

Deadly Typhoon Strikes Japan, Heads For Osaka

TOKYO (AP)—A typhoon ripped a trail of death and destruction across southern Japan today and then swept northward toward the teeming Osaka industrial region.

Weather experts said the storm had weakened slightly and winds at the center now were perhaps 90 miles an hour.

Rural police said howling winds of more than 100 miles an hour and driving rain left 15 persons dead, 21 missing and 26 injured on the southern islands of Kyushu and Shikoku.

The storm touched off numerous landslides, toppled houses, snarled communications and flooded some villages. Rural police said 13 fishing boats sank and 12 are missing.

The typhoon hit Japan today after raking Okinawa and the Aomi Oshima island where one person was killed and 15 injured, including 11 Americans on Okinawa.

The Central Meteorological Observatory said the storm should hit Osaka and Kyoto, major cities of Japan's No. 1 industrial area, early tomorrow.

Virtually all shipping was suspended in the inland sea between Honshu and Shikoku.

Japanese coast guard cutters and the U. S. Destroyer Rowan have reported no contact with a tiny Japanese fishing boat which rided for help yesterday from the East China Sea.

Kyodo news service said about 40,000 persons—almost half the population—were being evacuated from Noboka on Kyushu's east coast in the face of a serious food threat from two rivers.

Eight hydroelectric plants were flooded and the power supply was dwindling rapidly, Kyodo added. Roads and railroads were washed out or blocked by fallen trees and landslides.

It Was A Close Race

J. L. Smith, left, and Gene Riddle discuss highlights of their race to produce Howard County's first bale of cotton for 1954. Smith won—by two minutes. But Riddle already has warned his rival that he intends to have the first bale next year. The two farmers are old friends, and the cotton race was their first clash. Smith's bale was "weighed in" at the Fairview Gin Monday at 3:30 p.m. That was about the time Riddle drove onto the scales where his first bale was weighed in at 3:32 p.m. Monday. They farm about five miles apart, Smith in the Fairview community and Riddle at Richland. The Chamber of Commerce is raising a premium for the first bale.

Delay Feared In Start Of McCarthy Hearings

Counsel Is Named To Conduct Probe

By G. MILTON KELLY
 WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said today the special Senate committee to investigate charges against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) may have to postpone for a few days the scheduled Aug. 30 start of its public hearings.

Watkins, head of the committee, made the statement at a news conference held in connection with former Republican Congressman E. Wallace Chadwick's taking on the job of counsel to the group. Chadwick, a Chester, Pa., lawyer, pledged to do "an impartial, objective job."

Watkins also said he had been advised that McCarthy's defense counsel, Washington lawyer Edward Bennett Williams, had refused to accept a fee any part of a $10,000 fund the committee had set aside from its own money to provide McCarthy with counsel.

Williams had announced last night he considered it would be "improper" for him to accept money from the committee.

On the possibility of a delay in starting the hearings, Watkins said it took longer to find a counsel than had been expected, and Chadwick has had no chance yet to start studying the case.

"We still plan to open Aug. 30," Watkins continued. "But we don't intend to force the legal staff to work under heavy pressure to meet that date. One or two days would not be important."

Chadwick said he would be ready for any deadline the committee might set.

Replying to reporters' questions, Chadwick said he has never met McCarthy, and that all he really knows about "the McCarthy controversy" is what he has read about it in the newspapers.

A reporter asked whether Chadwick considers that his views about the general might "prejudice" his position as the committee's counsel.

"I should think even the senator would be glad to accord me the privilege of believing what I believe of Gen. Marshall," Chadwick replied in level tones.

A reporter asked whether the fact McCarthy has criticized Marshall would "carry weight, one way or the other," with Chadwick.

"Certain not," he answered. "It would present no difficulties to me under any circumstances."

On another front the Senate Investigations subcommittee scheduled morning and afternoon meetings in its efforts to hammer out a verdict on the already complex McCarthy-Army hearings.

Chairman Mundt (R-S.D.) told the Senate last night he expects to file a report before the Senate recesses, which may be by week's end. But since the Senate "has the habit of recessing rather spontaneously," as Mundt put it, he got Senate permission to file during recess if necessary.

Looking toward the investigation of the latest charges against him, McCarthy requested the special committee to pay for a lawyer of his own choosing. But Williams said:

"You can't be McCarthy's counsel and employed by the committee too with propriety."

The lawyer declined to discuss whether he might get a fee from other sources.

McCarthy and Roy M. Cohn, the young New York lawyer who was a principal along with him in the 36-day McCarthy-Army hearings this spring, conferred here yesterday. Cohn recently resigned as chief counsel to the Investigations subcommittee.

McCarthy told a reporter Cohn "might be down here" to lend a hand at the defense committee's table during the Senate inquiry, now scheduled to start here Monday, Aug. 30.

U.S. Withdrawal Of Korean Units Thought Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—Diplomatic sources said today the United States is considering withdrawing three divisions from the Korean mainland but a Pentagon spokesman said "the Army has no knowledge of an early withdrawal of troops from Korea."

Officials of the South Korean National Assembly reported in Seoul, however, that this nation plans to take three of its six divisions out of Korea by the end of the year.

Diplomatic officials in Washington, declining the use of their names, said that there has not yet been any firm decision on the matter.

Philip Han, minister from the Republic of Korea, said Korean officials here have been conferring with top men at the Pentagon and the State Department in an effort to forestall any such withdrawal of troops.

Han said the withdrawal of any U.S. troops would "harm the morale" of South Koreans and would be "strategically wrong" in view of what he called the buildup of Communist forces in North Korea.

State Department officials declined to make an immediate public statement. Inquiries were referred to the Pentagon, where a flat "yes" or "no" could not be obtained.

Gen. Matthew Ridgway, Army chief of staff, has gone on record as declaring any substantial weakening of U.S. ground strength in the Far East must be avoided.

In the light of Ridgway's expressed opinion, Defense officials said they were inclined to interpret the reports as meaning the United States might be planning to move some troops from South Korea to nearby Okinawa.

Facilities are being developed on that island, wrested from the Japanese in World War II, to house substantial U.S. forces.

Diplomatic officials in Washington said, however, that if the troops are moved from Korea, they might be sent to the Hawaiian Islands.

These sources said the thinking behind the proposed withdrawal was that U.S. air strength would provide the main bulwark against Red aggression.

There are now six U.S. divisions in Korea; the 1st Marines and the 2nd, 3rd, 7th, 24th and 25th Army divisions. Which of these would be removed under the proposed plan could not be learned.

Two divisions—the 40th and 45th—already have been sent back to the United States.

CHECKUP FINDS IT'S INSIDE JOB

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—A man who turned amateur detective to catch the persons who broke into his house several times found they were inside jobs.

He sprinkled talcum powder beneath the prowler's favorite window. But the footprints led him back to his own 5-year-old son. The boy admitted messing up the house and cutting a window screen to make the jobs look like break ins.

The punishment meted out was strictly a father-and-son affair.

Ike Declares Books Open In AEC Deal

By JACK BELL
 WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says the books are open for inspection of a controversial power contract in the TVA area.

Stephen A. Mitchell says he is glad Eisenhower is ready to disclose "the whole story behind the Dixon-Yates deal."

Mitchell's latest blast at the power contract came in a statement he issued in Chicago last night after Eisenhower had told his news conference he is astonished at Mitchell's criticism of the way the matter was handled.

The ruckus was stirred up on Monday when Mitchell—in a Chicago debate with Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall—charged that the President issued a personal order for award to the Dixon-Yates syndicate of a long-term contract to sell power to the Atomic Energy Commission in the TVA area of the middle South.

