THE NEW PAMPA
Fastest Growing City in Texas—Panhandle Oil
And Wheat Center

(VOL. 30, NO. 28)

(Full (AP) Leased Wire)

PAMPA, GRAY COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 7, 1936.

(PRICE FIVE CENTS)

WORDS
O. E. H.
"Words are things"

Plan now to attend the Panhandle Centennial celebration at Pampa June 2, 3, 4, and 5, with which is combined a Pioneer's Roundup and Oil Men's Reunion. It is a GREATER celebration for the whole Panhandle.

Twinkles
Pampa and the Panhandle have suddenly become many-ringed circuses. And you haven't seen anything until you've seen the Centennial on June 2-5.

The Kentucky derby, topping the faking of Ethiopia, proved that we don't worry as much about European affairs as many Europeans desire.

Pampa is proving that this is a city of music, with and without instruments. Properly trained, the human voice is a music instrument without a peer—if properly used.

We doubt the wisdom of associating panhandling with the Panhandle. Probably millions had never connected the two. And they have no connection.

Sometimes we wonder what a polo pony thinks as he carries lazy athletes in mad dashes after a little white ball. As we understand it, a poloist is a golfer who is too lazy to walk.

But we have no ill feeling toward polo and polo players. If we had the time, the garb, the horse, the mallet, the ball, and a few similarly equipped cronies, we'd be positively mad about polo.

Musing of the moment: Mussolini must have read so much about our honoring of pioneers that he wants to be one—in Africa.

Brevitorials

NEWSPAPER MEN have surely made politics hard to understand. We refer to the clever fellows who have been coaxed into writing propaganda for the national committees. . . Nearly every day we receive a release from the democrats. We read it and as we read the marching idealism of the new deal thrills our democratic soul. . . Then the republican release comes. It is a masterpiece of selection—selection of the weakest phrases of the new deal, with mis-interpretations, half-truths, and some whole truths. . . Anyone reading only republican propaganda would conclude that Roosevelt has only freshmen and idiots in high offices, that he was spending money wastefully and without helping anybody, and that if he would quit spending funds for relief every one would shortly have a job and be happy.

Deep-dyed democrats and republicans often read only one—no wonder they never change their minds. Fortunately, the news columns in this country are reasonably accurate and free from distortion. He who reads widely in newspapers knows what is happening, and he can draw his own conclusions as to the whys and wherefores. He inevitably decides that all men, especially democrats and republicans, are human and that trick propaganda and one-sided interpretations are worse than inaccurate.

THE MEASURE of any party is not its platform, often not its leader, but the sum of its activities and the direction of its philosophies. When any considerable number of its leaders adopt a course antagonistic to the interests of a majority of the people, no amount of propaganda can cleanse its motives. Moreover, any party which is right in one great particular—such as may, for instance, be frugal economy—yet wrong in its approach to foreign trade, employment, taxation, and similar matters, cannot be said to merit much consideration at the polls.

The sweep of public opinion through a party often makes it in some particulars. The democratic party has through its attacks on unemployment, on hunger, on cut-throat business tactics which make for unemployment and for depressions, set itself on a course not dissimilar from older trust-busting tactics. This tendency has not always been a symbol of any single party. Democracy today is of today's world. Parties change just as individuals do. Not the party as an organization, but the party thru the members elected on its tickets and committed to its philosophies, determines our government. Nominally, we are self-governing. Our representatives are of our own choosing. Our parties furnish a cohesive effect which prevents mere representation from being a hedge-podge of opinions.

THE MEASUREMENT of prevalence in many parts of Texas, although it may be controlled and even could be exterminated by intelligent measures, according to records of the state health department. Unfortunately it has been the practice to wait to apply control measures until the disease is wide spread.

The dogs is the chief source of rabies infection in man, but all warm blooded animals are susceptible. Contrary to a wide spread belief, rabies is not a warm weather disease. It occurs just as frequently in the cold months.

The most logical procedure in the control of rabies would be to vaccinate all dogs. Why this is impossible the stray dog should immediately be impounded, for the

Wins Prize

Pulitzer prize of 1935 for the most distinguished service by a newspaper was given to the Cedar Rapids (Ia.) Gazette, of which Verne Marshall, above, is editor. Award was made for the expose of an alleged conspiracy between state officials and a slot machine ring. Marshall also played a large part several years ago in the legislative probe of Iowa University's use of state funds.

ALLISON'S 7TH BIRTHDAY WILL BE CELEBRATED

Big Affair Is Slated For May 22, 23 At New Town

On May 22 and 23, the Allison community will meet its 7th anniversary in celebration of the birth of this aggressive new town.

Rodeo stock from the Bowers ranch near Pampa will be used at a rodeo expected to attract some of the best "hands" in the South-west. Plans also include a free barbecue, dances, band and orchestra music, and other miscellaneous entertainment.

Prizes for various events total more than $250 in cash.

Persons who attended last year's celebration remember it was a well-patronized, colorful occasion. The public generally is invited. Candidates will be introduced to the crowd. The chamber of commerce is sponsoring the event.

Public Asked to Hear Mrs. Breed Speak Tonight

Tonight at 8 o'clock in the county court room Mrs. Florence Breed, field representative of the National Tuberculosis association, will speak to the general public.

Mrs. Breed comes under the auspices of the Gray County Tuberculosis association. She will speak on the subject of "A Practical Program for the Control of Tuberculosis."

Several cases of tuberculosis have been given some assistance by the Gray County Tuberculosis association from the sale of Christmas seals last year, but the response to the sale was not sufficient to permit the rendering of the service that is really needed in the county, and every one who is interested in the work of controlling tuberculosis and aiding those in the county now suffering from the disease are urged to be present tonight to hear Mrs. Breed.

Announcements have been made this week in all of the schools and both teachers and parents are urged to attend tonight, as some of the most important work in the prevention of tuberculosis is done in the co-operation between the home and the school. From a community welfare and health point of view the coming of Mrs. Breed to Pampa tonight is one of great importance, it was said.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. McCarty will have as week-end visitors her mother, Mrs. Jennie L. Stevenson of Houston, and her sister, Mrs. E. L. Murray of Grantwood, N. J.

Judge Calls Oklahoma Club Women 'Dangerous'

MUSKOGEE, Okla., May 7 (AP)—Arthur Gooch, first man doomed to die under the Lindbergh kidnaping law, was resented today to hang June 19 for abducting two Paris, Texas, officers.

Federal Judge Robert L. Williams pronounced sentence and accompanied it with a statement criticizing efforts of Oklahoma club women to save the former Okmulgee butcher boy.

"I cannot understand why these women have done what they have," Judge Williams said.

"I brand these women as irresponsible and dangerous citizens. This man had a fair trial."

Gooch stood erect as Judge Williams resented him.

"I have nothing to say," he said in a low voice, "except that I didn't

AMARILLO BLAZE KILLS FIREMAN

HINDENBURG IS FLYING ACROSS SEA TO U. S.

INITIAL FLIGHT BEING MADE BY GIANT ZEPPELIN

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER
(Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)

ABOUT THE ZEPPELIN HINDENBURG, En Route To America, May 7.—The giant German airship Hindenburg, averaging 75 miles an hour, struck out across the North Atlantic today on its first flight to America.

The great zeppelin passed Land's End, the cape of Southwest England, at 6:05 a. m. (12:05 a. m. C. S. T.), and 40 minutes later crossed the Scilly Islands off the English coast.

Bright sunshine and clear skies prevailed.

Many of the 51 passengers remained awake all night to see the airship fly over the mouth of the Rhine and later glimpse the Isle of Wight, in the English channel off the southern coast of England, just as the sun rose.

Turning slightly to the south after passing Scilly Islands at an altitude of 2,500 feet, the Hindenburg afforded its passengers the spectacle of a carpet of white clouds beneath the ship like a vast expanse of glaciers.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, in command, said his favorite turn on the bridge was between midnight and 4:00 a. m.

The zeppelin, bearing 107 persons, 3,300 pounds of freight and 20 sacks of mail, headed on a course over the English channel, southwest to the Azores and then west to Lakehurst, N. J.

So favorable were conditions for the pioneer flight of the Hindenburg, opening a projected series of regular voyages, that a record trip might be made. The zeppelin was expected originally to reach Lakehurst Saturday afternoon.

The luxurious 813-foot ship proceeded swiftly, smoothly, almost noiselessly on its journey after the delayed departure from Friedrichshafen last night at 9:30 p. m. (12:30 p. m. C. S. T.).

Dr. Eckener held up the start for more than an hour to await the evening cool and the arrival of a plane carrying mails from Frankfurt.

Rising lightly and easily from its base while thousands of residents of Friedrichshafen cheered, the Hindenburg skirted Germany's western border during the night, cruised up the Rhine and crossed the Netherlands on the route to the ocean.

The great ship was bathed in moonlight on the first leg of the journey out of Germany. A searchlight played on the scenes below, showing swift progress and displaying an enchanting variety of scenery over the southwest part of Wurttemberg.

The 51 passengers, among them 15 Americans, vied in expressions of surprise and admiration at the comfort of the flight.

Risks Life

Trongs of marauding, drunken bandits rioting in Addis Ababa streets failed to prevent Ben Ames, press correspondent, above, from keeping the outside world in touch with events in the Ethiopian capital. Though slashed by native sabers during an earlier mission, Ames again braved the mob to contact the Italian advance guard near the city. Mr. Ames visited several times in Pampa last summer, and considered giving a lecture here. He was the concert manager of Miss Esther Johnson, noted pianist, on her last European tour. Mr. Ames' home is in Roswell, New Mexico.

G-Men Trap And Capture Karpis' Pal

CAMPBELL AND 2 OTHERS ARE UNDER ARREST

SOME RESISTANCE IS SHOWN BY BANDIT AT TOLEDO

CLEVELAND, May 7. (AP)—Harry Campbell, 36, limping pal of Alvin Karpis, erstwhile "public enemy No. 1," and two others fell into a G-men's trap at Toledo, O. at dawn today and were captured like his gangland leader a week ago in New Orleans, without the firing of a shot.

The capture was personally made by J. Edgar Hoover and a squad of Bureau of Investigation agents.

Announcement of the capture was made by Hoover here, who flew to Cleveland after the trio had been apprehended.

Hoover said Campbell already was on his way to St. Paul by plane to face kidnaping charges in the Edward Bremer abduction case.

Taken with Campbell, Hoover said, was a 19-year-old girl who claimed to be Campbell's wife.

In a simultaneous raid on another apartment, federal agents apprehended Sam Cokar, described by Hoover as a minor figure in the so-called Karpis gang.

Hoover disclosed that he flew to Toledo from Washington last night and directed Campbell's capture.

The G-men's chief also led in the capture of Karpis. He declined to say how many agents participated.

Hoover did not disclose the source of information which led to Campbell's apprehension.

Federal men denied that John Brock, Tulsa, Okla., in jail here charged with participating in a $46,000 Garrettsville, O., mail train robbery, for which Karpis and Campbell were wanted, provided the "tip."

Federal men surrounded the Toledo apartment building during the night, Hoover said.

Some were posted inside the building.

