

Truman Backs Pooling Plan

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(AP)—President Truman's enthusiastic endorsement gave powerful new emphasis today to a French proposal for pooling French and German steel and coal production.

House Group Votes Cut In Coal Taxes

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The House Ways and Means Committee voted today to cut the taxes on the coal industry by $5 million to $10 million a year.

It was a further move away from the recommendations of President Truman. The President has urged that business taxes be increased, if changed at all, to make up for prospective losses in government revenue from cuts in excise taxes on such things as telephone and telegraph bills and travel tickets.

While the committee was going ahead with its bill-writing, an indirect question was raised by Sen. George (D-Ga.) as to the final enactment of any tax cuts at all in this Congress session.

George did not put in on that basis, but he said in an interview that Congress must remain in session until the end of August if it is to complete action on tax legislation.

It is highly doubtful that the members of Congress will be willing to do that. Most are anxious to wind up this session in order to spend time on re-election campaigns.

George's views have particular importance because he is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee which handles tax legislation.

The President welcomed the plan in a news conference statement yesterday, calling it the beginning of "a new outlook for Europe."

Diplomatic officials said that the project is in line with American policies for encouraging the closest possible ties between Germany and France and for increasing the total production of western Europe.

They see this specific proposal as contributing eventually to both the economic strength and military security of the western world. The President said "there will be many difficult problems to solve in developing this far reaching plan" but he was certain "that the kind of imaginative thinking that went into the proposal can work out the details."

Until Mr. Truman spoke the official American attitude was sympathetic but otherwise publicly undeclared. The plan was put forward by French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman 10 days ago. It evidently took American officials largely by surprise and they wanted to give it careful consideration before committing themselves.

The American attitude is of great importance because of this government's power over German actions—since it is one of the nations, along with Britain and France, in occupation of western Germany. The President said in his statement that "we are gratified at the emphasis the proposal places upon equal access to coal and steel products to all western European countries."

Discussing the possible benefits further, Mr. Truman went on to approve French emphasis on the need "for reductions in cost, through higher productivity, so that consumers can benefit through lower prices and workers through higher wages."

AIRMEN TELL STORY

Admitted Spying To Escape Reds

PEARL HARBOR, May 19.—(AP)—Two U.S. airmen indicated yesterday they had admitted a Red charge of spying in order to escape from 18 months of captivity in Communist North China.

Marine Sgt. Elmer C. Bender, 27, Cincinnati, and Navy Chief Electrician's Mate William C. Smith, 32, Long Beach, Calif., said they were treated better "than we could possibly have expected."

But they wouldn't say yes or no at a press conference when asked if they had signed confessions that they were American spies.

"The longer we stayed there the longer it seemed we were to stay."

Not that they were treated badly. "We ate as well as the Chinese did," Smith observed. He added that their captors "went out of their way to give us as much as they could of all that they had."

Bender said the Chinese people he saw "are getting a better deal under the Communists than they were under the Nationalist government."

They saw no Russian equipment of any kind, Smith said "the only foreign equipment we saw was American." The Reds captured a lot of equipment from the Nationalists.

When they were taken back to way you can answer it almost any way."

DOCTOR DECLARES

Human Milk Destroys Poliomyelitis Virus

CINCINNATI, May 19.—A substance in human milk, the identity of which still is unknown, has been established as a destroyer of the virus of poliomyelitis.

That report came yesterday from Dr. Albert Sabin, director of infantile paralysis research in Cincinnati's Children's Hospital.

Dr. Sabin declared, however, that studies are being continued in an effort to learn just what the substance is that destroys the polio virus.

He said the same success in fighting polio has been achieved with the milk from a few cows in a herd of 20 now being studied at two farms near Lebanon, O. There again, more work is to be done, he explained, because researchers have not yet been able to tell why some cows give the substance-containing milk and others do not.

There were 275 cases of the disease, twenty per cent of the victims became paralyzed and 14 per cent died but in no case did a child under three years old, when children normally are being nursed by their mothers, become paralyzed.

He said it first was determined that immunity with which all babies are born was not the contributing factor. Then it was found that human milk coats the mouth, throat and digestive tract to set up a barrier to the polio virus.

That, he explained, was of particular importance since it is by way of the mouth that the polio virus enters the human system.

CRIME PROBERS PLAN Underworld Attack

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Senate crime investigators made plans today for a two-pronged attack on the underworld, aimed at ferreting out any signs of either income tax evasion or links with political groups.

Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn.), of the Senate's special crime investigating committee disclosed both projects while talking to reporters.

He said the committee has decided to throw the main spotlight, or "the alleged concentration of property, money and wealth in the hands of organized criminal elements."

Along that line, Kefauver said, the group may ask President Truman for an executive order permitting the senators to check the income tax files of suspected criminals.

Numerous mobsters in the past have been sent to prison even when their gangland activities could not be proved, when it was shown that they made more money from undisclosed sources than was reported on their income tax returns.

Little Hope Seen For Pact With Austria

Big Three Agree To Lift Most Existing Controls

LONDON, May 19.—(AP)—The big three announced today there is no hope in the immediate future for Russian agreement to an Austrian independence treaty. They set in motion plans to lift most occupation controls in the western zones of Austria.

At the same time U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson declared that the North Atlantic Treaty has been "a positive influence for peace beyond the North Atlantic area."

Acheson issued a statement before boarding the liner Britannic at Liverpool for the return trip from the historic North Atlantic treaty foreign ministers' meetings here.

The U. S. secretary, reviewing the achievements in big three and 12-nation talks of the past 10 days, called for "hard and constant work and the closest kind of co-operation in all the fields of national and international life."

Acheson said the North Atlantic council had provided "means for perfecting the common defense as a deterrent to aggression in order that peace may be more secure."

The treaty already, he said, has made its influence felt over a wide area, particularly in encouraging developments in Greece, Iran and Turkey, areas whose security, Acheson said, "is a matter of special concern."

Elaborating on their agreement on Austria reached here, Britain, France and the United States announced they would replace military governors in their occupation zones with civilian high commissioners who will double as diplomatic representatives of their countries in Austria.

An American spokesman said the Austrian decisions reached by Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman were not to be considered a substitute for a final independence treaty.

U. S. Too Weak For Air War

DETROIT, May 19.—Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg said today the present Air Force is too weak to continue an all-out air war more than a few months.

The Air Force chief of staff declared that even with the lowest loss rates that can be predicted first line U.S. combat planes would be used in a short period of heavy operations.

He added that the aircraft industry is in no position at present to replace heavy combat losses.

In a speech prepared for a luncheon observing Armed Forces Day, which the whole country celebrates tomorrow, Vandenberg added:

"It is a matter of simple arithmetic that at least two years would be required for our present aircraft industry to rebuild our present Air Force and to enable it to continue combat action."

Curtis Choate was hospitalized here Thursday for treatment. He said his troubles can probably be traced to an old football injury.

RED RIVER FLOOD HIGH POINTS—Shaded area from Winnipeg down through the Red River of the North valley shows how rampaging river has inundated large areas. At Winnipeg (1), where the flood stage is 18 feet, the river was 30.2 feet May 18, at Pembina (2), where flood stage is 42 feet, the river rose to 50 feet; at Grand Forks (3), water rose to 43.2 feet, 15.2 feet above flood, and at Fargo (4), the river was at 19.2 feet, 2.08 feet above flood stage. (AP Wirephoto Map).

Canadian Army Prepares For More Rains

WINNIPEG, Man., May 19.—The Canadian army prepared to blast out part of a railroad embankment near suburban Fort Garry today to ease pressure on the dikes there as rain squalls threatened to swell the rampaging Red River.

Canadian army engineers were called in to dynamite the line to let the flood waters flow faster into the giant flood lake. The growing pressure on the six-mile Fort Garry dike is endangering a large, but sparsely settled section of suburban greater Winnipeg.

The weather bureau gave urgency to the plan by predicting that thunderstorms would add a half inch of rainfall in the valley.

Since yesterday the river rose more than an inch bringing it to the highest point in its 1950 flood—30.3 feet. This is 12.3 feet above the flood risk level here and only about two feet below what officers consider the disaster point.

At 32.5 feet, general evacuation of the twin cities of Winnipeg and St. Boniface would be virtually certain. Water would spread across all of St. Boniface on the Red River's east bank and swirl through Winnipeg's business district which so far has escaped except for basement flooding.

UAW MEETING EXPECTED TO BRING REVOLT AGAINST ADMINISTRATION

TOLEDO, O., May 19.—Strife-torn Local 12 of the CIO United Automobile Workers holds its monthly general membership meeting tonight.

The meeting is expected to bring to a head a revolt against the administration of the big local which includes 45 units and from 30,000 to 35,000 members.

The rebellion is against alleged domination of the local by Richard T. Gosser, UAW international vice president here. Lined up against Gosser are seven units representing about 6,000 of the local's members.

