

Open House For New Coca Cola Plant Today

Open house will be in progress this afternoon and until 10 o'clock this evening at the great, modern plant of the Texas Coca Cola Company. Virtually the last word in bottling plant design and construction, the plant covers an area of 208x385 feet. There is a small auxiliary building for advertising material storage, and with this, the overall floor space under roof is 33,000 square feet. Besides this there are 48,000 square feet of paved working area. Location is on U.S. 80 about four blocks west of the Webb AFB road.

Juvenile Crime Rate In City Dips Sharply In Four Months

Although the nationwide juvenile delinquency rate is climbing, the trend in Big Spring seems to be for children to steer clear of trouble. Juvenile Officer A. E. (Shorty) Long says that there are fewer children now committing offenses against the law than last year. "The delinquency rate here is definitely on the decline," he said. Unlawful acts committed by juveniles here during the past four months have been especially low, Long pointed out. Reason for the unusual drop recently is not known. The United States Children's Bureau says that there are fewer children with police each year on charges of delinquency. This organization has recently expressed alarm over the rise in such cases. People in Big Spring have no need for alarm, however, Long pointed out that so far this year only about 95 children have appeared before him. And only six boys and three girls were sent to state correction schools. About 50 of the children appearing before Long were "talked to" and then sent home. These boys and girls were lectured for "playing hooky," fighting, or petty stealing. Long says that a "talking" usually is enough in such cases. Sixteen children have been in a little more serious trouble, however. They might be caught breaking into an establishment or stealing something valuable. In such cases on first offense, Long sometimes gives those involved a "30-day stay-at-home" order. All privileges, such as staying out at night or going to the movies, are cut off. Often these same children are put on "probation" and have to report to the juvenile officer once a month. This year so far only eight boys and eight girls have been put on probation. Last year 25 boys and 12 girls were on probation. For the more serious offenses, children are sent before the Juvenile Judge (County Judge R. H. Weaver). Seven children have been paroled to their parents by the judge this year. These paroles follow an official declaration that the child is a delinquent. Four boys received such paroles after being sentenced to Gatesville recently on charges of breaking windows here with BB pellets. Several of the nine children sent to correction school this year are already back home and living normal lives. Long said that they are

Small Grain Is In Good Shape

AUSTIN (AP)—More rain and good growing weather have swiftly improved small grain, winter cover crops, and pastures in general over Texas, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said today. The report was one of the most optimistic in many months. For the first time in several years, the USDA said, wet soil stopped field work over most of the state. Small grain prospects were "very promising," the commercial vegetable outlook was improved, and fast germination and growth of rescue grass, clovers and winter weeds promised green winter feed over most of the state. The report included conditions through Monday, but did not take into account more recent rain. The soaking rains of a week ago were followed by showers that further replenished moisture.

More Hiring Is Due For Christmas Rush

Prospects are that local retailers will be hiring moje "extra help" during the Christmas season this year than last, says Leon Kinney, manager of the Texas Employment Commission office here. It's still a little early to tell, though, he adds. However, the TEC doesn't expect to handle applications for a great number of the seasonal workers. Most retailers here have big backlogs of applications for employment, and most expect to hire personnel from among those with applications pending, rather than seek help through the employment commission. For this reason, Thelma Roe, placement clerk, believes the TEC isn't a very good barometer of local employment conditions. It has been that way all year, Mrs. Roe points out. There have been so many persons applying directly to employers for work that many jobs have been filled without the employment commission ever knowing that a vacancy existed. Mrs. Roe said that last Christmas, the TEC went through most of the shopping season without receiving a single call for help from a variety store. She contacted managers of the concerns and learned they have been filling vacant positions through work applications made directly to the various stores. During the past month, the TEC here made only half as many placements as in October, 1952. "But that doesn't mean there was less work," Mrs. Roe explained. "Employers were simply hiring workers as they applied at the stores for jobs. However, Kinney says about twice as many people are filling unemployment claims this year as last. That amounted to about 73 persons in October. The decrease in employment, Kinney believes, is due to the slowdown in construction. Also, completion of the major phases of construction on the Permian Building and the new courthouse in recent weeks has added numerous building trades workers to the unemployed list. But as far as the Christmas season is concerned, both Kinney and Mrs. Roe expect to receive some requests for extra or part-time help later this month or early in December.

