Infection in the Colleges Since this column has had so much to say about the effects of socialism and communism in organized education, an article in the December issue of Plain Talk was very interesting. It was under the heading of "Infection in the Colleges" written by Archie Black. Here are a few statements from this article:
"The dissemination of Sovjet propaganda through textbooks and the classroom; the formation of Communist Party cells and fronts among students and faculties; the exploitation of professors and teachers on public platforms, in the press, on the radio, in various political pressure groups, all for the purpose of furthering the work of the secret Soviet fifth column; and the abuse of the noble concept of academic freedom to destroy the foundations of all freedom-these are some of the asound probing and competent study by a body of impartial experts. It seems it does not need very much studying. We already know that academic freedom does not companies say they have to have give any professor the right to expect somebody else to pay his > tional institution and not be able to muscle in on some college that was founded with the idea of teaching eternal principles. Then the article goes on to say: "There is no mystery about the Communist aims to use the educational system of a country for propagandistic and subversive ends. The official Communist literature is replete with evidence of the design to turn schools 'into forums for the revolution.' And Communists make no secret of their ability wants academic freedom, let him to get non-Communists to do their dirty work." As evidence of these socialistic doctrines in the public schools, let me remind the readers in California we have a book known as America and the New Frontier It must be taught in every ninth grade in California. If it is taught, the principal can be fined $100.00 a day and the state can withhold all the state sales tax due that school district. This book eulogizes the New Deal. It implies that there are no Higher Laws than the laws made by men. It implies that the Constitution is not of much value. They do it m subtle way such as saying that "many people believe that it should be less difficult to change the Constitution." Robert Sproul's Influence

Here is what the magazine has to say about the University of California and Dr. Sproul:

"Also on the Attorney General's of subversive organizations whether or not he is or ever has the Communist Party's 'Hollywood commissar.' Numerous professors of the University of California and its distinguished president, Robert Gordon Sproul, have taken an active part in the affairs of the HWM. The organization was born in 1943. executive brains can, in the language of Edgar Bergen, "he sa stupid."

It seems that before this yof 1948 has come to an end, C ada will have shipped to country in excess of 7,000 bushels of potatoes, while duithe same period our governmenter its price support: plan have purchased in excess of 000,000 bushels of potatoes in American potato-growers.

000,000 bushels of potatoes from American potato-growers.
What autounds our good friends to the north is that their Canadian-grown potatoes are being sold in this country at a price less than Uncle Sam is paying the American farmer under the support program. They also find it almost impossible to believe that our government is selling some of our own potatoes for alcohol-making purposes at 9q a bushel, or for $1.50. The WSCS met at the church purposes at 9q a bushel, or for 36 to 18c a bushel for animal feed; while the balance is being dumped into ravines to rot and being sprayed with purple ink to render it inedible. They marvel that while neighbourly of you folks to dump your surplus potatoes so that you can buy our surplus at a fancy price, but I just don't get it." To this jibe, I was unable to make any reply.

No wonder

No wonder our Canadam known on 't understand R. For several months they listened to our bureaucrats and politicians during the recent election campaign, erystant barreaucrats about ing to the high heavens high prices, laying the bit prit, being committeed by policies and laws, which proves and enforces, to keep prices high—far higher than they would be if the law of supply and de-mend was permitted to operate as in the days before the starry-

Yes, prices are high, % because even worse is that governm now talks out of both sides of the mouth. Out of one side, to consumer, it voices loud it tations about the horors of tion and the constantly risks of living; while out of the side, to the farmer, it holls nce of the present price support program. It a new high in the art of

But to get back to our position. No one wishes the farmer to take a loss on his potato crop. How-ever, it is ridicultus that tax delars are being taken from the no stretch of the imagination be called "underprivileged," has not been for many years.

