

The Pampa News

25c Daily

75c Sunday

Monday

October 11, 1993

PAMPA -- Twenty-six Pampa High School choir members won chairs in the All District Choir and 14 made the All Region Choir in competition in Dumas over the weekend.

PAMPA -- Milton Brown was named Knight of the Year for the Frank Keim Council Knights of Columbus awards banquet Saturday night.

WICHITA FALLS, Texas (AP) -- Street-gang members have been among the many witnesses to contact police after a 6-week-old baby was killed in a drive-by shooting. (See story on Page 3)

SAN ANTONIO (AP) -- A rare photograph taken of the Alamo before its 1850 reconstruction is back in Texas, thanks to former governor Dolph Briscoe and the $45,000 he paid for it.

Briscoe bought the photograph, believed to be the earliest datable photo taken in the state, from a rare books dealer in New Haven, Conn. He then donated it to the University of Texas Center for American History in Austin.

WACO, Texas (AP) -- A child welfare worker says McClellan County Sheriff Jack Harwell discouraged a child abuse investigation at the Branch Davidian home nearly a year before the Feb. 28 shootout, according to a published report. (See story on Page 3)

CONROE, Texas (AP) -- Seven suspected gang members have been arrested on charges of raping the same two girls multiple times since mid-August, and more people could be arrested in the attacks, authorities said.

Five of the seven were charged as adults. They remained in the Montgomery County Jail Sunday. Together, they were charged with nine counts of aggravated sexual assault in the rapes of the girls, ages 12 and 13. One of the adults and the two juveniles are Conroe High School students.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) -- The countdown has begun for the longest space shuttle flight yet, a two-week research mission that will gauge the effects of weightlessness on seven astronauts and 48 rats. (See story on Page 3)

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) -- Coast Guard salvage crews worked to keep a fire-ravaged tanker from spilling its 365,000 gallons of fuel oil into one of the world's busiest ports.

At least two crewmen were killed in an explosion Saturday night that caused a raging fire and ripped a gaping hole in the side of the 660-foot gasoline tanker. Another missing worker was presumed dead.

Coast Guard officials said no fuel had escaped into the Houston Ship Channel in the Gulf of Mexico and the tanker was carrying no cargo.

The tanker was listing in about 40 feet of water near sensitive wetlands on the Galveston shoreline. The Coast Guard on Sunday strung containment booms around the damaged OMI Charger in case of a spill. (See story on Page 2)

NEW YORK (AP) -- Stocks were slightly higher at midday, with incentive to trade dampened by the partial holiday. At noon on Wall Street, the Dow Jones industrial average was up 5.03 points at 3,589.77. Volume on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange was 82.86 million shares, compared with 115.34 million at the same time in the previous session.

Advancing shares narrowly outnumbered declines on the NYSE, with 903 up, 823 down and 730 unchanged. The NYSE composite index was up 0.40 at 256.21. On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up 1.94 at 466.64. The Nasdaq composite index was up 1.33 at 765.60.

Personal Income

Personal income for an 11 month period beginning August, 1992. Numbers reflect percentage of change over the period.

INSIDE TODAY

A FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

- Classified.....9
- Comics.....6
- Daily Record.....2
- Editorials.....4
- Lifestyles.....5
- Obituaries.....2
- Sports.....7-8

VOL. 86, NO. 134 10 PAGES, ONE SECTION

Gene researchers win Nobel Prize

By LAURINDA KEYS
Associated Press Writer

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) -- Richard J. Roberts of Britain and Phillip A. Sharp of the United States won the Nobel Prize in medicine today for a genetic discovery that advanced research on cancer and other diseases.

Roberts, 50, who works at

New England Biolabs in Beverly, Mass.; and Sharp, 49, who works at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Center for Cancer Research, Cambridge, Mass., were honored for their discovery of split genes.

"The discovery of split genes has been of fundamental importance for today's basic research in biology, as well as for more medically oriented research concerning the development of cancer and other diseases," said the Nobel Assembly of the Karolinska Institute, which awarded the $825,000 prize.

"No one had anticipated that it was ... one of the discoveries that come, really, once in a lifetime, where dogma is completely overturned," Roberts told AP News Network this morning.

A simple picture of gene structure was completely changed in 1977 when Roberts and Sharp independently discovered that genes could be discontinuous, each present in several, well-separated DNA segments.

Before that, scientists thought a gene was a continuous segment within the very long, double-stranded DNA molecule, the chemical substance of heredity, the award committee said.

"Roberts' and Sharp's discovery has changed our view on how genes in higher organisms develop during evolution," the Nobel Assembly said. Their discovery led to the prediction of a new genetic process -- splicing, the assembly of information from the gene segments, which is essential for expressing genetic information.

How cold was it?

It was cold enough over the weekend that Nessie, the sculpture of the Loch Ness Monster in Buckler Park, put on its cap. Church goers were greeted Sunday morning with a traffic cone atop Nessie's head. It was still in place today. (Pampa News photo)

U.S. troops head to Haiti; Congress worries

By H. JOSEF HEBERT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) -- The decision to send hundreds of American soldiers to Haiti is drawing concern among some members of Congress who fear it could put U.S. troops in harm's way in yet another part of the world.

"This is another area where we need to send up a little alarm," Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said Sunday, calling Haiti "a very hostile environment with people obviously killing each other."

The first 185 soldiers of the roughly 700 American troops being sent to Haiti this month to help build roads and clinics and to train the Haitian military was scheduled to land today.

The troop deployment comes only weeks before the expected return at the end of the month of ousted President Jean-Bertrand Aristide.

Nunn, who appeared on NBC's "Meet the Press," said that although the soldiers are being sent to provide logistical help and training "they are nevertheless being placed in harm's way."

"It could be a very dangerous situation for our military," said Nunn.

Other members of Congress, noting the recent casualties to U.S. soldiers in Somalia, expressed concern that the American troops might only become embroiled in another combat situation.

Senate Minority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan., also on NBC, called on President Clinton to reverse course and "bring what few people we have in Haiti back home and not send any more."

And Sen. Bill Bradley, D-N.J., said he fears the U.S. involvement in Haiti "risks being a police action" at some point. "There is some danger there," said Bradley on ABC's "This Week With David Brinkley."

Administration officials, meanwhile, played down the potential danger and said the U.S. troops in Haiti will be protected.

"We're going to be watching this situation very closely," said Secretary of State Warren Christopher, who also appeared on "Meet the Press." He said the troops would not be in a combat role "but in a role to help reconstruct the country and to train the army."

There reportedly have been disagreements between the Pentagon and the State Department over the deployment, with the Pentagon concerned about the U.S. troops' safety. French and Canadian police units that were supposed to be sent to the island have yet to arrive.

But Defense Secretary Les Aspin, also appearing on ABC, said Sunday that the soldiers with sidearms "have the capability to protect themselves."

An amphibious landing vessel, the USS Harlan County, also is anchoring offshore to provide assistance and direct a rescue operation if the Americans are attacked, officials said.

Aspin said that unlike in Somalia, where U.S. troops have been singled out for attack by the forces of warlord Mohamed Farrah Aidid, there have been no signs that Americans would be targeted in Haiti.

Search goes on for Aidid as U.S. shifts gears

By JIM ABRAMS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) -- The Clinton administration welcomed Somali warlord Mohamed Farrah Aidid's unilateral cease-fire, but a senior U.N. official said a $25,000 reward for the clan leader's capture remains in effect.

Retired U.S. Adm. Jonathan Howe, U.N. special envoy to Somalia, said the reward offer was still valid and U.N. forces continue to pursue Aidid despite Washington's shift toward seeking a political solution to the crisis in Somali.

"We really do feel that his being in a legal process to account for the allegations against him is a short cut to the solution of this country," Howe said Sunday on ABC-TV's "This Week With David Brinkley." He also said U.S.-led forces had had chances to kill Aidid.

Congressional leaders, however, urged an end to the manhunt for Aidid.

Secretary of State Warren Christopher, meanwhile, acknowledged that the Clinton administration had made mistakes by over-emphasizing military action against Aidid loyalists.

"I think that we got undue focus on the military side of this and not adequate focus on the political side," Christopher said on NBC-TV's "Meet the Press."

"I think we're all responsible for that, right up to and including the president," he said.

Following bloody street fighting last week that left 18 Americans dead, President Clinton announced he was beefing up the U.S. force and setting a March 31 deadline for withdrawal.

He also dispatched special envoy Robert Oakley back to Somalia to try to revive the peace process there.

Frozen Heroes and bobsledders ice box office competition

LOS ANGELES (AP) -- The futuristic action film "Demolition Man" crushed the competition at the box office with what industry sources called the biggest October opening ever.

"Demolition Man," with Sylvester Stallone and Wesley Snipes as defrosted futuristic foes, grossed an estimated $14.3 million, topping "Under Siege," which opened in October 1992 with $14.1 million, the sources said.

Another frosty flick, "Cool Runnings," about Jamaican bobsledders, finished second over the weekend with $8.7 million, followed by "Malice" with $7.6 million and "The Good Son" with $5.2 million, sources said.

Final box office figures are released on Mondays. Martin Scorsese's "The Age of Innocence" came in fifth with $3.4 million and another literary adaptation, "The Joy Luck Club," was sixth with $3.3 million.

Rounding out the top 10 were "Mr. Jones" in seventh with $3.2 million and "For Love or Money" in eighth with $2.6 million. "A Bronx Tale" and "The Program" tied with $2.5 million apiece.

Students giving up after TAAS retries

HOUSTON (AP) -- Many school districts are rethinking policies that have allowed high school seniors to participate in commencement ceremonies despite failing a state exit exam.

About 70 percent of the students who failed the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills test last spring failed it again this summer, said Keith Cruise, a spokesman for the Texas Education Agency.

Of the 9,399 who took the test a second time, 2,625, about 28 percent, passed, Cruise said.

"There is no reason for students not to pass," Cruise said.

Although Texas requires that all high school graduates pass the TAAS to get a diploma, it does not say who can take part in commencement.

Some districts allow students who failed the exit exam but completed course work to walk across the stage in graduation ceremonies. Other districts, such as Alief, barred such participation on grounds that "graduation should be for graduates."

A key issue this year is whether losing that privilege motivates or deters students from continuing their efforts to pass the exam.

Catherine Hay recalls how her 18-year-old daughter, Mimi Hay, telephoned her in tears from school in May after failing the TAAS a fourth time.

As a result, Mimi Hay wasn't allowed the ceremonial walk across the stage at graduation with her peers from the Alief district's Hastings High School.

She had already invested hundreds of dollars for cap and gown, invitations, pictures and ring. After missing commencement, Mimi paid $50 for a special math course and retested for a fifth time in July.

She failed by two points.

"The burnout is incredible," said Ms. Hay, a former Parent-Teacher Organization president. "I remember she was walking in her sleep and falling downstairs just before that test. She'd never done that before. It's the anxiety. Now, she has vowed never to take that test again."

Last spring, about 7 percent of those taking the exam, or 13,377 students statewide, failed.

In years past, some have passed the test as much as two years after their senior year, but many others have given up, Cruise said.

"If we look at student learning since the testing began (in 1980), though, we see improvement," he said.

Cruise sees both sides of the debate over whether students failing the exam should participate in commencement ceremonies.

"This is not a trivial matter," he said, noting some have successfully gone to court to force participation in ceremonies.

Houston area districts are split almost evenly on the issue but some are wavering.

The Humble district switched its policy in May on a trial basis to allow TAAS failures to participate.

"Before, students were discouraged and many refused to retake after graduation. They had a negative attitude toward the district because they had mastered their course work," said John Miller, the district's executive director for secondary schools.

"It's important who passes TAAS, but it's more important who returns and tries again."

Daily Record

Services tomorrow

No services for tomorrow were reported to The Pampa News by press time today.

Obituaries

WINSTON (WINK) GIDEON

McLEAN — Winston (Wink) Gideon, 80, died Monday, Oct. 11, 1993, in Amarillo. Services are pending with Lamb-Ferguson Funeral Home in McLean.

A.J. REX

SPEARMAN — A. J. Rex, 37, died Saturday, Oct. 9, 1993, in Amarillo. Services will be at 11 a.m. Wednesday in First Christian Church, with the Rev. LaVern Draper, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Hansford Cemetery by Boxwell Brothers Funeral Home.

Mr. Rex, born in Perryton, had lived in Borger for six months, moving from Pampa. He married Donna Lowery in July in Durango, Colo.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Amanda Rex of Dumas; a son, Brady Rex of Dumas; two brothers, Gene Rex of Canadian and Ronald Rex of Pampa; and five sisters, Alice Miller, Brenda Vera and Sybil Vera, all of Spearman, Kay Kell of Portland, Ore., and Shirley Rex of Fort Worth.

LILLIE MAYE SEHORN

SHAWNEE, Oklahoma — Lillie Maye Sehorn, 83, died Friday, Oct. 1, in Shawnee. Services were at 2 p.m. Monday, Oct. 4, at the Resthaven Funeral Home Chapel, with the Rev. Frank Baugh officiating. Burial followed at Resthaven Memorial Park.

Mrs. Sehorn was born on March 22, 1910, in Crafon, Texas, to Sallie and Cornwallis Mason. She was raised and educated in Waldron, Ark. She married Emmet W. Sehorn in 1928 in Waldron, Ark., and moved to Shawnee the same year. Mrs. Sehorn was a member of Immanuel Baptist Church for 55 years and taught Sunday school in the primary department for 30 years.

She was preceded in death by three sisters and six brothers.

Survivors include her husband of the home; a son and daughter-in-law, Bobby and Alice Sehorn of Shawnee; two daughters and a son-in-law, Wanda Rutherford of Shawnee and Betty and John McGuire of Pampa, Texas; a brother, Doug Mason of Grandbary, Texas; two sisters, Corene Givens of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Loraine Burnett of Brownfield, Texas; six grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren.

Calendar of events

Monday, Oct. 11:

Columbus Day
High Plains Food Bank Drive. For more information call Melinda Wilkinson at 665-0356.
Pampa High School Booster Club meeting, PHS Athletic Building, 7 p.m.
Pampa Ninth Grade-Palo Duro Blue volleyball, 6 p.m., Pampa.
Pampa Middle School-Dumas volleyball, 5 p.m., at Dumas.
Top O' Texas Knife and Fork Club meeting, Jeff Waters to speak, 7:30 p.m., Pampa Country Club.

Tuesday, Oct. 12:

Pampa Chamber of Commerce executive committee, 11:30 a.m., Chamber of Commerce offices.
Lady Harvester-Caprock volleyball, 6 p.m., at Caprock.
Pampa Eighth Grade-Hereford Maroon football, 5 p.m., Pampa Middle School.
Pampa Seventh Grade-Hereford Maroon football, 5 p.m., at Hereford.
Gray County Democrats meeting; John Warner, speaker; 7 p.m., Lovett Library, for more information call John Warner at 669-3397.
Grandview-Hopkins ISD regular meeting, 8 p.m. at Grandview-Hopkins school.
High Plains Food Bank Drive. For more information call Melinda Wilkinson at 665-0356.
Pampa City Commission meeting, third floor, City Hall, 6 p.m. For more information call Phyllis Jeffers at 669-5700.
Shakespeare Lectures by Dr. C. Dudt of WTAMU, sponsored by Pampa Fine Arts Association, 7 p.m., Pampa High School Auditorium.

Wednesday, Oct. 13:

CAER meeting, 1:30 p.m., Heritage Room, M.K. Brown Auditorium.

Thursday, Oct. 14:

Pampa Chamber of Commerce Tourism Committee, Chamber of Commerce offices. For more information call 669-3241.
United Way Check in, 5 p.m., Chamber of Commerce building.

Police report

The Pampa Police Department reported the following incidents during the 40-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

SUNDAY, Oct. 10

Minit Mart, 1106 W. Alcock, reported theft under $20.
Linda Keil, 730 S. Reid, reported burglary of a habitation.
Ernest Upton, 615 E. Browning, reported theft by deception.

TODAY, Oct. 11

Department of Public Safety reported a wanted outside agency at 1000 E. Frederic.

Arrests

SUNDAY, Oct. 10
Steven Elliott, 36, 411 W. 17th, was arrested on a charge of public intoxication and released on bond.

TODAY, Oct. 11

Nicki Lynn Gillespie, 24, HCR 2, was arrested on two DPS warrants and a traffic warrant.

Sheriff's Office

The Gray County Sheriff's Office reported the following incidents during the 40-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

SUNDAY, Oct. 10

Gaylene Shipp, Route 2, reported a runaway.
Shirley Hunicutt, 837 E. Campbell, reported a runaway.

