TEXAS SADDLE MAKER

Just Like Doctors,
He Works All Hours

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff
"A saddle maker gets called out at night... just like a doctor," Carl Darr said earnestly. Darr makes saddles at Paducah in Cottle County, up in the great ranching country of Northwest Texas.
"Just last night a cowboy got me out of bed. He drove in from the Pitchforks Ranch, 50 miles away, with a broken stirrup and had to get it fixed. Had to go to work this morning. Well I came down and fixed it... like a doctor would a broken leg. I get lots of emergencies."
Darr, 47, a company wiry man, totted at his bench, making a pair of leather chaps for a cowboy. Bill Tippett, Tippett, six-feet two, a powerful man of 36, was sitting right there, supervising.
"Been here all day waiting for those chaps," said Tippett. "I'll have 'em in another 20 minutes. Come in here this morning and Carl just looked at me and started in. Didn't measure me or anything."
"This is the way these cowboys are," Darr chuckled. "They stay right with you while you do a job for 'em. One of 'em will come in and want a saddle. All right... he'll tell you exactly what kind of saddle he wants. He'll tell you what kind of a saddle tree and whether he wants the leather flesh side out... for riding in brush... or flesh side in... which looks smoother but scratches up easier. He'll say whether he wants the leather hand-tooled and what-kind of ornaments he wants, if any. He'll tell you, piece by piece, how he wants that saddle made, and then I'm danged if he won't sit on your knee a week until you get it made. Do you want these chaps fringed, Bill?"
"Fringe 'em," said Tippett.
Darr, wearing a stetson and boots, took a knife and began slicing the sides of the chaps to make the fringe.
Darr was raised in Hill County and cowboied for years on the Big Four Sixes Ranch in the Paducah area.
"I liked to work with leather and got to making bull whips and watch bands for the other boys," he explained. "About 1944 I started out as a saddle maker."
Some children came into the shop and climbed into saddles that were parked on sawhorses. They started yipping and Darr's blue eyes lighted. "Ride 'em cowboy," he yelled.
Darr pads some saddles, with sponge rubber. "Mostly these calf ropers want 'em fixed that way." He prices his saddles from $135 to 1,000. The latter model sports lots of silver and hand-tooled.

"What if a fellow came in and asked for a $5,000 saddle, Mr. Darr?"
Darr snorted. "Wouldn't be no trouble at all to raise the price on him," he said.

Tito Sees No War Danger With Soviet

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, April 28. (AP)—Premier Marshal Tito said flatly today that he sees no immediate danger of war with the Soviet Union.

"I do not see any immediate danger of war," Tito declared at a press conference for foreign correspondents, the first he has held in recent years.

"In no case," he declared, "do I think the Soviet Union would risk becoming the aggressor."

ASSAILS SOVIET REGIME

Hoover Would Reorganize UN Without Red Nations

NEW YORK, April 28. (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover says "the United Nations should be reorganized without the Communist nations in it."

"If that is impractical," he declares, "then a definite united front should be organized of those peoples who disavow Communism, who stand for morals and religion, and who love freedom."

America's only living ex-President outlined his vision of a new international setup last night in an address before the Bureau of Advertising at the American Newspaper Publisher Assn.

He said the United States is becoming "more and more isolated as the sole contender in this cold war" and is "steadily losing ground" to Russia and her allies.

Assailing the Soviet regime—which was not recognized by the U. S. until after he left the White House—Mr. Hoover said there is great need for a dynamic "new united front" against "creeping Red imperialism."

"This is not one world—but two worlds," he declared.

"The one world idea seems to be lost in the secret files. One world is militaristic, imperialistic, atheistic and without compassion. The other world still holds to belief in God, free nations' human dignity and peace."

Discussing the cold war, Mr. Hoover said "the United States needs to know who are with us, and whom we can depend on."

The diners cheered the 75-year-old ex-President's proposals for a new United Nations, and his address was frequently interrupted by applause. The 1,800 persons present stood, shouted and whistled for nearly a minute both before and after the address. To some, it recalled the great ovation given to Mr. Hoover—emerged from years of comparative obscurity—at the 1948 Republican national convention.

Another prominent Republican, John Foster Dulles, said last night that the time has arrived to begin work on possible revisions of the United Nations charter.

Dulles, an adviser to Secretary of State Dean Acheson and a former U. S. senator from New York, said in Washington that the charter and the UN membership are "dated 1945"—the year of organization.

Dulles, who addressed the American Society of International Law, was reported not to have had in mind any more to force the Russians out of the UN.

"As the world has not stood still, so the United Nations should not stand still," Dulles said. "It is time to start planning a general conference to review the charter."

Amos Teaches About Worship

Scripture—Amos 4:4-8, 14, 15, 21-24.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

How many of the millions of people who go to church regularly and kneel to pray, repeating the words of the service, are thinking about what they are doing? How many are thinking of their business, their domestic problems, their social affairs, while they repeat, parrot-like, the sacred words, or pray to their Maker?

Many are sincere and devout, of course, but many are not. They simply go through the form decreed by their religious service with the minds on other things.

There are even those who attend religious services regularly, serve on the boards of other governing bodies of their churches, seemingly deeply religious persons; but who, in their daily lives are anything but righteous.

So it was in the time of Amos, who left his flocks and trees to warn the people of Israel that they were on their way to doom unless they altered their manner of living and worshiping.

These lessons on the prophet are rather difficult for little children. The teacher must try to adapt the ideas contained in them to the children's own lives—at home, in school, Sunday school or on the playground.

In his fourth chapter Amos compares the people of Israel—especially the women—to sleek, well-fed cattle who roamed the pastures near the Sea of Galilee. Women have such tremendous influence over the lives of the people of their countries. If they are coarse, with loose moral standards, thinking only of themselves and their pleasures, never of the poor or the sorrowing, how can that country's standards be very high?

Amos pictures how faithfully the people went to Bethel, Gilgal and Beersheba—places of sacred associations—on pilgrimages. They offered sacrifices, paid their tithes, but even in doing these things they did not strictly obey the spirit of their religion.

Terrible calamities had befallen this people—in a time of drought, blight, pestilence, war—at this moment of prosperity they forgot that punishment might again overtake them, and proceeded to live as they pleased, forgetful of the wrath of Jehovah.

"For thus saith Jehovah unto the house of Israel, Seek ye Me, and ye shall live; but seek not Bethel, nor enter into Gilgal, and pass not to Beersheba; for Gilgal shall surely go into captivity, and Bethel shall come to naught.

"Seek Jehovah, and ye shall live; lest He break out like fire in the house of Joseph, and it devour, and there be none to quench it in Bethel. Ye who turn justice to wormwood, and cast down righteousness to the earth."

Amos reminded them of their righteous God, in beautiful, poetic words:

"Seek Him that maketh the Pleiades and Orion, and turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark with night; that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; Jehovah is His name."

