By BO BYERS
AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission today called a halt on the downward trend of Texas oil production, ordering an increase of 62,415 barrels per day in the allowable for September. That will mean a permissive flow of 2,787,456 barrels daily.

The increase, which found major oil purchasers split 50-50 for and against it, will result from continuation of a 15-day producing schedule both statewide and in the big East Texas field. The average daily allowable goes up because there is one less day in September than in August.

U.S. To Seek New Indictments On Lattimore

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government will seek a new perjury indictment against Owen Lattimore, controversial Far Eastern specialist, U.S. Attorney General J. Edgar Hoover announced today.

In December, 1952, a federal grand jury indicted Lattimore, one-time Far Eastern affairs adviser to the State Department, on seven counts of perjury growing out of his sworn testimony before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

Two of those counts, including the key one—that he lied when he said he never was a Communist sympathizer or promoter of Red interests—later were thrown out on appeal on the ground that they were too vague.

Compromise Bill On Banning Reds Changes Clause

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise bill outlawing the Communist party sailed through Congress this afternoon.

The Senate passed the measure by a vote of 79-0. The roll call House vote was 256-2.

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate-House conferees came up with a compromise anti-Communist bill today by dropping a provision making mere membership in the Communist party punishable by fine and imprisonment.

In its place, they put a clause saying a person who is a member of a Communist-action group shall be subject to the penalties provided in the 1950 Internal Security Act.

The 1950 law, of which Sen. McCarran (D-Nev) was the author, provides that members of Communist action groups shall be barred from defense plants, from employment by the federal government and from obtaining a passport.

In addition, if they fail to register with the attorney general as required by law, they are subject to imprisonment for five years and to a fine of $10,000.

McCarran, a member of the conference committee, said the compromise bill "makes certain that all of the provisions and penalties of the Internal Security Act shall prevail."

Administration doubts about earlier versions of anti-Communist legislation had been based on concern that it might destroy the registration provisions of the Internal Security Act and hamper prosecutions for conspiring to teach and advocate the forcible overthrow of the government under the Smith Act.

The section of the bill making Communist party membership a criminal offense, sponsored by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) and other Democrats, was twice approved by the Senate and once by the House over the objections of the administration.

The schedule called for the new compromise version to be submitted first to the Senate and then to the House.

Sen. Butler (R-Md) told reporters that the Senate-House conferees agreed on it unanimously.

Other parts of the measure would strip the Communist party of its legal rights and privileges and deprive labor unions, found to be Communist-infiltrated, of their legal standing before the National Labor Relations Board.

Before the conference agreement, Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, said he was confident the group would produce a measure acceptable to Atty. Gen. Brownell.

Knowland said also he thought President Eisenhower would sign any bill Congress might pass which was aimed at the Communist party.

MAY FINISH TONIGHT Lawmakers Near Close Of Session

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The second session of the 83rd Congress reached its final stages today, with only three major matters to be disposed of before a final gavel on all legislative business.

The three are a compromise foreign aid bill providing $2,781,000,000 in new cash, a bill to ban the Communist party and a bill to broaden and liberalize the social security system.

There was a chance all of these could be passed and sent to President Eisenhower by tonight. Some of the lawmakers thought tomorrow was more likely for the wind-up, and a few pessimists still expected the session to run over to early next week.

The way legislation has been taking a surprise turn at the last minute, there was just no telling. When legislative business is completed, the House will be able to quit until January. But the Senate may come back later to dispose of the recommendations of its special committee on the motion to censure Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

The social security bill, a must item on the President's list and also that of nearly all of the lawmakers, is hung up over a controversy as to coverage.

The administration is seeking to extend social security coverage to 3,600,000 farm operators and 500,000 professional people but was turned down on this by the Senate. The House accepted the President's position on coverage in large part, and its conferees are demanding that the two groups be included in the compromise bill.

The Senate representatives have been just as adamant against it. A controversy over a pay raise for 500,000 postal workers and 1 1/2 million civil service classified workers still could delay adjournment.

But chances for the raise dimmed considerably yesterday after administration leaders again made clear that the President would not approve one without a postal rate increase.

The Senate kicked the matter around for a while yesterday, then put it back on the shelf. But the lawmakers have been under intense pressure to vote the pay hike before they leave town.

The Senate also has numerous minor bills it could act on, but most of these appeared certain to go down the drain in the rush of the weary lawmakers to quit.

Yesterday the Senate completed action on a whopping $1,659,000,000 catch-all money bill. It also passed and sent back to the House, somewhat amended, one of the anti-subversive bills asked by Eisenhower. It would strip U.S. nationality from citizens convicted of advocating the overthrow of the government by force and violence.

The House, meanwhile, sent to the President by voice vote a measure to broaden the unemployment compensation program to include another four million workers, mostly federal employees and workers in small firms now exempt. The act would take effect Dec. 31, 1955.

Immediate protests were launched in South Korea. All shops were closed and public transportation halted in Seoul during a protest rally which drew an estimated 100,000 persons to the city stadium.

Ike Says U.S. Is Tired Of Doom Politics

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—President Eisenhower declared today "the country is getting pretty sick and tired of crooked fence politics."

He also said he personally is "sick and tired of listening to the clack-clack of the prophets of doom."

Eisenhower's remarks were in notes prepared for a speech at a Republican Day celebration at the Illinois State Fair.

The President's address in an outright political atmosphere was for the opening gun in an administration drive to maintain Republican control of Congress.

With the fall congressional elections coming on, the President urged his audience to return Illinois members of the House to Congress and to increase the state's GOP representation in the law-making body.

Before his address, Eisenhower had lunch at the home of Gov. William G. Stratton with Joseph T. Meek, the Republican candidate for the Senate, bidding for the seat now held by Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas, recently won Eisenhower's endorsement.

Eisenhower flew here this morning from Washington and was greeted by Gov. Stratton and other Illinois Republican leaders and George Craig of Indiana, also a Republican.

In his speech at the fair, the President declared he is "sick and tired of listening to the clack-clack of the prophets of doom."

Then, by way of explanation, as he put it, he told a story about Abraham Lincoln, the Republican party's first President.

Lincoln once related, Eisenhower said, that a man had built such a crooked fence that a hog trying to get through it became so confused that it included it was always coming out on the wrong side of the fence.

That story, the President went on, is "applicable today because certain politicians, despite the facts, seem to be coming out on the wrong side of the economic fence."

That was an obvious allusion to contentions by some Democrats that the administration was leading the nation into a depression.

Later he had a date to address the General Assembly of the World Council of Churches at the Northwestern University campus at Evanston.

U.S. To Slash Asian Strength

By C. YATES McDANIEL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will pull two thirds of its ground strength out of Korea in the next few months in carrying out a new military strategy to mount a flexible defense against Communist China and at the same time build up a central strategic reserve at home.

In the largest peacetime redeployment of American forces since announced yesterday, four full divisions will be withdrawn from Korea. Two divisions and smaller units will return to the United States, and Okinawa and Hawaii will be strengthened by one division each.

Immediate protests were launched in South Korea. All shops were closed and public transportation halted in Seoul during a protest rally which drew an estimated 100,000 persons to the city stadium.

Although two fewer divisions will be left in the western Pacific, defense officials interpreted the move as completely in step with President Eisenhower's clear-cut warning Tuesday against any Red attempt to invade Chinese Nationalist-held Formosa.

The new military thinking lays increased stress upon flexibility and the importance of the western Pacific defense line running from the Philippines in the south through Nationalist Formosa and Okinawa to Japan.

The strategy implies a strong U.S. determination to avoid fighting another major war strictly within the limits of the Korean peninsula.

When the troop reshuffling has been completed, probably next year, America's military lines will shape up like this:

Two U.S. divisions will remain in Korea to support a South Korean army now made up of 20 divisions and to be strengthened by additional American assistance. The British Commonwealth Division and smaller units from other Allied nations also remain in Korea.

Pentagon Says Chinese Admit Men Prisoners

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today formally charged the Chinese Communists are holding 15 American airmen as "political prisoners."

A Defense Department statement said the Chinese Communists admitted at the recent conference at Geneva the men are alive and that this has been verified by Americans, former prisoners of war, who have been exchanged since the armistice in Korea.

The Pentagon announcement said also that the Communists have been asked to account for a total of 526 Americans "who are either in Communist hands or concerning whose fate the Communists have knowledge" as indicated in an announcement by the Far East command in Korea on Tuesday.

Showman Has Plane Accident

WESTBROOK (SC)—Crash of a single-engine plane near Westbrook was reported this morning by its pilot, Speedy Babbs, Ontario, Calif.

Babbs said the plane was caught in a down-draft as he came in for an emergency landing. The craft was ruined.

The pilot identified himself as a showman and said he was en route to Hollywood, Calif. After backing a headwind much of the morning, Babbs said he feared his fuel supply would be exhausted before he reached Big Spring. He decided to land on a highway near Westbrook and secure gasoline there. As he lowered the plane for a landing it suddenly was thrown to the ground, he said.

Babbs said he has appeared on "Big Top" and other television programs. He was going to Hollywood to manage a new act, he reported.

French Premier Fears Red Gain

By ALFRED CHEVAL
BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—French said today that if his proposals for changing the European army treaty are rejected, France might swing in another crisis to a Leftist government similar to the prewar "Popular Front."

The Popular Front was a coalition of Socialists and Radical Socialists headed by Leon Blum. Its policy was social reform rather than Marxism. But the period was marked by widespread strikes and other disorders.

Mendes-France made his statement to a six-nation meeting of foreign ministers convened to discuss changes in the European Defense Community pact. His remarks were relayed to newsmen by a German source. By the account of this informant:

The French Premier said the present treaty has no chance of being accepted by the French Parliament, due to start debating it Aug. 28. He said he had drawn his proposals for revision to find some way of salvaging something from the idea.

He declared rejection of his proposals would certainly result in a negative vote in Parliament. This could be followed, he argued, by a crisis in the North Atlantic community. All this would be a victory for the Russians, he asserted—a victory "which would cost them nothing."

A French source, when told of this version, said "that sounds O.K."

Shortly after Mendes-France spoke, however, Dutch Foreign Minister J. W. Beyen bluntly said the French proposals were not acceptable to his government.

Beyen said that Mendes-France's statement this morning had made a "totally different impression" than the text of the proposed changes. The note on the changes was transmitted through diplomatic channels last Saturday.

Paul-Henri Spaak, Belgian foreign minister and president of the conference, appeared discouraged as the group broke up after a meeting of almost two hours on general aspects of the crisis provoked by Mendes-France's proposed changes.

Spaak refused to make any statement, saying it was too early to know what might develop. The ministers planned to continue the general discussion this afternoon.

Only 25 men attended this morning's meeting. The ministers sought an intimate atmosphere for a free discussion of their views. West Germany and Italy had three representatives present, and the other four nations—France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—two each. One member of the conference secretariat rounded out the group.

DRIVE-IN AUTO THEFT SERVICE

Two men drove themselves to the police station in a stolen automobile last night after being outsmarted by the vehicle's owner.

The car, which belongs to Ray Parker, was reported stolen about 8 p.m. It was parked in the 100 block of East Third at the time, police were told.

Parker, manager of the Douglas Hotel, later saw his car with the two men in it. He followed them to a North Big Spring restaurant, where he engaged them in conversation.

The owner asked the two men if they would give him a ride and he offered to pay. They readily agreed. The ride ended at the police station, and the two men were herded into jail.

Charges of car theft were to have been filed against them this morning.

Street widening work at square gets under way. Street widening work around the courthouse square started today, and City Engineer Clifton Bellamy said the project should be well under way by the week's end.

Metal forms for pouring concrete were unloaded this morning as the last bit of excavation was being effected by W. D. Caldwell Construction Company.

Caldwell was also grading the area today where pavement will be laid.

Actual pouring of concrete curbing around the square was scheduled for this afternoon or tomorrow. R. V. Foresyth, director of the city public works department, said curbing will be poured all at once.

The curbing will have to set for some time before drying, and it is possible that actual paving will not begin before next week.

Scurry, Third and Fourth streets each will be widened more than 20 feet to allow head-in parking around the square. Main Street will not be widened.

FOUGHT COMMUNISM De Gasperi Succumbs; Was Italian Statesman

SELLA VAL SUGANA, Italy (AP)—Alcide de Gasperi, the lean old statesman who led Italy out of postwar chaos and onto the path of democracy, died today of a heart attack.

Death came to the former Premier as he rested here in his north Italian mountain retreat, far from Rome and the political wars in which he had battled without respite for nearly a decade.

His passing robbed the cause of European union of one of its staunchest supporters. Italy's struggle against communism lost one of its hardest fighters.

Although it was known the 73-year-old leader's health was failing, there had been no public hint he was seriously ill. Only after his death was it revealed that he had suffered a heart attack a week or so before his death.

He suffered another attack at 3 a.m. today and died an hour later after still another seizure. His family was at his bedside.

De Gasperi had stepped down from the titular leadership of his pro-Western, middle-of-the-road Christian Democrat party—Italy's largest—a little more than a month ago.

He ended his 7 1/2 years as head of the Italian government a year ago, in July 1953, after losing a confidence vote in the Italian Parliament. But his party supplied succeeding cabinets and a protégé of De Gasperi, former Interior Minister Mario Scelba, now holds the premiership.

A messenger brought the news of the death before dawn to Scelba and the Premier hurried from his own vacation spot, Phluggi, to the scene of the death of his old mentor.

Known in the troublesome early days of the Italian republic as the master of political compromise, De Gasperi changed later to become a two-fisted foe of the growing menace of communism.

Daring Texas Pilot To Wed

QUEBEC (U)—That Texas pilot who flew a plane under two ancient London bridges says he is now engaged to the girl he did it for. Gene Thompson, 29, a former proprietor from Lubbock, swooped under London Bridge and Tower Bridge a week ago yesterday in a rented light-plane. He said he did it to impress blonde Helen Brown, 21, also of Lubbock.