Mitchell said Eisenhower did so over the protests of both the AEC and the Tennessee Valley Authority and without competitive bidding. And the Democratic party leader mentioned in this connection the President's friendship with famed golfer Robby Jones, an officer of one of the companies associated with the Dixon-Yates group.

The furor extended to Capitol Hill, where both Democrats and Republicans voiced doubt that the Eisenhower-Jones friendship had figured in the handling of the contract.

In Atlanta, Jones said he "resents the implication" that a company enjoyed presidential favor because he had stock in it.

Answering Mitchell's charges that there is a "raw deal" in the making, Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday every single action he takes involving contractual relationships of the United States with anybody—except when the question of national security is involved—is open to the public.

The President said any of the news items present could go to the Budget Bureau or the AEC and get the complete record of the case.

Reporters were told at the two agencies that they would take a few days to get the material ready for publication. They also were informed the data probably would be available by the end of the week.

Eisenhower said he knew when he went into politics he would be subjected by many types of strange characters to many kinds of insinuations and allegations. But he was a little astonished, he said, that such insinuations should include a private citizen of the character and standing of Bob Jones.

There is no gentleman he knows, the President said, of whose integrity and probity he is more certain.

Observing that he wasn't going to defend himself, Eisenhower said of course he had approved recommendations for the contract.

Mitchell said of the handling of the power contract:

"The White House shut off the competing syndicates. It was a clear preference of a favored group... the sworn testimony shows a shocking story."

Renewing his attack, the Democratic leader propounded 19 questions to which he said he hopes the President "will make sure that the public gets the answers."

These questions concerned

Benson Gets Plea To Up Drought Aid

AUSTIN (AP)—The governors of Texas and Arkansas have urged Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson to double the federal subsidy for grain under the emergency feed program to help drought-stricken farmers and ranchers.

Their action was reported here today by State Disaster Relief Director William L. McGill.

He said the action, with respect to Texas, was taken by Gov. Allan Shivers following consultation with State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, who approved the request.

Joining Shivers in the action was Gov. Francis Cherry of Arkansas.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture now gives a certificate entitling participants in the drought relief program to 60 cents per hundredweight credit on the regular price of grain feeds.

The governors recommended this subsidy be increased to $1.20 per hundredweight. They said their request was based on the increasing severity of the drought and the resulting further hardship on farmers and stockmen.

Amarillo Cave-In Kills 3 Workmen

AMARILLO (AP)—The walls of a 16-foot-deep sewer ditch crumbled yesterday, killing three workmen who ran the wrong way. Two others escaped.

Buried under tons of earth were Leo Clifton Fisher, 36, L. D. Brackett, 41, and Squire Evans. They were working in the newly dug ditch in South Amarillo when it caved in.

The two who escaped said the victims ran west—into the worst part of the cave-in.

"The first I knew about it, the walls started falling in," said Ramie Lawson. "They ran west, and we ran east. I saw them covered up."

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, was hospitalized yesterday after hot water spewing from a bus radiator burned him.

He was admitted to Malone and Rogan Hospital about 5:15 p.m. His physician said this morning that the burns were painful but not serious.

Dr. Hunt was burned on the back and neck. When the water spewed from the radiator, the college president apparently turned to get away from it. He had been driving the college bus.

Tax Board To Evaluate

A three-man equalization board will meet Thursday and Friday to set the 1954 property valuations in Big Spring.

The board, which was appointed by the City of Big Spring and the Big Spring Independent School District, consists of George O'Brien, Lawrence Robinson, and Worth Peeler.

Notices will be held at City Hall each day from 9 a.m. to noon and from 2 to 5 p.m. Property owners are invited to attend.

Notices have been sent by the city and school systems to all Big Spring property owners whose valuations are slated for change and to those who have not rendered personal property for taxation.

It is expected that property valuation here this year will be in excess of $18 million. Last year it was $16,549,216.

Tax rolls will be prepared by City Tax Collector C. E. Johnson Jr. following the board of equalization meeting and the pegging of a tax rate by the city commission.

The commission will probably consider the tax rate at their next meeting Tuesday evening.

Herbert Hoover Jr. Named Dulles Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—Herbert Hoover Jr. won unanimous confirmation today as undersecretary of state.

His name was brought up shortly after the Senate met and was approved without debate by voice vote.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee quickly approved his nomination after the White House announcement last night. He was confirmed by a voice vote this morning shortly after the Senate met.

Hoover succeeds Walter Bedell Smith as right-hand man to Secretary of State Dulles. Smith is retiring at 58 from the military-diplomatic career on which he embarked 43 years ago.

TEXAN PANS FLIGHT TO FRANCE ALONG LINDBERGH PATTERN

BOSTON (AP)—An adventuresome Texan may be winging his way to Paris today in a single engine plane.

This was the intention of Thomas H. Danaher, 30-year-old former Marine Corps jet fighter pilot from Wichita Falls.

He was to have taken off from Argentina, Nfld., at midnight, but poor communications this morning to Newfoundland delayed confirmation of the takeoff.

Danaher advised his brother in Wichita Falls, James E. Danaher, that he would head out over the Atlantic at midnight and expected to be in Paris by 3 p.m. Texas time.

The flier took off from here yesterday for Newfoundland.

He told his mother, Mrs. Gretchen D. Danaher of Wichita Falls, that he was making the flight just for a vacation in Paris.

Admiral Visits Tiny Free China Outpost

By SPENCER MOOSA
 TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—The U.S. Embassy announced today that Adm. Felix B. Stump, Pacific commander in chief, has inspected a tiny Chinese Nationalist island outpost within sight of the Red China mainland.

The announcement stirred speculation here that the United States may be considering putting under protection of the U.S. 7th Fleet the chain of Nationalist offshore island strongpoints.

Official sources said such a step, coupled with President Eisenhower's renewed pledge to defend Formosa, would provide the strongest possible warning to the Communists to abandon plans for a possible invasion.

The embassy announcement said Stump spent a full day on the Tachen Islands, 14 miles off Chekiang province, about 200 miles northwest of Formosa. It said the admiral now is in Taipei, but made no mention of when he arrived.

Nationalist sources said Vice Adm. William Phillips, commander of the U.S. 1st Fleet, and Vice Adm. Alfred M. Friede, commander of the 7th Fleet, would visit Formosa this week to discuss with Nationalist leaders recent Communist threats to seize this island.

The 7th Fleet's present assignment so far as is known, is to safeguard Formosa, the strategic Pescadore and other islands off Formosa itself.

The Nationalists have proposed repeatedly that the fleet also guard Quemoy, just off the coast opposite Formosa, and other island strongpoints extending northward for 300 miles along the coast.

The embassy announcement said Stump made a detailed inspection of the island and since it was a

Senatorial Voting 7th Fleet Could Stop Red Invasion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said today the American 7th Fleet should be able to block any Chinese Communist attempt to invade the island of Formosa.

Eisenhower said orders to the 7th Fleet to defend the island are still in effect.

"That has been our policy and it should continue to be," Smith commented.

Asked if his group had any information on whether the Communists are serious in threatening to take Formosa, Smith replied:

"I think they're bluffing, but of course you never know when you're dealing with Communists."

On the use of other forces, Smith commented: "We might have to use some air, but we have plenty of that on Okinawa."

That on the Okinawa four destroyers and a tender for planes make up the Formosa patrol. However, the 7th Fleet contains three large carriers with supporting cruisers and destroyers. Military officials said these could be rushed to the area in no more than 36 hours.