The prophets of old spoke in no uncertain terms of what the Lord required of His people, and all agreed that God wanted sincerity in worship, and right living, and these only were what pleased Him. Amos quotes Him:

"I hate, I despise your feasts, and I will take no delight in your solemn assemblies (the feasts and pilgrimages).

"Yes, though ye offer Me your burnt-offerings, and meal-offerings, I will not accept them; neither will I regard the peace-offerings of your hearts. Take thou away from Me the noise of thy sons; for I will not hear the melody of thy viola.

"But let justice roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream."

These words were uttered between 750 and 770 B. C., and still justice is not being done in the earth, and people cry aloud for it, praying that fear, hunger, desolation of all kinds be banished from the earth. God the Father will help us to accomplish it if only we will hear Him and do our part.

MEMORY VERSE

"But let justice roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream."—Amos 5:24.

MANHATTANITES AFFLICTED WITH ACHING FEET - NO ELEVATORS RUN

NEW YORK, April 28. (AP)—Manhattanites like to ride—especially weekly.

The state mediation service is stepping in today. The service has scheduled a meeting with union and landlords' representatives.

Mayor William O'Dwyer urged the landlords to settle or arbitrate the dispute as soon as possible. But the landlords did not comply immediately.

Meanwhile, it's the tower-trapped customer who pays. Many grocers, laundrymen and cleaning ladies won't cross picket lines—or dislike climbing towering flights of stairs.

Newspapers and mail bags littered plush lobbies on Park Ave., Fifth Ave., the East River Drive and towering buildings flanking Central Park.

Pickets marched at struck buildings. Elevator and maintenance men were ordered by the union to act in all emergencies. Nurses, doctors and disabled persons were taken up in elevators.

A spokesman for the union, Local 32-B of the AFL Building Service Employees, said "the strike can be over in 5 minutes if the owners will use common sense and arbitrate."

A thousand organized landlords—members of the Realty Advisory Board on Labor Relations—claim they can't stand added expense while rent controls continue.

The union said all of its 18,000 members would join the walkout. The workers demand $2.75 more a week, a 40-hour work week instead of the present 48, and a welfare plan. The union says present wages are from $45.50 to $50.32.

Former Tennis Star Fails To Save Wife From Prison Term

PARIS, April 28. (AP)—A dramatic plea by former tennis star Jean Borotra yesterday failed to save his former wife from a 10-year forced labor sentence.

Tried in absentia under the name of Mabel de Forest, she was accused of having been an informer for the German Gestapo.

Appearing unexpectedly in court, Borotra said he had not seen his former wife since November, 1943, but that she "is not guilty of the but that she "is not guilty of the odious acts imputed to her."

"Her sensitive nature makes it impossible," he declared, adding that she had not wanted to go to Germany but had been sent there as a forced laborer.

The prosecutor lauded what he termed Borotra's sportmanlike gesture but said "the jurisprudence and the law prevents us from hearing you." The court found her guilty.

The tennis star's former wife has been ill and is living in a Swiss sanatorium.

VISION OF THE CROSS

A great stone cross rises from the rugged peak of a lofty mountain, and pious people often journey there to pray.

As some devout women prayed, the cross suddenly seemed to be transfigured, and a bleeding figure appeared stretched upon its stony surface.

The suppliants stared in wonder, but the drooping figure lifted its head and said softly:

"I suffered much for thee."

The vision vanished and the devout women went away strengthened in mind and soul. They had seen a vision of the Christ.

People who suffer for others are too often unappreciated. We do not see them in our visions and dreams. Yet millions of lives have been redeemed or have been blessed and strengthened because somebody loved them and suffered for them.

The Cross—glorified by Jesus—is the symbol of this suffering too. For those who bear the burdens of others, and suffer for their sakes, are His brethren and partakers of His sacrifice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the good material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Bible Thought For Today -

When human thinking can evolve no solution for our confusion, it is good to know that the Infinite will develop his own purposes, and that they are good. "Is anything too hard for the Lord?"—Rev. 19:6.

Bank Statements Indicate Local Financial Status On Increase

If bank statements can be taken as a criterion, our financial situation here is simply strong. In fact, after the annual headache of paying Uncle Sam his income tax, everything still stands at a peak. That some may have had to borrow to cover the chore is indicated by a slight gain in loans.

Deposits hit an all-time record of $22,517,149, a gain of more than $5 million over the comparable date a year before. Total resources were within a stone's throw of the $24 million mark. By an odd coincidence, if the call had been the day before, this mark probably would have been touched.

Our banks are in their usual liquid position, what with $5 million in cash, $4,514,661 in cotton producer and acceptance notes, $5,874,545 in bonds.

The totals reflect, in a measure, effects of the tremendous cotton harvest of 1948—the likes of which we probably never will see again. Full impact of this was not manifest even at the end of the year, although some of the edge may have been lost by the time of the call. But the gains are not all crop money. Oil, construction and other areas of economic activity have all been hitting the merriest tempo seen hereabouts in more than two decades.

Moderation And Cooperation Are Ingredients Of Understanding

There was a time when mistreatment of Latin-Americans went unchallenged. That was in a day before substance was given to the United States policy of good neighborliness and in a day when Mexicans silently resented what they called "Yankee Imperialism."

In recent years, however, the U. S., and particularly Texas, has been making an honest and spirited effort to improve relations, to stop mistreatment, to push back the jobbers of misunderstanding, and to erase discrimination. All this, of course, has provided a sounding board. Many incidents, which have not been within proper province of this concept, have been blown up and aired. Between not having anything done and in over-sounding the trumpets, the latter is by far the better.

But while the major segment of the Texas press works sincerely for justice and better relations, it does seem that certain sections of the Mexican press could be more restrained. On the strength of anonymous or unsubstantiated letters, some newspapers south of the border have been missing no opportunity to give U. S. and Texas citizens the blackest possible eyes. One recent headline said that "Yankee Patrolmen Shoot Wetbacks." Another said that illegal immigrants were being "persecuted." Still another expressed "profound disgust in foreign relations." One said that the braceros were being persecuted, another said that "Texas Farmers Again Try to Exploit Braceros." A vicious cartoon depicted a Texas peace-officer with a string of wetbacks painted on his jacket after fashion of notching the pistol.

These have the smack of the Communist line in hammering at minority discrimination in martyred overtones. There should be some degree of moderation south as well as north of the border. Real co-operation demands it. An earnest and sincere attitude on the part of both neighbors can steadily work out the problems.

Affairs Of The World—DeWitt MacKenzie

Peace On Indian Peninsula Is Of Vital Importance To World

THESE ARE A FEW SPOTS IN OUR tempestuous world where peace is more important than on the vast Indian peninsula.

There are few situations so explosive as that growing out of the bitter relations which have been keeping the 300 million Hindus of India and the 100 million Moslems of Pakistan close to war.