James Davis, 1029 Varnon, reported a runaway.
Tim Benson reported a burglary of a habitation at Plainsman #10.

Tony DeHosse reported an assault at 1200 Charles.

Arrests

SUNDAY, Oct. 10
Dixie Denese Wilson, 39, 720 E. Craven, was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated and released on bond.

James Robert Hausen, 38, address not listed, was arrested on a fugitive warrant and released on bond.

Scott D. Adams, 26, 448 Graham, was arrested on a charge of violation of probation.

DPS-Arrests

SUNDAY, Oct. 10
Robert A. Coner, 18, 2114 N. Sumner, was arrested on a warrant and released on bond.

Pedro Pantoja, 23, Fort Worth, was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Fires

The Pampa Fire Department reported no calls during the 40-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

Hospital

CORONADO HOSPITAL Admissions		Births Pampa
Graciela Marin	To Mr. and Mrs. Jose Marin, a girl.
Laurie S. Sutherland	To Mr. and Mrs. Jason Sutherland, a boy.
SHAMROCK HOSPITAL Admissions		Dismissals
Perry Harvey	Kevin Jones	McLean
	Ethel Oldham
	Faye Bonner
Dismissals		Jane Smith
Parker James Smith (from extended care unit)	McLean	M.O. Harber
		Shamrock
		Gladys Russell
		Kevin Jones
		Charles Lackey
White Deer
Barbra Kaye Craig and baby boy.

Stocks

The following grain quotations are provided by Wheeler-Evans of Pampa:		Chevron..... 95 3/8		up 1/8
Wheat..... 3.09		Coca-Cola..... 41 5/8		up 3/8
Milo..... 3.92		Diamond Sham..... 25 3/8		NC
Corn..... 4.37		Enron..... 36		dn 1/8
		Halliburton..... 37 1/8		dn 1/4
		HealthTrust Inc..... 23 1/8		dn 1/8
		Ingersoll Rand..... 36		dn 7/8
		KNE..... 27 3/4		NC
		Kerr McGee..... 51		NC
		Limited..... 23 1/2		NC
		Mapco..... 62 3/8		NC
		Maxus..... 61 1/4		dn 1/8
		McDonald's..... 52 1/4		up 1/8
		Mobil..... 81 7/8		dn 1/8
		New Atmos..... 30		dn 1/4
		Parker & Parsley..... 35		NC
		Penny's..... 47 3/4		up 1/2
		Phillips..... 34 5/8		up 1/2
		SLB..... 65 3/4		up 1/4
		SPS..... 31 1/2		NC
		Tenneco..... 53 1/2		up 1/2
		Texas..... 68 3/8		dn 1/8
		Wal-Mart..... 26 1/2		dn 1/8
		New York Gold..... 361.25		NC
		Silver..... 4.36		NC
		West Texas Crude..... 18.57		NC

People, places & things

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Holy cow. A movie starring Julia Roberts and Nick Nolte being filmed in this dairy land could taint its milky pure image, a state lawmaker claims.

State Rep. Ben Brancel, a Republican, says the plot of "I Love Trouble" includes a make-believe product that matures calves into milk-producing cows in nine months instead of the normal two years.

Similar to the real-life dispute over the use of bovine growth hormone in dairy cattle, the movie deals with the possibility of contaminated milk, Brancel said Sunday.

"We don't want to tamper with the minds of the public and the perception that milk is not safe," Brancel said. "It's one of the most pure and nutritious foods in the world that anyone knows of."

Details of the movie are being kept quiet by its producers, but Brancel said he got a copy of the script. Roberts and Nolte play rival Chicago newspaper reporters in the film who try to uncover a scandal about a make-believe growth hormone, called LDF. They filmed in the state Capitol on Saturday.

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — A group of mentally disabled British men got a royal boost for their 19,159-foot ascent up Mount Pokhalde when the Duchess of York arrived.

The former Sarah Ferguson arrived in Nepal Sunday to give moral support to the men. Their climb is sponsored by McIntyre Cre, a charitable organization that encourages disabled people to live as independently as possible.

Reporters were not allowed near the duchess. Diplomats said that was because she is on a private trip. She was greeted at the airport by British Ambassador Timothy G.B. George.

She is to meet the seven men this week at their base camp before they set off to climb Mount Pokhalde.

GALICE, Ore. (AP) — After a rocky beginning, it's smooth sailing on the Rogue River for the filming of a new movie starring Meryl Streep.

Before filming began, environmentalists who feared damage to the wilderness forced Universal Pictures to move from the Rogue into Montana for some scenes of "The River Wild."

Filming other scenes on less environmentally sensitive areas of the Rogue was finally allowed and hasn't caused any problems, said Josephine County Sheriff's deputy Dan Calvert, who has a bit part in the movie.

Cindi Patterson, who owns a company that guides rafting and kayaking trips on the Rogue, said filming hasn't hampered the flow of river traffic.

"They're being real considerate," she said of the crew.

Officials work to avoid major oil spill from debilitated ship

By MICHAEL GRACZYK
Associated Press Writer

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) — The danger of an oil spill near sensitive wetlands along the Galveston shoreline remains as salvage continues on the fire-ravaged wreckage of the OMI Charger, which exploded killing at least two people and left a third missing and presumed dead.

Protective booms have been set up around the 660-foot debilitated tanker until crews are able to remove the fuel.

Coast Guard officials said they were convinced none of the 8,700 barrels, or 365,000 gallons, of Bunker C fuel oil used to power the ship had escaped into the Gulf of Mexico when the explosion and fire on the ship occurred Saturday night.

Witnesses said there were two explosions on the ship, the first at 8 p.m. causing a jolt felt more than four miles away. A second blast, not as intense, hit about an hour later.

Two men were confirmed killed and one other was missing and presumed dead, while about a dozen others were sent to area hospitals for treatment.

Three of the 35-member crew remained hospitalized Sunday although only one was considered to be in serious condition. Two were in fair condition, one experiencing stomach pains and another with second-degree facial burns.

Coast Guard officials credited quick work from private vessels in the vicinity for avoiding an even higher loss of life.

On Sunday, officials made plans to remove the fuel and lessen the damage to the OMI Charger, which was in about 38 feet of water, its stern resting on the channel bottom and leaning slightly to its port side.

Until the fuel is removed, "there is a potential for a major spill," Capt. Paul Prokop, commander of the Coast Guard station at Galveston, said on Sunday. "We have deployed a major amount of boom."

Officials had closed the 52-mile Houston Ship Channel, the waterway which serves the Houston petrochemical industry for several hours because they feared the wave action would endanger the disabled vessel. But the channel was reopened Sunday evening.

Workers were to resume their examinations of the vessel to determine when and how the fuel can be safely transferred to another barge, said spokesman Adam Wine.

Owners of the ship and the Coast Guard would not say what had caused the fire, which broke out about 8 p.m. Saturday and burned out of control for some 5 1/2 hours.

"We don't know at this at this point what happened," said Robert Klawetter, an attorney for New York-based OMI Corp., owner of the ship.

Authorities said, however, that a couple of workers were performing welding chores inside the ship at the time of the blast and suggested that may have contributed to the explosion and fire.

"It's too early to speculate," Coast Guard Cmdr. Roger Peoples, captain of the Port of Galveston, said. "But we know hydraulic pumps were working. And we suspect some hydraulics may have sparked this fire."

A gaping hole was opened along the left side of the ship just in front of the crew quarters and above the water. The innards of the tanker could be seen clearly from alongside. Pipelines on the red deck of the ship were twisted like blackened spaghetti.

"The vessel is in no danger of sinking," Peoples said. "The air vents are above the water."

OMI President Jack Goldstein said the ship, built in 1969 and refurbished in 1989, was at anchor Saturday during a return trip from an Amoco Oil Co. terminal in Tampa, Fla. It was headed to an Amoco refinery in nearby Texas City. The trip is a routine one and normally takes seven to eight days, Goldstein said.

Goldstein estimated the ship was worth about $10 million. He said it was insured by syndicates based in London.

The company has 43 vessels that haul petroleum products and other cargo worldwide.

"We are in the shipping business and there are from time to time accidents," he said. The most recent involving one of his company's ships occurred earlier this year in Singapore, although he said there was no loss of life.

One of the dead crewmen was identified as Milton Williams, 53, of Beaumont. He was dead on arrival at the University of Texas Medical Branch, spokeswoman Deann Armstrong, said.

The second body was found along the side of the stricken vessel early Sunday and taken to the Galveston Medical Examiner's office.

The fire is the worst in the area since the Norwegian tanker Mega Borg spilled 4.3 million gallons of crude oil about 60 miles off Galveston in June 1990.

Rescuer: "I never really thought about danger"

By MIKE DRAGO
Associated Press Writer

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) — The Coast Guard credits a Louisiana boat crew with saving more than two dozen crew members from perishing aboard an exploding oil tanker.

But Allen LeBlanc, 54-year-old captain of the Louisiana supply boat, says he and his crew are no heroes, only a bunch of Cajuns who did the right thing.

"You try to help the other guy, 'cause you never know. One day it might be you," the Abbeville, La., resident said Sunday, a day after his 145-foot boat pulled alongside the blazing tanker OMI Charger and rescued its crew.

LeBlanc said the supply boat, the Tim McCall, was returning from delivering supplies to an offshore oil platform Saturday and was a few hundred yards from the 660-foot tanker when the first of two explosions occurred. Residents up to four miles inland reported feeling and hearing the blast about 8 p.m. Saturday.

"When we got abreast of the ship, we just heard the explosion," LeBlanc recalled Sunday aboard his boat docked at nearby Pelican Island. "By the time I turned around there were flames."

LeBlanc said he immediately steered toward the tilting tanker to help douse flames already engulfing the ship's mid-section. But as he approached, he saw dozens of people huddled on the tanker's stern.

LeBlanc backed the Tim McCall up to the ship's deck and 27 stranded seaman were aboard within 10 minutes of the explosion, about 45 minutes before another blast rocked the vessel.

City briefs

BRICK REPAIR, Harley Knutson, 665-4237. Adv.

GOLDEN AGERS LUNCHEON, Tuesday 12th, 12 noon, 701 S. Cuyler, Salvation Army. Everyone 55 or older or handicapped welcome. No children.

PERSONAL TOUCH Upstairs Sale: Fall items 20, 30 and 50% off. Adv.

FREE FIREPLACE Inspections. Put it off no longer, check for dangerous creosote buildups. John Haese, 665-4686, 665-5364. Adv.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION Sale: Continues with big savings through-out store. 1/3 off all Fall dresses.

CHANEY'S CAFE Open Monday-Saturday 11-2, Sunday 11-3. 716 W. Foster. Adv.

1991 CHEVY Silverado, extended cab, shortbed, V6, 5 speed, low miles. Like new. 669-7785. Adv.

PAMPA OPTIMIST Club Girls Basketball sign-ups and try outs. October 12, 13, and 14, 6:00-7:30 p.m., Optimist Gym. Adv.

RADIO SHACK - Borger Store only Cellular Phone deal! Techno-phone Bag Phone, only $29.95 with activation. Get a Pampa and an Amarillo number both for only a month total with 60 free minutes on the Pampa number every month. This deal only at Borger Radio Shack, 425 W. 10th, 274-7077, evenings 665-6779. Free Pampa $30 Basketball sign-ups and try outs. October 12, 13 and 14, 6:00-7:30 p.m., Optimist Gym. Adv.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION Sale: Continues with big savings throughout the store. 1/3 off all Fall dresses. Backroom now 50% off. Bete's, 708 N. Hobart. Adv.

Weather focus

LOCAL FORECAST
Tonight, fair, low in the mid-40s, southwest winds 5 to 10 mph. Tuesday, sunny, high in the mid-70s, southwest winds 5 to 10 mph. Sunday's high was 66; the overnight low was 42.

REGIONAL FORECAST
West Texas — Panhandle: Tonight, fair with lows in the mid to upper 40s. Tuesday, partly cloudy with highs in the mid to upper 70s. Tuesday night, fair with lows in the mid to upper 40s. Extended forecast: Wednesday through Thursday, fair. Lows in the mid to upper 40s. Highs in the 70s. Friday, increasing cloudiness and cooler. Lows in the 40s. Highs in the 60s.

Port Arthur to Port O'Connor — Tonight, southeast wind near 10 knots. Seas less than 3 feet. Tuesday, south wind near 10 knots. Seas 3 feet or less. Isolated showers.

South Plains and Low rolling plains: Tonight, fair with lows from the mid 40s to lower 50s. Tuesday, mostly sunny with highs in the upper 70s northwest to the mid 80s east. Tuesday night, fair with lows around 50. Extended forecast: Wednesday through Friday, fair with a cooling trend. Lows around 50. Highs near 80 Wednesday and Thursday cooling into the lower 70s on Friday.

Permian Basin and Upper Trans Pecos: Tonight, fair with lows from 55 to 60. Tuesday, fair with highs in the mid 80s to around 90. Tuesday night, fair with lows in the lower 50s. Extended forecast: Wednesday through Friday, fair with highs in the upper 70s to lower 80s. Lows in the lower to mid 50s.

Concho Valley and Edwards Plateau: Tonight, fair with lows from 55 to 60. Tuesday, partly cloudy with highs in the mid 80s. Tuesday night, mostly fair with lows in the upper 50s. Extended forecast: Wednesday through Friday, fair with highs in the lower to mid 80s and lows in the upper 50s.

Far West Texas: Tonight, fair with lows in the mid 50s, except in the 40s mountains. Tuesday, sunny west and fair east with highs in the upper 80s except in the 70s in the mountains. Tuesday night, fair with lows in the upper 50s, except in the 40s mountains. Extended forecast: Wednesday through Friday, fair with lows in the 50s, except 40s mountains. Highs around 80, except 70s in the mountains.

Colorado gay rights law goes to trial Tuesday

By STEVEN K. PAULSON
Associated Press Writer

DENVER (AP) — Colorado's attorney general goes to court Tuesday to prove homosexuals in her state face no discrimination, have plenty of political clout and are free to change their sexual proclivities — all of which would disqualify them from state constitutional protection.

The state is defending its new amendment, which would ban state and local laws prohibiting discrimination based on sexual orientation. It also would cancel existing gay rights ordinances in Aspen, Boulder and Denver. The legal challenge to Amendment 2 was originally brought by a coalition of those three cities and nine individuals who believe the law is unconstitutional.

Amendment 2, passed by voters last November, was scheduled to take effect Jan. 15, but Denver District Judge Jeffrey Bayless issued a preliminary injunction, saying there was a good chance the law would not pass constitutional muster.

The state Supreme Court upheld Bayless' injunction in May, saying the law probably violates the U.S. Constitution's 14th Amendment, which forbids denial of equal rights to any person.

Attorney General Gale Norton told The Associated Press the issue was whether homosexuals can claim to be an identifiable group, or "suspect class," whose constitutional rights have been trampled — such as those hurt by racist voting and housing laws.

To qualify for constitutional protection, she said, there has to be a history of discrimination, the group has to be incapable of changing its status, and it must be politically powerless, all of which the state of Colorado is challenging in the case of homosexuals.

"The issue here is whether homosexuality is a suspect class," she said. "That will be one of the issues at trial."

Boulder attorney Jean Dubofsky, representing the coalition, said she will produce witnesses who will show there is a history of discrimination against homosexuals, that sexual orientation is established at an early age, and that gays and lesbians cannot change their status.

"Amendment 2 itself is proof of the political powerlessness of this group," she said.

The battle has attracted nationwide attention, especially from cities considering similar amendments. A group called Boycott Colorado was formed to put political and economic pressure on the state to wipe the measure from the books.

Those efforts have cost the state $40 million to $120 million in future conventions, depending on whose estimate is used. They failed, however, to dent Colorado's huge tourism industry, even with a few Hollywood celebrities forgoing their customary ski vacations to Aspen.

Norton has appealed the Colorado Supreme Court ruling to the U.S. Supreme Court, which has not decided whether to take the case. She said the issue could end up before Congress, which may have to decide whether to add protection of homosexuals to the federal Civil Rights Act.

Dubofsky said the issue is local and should be decided city by city, not by Congress.

"This is a very emotional issue," she said. "This ought to be decided on a local basis."

Referring to the passage of gay rights ordinances in three of the state's major cities, she added, "That's what would have happened in Colorado, before Amendment 2 passed and made it a statewide issue."

Three of the original plaintiffs, including tennis star Martina Navratilova, formally withdrew from the action in documents filed last week.

