STANTON (SC) — The body of County Commissioner Irvin E. Welch of Precinct 3 of Martin County, was found in a field a short distance from his home about 7 p.m. Sunday. He apparently was the victim of an accidental gunshot wound.

Deputy Sheriff A. C. Abernathy of Stanton and Texas Ranger John Wood of Midland, who investigated the case said there was no evidence at all of foul play. Also engaged in the investigation were Justice of the Peace Martin Gibson, Dr. Robert Hornberger and Dr. W. F. Hornberger, all of Stanton.

Shivers Assures Delegation Of Drought Relief

AUSTIN (SC) — Gov. Allan Shivers today promised a delegation of drought-buried West Texans that the state would not let anyone go hungry, and that he would help them meet any need they have.

Shivers promised the group he would do all he could to help them get a reduction in prices for drought relief feeds, and federal planting acreage credit for land they have not put in production because of drought.

Spokesman for the group of 18 who called on the governor today was County Judge Vance H. Gilbreath of Motley County.

Safety Writer Dies In Crash

ATLANTIC, Iowa (SC) — Two years ago Raymond M. Eastman, young Des Moines advertising man, wrote a widely quoted article, "Ten Seconds To Live." It was an imaginary portrayal of thoughts of a motorist about to be killed in a traffic accident.

Eastman, 29, and Peter James, 27, of Kansas City, Mo., died yesterday of car crash injuries. Sheriff Kenneth Jones said Eastman's car "clipped" another auto while passing it and careened into a bridge. He said it was not known who was driving.

Churchill Promises Help To French On EDC Pact

LONDON (AP) — French Premier Pierre Mendes-France conferred more than three hours today with Prime Minister Churchill today on ways to salvage the European Defense Community and left with the British pledge: "I will do all I can to help you."

Churchill gave his pledge as he opened the door of Pierre-Mendes' car for him after a long talk at Chartwell, the Prime Minister's country estate, 25 miles outside London, in which British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden sat in.

The dynamic little French leader, fretting over the fate of the EDC treaty when it comes up for debate in the French National Assembly Saturday, then drove to Biggin Hill air field nearby and took a plane to Paris.

It was his first meeting with the veteran British statesman. Consultations were expected to last several hours. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden rushed home from his Austrian vacation to join them.

Mendes-France came straight from Brussels, where the six-nation talks on the European Defense Community broke down yesterday after four days of practically fruitless bargaining.

Winding up his conference in the Belgian capital, the foreign ministers of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg issued a communique admitting failure to agree on EDC but declaring they shared these four common political aims for Western Europe:

1. Closer European cooperation to protect West Europe from aggression.
2. The avoiding of neutralization of Germany.
3. Continued efforts to work for unification of Germany and some sort of German contribution to allied defense.
4. Drafting of a formula to promote Europe's political and economic integration.

Tables Turned, It's Not Funny

NEW YORK (AP) — Patrick Hastings, 29, thought it would be a wonderful joke to handcuff his friend Pvt. James Speer to his bride of a few hours, Joan, and then mail the keys to Alaska.

But Speer and his new wife ducked out early, and there were the handcuffs, sitting in their box. So...

At 4 a.m., after two emergency squad cops had worked an hour and a half to clip off the manacles, Hastings didn't think the joke was so funny.

Eleven Die In Braniff Crash

MASON CITY, Iowa (AP) — A Braniff International Airways DC3, warned not to land here because of a wild storm, crashed into a pasture yesterday, killing 11 of the 19 persons aboard. Eight were injured, two critically.

An earlier report had given a power failure at the airport as a factor in the crash, but airport officials said the report was erroneous. A power failure an hour later had disrupted some air traffic temporarily but had nothing to do with the crash, they explained.

Four Are Killed In Crack Train's Crash In Illinois

LOMAX, Ill. (AP) — The crack streamliner Santa Fe Chief derailed just east of Lomax yesterday on route from Chicago to Los Angeles.

Of approximately 200 passengers, four were killed and 53 were injured. Only the locomotive and a mail car of the 13-car train held the rails.

The rest zigzagged along the track, some crashing into a parallel string of refrigerator cars on another track. All remained upright except No. 9, which rolled onto its side.

'PACHUCO' RING Thirty Chanute Airmen Seized As Gang Members

CHANUTE AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (AP) — Air Force officials announced yesterday that 30 young airmen had been seized as suspected members of a secret youth terrorist society that is called "Pachuco."

Col. Grover Wilson, technical training group commander at Chanute, said the men are in the guardhouse being held for questioning.

He said the questioning concerned "acts of violence and lawlessness ranging from AWOL offenses and marijuana addiction to knife assaults on those who had informed on the gang after signing a pledge in blood to obey 'the laws of Pachuco.'"

The Air Force revealed that Lt. Robert D. Whitley, chief of the juvenile division of the Los Angeles Police Department, flew to Chanute Friday to aid in the roundup.

Wilson said Whitley briefed air police on how the Pachuco organization operates since he has had experience with similar gangs on the West Coast.

Saturday morning, segments of the base's complement of 15,000 airmen were assembled and ordered to strip to the waist. Some

Scattered Rains Hit Area Points

Scattered showers teased this section again Sunday, falling in beneficial amounts in widely separated spots.

Heaviest rainfall was reported on the Cecil Walker place, about 15 miles northeast of Big Spring. Walker said he gauged 1.9 inches Sunday.

At least 13 of the injured were in serious condition in hospitals in Burlington and Fort Madison, Iowa, across the Mississippi River. A hospital train carrying doctors and nurses was dispatched from Chicago by Santa Fe officials but state police at the scene reported about two hours after the accident additional help was not needed.

Cars Stranded On U.S. 80 In El Paso Area

Drought-breaking rains in Eastern New Mexico sent the Rio Grande on a rampage Monday in the river lowlands above and in the northern outskirts of El Paso.

