons with the opening day's attendance more than double that of the first day's showing last year.

Business houses, public schools and clubs were working toward a record attendance today. The schools were to close at noon to permit students to attend.

A football game, the second of three contests to be held between Jefferson University of Dallas and the Army eleven of Kelly Field was to bring out thousands today, fair officials said.

Meanwhile, those who do not study attendance figures as indicative of a business revival, were following the awarding of prizes and receiving a set of black for agricultural, livestock and household exhibits.

An early lead by exhibitors of Hartley county in the Panhandle was favorably noticed by agricultural authorities, as that county's entries are new in this show. The agricultural exhibit made by farmers of Hartley county was awarded first prize and second prize was given to Gonzales county in South Texas. Ellis county, Dallas neighbor, was third.

Judging in livestock pens is already underway and the narrowing down of entries to the grand prize winner of each class is started.

Chicago Banker Returns Unharmed After Kidnaping

CHICAGO, (UP)—Norman B. Collins, 38, president of two Chicago banks, was home and unharmed when kidnapers who held him for $5,000 ransom avoided almost certain capture and possible death by giving him his freedom.

Collins, who was l'naped with his wife near his home in the exclusive suburb of Wilmette, was released 12 hours later without payment of ransom.

The abductors had freed Mrs. Collins after sealing down a ransom demand from $100,000 to $5,000.

Late yesterday a slip of paper giving elaborate instructions for the ransom payment was pushed under the door of the Collins home.

It instructed Mrs. Collins to drive around a mile square "ea."

"Continue driving until you are relieved of package containing money," said the note.

Police disguised as laborers, camouflaged squad cars and heavily armed machine gun details were concentrated in the area. A detective garbed as Mrs. Collins took the Collins automobile and followed the instructions.

While the police awaited the appearance of the abductor, the kidnapers, fearful of detection, released their captive.

Prohibition Agents Trail Fluid To Dallas, Find It Is Only Oil

DALLAS, (UP)—Federal prohibition agents who are understood to have trailed 1500 pounds of fluid in thirteen cans all the way from St. Louis to Dallas have decided that thirteen is an unlucky number.

Shortly after the shipment had been delivered to a local oil company, agents surrounded the place, then swarmed in and examined the contents of the cans.

Strangely enough, the agents found that the oil company's shipment was oil.

"They barged in without ceremony and left without apology," declared J. M. McCue city salesman for the company, whose surprise over the unexpected visit was mingled with disgust.

Missouri U. Coach Denies He Charged Texas With 'Spying'

COLUMBIA, Mo., (UP)—Frank Carideo, University of Missouri football coach, denied he had charged Texas football scouts as "spying" on Missouri practice sessions last week.

"Carideo said he did not make the statement that he thought Texas had resorted to unfair scouting. 'I think all Littlefield knew about was that a large crowd around the field watched our game with Northwestern' The Tiser men were watching our game."

"My only idea in holding secret practice is that I am better able to work with my men when there is not such a large crowd around," Carideo said. "Last night's practice showed that they respond better when working in secret session."

proposes to increase its power from 75,000 to 500,000 watts, as viewed with concern by officials here.

The operating frequency of XER is only 20 kilocycles removed from station WEAF, New York, and serious interference is predicted. Station XER is used for broadcasting by Dr. J. R. Brinkley, independent candidate for governor of Kansas, but in which he and the operators say he no longer is an owner.

Officials say they are helpless to take action because of the lack of a treaty with Mexico covering the matter. They said the question undoubtedly will be discussed at the International Radio Conference at Madrid.

Station XER is only one of 10 or 12 high-powered stations planned for the Mexican side of the border. Norman Baker, former Muscatine, Iowa, editor whose station was removed from the air in the Brinkley case plans a 50,000 to 150,000 watt plant at Nuevo Laredo.