Murray's Wife Listens At Meet

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—The woman who wants to be the next governor of Oklahoma is getting some practical experiences at the Southern Governors' Conference, just in case. Mrs. Johnston Murray, red-haired wife of Oklahoma's governor, has been listening in on the problems 13 Dixie governors have been discussing here. She is considering running to succeed her husband. She has sat in while her husband has made decisions which affect a lot of people in Oklahoma. Murray says he consults his wife before he decides any issues, adding that she usually has the human interest slant he says he sometimes lacks. Willie, 45 and chic, is something new in American politics. If she decides to run, and the governor's own political future seems to be the decisive issue in that case, she will give it the kind of whirl no woman has created in recent American politics.

Not to unnecessarily alarm anybody, but just as a suggestion to be careful when camping and fishing season at the new Lake Thomas rolls around next year.

There will likely be a lot of rattlesnakes around the area surrounding the lake. Men familiar with that country are pointing out that as the water rises in the lake it will fill a lot of rattlesnake and cat dens and there's nothing much that can be calculated to make a rattlesnake rattle louder and longer, or that will make a wild cat wilder, than water in his den. The rising water may even get some of the coyotes.

As water drives them from present dens it can be anticipated they'll make for the next dry hole and so on until they've established new homes, high and dry. Perhaps we will have the good luck to have many of them drowned.

Anyway, it will probably be a good idea to be on the lookout for them and to include a snake bite kit in the camp trappings. It's a good idea to carry a snake bite kit in West Texas whether you're going to be around rattlesnakes or not. These kits will take care of insect bites, too.

Miss Linda Pitts is a mighty pretty senior in the Stanton High School. She is majoring in secretarial work and is getting some practical experience after school in the afternoons in the office of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce.

Monday afternoon when she came to work, she hinted, just a little bit, to Mrs. Hills Weathers, manager, that there was a certain boy hanging around a lonesome coffee cup over at Gleen Brown's Walgreen Drug Store, and that maybe he shouldn't be left unattended with all those high school girls swarming around town.

"Then for goodness sake get out of here and let me run this office," screamed Mrs. Weathers.

Linda got out. When she showed up next, which was at the appointed hour Tuesday afternoon, she was wearing a handsome new diamond ring on the finger of the left hand that signifies something. The young man to be congratulated is a native of Mississippi and an airman at Webb Air Force Base.

Linda is one lovely West Texan that there ain't no damyankee going to get.

Orders for approximately 3,253 tons of feed have been approved for Howard County livestock owners, according to Gibe Hammack, county PMA office manager, and approximately 80 per cent of this feed has been delivered.

The approved requests include 570,100 pounds of cottonseed meal; 2,970,500 pounds of cow pellets; 498,300 pounds of sheep pellets; 1,282,530 pounds of corn; 198,760 pounds of wheat and 1,345,630 pounds of oats.

Hammack said that as far as he knows no survey has yet been made of Howard County to determine the approximate amount of hay that will be needed by livestock owners during the coming months, or the price they feel they should be required to pay for this hay. These surveys are being made by the Extension Service in most of the drought-area counties.

Charlie Daniels, Martin County PMA office manager, said at Stanton Tuesday, that such a survey has been made in his county but that he does not have the estimate on the amount of hay it is anticipated will be required. He said, however, that he thought the price farmers and ranchers feel they can afford to pay runs up to about $17 a ton for alfalfa with less for prairie and legume-mixed hay.

To date the PMA office at Stanton has delivered 560 tons of cow and sheep pellets; 230 tons of cottonseed meal; 16,000 bushels of corn and 17,000 bushels of oats to Martin County livestock feeders.

J. C. Sale of Stanton bought the steers off the Jim Currie Ranch in Glasscock County and resold them to the LaFors Cattle Company at Pampa. There were 72 of these steers and Sale says they averaged 460 pounds.