The agents rushed a Campbell shortly after dawn as he and the girl emerged from the building, presumably prepared to leave Toledo.

"Campbell showed a little resistance," Hoover said. He intimidated the fugitive attempted to reach a .45 calibre revolver found on his person.

Hoover said that when Karpis and other members of the Barker-Karpis gang escaped from a trap here in 1934 "they were tipped off by two Cleveland politicians and we are now investigating every detail of this angle."

The bureau chief said members of the Karpis gang had face lifted.

FASCISTS TAKE ONLY RAILROAD INTO ETHIOPIA

HAILE'S GUARDSMEN DRAFTED TO HELP CLEAN CITY

(By The Associated Press)

Fascist Italy's army of occupation was reported by the Stefani (Italian) news agency to have taken over the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railroad in Ethiopia today—all the way to the border of French Somaliland.

By order of their military commander, troops took over all traffic on the narrow gauge line and restored normal service, Stefani reported.

The railroad is Ethiopia's only modern carrier and the only modern egress from Addis Ababa to the sea.

Whether the seizure was considered permanent was not immediately made known. Only today, the French government let it be known it would refuse at this time to relinquish rights to the line.

Any transfer to Italian operators would necessitate a free convention, negotiated by the French company which owns the line, Paris officials stated.

Simultaneously, Italy's armies all but completed the subjugation of Southern Ethiopia with the capture of the important town of Jijiga, and pressed into service Haile Selassie's own imperial police to "mop up" riot-torn Addis Ababa.

General Rodolfo Graziani, hard-bitten veteran of colonial wars, landed at Jijiga in an airplane after his motorized troops had seized the town without resistance.

Now only Harar, "garden city" of Ethiopia, remains to be seized by the Fascists. It lies a few kilometers northwest of Jijiga and its fall was considered only a matter of days.

'Specs' Fail

The spectacles Alvin Karpis is wearing here and a face-lifting operation failed to enable him to escape the G-men, now grilling him in St. Paul on unsolved angles of the Hamm kidnaping case, first in which he will face trial. Maximum penalty would be a life term, and he later may be turned over to Missouri authorities to face a sheriff murder charge.

MAN DIES IN HALF-MILLION DOLLAR FIRE

RELIEF SUPPLIES FOR TWENTY COUNTIES DESTROYED

AMARILLO, May 7. (AP)—Fire, in which one man lost his life, early today destroyed two large buildings here, causing a loss estimated at $500,000.

Austin Williams, hoseman from central fire station, was killed—crushed beneath tons of brick as a wall crumbled.

Amarillo Sash and Door company was the first building to go up in flames.

The fire, largest in Amarillo in several years, spread north in the block, claiming a relief supply station for this district, and the Bishop warehouse.

Much turpentine was stored in the sash and door plant. Firemen believed the turpentine exploded. In the huge building, too, were several carloads of dry lumber.

In the Bishop warehouse were many drums of motor oil, several motor cars, and a general line of merchandise storage.

In the supply station from which both food and clothing were distributed to the 20 north counties of the Panhandle, there were carloads of food and much raw material for sewing rooms over the district.

Federal relief commodities destroyed were valued at more than $100,000.

A temporary office was set up and another location for distribution rented this morning, John E. Rowland, district supervisor, reported.

Food stores in county sub-stations and shipments which will continue to arrive here daily should prevent suffering among families which have been receiving food from this source, Rowland said. The Texas relief commission operates the federal surplus warehouses in the state.

CAMPUS COMEDY WILL BE GIVEN FRIDAY EVENING

Another Performance Is Scheduled For Saturday Night

Outside of commencement exercises, the high school's junior-senior banquet is the most important event, social or otherwise of the school year, and the current three-act comedy is no exception. It promises to be a "scream" from beginning to end. The Juniors invite those who have had enough of serious drama to laugh for an hour and a half tomorrow and Saturday nights.

The junior play has always been the most amusing spectacle of the school year, and the current three-act comedy is no exception. It promises to be a "scream" from beginning to end. The Juniors invite those who have had enough of serious drama to laugh for an hour and a half tomorrow and Saturday nights.

Players new to Pampa audiences will fill the leading roles in the comedy. However, all have had experience on the stage. Character roles will be played by Maxine Wheatley, Jimmy Hamill, Carl Camp, Kathryn White, Bobby Banks and John Hutchins. Other parts will be played by Freda Bellos, Colleen McMahon, Rita Holmes, Betty Rains, Raymond Baxter and Allan Wise.

The Little Orchestra will play during the evening.

Rehearsals have been held for more than a month under the direction of E. N. Dennard and Beg Gull. The setting of the play is the dining room of the Kanna Jamma sorority house.

Reserve seats are available for 35c. General admission for students will be 20c; for adults, 25c. The curtain will rise promptly at 8 o'clock.

Child Dies of Burns Received Six Years Ago

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., May 7 (AP)—Ellen Milo, 12, child of tragedy, died of burns received six years ago, and will be buried today in her first party dress.

The little girl suffered burns in 1930. Nearly half of her brief life was spent in hospitals.

Her mother died when she was 18 months old. Last January her father hanged himself in a jail cell.

Harvard University Is Suspected in Amazing Prank

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—An amazed capital awoke today to find the red flag of communism flying over the huge marble temple of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Apparently raised in the night by a prankster, the fluttering emblem struck consternation into the ranks of the Supreme Court guard, picked men assigned to protect the dignity of the nation's highest tribunal.

Frantically the guard and a big detachment of metropolitan police struggled for an hour and a half to get the flaming emblem down, but without success.

Finally a fireman mounted a lofty extension ladder. Swaying precariously, he latched the flag with a gasoline torch tied to the end of a long pole. The emblem caught fire and was destroyed.

The government began a wide hunt for the prankster who had raised the banner bearing the hammer and sickle. Authorities suspected he might hail from Harvard University.

The incident provided much merriment to a crowd of early morning passersby, who gathered at the scene offering advice and philosophic comment.

Dean of Texas Newsmen Dies; State Mourns

Editorial Writer for Chain Papers Passes

AUSTIN, May 7 (AP)—Funeral services for Col. Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, 73, dean of Texas newspaper men and chief editorial writer for the Marsh-Fentress newspapers, were held today, attended by high state officials and friends.

The body was taken to Dallas for additional services and burial at 4 p. m. He died yesterday after a lengthy illness.

In a brief service conducted by the Rev. Fr. William Blakeslee the public service rendered by Col. Fitzgerald was emphasized.

"His newspaper work was marked by independence, intelligence, and courage," Rev. Blakeslee said. "He had the independence to stand for his convictions, the intelligence to understand public questions and the courage to support them. Texas has lost an outstanding citizen and the church a loyal son."

Fallbearers for the service were former Governor Dan Moody, Ed Crane, J. C. Clopton, James A. O'Reilly, James Shaw, Judge Staples, Sully B. Roberdeau, and Dr. H. L. Hightower Sr.

Fallbearers for the Dallas service were Karl Hobbeltzelle, Murrel Buckner, Martin Crane, E. J. Kiest, W. L. Crawford Jr., James Shaw, Harry Seal, Ed Doran, Charles E. Marsh Sr., L. H. Hubbard, Thomas B. Love, Henry Coke Knight, and Erick G. Schoedel.

Col. Fitzgerald formerly was managing editor of the Dallas Times-Herald and the Dallas News, editor of the Fort Worth Record and Record-News of which he was editor and publisher. He had been with the Marsh-Fentress papers for 15 years.

His only state office was membership on the board of directors of the College of Industrial Arts at Denton, now the Texas State College for Women.

Mrs. Jim Vicars of San Jose, Cal., is here for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Vicars, Mr. and Mrs. DeLea Vicars, and friends in this section. She is an aunt of the Messrs. Vicars.

CPDN Will Give 3 Centennial Periods Sunday

Attractions of the Panhandle Centennial exposition here June 2, 3, 4, and 5, will be on the air over radio station KPDN Sunday afternoon for one and one-half hours, in three 30-minute programs, according to Lewis Curry, announcer for the committee.

The first broadcast will be from 2:30 o'clock until 3 p. m.; the second from 4:30 until 5 o'clock, and the third from 5:30 until 6 o'clock.

The float committee of which Jim Collins chairman will broadcast plans for the floats in either the first or second period.

The Boy Scout Cavalcade of Scouting which will be held on the evening of the first day will be the subject of the broadcast from 5:30 until 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The program, including music and dramatic sketches, will be given by Boy Scouts of the city, according to L. O. Johnson, chairman of the Cavalcade radio committee.

The Centennial program hour has been from one until two o'clock Sunday afternoon and was sponsored by Southwestern Public Service company.

Mrs. Jim White has as a guest today Mrs. Harry Edenborough of White Deer.

People You Know

The kids are digging a cave on Sunset Drive in the side of a bank, right next to the pavement. Each kid is going to have a tunnel that will be his own personal cave.

This one makes two caves on Sunset Drive. Roy Lee built one four years ago, long before he became a Harvester athletic star, but you can still go into it.

Kids from the other blocks visit the cave. Yesterday, Sonny Cox, his fist full of yellow, wild buttercups, his legs brave with cowboy chaps, was a visitor.

There was a fight, too, and the dirt flew. It takes a dog to help dig a cave, and Snips won't fetch anything but tin can tops. Jimmie is the main foreman but he has seven helpers.

Silent admirers are the twins, Doris and Dorothy, nearly six.

Wanians Will Observe Mother's Day at Meeting

Tomorrow will be Mothers' Day at the regular weekly meeting of the Pampa Kiwanis club. Mothers of Kiwanians will attend the meeting as guests of their sons.

The captain conferred at length with Frank K. Green, the court's veteran marshal.

Supreme Court police said one puzzling angle was that the flag appeared to be "a manufactured product."

"This was not just a red flag," said one of the guards who saw it before the fireman's torch reduced it to ashes. "It was a regulation flag, about four feet by six."

A unique entertainer in Pampa. He is Bud Trux, a sand artist, and makes all sorts of figures, human, animal and otherwise, out of sand and water, in a vacant space across from Penney's. He uses a trowel, knives and a paint brush with his right hand. He has no left hand. There are only four other sand artists in the U. S., says he. He had the only occasion at the Century of Progress that cost nothing. He will be here until Tuesday.

PAMPA WHIPS AMARILLO DESPITE TWO FIGHTS AND POLICE INTERFERENCE

AL SUMMERS ATTACKED BY BASE UMPIRE

SECOND TIFF IS WON BY ROAD RUNNERS 7 TO 5

They did it again, those Road Runners who were thought to be the underdogs in the Panhandle Big Three this year. They went over to Amarillo last night and took a 7 to 5 game from the Amarillo-Phillips team which was undefeated until taking a 9 to 4 drubbing in Pampa Monday night.

The game was a battle from the first inning. Two fist fights materialized, one in the sixth and another in the eighth. The first argument came when Umpire Klinkke called George Bulla out at third because Grover Seitz, coach, ran up the base-line to call Bulla back to third. Seitz protested the decision and two officers appeared on the field, determined to remove the Pampa player from the field.

