House Democrats Plan Committees

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democratic leaders put final touches today to a plan aimed at giving the Truman administration a sure-fire way to get around the oft-troublesome Rules Committee.

Still another move within party ranks was reported afoot—to try to keep Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.) off the un-American Activities Committee—but the leaders refused even to discuss it.

They did, however, arrange a meeting with Speaker-designate Sam Rayburn of Texas in the hope of winning his promise to recommend the Rules Committee project to President Truman.

The President originally had planned to handle this matter with Rayburn and Vice President-elect Barkley of Kentucky, on plans for the new Congress which convenes Monday. But the White House said the meeting probably will be held tomorrow instead.

Mr. Truman and President Roosevelt before him both have had troubles with the House Rules Committee—even when the Democrats were in control of Congress, as they will be again next week.

That trouble arose because the Rules Committee, which must give its okay before major bills

Invitations to Annual CC Banquet Out

Invitations to attend the annual membership banquet and installation of officers of the Panola Chamber of Commerce and Board of Development are being sent to neighboring towns today, Joe F. Key, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said this morning.

The annual banquet will be held Tuesday, Jan. 1, at the Senior High School Cafeteria, at which time Thurmond Sensing, research director of the Southern States Industrial Council, Nashville, Tenn., will serve as the principal speaker.

Sensing's topic will be, "We the People." He comes to Pampa highly recommended as an after-dinner speaker.

Reservations may be made at the Chamber of Commerce office. Since only 250 places will be available for Pampans, they have been urged to make their reservations at the earliest possible date. Approximately 100 persons from neighboring towns will be special guests.

The ten new directors, recently elected by the membership at large, will be installed at the meeting. They are George S. Vineyard, Frank M. Carter, Evelyn Lawrence, J. C. McWilliams, Sherman White, Floyd Inel, A. N. Atchison, J. Wade Dunca, A. A. Schueneman and D. M. Behrman.

Hold-over directors include Ralph Juillard, Jake Garman, John O. Pitts, Irvin Cole, Reno Stinson, E. M. Sampson, Ray Kuhn, Joe F. Key, Fred Thompson and L. G. Langston.

Retiring directors are Frank Smith, W. B. Weathered, Charlie Burton, Tom Rose, Jr., Henry Ellis, William T. Fraser, H. C. Berry, Cecil Myatt and A. C. Troop.

Wainwright Says Historian's Talk Wholly Incorrect

SEATTLE (AP)—An Army historian's assertion that the first surrender of American troops on Bataan was in direct opposition to the order of Gen. Wainwright, Mr. Wainwright said today.

The commander of American forces said at San Antonio, Tex., that the statement was "completely incorrect."

The historian, Louis Morton, told a historical association meeting here that Wainwright was under orders from Washington "not to surrender under any circumstances." Morton said when the Japanese broke the defenses on Bataan, Wainwright was asked for instructions by the Bataan commander, Lt. Gen. Edward P. King, Jr. He told King to counter-attack.

Wainwright said he knew of no such incidents as related by Morton.

Mercury Drops to Season Low of 17

FOR the second time in less than a week the mercury here dropped to the low point of the winter season so far the KFDN observation station reported.

Some time between midnight and 1 a. m. today the temperature hit 17 degrees, the same point it reached at 7 p. m. on Christmas Day.

According to the Associated Press report, the biggest part of the state shivered in freezing weather this morning. Clearness is expected with the lowest reported, then came Pampa with 17, Lubbock with 18, and Amarillo and Childress with 19 each.

The lower Rio Grande Valley and the coastal area were about the only sections to escape sub-freezing temperatures, the AP reported.

Youth, 14, Arrested in Bank Robbery

COLETT'S CHRISTI (AP)—Vernon Rice, 14, was arrested yesterday in connection with the robbery of $9,000 from the Campus Christi National Bank here on Nov. 23.

The boy was charged in federal court with juvenile delinquency. He told police and federal agents that he walked into the bank a little after noon, stroled through an open bank vault, put a canvas sack containing the money into a cardboard carton and carried the carton back out through the front door.

