AMARILLO, Tex., May 6. (AP)—Panhandle voters today elected Texas' first Republican congressman in 24 years—Ben H. Guill of Pampa.

Mrs. Ruthelle Bacon, a member of the Republican state executive committee, also issued a triumphant statement on the GOP victory in traditionally Democratic Texas, saying "The people of this district have awakened to the goings on in Washington."

Order Issued To Start HCJC Construction

Final preliminary formalities in the Howard County Junior college building program have been cleared, Dr. P. W. Malone, chairman of the college board, announced Saturday.

A work order dated Friday has been issued to the general contractor, Busboom and Rauh of Dallas, and actual work on the half a million dollar project is expected to begin in 10 days.

Dr. Malone said a representative of the general contractor is expected to arrive here early in the week. At that time college officials hope to complete arrangements for ground-breaking ceremonies at the new college campus immediately east of the city.

Construction of four major buildings and one auxiliary structure is due to be completed in 300 working days.

The college will spend $393,405 for an administration building, science building, auditorium, gymnasium and a central power plant. General construction contract was awarded May 27 on a bid of $378,000. A. P. Kasech and Son of Big Spring will do the plumbing and heating work for $55,500, while the City Electric Co. of Odessa has the electric contract for $18,000.

Performance bonds of the general contractor were received by all Friday, and the work order was issued immediately by Puckett and French, architect-engineer. The HCJC board also awarded a contract Friday to Ted Elstrand and Co. of Fort Worth for auditorium seating facilities. The bid of $3,850 was the lowest of six opened on April 27. Actual cost of seating facilities probably will be slightly below that figure, however, since some changes in requirements have been made, Dr. Malone said.

Reviewing The Big Spring - Week - With Joe Pickle

We're near the end of the decennial census and if you haven't been counted, it's time to say something about it immediately. By the middle of the week the records may be closed. Call Sam Goldman, census supervisor, or the chamber of commerce if you have not been enumerated or if you know of anyone who has been missed. As of now, it looks like about 13,500 in the corporate limits and around 23,000 in the urban area. This would mean about a 50 per cent gain for the city limits, about 50 per cent in greater Big Spring for the decade.

The Big Spring chamber of commerce will be among the few such organizations which won't have to eat humble pie on the census. The totals are close to or slightly over chamber estimates.

For the first time since the war started, a Feeders' Day will mark the conclusion of U. S. Experiment Farm annual feeding tests. While it will be of benefit for businessmen to attend, it is to the advantage of every grain farmer in the area to sit in on the program Tuesday.

WEDDING BELLS RING—Hollywood's glamorous young actress Elizabeth Taylor, pauses outside the Catholic Church of the Good Shepherd where she was married yesterday to Nick Hilton of the hotel family. The above photo was taken after a rehearsal at the Beverly Hills, Calif., church. Miss Taylor is 18 years old. Her husband is 23.

'LIZ' IS WED

Movie Princess Marries Hilton

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., May 6. (AP)—Calm and beautiful as a fairy princess, Elizabeth Taylor recited wedding vows with hotel heir Conrad Hilton, Jr. today.

While 500 movie fans milled outside the Catholic Church of the Good Shepherd, the dark-dressed, 18-year-old bride, in a steady but restrained voice, declared: "I will, in the eyes of God and man, be united to you, Conrad Hilton, Jr., as long as we shall both live."

The wedding went off on time and without a hitch.

At precisely 5 p.m. the church organ began intoning. At 5:10 the wedding march began and young Hilton and his brother, Barron, the best man, stepped before the altar. The six bridesmaids, walked slowly down the yellow satin carpet. Miss Taylor followed holding on the arm of her father.

Miss Taylor and Hilton stood before the altar in front of the golden altar and listened as Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick J. Conneally asked them to be "loyal and true to the end."

After the vows, the bridegroom slipped a diamond-studded platinum ring on the bride's finger. She gave him a plain gold band. After the priest pronounced them husband and wife and congratulated them, Hilton clasped his bride and delivered a kiss.

The fans burst into applause as the young pair appeared. After posing briefly for photographs, the newlyweds were rushed away to the reception.

The bride is 18 and generally termed the screen's most beautiful girl. The bridegroom, a tall, handsome Texan, 23 years, is the son of Conrad Hilton, whose hotel holdings are reportedly worth $125,000,000.

Seven hundred guests were invited to the ceremonies, including dozens of filmworld's famous.

The reception was also set up on a large scale. Three dining rooms of the fashionable Bel Air Country Club were taken over to accommodate the 700 guests. Each room featured a symbolic statue carved from huge blocks of ice, depicting two kissing doves, the wedding church on its horn of plenty.

Except for Songstress Jane Powell, one of the bridesmaids, the wedding party was not familiar.

Reds Face Crucial Test, Acheson Says

Free Nations Must Speed Mobilization

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson set out for Europe today with a grim warning that the non-Communist world faces "increasingly crucial tests in the years immediately ahead."

He said that because of the threat of International Communism, the free nations of the world must speed up the mobilization of their "moral and material strength" and must do so "with utmost vigor."

Scurry Voters Thumb Down Beer Proposal

SNYDER, May 6.—Scurry county retained its traditionally dry status Saturday, turning thumbs down by almost four to one on a proposal to legalize sale of beer. The vote, with one small box still out, was 2,479 against the legalizing of the sale of beer, and 624 for sale of beer. Rural voters plastered the beer proposal better than 4-1, casting 980 dry votes to 206 wet ones. In Snyder, the margin was pronounced, though by a smaller ratio. The dry vote in the city was 1,409 and the wet total 453.

High Churchmen Expected In U. S. For Alumni Reunion

NEW ORLEANS, May 6. (AP)—Three high Roman Catholic churchmen from Texas are expected here Tuesday for a three-day reunion of alumni of the North American college in Rome. They are Robert E. Lucey of San Antonio, Bishop Laurence J. Fitzsimon of Amarillo and Bishop Wendelin J. Noid of Galveston. Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York also is to attend. He will be the guest here of Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel of the Rome college at a luncheon Wednesday in the Roosevelt Hotel.

FLOOD WATERS THREATEN WINNIPEG, CANADA, AS WINDS LASH IN TEXAS

By The Associated Press Rampaging flood waters crushed all dykes but one protecting Winnipeg, Canada, Saturday. And total evacuation of the city of 300,000 became a grim possibility.

Meanwhile, a vicious spring storm turned its destructive course into Canada after leaving a trail of multimillion dollar damage, and at least 11 persons dead and scores injured in the central United States.

The Winnipeg Tribune quoted the manager of the city's hydro-electric power plant as saying total evacuation may be necessary. The Red River rose about 1-1/2 feet in 24 hours at Winnipeg and a rise of five more feet was in prospect. Hundreds of blocks of the city and suburbs were under water. Street car and bus travel and telephone service were disrupted.

Canadian armed forces were placed in control of flood relief. In Texas high winds and driving rain hit the northeast corner of the state Saturday, causing accidents in which eight persons were injured, and knocking out power and telephone lines.

Thunder storms and light rains were scattered westward from the Arkansas border as far as Mineral Wells.

The Weather Bureau said a warm front pushing up from the southeast was to blame for the turbulence. Fifty-five mile winds and heavy rain hit Texas at mid-day.

Light showers or drizzle were reported in Dallas, Fort Worth and Mineral Wells.

That he emphasized, will be his own major purpose in talking with Foreign Ministers Bevin of Britain and Schuman of France in Paris and London next week, and in meeting with the North Atlantic Treaty Council the week following.

What he hopes to get, he said, is "a new sense of community in the North Atlantic area."

He said he was encouraged by the bi-partisan cooperation from Republican and Democratic leaders of Congress.

President Truman arranged to see Acheson off at the airport.

Mr. Truman told his chief diplomatic official:

"I know very well you are going to have successful meetings in Europe which will make a contribution to the peace of the world."

Diplomatic representatives from the Atlantic Pact nations also were on hand.

Behind Acheson's general words on the urgency lay two concrete facts:

1.—An estimate by State Department and defense experts that Russia will be dangerously armed by 1954 and the West can only keep pace by throwing all its resources into a common effort and; 2.—That the United States, Britain and France have only about 15 months to work out the end of the occupation of Germany.

A well informed source tonight outlined the program this way:

1.—Aid will be shaped for France in the Indo China war.

2.—The North Atlantic Treaty group will act for the first time on reports of its defense and other sub-committees.

3.—The western powers will review what new steps can be taken to keep Germany headed west, instead of veering east.

The informant suggested, however, dramatic decisions should not be expected from the conference, saying:

"Keep in mind that meetings of the western foreign ministers have been held about every three or four months for some time. They meet when there is enough to justify a meeting."

He said the western powers recognize that Russia has hardened her attitude on all fronts and counter-hardening is expected.

One concrete thing seemed likely to emerge, the formation of a strong body within the North Atlantic Treaty group able to meet more often than the ministers and to act for them in building the treaty force into a real defense against Russia.

'WAR' ON FEPC

Southerners Limber Up For Filibuster

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—Southerners limbering up for a marathon filibuster said today they would wage "all-out war" against the administration's FEPC bill in the senate next week.

Senator Johnston D-SC, a leader of the "True group," served notice of a showdown battle in a communique for his colleagues, saying:

"We are thoroughly convinced that passage of this monstrosity will mean a 'Pearl Harbor for the South.'"

Democratic Leader Lucas (Ill.) has called for debate Monday on the bill to create a Fair Employment Practices Commission. This agency would have powers to combat discrimination in employment because of race, color or creed.

The FEPC is favored in the political platforms of both the Democratic and Republican parties, but southern senators always have succeeded in killing it through prolonged debate.

Lucas said he plans to wait until the week after next before seeking to limit debate on FEPC.

The real FEPC test is expected on the debate limiting motion, which required approval of 64 senators.

GALLANT ACT SPRAINS BACK

CHICAGO, May 6. (AP)—A gallant police lieutenant helped an elderly woman walk down a wet stairway and then fell down, suffering a sprained back.

Lt. Thomas McCann, 35, stopped his squad car Friday when he saw the woman hesitate about walking down the wet stairway at a southern Illinois Central Railroad station. With McCann's aid, the unidentified woman reached the sidewalk safely.

McCann slipped on the bottom step and fell backward. He was taken to a doctor's office in the squad car and treated for a sprained back.

CHALLENGE TRUMAN

GOP BroadSides Flung At Demos

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—Republicans hurled 10 broadside charges at the Truman administration today and challenged the President to answer them on his 15-state campaign tour which he begins tomorrow.

GOP leaders already have laid plans to make series of replies to the Truman speeches. They got in the first word with a statement accusing him of resisting attempts to "drive Communists from his administration."

The statement came from National Chairman Guy George Gabrielson; Senator Owen Brewster of Maine, chairman of the Senate campaign committee, and Rep. Leonard W. Hall of New York, chairman of the House campaign committee.

Mr. Truman ordered Democrat leaders in Congress "to block the sensible amendments to the Fair-Hartley act."

He refuses the people further income tax cuts.

The record shows "a reckless $9 billion increase in the cost of government since 1945."

Although "farm prices have fallen sharply since 1948, when we had a Republican Congress," the only Truman solution is the Acheson plan.

Missing Two Days, Child Found Well

FORT LEWIS, Wash., May 6. (AP)—Major Artie M. Heape, Fort Lewis provost marshal, said today that three-year-old Tommy Jenkins, missing for two days, has been found alive and well.

He apparently had been kidnapped, Major Heape said, and returned to the point at which he was picked up.

The major based his opinion on the fact the child was well and in excellent condition. The dog which disappeared with him was also found with the boy.

"We know he could not have been near the spot where he was found," the major said. "We have painstakingly searched every inch of that ground many times, with thousands of soldiers involved."

Man Who Didn't Believe In Old Age, Dies At 104

ITHACA, N. Y., May 6. (AP)—George S. Livermore didn't believe in old age. But it finally overtook him: He died last night at 104.

He still headed the board of the Ithaca Gun Co., which he helped found in 1886.

Until recently, Livermore went to his office daily to oversee the 280 employees. More than 80 have been with the firm for at least 20 years. Several have been working for half a century.

Livermore was proud of his precision-built guns, but he didn't use them. He preferred horseback riding to hunting. When riding became too strenuous, he turned, as he put it, to "smoking a good cigar with friends."

Police broke up an attempt by Communist-led steel workers Friday to wreck a rail freight load of French Army guided missile equipment at nearby La Bocco.

The demonstrators—150 workers led by two Communist members of the Cannes City Council—attacked the police with stones and steel balls before they were driven off by tear gas grenades.

Five police were injured in the pitched battle. Seven demonstrators were arrested.

The equipment was not damaged. The train on which it was loaded left the station only a few minutes behind schedule.

Poison Gas Material Aids Human Cancer

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter
WASHINGTON, May 7. (AP)—A new and apparently more effective method was announced today of using the "nitrogen mustards"—one-time poison gas materials—against human cancer.

"Remarkable" shrinkage of treated tumors and complete relief of pain in 10 hopelessly advanced cases were described by the American Cancer Society.

Seven of the 10 have died but all responded to some extent to treatment. The shrinkage occurred, however, only in tumors directly treated. Related, but non-treated growth, were not diminished.

The new method enables doctors to concentrate virtually the full wallop of the nitrogen mustards

Washington University's Department of Surgery.

They warned that severe reactions—including convulsions—can accompany the treatment, adding that injudicious use might produce the death of all normal tissue within a treated area. Very small doses are used.

The American Cancer Society, which supported the research and made public the report, said that one patient's brain tumor "had so impaired his vision that he was able to distinguish only light from dark. After treatment he was able to read large news print."

Both institutions emphasized the technique is still experimental and for the present will be tried only in cases beyond help by other methods.

They cautioned further that in its present stage of development at least, the method does not constitute a chemical cure for cancer in the same way that surgery, radium or X-ray can sometimes cure the disease.

And they said it was not expected to be of value to patients whose original cancer had spread widely to other parts of the body.

However, the university surgeons said further development of the technique might make it possible to control completely certain cancers which had not yet spread.

There is already evidence, they related, indicating that the method may be able to combat some localized cancers which do not respond at all to X-ray—thereby justifying the hope of avoiding extensive surgery in such cases.

A still further possibility is the combined use of chemical and radiation treatment to attack cancers resistant to either method alone.

"The procedure has opened the door on a method of administering drugs which is unique in cancer treatment," declared Dr. Calvin T. Klopp who directed the research in the university's department of experimental surgery. The department is under the general direction of Dr. Brain Blades.

The university group said the nitrogen mustards may not be the ideal weapons for use with the new technique. The scientists said they're already looking for others.

Development of the arterial method of injection was the result of an "accidental" occurrence at the hospital.

A woman was receiving nitrogen mustard treatment for a cancerous condition of the lymph nodes by the usual vein-injection method. By accident, the substance was injected into an artery feeding her arm.

A sunburn-like redness and blistering and ulceration soon affected her hand and forearm—but in a few days it disappeared.

This suggested that a nitrogen mustard, if injected into an artery "could produce, within the area supplied by the artery, an intense reaction from which normal tissue could recover. It also suggested a new method for treating regional cancers which has an accessible arterial blood supply."

Thus, the brain, head, neck, and pelvis are considered the best possibilities. The upper abdomen and the chest are rated as less likely prospects.

against certain tumors. Up to now, such chemicals have been injected into the veins of patients. Used that way, they have had only limited usefulness, being spread throughout the whole body, with diluted effect.

Under the new method, they are injected not into veins but into arteries directly feeding specific cancer areas. Thus use, they have shown an ability in preliminary trials to affect types of cancer unresponsive to the other techniques.

The scientists have launched a search for some other chemical which might make the new technique even more effective.

The "encouraging" results in 10 hopeless malignancies of the brain, mouth, nose, neck, and leg were reported by researchers of George Washington University's Department of Surgery.

Death Penalty Given Rogers

LAMESA, May 6. (AP)—A district court jury today convicted Victor F. (Jack) Rogers of the murder of City Policeman Claud Johnson and assessed the death penalty.

Defense attorneys filed a motion for a new trial.

Johnson was beaten to death here March 25.

Rogers, of Latin-American descent, showed no emotion when the verdict was announced by Guy Weeks, jury foreman. He ran to the side of his mother, who fell over in a faint.

Rogers was transferred to the Lubbock County jail at Lubbock after the verdict was read. Sheriff Roy King said he probably would be returned here Monday.

Judge Louis B. Reed, who presided over the trial, is expected to pronounce sentence next week if the motion for a new trial is overruled.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING CAA Will Acquaint Public With Flying

An "aeronautical familiarization meeting," sponsored by the Civil Aeronautics Administration, is to be held in the Settles ballroom Thursday night. The public is invited to attend.

Purpose of the meeting is to acquaint the public with the field of aviation and the role played by CAA in promoting aviation safety, according to Jack Cook, Municipal airport manager. It is one of a number of similar programs being held in the 4th CAA region.

Three local units of the CAA, Airport Traffic, Interstate Airways Communications, Aviation Safety, and Control Tower, will have personnel on hand to give brief talks on the duties, functions, and services made available to the flying public.

Two films will also be projected; one, named "Cutting Unlimited," gives a humorous account of the growth of aircraft and aviation, Cook said.

The other, dealing with high altitude flying, landings, and take-offs, was made by Lambert Ward, local aviator. It is in color.

William M. Berry, assistant to the regional CAA administrator at Fort Worth; A. C. Blomgren, chief of CAA Airways Operations division; and H. J. Townsend, Airways Operations specialist, are to be among regional officials present for the meeting.

Cook will introduce guests while Townsend will emcee the program.

Both Navy and Air Force planes were grounded at Municipal airport last week because of mechanical difficulties, airport manager Jack Cook indicated.

A Navy AD-2, piloted by Martin D. Sims, ADC, landed Wednesday with engine trouble and has remained on the ground here while awaiting mechanical assistance.

An Air Force P-47, from Carswell Air Force base, arrived at Municipal field Friday afternoon operating on one engine. The ship negotiated the landing safely with one prop "feathered." It will be given an engine change before being flown again.

H. C. Mayfield, Achery farmer-flying enthusiast, returned late Saturday from Amarillo where he attended the annual convention of the Texas Flying Farmers association the latter part of the week.

Mayfield, accompanied by Mrs. Mayfield, flew to Amarillo Wednesday in his Cessna 140. Highlight of the convention was an aerial tour of the Panhandle farming section, he reported. Balance of the program, presented by the CAA, concerned navigation and aviation safety.

Tex Anderson, Modine, was re-elected president of the TFFA. Mayfield said, Amy Jameson, Brackettville, was named secretary of the association by the flying farmers.

Mayfield was the only South Plains delegate to the convention excluding a group from the Lubbock area. Approximately 67 persons, flying 35 planes, attended the meeting.

West Andrews Well To Deepen For Test

Firchall Oil Company of Midland No. 3 Emma Cowden, an old producer on the west edge of the Emma-San Andres pool in extreme Central-South Andrews County, will be deepened to test the Holt lime pay of the North Cowden Deep pool seven miles to the southeast.

Mitchell Test Plugs

J. D. Dillard (Dahm Oil Co.) filed application to plug his No. 1 R. E. Brennan, Sr., a shallow wildcat in section 4-28, T&P, Mitchell county. Total depth was listed at 3,885. There were no shows. The test originally was filed as No. 1 Toke Foster. During the week James Snowden abandoned his No. 1 Nurrell, Section 24-Y, T&P, as a north central Mitchell Ellenburger wildcat at 7,438.

Watched Closely

Seaboard No. 1 Akia Simpson three-mile south east stepout from Vealmoor pool of north Howard county, was getting to the point where observers will be watching it more closely. It was at 7,223 feet. The Vealmoor pool produces from 7,700 to 7,800. Location is 960 from the north and east lines of section 45-32-36, T&P.

Halted For Survey

Shell No. 2 TXL, four miles southeast of the one-well Garden City pool in eastern Glascock county, was bottomed at 9,801 feet after running Schlumberger and velocity surveys. On a two-hour drillstem test in the Ellenburger, from 9,622-9,801. Recovery was 260 feet of drilling mud and 220 feet of slightly water-cut mud. Location is 440 feet from the south and east lines of section 23-32-45, T&P.

PSYCHIATRISTS HEAR

Report Hypnotism Can Ease Pain

DETROIT, May 6. (AP)—What hypnotism can do to ease pain was reported to the American Psychiatric Assn. Friday.