Conflict between these two new nations might easily result in another global upheaval.

Therefore it's good to be able to report that things are looking better as a result of the efforts of Prime Minister Nehru of India and Premier Liaquat Ali Khan of Pakistan.

THE RECENT CONFERENCE IN NEW Delhi, India, between these two produced agreements calculated to halt the bloody Moslem-Hindu communal warfare in both nations. This communal strife was intensified with the division of the peninsula into the two states. Moslem minorities were left behind in India and Hindu minorities in Pakistan—and these minorities have had tough going.

Now the two prime ministers are meeting again, this time in the Pakistan capital—Karachi. Once more peace is the goal.

One thing understood to be on the agenda is further implementation of the minority agreements made in New Delhi. There also are some knotty trade problems to be discussed because the division of the peninsula created grave economic difficulties.

THEN FINALLY THERE IS THE RED hot issue of the princely state of Kashmir, possession of which is claimed by both nations. India bases its position on the fact that the maharajah of Kashmir, a Hindu, announced his desire to join India at the time of the creation of Pakistan and India. However, Pakistan demands possession on the grounds that the population of Kashmir is largely Moslem.

Physical Handicap Proves A Victory Spur To Some People

SEATTLE, (AP)—TO SOME PEOPLE A physical handicap is a death of the spirit. To others it is only a spur to victory.

There is a woman here whose life story is a living example of the truth that a courageous heart can rise above any affliction. She is Mrs. Emil Mehline, better known as Hildegard, one of the leading restaurateurs of the Northwest.

At the age of nine Hildegard—born Hilda Drabold, one of nine children of a landscape gardener—was stricken with infantile paralysis.

"For eight long years I had to wear a plaster cast from my hips to my neck," she recalled. "But it made me determined to lead a normal life—to be like other girls."

WHEN SHE WAS 17 SHE DROVE WITH some friends to the Tacoma airfield. "Stub" Campbell, an oldtime daredevil who wanted a new stunt to thrill crowds at a forthcoming fourth of July air show, asked the group of spectators:

"Is there any girl here daring enough to make a parachute jump?"

"I will," volunteered Hilda.

And jump she did—from 2,000 feet.

"I was still supposed to be wearing my cast at the time," she said. "But I wanted to prove to my six brothers I could do something they couldn't. I didn't get paid for it, but someone passed the hat and collected $27."

In the next two years she made 26 parachute jumps to barnstorming tours with such filiers and stunt men as Campbell, "Tex" Rankin and Jimmy Doolittle. The most she ever earned for a jump was $20.

"MY SECOND JUMP WAS THE worst," she said. "In those days the chute was tied to the wing, and when you leaped your weight broke the lacing and opened the parachute.

"I jumped, but the lacing failed to break. I was too light. For 20 minutes I dangled a few feet below the wing while the plane circled the field. Finally "Stub" climbed out on the wing and tore the lacing loose with his hands. That released the chute and I floated down and landed in a cotton-wood tree."

Hildegard later started selling hamburgers at a local fair. She saved up $300 and started her first restaurant, which menued—those were the days!—a 25 cent turkey dinner. She did all the cooking and table-hopping herself.

THEN SHE OPENED A LARGER RESTAURANT near McChord field, and likes to remember how once a general helped her wash dishes at 5 o'clock in the morning.

Today she and her husband, Emil, a mechanical engineer, plan a chain of West Coast restaurants featuring fried chicken prepared by her own secret formula. They also have formed a farm to market pre-cooked frozen chicken on a national basis.

Hildegard still is in recurrent pain from the after effects of her childhood ailment, but she has schooled herself never to show it.

"Many people think a handicap is a detriment to them," she said. "Mine was an asset. I made it into one. I kept telling myself that if I developed my personality and learned to be nice to everyone, I'd overcome this handicap. I knew I would have all my life."

LIONEL BARRYMORE, born April 28, 1878 in Philadelphia, as Lionel Mythe. Like his sister, Ethel, and late brother, John, he took his famous mother's name for his stage career. Businessmen Join President In Studying U. S. Armed Strength

WASHINGTON, — About 80 American businessmen, chiefly Republicans, took a 10-day orientation course... to study U. S. armed strength last week, part of the time with President Truman attending. They studied all branches of U. S. defense, from the Marines Corps to Quantico, Va., to the infantry at Fort Benning, Ga., to a trip on a submarine—all as part of Louie Johnson's plan to build teamwork between the military and business. Here are the things that impressed them most.

The prohibitive expense of war. It is so costly that not even Russia and the United States may be able to afford it.

The fact that President Truman's picture appeared in no military installation except an enlisted man's club.

The likelihood of the B-36, designed for bombing trips across the Arctic, may soon be obsolete. Harry Truman's contagious homesickness.

Probability that modern weapons will make it impossible for nations to reach each other. They may have to depend on long distance, across oceans.

TRUMAN WINS Ninety per cent of the businessmen taking the free orientation course started as vigorous anti-Trumanites. They ended the opposite. After lunch at Fort Benning, the President said: "I'm going to shake hands with all of you. I'm pretty good at it by this time." He demonstrated how he pulled callers through the receiving line.

That evening at Eglin Field, Fla., the group dined at the Non-Commissioned Officer's Club where Sgt. James T. Hopkins gave Truman a glowing introduction.

"That was so good," replied the President, as he rose to speak. "That I think I'll take Sgt. Hopkins to introduce me on my 'strictly business' tour through the Northwest." He referred to his inspection tour of Grand Coulee dam.

Truman was also presented with the insignia of the infantry and the infantry motto, "Follow Me."

"I like that," said the President. "I'm going to put that on the back on my 'all-business' train and maybe I can get a few Republican voters to follow me."

WHO CAN AFFORD WAR? At Fort Benning the businessmen saw the equipment for one infantry division alone, and gasped at its cost—$18 million. This is more than the cost of financing the League of Nations for 20 years for 55 nations. In Caesar's day the cost of killing one man was only 50 cents. Now it costs $55,000 per man.

That's why nations like France have decided they cannot afford modern military equipment; also why almost no nation can now afford war. It means bankruptcy.

One new weapon carried by U. S. infantry is a recoilless gun, firing from the shoulder, carrying a distance of five miles with the power of a 77-mm. field artillery cannon. In brief, two infantrymen now carry almost as powerful artillery as hauled by six mules and six men in World War I.

Equally revolutionary were developments in airplanes. The Air Force's P-48, a new fighter, can now carry the same bomb load as the B-17, once the chief bomber of World War I. But the B-36, considered the means of carrying the atomic bomb to the enemy, may be made out of date by a new secret weapon that could knock it out of the skies.

Another secret weapon connected with the atomic bomb may soon make it impossible for Russia to invade Western Europe. Meanwhile, guided missiles are making such progress that the time is not far distant when nations will fire at each other across the Atlantic. There will be no more hand-to-hand combat.