Navratilova said her European tournament schedule would keep her from attending the trial, and a Denver woman known only as "Jane Doe" said she did not want her employers and co-workers to know she is a lesbian. The third plaintiff, Bret Tanberg, a heterosexual man who suffered from AIDS, died Feb. 2, according to the court filing.

Countdown anticipates longest shuttle flight

By MARCIA DUNN
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The countdown has begun for the longest space shuttle flight yet, a two-week research mission that will gauge the effects of weightlessness on seven astronauts and 48 rats.

NASA's countdown clocks started ticking at midnight Sunday toward a Thursday morning launch of Columbia.

Once in orbit, the astronauts will stare into rotating domes, spin in chairs, do bungee jumps, wear catheters, draw blood and conduct other medical studies. They'll also perform tests on the rats, the most ever to fly on a shuttle, and decapitate and dissect five or six of them — a space first.

"This is my big shot at doing the very best for science that I can," said Dr. Martin Fetzman, a veterinarian and pathology professor at Colorado State University.

If all goes as planned, the mission will exceed by five hours the current shuttle record of 13 days, 19 hours and 30 minutes, set by Columbia last year.

That pales in comparison to NASA's all-time space endurance record — an 84-day Skylab mission by three astronauts in 1973-74 — and Russia's 366-day Mir space station trip by two cosmonauts in 1987-88.

NASA program scientist Frank Sulzman said Columbia's 14 laboratory experiments — eight on humans and six on rats — will complement studies already done on Mir.

"The experiments that we are conducting on this mission are things the Russians have not been able to do because of the way their program is designed," he said.

For instance, Sulzman said, it's difficult for Mir cosmonauts to bring back biological samples and to collect medical data during the first few days of space flight — a critical time in the body's adaptation to weightlessness.

Space travel is rough on the body, especially over time. Muscles shrivel, bones weaken, red blood cells dwindle, the immune system diminishes and, for two-thirds of all astronauts, motion sickness strikes.

And space voyagers sometimes feel lightheaded when they return to Earth and try to stand, and their reflexes are slow.

"Whether or not it's significant to our performance, whether it is dangerous to our health, that's yet to be determined. We don't think so," said astronaut-physician M. Rhea Seddon, Columbia's payload commander.

Many of the Columbia experiments follow up on work done in 1991 on NASA's first and only other mission devoted to biomedical research. There were just 29 rats on that flight and no rat handling; Seddon was on that crew, too.

On this trip, Seddon, Fetzman and the two other scientists will insert tiny catheters into the rats' tail veins to draw blood and inject hormones and radioactive isotopes, and collect rat droppings to measure calcium content.

They will dissect five or six rats after chopping off the animals' heads with a guillotine, and preserve the tissue for postflight study. The remaining rodents will be killed and dissected after the mission, the customary fate of shuttle-flying rats.

MANAGED HEALTH CARE

Working together we can make health insurance affordable!

- * No Deductible
- * No Claim Forms
- * No Precertification Penalties
- * PCS Drug Card
- * Easy to Use

For free information on managed health care that is now available for individuals, families, or groups, call

WEBSTER & ASSOCIATES

"Our only business is YOU!"
123 East Kingsmill - Pampa, Texas - 79065

669-2233

CAT BURGLAR- This feline is looking for goodies on South Zimmers - or maybe he just wants in out of the cold. (Staff photo by Darlene Holmes)

Child Protective Services worker says sheriff told her to halt investigation

WACO, Texas (AP) — A child welfare worker says McLennan County Sheriff Jack Harwell discouraged a child abuse investigation at the Branch Davidson home nearly a year before the Feb. 28 shootout, according to a published report.

"I had one conversation with Jack Harwell," said Joyce Sparks, former investigative supervisor of the cult case for Children's Protective Services in Waco.

"He said whatever those people are doing, if they're doing it inside the compound, it's none of your business, and you don't need to go out there," Sparks said.

Sparks said the sheriff's department interfered with the investigation and may have damaged the outcome, the Waco Tribune-Herald reported Sunday in a copyright story.

Sparks said Harwell spoke with her just before she and another case worker went for their second visit to the compound April 6, 1992.

"As soon as I told him who I was, he hit me with that statement," she said. "Well, I haven't made a secret about my belief they sabotaged our investigation."

Harwell says he remembers no such conversation.

"I don't remember ever talking to Joyce Sparks myself," Harwell said. "Maybe I have; I'm not saying I haven't."

Former cult members have said leader David Koresh sometimes

Infant killed in apparent gang-related shooting

WICHITA FALLS, Texas (AP) — Street-gang members have been among the many witnesses to contact police after a 6-week-old baby was killed in a drive-by shooting.

"I'm amazed at how the gangs are coming together to give information to the police. We're not used to getting this kind of cooperation," said Detective Bill Henning said. "I think it just goes to show that when it's a child, it's everybody's business, even gang members."

Ronnie Lee Neal, 19, was being held without bond in the Wichita County Jail on one charge of capital murder and three counts of attempted capital murder.

A youth was also being held at the Wichita County Juvenile Justice Center on the same charges, Henning said. A detention hearing was scheduled today.

A new state law makes it a capital offense to kill a child 6 years old or younger.

Little Isabella Camacho was riding in a car Friday afternoon when the shooting started. The baby's 19-year-old father, David Camacho, was driving, said the 15-year-old mother, Melissa Gonzales.

About five people in another car headed in the same direction passed. Shots were fired from the vehicle; at least two rounds struck the victims' car, shattering the rear window, Henning said.

The baby's 12-year-old uncle, Gonzalo Gonzales Jr., was shot in the upper right shoulder.

When bullets started hitting the car, Gonzalo grabbed the child-safety seat in which Isabella was sitting and tried to put her on the floorboard out of the line of fire, Ms. Gonzales said. The boy was shot before he could move the seat, she said.

Wichita General Hospital would not release information about the boy's condition late Sunday.

Witnesses told police at least one person in each car flashed a gang hand sign before the shooting, Henning said.

Ms. Gonzales denied that anyone in the victims' car was involved with a gang. The victims did not know their attackers, she said.

"I wish they'd shot me," Ms. Gonzales told the Wichita Falls Times Record News. "At least then I could say, 'Yes, they were after me.' She was just a little baby who couldn't walk or talk or do anything to defend herself. She hadn't even learned to say, 'Mama.'"

Case workers eventually interviewed 12 children, according to the Protective and Regulatory Services in Austin. The agency says the investigation did not verify allegations of any type of abuse.

Sparks said physical negligence was documented, but she and other case workers didn't get the access to the children they needed to verify allegations of physical and sexual abuse.

Linda Edwards, a spokeswoman for the Texas Department of Protective and Regulatory Services in Austin, said she cannot confirm allegations against the sheriff's department.

"The reason the case was closed is because there was no validation of any physical or sexual abuse," Edwards said. "They had nothing."

Edwards said.

Case workers eventually interviewed 12 children, according to the Protective and Regulatory Services in Austin. The agency says the investigation did not verify allegations of any type of abuse.

Sparks said physical negligence was documented, but she and other case workers didn't get the access to the children they needed to verify allegations of physical and sexual abuse.

Linda Edwards, a spokeswoman for the Texas Department of Protective and Regulatory Services in Austin, said she cannot confirm allegations against the sheriff's department.

"The reason the case was closed is because there was no validation of any physical or sexual abuse," Edwards said. "They had nothing."

Edwards said.

Case workers eventually interviewed 12 children, according to the Protective and Regulatory Services in Austin. The agency says the investigation did not verify allegations of any type of abuse.

Sparks said physical negligence was documented, but she and other case workers didn't get the access to the children they needed to verify allegations of physical and sexual abuse.

Linda Edwards, a spokeswoman for the Texas Department of Protective and Regulatory Services in Austin, said she cannot confirm allegations against the sheriff's department.

"The reason the case was closed is because there was no validation of any physical or sexual abuse," Edwards said. "They had nothing."

Edwards said.

Case workers eventually interviewed 12 children, according to the Protective and Regulatory Services in Austin. The agency says the investigation did not verify allegations of any type of abuse.

Sparks said physical negligence was documented, but she and other case workers didn't get the access to the children they needed to verify allegations of physical and sexual abuse.

Linda Edwards, a spokeswoman for the Texas Department of Protective and Regulatory Services in Austin, said she cannot confirm allegations against the sheriff's department.

"The reason the case was closed is because there was no validation of any physical or sexual abuse," Edwards said. "They had nothing."

Edwards said.

Case workers eventually interviewed 12 children, according to the Protective and Regulatory Services in Austin. The agency says the investigation did not verify allegations of any type of abuse.

Sparks said physical negligence was documented, but she and other case workers didn't get the access to the children they needed to verify allegations of physical and sexual abuse.

Linda Edwards, a spokeswoman for the Texas Department of Protective and Regulatory Services in Austin, said she cannot confirm allegations against the sheriff's department.

"The reason the case was closed is because there was no validation of any physical or sexual abuse," Edwards said. "They had nothing."

Edwards said.

Case workers eventually interviewed 12 children, according to the Protective and Regulatory Services in Austin. The agency says the investigation did not verify allegations of any type of abuse.

Sparks said physical negligence was documented, but she and other case workers didn't get the access to the children they needed to verify allegations of physical and sexual abuse.

Linda Edwards, a spokeswoman for the Texas Department of Protective and Regulatory Services in Austin, said she cannot confirm allegations against the sheriff's department.

"The reason the case was closed is because there was no validation of any physical or sexual abuse," Edwards said. "They had nothing."

Edwards said.

Valley posts high level of infant heart wall defects

By JOSH LEMIEUX
Associated Press Writer

HARLINGEN, Texas (AP) — A cardiologist says his study of infants in the Lower Rio Grande Valley found a rate many times the national average for a rare defect in a muscle wall of the heart.

Dr. Carlos Monarez said Sunday he studied 550 babies referred to him during 1992 and found 67 to have tiny holes in the muscular section of the ventricular septum, which divides the lower chambers of the heart.

The national average for the condition is roughly 0.4 per 1,000 births, he said.

Monarez, a Brownsville pediatric cardiologist, said he had no explanation for the high occurrence he found in his study area — Cameron and Willacy counties and a section of eastern Hidalgo County.

Monarez said that because he studied only 550 babies out of about 9,000 born in the area in 1992, the actual rate may even be higher. If the study area equaled the national rate, less than five babies would have been born with the defect, he said.

"This requires extensive epidemiological assessment by the Centers for Disease Control and the Texas Health Department," said Monarez, who plans to release his findings at the International Conference on Neural Tube Defects in Harlingen this week.

Most of the babies were referred to him because of minor heart murmurs diagnosed on their first day of life, he said. The holes in the muscle wall closed in the first year of life for 87 percent of the babies he studied, Monarez said.

The babies generally appear healthy by the time they reach age 1, but at least two of them may need surgery, he said.

The incidence was much higher in rural areas than in cities. In Brownsville, Monarez calculated a rate 12 times the national average. In the Willacy County farming community of Raymondville, he found it to be more than 50 times the national average.

Pesticides are heavily used in the area, particularly during cotton season.

"It is fair to say that this should be investigated. To assume that it is pesticides would be a big mistake because it could be other things," he said.

He said he found no association with chemicals or the maquiladora industry in Mexico.

"The only thing that we found is that diet in general was very poor, but it's poor with everybody in the United States," he said.

Episcopalians name bishop

HOUSTON (AP) — The Rev. Claude Edward Payne has been consecrated bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas, one of the largest dioceses in the nation.

Payne, 61, former rector of St. Martin's Episcopal Church will automatically succeed diocesan Bishop Maurice M. "Ben" Benitez when he retires or resigns.

The Diocese of Texas has 70,294 members and 150 parishes and missions.

CINEMA 4

Open 7 Nights A Week
Sunday Matinee 2 p.m.

Call Our Movie Hotline
665-7141

• Undercover Blues (PG)

• The Real McCoys (PG)

• The Fugitive (PG)

• Striking Distance (R)

Dr. R.R. Loerwald
CHIROPRACTOR
1716 N. Hobart
669-7676

GET THE ALCO Advantage

FREE
EVERY TUESDAY!

SECOND SET OF PRINTS

Receive a second set of 3" prints FREE with any exposure roll of 35mm, disc, 110 or 126 color print film left for developing and printing at our everyday prices! C-41 process only. Excludes larger 4" size prints, and photo gallery.

INVENTORY REDUCTION SALE

PRO-LINE MERCHANDISE AT LOW, LOW PRICES

All Metal Wood Drivers 25 to 35% Off
Tommy Armour, Taylor, Titlest, Cleveland, Lynx, Cobra & Daiwa

All Putters Drastically Reduced!!!

All New & Used Sets Of Irons, Marked To Sell
Mark Scot & Baja Golf Shirts Were $39 NOW $29
SALE STARTS OCTOBER 9 AND RUNS WHILE SUPPLIES LAST!!

SPECIAL ORDERS REQUIRE HIGHER PRICES
DAVID'S GOLF SHOP
HIDDEN HILLS GOLF COURSE
669-5866 OPEN 8:00 TO 7:00 DAILY

Viewpoints

The Pampa News

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Let Peace Begin With Me

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. Only when man understands freedom and is free to control himself and all he possesses can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government, and that men have the right to take moral action to preserve their life and property for themselves and others.

Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is, thus, consistent with the coveting commandment.

Louise Fletcher
Publisher

David Bowser
Managing Editor

Opinion

Health care reform not even near fair

When Hillary Rodham Clinton appeared before Congress for questioning, Republican Sen. Paul Wellstone of Minnesota pointed out that the Clinton health-care program would establish a two-tiered system: "I'm worried that middle-class people might get the short end of the stick."

Replied Hillary Clinton, "It's a legitimate worry." She then contended that all families would get a choice. In fact, her program would set up a two-tiered system:

- Cheap Tier — It would include almost all families, whose employers would pay premiums mandated by the government.

Taxpayers would pay the premiums of the poor. The government would calculate an "average price plan" for everyone. Some limited choice would be allowed — at least at first. But as Wellstone's office pointed out, "Even though the Clinton administration is talking about one package of benefits for all the plans, if the delivery of services is not good, it doesn't matter how good the package is."

- Elite Tier — It would add supplemental plans paid for with extra premiums. Only the wealthy could afford it.

This is the type of program already enjoyed by most Americans, even the unwealthy, under the existing, pre-Clinton system. Thus, the Clinton program would sharply reduce the number of people getting top-quality care.

Wellstone, honest enough to favor socialism for himself and his colleagues, has proposed including congressmen in the Cheap Tier.

On Sept. 24 he told the Senate, "If we are not willing to go on record saying what is good for the middle class, what is good for the vast majority of our constituents, is good enough for us, then I think people have every reason to be concerned."

Indeed. Unless Congress includes itself in the cheap Tier plan, why should any American submit to it?

Wellstone has achieved only a sense of the Congress' resolution that congressmen should receive health care comparable to that of other Americans.

But his staff promised, "He wants to come back again and again" with his proposal to include Congress in the plan it insists most Americans must live with — and die with.

Don't hold your breath waiting for Congress to leap on board the Minnesota senator's fairness train.

The Pampa News
(USPS 781-540)

Serving the Top 'O Texas 83 Years
Pampa, Texas 79065
403 W. Atchison
PO Box 2198

Circulation Certified by ABC Audit

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Subscription rates in Pampa by carrier and motor route are $6.00 per month, $18.00 per three months, $36.00 per six months and $72.00 per year. THE PAMPA NEWS is not responsible for advance payment of two or more months made to the carrier. Please pay directly to the News Office any payment that exceeds the current collection period.

Subscription rates by mail are: $22.50 per three months, $45.00 per six months and $90.00 per year. No mail subscriptions are available within the city limits of Pampa. Mail subscriptions must be paid 3 months in advance.

Single copies are 25 cents daily and 75 cents Sunday.
The Pampa News is published daily except Saturdays and holidays by the Pampa News, 403 W. Atchison Street, Pampa, Texas 79065. Second-class postage paid at Pampa, Texas. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to the Pampa News, P.O. Drawer 2198, Pampa, Texas 79066-2198.

Missing Your Daily News?
Dial 669-2525 Before 7 p.m. Weekdays,
Before 10 a.m. Sundays

Berry's World

THE COUNTRY IS GOING TO THE DOGS.

FINALLY—SOME GOOD NEWS!

Jim Berman
© 1993 by NEA, Inc.

Who is this George Marlin?