The studies were made at Johns Hopkins University Medical School. They were reported by Dr. Harold Rosen of Baltimore.

Hypnotism helps because pains are often partly due to emotions. One case was a war veteran who hurt his back in an auto accident. He could not walk and couldn't work.

When hypnotized and told he could walk, he did so without difficulty.

The trance studies showed he was fooling himself without realizing it. He hated his job and the deep-seated emotion kept him from working by causing pain in his back.

A man fell downstairs and injured his head. Afterward he suffered blurred vision and headaches for no apparent cause. Hypnosis cured him of the eye and head troubles and revealed the real cause. This was worry about his family, finances and possible blindness.

Hypnotism cured the pain of a phantom leg, which is the sensation you still have use of the leg after it is amputated. Hypnotism used on such man revealed that he craved to be dependent on someone. Psychiatric treatment was then used to make him realize the emotion. That cured him.

Dr. Rosen said hypnotism can be used in three ways. One is to suggest deep sleep, another to suggest there is no pain, and the third to suggest the pain will no longer be disturbing. Each one works or fails largely according to the effect of emotions.

NEW WAY TO FIND LOST HUSBANDS

TOKYO, May 6. (AP)—Listeners on the nation-wide network of the Japan Broadcasting Corp. were startled last night to hear an announcer wear one Saburo Todani not to eat his lunch. It is poisoned," the broadcast said.

Todani heard and went home. He found his wife had called police and said the bread in his sandwiches was poisoned. Police appealed to the broadcasting company for help, since no one knew where Todani was.

But, police learned, the bread wasn't poisoned after all. Todani's wife had made up the story to lure him home, fearing he had deserted her.

ADDED PROTECTION

New Jets Feature Family Of Robots

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—No F-86s are yet in operational units. The Air Force is equipping late model jet fighters with new automatic devices which will let enemy bombers through night skies or bad weather, shoot them down, then bring the pilot home for a landing.

Officials said this whole family of robots is being installed in its new interceptors to meet problems posed by the development of high-speed bombers and atomic weapons.

The growing need of the bombers gives defense fighters less time to climb to meet them, and the enormous destructive power of the A-bomb makes it more important than ever to destroy the bombers before they reach the target.

Radar to help fighter pilots find attacking planes at night was incorporated in piston-engine interceptors used during World War II. But the Air Force says these planes do not have the performance needed today, while faster turbo-jet fighters do not yet possess the radar essential to all-weather operations.

Into the new models, it says, are going provisions for automatic flight, automatic tracking of the enemy, automatic firing, and automatic approach to a landing after the battle.

After taking off the pilot will be guarded by a ground radar network to the area where his plane's radar can pick up the enemy. There the automatic devices will take over, putting the interceptor on the correct course to close with the bomber and firing its weapons at the right moment.

In case the robots fail, or things happen that they aren't prepared to meet, the pilot will lend a hand. He will have plenty of work to do also in the last stage of the landing approach.

In addition to robots, increased armament is going into the new models to increase their chances of destroying bombers once contact is made.

Only one type of "interim" jet interceptor, developed from an older jet fighter, is now in service in Air Force units. It is the F-4, a modification of the Lockheed F-80 Shooting Star. The Air Force ordered 110 of these planes in 1949, and $120 million is being spent for more of them this year.

The F-84 is equipped with radar and has an afterburner designed to give it bursts of extra power for quick climbing. The afterburner consists of a device to introduce fuel into the exhaust pipe and ignite it there, thus developing greater thrust.

Another "interim" interceptor developed from an older jet fighter, the North American F-86 Sabre, is being built with radar and an afterburner.

During the year ending this June 30 the Air Force is spending $130,000,000 on this plane—called the F-85—an outlay exceeded only by its expenditures for B-36 intercontinental bombers and for 600-mile-an-hour B-47 jet bombers.

1901 OLDS ARRIVES HERE ENROUTE TO LOS ANGELES SHRINE CONVENTION

With just 13 days left to go, Russell Cornelson, Louisville, Ky., businessman, cruised into Big Spring shortly after noon Friday enroute to the Shrine convention which opens in Los Angeles, Calif. June 18.

Cornelson may need every one of those days, too. He's driving a 49-year-old automobile, a 1901 Olds to the Los Angeles meeting.

The Louisville Shriner expected to cover the next leg of his journey, 40 miles to Midland, in time to spend Friday night. He has averaged about 10 miles per hour in the 1901 Oldsmobile since leaving Kentucky several days ago.

A crowd of curious gathered at Shroyer Motor company here as Cornelson halted the horseless carriage for a check and fuel. Two cars were in collision as drivers gawked at the buggy-like vehicle.

The Kentuckian explained that the auto was hand-made by Oldsmobile before the company started mass producing cars.

He pointed out the one-wheel chain drive that enabled the two-cylinder motor to move the Olds "Scout." Other unique features include the "tilter" with which the machine is steered and the wagon type brake lever which throws a couple of blocks against the outside of the wheels.

A coil of tubing serves as a radiator. A crank protruded from the right-hand side of the engine. It was the 88th car registered in the state of Indiana, Cornelson said.

He decided to drive it to the 1950 Shrine convention after attending the 1949 gathering in Chicago "without transportation."

Only major breakdown he had prior to reaching Big Spring was a radius rod which came loose in Gainesville last week. It was repaired with balling wire, the driver said.

Movie Title Perfect For Weather Forecast

JUSTIN, Miss., May 6. (AP)—Last October 16 when high winds damaged the Highway 218 Drive-In Theatre, the movie being shown was "Gone With The Wind."

Yesterday the winds hit the theater again, blowing down the fence and the screen.

Scheduled to be shown at the opening this week and was "Return of October."

Canopy Collapses, None Seriously Hurt

HOUSTON, May 6. (AP)—Nine junior high school students were injured some seriously, Friday when a 100-foot campus sidewalk canopy collapsed.

Witnesses said about 150 students were under the canopy when it began to fold, but that most of them escaped.

Five of the students were hospitalized. Four were discharged after emergency treatment at the school.

Woman Dies In Crash East Of Gladewater

LONGVIEW, May 6. (U.S.)—Mrs. Helen McKee, 38, Fort Worth, was killed last night and a Fort Worth man hurt in a two-car collision two miles east of Gladewater on Highway 80.

The injured man was identified by Chief Deputy Sheriff F. P. Leath as Frank Thomas Prime, about 38, of Fort Worth.

Leath said the car in which they were riding, driven by Prime, overtook a car driven by Zelter Soorey, about 23, of near Longview, crashing into its rear.

MUST'VE BEEN A FUNNY WIND

HUAYATHA, Kan., May 6. (U.S.)—Harry Zimmerman was sleeping on the porch at his farm home when a tornado roared past early Friday.

After dusting himself off Zimmerman told what happened. He said the wind crumpled the porch, whisked the mattress away and left him lying on the bed springs.

He was not hurt.

Child Choked In Washing Machine

CHEROKEE, Ia., May 6. (U.S.)—A two-year-old girl, caught by the arm in a washing machine wringer, was pulled in and choked to death.

Mrs. Marvin Winterhof returned from hanging out clothes to find her daughter, Kathleen, hanging in the machine.

TO BE OPEN TO VISITORS Residents May Inspect VA Hospital On National Hospital Day, Friday

National Hospital Day on Friday will afford residents of this area their first opportunity to inspect some of the facilities of the Veterans Administration hospital here.

Dr. Lloyd B. Andrews, manager of the hospital, announced that the first three floors of the six-million dollar plant would be opened to visitors. Hours of visitation will be from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m.

Open house on Hospital Day was made possible through transfer of the 256-bed hospital from the U. S. Corps of Engineers to the Veterans Administration on Monday.

Dr. Andrews, representing the VA, and Louis G. Bradley, project engineer and representing the corps of engineers, signed papers which formalized the passing of control from the constructing to the operating agency.

Other floors of the hospital are not now ready. Dr. Andrews pointed out, and thus cannot be opened for inspection Friday. However, the first three floors will give an ample cross section of the hospital, its equipment and its intended services.

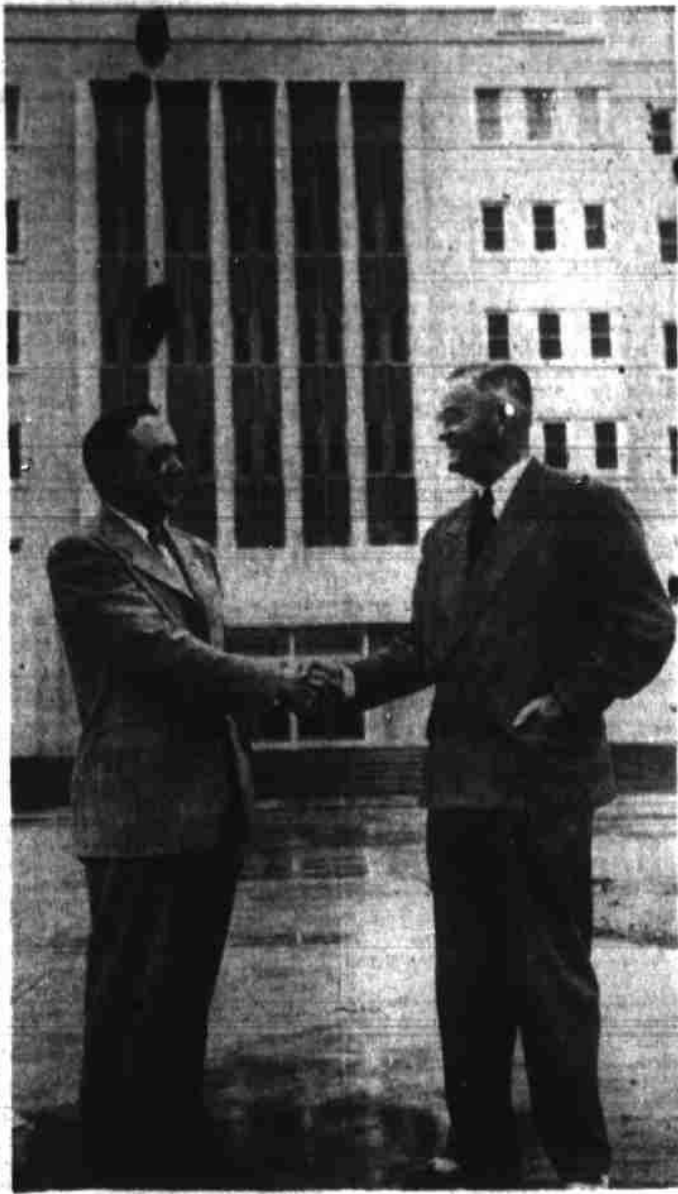

At the same time, the fact that not all equipment is on hand and installed may give the public an appreciation of the immensity of the task in activating a hospital even after the building is complete. Dr. Andrews felt that because the area being opened was not functionally complete, it would permit visitors to see the various phases of establishing the items of equipment and supply.

Visitors likely will find enough to absorb them in the main building with its over-all length of approximately 600 feet. Besides the reception space, there are numerous administrative offices such as those for the manager, assistant manager, registrar, chief nurse, personnel, supply, finance, social service and other department heads. The main kitchens also are located on this floor as are the canteen, postoffice, communications, records and similar spaces.

At the north end of the building is the fully automatic modern laundry plant.

The second floor contains more offices, the libraries for the doctors and for the patients, the chapel, music and radio rooms, recreation rooms, and quarters for volunteer service. In addition, there are the laboratories, the dental clinic, the ear, eye, nose and throat clinic, x-ray facilities, the exercise room and others.

Third floor arrangement is typical of those of the fourth and fifth floors, which are largely for patient purposes. With the exception of five rooms on the first floor for emergency patients and four on the second floor of critical-ly ill patients, and the psychiatry space on the sixth, all beds in the hospital are on these floors. One, not subject to inspection, contains the surgical rooms.

IT'S ALL YOURS—Louie G. Bradley, left, extends best wishes to Dr. L. B. Andrews, manager, as the six-million dollar hospital here passed from the U. S. Corps of Engineers to the Veterans Administration, Bradley, as project engineer, had supervised the entire building program for the construction agency. Dr. Andrews will be in charge of the hospital for the Veterans Administration, the operating agency. The transfer became effective May 1 (Monday) with signing of papers by Bradley and Dr. Andrews. (Culver Photo.)

Members of the hospital staff will be on duty to assist the public in its inspection of the quarters, Dr. Andrews pointed out. It is possible that a complete examination of the plant will be possible at time of dedication. This has been set tentatively for July 10, but is subject to actual designation by the VA in Washington.

FIGURING IT OUT UP TO A QUARTER

HAMILTON, O., May 6. (U.S.)—A defendant brought before Butler County Common Pleas court was ordered by Judge Fred B. Cramer to make out an itemized account of his earnings and living expenses.

After a few minutes' figuring he handed over a sheet showing earnings of $47 a week, expenses of $48.75.

"What do you do with the quarter?" the court asked.

"That's my personal profit," he replied.

Further inquiry by the judge found the figures were correct to the penny.

Clubwomen Warned For Protesting Judge's Decision

LOS ANGELES, May 6. (U.S.)—Clubwomen who wrote a judge indignant letters about his decision in a divorce and custody case were somewhat chastened today after being summoned by the jurist and warned about their conduct.

"Legally you are all in contempt of court," Superior Judge William R. McKay told the women. "This court does not want to send you to jail, however."

The women protested Judge McKay's decision in depriving Mrs. Florence H. Walton of the custody of her three sons and awarding a divorce to her husband, Delvy T. Walton, a lawyer. Testimony disclosed that detectives found Mrs. Walton nude in a bedroom with Tom Keene, 52, former screen actor, in an adjoining bathroom.

Judge McKay vacated his original decision, expunged all the records and a new trial was set for July 10 on the basis of new evidence submitted to the court by Mrs. Walton.

ABA Director Granted Leave Of Absence

WASHINGTON, May 6. (U.S.)—Charles M. LaFollette, national director of Americans for Democratic Action, has been granted a leave of absence because of ill health.

His doctor has advised him to retire temporarily. ADA said last night. LaFollette is a former Republican congressman from Indiana. He also served with the military government in Germany.

Tot Fatally Hurt

FORT WORTH, May 6. (U.S.)—Lawrence Leon Taylor, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence David Taylor of Oklahoma City, died in a Fort Worth hospital today of head injuries received when he fell from a moving taxicab here last night.

Whitaker Is High, Three Tests Spotted

George P. Livermore, Inc. No. 2 Whitaker, second location south of the discovery well of the Reincke area in southeast Borden county, was picked up the reef at the highest level of any in the vicinity and cored ahead Saturday.

Although practically on a level with direct south and direct east offsets to the discovery, it picked the top at 6,727 on an elevation of 2,380. This gave a datum of minus 4,347, five feet higher than the Livermore No. 1 Whitaker immediately to the north and two feet higher than Livermore No. 1 Heinicke, direct east offset to the discovery. The No. 2 Whitaker was 28 feet high to the discovery Livermore No. 1 Reincke. At latest reports it cored below 6,729. Location is 660 feet out of the southwest corner of section 33-25, H&TC.

Livermore No. 2 Reincke, 660 from the east and 667.35 from the north lines of the southeast quarter of section 33-25, H&TC, tested from bottom of oil string at 6,783 in open hole to total depth at 6,817 feet. Flowing naturally through half-inch choke, it returned 425 barrels in 11 hours, or at the rate of 38.6 barrels per hour. It was not known if the hole would be washed with acid, a procedure which quadrupled production in the first Reincke well. Top of pay was 5,723 feet, which was 28 feet high to the discovery. Operators eased off the top 70 feet of the reef, presumably to get away from too high gas-oil ratio. These developments set the stage for announcement of three new locations.

Coden Petroleum Corporation cored its No. 1 J. L. McNeil as a one-location east offset to the Livermore No. 2 Reincke. This venture will be 330 from the south and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 33-25, H&TC. This puts it six miles north of Vincent. Stated depth is 7,500 feet. Woodcock-Welshell of Corsicana cored a mile and a half south and slightly east stepout to the North Vincent (Reincke) Canyon pool. It will be the No. 1 H. Schilling and will be 467 from the north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 44-25, H&TC. It is to start immediately.

Livermore staked his No. 1 Holly as a diagonal northwest offset to the discovery and as a north offset to Heyzer & Heard No. 1 Holly, which completed for 1,696 barrels although hitting the reef 62 feet low to the discovery Livermore No. 1 Holly will be 550 feet from the south and 660 feet from the east lines of the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 52-25, H&TC. It will start immediately.

Coden No. 1-A A. L. Holly, a diagonal southwest offset to the discovery drilled to 2,390 feet in southeast quarter of section 52. Castleman & O'Neill No. 1-B Griffin, in the northwest corner of the southeast quarter of section 51-25, H&TC, second location south of the C&O No. 1 Griffin which extended the North Vincent pool a mile and a quarter to the west, was below 6,696 feet. Rutherford No. 1-B Griffin, diagonal northeast offset to the extender and in the southeast corner of section 50-25, H&TC, passed 5,398. Rutherford No. 1 Holly, a west offset to the Coden No. 1 Holly, was below 2,335 feet. Fair & Woodward No. 1 Griffin, two miles south of the extender and 660 feet out of the southeast corner of the southwest quarter of section 46-25, H&TC, was below 5,488 feet.

Barnsdall Offset Progresses, South Wildcat Located

Barnsdall No. 2 Wilson, west offset to the discovery of the Wilson pool on the Howard-Borden line, passed 6,520 feet in sand and shale Saturday. Location is 1,900 from the east and 660 from the north lines of section 16-27, H&TC. A north offset, Thewater No. 1 Morgan Coates was at 5,530 feet following circulation trouble. This test is 660 feet out of the southeast corner of section 13-27, H&TC.

George Brown of Houston Friday staked his No. 1 Lloyd Branon as a two-mile south stepout to the Wilson area. This exploration will be 660 feet from the south and west lines of section 18-27, H&TC. Projected depth is 8,000 feet. The discovery Barnsdall No. 1 Wilson proceeds from 7,429-52 and is rated at 1,664 barrels per day from the reef.

Vealmoor Tempo Is On Increase

A northwest stepout was announced along with an inside location in the Vealmoor pool at the end of the week, and one test was in process of completion.

Castleman & O'Neill, the operators who had extended the Reincke pool a mile and a quarter westward in southeast Borden, announced location for their No. 1 L. D. Rodgers. It will be in the center of the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 29-32-3n, T&P. This puts it two and three quarters miles east of the abandoned Amer No. 1 Rodgers in section 25, and four miles east and slightly north of production in the Vealmoor pool. It is also about six miles northwest of the recently discovered Wilson pool on the central Howard-Borden line.

Seaboard No. 11 Zant, 660 from the east and 1,884 from the north lines of section 28-32-3n, T&P, was bottomed at 7,826 feet and was running a Schlumberger survey. Seaboard No. 12 Zant was staked 810 feet from the east and 2,046 from the south lines of section 28 as a 2,000-foot venture. It is a south offset to the No. 11 Zant.

Seaboard No. 1 S. L. Lockhart, 660 from the south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 34-32-3n, T&P, on the southeast edge of the pool, made trip at 7,800 feet.

Scurry Finals Two As Pair Scheduled

Magnolia Petroleum Company has staked two Canyon explorations in the Kelley-Snyder field in Central Scurry County.

Magnolia No. 4 Dink Lyons will be two and one-half miles north-west of Snyder, and 467 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 250, block 97, H&TC survey.

Magnolia No. 5 A. J. Logan will be three miles northeast of Snyder and 660 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 295, block 97, H&TC survey.

Stated depths for both ventures are calculated to tap the Canyon at approximately 6,900 feet.

The Texas company has potential two wells on the Scurry County side of the Cogdell-Canyon pool.

Texas No. 8 Fuller, a north offset to the Castleman & O'Neill No. 1 Feldman & Pardo, potential for 439 barrels of 37.2 gravity oil in 24 hours. No water was developed and flow was through a 24-64th-inch choke.

The ray some of the No. 8 Fuller was washed with 300 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 1,230-1. Pay was 1,980 from the east and 660 from the north lines of section 27-32-3n, T&P, northeast outcrop, was below 5,993 feet in shale and sand, was topped at 6,764 feet, and total depth is 6,914 feet. Five and one-half inch casing is set at 6,823 feet.

The No. 8 Fuller is 2,184 feet from north and 667 feet from west lines of section 251, block 97, H&TC survey.