Secretary-Treasurer Emil Masey and Edward Kote, West Detroit regional director of the UAW, came here yesterday to try to iron out the difficulties. They held closed hearings all day yesterday and were to hold more today.

"We will be here all day and will be available to anyone who feels he can throw light on the situation," Masey and Kote said. They said they "hoped to make a report soon" on their findings—and indication that such findings would not be announced locally.

Dissension in the union flared into the open Tuesday when 12 women working in the union's dues collecting office went on strike. A committee of them announced they walked out in protest of "the domination of Richard Gosser" in union affairs and because they were not allowed to vote on strike assessments levied on them.

Masey and Kote said they would meet with representatives of the striking women this morning; but anti-administration sources reported the women would refuse to talk with the investigators until other workers assigned to their jobs were dismissed.

Senators Refuse Filibuster Block

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(AP)—The Senate virtually killed the Fair Employment Practices (FEPC Bill) for the session today by refusing to block filibustering by southern opponents.

The test came on an attempt to choke off debate on a motion to bring before the Senate for consideration this key measure of President Truman's civil rights program.

A cloture debate limiting petition fell short by 12 votes of getting the required 64 for adoption. A roll call showed 52 "yes" and 32 "no" votes. It was a victory for southern Democrats and dealt a heavy blow to chances of getting action on any of the President's civil rights program at this session.

The southern triumph had been anticipated, but Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois said in advance that another attempt to force consideration of the FEPC bill would be made, possibly next week.

His principal hope was to pick up additional votes from senators who were absent. An absent senator in effect, voted against the cloture (debate-limitation) move.

The vote was the first tryout for the Senate's new rule, adopted last year, under which debate on a motion to take up a bill can be shut off by a two-thirds majority of the entire Senate.

Previously such a motion was not subject to cloture, but under the old rule, once a bill was before the Senate, debate could be halted by two-thirds of the senators present and voting.

It was the first time a civil rights issue had reached a showdown vote of any kind in the Senate since July 1946, when senators rejected a petition to close debate on an anti-poll tax bill.

Faster Warplanes, House Group Asks

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Monday for a speedup in developing faster warplanes and new anti-submarine weapons was recommended today by the House Appropriations Committee.

The two items were included in a $225,000,000 appropriation bill sent to the House. A House vote is expected next week.

The committee recommended $75 for the plane development program. The program is being handled by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA) which had asked only $5 million in cash and $15 million in contract authority to begin a wind tunnel project to test models of faster airplanes.

In proposing $75 million for this work, the committee said that savings would result from uninterrupted work on the project and there would be an "important advantage from a military standpoint" in providing the facilities more quickly.

For "a new anti-submarine warfare project," the committee recommended $7,385,000 to be transferred from funds previously voted by Congress for Navy ordnance. No details of the project were given.

The measure is what is known as a deficiency appropriation bill. Its chief purpose is to provide additional funds for agencies whose original appropriations for the present fiscal year, ending next June 30, have proved inadequate. It is not related to the $29 billion omnibus bill passed last week for federal financing in the new fiscal year, beginning July 1.

The bill includes $50 million for economic aid to Korea, $60,433,700 for the Postoffice Department and $246,151,900 for the Veterans Administration.

Street Department Is Still Clearing Rocks And Dirt

The city street department is still working at clearing dirt and rocks washed on pavement by rain last week. City manager H. W. Whitney said today.

Most material scooped up from the pavement is being dumped in holes and washed left on dirt streets by the rain, though some is being used to make "fills" in low areas over the city.

Proposed Rail Strike "Wholly Unjustified"

CHICAGO, May 19.—(AP)—The threatened strike Tuesday of AFL switchmen against 10 railroads, the Western Assn. of Railroads said today, "is wholly unjustified."

"This strike threat," the association said in a statement, "is a reckless drive for prestige—an attempt by one small union to outsmart and outdo a big rival union."

Only government intervention could avert the scheduled walkout—set for 6 o'clock Tuesday morning against the 10 midwestern and western lines. Although no word came from the White House in Washington after the strike call Wednesday night, the National (Railway) Mediation Board was expected to be called in and attempt to settle the wage-hour dispute.

The board earlier this week mediated the agreement that ended the six-day strike of 18,000 locomotive firemen against five major rail systems. That tieup disrupted much of the nation's rail transportation.

A switchmen's walkout, although directed against smaller lines, would delay service on the affected lines, a rail spokesman said.

The AFL Switchmen's Union of North America said the strike would involve 6,000 members. A rail spokesman said 4,000 would be affected. The union's principal demand is for a 40-hour work-week at the pay now received for 48 hours.

Daniel P. Loomis, the association's chairman, said the union's demands also include a 44 per cent hike in the basic daily wage rate and other items which are equivalent to a wage boost of about 50 per cent.

Loomis said the switchmen's union represents less than five per cent of the ground men (not yard engineers and firemen) in switchyards throughout the country. The other 95 per cent, he added, are represented by another operating union, the brotherhood of railroad trainmen. A few are members of the order of railway conductors.

"The railroads involved are caught in the middle," Loomis said.

Ship Flashes SOS Signals

HONOLULU, May 19.—(AP)—Radio-marine Station KHK today intercepted a "constant SOS" from the Motor Vessel Nala in distress about 800 miles northeast of Hawaii.

Radiomarine said the SOS was sent repeatedly without any description of the ship's trouble.

The Coast Guard said the Nala is a Honolulu based commercial fishing vessel which left here a few days ago for French Frigate Shoals, about midway between Oahu and Midway Islands. The Coast Guard said the vessel normally carried a crew of six or eight.

The Coast Guard duty officer said apparently engine trouble was causing the Nala distress calls.

Trio Of Texas Towns Declare War On Flies

AUSTIN, May 19.—(AP)—A war on flies will be declared next week in Seguin, Sinton and Tati.

The offensive will span three to five years, the state health department said yesterday in an announcement of the project aimed at cutting diarrhea and dysentery deaths among children.

GOP vs. Dems In A Ball Game, That Is, It's Supposed To Be

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—The Democrats play the Republicans to night in what some humorist has called a baseball game, and a Senator will be in the lineup for the first time in the history of this congressional contest.

The senator, Harry P. Cain (R-Wash.), will pitch, more or less.

Confronted with this situation, the Democrats have done their best.

Rep. Smathers of Florida, a hero of other congressional ball games, defeated Senator Pepper in the primaries.

Which caused Rep. Harris (D-Ark.), the Democrats' manager to announce:

"Don't underrate this fellow.

Smathers is hotter than Pepper." Everybody laughed, congressional humor being what it is.

The tall, husky Smathers, by the way, may be the best hitter on either club. This doesn't mean he's any Babe Ruth. But he can hit a ball as far as the outfield, and since congressional outfielders usually hold a committee meeting on every fly ball, Smathers is a potential home run king.

Whether Senator Cain can stop Senator to be Smathers remains to be seen. If Cain can't, maybe the other Republican pitchers—Glenn Davis of Wisconsin and Corbett of Pennsylvania — can get the job done.

The Democrats have assembled quite a pitching staff, but the fact remains that they usually rise or fall with the efforts of Don Wheeler, a longtime school teacher from Alma, Ga.

Wheeler is a pretty fair pitcher. But he has one weakness: He gets tired. The Democratic policy has been to allow Wheeler to pitch until he gets weary, run in a sun until the Republicans catch up and then put Wheeler back in again.

This isn't according to baseball law, but if Congress can't change a law, who can?

Incidentally, no matter who wins the ball playing congressmen will have done their good turn for the day. The game is sponsored by the Washington Evening Star. The money goes to the summer camp fund for underprivileged children.

Swim Classes Are Scheduled

Bobo Hardy will be in charge of the YMCA summer swimming program and water carnival for the third consecutive year, Lee Milling, Y secretary, has announced.

Both advanced and beginners' swimming classes will start June 5 at the Municipal swimming pool, Milling said. All persons interested are requested to register at the YMCA as early as possible.

Hardy, who has directed water sports for the local YMCA for the past two summers, is returning from Southwestern University at Georgetown where he is a student.

Shroyer First In Rifle Meet

Sonny Shroyer won first place in the boys' division of the Howard County Junior college rifle shoot, which ended this week.

Shroyer's aggregate score bettered that of Don Williams and Don Morgan, who tied for the runner-up spot.

Joe Gregory placed first in the girls' division, followed by Shirley Clinckscale, while W. L. Graves copped the blue ribbon in the men's bracket.

Winners will be awarded medals and runnersup merchandise prizes.

Competitors used .22 caliber rifles on 50-foot ARA ranges. About 40 persons took part in the matches.

Scout Activities Start Saturday At Round-Up Grounds

Last reminder to Boy Scout leaders of an outdoor training session this weekend went out from Al Dillon, leadership training chairman, today.

