Shirley Temple Answers Charge Of Press Club

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— Stunned by being nominated by the Hollywood Women's Press Club as an "uncooperative actress," Shirley Temple answered the charge today.

"I've been in this business for 17 years and I like everything about it—not just the acting. And I want people in it to like me."

"I like to meet the press. During my lay-off period—when an actor doesn't have to give interviews—I was doing three interviews a day. I tried to cooperate."

Shirley said on the "Mr. Belvedere" set that she has wired the club, asking to appear before it to answer any accusations. She has received no answer.

"It must be a misunderstanding, because I've always granted any interview I've been told

Radio Beams Used to Hunt Oil Deposits

SHREVEPORT, La. —(AP)— An invention to hunt oil by probing the earth with radio beams has been demonstrated by a Shreveport geophysicist to a party of 23 scientists and Air Force and Navy observers.

William M. Barret of Shreveport, who said he had worked on the idea for 15 years, staged the demonstration 700 feet deep in a salt mine near Grand Saline, Texas.

He said his device used radio waves to penetrate 1,200 feet into the earth to probe for inner secrets.

Barret's radio transmitter is a low-powered device to pass waves into a revolutionary type of mechanism which directs waves into the earth with, he says, far greater effectiveness than previously possible.

Observers said Barret's accomplishment was "contrary to the widely accepted beliefs of what could be done."

The demonstration actually illustrated only the first half of the inventions possibilities—firing waves on the surface and reception inside the earth.

Barret said in field use a receiver on the surface, some distance from the transmitter, would pick up the signals after they had returned to the top of the ground.

David Rizzio, murdered favorite of Mary, Queen of Scots, entered her service as a musician—a lute singer—and later became her valet de chambre and foreign secretary.

Air Guard, Reserve Merger Suggested

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Defense Secretary Forrestal said he has recommended to President Truman a merger of Air National Guard units with the Air Force Reserve.

The move for federalization of the Air Guard was suggested in response to the President's request two months ago for strengthening of the country's reserves, Forrestal told a news conference.

But he said he was not recom-

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills

"The young man in the professor's class was not a student, but a plan, without money or influence, working his way through college...

"So it is with most of us. We will agree that such an ought to be a thing, but some times agree to do a certain thing...

"But if you are like so many of us, you let the matter slide by, you fall to follow through with your part of the bargain...

Market Briefs

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, Dec. 15 (AP)—The stock market slowly lifted downward today after an early try at higher prices failed to develop any punch. At the close losses ranged from fractions to around a point. It was far from a one-sided market, though, for numerous key shares either ended unchanged or even managed small advances. Many stocks moved back and forth between the plus and minus columns.

Business was comparatively slow with turnover at a rate which would bring the day's total to below the 1,000,000 share mark for the first time in several weeks.

Decisive records made frequent appearances on the ticker tape at slightly higher prices. Plymouth Oil responded to news from the oilfields for a while but had trouble staying on the plus side.

American and Foreign Power 7 1/2 and 10 preferreds dropped rather abruptly after word that directors had voted to take no action on the dividend ordinarily payable in mid-December.

Also lower most of the day were Chrysler, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Schenley, Union Carbide, American Woolen, Santa Fe, Illinois Central, Standard Oil (N.J.), Texas Co., and Twentieth Century-Fox.

Steadier spots included U. S. Steel, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Dupont, Allied Chemical, and Pennsylvania R. R.

Jolson Plans To Quit Radio

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Al Jolson adds another note to the current radio chaos—he says he's quitting, too.

"Radio is in a stagnant situation," he told me. "The people don't like it and the ham on this end doesn't like it, either."

The mammy-singer will become the third big star to retire from the air. Fred Allen says he'll quit after next spring to write a book. Edgar Bergen will be through after Christmas, to "sit back and look over the situation" until next September.

Jolson said he'll quit radio after the present season, but he added a loophole:

"I'd sign up tomorrow for less money if I could do a show recorded on tape."