The 68 Currie heifers went to Kelly and Denton at Hereford.

J. D. Harvard of Stanton, and Mustang Draw, has lived in West Texas for 30 years but he was raised in Navarro County and recently returned from a visit back there.

He says he doesn't reckon he has ever enjoyed eating young squirrels as much as he did this trip. In fact, he says that after fishing up on young squirrels he went out to take a walk in the woods and the first thing he knew he was climbing trees himself.

Maybe Navarro didn't look any good to him when he left it, but now, he says, "it's the land of milk and honey."

Harvard says the cotton there this year is the best that country has ever known, running well along at the rate of half a bale to the acre. He said that also quite apparent to him was the return of a great deal of the land, formerly worn out with cotton, to grass. He says there are more cattle in that country now than at any time since the first cotton seed was planted there. Most of these cattle he describes as being "big Brahmas."

The people back there are really turning from cotton to cattle, he comments, and they are seeding plenty of grass.

Harvard reports the deer in that section are big and fat and plentiful—and the squirrels, well . . .

It happened more than a year ago and now there's no harm in telling it.

One morning when the Grub Line was covering the Big Spring Corporation Court during the absence of the regular City Hall reporter, a dilapidated-looking sort of character was brought before Judge Sandy Greenless charged with drunkenness.

The court asked him where he lived and he named a county well to the south and to the east or west of Big Spring.

"What kind of work do you do?" the judge asked.

"I work on a ranch," the man replied quite truthfully.

Judge Greenless talked to the defendant about how foolish it was for a hard-working cowboy to waste his wages enjoying Big Spring night life, assessed a small fine, and called the next case.

In a little while the defendant settled his fine with a few dollars

he had left in his pocket at the time of his arrest, went downstairs, out to the street and walked up to his wife, who had a certain gleam in her eye, but who was sitting in a shiny new Cadillac. The man climbed in beside her and they drove away.

He worked on a ranch, all right, but it was his own ranch and that morning he could probably have written a check, that would have been cashed, and that would have covered the cost price of the City Hall itself.

Farmers and other small owners control about 57 per cent of U. S. commercial forests.

DAVIS & HUMPHRIES, OWNERS & OPERATORS

MRS. LEO G. BRADFORD ... With a family of five she takes the short cuts.

Good Company Meal Is Spaghetti Dinner

Living on an Air Force Base where your husband is operations officer can mean a problem when that husband is frequently calling to say that "an old buddy of five years back just flew in from another base and I'm bringing him to dinner."

Mrs. Leo G. Bradford, wife of Capt. Bradford at Webb Air Force Base, solves the problem of company very nicely with her favorite spaghetti sauce recipe. It's a quickie and is easier than pie to prepare and serve and it can be made for any number of people. It's delicious too.

SPAGHETTI SAUCE
Ingredients:
1 large onion (chopped)
1 can mushroom soup
1 can tomato soup
1 to 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1 teaspoon chili powder
Salt and pepper to taste
3 to 4 tablespoons salad oil or bacon drippings

Method:
Brown chopped onions in oil. Add meat and brown lightly. Add salt, pepper and other seasonings and brown meat some more. Add tomato soup and mushroom soup, rinsing out each can with a little water, and stir well. Simmer for 30 to 45 minutes. To vary this a can of mushrooms and a can of tomato sauce can be added. Mrs. Bradford likes to serve her sauce in a large bowl so that everyone can take as little or much as he likes over his spaghetti. With it she serves a tossed salad and French bread with garlic butter made by mixing garlic salt with melted butter.

A good and easily-made French dressing for the salad, according to Mrs. Bradford, is made by mixing about equal portions of salad oil and white vinegar, then adding salt, pepper and one-half teaspoon sugar. For an extra tang she puts the mixture in an almost empty mustard jar or adds oil from the top of prepared mustard. The mixture should be well shaken.