FRANK STATE DEPARTMENT Business executives were impressed with the frank briefing on U. S. diplomatic policy given them by the State Department's George Kennan.

"The battle for Europe is the battle for Germany," he said. "And frankly we aren't doing too well there." Other Kennan brevities were "When the Stalin-Molotov team was running things, we used to know what to expect in Russia. Now we don't know who is running things... Vishinsky is a puppet, not the real foreign minister... We must be ready for a coalition besides war. If we don't, no third power will follow us... We must try to bring other powers, if possible minor powers, in as leaders, so we can play lesser roles."

"They talk about our losses in China," Kennan also said, "but what did we have to lose? We never controlled China. We sent her supplies and tried to control. But no nation ever controlled China, and China may now be the biggest liability Russia has ever assumed."

Chairman of the joint chiefs of staff Omar Bradley was equally frank. When asked, "what happens if Russia takes over Western Europe?" he replied: "If by that you also mean the Mediterranean, the answer is nothing. We settle down to a war of attrition."

"Are we going to abandon Alaska," as some radio commentator predicted? "was another question.

The Aleutians, Bradley answered, are not important enough to defend. Alaska would be defended from two interior bases. The Northwest Alaskan coast line could not be used for the movement of troops and would not be defended.

MERRY-GO-ROUND President Truman and Secretary of Defense Johnson sat together at four meals, did not appear overly cordial... Closest Truman crony on the trip was Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder. . . . "One great use for the Army in wartime," said Army Chief of Staff Ben. Joe Collins, "is to prevent espionage and sabotage during bombing attacks on the U.S.A."

In other words, the military planners contemplate that, for the first time since the war of 1912, the continental United States will be bombed. . . . The Army has four divisions in Japan, two in Europe, one battalion in Alaska, no ground troops in the Canal Zone. . . . The Air Force is now more disgruntled than the Navy was last fall. They complain of being woefully lacking in planes. . . . Navy morale is on the up. Most Navy men have accepted their chief job as submarine offense, anti-sub defense and carrying troops—if troops are still carried in the next war. . . . Those who made the greatest impression on the business executives were Gen. William E. Kepner, commander at Eglin Field, William Sebster, director of the office of research and development.

Most Secret Service Pictures 'Horrible'

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—A federal agent of 25 years experience says most pictures about the Secret Service are "horrible."

The critic is Arthur F. Grube, a short, spare man with penetrating blue eyes. Retired from the Secret Service in 1947, he is now acting as technical adviser on "Mr. 880." It will be a different kind of picture about the government service—one with no bloodshed.

"It's much closer to the actual truth," observed Grube. "Why in all my years with the service, I only shot a man once, and that was in the foot. After he had torn my coat to shreds and kicked me in the face, I had to resort to my gun."

"Most pictures about the Secret Service are the blood-and-thunder type and most of them are horrible. I think it gives the public a distorted view of the service. They either show us as supermen, which we are not, or brutal killers, which we are not."

"The service has a strict policy against being careless with a gun. We prefer to bring them in alive and whole."

"I have found that civil treatment brings the best results. As you can see, I'm a little guy. I have brought in many big fellows peacefully merely by being nice to them. The tough-guy policy only makes them clam-up. I can understand that; if someone ordered me to talk I'd be even more determined not to."

Printed Word, Postal Service Revolutionize Education Fields

Maybe you haven't stopped to consider it, but the printed word, combined with Uncle Sam's postal service, has revolutionized certain fields of education—that is, vast changes have been wrought and we use the term "revolutionized" for want of something more descriptive.

Of course education methods and facilities have improved and increased steadily with modern printing and publishing, and educational value is attached to newspapers, magazines and other periodicals not necessarily intended for use in the classroom.

Reference here is made, however, to other printed materials, certainly not designed for classroom use but prepared specifically for educational purposes, or so the vendors claim.

We speak of the "courses" offered on a sort of extension plan by hundreds of "mail order" schools throughout the country. For years now, it has been possible for American citizens to learn such things as piano playing, watchmaking, etc., by subscribing to courses in those respective fields, according to claims of the various schools.

Previously, most of the tutoring by remote control dealt with trades and were aimed at helping workers increase their earnings by providing some technical knowledge. The "learn by mail" institutions have broadened their scope of operations in recent years, however.

While perusing the listings in a magazine recently we noted that it is now possible to obtain a formal education in fields ranging from auto mechanic to law without traveling any further than the mailbox. Some of the institutions offer bachelors degrees to their graduates, and most all of them award fancy diplomas to those who complete courses.

A detective is not required, of course, to determine the cause of recent stimulation of "mail order" education business. Government assistance to veterans, plus crowded classrooms in colleges where resident work is offered, is the answer.

Apparently they are trying to make it as easy for the veteran to get an education as it was for him to join the Army or Navy during the war.—WACIL MCNAIR.

GOP Control May Be At Stake Due To McCarthy's Charges

WASHINGTON—A real battle for the soul of the Republican party is in the making.

In the face of statements by Senator McCarthy that "wait six months and you will see the results of what I'm doing," thoughtful Republicans are saying that the showdown between the differing G.O.P. factions cannot be long delayed. This group includes governors and private citizens as well as ringside observers of the gravitational pull that McCarthy is exerting upon the G.O.P.

What McCarthy is talking about is no riddle. He thinks that his charges are going to be the great Republican campaign issue this fall. He is cocksure that they will elect Republicans and return control of Congress to them. Then the party will be grateful to him and he will have that national stature, that leadership for which he so ardently longs.

Wisconsin editors broke the news last week to their fellows that McCarthy's boundless ambition includes the presidency. He has often said at home, they related, that he will be the nation's first Catholic President.

Republicans who believe that the means used by McCarthy are in direct conflict with the party's basic Americanism foresee a bitter struggle for control, perhaps a deep and permanent schism. Some are still hoping that time will diminish the pressures; others think the pressures are already mounting to the point of inevitable conflict.

One of the party's major figures paid a little-noticed visit to the Capital recently. He strongly condemned McCarthy's tactics which feels gravely injures the country but admitted that not all his associates took that view. Republicans, he went on to say, had never had the fight they must have to determine where they stand. He said that, so far, they had always glossed over their difficulties at the last moment but they could not get away with it again and should not, even if they could.

This Republican can command national attention when he chooses to speak out. He also has a pretty fair idea now, he thinks, of who will be on his side.

The Republican lineup will begin to be more evident to the public after the primaries are over. If McCarthy can keep his charges alive—as he clearly intends to do and probably can—the Democrats expect to make it possible for a Republican candidate to evade taking a stand.

The irony of this is that it is hardest upon those Republicans most admired by Democrats. The G.O.P. extremists, having nothing to lose, can exploit the McCarthy charges to the utmost. Others must risk alienating any McCarthy admirers while gaining a me-too label. Meanwhile, they point out, independent voters are likely to play safe and run off to the Democrats.