Helen reportedly wouldn't speak to Thompson when she first heard about his feat that startled London lunch-hour crowds. Both were in England on a student tour.

But Thompson said yesterday, when the couple arrived on the liner Atlantic, that they're engaged now.

"Maybe it was the rough crossing that wore her down," he said with a grin.

Their plans are indefinite. Both are still enrolled at Texas Tech in Lubbock. Thompson is studying business administration, and Helen has a year to go for a master of arts degree.

Although both live in Lubbock, they had not met before the student European tour this summer.

The couple left last night on a boat train for Montreal, where Helen will meet her parents and drive back to Texas.

Thompson said he is scheduled to take a train "but if there's any chance of hanging onto the running board of the car, I'll do it."

Shivers, Yarborough Continue Vote Drive

By BRUCE HENDERSON Associated Press Staff Writer

Gov. Allan Shivers has declared the struggle between him and Ralph Yarborough for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination boils down to "a fight for principles of government." Yarborough charges Shivers with "radically changing" his political convictions.

With nine days left before the Aug. 28 runoff primary, both candidates campaigned without letup. Shivers, his wife and children will appear at a 16-county rally in Austin's Woodridge Park Thursday night. Yarborough campaigned Thursday at Laredo and will make night state radio speech from there.

Wednesday, Shivers stumped from West Texas into Wichita Falls for a night rally and radio speech. Yarborough spoke Wednesday at Gossales, Yoakum and Palfurris, then headed into the Lower Rio Grande Valley and appeared at Harlingen and Brownsville.

In his Wichita Falls speech, Shivers said the race is not merely between two men or factions for state prestige. "It is a fight for principles of government," he said, with those who oppose him advocating "federalism, centralization and socialism."

Shivers declared forces behind Yarborough want to eliminate him from politics because "they want a governor of Texas who will surrender in advance our influence and votes at the next Democratic national convention in 1956."

At Gonzales, Yarborough said of Shivers: "He has been in office now 20 years—20 years of unbroken power does strange things to people. Twenty years ago I do not believe he would have taken the $450,000 in that mysterious Hidalgo County land deal."

"Twenty years ago I do not believe he would have awarded state printing contracts to a printing firm of which he was one of the owners—in violation of the state Constitution. Twenty years ago I do not believe he would have let his cronies and a former campaign manager make $11,000 to keep a busted insurance company open another 10 months. . . . He is so near absolute power in Texas that he imagines people around him have changed."

Shivers said at Wichita Falls election returns proved false Yarborough's "wild charge" in the first primary that Shivers had the support of South Texas politician George Parr.

The governor said public safety officials and newspaper investigations "invested as a falsehood" Yarborough's statement that Rangers had been taken out of Duval County, Parr's stronghold.

Yarborough geared much of his Harlingen speech Wednesday night to problems of the Rio Grande Valley—where Shivers has a farm home and drew heavy support in the first primary.

Yarborough said a charge he would let the CIO dominate Texas farm labor was one of the "most ridiculous" ever made. "I'll work with the farmers and do nothing to affect your farm economy," he said.

Shivers has charged that if Yarborough is elected there will be a drive to unionize farm and ranch hands.

Shivers campaign headquarters announced Wednesday the Governor has received the endorsement of 59 state representatives.

At Amarillo Wednesday, State Sen. Andy Rogers called Shivers' administration "the most brilliant record of hypocrisy and deceit in the history of Texas."

Rogers said Shivers is taking credit for all improvements in state government. "The truth is," Rogers said, "there have been none. If anything state institutions have deteriorated."

At Austin Wednesday night, Joe Steadham, state legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said Shivers' blast at the BRT president was "very much uncalled for." Shivers had linked BRT president W. P. Kennedy of Cleveland, O., with "the outside labor bosses who are determined to have their way in Texas." Kennedy had predicted in a Fort Worth speech Texas will elect Yarborough.

Yarborough has called Shivers disloyal for leading Texas' bolt to Republican Dwight Eisenhower in the last presidential election.

Shivers argues he backed Eisenhower in the best interests of Texas and the nation. Shivers said he supported Eisenhower because Stevenson would have vetoed a bill confirming Texas' title to its tidelands. The 1953 session of Congress passed such a bill, and Eisenhower signed it.

Memo From Denver To Ike: Vacation's Ready For You

Memo: To President Eisenhower Subject: Colorado Vacation From: The Associated Press, Denver

Date: August 19, 1954 Denver and Colorado are all set for your arrival at the summer White House. Your advance staff is completing the administration arrangements at your office at Lowry Air Base, the Secret Service is setting up its elaborate guards, there's not a cigarette built in sight on the post grounds, and the fish are jumping.

Aksel Nielsen, the genial host of Byers Peak Ranch at Fraser, says the trouting is good in St. Louis Creek. The water was low early in the season because Aksel had to irrigate the hay crop for his fat cattle, but the situation is ideal now.

Bal Swan reports the South Platte at his place near Buffalo Creek, where you've been fishing for 20 years, is tops now. But you'd better hurry because a newspaperman warming up the river for you pulled seven trout out of that hole under the bridge not long ago.

Both Bal and Aksel will try to be patient while you finish up official business after you get here, but they're drooling for some fish they expect you to catch and fry for them over a camp fire on the river bank.

Rip Arnold, golf pro at Cherry Hills Country Club, reports the course is in very good shape now. It was a little dry earlier in the year, but the new irrigating system has fixed it up great.

The Rev. Robert S. Lutz, minister at the Corona Presbyterian church you attend out here, apologizes for the construction that's going on. However, services are going on as usual and the congregation is looking forward to having you join them again.

Over at 750 Lafayette St., your mother-in-law Mrs. John Doud, has been scurrying around getting everything ready for your visit. The neighbors report they'll be happy to have you come home again for a vacation.

They said, by the way, they don't think the Secret Service men are a nuisance at all. Mrs. Alvin J. Schrepferman, your neighbor, said "they do their job without bothering anybody."

As another of your summer neighbors put it, they want you

Famous Trichologist Tells Truth About Saving And Improving Hair

This new method of home treatment of thinning and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Big Spring, Texas, Sunday ONLY, Aug. 22, 1954. These private individual demonstrations will be held at the Crawford Hotel on Sunday ONLY, Aug. 22, 12 Noon to 5 p.m.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 11 — In an interview here today D. Russell Collins, internationally famous trichologist and director of the Collins Hair and Scalp Experts, Inc., said, "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all could correct all the disorders" he explained.

GUARANTEED "The Collins firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offer a guarantee," Collins said.

Once a person avails himself to the Collins treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, we offer this guarantee: "If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress at the end of 30 days your money will be returned."

HOPELESS CASES DISCOURAGED First, the Collins specialist are quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. Only if a case is completely, shiny bald is he in this last category.

If there is hair, no matter how thin, thin or colorless, the Collins firm can perform wonders. Everyone is given a complete, private examination to determine the condition of his scalp, and cause for his hair trouble.

FREE EXAMINATION This examination is very thorough and highly practical. It requires 10 to 20 minutes. There is no charge for this examination and an appointment is necessary.

Dr. Russell Collins will be in Snyder, Tex. on Tues. Aug. 24

After the examination he is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost.

After starting treatment, he makes regular reports to the Collins firm in Oklahoma City, and a trichologist will return to check his progress periodically.

To spread the opportunity of normal, healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help the Collins firm is sending specialists to various cities throughout the United States to conduct examinations and start home treatment.

NO CURE-ALL "We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Collins emphasizes. "If there is hair, the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to be a miracle."

There is one thing Collins wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temple or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

HAIR FOR LIFETIME "If clients follow our directions during the treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Collins said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment. It all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

HOW'S YOUR HAIR? If it worries you call Trichologist C. H. Southernland at the Crawford Hotel in Big Spring, Texas on Sunday ONLY, Aug. 22, 12 Noon to 5 P. M.

You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way. Men and Women welcome.

Elegant Duchess Set For Visit In America

By COLIN FROST
 NDON (AP)—The elegant Duchess of Kent, "Aunt Marina" to Britain's Queen Elizabeth II, this month achieves a lifelong ambition—her first American visit.

With her 17-year-old daughter Princess Alexandra, she flies Saturday for Quebec and will remain in Canada until Sept. 14, when the pair will go to New York. They leave New York by ship Sept. 22 for home.

The duchess always has been a great traveler. At 47, she still is high on the lists of the world's best-dressed women.

In her clothes, in her travels and in friendships unusual for British royalty, the duchess has sought to hide the pangs of a broken heart.

She came to England in 1934, the fiancée of Prince George, younger son of King George V. The prince had wooed his slender Greek princess at a Balkan house party. The gossips called it a royal love match—and this time they were right.

Their Westminster Abbey wedding was a fairy tale affair. The young prince and his bride, the Duke and Duchess of Kent, seemed supremely happy. Soon a family came along—two boys and a girl. And then came World War II. On Aug. 25, 1942, with his younger son barely 7 weeks old, the Duke of Kent was killed on active service with the Royal Air Force.

For months Marina pined alone. Finally old Queen Mary gave her a talking to. The widowed duchess emerged from her mourning to take an ever-growing share of royal responsibilities and an ever-warmer place in British hearts.

After the war, she made frequent trips to her two sisters in Germany. At the same time she began to renew acquaintance with her dead husband's friends—people like Noel Coward, Sir Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh, and conductor Sir Malcolm Sargent, glamor boy of British music.

She lives simply. She is far from rich. Sometimes she does her own shopping at the local village store.

Unable to locate Steve's mother, they contacted the Navy. The Navy checked its records — and found the submarine was en route to Mare Island, Calif.

The Coronado police finally got results—they located Steve's mother, Mrs. H. E. Thompson, who said he had run off with Barney that morning, apparently because he was spanked for starting the family automobile.

American Tourist Drowns In Canada
 ATHALMER, B.C. (AP)—An American girl tourist survived a 60-foot fall into a mountain stream but drowned while trying to swim to safety, Royal Canadian Mounted Police reported yesterday.

The Mounties said Patricia Christensen of Dubuque, Iowa, lost her balance while posing for a photograph Tuesday at the edge of Marble Canyon in Kootenay National Park and toppled over the edge.

Showgirl Sues Negro Crooner For $75,000
 LOS ANGELES (AP)—A showgirl who, officers said, was found unconscious in the night club dressing room of Billy Daniels last Aug. 5 has sued the Negro crooner for $75,000 damages.

Blonde Patricia Hirsch, 24, charged in her complaint yesterday that Daniels struck and kicked her, inflicting permanent back injuries. She also asked remuneration for medical expenses.

No criminal charges were filed.

Dare To Stay Under Water Proves Fatal
 MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Police pulled the body of 8-year-old Jimmy Berrian from the Coconut Grove Yacht Basin yesterday but efforts by a fire department respirator unit failed to revive him.

Homicide Detective W. P. McCure said witnesses told him the boy and a playmate had been trying to see, who could stay under water longer.

Kohler Plant Strike Enters 20th Week; No End In View

By DION HENDERSON
 KOHLER, Wis. (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers' strike at the Kohler Co. was in its 20th week today, and nowhere in this bitterly divided village was there agreement on when it would end, nor how.

Nor was there an answer to the underlying mystery of what happened to the industrial idyll that was Kohler of Kohler for nearly half a century.

The strike started April 5 when contract negotiations between the plumbing fixture firm's management and UAW Local 833 stalled over the question of union security.

"We'll ride it out," said Lyman Conger, chairman of Kohler's bargaining committee. "Free choice of representation among our employees is a vital principle here. That is the only issue and we'll settle it now. We would rather have a strike to the end now than have a new strike every year."

"We will never give up," says Allan Graskamp, president of Local 833. "The union has never been more unified. We have 2,000 men of the 3,500-member bargaining unit on our relief rolls, but no one is getting hurt so badly they want to give up."

The UAW international is pouring $100,000 a week into strike relief, a union spokesman said yesterday.

In addition, the company estimates that about $200,000 a week — half the factory wage payroll in this eastern Wisconsin county of 80,000 residents — has been lost to workers.

The company has been hurt too — no one will say how much. For weeks production—the tubs, showers, lavatories and fixtures that make Kohler a bathroom byword — virtually was stalled.

Conger did his talking in a temporary office bedroom of the American Club, across the boulevard of High Street that separates all industry from the parklike residences of the working force. The club itself, handsomely designed and executed on a landscaped acre with the same care that went into the whole model village, is a monument to what editorial writers of 30 years ago called an industrial idyll.

Built in 1917 by the company to take bachelor workmen out of saloon boarding houses, the club gave them individual rooms, luxurious lounges, a bowling alley, a tap room — and classes in citizenship. It still houses Kohler workers—strikers and non-strikers alike with never a reference to their work status.

The vast stretches of glass in company buildings on High Street are unbroken, the landscaped red brick buildings unmarred. Dist. Atty. John Buchen and Union Counsel David Rabinowitz agreed yesterday that there have been only a "dozen or 15" arrests involving violence by strikers against non-strikers.

"Considering the large numbers of persons involved and the extent of the situation, we have not had anywhere near the amount of violence that other communities have experienced," Buchen said.

Police refused to name him, saying he was mentally deranged and they would ask a court to commit him to a mental institution.

The money-maker was arrested yesterday in the nearby village of Selbu after he mailed an order for a harmonica to an Oslo dealer in musical instruments. He enclosed a 50-kroner note from his own press.

The sheriff at Selbu rounded up the culprit and also his printing production. When police finally finished counting last night, the total came to 5,004,074,510 kroner — $714,856,388 worth had it been real.

Experts said most of the bills were faithful replicas of genuine notes, ranging from 5 to 1,000 kroner denominations. But there were such fanciful productions as a billion-kroner bill, four million-kroner notes, and a few decorated with small poems to an unidentified girl.

Scientists estimate that twins are born once in 92 confinements.