Dangerous Ocean Flying

THE NEARLY-rare accident which interrupted the flight of the "flying family" in the open off the Greenland coast emphasizes anew a fact that ought never to be forgotten—that transatlantic flying is not yet a safe proposition and that the attempt should be made only by those young freelanders who are quite ready to gamble with their lives.

The Atlantic has been flown a great many times in the last few years, and it took as if familiarity had bred contempt. So this Hutchinson family, accustomed to the air and confident in its plane, set out to do the stunt—taking along two little children who were by no means old enough to understand the perils of the voyage properly.

For an air-minded family to cruise about over the land is one thing. For it to dare the Atlantic is another. Ocean flying is still profoundly risky.

rmstrong At Tackle fault has found Red nd Mike Roberts dem- e second string at the tions. Armstrong, given little or no serious consideration as a regular tackle, was handicapped by injuries during the earlier part of the season, and made his first appearance in the Amarillo contest. The black-haired, heavy-weight displayed plenty of promise against the powerful Sandstorm, and with a little improvement is due to hold a regular position throughout the year. Cy Reid, who has spent two years' lost among the center candidates, has likewise staged remarkable progress and is almost a cinch to letter.

Elmer Dyer, who checked any and all rumors to that effect that he was not up to his last year's standard by featuring the local's play in the Amarillo contest, will be at his regular center position. Fred Martin and Clifton Smith are to be given the call at guards, but Bob Flowers is slated for early relief work. Flowers outplayed both of the regulars against the Sandles, but is held out of the starting lineup because of his versatility.

Backfield Certain Bristow's starting backfield seems to be settled. Livian Harris will handle the punting duties and is booked to do a greater part of the passing. Henry Richburg, fullback, will again do the bulk of the ball-carrying these unless with Harris and Fred Koberg. Howard County's veteran field general will be usual handle the quarterback's post.

Expectations of a three or four touchdown victory caused Bristow to predict that most of his players would see action. An entire second team, composed of Vines and Cordell, ends; Sandel, and Roberts, tackles; flowers and, Duval, guards; S. Flowers, center, and Townsend, Hays, Morgan and Woods in the backfield, will be ready to take the field and may see as much service as the regulars.

A football "session" the other evening resulted in a discussion over what a sports writer would do if it became necessary to put the name Schwarzenbach in headlines. Bristow summed up the difficulty by remarking that if a headline was ever run saying Schwarzenbach did this or that the reader would throw up his hat and say, "Hooryay, beer's back!"

To return to the subject of all district 3 men and Prexy Anderson: "The Abilene scribble the work of Walter Schuchard, San Angelo end. He reckons the young man still rates an all-district berth. There was praise, also, for Ed McLendon, Bobcat tackle, and for the guards, Galloway and Raiborn, Schuchard, incidentally, was up in the middle of things most of the afternoon.

This Schuchard is one young man that is going to have trouble repeating. Elmer Stagner at Colorado, is due to have quite a following, and without seeing Schuchard in action this year we pass along the opinion that Stagner is much better at receiving forward passes.

Captain Coots of the Big Spring team, a scrapping, defensive wingman, is up to receive some consideration, also. Coots has learned how to receive passes and to assist in making interference, two things he did not do in 1935.

Amos Melton's summary of the ten strongest threats for the state championship in the high school league did not include the Sweetwater Mustangs, and the citizens over there are waxing indignant about it. You might have noted that it is a habit of Sweetwater inhabitants to wax indignant over all slights to their football team, whether it comes in a press dispatch or an attempt to remove one of their stars from competition. The sport, we hastily add, is very, very commendable and may be one reason for a 20 to 40 being administered to the Abilene Eagles.

District 3 seems to be enjoying its most profitable year. San Angelo and Sweetwater loom up as possible eleven probably better than any in either school's history, certainly it is the case at Sweetwater. Big Spring has a slight, inexperienced team that hardly warrants a class treating one day and then the next afternoon has state championship possibilities.