We just went through the pro-cess of electing a President and Congress pledged to take action regarding high prices. A good place for them to start would be with the potato by putting a stop to the silly procedure of paying tax money to dump domestic po-tatods the while we import foreign potatoes. Mrs. Housewife, if you would like to get potatoes back on your table at a price you can to pay, I suggest clip this article and mail it to your Congressman-elect, adding your own protest against the high cost and wanton waste of SPUD and wanton SPOILAGE. waste of Increasing the amount of hookturn is a simple matter of turn-ing the thumb more to the left, or inward, This puts the spin-giving fingers more to the outside, and slightly underneath the ball. LIFT, and consequently spin, are in this way increased. Again, I'd like to point out that this calls for no wrist-turning.

To have a secure, comfortable hold on the ball, hold the ball in the PALM of the left hand, and always fit the fingers 'into the ball BEFORE the thumb. The push-away of the ball in unison with the first step is particularly important, in order to get swing action, full and to a finish. Concentrate on rolling a three-fingered ball, and I suggest roll-

Wise Men, Worship Jesus, Is Minister's Exhortation

First Baptist Church

"Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, saying, "Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him'. When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. And whey he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he to there beside the wise men see it, and was it visible to them during the journey to Bethle-hem? How many wise men were in the company, and from where in the churches all over America Sunday, and w with him. And whey he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born. ## INNKEEPER DID NOT KNOW

St. Mark's Methodist

Text. St. Luke 2:7: "There

His birth is an event so glorious that all Heaven is thrilled with the wonder of it. A star is pointing to the manger cradle with fingers of light. An angel claiming the glad tidings of great joy in words that never lose their sweetness: A wonderful choir from the land where everybody sings is serenading our troubled world with celestial music, praising God, and saying. "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace."

But the wonder of Heaven is little wonder of Heaven is room in my heart for Thee," that is enough. Receive Him as your guest, and nothing can prevent you from having a happy Christmas.

CORN YIELDS

The folly of relying upon the outcome of "planned production" is evident in comparing statistics men, and a handful of shepherds who heard the angel's sermon and believed it, found the Child and worshiped Him. But the world, with its unseeing eyes, and the innkeeper, who great opportunity, miss it altogether. The innkeeper is an in the previous year, yet the total cop is expected to run nearly of the previous year. Man has not yet great opportunity, miss it altogether. has spoken as never a man spake. He has gone to the cross for man's redemption. He has broken the bonds of death. Today He comes to us as the Christ of Experience. He accounts for all that is best and most, beautiful in our world.

But in spite of all this, for vast multitudes this holy season will be Christmas without Christ, a mere shadow without the sub-stance. This will be true not simply for those who have heard the wonderful story of the coming of the King, and, for one reason or another, have failed to accept it. It will be true for meny of us who have heard the good news with joy and have allegiance to the King. I sometimes feel that we who call ourselves Christians are least Chris-tian during the Christmas sea-

There are those who permit themselves to do things the holy season that they will not permit at any other time during the year. There are those who prepare elaborate feasts, and then shut the door in the face of the Guest of Honor. Of course, there are many exceptions. Much will be done upon which the Lord can smile. A number of eyes will sparkle, and a million childish hearts will thrill with joy. But still there will be a multitude far too large who will have little or no room for Jesus.

Why did this innkeeper not make room for Jesus? Why do not we? There are many possible reasons, and I will mention a

First, the innkeeper may have failed to make room because he was not expecting Him. This is certainly the case with multitudes of us today. We have, in a large measure lost our expectancy. We are very short on hope. Very few of us are standing upon our watchtower, scanning the horizon in the faith that something big is about to take place. One of the needs of Christians today is the fecovery of its lost note of expectancy.

Second, then the innkeeper may have shut the door in the face of Jesus because he did not recognize Him. You see, He came to him as the unborn Christ. He did not have your chance and mine. I do not know in just what guise our Lord will just what guise our Lord will knock at your door and mine at this Christmas season. He may some through a gnawing hunger and a burning thirst. He may come in the guise of a little child needing our help and say-Whosoever receiveth one tle child in my name receiveth me.'

Text, St. Luke 2:7: "There was no room for Them in the inn."