This problem of the progressive Republican, re-capsuled here by one wit in the query: Are Republicans really necessary? Many liberals feel that the anti-McCarthy kind are and desire to help them.

Actually, the usual iron law applies—they must help themselves. It is their right to decide when to rebel against the growing McCarthy influence. The senator from Wisconsin clearly will not help them by subsiding quietly.

Peacetime Sore Point, Draft, Worrying Congressmen Again

WASHINGTON, —THE DRAFT LAW, always a sore point in peacetime, is worrying Congress again.

The present law, permitting the government to draft men 18 through 26, was passed in June, 1948.

Under this law only 37,000 men were drafted. None has been drafted since January, 1949. But the Selective Service System is all set up.

And there are 2,700 local draft boards—or selective service boards—around the country manned by 39,000 volunteer civilians.

So, even though no one has been drafted, the machinery is there and drafting could begin in a moment in an emergency.

BUT — THIS LAW ENDS THIS JUNE unless Congress votes to continue it. The problem Congress faces is this:

1. Since there seems to be no immediate need for drafting anyone, why let the government have the power of drafting a man any time it wishes?

2. Or, since no one seems likely to be drafted in the foreseeable future, why not keep the law so the government can act fast if necessary?

President Truman's advisers, when Congress began considering the problem this year, favored keeping the law as it is.

This ran into opposition in Congress and from civilian groups. Then came a proposal from Rep. Vinson, Georgia Democrat.

He's chairman of the House Armed Services Committee whose job it is to examine the problem and then recommend how the full House should vote.

THAT MAKES VINSON AN IMPORTANT man in the argument. Vinson made this proposal:

Keep a kind of draft law—that is, keep intact a selective service system which could swing into action—but take away the government's power to draft anyone.

That means that the draft machinery would be there but no one could be drafted unless Congress passed another law—any in an emergency—giving the government special power to draft.

That's what Vinson had been mulling over. But Wednesday he changed his mind.

Because of "present world conditions," he said, he thinks now the present law should be continued as is for another two years.

Nevertheless, all this still is only in the talking stage. Neither the full Senate nor House has voted yet. Until both do, we won't know the fate of the draft law. That will be some weeks from now.

HERE'S SOME BRIEF POINTS ON the present law.

In June, 1948, relations with Russia were not good. The armed forces then had a total of 1,445,000 men.

Mr. Truman's military advisers thought the armed forces ought to be quite a bit bigger.

So Congress passed the draft law to provide men. Under it men 19 through 26 could be drafted. And an 18-year-old, one year too young to be drafted, could enlist.

The draft got started in November, 1948 and was over by January, 1949, with only 37,000 drafted then, and none since.

What happened? For economy reasons, the military people decided not to make the big expansion. Also more than 20,000 between 19 and 26 have enlisted. Enlistments and re-enlistments are now running about 35,000 a month.

And the armed forces—which numbered 1,445,000 men in June, 1948—are only slightly larger now. They have 1,476,000 men.

'EXERCISE SWARMER' Imaginary Enemy Launches Invasion

FORT BRAGG, N. C., April 28. — An aerial armada roared across the Carolina sandhills today, striking back at an imaginary enemy that has launched a three-pronged invasion of the southeast.

The planes, packed with fighting men and equipment, heralded D-day of Exercise Swarmer, one of the nation's biggest air-land maneuvers.

Present to witness D-Day activities was a large group of the country's top defense men. They want to check the Air Force's contention that large armies can be supplied entirely by air to such an extent as to enable them to mount major offensives without outside land help.

The group was scheduled to include Army Secretary Frank Pace; Air Secretary Thomas Finletter; Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of staff for the Air Force; and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff.

Military representatives of several foreign countries, headed by Mexico's defense minister, Lt. Gen. Gilberto Limon, also watched the paratroopers plummet from the skies.

D-day activity was divided into two important tactical phases. The 18th Regimental Combat Team of the 11th Airborne Division struck first, landing in drop some Luron at Camp MacKall shortly after dawn.

It was to be followed in early afternoon by the 505th Combat team of the 82nd Airborne Division, dropping in Holland drop zone, five miles south of Vass, N. C. About 2,500 paratroopers, wearing the latest type parachutes and safety equipment, comprised each combat team.

The two teams had the first mission of securing air strips at Camp MacKall and at Pope field so that the Air Force could start rolling reinforcements in a round-the-clock shuttle of giant transports. The belt-line carrier operation will be fed from air bases at Greenville, S. C., and at Maxton, N. C.

Fighter planes from several bases, including Langley and Oconee in Virginia and Shaw in South Carolina, threw an "air umbrella" over the troop carriers.

Detective Knows What Little Tots Are Made Of

TROY, N. Y., April 28. (AP) — What are little girls made of? Three sweet-toothed tots were safely home today, because a detective knew.

Carol Ann and Leona Littlejohn, aged 6 and 3, and Kathy Lou Fitzpatrick, 4, were found roaming downtown streets last night. They told police they were "going to a fire" and refused to give their names.

Then Det. Sgt. John J. Noonan asked: "Where do you buy your candy?" "At Eddie Moore's store," Worried parents collected the children at the store.

Appeals For Slash In U. S. Paperwork

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP) — The head of the government's housekeeping agency appealed today for a sharp slash in federal paperwork, observing: "The federal government spent $4 million for filing cabinets alone in 1949."

Jess Larson, head of the General Services Administration, told an inter-agency meeting he would like to see "positive steps for the 'birth control' of records." He said a million cubic feet of documents have been added to the national archives since 1935, with many more waiting to get in.

Prisoner Gets Same Treatment He Gave Robbery Victim

SALINA, Kan., April 28. (AP) — Sheriff Fred Bell put a prisoner in the trunk of his car yesterday, drove 35 miles and then told him: "Well, now you get some idea of how it feels to put someone else in there."

The prisoner, Jimmie Cagle, a hitchhiker, was accused of robbing Dean Hunter of Guide Rock, Neb., tying him with ropes and putting him in a car trunk. Hunter said Cagle later let him out of the trunk and drove away.

Cagle, who said he was absent without leave from the Air Force base at San Antonio, was arrested at McPherson, Kan. Sheriff Bell picked him up there and hauled him to Salina in the car trunk. He was charged with armed robbery. Cagle, 21, said his home was Besenmer, Ala. Asked how the ride in the trunk was, he replied: "Damned uncomfortable and cold."

Royal Couple May Return To Tradition With Large Family

LONDON, April 28. (U.S. Press)—Princess Elizabeth may re-establish the British royal tradition of large families, Buckingham Palace sources hinted today.

The heiress to the British throne and her young husband, Prince Philip, are expecting their second child in August. The people around the palace think the baby won't be the last by any means.