Some downpours were reported as heavy as 9 inches although the border city's weather bureau reported only .72 inch.

River authorities said the usually placid Rio Grande was a raging torrent above El Paso and there was some fear in the White Spur and Crossroads areas of New Mexico that flood dikes would not hold.

Jealousy Blamed In Waco Killings

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Police blamed jealousy for the fatal shooting yesterday of three persons: an 81-year-old husband, his 50-year-old wife and their 73-year-old neighbor.

Detective Capt. Wiley Stern said surviving members of both families blamed the shootings on groundless jealousy.

He said Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Spivey were sitting at their kitchen table when Spivey began arguing. Stern said Spivey shot his wife with a pistol. Spivey then called G. B. Darwin, the neighbor, and when he reached the Spivey home, the husband shot him, he said. Then Spivey killed himself.

Scattered showers continued Monday morning along the upper Texas coast and in the areas north of Abilene and west of Wichita Falls. The El Paso-Salt Flat area also got more rain.

The 24-hour totals up to 6:30 a.m. Monday included: El Paso .72, Salt Flat .75, Odessa .50, Lubbock 1.15, Amarillo .14, Frensdille .26, San Antonio .55, Brownsville .02, Houston 1.15, Galveston .35, Austin .52, Waco .52, Texarkana .10, Dallas 1.10, Fort Worth .50, Salina (north of Dallas) 1.75, Frost 2.50, Dawson .75, Bagby .75 and a sprinkle at Kerens.

Airline Strike End Disputed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal mediators today began around-the-clock efforts to get American Airlines planes back into the air on the basis of a tentative agreement with its striking pilots.

Leverett Edwards, a member of the National Mediation Board, said the pilots will return to work as soon as details of a partial settlement reached yesterday can be worked out, and a neutral referee agreeable to both sides can be appointed to recommend a full settlement.

Short Hair Stirs Japanese Uproar

TOKYO (AP) — Hair styles a la actress Audrey Hepburn are causing something of an uproar in Japanese bathhouse circles.

It cost Japanese women 10 yen, about 3 cents, to wash their heavy tresses at public baths. But women sporting the straight, short Hepburn-type coiffure contend they should get a reduced rate.

Governor Candidates Set For Final Week

By ROBERT E. FORD

The candidates for governor of Texas eyed the five remaining days before the second Democratic primary and went back to campaigning Monday after gathering strength by observing Sunday as a day of rest.

Ralph Yarborough and Gov. Allan Shivers prepared to make ballot appeals in large cities Monday. Shivers is scheduled to make a major statewide radio and TV address in San Antonio at the Alamo—a shrine of Texas liberty—Monday night.

The rally has been widely publicized, stressing a "meet me at the Alamo" slogan.

Yarborough also has a widely publicized rally scheduled for the Alamo Thursday.

But Monday night Yarborough will be in Dallas for a statewide television appearance, then will go to nearby Fort Worth for a rally and statewide radio address.

Despite the candidates' relative inactivity Sunday, there was some minor political action.

At Austin, Shivers' headquarters issued a statement saying "serious, almost obscene literature" attacking the governor was issued at a Brazoria County bridge dedication Saturday at which Shivers spoke. The statement said the dedication was a non-political gathering.

Japanese Textile Strikers Call For Canine Assistance

TOKYO, (AP)—Workers participating in Japan's unique "human rights" strike against the Omi Textile Co. have called for canine reinforcements, the Japan News reported.

The strikers, who object to the alleged management practice of forcing employees to take part in Buddhist services dedicated to the management, have engaged in an off-again, on-again strike.

Right now the strike is on. The Omi management has installed three German shepherd dogs at their Osaka headquarters to prevent strikers from entering the area.

One of the dogs bit a striker, and the workers retaliated by calling for canine "volunteers." First to be offered was a 120-pound Tosa fighting dog.

And one striker donated to the strike committee a full-grown Hokkaido bear.

At Ease After Flight

Thomas H. Danaher, 30-year-old former Marine jet pilot from Wichita Falls, Tex., sits in a Limerick, Ireland, hotel Saturday after crossing the Atlantic in a single-engine plane from Argentina, Newfoundland, to Shannon, Ireland—via Paris, France. Danaher flew 3,100 miles in 13½ hours, landing at Shannon Airport after he couldn't get permission to land at a Paris field. Denied permission by Canadian authorities to attempt the Atlantic crossing, he took off on what he insisted was a one-hour hop in Canada. (AP Wire-photo via radio).

TO AVOID SOUTH Ike Assigns Nixon To Political Tours

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has assigned Vice President Nixon to campaign for Republican Senate and governor candidates in a series of tours which will take him about two-thirds of the states before the November election.

Eisenhower himself will keynote the campaign tonight with a half-hour radio-television review of the record of Congress from Denver.

The speech is scheduled for 8 p.m., EST.

While the President plans visits to several states, he apparently is counting on Nixon as a stand-in for the kind of openly political campaigning he himself doesn't like to undertake.

Nixon, on a 10-day vacation in Maine, will assay the political situation in conferences with individual members of the Republican National Committee in a three-day workshop session at Cincinnati from Aug. 30 through Sept. 1.

Eisenhower and Nixon apparently won't waste any time campaigning in the South. Eisenhower has said he has no plans to speak in Dixie. Nixon will invade Kentucky and possibly some other border states but will go no farther south.

Nixon, who discussed campaign plans with the President at a White House breakfast before Eisenhower left for Denver, is expected to follow closely the theme the President sets in tonight's address.

The White House already has claimed a high batting average of accomplishments for the Republican-controlled Congress and Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, pointed this up over the weekend with the declaration that Congress and the administration "have given the nation its greatest period of prosperity in history."