Texas No. 7 Fuller, west offset to the Castleman & O'Neill Cogdell extension, flowed after a 900 gallon acid washing, for 406 barrels of 37.9-gravity oil and no water in 24 hours.

Flow was through a 24-64th-inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 1,110-1. Pay was topped at 6,335 feet, and total depth at 6,599 feet. Five and one-half inch casing is set at 6,335 feet.

The No. 7 Fuller is 2,184 feet from north and 467 feet from east

Completion Due In Good Pool

One well was in process of completing in the Good pool out southwest Borden county at the end of the week.

Seaboard & Pan-American No. 16 Good, 1,902 feet from the west and 660 from the south lines of section 36-33-4n, T&P, on the northwest edge, was bottomed at 7,322. Tubing was being run for completion.

Seaboard & Pan-American No. 14 Good, in section 37 and on the east side of the pool, progressed to 6,835 feet. Seaboard & Pan-American No. 17 Good, a south edge in the northeast corner of the north west quarter of section 46-33-4n, T&P, was at 5,104 feet.

Condon No. 4-38 Good, C SW SE section 28-33-3n, T&P, had drill pipe stuck at 4,112 feet.

Seaboard No. 1-A Porter, north and slightly east offset to the operators' discovery No. 1 Hanks, North Vealmoor pool, was reported drilling at 5,739 feet. Location is 797 from the west and 721 from the south lines of section 15-32-3n, T&P.

Location Staked For Benedum Pair

Two new explorations have staked in the Benedum multi-pool which straddles the Upton-Reagan County line.

Plymouth Oil Company, Shell Oil Company and Fred Turner, Jr. of Midland No. 1-B Dixon will be 660 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 3, C. Wendle survey, on the southeast side of the field.

The No. 1-B Dixon, slated to go to 12,500 feet to test all pay down to and including the Ellenburger, has set surface casing at 324 feet and was last reported waiting on cement.

Plymouth No. 1-1280 1/4 H. F. Neal, also slated to test to the Ellenburger, will be a southwest stepout from production.

The No. 1 Neal will be 660 feet from south and east lines of extreme east 202.4 acres of L. M. Lee survey No. 1280 1/4.

Norfit Completes Sterling Producer

Norfit Petroleum Co. No. 1 Durham, 1,690 from the west and 230 from the south lines of section 18-12-3P, two miles south of Sterling City, was finished for 26 barrels of 38-gravity oil.

The shallow test in the Durham pool, pumped 24 hours, natural. Top of pay was 1,440 and total depth was 1,518 feet.

In the Clark-San Andrew field 32 miles west of Water Valley, location was staked for York & Harper & Gibbons No. 18 Clark, 230 feet from the north and 3,252 from the west line of section 11-A, RR Wade. The operators prepared to plug their No. 15 Clark in the same section at 1,660 feet. It had no pay.

Kent Exploration Tops Ellenburger

Goff and Sutton No. 1 Fleming Foundation, Southeast Kent County wildcat, 26 miles northeast of Snyder, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 53, block K. T. A. Thomson survey topped the Ellenburger at 7,396 feet, which gave it a datum of minus 5,168 feet.

It had progressed to 7,235 feet and was making more hole. Operators probably will run a drillstem test on the Ellenburger early in the week.

Up to now this prospect has not encountered any possibilities of oil or gas production.

Clear Fork Test In Ector Is Abandoned

Davis, McDaniel & Beecher of Dallas No. 1 W. L. Bradley, wildcat in South-Central Ector County has been plugged and abandoned in the Clear Fork of the Permian at 7,166 feet.

No possibilities of production were logged in the Clear Fork; however, 78 feet of slightly oil and gas cap mud were recovered on a drillstem test at 4,174-4,227 feet in the Tubbs zone.

This failure is 3,188.3 feet from north and 2,136 feet from west lines of section 18, block 43, T-3-S, T&P survey, and seven miles southeast of Penwell.

Forest To Drill Midland Wildcat

MIDLAND, Tex., May 6—Forest Oil Corporation and associates are to start drilling by June 1 on their No. 1 Pio Crespi, which is to be an 8,000-foot wildcat in North-Central Midland County, to test the Spraberry sand of the lower Permian.

The prospector will be eight miles southeast of the city of Midland, and 660 feet from north and 1,360 feet from west lines of section 17, block 38, TP survey T-3-S.

It is on a solid block of 5,829.80 acres which was assembled by Robert S. Brennan, Jr., of Midland. He turned an interest in the block to Forest to drill the well.

James A. Patman of Dallas has also acquired an interest in the deal. Brennan retains a substantial interest in the project and in the spread of leases.

The Forest and associates No. 1 Crespi is one and one-half miles northwest of Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Buchanan, first commercial oil well completed in Midland county.

That exploration was completed in July 1945 as a 2 per cent barrel producer from the Strawn lime from pay at 10,330-290 feet. It pumped oil and water until it was plugged and abandoned in July 1947, when the production had declined to less than 15 barrels of oil per day, with considerable water. That well was designated as the discovery of the Midland field.

The new wildcat is six miles northwest of the nearest completed producers from the Spraberry sand in the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County.

Another Spraberry Producer Is Added

Seaboard No. 4-D Robinson has been completed for another producer in the Spraberry deep area of southeast Dawson.

Calculated 24-hour potential was 408 barrels of oil. This was based on flow of 102.8 barrels of fluid, cut 2 per cent basic sediment, in six hours through three-eighths inch choke. The well is located 660 from the south and 1,740 from the east lines of section 37-34-6n, T&P.

Seaboard No. 1-D A Jeter, in the southeast quarter of section 36-34-5n, T&P, drilled at 7,295 feet in lime and black shale. Seaboard No. 5-D Lee, northeast quarter of section 47, drilled to 6,633 feet in lime. Seaboard No. 8-D Spraberry in the southeast quarter of section 37, drilled past 5,190 feet, and No. 1-D Woodward, northeast quarter of section 47, was reported below 5,221 feet in lime.

Borden Wildcat

Armeche No. 1 Johnson, section 45-32-5n, T&P, six miles north of the Good pool of southwest Borden county, drilled ahead at the end of the week at 6,410 feet. Earlier in the week it recovered only 35 feet of mud on a drillstem test from 5,965-6,015 feet along with a slight blow.

Magnolia Opens Lynn Reef Pool

Magnolia Petroleum Company has opened a new Pennsylvanian lime oil field at its No. 1 Garza Land & Cattle Company, Southeast Lynn County wildcat, 14 miles east of O'Donnell.

This prospector flowed 14.25 barrels of 41-gravity oil, and no formation water in 60 minutes, naturally, to a drillstem test at 8,585-8,630 feet.

Operator representatives have not announced whether the well will be completed for this pay, or drilled deeper. It started out under a contract to dig to about 19,000 feet to test the Ellenburger.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of the southeast quarter of section 431, block 9, EL&RH survey.

The oil flow came during the last 60 minutes of a drillstem test at 8,585-8,630 feet. Gas showed at the surface in eight minutes; mud out oil started flowing at the top in one hour and 47 minutes; no oil flowed at the surface in one hour and 50 minutes.

The oil was flowed in pits for 28 minutes to clean and then turned to tanks for one hour and made the 14.25 barrel flow.

The oil had a shakeout of four-tenths of one per cent basic sediment.

Operator has not officially decided what the age of the formation is. Top of the pay is at 8,615 feet. Electric log surveys were being run at last report.

Depleted Well To Seek Canyon Pay

Cities Service Oil company will re-enter a depleted well in the Sharon Ridge 1700 field in south-west Scurry county and deepen it to test the Canyon zone in that area.

Cities Service No. 1-B Taylor, located 330 feet from north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 133, block 97, H&TC survey and one mile northwest of the town of Ira, will be deepened to approximately 7,500 feet.

R-Y Oil company drilled the No. 1 Taylor to a total depth of 7,176 feet in 1948, and completed it for a pumping potential of 87.5 barrels of oil daily.

The well originally was started by Johns Robinson as his No. 1 Taylor in 1947. R-Y completed it and put it on production.

The well has become depleted from the shallow pay, and Cities Service has taken over and will deepen it to the Canyon and possibly deeper.

Operations are to begin immediately.

Ellenburger Zone Barren In Nolan

Michaels No. 1 Farrar, wildcat in Central-West Nolan County, has recovered no shows on a drillstem test in the Ellenburger at 7,354-7,450 feet.

The tool was open two and one-half hours. A slight blow of air lasted two hours and nine minutes, then died. Recovery was 150 feet of drilling mud.

Operators were reported drilling ahead below 7,450 feet.

The No. 1 Farrar topped the Ellenburger dolomite at 7,396 feet, on a minus datum of 4,713 feet.

No possibilities of production have been logged in any section thus far drilled.

Drillate is 660 feet from south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 196, block 1-A, H&TC survey, and four miles northwest of Maryeal.

So Big—So Good—So Beautiful!

Dollar for Dollar—you can't beat a PONTIAC!

COME IN AND SEE FOR YOURSELF!

MARVIN WOOD PONTIAC
Big Spring, Texas

America's Lowest-Priced Straight Eight
Lowest-Priced Car with GM Hydro-Matic Drive
Power-Packed Silver Streak Engines—Choice of Six or Eight World Renowned Road Record for Economy and Long Life
The Most Beautiful Thing on Wheels

Naturally we like to hear people talking about Pontiac's new low price—Pontiac value is something to talk about. But it gives us even more pleasure to tell a new car buyer the full story of Pontiac's all-around goodness—goodness which is far beyond Pontiac's modest price.

There's nothing better than Pontiac for beauty—Pontiac is the most beautiful thing on wheels! Nothing will give you more satisfying performance than either one of Pontiac's famous, power-packed Silver Streak engines. And no car has a better road record for dependability and economy.

Today's Pontiacs are so big—so good—so beautiful that they create a completely new idea of what your new car dollars can buy. Dollar for dollar, you can't beat a Pontiac.

Program Is Mapped For 'Feeders Day'

A complete five-hour program has been mapped for the "Feeders Day" event scheduled for Tuesday at the Big Spring experiment farm. F. E. Keating, superintendent, announced Saturday.

The event, which will be one of the largest of its kind ever held here, will be sponsored by the Big Spring Kiwanis club. Several authorities in the field of animal husbandry and feeding are due to participate in the day's activities.

The program will open at 10 a. m. and continue until 3 p. m. During those hours ranchers, farmers, business men and women, 4-H club and FFA units and members of veterans vocational classes are invited to visit the experiment farm.

The program, which will emphasize feeding of West Texas grown feeds to West Texas livestock, will be tied closely to a study of 48 range steers which are completing an experimental feeding period of 180 days. The experiment is part of a series underway for several years at the experiment farm here to determine what effect, if any, feeds ordinarily used in the Big Spring area have on the incidence of urinary calculi.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture cooperate in the experiments.

From 10 a. m. to noon visitors will make a general inspection of the station and experimental cattle and then discuss results of the feeding tests.

The Kiwanis club will serve lunch at the station during the noon hour.

During the afternoon program, George White, member of the Kiwanis club agricultural committee, will give the welcome address, and Keating will discuss feed crop varieties for this area.

Following an introduction of visitors from the Texas A&M college and extension service, W. L. Stangel, dean of the Texas Tech department of agriculture, will discuss feeding problems in West Texas. Cattle feeding tests at the station here will be reviewed by J. M. Jones of Texas A&M, while this year's results here and at other stations of the extension service will be discussed by J. H. Jones of Texas A&M, Durward Lewter, Howard County farm agent, will discuss local feed and livestock programs.

Other authorities in the animal husbandry field who are expected here for the program are D. W. Williams, vice-chancellor of agriculture at Texas A&M; R. T. Clark, of the beef and cattle division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture; R. E. Patterson, assistant director of the Texas A&M experiment station; J. D. Frewitt, vice-director of the extension service; J. C. Miller, head of the Texas A&M department of animal husbandry; A. L. Smith, extension service livestock specialist; and George W. Barnes, district extension agent from Fort Stockton.

Animals fed in the tests now being completed at the local station will be graded and evaluated Monday by George Shepherd, Fort Worth, manager of the Texas Livestock Marketing Association.

3 American Babies Die In Germany Of Virus Diarrhea

NUERNBERG, Germany, May 6. (AP)—Three American babies, two the children of Texans, have died since Tuesday in an outbreak of virus diarrhea at the American Army hospital here, military officials reported today. Three others are reported seriously ill.

The obstetrical and pediatric departments of the hospital have been closed temporarily in an effort to control the outbreak, officials said.

The Army identified the dead infants as:

- A daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Gerald A. Beaver of Queen City, Tex.
- A son of Lt. and Mrs. Novell H. Moss of Fulton, Ky.
- A son of Sgt. and Mrs. Cecil T. Fisher of Brownfield, Tex.

British Chemists May Have A New 'Wonder Drug'

LONDON, May 6. (AP)—A group of British chemists say they have discovered a drug which may cure the common cold overnight. And six researchers who tried the compound said it stopped their sniffles.

Despite personal tests by its developers, the drug—called CF9—still must be proved clinically before the public gets it.

Announcement of the discovery was made in the House of Commons by Conservative Member P. J. Erroll, who said the drug "may prove more important than penicillin."

The compound was developed during a three-year search for a new cancer treatment. CF9 may possibly be used, said the scientists, in treating such virus diseases as influenza, measles, scarlet fever, smallpox, and infantile paralysis.

Second Half Of T&P Training To Open Here Monday

Second half of the T&P Railroad company's supervisory training program covering "Human Relations" will open for 18 local T&P supervisors here Monday.

It will be the second group to take the course, 16 members of the Big Spring T&P staff having taken the training last week. Instruction is by representatives of Texas A&M college and the State Board of Vocational Education, led by Bass Hoyer of A&M.

"Human Relations" is unit No. 2 of the T&P's system-wide supervisory training program. Unit No. 1 "Analyzing Supervisors," was given last year.

Emphasis is placed on the application of good human relations to everyday railroad problems, Hoyer said.

Airlines Innocent Of Negligence In Mt. Carmel Crash

SCRANTON, Pa., May 6. (AP)—A federal court jury today found United Airlines innocent of negligence in the Mt. Carmel, Pa., plane crash that killed Earl Carroll and 41 other persons.

Mrs. Jessie I. Schuyler, executrix of the estate of the Broadway and Hollywood producer, had sought $2,000,000 damages as a result of the crash June 17, 1948.

The jury reached its acquittal verdict last night but the sealed decision was not opened until this morning.

Mrs. Schuyler said that Carroll had a life expectancy of 16 years at the time of his death and that had he lived, he would have earned slightly more than $2,000,000 during that time. He was 57 when he died.

The prosecution sought to prove that there was a fire aboard the DC-6 before it hit a wire and disintegrated in the air. The charge was that the alleged fire was not killed properly in the air.

Killed along with Carroll in the crash was Beryl Wallace, film star. Suit brought against the airline by her estate still is pending.

Counsel for Mrs. Schuyler indicated in advance of the verdict that if the airline were found innocent, he would appeal.

ATTORNEY CONCLUDES Americans Know U. S. History Well

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A lot more people than you might think are surprisingly well informed about and interested in American history.

That's the conclusion of Attorney Arthur Littleton. He was the victim of a reporter's embarrassing mistake that brought to light the widespread interest in one incident, and brought him a basket-full of mail.

Littleton is Chancellor of the Philadelphia Bar Association. Recently in a luncheon speech he detailed the origin of the phrase "Philadelphia lawyer" as it is used to describe an attorney or person who is very astute, resourceful.

Quite correctly, Littleton said in the speech that the appellation was earned by Attorney Andrew Hamilton of Philadelphia who was counsel for John Peter Zenger in a famous New York libel suit in 1735.

Zenger, a pioneer printer and newspaper publisher, had declined to accept official censorship of his government exposes, and was arrested on charges of seditious libel instituted by the colonial governor. So powerful was the governor, Cosby, that two New York lawyers who sought to defend Zenger were disbarred, which discouraged others from undertaking the defense.

Hamilton accepted the case and by his brilliant work in court earned acquittal for Zenger. To quote Littleton: "Without a shred of law with him he carried on one of the most magnificent defenses ever conducted before a jury."

An Associated Press reporter preparing a new story of Littleton's speech erroneously wrote that Littleton had identified the lawyer as "Alexander" Hamilton. The reporter added that this "Alexander" Hamilton was the first U. S. Secretary of the Treasury.

The story was widely published. And shortly afterwards Littleton began receiving chiding letters from strangers and friends. Correspondents from Maine to Florida, and as far west as Wisconsin and Kansas, wrote to point out that Alexander Hamilton, the first Secretary of Treasury, was not born until 1757—22 years after the Zenger trial.

The letters came from school teachers and pupils, from retired army officers, bankers and lawyers, from relatives and friends.

One girl, a high school pupil, wrote that: "This may come as a shock to you, but Andrew Hamil-

Truman Tour Off On Nine-Day Trip Through 16 States

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—President Truman leaves here Sunday afternoon on a nine-day, 6,400 mile, trackside-chat-and-public-opinion tour.

His swing through 16 states to the northwest coast and back started out as something to do with water development.

But the original purpose has been snowed under by plans for daily speeches and more than 50 re-platform hand walvings, capped by a major political rally.

Off-the-cuff remarks at just about every whistle stop along the way is Mr. Truman's favorite stumping trick. That is the system he used to take the nation's political pulse in 1948 when he proved its usefulness by predicting his own election.

On the homeward trip, he will stop off at Chicago for a party rally May 15. The next day, he returns of Washington.

To each correspondent Littleton wrote a letter explaining that the error was not his but that of the reporter. Littleton says that the one inescapable conclusion from the whole correspondence was that a great many persons know the correct version of the Zenger defense, and NOT Alexander, etc."

Why just listen to reasons? COME SEE FOR YOURSELF!

THIS TIME we'd like to tell you about something that you cannot see in this picture—something, in fact, you cannot know about from looking at someone else in a passing Buick—or from viewing a Buick on our showroom floor.

It's the feel you get from a Buick in motion. You are going to find out that it is something like traveling on your own private, jet-propelled cloud—only firmer.

Maybe you know a stretch of washboard road, where you have to slow down, or bounce and jitter.

Try that in a Buick and see how you keep a level, comfortable boulevard smoothness. Maybe you're always on edge to dodge dips and chuckholes. Those also lose most of their jolt when you're at the wheel of a Buick—or in the rear seat.

In a few simple words—the ride of any Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—is out of this world.

We could give you a lot of reasons. Soft coil springs on all four wheels, for example—the firm linkage of the torque-tube drive—the distribution of weight—big soft tires on wide rims—the way Buick engines are mounted.

Even Dynaflo Drive*—always silk-smooth and free of geared-drive harshness—plays its part in the marvelous Buick ride.

But why simply listen to reasons? Experience is still the best teacher.

Come see for yourself why the Buick ride is called "matchless"—and how little it costs to replace a jitterbuggy with one of these level-striding honeys.

Only BUICK has Dynaflo* and with it goes:

BUSHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power to three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PRIVILEGE STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD fender, super-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SEAT, less over-all length for easier parking and maneuvering, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the rails • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springs, safety-side steel, low-pressure tires, ride-adjusting torque tubes • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with body by Fisher.

Old Trustees Can Not Hire Teachers

AUSTIN, May 6, (AP)—Hiring of teachers by an old board of school trustees in the absence of three newly elected trustees was declared invalid today by the attorney general.

The ruling applied to a situation in Angelina County. One of the county's rural high school districts held a trustee election April 1, and three new members were elected. On April 4, five of the members of the old board met and signed a contract. The three new trustees' contracts employing teachers for the school year were not yet qualified and taken the oath of office. Assistant Attorney General Chester E. Olson, author of the opinion, quoted a school law providing that "no contract may be signed by the trustees . . . until the newly elected trustees or trustees have qualified and taken the oath of office."

County Attorney James H. Moore of Angelina County requested the opinion.

Terminal Head Dies

DALLAS, May 6, (AP)—C. L. Bakke, vice-president and general manager of the Dallas Union Terminal, died Friday in Santa Fe Hospital, Temple.

WITHIN THE CITY LIMITS

Local Population Should Be Over 17,500, Goldman Says

Big Spring's population will total "slightly more than 17,500" when official results of the 1950 census are announced by the Bureau of Census, Sam Goldman, county census supervisor indicated Saturday.

