Twinkles The birds don't lighter covering in summer. But mother nature in her most playful mood apparently doesn't believe in nudism.

Editor Bill Miller of Spearman is campaign manager for both Jimmie Allred and Curtis Douglass. And he now admits that even an editor who messes with politics ought to know that you can't drive two horses to the polls. Some voters to whom you wish to appeal are sure to be against one of your candidates.

Pictures from the horse-and-buggy age remind us that when there was leisure, there were daily newspapers to provide problems for thought. Now we have the problems, but no time to think.

Despite the frankly deceiving nature of the sport, wrestling still seems to be "emarked" for many of the customers' dollars.

Stronger force than electricity found in atom," we read. For instance, in a 90-pound woman on the warpath.

Musing of the moment: Walter Prescott Webb's book, "The Texas Ranger," is being filmed. Shooting the scenes started at Gallup, N. M., "on location."

Brevitorials TRACING THE history of things, including the family tree, isn't always advisable. Rep. Maury Maverick is a fine man and a good legislator, but we doubt that his campaign against removing the hat in elevators will be effective.

SPEAKING OF elevators, there is a racket in which falling out of the things is remunerative. Smart fellows deliberately trip themselves when elevators are not stopped exactly at floor levels.

Folk medicine isn't dead, a survey by an Oklahoma university student shows. Herb doctors are numerous among Indians and Negroes. Ozark folk still use buzzard's feathers to treat rheumatism, catch rainwater on June 1 to remove freckles, smoke fig leaves for asthma, use Irish potato poultices for swellings, rub the tail of a black cat across the eye to cure a sty, and make bitters (tonic) out of many roots.

REPRESENTATIVE ZIONCHECK gives evidence of being considerably less than smart. Not content with one headline, he conjures up a dozen and provokes diplomatic tension. His actions are insignificant; his future may be illuminating.

I Heard . . . Bonnie Rose giving instructions for painting of window screens and other improvements on his building this morning. Said Bonnie, "I want to get all this done so I can go fishing." Ed Dunigan yelled out one of the windows, "Bonnie, you can go now; we don't need you to get this work done."

PET PROJECTS ADD UP TOLL OF TAXPAYER

The well-intentioned citizens of rock-ribbed Maine are furnishing the best candid camera shot of the American system that we have seen in a long time.

It was up in Maine, you will remember, that the government launched the Passamaquoddy project — a gigantic engineering endeavor to harness the Bay of Fundy's tides for production of unlimited power. Millions already have been spent on Passamaquoddy, and a model city has been erected to house the engineers and thousands of workmen.

Here was to be created the first power plant of its kind in the world; that is, if funds continued to pour in for its completion. But they haven't, and that is where Maine comes in.

Hardly had Congress refused to appropriate beyond July 1 for the past project, when Maine voters set up a tremendous howl that echoed down the coast to Washington. At the same time delegations were dispatched to the nation's capital to obtain additional funds.

The heat, for that matter, still is being applied to Congress and the president. And when enough pressure has been exerted, Maine voters quite likely will turn home ward with a promise in their pockets of more millions for Passamaquoddy.

But that, to the country, is not the really important thing. The significant fact is that other states are tarred by the same brush. Northern Florida right now would be content, for instance, with no less than completion of its embryo canal, and the west wants more and more reclamation projects.

Now the question for John Public is just this: How can the costs of government be reduced when local interests perpetually and inexorably apply pressure for this particular community project or that bit of sectional spoils?

For every one of such projects, cut from budgets of state legislatures and Congress, there are several delegations on hand to force the issue; and invariably the visitors are armed with stacks of petitions, signed by no less an important person than Mr. Average Taxpayer himself.

"Cut out any other project you like," these good citizens may argue, "but ours is vital to the continued prosperity of the community."

And so the innocent community interest becomes a special sort of vested interest, posing a new drain on the national pocketbook.

And after a while Mr. Voter wakes up to learn that the services of government must be paid for. He finds that his community can't have its costly improvements and lower taxes, too. But until he does learn this, he will go on paying and paying, and he has little cause for complaint—B. C.

Q. How are ice and snowflakes made in the movies? G. S.

A. Frequently bleached cornflakes and gypsum are used for clean and sparkling snow. Paraffin is successfully used to imitate ice.

Q. Are Flower Sunday and Children's day the same? M. R.

A. Children's day is usually celebrated the second Sunday in June. When the day was first observed flowers were so much emphasized in the service that it was called "Flower Sunday" and in some places it is still so designated.

Q. Did John D. Rockefeller Jr. have his fingerprints taken? J. R.

A. It is probably a quotation from one of Swift's Letters to Stella: Now we are even, quoth Steven, when he gave his wife six blows to one.

Q. Has Cyrano de Bergerac been made into an opera? E. S.

A. There is a new opera of this name by Franco Alfano, founded on Rostand's drama. It had its first performance in Rome, Italy, in January. Dr. Walter Damrosch wrote an opera on this romance which was sung at the Metropolitan opera house in 1913.

Q. When John C. Fremont made his first trip to the Rocky mountains, who acted as guide? B. D.

A. In the first expedition which Fremont made to the Rocky mountains, in 1842, Kit Carson was the guide. Lucian Maxwell was taken as hunter and Charles Russell as topographer.

Q. Please give some information about the large cathedral in Mexico City. M. R.

A. The Cathedral of the City of Mexico stands on or near the site of the Aztec Temple destroyed by Cortez in 1521. The foundations were laid in 1573 and the church was finished about 1811. It is 460 feet long and the height of its towers is 204 feet.

Q. How should a blanket be dried when washed at home? A. H.

A. It should be hung out doors in the shade. Do not wring the blanket out before hanging. Put the blanket evenly over the line, one-half on each side. If it has striped borders, hang so that the stripes are vertical, so that color will not run into the blanket. When the blanket is dry brush with a clean stiff brush or whisk broom to raise the nap.

Q. How did the pointer and setter breeds of dogs originate? G. McM.

A. It is not definitely known exactly when the pointer and setter breeds of dogs originated. The pointer is directly related to the old Spanish pointer which is known to have been in existence as early as 1600 A. D., a time before the advent of quick-firing guns. It is a popular belief that the English setter is either descended from the spaniel family or that both it and the spaniels are of common origin. The Irish setter dates back over several centuries to a period preceding the invention of the fowling piece. It is interesting to note that the attitudes assumed by the pointer and setter when marking down birds are mere modifications of the behavior of a wolf when aware by scent or sight of the near proximity of game.

Q. Who sponsors the Bowery Mission? N. T.

A. The Christian Herald. The mission is 53 years old. Gifts of clothing are sent to it from all parts of the country.

Q. Can plastics be made from sawdust? C. S.

A. The Forest Products Laboratory at Madison, Wis., has developed a process of converting sawdust into a molding powder with plastic properties. The powder is hot-pressed in molds to form sheets, disks, or other shapes having high density, good body, and a glossy surface.

Q. How many persons have traveled over 200 miles an hour by automobile or speed boat? E. H.

A. Within the past five years five men have traveled over 200 miles an hour. With the exception of Sir Malcolm Campbell, all have been killed, three in automobiles and one in a speed boat.

Q. How many tourists visit the White House around Easter-time? E. F.

A. During the month of April 112,430 sightseers visited the Executive Mansion.

Q. How many cities have been built on the reclaimed Pontine marshes? G. G.

A. In the past six years, three towns have been methodically planned and built. They are Littoria, Sabaudia, and Pontinia. Mussolini has recently founded a new town Aprilia, which will be completed in 1937. In 1938, the town of Pozzania will be started. The Pontine marshes are now rich wheat fields.