"Doing a live show is murder. If you go wrong on a song, you can't say, 'Mr. Jones, let's play it over again.' When I have to stick to a script, my hands are tied, my mouth is tied and my kisser is tied."

"But if the show was recorded, I could add lib all I wanted. I then cut 45 or 50 minutes and I can cut the record down to a good half-hour."

Jolson indicated that television isn't included in his future plans.

Colorado Leads Way in Boost of Oil Production

TULSA—(AP)—Colorado and Louisiana led the way as the nation's oil production picked up during the week ended Dec. 11. The average was 14,670 barrels daily above the previous week's figures, the Oil & Gas Journal reported.

Both states had new high production for the year. Colorado gained 4,140 barrels daily to an average of 52,290, and Louisiana increased 2,600 barrels to 49,800. The country's total daily average as compiled by the journal was 5,628,860 barrels.

Other sizeable increases were in the Eastern area, up 1,250 barrels to 62,000; Kansas, up 8,100 to 299,900; Montana, 1,010 to 26,430; Wyoming, 5,820 to 182,410 and California 1,000 to 982,000.

Kentucky was up 100 barrels to 24,200, Mississippi increased 950 to 130,600, Florida gained 350 to 875 and Arkansas was up 850 to 81,700.

The largest decreases were in Indiana, down 1,100 barrels to 24,000; Michigan, off 2,900 to 185,000.

Lower Voting Age Worth Considering

AUSTIN—(AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester has described the proposal that 18-year-olds be allowed to vote as "worthy of most serious consideration by every thinking Texan."

The Daily Texan, University of Texas student newspaper, reported the Governor's attitude was expressed in a letter to Roy Fellers of Austin. Fellers, a university student, has been campaigning for the right of 18-year-olds to vote.

45,200; Oklahoma, 3,600 to 439,400 and Texas, 3,500 to 2,515,675. Illinois dropped 300 barrels to 178,400 and New Mexico fell off 100 to 134,380.

Production was unchanged in Alabama, 1,250 barrels, and Nebraska, 350.

Varietas Has Christmas Party

The Christmas traditions of festivity and solemnity were combined in the annual Yuletide observance for members of the Varietas Study Club, Tuesday, at the party in the home of Mrs. Lee Harrah. Mrs. C. W. Andrews and Mrs. W. H. Moseley were co-hostesses.

She reported on the boxes sent to European families for the Christmas holidays, and the float entered in the Santa parade.

Mrs. J. C. Vollmert presented the story "Miracle on 34th Street" by Valentine Davis. Centerpiece on the tea table was a silver star flanked by candles and evergreen. A brightly ornamented tree and a Santa figure were also used in decorating the room. Holly corsages were presented to each guest.

He's a Very Sick Monkey

This monkey, bound from New York to Las Cruces, N. M., to join an animal show, was stricken with pneumonia. It was taken off the train in Binghamton, N. Maid Testifies in Trial Of American Soldier's Wife

MARBURG, Germany—(AP)—A German maid testified that she saw Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo shoot her American soldier husband after bloodying his nose in a bedroom quarrel.

She said she saw the 23-year-old mother, from Malden, Mass., fire a pistol once at Sgt. John Ybarbo of Goliad, Tex., then heard two more shots.

Frau Lieselotte Tessner, 27, the Ybarbo's buxom young housemaid, gave this first eye-witness account of the shooting which made Mrs. Ybarbo the first American woman ever tried for murder in occupied Germany.

More than half the 75 spectators who jammed the tiny U.S. military government courtroom were American women. Among the occupation wives the case probably has stirred more interest than even the Nazi war crimes trials.

The witness said she was one of the two German girls who were drinking wine and cognac at the Ybarbo's home that night with three American soldiers.

Frau Tessner rewarded them with a dramatic story. She described a tension-charged evening with a midnight burst of gunfire as the climax.

But she did not explain the cause of the Ybarbo's quarrel.

After helping quiet the bedroom fuss in which the sergeant got his bloody nose from his half-dressed wife, Mrs. Tessner said she heard a loud noise in the hallway outside the couple's bedroom.