There was some dissent to this from the Democratic side.

Sen. Clements of Kentucky, head of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, put in the Congressional Record a series of tables showing labor surplus areas in 31 states with the observation that he believes four million or more persons are now unemployed.

"In the first five months of 1954 business failures in the nation were 39 per cent above the same period for last year," Clements said. "This is the highest record of business failures since 1941."

Knowland's claim that the Republican administration and Congress had "acted to strengthen the farm economy" through the substitution of flexible for rigid price supports on basic field crops was disputed by Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.).

Kerr said in an interview that he is convinced the farmers of his state are 4-1 against flexible supports.

"I think that holds true throughout the Midwest and the Republicans will find it out in November," he said.

DATE DATA Ways To Discourage The Unwelcome Caller

Dear Miss Brandon:

My older sister has a boy friend I thought was crazy about her, but lately he has been trying to date me. I like him only as a friend, and do not want to go out with him. He calls almost every day and asks me for a date. Please tell me what I can do.

Sherry

You didn't mention how your sister feels about all this, but it certainly is most diplomatic to avoid trouble in the form of her former boy friend by being busy when he calls.

I admire your loyalty to your sister. Tell her how you feel and ask her if she will answer the telephone.

Parisiens Told To Cut Out Noise Nuisances

PARIS (AP)—Parisiens, already forbidden to honk their horns, are going to be kept from banging milk or garbage cans and playing their radios too loud.

Police Prefect Andre Dubois says the rule about radios goes into effect at once. Heavy cans, the ordinance said, must be "carried, not dragged, and set down, not thrown." Objects too big to be carried must be altered so they can move noiselessly, beginning Jan. 1.

"Rest for the nerves like rest for the body," said the prefect, "is a necessity and not a luxury."

Thank him for thinking of you, but don't suggest he try you again. Suppose we turn now to the neighborhood swimming pool for a minute. Are you having trouble looking glamorous when each stroke washes just a bit more of your make-up off and leaves you looking more and more like a plain Jane?

Try this. Put your lipstick on and wait a full two minutes for it to set. Then blot it until no more will come off. Sprinkle lips lightly with powder, reapply lipstick and you're all set. For your brows, use an eyebrow pencil instead of mascara. With a brush, apply a light coating of hair laquer. Happy swimming you glamour queen!

Watkins Reveals Three Accusers Won't Be Called

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said today a six-man inquiry committee has no plans to call as witnesses three senators who accused Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) of misconduct.

Watkins, who heads the bipartisan committee, said in an interview he sees no need of having Senators Flanders (R-Vt), Fulbright (D-Ark) and Morse (Ind-Ore) repeat under oath the 46 accusations they leveled against McCarthy in the Senate.

"These senators are not complaining witnesses," he said. "Their responsibility ended when they called the Senate's attention to the charges and the responsibility became the Senate's when it ordered this investigation."

"If they have any personal, first-hand knowledge of evidence they could testify to that, but all of them have indicated to me that their knowledge of the charges is based on records which are available to the committee."

McCarthy has demanded that Flanders return from a European vacation to repeat under oath the 33 charges the Vermont senator made against him in the Senate. Flanders said he will be available at the committee's call, if the group wants him.

Flanders, Fulbright and Morse charged that McCarthy's conduct — ranging from his financial operations to his alleged defiance of a Senate subcommittee and his criticism of colleagues — tends to bring the Senate into disrepute. Hearings are scheduled to begin Aug. 30 or shortly thereafter.

Watkins said that if McCarthy wants Flanders, Fulbright and Morse to testify, he possibly could have them summoned as his witnesses.

He said all 46 charges against McCarthy, some of which are overlapping, would be kept alive. However, Sen. Carlson (R-Kan), a member, said he expects only about half a dozen to get major consideration.

Morse said last night one of the charges — that McCarthy had made "an unwarranted attack" on Gen. George C. Marshall — should not be grounds for censure.

That accusation was one of seven listed by Fulbright and dealt with June 15, 1951, Senate speech in which McCarthy said the then secretary of defense was a man "stepped in falsehood" who sided with Russia in decisions which "lost the peace for America."

Morse, interviewed on an NBC TV-radio show, said he regarded McCarthy's attack as "inexcusable." But censure on this charge would jeopardize immunity of senators to speak freely on the Senate floor and therefore should not be considered, he said.

Watkins said he expects to have by Wednesday a report from E. Wallace Chadwick, counsel for the committee, on which of the charges appear to be censurable if proved.

Heroic Climber Is Death Victim

PORT ANGELES, Wash. (AP)—A mountain climber trapped in a crevasse by his own heroism was found dead late last night on towering Mt. Olympus.

Doctors said Dr. Anthony Levy, 30, a University of California research biochemist from Berkeley, had been dead about nine hours before his body was reached.

He had been trapped deep in a crevasse at the top of the 7,954-foot peak which stands in the center of Olympic National Park.

Twenty-three National Park Service employees fought their way up the mountain in an attempt to rescue him.

Levy, with four others, was climbing the mountain Saturday when one of the party, Dick Neal of Seattle, slipped into the crevasse breaking a leg in the fall.

Levy volunteered to go down and help get Neal out. The efforts to rescue Neal were successful, but Levy, exhausted by his efforts, could not get out himself and attempts by the other three to bring him to the surface failed.

Flood-Hit Pakistan To Get U. S. Relief

WASHINGTON (AP)—Flood-ravaged East Pakistan will get more American aid in an effort to stave off disease and rebuild food supplies.

The State Department said an emergency assistance agreement would be signed here today with Pakistan Ambassador Syed Ahsan Ali to pave the way for sending American "personnel, medicines and equipment, and agricultural and other supplies for the flood relief operation."