Q. What are the six fundamental principles of the Constitution of the United States? B. R.

A. The are: representative government; inalienable rights of the individual; independence of the judiciary; system of checks and balances; and joint power of the President and the Senate in the determination of foreign policy.

Q. How long has Walt Disney been making cartoons? E. H.

A. Walt Disney started cartooning in Kansas City in 1921 when he made the Laugh-O-gram series. In October, 1923, he and his brother, Roy, went to Hollywood and produced the Alice Cartoons. The first Mickey Mouse was Steamboat Willie, 1928. The first Silly Symphony was the Skeleton Dance, 1929. The first Silly Symphony in color was Flowers and Trees, 1932.

Q. Did Governor Landon of Kansas serve during the World war? J. H.

A. The Governor was a first lieutenant in the Chemical Warfare service.

Q. Can mosquitoes smell? R. M.

A. Mosquitoes can smell. In fact, it is the odor of the human skin which largely influences their attacks on a human being. Perfume is not generally attractive to insects of the mosquito type. In fact, some perfumed oils, as for example, oil of citronella, are highly distasteful to mosquitoes and are used in mosquito repellents.

Q. In what part of the United States are olives grown commercially? H. C. P.

A. The region in which the olive may be successfully grown to a commercial extent in the United States are confined to portions of California and Arizona.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—One of the yarns you don't hear any more in the gossip trading posts of the capital is the one about Joe Kennedy, ex-chairman of SEC, being made secretary of the treasury.

Tubs of butter have been spread on Mr. Kennedy by writers who dwell on the allegations that Kennedy made a personal sacrifice by accepting the SEC job. They said that it was a fine thing to have such an able, sound, two-fisted millionaire in the government and that it would be good for the country if Roosevelt could recruit more such highminded and sane conservatives, filled with zeal for the public service.

Of course this didn't quite square with the conception of certain cynical insiders.

Kennedy, a Wall street man who had participated in one of the stock market pools exposed by Ferdinand Pecora, was one of the four men who had originally tossed in $10,000 apiece for Roosevelt's pre-convention expenses. Hence these cynics held, he could demand any job he wanted, even in the face of general opposition, and they felt that he came to make the SEC safe for Wall Street.

Be that as it may, if Kennedy made a personal sacrifice, he certainly has been making up for lost time.

He has gone into the corporate reorganization business on a large scale. Prospectus for new securities in such reorganizations must be approved by the SEC, which is loaded with Kennedy's friends, many of them brought here by Kennedy himself. (It is also being remarked in Washington that the Democratic National Committee owes Kennedy money, which gives him access to Jim Farley and the White House.) Chairman James M. Landis was Kennedy's choice as his successor.

Possibly because of his SEC prestige—certainly not in spite of it—bankers chose Kennedy to prepare the new recapitalization scheme of Radio Corporation of America.

Critics suggest that he did little more than "front" for the bankers' plan, but Kennedy, remarking at a stockholders' meeting that "I guess some of you will get a shock," announced his fee as $150,000.

Now he has taken over responsibility for reorganization of the Paramount movie concern and his SEC pals anticipate further fat plums will fall into his lap.

The Italian embassy, where social activity has been at a minimum during the Ethiopian war, is expected soon to bloom out with a series of parties.

Italy, following her military triumph, will need capital for development of Ethiopia. And she is expected, as is customary in such cases, to seek it in the U. S.

Thanks to J. P. Morgan & Co., American citizens hold about $100,000,000 in Italian government bonds, now selling at around 72. This loan was floated after 80 per cent of the Italian war debt to this country had been canceled.

Experts say the Italian budget hasn't actually been balanced for 15 years and that Mussolini's financial troubles are likely to increase. But the ballyhoo for a new private loan is likely to be along any day now.

If people in these new all-glass houses shouldn't throw stones, how can they learn whether the realtor was fibbing regarding the distance from the station?

After Italians do their first Sunday driving in the Ethiopian rains, there probably will be a campaign to force the country back on Haile Selassie.

The Iowa senator, who said America's poor were consuming dog food, himself had a bone to pick with the administration.

Van Gogh, the artist, reputedly cut off his ear and gave it to a girl. Apparently, he was no one to have around at a Brutus declamation.

ROAD RUNNERS COME FROM BEHIND TO BEST AZTECAS 10-9 IN 12TH INNING

'LEFTY' COX AND SUMMERS GO TO TOWN

THREE PITCHERS TAKE MOUND FOR LOCAL NINE

The Pampa Road Runners came from behind last night to defeat the Aztecas of Mexico City in the year's most exciting ball game at Road Runner park. A single by Floyd Lisle in the twelfth-inning drove Sam Hale across the plate to give the Road Runners a 10 to 9 victory.

Tonight at 8:30 o'clock, the same two teams will meet again. Lee Daney, little Indian ace who has seen service in five of the eight games played this season, will oppose "Cheche" Perez, lefthanded star of the Aztecas. Perez spent three seasons with the Port Worth Cats and is going better this season than ever before.

The Aztecas have won 27 games and lost 12 so far this season. They had played some of the strongest teams in the south. On Tuesday night the Mexicans won a 4 to 3 game from the Haliburton Cementers of Duncan, Okla., said to be the strongest semi-pro club in Oklahoma.

Sam Gray, major league veteran, took up mound duties for the Road Runners but was blasted out in the fourth inning after he had allowed five runs to cross the plate in the third and fourth. Gray had worked out only once here before taking the mound and was not ready to go. He had been visiting his father in Oklahoma before coming to Pampa and it was several weeks ago that he pitched his last ball. The veteran still has plenty of speed and curves and, when his fingers toughen, he should give the locals plenty of help.

Big Gene Ledford hurled great relief ball until the ninth when he was taken out for a pinch hitter. He got in trouble in the eighth when two runs were scored on three hits. Carl Stewart relieved the left-hander and got credit for the win. His curve ball was working perfectly and five Mexicans fanned during the four innings Stewart was on the mound.

Manager Ornelas had things his own way until he started throwing home run balls in the eighth. Perez relieved him but was wild and gave way to Carranza, who was charged with the loss. Little Al Summers hit the ball far and wide, collecting five singles on his seven trips to the plate. Lefty Cox was also potent with the willow, registering a single, two doubles and a home run on six trips to the plate. Bailey hit three for five, including a double, and McMary's lone hit was a home run in the eighth which sent two runs across the plate ahead of him.

Pampa's sluggers garnered 21 hits off the three Aztecas while their teammates were getting to the Pampa trio for 15 hits. Ibarra, big catcher, hit a double and two singles and Parro, left fielder, gathered in three singles.

Three sparkling double plays pulled Pampa pitchers out of holes. Hale's defensive work was also brilliant. The veteran made three almost impossible plays and got two men at first out of the three. McMary played a bang-up game at short, getting five assists and three putouts with only a single error. Summers made four outs and four assists with one error.

Outstanding plays of the game were presented by Senor Caballero, center fielder for the Aztecas. He made six putouts and four of them were of the hair-raising variety. Parro, left fielder, opened the game by robbing McNabb of a two-base hit when he made a one-handed stab of his line drive. On the bases, the Aztecas were like jackrabbits. They stretched singles into doubles and once Polido went from second to third after Lisle had caught a foul and fallen over in the attempt. So speedily were the visitors that they caught two Road Runner players, Seitz and Poindexter, off second base.