Going to the Bradfords' for dinner would be an interesting evening for they would probably serve the meal in a Bavarian china set which they designed themselves to go with an exquisite beehive china mocha set made in Vienna. They purchased these things when Capt. Bradford was on duty in Germany. The salad would probably be served in a beautiful Czechoslovakian cut glass set.

The Bradfords have four children and are native Texans. She is from Lubbock and he is from near Fort Worth.

Economical Liver Can Be Tastily Disguised

Liver has been on "best buy" lists for several weeks, a real boon to the budget if the family likes it. If they don't looked pleased when liver is served, maybe some new ideas of cooking will change their minds. The economy is too good to miss.

Because liver is such an outstanding source of vitamins, minerals and proteins, in addition to being inexpensive, it is worthwhile for the housewife to make it palatable.

Liver is quite perishable, so use it within 24 hours of purchase. Store loosely wrapped in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Frozen liver also is practical because of its keeping quality.

Here are recipes aimed at making liver popular at your household. The easiest way to prepare liver is to broil it. A new and different tang can be given by marinating in a sauce before broiling.

SAVORY FRENCH LIVER
Soak dried liver in French dressing in the refrigerator about 1 hour before broiling. Then place on a rack in a broiler pan. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Place broiler pan in broiler so the liver is about 3 inches from the source of heat. Broil according to schedule below. Turn and brush with more melted butter or margarine. Broil other side. Do not overcook.

A satisfactory broiling schedule is four minutes per side for slices 1/4-inch thick and five minutes per side for 1/2-inch thick.

CHINESE LIVER
Ingredients:
1 pound sliced beef liver
2 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1-3 cup soy sauce
1 cup water
2 tablespoons fat
1 1/4 cups cubed onion (1-inch cubes)

Method:
Combine flour, sugar and pepper in a pan 7 by 11 by 2 inches. Gradually stir in soy sauce and water until smooth. Place liver in soy mixture. Let stand in the refrigerator one hour. Melt fat in skillet. Add onion. Stir and cook until onions are just tender. Remove onions to a warm platter. Pan-fry liver in fat. Turn to brown on both sides. Remove liver to platter with onions. Gradually stir soy sauce mixture into drips in skillet. Cook and stir until thick. Serve over liver.

As a variation with the common favorite, liver and bacon, serve it with orange sauce. This is how it's done:
LIVER AND RICE CREOLE
Ingredients:
1 pound liver, cut in 1/4-inch cubes
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons fat
1/2 cup chopped onions
2 1/2 teaspoons salt
3/4 cups tomato puree
3/4 cups chopped green pepper
2 cups cooked rice
1 cup popped rice cereal
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Method:
Dredge cubes of liver with flour; brown in hot fat with onions. Add salt, tomato puree, green pepper and rice; simmer five minutes. Pour into casserole; sprinkle with rice cereal which has been mixed with melted butter or margarine. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) about 15 minutes. Makes six servings.

Somewhat similar to this creole recipe is this one for liver with Spanish sauce, but the lima beans added give it a very different flavor soaked and cooked dry lima can be used.

LIVER WITH SPANISH SAUCE AND LIMA BEANS
Ingredients:
1 pound diced beef liver
1 small onion, sliced
2 tablespoons fat
Salt
Flour
2 cups cooked tomatoes
2 cups lima beans

Method:
Cut sliced liver into 1-inch pieces. Season and dip in flour. Brown onion and liver in fat. Add tomatoes. Cover. Cook slowly about 30 minutes. Serve on hot lima beans.

Add Wine To Potatoes
Stuffed baked potatoes always add a popular note to menus. Far-sighted hostesses like to serve them because they may be prepared as much as a day ahead of time. Simply scoop out the center of the baked potato, add a dash of California Sauterne and beat to fluffiness for special, delicate flavor.

Sauce, Milk Good On Apple Treats

These apple dumplings will surprise your family, when they discover the apples are stuffed with a spicy raisin mixture and topped with a slice of cheese. Serve with a hot sauce or plain cream.