With the 1950 nose count 99 per cent complete in Howard county, a total of 17,500 have been counted living inside the city limits, Goldman said. Population of the entire county was set at "around 27,000 persons."

Some 21,000 were found living in "greater Big Spring," the area covered by the city proper and residential districts just outside the city limits, the county supervisor reported.

Unofficial results of the census were slightly lower than that indicated by estimates based on the number of utilities connections, largely due to fewer residents per dwelling unit than had been expected, Goldman stated.

Estimates had ranged the city's population from 15,500 to more than 22,000.

"The actual average is only 3.1 person per living unit instead of the 2.5 which was used in pre-census forecasts," he explained. Per unit average in the rural areas of Howard county is 3.3 persons.

Breakdown of the county-wide count according to towns and communities gave Coahoma a population total of 803, an increase of approximately 40 per cent over the 1940 total of 574.

Elbow community accounted for 300 of the county's residents, while 382 live in Sand Springs, Goldman indicated. Foran has 270, Lomax, 183, and Cauble, 156.

The Knott population was not tabulated because census folios were sent to Lubbock regional office before the break-down was made, the county supervisor said.

Heaviest populated suburban area of Big Spring was the section immediately west of the city limits with a total of 1,700 residents. Some 550 were found living south and east of the city limits while 883 were counted immediately north of the city. Population at the Texas State hospital here is 602, Goldman reported.

The Latin-American quarter was found to be the most densely populated within the city with the average number living in each dwelling unit around 5.8. There are a total of 3,300 living in the Latin-American section.

Big Spring's 1940 population was 12,604 while 20,900 lived in the county then.

Goldman estimated that approximately 100 persons had been missed by enumerators when the appeal was made for them to contact the supervisor in order to be included in the 1950 count.

In answering the request, some 75 persons found that they had already been counted with names having been turned in by other members of the family.

However, persons who still think they have been missed should contact Goldman, phone 970, prior to Tuesday night. Complete returns of the Howard county enumeration are to be forwarded to the regional office in Lubbock Wednesday, the supervisor warned.

Goldman lauded Howard county's 24 census enumerators "for the thoroughly efficient manner in which they covered the area."

He indicated that Big Spring's population might increase slightly when results of the nationwide transient poll are added to the resident total.

Official announcement of the city's 1950 population must come from the Federal Bureau of Census, Goldman emphasized. A semi-official statement may be issued by the regional office within about 30 days.

Ray Tatum Speaks At AB Club Lunch

Ray Tatum, pastor of the Glenwood Baptist church, Amarillo, was the guest speaker when the American Business club held a regular luncheon in the Settles hotel Friday noon. Tatum has been the revival speaker for the local Trinity Baptist church, Marvin Clark, church pastor, introduced the speaker.

Basing his discussion on the Book of Daniel, Tatum told of Nebuchadnezzar's dream, his idea of how it involved the various governments and their rise and fall.

The possibility of Douglas Orme becoming a candidate for the national presidency of the American Business club was discussed. J. W. Purser, local president, announced that the Lubbock club had announced its intentions of supporting Orme if he became a candidate.

Orme reported on the organization of the Portales, New Mexico, club with 24 charter members. Orme installed the club's officers. J. W. Purser presented a report of the club's finances, asking that members bring their dues up to date. He called a board of directors meeting for Tuesday at 7 p. m. in Pete Green's office.

Club guests included: Warren McCannell, Frank Roane, Jim Clark, Dick Mulberry, Bill Morrell, all of Dallas, and Titus Runyan of Big Spring.

South Africa Asks Power To Outlaw Communists

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, May 6, (AP)—South Africa's government has asked parliament for power to outlaw communism and to question, fine or deport suspected subversives. A bill introduced Friday by Justice Minister C. R. Swart would permit drastic restrictions on the activities of suspected violators.

Practices which would be banned by the bill ranged from profession of communism to propagation of foreign ideologies. "Undesirable" aliens could be deported without a trial.

Under the proposed legislation the justice ministry would compile a list of suspected persons. These would be subject to ministry orders.

Outlawed newspaper or organizations would have three months to bring court action against the government's decrees.

Business Indices Rise, But Unemployment Creeps Upward

WASHINGTON—America is getting richer and richer. But still it isn't getting rich fast enough. If it doesn't get rich faster, serious trouble lies ahead somewhere. That's the substance of the conclusions experts draw from the latest monthly report to Congress by the President's Council of Economic Advisers. Nearly all business indices have been rising in recent months, and business prospects look good. So said the President, and so say his economists.

Yet the nation is affected with creeping unemployment. If unemployment keeps on rising indefinitely, any economist will agree that a day of reckoning must come. About the only healthy way to avoid unemployment is to provide more and more jobs. And that's what industry is doing. But it isn't providing new jobs fast enough. Leon Keyserling, acting chairman of the Council, told a reporter: "We are not getting the expansion in industry and investment that we need to absorb the steady increase in the labor force. That is a serious problem."

The total number of employed persons has been rising for the past three months. But the monthly average is still lower than the monthly average for either 1947, 1948 or 1949. In March civilian employment stood at 57,533,000—slightly under the total for March of 1949, which was 57,847,000.

But the labor force keeps growing—the body of persons working or seeking work. It totaled 62,305,000 in March 1949. It was 62,305,000 in March of this year—a gain of 716,000 persons. Unemployment increased from 3,167,000 in March 1948 to 4,123,000 in March of this year—a gain of 956,000. Those figures worry government economists. They, the President and Congress are committed to the principle that America's economic hope lies in full employment. That means creating new jobs fast enough to give work to the ever-growing mass of persons who need it.

In order to do this, according to the economists, the nation's industrial production must increase at the average rate of 2 1/2 to 3 per cent each year. Two per cent of this increase would be to give new jobs to persons who have been displaced in industry because of increased productivity—the ability of industry to turn out more goods per worker as a result of new machines and techniques. That means fewer workers are needed to do a given job.

The other one-half to one per cent of the needed increase in industrial production would be to provide jobs for the new workers who join the labor force each year as the population grows. But in the past year industrial production did not increase. The index of production stood at 184 in March 1949. It was still 184 in March 1948. It has been rising ever since the post-war low of 161 last July but still is not so high as in 1947 or 1948.

Expenditures for new plant and equipment are on their way down, according to the Council. They amounted to $18,120,000,000 this year. The Council estimates that they will be only $18,000,000,000 this year. The annual rate dropped more than $2,000,000,000 between the fourth quarter of 1948 and the first quarter of this year. In the second half of this year the rate will be only $15,440,000,000 says the Council.

What can be done to expand production and bring about this ever-expanding economy? One measure, according to a highly placed economist, might be to increase somehow the volume of small business. For big business is getting bigger all the time and small business proportionately smaller. Another answer might be, he said, to reduce prices (chiefly by reducing the percentage of profits) in order to create greater consumer demand and stimulate greater production.

States Righters Will Push Plans For 1950 Campaign

JACKSON, Miss., May 6. (AP)—Encouraged by election results in Florida and Alabama, States Righters plan to push a campaign for a stronger voice in the 1952 presidential campaign. W. W. Wright, vice chairman of the National States Rights Committee, told a news conference the drive will be concentrated in the South where they will work as Democrats—not as members of a third party.

"Unfortunately, the national party's boast that they don't need the South is true right now," said Wright. "The sentiment of the people is changing." Wright was a member of the Mississippi state delegation that walked out of the 1948 Democratic national convention and later set up the States Rights movement. Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who became the States Rights presidential candidate, gained the 36 electoral votes of South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana.

10-Year Term Given To Franklin Perkins

GAINESVILLE, Tex., May 6. (AP)—Franklin C. Perkins, 20, pleaded guilty Friday to two charges of kidnaping and by agreement received sentences of 10 years in prison in each case. Perkins and Lawrence Edward Byron of Fort Worth made a spectacular break from the Cooke County jail here on April 8. In their flight they kidnaped a taxi driver and later an Era farmer. Perkins was being held on charges of burglarizing a Gainesville gun store when he escaped. He pleaded guilty to this charge, too, and was given a 10-year sentence. Following his escape, Perkins was arrested in Wilmington, Va. Byron surrendered to officers at Fort Worth, where he is being held.

HE WANTS TO WALK—Three-year-old Dickie Dorwart, whose legs have been broken 16 times since he was seven months old, lies happily in his crib in Los Angeles, hoping some day he'll learn to walk. His mother, Mrs. Maurice Dorwart, who is shown with him, hopes to take him to New York where a doctor may be able to stop the disease that causes Dickie's bones to break at the slightest pressure. He has spent most of his life with his legs in traction splints like this. (AP Wirephoto.)

Military Law Now Uniform For All Units

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—President Truman today signed a bill setting up a uniform military law for soldiers, sailors and airmen alike in time of war or peace. Mr. Truman said in a statement that he regards the new code of military justice as "an outstanding example of unification in the armed forces."

The President called it "tangible evidence of the achievements made possible by the teamwork of the Army, the Navy, the Air Force, the Marine Corps and the Coast Guard."

The measure which Mr. Truman said further advances "the democratic ideal of equality before the law" was passed by Congress and sent to the White House April 26. It goes into effect in 1951.

The legislation adjusts differences in the military codes dating back to the separate operation of the Army, Navy, and Air Force. A major provision broadens and expands the appeal procedure. It provides for setting up a military code of appeals to be made up of three civilian judges appointed by the President and approved by the Senate. They will draw salaries of $17,500 a year each. The court will review all cases involving dismissal from the service, long prison terms and heavy fines.

Provisions of the bill permit an enlisted man to demand the privilege of having enlisted men on the court trying his case. It prohibits guilty pleas in cases involving death sentences. Accused persons are guaranteed competent legal counsel who may cross-examine witnesses at a pre-trial investigation of charges.

IS BITTER PILL BITTER?

At Least The Pills Are Prettier Now

Just how bitter is the bitter pill? Quite a bit of controversy has raged as to whether the once bitter pill has been modified in taste and appearance so that it is now more palatable and pleasant to take.

Druggists in Big Spring say that as a rule pills are still awful to take and anyone thinking otherwise should try to "down" some of the newer remedies for colds. The fact that these pills may be taken with milk or other "modifiers" doesn't seem to alter the situation.

Sugar and chocolate coatings are used in the case of children. They taste much the same as candy and eliminate much of the old-fashioned "bitterness." But according to the doctors and others in the know, these pills aren't prescribed for adults because the strength of the medicine is impaired by the candy. Adults have to have stronger stuff!

Another theory forwarded is the fact that pills that taste from bad to horrible to some people will not necessarily taste that way to others. Some persons have great difficulty in swallowing anything whole and like to chew their pills up. Others react in the opposite manner. This probably causes a great deal of confusion for the chemists in deciding the statistical favor between the "chewers" and the "swallowers."

Pills may be purchased in varied forms. The most popular of these is the capsule, where the pill has been pounded into powder, and the regular hard, round pill. The capsule form is supposed: better to take as it is already broken down and can cause a faster reaction in the sufferer.

Whether pills are getting better all the time is still controversial, but the fact is—they surely are prettier.

San Antonio Leads in Store Sales

DALLAS, May 6. (AP)—San Antonio led Texas' other big cities in increased department store sales for the week ended April 29 compared with the similar 1949 week. San Antonio sales were up 13 per cent. Fort Worth posted a 6 per cent increase, Dallas 4 per cent, and Houston sales dropped 1 per cent, the Federal Reserve Bank reported.

Texas-Bred Middleground Kentucky Derby Winner

CHURCHILL DOWNS, Louisville, Ky., May 6. (U.S.)—Middleground, the Texas horse, came with a rush in the stretch today to cop the $100,000 Kentucky Derby. The favored Your Host ran out of the money.

DUPLICATE SIRE'S FEAT—Middleground winner of the Kentucky Derby at Louisville Saturday, is the offspring of Bold Venture, 1936 Derby winner.

The King Ranch colt, ridden by Apprentice Bill Boland smashed down to the wire in a thrilling drive resembling a cavalry charge and completed the mile and one quarter run in the sparkling time of 2:01 3/5 seconds. That is just one-fifth of a second off the track record set when Whirlaway won the Derby in 1941.

Hill Prince, the Virginia horse, came second, about a length and a half back of the winner, with C. V. Whitney's Mr. Trouble third, and Brookmeade Stable's Sunglow fourth.

The 100,000 crowd established the California flyer—Your Host, the top 5 favorite, but he couldn't live up to the confidence. He went out to the front shortly after the break from the gate, and sailed past the finish the first time in front of the packed stands with the others chasing along in pursuit.

Then Hill Prince, ridden by Eddie Arcaro, and Middleground took aim down the stretch. Boland had more horse, and the Texas-bred Middleground scooted home the winner, as the pace setters faded.

EZELL FLOURNOY IN FINALS OF MIDLAND LINKS TOURNEY

MIDLAND, May 6. — Gloria Strom Ezell and Mrs. Sybil Flournoy, both of Midland, advanced into the finals of the annual Midland women's invitational golf tournament here Saturday.

Mrs. Ezell, who grew up in Big Spring, trounced Mrs. Guyett Hobbs of Hobbs, N. M. in her semifinal match, 1 and 1. Mrs. Flournoy, who shot an ace in her quarterfinal match Friday, edged Mrs. Betty London of Brownwood in the semifinals, one up.

Kress Paces Hitters in East Texas Loop

LONGVIEW, May 6. (U.S.)—Kress of Marshall paces the East Texas League in batting averages re-leaded today by Statistician Cecil Burdick.

Through games of April 29, Kress has gotten 18 hits in 39 trips to the plate for a mark of .462. Nelms of Kilgore was second with .441.

Pate of Henderson, was top leading pitcher with a 3-0 record. Marshall topped in club batting with .294 and Henderson in club field with .961.

Jersey Rookie Paces Oilers To 8-3 Win

Big Al Sokolowski, a New Jersey rookie, handcuffed the Big Spring Oilers with seven hits to lead the Odessa Oilers to an impressive 8-3 victory before a paid turnout of 1235 fans here Saturday night.

In notching his fifth win against no defeats in league competition, the righthander bested the Big Spring ace, Bert Garcia, in a pitcher's duel. It was Garcia's first reveal. He has won four.

The triumph put the Oilers three games ahead of the Steeds, who are now fighting a battle to remain in second place in the standings.

Odessa registered three runs in the first frame and never trailed. Hits by Eloy Barrera and Les Palmer, sandwiched around an error by Gabe Castinada in right field, produced the first run. Then Garcia got shaky and walked three men in a row to force in two more tallies.

In the sixth the Oilers broke the game wide open on a three-run homer by Palmer and Leo Eastham's round-tripper with the sacks deserted.

Manny Junco and Julio Delatorre hit four masters for the Steeds, but by then it didn't matter.

Odessa Bronchos Win AA Track, Field Meet

Brady, Rising Star Champs

AUSTIN, May 6. (U.S.)—Odessa nosed out Ball High of Galveston, 57-55, here today to take the Conference AA team championship in the 40th annual Texas Interscholastic league track meet.

Rising Star beat out White Deer, 30-30, for the Conference B championship and Brady ran away with the Conference A title.

Brady racked up 72 1/2 points to Brenham's 44. Cleveland was third with 30 points.

Third in Class AA was Beaumont with 52 points.

Eighteen division records were broken and a conference and state record tied in the two-day meet.

Ball High of Galveston, with a mile relay team of Neil Goodman, Bill Erhard, Clifford Quinn and Jerry Boyd came from behind to win in 3:26.9 and break the Conference AA record of 3:28.9 set in yesterday's preliminaries by Amarillo.

Amarillo placed third in the final today behind second place Beaumont.

Rising Star shattered its own record of 3:34 set last year by turning in a time of 3:33.0 this year. Members of this year's record-breaking team were Don Criswell, Ray Edmiston, Franklin Gibson and Donald Turner.

JORDAN SECOND

Potato Pascual Batting Leader

Carlos (Potato) Pascual of Big Spring has replaced Roswell's Tom Jordan as the top hitter in the Longhorn league through games of Tuesday, May 2.

Pascual, although his average nosedived 38 percentage points during the week, has compiled a .438 average for the three weeks of league play.

Jordan, who led the loop with a .478 mark last week, plummeted to .434 to rank second among the regulars.

Jordan maintained his league in most base hits with 33. Bob Crues of San Angelo easily holds the lead in home-runs with eight.

Bill Clearley of Odessa again leads in RBI's with 28.

In club batting, the Big Spring Broncos assumed the lead with a healthy .328 mark, getting 189 hits in 577 trips to the plate. Roswell, last week's leader, is second with .318.

Lloyd Angella, Sweetwater, tops the league pitchers in earned-run averages, having permitted but three in 20 innings for a 1.35 mark.

Bert Garcia of Big Spring and Al Sokolowski of Odessa have each won four decisions and lost none.

Yanks Divide Two With Tribe

NEW YORK, May 6. (U.S.)—Tommy Henrich smacked two doubles and a home run today to help the New York Yankees defeat Cleveland, 7-4, and earn a split in their doubleheader. The Indians, bolstered by Luke Easter's three-run homer, took the opener, 5-4. Easter also hit a home run in the second game.

Braves Shatter Home Run Record

CINCINNATI, May 6. (U.S.)—The Boston Braves broke the National League record for number of home runs in three consecutive games today as they crushed the Cincinnati Reds again, 15 to 11. Five homers today by the Braves gave them 13 circuit blows in the three games here. The old record of 12 circuit blows in three games was set by the New York Giants in 1947.

New Age Rule To Help Here

Announcement that 19-year-olds would be eligible for Interstate league competition, beginning with the 1951-52 school year, brought smiles to local faces.

Cosch Carl Coleman said that the new rule would enhance the chances of his team considerably that year, and the next.

Coleman is in the midst of a rebuilding program at the school and was counting on a number of youths for those years who would be too old, under present statutes.

Adoption of the 19-year, 10-semester rule and three other regulations by school members was announced Saturday morning at the 40th annual state meeting of league delegates in Austin.

The rule was approved by a vote of 637 to 114. It allows school boys and girls to compete, if they have not reached or passed their nineteenth birthday on the first day of September preceding the contest and if they have not completed the tenth consecutive semester following first enrollment in the eighth grade.

At present, eligibility is limited to students who have not reached 18 on the first day of May preceding the contest and who have not completed the eighth consecutive semester following enrollment in the ninth grade.

Strongly endorsed was a rule aimed at keeping schoolboys out of college athletic try-outs. The vote was 578 to 163 in favor of the proposal which makes ineligible any one who participates in a college athletic practice session or tests to reveal, demonstrate or display athletic ability.

League members approved, 545 to 184, a rule barring competition either as an individual or as a member of an athletic team in an out-of-state athletic contest that has not been approved by the state executive committee. This does not apply to regular scheduled school games arranged by the school officials.

The three eligibility rules take effect in the 1951-52 school year. Restriction of the number of boys' basketball games, effective the coming school year, 1950-51, was authorized by a vote of 617 to 122.

The rule provides that no basketball team shall compete in more than 24 games during the season, exclusive of games allowed in three invitation tournaments and games that count on league standing.

Beeler Second Among Hitters

Jodie Beeler, Lamesa infielder, is tied for second place in hitting among regular players in the W-T-NM league, according to averages released this week.

Including games of last Monday, Beeler was hitting at a .462 clip. The leader was Trabucco of Clovis, with a .491 average. Borger's Littlejohn is deadlocked with Beeler at .462.

Ed Carnett of Borger is trailing at a .437 batting clip. Eight other players in the league are hitting .400 or better.

Borger is leading in team batting with .364, far ahead of second place Albuquerque, which has a collective mark of .328.

Vega, Abilene; Parker, Borger; and Haskins, Lubbock, have each won three pitching decisions.

Two league records were set recently, one by Albuquerque and the other by Abilene.

The Dukes hit six triples against Amarillo May 1 for a new mark. Abilene committed 12 errors against Lubbock April 24 for another record.

Local Fems Win Tourney Prizes

Local merchants suited up gifts for winners in the women's bowling tournament conducted here last week.

Mary Ruth Robertson, leader in singles scratch play with a 203, earned a shirt from Zack's of Margo's. Louise Eason, first in individual play in the handicap division, was awarded cash by the Douglass Coffee shop.

Jewelry, given by the Colonial Beauty Shop, and a gift from Westernman's Drugs went to Fave Johnson and Susi Burrows, first in doubles activity.