Those New Yorkers who have the resources to hire a private detective will discover that there is somebody running for mayor of New York City who is not David Dinkins or Rudolph Giuliani. George Marlin is the candidate of the Conservative Party. He is a self-made Wall Streeter whose father was a policeman in queens. On the side, Marlin has edited a definitive edition of the works of G.K. Chesterton, and is a historian of New York City politics.

With barely noticeable exceptions, the newspapers in New York City have given him no coverage. If asked why, no doubt the metropolitan editors would plead that the Marlin vote is inconsequential. To which the aptest comment would be: So would the vote for Charles de Gaulle be inconsequential small if the news media were so studiously to have ignored his existence.

The Wall Street Journal remarked on the extraordinary silence that greeted the endorsement of George Marlin by William Bennett. Bennett is a brilliant and important figure in the Republican party, a trained philosopher and a Cabinet member in the Reagan-Bush administrations. Until recently it was widely speculated that he would run for president, and the tumultuous reception he was given at the Republican national Convention testifies to his drawing power.

When he came to New York to endorse Marlin, Bennett was telling the voters two things. The first, that Rudy Giuliani is to the Republican Party what John Lindsay was to the Republican Party 28 years ago, a liberal in drag. Lindsay hopped over and joined the Democrats, with whom he belonged, a few years later. He had meanwhile done his best to make New York uninhabitable.

But nobody can complete the asphyxiation of New York City better than the affable incumbent, Dinkins, whose Republican opponent, Giuliani, offers little prospect of any important change in political philosophy; New York's is the politics of abandonment to bureaucratic interests. Only George Marlin sees the problem, and talks about what might be done about it.

William F. Buckley Jr.

The Cato Institute gives us the incandescent figures. Fifty Fortune 500 companies have left town since Lindsay became mayor, and during that same period the city's budget tripled in constant dollars. Back in those days, Professor John Kenneth Galbraith intoned that New York City had no problems that doubling its budget wouldn't cure — score one more prediction for the savant who predicted that George McGovern would be elected president in 1972.

To take the measure to New York's municipal extravagance, the city employs 623 workers per 10,000 New Yorkers. That's five times the rate of Phoenix, Ariz., and 60 percent higher than near-bankrupt Philadelphia. Ten percent of private-sector jobs have left town, and the new taxes from Bill Clinton threaten the restaurant and entertainment industries, so vital to New York's reputation.

But mostly, of course, New York suffers from the demoralization of a city living largely outside the limits of civilized life. The New York Times' former art critic, Hilton Kramer, put it this way in The New York Post: "On the streets, in the subway, in the schools and in our homes, we (New Yorkers) more and more live in a state of dread."

The polls inform us that Dinkins is ahead. Whereas a few weeks ago he was trailing Giuliani, he is now six points in the lead. The reason for this, we are invited to assume, is that President Clinton came to town to campaign for Dinkins, and succeeded in insinuating, with that gift he has for distinctions, that anybody who didn't vote for Dinkins was a closet racist. It is surprising that that charge can be made unsmilingly, though come to think of it, Clinton never doesn't smile.

Dinkins was elected, however narrowly, because hundreds of thousands of white New Yorkers voted for him. By contrast, 3 percent of New York's black population voted in 1989 for Giuliani. There is always the excuse that the first time around, you want to urge the point of ethnic pride.

But electing a man as mayor merely because he is black is a very long-running show in America by now, and one has only to consider the extraordinary achievements of Colin Powell, and the recognition given to him, to exercise for all time the charge that an American cannot succeed in public life simply because he is black.

George Marlin would crush either Dinkins or Giuliani in public debate, which is exactly why Giuliani refuses to debate with him. The excuse is that Marlin has only 1 percent or 2 percent in the polls.

Your servant ran for mayor of New York in 1965 as a Conservative and got 13 percent of the vote because my views were given some ventilation. The failure to report the views of George Marlin is an act of democratic defeatism: His are the analyses that could revive a sick city.

Today in history

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, Oct. 11, the 284th day of 1993. There are 81 days left in the year. This is the Columbus Day observance, as well as Thanksgiving Day in Canada.

Today's Highlight in History: Twenty-five years ago, on Oct. 11, 1968, Apollo VII, the first manned Apollo mission, was launched with astronauts Wally Schirra, Donn Fulton Eisele and R. Walter Cunningham aboard.

On this date: In 1776, the first naval battle of Lake Champlain in northern New York state was fought during the American Revolution. American forces led by Brig. Gen. Benedict Arnold suffered heavy losses, but managed to stall the British.

In 1779, Polish nobleman Casimir Pulaski was killed while fighting for American independence during the Revolutionary War Battle of Savannah, Ga.

In 1811, the first steam-powered ferryboat, the Juliana, was put into operation between New York City and Hoboken, N.J.

Elderly could use second wind

I have a challenge for a scientist — any scientist, amateur or professional.

Dr. Kenneth Cooper, with diligence and dedication, made exercise acceptable to medical science by demonstrating the benefits of aerobics.

Aerobics, however, arrived on the shoulders of many dedicated researchers in exercise and fitness. Dr. Cooper, in his Cooper Clinic in Dallas, has accumulated a library of books and journals relating to the subject.

So when I took my question to Ken Cooper, I was satisfied that if he did not know the answer, then the answer had not yet been published. Could it be we have no answer because nobody has yet asked the question?

On the long-shot chance that the answer is out there somewhere among our readership, I am going to pose the question publicly:

"Why does a golfer lose distance after age 40?" While we know that muscles tend to atrophy with age, the force that moves the golf ball is more quickness than strength.

If that quickness can be maintained, it would benefit athletes, surgeons and motorists.

Paul Harvey

Let's focus for the purpose of this discussion on the golfer.

Hand action at the bottom of the golf swing relies mostly on centrifugal force, but added distance also requires an automatic, reactive last millisecond swat at the ball.

Cunningham-Patterson studies acknowledge "changes in limb muscle mass with aging. Comparisons of muscle morphology between the young and the elderly and between arm and leg muscle dramatically illustrate such changes."

Yet where one individual at 80 may complete a marathon in five hours, others at 80 are not able even to carry out normal daily activities.

Nonetheless, assuming no disease or other disability, exercise can make one stronger at any age.

But quicker? That is something else. Quickness more likely relates to nerves than to muscles.

Back to the research by Cunningham and Patterson:

"Both strength and speed are conceptually involved with power. Power is diminished by lessened nerve-condition velocity and synaptic transmission."

In lay language, if the messages back and forth to the brain slow down — muscle excitability is delayed.

With that given, surely researchers smart enough to develop nutritional supplements now capable of enhancing memory should be able to come up with a prescription for enhancing agility — at any age.

For most of the present generation, this could offer a second wind.

Father of health care unveils a myth

I have deliberately refrained from writing about President Clinton's health plan until he officially announced it. The long striptease conducted with trail balloons — one rumor after another as to what the plan contained, followed by swift denials when determined opposition reared its head — seemed too vague to bear the weight of serious comment.

But now Mr. Clinton has revealed his plan, and we are almost as much in the dark as we were before. Worst of all, there is no plausible explanation of where the money is to come from to finance the vast bureaucracy that will administer the program, or to support those who cannot afford medical insurance. Huge savings on "waste" are promised — but we've heard that before. We don't even know how much the vastly increased tax on cigarettes is going to be.

Finally, the whole plan is being put forward as highly tentative — little more than an outline, to stimulate suggestions. This, of course, is simply realistic: Any resemblance between the Clinton plan and what emerges from Congress a year from now will be purely coincidental.

But Mr. Clinton probably couldn't care less. Whatever Congress comes up with, he will swiftly claim paternity, and no one in the Democratic Party or the media will contradict him. There will be a grand signing ceremony on the White House lawn, with the president handing out fountain pens to leading congressional Democrats (and a few especially tame Republicans). Mr. Clinton will be introduced to the 1996 Democratic Convention as "the man who brought universal health care to America," and hailed as such thereafter by every Democratic orator for decades.

William A. Rusher

Politically speaking, it will be an impressive achievement. It will swing into place the last big piece of social engineering needed to make America a fully functioning welfare state, socialist in everything but name. The glitches, the ham-handedness, the corruption, the favoritism, the overwhelming cost; the doctors who will retire rather than battle the monster; the rationing of care, the long waits for treatment, the gradual coarsening of American medicine into a village idiot like the U.S. Postal Service — these consequences will begin to appear only in Mr. Clinton's second administration, when it's far too late to turn back, let alone retaliate against him.

One other point. Thanks to the huge deficits generated by previous bouts of spending on "entitlements," the liberals have largely been frustrated in their desire to impose further taxes on the American people, or to pay for various boondoggles by inflating the currency.

But by "mandating" that businesses must pay directly for this latest entitlement conferred on the public by our compassionate government, the liberals have broken new ground. From now on you can expect the Democrats to come up with one law after another, "mandating" that this or that "benefit" shall be conferred on the voters by business or some other fall guy out there in the private sector. This technique has all the advantages of taxation without the perils.

We are present at the birth of a great new popular myth. However big a disaster socialized medicine proves to be, history will credit Bill Clinton only with the "vision," not the results. Those will be blamed on incompetent or venal administrators, congressional penny-pinching, unanticipated technological costs, overwhelming (and unreasonable) public demand, and similar acts of God. Within a relatively few years, voters will begin arriving on the scene who have no personal recollection of what medicine in America used to be like, and of what, accordingly, has been thrown away.

Then the liberals can inscribe in their hearts a new version of Milton Friedman's most famous maxim: "There's no such thing as a free lunch — but if I have the votes, I can make you pay for mine."

Lifestyles

County Fair a-comin'

(Special photo) Kerrick Horton, at left, and Kathy Masslick, co-chairmen of the solicitation committee for the Country Fair, work on last minute details to make sure the auctions are a success. The fair is set for Oct. 23.

Historic cemetery captures history and legend in art

By MARY FOSTER
Associated Press Writer

METAIRIE, La. (AP) — Metairie Cemetery with its 7,000 extravagant tombs and park-like grounds is one of the most spectacular of the "Cities of the Dead," although it's not as old as the Catholic cemeteries in nearby New Orleans. But even by New Orleans standards, where funerals can include jazz bands and parades, and tombs are handed down from generation to generation, Metairie Cemetery is flamboyant. Greek temples, gothic chapels with 60-foot spires, miniature castles and even a scaled-down Egyptian pyramid, guarded by a miniature sphinx, line the narrow streets. "Most people come and go and leave only a little ripple among those they know," said photographer Jackson Hill, who documented the cemetery. "For the rich it was a way to build monuments to themselves, a way to insure they would leave something more than a vague memory behind." Added to the National Register of Historic Places in May 1992, Metairie Cemetery has 2,243 structures — 87 percent of its monuments, tombs and buildings — that are of unusual interest. That's an unusually high percentage for a cemetery still in use, according to Donna Fricker, state coordinator for the Register. There are approximately two burials a day at the cemetery now, officials said. Unlike the area's other historic cemeteries which are tightly packed with tombs, Metairie was designed to achieve an uncrowded, pastoral effect. Built on an old racecourse, the 120-year-old cemetery became the fashionable place to be buried. Nine Louisiana governors, seven mayors, four chief justices to the State Supreme Court, more than 50 Mardi Gras kings and several Confederate generals are interred there. Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, was originally buried in Metairie Cemetery.

A young woman, one hand extended to the bronze doorway, the other holding a bouquet of flowers, stands outside the tomb of Josie Arlington, one of the most widely-known madams of New Orleans' red-light district, Storyville. Local legend has it the statue represents Arlington trying unsuccessfully to return to her parents' home after her notorious career — or perhaps it's one of the young women she employed arriving at her gaudy brothel. The cemetery offers tapes for three free self-guided tours — "Great Families and Captains of Commerce," "Soldiers, Statesmen, Patriots, Rebels," and "Heritage Trails."

On another tomb, the statue of a grieving woman sits outside the mausoleum of gambler "Never-Smile" Harrington. The New Orleans card-player, noted for his poker face and his big winnings, was gunned down after a night at the tables. His widow designed his large tomb with its stained-glass windows and marble vestibule. Outside one small granite tomb a large white dog lies on the sidewalk. A big marble tear rolls from the statue's eye down its cheek. The dog is said to have followed his master's coffin to the tomb and refused to leave until he too died — the statue was placed at the door to commemorate the dog's devotion.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Your letters regarding jealous women and stepchildren have prompted me to write to you regarding what seem to be several misconceptions concerning stepparents. I am now the stepmother of five children, and it is the most difficult situation I have ever had to deal with in my life.

I fell in love with the father of these children — but had I fully realized what was involved, I would have left the country and changed my name.

I am expected to be chief baby sitter, entertainer, chauffeur, nurse, counselor and caretaker of these five children — with none of the say as to how they are raised or disciplined.

These particular children are about as lovable as Satan, and I'd attempted an exorcism if I thought there was a priest who could survive it. I have tried my level best as a dutiful stepparent, but these children would kill Mother Teresa in a day!

Taking care of them has landed me in the hospital three times in the last two years. I don't like being treated like dirt in my own home by a bunch of kids who have never been taught manners. I did not allow them to throw food at the dinner table, which made me about as popular as malaria.

When these spoiled children are all 18 and scatter to the four corners of the globe, their father will be lucky to hear from them on Father's Day (they don't bother with it currently). All they want is money, more money and things.

As soon as I can scrape the funds together, my bags are packed. Am I alone, or have other stepmother experienced this?

FED-UP STEPMOTHER IN LANCASTER, PA.

DEAR FED-UP STEPMOTHER: I hope you are alone — but I have a feeling you aren't. Readers?

DEAR ABBY: I was born in 1925 of poor Jewish parents in Poland. At age 19, I went to Canada, enlisted in the Army and served in World War II with the Allied Forces.

I was a high school graduate, but my English was poor. I went to the printing office to be the first to buy a newspaper so I could get a head start on anyone else who was seeking employment. I remember reading the headline in the Montreal Star that morning: "Three thousand laid off from Canadair, and 2,000 more tomorrow!"

A lot of immigrants were looking for employment, so I had to be unique in my strategy to get a job. I offered to work for a week without pay, and if the boss was not happy with my work, there would be no hard feelings.

I was always given a chance to prove myself, and I was never without a job. I worked as a butcher, saladmaker, pastry chef, carpenter, roofer, shoe salesman, and in many factories on an assembly line. I was never too proud to take a job beneath my qualifications. I always figured that half a loaf was better than none.

I worked as an apprentice pastry chef and ended up winning many trophies for my baking. I was chief pastry chef at the Ritz Hotel in Montreal, and also at the Hotel Americana in New York.

After 46 years of working, I am now comfortably retired at age 70. I am still married to my original wife and have children and grandchildren who have given me much happiness.

I would like to offer the following advice to anyone seeking employment: Take any job you can get in order to get your foot in the door. Always come in early and stay late. Above all, be clean shaven, with a clean shirt and a pressed suit, a shine on your shoes and a smile on your face.

BRONISLAW J. BATOWSKI,
NEW YORK

DEAR BRONISLAW J. BATOWSKI: Thank you for offering the benefit of your valuable, hard-earned experience.

Chili cookoff and quilt show set for weekend

The River Valley Pioneer Museum will sponsor the fourth annual Quilt Show from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Saturday and from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. Sunday during the Fall Foliage Festival. The entries will be shown in the old FAIR building.

Last year over 150 quilts were shown. It is expected that 175 quilts will be displayed this year.

The museum will sponsor its first annual Chili Appreciation Society International Chili Cookoff on Saturday.

Chili teams will register at 9 a.m. at the Canadian Rodeo Grounds and the turn in time for the chili will be 2 p.m.

Also planned are a bean cookoff, door prizes, roaster raffle, stick horse races for children and taster cups for $1.

For those interested in showing a quilt or competing in the chili cookoff, they can contact Lauren Haley at the museum, 323-6548, before Oct. 14.

(Staff photos by Darlene Holmes) Pampa High School senior Scott Gill practices performing as a disc jockey, operating a sound system, and operating a videocamera — services that he offers through the Pampa business he owns.

Teen turns tunes into profitable venture

Pampa High School student starts his own sound and video business

By JOHN McMILLAN
Staff Writer

Being the sole owner of a business is no mean feat, but Scott Gill has added to that accomplishment the feat of precocity.

Gill, 17, a senior at Pampa High School, has owned Phoenix Production Services, a free-lance electronic sound system and disc-jockey service in which he is the only year-round employee, since June, 1992, while still living in the Houston area.

"People in general are always surprised by the fact that I have a business," the teenager said.