Indonesians Ordered Nabbed In Philippines

MANILA (AP)—President Ramon Magsaysay, reported concerned over recent reports of Communist infiltration of the Philippines, last night ordered the armed forces to round up an estimated 6,000 Indonesians who have entered the country illegally.

A House of Representatives subcommittee currently is investigating Red movement into the Philippines from Indonesia.

Sleepy Fugitives Back To Snoozing In Cincinnati Cells

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati police have captured two Kentucky fugitives they say forced a motorist at knifepoint to drive them from Lexington, Ky., then fell asleep on the job.

They said William Campbell, 29, and Edward Burton Jr., 34, of Buland, Ky., along with six other men, saved their way out of Hazard, Ky., jail Thursday. They had been charged with housebreaking.

Near Lexington the pair halled a car driven by Lucien Phillips, 41, a truck driver living in that vicinity, rode to Lexington, then made Phillips continue driving to Covington, Ky.

When both men fell asleep — Burton with knife in hand — Phillips drove across the Ohio River to a brother's house in Cincinnati and telephoned police.

The two men — awakened by patrolmen — promptly went back to sleep when placed in cells at Central Police Station here yesterday.

they learned had never been told to white men before.

The chief witch doctor of the Toma tribe told the Frenchmen how he made his magic medicines. Among the things he used for such medicine are human hair and the fat bodies of queen termites.

Witch doctors in the tribe have a close knowledge of many poisons. Sometimes the magicians meet to decide whether a certain man should be slain. If they decide to commit the crime, they let it be known that the man is going to die. Then one of the secret band will steal forth to make the prediction come true. Several methods are used to bring death, but poison is common among the Toma natives.

A huge mask was shown to the French visitors. It had the horns of a ram and the jaws of a crocodile. There is a strict rule that women must never look at this mask. If anyone saw a woman looking at the mask, he would be expected to report her deed. Then she would be condemned to death.

News spread through the Toma tribe that the white men were learning the secrets of witchcraft. The chief witch doctor feared that he would be punished by other members of his secret society.

At this point Pierre Galasseau asked to be tattooed. This request was of special importance. Anyone who took such treatment would be

Army's Redeployment Calls For Maintaining A Strong Reserve

Under the order redeploying U. S. strength, largest since the end of World War II, only two of the six U. S. divisions now in Korea will remain there to bolster that nation's 20 divisions on guard against China and North Korea. The Korean military establishment will be strengthened by U. S. aid, and the British Commonwealth brigades and smaller units from other nations will stay in Korea. One of the four U. S. divisions being withdrawn will be replaced in the Western Pacific by assignment of a division to Okinawa to support the regimental combat team already there. Hawaii is to get one division, and the remaining two will come back to the United States where eight divisions are already based. There are five in Europe. In Japan, the Army will maintain one division and the Marines will maintain one. In addition there will be one regimental combat team. Defense of Formosa is left up to the Seventh Fleet. This redeployment is designed to give more flexibility to our Western Pacific defenses, according to the official story. It is in furtherance of a desire to avoid any further major fighting in Korea, apparently on the theory that if we weaken our defenses there the Reds will be less inclined to renew their assault. Whatever line of military philosophy dictated this redeployment of U. S. ground strength, the effect seems quite clear: the shift will make two more divisions available in case of trouble in Europe, the chances for which will most assuredly be increased if France rejects EDC. That is, our strength available for European defense will be greater, it—and it is a great big if. The if in this case is this: If the administration abandons its plan to whack two more divisions out of our ground strength, a move since in the cards but temporarily laid aside. Reducing the number of Army divisions to 17 would be taking a long chance, at that depends on still another if: it would not be especially dangerous if the administration sets up a really effective reserve policy. Until the talked-of new reserve policy is put in effect and pushed vigorously, reduction of the standing Army would be feasible; if not, it could be suicidal.

Judge Few Brewster Carrying Heavy Endorsement For Office

In the general excitement over the gubernatorial race in Saturday's run-off, we hope the voters won't overlook another race involved—the only other one of statewide scope. That is the race for associate justice of the Supreme Court of Texas. Judge Few Brewster of Bell County barely missed a clear majority of his two opponents in the first primary, so there is a run-off between him and Alfred M. Scott. In his home county Judge Brewster received almost 10,000 votes in the first primary, as against only 844 for both his opponents. Howard County gave him a heavy lead over both his opponents, and he enjoyed substantial pluralities in most counties of this area. By virtue of experience and fitness, Judge Brewster deserves another term on the state's highest court, and we hope the voters of Texas see fit to reward him with a wide majority in next Saturday's run-off. When a man's homefolks give him a majority over all opponents of better than 20 to 1, that is a recommendation it would be hard to beat.