SCHOOL OFFICIAL DRIVES BUS Annual Martin County Tour Visits Quite A Few Farms

STANTON (SC)—The new school bus of the Stanton Independent District was taken on a shake-down cruise Tuesday when, driven by School Superintendent O. W. Winstead, it transported a load of sight-seeing passengers on the annual Martin County farm and ranch tour sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

The bus followed the pickup truck operated by County Agent Ralph Jones and Martin Vavra, work unit conservationists with the Soil Conservation Service here. Cold drinks served by the Chamber of Commerce were transported in this pickup on which was mounted a public address system, with which Jones and Vavra explained to the group the crops and agricultural practices being viewed by the tourists.

A noon stop was made at the Grady School at which sack dinners were served by Betty Hill, Bonnie and Barbara Hill of the Martin County 4-H Club, and Marilyn Parker of El Paso, under the direction of Mrs. Lewis Carlisle.

The tour started from the Chamber of Commerce office here at 9 a.m. Tuesday, first visiting the Paul Jones place which is being farmed by A. C. Fleming, where a field of maize was inspected. The next stop was at the dryland cotton of Doc Bristow, and then on to the Steve Churchill farm.

Other farms visited on the tour included those of G. Tunnell, Charley Craven, Mrs. Glenn Brown, Jim Franklin, S. J. Froman, the Calvin Jones place, farmed by James Bullard, the Glenn Holley farm, the Troy Pierce irrigated farm, the Lois Madison place, the first irrigated farm in the Stanton Community and a place that has been under irrigation for about 25 years; the Alfred Tom farm operated by George Priblansky, the Boozie Glendinning farm, the Tom Bros. farms; the Tom Glynm farm; Mrs. Inez Woody's farm where there is an irrigation well pumping 1,320 gallons per minute; the C. Sale Ranch, where Bobby Sale led seven Hereford show calves out for the entertainment of the visitors; the A. C. Powell farm where they were shown 15 acres of Blue Panic Grass that had been grazed down but that has now grown back and is producing a seed crop; and the A. G. Donelson farm, where the visitors were shown a group of capons being reared for the shows by Delbert Donelson, a member of the Stanton FFA Chapter who had the grand champion at Abilene and the reserve champion capon at the Houston show this past season.

Elbert Steele, instructor in Vocational Agriculture at the Stanton High School, who made the trip, explained to these present the chicken and Bresse feeding programs of the members of his FFA chapter.

Others on the trip included W. H. Yater and Doris Blinnard, members of the board of supervisors of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District; P. K. Stewart of Prescott, Ark., and Billy Persons of Van Vynes, Calif.

Both dryland and irrigated grain and cotton crops were inspected, and at the Froman place the visitors saw the herd of Devon steers that is attracting much attention in this area. Mrs. Froman served homemade in her home.

At the Tom Bros. farm the center of attraction was the 15-acre irrigated alfalfa patch from which four cuttings have already been gotten this year and from which

Yarborough Hits Pipeline Firms; Shivers Sees Farm Hands Union

By BRUCE HENDERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Ralph Yarborough says Texas "has had a government of, by and for the big natural gas pipeline companies and the big money bags long enough." Gov. Allan Shivers says if Yarborough is elected governor there will be an all-out drive to unionize farm and ranch workers.

Yarborough and Shivers, opponents for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in the Aug. 28 run-off primary, hit at each other again in speeches Tuesday night. Yarborough then started a two-day swing into South Texas and the Rio Grande Valley while Shivers doubled back through West Texas from El Paso and into North Texas. Wednesday, Yarborough was to attend a rally in Gonzales, stump in Yoakum, fly to Raymondville for a rally and stump in Falfurrias, Harlingen and Brownsville. He planned a TV appearance in either Harlingen or Weslaco. Yarborough will make a state broadcast from Laredo Thursday night.

Shivers speaks on the courthouse square at Haskell at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday and had handshaking appearances in Rule, Rochester, Knox City, Mundy, Seymour and Electra before going to Wichita Falls for a night rally and state broadcast. Shivers flies back to Austin from Wichita Falls Thursday night.

B. A. Stufflebume, Grand Prairie banker, is to speak for Shivers Thursday morning over a state radio network from Dallas. Yarborough said in a state radio speech from Austin Texas "needs a government for the people of Texas."

"It has had a government of, by and for the big natural gas pipeline companies and the big money bags long enough," Yarborough said, adding, "The humblest citizen will count as much with me as the most powerful business magnate in Texas when Ralph Yarborough is governor."

Shivers told a local TV audience at El Paso, "Texas farmers and ranchers are beginning to realize that election of a CIO-sponsored governor would launch an all-out drive to unionize farm and ranch hands."

Shivers said that in the past few days widely separated sources have wired him expressing concern over what they consider connections between Yarborough and left-wing labor leaders. Shivers said telegrams came from R. E. George, Mercedes, secretary of the Valley Farm Bureau; George Spence, Yaleta, president of the El Paso Valley Cotton Assn.; Edward Jackson, El Dorado, a director of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Assn., and Lonnie Gates, Webb County rancher.

Yarborough criticized the handling of drought relief and declared, "You should have relief from Shivers as well as from drought."

"Only divine Providence can end the rain drought," he said, "but you have the power yourselves to end the drought of bad government you have suffered under this administration."

Yarborough declared that as he stumped through West, North and East Texas last week "I received new first-hand information of the terrible suffering from the drought, and the piece-meal, wholly inadequate bungling political handling of the drought situation by the present Republican administration and the present Texas Republican Shivers-Benson plan state administration."

Shivers' El Paso speech ended a day of campaigning through Anson, Hamlin, Rotan, Roby and Stamford. The governor again charged "outside labor bosses" want to get control of Texas by electing Yarborough governor. And, in a separate filmed speech over a 27-station TV hookup, Shivers said Yarborough wants to turn Texas' water, oil and gas resources over to the federal government.

At Stamford, Shivers made his first public comment on a speech Friday by W. F. Kennedy of Cleveland, O., president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Kennedy told state BRT members Texas will elect Yarborough.

Shivers called Kennedy's speech "one of the more flagrant examples of the arrogance, the vindictiveness, and the self-centered determination of the outside labor bosses to have their way in Texas."

S. Koreans Fear U.S. Withdrawal

SEOUL (U)—The South Korean Assembly will meet tonight to discuss plans reportedly under consideration in Washington to pull "part of the U.S. 8th Army" out of Korea. Assembly Chairman Lee Ki Poong announced.

An informed source said President Syngman Rhee was advised by aides now in Washington that the U.S. National Security Council will make a decision "within two days."

Rhee and other ROK government officials long have demanded that three South Korean infantry divisions be formed for each U.S. division pulled out of South Korea. Twenty South Korean divisions and seven divisions of U.S. and U.N. troops now are in South Korea.

Demonstrations against the reported withdrawal were being scheduled throughout South Korea tomorrow, official sources said.

An 8th Army spokesman refused to comment on the report.

This is a time when South Korea must oppose any withdrawal of U.N. troops from Korea in view of the fact that the Communists are building their strength in the North," Lee said in a statement.

In Washington, an Army spokesman said he had heard nothing of any troop withdrawal from Korea.

Chinese Surgeon Set To Be Citizen

DALLAS (U)—There's a happy Chinese doctor here.

Lu Jen-lung, 33, a surgeon who fled China in 1949 on the last American ship to leave Shanghai before the Reds took over, learned yesterday a bill to grant him U.S. citizenship needs only President Eisenhower's signature.

Originally introduced by U.S. Rep. J. Frank Wilson of Dallas, the bill was passed by the Senate Monday.