"There's no question but that both are very child-minded, one informant said. "This is particularly true of Princess Elizabeth since the birth of her first baby."

Queen Victoria set a big-family tradition for the British royal house. She had nine children herself, and at the time of her death had 37 great-grandchildren on her Christmas list.

King Edward VII had five children—three princesses and two princes. George V, Elizabeth's grandfather, had six, five of them boys. The big family tradition was broken by Elizabeth's father, King George VI, who gave Britain only two girls—Elizabeth and her younger sister, Princess Margaret.

Elizabeth and Philip, married in a blaze of old world pomp Nov. 20, 1947, had their first child, Bonnie Prince Charlie, Nov. 14, 1948.

When Charles was born, the palace source said, "They badly wanted a boy—and got their wish."

"This time," the informant added, "it's being left entirely to providence."

So far as is known, the informant said, neither Elizabeth nor her naval officer husband has expressed any preference for a boy or a girl this time.

Neither has given any indication what the new baby will be named. But it was pointed out that royal precedent in these matters is firm:

It will be a selection from names honoring famed ancestors or members of the royal family.

Elizabeth now is in Malta visiting her husband, Philip, first lieutenant on the British Navy Destroyer Chequers, left for active duty in the Mediterranean last October. Since then Elizabeth has made two visits to the island bastion to see him. The announcement that the new baby was expected came during her present visit. She is expected to fly back to Britain next Wednesday.

The princess already is on a strict medical regimen and diet in preparation for the birth, and is "having all the normal pre-natal care," the palace informant said. The birth is to be supervised by Dr. William Gilliat, the doctor who attended Elizabeth when Charles was born.

The newborn will find, around the Clarence House basement, the nearest approach to the world of a normal baby as it is possible for infant royalty. Philip is known to be insistent that his offspring shall miss as little as possible of the joys of childhood.

The second royal prince—or princess will become part and parcel of Prince Charles's private kingdom, peopled by seamy royal and semi-royal friends up to the age of 12 and dozens of dollies, teddy bears and toys. The undisputed authority in this kingdom is Charles, stern but kindly "Nannie."

Palace sources say probably will not be any additions to the nursery kingdom personnel. Nannie and the nursemaid are ready to take the newborn in stride.

The nursery furniture, painted blue for a boy before Charles was born, still will be used for the new baby. An hourly greeting will come from Charles's host, the cuckoo in his nursery clock.

BINAGGIO AFTERMATH

Police Heads Defy Requests To Resign

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 28. (U.S. Press)—Two members of the Kansas City police board, target of severe criticism since the slaying of Politician Charles Binaggio, today defied the governor to fire them.

And Gov. Forrest Smith says he'll do just that—as soon as he gets their formal refusal to resign.

The governor, who wants to set up an entirely new police board, yesterday asked Hampton S. Chambers and R. Robert Cohn to resign "in the public interest."

Both men, holdovers from a previous administration, said they wouldn't comply with Smith's request.

Civic groups have declared the public has lost confidence in the police commissioners since gunned shot down Charles Binaggio, Kansas City northside Democratic leader, and his ex-convict associate, Charles Gargotta, April 5.

The two other police board members—President J. L. (Tuck) Milligan and Sheridan Farrell—voluntarily turned in their resignations. They both were Smith appointees.

Chambers declared in Kansas City: "I don't believe any upright citizen in this city is against me. If they are and will come to me and tell me that I have not served this community in the proper way, nothing will give me greater pleasure than stepping out. But if they don't I will fight anything in this state to continue serving."

Cohn, the only Republican member of the board, said:

"I'll demand a hearing. I'm not guilty of any offense or misconduct as a member of the police board and the governor will have to prove me guilty under police law."

The Kansas City Chamber of Commerce accused Milligan and Farrell of being friendly with Binaggio. Binaggio had supported Gov. Smith politically.

Remains of Mrs. Helen Weatherford Carr, 44, personnel clerk at the Veterans Administration hospital, were to lie in state at the McDaniel-Bouillon chapel until 7 p. m. today.

They then will be taken overland to Sweetwater and entrained for Houston where rites will be said at 3 p. m. Saturday at the Gettaglie-Kopf chapel. Interment will be in the Rosewood cemetery.

She was killed instantly early Thursday morning as she drove toward Big Spring on U. S. 87 some 14 miles north of the city. Her car was in collision with a Sunstar Motor van.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Ruth Weatherford, and a sister, Mrs. J. B. Dugger, Waco; two brothers, James E. Weatherford, Houston, and Hugh Weatherford, Orange.

Pair Returned Here On Car Theft Charge

James W. Wilson and J. C. Alexander, both of Midland, have been returned here from Austin to face a charge of car theft.

The two allegedly stole a vehicle belonging to the Barnsdall Oil company from a local street earlier in the week and drove it to the capital city.

Wilson told local authorities the pair were drunk at the time they entered the car and drove it away.

Steer Tracksters Invade Abilene

Bert Brewer's Big Spring high school track and field squad winds up its season Saturday in Abilene's Invitational meet.

After tomorrow, only Billy Ray King will remain active. King, who tied for first place in the pole vault in the regional meet at Lubbock last week, is eligible to go to the state meet in Austin, which will be held next weekend.

Jones Shows Liking For Bums' Pitching

Two Local Linksmen Rate Title Flight In Sweetwater Tourney

Two Big Spring golfers qualified for the championship flight in the annual Sweetwater invitational golf tournament, which got underway in that city Thursday and continues through Sunday.

They are Bobby Maxwell, local youth now attending SMU in Dallas, and Bill Davis, Maxwell got in under the wire with a 75 while Davis went one over that figure.

Maxwell's first round opponent was to be John Markham of Lubbock, who posted a 73. Davis was to play Don Scott of Snyder, who qualified with a 75.

Don English, Bobby Wright and Clarence Schaeffer, all of Big Spring, rated the first flight with an 80 and 76, respectively. English plays Red Dobbs, Abilene, today while Wright tangles with Ed Patton of Rotan. Dobbs shot a first round 77 and Patton an 80.

Schaeffer came home with a 78 and was paired with Grover Williams of Colorado City, who had an 82.

Other qualifiers from Big Spring were Doug Hill with an 87 and Weldon Bryant with an 85.

Gloria Ezell Is S'finalist

Gloria Strom Ezell, one-time Big Spring resident now residing in Midland, advanced into the semifinals of the Midland women's golf tournament with a default victory over Madeline Pomeroy here Thursday.

Others to advance were Shirley Culbertson, Mrs. S. E. Safford and Sybil Flourney.

Mrs. Culbertson won over Evelyn Cowden, 6 and 5. Mrs. Safford trounced Sunny Harkrider, 4 and 2. Mrs. Flourney turned back Rachel Hornbeck, 5 and 4.