Mary Ruth Robertson, first in all-around, with a score of 1824, copped a bowling bag given by the Eason Beauty shop. Second was Jessie Pearl Watson, who earned the privilege of having an automobile serviced at Clark Motor company. Third prize was a ham, given by Furr Food store, and it went to Vera Dozier.

Others who gave prizes for various winners included Nathan's Jewelry store, Estah's, Humble Service station, County Commissioner Earl Hull, Leonard's Pharmacy, A. K. Lebkowky and Handy and Highway Package stores.

Montgomery Wins Over Tech Ace

Bill Montgomery, Big Spring, defeated Harry Orren of Texas Tech as the ACC tennis squad lost to the Raiders in a dual meet held Friday in Abilene, 4-2.

Montgomery's margin of victory was 7-5, 6-4. The Big Spring youth is No. 2 player on the Wildcat net squad.

The ACC squad broke even in four singles matches but lost both doubles matches.

A NEAR SWEEP

Steer Linksmen Lick San Angelo, 24-10

SAN ANGELO, May 6 — Big Spring high school golfers, coached by W. O. Maxwell, Jr., romped to a 24-10 victory over the San Angelo Bobcats here Saturday afternoon.

The Cats were able to win but two singles and one doubles match from the youthful Steers.

Luke Thompson, Big Spring, turned back Benard McIntosh, San Angelo, 3 and 1. James Underwood, Big Spring, edged Larry Brooks, San Angelo, 3 and 1. The Big Spring pair combined to win in doubles, 2 and 1.

Gerald Scott, Big Spring, walloped Jay McIntosh, San Angelo, 3 and 4. Gene Reynolds, Big Spring, lost to Tom Wolf, and Angelo, 3 and 2. The Big Spring two-some lost the team match, one up.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

When Bert Garcia and Felix Gomez prepared to leave Havana to play baseball in the United States this spring, they were instructed by Oscar Rodriguez, manager of the Cubans, to report to Abilene. "No, we want to go to Big Spring," one said. "That's out of the question," countered Rodriguez, "you've got to go to Abilene." "Either we go to Big Spring or we don't go," the pair insisted. "But it will be a promotion. You'll be playing Class C ball," Rodriguez snorted. "We go to Big Spring," the two remained adamant. "All right, go to Big Spring," Rodriguez shouted, "every ball player we ship out wants to go to Big Spring. I think I'll quit here, pack my bags and go out there and see what it's like myself." All of which is a tribute to the ability of Manager Pat Stacey to get along with his help, and the hospitality of the fans in general, who have tried to make the Cuban lads feel at home. Jittery Joe Berry, the Skipper of the Vernon Dusters, was out of professional baseball last year. He spent six years in the Pacific Coast league (with Los Angeles), has been with both the Chicago Cubs and the Philadelphia A's in the big show. In two years with the A's, Berry appeared as a relief pitcher in more than 100 games. When Jittery Joe took the job at Vernon, he brought along three boys from his native Arkansas: Rightfielder Jim King, Second Baseman Art Neal and Curt McElhanney, a pitcher. King, who hits cleanup for the Dusters, is only 18 years of age, by the way. Cotton McCaskey, first sacker for Vernon last season, is out with an injured arm this year.

Umpire Bruce Averill A Newly-Wed

Bruce Averill, who umpired behind the plate at the Vernon-Big Spring game here Tuesday night, had been married only 24 hours previously. Al Valdes, Bronco catcher last year, is now with Lukfin of the Gulf Coast League after opening the campaign with Sherman-Danison. The poor condition of the infield at Steer park is making a lot of players who appear here gunshy. It's hard to keep dirt on the portion of the diamond which has been skinned because of the high winds which prevail in the spring time. The Big Spring Tigers, a local sandlot nine which ordinarily plays but one game a week, have six pitchers on their roster. The Bengals' mound corps was bolstered recently by the addition of three slabmen from Old Mexico. Ynez Yans, manager of the Tigers, says he'll try to book at least three more games this season with Odessa, which has twice taken the locals into camp.

One of the reasons Danny Conception was recalled from the Bronco by Abilene was the loss of Alex Montalvo, a Cuban infielder, injured in a recent game. Montalvo was hurt by a sliding base runner while attempting to complete a double play. All but one of the Class D Far West league clubs are community owned. Half of the Longhorn league outfits (Roswell, San Angelo, Ballinger and Vernon) are similarly operated. The Hollywood Stars and the Seattle Rainiers met 14 times in the first 28 games each played this spring.

Lamesa Lobos Start Off With Bang

One big reason the Longhorn league would like to have Lamesa as a member: The Lobos drew 15,000 paid admissions in a recent 10-night home stand. Those local diamond fans who are lamenting the fact that Abilene recently recalled Danny Conception from Big Spring will get no consolation from the fact that Bert Bess, the rone hurler, signed Danny to a Big Spring contract winter before last. Somehow, in baseball's peculiar dealings, Conception wound up with the Blue Sox.

Tony Fiorito, the ex-Midland infielder, now with Paris of the East Texas League, is having trouble with his throwing arm again. And Buck Austin, who was with Midland last year, has been purchased by Longview. He's a pitcher but played the outfield on occasions against Big Spring. Hugh Fullerton, the AP scribe, noted that a publicized football in a Southwest Conference school dropped out of school recently in order to be eligible next fall, rather than take the chance of failing. We might add that the lad, a West Texan, had a student assigned to him to get him up in the morning but the youngster gave up the job, complaining he himself was missing too many classes. Then Coach Eck Curtis took the job only to admit defeat. The boy simply doesn't want to go to school. Look for Navy to have a much better football team in the fall than at any time in recent years. Eddie Erdelaki, the Milder new coach, likes simple plays, small squads and boys who can play both offense and defense. He plans to carry a squad of only 37 men. Football prospects are looking up at Louisville university in Kentucky, where the color bar recently was ended. Several crackerjack Negro athletes reportedly are headed there.

Dogies To Play Two Engagements

Unless Snyder high school should make a request for a game, the Big Spring high school varsity football team has wrapped up its activities for the 1950 season.

However, Coach Conn Isaacs plans to have his B team play at least two more contests before players check in their uniforms.

The Dogies, victors over Loraine and Odessa in games to date, will play both of those clubs again this week. They play Loraine here Wednesday and then take on Odessa in Odessa the following afternoon.

All of the youngsters playing with the B team will be eligible to play again in 1951.

Broncs And Oilers Tangle Again Today

Pat Stacey's resident Broncs and the Odessa Oilers play the second of their two-game series at Steer Park, starting at 3:00 o'clock this afternoon.

Marty Diaz, who has been with Odessa for the past two seasons, will probably twirl for the Oilers. Elmer Hunt, Eric Bess or Luis Gonzales will toil on the mound for the Cayuses.

Roswell's Rockets arrive in town Monday night for a two-game set. The local fans will be setting their first look at the New Mexico team.

WHAT TO DO — Charles (Chuck) Drazanovich, pictured here as a boxer, is pondering what athletic career to follow after leaving Penn State. He recently won the NCAA heavyweight boxing crown, was a blocking back on the Lion football team and gained fame as a shot-putter on the track team.

Jayhawks Play Coahoma Today

Howard County Junior college's Jayhawks go to Coahoma this afternoon to do battle with the Coahoma Bulldogs in a practice baseball game.

The two teams are members of the Tri-County baseball league but the engagement will not count in the standings. It was arranged only this week by managers of the two teams.

The Hawks will probably field their best aggregation against the Bulldogs. Several regulars who have missed recent games are due to return to the lineup.

A. J. Cain, classy lefthander, will probably twirl for the collegeans.

Lepard Wins Race In 3-Way Meet

Leon Lepard, Big Spring, won first place in the 440-yard race and ran anchor on the winning mile relay team as Abilene Christian college won a triangular track and field meet at Abilene Friday.

The Wildcats scored 73 points. Trinity university of San Antonio was second with 43 points and Texas Tech third with 40.

Lepard ran the 440 in 50.4 seconds, beating his team mate, Pete Ragus.

The ACC mile relay squad, composed of Terry, Ragus, Morlan and Lepard, covered that distance in 3:25.1 to finish ahead of Texas Tech.

Coe, Goldwater In Western Meet Final

DALLAS, May 6. (U.S.)—Charles Coe, Oklahoma City stringbean, took out young Mac Hunter of Los Angeles, 2-up today to advance to the finals of the Western Amateur Golf Tournament.

Hunter made a scrap of it after being four-down at the end of 18 holes. Coming into the 36th, he was only one down. But he three-putted the hole from 15 feet away.

Bob Goldwater of Phoenix, Ariz., defeated Bo Winger of Stillwater, Okla., 2-up in the other semi-final. Goldwater came from behind to win the match, shooting two under par.

Coe and Goldwater will play 36 holes tomorrow to decide the championship.

Hunter had trouble on hole 35 where a spectator kicked his ball from the fairway into the rough. Mac said the referee of the match never came to him and said it happened and that he could replace the ball and that he went ahead.

Coe and Goldwater will play 36 holes tomorrow to decide the championship.

Angelo Infielder Goes To Harlingen

Another familiar face has departed the Longhorn baseball league.

He is Karnest (Red) Cowley, who performed with the San Angelo Colts last season and was being carried on this year's Colt roster.

Cowley has gone to Harlingen of the Valley league, where he joins several ex-Angelo players.

Red's place in the Angelo lineup was taken recently by Tony Guerrero, a Cuban obtained from Odessa recently.

Gintini Is Sold To Baltimore Club

PHILADELPHIA, May 6. (U.S.)—The Philadelphia Athletics announced sale today of Rookie outfielder Ben Gintini to Baltimore of the International League.

The price was not disclosed. Gintini, who had 32 homers with Dallas of the Texas League last year, appeared in only three games for Philadelphia, twice as a pinch hitter. He went to bat four times without a hit.

The sale of Gintini cuts Philadelphia's active player list to 27, two above the American League limit.

Cubs Edge Bums

CHICAGO, May 6. (U.S.)—Preston Ward's line drive single off the right field wall in the 10th gave the Chicago Cubs a 5 to 4 victory over Brooklyn today.

A's Pound Browns

PHILADELPHIA, May 6. (U.S.)—A three run home run in the first by Ferris Fain started the cellar-dwelling Philadelphia Athletics off to a 12 to 4 victory over the St. Louis Browns today.

Car Wreck Kills
Snyder Man At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, May 6.—Van Echols, 20, Snyder, was killed instantly when a car overturned three miles west of here at 12:30 a.m. Saturday.

Three others were injured, one critically, two seriously.

They were James Perry Echols, Jr., 19, who was unconscious and suffering from concussion; Vertie Lee Chandler, Big Spring, who sustained a broken leg and contusions; and Jean Bentley Walden, Big Spring, who sustained severe lacerations about the face, a possible jaw fracture and lost teeth.

James Perry Echols was described as critically hurt. Condition of Vertie Lee Chandler was said to be serious. The three injured persons were under treatment in the Root Hospital here.

Highway Patrolmen Merl Wilson and Eddie Koehne said that the westbound car failed to make a curve west of here. Apparently the machine hit a soft shoulder and rolled over several times. They surmised that Van Echols was in the back seat at the time of the mishap. Others were in no condition to be questioned as to the cause.

Body of Van Echols was carried to Snyder Saturday and rites will be held there in the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon with the Rev. E. K. Sheppard, pastor, officiating. He will be assisted by Rev. C. J. Smith, Dunn. Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Echols, who farm three miles southeast of Snyder; three sisters, Mary Echols, Edith Echols, and Janet Echols; and one brother, John Echols. Burial will be in the Snyder cemetery with Kiker & Son in charge.

Seven Men Enlist In Army, Air Force
During Past Week

Seven men enlisted in the Army and Air Force at the Big Spring Recruiting Main station last week, Col. John F. Taylor, station commander, reported Saturday.

Enlisting in the Army were Ronald C. Daly and Finley S. Ford, Hobbs, N. M.; and Clarence Williams, Brownfield, William W. McDonald, Del Rio; John D. Hager and John E. Ackard, Snyder; and Woody H. Chick, Monahans, joined the Air Force.

Hager and Ackard were both prior service men. Hager served with the 188th Infantry division during World War II, accumulating a total of nearly six years active service. Ackard served with the Navy.

The Army enlistees were sent to Fort Ord, Calif., for basic training and assignment. Air Force personnel went to Lackland Air Force base, San Antonio.

Sam Rayburn's
Brother Dies At
Bonham Saturday

BONHAM, May 6.—Jim Rayburn, 73, brother of Speaker Sam Rayburn, died today.

The Texas congressman, notified Friday his brother's condition had worsened, was en route here and expected tomorrow morning.

Jim Rayburn, a retired rural mail carrier at nearby Dodge City, had never sought public office. He had been ill a number of years but entered a hospital only late last week.

Surviving besides the speaker are his wife, two daughters; three sisters, Mrs. W. A. Thomas of Dallas, Mrs. S. E. Bartley of Bonham, and Miss Lou Rayburn of Bonham, and another brother, Dick Rayburn, a Bonham farmer.

Legislator Urges
Early Water Right
Pact With Mexico

WASHINGTON, May 6.—A Florida legislator has urged in a letter to Secretary of State Acheson an early settlement with Mexico over territorial water rights.

"since extreme hardships are being endured by fishermen of both countries."

Senator Holland (D-Fla.) made public his letter to Acheson. His action was prompted by recent seizure of five United States shrimp boats by the Mexican government.

He said that these boats were held at Tampico, Mexico, for over a week and released only on payment, under protest, of a large fine.

"I understand," he added, "that similar incidents have occurred over the past several years and certainly this sort of thing should not be allowed to continue indefinitely."

Holland asked Acheson for a full report on the negotiations and to be kept advised of all developments.

23 Reds To Moscow

BERLIN, May 6.—The West Berlin newspaper Kurier said today the top men of Soviet East Germany's Communist government have been flown to Moscow to receive "important new decisions" from the Kremlin.

LOCAL ARCHITECT BELIEVES

Competition Forces Owners To Air Condition Buildings

Air conditioning, a factor demanding increasing attention on the part of builders and architects, poses a bigger problem in modernizing old structures than in planning new buildings.

And the problem is likely to grow, particularly in projects involving commercial buildings, as competition in providing service and comfort continues to force business and professional men to air condition stores and offices.

That's the way Olen L. Puckett, local architect, sizes up the future of the heating and cooling business.

In addition to the difficulty encountered in fitting cooling (and heating) equipment into existing structures, contractors are usually faced with increased costs involved in the alteration of buildings to accommodate compressors, blowers, and cooling towers.

"Both cooling and heating for an average-sized residence—about 2,800 square feet of floor space runs to about $2,500 when the house is planned to include the equipment," Puckett estimated. "Installing the same equipment in an old house of the same size costs from $500 to $1,000 more, exclusive of insulation material which runs the total approximately $200 higher."

He indicated the cost for air conditioning larger structures such as hotels and office buildings would be proportionately higher.

Biggest problem faced in air conditioning any existing structure is in finding a place to install necessary equipment, Puckett said. "Most buildings were not constructed with air conditioning in mind; consequently no space is provided for locating cooling units."

For an ordinary residence from 64 to 100 square feet of floor space is needed to set up compressor, cooler, and blower. If a cooling tower is used, space is also needed.

er to install it, either on or water towers, compressors, and blowers," he pointed out.

Air conditioning multi-floor buildings usually requires several units. Cooling equipment is ordinarily installed for each five-foot section with coolers centrally located and distributing conditioned air both above and below the floor on which it is operating.

Ducts for carrying the cooled air from the machine to all parts of the building create an additional worry for air conditioning engineers.

If space permits in old buildings, the ducts are usually hung in corridors with outlets opening into each room or suite. When corridors with outlets opening into ceilings are too low, contractors often have to make extensive alterations in the building simply to distribute the fresh air, the architect said.

Insulation of walls and ceilings are a vital part of efficient air conditioning, Puckett declared. "There's no use in trying to cool or heat the attic of a house or allow conditioned air to escape through uninsulated walls when comparatively inexpensive insulation material can be installed," he said.

The type of air conditioning equipment, gas or electric, is often determined by the type of building in which it is to be installed.

Electrically operated equipment requires less space for installation while the g.-type is more economically operated, the architect said.

Kaiser-Frazier May Locate Assembly
Plant At Houston

HOUSTON, May 6.—Edgar Kaiser, president of Kaiser-Frazier Automobile Company, today said the firm may locate a small assembly plant in Houston.

Kaiser said the proposed Houston plant is part of a program for decentralization of the company's assembly facilities.

It would assemble from 20 to 30 automobiles daily.

Other such plants, he said, would be spotted at strategic points around the country.

Cardin Halts
Possible Major Jail Break

What might have been a major break at the county jail was prevented by Deputy Sheriff Roy Cardin Friday night.

Cardin, anticipating that something was amiss on the upper floor of the jail, inspected the area and discovered a large hole had been sawed through a steel partition near the entrance.

He investigated further and found saw-blades secreted in the bunks of several of the inmates. Five men were confined to the floor.

No charges were filed against any of the five but Cardin moved them to isolated cells downstairs. The hole was cut near the gears opening the door to the cells in such a way that, when a person bent to set the machinery in motion to open the entrance, he could have been clubbed from the inside.

Approximately 15 men are now confined in the jail. Local authorities are conducting an investigation to find out who passed the saw blades to the prisoners.

Truman Interested In Air Pollution

WASHINGTON, May 6.—A technical conference on air pollution was held last night that its deliberations interested President Truman very much.

Assistant Secretary of the Interior C. Girard Davidson said the President planned to give careful consideration to findings of the three-day conference seeking a solution to the pollution problem. The meeting asked Mr. Truman to appoint an advisory council on air pollution, from government, industry, and research and educational institutions to co-ordinate and promote pollution control efforts.

Keese Is Speaker

"We can not pray for daily bread until we have shared the bread we have with others," declared B. M. Keese, guest speaker for the Big Spring United Council of Church Women's May Fellowship Day observance and annual "Welcome Stranger" tea held Friday afternoon in the St. Mary's Episcopal church.

Speaking on the subject, "Our Daily Bread," Keese stated that there were 60,000,000 bread winners in America, a nation which has the highest standard of living in the world, one-third of the world's goods and one-tenth of its population.

Asking the question, "Are We As Christians Taking Our Rightful Places in Economic World Disputes?" Keese said that every person is a member of a total community and that education is a necessity in solving the world's economic condition.

Mrs. W. A. Laswell was the program leader for the day. She presented Mary Jane Hamilton, high school choral director, who directed the school's girls chorus in the presentation of two numbers, "For The Beauty Of The Earth" and "Let Us Break Bread Together."

The group sang "Where Cross The Crowded Ways Of Life," accompanied by Mrs. M. H. Bennett, pianist, and prayed the Lord's Prayer in unison. Mrs. D. T. Evans gave the opening prayer. Mrs. B. Eckhaus gave the benediction.

Following the program, a tea was held in the parish house. The refreshment table was covered with a linen cloth and centered with a May pole arrangement of roses and greenery. Red and white streamers led from the centerpiece to the table edges. Crystal service completed the setting. Mrs. Obie Bristow presided at the punch bowl.

Arrangements of roses were used throughout the tea room.

Mrs. W. D. Lovelace registered some 60 guests.

Farrar Program

Students at the Farrar Pre-School will be presented in their annual dance revue at the Municipal Auditorium Wednesday evening, May 18, at 8:15 o'clock.

The program, "Stars Of Tomorrow," will feature a complete ballet based on the poem, "Come, Little Leaves," by George Cooper. Children acting as leaves will include Susan Zook, Mollie Gannon, Brenda Cooper, Karen Lynn Downing, Rachel Phelan, Jeanette Martin, Cleo Rita Thomas, Winifred Greenleaf, Anne Homan, Linda Kay Limer, Melinda Burr, Kathy Johnson and Deane Mansfield. The wind will be interpreted by Kathleen Thomas; snow will be interpreted by Karen Koger.

Other students participating in a variety of ice, ballet, tap and acrobatic numbers will be Susan Landers, Linda Woodall, Red Schwertzenbach, Billy McDonald, Harold Scott, Linda McNew, Jean Jordan, Ronald Aaron, Jim Burk, Beverly Moore, Marcia Mood, Katarina Hepper, Jerry Younger, Chip Compton, Tommie Ruth Sittion, Sharon Tally, Gay Fancey, Charlie Sullivan, Sara Beth Homan, Richard Clark, Tom Bunch, Judy Jones, Linda Stevens, Lurae Biffar, Curtis Beardi, Meg Jackson, Joe McNamara, Sandy Park, Jackie Bennett, Jane Tamplin, Martha Alice Hardy, Julie Flynn, Shaddean Hobbs, Louise Ann Kling, Katie Bess Morgan, Diane Baker and Beverly Dobbins.