Lu, who has been in this country on a temporary exchange visa, decided to live in Dallas. He is in his second year of residency at Methodist Hospital here.

Roll Out The Barrel

Alan Tamplin, 50-year-old retired farmer, operates his radio-controlled beer barrel at Birdham, West Sussex, England. Nicknamed "Nellie," the barrel operates on two 12-volt wet cell batteries, which drive a 1/4-horsepower motor, concealed in an inner barrel suspended on an axle. The radio control is similar to that used to guide model airplanes. Not only does "Nellie" transport herself and contents, but she also does the pouring. The barrel contains 448 imperial pints—560 U. S. pints. (AP Wirephoto via radio from London).

English Farmer Develops Own Automatic Bartender

BIRDHAM, England (U)—Stand back, Edison. Steady there, Bell. Make way for Tamplin, and the beer barrel that comes when you call it. The inspiration came one sunny afternoon, Alan Tamplin, a 50-year-old retired farmer, was sitting on the lawn of his country cottage here. He wanted a drink but didn't want to get up to fetch it. "And so," he related, "I invented Nellie. Look." He pressed a switch by the side of his deck chair. Through the French windows of his cottage rolled an ale barrel of gleaming wood, with "Nellie" painted on the side. It trundled down the garden path, took a sharp right turn by the roses, came to rest by Tamplin's chair. Clipped in one end were some glasses. Nellie poured a pair of pints—she does everything but drink 'em—and when they were taken from her, dutifully rumbled back to the cottage. Nellie works by radio, 465 megacycles on Tamplin's dial. She really is two barrels. An outer one does the rolling and an inner one holds the beer, 448 imperial pints—or 560 U. S. pints. The barrel-in-a-barrel keeps the brew still and sweet wherever Nellie wanders. In other and smaller compartments, Nellie holds soft drinks. She can even pour out a shandy—beer and ginger beer—if anybody wants it. Tamplin believes Nellie's the "most important invention since the bottle opener." "She took a year to bring to perfection. She goes at two speeds—fast and slow. She can take a steep hill, but hasn't mastered stairs yet. "I've fitted a bell for her to ring at closing time—which is for me, not her, to decide. Tamplin reported his little helper has so far brought him only one problem—a badly bruised foot. "A friend was in control at the time," he explained. "The friend sent her over to me but she didn't stop in time. All her 700 pounds went rolling over my foot. "I suppose she just got out of control. Or maybe the friend did."

World Church Council Meeting Proves Busy And Complicated

By GEORGE W. CORNELL. EVANSTON, Ill. (U)—A big Christian omnibus, loaded with assorted travelers on the Lord's highway, is rolling along fairly smoothly in this well-groomed university town.

But exactly where it's going, or whether it'll get there, nobody knows. Up to now, the Assembly of the World Council of Churches hasn't produced any pillar-of-fire decisions, but it's doing a lot of talking, and figuring, and it has the atmosphere of big doings.

In mammoth McGraw Hall at Northwestern University, where the main meetings are held, it looks like a staff meeting of the universe, with the sages gathered to probe the mysteries.

Under the white floodlights, they sit at long tables in the great arena, fingering the dials of their earphones, tapping with pencils, occasionally scribbling a note. Signs—reading Ethiopia, Mexico, Iran and a host of other tell where the 600 voting delegates came from.

Behind them, in rows of chairs, sit 800 other non-voting church representatives in packed rows of chairs. And behind that, in the always-full bleachers, are some 4,000 on-lookers.

At the front hangs a great blue-and-white banner as high as a building, with the symbol of the world body—a ship with a cross at its mast.

On one side of the stage, in glass-enclosed booths, is the battery of translators, who relay the words of the meeting over the earphones in the varied tongues of these varied Christians.

There is a similar scene, although on not so large a scale, a couple of miles away in Chan Auditorium, where visitors meet to hear famed churchmen speak.

Between these two centers of contemplation flows a two-way stream of 20 chartered buses. The ride is free.

Scores of other buildings on the Northwestern University campus—dormitories, sorority houses, administration buildings, have turned into part of this temporary headquarters of the council.

There are mimeograph shops, conference rooms, exhibition halls, press rooms and a special 40-line telephone board set up to serve the complex operation of the meeting.

It is being covered by some 600 news and religious press reporters, a number second only to that which covered the 1952 Republican convention. Western Union reports they're sending out more than 100,000 words a day.

It all costs money—a cash outlay of $385,000 which was provided by individuals, foundations and members of the council.

University Of Texas Joins In New Educational Council

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (U)—A council of eight southern universities was incorporated yesterday to distribute millions of dollars in funds from the general education board of the Rockefeller Foundation.

Dr. Leonard Beach, dean of the Vanderbilt University graduate school, said the grants, estimated at approximately four million dollars in the next few years, will be used principally for specialty scholarships.

The council adopted the name "council of southern universities," in the charter issued by the Tennessee secretary of state. Universities in the council and the officials listed as incorporators are: Vanderbilt, Chancellor Harvie Branscomb; University of Texas, President Logan Wilson; University of North Carolina, Dean W. W. Pierson; Emory University, President Goodrich C. White; Rice Institute, Provost Carney Cronis; Duke University, Vice President Paul Gross University of Virginia, President Colgate W. Darden Jr.; and Tulane University, President Rufus C. Harris.

Dr. Beach said the council's program will be similar to that of the original association of American Universities, which was established 50 years ago to raise graduate work standards in the Northeast and West.

Two Hurt When Car Stalls On Railroad Tracks

DALLAS (U)—A freight train bore down yesterday on a pickup truck with two small children in it and three adults trying to push it across the tracks.

An uncle snatched one child to safety, but the grandmother was critically hurt when she reached for the other as the train hit.

Arthur Williams gave this account to police: His mother, Mrs. Myrtle Williams, 54, was driving the family pickup truck. She stopped when she saw the freight approaching 200 yards away.

"We saw it was going slowly so we decided to go on across," she said. "When we got on the tracks the motor stalled. We had time, as my mother, my sister (Mrs. Bernice Coker) and I tried to push the truck off the tracks." "We soon saw the train was going to crash. We realized the little boy and his little sister were still in the cab of the truck."

Williams said he grabbed the little girl out of the truck and his mother had just reached for 4-year-old Doyle Wayne Coker when the train hit.

Mrs. Williams was hospitalized with a probable skull fracture and two broken legs. Doyle Wayne received a head injury but was not believed in critical condition.

Police said the engine struck the back of the truck and that Mrs. Williams and the boy were near the cab, probably keeping them from being crushed.

C. E. Stafford, 52, of Greenville, engineer, said he saw the truck on the track and people pushing it.

"I was traveling about 12 miles an hour but I couldn't stop," he told police. "I kept blowing my whistle, but they did not get out of the way in time and there was no chance to avoid the collision."

HISTORIC RECORD SET BY MILDER LOWER-PRICED OLD CROW!

Introduction of lighter, 86 Proof bottling as a companion to the world-famous 100 Proof Bottled in Bond brings forth unprecedented public demand!

Never before has a milder, lower proof bourbon of Old Crow's prestige and quality been offered at a popular price... and never before has the demand for any brand of whiskey climbed to such great heights so quickly. Your enthusiastic response to this introduction of 86 Proof Old Crow as a companion to the 100 Proof Bottled in Bond is a tribute to the fame and quality of a bourbon favored long ago by such illustrious men as Daniel Webster, Henry Clay and Mark Twain.