The winger of the district is entitled to some consideration in the state race. Taking his first two games as a basis of comparison the Mustangs are second only to the Amarillo Sandles, if not on even par. Two tougher opponents could hardly be found than Abilene and Lubbock.

SPORTS ON PARADE

By CURTIS BISHOP

Charley Green, Sweetwater scribe, comes forward with the following comment concerning Homer Barnett's play in the Colorado-McCamey contest:

"McCamey showed plenty of beef at tackle and that was about all. The great Barnett, who was allotted the district berth last year, seems to have slowed considerably. In which case he must have moved at a terrific pace in 1935. The Homer Barnett that we saw play against Colorado played a one-man game as one-man games are not often played. The big McCamey captain was his team's defense, two-thirds of its offense, and certainly its guiding spirit. Had the ten others in Badger uniforms fought as hard there would be no cause for celebration in Colorado this week.

Another all-district star of 1935 has come in for his share of "razzberries." Prexy Anderson, the Abilene columnist, says "that Delker kind of let the boys and girls down. George wasn't bad, but the public was expecting him to be a whizz and he wouldn't whizz."

Delker isn't good. He doesn't even look good. But he's big and fast and if there's a line in District 2 that can hold him we'd like to borrow it for the Big Spring-San Angelo game on No. 5th.

It is nearly over, however, he will be all-state. Our idea of an all-state back is one who can do, does, and has done everything that a back can do. Delker is a ball-carrier, and not a particularly elusive one at that. His defensive work wasn't so hot last year and he's not improved little, if any.

A football "session" the other evening resulted in a discussion over what a sports writer would do if it became necessary to put the name Schwarzenbach in headlines. Bristow summed up the difficulty by remarking that if a headline was ever run saying Schwarzenbach did this or that the reader would throw up his hat and say, "Hooryay, beer's back!"

To return to the subject of all district 3 men and Prexy Anderson: "The Abilene scribble the work of Walter Schuchard, San Angelo end. He reckons the young man still rates an all-district berth. There was praise, also, for Ed McLendon, Bobcat tackle, and for the guards, Galloway and Raiborn, Schuchard, incidentally, was up in the middle of things most of the afternoon.