Gill, son of Dave and Marsha Gill of Pampa, smiles enthusiastically when talking about his entrepreneurial venture. John Middlebrooks, vocational counselor at Pampa High School, said he is not aware of any other student at PHS who owns a business.

"We have an awful lot of them that work, but that's a different deal," Middlebrooks said.

Middlebrooks said he has no objections to a student owning a business.

"So long as it doesn't interfere with his education," Middlebrooks said. "I think that needs to come first."

Owning a business hasn't hurt his education, Gill insisted. Gill said he entered the business world without any particular encouragement from others after an initial exposure to sound systems during his childhood.

As a seventh grader in Deer Park school district, Gill said, he was asked by the choir director to install the sound system for a school-sponsored musical play. Gill said he enjoyed the experience and has honed his abilities ever since primarily through first-hand experience. He said his first experience as a disc jockey also occurred at a school-sponsored dance while he was a junior high school student.

Gill, who moved to Pampa from Houston in December, estimates he has devoted an average of 16 to 18 hours per week to his business. He advertises through word-of-mouth and handing out his calling card.

The tall, lanky, tenor-voiced teenager has begun doing weekend disc jockey performances at Radisson Hotel's nightclub in Amarillo, he said. Gill has also performed as a disc jockey at seven parties in Pampa. The first was a graduation party on May 29, he said.

"I'm aware of the crowd, but I don't like to be the focal point," Gill noted. "I let the music do that."

Gill admitted, however, that he is more outgoing as a disc jockey than he is in everyday life.

Gill's sound-system business services in Pampa this year have included installation of a new sound system for the First United Methodist Church — a project in which his father assisted, he said.

"I've had quite a few positive comments about the clarity of the overall volume being better," the teenager said.

Gill, a member of the PHS show choir, has also done sound technician work for it on a volunteer basis.

Although Gill doesn't plan to pursue a permanent career as a disc jockey, he said, he expects to major in radio-television-broadcasting and pay his bills in college by doing disc jockey work on a part-time basis. He normally charges $200 per disc jockey performance, he said, and each performance usually lasts about four hours.

Gill has already completed his first income tax form, and he said he expects to earn a gross profit this year that is two to three times higher than last year. Cutting into his profits is the roughly $10,000 that he has spent on new equipment for his business, he said.

Gill said that he is goal-minded.

"I think I have a lot more serious outlook on my future," he said. "I think I have a lot better understanding of where I want to go and where I want my life to be 10 years down the road."

Gill has also learned a lot about the fields of acoustics, physics, and geometry through his business, he said. Knowledge of all three disciplines plays an important role in installing sound systems, he said.

Disney tops charts in video sales

By The Associated Press

Weekly charts for the nation's most popular videos as they appear in next week's issue of Billboard magazine. Reprinted with permission:

VIDEO SALES
Copyright 1993, Billboard Publications Inc.

1. "Homeward Bound: The Incredible Journey," (Disney)
2. "Home Alone 2," (Fox)
3. "The Last of the Mohicans," (Fox)
4. "Ren & Stimpy: The Classics," (Nickelodeon)
5. "Playboy Wet & Wild V," (Playboy)
6. "Pinocchio," (Disney)
7. "Beauty and the Beast," (Disney)
8. "Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles III," (New Line)
9. "Ren & Stimpy: The Stinkiest Stories," (Nickelodeon)
10. "Playboy Playmate of the Year 1993," (Playboy)
11. "Gift," (Warner Reprise)
12. "Ren & Stimpy: The Stupidest Stories," (Nickelodeon)
13. "Once Upon A Forest," (Fox Video)
14. "Prince: The Hits Collection," (Warner Reprise)
15. "Playboy Celebrity Centerfold: Jessica Hahn," (Playboy)
16. "Disney's Sing Along Songs: Friend Like Me," (Disney)
17. "Kiss: Konfidential," (PolyGram)
18. "Playboy's Erotic Weekend Getaways," (Playboy)
19. "U2: Rattle and Hum," (Island)
20. "Barney's Home Sweet Homes," (Lyons Group)

VIDEO RENTALS
Copyright 1993, Billboard Publications Inc.

1. "Groundhog Day," (Columbia TriStar)
2. "Alive," (Touchstone)
3. "Falling Down," (Warner)
4. "Point of No Return," (Warner)
5. "Scent of a Woman," (MCA-Universal)
6. "National Lampoon's Loaded Weapon 1," (Columbia TriStar)
7. "Chaplin," (Live)
8. "The Bodyguard," (Warner)
9. "Sommersby," (Warner)
10. "Benny & Joon," (MGM-UA)
11. "Unforgiven," (Warner)
12. "Untamed Heart," (MGM-UA)
13. "A Few Good Men," (Columbia TriStar)
14. "Homeward Bound: The Incredible Journey," (Disney)
15. "The Crush," (Warner)
16. "Fire in the Sky," (Paramount)
17. "Mad Dog and Glory," (MCA-Universal)
18. "Boiling Point," (Warner)
19. "The Crying Game," (Live)
20. "The Vanishing," (Fox)

Halloween origins date to Druids

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Halloween dates back to Druid festivals first held more than 2,500 years ago. Halloween customs, including costume parties and trick-or-treating, were brought to the United States by Irish settlers in the 1840s.

The Pampa News

NEA Crossword Puzzle

- ACROSS
- Declared
 - Actress Carol
 - Grayish-red (2 wds.)
 - the Mood for Love
 - Found heaviness of
 - Hindu instrument
 - Wooden tub — and downs
 - French for "summer"
 - Actress Eartha —
 - Sorrel
 - Angers
 - Actor Linden
 - Prehistoric creature
 - Schedule
 - Swore
 - Pried
 - Movie theater

- DOWN
- Car assemblers' asan.
 - Mac — lung
 - Prickly plants
 - Rye fungus
 - Architect

Answer to Previous Puzzle

CYAN	YMA	CVST
ROUE	EOS	ROLE
ERLE	NOS	EGIS
WEDDING	EDITS
STE	FRI
QUA	EDUCATIVE
USHER	NC	OFIT
AEON	NI	GRANT
DETRACTOR	TYE
ONO	YUL
GULLY	USELESS
EVEL	IST	AXON
RETE	REE	MORE
MATE	ERR	ANTE

- DOWN
- Mies van der
 - Language suffix
 - Infer
 - Smooch
 - my brother's keeper?
 - Fertilizer ingredient
 - Growing out
 - Legal matter
 - Tennis player — Shriver
 - Genghis —
 - Character in "Othello"
 - New Deal agcy.
 - the ground floor
 - Finds the total of
 - Tel —
 - Tidy
 - Frail person
 - Moslem prince
 - Humid
 - Food fish
 - Call — day
 - Mark with spots
 - Author — Vonnegut
 - Exchange premium
 - Some stars
 - Be undecided.
 - Mawr
 - Gaming cubes
 - Dutch town
 - Edge
 - Peer Gynt's mother
 - Defense Secretary — Aspin

WALNUT COVE

ARLO & JANIS

ROBOTMAN® by Jim Meddick

B.C.

MARVIN

ALLEY OOP

BEATTIE BLVD.

THE FAMILY CIRCUS

MARMADUKE

KIT N' CARLYLE

WINTHROP

By Dick Cavalli

THE BORN LOSER

FRANK AND ERNEST

PEANUTS

GARFIELD

Sports

Briefs

ATLANTA (AP) — Danny Jackson pitched out of trouble throughout, guiding the Philadelphia Phillies to a 2-1 victory over Atlanta, evening series 2-2. Jackson allowed a run, nine hits, struck out six and walked two in 7 2-3 innings. He also drove in the go-ahead run with a single. Mitch Williams got Ron Gant to hit into a double play, ending the game. The Braves, coming off 14-3 and 9-4 routs, put runners on the last eight innings, but were just 1-for-15 with men in scoring position and stranded 11. The Phillies left on a record 15 runners and were 1-for-10 with runners in scoring position, going 6-for-36 in the series. Philadelphia took advantage of an error by Mark Lemke at second, leading to a pair of unearned runs in the fourth. John Smoltz, 5-0 previous two postseasons, struck out out 10 in 6 1-3 innings.

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto Blue Jays became first home team to win in AL playoffs, beating the Chicago White Sox 5-3 for a 3-2 lead. Juan Guzman beat White Sox ace Jack McDowell for the second time, retiring the first 13 batters, pitching three-hit ball for seven innings, for a 5-0 post-season mark. The Blue Jays became first team in postseason to score in the first four innings since 1979, and moved within one win of returning to the World Series. Roberto Alomar was 3-for-3 with two walks, one run scored, one RBI and three steals to lead the Blue Jays' offense. McDowell lasted only 2 1-3 innings, is 0-4 vs. Toronto this season, and 3-8 with a 5.79 ERA lifetime.

PHOENIX (AP) — Charles Barkley, who collapsed during wind sprints when his legs went numb, received an encouraging medical report after a battery of tests and may return to training camp. Phoenix Suns president Jerry Colangelo said the star forward, who collapsed Saturday night, sustained no nerve damage following a magnetic resonance imaging, CAT-scan and neurological exam. He won't need surgery and apparently will only have to reduce workouts. The seven-time NBA All-Star was named MVP after averaging 25.6 points, 12.2 rebounds and a career-high 5.1 assists last season.

Drew Bledsoe and Steve Emtman, top picks in the 1993 and 1992 drafts, both went down with knee injuries, joining Dan Marino on the sidelines. Marino, who started 145 consecutive non-strike games, tore his right Achilles tendon late in the first half of Miami's 24-14 victory over Cleveland. He could be sidelined the rest of the year. Bledsoe, of the Patriots, sprained the medial collateral ligament of his left knee in the first half of 23-21 victory over Phoenix. Emtman, a defensive lineman for Indianapolis, tore ligaments and tendons in his right knee in a 27-3 loss to Dallas.

Florida State remained a near-unanimous No. 1 in The Associated Press poll, getting 61 of 62 first-place votes and 1,549 of a possible 1,550 points. No. 2 Alabama got the other first-place vote from a nationwide panel. Notre Dame and Florida moved up one spot. Ohio State is fifth, followed by Nebraska, Penn State, Miami, Oklahoma and Tennessee. All except Miami, which fell from No. 3 to No. 8, moved one spot from the previous week. Arizona is 11th, followed by Washington, Texas A&M, North Carolina, Virginia, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Michigan, Auburn, Colorado, California, UCLA, Louisville, Syracuse and Michigan State. Michigan, No. 9 last week, dropped out of Top 10 the first time since 1990 after losing to Michigan State, boosting the No. 25 Spartans to their first appearance in the poll since 1991. BYU, No. 19 last week, fell out after losing.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — Running back Carey Bender set a college football rushing record, gaining 417 yards in Coe's 69-7 victory over Grinnell. Bender, who carried 33 times, surpassed previous high of 409 yards, set by Derrick Williams of Eastern Montana in 1976. He accounted for 509 all-purpose yards, NCAA Division III record. Bender had scoring runs of 13, 5 and 68 yards, caught scoring passes of 76 and 16 yards and threw a 12-yard TD.

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. (AP) — Jeff Maggert capped a 13-hour workday with a 4-under-par 68, for a three-stroke victory in the rain-plagued Disney World-Oldsmobile Classic. Bad weather, which interrupted play, caused Maggert to play 36 holes to finish the tournament. Maggert finished with a total of 23-under-par 265 and earned $198,000. Greg Kraft carded a 66 to close at 268. Loren Roberts, Ted Tryba, Ken Green and Craig Stadler finished at 270.

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Dave Stockton birdied final three holes for an 8-under-par 64, beating Lee Trevino and South African Simon Hobday to win the Transamerica Seniors by a stroke. Stockton's fifth victory this year earned $90,000 at the 54-hole event at Silverado Country Club, moving him into the lead in Senior Tour earnings with $1,041,634. Trevino shot a 66, and Hobday, with 67, finished 12-under at 204. Gary Player, J.C. Snead and Isao Aoki finished three strokes behind.

KNOCKE, Belgium (AP) — Darren Clarke of Northern Ireland birdied two of the last four holes to stop late charges by Nick Faldo and Vijay Singh and win the Belgian Open by two strokes. Clarke fired a 3-under-par 68 for a 270 total and his first pro victory. Singh finished with five birdies and an eagle to equal a course-record 64. Faldo birdied the last two holes for 67. One stroke behind Faldo and Singh were Masters champion Bernhard Langer, Spain's Seve Ballesteros, Australian Rodger Davis and Scot Gordon Brand Jr.

CONCORD, N.C. (AP) — Ernie Irvan led all but six of 334 laps in Sunday's record-setting Mello Yello 500, registering his third victory this season and ninth of his career, beating Mark Martin by 1.93 seconds at Charlotte Motor Speedway for $147,450.

Cowboys ride Colts to 27-3 victory

By HANK LOWENKRON
AP Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Emmitt Smith has his first 100-yard game of the season and the Dallas Cowboys have three consecutive victories. "It felt great. It's the best my hamstring felt this year," said Smith, who was a holdout while the defending Super Bowl champions opened the season with two losses. "The last time I had a 100-yard game was back in January." Smith, who led the league in rushing the past two years, didn't look injured as he twisted and spun away from tacklers for a 20-yard touchdown in the first quarter of the Cowboys' 27-3 victory over the Indianapolis Colts. The score was Smith's 43rd rushing TD, moving him past Don Perkins into second place on the team's all-time list. "I think they were a little over aggressive, and didn't stay home a couple of times and I was able to cut back a great deal," said Smith, who finished with 104 yards on 25 rushes. It was the 19th time he's topped the century mark in the regular season. He also caught four passes for 39 yards. "The offensive line did a great job of blocking," said Smith, who had rushed for 116 yards on 21 carries in two games after ending his holdout. Troy Aikman, who entered the game as the NFC's highest-rated quarterback and leading the conference in passing yardage, connected on 21-of-28 passes for 245 yards. The Cowboys also came up with five turnovers, intercepting four passes and recovering a fumble.

Aikman passed for one touchdown, Jay Novacek scored on a fake field goal and Eddie Murray added two field goals for the Cowboys. But, Aikman wasn't happy. "We were in control of the game, but it's frustrating to me when I feel like we're stopping ourselves," he said. "There were times today when I thought we had opportunities to convert on third downs and should have moved the ball a little bit better than what we did. There's a lot of things I can tolerate, but I can't tolerate busted assignments."

Indianapolis linebacker Duane Bickett didn't see many. "They did a good job spreading us out, attacking some of the edges and some of the gaps," he said. "They finessed us a lot up front and we had a little trouble with that." The Cowboys (3-2) host San Francisco next Sunday, while Indianapolis (2-3) has its second bye week before traveling to face Miami on Oct. 24. The Colts will likely be without defensive tackle Steve Emtman, who tore two ligaments and a tendon in his right knee.

Pampa senior and varsity volleyball captain Shelly Young digs out the ball at a recent game. (Photo by Susan Adeletti)

Young but gaining experience

One of the leading servers on the Harvester volleyball team is also a Homecoming Queen candidate and plans to major in pre-law at college

By SUSAN ADELETTI
Sports Writer

Shelly Young is the definition of well-rounded. A senior captain on the volleyball team, she is also a member of three other varsity sports, excels in school and was nominated for Homecoming Queen. This season is her favorite sport - volleyball. As one of the best servers on the team, she has been involved in the Harvesters' success this season, according to her coach. "I've progressed a lot," she said. "I was just there last year. This year I'm really participating." Young's progress is in synch with the team's progress as a whole. The Lady Harvesters have won 10 games this year, compared with last season's lone win. Only one senior graduated in the interim, so it makes sense that Young can take some amount of responsibility for the turnaround.