Old Crow has graced the tables and caverns of America for more than a century. It was carried west by pioneers in their wagon trains. In the east and throughout the land, political victories were toasted with James Crow's magnificent bourbon, and in the south it was deemed an essential ingredient to many a social gathering.

Today, the reception which you have accorded the lighter, milder, 86 Proof bottling of Old Crow proves again that Americans recognize in Old Crow, now as always, the finest Kentucky bourbon ever put into glass.

The agent Tuesday inspected a large portion of the 50,000 acres of Howard County cotton which has been planted.

The new insect build-up is from the infestation that survived earlier plantings, and is not due to a new hatch, the agent said.

Canadians Worried About Selling Heavy Stocks Of Wheat

OTTAWA (AP)—There's never been so much grain for sale in Canada. The Bureau of Statistics estimates the total 1954 carryover stocks of wheat, oats, barley, rye and flaxseed at a record $76,800,000 bushels.

But it's the wheat that's worrisome. There hasn't been so much in the elevators and on the farms in 11 years.

The bureau estimated that on July 31, there were 587,487,000 bushels on farms and in elevators. That's triple the 184,000,000-bushel average for wheat carryovers since 1944 and just 7,100,000 below the record wartime surplus of 594,600,000 in 1943.

The estimated 1954 crop is 513,000,000 bushels. Put them together and there's the prospect of 1,100,000,000 bushels to dispose of this year on a tight world wheat market.

Borden, Dawson Get First Bales

ACKERLY — E. E. Crittenden, Borden County farmer who lives seven miles east of Ackerly, apparently produced Borden County's first bale of cotton for 1954.

Crittenden's bale was ginned Tuesday afternoon at the Ackerly gin. From 2,300 pounds of seed cotton, he processed a 546-pound bale and 1,010 pounds of seed.

The bale, ginned Monday at Lamesa, was produced on the F. M. McClendon and Art Ayres farm near Patricia in southwest Dawson. It is believed to be the earliest bale of the area since 1937.

The ginning of Howard County's third bale of the season was reported today. It was ginned at Cosham Tuesday by Thad Hale of Cosham.

The county's first bale was grown by J. L. Smith of Fairview and was ginned Monday. Smith's cotton was weighed in at the gin just two minutes ahead of a bale produced by Gene Riddle of the Richland Community. Smith's cotton was ginned at Fairview and Riddle's was processed at the Co-op Gin in Big Spring.

The Paymaster Gin at Ackerly, which ginned Crittenden's bale, purchased the cotton at 30 cents a pound and paid $55 per ton for the seed.

Port Arthur Group Talks, Meets With Interruptions

MARSHALL (AP)—Four Port Arthur residents appeared here Monday night at a meeting attended mostly by supporters of Gov. Shivers to talk about the Port Arthur strike that began last winter.

Three men tried to interrupt the meeting to make speeches of their own. They were denied the floor.

The four invited speakers identified themselves as a weekly newspaper editor and leaders of a union, but the three were not completely identified from the floor.

Names of the four invited speakers were not disclosed. They were quoted as saying they needed the protection of as much anonymity as possible.

The four said teams of speakers are traveling from Port Arthur to various parts of the state to talk about the strike which began in an attempt to organize workers in 22 Port Arthur stores, hotels and eating places.

Regan Huffman, Harrison County chairman of Shivers' campaign, presided at the meeting here.

When the three union spokesmen interrupted, he told them he would have them ousted by policemen if they failed to follow his ruling that the floor was open only for questions addressed to the four invited speakers and not for speeches.

The four speakers said the men who intervened in the meeting "did not represent the rank and file of organized labor in Port Arthur, with which we were on friendly terms for more than a quarter of a century."

The speakers told how 23 Port Arthur business firms were struck in November in an organizing drive by the Independent Processing and Office Workers of America.

Att. Gen. Shippard publicly charged the union was Communist-dominated, and Shivers ordered it investigated by the State Industrial Commission. The commission reported that the union was Communist-dominated but there was no evidence its rank-and-file members in Texas were Communists.

The strike still is going on. The four speakers here were identified only as the operator of a small ready-mix cement plant, his wife and two other businessmen.

Over the objections of Republican leaders, it was added to the House bill by a vote of 41-39.

The combination measure then shot back to the House on a vote of 51-4. The House handed the administration its second setback of the day by approving the latest Senate version 208-100. It did so by adopting a motion of Rep. Dies (D-Tex.), instructing House members of a conference committee to accept the Senate amendments.

House Republican Leader Haleck of Indiana later told newsmen, however, that the instruction was not binding and he felt there still was a chance to cut out the provision making Communist party membership a crime.

While the outlawing bill was snagged in controversy, the Senate passed another measure yesterday to permit the government to bar suspected subversives from defense plants.

It also voted to deny pensions to federal officials, including present and former members of Congress, who are convicted of "misuse" of office. It placed this elaboration on a House bill designed originally to deprive Alger Hiss of retiring benefits.

Hiss is the former State Department staff member now serving a prison term for falsely denying he gave government secrets to a Communist spy ring.

Harrison, O'Mahoney To Run In Wyoming

By BOB LEERIGHT
CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Rep. William Henry Harrison won the Republican nomination for United States senator in yesterday's primary.

In the general election Nov. 2 he will face Joseph T. O'Mahoney, for 19 years a Democratic senator until defeated in 1952.

Harrison, 58-year-old grandson and great-grandson of Presidents Benjamin Harrison and William Henry Harrison, piled up a commanding lead of more than 2-1 over his nearest opponent, O'Mahoney, 70, who the nomination for the six-year term opposed and had little trouble snowing under Carl A. Johnson for the period from election day until Jan. 1, the remainder of the term to which Sen. Lester Hunt, Democrat who killed himself, had been elected.

Milward Simpson, Cody attorney and businessman, won the Republican nomination for governor, defeating C. J. Rogers, acting governor since Republican Frank Barrett was elected to the U.S. Senate in 1952.

Simpson will run against William (Scotty) Jack, a Democrat who has held a number of state offices and more recently has been vice president of the Rocky Mountain Oil and Gas Assn. Jack defeated D. A. Dexter, a Casper businessman.

The Republican primary climaxed a bitter name-calling fight between Harrison and Ewing T. Kerr, Cheyenne attorney who resigned as Republican state chairman to make the race.

On the basis of unofficial returns from 412 of the state's 689 precincts, Harrison had 10,871 votes; Sam C. Hyatt, Hyattville cattleman and former president of the American National Cattlemen's Assn., 5,364; Kerr, 4,759; William J. Taber, Cheyenne, 461.

E. D. (Ted) Cripps, a Rock Springs Republican, is now the senator and will serve until his successor is elected. Cripps, appointed by Rogers to the vacancy made by Hunt's death, did not run.

In the race for the Republican nomination for the House of Representatives to succeed Harrison, Wyoming's only member of the House, E. Keith Thomson, a state held a slender lead.

With unofficial returns in from 412 precincts, Thomson had 7,245; Frank Emerson, Evanston businessman, 5,350; Tom Nicholas, Casper, 3,364; and Mark Cox, Cheyenne rancher, 3,007.

In the Democratic House race, Sam Tully, mayor of Rawlins, gradually was extending his lead.

Returns from 397 precincts gave Tully 5,045; L. G. (Pat) Flannery of Fort Laramie, 3,415; and John Sullivan of Laramie, 3,358. Alice Hammond of Cody and George W. K. Posvar of Casper trailed badly.

Harrison will be on the ballot in November against O'Mahoney for the short term also.

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

Rural America soon will say farewell to a name which for 101 years has symbolized progress in agriculture and increased enjoyment in farm living. The magazine Country Gentleman, the Nation's oldest farm publication, is changing its name to Better Farming with the issue of next January.