Although showing a touch of wildness, Gray got past the first two innings with only one hit. He was nicked for three runs and four hits in the third and retired after two runs had crossed the plate in the fourth. A run in the sixth and two more in the eighth gave the Aztecas a six-run lead going into the eighth, the Road Runners having counted in the second on three singles and in the seventh on two singles and a double.

They came the eighth. Bailey opened with a single and Lisle was hit. McMary lifted one over the left field fence. Cox followed with one in the same spot. Poindexter, hitting for Ledford, walked but was caught off second after McNabb had fanned and Summers had singled. Seitz walked and Hale came thru with a timely double to bring in the tying runs, Seitz going all the way from first on the hit. Bailey fanned for the last out of the inning. Carranza was then on the mound.

Stewart took up the hurling assignment for the Road Runners. He walked Ornelas. Parro singled. McNabb fumbled the ball and Ornelas scored. The Road Runners came back with the tying count when Lisle singled and Cox doubled.

Stewart allowed only two hits the rest of the way. The Road Runners had a golden opportunity to end the game in the 10th when a single and two walks filled the bases. The twelfth inning opened with Summers getting his fifth consecutive single. Seitz fanned. Hale singled. Bailey was safe on a fielders choice, Summers being caught at the plate,

CENTENNIAL SEEKS TO BRING WALKER CUP TEAM TO TEXAS

By FELIX R. M'KNIGHT DALLAS, May 14. (AP)—Negotiations are simmering to bring John Bull's British Walker cup golf team here for an exhibition match with a Texas cup team. . . A Centennial stunt planned for September at the Texas Golf Club is the Walker cup series and the National amateur tournament. A cablegram has been dispatched to the royal and ancient club moguls. . . No answer yet from the Britishers. . . Matches, both singles and doubles, would be staged at the Brook Hollow golf club here over a two-day period.

Southwest conference fathers made no special dispensation in the case of Jack Morrison, son of Ray Morrison, in allowing him three years of varsity competition at Southern Methodist via the transfer route from Vanderbilt. . . So says Dr. John S. McIntosh, S. M. U. representative who attended the conference confab. . . "The conference adopted a general rule which will apply in all similar cases," said McIntosh. "If official notice is made on thirty-day notice, the conference can, by unanimous vote, declare a transfer from another school eligible providing there is absolutely no trace of evidence of proselyting.

"The action, however, can be taken only at a regular meeting of conference faculty representatives in the fall or spring. The transferring player also must pay a penalty in that a year's eligibility is counted against him if he participated in Freshman sports at the school from which he transferred."

Thus, young Morrison has only and. Hale taking second on two, Lisle came through with a single over short and Hale scored the winning run.

OLLERS SMACK SHIPPERS 2-0 WITH A HOMER

HOUSTON TAKES 6 TO 3 GAME FROM DALLAS

(By The Associated Press) Today's games at Houston at Dallas. Galveston at Fort Worth. San Antonio at Oklahoma City. Beaumont at Tulsa.

A first inning home run came close to topping the Beaumont Exporters off the top position in the Texas league race. Hal Patchett clouted a round-tripper after Ivan Crawford drew a pass to give the Tulsa Oilers a 2-0 win over the Exporters last night. Then the teams played scoreless ball for eight innings as Miltstead and Gill staged a pitchers' battle. The loss was the first of the season for Gill.

The Houston Buffs, at the heels of the Exporters, downed the Dallas Steers, 6-4. Mike Cevengros gave up three runs in the first inning to erase a two-run lead and then settled down to come out on top in a mound duel with Sal Glatto, the third Dallas hurler to go into the game.

Eleven hits were worth only one run to the Fort Worth Cats and they dropped a contest to Galveston, 5-1, for their sixth consecutive spanking in their current losing streak. The winners made their runs on 10 hits. Abe Miller's seven hit ball had fine backing as he pitched the San Antonio Missions to a 7-1 victory over the Oklahoma City Indians. The Indians went hitless until Ray Flood connected for a double in the fourth and were unable to score until the eighth.

Skelly Defeats Coltexo 8 to 3

Playground ball is popular under the lights at the Skelly Schafer plant again this year. On Tuesday night the Skelly Oilers took an 8 to 3 game from the Coltexo Carbon of LeFors. Eyes again showed up as a strong pitcher, allowing the visitors only three hits. He fanned nine batters. Johnson was the catcher. Phillips and Hoyt worked for the carbon workers. Phillips let the Skelly sluggers down with only eight hits, but they were timely blows. A large crowd witnessed the game.

WINS NET TITLE AUSTIN, May 14. (AP)—Lindsay Franklin, University of Texas net captain, held the Southwest conference tennis singles title today. In a match delayed intermittently by rain, Franklin defeated Edgar Wheeler, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4. Franklin and Wheeler won the doubles title last week in matches at Dallas in which Carl Smalley and Gordon Pease, also of the University of Texas, were runners-up.

BEES TROUCE PIRATES 4-3 IN 10 FRAMES

YANKEES AND RED SOX AGAIN CHALK UP VICTORIES

By HUGH S. FULLERTON Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer One notch above all the other surprises of the major league baseball season, which include the miserable showings of last year's world series rivals, the Tigers and Cubs, the uncertain performances of the Giants and the complete failure of the Browns hurling corps, comes the showing of the Boston Bees.

A hopeless tall order a year ago the reorganized Bees have been showing signs of rejuvenation that can't be explained entirely by the new players they have acquired. By taking an exciting ten-inning decision from the Pirates yesterday, 4 to 3, the Bees moved into fifth place in the National league ahead of Cincinnati's Reds, who took a 9 to 7 pounding from the Phillies. . . More orthodox performances were seen in the American league where the Yankees and Red Sox, running first and second, won the only other games that escaped rids.

The Yanks trimmed the Browns 4-1 behind Monte Pearson's flinging while the Red Sox defeated the Tigers 3 to 1. . . Not only have the Bees won 11 out of 23 games thus far to place just a game behind the Cubs, but their two ties and the overtime triumph yesterday indicate they have what it takes to come through in the clutch. The first Boston runs came in the fourth, when Al Lopez smacked a homer with one on, and gave the Bees a 1-0 lead. The Bees tied it up in the next inning, then Waite Hoyt and Danny MacFayden hooked up in a relief hurling duel that wasn't decided until Hoyt gave up his first hit in the tenth.

"Deacon Danny" worked his rival for a pass start, but the extra frame he pitched in the ninth was a sacrifice. At the crucial moment Baxter Jordan drove a hot single through the infield to end the ball game.

PeeWees, Little Road Runners to Play on Sunday

Hoover will play at Phillips and the Little Road Runners will play on the Magnolia Peeewe's diamond in the two junior baseball league games Sunday afternoon. . . Manager George Gaver of Canadian said yesterday that the Cubs would be unable to play again Sunday because no diamond is available. The boys have not practiced for a week. Negotiations for another diamond are under way and will likely be successful, the manager reported. School which closes this week in Canadian also interfered with practice sessions. As soon as school is out, the boys will reorganize, sign up new players and start all over again, it was said. They have no intention of quitting the league. . . Plans to bring two or three other teams into the league are under way. It is believed that when school is out, several junior teams in this section will join the loop.