The boy's mother, two brothers, a brother-in-law and sister were charged Tuesday with receiving the bills.

A total of $1,538 had been recovered yesterday. Federal Agents of Investigation Agent Ross D. Wolcott said the alertness of a teller at the State National Bank was responsible for the recovery of $4,508 of the money and arrest of the Rice.

Wolcott said that on Dec. 17, Theodore Vasquez, a brother-in-law of Ramon, went to the window of Paul Jones, the teller, and asked to change 200 one dollar bills into larger bills.

Jones gave him the money, but took his name, address and description. The entire family was then placed under surveillance by FBI agents and city police.

U. S. Commissioner J. A. Mount set bond for adult members of the family at $2,500 each. Mount set bond on Ramon at $1,500. They are being held at the county jail. Helen Rice, the juvenile sister, was released Tuesday on her own recognizance.

Last night no word had been received here from the crew members. J. C. McCarty, Brownsville, agent for the Canadian motorship Capotola, said he would start attempts today to find the crew if no word had been received from them.

McCarty said he would appeal to the Mexican government for help if it became necessary.

Another vessel, the Linda Clausen, which had developed engine and steering trouble, was being towed to Galveston.

Sheriff Charged With False Arrest

DALLAS (AP)—A $10,000 suit was filed here by a Dallas man who claimed he was falsely arrested by a deputy sheriff and put in jail for 72 hours without being charged.

Sheriff Steve Guthrie, Deputy Vernon Wilkins and the Aetna Casualty & Surety Co., which bonded Guthrie, were named in the suit filed by Leonard C. Teague in 116th District Court.

Teague's petition said he stayed in jail 72 hours before a charge of driving while intoxicated was filed against him. He said that a trial in county criminal court later resulted in a verdict of innocence on the charge.

Peace or War Talk Still Floods China

NANKING (AP)—War or peace talk still flooded Nanking today, but a government spokesman spoke reports that Chiang Kai-shek called together his lieutenants to discuss China's overall future.

Instead, said spokesman, Shen Chang-chuan at his first news conference, the Chinese military leaders came here for "consultations" rather than "conferences."

This was taken to mean they were here for individual rather than collective meetings with the Chinese President.

But Chinese looked forward to Chiang's promised first of the year statement for some inkling of what the Generalissimo has on his mind. The big question is: will the war continue or is there some hope of peace for China's war-weary millions?

Shen brushed off a report that Vice President Li Tsung-shan had joined the national government in advocating peace with the Communists.

"I met Vice President Li this morning. When told of the report he was much surprised, saying, 'I share the same thought entered by President Chiang.'"

Asked if this was confirmation or denial of the report on Li, Shen said the Generalissimo's views in which Chiang emphasized his determination to fight on against the Reds was well known. That statement, the spokesman said, still stands until Chiang makes another one.

Nanking was the scene of constant political activity against a background of recurring reports that a way was being sought for Chiang's retirement in order to

Truman Determined to Hold Military Costs to Lowest Safe Figure in 1949

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today determined to hold military costs next year to the lowest figure he considers safe in the present uneasy state of the world.

He is said to be eager to avoid straining the country's production and price controls while rationing and price controls would have to be clamped back on.

The President's advisers believe he will ask Congress once again next week for standby controls.

As chief of both domestic and foreign policy, Mr. Truman has to worry simultaneously about the cookstove for your kitchen and the combat tank for France.

If he has to make too many tanks to return France to the American Army, there might not be enough steel left to make cookstoves. Then he would face the question: should he reduce the number of tanks or the number of cookstoves? And if there are too few stoves, who gets them?

That sort of thing leads to rationing and price controls. Secretary of Defense Forrestal underscored that point in his annual report last night. He didn't

New Congressional Fight Is Possible

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Forrestal today set the stage today for a possible new fight in Congress with

At the same time, the cabinet officer declared this country must help re-arm non-Communist Europe even though the cost "may necessitate hard decisions by our people."

For itself, the United States "is less vulnerable today" than it was when the Army, Navy and Air Force were unified a year ago last September, Forrestal said.