Settlers were pushing westward into Kansas, farmers were speculating that steam locomotives would some day pull plows, and improvements in rail fences were being discussed, when the initial issue of Country Gentleman appeared January 6, 1853.

Down through the years its pages have mirrored a vast technological and chemical revolution that has transformed American agriculture. The magazine has undergone a succession of name changes, tracing its ancestry back to the Genesee Farmer, founded in 1831. That publication later became the Cultivator and the latter was merged with Country Gentleman. Luther Tucker published all three.

One of Country Gentleman's outstanding services was in giving impetus to the improvement of farm tools and implements. The second issue of the press in 1853 presented a design for a better ox-yoke, one that combined strength with lightness. Of the old yoke, the magazine says that "every farmer's boy, possessing less than man's strength, has a dread of the task of yoking a pair of oxen, because he cannot, without great effort, hold up the heavy yoke."

The following year the magazine speculated on a prediction that some day steam will "universally speed the plow."

"We hope the attention of inventors will be turned to this subject, and that an engine adapted to the purpose will be perfected in good time."

A search of old issues reveals startling reports of agricultural advances and problems which are topical this very day. The development of liquid fertilizer in the past half dozen years, with its economical application, is directly paralleled by a report the magazine carried 99 years ago about an Englishman's experiments in applying manure in liquid form.

Farming 170 acres, the Englishman built two miles of iron pipes "for the conveyance and distribution of liquid manures." The apparatus, including a steam engine, tank, and hose, cost about $21 per acre, and the farmer was convinced "he receives large returns from the investment." The report continues: "He said it was much more economical than the application of soil manure from the barnyard. He had found that it cost him about 12 cents a ton to carry out dry manure a mile or less on the farm. Then this manure had to be spread out and plowed in. Next, they had to wait for rain to wash it into the soil, and probably the rain, when it did come, was not sufficient to carry it down into the soil over two or three inches. But by means of his apparatus for carrying out and applying liquid manure—or his manual irrigation—the manure which fell from the animals today was washed into the tank tomorrow and conveyed on to the land, the ground saturated with it to any depth desired—and all at a cost of about three cents to a ton. Now if farmers could put a ton of manure in a liquid state, anywhere within a mile, for so small a sum, and put it down to any depth in the soil, surely it must be far cheaper than doing the work, not nearly so well, with horse and wagon."

All these advantages are brought out in the reports on the new liquid chemical fertilizers of today.

The development of rotary plows as an improvement on the plow was under way, and the merits of subsoil plowing were a subject of intense debate, just as it is today in some quarters.

Country Gentleman for May 3, 1855, under the heading "The Plow—An Improvement Wanted" said of the plow:

"It is, in reality, a wedge forcibly dragged through the soil at a certain depth, lifting up that portion which is above it, at the expense of making that which is below it more compact, this latter receiving virtually all of the force required for the separation. The consequence is that more or less, according to the soil, this lower surface is compressed to such a degree, as to leave a dense and compact surface, through which the roots of plants must find it difficult or impossible to penetrate."

Nearly a century later Country Gentleman carried an article entitled "Twilight of the Plow," in which new methods of much tillage were described.

Establishment of an agricultural college, then unknown in the country, was urged in 1853. The institution should have a working farm connected with it, the magazine argued, because in an agricultural education, unlike a classical education, "theory and practice, knowledge and its immediate application, thinking and working, are inseparably connected."

In 1855, the magazine cautioned those planning on going into farming that large capital outlays were necessary. Giving a detailed list of all the items needed, the magazine figured up the total as follows: For domestic animals, $1,010; for implements, $474.50 and for seeds, food and labor, $323. Total, $2,009.50

"This sum will no doubt seem 'rightfully large,'" the magazine commented, but it challenged readers to show how the figure could be reduced.

To stock and equip a hundred-acre farm today sometimes costs as much as $50,000.

The subject of irrigation was given early attention. In 1854 one writer commented: "Our agricultural practice is based upon that of Great Britain, and in that moist climate, scant of sunshine, it is very probable that irrigation is not so advantageous as it might be with us. An immense amount of water must be exhaled from an acre of produce in one of our long, clear, hot summer days, and that water must be furnished from the soil, and not stagnant at that."

And a little later: "There are thousands of acres of land capable of producing from one half more, to double what they do now annually by irrigation, and the expense

Congress Gives Eisenhower Atomic Energy Bill At Last

By RUSSELL BRINES
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today got a bill carrying out his sweeping new program to open the way for a private atomic power industry and to bolster European defenses with more data on nuclear weapons.

The House put Congress' final approval on the long-debated measure by voice vote yesterday. The Senate had accepted the compromise version Monday.

But Chairman Cole (R-NY) of the Senate—House Atomic Energy Committee served notice he intends renewing a fight next January over disputed patent provisions which prompted much of the Senate's bitter 13-day debate on the original bill.

The measure sent to the White House requires the sharing of all civilian patents for five years on a free basis. After that, owners of developments not made under government auspices can get exclusive patent rights for 17 years, renewable for the same period.

This was a compromise between the House position calling for exclusive patents at the outset and the original Senate demand for 10 years of compulsory patent-sharing.

Cole told the House yesterday that, if re-elected, his first job in January will be to introduce legislation to repeal the compulsory patent-sharing clauses which he called "distasteful and un-American."

The atomic measure, which the President has termed of "utmost importance," provides authority for:

1. Disclosure to allies of limited secrets on the external characteristics and performance of nuclear weapons, and defenses against them. This has been described as the heart of the President's plan to bolster Europe's defenses through greater reliance on A-weapons.
2. Unveiling of heretofore secret details on the civilian uses of atomic energy and to start negotiations toward carrying out his proposal for a global A-pool for peaceful agreements must be approved by Congress.
3. The Atomic Energy Commission to grant 40-year renewable licenses for private industry in separate atomic plants and handle flammable materials.

4. The AEC to build—after further congressional approval—full-scale atomic plants to demonstrate the feasibility of nuclear power and for other government agencies to apply for nuclear licenses, if Congress approves.
- Preference in the sale of atomic power must go to cooperatives or publicly owned utilities. These bodies also get preference in obtaining nuclear licenses.
5. Specific congressional approval for the disputed presidential directive ordering the AEC to contract with a southern utility group for a new steam plant at West Memphis, Ark.

Good Compost Bed Is Boon To Gardens

Since the importance of good soil in gardening cannot be overemphasized, it should be the concern of every gardener to improve the condition of the soil with which he or she works. One of the best methods of doing this is by use of a compost bed.

Fit Unpainted Furniture Into Special Spots

By SANDRA NEMSER
Decide how you are going to live before you purchase unpainted furniture, advises Gordon Obrigt, industrial designer. Measure the space for your dresser or chair in cubic feet, then go out and buy the piece that fits your needs.

The fertilizer may be commercial, but the best type is barnyard. This generates more heat and makes the bed ready to use sooner. Repeat this piling up process until the bed is about four or five feet high, being careful to keep the mixture damp, but not soggy.

Just after American manufacturers had completed their fall orders, along comes Christian Dior in Paris with his proposal to re-shape the feminine figure, flattening and raising the bustline widening the previously nipped waistline.

The attitude of U. S. manufacturers is reflected in the following statement from John C. Conover, executive director of the Corset and Brassiere Assn. of America:

Andrews, first opposition of the Big Spring Steers this fall, starts practice a week earlier than the Longhorns, under Texas Interscholastic League rules.