All performers will be appropriately costumed.

Sermon Subjects Given

The Rev. James S. Parks will speak on the subject, "Life's Most Embarrassing Moment," from Matthew 23:23 during morning services at the East Fourth Baptist church Sunday. During the evening, he will be heard on the subject, "What Is Repentance?" from Mark 1:14-15.

Group Observes Founder's Day

Beta Kappa chapter members of Delta Kappa Gamma observed Founder's Day here Saturday at a dinner held at 6:30 p. m. in the Settles hotel. Delta Kappa Gamma is an honorary organization for women teachers which has as its purpose the encouragement of professional growth and unity among its members. Beta Kappa chapter membership is enlisted from Howard, Glasscock, Ector, Martin and Midland counties.

Beta Kappa was organized in 1925 and five of the charter members are still active. They are: Agnes Currie and Letha Amerson, both of Big Spring, and Ida McCown, Pauline Bulsterbaum, and Mrs. R. L. Vickers, all of Odessa.

Forty-five members, eight initiates and five guests were present for Saturday night's dinner.

Delta Kappa Gamma was founded on May 11, 1929, by the late Dr. Annie Webb Blanton and 11 other outstanding women educators in Austin. It is now a national organization with chapters in all 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska and Hawaii. It has 855 chapters and 27,881 members.

Delta Kappa Gamma maintains two national scholarships and a number of state scholarships to encourage further study in its membership. Some one-half dozen states maintain fellowships for foreign teachers as a means of securing a better understanding of the educational problems and policies of other lands.

Scholarships are also provided by Delta Kappa Gamma for prospective teachers. Future Teachers of America, is a junior professional teachers club, which is sponsored in high schools and colleges by Delta Kappa Gamma. Purpose of the club is to attract talents and high IQs.

Married 59 Years

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McDaniels, 466 Rumba, are observing their 59th wedding anniversary quietly at their home today. No special celebration has been planned for the day.

The McDaniels were married on May 7, 1881, near Flies Valley in Hill county. The Rev. J. A. Walker, who was McDaniels' grade school teacher, officiated at the single ring ceremony. Walker was a Presbyterian minister.

Mrs. McDaniels is the former Julia E. Swenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Swenson, who lived some four miles from Itasca. McDaniels' parents were Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. McDaniels, who lived in the same community.

After their marriage, the McDaniels lived near Itasca for some seven years. From there, they moved to Abilene and then to Big Spring. McDaniels was engaged in farming before he went into the hardware business for some 45 years both in Abilene, where the McDaniels children finished high school, and in Big Spring, where he was owner of the Big Spring Hardware. At the present, he sells real estate.

The McDaniels have four sons, Otis McDaniels, Dallas, Boyd J. McDaniels, Abilene, Ollie McDaniels, C. H. McDaniels, Jr., Big Spring, and one daughter, Mrs. J. H. Tompkins of Big Spring.

Joyce Beene Is Cheer Leader

Joyce Beene of Big Spring, a sophomore student, was elected head cheer leader of the Austin College student body for the 1950-51 college year in the recent campus election in which she came in ahead of a large field for cheer leader. Miss Beene is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Beene, 1508 Nolan, and is majoring in education.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rainwater are spending today in Lubbock with their son Charles, who is a student at Texas Technological college. Today is Parents Day at Tech.

Jan Livingston Named Honoree At Shower

Jan Livingston, bride-elect of Tommy Weaver, was honored with a prenuptial shower in the home of Mrs. E. H. Sanders, 500 E. 17th, Friday evening.

Mrs. Kessie Watts served as co-hostess to the affair.

Those in the reception line included the honoree, Miss Livingston, her mother, Mrs. A. E. Livingston, and the hostess, Mrs. Sanders. The bride-to-be was attired in a forest green dotted evening ensemble and a corsage of white lilies.

Janice Cate presided at the guest register. The bride's bouquet was composed of white satin and was marked with a pink ribbon tied with white satin streamers.

The refreshment table was laid with an ivory lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of white center table and white candelabra under an archway of white satin.

Crystal and silver appointments completed the table setting. Mrs. Kessie Watts, Mrs. Tom Buckner, and Toka Williams presided at the refreshment service.

Attending were Mrs. H. M. Jarrett, Mrs. D. P. Day, Mrs. Jack Harmon, Mrs. Dee Purser, Mrs. Elton Gilliland, Dorothy Purser, Mrs. W. I. Anderson, Mrs. Dick Davis, Toka Williams, Marguerite Cooper, Mrs. Monroe Gafford, Mrs. Tom Buckner, Mrs. James A. Parks, Mrs. A. B. Livingston, Mrs. Anita Cate, the hostesses, Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Watts, and the honoree, Miss Livingston.

College Students Marry On Saturday

June Baker became the bride of Paul Deatherage in a single ring ceremony held Saturday at 9 a.m. in the home of the Rev. Alan Bryan.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Baker of Detroit, Mich. Deatherage is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Deatherage of Jamestown, Mo.

Given in marriage by her brother, Harold Baker, the bride wore a white-satin ballerina length dress fashioned with a square neckline and pointed cap sleeves. Her accessories were white shoes, white nylon gloves, a white hat and a red rose corsage.

For something old, she wore a necklace, something borrowed, a bracelet, belonging to the maid of honor, Barbara Beard, something new was her dress, and something blue, flowers on her hat. She wore a penny in her shoe.

Lynn Jeffcoat served as best man.

Others attending the wedding were: Mrs. Alan Bryan and Mrs. W. A. Kennon.

A wedding breakfast was held in the Douglas Coffee shop.

The bride is a graduate of Detroit High school. Deatherage is a graduate of Salem, Mo., High school and served in the Navy for three years with one and one-half years spent in the Pacific.

After a wedding trip to Christoval, the couple will reside in Big Spring. Mr. and Mrs. Deatherage are students at Howard County Junior college.

June Wedding Date Is Announced For Rhoda Miller, James Lemons

The engagement and forthcoming marriage of Rhoda Frances Miller to James Henry Lemons was disclosed at an informal supper party in the Maverick Room of the Hotel Douglas Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Havener, Jr., sister and brother-in-law of the bride-elect, and Jenny Miller served as hosts to the affair.

Nuptial rites will be solemnized for the couple in the First Baptist church Saturday evening, June 3, at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor, will officiate at the double ring informal ceremony.

The bride elect is the daughter of Kyle Miller, Sr., 1711 Johnson. The bridegroom-to-be is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Lemons, 1804 Nolan.

The refreshment tables were arranged in a T-formation. Tall, lighted white tapers interspersed with greenery formed a runner down the table center, which was arranged with a selection of pale blue and white daisies and candy-tuft. Place cards embossed with

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By Mildred Young

President Harry S. Truman is calling Americans to an observance of National Family Week, today through next Sunday, Mother's Day.

The week should stimulate with in all of our hearts, a desire to uphold the power which should belong in the home. As Truman says there is no greater testing ground for an every day practice of democracy.

In the home, the citizens of tomorrow, are given an opportunity to develop personality traits which will be a powerful contribution to a democratic nation.

If the members of our families do not learn the value of friendship, there will be no diplomats. If they do not have love and understanding toward one another, there will be no desire to serve others. If they do not learn to live as free, individual citizens, there will be no American way of life.

Don't guess this situation happened during our recent clean-up week, but we noticed this item from Midland. That city held its Clean-Up Week last week with Be Kind to Animals Week slated for this week.

Here's what happened: Mrs. O. L. Stultz cleaned up her yard on South Fort Worth street all epic and span. She was proud of that clean yard.

But early Thursday morning, she found that someone had left 11 dogs in it. Yes sir, there were 11 hounds of assorted markings in a paste-board box put right in the Stultz yard.

Mrs. Stultz, frantically called the pound man, pointing out that Be Kind to Animals Week had not yet arrived.

Square Dancers Have Regular Meet

Approximately 27 couples attended the Foot and Fiddle and 48ers Square Dance club at the IOOF hall Thursday evening. H. M. Hubbard and his band provided the music.

Callers included Harry King, Lawrence Robinson, Ben LeFever and Gordon Hughes.

Hosts for the affair included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Manuel. Hosts for the next meeting will be Mr. and Mrs. George Anders and Mr. and Mrs. Conny Wade.

DOROTHY PURSER

Wedding Date Set

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Purser, 1504 Runnels, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Faye, to Weston Blaine Mitchell of Sterling City. Mitchell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Mitchell of Sterling City.

Wedding vows will be read in the First Methodist church on Sunday, May 20. The Rev. Alsie H. Carleton, church pastor, will officiate. The double ring ceremony will be informal.

Reinecke Heirs See Production On 'Texas Land'

In 1909 a Texas realty company sold some Texas real estate to a Lutheran minister, William Reinecke, who lived in South Dakota. The "Texas land" became a family joke, but Reinecke never got around to selling this 160-acre tract. At almost any time, had a buyer been handy with cash in hand, this land would have been sold. Nevertheless this fine minister managed to get his six children well educated and out on their own before his death in 1947. This week Mr. and Mrs. William G. Gash of Portland, Indiana came to Texas to see the No. 2 Reinecke well brought in on this property.

Mrs. Bash is the former Clara Reinecke, daughter of the Lutheran minister who kept his "Texas land" and paid taxes on it for 41 years. Martin J. Reinecke, her brother, was also here last weekend.

Mrs. Eloise Duvall, formerly of Abilene, is a new employe. Griff Barnett of Merkel and Barney Lee of Eola were Cosden jobbers visiting in the office during the week. Rube Houston of Bay Spring, Mississippi, with the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company visited our tire department Thursday.

Mrs. Chester Matheny and Mrs. Joe Pickle were in Lubbock Saturday to attend a tea announcing the engagement of their niece, Joan Pickle to John Holmes. The wedding will be in June. Joan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Pickle.

The J. W. Burrells had Mrs. Burrell's nephew and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lejeune Wilson, visiting them most of the week. Wilson is petroleum engineer for the Mene Grande Oil company in Venezuela. He visits our refinery and the oil fields of Scurry county while here.

Neil Rhea McCrary's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCrary of Oakland, Calif., are visitors in Big Spring. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Anderson of Odessa are visiting the Glenn Browns, Huff Peters with Refinery Engineering of Tulsa arrived Friday for a visit with his parents, the Otto Peters, Sr. Mrs. V. A. Whittington and daughter, Sara, are spending the weekend in Fort Worth. Neel Bumgarner and B. T. Bridges are fishing in Devil's Lake at Del Rio this weekend. Neel is taking a week of his vacation to recuperate from pulling in the big ones.

R. W. Thompson attended the director's meeting of the Sharon Ridge Operators association in Colorado City Friday afternoon.

Veta Reed's daughter, Sandy, returned home Friday from the hospital where she had an ear lanced. Rex Baggett of Abilene has been ill and is recovering at home. H. O. Hudgins, M. D. Parkhill, Max Stokes and R. H. Owens have been on the sick list.

R. C. Bennett served on jury duty three days last week.

On vacation are O. O. Craig, A. B. Thornton, Ralph Shanks, A. L. White and W. G. Simpson.

Billie Neill Celebrates Birthday; Mrs. R. B. Mayfield Gives Program

COAHOMA, May 6 (Sp) — Billie Neill celebrated her 12th birthday anniversary in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Linard Kinder. The honoree's mother, Mrs. Henry Neill directed the entertainment and served the refreshments. Those attending were Jimmy Neill, Billy Paul Thomas, Douglas Warren, Molly Ann Neill, Vonna Mae Springfield, Ricky Phinney, Jackie Roberts, Jimmy Hale, Ronald Courson, Ethel Theime, Jane Graham, Jayett Graham, Charlene Williams, Martha Camp, June Tindol, Arlon DeVane, Romel Lee Mays, Jimmy Mays, Tommy Neill, Sue Garrett, Gail Neill, Margaret Neill, Dale Roy Buchanan, Clarence Neill, Mrs. Romy Mays, Leonard Kinder, Mrs. Clifton Neill, Mrs. Emma Neill, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neill and the honoree, Billie Neill.

Mrs. R. B. Mayfield brought the program at the meeting of the Women of the Presbyterian church in the sanctuary Wednesday evening. "With Lighted Minds and Hearts," served as the program topic. Those taking part were Mrs. C. D. Read, Mrs. G. T. Guthrie, Mrs. W. T. Barber, and Mrs. Lavoy Echols. Mrs. C. D. Read and Mrs. G. T. Guthrie reported on the Presbyterian held in Pecos during the past week. Plans were completed for a church family supper to be held at the church Sunday evening, May 7, at 6 o'clock. The Rev. Bob Hawkins of Austin will supply the pulpit following the supper, climaxing the local observance of National Family Week. Attending were Mrs. R. B. Mayfield, Mrs. Jim Scott, Mrs. Frank Lovless, Mrs. H. T. Hale, Mrs. W. T. Barber, Mrs. G. T. Guthrie, Mrs. C. D. Read, Mrs. Truett DeVane, Mrs. Cora Echols, Mrs. Leroy Echols and Sue Read.

WHY STARVE TO TAKE OFF FAT?

When you buy Barcostrin, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for a printed diet. Barcostrin is not a vitamin tablet to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment, it's not a vitamin tablet to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment, it's not a vitamin tablet to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment, it's not a vitamin tablet to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet.

NO STARVATION DIET

I have taken lots of medicine but none to compare with Barcostrin. It's tops. Have lost 16 pounds in 3 weeks and no starvation diet! Signed, Mrs. J. E. Black, Route 1, Box 25, Cleveland, Texas.

LOST 24 POUNDS

"I am writing you just to say I think Barcostrin is a wonderful medicine. I have tried so many other things and all failed. I weighed 132 pounds when I started to take Barcostrin. I now weigh 108." Signed, Maud Marrow, Archer City, Texas.

MIX THEM AND MATCH THEM BY TONI OWEN—Pattern No. 1009 Toni Owen's gay young designs helped to bring fame to the mighty "separates" fashion. These wonderful a la carte skirts, blouses and jackets are a boon to women everywhere. They can be mixed or matched with the greatest of ease to answer any wardrobe problem.

Practically a dream come true is her wonderful 3-piece ensemble of bolero, strapless bodice and slim skirt... our Pattern No. 1009. The jaunty bolero can be worn over your favorite summer evening dress, teamed with shorts for beachwear or worn for cover-up purposes with a sunback town dress. It features rounded shoulders, perky little cuffed sleeves and the flattering lines of a man's cutaway. For utter ease and comfortable wearing the moulded bodice is reinforced with elastic which is neatly hidden by a smart cuff. A deep kick pleat in the back of the slim skirt affords ample room for walking ease. Match them was the designer's idea for her original creation in brightly colored cotton broadcloth. For the cooler season we suggest making the skirt and bolero in a smart menswear worsted with the blouse of fine tie-silk print. Other ideas are an entire linen ensemble with the contrast merely in your color choice, or maybe the skirt and blouse of a cool rayon crepe with the bolero in a blending color made of linen. Size 14 requires 1/4 yds. of 35-inch fabric for the complete costume. Available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 20.

For Toni Owen's Pattern No. 1009, send $1.00 to Spades Fashions, Inc., Dept. 96, 1613 Grand Central Station, New York, New York.

204 - 208 SCURRY BIG SPRING

CAMPUS CHATTER

from HCJC—By Lois Reagan

Joyce Reagan's poem, "A Knight's Day," was judged the best of the year for junior college by the Texas Intercollegiate Press association at its recent meeting in Denton. Joyce was among those who attended from HCJC. Others were J. T. Clemens, sponsor, Billy Bob Watson, and Barbara Beard.

The winning poem related in complete the mighty deeds of valor performed by the Knight, and cracked the whip at the end with this: "Now the young Knight became drowsy and tired of . . . play. Stabled his stickhorse and called it a day." Her offering was adjudged fourth in both junior and senior college divisions.

Delegates to the meeting heard several leading journalistic personalities, among them Felix McKnight of the Dallas News and Phil North of the Star Telegram.

Nine amendments to the student constitution were approved 47-4 according to an announcement posted Friday. Balloting was completed on Tuesday.

Under terms of the changes, the president will be a member of the sophomore class and will be elected the third Friday of the fall semester, his or her term to expire at the end of the spring semester. The vice-president, a freshman, holds office until a suc-

Special Venire Of 120 Men Called For District Court

A special venire of 120 men has been called for 10 a. m. Monday when three capital cases have been set in 110th District court.

Kirby Cook, Willie Nolen and Felipe Juarez are named as defendants in three murder indictments. All three cases have been set, each subject to the other two, for Monday.

Nolen, a Negro, was indicted following the fatal shooting of Freddie White last Aug. 26, and Juarez is charged with slaying Pedro Calderon on Oct. 2, 1949.

Cook, a former deputy sheriff, was charged with the fatal shooting of Ronald Williams last Feb. 8.

All other criminal cases on the current docket were disposed earlier in the term.

her mother.

The college annuals, the Jayhawker, were given to the students Wednesday. The remainder of the week was a busy time with everyone trying to sign annuals and attend classes, also.

The first six weeks of summer school will begin on June 2 and will end on July 13. The second six weeks period will terminate on Aug. 14.

Local Students Getting Ready For May Fete

Finishing touches are being put to preparations for the May fete extravaganza by elementary school pupils here Thursday.

Rehearsals by grades are set for Monday, said Dean Bennett, supervisor of elementary education. On Tuesday Kate Morrison and Lakeview schools will rehearse their parts at the stadium, and then on Wednesday all schools will put the entire program together.

Costumes for the international flavored event, "Dance With Our Neighbors," will not be worn until

---Where to shop--- HELEN'S HINTS

Hi, been waiting long?
Sorry I'm late for our shopping date, but finding a parking place was hectic. Suppose we slip in here for a Coke, let me catch my breath and tell you what I've found.

JUST A PIECE OF GLASS? Honestly, I can't get over it. Went by Hilburn's Appliance company to see the new Tappan gas range and found the answer to my gal's kitchen dreams. A small piece of Pyroglas which fits over a back burner is actually a double boiler. You can warm the baby's bottle on it, put your coffee cup on for a warm-up, and whip up custards in no time without the fuss and bother of two pans. The touch of a button opens storage drawers, there's a crisper for cereals and crackers, and the all-chromium oven is the roomiest I've seen.

NO CRANK, NO FRET, JUST GOOD ICE CREAM. These warm, spring nights spell homemade ice cream at our house and Hester's Supply company has a dandy. My choice was the Dolly Madison, and I say let that be so, I selected the electric model. It comes in either the four or six quart size, has a sturdy wood bucket, and includes a booklet with humdinger recipes for home-made creams, sherbets and other hot weather treats.

SHADES BY NATURE: May's issue of Harper's Bazaar featured a good advertisement of Tresseme, an all shampoo, tint, and I became interested in the merits of the hair preparation. Checking local beauty salons, I found Tresseme at the Settles Beauty shop and it's available in 22 nature-inspired shades. Operators there tell me the shampoo cosmetic has taken the fear out of tinting because it is scientifically blended for color control. It's applied just like other oil shampoo tints, and brightens your locks with believable colorants that bring out highlights in your natural hair.

FASTING OR DIETING? There's a big difference, you know, and if you're wise, you'll do your dieting carefully. Whether your physician has ordered a sugarless and saltless diet, or you simply want to take off a little weight here and there, I've found just the place to do your grocery shopping. Notice Furr's Food store display of dietetic fruits and vegetables. They're put up by reliable packers for special diets, and you can get any number of fruits and vegetables minus the salt or sugar you're trying to leave off.

STOVE MAT—WELL MAYBE! Browsing through the Big Spring Hardware I discovered a stove mat which would never touch my kitchen range. I'd fret the hammer and hang it in a minute as a dinette picture. The life like artistry of the Floral Queen stove mat is an excellent example of an artistic arrangement created by the Society of American Florists. Spilling out of a life-like basket in the scene are orange and yellow mums resting atop clusters of frosty cool green, brown and purple grapes. Intermingled is green foliage which blends beautifully with a background of harmonizing greens. I bet you'll hang it too.