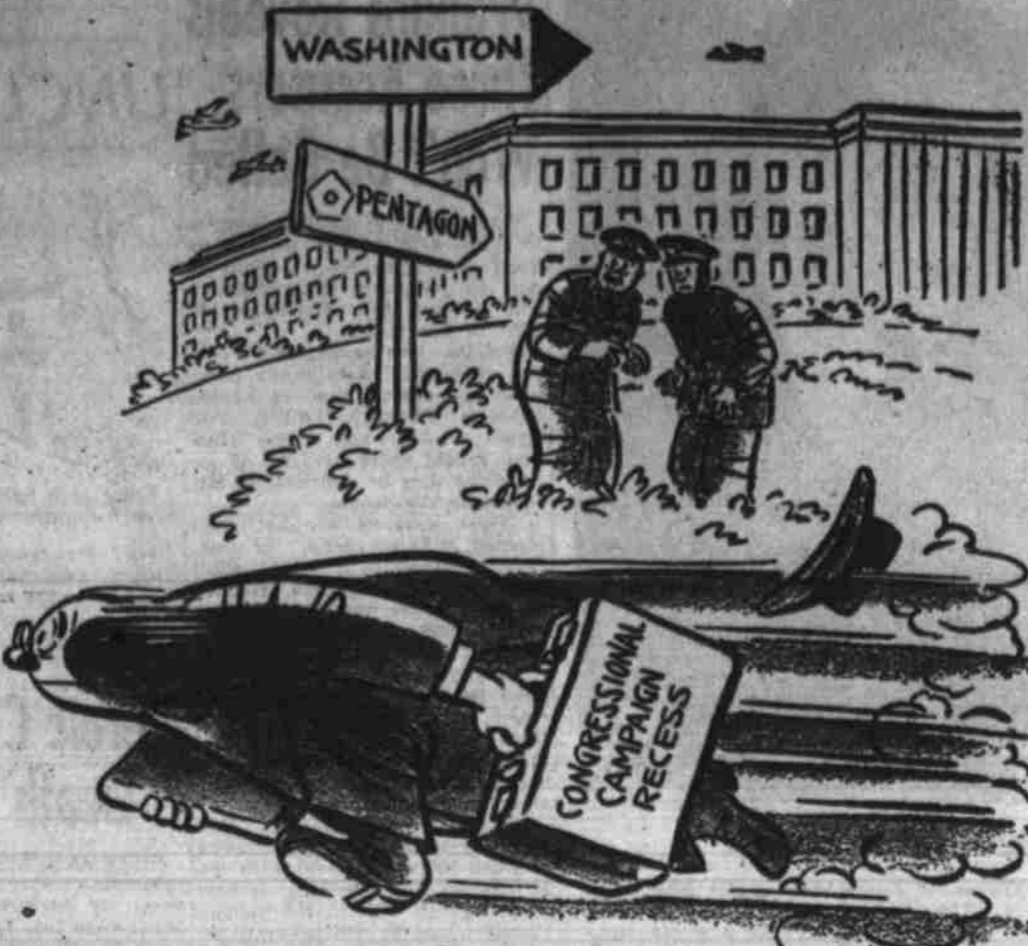

These Days—George Sokolsky Moral Improvement Held To Be One Phase Of Education's Job

It used to be that the beginning of an education in the United States was a simple matter, locally controlled, directed mostly by parents and conducted principally by clergymen and unmarried women. The boys and girls were taught to read and write and to do some arithmetic. If they wanted to go further, they read Greek and Latin, memorized vast amounts of literature, learned some French, German and the bases of science. If they desired to push their fortunes further, they specialized in some profession, sometimes going to a European university for the purpose. We produced a remarkable lot of scholars that way. Since the days of Horace Mann (1796-1859), education of some kind has been usual for all children in many but not all parts of the country and in some it has been compulsory. Since those days, the huge educational establishment of the United States has become strictly professionalized and secularized with a decreasing relationship of the parent to the school. One of the problems that faces educators is to define education. They have to ask themselves whether or not they know what they are doing. This has become an increasingly serious matter because public opinion is not so sure that education actually educates in the United States. Nicholas Murray Butler, for several decades president of Columbia University in the days when such an official was not only an administrator but also a scholar, once discussed this subject: "...education... must mean a gradual adjustment to the spiritual possessions of the race, with a view to realizing one's own potentialities and to assisting in carrying forward that complex of ideas, arts, and institutions which we call civilization. In other words, education in a true sense has to do not only with the individual to be educated, but with the environment into which and for which he is to be educated."

Further he wrote: "...he (the child) is not born into a new world; when nothing has ever happened, he is born into it. He has no experience, some of the experience bitter, some magnificent, and he is entitled to know what it is about and what it means. That inheritance is fivefold. It is scientific, it is literary, it is aesthetic, it is institutional, and it is religious. Without them all he cannot become a truly educated or a truly cultivated man. He is entitled to

The World Today — James Marlow President Eisenhower To Open GOP's Fight For Congress In Speech Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—If a political talk takes an unexpected shift: 1. He predicted late in 1953, when he had been in office less than a year, that Communists in government would be a memory, and not an issue, in the 1954 campaign. Republicans had made it a main issue against the Democrats in 1952. 2. He predicted the big issue this year would be the program of his administration which he called "progressive" and "dynamic." There will be other issues but this seems sure now to be No. 1. Eisenhower's optimism that Reds in government would not be a major campaign talking point this year was based on the argument that by then his administration would have pretty well cleaned them out. Whether the administration has or not, there has been very little talk about this subject in recent months, except by Sen. McCarthy. The Wisconsin Republican for months had banged away at the least two counts, unless campaign Army for not getting rid of sus-

Notebook — Hal Boyle Is The Quarter About To Go Way Of Nickel?

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP) — Leaves your pet pooch in a dogtel. This week I got a haircut in San Francisco. The price was $1.50, and I don't have enough hair left to cause the barber to work up a sweat while mowing it. Actually, he could have done the job with a pair of fingernail clippers, except barbers like to put drama in their work. Whatever happened to the value of a quarter anyway? Will it soon merely be a collector's item—like the buffalo nickel? You can still impress a bellhop with a two-bit tip, but the impression he gets is that you are a two-bit cheap-skate. A panhandler stopped me here the other day and asked me, "Brother, can you spare a quarter for a bowl of soup?" I gave him the quarter. He took it, fidgeted a moment, and said: "You know there's a penny tax, too!"