That means the Mustangs will have 14 more workouts than the locals, granting Glenn Frazier will work them twice daily Monday through Saturday, which he is sure to do.

The Mustangs will have the advantage, too, of playing at home. Some say the up-and-coming school should be in AAA now. Its football team is that good.

Some of the boys here are out jogging, but not enough of them. On Monday, the group included Jerry Graves, David Dibrell, Bobby McCarty, Calvin Daniels, Preston Bridges, Ronnie Wooten, Blanton Lees, Brock Johnson, Bob Jones, Roy Hughes, Tommy McAdams, Charley Johnson and Milton Davis.

The boys who wait until Aug. 27 to start getting their legs in shape are making a mistake. It's hard to achieve top physical condition in 43 days, which the others will have to do.

Andrews is expecting over a hundred boys to report for fall workouts.

LITTLE LEAGUE PARK'S NEW BLEACHER SEATS

Little Leagues Playoffs Due To Begin On Monday

The playoffs for the City Little League championship gets under way here Monday, with championships of all three leagues in the scrap.

Two defeats will eliminate a team. On Monday night, the American League, champions of the American circuit, tangles with the T-Shirt winner.

On Tuesday, the winner of that engagement takes on the Yankees, titlist in the National circuit.

Game time each night is down for 8 o'clock. Each contest will go six innings.

The Yankees, managed by D. R. Gartman, have reigned as champions every year the program has been in operation. Two years ago, the Yanks felled the Legion in the finals. Last year, they won over the Oilers.

The new bleachers at the Little League Park will be dedicated Thursday night, between Kids' night games being planned by the local leagues.

The first game of the double header is down for 6:30 p.m. The second one starts at 8:15 p.m. Players' contests will also be held between games. Base runners will be timed. A hundred-yard dash will be held. Throws for accuracy from the outfield, for distance and catchers' throws to second base will also take place.

One player from each league will be allowed to participate in the contests.

The Reed Oil Company and the Cosden Oils clash in a 'sudden-death' playoff tonight for the championship of the T-Shirt Little League. Game time is 7 o'clock.

The winner goes into the title round in competition with American and National League winners.

LOCALS HIT 6 HOME RUNS

Rainey, In Final Game Here, Wins 19th Behind Cayuses

Mike Rainey, benefitting from six home runs hit by his teammates, sang his swan song in a Big Spring uniform and was in good voice as the Bronco pole-axed the Midland Indians, 12-8, here Tuesday night.

Rainey, swapped to Tyler before the game for another hurler and cash, achieved his 19th win of the season and his fifth over his ex-teammates this season while appearing in a relief role.

Huck Doe, experiencing his most explosive night in baseball, Floyd Martin and Pete Simone saw to it that Rainey got a good going-away present.

Doe bashed three home runs, Rainey, Floyd Martin two and Simone one.

Round-trippers accounted for ten of the Steeds' runs. Doe hit one of his with a mate aboard. Martin's came with a man up front on each occasion. Simone's was a two-run blast in the sixth.

Rudy Briner and Bud Hull hit four-masters for Midland but they weren't nearly enough. In all, the Indians collected 16 assorted base hits, three of them by Pat Waters, but left a dozen runners stranded.

Rainey arrived on the scene in the sixth, when Big Spring trailed by two runs. He gave up another, then put the Indian power on a leash thereafter.

Tito Arcencibia started on the mound for Big Spring but ran into difficulties in almost every inning.

DIAMOND DUST — Pickens, a tremendous pitcher early in the season, looked overworked. His record now shows 18 wins and nine defeats. Hull is second in the League in home runs, having hit 39.

Floyd Martin has clubbed 22. Doe 14 and Simone five, two of them for Big Spring.

HURLER MIKE RAINEY IS SWAPPED TO TYLER CLUB

Prentiss (Mike) Rainey, a heavy contributor to Big Spring baseball successes this season, Tuesday morning was swapped to Tyler of the Big State League for pitcher Jeff Davis and $450.

Rainey, who had a 19-14 win-loss record here, departed this morning for his new assignment.

Davis, a limited-service player who will have that same classification next year, is due to check in here today. Davis was with Miami Beach of the Florida International League earlier this season, where he posted a 9-6 win-loss record.

Rainey was another of Manager-Club Owner Pepper Martin's bargain basement buys before the current season got under way.

He was acquired from Midland, where he experienced only a so-so season in 1933.

Rainey is a former Big State League hurler, having pitched for Temple before being shipped to Midland.

Mike was especially happy over the deal and said he welcomed another chance to hurl in Class B ball. The one-time Cincinnati farm hand is a veteran by classification.

Martin said the deal helped Big Spring because of the classification Davis will have in 1935.

The deal leaves the Bronco with only two class-men, Baez and Bob Martin. The team is allowed four under Longhorn League rules.

Rickey's Corsairs Making Headway In Senior League

By BEN PHEGAR Associated Press Sports Writer Three years ago Branch Rickey invited a group of sports writers to attend the 1934 world series in Pittsburgh. The only way Pittsburgh will see the 1934 world series is by television. But the old master's amazing assortment of greying veterans and fussy-checked youngsters apparently are going to have a lot to say about where the series will be played.

The dead last but dead game Pirates own today's longest winning streak in the National League—five games, including a 4-3 triumph Tuesday night over Brooklyn.

Pittsburgh's streak became the longest in the Milwaukee Braves were beaten, 4-1, by St. Louis, ending a nine-game string. The league-leading New York Giants capitalized on the misfortunes of the Dodgers and Braves with an 8-3 victory over Philadelphia. This put the Giants two games in front of Brooklyn, 4 1/2 ahead of the Braves.

"Operation Treadmill" continued in the American League. The New York Yankees won their eighth in a row, 11-1, over Philadelphia, and again failed to close the three game gap to the Cleveland Indians who came from behind in the last of the ninth and nipped Detroit, 4-3, for their seventh straight.

Both Chicago teams won double-headers. The Cubs whipped Cincinnati, 5-0 and 5-1. The White Sox defeated Baltimore, 3-0 and 3-1. Boston edged Washington, 4-3.

Cars Due Here From Midland

Encouraged by a large turnout which saw last weekend's stock car races here, officials of the Big Spring Speedway are planning for another full program Friday night.

A number of cars are due back from Midland, Monahan, Colorado City and possibly Odessa.

Last Friday night's card saw 15 cars on the track, six of them from Midland and two from Monahan.

Woody Woodard of Midland, driving Car 88, owned by Richard Canale of Big Spring, won the feature race, Clyde Majors, in Car 33, was second. Third was O. C. Cox of Monahan, in Car 7.

In the Slow Car Heat, Majors finished in front. Bob Sweatt, in Car 4, was in the Fast Car Heat. Car 7-11 prevailed in the Consolation race. Sweatt returned to the winners' circle in the Australian Pursuit.

Cars 444 and 66 were out of action due to transmission trouble. M-2 threw a bearing and did not get to compete in the feature.

Cars 7 and 11 were in a mishap in the feature. A half lap ahead at the time, Car 11 hit the fence and Car 7 was following so close it collided with the vehicle ahead and both limped to the sidelines.

Tinkham Named Bowling Prexy

T. C. Tinkham has been named to a second term as president of the City Bowling Association, which will begin operations this fall.

Jim Engstrom, who served the association as its secretary, was elected to that post again.

Plans for operation of the winter league were taken up at a meeting of players Monday night, after officers had been elected.

Ernest Rice was named president of the Men's Bowling League; L. J. Brown, vice president; Jack Kimble, secretary; and Ray McMahon, treasurer.