SWING HER HIGH, SWING HER LOW! Swing that gal in collect! If you've thought of entertaining the crowd before next week's square dance, see the Little Shop's complete party set-up. They have animated musical invitations with square dance calls and darling paper napkins in two sizes. Highlighting your serving table with party fun is a centerpiece suggestion to keep for always. They're square dancing figurines in Rosaline pottery, complete in every detail. Topping off the party accessories are matching glasses with dancing figures.

ROSES ON THE INSIDE—PERFECTION ON THE INSIDE! I thought of this as I stood at Memphis' gift department watching the girls wrap my Mother's gift for mailing. With clever folding, pulling and just the right turns, they made magic with the ribbon and turned out a perfect red rose to top the slick, white package. The matching net ribbon added just the right touch, and I felt completely satisfied with both the inside and the outside of Mom's gift. It's a free service at Memphis' gift department and mailing it there is so much easier than going to the post office. The mail leaves out at 5 p. m. each day, and just to make sure it arrives in time, you better shop and mail that gift from Memphis' at least three days in advance.

THREE LAYERS UNDER SHE FOUND IT! I happened by Thorp's Paint store while shopping and thought to my soul I'd spend the day looking at a collection of old New England wallpapers and matching fabrics. This splendid Waterhouse collection was assembled by Dorothy Waterhouse, noted Boston lecturer and writer on early ceramics and wallpaper. Summering on Cape Cod she discovered these wallpapers in the attics, in stair closets, in old chests and boxes, or buried under paint and paper on the walls of old New England houses. Imported from England and France in the shipholds of the London-Bordeaux packets or hand-blocked in America, these antique designs were imprinted on the best of paper with the finest dyes procurable. Each week, I'd like to choose a pattern in the collection of 12, and give you the background and description of these authentic 18th and 19th century papers as modern as a plastic apron.

DON'T BE AFRAID TO SAY SO: If you're shopping for a dollar gift selection, for goodness' sake don't be afraid to say so. Remember this: That saleslady isn't working for her health and she understands. If you tell her, and tell her plain, that a buck is what you have to spend, she'll show you the best she has to offer in that price range. If you're looking for a $5 summer cotton, SAY SO. The store you're in would rather you'd spend that money there than up the street where you accidentally bump into your price without having to ask for less expensive merchandise.

at the end of the program, Central Ward pupils enter at the east gate and will assemble under the east stands. Parents may get them there after the program.

Those from West Ward, Airport, North and East Wards as well as those arriving on the buses will come in at the baseball park entrance. They will assemble in the southeast corner of the baseball field.

All pupils will sit in the east stands except those from Kate Morrison and Lakeview, which have special parts that require them to be seated in stands in the end zones. No parents are to be permitted in the student section on the east side. The entire west side is for patrons.

Thirty-nine persons were placed on jobs here by the Texas Employment commission, balancing the number of new work applications received by the TEC. Leon M. Kinney, director, reported Saturday.

There were a total of 463 visits to the local office with 54 being referred to jobs. There were 38 new job openings received. A total of 71 placement interviews were conducted.

Citizens, both initial and continued, totaled 43, Kinney stated.

BURN THE TABLE TOP! For durability and beauty, I give a big fat A-plus to an elegant green dinette suite at Elrod's Furniture store. This particular chrome table has a Micafite top which has withstood rigid tests by manufacturers. At a special demonstration they poured a quantity of alcohol over the table surface, lit it with a match and let it burn. Much to my amazement, the blaze was doused, and a damp cloth whisked away all traces of the conflagration. The surface wasn't marred the least bit. The set is made by Virtue and seats 10 diners comfortably.

A MERE WISP OF NOTHING: Been looking for bras to fit the young miss in your family? I found them at the Kid's Shop and they're cute as pie. Made by Form-Fit, they come in cotton and nylon and are designed especially for bra beginners. A Prissy Missy four-piece sun ensemble also caught my eye. Designed for young ladies at that in-between age from 10 to 14, it includes a one-piece white twirl skirt, white shorts, a bandana shirt with matching bra. (It's under $12, too)

FLOATING WITH A FILM: What girl doesn't love luxurious lingerie? O me, O my, the set I found at Mi-Lady's Accessories is not only a must for Mother, but a litter upper for any woman. Inspired by Wonder Maid, the filmy dainties include an all-nylon gown as filmy as cotton candy. There's an extra wide ruffle of lace and net on the bottom of the nightie as well as the finely gathered half and whole slip. Polished net with lace adds sturdiness to the whole slip which is styled with a pointed back for sure. It's white and the pretties wisp in the shop so don't miss it!

TO MOTHER WITH LOVE: The J & K Shoe Store is featuring a unique gift box of Holeproof hose as a Mother's Day suggestion and a lovely gift in its own right. In 15' denier, they come in nice summer shades and I thought tributes beige, price brown and trophy tan the most becoming colors for general wear. Boused in three pairs, they range from eight and one-half to 11's with medium and long lengths. Check the J & K's hostelry bar with Mother in mind.

SAVED—SEVERAL DOLLARS: ZALES comes up again with a good gift selection and this week they're thinking of Mother. There's 114 pieces, mind you, and here's what's included: a Dornierweiser 53 piece set of silverware (service for eight), 25 piece glassware and a 24 piece set of silver made by International. Priced at $48.95 for Mother's Day shoppers, it's a bargain, and here's why: I checked their stock, and item for item you're saving $23.95 by buying the collection!

DISHES AND MORE DISHES: Out of curiosity I asked McCrory's manager, Bill Morris, just how many dishes are on one particular counter at the back of the store, and he estimated something like 13 or 14 thousand . . . but jaspers, how they're selling. The handsome Blue Ridge pottery is quite a find here too. Made by the Southern Potters of Tennessee, pieces are hand-painted under glass. I liked the variety in patterns, the graduated-size, and the colorful tints of unusual platters, plates, cups, saucers and cream and sugar sets now on display.

HAD YOU THOUGHT OF ORCHIDS? Faye Coltharp has just returned from Fort Worth, Waco and Brownwood where she gathered a host of flowers for Mother's Day shoppers at Faye's Flowers. She tells me she was fortunate in finding orchids, unusually pretty ones, which will retail at a moderate price. She also picked up potted plants and cut flowers for busy days ahead and has a good selection of mums for Mom's Day. While shopping Faye's, look at her collection of Marine bowls. Fresh flowers can be placed in the lid of the container, a paratrying fluid added, and turned upside down, you have a magnified water garden of fresh blooms. Months later, the flowers still retain their shape and beauty.

COBBLER'S BENCH: A CRICKET STOOL or maybe hanging shelves or a magazine cradle. Whatever you had in mind in early American pieces, it's available. Lucille's now has on display a beautiful hand rubbed pine table with plenty of possibilities. Used as a serving piece, it has a convenient drawer, is topped with a tray and can even be complimented with a serving chest for silver. Lucille suggests you mix these lovely maple pieces with any antiques in hickory, maple or even cherry.

ALL SET FOR SUMMER: My, my, the things they can do with cotton. Zack's of Margos has a honey of a sun dress in a broadcloth-pique combination which spells cool comfort to me. Designed for a snug fit, the cutie is a rich blue with shirred top, zippered back, and a catchy white bolero. The pique trim is repeated in the skirt which has just the right flair. Made by Jo Dee Junior, the frock is priced at $14.95 and is available in sizes 10 through 16. With the blue and green selections.

A Bible Thought For Today -

Love always gives sacrificially. We never can repay the Infinite for his unsearchable and manifold gifts, but we can pass them on. "God so loved the world that he gave." — John 3:16.

Extraordinary Events Of This Week Merit Widespread Support

Three events of extraordinary importance are coming up this week and deserving of wholehearted support. First will be the Feeders' Day program at the U. S. Experiment Farm on Tuesday. The second will be the May Fete by children of the elementary grades of the Big Spring school system. The third will be open house at the Veterans Administration hospital on Friday afternoon.

For more than a score of years livestock feeding tests have been underway at the U. S. Experiment Farm. Numerous findings have been developed and subjected to long range testing to take out the element of short-range conclusions. For several years feeder day programs helped attract interest in the event, but somehow these lagged.

This year the Kiwanis club is reviving the program. Because feeding of livestock will become increasingly important in this and succeeding years, we think the affairs is mostly timely.

No one can gainsay the importance of our youngsters. Trite though it may seem, they are the most prized possession and the hope of our future. We sometime forget this, though, and there is no more forceful reminder than to see hundreds of them together, going through some well rehearsed activity.

So Thursday evening, when something like 2,000 youngsters will be on the football field at one time, it will do everyone good to be on hand to thrill to this assembly. It will, no doubt, not only stimulate our interest in the future, but also in support of a strong system to serve them while they are young.

And as for the hospital—well, there is enough natural interest in the project, which has been five years in the making, to insure good attendance. There are thousands who have said "I would love to see the hospital." While all of the plant cannot be open to inspection by Friday, Dr. L. H. Andrew and staff have been good enough to invite the public to take its first glimpse. In the three hours allotted, we believe there will be a tremendous response to the invitation.

Better Give Lie A Chance To Try And Boost World Peace

WHATEVER ONE MAY BELIEVE about the prospects of success growing out of UN Secretary General Trygve Lie's visit to Moscow in search of peace, it is an adventure which is attracting much attention and it will be followed with many good wishes.

It's a mighty good thing that there are those who are persistent in the search for peace. Maybe some of us are a bit too cynical.

Of course there would be grave danger if the search for peace were mistaken in Moscow for appeasement. That might happen if a peace mission were sponsored by an individual nation, or even by a group of the democracies.

BUT MR. LIE'S QUEST IS AN ENTIRELY different affair. As I mentioned in a previous column, his position as head of the United Nations makes him in effect a citizen of the world. He is equally the representative of all nations. His job is to make the UN work, and apparently it is on that universal basis that he expects to proceed to Moscow this week.

Naturally the big point of interest is whether Trygve Lie will get to see the great Stalin. The secretary general hopes to meet the Soviet dictator, but on this point Moscow thus far has been silent.

However, Mr. Lie has had a standing invitation from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky since last November to visit Moscow. The UN executive thus may be expected to receive an official welcome.

BEYOND THAT ONE ONLY CAN REMARK that it is customary for heads of state to receive the secretary general of the world peace organization, and it is difficult to see what good it would do to refuse to meet him. As a matter of fact, one would think it would provide good world propaganda for Moscow if the chief of state received Lie.

Mr. Lie did visit Marshal Stalin in Moscow in 1946. V. M. Molotov, then foreign minister, sat in on the conference. I understand that Lie called Stalin's attention to the Soviet Union's excessive use of the veto in the UN, and asked the marshal if this couldn't be stopped.

Molotov is said to have glowered in anger at Lie for raising this issue, but Stalin amiably replied that he would consider the matter. The only answer Lie ever received was when Andre Gromyko, Soviet delegate to the UN walked up to him at organization headquarters and said with a grin:

"You may be interested in hearing that our policy is unchanged."

WESTERN DIPLOMATS IN MOSCOW take a dim view of Lie's chances of accomplishing much towards settling the cold war or any of the major issues. Still, there are those who think he might be able to lay the groundwork for something which would develop towards peace.

The consensus of close observers in the western world is that there is nothing which can be done at this juncture to settle the cold war. This is so because, as we have remarked so often in this column, Moscow is pursuing an immutable plan of long standing to communize the whole globe. The only thing which will halt this crusade will be Russia's inability to carry the campaign any further.

Moscow does not want peace on any other terms. Why then should Mr. Trygve Lie pursue what looks like a will-o'-the-wisp?

WELL, APART FROM THE FACT that it's his job, he must take into account that sooner or later Russia will reach that point in its world revolution beyond which it can't go. He should be prepared for that moment, which conceivably might arrive unexpectedly. We mustn't overlook that the Soviet Union is holding down the lid of a boiling pot, and that someday the lid will blow off.

In any event, we shouldn't discourage Mr. Lie's efforts—so long as he is operating as secretary general of the UN, that is, of all the nations. There's nothing constructive in sitting back and scoffing: "You can't sell that line of stuff in Moscow, feller."

Better give him a chance to try.

Russia Has Diplomatic Lead Prior To London Conference

It is not improbable that there is a connection between the forthcoming Bevin-Schuman-Acheson meeting in London and the action of the Soviet government in asking suddenly and quite unexpectedly that the conference on the Austrian treaty be resumed immediately. One can only speculate. But it has been evident for some time, during the period of active preparation for the London meeting, that Russia has the diplomatic initiative; that is to say, that she has the power to select and pose the questions and the problems which the Western ministers will then have to deal with.

Much of the tension in Washington in recent weeks has been caused by the uncertainty as to whether and when and how the Russians meant to use their initiative. Some have supposed that they would send a mass of German boys to "dialogue" us from Berlin; others that they would start a guerrilla action against Tito; that they would make an incursion into Iran. The popular and the public official line has been that somehow the Russians would strike a blow—that they would use their initiative to carry out some kind of local, and probably limited aggression. The Soviets have encouraged this theory by a series of diplomatic feints at Berlin, at Turkey, at Trieste, at Finland, at Iran.

There is another possibility. It is that they will use the initiative to conduct a peace offensive against the organization of the Atlantic community as a military coalition. Their Austrian action could be a move heralding such a diplomatic campaign.

While we can only speculate as to how the Russians will use their diplomatic initiative, there is nothing uncertain about the fact that they have it, and that—for the time being—we do not have it.

Why? Because, it seems to me, much has happened that is not faced up to and dealt with in United States and West European policy in the field of military security, economic recovery, and in relation to the future of Germany. Our established and accepted policies were formulated and adopted and explained to the people before: (1) the Soviet Union broke our monopoly of atomic weapons and revolutionized the basic assumptions of European strategy; (2) before the end of the Marshall plan, was so near at hand that the fact it was ending controlled the practical decisions of all of the governments; and (3) before Germany had but not only a big economic recovery but an even more spectacular beginning in the recovery of her political importance in Europe.

Truman Advisers Split On Problem Of U. S. Loans To Small Business

WASHINGTON.—White House advisers sat up late trying to get a final decision on the President's small business message before he left on his western trip. A highly important issue was involved, with advisers split wide open over it.

The issue was: Whether to promote government loans to small business through the RFC, or to set up new private banks for loans to small business.

Lined up against RFC loans were: Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, Sen. O'Mahoney of Wyoming and Federal Reserve Chairman Tom McCabe. Lined up for RFC loans were: Stephen Spingarn, White House assistant; and Sen. Taft, who, as ranking GOP member of the joint committee on the economic report, was consulted.

Both sides, however, agreed on what's happening to small business. It can't borrow long-term risk capital. Small business can get plenty of short-term money from commercial banks, but not ten- and twelve-year money. Furthermore it can't borrow from most insurance companies, which frown on speculative ventures and also want to deal in large amounts. In addition, the private capitalists of the old days are gone, and the investment bankers won't undertake to float stocks or bonds unless the issue runs into several millions.

To remedy this, it was proposed to put the RFC in the Commerce Department and let it specialize on loans to small business. However, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, Sen. O'Mahoney and others felt that government should not subsidize business; also should not be in the position of having life and death loan powers over business.

Therefore a plan was worked out with able Chairman Tom McCabe of the Federal Reserve Board whereby private banks could be set up with the backing of Federal Reserve government money, for the express purpose of lending money to small business.

It was admitted that this plan would be more complicated, but in the long run would be better than outright government loans to small business.

Note—There's growing sentiment both inside the government and on Capitol Hill to abolish the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Established during the Hoover Administration to cope with the Wall Street crash, it has now pretty much outgrown its need.

BARKLEY PHILOSOPHY
Vice President Alben Barkley has a story for almost every incident in the day.

A Senate aide stepped up to the vice as he presided over the Senate and told him a visitor was asking for him in the Senate lobby. "Do you want to have him in your office, or will you go out to see him?" the page asked respectfully.

Barkley grinned: "That reminds me," he said, "of the loafer down South. Leaning up against a store front one day, he stared at a good looking lady and a dog moseying down the street. A curious passer-by noted this attention and asked, 'Jake, which would you rather go out with—the lady or the dog?'"

"Well, do you know," continued the Vice President. "Oh! Jake he said, 'The dog, of course; I can always get away from him.'"

President to the Senate side, "is the reason why I'll go out in the lobby to see my friend."

EUROPE VS. MCCARTHY
Few people realize how badly American foreign policy has been undermined by the McCarthy Communist campaign. Here are a few examples of what's happening abroad.

In China, the name "McCarthy" is pronounced exactly as if it were "MacArthur," and the impression has spread that Gen. McArthur was waging a near-revolt against the State Department. In fact, the impression has been created in some parts of the Far East, where the public is not well informed, that the USA is near revolt.

In primitive Albania, the Communist government, after long pressure from the West, was expected to do a Tito. But it hasn't. And a partial reason has been Soviet propaganda that the State Department was full of Communists—"an American senator says so"—and that the United States would soon come over the the Communist Albanian side.

In France, Italy, Belgium and other Atlantic Pact countries, the reaction has been most harmful of all. For some time these countries had experienced a wave of "neutrality," which has now grown to new heights. People in these once Nazi-occupied countries have argued that they did not want to get in the middle of another war, would much rather be neutral. That has been one reason for opposition to the North Atlantic Pact.

Now, on top of this neutrality way has come the McCarthy charges of Communists in the State Department, which to poorly informed Europeans means that the United States is likely to go over to Russia leaving Western Europe out on a limb.

Therefore, it's not difficult to understand why neutrality sentiment and opposition to the North Atlantic Pact has grown more than ever.

LONG-HAIRED CONGRESSMAN
There's no love lost between two North Carolina congressmen—liberal, popular Hugo Sims of Orangeburg, who wears short-cut hair, and Mendel Rivers of Charleston, who wears long hair and votes with the Republicans.

A friend was asking Sims why he wore his hair so short. Quick as a flash, Rep. Sims drawled: "I want to be just the opposite of Mendel Rivers."

REPORT TO SENATE
Prior to his departure for Europe, Secretary of State Acheson told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee behind closed doors that the United States is prepared to fight rather than retreat from Berlin. He also said the threat of a Soviet invasion of Yugoslavia had "calmed down," and reported that the British aren't getting along well in Communist China, can't even get the Chinese Communists to discuss exchanging ambassadors. Finally Acheson disclosed that Communist guerrillas in Southeast Asia are getting their arms, not from Russia, but from the Philippines. They are stolen from surplus war stockpiles.

MacLane Suggests, 'Get Out Of Town'

HOLLYWOOD.—Remember the old tune, "Get Out of Town?" Barton MacLane suggests film stars could solve their personal problems by adopting it as a theme song.

MacLane is the tough-looking guy who usually plays mobsters or sadistic cops in the movies. You'd hardly suspect that he is a respectable rancher of Madera, Calif., near Fresno.

The actor is in town to mail Jimmy Cagney in "Kiss Tomorrow Goodbye." As soon as he finishes the chore, he'll journey back to his cattle ranch and wait for his agent to snag him another assignment. He finds the system is ideal for film actors.

"The trouble with movie acting," he said, "is that the actor doesn't work hard enough or often enough to keep himself active and happy.

Highway Traffic Problem Has To Be Met In Realistic Way

Various interests in Big Spring, concerned about the growing traffic load, particularly on highway 80, have asked the state highway department to consider widening approaches to the city. This would mean four-lane segments of the highway from Cosden to the eastern limits, from the airport to the western limits.

There is need to be concerned, for the problem is bad, and is growing worse. The state recognizes it, too, and knows that the problem is not peculiar to Big Spring. Virtually every town on highway 80 is up against the same thing. No less an authority than State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer says that 80, out in this country, will be saddled with 40 per cent more traffic in another ten years. Since the road can't cope with its present traffic (at least around towns), says Greer, what's going to happen 10 years from now?

This brings up what is an evident over-all engineering program the state is contemplating, and a program that will have to be faced realistically, it seems to me, sooner or later. That is the old dehbili by-pass. In other words, the solution of running the highway around the towns.

The topic has come to the fore from time to time around here, then dies down again. Admittedly it is a ticklish one, and nobody ever wants to talk about it in very loud tones. Certainly nobody is, for various political and business reasons, going to come out an openly advocate such a thing. Even the boys down at Austin don't want to be the goats.

I never heard of a town of any size that liked the idea when it was first broached, or didn't resist such a change when it got into the planning and construction change. It's just one of those things that no community wants to take.