Here is a story whose pathos seems to deepen with the passing of the centuries. The Angel of Suffering has come to Mary, and her brow is crowned with the sweet radiance of mother-hood. In her arms is a little child. That child is Heaven's King, and the King of all worlds. It was of Him that the prophet sang: "For unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given: and the government shall be upon His sholder: and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty God, the Everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace."

Me."

Third, perhaps the innkeeper did not open the door to Christ because he did not want Him, the cause with many of us. By this, I do not mean that we would not desire Jesus as our guest if we could have Him on our own terms. But we cannot do this. There are guests that some of us insist upon entertaining with whom He flatly refuses to associate. When Herod heard of Him from the Wise Men, he lid not burst into song—he was troubled. The Jewish nation did not want Him, though they looked forward to His coming for centuries. About the saddest sentence ever written is this: "He came unto His own, and His own received Him not." Well, I guess no one ever gives psychiatrists Christmas presents, because every holiday season they take potshots at Santa Claus. Now it's a psychiatrist in Dallas who warns parents not to fib to the children about Santa because they might be shocked into juvenile delinquency when they learn the truth.

Maybe he's right. Maybe all us grownups today are adult de-us grownups today are adult de-linquents because we were told in our youth there was a Santa.

But I still believe in him, because there's still a Christmas spirit, thank goodness, with Santa a big part of it—and if he icn't real, nothing is.

I do hope my husband doesn't read anything about there being no Santa. Because every Christ-mas, he fixes up like Santa Claus and if he found out Santa doesn't exist, it might do something to his subconsicousness. Also, might not get any presents.

"Dear Santa.

That's the way the world's children think about this time of the yea. They send their meager epistles of childish sup-plication to that fabulous creature who, no doubt, inhabits a region

Gulf Coast Invaded by Mosquitoes

ORANGE — (AP) — Three Gum Coast cities — Beaument, Port Arthur and Orange—are hoping for a good brisk norther to chase away an invasion of Mosquitoes,

The Orange Leader said that the skeeter invasion is unprecedented in recent history of the area. An estimated 300,000 persons are affected.

Normally at this time of the year the pests have gone in hibernation. However, the recent siege of uneasonably warm weather brought them to life again.

Yesterday, businessmen of Orange pooled their money and engaged a commercial fogging concern to lay a blanket of in insecticide over the entire business area. Marchants say Christmas shoppers are being chased away by the insects.

In Beaumont, the Royal Pur-ple Stadium will be sprayed be-fore tonight's Spindle Top Bowl game. Early Saturday a plane will spray DDT over Tyrrell Park prior to the official dedication of a golf course.

Port Arthur is in the middle of a fund raising campaign for aerial spraying of nearby marshes.

Medicine Points to Advancement

NEW YORK, N. Y. — American world leadership may be traced in substantial measure to the gains which have been achieved in the past century in the fields of medicine, sanitation, and hygiens according to Dr. and hygiene, according to Dr.
Louis I. Dublin, second vicepresident and statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, in the current American Journal of Public Health.

Journal of Public Health.

Dr. Dublin's article, marking the centennial observance of the modern public health movement, points to the saving of millions of Americans from premature death as an important factor in the development of our current prosperity, and leading position in world affairs. The life saving has been brought about, it is noted, through the virtual elimination during the past century of the mortality from many infections, mortality from many infections, including typhoid fever, diphtheria, measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough, diarrhea and enteritis, and smallpox, and the great gains which have been made against tuberculosis and pneumonia.

The resulting extension of the working period of life and greater freedom from disabling illness, have made possible increased production and higher living standards Dr. Dublin points out. ards, Dr. Dublin points out. A gain of more than 25 years in average length of life for males, and of about 28 years for females is presented as a measure of the progress in public health during the century.

"There is still much to be accomplished in the years to come,"
Dr. Dublin comments. "Greater attention will need to be con-centrated on the diseases of middle and later life, far more needs to be done in the field of mental health, and there is a large an-nual death toll fro maccidents to be reduced."