Young's favorite game in recent memory is Pampa's 15-13, 15-9 victory over district foe Borger late last month. "Everyone thought we were going to lose," she said with a grin. During the match Young registered a team-high nine kills and also led the Harvesters in digs with 13. Young's confidence can be seen from every angle. Her positive attitude is reflected successfully in every endeavor. This spring she will embark upon her fourth year on the Pampa track team. Running the anchor leg on the 400-, 800-, and 1600-meter relay teams, Young has made it to the state meet in each of her three years. "I expect to go again," Young said. The winter season provides no rest for Young. She is also a member of the basketball team. And as if her schedule isn't crowded enough, the basketball player is also on the varsity cheerleading team. Four sports in three seasons seems difficult to fathom, but it's an easy fit for the versatile Young, who finds time to succeed academically as well. Young plans on attending Texas A&M in Galveston next year and wants to play collegiate volleyball. But her aspirations aren't just athletic. She has decided to concentrate on a pre-law curriculum. The next decision on tap is one that is out of Young's hands. On October 15, the Homecoming Queen will be chosen, and the crown could belong to Young. Or her best friends. But she laughs about the situation, instead of worrying about the outcome or its repercussions on her friendships. The seemingly-irrepressible athlete does have her moments of doubt, however. Seen in the moments before a volleyball game, she is known to be silent and have attacks of butterflies in the stomach. "Especially the big games," she said. "I'm always quiet. People talk, but I just don't listen because I am just so nervous." Once on the court, however, that anxiety is transformed into a strong desire to win, which can be witnessed at any Pampa game. The Harvesters' successful record was recently marred by Dumas, who was ranked No. 2 in the state. Young took the 15-1, 15-3 loss to heart. In fact, she attests that her season goals are to work on spiking the ball, "serve a whole lot of aces and beat Dumas. They're just great." The two schools meet again at Pampa on Oct. 23. As for the rest of the season, Young is certain that the Harvesters will go far. "We're all good friends and we all work together," the captain said. "I think we're going to do great."

Seles to return to courts

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Monica Seles' return to Grand Slam tennis will take place in January at the Australian Open. Organizers of the tournament today said Seles also may play in the New South Wales Open championships at Sydney the week before the Australian Open. "I spoke to her management last week and they told me that Monica has her sights set very definitely on a comeback before the Open. She has a lot of computer points at stake and doesn't want to miss another Grand Slam," Tennis Australia president Geoff Pollard said. Seles has not played since being stabbed in the back by a spectator during a tournament in Hamburg, Germany, on April 29. She is recuperating in Boca Raton, Fla., and reportedly will play an exhibition in Dublin, Ireland, in December. The Australian Open will be held Jan. 17-31, and Pollard said security will be tightened. "The issue of player and spectator safety has unfortunately been put high on the agenda this year," he said. "We have made plans to increase security, but those details will remain strictly confidential." Seles, a Yugoslav based in Florida, will be aiming to win her fourth straight Australian Open. She was ranked No. 1 in the world at the time of the stabbing, but has lost that spot to Steffi Graf during her recuperation. Pollard, speaking at the launch of the 1994 Australian Open, said the tournament will offer prize money of $5.37 million. The men's and women's winner will each earn $303,000. "It is a substantial increase, but I believe it is a responsible one," Pollard said. Defending men's champion Jim Courier, Pete Sampras, Stefan Edberg, Goran Ivanisevic and Andre Agassi all plan to play, but Boris Becker has said he will be unavailable because he is about to become a father for the first time. Seles' rivals will include Graf, Gabriela Sabatini, Jennifer Capriati and Arantxa Sanchez Vicario. Martina Navratilova will again miss the event, saying it does not fit her schedule.

Oilers face Bills tonight

By JOHN F. BONFATTI
AP Sports Writer

ORCHARD PARK, N.Y. (AP) — The last place the Houston Oilers want to be is back at the scene of the collapse that seems to have spurred this season's struggles. But that's where they'll be tonight — Rich Stadium — the place where the Buffalo Bills staged the biggest comeback in NFL history in last season's playoffs. "I didn't think it would be as harsh as it turned out to be," Warren Moon said. "People were saying they actually got sick." A victory against the Bills in Monday night's game won't make people forget about last year's embarrassment. But it will do something more important for this year's Oilers. "Winning a game like this, on the road against a very good team, could do a lot for turning around the season for the rest of the way," Moon said. Houston needs a change in direction after a 1-3 start. Calls for coach Jack Pardee's job are beginning to mount and the Oilers realize that another loss will put them way behind in the race for the playoffs. "It's hard to pin down what our problems have been," Pardee said. "We've been close, it's just the difference of making some plays and getting lucky breaks instead of unlucky breaks. Those things generally average out and we're due for some things to go our way." Moon says Houston's run-and-shoot offense has been too productive in the past to not break out at some time. "We know the things we've done in the past have worked and worked very well as one of the top offenses in the league," he said. "There's no reason why after one year that's going to change. You just have to keep plugging away at it." The Oilers have been more concerned with plugging the holes left on their offensive line following the departure of free agent Don Maggs and the season-ending injury to center John Flannery. Moon has been sacked 12 times this season, turning the run-and-shoot offense into the chuck-and-duck that defensive coordinator Buddy Ryan derisively called it in the past. "The last couple of weeks we've gotten in a little better groove, but we've certainly had our problems," Pardee said of the Oilers' line. The Bills (3-1) have also had problems on the offensive line. Center Kent Hull just returned two weeks ago from offseason knee surgery and Pro Bowl tackle Will Wolford signed a lucrative free agent contract with Indianapolis. "Last week, it was probably more mental than anything," said Hull, referring to the offense's one-touchdown production in a 17-14 victory over the New York Giants. "We had some offside, we had some stupid holding penalties," he said. "Those are the things that, in the past, we didn't do. That was the reason we had success on offense and we've got to get back to that again." Only five teams are averaging more than the 130 yards per game Buffalo is getting, but the Bills are rated next to last in passing offense. Jim Kelly has been sacked 13 times this season — including five times last week by the Giants — and the Bills know Ryan, who likes to blitz anyway, will certainly test their pass protection. "We have to work on blitzes very hard this week," coach Marv Levy said. "We think we do every week (but) maybe even more time devoted to it." The Bills are struggling but winning, which Moon said is the sign of a championship team. "If you can struggle and win, eventually, good things are going to happen for you," he said. Moon didn't say what happens if you struggle and lose, but the Oilers will find out if they can't get things together quickly.

Tennis Roundup

(AP) Jaime Yzaga beat sixth-seeded Petr Korda 6-4, 4-6, 7-6 (7-4), 7-6 (9-7) in 3 hours, 12 minutes, to win the Australian Indoor championship. Yzaga, of Peru, earned his eighth title and $146,000. Korda, of Czech Republic, made the final without dropping a set. Fifth-seeded Arnaud Boetsch upset second-seeded Cedric Pioline 7-6 (7-5), 3-6, 6-3 to win an all-French battle in the Toulouse Grand Prix for his second career victory. Manuela Maleeva-Fragniere upset top-seeded Martina Navratilova 6-3, 7-6 (7-1) to win the European Indoors championship, her second victory of the year. Jordi Arrese of Spain defeated countryman Alberto Berasategui 6-4, 3-6, 6-3 to win the Kronenbourg Athens tournament the second consecutive year.

Scoreboard

National Football League

AMERICAN CONFERENCE
East
Team	W	L	T	Pct.	PF	PA	W	L	T
Miami	4	1	0	.800	101	81
Buffalo	3	1	0	.750	81	60
Indianapolis	2	3	0	.400	68	102
N.Y. Jets	2	3	0	.400	139	106
New England	1	4	0	.200	74	140
Central
Cleveland	3	2	0	.600	93	90
Pittsburgh	3	2	0	.600	108	78
Houston	1	3	0	.250	81	79
Cincinnati	0	5	0	.000	52	106
West
Kansas City	4	1	0	.800	83	64
Denver	3	2	0	.600	129	95
LA Raiders	3	2	0	.600	90	83
Seattle	3	2	0	.600	92	73
San Diego	2	3	0	.400	70	110

NATIONAL CONFERENCE
East
Team	W	L	T	Pct.	PF	PA	W	L	T
N.Y. Giants	4	1	0	.800	124	61
Philadelphia	4	1	0	.800	118	112
Dallas	3	2	0	.600	106	75
Phoenix	1	4	0	.200	85	99
Washington	1	4	0	.200	93	125
Central
Chicago	3	2	0	.600	97	59
Detroit	3	2	0	.600	88	90
Minnesota	3	2	0	.600	66	82
Green Bay	2	3	0	.400	110	104
Tampa Bay	1	4	0	.200	54	122
West
New Orleans	5	0	0	1.000	134	74
San Francisco	3	2	0	.600	125	101
LA Rams	2	3	0	.400	77	106
Atlanta	0	5	0	.000	91	152

National Hockey League

EASTERN CONFERENCE
Atlantic Division
Team	W	L	T	Pts	GF	GA
New Jersey	3	0	0	6	14	8
Philadelphia	2	1	0	4	13	10
Florida	1	1	1	3	9	9
NY Islanders	1	2	0	2	6	10
NY Rangers	1	2	0	2	10	11
Tampa Bay	0	3	0	0	5	9
Washington	0	3	0	0	11	18
Northeast Division
Boston	2	1	0	4	14	11
Montreal	2	1	0	4	12	9
Pittsburgh	2	2	0	4	12	14
Quebec	1	2	0	2	15	16
Buffalo	1	2	0	2	11	13
Hartford	1	2	0	2	8	11
Ottawa	0	1	1	1	10	12
WESTERN CONFERENCE
Central Division
Toronto	3	0	0	6	13	8
St. Louis	2	0	0	4	12	8
Chicago	1	1	1	3	9	9
Dallas	1	1	1	3	12	13
Winnipeg	1	1	1	3	12	11
Detroit	1	2	0	2	14	18
Pacific Division
Calgary	3	0	0	6	13	4
Edmonton	2	0	0	4	8	3
Los Angeles	2	1	0	4	17	10
Vancouver	1	1	0	2	6	7
Anaheim	0	2	0	0	5	11
San Jose	0	3	0	0	6	14

Southwest Conference notebook

By ARNIE STAPLETON
AP Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — High schools have no-pass, no-play and Baylor has no-pass, period. The Bears rushed the ball on all 91 snaps to become the first Division I-A team in seven seasons not to throw a pass in a 31-12 victory over SMU Saturday at Ownby Stadium.

No offense, Mustangs — well, actually plenty. Baylor coach Chuck Reedy was forced into the limited play calling in the first quarter when quarterback J.J. Joe aggravated his bruised throwing shoulder.

The result was 482 yards on a Southwest Conference-record 91 carries, three 100-yard runners for the first time in school history and a whopping 40:01 time of possession.

The last time a team went passless was Oklahoma against Colorado on Nov. 15, 1986. It is believed not to have happened in the SWC since SMU was grounded by Texas A&M in 1974.

Joe, who injured his throwing shoulder two weeks ago in a 28-26 victory over Texas Tech, was fine early last week but got worse closer to game time. He took a hard hit in the first quarter and decided passing was out of the question.

"After the first couple of plays, and the chilly weather, my shoulder tightened up," Joe said. "We were successful running the ball, so we went with it."

John Henry ran for a career-best 169 yards including a 42-yard TD run in the second quarter and a 50-yard burst in the third.

Bradford Lewis had 101 yards and Baylor's final TD on 17 carries and Brandell Jackson had 100 yards on 20 carries. Robert Strait had 38 yards, including scoring runs of 1 and 7 yards.

GAPING GAP: Baylor wasn't the only team to abandon throwing for the throwback ground attack Saturday. Oklahoma rushed for 275 yards in snapping a four-game losing skid to Texas, 38-17, at the Cotton Bowl.

RICE BEAT TCU 34-19 for its fourth victory. Texas A&M crushed Houston 34-10 and Texas Tech lost its fifth straight, 36-34 to North Carolina State.

SWC top performers

DALLAS (AP) — Top performers in Week 6 of Southwest Conference football action:

— Freshman tailback James Allen rushed for 102 yards on 18 carries to help lead Oklahoma to a 38-17 victory over Texas.

— SMU senior kicker John Stewart hit a 55-yard field goal during the Mustang's loss to Baylor, 31-12. It was the second longest for the school.

— TCU placekicker Kevin Cordesman kicked two field goals in the Horned Frogs loss to Rice, 34-19. He has made his last nine field goals to break a school record.

— For the fourth game in a row, Rice safety Nathan Bennett intercepted a pass during Rice's victory over TCU.

— Texas Tech's All-America receiver Lloyd Hill broke former Mustang Emanuel Tolbert's SWC career pass receiving mark when his total moved to 2,788 yards during the second half of Tech's 36-34 loss to North Carolina State.

— Texas A&M's Greg Hill rushed 20 times for 128 yards as the Aggies downed Houston 34-10. It was Hill's first game back from a five-game suspension.

— Houston's free safety Gerome Williams and strong safety Donald Douglas had a combined 32 tackles in the Aggies' victory over the Cougars.

in his fifth Texas-Oklahoma game and looking for his fifth victory over the Sooners.

TAKE A NUMBER: Texas A&M's Greg Hill returned from a five-game suspension Saturday to find his tailback position crowded.

Rodney Thomas rushed for 82 yards on 21 carries and scored on runs of 9 and 1 yards and Leeland McElroy had an 81-yard touchdown run, leading the Aggies past Houston 34-10.

Hill joined in for 128 yards on 20 carries, with much of his yardage coming in the fourth quarter.

The Aggies rushed 313 yards as a team and Hill was just pleased to be on the field again.

"It's unbelievable," Hill said. "I was like the first night I dreamed about playing college football. I was worried about what I could do. It turned out to be all right."

Hill missed the 1993 Cotton Bowl and the first four games this season as punishment for accepting pay for work he did not perform on a summer job.

His first carry late in the first quarter was a 9-yard gain.

"There's no jealousy or envy of one another," Hill said. "We just want to go out there and win it for the team."

We've got three guys trying to get in there at one time. Whoever one gets in, there will be some productivity."

BAT T E R E D BERT: Baylor quarterback J.J. Joe had a hurt throwing shoulder, so he handed off 91 times in the Bears' victory over SMU.

Rice quarterback Bert Emanuel also had a bruised shoulder but the only way for him to overcome that was to throw.

Emanuel, shaking off the effects of a bruised shoulder suffered a week ago during a loss at Texas, accounted for nearly 300 yards of offense himself as Rice beat TCU 34-19.

"I didn't know until late last night he would be the starter," coach Fred Goldsmith said. "He had to convince me."

"I just told him that I would rise to the occasion and wouldn't let the team down," Emanuel said.

Emanuel wound up with two touchdown passes and ran for a third score to improve Rice to 4-2 and 1-1 in the conference.

"I felt really poised and confident," Emanuel said. "Sometimes when you have an injury, it makes you concentrate more. That happened today."

His 69-yard pass play to Ed Howard, the longest in the conference this season, put Rice ahead 7-6 with 10 seconds left in the first quarter. It was a lead the Owls never relinquished.

In the third quarter, he had a string of nine straight completions. Emanuel completed 13 of 18 passes for 221 yards and also connected with Emerson Allen for a 29-yard scoring play and ran 19 yards for a touchdown in the fourth quarter.

LUCKLESS IN LUBBOCK: Lloyd Hill, Texas Tech's All America receiver, would trade records and accolades for success right now.

Hill broke the career SWC pass receiving yardage mark in the second quarter Saturday when his total moved to 2,788 yards, bettering the mark of SMU's Emanuel Tolbert.

But even he couldn't keep the Red Raiders from dropping their fifth straight contest when North Carolina State backup quarterback Terry Harvey threw an 11-yard touchdown to Eddie Goines as time expired for a 36-34 victory.

"I knew it was going to hit him in the hands when I let go of it," Harvey said.

"This is the toughest one I've ever been through," said Spike Dykes, who has coached the Red Raiders for seven years. "... We just could not get it done."

Dykes' coaching record slipped below .500 at 36-37-1.

TEXAS, off to its worst start since 1938, gets the week off to regroup.