Last Sunday, the Little Road Runners swapped Hoover, and the Peeewe's trounced Phillips. H. J. Johnson of the Hoover team suffered an injured thumb and is not expected to play Sunday. The teams will be evenly matched in both games. Hoover and Phillips should play a tight game, and the Peeewe's and the bird boys should play a much closer affair than they did 2 weeks ago when the Little Road Runners defeated the Peeewe's 14 to 4 by scoring 9 unearned runs on a flock of walks and errors. The Peeewe's are expected to batter down and make it interesting for their larger foes who are undefeated in the league. The Peeewe's have walloped every club in the league except the bird boys in scheduled and practice games.

Cleveland Seeks To Stop Heckling Of Johnny Allen

Allen Can't Take It And Wants Riding Stopped

By ALAN GOULD Associated Press Sports Editor NEW YORK, May 14. (AP)—Cleveland's front office may be thoroughly justified in trying to put a judicial block on the "heckling" of Johnny Allen, the temperamental right-hander obtained in a trade with the New York Yankees, but there are pretty good reasons for suspecting it may prove a boomerang.

In the first place the publicity attached to the grievance, filed with President Will Harridge of the American League, hardly will soften the rival attitude or tactics so far as Allen is concerned. Nor can Harridge interfere without the risk of setting up a dangerous precedent of running counter to some of the most time-honored baseball traditions.

The none-too-gentle art of "riding" the opposition in professional baseball is firmly established as a part of the game. The question of fairness or unfairness is rarely raised in the national pastime. The payoff is on the result and not the methods by which they are obtained.

In England—or in most other sports, for that matter—it isn't cricket" to heckle opposing players, resort to trickery or employ sharp practice of any kind in order to win. But custom and tradition have validated tactics on the diamond that would be outlawed most anywhere else in athletics.

It's not unethical, but smart, for instance, if you can steal the other team's signals and profit therefrom. In the good old days certain players were noted for their ability to solve rival signs. For that reason most teams develop alternate sets of signals, often switching in the middle of a game to avoid detection.

Baseball coaches or "jockeys" are rated largely on their ability to upset opposing players, particularly the pitcher. The umpires, of course, have authority to curb too much "riding" from the baselines or the bench. But the arbiters are so often the targets for abuse themselves that they are not unwilling at times to hear it heaped upon the players.

In a sporting business where the competition is so keen, little consideration is given to the athlete with a sensitive soul. There have been instances where top-notch players quit because they could not stand the razzing. It, as in Allen's case, there's a particular method of getting the player's goat, it is not likely to be overlooked by the more rugged individualists.

Occasionally the "riding" of the opposition has had a reverse effect from the one sought. The tactics of 1925 attributed their failure to win the pennant to excessive "jockeying." That year the A's led the league when they started their last western swing in August. They had one of the game's foremost jockeys in Wally French, former West Pointer. But they made the mistake of turning French loose on George Sisler of the Browns and then on Ty Cobb of the Tigers. The reaction of both stars was to play their heads off and contribute largely to a string of setbacks which knocked the A's out of the running.

Baseball crowds share with the players the manifestations peculiar to the game. As Rogers Hornsby once put it, "they want you to doff your cap one day and take off your uniform the next." He might also have added: "There's no place in big league baseball for a guy who can't take it."

YESTERDAY'S STARS (By The Associated Press) Baxter Jordan and Al Lopez, Bees—Former singled home winning run against Pirates in tenth. Latter hit home run with one on. Sylvester Johnson, Phillies—Drove in winning runs in 9-7 victory over Reds. Bill Werber, Red Sox—His home run accounted for all of Boston's runs. Monte Pearson, Yankees—Checked-off Browns with six hits and fanned six.

If Mrs. Geo. P. Grout will call at the office of the Pampa Daily News she will receive a free ticket to see "Silly Billies," showing at the La Nora theater Friday or Saturday.

At La Nora
Perhaps the funniest and certainly the most original of all Wheeler and Woolsey's screen offerings is "Silly Billies," their newest RKO Radio vehicle which opens Friday at the La Nora theater.

The two comedy clowns tap a virgin field in using the picturesque covered-wagon era as a setting for their riotous nonsense. In the roles of a pair of quack dentists they set forth to pull all the teeth in the wild and woolly West, and quite naturally they find themselves involved in trouble up to their necks.

They rent an office in a ghost-town; save a wagon-train from an Indian attack; narrowly escape lynching, drowning in a quicksand, burning at the stake and other fates. These episodes come thick and fast throughout the plot, and have been deftly handled to maintain the laughter level of the film at a high point.

Petite Dorothy Lee, who has played the feminine lead in nearly all of the famous mirthmakers' pictures, again supplies the love interest as a young schoolmarm on her way to the California gold fields. Harry Woods and Ethan Laidlaw make a formidable pair of renegade heavies, and little Delmar Watson, Chief Thunderbird and Jim Thorpe, the noted Indian athletes, head the supporting cast along with the largest group of extra players ever to appear in a Wheeler and Woolsey picture.

Fletcher Claims Republican Mail Was Mutilated

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the republican national committee charged today in an open letter to Postmaster General Farley that republican campaign matter had been "mutilated" while in the mails.

Fletcher asked Farley to "give the necessary orders to end such tactics."

Making public the letter, Fletcher also issued a statement saying he was "certain that the classified civil service personnel of the postal service is both honest and efficient."

The letter to Farley mentioned specifically alleged tampering with a publication called "uncensored," which was mailed to Miss Lida Frost of Lebanon, Ohio, about April 1.

"Miss Frost informs us that when the envelope was received by her the copy of 'uncensored' had been censored," said Fletcher. "A page had been mutilated. The matter deleted consisted of copies of two letters from the democratic commit-

RAILROAD COMMISSION HEARING IS LENGTHY—WATER EXEMPTIONS VITAL, MANY PRODUCERS CLAIM

AMARILLO, May 14.—Consideration of Panhandle oil field problems continued today before the Railroad commission, following intensive sessions Tuesday, when water exemptions were chiefly considered.

The hearing call also included gas-oil ratios, Sundry area conditions, and bradenhead allowances.

The hearing started in the morning and continued through a night session before Col. Ernest O. Thompson, Railroad commission chairman; V. E. Cottingham, director of production, and A. M. Crowell, gas engineer.

Representing the attorney general's department were Madden C. Hill and Col. Clark Wrenn.

Consideration of water exemptions in fixing allowances required much of the day session. Collin C. Ray, petroleum engineer of the Skelly Oil & Gas company, was the first to testify. He testified concerning four wells, three of which he said were crevice wells in Hutchinson county and the other a dolomite well in Gray county. He contended that it was not possible to plug off the water and still produce oil, but recommended that no exempt well be allowed to produce more than one hundred barrels of oil daily.

The rest of the morning period in the city auditorium was consumed by Don Emery, general counsel for the Phillips Petroleum company, and T. C. Craig, Phillips geologist whom he questioned. Mr. Emery sought to prove that most of the Phillips water exempt wells were either offset by their own wells or other water exempt producers, and to show that plugging would cut off oil flow because oil saturation extended to the bottom of the holes.

It was denied that the wells could have been completed to avoid making water.

In a detailed report by Mr. Crowell, it was shown that the Panhandle gas field contains 1,510,227 acres, on which the average rock pressure is now 31.5 pounds.