The umpires finally learned that only the umpires have that authority and the game continued. Again in the eighth there was trouble. Umpire Bill Ellis called a man safe at first on a doubtful decision and Al Summers protested. Without warning Ellis hit Summers on the jaw with a haymaker, injuring him painfully. McClary, who was nearby, charged the umpire to hold him off Summers but Ellis swung on McClary. The Pampa shortstop ducked and took the blow on the head. Ellis received a fractured thumb when he hit McClary.

The umpiring was a source of trouble all the way. Amarillo thought they were getting the worst of the deal in Pampa Monday night. Cordwood Davis, Amarillo manager, did a lot of talking. With the same umpire behind the plate last night, the arguing was reversed. If there is an experienced baseball umpire in this section of the country, he is asked to get in touch with the management of the Road Runner ball club.

Amarillo jumped into an early lead in the first inning when they sent two runs across the plate. They enjoyed the advantage only until the second inning when the visitors sent a pair across. In the third, the Road Runners scored three more runs and from then until the end of the game they maintained the lead.

Carl Steward started on the mound for the Road Runners and pitched good ball after the first inning. He showed signs of weakening in the seventh and Manager Sam Hale sent Lefty George Bulla to the box. Not taking any chances after the Parros collected a couple of blows off Bulla, Hale sent Daney to the hill for the last inning. The three Pampa hurlers were nipped for 10 hits, one a home run by Lefty Pachak.

Four Amarillo hurlers strode to the mound and all were greeted with base blows. Lefty Dacus, Phillips ace, was the starting hurler but he lasted less than two innings. Hawkins followed Dacus and Carraway followed Hawkins. Pachak finished the game.

The big noise of the night was Don Bailey who gave his fans of last year a jumpy evening. Bailey collected four hits out of five trips to the plate and on top of that threw two men out at the plate. Bailey wore an Amarillo uniform at the close of last season. Lefty Cox, big Road Runner first baseman, contributed a home run. The other five bingles were scattered.

The Road Runners will meet the House of Davids tomorrow night. Either Lefty Dilbeck or Lee Daney will be on the mound for the Road Runners.

Score by innings: R H E Pampa, 0 0 0 0 11-7 10 2 Amarillo, 200 000 120-5 14 Stewart, Bulla, Daney and Lisle; Dacus, Hawkins, Carraway, Pachak and Francis.

Babe Didrikson Shoots Hole in One at Glendale

GLENDALE, Calif., May 7 (AP)—Goldfom's Hole-in-One club has a new member today in the person of Mildred Babe Didrikson.

The long-driving Babe practically christened the new 105-yard third hole at the Oakland Country club yesterday, the first ace of her career since she took up golf.

In fact, Babe's famed woman athlete and her playing partner, Mac Donald Smith, noted professional were invited to help celebrate the opening of the three new holes at the club, the third being one of them.

Miss Didrikson went on to shoot a 76 in a stiff wind while the veteran Smith took a 73. Men's par for the 18 holes is 70.

YESTERDAY'S STARS (By The Associated Press) Frank Gabriel, Giants—His fine relief pitching stopped Pirates' rally in ninth. Frank Demaree, Cubs—Connected with homer and two singles and drove in three runs against Bees. Charley Gelbert, Cardinals—Hit home run to provide Cards' margin in 3-2 victory over Phillies. Monte Pearson, Yankees—Held Tigers to three hits and drove in four runs with homer and double.

'Bear' Wolf Is Named Head Grid Coach At N. Carolina

Coached TCU Teams For Last Ten Years

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., May 7 (AP)—Athletic Director Robert A. Fetzer said today that Raymond (Bear) Wolf probably would continue the same general system of football used here the past two years when he takes over the University of North Carolina football team Monday.

Wolf, Texas Christian university athletic director, last night notified Fetzer of his acceptance of a three-year contract as head football coach, succeeding Carl Gray Snavely, who quit last winter to go to Cornell.

In his ten years of freshman and varsity coaching at T. C. U., Wolf employed a modified Warner system, similar to that introduced here by Snavely.

The signing of the 33-year old former T. C. U. guard ended a long hunt the athletic council had conducted since mid-March when Snavely resigned. Snavely's teams in two seasons won 16, lost two, and tied one.

Wolf, an all-conference guard when he played on the Texas Christian team in 1925-26, had been athletic director and line coach at T. C. U. since 1933.

A student of Madison Bell, mentor at Southern Methodist, and Francis Schmidt, coach at Ohio State, Wolf started his coaching career in 1927 as freshman mentor at Texas.

Wolf played brilliant football at North Side high in Fort Worth before entering Texas Christian. After his freshman and two varsity years there he played professional football in Cincinnati for a time, but was forced to retire because of a knee injury.

One of Wolf's most noted plays came in 1926 when he was a junior at Texas Christian. The left-footed kicker booted the ball between the uprights from a 43-yard line at a difficult angle to give his team a 10 to 7 win over the University of Arkansas.

FORT WORTH, May 7 (AP)—Raymond (Bear) Wolf, newly named football coach at the University of North Carolina, got his sobriquet of "Bear" so long ago he can't remember exactly why. Old friends who played with him at North Side high here are certain that it came from his last name. And what's more natural than "Bear" in front of Wolf?

"It might be from the top of my head," Wolf grinned today. "It's a funny thing now but that's bare isn't it? I've been called other things I couldn't explain too so why worry?"

McLARNIN AND CANZONERI TO FIGHT TEN ROUNDS ON FRIDAY

OLD DIZ HAS WON FOUR OUT OF FIVE TILTS

BEATS PHILLIES 3-2 THOUGH MATES HIT BADLY

By HUGH S. FULLERTON Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer

Although he's adhered firmly to his announced plan of "reforming" this season, Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean has not been able to keep away from games that are almost as dizzy as his nick-name. He is not worrying the Cardinal fans, however, for Old Diz is winning at better than his usual rate—four out of five so far.

Since being betted to cover in the season's opener, Dean has evaded defeat by one run margins three times, handed out plenty of hits and still come through. He took an 8-7 game from the Reds though touched for nine hits, beat the Pirates in the tenth, 3-2, and blanked Brooklyn with three hits.

Yesterday he survived one of the most vertiginous games of them all to beat the Phillies 3-2 even though his teammates failed to support his good pitching.

The me half of "me and Paul" granted only seven hits and whiffed eight but went into the ninth a hero behind Art Gilbert's homer was the only run off Bucky Walters. Then Joe Medwick singled and came all the way home when Jose Gomez made a titanic wild heave of Johnny Mize's grounder.

Intentional passes crammed the corners and Curt Davis lost the game with one toss after he replaced Walter—a throw to the outfield instead of first.

Although the Dean-Walter duel was outstanding in the National league, where slugging marked the triumphs of the Cubs, Giants and Dodgers, there was plenty of fine flinging in the junior circuit.

Monte Pearson set the pace when he limited the champion Tigers to three blows and took a big part in the slugging that brought the Yanks a 14-3 triumph. Johnny March hurried his first complete game for the Red Sox, a seven-hitter that beat the Browns 7-4 for their tenth straight loss. Johnny Allen of Cleveland also hurled seven hit ball and fanned six to trim the Athletics 7-1 while Ted Lyons of the White Sox outlasted three Washington flingers to gain a 5-1 decision.

The ten inning Giants-Pittsburgh struggle which New York won 6-5 on hits by Jimmy Rippe and Gus Mancuso, Tex Carleton had only a couple of bad innings against the Bees but he finally was yanked to save Chicago's lead in the ninth and let the Cubs win 8-6. George Earnshaw, however, did very well by himself and the Dodgers, igniting the Reds to seven blows for a 5-2 triumph that broke Brooklyn's six-game losing streak.

IN AGAIN, OUT AGAIN! FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—W. Asby Jones has caught 28 tarpon but he'd rather tell about the one that caught itself and then escaped. A silver king he estimated at 80 pounds jumped into his boat. Jones and his guide scrambled for safety as the big fellow thrashed around and finally flipped itself back into the water.

SHIPPERS ARE LEADING TEXAS LEAGUE AGAIN

OKLAHOMA CITY LOSES TO BEAUMONT 6 TO 3

Today's games: Dallas at Houston, night. Fort Worth at Galveston, night. Tulsa at San Antonio, night. Oklahoma City at Beaumont.

A circuit drive with two on in the tenth inning gave Beaumont a 6-3 win over Oklahoma City last night and put the Exporters back in the Texas league lead. Frankie Croucher, second baseman, hammered out the homer after the teams had battled on even terms for nine innings. The Exporters scored their first three runs in the second and the Indians counted one in each of the third, fifth and sixth.

House Of David Will Play Road Runners Friday Night

Ex-Pampan to Play With Bearded Boys

The original Israelite House of David baseball team will be in Pampa tomorrow night for its annual tussle with the Pampa-Daniger Road Runners. It will be the rubber game between the two teams, each having three wins against three losses.

No increase in admission will be made, women being admitted for 25 cents and men for 40 cents. Games time has been set for 8:15 o'clock. At the close of the fifth inning the hirsute gentlemen will put on their always popular pepper game, Sam Scaling, former Pampan, will be one of the three.

Seven members of the starting line-up faced the Road Runners here last season. The two newcomers will be Scaling, who will play left field, and Steinecke, catcher.

Leading the batting order will be long-haired Andy Anderson, third baseman. Anderson has been with the team nine years. His batting average for the last two years is more than .350. He is a member of the pepper game.

Long John Tucker, one of the original members of the team, will be at first base. Tucker failed to appear with the team last fall because of a leg injury. Tucker is one of the greatest ball players in or out of organized ball. He will give his place in the pepper game to Scaling tomorrow night.

Hub Hansen, one of the leading hitters on the team, will be back at second base. He has an average of .354 for the last two seasons.

The cleanup hitter will be Frank Clift, center fielder, who has a batting average of .365 for the last two years. He is also a sensational. Everyone in this section of the country knows the next batter. He is Sam Scaling, left field. He was with the Road Runners last year.

Dick Atwell, one of the greatest shortstops out of organized ball, will be at his shortstop position for the fifth year. Atwell led the team in home runs last year.

Roy Hutson, who led the hitters last year with an average of .370, will hold down right field. His batting average was in 1935 games. A new catcher will be with the team this season. He is Bill Steinecke and he used to play his baseball with the Detroit Tigers.

The mound staff includes Doolally, one of the originals who has been going for 19 years. He is the third member of the pepper game, Bass, fourth season with the team.

Football Captain Wins Honors in Home Economics

CHILDRESS, May 7 (AP)—A husky football captain winning first place in a state home economics contest is out of line with the accepted design of gridiron warriors.

Mac Horne, star guard and captain of the 1936 Childress Ebbot football team, revealed other qualifications in capturing first honors in one event at the State Home-makers' rally recently at San Angelo. He was awarded first in selection of useful and decorative accessories for the home.

The contestants were boys who are home economics students in Texas schools. Horne was the first Childress boy to enter the state contest.

350 RACE HORSES ALREADY ENTERED IN RACE MEETING

AMARILLO, May 7.—When the silver-tone bugle echoes its first call to parade Friday afternoon it will mark the opening of the Tri-State Fair's spring race meeting which has all the earmarks of being the most successful ever held in Amarillo.