Ingredients:
3 cooking apples
2-3 cup seedless raisins
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 tablespoons granulated sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon allspice
1 Rich pastry (basis 2 cups flour)
Processed cheese
Sauce

Method:
Pare apples, cut in halves and remove cores. Pour boiling water over raisins, drain and chop. Mix raisins with butter, sugar, salt and allspice. Roll pastry thin and cut into six 5-inch squares. Fill apple halves with raisin mixture, lay a thin slice of cheese on top and place filled side on pastry. Bring corners of pastry together and pinch sides together to make a square. Bake in very hot oven (450 degrees F.) about 15 minutes, then reduce temperature to 300 degrees F. and bake until apples are tender, about 30 minutes longer. Serve warm with hot sauce.

Franks A Winner At Snack Or Dinner

A small fry's version of Utopia might well be a place where he could have "hot dogs" at every meal!

Mom thinks the versatile frankfurter is pretty wonderful, too. She knows that thrifty all-meal franks are ideal for a family dinner, a school day lunch or a snack any time of the day. She knows, too, that frankfurters are among the most economical of all meats because there's no shrinkage and no waste.

"Hot dogs," as produced by reputable sausage makers, are fully as nutritious as the meats from which they are made. They contain the same high quality protein, vitamins and minerals as found in the most costly cuts of top grades of meat.

A good main dish for down-to-earth budgets is barbecued franks: BARBECUED FRANKFURTERS
Ingredients:
1 pound frankfurters
2 tablespoons fat
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup catsup
4 teaspoons vinegar
1/2 cup water

Method:
Cook onion in fat until tender. Add other ingredients and simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Add franks and simmer 15 minutes longer. 5 servings.

Hush Puppies Are Southern Recipe

If you're having fried fish tomorrow why not serve with it old-fashioned Southern hush puppies. This easy recipe calls for the economical nonfat dry milk.

HUSH PUPPIES
Ingredients:
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/4 cup nonfat dry milk
1/2 cup cornmeal
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg beaten
2 tablespoons chopped onion (if desired)
Method:
Sift flour, measure and sift again with dry milk, cornmeal, sugar, baking powder and salt. Gradually add water, beaten egg and onion. Drop by teaspoonfuls into the fat in which the fish is fried (300F) and fry until golden brown. The hush puppies should be finger-shaped. Makes about one dozen.

Chili Con Camarones Is Variation Of Usual Chili

A variation on the chili theme is Chili con Camarones (chili with shrimp). The first thing to do is to prepare the shrimp as follows:

Ingredients:
1/2 lb. raw shrimp
1 bay leaf
1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
1 teaspoon chili powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 whole cloves

Method:
Cover shrimp with cold water. Add seasonings. Bring to boil and simmer about 5 minutes or till shells turn pink. Drain and shell.

CHILI CON CAMARONES
Ingredients:
1/4 cup minced fresh onion (or dried onion flakes)
1 tablespoon olive oil
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
2 teaspoons chili powder (or more to taste)
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon whole oregano leaves
1 1/2 cups canned tomatoes
1 No. 2 can red kidney beans
1/2 lb. cooked shrimp

Method:
Sauté onions in oil until clear. If dried onions are used, recon-stitute first according to directions on package.) Add remaining ingredients except shrimp. Heat slowly till heated through, stirring frequently. Add shrimp and heat gently. If large shrimp are used, cut into 1/2-inch pieces—if small shrimp leave whole. Serves four to five.

Timely Tips

Pleasant foods for November include beef, potatoes and onions. The 1953 crop of sweet potatoes is larger than last year's crop. The quality is good and prices attractive at this time of the year.

Kabob Fun

Kabobs are fun for "outside" cooking. Grill over charcoal a combination of frankfurter slices threaded on skewers with ripe olives and a bacon slice. Or thread canned luncheon meat cubes on skewers with pineapple chunks and bacon.

Tuna Almond Dish Is Exotic Served Over Fluffy Rice

Every member of your family will feel like a Maharaja when you serve this exciting and marvelous tasting Rice and Tuna Main Dish. Here is really splendid eating which is full of flavor as intriguing as all the mystery of the Orient.