Forrestal did not say what "hard decisions" he had in mind. But he did mention the possibility of higher taxes and more shortages of goods while more American dollars and goods are poured into the dice being erected against Communist aggression.

His first annual report, made last night, was devoted largely to a review of the military establishment under his direction, together with recommendations to the White House for changes in the national law.

But it was spiced by a terse but intriguing notation that military scientists are working on a "earth satellite vehicle program" which perhaps a man-made moon from which great destruction might be heaped on any threatening nation.

HST Prepares For Opening Of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today sailed back from his Christmas holidays after a dramatic talk-down landing through fog and rain plunged in eastward today in preparations for the new Congress.

Mr. Truman gave a group of top officials some long, pithy remarks yesterday while his plane glided under a radar lane to a National Airport runway after circling in the mist for more than an hour.

As cabinet members and other government officials stood anxiously in the rain, the President, by his own word, was "reading and sleeping." "Oh, my goodness, no!"

Mr. Truman returned from a week with his family in Missouri to a deskload of work. These matters were awaiting his attention for relay to Capitol Hill, where the Democratic-controlled 81st Congress goes to work Jan. 3.

The annual state of the union message, which he will deliver in person on Wednesday, his economic report and then his budget requests for the year starting July 1, and a vital foreign policy message which Congress will get later in the month.

Be Careful With That Yule Tree

By The Associated Press
What are you going to do with that Christmas tree?
Authorities agree that it should be taken from the home as soon as possible.

Chop Up Yule Trees For Trash Collector

City garbage and trash collectors will pick up discarded Christmas trees if they are cut into 4-foot lengths and stacked alongside the trash barrels, City Health Inspector Ray Salmon said this morning.

The trees must be broken up small enough that they can be put into the back door of the garbage packers, Salmon said. With extra-large trees, the heavy limbs should be stripped off and the trunk broken into short lengths. Very small trees can be left entire, Salmon said.

It will not be necessary, the health inspector pointed out, to tie the trees and branches into bundles, unless a high wind should spring up, because a bundle might be too large for the packer to handle.

The trees and branches should be placed beside the trash barrels, not in them, Salmon said.

Texas Crop Production Was Better Than Average Year

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Texas crop production was slightly better than average this year but did not compare with the bountiful 1947 harvest, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported.

Below average yields for most crops were offset by above average acreage, the government reporting agency said in its annual crop summary.

The pecan crop was one of the largest on record.

Rice and flour had poor yields but nevertheless set new production records on expanded acreages.

Production of small grains and deciduous fruits was cut by the mid-March freeze and the winter and spring drought.

Corn and cotton were the only major crops which showed above average yields per acre.

Texas farmers harvested crops on 27.9 million acres. This was three percent less than the 1947 acreage but two percent above the 1937-45 crop.

"The 1948 crop season was characterized by a general moisture deficiency in which practically the entire staff received below normal rainfall; a severe freeze on March 11; extreme high day temperatures during July and August; and an open fall which was ideal for harvesting of crops," the USDA report said.

The 1948 Texas production picture, crop by crop:

Corn—44,696,000 bushels, the smallest harvest since 1934.

Flax—1,320,000 bushels, the highest crop on record.

Wheat—66,290,000 bushels, 23 percent above average but less than half the record crop of 124 million bushels in 1947.

Oats—estimated at 14,240,000 bushels, less than half of the 1947 crop and only about 40 percent of average.

Cotton—3,200,000 bales, compared with 2,437,000 bales in 1947 and an average of 2,684,000.

Peanuts—estimated at 276,375,000 pounds, 22 percent below 1947 but still above average.

Prevention Plans Made for Cotton

AP Special Washington Service WASHINGTON—(AP)—Legislation which he hopes will discourage cotton farmers from overplanting in 1949 will be sponsored early next year by Rep. Gathings (D-Ark), he said.

Gathings, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, said he will present a resolution which, if adopted, would result in 1949 being ignored in fixing base acreage allotments in a new cotton program.

Gathings said the new Congress likely will write a cotton program restoring planting restrictions which were tossed overboard during the war. Prior to the war each farmer was given a stated acreage allotment, based on plantings during a previous five-year period. The new program, likewise probably will base the acreage allotments on some five-year period, he said, but one of those years should not be 1949.