Opening the door of the nursery where she was entertaining an American soldier friend, she said: "I saw Mrs. Ybarbo standing in the hall before the bathroom door. She was wearing a long grey dressing gown. In her right hand she held a pistol down at her side."

"I cried 'Mrs. Ybarbo.' But she didn't turn her head. She only motioned at me with her left hand. Then she raised the gun and fired."

That was the only shot Mrs. Tessner saw because she immediately slammed the door through which she was peering.

But "Then I heard two more shots in quick succession," she related.

Ybarbo died ten days later, his chest and abdomen torn with bullets.

Mrs. Tessner indicated the Ybarbos had been having trouble for some time.

The only clue to the cause of their argument was a puzzling one which stirred gossip speculation among the women spectators.

Mrs. Tessner said that Sgt. Ybarbo was angry because Cpl. Morris Burr, of Gouverneur, N. Y., was visiting the Ybarbo home that night with Fraulein Eltriede Krummelbein, a beautiful former nursemaid in the Ybarbo home.

The housemaid did not see the bedroom fight which preceded the shooting. She said she heard Mrs. Ybarbo call for her and ran into the bedroom to find Mrs. Ybarbo lying on the bed, wearing only a brassiere and slip. The sergeant was advancing toward her, his nose bleeding freely.

The sergeant and Mrs. Ybarbo went out early in the evening, leaving the soldiers and the German girls in their apartment, the witness said.

The Ybarbos returned home about 11 o'clock, about an hour before the shooting, the witness continued.

Mrs. Ybarbo's pale face showed pain when an earlier witness described the four wounds which killed her war hero husband. She bit her lip when an Army surgeon told of his efforts to save Ybarbo's life.

Dog Identified Over Telephone

ST. JOSEPH, Mo.—(AP)—Deputy Sheriff J. W. McFarland crated a cocker spaniel and shipped it to Lufkin, Tex., convinced that the animal belongs to Dr. Rose Frazer of that town.

The dog was found in the custody of a man arrested here Saturday in possession of a stolen motor car. The license plates on the car had been stolen from Dr. Frazer, who was not aware of the switch in plates until notified by Dallas police of the arrest here.

Dr. Frazer reported that her dog had disappeared from her car and wondered if the license had been taken him.

Her formula for identification, given by telephone, was simple: "If you say 'Bruschu' and toss him a ball he will catch it and start playing."

Without mention of his name the dog would pay no attention to the ball.

McFarland then got a ball, tossed it and said "Bruschu," while Dr. Frazer waited on the line. Bruschu reacted as Dr. Frazer said he would.

Most recent and youngest member of the oil regulatory body, Murray was nominated by Commissioner Olin Culberson and the nomination seconded by present Chairman Ernest O. Thompson.

Investigating Board Set Up by Military

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The military high command is setting up a "brain trust" to weigh the value of weapons and their use.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal told a news conference about the plan. He described it as an attempt to bring about "a marriage" of the military and scientific minds.

The group to be called the "Weapons System Evaluation Group" will operate under the joint chiefs of staff and the Research and Development Board.

Rayburn to Set House Record

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas will set a new record when he becomes speaker of the House again next month, Rep. Cannon (D-Mo) said.

"Cannon, an authority on House rules, customs and history and a former House parliamentarian, said House records reveal no man has ever served more than eight years as speaker."

Rayburn is one of the six men who held the speakership four terms—or eight years—and he is slated to step back into the chair when the Democrats organize the new Congress Jan. 3.

"Sam will be the first speaker in the history of the United States Congress to serve more than eight years in that job," Cannon said.

Southern Governors May Form Own States' Rights Office

SAVANNAH, Ga.—(AP)—Southern governors planned to set up permanent shop in Washington to help wage war against federal civil rights proposals and carry the South's banner on other issues.

Several Dixie executives held a Southern governor's bureau in the capital was likely to spring from a resolution approved by the Southern Governors' Conference.

The resolution deplored hostility toward the South in the rest of the country and declared this unfavorable attitude was "created and perpetuated by untruths and half-truths."