League officials urged that all persons desiring to bowl in the league leave their names at the West Texas Bowling Lanes, or contact one of the league officers. Captains of each team are to meet with league officials at 7 p.m. Aug. 26 to help write the league rules. The convales will take place at the bowling center.

Wholesale Food Prices Go Down

NEW YORK (U-S) Sharp declines in coffee and cocoa this week sent the Dun & Bradstreet index of wholesale food prices to the lowest point since Feb. 2.

More commodities advanced in price than declined, but the fall in coffee and cocoa more than offset such increases.

Veteran Solons Find Congress' Pace Fast

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—Two veteran legislators, Republican Sen. Milkin of Colorado and Sen. Mansfield of Montana, a Democrat, said today there is no doubt about it—the 82d Congress has been anything but "do-nothing."
Milkin, chairman of the GOP conference, said in an interview: "There's no question about it, we've put through an amazing amount of legislation. And don't think the people won't be aware of it when they start comparing the campaign promises of Gen. Eisenhower with the performance of this Republican Congress."
Mansfield, questioned separately, said: "No, this certainly has been no do-nothing Congress. But much of the work accomplished, he said, has 'not been in the interests of the people.'"
Milkin and Mansfield spoke out after both houses of Congress, with an eye to going home by the end of the week, put on another demonstration yesterday of how they can speed through legislation when they want to.
The House lost little time on a compromise farm bill, sending it to the Senate 208-47 despite some last-ditch cries that it would do the farmer no good. The Senate got into more debate, but wound up forwarding the measure to the White House for signing on a 44-28 post midnight roll call that routed a number of senators out of bed.

The legislation, a major item in President Eisenhower's program, carries out in modified form his request for flexible federal price supports on major crops and makes other important changes in the farm law.
Also speeded to the President, by voice vote in the House, was the compromise atomic energy bill beak to allow private industry into the atomic energy field and to permit a limited exchange in nuclear information with America's allies. The compromise included a provision for compulsory sharing of private atomic patents for five years that the Senate had insisted on.
Administration wishes fared worse when first the Senate, then the House decided in favor of a bill which would impose heavy fines and imprisonment on members of the Communist party.
The administration had prevailed on the House Monday to pass a milder anti-Communist party version of the bill, but the Senate yesterday decided 41-39 in favor of the fines—and imprisonment provision which it had approved once before. The House then overrode its leadership by appointing conferees with the Senate, 208-100, with instructions to agree to the Senate version—but not closing the door to further revision.
Meanwhile the two houses passed secondary legislation at a minute clip.

Electra Oilman Charged in Wife's Death in Gunplay

ELECTRA, Tex. (AP)—Oilman W. R. Simpson was held today on a charge of murder with malice in the death of his wife, Mrs. Susie Simpson.
Simpson, about 60, was seriously wounded in the double shooting Monday.
Simpson remained in serious condition in Electra hospital. He was under a 24-hour guard.
Funeral services for Mrs. Simpson were scheduled at 3 p. m. Thursday.
She was shot several times as she sat behind the wheel of her car in the driveway of her home. The windshield was shattered. Simpson was found in a pool of blood in the garage in front of the car. A rifle was found in the garage.
The couple had been divorced and remarried. Simpson is an independent oil operator and former member of the Electra City Commission.

Lost 45 Pounds With Barcontrate

"The first time I took Barcontrate, I lost 45 pounds," writes Mrs. Harold Newburn, 517 Tulane Ave., Lubbock, Texas. "I take it now as an aid to regularity and to appease my appetite."
And Mrs. L. H. Davis, 5606 Clay, Houston, Texas, says: "I have lost about 8 pounds taking Barcontrate. I want to continue until I have lost 25 pounds."
If the very first bottle of Barcontrate doesn't show you the way to take off ugly fat, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You can get Barcontrate at any Texas drugist.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Jaguar leaping on the back of a tapir.
Human beings seem to be fairly safe from the attacks of jaguars. Most jungle travelers have reported that these animals never attack men. In addition, we are told children are safe "almost always" from the big beasts.
Despite those good words I should rather not offer myself to test the truth of the travelers' reports! What if a jaguar made a little mistake?
Jaguars are strong and fierce, but they would lose out if matched in fair fights against Kodiak bears or grizzlies of North America. In South America, on the other hand, the jaguar is ranked as the most powerful fighter among all the wild animals.
Pumas are cousins of jaguars, and live in the same general area in some countries, including Brazil. These animals are cousins, but they seem to fight whenever they meet in the jungles. So far as our records show the jaguar is the common victor.
A strange animal, the tapir, lives in the same parts of Brazil. The tapir likes to wallow in the mud which it finds in swamps. In that way it coats its body with the mud, and this guards it from mosquitoes and other insects.
The tapir is a harmless animal and seems never to want to hurt either man or beast. Jaguars, however, pursue tapirs.
Prowling through the reeds and other plant growth in a marsh, a jaguar may see a tapir taking a mud bath. Then the sly and dangerous animal will leap on the back of the tapir, and may break its neck or backbone with a single blow of its paw.
It has been said, with truth, that wild animals seldom die of old age. Even a jaguar is apt to fall victim to an accident or attack. If it gets too near a river, it may suffer death from the snapping jaws of a large alligator.
Some jaguars wander about the pampas or plains of Argentina. There they chase and capture furry animals, including deer. Usually, however, the jaguars make their headquarters in forest areas.

DATE DATA For Successful Date, Try To Be Yourself

By BEVERLY BRANDOW
Do you know what is the one most important thing in really smooth dating? It's not money and it's not a car. No, one word sums it up: naturalness. That's what really counts. It puts many a would-be ordinary date into the heavy date classification.
Do you know that under tension, the hardest person in the world to be is yourself? I mean it. Lots of boys get self-conscious around girls and almost unconsciously adopt a stilted, strained person-ality that makes the girl uncomfortable. Then you know what you've got. Strike one; you're out.
How well are you at being yourself? Of course when it comes to manners, if yours aren't so hot, don't take the advice about being yourself to extremes. Then the idea is to try to become a smoother, more polished self.
Oodles has been said about the blunderbuss boy and I know his coarse ways may place him in a sad dating plight, but honestly I sometimes think the boy who goes to the other extreme of being too nicey nice scores a zero with a girl almost as quickly.
How many of you fellows belong in this classification? You know the kind of boy I mean. His intentions are the very best but his date nerves are so keyed up and his good manners are so awkwardly prominent he becomes a downright nuisance.
Etiquette is doing the thoughtful, comfortable, and natural thing. When it becomes strained instead of comfortable, then you may be sure the impression being made is not one of thoughtfulness.
Helen had a blind date with Charles last Saturday; her first and last one, she told her diary.
What did Charles do that wouldn't merit his getting a second chance? He tried too hard. Trying to be the perfect gentleman, he clamped onto Helen's upper arm with a manly vice-like grip and hung on through the evening even while they were on the miniature golf course. Being that Charles was nearly six feet tall, poor Helen found herself in a very strained and lopsided position. Besides her walk being hampered, his hand was hot.
When she wanted to place her ball just so before putting, Charles knelt at her feet to place it for her—out of line with the hole, of course. He went to ridiculous lengths to hold her club when she was not using it, lest she become tired.
Pleased to be home at last Helen inquired, "How about a cold drink?" Charles bounded into the kitchen ahead of her, insisting upon getting the ice out and filling the glasses. Helen wrung her hands as he got Mom's best glassware from the shelves and loomed all the ice cubes instead of just the ones necessary. Needless to say, when Helen wished him farewell, it was with a sigh of relief.