"If the farmers know 1949 isn't to be included," he said, "they will go ahead and plant corn, soybeans and other crops which they need. And we will avoid the danger of a 20,000,000-bale cotton crop."

Farm Work Is at a Minimum This Week

AUSTIN—(AP)—Farm and ranch work was at a minimum this week as crop planting neared completion and holiday celebrations took place, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported.

Exceptions were active harvest of winter vegetables and citrus fruits, essential handling of livestock, and regular farm chores.

Recent rains in blackland and East Texas counties helped small grains, winter cover crops, and grasses. Moisture reserves were sufficient for fair progress of wheat in extreme northern Panhandle counties. Light rain and sleet furnished enough moisture in the Trans-Pecos and western plateau areas to improve prospects for winter weeds and grasses.

The effects of the extended drought continued to become more critical in the remainder of the state, particularly in the low rolling plains and southern high plains.

Texas Winter Wheat Seeding to Be High

AUSTIN—(AP)—Winter wheat seeding in Texas for the 1949 harvest is estimated to cover 7,450,000 acres, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported.

This acreage, if realized, would be the largest of record for Texas. A record of 7,587,000 acres was seeded for harvest in 1947.

Wheat production for 1949 is indicated at 64,855,000 bushels, based on conditions as of Dec. 1. This is slightly over half the record 1947 crop of 124,270,000 bushels.

Roberts Farmers Plant Cedar Trees

B. P. Seitz and Tom O'Bryan are in the process of planting cedar trees to serve as windbreaks, it was announced from the Roberts County Soil Conservation District.

Seitz plans to use his windbreak for a protection for his ranch buildings. O'Bryan has designed his to form a half circle around his feed pens.

The trees will provide winter protection for livestock, quail and other birds and help improve the appearance of the farms. The cedars will be planted with Austrian pine, apricot and Chinese elms. The trees will be furnished by the Soil Conservation Service and will be planted in rows far enough apart to allow plowing between them to kill weeds.

If Farm Boy Can Go to the City To Make Good, Why Not Reversed?

The old saying about the farm boy going to the city to make good gets a reverse twist at the Bowdoin Farm School at New Hamburg, N. Y., where the city boy can prepare for a farm career.

The story of this successful and unique career school for farmers, now in its twentieth year of existence, is related in the article, "Future Farmers," now appearing in the January Coronet.

Opened in 1929 by the Children's Aid Society of New York, the school is one of the few institutions in the country "where a boy may enter of his own free will, at any time of the year, without charge," says the article. After the six month course, the boys are placed on suitable farms—not as hired hands, but as members of the family. Their average earnings of $75 to $100 a month above maintenance represent a net income which few city boys can equal on their first jobs. Frequently the school starts the boys off to careers on their own farms, with dairy concerns, or with related farm industries.

The story of Spike, a thin-shouldered 17-year-old, is typical of many of the boys at Bowdoin. He had spent two years in a futile attempt to make a living in the city, and considered himself a failure. As a last chance, he enrolled at Bowdoin, but after two months of the routine chores and rising at 5 a. m., he was discontented and wanted to quit.

Then one day the turning point came when a brood sow he had been assigned to care for produced a litter. Before long, Spike was spending every moment watching the new arrivals. He gave them names and spoke of them with pride—they were his pigs.

From that moment, Spike prepared eagerly for his career as a farmer, looking forward like his

The questionable part that the two foremost radio propagandists played in the Hiss-Chambers-Stirling plot is little less important than the great betrayal itself.

These two were Walter Winchell and Drew Pearson. These are powerful men. The press has covered up their activity but the news belongs to the public and should be told.

Pearson does not appear to have had the story although he has set himself forth as an authority on "inside" information from the State Department and one witness testified that he enjoyed State Department leaks.

Winchell recently admitted that he held the secret of the treachery in the State Department for ten years. He said he took it to his "commander in chief," Roosevelt. Winchell was in a technical sense a reserve Naval officer serving at the Stork Club, New York.