The average gas-oil ratio for all oil wells producing from the lime is 6,000 cubic feet to the barrels, the wells in the granite wash produce at average of 9,000 cubic feet per barrel and the over-all average ratio for the field is 7,000.

Eighty-three per cent of the wells in the field have ratios of 8,000 to 1 and below and produce 86 per cent of the oil, 20 per cent of gas and 44 per cent of the water.

Sixty-six per cent of the total casing head gas processed daily, 259,407,000 cubic feet is produced from oil wells operating and prorated according to a common field factor. The balance, 129,375,000 cubic feet, is produced from wells operating under a water exemption.

In August of 1935 there were 134 wells on the oil schedule operating with a ratio in excess of 100,000 cubic feet per barrel. In March, 1936, there were only 24 and they are prorated as gas wells.

Testimony concerning the difficulty of producing wells without water exemptions was also given by H. E. Rodgers, consulting engineer; Joe Reeves, production superintendent for the King Oil company; F. W. Bond, Shell Petroleum company; Mel B. Davis, president of LeFors Petroleum company; and H. M. Vaughn, Perkins Oil company. Boyer. Interrogators included William Boyce, Senator Clint C. Small, and J. C. Pastnow at yesterday's sessions. Sharp cross-examination was made at important points by commission officials and representatives of the attorney general's department.

"Whipping off the hat actually inconveniences the ladies," he concluded. "They frequently get poked in the eye. The whole thing is a solemn mockery of hollow formula long dead."

President Roosevelt took notice of the hat issue when a woman reporter asked him if he had joined the SPLWETOHE.

Inquiring what it was, he was told—"society for the protection of ladies whose eyes have been blackened by gentlemen taking off hats in elevators."

He said he would have to put the situation under government regulation.

EFFECT OF ALCOHOLIC JAG ON BRAIN RECORDED BY MACHINE

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
KANSAS CITY, May 14. (AP)—Un- easy "beats" the head of man or woman in an alcoholic jag, as disclosed today by the electro-encephalograph at the American Medical association meeting here.

The jag beats are steady, electric pulsations, with a whopping big potential. Both drunkenness and the "hangover" are analyzed electrically for the first time with this new instrument of science.

The electroencephalograph, a machine that records the electric currents flowing incessantly from the human brain was explained by a group of Harvard medical school scientists. It shows that each individual has his own pattern, an electric "fingerprint." This is distinct like finger prints, but unlike them changes with conduct, emotions and thoughts.

The normal brain beats are two kinds, one about 10 a second flowing from near the top of the brain, the other about 25 a second from the motor area of the brain.

The potentials of normal brain beats were about 50 microvolts. But in stupor they jumped to 200 microvolts. Also they increased tremendously in size. The dead drunk beats ran two per second against a normal 10 a second. In the hangover, 11 hours later, the brain beats subsided to nearly normal size, but ran at double speed, about 23 a second.

The report was made by Frederick A. Gibbs, William G. Lennox, Hallowell Davis, Erlan L. Gibbs and Albert Grass.

It is hoped to find medical diagnostic use for the electro-encephalograph.

BORAH CALLS REPUBLICANS 'INTELLECTUALLY DISHONEST'

NEGRO VOTERS LIED TO, SAYS IDAHO SOLON

PARTY LEADERSHIP IS 'HYPOCRITICAL' HE CLAIMS

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—Senator Borah's latest attack on the Republican leadership had many in the capital guessing today about his intentions in the Cleveland convention next month and thereafter. His statement, in comment on the reverse he suffered in his primary contest with the regular party organization in Ohio on Tuesday, said negro voters had been told "The Republican party will pass the (Wagner-Costigan) anti-lynching bill."

The Idahoan has long opposed this legislation on grounds of unconstitutionality. He said it "strikes at the very heart of state sovereignty."

He asserted that by advocating it, the men "who are in control of the party and who will likely be in control of the convention, will write its platform and name its candidate, have already demonstrated their care nothing about constitutional integrity or the preservation of state's rights, that their talk on this subject is hypocritical and intellectually dishonest."

The statement was the latest contribution to the uncertain situation within the party. Some weeks ago Borah said he would reserve the right to look over the candidate before pledging support.

No Agreement Seen
Although the last major Republican primary contest has passed, leaders seemed little nearer agreement today about the prospects for Cleveland than in months past.

If the pre-convention struggles together proved anything finally, it evidently was that the delegates would wield power to an unusual extent. Of the 860 so far selected, 719 are unbound.

None of the possibilities for the presidential nomination has claimed a delegate strength approaching the necessary majority, 501 of the 1,001 total.

Supporters of Governor Landon of Kansas have predicted his nomination on an early ballot, however. Against him, some of the Borah leaders have been outspoken.

Forces favoring Colonel Frank Knox of Illinois or Hopkins and others, have conceded nothing to the claims by Landon men.

Knox, continuing his campaign with an address last night at Seattle, declared he stood "uncompromisingly for a budget to be balanced immediately."

"I believe in a sound and stabilized currency based upon gold, and made convertible into gold as swiftly as possible," he said. "I am violently and unalterably opposed to the employment of coercion either in business or agriculture as a remedy for economic ills."

Points To Zioncheck
Referring to the recent troubles of Rep. Zioncheck (D., Wash.), whose home town is Seattle, Colonel Knox said the congressman's "agitations have been no more farcical than those of Hopkins and Twigwell and the other leading lights of the new deal hierarchy."

With convention-time drawing nearer the Democrats are working to line up an all-Roosevelt demonstration. Six delegates to be named today in Vermont will bring the list to date to 640 of the 1,100 total.

Some party leaders who have opposed the new deal or certain of its policies are included. Whether they will seek to dissent at Philadelphia remains to be seen.

It had appeared possible that Alfred E. Smith, as a member of the New York delegation, might make some protest move there. Now there seems to be little likelihood of his attending. He has yet to indicate whether he will participate in the campaign itself.

How Borah will attempt to exert his influence in the convention and the campaign presents a comparable question for the Republicans. He is expected to be at Cleveland, but not as a delegate.

DANCER ARRESTED
SAN FRANCISCO, May 14 (AP)—A dancer whose blazing torch turned a crowded night club into an inferno that killed four persons and injured 12 was under arrest today as police sought to determine responsibility and pondered new ordinances to prevent a similar tragedy in other night clubs. Betty Blossom, torch dancer, was booked on a charge of violating a city ordinance prohibiting the use of an open flame in public without a permit. She was released on $25 bail.

TUGWELL TO TESTIFY
WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—The struggle centering about the proposed $1,425,000,000 relief appropriation became a three-cornered one today as Rexford G. Tugwell was invited to Capitol Hill to testify about future financing of his Resettlement administration.

Chapter Five. TO THE DEFENSE.

Now they were carrying the clown. A giant of a man was carrying him as if he had been a child. The clown's head hung back heavily. His gay clothes were muddy, and there was a bright red stain on his little tight white cap. He looked thin and young, almost as young as the girl who ran beside him.

Into the van the giant carried the clown, but when the girl would have followed them the man shut the doors, remaining inside. The girl stood on the steps of the van, beating on the doors.

"Let me in!" she sobbed. "Let me in!"

The exit of the tent had been closed behind Dirk. The crowd had retreated inside, and the noise of the show had begun again, the band—louder than ever—the applause.

Dirk stood watching the girl in her long green cloak, hearing the sound of her fists on the van doors, and her wild sobbing cry. Why wouldn't she let her in? Perhaps the thing was too terrible for her to see. Perhaps if he spoke to her he might persuade her, induce her to come away.