Activities start after 8 p. m. Saturday at the Round Up grounds. There will be a campfire demonstration in the evening. Sunday there will be church services, nature study, skills and a cooking demonstration. Leaders are to bring food and prepare their meals for Saturday evening and Sunday morning, but the demonstration will result in the Sunday noon meal. All unit leaders are especially urged to attend and as many troop committeemen institutional representatives and others as possible are invited.

NOT SO, SAYS JUDGE TO PIANIST'S CLAIM HE NEEDS HIS LONG HAIRDO

PLYMOUTH, Eng., May 19 (AP)—The way Judge P. L. E. Rawlins sees it, a musician can be a well-paid longhair without any hair at all.

Or so he told 46-year-old Theodoros Prendles, pianist and tenor, who sued hairdresser Charles Ellis for 200 pounds ($260) in damages.

Theo, said his lawyer, had a "magnificent head" of shiny black hair. It turned gray at the edges. He went to Ellis and got his locks blackened. He also got a skin disease, he charged, and lost most of his crowning glory. He feared a bald dome would cut his earning power.

Long hair, Theo's lawyer asserted, "is accepted in musical circles as part and parcel of a musician who wants to appeal to his public."

Not so, ruled the judge. There's Bald Sir Adrian Boult, retiring this year after long success as conductor of the British Broadcasting Corp.'s symphony, one of the country's best.

"Sir Adrian isn't well off for hair, is he?" asked the judge, "and he is a famous musician."

Awarding damages of only 50 pounds ($100), the jurist remarked:

"There is not a tittle of evidence to support the contention that musicians with hair are more highly paid than those without."

Six Big Springers To Attend Merchants Meet In Fort Worth

A half-dozen Big Springers will be in Fort Worth the first of the week to attend sessions of the annual convention of the Retail Merchants Association of Texas.

A special program is being observed, since this is the fiftieth — or Golden Anniversary — annual convention of the association. The convention opens Sunday and continues through Tuesday.

Among those going from here will be Faye Coltharp, Marguerite Wooten, Helen Jones, Georgia Johnson, Velma O'Neal and Pauline Sullivan.

SALUTE ARMED FORCES

City Stages "Day" Two Days Early

Big Spring staged its Armed Forces Day observance two days early Thursday at a joint meeting of service clubs with members of the Military Manpower commission.

An address by Col. Ovid T. Forman, commanding officer of the First Guided Missiles group, only unit of its kind, highlighted the Armed Forces Day program at noon.

Col. Forman outlined the reasons for unification of the services and traced development war weapons developed since the last war.

"Unification of the armed forces is a vital part of the preparedness we must maintain if the police states of the world are to refrain from using the scientific war weapons developed since the beginning of the last world conflict," he declared. "In modern warfare, time becomes one of the most important elements. Unification saves time, which may mean the saving of our national identity."

The National Security act which started unification of Army, Navy, and Air Force also assures a unified planning, procurement research, and assignment program for national defense, Col. Forman said.

Referring to new weapons, the guided missiles expert declared the United States had the finest anti-aircraft artillery in the world. Guided missiles have been developed as a means of firing directly on a target in spite of its maneuverability, he said.

"Unification is working at its best in guided missiles branches of each arm of the service," he declared.

Col. Forman has been working with the Army's only guided missiles group since 1945. Most of the developments in that field, other than German V2 rockets, are still "top secret," he said.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN SOUNDS KEYNOTE FOR ARMED FORCES DAY TOMORROW

WASHINGTON, May 19, (U) — President Truman will sound the keynote for observance of armed forces day throughout the nation tomorrow.

With Secretary of Defense Johnson, the President speaks tonight at a banquet of military men in the Statler Hotel here—a session expected to stress the theme of national strength through unity.

Tomorrow's nation-wide observance of armed forces day will be the first of its kind. Heretofore the Army, Navy and Air Forces have sponsored separate "days" of their own. The change reflects unification of the three services under the defense department.

Crack units of all the armed forces will pass in review before the President, Johnson and other national leaders in a mammoth military parade in the capital tomorrow morning.

Eight big B-36 intercontinental bombers from Fort Worth will mark the day by taking different routes across the country, one passing over each of the 48 state capitals and more than 250 cities and military installations.

The Navy will display ships of many types in the principal parts along the coasts and the Great Lakes. These ships, like shore installations of the Army, the Navy, the Air Force and the Marine Corps, will observe "open house" for the public.

This Brain Proves To Be Quite A Dummy

NEW YORK, May 19, (U)—They put one of those mechanical brains on display at Columbia University yesterday and what a dummy it turned out to be.

Couldn't even add two and two.

It's the world's smallest; mechanical brain. It took five months to build and cost $540. It weighs 80 pounds and is 80 inches square—quite a blockhead.

Edmund C. Berkeley invented it. He doesn't ask it to do much—just uses it as an example of what the bigger—and brighter—mechanical brains can do. It can't count above three. Tell it to add one and two and it grunts, wheezes and finally gives with the right answer—three.

Start right now! Get everybody you know to help you. Ask your mother, your friends, your relatives, your neighbors, to use Borden's Milk, Ice Cream and Cottage Cheese and save the tops for you. The inside cap from any Borden bottle (cream, milk, buttermilk, chocolate drink, orange drink) counts in this contest. Read the simple rules and get started right now toward winning a bike.

Remember, you have six different chances to win. Enter the contest every week. There's no reason why YOU shouldn't win one of the six bikes to be given away. There's nothing to write. Just collect the most items described above in any of the six weeks and a handsome new bike is ALL YOURS!

Get Borden's Milk at your grocer or Phone 711 for home delivery.

READ THESE EASY RULES

Here's all you need to do to be eligible to win one of the six new bikes Borden's is giving away:

1. Collect as many Borden's bottle stoppers (the inside one), lift tabs from the paper milk cartons, and Borden's Ice Cream and Cottage Cheese carton tops as you can from any source.
2. Put these items in a sack or other container that can be closed. Inside put a sheet of paper with your name, address and age, plainly written or printed.
3. Tie or fasten top of container tightly.
4. Turn your container in at the Western Auto Store, 206 Main Street, not later than 3 P. M. Saturday of the week ending the contest. First contest ends at 3 P. M. Saturday, May 27, 1950. Other contests end at 3 P. M. Saturday, June 3, June 10, June 17, June 24 and July 1. Each week is a new contest.
5. Winners will be determined by the count made by the Borden judges. Judge's decision is final.
6. Each week's winner will be announced on the following Wednesday. You cannot win more than one bike.
7. No entry will be returned.
8. Every boy or girl under the age of 18 is eligible to enter, except members of families of Borden Company employees.

Course Of True Love Not Always Smooth, Sometimes It's Unfair

It is spring, a time when young men's fancies start turning to—well, not to their golf scores or the chances for hooking a lively bass in some quiet pool. Ah, Love, could you and I conspire!

And so a perfect springtime story pops up all over the place—in Egypt, in San Francisco, in Washington. The young sister of the king of Egypt, a lovely creature named Princess Fathia, upped and married the man of her heart's desire in San Francisco April 25. This was all right except for several things. The lucky man, Rial Ghali, is a Coptic Christian, the bride a Moslem. She is a princess, he a commoner. The marriage rite was by a civil authority, a mayor or J. P. or something, instead of by a Moslem priest, called an imam.

The groom is secretary to the young lady's mama, Queen Mother Nazli of Egypt, who gave her blessing to the union. In far off Cairo, the king's council—dominated, according to the Queen Mother, er, by an uncle of King Farouk, who plots to unseat his nephew in favor of himself—demanded that the errant princess be brought to book by depriving her of her titles and hereditary income.

King Farouk, who knows what it is to have matrimonial trouble, thought it over a couple of days, then cracked down. He invoked the ancient laws of Allah and the Koran, stripped his sister of titles and impounded all her property.

This seemeth a bit harsh in view of Farouk's reputed recklessness in the field of romance, and his most recent rumored desire to appropriate a commoner from her fiancé for his very own. In Egypt, what is love sauce for the gander is not necessarily sauce for the goose.

In the true spirit of spring time, Princess Fathia is determined to love and cherish her commoner—the groom determined not to leave his bride voluntarily. Thus, all the world of lovers is with Fathia and Rial.

Complex Age Stressing Necessity Of Education In Race For Jobs

Education is Big Business in this country. Take a look at the figures for graduates this year, for instance. The colleges and universities will turn out 487,000 students, with degrees after their names. The secondary schools will hand diplomas to 1,200,000 boys and girls. Combined, this is the biggest list of degree-carriers and diploma-toters in the country's history.