Stripling was drafted Jan. 22, 1945. In September he landed at Fort Meade. He was in the Army when he was put under orders for Tokyo. The committee asked the secretary of war to explain the discharge.

Stripling was an American Major Dreyfus, persecuted for political reasons. The climax occurred in November, 1945, when he had to sweep out officers' club at Camp Holabird, Md., with a German prisoner of war sneering orders to sweep the corners clean.

The officers and their ladies were going to have a dance that night. Holabird is only a few miles from the national Capitol where Stripling had exposed Communists all over Roosevelt's administration.

Stripling was a "Pre-Pearl Harbor" spy. He helped Pearson hammer him as a slacker on Sunday nights and the citizens who believed that propaganda may now desire to revise their opinions of the victim and the broadcaster.

That certainly doesn't sound like offering a very friendly hand to the Chinese Communists. Mr. Hoffman qualified it further when a reporter asked what the aid policy might be in an interim period when it could not be clearly determined whether the coalition government really represented the people and gave them free press, free educational institutions, free religion?

Council of Churches' Human Rights Statement More Socialistic Than Ever

At the meeting of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ of America held in Cincinnati, December 1-3, 1948, the council adopted what they call basic human rights and what they call social, economic and political rights that should be established throughout the world.

The right to adequate housing and health care. The right to a standard of living adequate for the health and well-being of the individual and his family. The right of every employable person to work under decent conditions and fair compensation and to be up-graded according to character and ability, or to engage in an individual enterprise or profession.

WASHINGTON—Around here, writes W. J. L. of Albuquerque, "there is a lot of talk about taxation. It seems to me that the breaking point, and it may be time for another 'Boston Tea Party'."

BUDGET—President Truman hopes to keep the 1950 fiscal budget down to about $42 billion although prospective appropriations toward the end of the year will probably raise it to $45 billion or several billion more.

BLOW—"I notice," comments J. C. of Rutherford, N. J., "that you say President Truman's election was a 'blow to Stalin.' Why was it not a blow to England, where they apparently expected and wanted a Dewey victory?"

It seems that the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America are setting up a new form of religion that they erroneously call Christianity.

Shamrock

SHAMROCK—(Special)—Edward M. Burkhalter, principal of Shamrock High School, has announced that 54 students of the four upper classes made grades high enough to place their names on the first and second honor rolls for the second six weeks period of school.

Twenty-seven names appear on each of the honor rolls. First Honor Roll—Doris Etenbough, Patsy Brown, Sandra Burden, Norma Chapman, Margaret D'Spain, Mary D'Spain, Charles Fulk, Robbie Gibson, Mary Lou Hofmann, Leta Mae Hughes, Barbara Isaacs, Billy Lasater, Wynona F. Lister.

SHIRLEY LEE, Eugene Nix, Bennie Parks, Don Reavis, James Reynolds, Moetta Scott, Billie Shaffer, Junelle Sims, Roylene Sims, Roger Skaggs, M. C. Ella Sargent and Peggy Tinsley.

TELEPHONE—Mr. Truman refused to okay the Barkley choice for several days during which he tried, by long-distance telephone, to persuade Justice Douglas to run. Although the latter has political ambitions, and is apparently angling for the nomination, he backed out last month because, so we understand, he thought Mr. Truman was headed for certain defeat.

CORRECT—Answer: As to the two forecasts mentioned by B. R. S. of Wallace, was unbelievably correct, although the so-called economic experts and politicians did not agree with him at the time.

It's about time Sam Goldwyn got around to filming "The Golden Girl." She's had more publicity than any gal in Hollywood... George Jessel's vest buttons are popping again. President Truman approved use of his portrait on the sheet music of Jessel's pop song, "Let's Get Behind the President."

COMPLAINT DEPT. "Holden Smith-Agean" heads our complaint department today. It's easy for actors to complain. But Bill Holden, I think, has a basis for his complaint. He's not objecting on grounds that he's not working. He's made five pictures this year. He's got a job. I'm not working hard enough. I've been typed as Jim, the nice fellow with the toothpick in his mouth. I just come to the studio every day and smile. Anybody can come in and smile. I want to work. And I can show you films that prove my point.