Area Football Standings

DISTRICT 1-4A
Team	Dist.Pts	Opp. All	Pts.	Opp.
Pampa	1-0	11	5-1	103	63
Randall	1-0	7	5-1	138	75
Borger	1-0	45	28	42	114
Caprock	0-1	7	39	1-5	87
x-Dumas	0-1	11	18	1-5	89
x-Heredford	0-1	28	45	1-5	102
x - overall record includes one forfeit win
DISTRICT 2-2A
Team	Dist.Pts	Opp. All	Pts.	Opp.
Clearendon	1-0	41	16	5-1	217
Canadian	1-0	14	12	5-1	114
Parhandie	1-0	33	7	1-5	90
Wheeler	0-1	7	33	2-3	53
Wellington	0-1	12	14	1-5	87
Memphis	0-1	16	41	0-5	43
DISTRICT 1-1A
Team	Dist.Pts	Opp. All	Pts.	Opp.
Happy	1-0	39	0	6-0	166
White Deer	1-0	41	21	4-1	110
Claude	1-0	9	7	2-3	55
Booker	0-1	7	9	3-3	88
Vega	0-1	0	39	3-3	120
Shamrock	0-1	21	41	2-3	72
SIX-MAN DISTRICT 1A
Team	Dist.Pts	Opp. All	Pts.	Opp.
Lefors	1-0	57	18	5-1	282
Groom	1-0	57	6	4-1	127
Mt.earn	1-0	34	9	2-4	143
Miggins	0-1	6	57	1-4	107
Harris	0-1	9	34	1-5	123
Follett	0-1	18	68	0-6	103

Area Football Standings

DISTRICT 1-4A
Team	Dist.Pts	Opp. All	Pts.	Opp.
Pampa	1-0	11	5-1	103	63
Randall	1-0	7	5-1	138	75
Borger	1-0	45	28	42	114
Caprock	0-1	7	39	1-5	87
x-Dumas	0-1	11	18	1-5	89
x-Heredford	0-1	28	45	1-5	102
x - overall record includes one forfeit win
DISTRICT 2-2A
Team	Dist.Pts	Opp. All	Pts.	Opp.
Clearendon	1-0	41	16	5-1	217
Canadian	1-0	14	12	5-1	114
Parhandie	1-0	33	7	1-5	90
Wheeler	0-1	7	33	2-3	53
Wellington	0-1	12	14	1-5	87
Memphis	0-1	16	41	0-5	43
DISTRICT 1-1A
Team	Dist.Pts	Opp. All	Pts.	Opp.
Happy	1-0	39	0	6-0	166
White Deer	1-0	41	21	4-1	110
Claude	1-0	9	7	2-3	55
Booker	0-1	7	9	3-3	88
Vega	0-1	0	39	3-3	120
Shamrock	0-1	21	41	2-3	72
SIX-MAN DISTRICT 1A
Team	Dist.Pts	Opp. All	Pts.	Opp.
Lefors	1-0	57	18	5-1	282
Groom	1-0	57	6	4-1	127
Mt.earn	1-0	34	9	2-4	143
Miggins	0-1	6	57	1-4	107
Harris	0-1	9	34	1-5	123
Follett	0-1	18	68	0-6	103

Just a wild and wacky game

By MIKE NADEL
AP Sports Writer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Two years ago, Minnesota beat Purdue 6-3. Two days ago, the teams played a wild and wacky game that was nothing like the stodgy affair of 1991.

"It was a riot out there," quarterback Scott Eckers said after Minnesota's 59-56 victory Saturday night. "It was a blast just watching the game go back and forth."

Said receiver Omar Douglas: "I was saying, 'I just hope we're the last team with the ball.'"

Though Purdue touched the ball last — a desperation play from its own 19-yard line — the Gophers did have the last legitimate chance to score.

And, like they did almost every time they touched the football in the second half, they took advantage.

Eckers, who already had thrown five touchdown passes to Douglas and another to Lewis Garrison, found running back Antonio Carter behind the defense for 55 yards with 30 seconds left.

After two runs by Carter netted 17 yards, putting the ball at the Boilermakers' 1, Mike Chalberg capped the 90-yard drive with an 18-yard field goal.

"It was fun," Eckers said after his 24-for-36, 402-yard passing performance. "but I'm glad it's over."

The teams combined for 1,184 yards.

Purdue (1-4, 0-2 Big Ten) set a record for most points in defeat; San Diego State had 51 in a 1990 loss to Wyoming. The Boilermakers lost despite gaining 559 yards — 255 of them by fullback Mike Alstott, who rushed for 171 yards and set a school record with five touchdowns.

It also was a record-setting game for Minnesota (2-4, 1-2), which gained 625 yards.

Eckers, the second-stringer until he replaced Tim Schade midway through the previous week's loss to Indiana, broke Mike

Double-barreled success becomes a triple threat

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Texas A&M's tailback position just became a triple threat. It was already a two-barreled success with Rodney Thomas and Leeland McElroy filling in for suspended Greg Hill.

Then Hill returned from a five-game suspension Saturday, leaving coach R.C. Slocum with three runners to juggle at the position.

It worked very well Saturday as Hill rushed 128 yards on 20 carries, Thomas gained 82 yards and scored two touchdowns and McElroy had 91 yards, including an 81-yard touchdown run in a 34-10 victory over Houston.

"It's unusual to see a running back grinning from ear to ear every time he gets up off the ground," Slocum said. "He did a good job and was excited about being out there."

Hill, who was punished for accepting money for work he did not perform on a summer job, was more than excited.

"All I was concerned with was staying calm and cool and not getting too excited," Hill said. "I got 6 or 7 yards on my first carry so I told myself I was okay."

The Aggies started the year planning to have a balanced run-pass attack. That game plan may disappear with Hill's return. The Aggies combined for 313 rushing yards against the Cougars and passed for 134.

"I thought all three of our running backs played well," Slocum said. "They all have different running styles and present different problems for the defense. All three are capable of taking it to the house and going 80 yards."

Quarterback Corey Pullig is as impressed as Slocum.

"It's pretty obvious what they can do," Pullig said. "Having them back there is a great weapon. Greg had fresh legs and looked like a man on a mission. I wish I could watch them run but I have to carry out my fakes."

Hill has 2,683 career yards and moved past Johnny Hector into fifth place on the Aggies' all-time rushing list on Saturday. He still hopes to break former Aggie Darren Lewis' SWC record 5,012 yards.

Hill cracked the 100-yard mark for the 15th time.

Thomas has been the starter in Hill's absence. He has 604 rushing yards and 10 touchdowns this season, tying for 13th on the all-time school record for rushing touchdowns.

The Cougars would gladly take some of the Aggies' runners. Lamar Smith, Houston's leading rusher, reinjured his shoulder and was listed by the team's trainer as week to week.

You can find it... in the Classifieds

The Pampa News

403 W. Atchison - 669-2525

Ask about our Monthly Rates

2 Museums

ALAN REED-McLean Area Historical Museum: McLean. Regular museum hours 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday, Sunday 1-4.

DEVIL'S Rope Museum, McLean: Tuesday thru Saturday 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Sunday 1 p.m.-4 p.m.

HUTCHINSON County Museum: Borger. Regular hours 11 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. weekdays except Tuesday, 1-5 p.m. Sunday.

LAKE Meredith Aquarium and Wildlife Museum: Fritch, hours Tuesday and Sunday 2-5 p.m., 10 a.m. Wednesday thru Saturday, closed Monday.

MUSEUM Of The Plains: Perryton. Monday thru Friday, 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Weekends during Summer months, 1:30 p.m.-5 p.m.

OLD Mobeetic Jail Museum: Monday-Saturday 10-5. Sunday 1-5. Closed Wednesday.

PANHANDLE Plains Historical Museum: Canyon. Regular museum hours 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays, weekends 2 p.m.-6 p.m.

PIONEER West Museum: Shamrock. Regular museum hours 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays, Saturday and Sunday.

RIVER Valley Pioneer Museum at Canadian, Tx: Tuesday-Friday 10-4 p.m. Sunday 2-4 p.m. Closed Saturday and Sunday.

ROBERTS County Museum: Miami. Regular hours, Tuesday-Friday 10-5 p.m. Sunday 2-5 p.m. Closed Saturday and Monday. Closed Holidays.

SQUARE House Museum Panhandle: Regular Museum hours 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. weekdays and 1-5:30 p.m. Sundays.

3 Personal

MARY Kay Cosmetics: Supplies and deliveries. Call Dorothy Vaughn 665-4953, 501 S. Cuyler.

MARY Kay Cosmetics and Skincare: Facials, supplies, call Theda Wallin 665-8336.

BEAUTICONTROL: Cosmetics and skincare. Offering free complete color analysis, makeover, deliveries and image updates. Call your local consultant, Lynn Allison 669-3848, 1304 Christine.

Alcoholics Anonymous: 910 W. Kentucky-665-9702.

SHAKLEE: Vitamins, diet, skincare, household, job opportunity. Donna Turner, 665-6065.

WANT to lose weight? I've lost 40 pounds and 27 inches in 4 months. Lee Ann Stark, 669-9660.

5 Special Notices

ADVERTISING Material to be placed in the Pampa News, MUST be placed through the Pampa News Office Only.

PAMPA Lodge #966 meeting: Thursday 14th, 7:30 p.m. Study and Practice.

TOP O Texas Lodge 1381 Meeting: Night Monday and Tuesday.

13 Bus. Opportunities

Motel For Sale: Good Price! 669-3221

BEEF Jerky: 1 person business. Average net $600 per week. Price $4800. 417-463-7314.

14b Appliance Repair

FOR Appliance Service, call Williams's Appliance Service, 665-8894.

RENT TO RENT: We have Rental Furniture and Appliances to suit your needs. Call for estimate.

Johnson Home Furnishings: 801 W. Francis

14d Carpentry

Ralph Baxter: Contractor & Builder. Custom Homes or Remodeling. 665-8248.

Panhandle House Leveling: Excellent Floor Leveling and Home Repairs, call 669-0958.

DEAVER Construction: Building, remodeling and insurance repairs. 21 years experience, Ray Deaver, 665-0447.

RON'S Construction: Capentry, concrete, drywall, fencing, masonry and roofing. 669-3172.

OVERHEAD Door Repair: Kidwell Construction. 669-6347.

ADDITIONS, remodeling, new cabinets, ceramic tile, acoustical ceilings, paneling, painting, patios. 18 years local experience. Jerry Reagan, Karl Parks 669-2648.

ADDITIONS, remodeling, roofing, cabinets, painting, all types repairs. No job too small. Mike Albus, 665-4774.

Childers Brothers Leveling: House Leveling. Professional house leveling. Free estimates 1-800-299-9563.

A-1 Concrete Construction: All types of new concrete work. Call day or night. 665-2462, 665-1015.

CALDER Painting: Interior/exterior, mud, tape, acoustic, 30 years experience in Pampa. 665-4840, 669-2215.

14e Carpet Service

NU-WAY: Cleaning service, carpets, upholstery, walls, ceilings. Quality doesn't cost. It pays! No steam used. Bob Marx owner-operator. 665-3341, or from out of town, 800-536-5341. Free estimates.

14g Electric Contracting

Frank Slagle Electric: All electrical Services. 665-3748.

14h General Services

COX Fence Company: Repair old fence or build new. Free estimates. 669-7769.

Commercial Mowing: Chuck Morgan. 669-0511.

ASPHALT Repair: Ron's Construction, 669-3172.

CONCRETE work, all types, driveways, sidewalks, patio, etc. Ron's Construction, 669-3172.

FENCING: New construction and repair. Ron's Construction, 669-3172.

MASONARY, all types. New construction and repair. Ron's Construction, 669-3172.

CONCRETE Work: drives, sidewalks, free estimates. 669-9453, 835-2262.

14i General Repair

IF it's broken or won't turn off, call the Fix It Shop, 669-3434. Lamps repaired.

14m Lawnmower Service

PAMPA Lawnmower Repair: Repairs on all makes of mowers and chainsaws. Pick up and delivery available. 665-8843, 501 S. Cuyler.

PAINTING and sheetrock finishing: 35 years. David and Joe, 665-2903, 669-7885.

PAINTING done reasonable, interior, exterior. Minor repairs. Free estimates. Bob Gorson, 665-0033.

CALDER Painting: Interior/exterior, mud, tape, acoustic, 30 years in Pampa. 665-4840, 669-2215.

14j Ditching

RON'S Construction: Loader, Dirt Work, Fill Dirt and Fill Sand. 669-3172.

14r Plowing, Yard Work

MOW, till, trim, trim. Light hauling. Flower beds. We contract. 665-9609, 665-7349.

TREE Trimming: Lawn and Tree Winterizing, yard-alley clean up, lawn aeration. 665-3672.

14s Plumbing & Heating

Builders Plumbing Supply: 535 S. Cuyler 665-3711.

LARRY BAKER PLUMBING: Heating Air Conditioning. Borger Highway 665-4392.

McBride Plumbing Co.: Complete repair Residential, Commercial 665-1633.

CHIEF Plastics: sells waterheaters, septic tanks, pipe and plumbing supplies. 1237 S. Barnes, 665-6716.

JACK'S Plumbing Co.: New construction, repair, remodeling, sewer and drain cleaning. Septic systems installed. 665-7115.

Bullard Plumbing Service: Electric Sewer Rooter Maintenance and repair. 665-8603.

Terry's Sewerline Cleaning: 669-1041.

Jim's Sewer and Sinking Cleaning: 665-4307.

14t Radio and Television

Johnson Home Entertainment: We will do service work on most Major Brands of TV's and VCR's. 2211 Perryton Pkwy. 665-0504.

14z Siding

STEEL siding, windows, storm doors, carports. Rv covers and patio covers. Free estimates. Pampa Home Improvement, 669-3600.

19 Situations

DON'T Leave your home alone, call the housesitter, also experienced drivers. 665-2585, 665-8020.

TOP O Texas Maid Service: bonded. Jeanie Samples, 883-5331.

21 Help Wanted

NOTICE: Readers are urged to fully investigate advertisements which require payment in advance for information, services or goods.

MANAGER needed for 12 Million Dollar Credit Union in Texas Panhandle. Salary commensurate with qualifications and experience. Submit resumes to Search Committee, Box 2217, Pampa, Texas 79066-2217 by November 1, 1993.

GRIZZWELLS® by Bill Schorr

21 Help Wanted

FIRST United Methodist Church, is seeking a part time organist. 3 manual Allen organ with excellent sound. Position involves accompanying various choirs, supplying service music for Sunday worship and all special services. If interested please send resume to P.O. Box 1981, Pampa, Tx. 79066.

SELL Avon Products to friends and family. Earn money for Christmas. Call Betty 669-7797.

DYER'S Barbeque now taking applications for waitress/waiter. Apply in person.

WANTED experienced feed mill operator. Experienced front end loader operator. Call Moody Farms, 665-3766.

RN needed full or part time to supervise Attendant Service to elderly and disabled in their home. Flexible hours, mileage reimbursement and benefits. 1-800-800-0697.

LA Fiesta, now taking applications for full time host/hostess. Apply in person.

TAKING applications for waitress and waiters, split shift. Apply 9-11 a.m. Danny's Market.

DAKS Drive In, 316 E. Francis, is now hiring for cooks and delivery drivers. Drivers must have own car and insurance. Evening hours.

RARE OPPORTUNITY $45,000/YEAR UP TO $75,000 7 2ND YEAR

Major company in the Pampa area. Sales people and managers needed immediately. Not multi-level or door to door sales! Leader in it's field. Complete training by top sales force for quality Management candidates. Interviews by appointment in or near your hometown. Mr. Howard. (806) 359-0191

MR GATTI'S PIZZA

Is taking applications for: * In store personnel * Drivers (own car and insurance) Must be willing and able to work nights and weekends. Apply Monday-Friday.

30 Sewing Machines

We service all makes and models of sewing machines and vacuum cleaners. Sanders Sewing Center. 214 N. Cuyler, 665-2383.

48 Trees, Shrubs, Plants

DAVIS TREE SERVICE: Fall is the time to top your trees, we also do all types of tree work. Free estimates. 669-2230, 665-5659.

50 Building Supplies

HOUSTON LUMBER CO.: 420 W. Foster 669-6881

White House Lumber Co.: 101 S. Ballard 669-3291

57 Good Things To Eat

APPLES and pears for sale. No chemicals. Gething Ranch, 669-3925.

58 Sporting Goods

DALLAS Cowboys vs. Cardinals, November 14th, 2 tickets, Section 127 Row A. 665-1991 or leave message.

60 Household Goods

SHOWCASE RENTALS: Rent to own furnishings for your home. Rent by phone. 1700 N. Hobart 669-1234 No Credit Check. No deposit. Free delivery.

RENT TO RENT: We have Rental Furniture and Appliances to suit your needs. Call for estimate.

Johnson Home Furnishings: 801 W. Francis 665-3361

JOHNSON HOME FURNISHINGS

Pampa's standard of excellence in Home Furnishings 801 W. Francis 665-3361

First Landmark Realty

665-0717 1600 N. Hobart

VACANT AND READY FOR OCCUPANCY: Nice 3 bedroom, 1 3/4 baths. Superior carpet. Interior paint 1 year old. New kitchen countertop. Ceiling fans, window treatments. Huge shop in back plus storage building. water condition. Central heat and air. Owner has reduced the price. MLS 2798.

Norma Ward REALTY: 669-4413 Jim Ward, 665-1993 Norma Ward, GRI, Broker

62 Medical Equipment

HEALTHSTAR Medical, Oxygen Beds, Wheelchairs, rental and Sales. Medicare provider 24 hour service. Free delivery. 1541 N. Hobart, 669-0000.

69 Miscellaneous

RENT IT: When you have tried everywhere and can't find it, come see me, I probably got it! H. C. Eubanks Tool Rental, 1320 S. Barnes, phone 665-3213.