This is the best side of the picture, the successful side. There is another fact that isn't so pleasant to contemplate. Every year about 1,250,000 boys and girls drop out of school, prematurely. One in every five quits primarily for financial reasons, not solely because of the expense of going to school, but because his earning power is needed by the family. The fact remains, however, that a great many youngsters solve this problem; they earn money out of school hours.

Three out of five boys and girls who quit say simply that they are fed up with school. This means about a million young Americans decide every year that going to school isn't worth while, that it isn't a good investment socially or economically. At some point in their lives they will discover just how wrong their youthful decision was, but it will then be too late.

This will become increasingly apparent when the struggle for jobs becomes really competitive. All things else being equal, the youngster with a diploma or a degree has a distinct advantage over the youngster without either. Our civilization becomes more and more complex, and this trend will continue and increase.

Turkish Upheaval Is Change From The One-Party System

THE POLITICAL UPHEAVAL IN TURKEY, resulting in the defeat of the long dominant People's Party by the comparatively new Democratic Party, is another landmark in that ancient country's modernization which began under the late Kemal Ataturk a bare generation ago.

The development may be interpreted, I believe, more as a natural evolution than as a specific rebuke to the past political control. The time had come for a change from the one-party system, and the voters provided that change.

It was in 1921, at a critical moment in the Greco-Turkish war, that the Turkish National Assembly gave Kemal—famous soldier and commander in chief of the country's forces—the powers of dictator. He already had made a great name for himself, having among other things been responsible for the failure of the allied forces to capture the Gallipoli Peninsula in the first world war.

kneel and bow his forehead to the prayer-rug during worship. You could do that with the old round fez, but not with an ordinary hat with a visor. However, the believers solved this difficulty by wearing American caps and turning the visors around to the back like a baseball catcher, so they could get their foreheads to the floor. I have seen this in a Turkish mosque, and it is an amazing sight.

ATATURK INTRODUCED THE LATIN alphabet, and when I was in Turkey in 1938 I found that this tough, ruthless ruler was himself going into class rooms in the country districts and helping not only children but grown folks in their struggle to learn his strange new form of writing. So he had his kindly side, too.

Thus the story runs, Kemal Ataturk remade Turkey, forcing it towards modernization in seven-league strides. His many reforms included compulsory education and the abolishment of class distinctions. Then to symbolize the progress he created a new capital for the country at Ankara.

Despite his toughness and his many faults, Ataturk was greatly beloved by the rank and file of his people. As I have remarked before in this column, I was in Istanbul when he died in 1938, and that great metropolis was hushed and in tears. I saw men weeping openly and unashamed in public places.

HAVING BEATEN THE GREEKS AND regained Thrace, he turned his attention to consolidating his political position. By some very crafty sleight of hand (to put it euphemistically) he persuaded the national assembly to abolish the sultanate. Then he toured the country and formed the People's Party, after which he again persuaded the national assembly to declare the country a republic and name him as president.

Kemal Ataturk then was indisputably the big boss. And he was tough. He convicted and hanged some of his opposition, and exiled others. He abolished the Moslem caliphate and secularized the country. He even abolished the wearing of the fez—the red cap with the black tassel—which the faithful were required to wear in the mosques.

This action regarding the fez caused unusual hardship because the Moslem has to

THE PEOPLE'S PARTY NATURALLY continued in power after Ataturk's death. However, it wasn't in the cards that a single party—which was in effect a dictatorship—should continue indefinitely. And so about four years ago a new party—the "Democratic"—was born.

It is the "Democrats" who now have won a political victory which entitles them for their tenure to be the standard bearers of progress in the new Turkey.

Educator Believes Democracy Can't Exist Without Religion

NEW YORK, (AP)—A DISTINGUISHED religious scholar believes America is entering an era of increasing good will and co-operation among its church groups.

"I think the churches will draw more together, there will be more understanding between them and the trend toward merging and interchanging of pupils will go on," said Dr. Anson Phelps Stokes.

Dr. Stokes reached this conclusion after a monumental study of "church and state in the United States," three-volume work of 3,000 pages that took him 13 years to complete.

dignity and solidarity of mankind are dependent upon it."

Dr. Stokes said that today he saw no major threats in America to the constitutional guarantee of religious liberty and the principle of separation of church and state.

"Fortunately, over here the separation has been a mutually friendly one," he remarked. "Abroad, all too often, when state and church have been separated, it has been done with antagonism and bitterness on both sides. But here it is a most friendly separation—the state respects the church, and the church respects the state."

SO SIGNIFICANT DO THE ROCKEFELLER Foundation and other organizations consider his study that they are distributing copies to other countries to show how healthily the principle of church-state separation has worked out in the United States.

To undertake his historic project, Dr. Stokes, a tall gentleman of 76, had first to halt another study he had spent 19 years on—a history of universities from the 12th Century to the present.

The Finger Man

Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Believe It Or Not, But Tom Dewey Will Back A Roosevelt In A Vote

WASHINGTON.—Civil rights is the rock on which Abraham Lincoln founded the Republican party. Yet Sen. Taft of Ohio, who is Mr. Republican himself, has just made a cold-blooded deal with Southern Democrats to help them defeat Civil Rights.

Taft has promised to hold back enough Republican votes to prevent cloture—in other words, prevent the Senate from breaking the Civil-Rights filibuster. In return, Taft got Southern votes to support him in blocking the proposed Truman-Herbert Hoover reorganization of the National Labor Relations Board.

Under present rules it requires 64 votes to break the filibuster—which means that every available Northern Democrat and Republican must be present and vote for cloture. Therefore, if Taft can keep only four or five Republicans from voting, Southern senators will be able to talk civil rights to death.

This is exactly the deal which the Senator from Ohio made with Sen. Dick Russell of Georgia, the astute Southern spokesman. The agreement has been kept a top political secret, and undoubtedly will be denied. However, other senators were in on it, and this column has carefully confirmed the facts.

Taft not only estimated that he could keep at least six GOP senators from voting to end the filibuster, but he actually named them. They are: Senators Millikin of Colorado, Malone of Nevada, Bridges of New Hampshire, Gurney of South Dakota, Young of North Dakota and Hickenlooper of Iowa—and two or three others might also be persuaded, Taft said.

TAFT GOES IN REVERSE

In return, Sen. Russell promised to give Taft a solid block of Southern votes against the reorganization of the National Labor Relations Board, a plan which would have abolished the general counsel's office. The interesting thing about this reorganization is that it was not only proposed by Herbert Hoover, but one year ago it was also sponsored by Taft himself.

However, Robert Denham, the NLRB general counsel whose job would be abolished, has been a faithful follower of the Taft-Hagley Act, so this year Taft reversed himself and fought tooth and nail to block NLRB reorganization.

Taft's trade with Sen. Russell has already borne fruit regarding this part of the deal. For, last week, Southern Democrats delivered a block of votes to defeat NLRB reorganization—with the exception of Sen. Withers of Kentucky. He voted against Taft and for Truman.

Today it's Taft's turn to keep his part of the bargain. He himself will vote against the South and line up to break the filibuster in order to keep his record clean. He would be defeated for re-election in Ohio if he didn't.

However, the six GOP senators whom Taft has said he would deliver to the Southern Democrats have already expressed their views privately as against cloture. This is probably something which Taft did not tell Sen. Russell.

For, in secret Republican councils, the above-mentioned six had argued against the principle of shutting off Senate debate. In fact, Taft had little to do with wooing them over to the other side.

Meanwhile, it is significant that Taft has been noticeably uncooperative in rounding up Republican votes against the filibuster, though fellow Republicans have not suspected the reason. Sen. Wherry of Nebraska, on the other hand, has been quite active. DEWEY BACKS A ROOSEVELT

No one would ever expect Gov. Dewey to propose a Roosevelt for public office.

But, believe it or not, that's what Dewey did the other day. He sent word to Elliott Roosevelt, urging him to run for Congress from New York City, against Rep. Vito Marcantonio of the American Labor Party.

Dewey's message was brought to Elliott by Paul Lockwood, one of the governor's confidential secretaries, who promised that, if Elliott could get Tammany's backing, he would also have Republican support in running against Marcantonio.

Marcantonio has had pro-Communist support and represents the Puerto Rican-Negro district of New York which ordinarily would be hard for an outsider to carry. But just as young Franklin Roosevelt, then an outsider, was able to carry the 18th district, so it is believed Elliott could carry Marcantonio's district if he had support from Tammany and the Republicans.

Following Lockwood's proposal to Elliott, the latter conferred with Tammany leaders and their decision is expected shortly.

MONEY FOR RENT CONTROL—It now looks as if Congress would vote the necessary money to enable the office of housing expenditure to continue rent-control enforcement until June 30. At present the office is strapped with a new appropriation blocked by Congressman Cannon of Elsbury, Mo., where housing is no problem. However, Congressman Sabath, chairman of the powerful House Rules Committee, bluntly told Cannon: "I have given you a lot of rules in a hurry for legislation you wanted. How about putting this across for me in return?" Cannon has now relented.