Mrs. Ezell won medalist honors in a playoff with Mrs. Flourney after both had shot 81's in the first round. Mrs. Ezell came back with an 80 while Mrs. Flourney settled for an 83.

The tournament continues through Saturday.

Phils Batter Brooks, 9-2

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Put Willie (Puddin') Head Jones in Brooklyn and he makes Ike Stan Musial. The Philles larruping third baseman just loves that Dodger pitching.

Puddin' Head is on cozy terms with pitchers of all varieties this spring. So far he's hitting a rousing .417 with three homers and a league-leading total of 11 RBI's. He has a nine-game hitting streak including one tie game.

When the Dodgers came to Philadelphia last season to clinch the pennant, Puddin' Head almost knocked them out of the world series. He homered off Preacher Roe Oct. 1 and hit another off Don Newcombe in the final game before the Brooks put over the clincher in the tenth inning.

Now it's the same story all over again. All three homers, came off Brooklyn pitching. Yesterday he ripped into Preacher Roe for a grand slammer in the first inning. The Preach never got the side out as the Phils scored five en route to an easy 9-2 romp.

Robin Roberts, the bonus "baby" from Michigan State, checked the crushing Dodgers with eight hits. It was Brooklyn's second loss, both to Roberts, smashing a six-game win streak. Last year Robin never beat the Brooks.

After losing six of nine starts to their old teammate Murry Dickson, the St. Louis Cardinals turned on him last night to trim Pittsburgh, 5-2. Ever since the Cards sold Dickson to the Pirates for $125,000 early in 1934 he has been in their hair.

This time they combed him out with a four-run blast in the fifth in the Pirates' first home night game.

Red Mungler, beaten by Pittsburgh in his first appearance, lasted the route, allowing six hits. It was Pittsburgh's first defeat since opening day, snapping a five-game win streak.

The game cost the Cards the services of Stan Musial for at least two days. Musial, boosting his average to .448 with two hits, sprained his knee when he tumbled rounding first base in the eighth.

Dave Koslo, low earned run pitcher in the National last season, took his control in the tenth inning and walked William Marshak, a former New York Giant teammate, with the Boston Braves and Warren Spain a 2-1 decision. Spain became the first major leaguer to win three games with a six-hit effort.

Tommy Byrne was his old wild self in the Yankee Stadium, walking eight men in five innings as Boston trounced the New York Yankees, 7-2. Byrne gave up five runs on one hit in the fifth inning. At the time he and Ellis Kinder were all even, 1-1. Tommy walked four, committed a wild pitch and a balk and gave up one single in the big box innings.

Bob Hooper, a Buffalo grad, turned in a fine relief job, following starter Hank Wynn, in Philadelphia's 4-3 night win over Washington. Wynn was lifted with two runs in and the bases loaded in the second. Hooper yielded only one run the rest of the way.

Rain and cold weather knocked out a good share of the schedule. Cleveland at Detroit and Chicago at St. Louis in the American were postponed. So was Cincinnati at Chicago in the National.

DEMARET RELAXES—Jimmy Demaret, fresh from triumphs at the Masters and Fulton Open golf tournaments, relaxes with a fishing pole between practice rounds in Houston, Tex. His next tournament will be in Monterey, Mexico, May 8. From there he will go to Los Angeles, Calif., to play in the Western Open. (AP Wirephoto).

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Humberto Baez's ability to "get 'em out" this season has brightened the pitching outlook of the Big Spring baseball professionals, and, for that reason, the chances of the entire team.

Baez enjoyed his "big" year back in 1931, when he combined his talents with Jose Cindan to pace the Broncs to the full season championship. Bertie won 17 games that season and saved his finest performance for the playoffs, when he silenced the big bats of Bob Cowser, Kenny Peacock et al to enable the resident nine to defeat Sweetwater, 6-0, just 24 hours after the Swatters (then the Sports) had given the locals a merciless beating in Sweetwater, 25-1.

BERT BAEZ ... Uses Head

The Cuban youngster, who is now on his way to becoming an American citizen, slumped in 1934 when he won only five decisions while losing seven.

Last year, he got in a few games as a pitcher but wound up as a first sacker and acquitted himself quite well in the Bronc infield.

He's a great team man, he speaks fluent English and relays any message Manager Pat Stasey might care to give his troops.

Bert went in "cold" against Midland the first game of the 1935 season and took a bad mauling (14-0). He had been working here all winter and wasn't anywhere near top condition. However, Stasey didn't have any one else to pitch so Bert accepted the order without debating the issue.

The battering he took didn't, in any sense, dull his enormous sense of humor. The night after the debacle, Baez told this reporter: "I was very good last night, wasn't I? I never missed their bats all night."

BAEZ HAS SINCE ACHIEVED TWO VICTORIES—Since that time, Bert has achieved two victories (over Sweetwater and San Angelo). He's in good physical trim, considering the fact that he has had much less work than the other boys.

A stiff breeze may bother some of the other lads with less experience than Bert. The little guy always uses it to his advantage, as he did against Sweetwater here last week. At that time he'd throw his No. 2 pitch into the teeth of the gale and watch it bend in across the plate for a perfect strike. What made that strategy work so well is that Sweetwater's players were watching the toss, loo, and not swinging on it.

Baez says that this will be his last season of professional baseball. He's married now and intends to take a year-around job here at season's end.

LOY DEPENDS ON PITCHING STAFF HERE—The success of the Bronc pitching staff will determine whether or not Stasey can carry the remainder of his team intact.

Stasey now has five rookie hurlers on the roster. All must come through or one of the limited-service men in the field must go, since six rookies must be carried.

Of the eight other starters, only one—Bobby Gonzales—is a first year man, Elpidio Hernandez, second string catcher, who gets in there part of the time, is also a rookie.

If Stasey finds he has to get another experienced hurler, then one of the boys with experience must be traded, sold or released.

The next two weeks will tell the tale.

TAKE EARLY LEAD

Hunter Tames Big Spring Broncs To Even Series

Sam Hunter neutralized the Big Spring batting power as he paced the San Angelo Colts to a 10-5 victory over the Broncs here Thursday night. The win evened the local series at one game all.

The listless Broncs, playing as if they were dead tired, were never in the ball game although they pulled within one run of the visitors in the sixth round.

San Angelo staked Hunter to a one-run lead in the initial heat and the Steeds were never able to catch up.

But for some bad breaks, Hunter might have achieved a shutout. In the third round, Joe Coccia stumbled while going after Bobby Gonzales' rain-maker and the ball fell for three bases to set up two Big Spring tallies.

In the sixth, Catcher Don Schneegold threw the ball away at first base in an effort to cut down Gabe Castinada and the Broncs proceeded to get their other three runs.

There were no home runs but the Colts crashed out five two-basers and 11 singles off Emilio Cano and his successor, Lefty Fred Valdes.

Every man in the Angelo lineup hit safely with the exception of Eddie Carmel, who met the ball but always drove it to some body.