He was crossing the lot, when the doors of the van reopened. The girl who had stepped back before them, started in. Instantly the figure of the man blocked her way. In the lights of the van Dirk saw him looking at the girl, saw her striving to press past him, matching her strength against him.

Suddenly, as one might expect a kitten, he cringed, her arm, and flung her from the step. Then with an oath he stepped down.

She had fallen sideways, landing against the wall of a near-by tent. And now with equal suddenness the man was sprawled at her feet, and Dirk, his fist smarting from contact with that bulbous nose, was saying to the girl.

"Are you hurt? Did he hurt you?" She looked down at the man, then up at Dirk. There was something wild and breathless about her.

Instantly she was on the step of the van, beating again on the doors. They opened and she went in. The doors closed.

Dirk was aware that Madame Chowdhury was looking out the back door of her tent where the girl had fallen. She stood watching the man who was rising slowly, shaking his head as if gnats or cobwebs bothered him. She leaned over, appeared to discover who he was.

"Well, I'll be damned," said Madame Chowdhury.

Looking up she saw Dirk, and widened the aperture in which she stood.

"Come in here," she said, and as Dirk made no move to obey, "I think the person you were looking for is here."

Dirk went in, though he wanted to wait for the girl to come out of the van. He was wanted to guard the van while she was in it. He said to Madame Chowdhury, "There's no one here."

"I know," buttoning the flap. "But they are on the way. I see all things. Besides, when he comes to, nodding toward the man lying outside, "he'll call a cop. You are brave," she smiled. "Did he try to knock you out here? Stay with me. You don't understand. He will call a cop. Or maybe he will pull a gun."

"I suppose he'll pull it on her," said Dirk.

"On her? On who?" asked Madame Chowdhury. So she didn't know everything.

"On Firefly," he answered, unbuttoning the flap.

"Ah," said Madame Chowdhury, nodding sagely, as if she had made the discovery by looking into his depths. "She's right. You're as big a fool as Pipolo. No, don't go out there. She will lock the door. She is safe."

"Pipolo?" repeated Dirk. Thank God, she locks on vans, nothing but trouble—wherever there are fools.

"If Pipolo is the clown," said Dirk, "he won't fight for her tonight."

"I know," said Madame. "Did I not read this accident in the stars, Dirk? It's in the stars, and warn them?"

"You could have read it in the mud," said Dirk. "If Pipolo fights for her..."

"Pipolo is the trapezist," she answered. "She makes nothing but trouble. She's a good swimmer, but how it would be. And now—you."

She laid a hand on Dirk's shoulder.

Torrobain was the man lying outside. Dirk had some gifts of divination himself. He wanted to ask her about Torrobain, about the girl. But he knew, looking into her face, that she would tell him nothing—or lies. The girl... She was no trouble-maker. She was lovely. Out of place here.

Madame Chowdhury's eyes were closed. "Now I understand the cards," she said, and pointed to them arranged about the lamp. Her finger touched the King of Hearts.

"You!" Dirk murmured that she flattered him.

"But do you see? You will get a message soon—the message from the stars. All that you desire will follow, when you heed that message. A woman will bring it. A fair woman. Very pale. Very fair."

She opened her arms, closing her eyes.

"Ask me more. Ask me of all things. Past. Future."

There was a sound in the lot, the sound of a door opening. Dirk had turned toward it when a clear voice came from the front of the tent.

"As I'm a good swimmer or am I?" It was Natalie Page, her red hair wet with rain, her cloak of pink laffeta flying away from her damp organdie ruffles. She wrinkled her nose, holding out a pink-slipped foot for Dirk's inspection. There was mud on it.

"Freddy wouldn't carry me," she explained. "He preferred to carry Isabel. I told him I was going to tell you."

"You should have stayed on the planks," said Madame Chowdhury. She was standing with her forefinger pressed on the Queen of Spades.

The first cargo-laden steamer was expected Saturday at the celebration's climax.

ALL RECORDS ARE SMASHED BY ZEPPELIN

HINDENBURG ARRIVES BACK AT HOME BASE

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER. (Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)

FRANKFURT-ON-THE-MAIN, Germany, May 14.—Surpassing all records for both eastward and westward crossings of the Atlantic, the giant German Zeppelin, Hindenburg, touched ground at 5:45 a. m. (10:45 p. m. Wednesday, CST) to end its first flight from America.

The official flying time for the voyage from Lakehurst, N. J., was given as 49 hours, three minutes, during which the great air cruiser covered 6,870 kilometers (4,268.75 miles).

With its landing mechanism functioning perfectly, the Hindenburg rested in its vast new hangar by 6:10 a. m., signaling completion of its maiden round-trip between Germany and the United States with passengers, mails and freight. Despite the early hour of its arrival, a great crowd gathered at the airfield and a Nazi band played lusty airs.

The Hindenburg's return flight in official flying time of 49 hours, three minutes bettered the previous record for a lighter-than-air craft voyage from America to Germany, set by the Graf Zeppelin in August, 1929, with a 54-hour trip. The previous westbound record was 81 hours, 17 minutes, set by the Los Angeles. The French liner, Normandie, holds the ship record for four days, 11 hours, 42 minutes.

Municipal officials arranged a city hall reception in honor of Dr. Hugo Eckener, president of the Zeppelin company, and Capt. Ernst Lehmann, commander of the Hindenburg.

Dr. Eckener and Capt. Lehmann were given silver cups from state Governor Jacob Sprenger in the official reception, but Eckener was moved again into the background. The Nazi governor, in the presence of other state functionaries, turned to Lehmann and welcomed him as commander of the Hindenburg. The captain, speaking in the name of the Hindenburg's crew, replied to the greetings during the reception.

Despite previous reports from Zeppelin headquarters that all would be well when the veteran "admiral of the air" returned, Eckener's name was omitted again from the report of the official German news agency and newspapers which printed an interview with Lehmann.

The absence of Dr. Eckener's name

from the press was interpreted by informed sources as a clear indication the German air pioneer was still out of favor after his recent differences with the propaganda ministry.

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Of Pain

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount which often smart and burn, 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills.

Dirk was aware that Madame Chowdhury was looking out the back door of her tent where the girl had fallen. She stood watching the man who was rising slowly, shaking his head as if gnats or cobwebs bothered him. She leaned over, appeared to discover who he was.

"Well, I'll be damned," said Madame Chowdhury.

Looking up she saw Dirk, and widened the aperture in which she stood.

"Come in here," she said, and as Dirk made no move to obey, "I think the person you were looking for is here."

Dirk went in, though he wanted to wait for the girl to come out of the van. He was wanted to guard the van while she was in it. He said to Madame Chowdhury, "There's no one here."

"I know," buttoning the flap. "But they are on the way. I see all things. Besides, when he comes to, nodding toward the man lying outside, "he'll call a cop. You are brave," she smiled. "Did he try to knock you out here? Stay with me. You don't understand. He will call a cop. Or maybe he will pull a gun."

"I suppose he'll pull it on her," said Dirk.

"On her? On who?" asked Madame Chowdhury. So she didn't know everything.

"On Firefly," he answered, unbuttoning the flap.

"Ah," said Madame Chowdhury, nodding sagely, as if she had made the discovery by looking into his depths. "She's right. You're as big a fool as Pipolo. No, don't go out there. She will lock the door. She is safe."