Wednesday afternoon over 350 horses were quartered in the Tri-State barns. Over 90 per cent of the entries are registered thoroughbreds with experience on major tracks.

Turf fans will find the meeting a most interesting one in all respects. The appearance of a large number of horses new to the Tri-State track will make the racing secretary's job easier, but the fans who play the ponies will find it more difficult to spot proverbial winners.

Another step in the plan to make the Tri-State more and more up-to-date was taken this week when officials announced a daily double will be added to the pari-mutuel department. The addition of the daily double will give the Tri-State fans the same variety of making wagers as is found on any major track in the country.

Post time for the inaugural day's first race is 2 p. m. Eight races are planned daily. The meeting will close on Saturday, May 16.

Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday are expected to draw the biggest week-day crowds in the Tri-State history. West Texas chamber of commerce convention visitors and delegates will be in town on these days, and the racing programs have been arranged to bring out on these days the very best thoroughbred racers in the barns.

Wednesday's program will feature the WTCC handicap, a mile and one quarter race with a $500 purse.

No races will be held on Sunday. A representative of the state racing commission and several revenue agents from Austin will be present to aid officials in keeping the Tri-State in strict accordance with Texas laws.

Southwest Track Meet To Be Held During Week-End

HOUSTON, May 7 (AP)—Fresh from eastern triumphs, the University of Texas track and field team goes into the annual Southwest conference meet here Friday and Saturday favored to easily defend its title.

Winners in all of its dual and triangular meets this season, the Longhorn team, paced by its great galaxy of sprinters and relay stars, are picked to outscore their nearest rivals, the Texas Aggies.

In a recent triangular meet, the Longhorns tallied 72 points, the Aggies 63, and the Rice Institute Owls 34. The Aggies trounced Rice, 80-42 in a dual meet.

New records are expected after the Texas relay teams take the track. Jess Petty of Rice hurled the discus and other stars perform.

The annual golf tournament will be held over the Austin Country club course Friday and Saturday while the tennis meet will be held at Brook Hollow in Dallas Thursday Friday and Saturday.

Baylor, Texas Christian, and Southern Methodist will fill out the competitive list in the track and field meet.

Furnishings of Calvin Coolidge Sold at Auction

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., May 7 (AP)—Household furnishings of the late President Calvin Coolidge were placed on the auction block today. Stocky, bald-headed George Ben, auctioneer, to whom Coolidge's widow, Mrs. Grace Goodhue Coolidge, entrusted selling of the household effects hired the Smith college area to accommodate an expected crowd of devotees.

About 400 articles pointed the trail—the 30th President took from a Vermont farm to the White House. For the block were articles Coolidge used as a student at Amherst college and inexpensive but still sturdy tables and chairs from the now famous two-family house on Massachusetts street where the young lawyer and the attractive school teacher set up housekeeping.

Awaiting the bidder, too, were more recent landmarks in the former President's life—books and curios and ornate vases he brought back here with him from the White House, and solid mahogany furniture from his last home, "The Beeches."

Mrs. Coolidge is traveling in Europe now.

BILL TO FDR

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Congressional action was completed today on the record-pace time $572,446,844 war department appropriation bill. Senate acceptance of differences with the house sent the legislation to President Roosevelt.

SETS NEW RECORD

CAPETOWN, Union of South Africa, May 7 (AP)—Mrs. Amy Johnson set a new record for the flight from England today by landing her airplane here at 2:31 p. m. Greenwich mean time (8:31 a. m. C. S. T.) Since she hopped off from Gravesend, England, Monday she had been on her way three days, six hours, 26 minutes, in comparison with the record of three days, 17 hours, 38 minutes set by Flight Lieutenant Tommy Rose in February.

Only two initials were changed in the Texas senate rolls with the resignation of J. W. E. H. Beck, DeKalb, and the special election of E. H. Beck, Texarkana, as the successor. They are not related.

PARTIES PLAN BIG GREETING TO NOMINEES

REPUBLICANS ATTACK GREEN FOR STAND IN CAMPAIGN

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—With the June conventions drawing close, both parties pushed ahead with plans to greet their presidential and vice presidential nominees in huge outdoor ceremonies.

Republican Chairman Henry P. Fletcher announced that provisional arrangements have been made to use the municipal stadium at Cleveland, conventionally located near the convention hall, to notify the party's nominees of the convention's choice.

The democrats previously announced plans to notify President Roosevelt of his renomination with a ceremony at Franklin Field, Philadelphia.

"Strange as it may seem," Fletcher said, "I approve the precedent established by Mr. Roosevelt in going to the convention to receive the notification of his nomination."

(Mr. Roosevelt set a precedent by going to speak to the delegates at Chicago after his nomination four years ago.)

The Cleveland stadium seats 80,000. Fletcher said the republican plans are conditional on the desires of the successful candidates for the republican nomination.

Other political developments included a comment by a republican and a democrat on a recent declaration of President William Green of the American Federation of Labor, and a speech by Democratic Chairman James A. Farley asserting that the east had benefited from farm relief because of "enormous increases" shipments of manufactured goods to the west.

President Green said recently that he favored the re-election of President Roosevelt. Chairman Fletcher in a statement last night, asserted that the republican national committee attaches no particular significance to this because Green has "always been a democrat" while the federation itself is non-partisan.

Col. Henry Breckinridge, anti-neutrality spokesman, said in an address at Akron, O., that Crocker was making a mistake by putting "labor into partisan politics."

Farley, in his Hartford speech said attacks on the administration were "in specks on the fair canvas on which a statesman has inscribed the wonderful recovery for a shaken people."

The South Dakota primary, in which an unstructured state claimed by forces of Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas contested with one supporting Senator Borah of Idaho continued to attract attention because of the closeness of the vote.

With only 75 of the state's 1,953 precincts unreported, the vote for the former state was 42,327, as compared with 41,425 for the latter.

Ellington set a new record for the flight from England today by landing her airplane here at 2:31 p. m. Greenwich mean time (8:31 a. m. C. S. T.) Since she hopped off from Gravesend, England, Monday she had been on her way three days, six hours, 26 minutes, in comparison with the record of three days, 17 hours, 38 minutes set by Flight Lieutenant Tommy Rose in February.

HEARING IS SET

A hearing will be held at 10 a. m. May 20, on an injunction sought by the DeShong Motor Freight Lines to restrain county highway patrolmen from interfering in any way with truck movements. Silar Hopkins is named as defendant in the suit.

LICENSE ISSUED

A marriage license has been issued here to Freddie Gray and Miss Ellen Warr.

OFFICIAL COMING

Roger Plaister, special representative of the Red Cross, will be in Pampa May 14-16 to discuss a safety first program with the Pampa chapter headed by Alex Schneider as chairman. Mr. Plaister will propose establishment of first aid stations on Gray county highways at strategic points, with volunteer workers in charge.

CLUB'S MUSIC WEEK OPERETTA WILL BE STAGED TOMORROW

LONG PRACTICE PREPARES THE DRAMA'S CAST

MUSICAL PLAY HOLDS APPEAL FOR EYE AND EAR

Most ambitious of Pampa's music week events this year will be the light opera, Romance of Kashmir, to be presented by Treble Clef club tomorrow evening at 8 on the stage of La Nora theater.

Weeks of practice have been conducted by club members to perfect roles in the musical play, which has tuneful songs and an interesting story of old India to appeal to an audience. The first dress rehearsal yesterday afternoon also revealed the colorful costumes as a high point of interest.

Tickets are on sale this week by all club members, with Mrs. Alex Schneider in charge. Sold at regular theater prices, the tickets will admit bearers to the operetta and the motion picture program, which features Al Jolson in his new film The Singing Kid.

Principal roles in the opera are taken by Misses Evelyn Shanklin and Lorene Bastion as an oriental princess and prince. Others in the cast are Mmes. J. W. Garman, Alex Schneider, Harry Lyman, H. O. Roberts, Bob McCoy; C. C. Dodd, Ralph Dunbar, and L. N. McCullough. A chorus of Treble Clef members will sing the ensemble numbers, and a chorus of girls from the Caroliettes club will present a classical dance in one scene.

Mrs. Philip Wolfe is director of music, and Mrs. Dave Dodge of staging.

The production is the most elaborate attempted by the club in some time. Members began rehearsals on the music early in the season in order to be able to present it flawlessly. This operetta was chosen because it has a popular appeal, and because it was written especially for women's voices. All music and drama lovers in this area are invited to see it.

Colored Quartet Plans Programs

Two programs, open to the public, will be given here next week by the Silvertone Gospel singers, colored quartet from Okmulgee, Okla. They will sing at First Methodist church Wednesday evening, and in the city hall Thursday evening.

This quartet is singing each evening at the Progressive Baptist church, colored, this week. A radio program has also been given. Everyone is invited to hear them. No admission charge is made for their programs.

Contract Club and Guests Meet With Mrs. Berry Monday

Mrs. H. C. Berry entertained Monday Contract club at her home this week. Mrs. Berry, Mrs. Conover, Mrs. Ralph Dunbar, and Mrs. Snow were special guests with Mmes. J. L. Cashman, Earle Scheig, R. L. Freeman, and Bert Howell, club members.

Mrs. Scheig made high score and Mrs. Howell second high in bridge games. High cut awards went to Mrs. Dunbar and Mrs. Cashman. A refreshing salad course was served.

Principals in Music Week Operetta

Busily preparing for the music week program of Treble Clef club, a light opera to be given at La Nora theater Friday, are the women pictured here. Mrs. A. N. Dilley, upper left, has one of the principal roles. Mrs. Walter F. G. Stein, center, is pianist. Miss Lorene Bastion, upper right, will sing the role of the prince opposite Miss Evelyn Shanklin. Mrs. Philip Wolfe, lower left, is musical director for the operetta, and Mrs. J. W. Garman, lower right, is president of the club and a principal in the cast.

Medical Developments Help Doctors Move Toward Goal Of Safe, Happy Motherhood

Transfusions are the fifth boon. They save many lives and much suffering. X-rays have removed the danger from one worrisome question—the chance of a Caesarian operation. The ray, when definitely when it is needed, and long enough in advance to perform the operation more safely. The result is that once rare Caesarian operations are now no more dangerous than other abdominal operations.

Ecclampsia, the convulsions which caused frightful suffering, have become almost a rarity. Unnumbered lives have been saved by the elimination of this single complication.

Better Diet Devised. Coupled with riding womanhood of this risk are increasing knowledge of diet, vitamins and gland products for this period. The great diet change lies in feeding starchy foods, eggs and milk with fresh vegetables. Formerly the expectant mother was fed on "delicacies" even if they nearly killed her.

Third is the effort to alleviate pain. This began with the much heralded twilight sleep. It is not solved. The trouble with all artificial pain relief is risk of injury to the baby. But the recent analgesics, or pain relievers, known as barbiturates, are making progress.

Fourth, and more dramatic than any other, is the darning of motherhood. Within a week or 10 days after conception it is possible now for a physician to know that motherhood is on its way. One method considerably used is to note secretions of the pituitary gland, at the base of the brain. They change, and injected into impregnate female mice they give visible evidence.