Counterfeiter Held As Crackpot After Mixup With Music

TRONDHEIM, Norway (AP)—A crackpot counterfeiter who made more than five billion kroner in fake Norwegian currency was behind bars today because he wanted to make music, too.

Police refused to name him, saying he was mentally deranged and they would ask a court to commit him to a mental institution.

Bridesmaids' Luncheon Honors Miss Masters

A bride's cake was the principal decoration for the table at a bridesmaids' luncheon given for Jan Masters Tuesday at Morales; by Gayle Price, Ann Crocker and Marilyn Miller. Tiny cups were placed in confection roses on the cake, and these were used in a toast to the bride-elect.

Elizardos Honored At Two Showers

The Frank Elizardos, a recent bridegroom, were honored recently in the home of Mrs. Roy Franklin with a bridal shower. Mrs. Nell J. S. Bissard and Mrs. E. L. Stephens were co-hostesses.

The refreshment table was laid with a white lace cloth with organza ruffles. Yellow ribbon bows were fastened at the corners. The floral arrangement was of yellow and pale orchid flowers. Yellow roses filled the center of the cake, which had the names, "Bobby and Frank" on it. About 50 guests attended.

About 25 attended the second in a series of post-nuptial showers given for Mrs. Frank Elizardo recently in the home of Mrs. Derue Parmer. Hostesses for this party were Mrs. Orville Wright and Mrs. E. D. Stephens.

Morning Party At Country Club

Another in the series of informal morning parties for the women of the Country Club was given Wednesday morning with Mrs. P. W. Malone, Mrs. Roy Reeder, Mrs. Bob Middleton and Mrs. Ira Thurman as hostesses.

Fall fruit in a wicker basket formed the centerpiece on a table laid in green linen and placed in one end of the club patio. Snacks were served buffet style and the hostesses served bottled drinks. About 30 attended the party, including an out-of-town guest, Mrs. Shirley Robbins of Midland. Mrs. Robbins formerly lived in this city.

Open House Planned

Although formal invitations are not being issued, Mrs. Bernard Fisher is expecting all friends to call at the open house being held in her home, 900 Runnels, on Saturday afternoon. The occasion is in honor of her mother, Mrs. B. Eckhaus, and calling hours are between 2 and 6 p.m.

Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Collins have returned from Rudoso, N. M., where they have been since the middle of June. While there they had as guests for a month Mrs. Collins' son, C. J. S. Durham, his wife and daughter, Nancy, of McLean, Va. They also made one trip to Big Spring during that time.

Audrey Totter, a star who recently had a baby, stresses the importance of caring for your figure during pregnancy. She stars for Columbia in "Women's Prison."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY Has A Helpful Routine For Expectant Mothers

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—I had lunch with Audrey Totter yesterday. While I was in Europe she had her baby, and she looks just wonderful. They've named her Mary Elizabeth Ann.

I asked Audrey how she felt while she was expecting her baby. "I felt wonderful all of the time," Audrey told me. "I didn't gain too much, my skin had never been better—nor my nails."

We had lunch in the patio of Audrey's attractive home, and she was served cottage cheese, sliced cantaloupe, a glass of skim milk and a green salad. "I only gained thirteen and a half pounds," Audrey told me. "I never drank milk before, but I'm continuing to now that my baby has been born."

"I have a list of foods I had to eat. I was hungry most of the time, but it was worth it. Every day I needed cereal, eggs, citrus fruit, one serving of meat or liver, three vegetables, two slices of whole-grain bread and a green salad."

"I was not allowed any over-processed foods like white rice, white bread or cake, but once in a while I had what my husband calls a 'bonus day,' and I ate spaghetti."

I told Audrey that in the health stores she could get high protein silver holders and with white satin ribbons down the center of the table bearing the names of the betrothed couple.

White place cards decorated with silver wedding bells marked places for the following: the son-in-law, her mother, Mrs. Joe Masters, Cheryl Masters, Judy Masters, Mrs. Stanley Wheeler of Stanton, mother of the prospective bridegroom, Susan Houser, Wanda Petty, Kay Jamison and the three hostesses.

Miss Masters, who will become the bride of Bobby Wheeler of Stanton on Saturday evening at the First Baptist Church, presented her bridesmaids with gifts.

I told Audrey that in the health stores she could get high protein

spaghetti made from whole-grain flour. "I'm sure your doctor would have permitted this," Audrey explained, "and he helped to keep me in line."

I wanted to know if she exercised. "I walked a lot in flat shoes but I didn't do any of the setting-up kind," Audrey told me. "But it's well worth watching your weight during pregnancy because you can wear your old clothes soon again, and you don't have that horrible struggle to get back into shape."

"As far as the baby is concerned, your weight and what the child weighs have very little relation. It's important to eat what is nutritionally rich and not fill your stomach with foods which have no value."

"Oh!" Audrey added, "another important thing I forgot to mention is that I was to have a minimum amount of salt and as much water as I could comfortably drink."

"If you have a relative or a friend who is blessed-evening, you might give them Audrey Totter's routine for keeping fit during pregnancy."

Miss Jenkins served punch and Miss Hill and Miss Hass served cakes. Miss Fausel kept the register.

Summer flowers were used at vantage points throughout the house.

Miss Rome was presented with a corsage and then shown into a room where her gifts were displayed. Lou Hale made pictures of the honoree and her gifts.

The guest list included Pat Tidwell, Cathy Leonard, Gloria Thompson, Mrs. E. G. Fausel, Frankie Morgan, Edna Mae Morgan, Mrs. J. M. Morgan, Anne Krinsk, Mrs. K. G. Smith, Mrs. J. W. # Members Honored By Rebekahs

After a short business session at the IOOF Hall the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284 had a steered dinner Tuesday evening honoring two of the members, Mrs. Amanda Hughes, who is leaving soon, and A. Knapp, who had a birthday, were the honorees.

It was reported that 12 of the members helped with the free chest X-rays. Plans were made for a benefit coffee to be held in the home of Mrs. J. E. Petty, 1013 Sycamore, on Friday morning beginning at 8 o'clock. This is to add funds to the treasury of the lodge. Thirty members were present at the meeting.

Wednesday the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge honored Mrs. H. H. Roger with a shower in the home of Mrs. S. A. Wilson, Mrs. Bill Graddy and Mrs. K. J. Nielsen were co-hostesses. About 40 attended, including friends of the honoree as well as the members of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge.

A farewell party and hope chest shower honored Barbara Rome Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. L. D. Jenkins. Hostesses with Mrs. Jenkins were Marybeth Jenkins, Angela Fausel, Marie Hill and Mary Hass.

Miss Rome is to leave Saturday to make her home in Donaldsonville, La.

The color scheme used was yellow, white and green. The refreshment table was covered with an Irish lace cloth over green and centered with an arrangement of yellow daisies and frosted fern in a green bowl. Yellow candles flanked the centerpiece. A crystal punch service was used.

Miss Jenkins served punch and Miss Hill and Miss Hass served cakes. Miss Fausel kept the register.

Summer flowers were used at vantage points throughout the house.

Miss Rome was presented with a corsage and then shown into a room where her gifts were displayed. Lou Hale made pictures of the honoree and her gifts.

The guest list included Pat Tidwell, Cathy Leonard, Gloria Thompson, Mrs. E. G. Fausel, Frankie Morgan, Edna Mae Morgan, Mrs. J. M. Morgan, Anne Krinsk, Mrs. K. G. Smith, Mrs. J. W. Hale, Cookie Rankin, Martha Ann Denton, Modesta Ingram, Mrs. Jack Wilcox and Kay, Anis Underwood, Carrie Scholz, Polly Settles, Helen Green, Lois Smith, Eva Mary Ragsdale and Irene Linsemom.

Mrs. Tawater Is New Club Member

Mrs. Bob Tawater was introduced as a new member of the Spaders Garden Club at their meeting Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. V. A. Whittington. Reports were given by Mrs. Allen Orr and Mrs. Zack Gray.

Mrs. Dale Smith led a discussion on chrysanthemums. Mrs. H. B. Perry brought a plant infested with nematodes for members to examine. These are microscopic insects that make the chrysanthemums turn yellow and die.

Mrs. Smith showed the club the correct way to disbud plants and suggested using a strong water spray during the hot part of the day to revive chrysanthemums. She also discussed root rot and tree wilt, making suggestions as to various sprays to use in combating these diseases.

Retirements were served to 14. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Don Williams, 1604 Sunset on Sept. 1.

Review Completed For Baptist Circle

Mrs. Esther Dodson finished a review of the mission book, "Of One" at a meeting of the Mollie Harlan Circle of First Baptist W.M.U. Tuesday morning at the church parlor.

The group planned to give used clothing to a Latin American family as the month's project. Mrs. Josie Couch gave the opening prayer and the Scripture from 1 John 3.

Among the seven present were two new members, Mrs. Ruth Eason and Mrs. Mary Lynn Welch. Mrs. V. H. Cowan gave the closing prayer.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie McDaniel, 103 Lincoln, were Mr. and Mrs. O. C. McDaniel and Mr. and Mrs. Wallie B. Thornton of Odessa, children and in-laws of the McDaniels.

D. Nelson Is Wed To Joveta Day

ACKERLY—Joveta Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Day of Lamesa, and Darvin Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Nelson of Ackery, were married Saturday evening in the First Church of the Nazarenes in Fort Worth. The Rev. Doyle Wilson of Waco, an uncle of the bridegroom, read the ceremony.

Jeanette Wilson of Waco played the traditional wedding music. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her only attendant was Nelva Joy Nelson. After a wedding trip to North Texas, the couple will be at home in Arlington, where Mr. Nelson is employed by Hensbee Tractor Manufacturing Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hall and Larry left Tuesday for Tom Ball and Houston. They will also fish in Lake Buchanan.

The Ackery School Board has selected Mrs. George Rhea, Mrs. Covey Williams and Mrs. Leonard Coleman to operate the school luncheon.

Bobby Robertson Is Birthday Honoree

Bubble gum was given as favors, and pictures were taken of the group at a party given Tuesday for Bobby Robertson on the lawn of his home on his sixth birthday. Games were played, and a pink and green cake was served with bottled drinks.

The guest list included Mrs. W. R. Banks Jr., Ronnie, Randy and Diana, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Darden, Stevie and Terry, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Trent and Marilyn, Soala Whittington, Mrs. Ray Watkins, Laurie and Monte, Sue James, Rickie Robertson, Glenda and Leanda Thompson and Mrs. J. E. Fortenberry.

A Bible Thought For Today—

But the universe is full of wonders. The human body, its several parts and their functions never have been fully comprehended by the greatest scholars. The atom is full of wonders, small and great, all creation is full of wonders. "There appeared a great wonder in heaven." — Rev. 12:1,3.

Trials Can Be Orderly And Still Be Procedures Open To The Public

A section of the American Bar Association meeting in Chicago this week got into an argument over ABA's Canon 35 relating to judicial ethics, which holds that the taking of photographs in the courtroom or televising proceedings "are calculated to detract from the essential dignity of the proceedings, distract the witness in giving his testimony, degrade the court, and create misconceptions with respect thereto in the mind of the public, and should not be permitted."

State's Sound Policy Of Highway Building Should Not Be Upset

One Texas function that shouldn't be disturbed, regardless of the executive office, is the State Highway Department. Few states in America have one comparable to it in efficiency, in scope of work and in objective achieved. This status has been brought about, since the days of Gov. Dan Moody, by the creation of a department run by able technical men without political attachment, under the general policy directives of the Highway Commission.

Grave Decision To Be Made On Development Of Guided Missile

WASHINGTON — The nation's highest policy-making body, the National Security Council, might do well to call in a self-assertive, highly opinionated, former German general, called Walter Dornberger. The National Security Council is currently "mehed" with the problem of the intercontinental ballistic missile, the ICBM, as it is known among the knowledgeable, as the weapon which will be capable of flying half-way round the globe, at supersonic speed, carrying a hydrogen warhead. No one doubts that the ICBM will one day be made, either in this country or in Russia. The question before the NSC is whether to embark on a major and ultimately very costly effort, patterned on the war-time Manhattan District, to make sure that the ICBM is made in this country first.

Hot weather driving tips, for people with vacations who must go someplace: Always buy your gasoline in the cool of the morning. You get more that way.

When the mercury goes up, gasoline in the service station storage tanks expands. As a result, you get less fuel per gallon. That's according to Leonard M. van Noppen, vice president of the Universal CIT Credit Corporation, an automobile finance agency.

Much Bitterness Still Exists Within The Republican Ranks

The schism within the Republican party is not a family quarrel. To understand it at all, it must be recognized that from 1932 to 1952, a large number of men and women, often at great personal sacrifice, did the chores of keeping an unpopular party together. During that 20-year period, numerous Republicans passed over to the New Deal, some, such as Henry Wallace, Harold Ickes, Frank Knox and Henry Stimson, taking office in Mr. Roosevelt's Cabinet.

'Curse Of Pharaohs' Is Remembered Even Today

By RELMAN MORIN (For Hal Boyle) NEW YORK (AP)—Remember the famous story of "the curse of the Pharaohs?"

It came from the dim recesses of the tomb of Tutankhamen, a king who ruled Egypt and died at an early age about 3,000 years ago. The tomb was discovered and opened in 1922. There the archaeologists came upon a staggering profusion of gold and jewelry, furniture, chariots, household articles, and the mummy of the young sovereign, encased in nearly a ton of solid gold.

Tunisia A New Responsibility French Government Must Meet

TUNIS — In some respects the problem that the French Premier Mendes-France confronts in Tunisia resembles the dilemma that he faced in Indochina. The urgency is nothing like as great, since it is not a question, for the time being at least of direct Communist aggression.

Yet, as in Indochina, the responsibility he must accept here represents a long accumulation of error, of delay and underestimation. Even among French businessmen fearful that they will lose investments carefully built up here over the years, there is recognition that in the final showdown the new Premier had no choice but to offer the Tunisians an independent government with control over internal affairs.

THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

An unidentified Mosaic-type disease is destroying a large volume of a variety of crops in this area particularly in Howard County.

Crops being attacked include guars, blackeyed cowpeas, cucumbers and squash.

Specialists from the Big Spring office of the Soil Conservation Service report that all fields they have checked show some damage ranging from a mild attack to very heavy damage.

A great many farmers are mistaking the ravages of this Mosaic for the effects of drought.

When the Mosaic first attacks the earlier symptoms include the plant losing its normal dark green color to a lighter green. This can be determined by comparing the sick plant with a healthy plant. On closer examination the leaves show a Mosaic mottling varying from faint to fairly distinct, plus a reduction in the number of leaves and a stunted growth. This is followed with a total suppression of seed pods on the infected plants.

The Mosaic virus was first definitely noted a few weeks ago on the J. H. Fryer farm northwest of Big Spring, and has since been discovered to have covered, in spots, the entire county and to have extended over this general area.

Farmers report that as a result of this virus no blackeyed peas are being produced this year, and they say this is the first year in their memory that peas have not made a crop. Cucumbers and squash have been found to be infected in all plots that have been examined.

Most farmers had believed that dry weather was causing the damage, but on closer observation determined that many healthy plants were still growing rapidly and were dark green in color, while the nearby infected plants were turning yellow and dying.

This Mosaic virus is believed to be spread by the cotton or melon aphid. It first showed up in Maricopa County, Ariz. in 1943.

In areas where the Mosaic has appeared before there was no reappearance the following year. If the virus was seed-transmitted it would have shown up again the following year.

The appearance of this virus is a blow to this area, especially from the standpoint of soil building.

Martin Tax Valuations Set At $6,914,000 For 1955

STANTON (SC) — Earlier in the year the Martin County Commissioners Court increased the oil valuations in this county by approximately $627,000.

Since then, because of revelations of the county's financial condition uncovered by a grand jury investigation, the court has levied a blanket increase of 20 per cent on all real property valuations.

Oliver Vaughn and Stanley Lewis, two of the commissioners who were members of the court when the oil valuations were increased, and James McMorris, who was then county judge, had all three resigned previous to the court's recent action in raising the real property valuations. The other two commissioners, Irvin Welch and Joe Froman, are still serving and were elected by the voters in the primary election. McMorris has been succeeded by Bruce Frazier Sr., while H. O. Phillips and Edmund Morrow were appointed to the vacancies created by the Vaughn and Lewis resignations.

It is estimated that the recent increase in real property valuations will be approximately $700,000 which together with the earlier increase in oil valuations, will give the county an additional $1,374,000 in taxable valuations for the coming year.

In 1953 the total valuations, including oil and all other real and personal property, amounted to $5,614,000. With the two increases made this year added this gives Martin County a total taxable valuation of $6,914,000.

The tax rate is $1.80 per $100 valuation.

Out of last year's potential tax revenue of $101,053.34 there was only about $4,000 delinquent, the records show.

Finis Bugg Will Manage Meat Firm

Finis Bugg, co-owner of Bugg Wholesale Meats, is now actively engaged as manager of the newly built and restocked meat firm.

Bugg has returned to Big Spring to manage the establishment after an absence of approximately 10 years. He left Big Spring in 1944 to go into the service and since has been in the grocery business at Corpus Christi.

Bud Leonard, who managed the firm before it burned recently, is now employed at an Odessa packing house.

Bugg was formerly associated with packing houses here, having owned the Packing House Market prior to his service in the Air Force. His business partner in Bugg Wholesale Meats is Henry Bugg, who is ranching at Tucumcari, N. M.

The newly rebuilt meat plant is located about a quarter of a mile west of the city on the Andrews Highway. The owners believe it the finest establishment of its type in West Texas and feature custom slaughtering and free delivery.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Calls For A Clean-Up Of Local Crime

To the Editor:

Like many other citizens of the county I thoroughly approved of your recent article in the Herald saying that now is the time for everybody to get together and make this a better place to live. Most of the citizens of this county will back you in that.

I don't know of any better time to make Howard County a better place to live, and Big Spring a cleaner city than in the run-off election on the 28th of this month. We can make Big Spring and Howard County a better place to live if we vote for better law enforcement in that election. For better law enforcement we would rid the city and county of the dope peddlers, bawdy houses, and the like. I think there's no violation worse than a dope pusher selling or giving dope to the youth of the county. This condition did not exist long after Jake Bruton was elected sheriff, but is evident that it is existing at the present time. There's been little work done by the present sheriff's department toward this condition.

It is my opinion that the honest and Christian people are willing to do their part in cleaning up this situation. I'm sure there is no one that can do as much about this, as far as one person is concerned, that is print the truth about our local conditions.

I am a former Texas Highway Patrolman, and I think that I could assist you in finding out the truth about the matter and I would. This seems to be a cooling off place now for criminals. This should be corrected and must be, if Howard County is to be a better place to live.

I think it's time that the citizens of the county know exactly what's going on. In its time there was an awakening and you can help, if you will, by printing things as they really are.

I worked with both men now in the race for the sheriff's position, and I know who will do something about it. That man is Jake Bruton.

Breakaway Door That Fails Lays Red Skelton Low

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A breakaway door that didn't break laid comedian Red Skelton low yesterday during a rehearsal for his CBS television show half an hour before the program was due to go on the air for the Eastern audience, the network reported.

Skelton suffered a brain concussion and a severe neck sprain. According to the script he was to walk through the stage prop door yesterday, carrying on his head a chunk of balsa wood painted to resemble a block of concrete.

The breakaway door, supposed to shatter when he banged into it, didn't.

He was replaced on the show by Johnny Carson.

ABC Sets Up $3,000 Budget For Year

The Big Spring Quarterback Club, with football in the air, has gone to work in a big way. Earlier this week, members agreed on a $3,000 budget for the year—which would be used to promote all sports and allied endeavors at the local schools. Last year, the club spent $1,741, not including the money raised for coaches who guided the Steers to the state finals.

It was decided to hold the annual barbecue for the football team at 7 o'clock the evening of Tuesday, Aug. 21, at the City Park. Tickets for the party, which will be made available to the public for $1 each, are being printed and will be ready shortly.

In addition, the club will stage a banquet for the team during the season, as per custom. The date for the banquet has not been set. A gigantic membership drive will be staged shortly and Jack Y. Smith and R. H. Weaver, co-chairmen of the club, expressed confidence that a record enrollment would be reached. Last year, an estimated 400 persons paid $1 membership fees. The fee will be the same this time. The club will turn out en masse for both home and road games of the high school football team and, as was the custom last year, will form an archway on the playing field for the players before and at the half of each game.

Doc Wilkerson and Jimmy Felts have been named co-chairmen of the barbecue committee. Felts said the menu for the barbecue would consist of barbecued beef, ranch-style beans, raw onions, fresh tomatoes, dill and sweet pickles, bread, potato chips, cold drinks and coffee.

A unique part of the budget adopted by the members was that enough film was purchased for 13 games. The Steers have a ten-game schedule and only by going into the state finals again could they play 13 contests.

MELVIN ROBERTSON Stanton Bisons Await Initial Grid Workouts

STANTON, (SC)—Members of the 1954 Stanton High School football team will gather at the High School Gymnasium at 3 p.m. Sunday to take physical examinations. Formal training will get under way at 7:30 a.m. Monday, Coach Melvin Robertson has announced.

The Buffaloes, due to be among the favorites in the District 4-A race this fall, have much work to do before they open their campaign against a rugged McCombs team here the night of Friday, Sept. 10. Junior gridlers will also check in for workouts on Monday, Robertson stated.

Among the 29 players Robertson is expecting to report for varsity workouts are ten regulars from last year's team. Only player missing will be Norman Blocker, a thunderous runner, who graduated. Stanton won third place in last year's 4-A race, finishing back of Sundown and Denver City.

Stanton's hopes for a successful season were boosted with the announcement that Glenn Greenlee is returning to classes here. He has been away for a year. The 200-pounder may be placed at tackle by Robertson. Crafty, little Jimmy Henson will again call signals for the Buffs. He is considered one of the finest passers in the conference.

The Stanton line will be built around such stalwarts as Mike Balch, Burley Folk and Reggie Myrick. The Buffaloes are due to scrimmage as early as Thursday of next week, at which time Big Lake will send a team here. The public is invited to watch the drill.

Coaches are working a four, pass-istic lot, but Robertson doesn't believe in singing the blues. He admits he has a fine team coming up and sees no reason why the Buffs shouldn't win the district championship.

The Buffaloes could have won the crown last year with a break or two, he points out, and practically all the 1953 team is returning. Larry Warren will assist Robertson with the coaching duties this year. He is a former Hardin-Simmons University athlete.

Sept. 18—McCombs here. Sept. 19—At Pecos. Sept. 21—Port Neches here. Oct. 1—Open. Oct. 15—Baylor here (C). Oct. 22—At Whiteface (C). Oct. 29—Denver City here (C). Nov. 5—Merion here (C). Nov. 12—At Sulphur (C). Nov. 19—At Oklahoma (C). (C)—Closed 4-A games.

SW Grid Teams Will Have Fewer Experienced Men

DALLAS (AP)—There will be fewer men and less experience on Southwest Conference football squads this year but the schedule will be just as tough. The annual football roster and record book of the conference office has just come off the press to show that there will be 388 youngsters on the seven squads compared to 393 last year and there are 102 lettermen compared to 148 in 1953.

Coaches think the conference as a whole will be stronger. The finest freshman crop in years has come up to the varsities. Practice opens Sept. 1 and first games are scheduled Sept. 18 when Texas A&M entertains Texas Tech. Baylor plays University of Houston at Waco, Rice gets Florida in Houston, Texas Christian meets Kansas at Lawrence, Kan., and Texas engages Louisiana State at Austin.

Arkansas opens the campaign Sept. 23 against Tulsa at Fayetteville. Southern Methodist starts its campaign Oct. 2 against Georgia Tech at Dallas. Only three players broke into the all-time records last season. Kossie Johnson of Rice moved into second place among the ball-carriers with 944 yards. First was Bob Smith of Texas A&M in 1950 when he gained 1,302 yards. Dicky Moegle of Rice is fourth in the all-time standing with 833 yards.

Lamar McLean of Arkansas became the ninth place man in passing with his 1,107 yards and tied for ninth in passes completed with 78. Johnson had the sixteenth longest punt with his 70-yard boot against Cornell. Moegle had the fifth longest touchdown run in history with his 81-yard sprint against Baylor.

Robert Hillard of Texas holds the record for the longest touchdown run in conference annals. He raced 94 yards against Texas Tech in 1934. Milton Evans of Baylor has the longest punt return—95 yards in 1937 against Oklahoma City University.

The longest run with an intercepted pass was 39 yards by Cullen Rogers of Texas A&M against Arkansas in 1942. Charles Casper of Texas Christian took a kickoff back 105 yards against Texas in 1933 to set the record in that department.

David O'Brien of Texas Christian holds the record for yards gained passing in a season—1,733 in 1938. Jim Benton of Arkansas is the record-holder in passes caught with his 44 in 1937.

The leading scorer was Joel Hunt of Texas A&M in 1927 with 128 points. Joe Pasqua of Southern Methodist booted the longest field goal—52 yards against Texas A&M in 1938. Darrow Hooper of Texas A&M holds the record for points after touchdown with 34 in 1950.

The longest punts were by Fremont Johnson of Southern Methodist in 1945 and Carlo Knott of Texas Christian in 1947, each 94 yards. Over the years the conference has had 60 All-America players. Only 19 were consensus selections, however. Baylor, Rice, Texas Christian and Arkansas will have larger squads than last year. Baylor will have 61 compared to 57, Rice 55 to 52, Texas Christian 49 to 48, Texas A&M will have 47 compared to 52, Southern Methodist 62 to 65 and Texas 55 to 63.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

Fidel Alvarez, the former Big Spring, was the first Evangelical League hurler to win 20 games this season. He's with Port Arthur. The Clovis entry in the WT-NM League is a study in contradictions. The Pioneers invariably defy the law of economics by spending more money than they make, which they have to do in order to "keep up with the Joneses" in the WT-NM League.

Recently, the Pioneers put out feelers to Roswell for Joe Bauman, offering $2,500 and four players for the big first sacker, in efforts to finish first in the circuit. League proxy Hal Savies talks in terms of organizing a Class B circuit. Why not an AA league? The member cities might as well do it up big and lose a lot of money.

The local bowling alley might change hands shortly. Owner E. B. Dooler Sr., is wanting to sell. Some time back, the report that the Texas Coaches Association would be circulated among the four largest cities in Texas because no other community was big enough to host it. Now comes the story out of Dallas that that city's money-hungry hotel operators over-priced their rooms for the coaches who attended this year's school and the city as a whole, blame about high school ball, made an effort to make the mentors feel they were welcome.

Why not break the school into different classes and pass it around to different cities, cities which would appreciate getting it? Odessa has been inviting the coaches for years and never got a nibble. Hotel space there comes at a premium, even under ordinary conditions, but Midland and Big Spring could help house the registrants. The coaches think nothing of driving 300 miles to a game. They should not mind driving 40 to 60 miles to a school.

Our display advertising manager, Oliver Cofer, recently returned from a vacation. While gone, he managed to see the Big Spring ex. Glen Groomes, pitch a win for Ardmore over Ada in a Sooner State League game. Says Glen struck out the first five men to face him. Groomes has won about 13 games of Ardmore and Pauls Valley.

Julio Delatorre, the infielder sold by Big Spring to Amarillo recently, still hasn't been able to get going for the Gold Sox. The most recent averages showed him hitting only .136. At that time, he had only four hits in 22 tries and only one of those was for extra bases, a double.