"Pipolo?" repeated Dirk. Thank God, she locks on vans, nothing but trouble—wherever there are fools.

"If Pipolo is the clown," said Dirk, "he won't fight for her tonight."

"I know," said Madame. "Did I not read this accident in the stars, Dirk? It's in the stars, and warn them?"

"You could have read it in the mud," said Dirk. "If Pipolo fights for her..."

"Pipolo is the trapezist," she answered. "She makes nothing but trouble. She's a good swimmer, but how it would be. And now—you."

She laid a hand on Dirk's shoulder.

Torrobain was the man lying outside. Dirk had some gifts of divination himself. He wanted to ask her about Torrobain, about the girl. But he knew, looking into her face, that she would tell him nothing—or lies. The girl... She was no trouble-maker. She was lovely. Out of place here.

Madame Chowdhury's eyes were closed. "Now I understand the cards," she said, and pointed to them arranged about the lamp. Her finger touched the King of Hearts.

"You!" Dirk murmured that she flattered him.

"But do you see? You will get a message soon—the message from the stars. All that you desire will follow, when you heed that message. A woman will bring it. A fair woman. Very pale. Very fair."

She opened her arms, closing her eyes.

"Ask me more. Ask me of all things. Past. Future."

There was a sound in the lot, the sound of a door opening. Dirk had turned toward it when a clear voice came from the front of the tent.

"As I'm a good swimmer or am I?" It was Natalie Page, her red hair wet with rain, her cloak of pink laffeta flying away from her damp organdie ruffles. She wrinkled her nose, holding out a pink-slipped foot for Dirk's inspection. There was mud on it.

"Freddy wouldn't carry me," she explained. "He preferred to carry Isabel. I told him I was going to tell you."

"You should have stayed on the planks," said Madame Chowdhury. She was standing with her forefinger pressed on the Queen of Spades.

Alfred to Open New Port City

BROWNSVILLE, May 14 (AP)—This fledgling port city was ready today for the greatest celebration in its history—the official three-day observance of the coming of deep water transportation.

Governor James V. Allred will arrive by plane to launch the celebration tonight with the coronation of the queen. Standing by in the new port were the United States coast guard cutter, Saranac, the coast guard patrol boat, Woodbury, and the destroyer, Dickerson.

The oil tanker, New Jersey, was steaming toward the port.

The first cargo-laden steamer was expected Saturday at the celebration's climax.

ALL RECORDS ARE SMASHED BY ZEPPELIN

HINDENBURG ARRIVES BACK AT HOME BASE

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER. (Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)

FRANKFURT-ON-THE-MAIN, Germany, May 14.—Surpassing all records for both eastward and westward crossings of the Atlantic, the giant German Zeppelin, Hindenburg, touched ground at 5:45 a. m. (10:45 p. m. Wednesday, CST) to end its first flight from America.

The official flying time for the voyage from Lakehurst, N. J., was given as 49 hours, three minutes, during which the great air cruiser covered 6,870 kilometers (4,268.75 miles).

With its landing mechanism functioning perfectly, the Hindenburg rested in its vast new hangar by 6:10 a. m., signaling completion of its maiden round-trip between Germany and the United States with passengers, mails and freight. Despite the early hour of its arrival, a great crowd gathered at the airfield and a Nazi band played lusty airs.

The Hindenburg's return flight in official flying time of 49 hours, three minutes bettered the previous record for a lighter-than-air craft voyage from America to Germany, set by the Graf Zeppelin in August, 1929, with a 54-hour trip. The previous westbound record was 81 hours, 17 minutes, set by the Los Angeles. The French liner, Normandie, holds the ship record for four days, 11 hours, 42 minutes.

Municipal officials arranged a city hall reception in honor of Dr. Hugo Eckener, president of the Zeppelin company, and Capt. Ernst Lehmann, commander of the Hindenburg.

Dr. Eckener and Capt. Lehmann were given silver cups from state Governor Jacob Sprenger in the official reception, but Eckener was moved again into the background. The Nazi governor, in the presence of other state functionaries, turned to Lehmann and welcomed him as commander of the Hindenburg. The captain, speaking in the name of the Hindenburg's crew, replied to the greetings during the reception.

Despite previous reports from Zeppelin headquarters that all would be well when the veteran "admiral of the air" returned, Eckener's name was omitted again from the report of the official German news agency and newspapers which printed an interview with Lehmann.

The absence of Dr. Eckener's name

from the press was interpreted by informed sources as a clear indication the German air pioneer was still out of favor after his recent differences with the propaganda ministry.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Of Pain

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount which often smart and burn, 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills.

ROBINSON IS SENTENCED TO LIFE IN PEN

NEVER WILL BE ELIGIBLE FOR PAROLE SAY OFFICERS

ATLANTA, Ga., May 14 (AP)—The last of the kidnapers of the "big money" abducting era of 1933-35 to be captured was hustled under heavy guard today to the steel and stone of Atlanta federal penitentiary.

Thomas H. Robinson Jr., 29, under sentence of life imprisonment, was put aboard a train for Atlanta at Louisville, Ky., late yesterday after he pleaded guilty to a charge of kidnaping Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll in 1934 for $50,000 ransom.

His arraignment and sentencing by Federal Judge Elwood Hamilton came within 48 hours of his arrest by federal agents in Glendale, Calif.

In the ten preceding days the department of justice agents had brought to heel Alvin Karpis and Harry Campbell, wanted for the $200,000 Edward G. Bremer and William Hamm kidnapings of Minnesota.

Arraignment of Robinson, who evaded capture for 19 months while spending the ransom freely in night clubs and "hot spots" from one side of the nation to the other, was delayed to await arrival from Nashville, Tenn., of his father and mother.

The parents, after earlier urging an insanity plea to escape a possible sentence to death in the electric chair, were reported to have counseled the confession in hopes their son might win a parole after serving 15 years. Federal officials said, however, Robinson never would be eligible for parole.

Mrs. Stoll, wife of a wealthy oil executive, threatened by her captor during her imprisonment in an Indianapolis apartment, which would permit a death sentence under the Lindbergh law.

Conventions in Tulsa Precede Show's Opening

TULSA, Okla., May 14 (AP)—Scores of technologists and field engineers thronged special group sessions of the mid-year meeting of the American Petroleum Institute today while others gathered for the annual convention of the National Gasoline Association of America.

Both the A. P. I. and the N. G. A. A. meetings were forerunners of the ninth International Petroleum exposition, a world's fair of the oil business expected to attract many thousands of oil men starting Saturday.

Today's A. P. I. meetings were formal sessions of the divisions of production and refining, concerned with drilling and production practices and the general subject of lubrication.

The National Gasoline association had before it predictions from T. R. Goebel of the Skelly Oil company, Tulsa, that "We have come through the doldrums of the depression in fine shape and the problems before us do not seem nearly as insurmountable now as they did a year ago."

A similar view of the situation was taken by H. T. Ashton of the Socony-Vacuum Oil company, who was a leader in the successful move to change the term "casinghead gasoline" to "natural gasoline," the name which later was adopted in the official title of the organization.

Negroes Win 2 Games at Borger

The Kansas City Monarchs, negro champions, apparently like the Pampa handle, they stopped over in Pampa Monday night to defeat the Pampa-Daniger Road Runners and then went over to Borger and took a pair of games from the Huber Blackfacs.