Rated by medical men as the most important is the ninth advance. This is substitution of normal activity for the old idea of invalidism and "delicate condition."

Instead of isolation at home, today's mothers are advised to get outdoor exercise, fresh air, suitable food, adequate rest, freedom from worry and care, to feel assured of the safety of childbearing.

Best of all, the medical profession is not satisfied. The present death rate of American mothers, it asserts, should and can be cut 50 per cent.

Darrell Coker was dismissed from Pampa-Jarrat hospital this morning.

Smart because it's the new cool turned-down collared shirtmaker dress and because it is made of chalis patterned crepe silk.

I had quite certain you will hardly be able to wait to make it. Note the huge buttons down the front. The yoke, cut in one with the sleeves, which makes it very simple to sew. There's a generous kick plait at the front of the slender skirt.

If you want it definitely for active sports, select one of the new smart rough finished cotton prints.

Pastel or dark ground linens and white and pastel tub silks are also delightful for it.

Style No. 1753 is designed for sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42-inches bust. Size 36 requires 3 3/4 yards of 39-inch material.

Our Illustrating Home Dressmaking Spring Book will enable you to have smart clothes and more of them for less money. Each step in the making of a dress is shown with illustrated diagrams. Send for your copy today.

WARD SCHOOLS AT McLEAN TO PRESENT FETE

May Queen to Reign Over an Outdoor Pageant

McLEAN, May 7.—Under the lights in Tiger field, on a stage decorated in spring colors, a pageant, Youth Child and His School, will be presented Thursday evening of this week. Every student in the McLean ward school will take part. The program will begin at 8 o'clock.

Rehearsals are under way and enthusiasm is high for this first program on Tiger field since the new stadium was built. The pageant depicts various activities in which the child takes part from the first day of school through his seventh grade year.

Among the scenes to be presented are a primary game, a rhythm band drill, a patriotic drill, a cowboy scene, a physical education scene, which includes scenes from all athletic events and ending with a pretty rope-jumping number, a geography skit, a Texas history scene, and the climax crowning of Fabrice Gallows as May Queen.

Admission will be free.

Methodist, to Convention. Last week the following members from the Methodist church attended the Northwest Texas conference of the Woman's Missionary society at Amarillo: Mmes. J. E. Kirby, C. A. Cryer, Ruby Hall, Alva Christian, Leamon Andrews, J. B. Sharp, Nida Green, George Renuau, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rippy, Mr. and Mrs. John Jones.

Bomb Slaying Is Still a Mystery

LOS ANGELES, May 7. (AP)—Harley McCoy, injured when a bomb killed Dr. William D. Moriarty and his wife here April 14, volunteered today to go to the desert to solve the mystery presented by a crushed human skull...

McCoy was accompanied at that time to the desert said Bright, by John Larremore, Yaqui Indian, whose name figured at the Moriarty inquest as linked with the professor in a fantastic scheme connected with a supposed mountain of gold in Sonora, Mexico.

FASCISTS

In Addis Ababa, those of Selassie's guardsmen who had not fled to the hills were rounded up by Major Giuseppe Botai, the new civil governor. They were put to work cleaning up the burned and pillaged city.

Addis Ababa again was calm under the watchful eyes of Fascist military police. Last night's one untoward incident was the wounding of two Frenchmen by Ethiopian machine gun bands.

The State Department at Washington reported as missing 30-year old Eleanor Meade, correspondent for an American news agency. But Cornelius Van H. Engert, the American minister at Addis Ababa, wirelessed the belief she may have left the city prior to the recent looting and rioting.

Great Britain, facing, in the words of Anthony Eden, "the facts" of Italian conquest, undertook an exchange of views with its dominions of possible League of Nations reform.

Authoritative British sources said Italy had the right to ask that foreign legations be withdrawn from Ethiopia as a matter of military practice, but that it was up to the League of Nations to decide the future political status of Ethiopia.

Eden told the House of Commons yesterday "The league must go on," despite Premier Mussolini's staggering blow at its prestige. But the British cabinet was reported divided over what course the empire will pursue.

The league council meets next week at Geneva.

From Paris came the report, written by the usually well-informed Genevieve Tabouis, that Mussolini had informed France he was determined to annex Ethiopia as an Italian colony, with various "autonomous" tribes under a Fascist governor.

French and British economic interests would be respected. It Duce was reported to have promised.

Selassie, now the conquered "Lion of Judah," reached Suez aboard H. M. S. Enterprise, en route to temporary exile in Palestine. He did not even appear on the deck of the British cruiser when it touched at the Egyptian port, however.

One of his spokesmen at Jerusalem said the fleeing emperor would remain in the Levant but a few days, departing thence for Europe. He has a villa in Switzerland.

TO GET DEGREE JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 7. (AP)—Vice President John Nance Garner, will receive an honorary degree of doctor of laws from the John Marshall college of law on June 17, it was announced today.

LEAVES FOR ISLAND MIAMI, Fla., May 7. (AP)—Rep. Marion A. Zionscheck of Washington, and his bride left here today aboard a Pan-American airliner for San Juan, Puerto Rico. The fiery congressman, now pledged to personal observance of safety on the highways, said he did not know when he and his photographer-bride of eight days would return.

SNOW AND DUST

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 7. (AP)—Snow and dust swept into New Mexico today on the wings of a chill wind giving spring a temporary setback. More than three-tenths of an inch of precipitation was recorded at Gallup on the west border as a result of snow last night and early today.

SHRINE DAY SET

AUSTIN, May 7. (AP)—Governor Allred today proclaimed tomorrow and Saturday as "all state shrine ceremonial days in Texas." He wished the association success in the ceremonial. Austin and the Ben Hur Shrine Temple will be hosts to nobles from nine other temples of Texas in the second annual all state shrine ceremonial during those days.

Harold Gatlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Gatlin, was able to leave Pampa-Jarratt hospital yesterday following an attack of pneumonia.

Francine Reed, 12-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dub Reed of Kellerville, underwent an operation for mastoid trouble Monday at the Canine hospital in Wheeler. She is improving rapidly.

McKee Advances Plan to Control State Expenses

AUSTIN, May 7. (AP)—Rep. H. L. McKee of Fort Arthur today advanced a plan to bring department expenditures and the state auditor under more direct supervision of the legislature.

McKee suggested appointment of a special sub-committee of the appropriations committee to meet frequently for inspection of expenditures. It also would ascertain if funds were used in accordance with legislative intent as expressed in enactments.

The special committee also would exercise a function now the duty of the board of control, that of inspecting departments and institutions to determine needs for appropriations.

The legislature for years has depended on a budget of anticipated biennial as prepared by the board and supplemented with personal interviews of department heads.

Few legislators find time from their personal business between sessions to acquaint themselves with actual conditions and needs of state agencies, McKee noted.

Another weakness in the present system, McKee said, was that it often brewed jealousies between departmental chiefs. He defended the board for its careful and impartial studies and budget preparations.

McKee said some department heads had criticized a system by which one department recommended to the legislature on requirements of another.

IDAHO TO FDE LEWISTOWN, Idaho, May 7. (AP)—Without a show of opposition, Idaho's eight votes at the democratic national convention were pledged to President Roosevelt.

Twenty delegates were selected at the state party convention yesterday and instructed to vote for his renomination. New deal policies were lauded in the keynote address by T. A. Walters, assistant secretary of the interior.

Alanreed School Annual on Sale

ALANREED, May 7.—The Alanreed high school yearbook, "The Longhorn," was officially offered for sale in the school yesterday.

This yearbook, one of the crowning achievements of the local high school for the year, is beautifully bound with fabric covers of gold and brown.

The book has records of all the school activities of the year as well as group pictures of the various classes. Its unique lithographed pages and glossy photographs make it a prize which is valued much by every student.

This annual is published by the same staff that produces the Longhorn News, the school's newspaper.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Beecher left this morning for their home in Toledo, Ohio, after a 10-day visit with their daughters, Mrs. George Friauf and Mrs. W. S. Dixon, and their families.

1,200 Ride in Big Tri-Motor

Pampa is one of the most "air-minded" cities in the country, declared Pilot Fred-Kane last night after had carried more than 1,200 passengers in a huge Ford Tri-motor plane brought here through efforts of Tom Rose, local Ford agent.

The big ship started its passenger service at noon yesterday and was in continuous service until 10 o'clock last night. The government emergency airport was lined with cars during the entire visit of the plane.

The pilot of the ship wondered why Pampa did not have an up-to-date airport. He declared that there is more aviation interest in Pampa than in cities ten times its size.

A department of commerce inspector, George Meadows, was in Pampa earlier in the week in the interest of a larger field here.

CAMPBELL

Hoover said that Campbell was married under the name of "Robert Miller" and that his wife did not know anything of his criminal career. She probably will be released, he said.

Hoover flew to Toledo last night to take personal charge of the federal men. He said he would fly from Cleveland to New York late today.

Hoover said "Cokar probably will be held for Oklahoma authorities as a parole violator where an unfinished 30-year sentence for bank robbery still stands against him.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Goldsmith are admitted to Pampa-Jarratt hospital last night.

COLUMN

stray dog is chiefly responsible for the spread of rabies. Public health authorities are handicapped in their fight against the spread of rabies because rabies in humans occurs only infrequently.

Do not kill the dog that is behaving strangely or immediately after it has bitten some one. The animal should be captured and kept under observation for ten days to determine whether it has rabies or not.

The confinement should be ample secure, for a dog in the frenzy of furious rabies requires a much stronger collar and chain or enclosure than a non-rabid dog.

When the rabies virus is put into the body by a biting dog the virus travels slowly from the wound along the nerves until it reaches the brain and spinal cord. Thus if the bite is on the face the virus does not have far to travel to reach the brain. Consequently bites on the face are the most dangerous and immunization must be started at once.

It is possible to control rabies, but owing to the large territory included in Texas, it will take extra efforts on the part of public health workers and the cooperation of the people of each town and county to carry on an educational program for this control.

STUDENTS STRIKE

PULLMAN, Wash., May 7. (AP)—The 3,200 students of Washington State college went on strike today in protest against what they termed "dictatorial" and "autocratic" policies of the college administration.

After a night of intense activity, the campus was quiet as first period classes were called. Pickets, both men and women, were posted in front of each class room building but few students were about.

Mrs. E. M. Boyd of Kingsmill was admitted to Pampa-Jarratt hospital last night.

LATE NEWS

ROME, May 7. (AP)—Total annexation of Ethiopia, the best informed sources said today, will be decreed Saturday night by Italy's grand council of fascism and by her cabinet ministers.

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—Cornelius Van H. Engert, minister to Ethiopia, notified the state department today that he had located Eleanor Meade, New York woman journalist who had been unaccounted for among Americans in Addis Ababa.

AIRSHIP

in the Graf Zeppelin, which flew to America first in 1928 and now flies regularly between Germany and Brazil, even complained that the Hindenburg was too elegant, too much like an ocean vessel.

They believed the Graf, more "primitive," was also more romantic.