Free Mail—Congressman Madden of Indiana has demanded an investigation of fellow congressmen who permit their free franking privilege to be used for mailing propaganda. The probe is aimed at Congressman Gwinn of New York who has mailed out millions of propaganda letters for the real estate lobby—with the taxpayers footing the bill. Meanwhile, the post office runs in the red and postal service is curbed.

Curb On Private Planes—Danger of surprise atomic raids may soon interfere with flights of private planes. CAA administrator Del Rentsel will ask Congress for new powers whereby no plane can make a flight without first checking with Civil Aeronautics. This is the first attempt by government to restrict the traditional right of Americans to travel wherever they please. The purpose is to safeguard the country from a surprise atomic attack, since present laws do not give CAA the authority to identify planes flying over the United States. The new powers would be used to check on all flights into the USA and over defense areas.

New A-Bomb Bases—Secretary Acheson and Foreign Minister Bevin have agreed on a plan for moving American B-29 atom bombers to new bases in Britain. As a precaution against a surprise Russian Pearl Harbor attack, the B-29s will be moved from their present coastal bases to airfields in the Midlands. These planes are manned by specially picked American crews who will be on 24-hour duty ready to carry the A-bomb to Moscow—if necessary.

Tim Holt Prefers His Cowboy Boots

HOLLYWOOD.—It tood some doing, but they've got Tim Holt in a pair of city shoes.

The actor is walking around in a brand-new pair of oxfords for his role as an immigration officer in "His Kind of Woman." He's much rather be in cowboy boots.

"Wear 'em all the time," he remarked. "I'd rather take a beating than put on those civilian shoes."

You can bet your boots that Tim wears his in all of his waking hours. "The only other time I couldn't wear them was when I was in the Army," he recalled. "I thought I'd die until I got my boots back on."

This might create the impression that he favors western pictures, which is what he usually makes.

"I don't exactly prefer westerns," he said, "but I think they're more fun. You're outdoors and there's lots of action. Besides, I can make three westerns in the time they make the usual kind of picture."

Tim has been in the movies since 1924, when he was knee-high to his father, Jack Holt. When he isn't making films, he's usually out with his rodeo. He likes to show skeptics that cowboy stunts actually can ride a horse.

Anne Baxter was "appointed when 'A Letter to Three Wives' was cut down to four. She was supposed to play the fourth wife. Well, she finally got to do the role. In 'All About Eve,' she is an actress who performs in a play within the movie. The scene is from the script concerning the fourth wife.

Baseball Fans Are 'Crazy', And It's True In This City

Big Spring people will have an opportunity tonight to witness something that has never happened here before.

They're going to raise the Longhorn Baseball league's 1948 championship pennant at Steer park, and that event gives us the opportunity we have been awaiting for several weeks—an opportunity to comment on the baseball situation of 1950.

Having kept track of the goings on in professional baseball for something over 20 years, we have drawn some conclusions concerning fans and baseball teams that are doubtless shared with hundreds of thousands over the country. Practically all of them have been substantiated by the young Longhorn league, quite a number by the Big Spring Broncs themselves, and the local entry has even gone so far as to establish a few new ones.

We had heard and read of speculation over the possibility of a team winning too often for its own good. As recent as last season, the Bronc management probably wondered if the locals had proved that point. They finished the regular season 20 1/2 games in front of the pack and while such teams as San Angelo and Odessa were making a fight for playoff spots and thereby spinning their turnstiles at a rapid clip the Broncs were playing to so-so crowds in late August and early September.

All of that, of course, came on the heels of two previous seasons when the Broncs had finished first over the regular season by rather comfortable margins.

As far as the team is concerned, the picture has undergone slight revision this year. The Big Spring nine appears to be one of the stronger aggregations in the league, but it is not resting comfortably in its usual first-place spot.

As far as the fans are concerned, the revision has been more radical. In Big Spring, it appears that anything short of first place is comparable to the cellar.

Sometimes we wonder if Lew Lehr, the famed motion picture comedian, erred in his famous statement about monkeys. It might have been more appropriate if he had said, "Baseball fans are the 'craziest' people."

Dems Chicago Rally Staged For The Party, Not The Public

CHICAGO—The Democrats' Chicago rally was staged more for the party than for the public.

President Truman, and the national committee did their part. They gave seminars on the issues and produced virtually all the party brass to meet the state people and promise cooperation.

Over and over again the simple lesson was repeated; get out the vote and we'll keep the power; drift and we're in trouble. Chairman Boyle estimates that four to five million votes more than normal for an off year will be needed in the upcoming elections.

One aspect of the New Deal days is missing. No ideological tests are applied to any candidate. Anybody who can reach Congress under the Democratic label and help organize it for the Democrats will be welcome. Labor and liberal groups are encouraged to do their stuff in primaries, but once the Democrat is named, he gets the imprimatur.

"Organize" is the clue to the Boyle regime. The efficient methods of the Pendergast school of practical politics are being applied by Boyle and other Kansas City alumni who now control the committee, except the women's division.

Mrs. India Edwards, head of that division, was signally recognized at Chicago with election to vice-chairman in her fight for the women, her austere fidelity to the program, ever writes Boyle, the pragmatist, he doesn't show it. He is in fact, more helpful than his predecessors.

Now the candidates are on their own, how much does—or can—the President and headquarters help them?

Reporters who speed across the country with the President certainly can't tell. Eighty per cent of the time they are cooped up together in the limited train space and the unfamiliar newspapers put aboard seem like reports from another planet. They can judge the President's performance, the size and spirit of his crowds—and that's all. They were, incidentally, unanimous that he did fine this time.

Attendance at the seminars here affords some general clues. The welfare program is more popular by far apparently than the noise of the American Medical Assn. lobby would indicate. There is a certain wariness about economic planning. The administration is so firmly committed on civil rights that there is very little prospect of compromise. Foreign policy is acceptable. The Brannan plan has not caught on.

One of the success stories of 1948, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, thinks everything depends upon the candidate himself, that he has got to deliver his own votes by strenuous campaigning these days. The senator, whose enemies complain he is glib and whose admirers concede he is unusually articulate, edified the presidential press car one night with his theories.

"When I announced for the Senate, the reporters came in and said 'Who asked you to run?' Humphrey said, 'I told them. A fellow named Hubert Humphrey; he took me into a smoke-filled room and talked me into it.'

"Then the labor leaders came around and said, 'that's fine, our boys will vote for you.' I said, 'Yes, sure. Just go out and get up some meetings and junior will talk to the boys himself. How do I know you'll be for me next week?' That's the story; talk to the folks."

Congress Certain To Change Present Social Security Act

WASHINGTON, (AP)—THIS YEAR CONGRESS seems sure to change the Social Security Act which was passed in 1935.

The proposals Congress is considering would broaden the present act in many ways. For example:

1. Increase the size of old-age pensions. Now the minimum pension to a covered worker who retires at 65 is $10 a month. But the average pension being paid is $25. The most any retired worker can draw now is around $45 a month.
2. Allow more people to be covered by the act's benefits. Many millions of workers won't get those benefits because they're in non-covered jobs. In fact, only about 35 million of this country's 60 million workers are in "covered" jobs at any one time.

HERE ARE SOME COMPARISONS ON a few of the main points in the law as it stands and as it would be changed by the House and Senate bills:

Old-age pension:
Minimum for a worker retiring at 65—present law, $10 a month; House bill, $25; Senate bill, $30.

The maximum a worker retiring at 65 can get—present law, about $45 a month; House bill, $4; Senate bill, $72.

Since a retired, covered worker's wife gets a pension half that of her husband's when she reaches 65, the most a couple can get is: present law—$67.50 a month; House bill, $96; Senate bill, $126.

These new maximums provided by the House and Senate bills apply to a worker now retired or retiring now. But the maximum for a worker retiring in future years would be higher, perhaps double the present maximum.

servants, employees of the federal and state governments, railroad workers, and employees of non-profit organizations, such as charitable, religious, educational institutions.

Under the House bill about 11 million of these non-covered workers would come under coverage. The Senate bill would open the door to 10 million.

Social security tax:

THE SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS under present law are paid for by a tax of 3 per cent on the first $3,000 of a covered worker's salary. Of that, the worker must pay 1 1/2 per cent, the employer 1 1/2 per cent.

Under the House bill the tax rate would go up, starting with 2 per cent each on the employee and employer (total of 4 per cent) in 1951 and reaching a peak of 3 1/2 per cent on each (total, 6 1/2 per cent) in 1970. This increased tax, starting in 1951, would be on the first $3,000 of salary instead of the present $3,000.