Just as intriguing is the fact that this rice, tuna and almond combination is quick as can be to prepare and stir together in a great big hurry.

Ingredients:
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1-3 cup blanched almonds, split in half
1 cup water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup coarsely chopped green pepper

Method:
Place the butter or margarine and the almonds in a shallow pan in a 30 degree F. oven for about 20 minutes or until the almonds are lightly browned. Place the water, salt, green peppers and onion in a saucepan. Cook covered, until the pepper is tender but still crisp. Stir in the almonds, tuna and soy sauce. Mix together the cornstarch and cold water. Stir into the tuna mixture. Cook, stirring, for about 5 minutes. Serve hot over the hot cooked rice. This recipe makes 4 servings.

Leonard To Conclude 30-Year Association

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Next March 1 director Robert Leonard comes to the end of a 30-year association with one studio. That's something of a record in this business. I had a chat with Pop, as he is affectionately called. I even managed to get him to name the actresses with the most sex appeal of all those he has directed. They are: Greta Garbo, Joan Crawford, Lana Turner, Elizabeth Taylor and Greer Garson.

City Building Over $2-Million Mark For Year

Building permits issued at the city hall during October pushed the year's construction expenditures in Big Spring over the two million dollar mark. Actual expenditures listed on the 747 permits issued so far this year total $2,139,320.00. There were 93 permits issued in October, which is the largest amount in any month except March when 123 were issued. However, construction cost listed totaled only $215,905. In September, when only 61 permits were issued, total listed was $484,055.

Tide Water Oil Finds New Texas Pay Zone

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Tide Water Oil told today of the discovery of a new Texas oil producing zone in the New Hope field in Franklin County. The discovery well, on a lease held jointly by Tide Water and Seaboard Oil, flowed 114 barrels of 57 gravity distillate through a 1/4-inch choke in 11 hours at a depth of 12,088-12,182 feet. A deeper test is underway.

JUVENILES

perhaps better citizens than some other children that have never been in trouble. Last year eight boys and five girls were sent to correction schools and a number of them are also back in Big Spring now.

Long does not try to lay the blame entirely on the parents. "You would be surprised how many children getting in trouble come from good families," he said. "Quite a few times the child in trouble just has it in him."

A number of times the fault lies with the parents, Long explained. Other causes are numerous. "That's really the problem," he said. "We have to find out why children get in trouble. Then we can stop this delinquency problem."

Recently the juvenile officer went to Huntsville State Prison to take some adult prisoners down. When Warren H. E. Moore found he was a juvenile officer, he began praising the work done with children throughout the state. Moore claims that probation work and "second chances" for the children keep a lot of them from turning into hardened criminals and ending up in prison.

Long makes it a policy here to "give the boys their chances." Usually on first offense the juvenile is lectured, paroled or confined to his home for a brief period. "We only get rough when it is necessary," Long said.

Most offenders here are boys between the ages of 8 and 16. Several of those who get in trouble are girls, however. Long says the greatest problem at the present is with run-away children.

Strikes Are Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department said today that strike idleness in September was only about half what it was in August. Some 600 strikes were in effect in September for a total of 1,500,000 man-days.

Hunt Backing Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—H. L. Hunt, wealthy Texas oil man from Dallas, was reported today to have paid for printing 50,000 copies of the Jenner Committee report on "interlocking subversion in government departments."

Water Is Sought

LUTHER—Ed Hyden and O. R. Crow are drilling an irrigation well one mile north and one mile east of the Luther store on Sam Fisherman's farm.

great gal with the crew, too; that shyness was strictly for publicity then.

"Joan Crawford certainly had sex appeal and still has it. I directed her in 'Dancing Lady,' which had a couple of bit players named Fred Astaire and Nelson Eddy.

"Lana, whom I directed in 'Ziegfeld Girl,' has plenty of sex on the screen and so does Elizabeth Taylor. Liz had it even as a young girl when she did a picture called 'Gynther' with me.

Some may be surprised that I put Greer Garson on the list, but I think she definitely exudes sex. But then sex appeal, like movies, is largely a matter of opinion. What appeals to one man may not appeal to another. I even met a serviceman the other day who said he didn't go for Marilyn Monroe!"