Among the passengers are Sir Hubert Wilkins, the explorer, and Lady Wilkins; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott Leeds of New York; Commander Murray Simon retired British navy navigator, and a party of American and European newspapermen and women.

The 20 sacks of mail aboard weigh more than 2,000 pounds. In addition to the freight, there are more than two tons of provisions, 60 tons of oil and even a barrel of beer.

SNOW IN COLORADO

DENVER, Colo., May 7. (AP)—The Rocky mountains generally were a new cloak of snow today as cool weather replaced the "heat wave" which saw temperatures in the area reach the high eighties early in the week.

The snow was reported general from the Canadian border south into Colorado, although the southern part of the state received but a trace.

Pittsburgh Mayor Forbids Use of Word, 'Panhandler'

AUSTIN, May 7. (AP)—Attorney General William McCraw's one-man campaign against use of the term "panhandler" for beggar scored an early victory today.

Mayor William N. McNair of Pittsburgh, concurring with the Texas attorney general that use of the term cast an invidious slur on the rich agricultural region known as the Panhandle, promptly issued this order:

"By request of Texas authorities I am directing that the word 'panhandling' be discontinued in our police courts."

He preferred further aid in the campaign, which was timed with Texas' plans to celebrate its 100th birthday with a $25,000,000 world's fair Centennial exposition at Dallas.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago noted it was "indeed unfortunate that beggars are called 'panhandlers'" and Mayor Howard W. Jackson of Baltimore assured the attorney general that he would bring the matter to attention of the police department and public generally.

McCraw told the mayors of principal cities in a series of letters that "the people of Texas Panhandle decidedly are not beggars."

On the contrary, he said, "the section is one of the richest wheat-growing areas in the United States, producing wheat of a higher protein content than other areas, and is also rich in its production of oil and cattle."

SAVAGE ELECTED

WICHITA FALLS, May 7. (AP)—H. A. Savage, sheriff of Altus, Okla., was elected president of the North Texas and Southwestern Oklahoma Peace Officers association during the closing session of a two day convention here Thursday morning. D. C. Copekin of Wichita Falls was elected secretary-treasurer.

Gorgeous

CHAPTER XXXVI.

It was another picnic—the early evening of a warm September day. The sun, low in the west, was a golden disc. In another half hour it would drop from sight. Long shadows had fallen on the little valley, darkening the green of trees and shrubs and the field stretching off to the left of the shallow stream. Near the water's edge the first sign of fall had appeared—gaudy patches of scarlet berries in the sumac bushes.

A dozen feet from the stream a campfire smoldered. A girl was sitting on a log, watching the young man who knelt by the fire. It was Toby and Tim Jamieson.

Toby wore light tan jodhpurs and a white shirt, open at the throat, the sleeves rolled up. Except for the shirt, Toby was a symphony in tan—throat and arms and face almost as richly colored as the honey shade of her hair.

She finished the last bite of a steak sandwich. "It's amazing," she said, smiling. "Who would ever have suspected you, Tim, of having talents as a cook?"

He was in riding clothes. Tim grinned. "You've no idea how talented I am."

"What is this sales talk?"

"It might be." He looked up at her but she had turned and was watching the horses, tied a little distance away, grazing.

"I wish I could take 'Happy' with me," Toby said, "when I go back to town next week."

"You'll have plenty of other horses to ride."

"Yes, I know, but I like 'Happy.' Look, Tim, how pink the sky is getting."

He rose to his feet and turned at her direction. "You're crazy about the country, aren't you, Gorgeous?" he asked.

"Yes, it's still new to me. This is the first summer I've been in the country in my life. I'll be sorry to leave."

"You'd be a lot sorer if you didn't. New York's the place to be in the fall. Best time of the year there. I always get a kick out of it. New shows opening up, new places to go, new people! The Millheim show opens next week, you know. Going to let me take you?"

She was looking at the sunset and did not answer.

"Hey!" Tim exclaimed, "didn't you hear what I said? Are you going to let me take you to the Millheim show?"

"Why, yes—I guess so."

"Hm. You don't seem to be very enthusiastic!"

Toby said, apologetically, "I didn't mean it that way, Tim. I was just thinking about something else."

"I could see that all right. Must have been something important."

"No," Toby shook her head. "I was thinking about last year. Tim. About what I was doing at this time a year ago."

"I had a new job—sitting in the window of a five-and-ten store, rolling up my hair on curlers and then taking them down again to show how the curlers worked."

"I'll bet you had a crowd at that window! Were the curlers any good?"

"I don't know. My hair curls naturally anyhow."

Tim laughed. "I guess that's what you might call a story to make your hair curl. Do you know, Gorgeous, every day in every way you become more and more remarkable. The crazy things you've done! And the way things have happened. Just think of it—in one year leaving the five-and-ten store to become the 'Giderella Helress,' America's most photographed girl. The Darling of the Headlines. They've a dozen names for you, haven't they? Dyou know what I read the other day? That a movie company wants to film your life story and get you to play the lead."

"You know I wouldn't do anything like that."

A lot of girls would break their necks for such a chance. Debutantes from the so-called 'first families'—

"Well, I'd rather have my neck unbroken, thanks. You know I hate those things they print. Tim. And people looking at me as though I were a freak. That's one of the reasons I hate going back to New York."

Tim said quickly, "I'll tell you how you can get away from it."

"How?"

"By marrying me. Marry me and we'll take a boat for Bali or the South Sea Islands or Majorca. Any place you say!" He caught her shoulders, drew her toward him.

"Toby, you know how I feel about you!"

"But, I've told you, Tim—"

"I know. You've told me you've just found your father and you think you should stay with him. But you said that three months ago. Besides, I'm not asking you to marry me right away—though I wish you would. I'm willing to wait. All I want is your promise that you'll marry me some day. Won't you say it, Toby?"

"I can't, Tim. Not yet."

"But you will. You might just as well, Gorgeous, because I'm going to keep right on asking you until you do!"

New York in October. Crowds thronging the avenues. Shop windows glowing with rich autumn colors. Early dusk and a crisp wind from the river. Boys and girls college-bound. Theater entrances aglow with lights. New York in October.

Toby and Bill Brandt swung along the crowded street. "Here we are," he said, halting before an entrance. "There's still time to change your mind."

"But I don't want to change it."

"Okay."

They went inside. It was the cafeteria where they had eaten so often before, the cafeteria with the red and white checked tablecloths and the "Wednesday night specials."

Toby said, "It hasn't changed a bit, has it?"

"No."

They joined the line before the steam tables, carried their trays to a table against the wall. Toby, setting out the dishes, smiled. "Do you know why I wanted to come here tonight, Bill?"

He said, with mock alarm, "Now don't tell me that you're going to go sentimental! You wouldn't say it was for old time's sake, would you?"

She shook her head. "It's the corned beef hash," she said. "They always have it here on Wednesdays, you know. Doesn't it look marvelous?"

"Delicious. Though it's not, if I may say so, exactly the dish for a daughter of the pampered rich. Corned beef hash is plebian, Toby. Flavored with onions. Humming birds' tongues is what you should be ordering."

"I don't see why. I like hash. Last week I brought my father here and he's been talking about it ever since."

"Your father isn't a very good example of the pampered rich either, Toby. He's a regular person."

"He says the same thing about you."

Bill eyed her, pretending severity. "Trying to win me with flattery, are you, Miss Hellyer? I warn you it will have no effect."

She grinned. "You're such an idiot, Bill."

"Is that supposed to be more flattery?"

"It's anything you want to call to shut, never mind. How's the advertising business these days?"

"Great!" For five minutes he talked about Amerson and Blane's latest achievement. Toby listened, and then asking questions. This was the talk of the world in which she had once lived, a world she had found fascinating.

"You like your job, don't you?" she said presently.

"Better all the time. How about you, Toby? Do you ever think you'd like to be back in front of the cameras?"

She shook her head emphatically. "No," she said. "And I never will be. I've seen enough of that—girls who don't need work, playing at jobs while others who should have them go hungry. I can find plenty to do without taking work away from someone who needs it."

"You're right about that." He eyed her, approvingly. Suddenly Bill said, "By the way, that little hat you're wearing is all right. I like it."

"It's an old one of Harriet's. I had one she liked, so we traded."

"How is Howard?"

"He looks grand. That month in Plainsville did wonders for him. Do you know what she says she's going to do? She wants to have 'Aunt Abigail' Dinwiddie come down here and she says she's going to give a party for her."

"I hope she comes. If I'm not invited to that party, I'll crash it."

"You'll be invited, all right." Suddenly Toby's face sobered. "That reminds me," she said, "of something I was going to tell you, Bill. It isn't supposed to be known yet, but I wanted to tell you—"

He looked up, waiting.

"It's about a wedding," Toby said slowly. "You're going to be invited to a wedding, Bill."

FLUSH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of "kidney tubes" may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste, poisonous matter may develop, causing serious trouble. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist.

DANGER FACES LANDON AS 'PEOPLE'S CHOICE'

The completely cockeyed methods of American politics were never better illustrated than by the current fact that Gov. Alfred M. Landon is beginning to show too much popular strength for his own good.

For example; after picking up delegates and pledges in a whole series of middlewestern states, the Kansas governor ran far ahead of the field in the Massachusetts Republican preference primary.

The delegates thus gathered, and the evidence of popular backing behind them, have made Governor Landon the target for the combined forces of all the other Republican candidates. And a sage political commentator in Washington summed up the matter as follows:

"Keen political observers who saw this situation defeat Gen. Leonard Wood in 1920, and many another favorite before that, long have seen this possibility as the major peril to the Landon campaign."

Digest that for a moment, and see if there isn't something extremely peculiar about any political system which works that way.

What it means is that a candidate for a presidential nomination gets along fine until the moment it begins to look as if he is the popular choice of the voters. When that moment arrives—when, in other words, the ordinary men and women of the country seem to have decided that he is the man they want—he immediately runs into danger.

As long as nobody in particular wants to see him in the White House, he has a first rate chance of getting there. As soon as the voters themselves start to go for him, his chances dwindle.

In theory, the great party primaries are designed to let the people themselves nominate their standard bearers. If you didn't know American politics, you might innocently suppose that the man who seemed to be getting the support of the voters would be the man about whom the politicians would twine themselves lovingly. But Gov. Landon is about to discover that it doesn't work that way.

Couple this fact with the related fact that presidential candidates are growing more and more reluctant to enter state primaries these days, thus paving the way for the untried delegation and favorite son rackets, and you get a singularly unhealthy state of affairs.

See what it comes down to. The average voter may not get any chance at all to express his choice for party standard bearer. If he does get the opportunity the very fact that he expresses his choice may diminish his favored candidate's chance to get the nomination.

And people wonder why only 50 per cent of the electorate bothers to go to the polls!—B. C.

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily NEWS' Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. What was the date Gertrude Ederle swam the English channel?
A. The writer was born at Niles, Mich., in 1895 and was educated at the Armour Institute of Technology, Chicago. He was connected with various newspapers in Chicago, St. Louis, and Boston until 1919, when he became a writer for the Bell Syndicate. His works include: You Know Me, Al, Gullible's Travels, and The Big Town. He died in 1933.