Under the Senate bill the present first-$3,000-of-salary would be kept as the amount of salary that could be taxed. The rate of tax would go up, starting with 3 per cent each on the employee and employer (total, 6 per cent) in 1956 and reaching a peak of 3 1/2 per cent on each (total, 6 1/2 per cent), in 1970.

WORKERS TOTALLY AND PERMANENTLY DISABLED

Under present law there's no government pension for a worker who becomes totally and permanently disabled. The Senate bill would keep it that way, leaving the present law unchanged. But the House bill would give such a worker a pension.

Workers in covered jobs:
Under the present law workers in these jobs are not covered by old-age pensions: Self-employed, farm workers, domestic

GOP Doubts Rent Control Extention

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.) expressed doubt today that Congress will continue federal rent controls, saying they are "no longer necessary."

Wolcott, top ranking Republican on the House Banking Committee, is a longtime foe of federal rent ceilings. He said a rent bill approved by the committee yesterday "is political face-saving compromise and might cause chaos."

By a 13 to 4 vote, the committee approved a one-year continuation of controls—with the provision that ceilings would be lifted automatically Dec. 31 in all localities where the governing body or the citizens did not vote to continue them until June 30, 1951.

The present law covers 11 million dwelling units throughout the nation. By June 30 local decontrol actions are expected to reduce the number to 8 million. At the peak of controls in 1946, there were 16 million dwelling units under rent ceilings.

Committee Democrats voted solidly for the compromise bill. While it is weaker than the administration wants, Chairman Spence (D-Ky.) described it as "the best we can get." One Republican voted for the measure; four voted against it.

House Democratic leader McCormack (Mass.) said he expects a vote on the bill within two weeks. The Senate Banking Committee has yet to report a rent bill on the other side of the capitol.

Bosses Treated At Banquet Of Vocational Club

Bosses were guests of their apprentices-students last night at the annual banquet of the Vocational Industrial club of Big Spring high school.

Twenty-one members of the club and their bosses and instructors gathered at the Odd Fellows hall for the affair which featured an address by Al Dillon, Entertainment included piano selections by Larry Evans and a song by Shirlene Walker.

A report on the year's activities was given by Marlin Murphy, member of the vocational class. Exhibits of work performed by 17 of the vocational-industrial students were on display in the banquet hall. Gene Campbell was introduced as state president of VI clubs.

Dillon, principal speaker, advised the students to "set a true course and follow it." Work, perseverance, and recognition of opportunity are the principal starts to steer by, he said.

"Remember, you only have to be a little better than average to be successful," he declared.

The Big Spring VI club started the year with only one member, but has now grown to a membership of 21, Murphy reported. VI students have spent a total of 3,370 hours in class and 15,405 hours on the job, earning a total of $6040.17 in wages, he said.

MID-CENTURY PROMISE

Top Industrialists Pledge More Jobs

BOSTON, May 19. (AP)—A group of the nation's top industrial chiefs were pledged today to stabilize employment and create more jobs.

The promise was made at Boston's mid-century jubilee by 42 industrialists, representing firms with assets of 24 billion dollars.

After meeting in Boston's historic Faneuil Hall yesterday, they issued a declaration setting forth these pledges:

1. To stabilize employment by leveling out seasonal peaks and valleys in production, by diversification of products, and vigorous search for new markets.
2. To create more jobs through research, new facilities, new equipment and new methods, to keep pace with the needs of the country and its rapidly expanding labor force.
3. To keep improving tools and production efficiency, so that the earning power of the individual will be increased.
4. To give to each employee the opportunity to develop his abilities, recognizing his right to improve himself as he improves the business.
5. To maintain the healthy competitive spirit that results in new ideas through better products and services to the public.
6. To encourage more widespread investment in common stocks, to the end that more millions of Americans may become owners of industry as well as employees.

One Killed, Eight Hurt In Bolivia Riot

LA PAZ, Bolivia, May 19. (AP)—One person was killed and eight were hurt last night as police dispersed some 300 demonstrators in strike-crippled La Paz. Part of the victims were described by police as "curious bystanders."

The violence broke out when police intercepted the demonstrators, said by government officials to be Communist-led, as they marched on the presidential palace. Police dispersed them with tear gas.

Police said the marchers in turn fired shots and threw stones. Earlier in the day four policemen were injured in clashes with strikers.

...because of Acid Stomach?

Nearly everyone has favorite foods that bring on heartburn... sourness... acid indigestion. But millions have found the answer is simple as A-B-C. They just carry a handy roll of Tums in pocket or purse. Eat 1 or 2 like candy for quick, soothing relief. Tums contain no soda to over-alkalize or cause acid rebound. And they are FAST! Cost only a dime. Get a roll today!

AT BIG SPRING CHURCHES

Churches Will Honor The Graduates Of BSBS At Services This Sunday

All churches in Big Spring will forego their regular evening worship service to honor the graduating class of the local high school during Baccalaureate services at the Municipal auditorium Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church, will give the senior sermon. His sermon topic will be, "Preferred Because Of An Excellent Spirit," from Daniel 6:3. In his talk, Dr. O'Brien will stress the thought that "It is not the amount of formal education one has, and it is not the degree of talent or mental cleverness that makes one successful. But it is rather the spirit in which we face life that determines our success or failure."

Dr. O'Brien says, "It is all epitomized in the poet's statement: 'Ships sail east and ships sail west by the selfsame winds that blow. It's not the gale, but the set of sail that determines the way we go.'"

At the First Methodist church, the Rev. Alsie H. Carleton will be heard on the subject, "What Does The Lord Require Of Us." Herbert Keaton, soloist, will sing the anthem, "O Rest In The Lord," by Mendelssohn. MYF will meet at the church at 7 o'clock. No evening church service will be held.

"God Our First Choice," will be the topic discussed by the Rev. Lloyd Thompson at the First Christian church Sunday morning. Mrs. Homer Willoughby and Mrs. Bill Bonner will sing a duet, "The Prayer Perfect." During the morning service, the graduating seniors of the church will be offered special recognition and will be seated in special pews with their parents. Bibles will be presented to them by the church members in honor of the occasion.

The Rev. C. C. Hardaway will discuss, "Holy Spirit-less Christianity," during morning services at the Wesley Methodist church. Members of the choir will be heard in the anthem, "Saviour Like A Shepherd," by Ruth Dale. No service will be held Sunday evening, as the Rev. Hardaway will serve as the Baccalaureate speaker at Forsan.

Minister Lloyd Connel will speak on the subject, "Wise Fools," during regular morning services at the Church of Christ, 14th and Main, Sunday. The evening service will be held at 7 o'clock, which will not conflict with Baccalaureate services. Minister Connel will speak on "The Mistakes Of Eve."

Services will be held at St. Mary's Episcopal church Sunday. The Rev. William D. Boyd, church rector, will celebrate Holy Communion Sunday morning at 8 o'clock, and Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Church school will be held at 9:45 a. m. Sunday morning and the morning prayer and sermon will be delivered at 11 a. m.

"Redemption From Sin," from Psalms 51:5 and 1 John 3:3 will be brought by the Rev. John E. Kolar during morning services at the Main Street Church of God. Sunday school will convene at 9:45 a. m. The Christian Brotherhood hour will be broadcast over KBST at 8:30 a. m. No evening services will be held.

Sunday masses at St. Thomas Catholic church, 508 North Main, will be held at 8:45 and 9 a. m. and week day masses are at 7 a. m. Confessions are heard before the daily mass and from 7 to 8:30 p. m. Saturdays. At the Sacred Heart Catholic church (Latin American) Sunday masses are at 8:30 and 10:30 o'clock under the direction of the pastor.

The Rev. Lewis Patterson will be heard on the subject, "Called To Cleanse," during the morning services at the Church of the Nazarene Sunday. His subject reference may be found in 1 Thessalonians 4:7. No evening services will be held.

"The Advantages of the Budget System," will be presented by Herbert Love minister of the Church of Christ, East Fourth and Benton, during Sunday morning services. No opposition will be offered the Baccalaureate services, as the evening worship will be held at 7 o'clock. Minister Love will be heard on the topic, "The Burning Bush," from Exodus 3:15 during that hour. Wednesday evening services are at 8 o'clock.