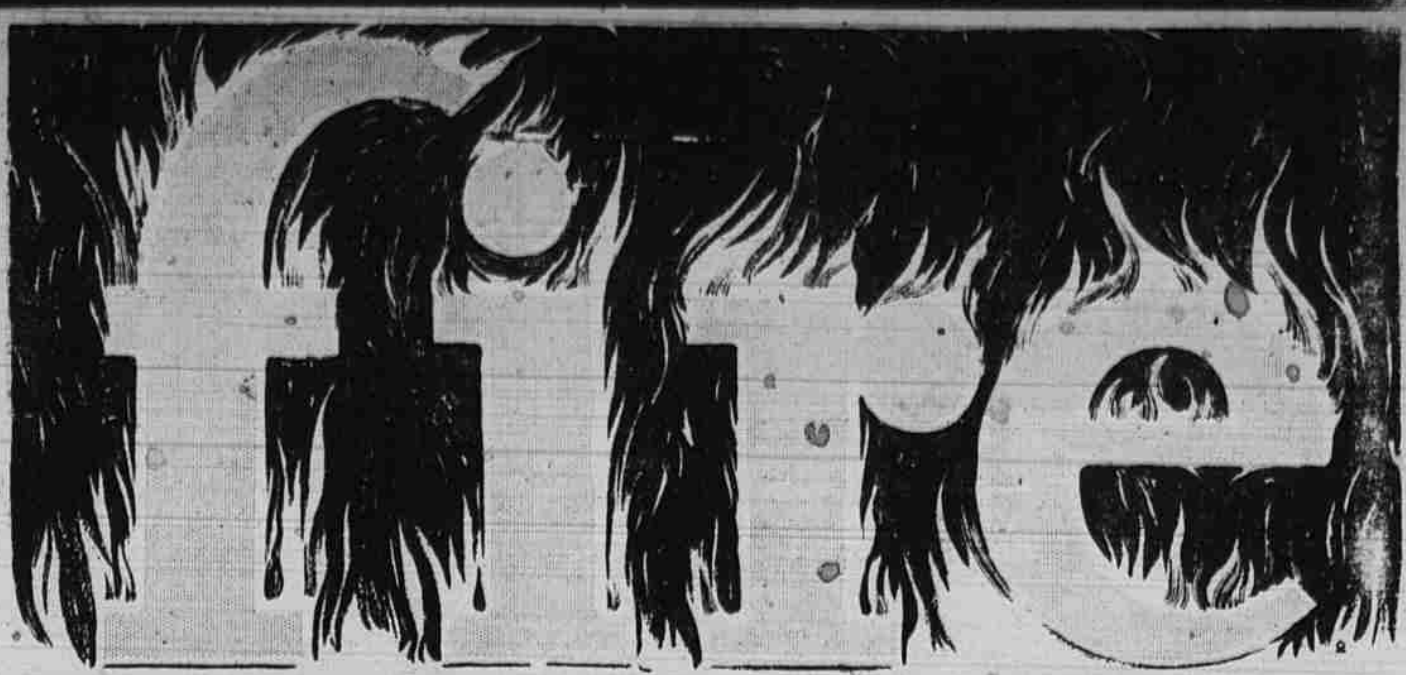

This Schuchard is one young man that is going to have trouble repeating. Elmer Stagner at Colorado, is due to have quite a following, and without seeing Schuchard in action this year we pass along the opinion that Stagner is much better at receiving forward passes.

Captain Coots of the Big Spring team, a scrapping, defensive wingman, is up to receive some consideration, also. Coots has learned how to receive passes and to assist in making interference, two things he did not do in 1935.

Amos Melton's summary of the ten strongest threats for the state championship in the high school league did not include the Sweetwater Mustangs, and the citizens over there are waxing indignant about it. You might have noted that it is a habit of Sweetwater inhabitants to wax indignant over all slights to their football team, whether it comes in a press dispatch or an attempt to remove one of their stars from competition. The sport, we hastily add, is very, very commendable and may be one reason for a 20 to 40 being administered to the Abilene Eagles.

District 3 seems to be enjoying its most profitable year. San Angelo and Sweetwater loom up as possible eleven probably better than any in either school's history, certainly it is the case at Sweetwater. Big Spring has a slight, inexperienced team that hardly warrants a class treating one day and then the next afternoon has state championship possibilities.

The winger of the district is entitled to some consideration in the state race. Taking his first two games as a basis of comparison the Mustangs are second only to the Amarillo Sandles, if not on even par. Two tougher opponents could hardly be found than Abilene and Lubbock.

CALL OF THE WEST

By R. G. MONTGOMERY

The horsemen halted before Malloy, who stepped forward. His voice was hoarse. "Get him," he demanded.

"No. He shot Smith." The rider who held the limp figure before him slid to the ground and pulled his burden from the saddle.

Malloy bent over the prostrate man while Dona edged closer. The rest of the boys are hot on him and will get him, the men added. He knelt and watched Malloy's fingers exploring for the wound. "Is he dead?" he asked.

Malloy shook his head. "Nicked," he grinned. "But he's straightened. You said Ball shot him, didn't you?"

"Sure," he nodded. "I was beside the trail.

Dona felt a tightening at her throat as the man stirred and groaned. She felt a little sick to her stomach as she watched Malloy wipe red stains from his hands with a handkerchief. The tall, rawboned boy groaned.

"Ball never shot this man. He plugged him with a rifle bullet. Suit nose! Malloy lifted the man's head to inspect it.

"Suit nose? Malloy snarled. "You mean the suit he was wearing?"

"You're like a cow," Malloy said. "You can't see the difference between a man and a cow? He was trying to shoot me, and you're blaming it on Malloy?"