Q. How many people stop at the Washington tourist camp?
A. The camp, which is open all year, was visited in 1935 by more than 53,000 persons who came in 14,500 cars.

Q. Please give some information about Ring Lardner, E. F.
A. The writer was born at Niles, Mich., in 1895 and was educated at the Armour Institute of Technology, Chicago. He was connected with various newspapers in Chicago, St. Louis, and Boston until 1919, when he became a writer for the Bell Syndicate. His works include: You Know Me, Al, Gullible's Travels, and The Big Town. He died in 1933.

Q. How many bowlers belong to the American Bowling congress?
A. The organization has 300,000 members.

Q. What medal was awarded Gen. Adolphus Greely, the explorer, shortly before his death?
A. On his 91st birthday he was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for his leadership of the Arctic expedition, 1881-84, which carried the American flag to a new farthest north.

Q. How long ago was the title, Catholic Majesty, attached to the Kings of Spain?
A. It was first given to King Isidore in 590 in the third Council of Toledo, but it was not until 1590 that it became annexed to the Spanish crown, when it was bestowed upon Ferdinand V. King of the Aragon and Castile.

Q. Is Dr. Samuel Parkes Cadman of English descent?
A. Dr. Cadman was born in Wellington, England, and was educated at London university.

Q. What kind of pure-bred dog is most popular in the United States?

Y., has enlarged until it now contains practically everything that goes with a town government.

Q. How many boys and girls are enrolled in 4-H clubs?
A. According to recent figures, nearly one million rural boys and girls are enrolled in 4-H clubs in nearly 3,000 counties in the United States.

Q. Was Ethiopia ever a part of the Roman empire?
A. Ethiopia was never conquered. Gibbon's Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire alludes to a campaign in the region of Ethiopia during the reign of Augustus 63 B. C. - 14 A. D.: "His generals, in the early part of his reign, attempted the reduction of Ethiopia and Arabia. They marched near a thousand miles to the south of the tropic; but the heat of the climate soon repelled the invaders, and protected the unwelcome natives of those sequestered regions."

Q. Where is the Kit Carson Elm?
A. It is located near Halstead on the bank of the Black Kettle Creek, Kan. It served as a marker for the Arapahoe and Osage Indian hunters, and it was here that Kit Carson and his band of pioneers camped for the night and were surprised by the Comanche Indians.

Q. Is Prince Matchabell, the perfume manufacturer, living?
A. Prince G. V. Matchabell died in New York City on March 31, 1935.

Q. What is the principle that makes glass boots effective in the treatment of infected feet?
A. The glass boot fits around the leg and increases the circulation in the damaged arteries by alternating negative and positive air pressure. By increasing the pressure on the foot, blood is compressed and by forming a vacuum around the extremity fresh blood is forced into the arteries and veins.

Q. Were the people who came to America with William Penn in 1682 Quakers?
A. On the 30th of August, 1682, William Penn embarked at Deal on the Welcome with about 100 passengers, all Quakers except three Huguenots.

A New Kind Of Booklet

It is a pretty pamphlet full of tinted pictures and descriptions of big-time events throughout the United States.

The usual booster publication is issued in some special interest and grossly exaggerates the subject. This new booklet has no advertisements and no propaganda.

Every state in the Union is treated exactly alike. Here is the real story of the American people at play.

Mr. Haskin says that our democratic people do not set upon setting up queens and kings of this or that event, not so much from a desire to imitate royalty, as to adopt a conventional form of bestowing distinction.

There are two companion booklets in this series called Natural Scenes and Famous Places. If you have never seen them, by all means order the three at once. You will thank The Pampa Daily NEWS for putting them in your way. Use the coupon.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The U. S. Supreme Court doesn't have much fun while doing its work, one of the nine justices explained at a recent party, so that any time something funny happens in the courtroom most of its members enjoy it fully, even if they don't go laughing out loud.

"A few years ago," this justice reminisced, "we had a country lawyer before us arguing a case and we began to notice that something was wrong.

"He was beginning powerful sentences in a loud voice, but failing to finish them. He kept right on trying, however.

"What had happened was that he had sat through the early session and by lunch time felt so awed by the surroundings in which he was to appear that he had gone out and filled himself with bootleg liquor.

"The chief justice turned to us with eyebrows raised, torn between a desire to burst out laughing and to have the man kicked out of the courtroom. It was obvious that something had to be done about it. But we hesitated.

"Then the lawyer suddenly solved the problem himself. He stopped, in the middle of a sentence, bowed toward the bench, turned on his heel, and walked straight out of the courtroom."

"And lost the case?" a listener suggested.
"Oh, no, he won," the justice replied. "He had a good case and his opponent didn't. We can't decide points on the basis of counsel's delivery."

Ever so often, he went on, a lawyer who turns out to be deaf comes before the court. Justices don't like that, because they hate to have to shout. Court attaches contend that some attorneys merely pretend to be hard of hearing so they won't have to answer sharp questions from the bench. But this story-telling justice told of one instance where a lawyer's deafness was genuine:

The lawyer had been talking 10 or 15 minutes when Chief Justice Hughes decided the other side had no case and that no further time should be wasted on the issue.

Hughes whispered with his colleagues and obtained their assent. Then he tried to break in on the orator by saying the court didn't care to hear further argument.

The lawyer didn't hear him and went right on gesturing and arguing. Hughes raised his voice and about the third time the attorney began to realize he was being addressed.

He turned helplessly, as if hoping someone would tell him what Hughes was saying. Whereupon the chief of opposing counsel, apparently sore, rose and exclaimed in his rival's ear, in a voice that was heard all through the courtroom:

"He says they'd rather give you the case than to have to listen to you any more!"

Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky will be the Democratic keynoter again at the Philadelphia convention and your correspondent, with no special claim to the gift of second sight, predicts that the senator will not repeat the same mighty speech with which he rang up the curtain in Chicago in 1932.

It will be Barkley's job to defend rather than attack the administration this time.

GRADUATION OF NEW CLASS IS ADDING TO GRAVE PROBLEM OF UNEMPLOYMENT OVER NATION

BY FREDERIC G. HASKINS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 5.—With school commencements nearing again, the problem of finding jobs for the thousands of graduates from high schools and colleges reappears with all its accompanying distress. For six years now, the United States has had an unemployment situation worse than it ever has known before. With large numbers of the adult population unemployed any way, each year bringing on a fresh crop of applicants in the labor market aggravates the situation. If there is no place for the men and women who become of the youths?

It was inevitable, however, that this could not endure. Family incomes declined and the cost of attending school could not be borne indefinitely. Some families became so impoverished that the matter of keeping children decently enough clad to attend school became a problem.

It was this situation that the federal government, in February 1934, instituted its college-aid program. The National Youth Administration was set up and special aid given in finding jobs for students, including secondary school and post-graduate students. This work has developed so that young students are making $6 a month and post-graduates from $25 to $30 a month. This is not very much money, but it often makes the difference of being able to stay in school and leaving to enter an inhospitable business world and labor market.

The work found varies according to abilities of the youths. Some students are acting as private secretaries to principals and teachers, while others do such manual work as repairing classroom and playground equipment. Some assist with grading of papers. Others who have the ability are given museum and library work, and some assist in research in such fields as sociology, agricultural biology, and chemical engineering.

Every employer and every employee knows that the first question asked and answered on the occasion of application for a job is: "What is your experience?" The young man or woman who has just come out of school can state that fact and it serves the purpose amply. But the youth who has been out of school five or six years and still can show no experience is at a bitter disadvantage. It is not very effective to explain to a prospective employer that one's only experience has consisted in looking for a job.

It is only natural that many young people become discouraged and, going on their own, lose ambition and initiative. They feel that they have come out into a hostile world and they early begin to doubt the soundness of the adages and learning of their school years. The feeling that the government or some one owes them a living grows. To be sure, personal characteristics and character have something to do with the outcome. Some young people will manage to win through in the face of any difficulties.

Jobs Found for Students. As early as 1930, when the difficulties arising from an overcrowded labor market began to be felt, stay-at-school drives were conducted by the authorities. Of course no one then had any idea of how long the hard times would last. It was figured that no one would be less crowded if more youngsters remained in school. The stay-at-school drives were amazingly successful. Between 1930 and 1932, high school enrollments increased almost 14 per cent, while college registrations rose 5 per cent in spite of the tuition costs.

Then there are some jobs available in connection with schools but off the campus. There are jobs available in hospitals and laboratories. There are now about 300,000 students receiving this assistance from Uncle Sam, and with its $27,000,000 appropriation the National Youth Administration expects to extend the work materially.

Employment Counsellors Provided. The finding of work to do at school is but one phase of the function of the Youth Administration. The older students quite naturally do not want to spend an indefinite number of years in school unless they mean to take up teaching as a profession and the profession is seriously overcrowded already, especially in view of the fact that many schools are closed through lack of funds. To aid these in finding jobs, junior employment counsellors have been placed in 24 selected communities.

These officials operate usually in cooperation with a local organization. For example, in Boston the employment counsellors work with the recreation department of the City of Boston. In large a city, there are many opportunities for work at the recreation centers but, more important, the counsellors, finding so many young people gathered at these centers, are able to give them the advice of which they stand in need. Of course they also keep in touch with United States employment agencies and a general interchange of information as to the possibilities of any labor market is made easy and rapid.

will be given by preference to the young people of relief families. Training and work experience opportunities are provided for the young people at various centers, thus providing that experience so essential in obtaining a job when the opportunity arrives. Young men and women are encouraged to take apprenticeship training. A federal committee on apprentice training was instituted by President Roosevelt in 1934 and it acts in cooperation with similar committees in the states.

No one can be certain how long the overcrowding of the labor market will last but, in the meantime, much is being done by the National Youth Administration in taking up the slack.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, May 7. (AP)—The false alarm which sent heavily-armed operatives of the public safety department hurrying to protect the state treasury recently, recalled what apparently was a real raid many years ago.

Considerable mystery surrounds that reported robbery of the treasury in Civil War days, and the facts never have been established. One story is that the raiders really were not robbers but patriotic citizens seeking to save the state's money from advancing troops of the federal army.

Carefully preserved in the archives is a copy of the Houston Tri-Weekly Telegraph, which carries the following account: "A gentleman from Austin, who arrived here yesterday, states that on last Sunday night, some 12 or 15 men broke into the state treasury building at Austin and broke open the safes, robbing them of about $17,000 in gold.

"They discriminated, leaving all silver. They were unable to get into the vaults where most of the treasure is kept.

"As soon as they got in, the alarm was given and citizens assembled under arms and proceeded to the rescue. On their approach the robbers decamped. The citizens fired upon them, mortally wounding one."

The present-day treasury is better fitted to resist depredaters than at the time of the Civil War, but it has more reason to be with many more millions of dollars in cash and securities on hand.

Its organization is much like a bank. Employees who handle valuables work behind barred doors and windows. The main vault date from about the time the Capitol was built, but a fine new one is nearing completion. Burglar alarms connect with the public safety department. Down the hall a short distance is the headquarters of the Rangers. At night two watchmen—students at the University of Texas—are on duty within the offices.