Don't Feel Fagged At Forty; Many 'Old' Athletes Effective

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note. Do you feel fagged and finished at 40? Do the four decades you carry, feel like four centuries? Some one once remarked that the secret of long life and good health was in taking as much exercise as you can before you reach 40 and as little as you can after that milestone. Down through time, men have been putting the lie to that belief. Have a listen to the list of some of the hombres who have proved that the greybeards do keep up with the youngsters. Remember Ruby Robert Fitzsimmons? He won the heavyweight boxing championship of the world at the age of 35. He held it two years, then lost it to Jim Jeffries. He didn't quit then, however. At the age of 41, he lowered the boom on one George Gardner to win the light-heavyweight crown. The bout went 20 rounds. Fitz kept the title two years, when Philadelphia Jack O'Brien came along and put the tab on him in a bout held at San Francisco. Some say Jersey Joe Walcott was in his 40s when he won the heavyweight title. No one knows for sure. Walcott's birth certificate might have burned when the British hit Washington and put the White House to the torch early in the last century. Ty Cobb, the Georgia Peach, was 40 years of age when he cuffed American League pitching around at a .337 clip. He was still a terror on the base paths then, too. He hit over .300 in each of 23 seasons in the big time. Back in 1893, Cap Anson, at 41, was the Chicago Cubs' regular first sacker. He wound up with a respectable batting average of .322. But he didn't quit there. He lifted his mark to .394 the following year, hit .388 the next season, .335 the next, and at the age of 45, was still able to hit .302. Of more recent vintage is Ted Lyons, who, at the age of 41, started and finished 20 games as a pitcher for the Chicago White Sox. Jim Thorpe was active in pro football until he was 42. Ed (Strangler) Lewis was still wrestling in his 60s and it wasn't so long ago that Stan Zyzysko, in his 70s, offered to fake on any of the modern grapplers and make a side bet on the outcome. Both Ben Hogan and Sammy Snead are in their 40s but they're rated the two best golfers in the world. Michael Scott won the British Amateur golf title at the age of 58. Jock Hutchison, a real name golfer years ago, recently observed his 70th birthday by shooting a 70. Sir Malcolm Campbell was 53 when he was setting all kinds of automobile racing records. And John Cobb, the man who shaded his marks, was 47 when he wheeled his stream-lined chariot at 403 miles an hour. Bill Tilden, the greatest of all tennis players, played top-drawer tennis until he died at the age of 59. Don't exclude th women. Stella Walsh is still able to best just about any female alive in the sprints and she's 45. Babe Zaharias, the premier woman golfer, is in her 40s. Why said sports is a young man's game? —TOMMY HART

Othman In Washington Senators Cried 'Over'—And Were Scared To Raise Their Own Wages

WASHINGTON — It has been my sad duty to watch the U. S. Senate apply, daintily, the kiss of death to a long list of laws, including one which would have boosted their own wages. Cowards. There isn't a lawyer here, except Rep. Usher Burdick (R., N. D.), who doesn't think he's worth more money. Rep. Burdick claims that he eats well on $15,000 a year. The other gentlemen have been yammering these many years for a boost; the problem was how to give it to themselves without embittering any of their lesser-paid constituents. This year the statesmen thought they had the trick; they appointed a special committee of distinguished citizens, headed by a Philadelphia lawyer, to study the needs of starving (all but Mr. Burdick) Congressmen. After prolonged hearings, the committee decided that the lawmakers deserved at least $30,000 a year. They held a press conference to announce this last spring, and quite a whoop-de-do there was about it. Many were the congratulatory messages to the effect that Congress finally had nerved itself to pay its members what they were worth. During the summer the gentlemen trimmed the amount of the raise they wanted and then finally bill No. 1663, to increase wages of Congressmen, judges and U. S. attorneys, reached the floor of the Senate, under the consent calendar. Only it's late in the year now. Elections are two months away and the feet of Senators suddenly have become cold. When the clerk read the title of the bill, somebody in the back of the room muttered the word, "Over," which meant that he wanted consideration passed over until the next time the calendar was read. There wasn't one peep of protest. The Senators killed their chances of getting a raise without saying more than one word. They just sat there. The Senate has adjourned; there was no other reading of the calendar. One or another of them shouted, "Over," on numerous other bills, including those that would have allowed the Navy to serve oleomargarine to sailors, make Hawaii and Alaska states, allowed the District of Columbia residents to elect a mayor, permitted investigations of bootlegging of new automobiles, and provided a job in the Justice Department for Mr. Gen. Frank H. Patridge (Ret.). Then the gentlemen took up one of my favorite bills. This was to pay $5,000 damages to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V. Compton, because a government-built lake in Virginia surrounded their general store with water. For the last five years, according to Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D., Va.), their store has been on an island and their only prospective customers have been fish. Sen. George A. Smathers (D., Fla.) said he was sympathetic to the plight of the storekeepers, but he'd looked up the record, which indicated one back road still was open to the Compton's store. Sen. Robert C. Hendrickson (R., N. J.) said that wasn't what Sen. Robertson said. The gentleman from Virginia, unfortunately for the water-girt storekeepers, wasn't on the floor. Sen. Smathers said, "Over." And that sent glimmering all hope of the Comptons for $5,000 to build another store in a dryer location.

Matter Of Fact — Joseph And Stewart Alsop Smaller Islands Near Formosa Represent Threat Of Showdown

WASHINGTON — At his press conference last week, Pres. Eisenhower was ostentatiously casual about the Chinese Communist threat to Formosa. Pres. Truman's guarantee of Chiang Kai-shek's islands is still in force, he said in effect, and so there is nothing to worry about. Behind the scenes, meanwhile, the Administration's policy-makers are anything but casual about the Formosa problem. In fact a rather major policy row is now going on, although as usual the grave issue at stake is being muffled from the general public. The trouble is, very simply, that Pres. Truman's famous guarantee of Formosa was carefully drafted to cover only the big island, and to leave out the smaller, more vulnerable off-shore islands that Chiang Kai-shek's forces still hold along the China coast. And the question now is whether to extend the guarantee to cover these islands, or to leave them exposed to capture by the Communists and take the consequences. Quemoy, which lies only a couple of miles out of the big harbor of Amoy, is the most celebrated of these over-water possessions of the Chinese Nationalists. Largest area are the Pescadore, lying in the Formosa Straits. But the most sensitive at the moment are the small and rocky Tachen islands, to the north of Formosa and about twenty miles off the China coast. Thus far, American policy has taken careful cognizance of the omission of these islands from the Truman guarantee. They are garrisoned, of course, by the equivalent of about six of Chiang Kai-shek's divisions; but these six divisions have been conspicuously omitted from the twenty-one division American equipment and training program. The ink was hardly dry on the Munich settlement at Geneva, before Chinese Foreign Minister Chou En-lai broke a long silence on the subject with a loud proclamation that Formosa must now be "liberated" at all costs. A direct attack on Formosa seems highly unlikely, partly because there are no visible Communist preparations for this kind of major enter-