Texas will have at least one athlete on the 1956 U. S. Olympics team. He is Jack Carnell, a fencer, already chosen by the committee. Carnell, former Texas Tech teacher in the sport, has been fencing since 1947. He was named this early so that he might start advance training.

When he was in the big leagues, there were things Mike Gonzales did better than coach base runners. The first time he was stationed at third, a Cardinal hit a long ball to the outfield and raced around the sacks. Gonzales stood with his arms folded and surveyed the situation as a speedy relay shaped up to arrest the runner at the plate. "She weel nevir make it," Mike commented, somewhat sadly, without lifting a hand to flag the runner. His prediction came true.

Soto, Midland Stop Cayuses By 7-4 Tally

Rudy Briner's Midland Indians used a superlative mound job by Romarico Soto and a 14-hit offensive to defeat the Big Spring Bronco, 7-4, here Wednesday night. Kossie Hill went all the way on the mound for the Cayuses, although he dished up three gopher pitches. Chuck Terrasi, Harold Hacker and Bud Hull hit home runs for the visitors. The one by Hull was his 40th of the campaign. Jim Zapp unloaded for Big Spring, getting his seventh round tripper in the past seven home games, but it did minimum damage. The clout came with the sacks deserted in the fourth.

Midland went ahead, 4-1, in the third when Tom Barton hit a two-run single and himself was plated by Terrasi's round-tripper. Hacker got his four-master in the fourth while Hull picked one in the sixth. Briner got a run in the first when Bob Martin drove in Luis Caballero, who had opened with a single and their final two in the ninth when Caballero drove in Pete Simon and Bertie Beaz with a one-baser.

The win was only the second for Midland against eight defeats here this year. It restored their fourth-place lead over Big Spring to 7½ games. GLEANINGS—The contest was played in an hour and 55 minutes. The paid attendance was 431, bringing the year's aggregate here to 33,064. Zapp's home run, in contrast to most of his other distance clouts, just cleared the left field fence. Joe Riney, Midland left-fielder, again was laded due to a tooth-ache. His sub, Hacker, a pitcher by trade, did all right, however, with his first two times up. Ben Jones found Hill's pitches to his liking, getting two doubles and two singles in five tries. Hill was sneaky fast, fanning ten batters over the route. The Steeds leave today for Sweetwater. They will be gone six days. They have only eight home games remaining, which they play in seven days.

Warren, who attended high school here, expects to be in uniform two years. He and Mrs. Warren returned recently from a vacation trip which took them to Ruidoso, N. M. Warren is a member of the Jayhawk team that went all the way to the semi-finals in the National Jay-Cee Tournament at Hutchinson, Kansas, two years ago. He later made a tour of South America with a team organized by Jackie Robinson, the ex-Baystar.

Warren is married to the former Shirley Riddle, also of Big Spring. Galveston managed only five hits off southpaw Billy Hoelt but two were home runs — by Bobby Avila with the bases empty for the first run and by Al Smith with two aboard for the other three. Early Wynn finally won his 16th game in his fourth try.

The Yankees mopped up on the lowly Athletics for the 13th time in 15 meetings. Whitey Ford turned in his seventh straight victory and his 13th of the season. Chicago pitching continued to baffle the last-place Orioles, who have scored only twice in Karl last 27 innings. Sandy Consuegra, lifted in the sixth for a pinch hitter, registered his 15th success with relief from Dick Strahs and Harry Dorish. Don Larsen was charged with his 16th loss, tops in both leagues.

Another hunch paid off for Manager Leo Durocher of the Giants. He replaced the slumping Monte Irvin with Dusty Rhodes and the substitute outfielder belted two home runs that accounted for five runs. The night before, Durocher inserted Rhodes' roommate Bobby Hofman and he homered twice. The Pirates' five-game winning streak ended as relief ace Jim Hughes of the Dodgers retired the side in the ninth after two runs

All-American Final May Take Place At London

LONDON, Ont. (AP)—What Canada feared most, an all-American final, appeared a distinct possibility today as the Canadian Amateur Golf Championship swung through two more rounds. Despite the loss of six key players, including defending champion Don Cherry, the United States has taken command.

EIGHT VETERANS BACK Ackerly To Have Six Home Games

ACKERLY (SC)—The Ackerly High School six-man football team will play six home games this season instead of the usual four. The Eagles open the season at Forzan the night of Sept. 10 in a non-conference contest. The Eagles lost three players by graduation last year, then were additionally crippled when Ray Weaver, veteran quarterback, went out with a severe attack of rheumatic fever.

M. B. Maxwell begins his fourth season as head coach here. Last year, his team won four and lost four. Eight lettermen will check in for drills next Monday. They are Eddie Gill, 205-pound fullback; Paul Alexander, 180, an end; Dub Grigg, 130, wingback; Alvin Cates, 135, back; Lee Lemon, 135, end; Jerry Hall, 160, center; Barney Springfield, 130, back; and Charley Brown, 135, back.

Also-Rans Unable To Beat Either Tribe Or Yankees

By BEN PHLEGER Associated Press Sports Writer Maybe the American League should let Cleveland and New York go ahead and play the five games they have left with each other and get the pennant race. The way the Indians and Yankees are playing now they might well win all their other games anyway.

They have to use up their strength playing "crucial" series with teams mathematically eliminated from all possible chance at the title. A slipup anywhere along the line could spell the difference. Just consider the futility of the chase. In their last 68 games — more than half of their total played to date — the second-place Yankees have gained exactly half a length on the Indians.

Here are the figures: The Yankees have won 9 in a row, 15 of their last 18, 35 of their last 43, and 52 of their last 68. But Cleveland has won 8 straight, 12 out of 13, 17 out of 20, and 51 out of 68. Everybody with any pennant hopes left in either league won yesterday. Cleveland beat Detroit yesterday. Cleveland beat Detroit, Philadelphia, 6-1, and Chicago whipped Baltimore, 4-1 in the American League. The New York Giants thumped Philadelphia, 6-2. Brooklyn shaded Pittsburgh, 3-2, and Milwaukee defeated St. Louis, 3-1, in the National.

In the only action not involving a contender, Boston edged Washington, 9-8, in 11 innings on Karl Olson's single with two out. Ted Williams went hitless in six times at bat. Cincinnati and the Cubs were rained out at Chicago. Cleveland managed only five hits off southpaw Billy Hoelt but two were home runs — by Bobby Avila with the bases empty for the first run and by Al Smith with two aboard for the other three. Early Wynn finally won his 16th game in his fourth try.

Owls Turn Back Reed Oil, 11-4

Coden's Owls qualified for the City Little League title series by belting Reed Oil Company, 11-4, in a "sudden death" playoff here Wednesday night.

The Reed team fought the Owls on even terms but succumbed to the Owls' power in the third. Taylor Lewis was the winning hurler. He fanned ten batters. The loss was charged to Rex Appleton.

The Owls play the American Legion in the first round game of the title series next Monday night. Tonight, the lights at Little League Park will be turned on for Kids' Night, during which time the new bleachers will be dedicated and a series of contests will be staged, in addition to two games featuring youngsters of all ages.

The Pirates' five-game winning streak ended as relief ace Jim Hughes of the Dodgers retired the side in the ninth after two runs

Warren is married to the former Shirley Riddle, also of Big Spring. Galveston managed only five hits off southpaw Billy Hoelt but two were home runs — by Bobby Avila with the bases empty for the first run and by Al Smith with two aboard for the other three. Early Wynn finally won his 16th game in his fourth try.

The Yankees mopped up on the lowly Athletics for the 13th time in 15 meetings. Whitey Ford turned in his seventh straight victory and his 13th of the season. Chicago pitching continued to baffle the last-place Orioles, who have scored only twice in Karl last 27 innings. Sandy Consuegra, lifted in the sixth for a pinch hitter, registered his 15th success with relief from Dick Strahs and Harry Dorish. Don Larsen was charged with his 16th loss, tops in both leagues.

Olson Prepares To Go Limit

By RUSS NEWLAND SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—This may not be "stop the press" stuff but it is news when middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson makes an outright prediction. In a question-and-answer interview that was practically pried out of the 160-pound knoggin, he said he expected to beat the No. 1 challenger, Rocky Castellani, in their 15-round title fight tomorrow night.

"I have trained hard and I have trained for a 15-round fight," he said. Asked if he expected to win by a knockout or a decision, he said, "I'm ready to go 15 rounds, come what may."

He has no set plan of battle. "I'm ready for any kind of fight Castellani puts up." He was asked what kind of a fight he expected the challenger to wage. "From what I have read in the papers I expect him to try to jab and outspeed me. If that's what he does, I'll press him all the way."

Odds makers have established Olson the 4-1 favorite. The bout will be nationally televised (except for a San Francisco blackout within a 100-mile radius) from the San Francisco Cow Palace by NBC. Starting time will be 10 p.m. EDT.

Attendance At US Tracks Due To Show An Increase

By JOHN CHANDLER NEW YORK (AP)—Attendance at the nation's major race tracks is up in a majority of cases, and may exceed the record total turnout of 1953, figures of the Thoroughbred Racing Assn. showed today. Incomplete figures through the end of July show a slight decline in the pari-mutuel handle, but racing officials are highly pleased at the attendance.

There are reports from 29 of the 39 member tracks of the TRA, the parent organization which makes up all the major tracks in this country. Most of these have completed their season, or have a fall session. Some are still in operation and final figures will come later.

Twenty of the 29 reporting tracks show attendance gains, while wagering is up at 16 of them. The 1953 season was the greatest on record, as 27,969,331 fans turned out, and produced a two-billion-dollar pari-mutuel turnover for the first time. The total wagered was $2,064,572,984, with total revenue to the 25 racing states being $138,304,146.

Chinese Official Says British Not Sending Strategic Goods

Walter's Role: This is another of the stories by the London Daily Telegraph concerning the Labor party group on the visit to China. The visit is an independent Conservative newspaper.

PEIPING, China (U)—Communist China's director of trade with the West, Lu Shu-chang, told me in an interview that little in the way of strategic material is coming to China from Britain, but British ships are bringing steel, metal, machinery and general industrial equipment to China from France.

Lu said his government feels "that West Germany, Belgium, France and others seem to be more interested in business with China than is Britain."

"Last year, as compared with the year before, our imports from West Germany increased in volume more than nine times."

Lu agreed that China's main source of foreign exchange was from her export trade but blandly added, "Of course, another major source comes from our people abroad who send remittances."

Of his several talks with the Labor party delegation, Lu said both sides agreed that increased trade between the two countries would benefit both — and moreover would help world peace.

Lu said both sides agreed that all trade embargos on China should be eliminated, then quickly added: "What we mean is that China trade authorities would like to see embargoes lifted and a member of the delegation (unnamed) agreed that indeed they should expect for direct instruments of war."

The other delegates didn't disagree. We therefore feel that all barriers to trade should be lifted and we think the delegates really agree, since China hasn't any intention of getting instruments of war from Britain."

Lu said China would like to import from Britain "raw materials, nonferrous metals, electrical generating plants, various sorts of machinery mostly in the field of heavy industry, locomotives, railway wagons, ships, trucks, cars, refrigerating plants, textile machinery, chemical fertilizers, and medicinal drugs."

He added that China could pay with exports for 80 to 100 million pounds (280 million) worth of such purchases annually.

After my interview with Lu, I visited the prison of the Peoples Court of Peiping, about four miles from the center of the city.

This jail houses about 5,000 prisoners, of which two-thirds are described as counter-revolutionaries and the other third as common criminals. Prison Gov. Lu Hsiang Chun, a former brigadier of the Chinese Red army, said the counter-revolutionaries were Chiang Kai-shek agents, heads of reactionary cliques, habitual bandits and tyrants, or reactionary landlords.

All, he said, had murder on their hands, but in appearance they seemed very meek looking. All except selected few were engaged—clearly for the benefit of our visit—in making stockings, printing books, dyeing wool and sundry other activities. A stage where it was said weekly plays were performed was still in the course of erection. Many inmates of this prison, which is the one always shown to visiting delegations, were said to have been sentenced to death. But we were told they are being given two years' grace to see if they repent and benefit from an intensive course of political education to which they are subjected.

In addition to working on books about Lenin, Stalin, Mao Tse-tung, and so on, the prisoners work hard for eight hours a day. At night they sleep nine to a cell measuring about 9 by 12 feet. In all fairness they didn't look undernourished, but for such a profitable slave workshop, it is obviously a good idea to keep them in good health.

AFL Atomic Workers Vote To Accept Wage Hike Offer

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (U)—By voting to accept a previously rejected 6-cent hourly wage increase, AFL atomic production workers put the squeeze on disturbed CIO union leaders who said today the AFL vote would not block their demands for a 15-cent boost.

The AFL workers put teeth into their leaders' recommendations by voting about 2-1 in secret ballot yesterday to accept the 6-cent wage hike suggestion handed down June 15 by the President's Atomic Energy Labor Relations Panel.

Disappointed CIO Local President Emerson Pownall said today, "We thought that they would back us up. We wanted their support but they're not going to stop us."

And he added: "We think we'll win out in the end."

Always in the past, Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Co. has granted identical increases to the CIO and AFL at bargaining time. The company operates all four atomic plants involved here and at Paducah, Ky., for the Atomic Energy Commission. A wage increase won't cost Carbide anything for, under the cost-plus contract, the firm will pass along the increase to the government.

Leaders of the unions, which represent about 4,500 workers each, have been requesting more money to offset rent increases in government-owned housing here. Pownall said the increases ranged from "28 to 51 per cent." Both unions draw scales ranging from $1.58 to $2.40 an hour.

The next action in the four-month-old wage wrangle probably will come Aug. 23 when CIO representatives meet in Washington with AEC officials. The meeting was approved by the Labor Department when the CIO workers returned in July from a four-day strike here and at Paducah, where the country's entire supply of uranium-235 is produced.

The CIO workers — members of the Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers — sought 21 cents an hour at first then scaled demands to 18 while the AFL — members of the Atomic Trades and Labor Council — had asked 19 cents.