Santa picks up his bundle. Ringing cowbells, he amounces his arrival by stomping on the porch and opens the door with a loud and opens the door with a loud "Merry Christmas, everybody!"
Three trips may be necessary to bring in all the gifts which may be anything from a bulky doll house to a kitten that scratches.

The idea of renting Santa came to Biddle two years ago when he wanted his son, Jack, to have a personal visit from the jovial gent. Other parents must feel the same way, Biddle thought.

Property Owners

May Call Meeting
HOUSTON — (P) — Property owners from 30 states may be invited here for a national conference on rent control, the president of the Property Owners

Association of Texas said.

L. A. Weisser, Houston, said the board of directors of the Houston branch of the association will meet to consider plans for the conference.

The conference, he said, would coordinate steps for a nation-wide fight against Congressional extension of rent control.

Texas Kids See Christmas Angels

As a Christmas gift to the children of Texas, the classic Christmas story of "The Littlest Angel" has been brought to life in Dallas. One of the life-size cherub figures is shown, above, to four-year-old Patsy Parker, of Ennis, by Arthur L. Kramer, sponsor of the free display. The huge exhibit, requiring twenty figures of angels, cherubs and birds to reproduce the characters in the story, is on display at Main and Akard Streets in downtown Dallas through Christmas Day.

Saturn, if you are interested. one of their ancient gods and, to judge by what we have learn-ed of him, he was anything but a lofty character. In fact his dev otees consider it only right to worship him with this annual feast which was a colossal spree. Our word, "saturnalia," is derived from that occasion. It gives some faint idea of what went on. Quite rightly, the Christians reasoned that on this day no one would be sober enough to notice them as they met quietly in one another's homes. This, of course, is just the bare fact behind the selection of this particular day for the observance of our Lord's birthday. Actually no one cares. Christmas has never been a date on the calendar but a feeling in the heart. And what a wonderful thing it has been! In spite of frayed nerves and ore feet we can't quite forget.

Something there is in all this which blends into the voice of God, and that voice is talking to us directly.

Yes, in a way, we stole this festival from the pagans. But if the recollection of that theft troubles our conscience, let us not worry too hard. After all, it does look very much as though we are trying to give Christmas back to the pagans. The blare and the commercial claptrap, the overstuffing and overspending are taking care of that.

we really mean to Christmas, it would be well to make up our minds whether we want the ancient and dead Saturn or the new-born and living Christ. Perhaps the best thing would be for us to follow the Three Kings and the Shepherds back to Bethlehem and begin all

The true Spirit of Christmas is the Spirit of the Christ whose birthday we commemorate. The Christmas story has its hero— this humble Galilecan who was moved with compassionate love for others and went about doing good. It was His life of unselfish devotion and compassionate love which gives significance to the story of His coming as the Babe of Bethlehem. It was the Spirit which He brought into this world that makes of His coming the most significant event in human history. All the lovely impulses of the human heart which we associate with Christmas spring up eternal from the life and teachings of Christ. The Spirit of Christmas is true spirit of Christianity. It is an annual demonstration of what the Christian Faith could do for this selfish world if only it had a half a chance. At Christmas the followers of Christ become least human and most divine. In the book of Judges it that "the Spirit of the Lord came upon Gideon." Literally, "the Spirit of the Lord 'put on' Gideon" and went out to liber-

Gideon and went out to liberate the people.

Thus, can the Spirit of the Lord clothe Himself in human form and live again on this earth. As the followers of the Christ, may this be our happy experience today, May the Spirit of the Lord, the Spirit of the Christ, the Spirit of Christmas to come upon by that we may be led by that Spirit throughout the entire year.

MORE CORN

United States is the greatest producer of corn in the world, accounting for about 3-5 of the total raised annually. On the other hand, it is responsible for only about 1-6 of the total world wheat production. Corn, therefore, is actually a more important crop to the American farmer who should realize this year about 4 1-2 billion dollars—directly or indirectly—from this one grain. The wheat crop is expected to bring the farmer only one-half as much income as corn.