"Soul and Body," is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Church of Christ, Scientist, and in the local reading room, 217 1/2 Main, Sunday morning. The Golden Text is: "My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from Him." (Psalms 62:5)

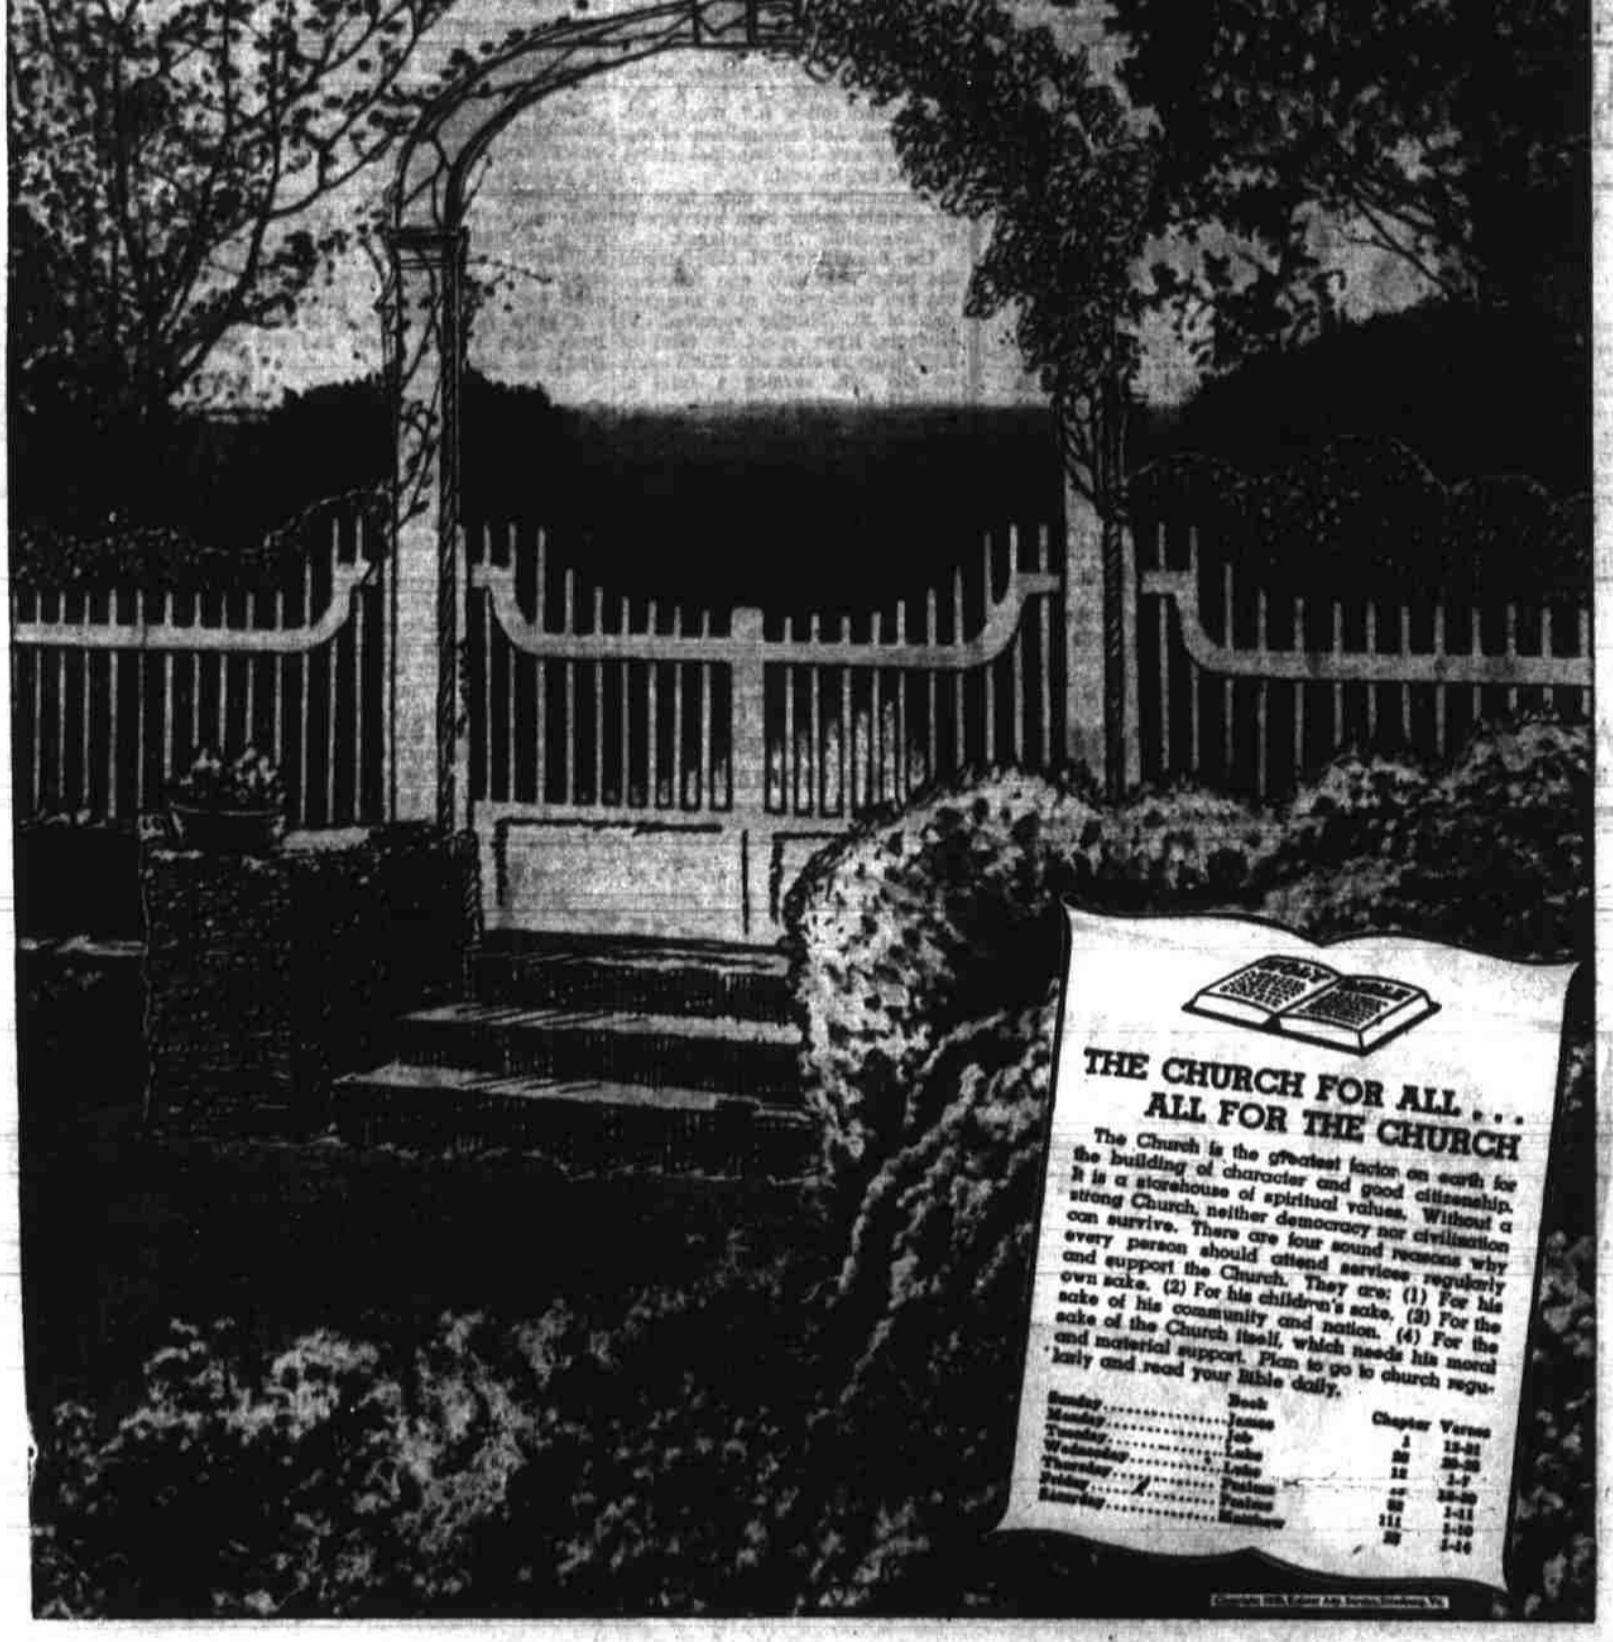

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord." (II Cor. 5:8) The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We must destroy the false belief that life and intelligence are in matter, and plant ourselves upon what is pure and perfect." (Page 222)

"The Christian Home," will be discussed by the Rev. J. M. Foose at the Church of God, Fourth and Galveston, Sunday morning. During the evening, the Rev. Foose will be heard on the subject, "The Price That Was Paid For the Healing Of The Body." From Isaiah 55:5. A district fellowship meeting will be held at the church Monday. The public is invited to attend.