IT HAPPENED

Not So Nice Doggie

HUNTSVILLE, Utah (U)—Mrs. Jack Hissop fired a single pistol shot, intending to scare away a "large dog" that was molesting some of her sheep near her bedroom window.

In the morning she said she almost fainted when she found that she had shot a nine-foot mountain lion. It had been killed with a .22-caliber bullet just under the left shoulder.

Here's Pork Aplenty

HUGO, Okla. (U)—A purebred Poland China sow owned by Mrs.

Fire Damage Heavy To McKinney Homes

MCKINNEY (U)—Fire destroyed four homes and burned out the parsonage of the First Christian church early today.

Fire Chief Jimmie Belden estimated the damage at $60,000 to $70,000. Home owners said the loss would be nearer $100,000.

The 2 a.m. blaze started in the residence of Mrs. Joe Largent. The flames destroyed a frame house next door, a duplex and another house. It skipped a brick building and severely damaged the parsonage.

It took firemen of five cities an hour and 45 minutes to control the blaze. McKinney firemen were joined by others from Greenville, Denton, Plano and the Dallas Emergency Corps.

Vote Running High

HOUSTON (U)—Heavy absentee voting for the Aug. 28 run-off primary continued here yesterday with 753 ballots cast—a record for a single day. That brought the total for the run-off to 5,305. Only 2,943 absentee votes were cast for the July primary.

Playing With Fire

LONG BEACH, Calif. (U)—This, police say, is how Louis Cohen landed in jail.

He found a wallet on the beach, but he didn't hunt for the owner. Instead, he used it to identify himself when, later, two policemen awakened him in a park.

The wallet happened to belong to a detective, Wayne L. Highty. Cohen was booked yesterday on suspicion of vagrancy and petty theft of found property.

When In-Laws Count

HOLYOKE, Mass. (U)—A mother-in-law is worth money, under the terms of an advertisement appearing today in the Holyoke Transcript-Telegram.

The advertisement inserted by Jeremiah T. Dowling of the Downing Realty Corp. offers a nine-room brick house on a 1 1/2-acre plot at the following prices:

To single persons, $25,000; couple, $22,000; couple with child, $21,000; couple with two children, $20,000; couple with "houseful of kids," $18,000; couple with houseful of kids and mother-in-law, $17,500.

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headache and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday conditions, such as stress and strain, cause this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 48 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 million kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. ## Teen-Age Killers Caught In N.Y.

NEW YORK (U)—While Brooklyn officials scanned a record of beatings and killings by four teen-age youths, two of their alleged victims came forward with statements yesterday.

The youths, three of whom are now being held on a homicide charge, were arrested Tuesday after a passerby told police four youths were beating up a man in a Brooklyn park.

In Greenpoint Hospital 62-year-old Felix Jaculowski heard of their arrest and asked to talk to police. He later identified one of the youths as one of two who attacked him last month while he slept on a park bench.

Jaculowski told police his attacker beat him, tied burning cotton to his foot and finally left him after dousing him with gasoline and lighting it with a match. He has been a patient in the hospital since July 21, suffering from effects of the beating and third degree burns.

Another man visited the police station yesterday and told police a gang of four youths had beaten him on Aug. 4 and left him unconscious in a vacant lot. The man identified himself as Edward Walsh, 45, no address.

Police said both Walsh and Jaculowski said they recognized Jack Koslow, 18, as one of their attackers. Walsh also picked out a second member of the quartet, Melvin Mittman, 17, police said.

A third victim who fell into the hands of the gang was Joseph Kostryn, 60, a Hungarian immigrant basket-weaver who lives in a Manhattan rooming house. It was his beating that led to the youths' arrest.

Fort Hood Soldier Killed In Car Mishap

RANKIN, Tex. (U)—A Fort Hood soldier was killed and a companion injured in a car crash five miles west of here on Highway 67.

The dead man was Pfc. James L. Shannon, 21, of Los Angeles. Cpl. Arnold J. Goulart of San Diego, Calif., was injured in the accident, which occurred yesterday when their car went out of control and overturned.

Texas City Claims Bill Passes Senate

WASHINGTON (U)—A bill to set up a way of handling claims against the government resulting from the 1947 Texas City disaster has been passed by the Senate.

It now goes back to the House—where earlier approved a similar measure—for possible concurrence on Senate changes.

The Senate bill, passed yesterday, would authorize the secretary of the Army to investigate claims and make findings as to those which should be paid and the amount of each. Congress would have to approve all awards.

More than 570 persons were killed and some 3,500 injured when bags of ammonium nitrate fertilizer blew up in the holds of two ships in April, 1947, in the Texas City harbor.

Bell Helicopter Due To Face Navy Tests

FORT WORTH (U)—A Bell HSL-1 helicopter, built for anti-submarine work, headed for the Patuxent River, Md., Naval Air Test Center yesterday from the Bell Aircraft Corp. plant, following a ceremony watched by around 1,500 Bell employees and visitors. The craft was the first delivered by Bell to the Navy.

Mexico Fires Union Heads For Job Sale

MEXICO CITY (U)—An unannounced number of union leaders have been fired by the government-owned oil industry for selling jobs, it was announced yesterday.

The announcement said the leaders fired had charged prospective workers up to 5,000 pesos ($400) for a clerk's job in the industry.

Buick's biggest hit brings you a 3-way bonus

1. You get the car that's in step with tomorrow

From stem to stern, Buick today is styled a year ahead—with long, low glamor lines, with the very look of tomorrow, and with that broad panoramic windshield that many other cars won't have till 1955. Equally important, you get in Buick advanced V8 power, big room, luxurious comfort, the famed Million Dollar Ride—and all for prices that start just a few dollars above those of the so-called "low-price three." Is it any wonder, then, that Buick today is outselling all other cars in America except two of these "low-price three"?

Come see for yourself why—

2. You get the car that's a sure high resale value

Buicks have always had a high trade-in value. But the 1954 Buick has an extra advantage in its year-ahead styling. That means your Buick will stay well up in the style parade for years to come—will stay fresh and new-looking well into the future. So you're bound to be way ahead in actual dollars when trade-in time comes.

3. You get a bigger allowance from our volume business

Every month's sales figures this year have firmed this fact: Buick sales are soaring; Buick is outselling all other cars in the nation, regardless of price range, except two of the "low-price three." So with this tremendous volume, we can — and do — offer higher trade-in allowances. Come in, see and drive a new Buick—then check for yourself that our volume business really does mean a far bigger allowance for you.

Charles P. Taft Tells Churchmen Of U.S. System

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Charles P. Taft spoke up today for the American social and economic system before fellow Christians from many lands.

Taft, brother of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, voiced his views while delegates to the Assembly of the World Council of Churches were engaged in a round of discussions on the broad subject of a "responsible society."

"We Americans are a responsible society," Taft told an audience of visitors to the convention—a gathering of representatives of 183 denominations from 45 nations.

He mentioned social security, workmen's compensation for injuries on the job, the minimum wage law, the 40-hour week, farm price floors and public housing, and said:

"I am not reciting these facts to boast but to show you that we are not, and probably never have been, a laissez-faire capitalism. In nearly all of this legislation and in its enforcement has been evidence of the strong reform instincts of America. It comes in large part out of our religious and missionary background."

The day's program of the assembly featured President Eisenhower.

A crowd of 15,000 was expected to hear him.

Taft, who lives in Cincinnati and is a delegate to the assembly, mentioned in a prepared address American qualities of "risk-taking, ingenuity, the urge to work."

This nation's "business culture," he said, is "the setting for our religious life."

"We work under pressure of competition and fight the natural impulse to make things easier by dividing markets and fixing prices—that is, cartelization," he said.

Dr. C. L. Patijn, director of international organizations in the Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs, opened discussions about a "responsible society" last night.

He recalled that the first assembly of the council in 1948 at Amsterdam produced a report that was critical of both communism and laissez-faire (free of government interference) capitalism.

Speaking of points that have come up in consideration of a report to be made at the current gathering, he said:

"There is more interest in the problems of production and efficiency than before. At the same time it is more generally accepted that the state has an important part to play in economic life, although the extent of state intervention is still a controversial point.

"Since there is also a better understanding of the significance of private initiative and the dangers of centralization and rigidity in the economic system, it seems as though the old controversy between socialism and capitalism is beginning to lose its sting."

Postman Admits Dumping Letters In Atlantic Ocean

NEW YORK (AP)—A letter carrier faces charges of destroying mail — by swimming out and dumping it in the Atlantic Ocean.

Authorities said Joseph J. Michalozic, 31, admitted yesterday he put the mail in a shoebox and swam out about a mile off Gilgo Beach to dump it.

A lifeguard at Lido Beach, some miles down the Long Island shore, found the box with the letters still inside and turned it over to postal authorities.

Then postal inspectors traced a shoe company label on the box to Michalozic, through post office records showing he had received a package from the company recently.

Michalozic, of Hempstead, N.Y., is a summer substitute postman.

He was quoted as saying his wife's suicide after childbirth and pain from a war injury had combined to make him too "lazy" to deliver the mail.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Indian boy pushing his young pet tapir—after the animal tried to eat the boy's dinner.

A tapir might be called "an animal which started out to be an elephant but stopped too soon." It has a snout which forms a short trunk, and there is a little tusk at each side of the mouth.

Grass, leaves and other parts of plants make up the food of tapirs. They move about mostly after sunset, and are very timid. A slight noise will make them dash into the underbrush, or they may plunge into a river. They are excellent swimmers.

Dark brown is the common color of tapirs, but the young have white markings. Stripes extend across almost the length of the body. In addition there are several white spots.

Young tapirs have the spots and stripes for about six months. The stripes for about six months. The most tapirs live in the New World. They are found from Central America to Brazil. Only one other section of the earth has these beasts—they exist in southeastern Asia and on islands nearby.

Indians and other residents of Latin America sometimes keep tapirs as pets. The pets are caught while they are young, and then are provided with food.

A pet tapir is gentle enough, but it also is a bit greedy. Sometimes it sniffs the food prepared for the family, and may eat some unless it is pushed away.

There are several kinds of tapirs in South America, and they differ in small ways. Those which live in mountains have thick coats of crinkled hair. This "wool" protects them from the cold weather.

Now and then a zoo displays a tapir. Not long ago the Bronx Zoo in New York obtained a tapir of a rare kind.

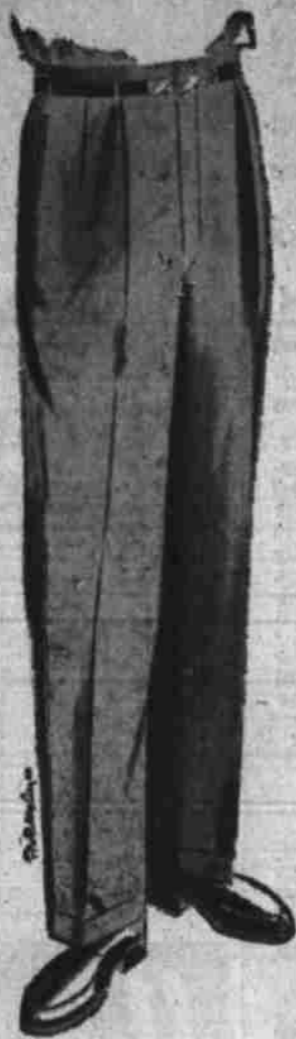

Tomorrow: Water Deer.

Presence Of Czech Preacher Protested

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Ten pickets paraded outside the Assembly of the World Council of Churches last night in protest against the presence of Dr. Joseph Hromadka of the Czech Evangelical Churches.

They carried signs saying "2,000 priests in jail. Why is Hromadka here?" They identified themselves as members of the Alliance of Czechoslovaks in Exile.

Hromadka, dean of the Prague Theological Seminary, has voiced the view that churches must learn to get along under communism to survive. He has said he is not a Communist.

Select Without Squeezing

Two local grocermen—O. J. Forbes and Jimmy Chatwell—demonstrate the proper way to handle soft fruits and vegetables. Improperly handled, mainly "squeezing," accounts for the loss of thousands of dollars worth of produce yearly in local stores. Local grocery managers agree that the purchaser can tell whether the items are ripe just as well by looking as by feeling. All say, however, that proper handling will not harm produce. Soft items should be handled gently.

Customers Put 'Squeeze' On Grocers; Loss Heavy

By CLIFTON LAWHORNE

Local grocermen each year have to throw away thousands of dollars worth of fruits and vegetables which are destroyed by customers.

And most of the grocery store operators in Big Spring are of the opinion that this practice will continue in the years to come. None of those polled can see a way to stop it.

The produce items are ruined by customer handling, which one grocerman described as being "just as natural as the sunshine."

Tomatoes, peaches, plums, bananas—all such soft items—have a high casualty rate. If these items of produce are squeezed a little too hard or too often they have to be marked off as a loss.

Customers, in addition to refusing to purchase soft vegetables and fruits ruined by squeezing, also prefer not to look at them. Consequently the grocer has to clear these items out of his stands constantly.

Some dealers here have to go through their produce stands four and five times a day culling out the "spoil."

Slight pressure will not damage the items so much, most grocers agree. But most people can't be content with slight pressure and get a "death grip" on their testing rounds.

An avocado has to be squeezed slightly before a person can tell if it is ripe, several grocermen said. But this is about the only item which it is necessary to squeeze. Reason is that a person cannot tell from looking at an avocado.

On other fruits and vegetables, the purchaser can tell just as well by looking as feeling whether the items are ripe or good.

Fruit can usually be sized up accurately by looking, dealers point out. If a peach is green, then it is not ripe. If it is yellow with tinges of red, then it is ripe. "The more red, the more ripe," one produce man said.

The same holds true for plums. When they are dark, they are ripe. Customers can especially go by the color when judging tomatoes, grocers say. If tomatoes are green then they obviously are not ripe. The shade of red is the tip off on the condition.