When the matter is whispered around here on occasion, there comes a flurry of highway routing suggestions to avert, the by-pass. Some of these have included: the widening of Third street; the removal of parking on Third street; the opening of Second and Fourth as alternate routes, or even as one-way routes (westbound on Second, eastbound on Fourth).

Everyone of them would be costly, in one sense of the word or another. How much do we want to pay to solve the traffic problem?

Mr. Greer himself, who has looked at this problem for a long time, says that the general experience from a town caught up in a traffic jam is to follow three steps: first, changing from angle to parallel parking; second eliminating parking on the highway; and third, building a by-pass. Big Spring has taken step No. 1. Are the other steps coming?

Well, would you want to see all parking removed from Third street? Would you want to see the money put out, and the property changes necessitated, by widening Third street? Remembering, of course, that about five feet that is all that could be gained under any circumstances. Would you want to see one-way traffic put into effect on Second and Fourth? And would you approve the expenditure involved in opening those thoroughfares from city limit to city limit?

Or, do you have another solution? These are all important questions, I think, and questions that the community has to tackle before very long. A highway by-pass might come next year or the next, or even in five years; but some change to ease the traffic load is coming one of these days. Any change would vitally affect the economy of this community—maybe for better, maybe for worse, and you can look at it the way you want to. But you'd better start thinking. — BOB WHIPKEY.

Problem Of Halting Gambling Is Left Now To State, City

WASHINGTON, W.—THERE IS NO FEDERAL law against gambling. The closest thing to it is a federal law forbidding the use of the mails for a lottery or other games of chance.

Many states do have anti-gambling laws. For instance, they have laws against slot machines, betting on the race horses in handbooks, and the numbers racket.

So, the problem of stopping gambling has been a problem for the states and the cities. Now a number of state and city officials have begun to complain that they need federal help in fighting gambling.

THEY ARGUE THE PROBLEM HAS become too big for any state alone to handle. Why? Because, they say, gambling no longer is just strictly a local enterprise. They say it's organized by super-gangs on a nationwide basis, particularly in two big fields:

1. Slot machines. Most of them are made in Chicago and shipped into the various states, across state lines.

2. Sending race-horse information across state lines into local gambling joints—the handbooks—by wire and telephone.

In February the attorney general, J. Edgar Hoover, issued a report which pointed out that the problem has become too big for any state alone to handle. It was attended by representatives of the National Association of (state) Attorneys General; the American Municipal Association; the U. S. Conference of Mayors; and the National Institute of Municipal Law Officers.

THIS CONFERENCE AGREED TO SET up a permanent committee to keep the pressure on gambling. And it asked Congress to pass a couple of laws—on slot machines and horse race betting—to help them out.

The Senate acted with surprising promptness on slot machines. It passed a bill making it a federal offense to ship slot machines into a state which has laws against them. The House hasn't begun to act on this yet.

As to betting on race horses: The conference asked Congress to pass a law to break up nationwide "illegal" gambling on the races. "Illegal" is a nice distinction and an important word because you run into this:

Senators Doubt South Liberal Can Win 'Race, Reds' Fight

WASHINGTON.—Since Senator Pepper of Florida has been defeated by the "Race and Reds" campaign waged by Representative Smathers, senators here are questioning whether any southern liberal can survive that kind of opposition.

Senator Pepper had not won his colleague's hearts though they greatly admired his courage and lucid brilliance in debate. Their present gloom fixed upon the sword by which he was struck down and they find it two-edged.

More than tolerable to most southerners is the edge which lacked at Senator Pepper's economic views. The Senator is far to the left of his region, even far left in the Fair Deal spectrum. But the other edge of the Smathers sword cut into civilized attitudes toward social change and intellectual freedom which all senators prefer to maintain.

There are plenty of highly regarded southerners here who might not be able to cope with such a weapon. It would, for example, be regarded as a calamity if Governor Talmadge of Georgia should be encouraged to go after Senator George or Senator Russell in like manner.

The two senators most immediately concerned are Graham of North Carolina and Johnston of South Carolina.

Betting on the horses is legal in a state if it's done at a track which operates within that state, under state license, and turns a percentage of the money bet over the state treasury.

BUT ANYWHERE ELSE IN THAT state, outside the track, betting on the horses is illegal, whether the betting is on the races run at the licensed track in that state or at a track operating in some other state under license. This is the so-called "off-the-track" or handbook betting. A number of states permit betting at a state-licensed track but forbid any handbook betting outside the track. Yet, it has been estimated there are as many as 150,000 handbooks doing business in this country, in violation of the law.

But how do they get the up-to-the-minute race news which makes it possible for them to do business? By a nationwide system of information sent to them by telegraph or telephone from the tracks.

Of course, the whole problem could be solved by the states if they outlawed all race tracks. This seems unlikely.

TOO MANY PEOPLE HAVE TOO MUCH money invested in horseflesh and race tracks to let the tracks be wiped out without a fierce fight. Besides that, a lot of voters like to go to the races. In addition, the states which have licensed tracks make money off them, since they get a percentage of the money bet there.

But it's doubtful that the handbooks could do much business, or any at all, if the up-to-the-minute track information was shut off. That's what the state and city officials said, in asking Congress to pass a law against sending track information into the "illegal" gambling places, the handbooks.

A Senate committee has been looking into this problem for weeks, holding hearings, listening to a lot of witnesses, including big gamblers and men who run the race-horse information service.

This committee—a subcommittee of the Senate's Interstate Commerce Committee—hasn't come up with anything that looks like an answer yet. So action by the full Senate is still far off.

Eula May Todd Becomes Bride Of C. L. McDaniel

Double ring nuptial vows were repeated by Eula May Todd and C. L. McDaniel in Monahans Wednesday evening. The Rev. Peoples officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Todd of Big Spring. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. McDaniel of Monahans.

For her wedding, the bride chose a navy blue chiton ensemble with navy and white accessories. Her flowers were pink carnations arranged atop a white Bible. She carried out the tradition of something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue. She wore a strand of pearls as something old; her wedding dress was new and she borrowed a handkerchief from Mrs. Wade McDaniel. She wore a blue garter.

Helen Tollett of Big Spring served as maid of honor. Miss Tollett was attired in a gold crepe ensemble with spectator accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Wayne Arnold of Pecos was best man.

Mrs. McDaniel is a graduate of Big Spring high school and is employed by the local Bell Telephone company. The bridegroom graduated from high school in Monahans and is now employed by the Texas and Pacific railway company.

The couple is at home in Big Spring.

HI-TALK

By Dolores Franklin

Seems like school is nearly out, at least for the seniors of B. S. H. S. This week they received their invitations, cards, and diploma covers. Only about three weeks remain for these seniors! Also, the senior class elected Myrtle Norwood as the girl speaker at graduation exercises and Rolly Homers Seawell III as boy speaker. Seniors also decided to journey to Christoval for their senior trip, scheduled for May 15. The trip to Christoval is an annual affair.

Rolly Seawell and Billy Wayne King are representing B. S. H. S. in Austin this weekend at the State Meet. The couple left Thursday morning. Mrs. Janell Davis, Coach Bert Brewer, Coach Carl Coleman, and Principal W. L. Reed also attended the state meet. Rolly Seawell gave the Declaration "Lincoln's Portrait". Rolly is the first from our local speech department to attend state in quite a while. Billy Wayne King entered the pole vault contest. At district meet, he vaulted some 10'2" and then improved at regional with a 10'6" record.

Key Club delegates Bud Whitney and Jeff Hanna have returned from a national convention of Key Clubs in Columbus, Ohio. Jeff and Bud were gone some eight days.

Couples seen at the show and around during the week included June Cook and Cula Grigsby, Kitty Roberts and Bob Chambers, Rita Faye Wright and John Edwin Fort, Sue Wasson and Kimball Guthrie, Sue Craig and Frank Phillips, Mona Moad and Cecil Drake, Betty Jo Raley and J. Y. Blount, Gayla Mosier and Harley Bolding, Janelle Beene and Lowie

Rice, Mackey Dee Younger and Robert Ragan, Jan Masters and Bobby Wheeler and many others.

The El Rodeo staff had a banquet Wednesday at Morales Grill. The staff enjoyed a Mexican dinner, and Mrs. Erma Steward was presented with a corsage of yellow lilies from the annual staff and also a corsage of pink carnations from the Corral staff. Attending the banquet were: Kitty Roberts and Autry Burke, Jan Masters and Bobby Wheeler, Janie Collins and Howard Washburn, Dolores Franklin and Hector Long, Peggy Toops and Billy Tubb, Jo Ann Smith and W. C. Blankenship, Jr., Hugh Mathis, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Steward, Peggy Lamb, Luann Creighton, Carolyn Mills, Doris Jean Brown, Dallas Woods, Mackey Dee Younger and Robert Ragan, and Janelle Beene and Lowie Rice.

MRS. WALLACE C. CARR

The giant Redwoods of California have breasted the storms of many centuries and stand today as marvels of the plant world for their endurance and longevity.

For countless generations the birds have nested in their branches and beasts of the forests have roamed their trackless shades. They are the patriarchs of the world of trees.

The Redwoods have lived on and on because their roots burrowed deep in the friendly soil and drank from earth's hidden springs the waters of life and health.

People are like trees. Some of them tower above their environment and possess unusual strength and endurance. They defy the storms of adversity and the chill winds of discouragement and sorrow.

These are the Redwood people. Their lives are deep-rooted in the soil of faith, and they drink the strength of God from the hidden springs of spiritual experience.

Go to Church on Sunday. Study the Scriptures. Try to be among men what the Redwood is among trees.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BIG OPERATIVE — Brod Crawford and John Ireland (right) talk with two football players in this scene from "All The King's Men." This is the top picture of 1949, having hogged most of the Academy Award honors, and depicts the rise and fall of a big shot political operator. Crawford has the role reminiscent of the career of Huey Long.

'Cliche Club' New Humorous Program

ABC's radio humorist, Walter Kiernan, is a man who believes that building a better mousetrap will cause the world to beat a path to your door.

He also is firmly convinced that all that glitters is not gold. Fortified with similarly well known clichés, Kiernan will strike while the iron is hot with a new radio series, The Cliche Club, over the ABC network starting Wednesday, May 10. The program will be heard over KBST at 7:30 p. m.

The Cliche Club, destined to become the nation's newest radio game, will pit a panel foursome in a literary battle of wits to uncover the cliché in stories that Kiernan, the program's emcee, will relate. Kiernan, applying his deft, light, humorous touch to the ad lib Wednesday night Cliche Club sessions, will mark the cliché in verbiage as he unfolds his tales.

"GREATEST STORY" Judge not, that ye be not judged" is the Biblical theme of "Then Shall Thou See Clearly," the dramatization to be presented on ABC's The Greatest Story Ever Told, today at 4:30 p. m.

Based on quotations from St. Matthew 7:15 and 11:29-30, this is the story of the spiritual reconversion of Aaron, wealthy merchant of the town of Kadesch in Galilee.

ROBINSON-DYER Manager Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals, the team generally considered to give the Brooklyn Dodgers their warmest competition during the current National League pennant race will join Dodger second sacker Jackie Robinson as guest under a flag of truce on the ABC-KBST broadcast of the Jackie Robinson Show, tonight at 9:30 p. m.

VALLI PARSON'S GUEST Valli, the beautiful Italian actress whose performance in the current movie, "The Third Man," is attracting much praise, will discuss her career plans when she guests on the Louella O. Parsons program tonight at 8:15 over KBST.

MUSIC WITH THE GIRLS 68 generous musical-minds, making merry melodies and too-tipping tunes.

Academy Award Films, Players On The Ritz Screen This Week

Intense Story Of Big Politico Told In 'All The King's Men'

This could be designated as Academy Award Week at the Ritz theatre, what with two of the most honored pictures appearing on the week's schedule.

The photoplay that ran off with all kinds of Academy honors is "All The King's Men," which is at the Ritz today and Monday.

Robert Penn Warren's exhaustive story of a big-shot politician won a Pulitzer in the first place, then the picture itself was rated the best of 1949. In addition, two of the players, Brod Crawford and Mercedes McCambridge, won Oscars for their roles.

With these two, the cast also includes Joanne Dru, John Ireland, and John Derek.

Although nothing factual can be tied to it, "All The King's Men" is very reminiscent of the career of the late Huey Long. It is the story of a big shot whose world suddenly exploded in his face, and is depicted as an intensely moving story of a segment of American politics.

As the big shot politician who, by gift of tongue and magnetic personality climbs to the political pinnacle of his state, Crawford has the best role of his career. Brutal, forceful and dynamic, he attracts to his service supporters of every stripe including gamblers and crooks, aristocrats and the common people, putting them in his hip pocket, next to the whiskey and the blackjack and the gun.

Hungry for power, Crawford's appetites are not appeased by his achievement. Instead, he rides, roughshod over all opposition, humbling his opponents in the dust until his villainies force a few decent people to risk ruin in order to destroy him. The film is said to be loaded with great acting performances in addition to Crawford's. There is the portrayal of Miss Dru as a young aristocrat who becomes a worshipper at the shrine of the "great" man; that of Ireland's as the big shot's hatchet man who devotes himself ultimately to destroying the legend that sprang up among the faithful; Derek's, as the great one's adopted son; and Miss McCambridge's who comes from the Broadway stage and the radio field to give a brilliant first performance as his earthly secretary.

Reigning queen of the movies is Olivia de Havilland, and the role that brought her the crown, via the Academy Award, is that in "The Heiress," the Ritz theatre's feature for Tuesday and Wednesday.

The picture, pretty heavy dramatic fare, has won its laurels for outstanding performances and expert direction by William Wyler. In the cast with Miss de Havilland are Montgomery Clift, Sir Ralph Richardson, Miriam Hopkins, Vanessa Brown, Mona Freeman, Ray Collins, Betty Linley, Selena Royle and Paul Lees. The story is that of a plain, unattractive young heiress, daughter of a famous physician, who suddenly realizes after she has grown up that her father has always hated her. This realization comes about when a young fortune-hunter tries to win her hand and her father refuses to give his consent. The young man disappears, for without her money, he isn't interested. After her father dies and she has all the wealth, he comes back to renew his suit, but she throws him out.

This screen adaptation from a Broadway stage play is featured by the striking character portrayal of Miss de Havilland. She makes the difficult title character appealing with shadings of emotion, so that she has audience sympathy from the start. Clift and Sir Ralph Richardson also contribute notable roles.

Jolson Story Carried On In Lyric Feature

The rest of the Jolson story is being told again, this time in the Lyric theatre's Sunday - Monday feature, "Jolson Sings Again."

Larry Parks again appears in the title role, proving again his unique flair for mimicry of the great showman. Barbara Hale is seen as Jolson's wife, the army nurse who insists he return to singing because that's what he wants to do.

Prominently featured in the film, which has color by Technicolor, are William Demarest, Ludwig Donath, Bill Goodwin, Myron McCormick and Tamara Shayne. Among the songs in "Jolson Sings Again" are "I'm Looking Over A Four-Leaf Clover," "Give My Regards to Broadway," "Pretty Baby," "Sonny Boy," "Baby Face," "After You've Gone," "When the Red, Red Robin Comes Bob, Bob Bobbin' Along," "Is It True What They Say About Dixie?" "I Only Have Eyes For You" and others.

Henry Levin directed "Jolson Sings Again," from the screen play by Sidney Buchman. Buchman also produced the film for Columbia.

Jane Powell And Ann Sothorn In Musical Comedy

Everything is on the fun and melodic side in the Thursday-Friday picture at the Ritz, "Nancy Goes To Rio."

Pert Jane Powell and Ann Sothorn are the stars of the picture, which is set against a background of the romantic side of Rio and backstage New York. The story moves at tenuous pace from one continent to the other in a plot which tells of a teen-ager who falls in love with love.

Little Miss Powell is given her largest share of melodies to date in this film. Her solos include "Embraceable You," "Musetta," "Waltz from 'La Boheme'" and "Love Is Like This." She shares singing honors with others in "Shine On Harvest Moon," "Magic Is The Moonlight," and "Nancy's Goin' To Rio."

Miss Sothorn plays the role of a Broadway star, and shows her own talents as singer and dancer. Barry Sullivan is the leading man, and featured players include Carmen Miranda, Louis Calhern and Scotty Beckett.

Robert Z. Leonard was the director, Joe Pasternak the producer.

William Bendix Is Star Of Mystery Drama At Ritz

A mystery drama, "Cover Up," is the Saturday attraction at the Ritz theatre. William Bendix, Dennis O'Keefe and Barbara Britton have the featured roles.

The picture is a unique whodunit, with a sensational twist. The story relates how O'Keefe, as an insurance investigator, arrives in a small midwest town to investigate a suicide. When it turns out to be murder, things begin to happen.

O'Keefe runs into something he had never experienced before—a wall of silence. The people of the town, including Barbara Britton, the girl he has come to love, do everything possible to hamper his investigation. Even Bendix, who plays the role of sheriff, tries to confuse him.

But Bendix does try to explain to O'Keefe some of the secrets of life in a small town and what it means to delve into a crime committed in a small, close-knit community where everybody knows all his neighbors, and where the psychology of the townspeople is different from that of folks living in a large city.

SO YOU'RE VIC FLINT. ALEC TELLS ME YOU TWO PLAYED FOOTBALL TOGETHER IN HIGH SCHOOL. THAT'S PERFECTLY CHARMING.

THAT WAS A LONG TIME AGO, MISS BAKER.

OH, COME NOW, YOU MAKE YOURSELF SOUND LIKE A GRAYBEARD. YOU CAN'T BE AS OLD AS ALL THAT.

YOU'RE RIGHT, CYNTHIA. OF COURSE VIC CAN'T BE AS OLD AS SOME OF US, CAN HE?

SINCE THIS IS BE-KIND-TO-Bobby-SOXERS WEEK, BOBBY DEAR, I'LL LET THAT REMARK PASS.

HERE, WHY DON'T YOU BOTH WRAP YOURSELVES AROUND THESE AND CALL IT A DRAW?

The mubarb had started early. Alec was embarrassed, but I was enjoying it. Meanwhile...

JUST A FEW SHIRTS AND SOCKS, ONE OR TWO SUITS. STUFF ALL WRINKLED-- LOOKS LIKE MR. FLINT, WHO-EVER HE IS, PACKED IN A HURRY.

SO HE'S GOT A GUN!

LOOKING FOR SOMETHING, MRS. KYLE?

JED BREWSTER! HOW DARE YOU COME UPSTAIRS IN THIS HOUSE?

Prince Valiant

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR

by Harold Lloyd

Synopsis: PRINCE VALIANT IS ON THE VERGE OF DEFEAT IN HIS DUEL WITH EGIL AND ARF. PRAYS FOR A MIRACLE TO SAVE HIM. NO MIRACLE ARRIVES-- SO, CLIMBING TO THE SNOW-LADEN ROOF, HE CREATES ONE OF HIS OWN.

THE SNOW, WET AND HEAVY FROM THE SPRING SUNSHINE, HAS BEEN FIRMLY PACKED BY THE FALL, AND IT IS QUITE SOME TIME BEFORE THE DUELISTS ARE UNCOVERED.

VAL HAD BEEN DROOPING WITH WEARINESS, SO HE HAS FALLEN LIMPLY AND IS UNHURT.

BUT EGIL, MAD WITH RAGE, HAD STIFFENED UNDER THE IMPACT AND SUFFERED A PULLED TENDON.

"I AM READY TO CONTINUE, SIR VALIANT," SAYS EGIL. "IF YOU WISH TO DIE, DO IT NOBLY FIGHTING FOR KING AND COUNTRY, NOT IN A SENSELESS QUARREL," ANSWERS VAL.

VAL SMILES, THEN LAUGHS ALOUD. "IT IS FITTING THAT SUCH A SILLY DUEL HAVE A SILLY ENDING!"

AT THIS MOMENT THE KING IS NOT SMILING. HE HAS BEFORE HIM AN AGE-OLD PROBLEM, SOMETIMES GOOD, SOMETIMES TRAGIC, BUT ALWAYS DANGEROUS. ONE OF HIS JARLS IS TALKING: "THESE STRANGERS HAVE COME AMONG US TO OVERTHROW THE GODS OF OLD AND SET UP ALTARS TO A NEW GOD. MANY HAVE ABANDONED THE FAITH OF THEIR FATHERS TO FOLLOW THEM, AND THERE IS CONFUSION IN THE LAND."