"You're a damn good shot," Malloy said. "I've seen you shoot a man through the heart." He was silent for a moment, then he said: "You're a damn good shot, but you're not a damn good man. You're a damn good shot, but you're not a damn good man. You're a damn good shot, but you're not a damn good man."

Dona noticed that her father's door was open across the hall. "You opened it?" she asked accusingly.

Dudley grinned. "I just looked in and forgot to close it. Your Dad is liable to be waking up any minute now."

Dona pushed him back and closed the door. "He'll be dressed in a minute. Then you can come in," she called.

Dudley moved down the hall to his room and Dona dressed hurriedly. She would have to make a decision that was certain. If her father was well enough to be left alone, she would have to go with Dudley to find Sam Deady. It was plain that Asper Debo would become suspicious if Dudley kept up his actions and it would not do to have him discover the truth she had played. He was beginning to get suspicious and if he did himself become a suspect, then Asper might have a relapse.

Dona was in the hall waiting for her. He was cool in his dressing and did not speak as she crossed to the door. "Wait here," he called. He was in a hurry, for which she was thankful as she was trying to get to her room. "I'm going to get a car for you. You'll ride with me. Asper Debo is going to be here for a ride in the car. He's asking me to take him. He's asking me to take him. He's asking me to take him."

up on your honeymoon," Asper rumbled.

"Don't you worry about us," Dona cut in hastily.

"No. Just forget our honeymoon and get pitched up so we can take a real one," Dudley's grin faded through.

"It'll be with you this morning," Dona said, patting her father's pillow up against his back as she spoke.

"No. You kids run along to get together. Asper shoved back the empty broom bowl.

"Dad is riding out on a scouting tour," Dona explained.

Asper grunted and straightened. "Young man, you'd better stay in camp with your wife. This family doesn't need any widows."

Reagan Ranchers Show Optimism

BIG LAKE—Optimism is prevalent among ranchmen of this section for all prominent men who were interviewed last week were of the opinion that the wool and sheep market is better than it was in the spring and is apt to increase during the winter.

One very conservative ranchman said the price of wool next spring will likely be around 15 to 20 cents per pound. Long wool was selling after shearing time at 8 to 10 cents.

Yearling ewes sold out of the spring pens last spring at 1.50 to 2.00 per head and these same sheep cannot be bought now for less than 3.50 to 4.00.

The cattle market is about the same. The fall market was sold for 5 cents and better per pound.

Yearlings were 3 to 4 dollars.

An abundance of rain will have a beneficial effect on the crops.

Drugist Sentenced To 20 Year On Plea Of Guilty To Robbery

DALLAS (UP)—District Judge C. A. Pippin today sentenced J. C. Graham, South Dallas drugist, to a total of 20 years in the penitentiary following the latter's plea of guilty to four robberies here during recent months.