The Rev. James S. Parks will

Gateway to the World

Someone has said this picture should have been taken from another angle. He wanted to place the camera outside the gate and take a picture of the beautiful garden through the arbor.
But we asked for this view . . . looking from the garden to the world outside. Why?
Because a man can't spend his life lounging in the garden. To live, he has to face the world.
And to live nobly, he has to carry the beauty of his garden out into the wilderness.
In our Churches we discover the beauty of life when it is cultivated and fruitful. Then we are able to carry something of that beauty into the world.
Attend Church next Sunday! And all week you will want to share what you have gained with others.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Shivers Asks For Old Bells

AUSTIN, May 19. (AP)—Any historic old bells in the family? If so Gov. Allan Shivers suggests you mail a photograph and history of it for permanent exhibition with the replica of the Liberty Bell.

The Liberty Bell reproduction is currently touring Texas in connection with the independence bond drive. At the end of the drive July 4 it will be placed on permanent exhibit somewhere in Texas yet to be determined.

"Many important bells were in use in Texas during periods of French and Spanish exploration and colonization and others were closely linked with the founding and history of the Republic of Texas and with the histories of early missions, cathedrals, cities, plantations, and ranches.

"I believe the histories and photographs of such bells are worthy of display with the Liberty replica," the governor said.

He said the photographs and histories should be mailed to the U. S. Savings Bond Division, Treasury Department, Dallas.

Micah Rebukes Those Who Mislead People

Scripture—Micah 1:1, 2; 3:12; 6:8-9.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

In 72 B. C., the Kingdom of Samaria was conquered by the Assyrians. It may be that not all the inhabitants were carried away captive, but the ten "lost tribes" vanished from history.

Extermination threatened also the two tribes of the southern kingdom. In this unhappy period Micah, the Morasthite, arose and prophesied. He told his people that God would surely punish them for their many sins, but that there was a chance for them if they would renounce their evil ways and turn again to Jehovah.

Micah had a vision of a world without wars (about 725 B. C.), when the condition of his world was even more precarious than ours is today. His hope must have seemed very wild and improbable to the people living in that dangerous era.

Like Hosea, Micah pointed out the many sins of his generation. "They covet fields, and seize them; houses, and take them away; and they oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage."

We of this age can appreciate that accusation. We know that in the past few years, especially during the second great World War, millions of innocent people were dispossessed of their homes and driven into strange countries; or left to wander about their homelands to suffer hunger, lack of proper clothing, knowing not where they might lay their heads.

Children usually wake up early in the morning. They may even plan some mischief that they carry out when they get up. That mischief never brings them happiness any more than ill-gotten riches make an adult happy.

In ancient times the loss of ancestral lands was more deeply felt than is often the case today, although there are many now who, to the land of their fathers set three thousand years ago and which they deeply love and would be greatly grieved to lose.

The Mosaic law tried to safeguard ancestral lands for their original owners. Micah spoke as one of the people when he told of the oppression home owners were subject to when evil men in power planned to take their lands from them.

Micah had his say about the prophets or religious leaders of Israel who misled the people, lied to them, were spiritually blind. Then there were also seers (supposedly wise men) and "diviners," who were supposed to foretell what was in store for their people, but received, says Micah, "no answer of God."

Micah himself was "full of power by the Spirit of Jehovah, and of judgment, and of might, to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sin." He knew that Jehovah had called him to do this work of warning and attempted redemption of men.

What does the Lord ask of His people on earth? Micah asks the question and answers it: "Wherewith shall I come before Jehovah, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before Him with burnt offerings, with calves a year old?"

"Will Jehovah be pleased with thousands of rams, or with tens of thousands of rivers of oil? Shall I give my first-born for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?"

"He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth Jehovah require of thee, but to do justly, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with thy God."

It seems very simple, does it not, for all of us to obey this command? Centuries have passed since Micah preached this doctrine to his people, and still men lie, covet their neighbors' lands, deceive others, kill and maim, and do all manner of evil.

All know better—all can understand God's requirements to earn His approbation, from the least to the greatest. We can at least try, as parents, teachers, men in public offices, from humble posts of trust to the greatest, to follow His commands and teach them to the young.

Ohio, Wisconsin In Cheese Battle

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP)—Ohio squares off against Wisconsin today in the big congressional battle of the cheese—but without the public weighing-in ceremonies which had been planned on the capitol steps.

House Speaker Rayburn of Texas turned thumbs down on the curtain raiser which Reps. McSwain (D-Ohio) and Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis) had proposed.

The two congressmen, whose dispute over the relative merits of the cheese made in their home states developed into today's contest, had planned to display the contestants on the capitol plaza, along with a bevy of yodelers to provide the right touch (it's Swiss-type cheese).

Rayburn said no. "If we relaxed on cheese," he told a reporter, "the next thing you know the peanut butter and jelly people would want to use the steps too."

The two 200-pound slabs of cheese were to be delivered to the House and Senate restaurants and served to the lawmakers. They will be asked to keep their opinions to themselves.

PERHAPS THEY COULD DIVIDE

WINNIPEG, May 19. (AP)—A jug of muddy Red River water was sent today to Mayor William O'Dwyer of water-short New York City.

With it went the message: "We've got millions of gallons of what you haven't got."

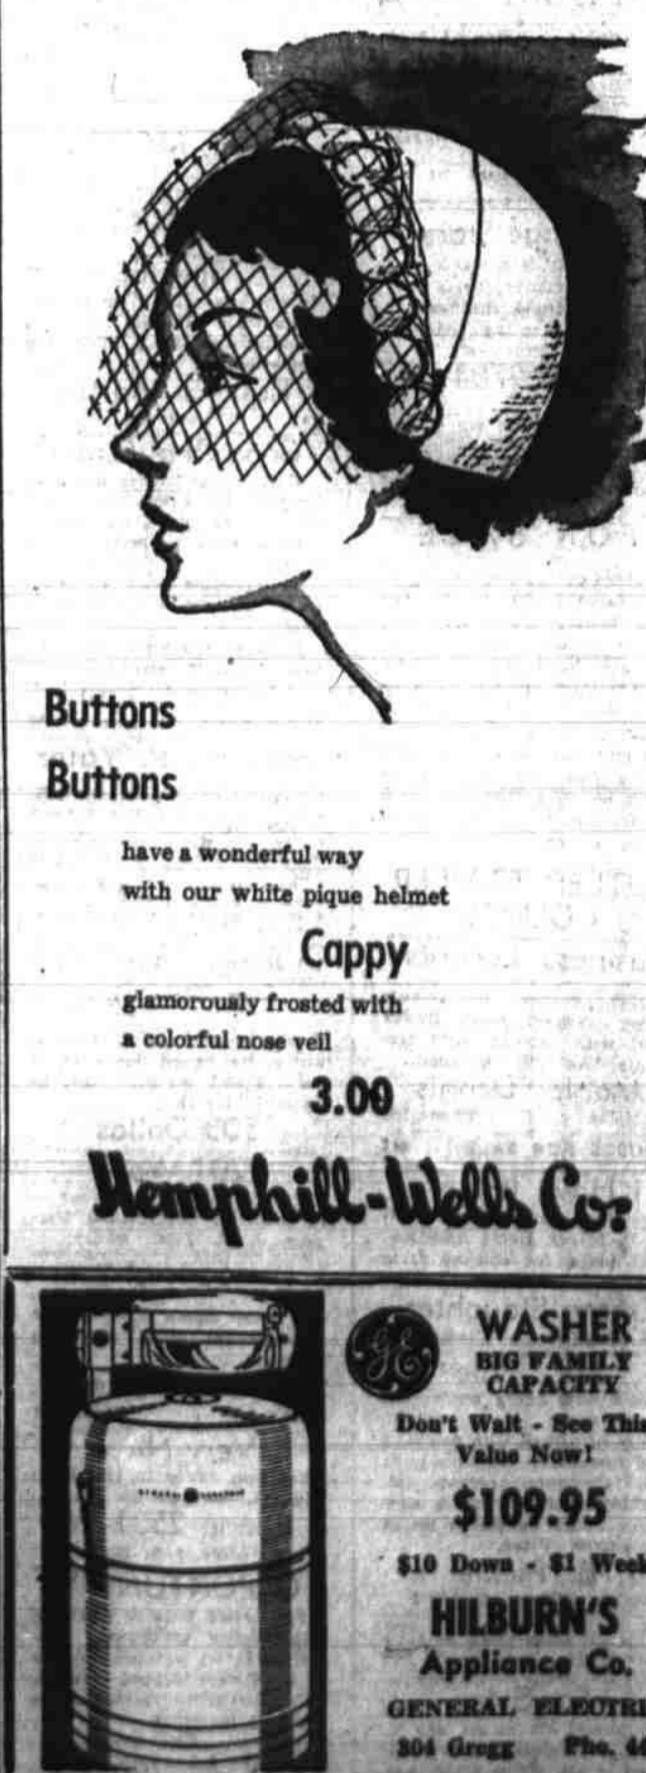

It was an appeal by the Manitoba flood relief fund for a contribution from New York.