Of all the Big Spring hands, only Carlos (Potato) Pascual and Danny Concepcion appeared to have their heart in the game. Pascual, in a strange position (center field), gave his all. Concepcion came in for a couple of hits, one of which meant two runs.

Fred Husky Listed For Cycle Races

Fred Husky, Amarillo, Southwestern champion, will be among the contestants in the spring races sponsored here Sunday by the Big Spring Motorcycle club.

Elliott Yell, president of the local club, said that Husky, had sent notice he would participate in the chase which holds out $500 prize money for winners.

He is due to have tough competition from Lee Christian, expert, and Garner Thixton, amateur, Big Spring.

Trial times for the AMA-sanctioned two-star race will get underway at 10 a.m. Sunday, and the track immediately west of town proper will begin at 1 p.m. The city park entrance has been reworked and oiled and is in good shape, said Yell.

There will be eight events, two classes for 45 cubic inch displacement for novice riders have been set up along with one for 50s. There also will be a novice final. Following eliminations for amateurs and experts in both the 45 and 50, there will be a consolation race then the finale for the grand-championship.

Midland Gains Longhorn Lead

By The Associated Press

Midland moved into undisputed possession of first place in the Longhorn League last night by edging Ballinger 2-1 in a tight pitching duel between the Indians Le Roy Jari and the Swatters' Roland Disarro.

San Angelo knocked Big Spring out of first place by scoring early and continuing on a hitting spurge for a 10-5 win. Sam Hunter hurled seven-hit ball for San Angelo.

Vernon sent 13 men to the plate in the fifth inning and nine completed the circuit for a big nine-run inning and the game in its tilt with Roosevelt.

Odessa beat Sweetwater again, 5-4. Odessa won in the bottom of the ninth, as rookie catcher Bob Fenley stepped out of the catcher's box, and the umpires sent Eloy Borrero walking home from third with the winning run.

SMU-TCU Game Of 1935 Called Top Sports Thrill In Texas

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, April 28, (AP)— It was a cold November day in 1935 and two great football teams were playing for big stakes—the Rose Bowl.

Southern Methodist and Texas Christian were locked in a 14-14 tie.

Sammy Baugh and Jimmy Lawrence had combined to bring the Horned Frogs back from the brink of defeat. Beckers of the Methodists were worried.

Southern Methodist, however, had worked the ball down in the Texas Christian 35-yard line. It was fourth down and Bob Finley took the ball. Back, back to mid-field he raced, all the while looking down toward the northeast corner of the gridiron where the little guy was racing. The time finally came. From 55 yards out, Finley lofted a mighty pass.

Harold McClure, Texas Christian halfback, and the little guy—Bob Wilson—went after the ball. Wilson got it and landed on the three-yard line. McClure, seeing that he had failed, did the next best thing; he dove at Wilson and grabbed him. But bounding Bobby staggered across into the end zone anyway.

Texas Christian's stadium at Fort Worth rocked with the roar of a mighty crowd. Southern Methodist had won the game, 20-14, and the Mustang band played "California Here I Come."

That gripping play was picked by sports writers of Texas today as the most dramatic moment in 50 years of sports in the Lone Star state—the period from 1900 to 1950.

It barely beat out another dramatic moment in which Southern Methodist figured—the 1948 game with Arkansas when, as time ran out, Gil Johnson pitched a 21-yard pass to Paul Page that brought a 14-12 victory.

The Southern Methodist-Texas Christian game of 1935 scored 91 points in the poll being conducted by the Associated Press to name the greatest events and athletes of Texas in the half-century.

The Southern Methodist-Arkansas game of 1948 made 78 points for second place. Froggie Williams' field goal in the final seconds that won for Rice over Texas last season placed third with 52 points.

Tied for fourth were Jack Crain's last seconds touchdown run that beat Arkansas for Texas in 1939, a game that Texas Christian then brought a 19-13 tie for SMU in 1947; Sooner State's last game against Notre Dame when it surged to the five-yard line in the final minutes of the 1948 game, and the 1949 Southern Methodist-Notre Dame game.

IRANIAN HOT FRONT
Soviets Inciting Violence In Iran

TEHRAN, Iran, April 28. (AP)—A pepped up Soviet propaganda offensive has once more made Iran a hot front in the cold war. The "free Azerbaijan radio," operating from inside the Soviet Union, is spearheading the campaign against the neighboring Iranian Government. The new broadcast line started about 10 weeks ago and has been mounting steadily in violence, even inciting Iranians to revolt.

State Heads For More Taxes As Spending Increases

AUSTIN, April 28. (AP)—The state's spiraling spending trend is heading the state toward a sales or income tax, the steering committee of Gov. Allan Shivers' economy commission was told here yesterday.

Former State Democratic Executive Committee Chairman Bob Calvert cautioned the committee. "If we don't want those kinds of taxes, we'd better get busy." The meeting was called to prepare for a meeting of the full commission here within the next 30 days. Exact date of the meeting was not decided. Gov. Shivers, who recently named 500 members to the commission, explained that a large commission was desirable because, he said, "any movement toward greater economy and efficiency, to be successful, must have grass-roots impetus."

Bank Deposit Weighs Only 77 Pounds

MIAMI, Fla., April 28. (AP)—Mrs. Carl Holmes made a deposit in her bank and it turned into a neighborhood project. She had to call on two friends, Mrs. Frank McLoughlin and Mrs. Jack Felsted, to help her carry the cash to the bank. Mrs. Holmes and her husband started saving pennies when he returned from service with the Seabees. They kept piling up and yesterday she took a washtub full of them to the bank. Coin-counting machines went to work and a short time later the bank told her the 77-pound deposit amounted to $116.20.

relations with their oil-rich southern neighbor. A recent Washington dispatch said U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson was deeply concerned over alarming reports reaching him from the American ambassador to Tehran, John C. Wiley. The Communist campaign, State Department experts said, has been helped greatly by economic troubles following last year's cereal crop failure in Iran. A U. S. survey mission soon may be sent to recommend aid for this strategic Middle East country on the eastern end of the anti-Communist cordon.

Reports of radio monitors here show these four consistent propaganda themes in Soviet broadcasts beamed this way:
1. An attempt to blame United States "intervention" for Iran's economic depression.
2. Persistent charges that the U. S. is turning the Iranian army into an "American stooge."
3. An attempt to picture the Shah—hitherto usually exempt from Soviet attacks—as under American influence.
4. An effort to picture the Iranian Government as so corrupt it should be overthrown.

Great Lover Must Now Go To Work

HOLLYWOOD, April 28. (AP)—Ellsworth (Sonny) Wisecarver, who at 19 had eloped with two married women, one of whom described him as "the world's greatest lover," apparently has abandoned his hope of "a way of life without working."

Wisecarver, advertised recently for an employer who was willing to put him on the payroll but he said, he believed there must be