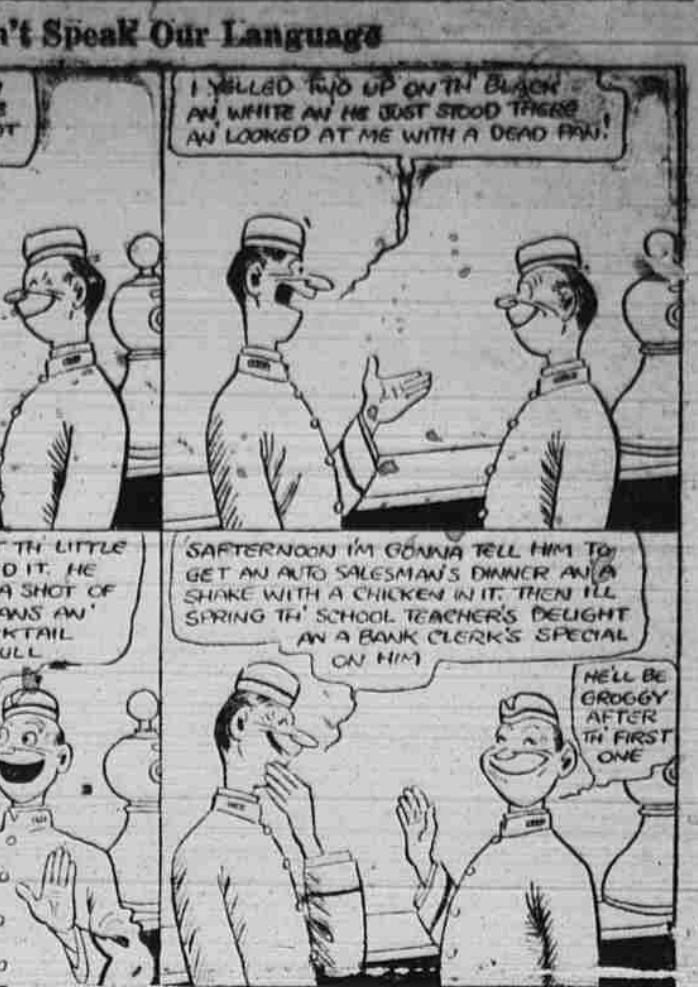

The judge sentenced Graham to five years for each robbery, but ordered two of the terms served concurrently. The other two, the drugist will be required to serve only ten years.

Fellow drugists were Graham's chief victims.

Son Of Montgomery Ward Chairman Takes Own Life

CHICAGO (UP)—Sewell L. Avery, Jr., 31, son of the chairman of Montgomery Ward company was found dead in his apartment Tuesday of asphyxiation. Police said they would remove the body to the morgue.

Young Avery had suffered from a nervous colic and a heart affection several months.

Dudley met Asper's eyes levelly. "I'm riding in," he said. "I have a theory worked out and I want to test it. This afternoon Dona and I will go for a car ride to make up for my running off."

Asper grunted but it was plain that Dudley's attitude pleased him. Dudley turned to Dona and smilingly claimed a kiss. She flushed as she gave it. Dudley certainly believed in taking every advantage he could of circumstances.

Swergin appeared just then in the doorway. He scowled at Dudley and Dona.

"Come in and meet the new-ly-weds," Asper called.

Swergin started at the blushing couple but did not offer congratulations. He faces Asper. "Just came up to report that another man was shot last night."

"It was plenty with an Asper Debo left from bursting through the door," Swergin said.

Swergin gave Dona a level look which she returned with flashing eyes. It was plain Swergin did not care much for Asper's nervous condition.

"Well, have Ball in pretty soon now," Swergin growled.

"You mean Dr. Gibb's chance last night?"

Sports Review

By Bill Zarafonelis Koberg's punting average in the Roscoe game was poorer than his kicking at Lamesa. Instead of improving, it seems as if he has gotten worse, but to balance the score, his ball-kicking ability has improved steadily the past week. His elusive punting, carrying the ball enabled him to score the first two touchdowns for the Steers.

NEW PLAN FOLLOWED THIS YEAR IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLASS

The physical education classes of this year are conducted on a different plan from that of last year. The girls will take P. Equipment for outdoor games has been ordered and most of it has already arrived.

Average Daily Attendance At School Higher Than Last Year

Average daily attendance this year shows a remarkable gain over last year, according to figures obtained from the principal's office. This year the figures show 517, a gain over last year's 467. However, last year's percentage of attendance shows a slight gain over this year's. The enrollment for this year is 94 per cent. This year's tardiness shows a considerably large gain on last year's. Last year the times tardy totaled 48; this year 116.

Tennis Players Do Warming-Up

All the tennis players are glad to see these bright sunny days come again, for they can start warming up. Harry Jordan was reported on the courts one day last week. He is going to have some competition this year. Joe Edward Davis and Mr. Matthews were seen Saturday on the courts. Joe Davis has difficulty in warming up in the cool morning air, so you know how long it took him to do so.