PARAMOUNT'S casting of Bill in "Dear Wife," a sequel to last year's comedy hit, "Dear Ruth," was the last straw. Bill served notice on both Paramount and Columbia, who share his contract, that he'll play no more smiling boy roles after "Dear Wife."

He arrived Tuesday with a smoldering torch. He gave the torch to Mayor Dan Fonder of El Paso and a rabble-rousing lighted an urn to signal the opening of the celebration.

1949 Welcome Newcomers...

Five new families have moved into Pampa — fastest growing city of the Panhandle — during the month of December.

They come from all walks of life and from numerous points over the nation to take their place in this oil and gas capitol on the great plains of the Texas Panhandle... a town that has long since gained the reputation of being the FRIENDLY City.

Starting out as a cow town no bigger than the proverbial "li'l ol wide place in the road" — Pampa took on a slow but steady influx of settlers, building up to a throbbing little city of approximately 20,000 and today boasts a growing diversified industrial area embracing the manufacture and production of carbon black, aviation gasoline, butane, kerosene and other petroleum products... mattress factories, tanks, large supply houses, machine shops and a beautiful mercantile section of modern retail stores.

This page, on the last Friday of each month will list all newcomers — where they came from and where they are residing. To them, the friendly booming city of the Top 'O Texas sends out a hearty welcome and wishes well for their success during the coming year of 1949.

Moving here this month are: Jack W. McCallon, 219 Sunset Drive from Stratford, Texas; Jimmie Pettigrew, 444 Hughs from Springfield, Missouri; Robert Howard, 716 East Kingsmill from McLean; William R. Everett Jr., 507 N. Nelson from Wichita Falls, Texas; Mrs. Marjorie Urban 609 North Cuyler from Atlanta, Georgia; J. R. McSkimming from Temple, Texas; Howard Leurs from Borger. "No!" She motioned to him horrified. "For heaven's sake, I was to have done that. It will be taken for a signal that it's over."

"Her head came up. She was bated, she was watchful, she was crafty. Of what he could not tell."

"She struggled heroically with him, as though she were the spirit of life itself, contesting with the spirit of death that sought to possess him."

Cotton Bowl Coaches Wary of Outcome But Teams Hopeful

WARREN'S WARM UP

QUESTION: What is the standing in the Notre-Dame Army football series?

ROSE BOWL: The annual Battle of the Roses will bring together two star-studded elevens, plus a teacher-pupil contest in this third game of the Pacific Coast-Western Conference agreement. The Big Nine representatives have humbled the West Coast teams in the other two games, and this appears to be the best chance yet for a Pacific Coast victory.

Baylor Loses In Finals to Oklahomans

By the Associated Press
The Irish of Notre Dame and Southern Methodist University clash tonight at Dallas in the feature game of a sparse schedule involving Southwest Conference basketball teams.

Arkansas and Tennessee play at Memphis, Tenn., in the only other tilt tonight.

The Irish, sparked by Kevin O'Shea, will be a test crew, but not Southern Methodist.

The Mustang cagers have been playing in the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City and yesterday managed to take seventh place with a 39-41 decision over Auburn.

Baylor, defending conference champion and a wood bet to repeat, bowed to Oklahoma A&M, 36-39, in the finals of the Oklahoma City meet.

The University of Texas Longhorns won third place in the All-College Tournament, defeating Alabama, 60-39.

The lead changed seven times in the first ten minutes during the second half of the Baylor-Illahoma Aggie tilt and Baylor held the advantage at one point, but the Aggies jumped right back into the lead and froze the ball with a minute left to play.

District 2-A Has Boxing League Schedule Ready

SHAMROCK (Special)—Officials of the District 2-A Boxing League have voted to conduct this season's schedule on a double round robin basis similar to the current basketball set-up.

Boxing teams of each school will meet each other twice during the season on a home-and-home schedule. These meets will have no bearing on the champions of the various weight divisions, these titles being decided at a district tournament to be held here on the weekend of the first week in April.

The district tourney was held in Clarendon last year during April.