Bells Of Bethlehem

Mrs. D. T. Evans holds an etching, "Bells of Bethlehem," which might well be the envy of the makers of Christmas cards. Made by her uncle in a tower in Bethlehem, the picture shows in the background the small town in which Jesus was born.

Etchings Are Prized By Mrs. D. T. Evans

By ANNE LEFEVER
Should Mrs. D. T. Evans invite you to "come and see my etchings," it wouldn't be a joke. She really has some! They were made by her uncle, E. F. Beaumont, when he was in the Holy Land. Mr. Beaumont went to the Holy Land at the age of 24 and worked with archeologists from the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Chicago. He spent 42 years over there, during which time he became a missionary.

In the collection of etchings, which he made in various points of Jerusalem, is one of the Damascus Gate. This has been called the most beautiful of all that city's gates. Another shows a shepherd with his sheep beside a quiet pool. It is named "Beside the Still Waters."

"Temple Area" shows part of Jerusalem with the Tower of Antonia in the foreground. This is the fortress which was used by the Roman soldiers during their occupation of the city. "Sunrise on Gallies" is a delineation, with only a sailboat, of the peace and quiet that can prevail over that body of water.

Keep Youthful Outlook

The mental side of staying young is discussed by veteran actress Marjorie Rambeau in an exclusive interview with Lydia Lane. Miss Rambeau stresses an active mind.

Mari Sandoz Produces Another Book

"The Buffalo Hunters," by Mari Sandoz, Hastings House.

Always at her best in non-fiction, Mari Sandoz, the daughter of and author of "Old Jules," has produced another fine book.

This is the story of the hide collectors who exterminated within 15 years the four vast buffalo herds that in 1887 ranged the high plains of the West. Named the Texas, the Arkansas, the Northern, their herds numbered 50 to 75 million individuals in all. Each made a migration that carried it annually in a vast sweep around its range. Each was the source of supplies for Indian tribes—Comanche, Cheyenne, Sioux and numerous others—and was wiped out not only because of the greed of the hunters but on the advice of generals who saw this means as the easiest way of subduing the tribes.

The bloody, dirty, many hide hunters were a breed apart. Not for them the heady sport of running buffalo on swift horses. Instead, they sneaked up on the herds, picked off confused bands one by one with powerful rifles, stripped off the hides and left the carcasses to rot. Whole regions were turned into sinking slaughter pens by their profitable activities, even though the hides sometimes sold for as little as $1 each.

In the train of the hunters marched a procession of colorful, sometimes murderous and usually rowdy characters, shooting up the hide towns that preceded the cow towns. Miss Sandoz makes the most of the panorama.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Mature Gracefully, Is Miss Rambeau's Creed

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Veteran actress Marjorie Rambeau has very definite ideas on how to stay young. "But it is not by playing ostrich," she explained as I chatted with her at Republic Studio the other day.

"There is an art to accepting increasing years—to mature gracefully. What one should strive for is a happy medium between the extreme of clinging frantically to youth—buying clothes in the college shop—and of allowing birthdays to slow down your activities, by being too age conscious," Marjorie told me.

"A wise woman takes advantage of every way she can to preserve a youthful appearance. It is much easier today than it has ever been with so much free information and so many fine cosmetics.

"But the impression of youth," Miss Rambeau continued, "is equally important as the appearance. If you wear a size twelve but walk as if your joints ache, you are not very youthful.

"You have to build youth from good habits. Plenty of vitamins and minerals everyday help to keep your body in condition. But you can't stop exercising or you will become stiff. And yet you need to relax or you'll wear yourself ragged with nervous energy.

"And not to be ignored," Miss Rambeau went on, "is an active mind. There is nothing which makes a person seem old and dull like having no interests outside an immediate little circle of family and friends.

"I love to be around young people because they have enthusiasm and a forward point of view. But," Miss Rambeau added, "when I call a person young I am judging them by their point of view rather than by their legal age.

"Occasionally you find a boy or girl still in the twenties who seems

Trinity Gun Battle Leaves Two Injured

TRINITY, Tex. (AP)—A gun battle on the main street here left two men wounded yesterday.

Jep Thompson, 35, was in serious condition with a bullet in his chest and wounds in his right chest and left arm. Thompson was charged with assault to kill Herbert Harrelson, 60.

Harrelson also had been shot three times. He had wounds in his right chest, left shoulder and left thumb. The bullets were from a .22 caliber rifle and were not considered serious.

Ferry Price, city marshal, said the shooting took place after Harrelson, a night watchman, stopped to investigate an argument in an automobile.

President Won Three Foreign Policy Battles With Congress

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower won three of his big foreign aid battles with Congress. He lost a fourth, which may hamper severely his policies for tightening U.S. relations with Allied countries.

Here is the record:

1. Foreign trade. Eisenhower's major setback. Congress balked at the President's program for lowering tariffs to encourage Allied and friendly nations to trade with the United States. Eisenhower succeeded in getting mainly a simple extension for one year of his bill to negotiate tariff-cutting trade treaties but none of the new authority he asked to lower tariffs through such treaties.

the nearly $4 billions requested by the President.