Pop just wound up "Her 12 Men" with Greer and may do one or two more films before checking off the lot. The March 1 date marks the maturity of the MGM pension plan and he obviously qualifies for its benefits.

"I could stay on longer," said Pop, a big friendly bear of a man. "But I think it would be fun to make my own pictures for a change and perhaps even get into TV."

"I've been with MGM since it started in 1924. In fact, I started even before the company was formed. I was shooting on the Culver City lot in 1922, directing my former wife, Mae Murray, for our own company."

Pop goes back even further than that. He came to Los Angeles from Denver in the early 1900's and went to work in a clothing store. One day he ran into his former voice teacher, who insisted that he resume lessons. That led to an operetta troupe, which led to a stock company. This got him into the movies. He started in 1908.

Woman Wasn't Just Nightmare Victim

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A frantic call was received by the night police sergeant. "I can't sleep," the woman complained. "There are lions roaring in the neighborhood."

A check was made and the lady wasn't having nightmares. The lions are with a show at the nearby Arizona State Fairgrounds.

Peggy Lee Obtains Divorce, Alters Name

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Singer Peggy Lee's legal name has been changed from Norma Dexter to Norma Barbour through the expedient of a divorce.

She was granted a decree Tuesday from Brad Dexter, whose real name is Boris Mitchell. They were married last Jan. 4. She alleged cruelty.

Miss Lee formerly was married to guitarist Dave Barbour and has a daughter, Nicki, by him. She asked for restoration of the name Barbour.

Doctor Convicted

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Dr. Harry Heiman, 62, was convicted Tuesday in the death of a woman patient following the birth of her premature baby. The charge stemmed from the death of Mrs. Agnes Serpas in 1951. The state contended Mrs. Serpas' death was a result of negligence.

Uncle Sam Should Do Well On Corporation Taxes Next March

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (U)—Uncle Sam should do all right next year because American business is doing so well this year.

March, on this year's corporate earnings should be considerably higher than the Treasury's take in 1953. With individual incomes totalling higher this year, too, the Treasury haul from this source should be higher.

In both cases the present high income tax rates apply. On next year's earnings and incomes there'll be some cut in rates and returns, which will show up in 1955 payments on 1954 incomes.

Earnings statements of corporations for the first nine months of 1953 show that as a whole they are putting aside 40 per cent more now to meet next March's federal income and excess profits tax bills than they did this time a year ago.

This is because corporate earnings before taxes, as reported so far, come to around 30 per cent more than in the same period last year. After taxes, the net income is running around 15 per cent higher than last year.

It was last year's lower than expected corporate tax payments—due in part to some costly 1952 strikes—which embarrassed the Treasury last June. The steel strike alone lopped about one billion dollars off the amount the steel companies had been expected to pay Uncle Sam on 1952 earnings.

When earnings drop, Uncle Sam loses even more than the companies, because he takes more than half of their earnings in taxes. Thanks to a 52 per cent corporate income tax plus the added bite of excess profit levies on many companies, the Treasury was taking around 55 per cent of corporate earnings in 1952.

With gross earnings higher this year, the excess profits tax is taking an even greater share. The total tax take is estimated to be around 60 per cent of total corporate gross earnings.

This will help the Treasury in March. But the trouble here is that almost 80 per cent of the Treasury's total revenue is in the form of corporate and individual income taxes. With rates due to be lowered on next year's income, any falling off in corporate earnings in 1954 because of a possible business dip, and any falling off in take-home pay of individuals would put an embarrassing crimp in Treasury revenues when payments are made in 1955.

The Treasury collected some 22 billion dollars from corporations last year and some 33 billion dollars from individuals. To this can be added 10 1/2 billion dollars in taxes which the 48 states collected and some 10 billion dollars that local governing units took in.

Add in federal excise tax and other receipts and the nation's total tax bill climbs to around 85 billion dollars.