Bovines Fight Gently All Through Contest At Amarillo

The Longhorns, supposedly a cinch for the Sandies, played them to 6 and 6 tie during the first half. Their game battle was continued in the last half but a number of penalties paved the way for another Amarillo counter. A pass, Dunaway to Enoch gave the Sandies another touchdown; the extra point was made sending the team into the final quarter with the score 19-6 favoring the Sandies.

Madam! Do you know that it's clever to be a clipper? Here's a habit you can readily cultivate, and you'll find many of your best friends following it. To become a clipper at one clip, so to speak, just see that the shears are handy when you sit down to read your newspaper. As you consult an advertisement of something that interests you... especially some time that you want to examine when you're shopping next time... clip out the notice and take it with you.

The merchants who advertise with us are glad to have you ask for specific merchandise. And sometimes it's helpful to refer to the advertisement when you're right in the store. At all events, a clipping pinned to your shopping list helps you to remember this particular errand. It simplifies and shortens a shopping-trip so much to know what you want and where to get it!

McCAMEY

whole trouble lies not in San Angelo but in McCamey.

"It was announced in the San Angelo paper a little over a month ago that the McCamey-San Angelo game would be played in the latter city this year, and after local fans had voiced their disapproval, a call meeting of this group was held, and at that time Supt. C. V. Compton was asked if any contract calling for the game to be played over there had been signed, and if it would be possible to get the game played here. The superintendent informed his board that no contract had been signed, and that if the teachers and fence at the local athletic field were completed by Sept. 17, the time of the next district meeting, the game would be staged here. This group then passed a resolution that the game would be played here or not at all. This resolution was made public and the Lions club went to work and had the athletic field completed by the time of the district meeting, securing donations for the completion of the project by informing citizens that it was necessary to complete the field in order to get this game and that the school board had agreed that the game would be played here or not at all.

At Meeting

"On Sept. 17, Supt. Compton attended the district meeting in San Angelo, and upon his return gave out the information that two games instead of one were to be played this season, and that both were to be counted as conference games. One was to be played here on Oct. 22 and the other in San Angelo on Nov. 11. No bonus was to be paid by either team.

"Mr. Compton reported that this was the only agreement that could be reached with the San Angelo officials, the athletic field here had not been completed when the other contracts were signed here last March. The board let it up to the local fans as to whether this agreement would be satisfactory or whether the games should be canceled. It appeared to be the wish of the people that the two games be played.

"According to discoveries of Mr. Key and Mr. Edwards, most of Supt. Compton's statements were not founded on facts and other facts were withheld that should have been known. In the first place it was learned that a contract between the two schools had been signed last July whereby McCamey was to receive a bonus of $150 for playing in San Angelo on Nov. 11. The contract was signed by C. H. Kenley, Harry Taylor of San Angelo, and C. V. Compton of McCamey. It was also learned that McCamey officials had broached the subject of transferring the game and had at first asked for a $200 bonus, but had later agreed to $150. Why was this information withheld from this group when they were attempting to straighten the matter out?

Second Contract

"In a later contract calling for the two games signed on Sept. 17, it was definitely stated that the game in McCamey was merely an exhibition affair and that the Nov. 11 game was to count in the percentage column. According to the tract San Angelo is to receive a bonus of $300 for playing in McCamey where as McCamey is to receive only $150 for going over there.

"This situation has been remedied, however, and a satisfactory agreement has been reached. The district committee in session at Big Spring adopted the motion of C. H. Kenley that each game be allowed to count as a half game, therefore, both will be conference affairs.

"We, the members of the board, feel that we have been dealt with very unjustly by Supt. Compton.

been in possession of the above facts, we would have certainly made known when the matter first came up, thereby averting the strife and discord that it has caused.

"Under the circumstances, and feeling that it is best for the local school system, we recommend that Supt. C. V. Compton tender his resignation as soon as possible.