Administration officials indicated the cuts were not crippling, however, and would not be interpreted by foreign governments as evidence that the United States was withdrawing into a shell. Other governments constantly look to congressional action for evidence as to whether the legislators are on the whole supporting the President's program of "partnership" with friendly countries. About 80 per cent of the total for foreign aid is for military purposes.

Atomic. The President registered possibly his greatest victory on this issue. He gained authority, although not all he asked, to transfer to America's allies in Europe secret information about the effects of atomic weapons and such information as size, weight and shape of these weapons.

Officials said this would enable the United States to bring military thinking of countries like France and Italy out of World War II concepts into the concepts of the atomic age.

The President also won authority to assist cooperating countries like Belgium, which furnishes atomic raw materials to the United States, to build up atomic industry.

4. Bricker amendment. Eisenhower won a tough fight when the Senate declined to go for the constitutional amendment put forward by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to restrict presidential powers to make international agreements.

There was a fifth great issue which never was officially presented in Congress although members spent many an hour making speeches on the subject—how to save Southeast Asia from Communist conquest.

Senate Clerk Kills Himself, Wounds Wife

WASHINGTON (AP)—Joseph C. Ellis, paymaster of the U.S. Senate seriously wounded his wife and shot himself to death yesterday, police reported, after a series of "spats" over the long hours he put in as the lawmakers worked nights to finish their session.

A son, Joseph, 17, said he believed his father had overworked in the long sessions before adjournment.

Detective Sgt. George R. Donahue quoted the boy as saying one dispute between his parents took place yesterday morning. He described it as a brief "few words" over working hours.

Immediately before the shooting itself, Donahue said, the son told of hearing his father call out several times, "mind your own business."

Donahue and Inspector Anthony Richitt quoted both young Ellis and his sister as saying there was no discord in the family beyond the occasional "spats."

Donahue said Mrs. Ellis and the children, fearing that the 45-year-old Ellis was nearing a breakdown, had urged him to rest. As financial clerk for the Senate, Ellis handled expenses and payroll for about 2,000 persons.

Ellis and his wife Elizabeth were taken to Emergency Hospital after the shooting in their Northwest Side home. Ellis died a half hour later of a head wound. His wife was shot in the face.

Police said the son gave this account:

Hearing a shot, he ran from the basement to the first floor and found his father standing over his bleeding mother, gun in hand. Young Ellis grappled for the gun but the father pulled away and fired one shot into his own head.

Neighbors said there had been no previous indication of trouble in the family.

Foreign governments realize that Congress holds the key to this. What Congress did in the present session will therefore have a far-reaching influence on the plans of Allied and friendly nations.

In the first year of his administration, Eisenhower asked and received from Congress a one-year extension of the reciprocal trade agreements program. Looking to the future, he appointed a special commission headed by industrialist Clarence Randall to study the whole problem of foreign trade.

This year, the President took the commission's majority report as a basis for recommendations to Congress aimed at expanding trade.

House leaders resisted and, in the end, the President obtained instead another one-year extension of the trade act. It meant little beyond keeping alive the principle of reducing tariffs by getting reciprocal cuts in tariffs of other countries. As a practical matter, the President's authority to make cuts at home has been practically exhausted through the conclusion of agreements in earlier years.

The President also obtained a modified version of legislation he had asked for simplification of U.S. customs procedures—something that has exasperated foreign businessmen and governments for years. But again Congress wrote in requirements which the administration regarded merely as slowing down the whole simplification process.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Foreign Ministry said today the setback problem is being controlled and far fewer illegal workers are now being deported from the United States.

The ministry said its consuls in Texas, California and Arizona have reported a marked improvement in the situation.

Meanwhile, the Mexican railway said it used 36 special trains in moving braceros, or legal workers, from Monterrey, Tijuana and Chihuahua to Texas recently.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A new immigration building is being planned for Matamoros, across the Rio Grande from Brownsville, Tex. The new building will be built to handle increased tourist trade and normal travel increases, Lie. Francisco Castellanos said.

SHIPBOARD ROMANCES?

Ancient Corfu Awaits Arrival Of Bluebloods

By GEORGE DROSSOS
CORFU, Greece (AP)—This ancient Greek island awaited the arrival today of a chipload of European royalty, cruising the Ionian Sea in the interests of a good time, the Greek tourist trade and royal romance.

The glittering sailors—nearly 100 mostly unemployed kings, queens, princes and princesses—set out from Naples yesterday for a 12-day luxury cruise around the isles of Greece as guests of Greece's King Paul and Queen Frederika aboard the 4,500-ton liner Agamemnon.

Also along were three Greek detectives, five cases of whisky for 83-year-old Prince Paul of Greece, and no newsmen.

The Greek monarchs hope the cruise will lure other tourists to their historic and beautiful land, which could use the revenue and the foreign exchange.

The Netherlands' Queen Juliana, Romania's ex-King Michael and Grand Duchess Charlotte of Luxembourg were among the monarchs, present and past, aboard.

Many of the guests brought along their unmarried sons and daughters. Greece's consul general in Naples, Dennis Typpalos, told newsmen one purpose of the cruise was to get the royal bloods better acquainted "so their children may start considering inter-marriage."

"We hope to be able to announce some engagements at the end of the cruise," he added.

American-Korean Military Talks Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—American-Korean military conferences here will soon produce a decision on expanding South Korea's army, navy and air force, former Korean Premier Park Tu-chih said yesterday.

Park conceded there is "nothing to show" for the talks thus far. But he declared replacement by comparable Korean forces "is essential" before the planned withdrawal of four U.S. divisions takes place, and he said he has "full hopes our objectives will be realized."