But the majority of people still trust their sense of feel more than their sense of sight when it comes to selecting produce. And the handling does not stop with soft items, though it is more pronounced there.

Postal Department To Prepare Booklet On Mailing Of Packages

Receiving packages containing broken or damaged valuables is both disheartening and expensive.

The U. S. Post Office Department, aware that most people are not able to wrap packages properly, is now preparing a booklet to "teach" proper techniques. The booklets, near completion, will soon be available at all Post Offices.

Elmer Boatler, Big Spring postmaster, offers the following tips, taken from a bulletin, to persons who mail packages:

Parcels, including those marked "Fragile," must be securely packed and wrapped or packed in a strong container to withstand handling inside of mail sacks on which several other sacks may be piled.

USDA's Survey Shows Moisture Needed In State

AUSTIN (AP)—All sections of the state continue to need a good soaking rain, and drought conditions are intensifying over a wide area, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported yesterday.

The agency's weekly review of farm and ranch conditions found range and pasture grasses declining still further. Supplemental feeding increased over most of the state.

In some southeastern and High Plains counties, however, pastures were improved by recent local showers. The report did not take into consideration rains which have fallen in some areas since Monday.

Stock water was short in central and northeastern areas, and marketing of cattle and sheep was heavy as farmers culled to adjust to available feed supplies.

Harvest of cotton, feed crops, rice and peanuts was favored by the past week of open weather, but growth of crops and grasses over much of the state was checked by high temperatures.

Throughout the eastern half of the state, cotton continued to open prematurely and show effects of prolonged hot, dry weather.

For the past 50 years, 80 per cent of U. S. iron ore came from Minnesota's Mesabi Range.

Many articles are damaged in the mails because the mailer did not visualize the conditions to which they would be subjected in ordinary course of handling and did not use adequate packing.

Parcels improperly or insufficiently wrapped or packed, or not properly endorsed or marked as to contents when required, are not acceptable for mailing.

The use of good solid or double-faced corrugated fiberboard boxes properly fastened or sealed is recommended. A box of poor quality or improperly packed or fastened often results in damage or loss to contents. A good average-size box testing 200 pounds per square inch is usually adequate for an average-size parcel. (The size limit and gross weight limit also shown in the certificate do not apply to parcel-post mail.) These boxes must be firmly packed or they will crush under pressure, but if over packed they may also burst under pressure. In either case, gummed paper tape will not hold the contents together as would strong twine. Wire without exposed ends or approved banding material, may be used in lieu of twine.

All parcels containing articles to be used in case of breakage as well as to act as a cushioning agent, and the mailing carton should be tightly closed.

Articles such as butter, lard, fish, fresh meats, certain fruits, berries or vegetables, etc., which decay quickly should be well packed to prevent leakage, endorsed "Perishable," and be mailed only to points they may reasonably be expected to reach without spoiling.

All matter which is outwardly or of its own force dangerous or injurious to life, health or property is nonmailable regardless of manner of packing.

Harmless medicinal preparations, soaps, tobacco, food products, etc., in fixed quantities, in original sealed packages by the manufacturer or dealer so as to allow examination of the packages in their simplest mercantile form and labeled in printing so as to show the nature of contents, quantity and name of the manufacturer or dealer are mailable at the fourth-class rate of postage.

Sweetwater Girl Dies From Polio

SWEETWATER, Tex. (AP)—Barbara Hale, 15, Sweetwater High School student, died Tuesday night, the first death from polio here this year. The girl was in Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene with bulbar polio. She had been ill since last Friday. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hale of the Longworth Community northwest of Sweetwater. Seven cases of polio have been reported in the Sweetwater area this summer.

New Air Mail Stamps Due To Speed Postcards Along

American vacationers delight in sending friends and relatives a "Having a wonderful time—wish you were here" picture postcard. But 90 per cent of the time these cards reach their destination after the senders are back home, their two weeks of fun ended and jobs reclaimed.

This delay will be overcome with the Sept. 3 appearance of four-cent air mail stamps. The first, which stamp collectors are already awaiting, will be released in Philadelphia during the 31st annual convention and exhibition of the American Air Mail Society.

The stamps will be the first air mail adhesives intended for use on postcards. Four-cent air postal cards, however, have been in use for the past four and one-half years.

Elmer Boatler, local postmaster, said that these cards have not been in wide use. "So few people know that you can send a four-cent card, there isn't much demand for them," he said.

Luther Area Maize Harvest Is Started

LUTHER (SC)—Maize harvest was begun here last week.

Early maize, being harvested now, is turning out well, farmers report. Lack of moisture however, has burned most of the late maize crops.

A few farmers have been poisoning for cotton insects and report that rains are badly needed.

India has records of irrigation projects before 2000 B. C.

ple aware of the four-cent air mail card service. The Post Office Department hopes the new stamps will popularize sending of postcards by air.

The air mail service for cards has been available since the establishment of air mail service. In the past persons could place two-cent stamps on the cards and mark them "Air Mail."

Boatler believes the new stamps should prove popular once the patrons know of their existence. They will be ideal, he says, for use by vacationers and people who write cards.

Negro Takes Part In Cabinet Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first Negro to attend a White House Cabinet meeting in an official capacity said yesterday it was "an interesting and challenging experience."

Talking with reporters after attending the session of President Eisenhower's official family, J. Ernest Wilkins, assistant secretary of labor, said the President had all matters on the agenda "well in hand" and added:

"Obviously, Cabinet members represent some of the finest men in the United States. I certainly enjoyed observing our great President and the Cabinet members discuss various subjects on the agenda."

Wilkins, a former Chicago attorney, attended the meeting in place of Secretary of Labor Mitchell, who was filling a speaking engagement in New Jersey.

William T. Baum Jr. of Stanton reported to Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., on Monday for pre-flight training with Class 28-E.

Sgt. Don Ware, U. S. Air Force recruiter in Odessa, announced Baum's enlistment. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Baum Sr., who have been residents of Martin County for the past 20 years.

After completing pre-flight training, Baum will progress through primary, basic and advanced flight training.

Luther Families Sponsor Barbecue

LUTHER (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Rex Morton entertained neighbors with a barbecue recently at the L. F. Lawrence home place. The barbecue was given in celebration of the Lawrences' and Mortons' new oil wells.

The late L. F. Lawrence, father of C. B. Lawrence, came to this community with his wife and five children from Segalla County, Ky., in 1907. He built and opened the Luther Post-Office and store. He named the town Luther, after his own name, Luther Lawrence.

Relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Caughey and Hugh Willis of Stephenville, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gammon and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gammon of Denton, Mr. and Mrs. Burnell Gill and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Gill of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Ola Cate of Dallas, Ramsey Cox and Mrs. S. W. Hickey and daughter, Alice, of Abilene.

Revival Closes

LUTHER (SC) — The Rev. Coley Arender closed the revival and delivered his last sermon at Bethel Baptist Church Sunday. Rev. Arender resigned some time ago. Two additions by letter were made during the revival.

District Baptist Conference Due To Attract 300

Approximately 300 persons are expected to attend an associational stewardship evangelism conference in Big Spring Monday.

The conference will be held at Airport Baptist Church. Baptists from all cities in the Big Spring association are expected to attend.

Serving as team captain and in charge of the conference will be Dr. C. Wade Freeman, superintendent of evangelism for the Baptist General Convention of Texas. He will be introduced by Rev. Paul West of Coahoma, stewardship chairman for the association.

Rev. Aubrey Short, evangelism superintendent for Louisiana Baptists will be the evangelism speaker. Rev. Joe Weldon Bailey, pastor of Dallas' East Grand Baptist Church, will discuss stewardship. Royce E. Curtis, minister of music at the First Baptist Church in Kilgore will be in charge of music. The closing prayer will be given by Rev. Warren Stowe of Big Spring, associational evangelism chairman. He will serve as host pastor.

The evangelism-stewardship conference is one of 122 scheduled during August and September for members of the 3,512 Texas Baptist churches and is a part of the Southern Baptist Convention's fall program. This is the first year that evangelism and stewardship have been combined in an annual emphasis.

During the conferences, plans and materials for the churches' fall observance of "Harvest Week" will be presented to pastors and other church leaders. An evangelism-stewardship book, "These Go Together," will be taught, and evangelistic services will be held in the churches during the week of special emphasis.

Hardin-Simmons To Award Degrees On August 23rd

Several students from this area are among the 153 summer graduates who will receive degrees from Hardin-Simmons University, at commencement exercises Aug. 23 at 8 p.m.

Bill Cook of Big Spring is to receive his B.A. degree; Billy Austin and Mrs. Oda Moore of Colorado City are to receive B.S. degrees; and three from Lamesa also will receive B.S. degrees, Annie May Burt, Peggy Vaughn and Mollie Williams.

Dr. Evan A. Reiff, H-SU president will confer the degrees. Speaker for the commencement is Dr. Harold A. Haswell, executive coordinator of the Christian Education Commission of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Eyes Receive Little Care, Doctors Find

The human eye is the most important organ which human beings use to find out what is going on about them.

Modern man learns, enjoys painting and literature, sees the beauty in landscape and carries on nearly every phase of his daily activity through the use of his eyes.

But the same human eyes receive virtually no care, local optometrists contend. Consequently the number of cases of eye disorders and glasses-wearers is constantly on the increase.

Proper eye care could reduce the number of sufferers, the optometrists agree. Eye strain, caused by inadequate lighting and over exertion of the eyes, results in many cases of eye trouble.

Once thought of as a companion piece of old age, optometrists now know that is not true. Some persons are born with defective eyesight; it is acquired by others. The number of glasses wearers, reportedly, is now the highest per population rate ever known. They are worn by both youngsters and old folks.

Youngsters may "out grow" bad eyesight, but such is uncommon with older persons.

Eye defects are acquired by more persons of low incomes, one optometrist said. Persons with small incomes ordinarily do not invest in an adequate lighting system. But many people who could afford better lighting do not have it, he believed.

Miss Jewel Barton, City-County

Health Unit nurse who gives pre-school eye examinations to rural pupils, reports that "not too many" cases of bad eyesight are found.

A large number, however, are located by Big Spring school nurses. Both Mrs. Louise Horton and Mrs. D. M. McEvers reported that approximately 100 cases were found by them last year.

"That's a large number compared to the number of students enrolled," Mrs. McEvers observed.

When the nurses believe a student has bad eyesight, he is referred to his doctor for examination.

Elevator Is Reopened At Niagara Falls Park

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — The Prospect Point elevator leading to the base of the American Falls was reopened to the public yesterday.

The elevator, a popular tourist attraction, was closed shortly before the rockfall July 28 when an estimated 185,000 tons of rock collapsed into the Niagara River gorge.

Joseph Davis, president of the Niagara Frontier State Park Commission, said "everything about the elevator is safe."

Flooded rice fields are often used for growing fish and farmers find that the presence of the fish often increase the yield of rice.

Libeling Child Pays In Obtaining House

OMAHA (AP) — Margaret Mary Howard is, said the ad in the paper, quite a little madcap.

The ad said: "I beat baby sister up, so promise to do likewise to a two-bedroom house on acreage. Have burned down two houses in my 2 1/2 years. Care to make it three?"

The William J. Howards, parents of Margaret Mary, said they received quick offers to rent new homes. Margaret Mary really is, they said, "a nice little mouse" and not a madcap.

MRS. C. O. TRANTHAM
... maybe it's a letter about Charles

This Good Cook Has Adopted German Boy

Besides coming up with two fine recipes when we interviewed Mrs. C. O. Trantham we learned the exciting news that she and her husband are adopting a three-year-old blond German boy who is an orphan.

The little blue-eyed tyke is now with an American family in Frankfurt, Germany. The Tranthams are paying them to keep Charles (the Tranthams have already renamed him) until his visa can be granted. "We are hoping he will be here before Christmas," Mrs. Trantham said.

Mrs. Trantham is an RN at Malone and Hogan Clinic-Hospital and her husband owns a used furniture and refrigeration business. She is always on the lookout for quick, easy but delicious things to cook and the two she gave us certainly fit that category.

The couple enjoy sports—mostly spectator—and are avid fans of the Bronco. Mr. Trantham used to play with the old team, known as the "Barons."

They are both members of Main St. Church of Christ and participate in many activities there.

Her barbecue sauce recipe is a combination that she worked up and she says it's good on all meats, even franks and can even be used (very deliciously) as a spaghetti sauce.

BARBECUE SAUCE

- Ingredients:
- 1/4 cup salad oil
  - 1 large onion, chopped
  - 1/4 cup lemon juice or vinegar
  - 1 teaspoon dry mustard
  - 1 tablespoon chili powder
  - 1 can condensed tomato soup
  - 1/4 cup water
  - Salt and pepper to taste

Method: Heat salad oil in large pan; add chopped onion and simmer until tender. Stir in lemon juice or vinegar and seasonings; add soup and water. Cook 15 minutes over medium heat, stirring frequently.

The chocolate cake that follows came from Canada via a friend of Mrs. Trantham. It's really a red devil's food cake and, of course, she uses a chocolate icing on it; otherwise her husband wouldn't eat it, she says.

CHOCOLATE CAKE

- Ingredients:
- 1/2 cup butter
  - 2 cups sugar
  - 2 eggs
  - 1 cup boiling water
  - 1 teaspoon soda
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
  - 1/2 cup sour milk
  - 2 cups flour

1/2 cup cocoa
Method: Sift flour and cocoa together. Add butter, sugar, eggs and sour milk. Mix well. Add soda to boiling water—add to mixture. Bake in moderate oven.

Lamb Riblets Make News In Stews

Here's something different in the way of stews that's designed for cold day enjoyment—lamb riblet stew. In case these riblets are new to you they are prepared from a lamb breast. The meat dealer simply removes the breast bone and cuts the breast between the ribs with the resulting meaty riblets.