If the speed with which Homer Garrison, assistant chief of the public safety department, and a force of officers, armed with rifles, shotguns, pistols and machine guns, reached the treasury when an employe accidentally touched off an alarm, in an indication of what they would do in event of a real robbery, some think the robbers would be in for a warm time.

They moved from the highway building, where headquarters of the safety department is located, to the treasury, several hundred yards distant, within three or four minutes. Except in times of heavy tax payments, only a small sum, say $4,000 or $5,000, is kept in the treasury, but many millions of dollars worth of securities, covering state funds on deposit with banks and the bonds of insurance companies, are in the vaults all the time.

AUSTIN, May 7. (AP)—District Judge Brian Montague of Del Rio recently was puzzled over what to do with a local character who had readily admitted forging a check for a small amount.

Then he recalled some cases of "forgeries" he ran across when he was an officer in the American army in France during world war days.

"In transferring ammunition, in some cases, receipts had to be given," he said. "There was so much trouble over responsibility that some officers would make their sergeants sign, or allow them to do it.

"After the armistice and while with the occupation army in Germany, I had to check over the receipts and found scores of names signed, such as 'Booker T. Washington,' 'Thomas Jefferson,' 'Woodrow Wilson,' 'John D. Rockefeller,' and 'Henry Ford.'

"The general idea in those days was to get the job done and details weren't so important."

Juries favorable to the state are easier to obtain now than in past years, says District Attorney Julian Lacrosse of Del Rio.

"It used to be different," he said. "Convictions were hard to obtain and penalties were light even when there were convictions.

"Something has changed the general point of view. There unquestionably is stronger sentiment for the law and its agents."

ECKENER READY FOR U. S. FLIGHT AFTER WINNING BACK NAZI FAVOR

BY LOUIS F. LOCHNER.

FRIEDRICKSHAFEN, Germany, May 7 (AP)—The wheel of fate has spun again for Dr. Hugo Eckener, and the man who will command the new airship "Hindenburg" on her first flight to the United States this month no longer bears the stain of Nazi "disgrace."

A campaign of silence against the gray-haired air skipper ended almost on the eve of the flight to the United States, scheduled to end at Lakehurst, N. J., May 9.

Dr. Eckener's "disgrace" came after he declined to issue a statement endorsing the remilitarization of the Rhineland.

Characteristics that impress themselves when one meets the noted skipper include a genius for aviation, personal courage and independence of mind.

Sniffs the Wind. Just before the Graf Zeppelin started on its cruise around the world on August 4, 1929, Dr. Eckener was asked to indicate in detail the dirigible's route. Germany's "first admiral of the air" described the course until the Azores.

"And then?" "I can't tell you now," Eckener replied. "I'll have to determine that when we get there. I'll have to sniff the air; then I'll know how we are to proceed."

Capt. Ernst Lehmann Eckener's first officer overheard the conversation. He took the correspondent aside.

"Maybe you think Dr. Eckener was joking," he observed. "I tell you, he meant it literally. It's simply uncanny how he can sniff currents. While the rest of us try to figure the thing out scientifically, Dr. Eckener just has a sixth sense. And if his intuition doesn't agree with our supposedly scientific data, he's bound to be right because we missed some important factor."

The doughy doctor has given abundant proof of his personal courage. More than a decade ago one of the sudden storms that arise from time to time on Lake Constance occurred as one of his two daughters was swimming. Eckener broke from a dozen of restraining hands and plunged in to the waves but his efforts were in vain and his daughter drowned.

A Test of Courage. The supreme test of his courage came when, in 1928, he piloted the Graf Zeppelin for the first time to Lakehurst, N. J. A gale in mid-ocean ripped off the airship's stabilizing fin and Dr. Eckener had to assign his son, Knut, the dangerous task of repairing the fin while the airship continued to fly slowly.

"The toughest moment in my life," Eckener confided to a friend, "came when Knut had completed his hazardous job and had repaired the fin. To test out whether the fin would hold, I had to give orders for all four motors to go into full speed suddenly. It meant that the strong air current of these four motors might easily blow my son into the ocean. Yet it was my duty before God and the 20 passengers and 40 crew to issue the command. I did so. Fortunately my son was able to hold on."

Eckener's independence of mind has been demonstrated many times and he always has gone his own way as his conscious dictated. Denounced Versailles Treaty. At one of the dinners given in his honor in America in 1924, he denounced the Treaty of Versailles at a time when German diplomats could not afford to touch this hot iron. German circles, especially in the air ministry, were surprised that Dr. Joseph Goebbels, German propaganda minister, undertook to "punish" Eckener for writing that he was an air captain and not a statesman or politician, and therefore didn't know enough about the implications of Hitler's action in remilitarizing the Rhineland to make a campaign statement. Letters poured in upon Dr. Eckener from all parts of the world expressing astonishment at the ban on his name.

ITALIAN ARMY TAKES JIJIGA SAYS MESSAGE

NO RESISTANCE FROM ETHIOPIANS IS OFFERED

ROME, May 7. (AP)—Italy's southern army, still campaigning while northern troops controlled Addis Ababa, effected occupation today of Jijiga, strategic town 50 miles east of Harar, an official telegram announced.

Soon after the troops entered Jijiga, General Rodolfo Graziani landed there by airplane and formally took possession.

The occupation of Harar, second city of Ethiopia, was considered now a question of only a day or two.

The seven-month warfare would then be ended in the southeast, as well as on the northern front.

Jijiga is a highly-important point, dominating the road which runs between Harar and Berbera, capital of British Somaliland.

Italians allege that it was over this road that the majority of Ethiopia's war material entered the empire.

No resistance was offered to the Italian entrance into Jijiga.

While the military forces drove their campaign toward a close, a Fascist official said the political situation was "cleared up" by Emperor Haile Selassie's flight Saturday, occupation of Addis Ababa Tuesday and Premier Mussolini's declaration of unsigned peace.

Premier Mussolini conferred last night with Count Charles De Chambrun, French ambassador to Italy, and rumors circulated that the envoy presented France's supposed objections to complete annexation of Ethiopia by Italy as a colony.

Officials said they could not confirm these reports.

One authority said, however, Italy considered Ethiopia now to be simply a colony of tribes without laws except those laid down by Marshal Pietro Badoglio.

This official said Addis Ababa, now under the civil governorship of Major Giuseppe Bottai, governor of Rome, was under martial law.

Liquor Dealer Seeks Bond on Murder Charge

FORT STOCKTON, May 7. (AP)—Wilbur Garton, Corpus Christi wholesale liquor dealer, sought liberty on bond today in two murder indictments charging him with slaying his wife and her daughter six years ago.

Bond in each case was set at $5,000 after a Pecos county grand jury returned the indictments yesterday. Garton's attorney, Thomas B. Ridgell of Dallas, had indicated no difficulty was expected in arranging the bonds.

Garton was charged with murder several weeks ago after the bodies of a woman and child taken from the Pecos river in 1930 were identified as those of Mrs. Garton and her daughter by a former marriage, Joyce Lynn Roberts, 10. Mrs. Garton's mother made the identification by clothing and rings.

Garton's trial was tentatively set for June 1. Ridgell announced he was ready for the trial at any time.

Haile Selassie Arrives in Suez

SUEZ, Egypt, May 7. (AP)—The cruiser Enterprise, bearing the fugitive Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and the imperial family into exile at Palestine, arrived today at this city on the southern end of the Suez canal.

The warship entered the canal but no visitors were permitted to go aboard.

Several of the party which accompanied the emperor in his flight last Saturday from Addis Ababa were observed on deck but Selassie was not in sight.

ICE PEDDLER HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—John E. Teter, popular ice man on the Main street route, had to walk to work for the first time in 26 years when somebody stole his bicycle. An old-fashioned, high-wheeler bike, it had been in daily service almost three decades.

A SHOWDOWN FIGHT OVER RELIEF SEEN

Republicans Demand WPA Be Dismantled And Replaced With State Grants.

WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—A showdown fight over relief, perhaps the last of the major issues to come to a vote this session, began today on Capitol Hill.

As leaders convened the House to debate President Roosevelt's request for $1,500,000,000 for relief for next fiscal year, Republicans raised a concerted demand that WPA be dismantled and replaced with a system of federal grants to states.

Administration leaders, however, expressed confidence that the fund, contained in a deficiency bill of more than $2,000,000,000, would pass the House this week or early next.

Under the leadership of Rep. Snell (R., N. Y.), about 50 House Republicans held a two-hour caucus last night, after which Snell read to newspapermen this statement of their position:

"1.—We believe in adequate appropriations for the relief of the suffering and needy people in every community.

"2.—We demand that the distribution of relief funds be immediately divorced from political control.

"3.—We advocate that all relief funds as far as the federal government is concerned should be by grants to the several states and administered by non-partisan committees in local communities.

"4.—We believe this program of administering relief will save from 25 to 50 per cent of present expenditures and result in more adequate and efficient relief of needy and deserving citizens."

Comstock Lode Fraud Brings Guilty Pleas

FORT WORTH, May 7. (AP)—Four of 12 persons charged in connection with a $2,000,000 corporation exploiting the Comstock lode of Nevada faced sentences today after they pleaded guilty in federal court here. Cases of eight other defendants were continued.

W. J. Hollifield was sentenced to a year and a day in El Reno reformatory and was given five-year suspended concurrent sentences in other counts of the 14-count indictment which charged using the mails to defraud.

Monro Manning, reputed radioeer, received a five-year suspended sentence and Samuel J. Lewis' plea

ITALY COULD ASK LEGATIONS BE WITHDRAWN

BRITISH STILL INSIST QUESTION IS FOR THE LEAGUE

LONDON, May 7. (AP)—Authoritative British sources said today that Italy has the right to ask that foreign legations be withdrawn from Ethiopia as a matter of military practice.

At the same time, these sources stated that the British government regards the question of the future political status of Ethiopia a matter for the League of Nations to decide.

It is with this attitude that Anthony Eden, foreign secretary, will go to Geneva for the league council session next Monday.

It was understood that Marshal Pietro Badoglio, Italian commander in Ethiopia, had refrained thus far from asking that the British, United States, and other diplomatic missions retire from Addis Ababa.

The British legation will remain, at least for the present, to look after British citizens.

(Governments do not maintain legations in subject territories, provinces, or colonies of other nations.)

The foreign diplomats in Addis Ababa maintain constant contact with one another through the Belgian minister who is dean of the diplomatic corps there.

An authoritative source said the withdrawal of legations from Ethiopia would be considered in London as without political implication as regards the recognition of the Italian claim that Ethiopia is now owned by Italy.

It was understood that no exchanges on the subject have taken place between Italy and Great Britain and that, so far as the British are concerned, none is contemplated.

The imperial defense committee met today with the British precautions in the Mediterranean continuing.

Great Britain's naval strength

there has been little diminished despite the continual arrivals of warships at home ports to give leaves to their crews, for others to depart almost as continuously to take their places.

H. M. S. Nelson will start for home next week from Gibraltar where it has been since January, but her sister-ship, H. M. S. Rodney, left today to replace her after a brief stay in home waters.