The game Tuesday night was a battle all the way with the Negro champions finally winning, 5 to 1. Last night the game turned into a slugfest with the champions coming out on top by a score of 13 to 10.

Road Runner officials are already working to have the Monarchs back here for at least two games in the fall.

Mrs. Winger Is Leading in West Texas Tournament

MINERAL WELLS, May 14 (AP)—Mrs. R. E. Winger, star Fort Worth shotmaker, led two score contests today into match play today for the West Texas Women Golf association tournament crown.

Last year Mrs. Winger was runner-up in the tournament to Mrs. Frank Goldwaite of Fort Worth Curtis cup team member. Yesterday she strengthened her position as favorite to win the title, taking medalist honors, with an 84, two strokes than her two nearest rivals.

Mrs. Theron Hicks, Big Spring, and Mrs. Will O'Connell, San Angelo, turned in eighty sixes in the qualifying championship round.

Other top scores were: Mrs. W. K. Powell, San Angelo, 88; Mrs. George Thompson, Jr., and Mrs. F. C. Rochon, Fort Worth, 89; and Mrs. J. W. Ross, Amarillo, and Mrs. Sam O'Neal, Midland, 92.

Mrs. Alfred E. Cowan of Miami underwent a major operation this morning at Pampa-Jarratt hospital. Her condition at noon was favorable.

CONVICTS

toughest we had here." The two guards at their mercy were Tuck Cope and Victor Conn. Another hostage, W. W. Gossett, was wounded in an exchange of shots as the breakers sped away from the brickyard towers.

Their plot well laid, the two dozen desperado men—isolated from the 5,000 others because they were "tougher"—chose the noon hour yesterday to come out with the knives and crude dirks they had made. They seized the four guards while they were at lunch.

Tower guards tossed down rifles and pistols in answer to the pleading of one of the shields—who spoke with a knife at his throat and an escaping convict on each side.

The car from which Powell's body was tumbled was last seen speeding through a McAlester side street. The hands of the two remaining hostages were bound with wire.

More apprehension was felt for Cope and Conn because of the savagery with which Powell had been beaten and shot.

State, county and prison officials opened an investigation, attempting to determine what happened in those few minutes when the prisoners seized the guards, marched across the brickyard and through the gate.

L. M. Nichols, chairman of the State Board of Affairs, which has charge of the prison, said the two tower guards told him they threw down their guns on a plea from Cope.

One of the guards, Tuck Cope, asked the two men on the tower to throw down the guns, saying the convicts were holding knives on them. Nichols said he was told.

The two guards, George Cheek and Harry Gotz, held a hurried conference and then tossed down two rifles and two pistols, Nichols said they told him.

The guards were eating lunch when the first move was made. The two dozen convicts surprised the unarmed quartet, overpowered them and bound their hands with wire.

Then, the guards—each with a convict at his side and a third felon holding a knife to his throat—were marched across the yard to the gate.

The tower guards were told to throw down the weapons and open the gates. This done, the felons dashed through and swarmed into a passenger car and the prison truck. A few, attempted to escape on foot.

Guards patrolling the fence opened fire on the convicts, shooting down several. They also turned their guns on the other convicts in the brickyard, and several of these were among those wounded.

Six of those who dashed outside the prison walls were captured a short distance away.

FARM MORTGAGE BILL SMASHED DOWN BY HOUSE

Lemke To Take Fight Into Elections This Year

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—Democratic leaders pointed today to the fate of the Frazier-Lemke farm refinancing bill, smashed down in the house, as a sure sign that "there will be no inflation."

In the defeated camp, Rep. Lemke (R., N. D.) who had labored five years for the bill to print $3,000,000 in new money to refinance farm mortgages on easy terms, said that the issue would be carried into the front lines of the political war. He also announced it would be reintroduced today in the hope legislators might repent.

Smiling largely, he received the condolences of his friends over the 235 to 142 beating handed the bill yesterday amid the whoops of its jubilant opponents.

"It wasn't so bad," Lemke said. "We'll get back here next January, and there won't be quite as many familiar faces as there are now—at least from the farm states."

After nearly seven hours of the most violent battling witnessed on the floor this session, 173 democrats and 62 republicans roared their disapproval of the bill. Three farmer-laborites, 7 progressives, 27 republicans, and 105 democrats lined up behind it.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 14 (AP)—The market was quite active most of the morning and prices developed a good gain, due partly to the endorsement of the Smith bill by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and to largely domestic consumption shown for April.

The total April consumption, announced during the morning, was 576,762 bales as compared with 468,402 for April a year ago.

The stock market was higher and cotton responded sympathetically.

July advanced to 11.31, up 11 points compared with yesterday's close, while Oct. reached 10.49, up 19 points and Dec. sold at 10.46, or 16 points above yesterday's close.

Near mid-session prices eased off 3 to 5 points from the top on a little profit taking, but the undertone continued firm.

'Lucky' Luciano Is Accused in New York Trial

NEW YORK, May 14 (AP)—A 25-year-old woman who operated a house of prostitution in West 77th street swore today at the trial of Charles (Lucky) Luciano and nine other men that she paid $10 a week "bond" money for each girl she employed to attract representatives of Luciano. Luciano and the others were charged with compulsory prostitution.

The witness, who identified herself as Dorothy Arnold, said she first obtained young women to work for her through Rick Montana, a now serving a Sing Sing prison term for compulsory prostitution, and later through Peter Ballitzer, one of three detainees who pleaded guilty at the start of this trial.

Thomas E. Dewey, special prosecutor, said yesterday Luciano and his henchmen operated 200 disorderly houses.

JAPS WRECKING WALL

PEIPING, May 14 (AP)—The Chinese press charged today that bricks from China's Great Wall, one of the wonders of the world and long regarded as the mightiest achievement of human manual labor, are going into Japanese military barracks. Because Japanese soldiers are taking the bricks from the wall to build army barracks at Kupeikow, the reports said, the ancient structure seems in danger of at least partial disintegration.

ARCH LONEY FIRED

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—Secretary Ickes said today that Arch W. Loney, FWA materis expert who attempted to aid Bruno Richard Hauptmann, had received a "suspended sentence" of dismissal. Ickes said Loney was discharged "with prejudice" yesterday on charges of failing to mention a past arrest and indictment on his application for work. The order, the secretary added, was held up after Loney "asked for a few days to present additional facts."

ZIONCHECK AND BRIDE FLY TO VIRGIN ISLANDS

Students Clamor for Independence as Chief Quits

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, May 14 (AP)—Rep. Marion Zioncheck and his bride flew off to the Virgin Islands today while Puerto Rican national guardsmen rallied against student disorders such as troubled the homecoming congressman's visit.

After watching students striking and demonstrating for independence, and calling for naval and marine protection, the Washington representative concluded his brief but eventful stay here late yesterday, leaving with Mrs. Zioncheck for St. Thomas.

Forsaking the automobile in which he had become involved in collisions with a truck and a gate, the congressman and his young wife departed in a marine plane.

Governor Blanton Winship issued a proclamation assuring order and safety for all schools.

The national guard was ordered, with police, to watch all schools after nationalist students called strikes and tossed stones Tuesday night and Wednesday in support of their campaign for independence from the United States.

Capt. Raymond Martinez, chief of the San Juan police, resigned amid complaints by many citizens of an absence of vigorous police measures against the school disorders.

He was replaced by Police Capt. Rafael B. Diaz of Rio Piedras.