For preparing a stew, dredge the riblets with flour, then brown them well on all sides in lard or drippings. Pour off excess drippings. Season with salt and pepper. The next step is to cover the meat with water, then place a tight fitting cover on the cooking utensil and let the riblets cook quite slowly for about 1 1/2 hours. At the end of this time, add vegetables, recover the utensil and cook until the meat and vegetables are tender. Lastly, thicken the liquid for gravy. This stew may be served over boiled rice or noodles if you like.

Denver Sandwiches Are Treats

Wonderful flavor! Eggs get a garden-fresh touch.

DENVER SANDWICHES

Ingredients: 3 tablespoons chopped green pep-

or 2 tablespoon finely chopped green onions.
4 well-beaten eggs
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash Pepper
8 slices Canadian bacon
4 tablespoons soft butter
Dash of curry powder
4 hamburger buns, split in half

Method: Combine green pepper, onions, eggs, salt and pepper. Pour mixture into greased 10-inch skillet

(or, cook each serving in individual skillet). Brown well on both sides; when set out in servings. Quickly brown Canadian bacon. Season, butter to taste with curry powder; spread on buns; grill buttered side down in the hot skillet or griddle. Remove buns to a hot serving platter. Place egg pancake on 4 of the half-buns and two slices of grilled Canadian bacon on the other half-buns. Serve immediately. Makes 4 sandwiches.

Airy Souffles Catch On In American Menus

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Store leftover vegetables (even if Long a staple of French culinary art, Americans seem to be going for these light-as-a-summer-breeze desserts. There is even a cookbook devoted entirely to souffles scheduled for publication.

Irma Rombauer, author of the beloved "The Joy of Cooking," says that the souffle is the "misunderstood woman" of the culinary world. Although it has a reputation of being hard to master, actually a souffle is a simple and useful dish.

In souffle making, we have found that the size of the baking dish is of utmost importance. Put a souffle in a casserole that is too large for the recipe, and no matter how carefully you have combined the ingredients, it will never rise to any great heights.

You also have to pay attention to the eggs in your souffle. You may separate the yolks from the whites when you take the eggs from the refrigerator, because they separate best when they are cold. It won't hurt to let the separated yolks and whites stand at room temperature, because whites beat up well when they are not too cold. But never, never beat those egg whites until just before you are ready to combine them with your other ingredients.

The recipe we are giving you, using quick-cooking tapioca instead of flour, is for an American-type souffle. Adding the tapioca is no trouble at all: you simply combine it with part of the liquid called for in the recipe and bring to a boil. Then the rest of the liquid, flavoring, butter and beaten yolks are added. Finally the beaten whites go in. In about an hour your souffles will be delicate but firm from its oven baking, ready to serve.

Offer this Orange Tapioca Souffle with sliced fresh peaches. Or if you do not mind using tapioca both in the souffle and the adornment, you might like to serve the souffle with the following Fresh Peach Sauce. (The sauce, by the way, is excellent on squares of fluffy white cake or slices of hearty cottage pudding.) To further gild the lily, top souffle, sliced peaches or Peach Sauce, with whipped cream.

ORANGE TAPIOCA SOUFFLE
Ingredients:

- 1/4 cup quick cooking tapioca
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup water
- 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
- 1 cup strained orange juice.
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3 eggs (separated)

Method: Put tapioca, sugar and water in saucepan. Cook and stir over moderate heat until mixture comes to a boil. Stir in orange rind and juice; remove from heat and stir in butter. Allow to cool slightly while beating eggs. Beat egg yolks with rotary beater (hand or electric) until thick and ivory colored. Add tapioca mixture to egg yolks and mix well. With clean beater, beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold tapioca mixture into egg whites. Turn into buttered 2-quart baking dish. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 50 to 60 minutes or until souffle looks firm. Serve at once with sliced peaches or Fresh Peach Sauce; top with whipped cream if desired. Makes 6 servings.

FRESH PEACH SAUCE
Ingredients:

- 1/4 cups sliced fresh peaches
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 1/2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
- 1 1/2 cups water
- 1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice.

METHOD: Mix peaches and sugar together in saucepan; let stand 15 minutes. Add tapioca, water and dash of salt. Cook and stir over moderate heat until mixture comes to a boil. Stir in lemon juice; remove from heat. Cool 15 minutes, then stir. Serve warm.

Summer Salad
Souffles are busting out all over. You have only a dab of this or a spot of that in your refrigerator. Then you can use them in a tasty tomato aspic salad that's perfect for a hot-weather lunch. Prepare lemon-flavored gelatin per package directions, using tomato juice instead of water, and season delicately with grated onion and horseradish. When almost firm, add the leftover vegetables. Mold, chill in dark, crinkly spinach leaves.

Here Is Authentic Way To Make Tasty Creole Gumbo

Did you ever try Creole Gumbo. It's a delightful dish conceived by the Creoles of South Louisiana and handed down from generation to generation. While there are any number of variations used, we like this recipe from the Rice and Creole Cook Book for:

- GUMBO FILE
- 1 large tender chicken
  - 2 large slices or 1/4 pound lean ham
  - 2 tablespoons of butter or 1 of lard
  - 1 bay leaf
  - 3 sprigs of parsley
  - 1 large onion
  - 1 sprig of thyme
  - 2 quarts oyster water
  - 2 quarts boiling water
  - 1/2 pod of red pepper
  - Cayenne to taste

Clean and cut up the chicken as for a fricassee. Dredge with salt and black pepper, judging according to taste. Cut the ham into dice shapes and chop the onion, parsley and thyme very fine. Put the lard or butter into the soup kettle or deep stewing pot, and when hot, put in the ham and chicken. Cover closely and fry for about five or ten minutes. Then add the onion and parsley and thyme, stirring occasionally to prevent burning. When nicely browned add the boiling water and throw in the oyster stock, which has been thoroughly heated. Add the bay leaf chopped very fine, and the pepper pod, cut in two, and set the gumbo back to simmer for about an hour longer. When nearly ready to serve dinner, and while the Gumbo is boiling add the fresh oysters. Let the gumbo remain on the stove for about three minutes longer, and then remove the pot from the fire. Have ready the tureens, set in a "braimarie" or hot water bath, for once the File is added the gumbo must never be warmed over. Take two tablespoonfuls of the File and drop gradually into the pot of boiling hot Gumbo, stirring slowly to mix thoroughly; pour into the tureen, or tureens, if there should be a second demand and serve.

with boiled rice. The rice, it should be remarked must be boiled so that the grains stand quite apart, and brought to the table in a separate dish covered. Serve about two spoonfuls of rice to one plate of gumbo.

The above recipe is for a family of six. Increased quantities in proportion as required. Never boil the gumbo with the rice, and never add the File while the gumbo is on the fire, as boiling after the file is added tends to make the gumbo stringy and unfit for use, else the File is precipitated to the bottom of the pot, which is equally to be avoided.

Cold Meat Treat

Here is an interesting sauce to serve with cold ham, tongue or corned beef. Beat one cup of heavy cream until very stiff. Add—and beat in—1/4 cup drained, prepared horseradish. Press out the juice before mixing with the cream, and then add a little salt for flavor. Freeze until firm. Cut into small cubes and serve with your cold meat.

Cleaning Closet Aids

Every house needs a cleaning closet where tools and supplies can be stored, ready for use. Dust cloths, mops and brushes should be put away clean and dry for their next use. Dusters and wet mops do a better job of cleaning when they're spick and span themselves. Wash out in sudsy hot water after each use and dry before storing.

Sugar-Frosted Grapes

Dip bunches of grapes into slightly beaten egg white. Drain off excess egg white; dip in sugar. When dry, arrange on plates or platter.

Ex-GI Got Start As Playwright In Texas

By MARSHALL COMERER
DALLAS (AP)—Bill Case, one of the thousands of young Americans who trained at Camp Wolters in World War II, says Texas is a very important part of his career.

A Midwestern newspaperman in 1941, he came to Camp Wolters at Mineral Wells as a draftee. Now an accountant executive with a public relations firm in New York City who has a serious ambition to become a playwright, he came to Dallas to see the world premiere of his comedy, "Sea Change," at Margo Jones' Theatre '54.

Eva in the excitement of having his first play professionally produced, ex-GI Case has an especially warm place in his heart for his Army days in Texas.

"I wrote my first play while I was at Camp Wolters," he recalls. "It was one of those rare things that happened in the Army. Because of my newspaper experience, they put me in the public relations office.

"One of my jobs was to write the script for the radio show the soldiers put on once a week. Then someone got the idea we should put on a musical review with an all-soldier cast. I got the job writing the book.

"We called it 'Life Begins at Five-Thirty.' We had a lot of good talent among the fellows at Wolters. Some of them had professional experience. The show was a success and we got permission to tour and raise money for the Army Emergency Relief Fund. We played Mineral Wells, Denton, Fort Worth and Dallas. We made about $5,000.

"Life Begins at Five-Thirty" was the first big all-soldier show and for a time we thought about taking it to Broadway. We had some correspondence with Billy Rose about producing it on Broadway. Then Irving Berlin produced "This Is the Army" on Broadway and Billy Rose lost interest in our show."

But the Camp Wolters show did attract the attention of some Army top brass. With a chuckle Case recalled that the boss of the Army Service Forces, Lieut. Gen. Brethorn Somervell wrote a letter through proper military channels to Private William Case asking permission to have soldiers at other bases produce his show.

"The captain was plenty excited when that letter arrived," said Case. "He called me in and said, 'let's answer this right away.'"

Soon after, Case's request for transfer to the Air Force was granted and he was transferred to Waco. There he promoted the idea of putting on a soldier show and wrote a musical comedy, "How High Is Up."

"It was a 100 soldiers and a girl idea," said Case. "We used soldiers from the base and had a beauty and talent contest to pick a Waco girl for our actress. We put the show on at Baylor University and Paul Baker of the Baylor faculty helped us with the production."

With a grin he continued, "I don't know whether the show had anything to do with it, but soon afterwards the whole cast was transferred to San Antonio and the Army traveling began . . . Del Rio, Wichita Falls, OCS at Miami Beach and the Caribbean.

"Yes, sir, I have a first-hand relationship with Texas. I have crawled or marched and bivouacked over most of the state."

Gay Hill School Tax Rate Is Cut By 50 Per Cent

Tax rate for the Gay Hill School District has been slashed in half for the 1954-55 fiscal year.

The Gay Hill rate, which had been $1.50 per $100 of taxable value, was cut to 75 cents by trustees of the district. Increased property valuations, due to oil development in the district, made the reduction possible.

Tax rates for the five other common school districts in the county will remain the same for another year. The various tax rates, set by the boards of trustees for the different districts, have been approved by the Howard County Commissioners court.

The Gay Hill tax levy will be divided evenly between the local maintenance and interest and sinking funds. At Center Point, $1.25 will go to the maintenance fund and 25 cents will be for the interest and sinking fund.

Midway's levy will include $1.09 for maintenance and 42 cents for interest and sinking. The Elbow rate will be divided with $1.35 to the maintenance and 15 cents to the interest and sinking.

Vealmoor's $1.50 levy will include $1.25 for the maintenance fund and 25 cents for interest and sinking. Tax rate for the Lomax district, which at present is inactive, will include 90 cents for maintenance and 10 cents for interest and sinking fund.

Final valuations for the districts haven't been determined.

Last Rapid VD Care Center To Shut Down

AUSTIN (AP)—The nation's last venereal disease rapid treatment center will close Sept. 1, State Health Officer Henry A. Holle reported today.

The center was opened in the East Texas city of Overton in 1945 following heavy concentration of military personnel in Texas during World War II. It will be shut down because of budget limitations and because new methods of venereal disease therapy make hospitalization generally unnecessary, said Holle.

Britain Resists Attempt To Weaken Its Hold On Cyprus

By A. I. GOLDBERG
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Greece and Britain, outwardly long friends, have come to diplomatic blows in the United Nations over the future of Cyprus, a large Mediterranean island base which Britain has and Greece wants.

After five years of trying to get the British to agree on a Cyprus plebiscite, the Greeks have announced they will come in before the end of the week with a plea for U.N. intervention.

Trading on U.N. declarations about the right of all peoples to self-determination, the Greeks now want the U.N. to vote for an election on Cyprus which they are sure would overwhelmingly favor union with Greece.

The British are pretty sure that the island's predominantly Greek population would vote that way, too. They don't like the idea.

The British have just been forced into an agreement to leave the Suez Canal area. They have been sniped at by Spain, which wants Gibraltar at the western gate of the Mediterranean. They are fearful that Communist influence in Cyprus, as well as in Greece itself, might someday threaten effectiveness of what is now considered an important NATO base, made more important by the promised evacuation of Suez.

The British make no secret of opposing any move to weaken their hold on Cyprus.

They argue that Cyprus never was a part of Greece, that Turkey opposes any change in island rule because almost one-fifth of the island's half-million population is Turkish, and that any change might hamper NATO defenses.

The Greeks retort that it's silly to say Cyprus never belonged to Greece. "It was Greece," they say. They argue that all elements of the Greek-speaking population—religious, cultural, political, conservative, liberal, radical, mercantile—favor union with Greece and have been striking recently to prove it. The population has rejected British offers of a new constitution because there is no Greek union clause in it.

The United States has not made up its mind how it will vote.

Listing Of Special Events Is Planned

The Chamber of Commerce must send a listing of all special events planned here in the next three months to the State Highway Commission in Austin.

For this reason, Edith Gay, secretary at the Chamber, asks that anyone planning a special program inform her. She can place it on the Chamber event calendar and then notify the Austin office.

Events listed with her will go in the Texas Calendar of Events for the fourth quarter of the year. This calendar will be published in Austin on Sept. 10.

The Chamber tries to keep a running list of the local activities, shows, performances, etc. A number of people request that information of the Chamber clerks.

On a long trip at 60 miles an hour, the surface of your car will be .06 degrees (F) hotter because of air friction.