CHIMNEY Fire can be prevented. Queen Sweep Chimney Cleaning. 665-4686 or 665-5364.

ADVERTISING Material to be placed in the Pampa News MUST be placed through the Pampa News Office Only.

BE FAT FREE IN '93 LOSE EVEN MORE IN '94: CAROLYN STROUD 669-6979

DOUBLE D Sports Cards, 111 1/2 W. Foster, 669-1326. Open 11 a.m.-6 p.m. Monday thru Saturday.

FOR Sale: Trampoline. Like new 10 months old. Includes pads, ladder and cover. Paid $500 asking $250. 665-0310.

69a Garage Sales

THE Family Bargain Center, 1246 Barnes. All clothes 25¢. We have 1000's of items. If any price is too high, we will lower it, just ask.

GARAGE Sale: 617 and 621 Bradley. Monday-Saturday. Furniture, electric typewriter, canning cooker, toddler clothes, collectible glass, kitchen items and miscellaneous.

PIANOS FOR RENT: New and used pianos. Starting at $40 per month. Up to 6 months of rent will apply to purchase. It's all right here in Pampa at Tarpley Music. 665-1251.

75 Feeds and Seeds

Wheeler Evans Feed: Full line of Acco feeds We appreciate your business Hwy.60 Kingsmill 665-5881

GOOD Cane Hay, square bales, shelled. 665-8525 after 6 p.m.

77 Livestock & Equip.

Show Lambs for sale: 669-2411

80 Pets And Supplies

GROOMING, exotic birds, pet, full line pet supplies. Iams and Science Diet dog and cat food. Pets Unique, 407 W. Foster. 665-5102.

CANINE and Feline grooming. Also, boarding and Science diets. Royste Animal Hospital, 665-2223.

Grooming and Boarding: 1033 Terry Rd., 669-1410

Lee Ann's Grooming: All breeds-Reasonable Rates 669-9660

89 Wanted To Buy

WILL buy good used furniture and appliances, air conditioners. 669-9634 after 5 p.m.

MARBLEs, pocket knives, old tools. Spurs. Costume jewelry, old watches, miscellaneous. 669-2605.

95 Furnished Apartments

ROOMS for rent. Showers, clean, quiet. $35 a week. Davis Hotel. 116 1/2 W. Foster. 669-9115, or 669-9137.

BEAUTIFULLY Furnished 1 bedroom townhomes. All utilities paid. $375 per month. Caprock Apartments, 1601 W. Somerville, 665-7149.

99 Storage Buildings

CHUCK'S SELF STORAGE: Some commercial units. 24 hour access. Security lights. 665-1150 or 669-7705.

TUMBLEWEED ACRES SELF STORAGE UNITS: Various sizes 10x10-10x15-10x20-20x40 Office Space For Rent 669-2142

Action Storage: 10x16 and 10x24 669-1221

Economor: 5x10, 10x10, 10x15, 10x20 and 10x30. Now Vacant. 665-4842.

SHED REALTY, INC.

900 N. Hobart 665-3761

MALONE ST. Nice 84' x 14' Mobile Home on corner lot. 4-25' x 100' lots. Street on both sides are in the process of being paved. Washer, dryer, refrigerator and gas cook stove convey. MLS 2779M.

KIOWA ST. Attractive 3 bedrooms, 1 3/4 baths, large family room with fireplace. Lots of cabinets in big kitchen with large dining area. Great second in main room. Excellent RV parking. MLS 2855.

103 Homes For Sale

PRICE Reduced on 3 bedroom 2 living areas, 3 car garage. Must see to appreciate. 2200 N. Dwight, 665-3341.

3 bedroom 2 bath, double car garage, sunroom, 2 living areas. One owner. $72,900. 665-0284.

RENT to own very nice newly remodeled 2 bedroom house in clean neighborhood. Down payment and good credit required. 806-669-6198, 669-6323.

3 bedroom brick, oversized lot, Travis district. Shed Realty, Marie, 665-4180, 665-3436. MLS 2835.

AFTER working in your insulated shop, you can prop your feet up in the comfort of central heat and air in your 3 bedroom house. Owner will carry note. Call Lyndon or Joyce at 665-4369.

CHECK OUT NOW: 3 bedroom, 1 3/4 baths, brick, central heat/air, attached double garage, large screened patio, approximately 28x20 foot. Paved area at rear for RVs, boats, etc. Extra area at front for parking. MLS 2855. Shed Realty, Milly Sanders 669-2671.

FOR Sale or Lease: 2400 square foot office building available September 1. Also 1400 square foot office space. Call Norma Ward 669-3346.

GREAT Office location, 105 W. Foster. Bills paid, $250 monthly. Action Realty, 669-1221.

OFFICE Space, 800 square feet, reasonable. 152 Industrial Park-110 N. Naida St. 669-2142.

RENT or LEASE: Retail, high traffic location. Reasonable rent. Will remodel for tenant, 116 W. Foster, 120 W. Foster. See Ted or John at 114 W. Foster. 669-9137.

102 Business Rental Prop.

NBC PLAZA: Office Space 665-4100

FOR Sale or Lease: 2400 square foot office building available September 1. Also 1400 square foot office space. Call Norma Ward 669-3346.

104 Lots

CHOICE residential lots, north-east, Austin district. Call 665-8578, 665-2832 or 665-0079.

FRASHER Acres East 1 or more acres. Paved street, utilities. Balch Real Estate, 665-8075.

105 Acreage

COUNTRY LIVING State Owned Repo Land. (Roberts County) 4% interest, $64 per month. 10 acre home site with 2 wells, barn and fenced. 8 miles South East of Miami off FM 748 on County Dirt Road. Monday-Friday 9-5. 1-800-275-7376. (Agent)

TAKE over payments. Texas Veteran note. Veteran/Non-Veteran approximately $170 month. 2.5 acres, south of Pampa. 817-947-8613.

110 Out Of Town Prop.

2 bedroom house, bath/shower combination, carpeted, garage, 14x14 shop with electricity, storage, chain link fence, grape arbor, sprinkler system. Wheeler, Tx. 826-3791.

114 Recreational Vehicles

Superior RV Center: 1019 Alcock Parts and Service

Bill's Custom Campers: 930 S. Hobart, 665-4315

115 Trailer Parks

CAMPER and mobile home lots. Country Living Estate, 4 miles West on Highway 152, 1/2 mile north. 665-2736.

Farmers' errors and government subsidies push up food prices

By DAVID BRISCOE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farming practices that actually hurt the environment are being encouraged by government subsidies worldwide even though these mistakes drive up food prices, a study says.

Many governments pay farmers to kill useful insects, force crops from soil that needs a rest or try to grow rice in the desert, said the report by the World Resources Institute.

"All over the world, farm policies to date have not encouraged sustainability. Quite the opposite," Paul Faeth, project director, said in an interview.

Farmers in both developed and developing countries are unwittingly using methods that multiply the long-term cost of their produce by harming the earth and sometimes endangering humans, said the report by the international research organization that is financed by grants from governments and private sources.

A farm that is earning for its owner $75 an acre may actually be making only $2 an acre when soil depletion and erosion are taken into consideration, it said.

And a cup of rice may sell for a few cents in the United States, India, the Philippines and Chile, but its real cost could be much higher because of the environmental damage farmers inflict in producing it, according to case studies in the four countries.

In the four countries studied, "practices that caused the greatest environmental harm get more incentive from the government while those that get the least money do the least damage," Faeth said.

In India, the study found that electrical subsidies encourage excessive use of water for wheat and rice in desert areas of Punjab state. With water tables dropping, the real cost of the rice, which takes far more water, is rising, the report said. "Basically, rice shouldn't be grown there," Faeth said.

In the Philippines, the government already has responded to the study by outlawing three imported agricultural chemicals cited as damaging to human health. Four others have been newly proposed for banning.

Natural control rather than pesticides provides the best economic strategy in rice farming in the Philippines, the study found. This includes steps to protect pest-killing predators that are now killed by the pesticides.

"Some farmers are wasting a lot of money and causing themselves significant physical harm when really they don't have to do anything," Faeth said.

For the first time, the study included health costs from the use of imported pesticides, some of which are banned in the United States. It said Philippine hospitals reported more than 4,000 cases of acute pesticide poisoning from 1980 to 1987, including 600 deaths.

In Chile, the study factored in soil depletion with other costs of agriculture.

"The inescapable conclusion is that farmers could face large financial losses if soil erosion from conventional and traditional production practices continues to cut yields," the study said.

The study found that peasant farmers could improve their profits with methods that better protect resources.

The study is continuing in the United States and aims to determine the best methods and the best government policies for farmers and the environment.

It recommended the elimination of farm subsidies anywhere they are encouraging degradation of natural resources or adding to commodity surpluses. It also called for more research into sustainable farming practices.

Sans U.S. Navy, Subic Bay turning into tourist center

By ROBERT H. REID
Associated Press Writer

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (AP) — A year after the U.S. Navy left its largest overseas base, Subic Bay is being transformed into a tourism and trade center the government hopes will power an economic revival.

The Navy closed the 62,000-acre base in November after the Philippine Senate refused a new lease. The departure cost more than 40,000 Filipinos their jobs and destroyed the economy of nearby Olongapo, a city of 300,000 residents.

Faced with an economic crisis, the government declared Subic a duty-free port and established the Subic Bay Metropolitan Authority to manage the former base.

That was not enough to bail out Olongapo, and thousands of people deserted the city. The bars, restaurants, tattoo parlors and souvenir shops that depended on the base have been closed.

The Authority's goal is to develop the port 50 miles west of Manila into a commercial complex focusing on tourism, financial services, light industry and shipment of manufactured goods.

It advertises such assets as the deep-water harbor and U.S.-built facilities, and investors from the United States, Malaysia and Taiwan are paying attention.

Rodolfo Reyes, assistant administrator of the Authority, said foreign investors had pledged $400 million in 10 months, compared to $250 million of direct foreign investment for the entire Philippines in 1992.

Subic is an ideal location, "right in the middle of Asia," he said.

Tungtex Group of Taiwan offered to lease the entire area as an entertainment park, providing thousands of jobs immediately. The project was rejected because it did not conform to the master plan drawn up with the help of the World Bank and the Asian Development Bank.

"We want businesses that are expansion-based and that complement our overall vision for development," Reyes said.

So far, only about 6,000 people have been employed within the Subic free port, one-third of them by the Authority.

But Reebok International plans to begin making footwear at Subic next month, ultimately employing about 4,000 people. Federal Express is considering the Subic airport, built by Navy Seabees in the 1950s, as its major Asian hub.

About 20 Taiwanese companies have agreed to manufacture textiles, electronics and other products, pending approval of the financing agreement by the Philippine central bank.

Development is going slowly, but "people are getting jobs," said Richard Gordon, former mayor of Olongapo and now chairman of the Authority.

The first task Gordon faced was to prevent a repeat of the disaster that followed the closing of Clark Air Base by the U.S. Air Force in November 1991.

No sooner had the Stars and Stripes been lowered at Clark than thousands of looters, many in collusion with corrupt Filipino military officers, swarmed through the base, carting off anything of value. Clark now is a wasteland of rusted equipment, shattered buildings and head-high elephant grass.

By contrast, Subic is spotless, thanks to citizens of Olongapo recruited by Gordon to safeguard their principal asset. The 8,000 volunteers maintain the buildings, trim the grass and patrol against thieves.

Pampa teen gets chance at the big screen

Shane Wells lands part in 'The New Kid'

By RANDAL K. MCGAVOCK
Staff Writer

The people of Pampa may soon be seeing one of their own gracing the silver screen.

Shane Wells, 15, an aspiring actor and model from Pampa, recently returned to Hollywood, Calif., to get his big shot — a full-length feature film.

"It's a new film and we're going to start filming (later) in October," Wells said. "The title of it is The New Kid and it's about a new kid who moves into town. I'm (going to be) kind of a rotten kind of kid and get into a lot of trouble."

Wells expects the film to be out sometime around Christmas or possibly a short time after Jan. 1, 1994.

Prior to acting, Wells modeled for an Amarillo modeling agency.

"It's not that hard," he said. "It's kind of easy and you get paid for it, it's just a lot of fun."

During the last four months Wells and his mother have been living in Los Angeles trying to get an acting career going, and in that time, he's been doing some modeling for a new magazine which debuts soon.

According to Wells, the National Football League and Marvel Comic will jointly publish a magazine entitled NFL Action that features an athletically-inclined super hero as well as interviews with real-life football players and coaches.

In addition, he said the magazine will have a fashion section for the NFL line of clothing.

Asked which career he likes the most, Wells said he has not decided.

"I like them all a lot, all about the same," he said. "They're a little different, but basically they're all the same. You get to work with a lot of neat people, and it is different."

As for other family members, Jeannie Wells, Shane's mother, is supportive of her son but says it's good to return home occasionally and see friends and family. She added that while it is a strain on the family to have some members living in California and others living in Pampa, it's worth the trouble.

Wells' father lives in Pampa and works at the Hoechst-Celanese Company plant.

"I'm excited about it," the mother said about her son's acting and modeling. "We never expected this to come out of it, you know, we just wanted him to gain some self confidence."

Wells and his family have lived in Pampa for five years. Originally they are from Miami, Okla., and Tulsa.

When in Los Angeles, Wells, who would normally be in high school, is taught at home and checks in with a teacher once a week.

Shane Wells

Companies save consumers money by finding medical overcharges

AUSTIN (AP) — Frustrated with $11,000 in hard-to-read medical bills, a Corpus Christi farmer mailed them to somebody else. And for a fee of $49, he got a $650 refund.

The people who scanned his bill were Larry Wallace and Lee Goodwin, co-owners of two Austin companies helping individuals and employers check the accuracy of their health care bills.

"We can make a change. There's no sense with what's going on now," said the 39-year-old Wallace, who is chief executive officer of MedReview Inc. and Cost Review Services Inc. "We're one of the first companies that's ever gone in and said, 'You're going to pay the patient back.'"

The General Accounting Office has estimated that 99 percent of hospital bills contain overcharges. But the bills' codes, technical terms and abbreviations are virtually impossible for consumers to understand.

Wallace and 33-year-old Goodwin, who is president of the firms, say their companies have uncovered overcharges in nine of 10 cases for clients in several states and across Texas.

Cost Review Services has won refunds of up to 30 percent for Texas employers in worker's compensation cases. And in its first year of operation in 1992, MedReview saved individuals an average of 12 percent on $24 million in bills, they said.

The duo got started in the 1980s as claims managers for the Texas Municipal League, an association of Texas cities, checking health care bills for city workers. They're remembered as "very bright people," said Mike Rains, one of their successors at the league.

Nowadays, they supervise 49 employees. Bill checkers compare charges to a database of reasonable and customary fees charged by each physician discipline and in every ZIP code in the country.

Registered nurses later recheck the checkers, taking as much as 12 hours to examine $25,000 in medical

BE A WINNER

WITH THE ALL NEW...

Pampa News

- MORE LOCAL AND AREA COVERAGE.
- ACCURATE COVERAGE OF NATIONAL EVENTS.
- TOP O' TEXAS MARQUEE (Complete TV Channel Guide).
- FOOTBALL CONTEST
- CUSTOMER APPRECIATION PROMOTIONS.

CUSTOMER APPRECIATION PROMOTION

Look For The "Pot Of Gold"
In The Pampa News
Advertisements During September,
October & November

All
Subscribers
Are Eligible
To Play

AND WIN!!

$100⁰⁰

*The Pot Of Gold Will Be Hidden In The Ads Each Month, So Be Sure And Check Everyday. Bring Winning Papers To The Office

SUBSCRIBE NOW!!! 669-2525

3 Months $15
Save $3

6 Months $30
Save $6

12 Months $60
Save $12

*This Offer Valid For New Subscribers, That Have Not Subscribed The Last 30 Days.

"IF THE 6 O'CLOCK NEWS REPORTED EVERYTHING YOU FIND IN A NEWSPAPER, IT WOULD TAKE UNTIL 10:00 P.M."

PAMPA
OPTIMIST CLUB
GIRLS BASKETBALL

SIGN-UPS & TRYOUTS

October 12, 13 & 14

6:00-7:30 At Optimist Gym

Player Fee $30

Fee Must Be Paid At Sign-Up

Basketball program is open to all 3rd, 4th, 5th & 6th grade girls.

Anyone age 13 or over before January 1st will not be allowed to play

NO LATE SIGN-UPS ALLOWED