Since Shamrock is to host to the district championship meet, the annual invitation boxing tournament will not be held in this season, Supt. Elmer J. Moore declared.

Six schools have already entered the District 2-A Boxing League. They are: Shamrock, McLean, Quail, Lefors, Clarendon and Wellington. Other schools in the area are invited to enter, and it is pointed out that "AA," "A" and "B" classifications are eligible. Cannon is a member school and is expected to enter again, although a representative was not present for the re-organization meet.

Al Duncan, athletic director of McLean Schools, was named chairman of the District 2-A Boxing League, replacing John Lee of Wellington, who had served the post two years. Logan Cummings, superintendent of McLean Schools, was elected secretary.

The double round robin schedule will be announced within a few days.

BETTER BOWLING

BY BILLY SIXTY
BREAKS AND FOULS: Everyone knows that, no matter how good you are sometimes you have the breaks, and sometimes you don't. Losing a good pocket hit, or drawing a wide open split, is accepted as a break in the game. "Tails" is interesting.

But having the pins respotted and disregarding the pin fall because you've fouled is often a real setback. If you happen to have fouled on the first ball, you get a chance to do it over, but then it may be a hardship . . . and unnecessary.

Even in the case of sticky runways, there is actually no excuse for a foul. Sticking and tripping over the line can be avoided by trying out the runways (approach) before starting a league or tournament series to see that they are in good enough condition.

Always try a few preliminary slides, and if the runways "feel" a little sticky in taking a few practice slides, apply a touch-up with steel wool. This precaution also keeps away painful muscle distortions which are more important than anything else.

When you have a minute or two, steel-wool and then trial and error until the feeling of footwork is smooth and the slide-finish is

The Big Nine representatives have humbled the West Coast teams in the other two games, and this appears to be the best chance yet for a Pacific Coast victory.

Leading the California Bears will be Jackie Jensen, 192-pound All-American fullback, and named to many all-American elevens. It has been mainly through the play of Jensen and the line work of all-American guard Rod Frantz that the Californians swept through the season undefeated. Jackie is also an excellent passer and punter.

Heading the list of stars on the Northwestern squad is also a fullback, Art Murakowski. A junior, Murakowski has been named the most valuable man on the team the past two years, and this year won the honor of the most valuable in the Big Ten.

The Irish, sparked by Kevin O'Shea, will be a test crew, but not Southern Methodist.

Bowl Teams Tapering Off in Preparation for Big Games

Orange Bowl Rose Bowl

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—The flu and injury ridden Texas team and hale and hearty Georgia plan quiet programs today of signal calling, a little kicking, brisk passing, but no hard knocking. The workouts will be next to the last before the battle in Miami's Orange Bowl New Year's Day before a cosmopolitan crowd of 60,000.

Forty-one Texas natives, all but one of them players, flew in yesterday after a 1,400-mile non-stop trip from Austin. Along with them came six who doubtless won't play at full steam against Georgia.

Three suffer from flu and three from injuries. Those hit hardest by last week's flu epidemic are end Ben Proctor, tackle Ken Jackson and back Byron Gillyard. The injured are guard Danny Wolfe, end Peppy Blount and tackle-guard-center Alfred Miller.

Coach Blair Cherry ordered only a loosening-up workout after the flight. The same is on for today and tomorrow with pads left in lockers.

Georgia began slowing down today after nearly ten days of either scrimmaging or other hard work. The Bulldogs' heavy program contrasts with Texas' comparatively easy going.

The attitude of Coaches Cherry and Wally Butts also are at odds. Butts hovered over his team continually during scrimmaging and often mumbled "you just haven't got it. You ain't got it." After yesterday's work Butts said, "they look miserable—just miserable."

Cherry on the other hand said, "Texas wants to play this game. They'll give a good account of themselves, watch and see."

The party of 55 Texans which arrived yesterday will be followed by another plane load today. Five additional players will run the Texas squad to 46. Georgia's player group is 48.

Welcoming the Longhorns, Orange Bowl Queen Corine Gustafson and her 32-princess court wore 10-gallon hats and leather jackets and looked the part of Texans.