THE SPRINGBOARD

News From Webb Air Force Base
By A-2C FERD BORSCH

ANOTHER "FIRST"

Webb Air Force Base hasn't been around as long as the New York Yankees, but the Big Spring installation could give the perennial baseball champions a run for their World Series money in collecting "firsts."

When FlyTAF inaugurated its ground safety program, Webb won the initial monthly award. More recently the Big Spring base landed a pair of firsts in statistical reporting.

And last week Webb lived up to true New York Yankee tradition by leading FlyTAF bases for the fourth consecutive month in maintenance of ground equipment.

Webb has been battling a 15-base field for top honors, which is seven more than the Yankees ever had to face.

In September Webb totaled an overall average of 1.00 in the "out of service" column to set the pace for a fourth straight month. This was well ahead of the 1.65 per cent compiled by runnerup Bryan AFB. The command rate was 3.66.

LIBRARY
Two reading rooms have been added to base library facilities. These rooms are furnished with upholstered couches, chairs, reading lamps and a writing desk.

Plans are now in progress to establish a children's library. Books have been selected and will be ordered by Frances Doll, base librarian.

NEW CLASS

Webb received its newest class, 54-H, last week for processing in preparation for the T-28 and T-33 phases of jet fighter pilot training.

A total of 60 students, including 63 aviation cadets, comprise the newest class. No MDAP students are in this group.

RE-ENLISTMENTS

M-Sgt. Jack M. Parks of Supply Squadron will be a 20-year man when he serves his present hitch. A veteran of 14 years in the military, the master sergeant re-enlisted for six years at Webb's recruiting office this week.

Another who re-enlisted for six years was A-2C David J. Robinson of Webb's fire and crash crew. He has been in the military for seven years.

SPORTS

Field Maintenance blasted 3561 Maintenance out of first place and took over the coveted spot by rolling to a 4-0 shutout in Squadron Bowling League kegling at West Texas Bowling Center. FM now has 9 1/2 wins in 12 outings. Supply, Air Base Headquarters and Student Squadron No. 1 are all knotted for second place with 8-4 marks.

Webb's 14-team Squadron Basketball League will open its 1953-

Town Favors Demos To Spend Bequest

PERRYPOPOLIS, Pa. (U)—This newly-formed Southwestern Pennsylvania borough that became heir to 1 1/2 million dollars a few years ago has brand new officials today—one Republican and 11 Democrats. They're the first ever elected by the community.

The little town, chartered as a borough last year, held its first election Tuesday and named mortician Russell Blair, a Republican, burgess. He won by 45 votes over the Democratic candidate, Dr. William Vernon. The borough elected seven councilmen, three school directors and a tax collector—all Democrats.

Perryopolis inherited the money from Mrs. Mary Fuller Frazier, a native daughter. She willed the fortune for civic improvements.

Find Bodies In Tank

KAWASAKI, Japan (U)—Workmen dismantled a Japanese Army tank brought here from Saipan as scrap iron. Inside the rusty hulk they found the remains of two Japanese soldiers killed in the Saipan fighting of World War II.

Drought Makes Fishing Hole

EDINBURG (U)—The drought gets a lot of credit for a new fishing hole near Edinburg. It's Lake Edinburg, the largest controlled lake in Texas. It covers about 700 acres about six miles north of here.

Earlier in the summer it was just a low spot in the Hidalgo County Water Control District that had been deepened and banked up to store irrigation water.

Don Bentsen, brother of Rep. Lloyd Bentsen Jr., watched as farmers pumped the low spot completely dry in an effort to save winter citrus groves. He saw the Game Commission seize the few remaining fish from the stagnant puddles.

Bentsen thought the low spot could be made into a fishing lake, protected against invasions of rough fish from the Rio Grande. Screens were installed barely before the Rio Grande went on a rise and flowed into the lowlands lake once more. The screens kept all gar and other rough fish out of the lake.

The Game Commission stocked the lake with 10,000 channel cat. Later 7,500 bass were added. Next spring the agency will put in more fish.

And before long, Edinburg residents say, the lake will be one of the choicest fishing spots in the state.