Sugar Bowl

BILOXI, Miss.—(AP)—This might puncture some theories, but Oklahoma's quarterback Jack Mitchell finds a study of psychology helps very little in leading a football team.

"One of the greatest natural leaders I've ever seen," head Coach Bud Wilkinson of the Sugar Bowl-bound Sooners puts it. "A terrific inspiration to the team."

Family Secrets

Dallas Has Three Teams in Tourney

DALLAS—(AP)—A giant center, O'Neal Weaver, put little Martins Mills into the semi-finals of the Dr. Pepper High School Invitational Basketball Tournament here today, along with three Dallas schools—defending champion Crozier Tech, North Dallas and Adamson.

Weaver scored 33 points in his team's 57-38 victory over Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) last night in a quarter-finals game.

Crozier Tech advanced to the semi-finals by squeezing past Highland Park (Dallas) 29-27. Adamson moved on by dumping Sidel, 56-38, and North Dallas walloped Sunset (Dallas) 44-43.

Martins Mills and Adamson meet for the right to play in tomorrow's finals. Crozier Tech takes on North Dallas.

In the consolation bracket, Arlington Heights of Fort Worth tripped Sulphur Springs, 41-20; Waxahachie beat Sherman, 29-21; Carrollton downed Lubbock, 32-20, and Bowie whipped Mesquite, 64-24.

Arlington Heights and Waxahachie clash today and Bowie meets Carrollton.

The New Haven Ramblers are one of the youngest teams ever to play in the American Hockey League, averaging only 23.5 years.

It's Kentucky and St. Louis In Sugar Bowl Basketball

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—The basketball game everyone has longed for—Kentucky vs. St. Louis—will be played here tonight in the finals of the four-team Sugar Bowl Tournament.

The Wildcats of Kentucky and Billikens of St. Louis, outstanding college clubs of last season and undefeated in the present campaign, won their way to the title game with victories in last night's opening round.

The Billikens, National Invitational champions, beat Holy Cross 61-52 in the first game last night. Then Kentucky's NCAA kings, shooting with amazing accuracy, swamped Tulane 78-47.

Kentucky and St. Louis have never met at basketball before. Last spring, when each boasted a national title, there was great hope they might clash in the Olympic trials. But St. Louis didn't enter, and Kentucky lost to the AAU Champion Phillips Oilers in the finals.

The dream match is set for 9:30 p.m., Central Standard Time, in New Orleans Municipal Auditorium. Holy Cross and Tulane will play a consolation game at 7:30.

Wharton Trims Paris 28-0 in Oleaner Bowl

ALVESTON—(AP)—Galveston's weather was downright cold last night, but the Wharton Junior College Pioneers were red hot as they smashed Paris Junior College, 28-0, in the first annual Oleaner Bowl.

Eugene Greene and W. B. Morrow scored two touchdowns each and Warren Abel made good on all four extra points as the Pioneers piled up 18 yards in the first period and three times in the third.

A chilled crowd of 8,500 watched the two Texas Junior College football teams in action.

Paris picked up 46 yards on the ground, got within the Wharton ten-yard line four times, but couldn't score.

Wharton gained 195 yards on the ground and 18 in the air. Paris picked up 10 yards on three completed passes out of 13 attempts.

Sports Round-Up

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK—(AP)—A Southern observer who is high on the North Carolina football team points out that only four Carolina backs have carried the ball in as many as ten running plays this season. He adds: "If either Charley Justice or Horaa Rodgers should be hurt in the Sugar Bowl—oooh!"

Baylor, which plays Wake Forest in the Dixie Bowl, was founded by the Republic (not the State) of Texas in 1845. A lot of folks think Wake Forest was founded by Peahead Walker.

END OF THE LINE
Boston University, which landed that much-sought-for Harry Agganis, also would like to get Fall River's Joe Andrews, who has had almost as many college bids as Agganis. He is a fine baseball player as well as a football star.

Like Waite Hoyt, the old-time quarterbacked the football Giants, big league hockey now has its off-season undertaker. He is Cliff Thompson, who recently joined the Bruins. Most folks figure if a guy wants to play hockey, that's his own funeral.