A Southern Foundation was established to "correct" the picture and give the rest of the nation the South's story. Several governors told a reporter they hoped the Washington bureau would stem from this foundation program.

The governor conference, which ended Tuesday night, formally noted that "many economic indicators" show more progress in the South than in the nation as a whole.

The foundation is to be financed by equal funds from 15 Southern states and perhaps by private contributions. A board of governors—consisting of state executives and lay citizens from each state—will draft a specific budget.

The idea of foundation to inform the nation about the South first was suggested by Gov. Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi. Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina relayed a proposal for a capital bureau. A program by Gov. Beauford Jester of Texas for a Southern industrial encyclopedia was incorporated as a project for the new foundation.

Gov. William Tuck of Virginia was elected chairman of the Southern Governors' Conference to succeed Gov. Preston Lamb of Maryland.

The governors also kept fires boiling for states rights on other fronts. They agreed to fight a

Chiang Kai-sheks Refute Idea Of Romance as Only for Youth

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Years ago when visiting in the home of the late Anthony Hope, the famous author, he was asked the romanticist whether he was right with a wistful smile: "No, Romance comes, sooner or later, when one is young."
As a generalization that likely is so. Still, truth is stronger than fiction, and not even in his heyday, when he dreamed such tales as "The Prisoner of Zenda," could Mr. Anthony have produced anything surpassing the real-life drama being enacted by one of history's most notable couples, the longer youthful Chiang Kai-sheks. There is a great love story. Over in China, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek is fighting with ject on the ground that prospective witnesses will be needed at the trial. He will be called at once.

Right now, Mundt told newsmen, the committee has two objectives:
1. To determine "the full part of the Communist Party in America, plays as an adjunct of foreign espionage agents."
2. What new laws are needed to make continuing espionage and employment of disloyal people impossible.
Mundt took back some of the sassy things he had said about the Justice Department's handling of the spy case. "I congratulate the attorney general's office and the grand jury on their diligent devotion to duty," he said.
But he took a fresh dig at President Truman, who long has been critical of the committee. Mundt wound up a statement on an indictment last night with these words:
"In conclusion may I express the hope that nobody will ever again refer to this case as a 'red herring'."

Profits Tax Disturbing, Oilman Says

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Talk that Congress might drain off part of business earnings by an excess profits tax is "proving a disruptive force" in the oil industry, an oilman said.

Youthful Robert G. Dunlop, president of Sun Oil Company, told a Senate-House economic committee that the doubts are arising about the wisdom of future plant expansions.

An excess profits tax, he argued, would have the same effect as a law prohibiting further industrial expansion.

The committee is looking into record-breaking business profits as a step toward Congressional consideration of a tax program for the next fiscal year.

Suggestions for renewal of the wartime excess profits tax also were hit by H. S. Vance, chairman and president of the Studebaker Corporation.

Dunlop cited his own company's plans of expansion in telling of the oil industry's concern about a possible excess profits tax.

"Some time ago," he said, "our company scheduled an expenditure of $18 million to improve and expand the facilities of our refinery at Toledo, O. The original cost estimate has risen to $18 million and may go to $20 million... add to that the reported prospect of an excess profits tax and no expansion in my position could be having grave misgivings about our expansion program in Toledo."

Dunlop said the oil industry has used its profits to increase production.

Lull Hits Employment

The end-of-the-year lull has hit the employment in the Pampa area, L. P. Fort, manager of the local Texas Employment Commission, said this morning.

Throughout the state a large surplus of labor has presented itself, which will dent the carry-over into the early part of next year.

Claims for unemployment pay, both veteran and non-veteran, are advancing rapidly, which has resulted in the quick filling of all unskilled requirements. The ending of the crop harvesting has released numerous people who are seasonal laborers. Non-agricultural industry usually goes into a short inactivity at this season of the year. However, it is anticipated that this condition will change in the first part of 1949.

At the present there are unfilled orders for male bookkeepers, domestic help, salesmen and an occasional demand for construction laborers.

Youths Caught Taking Heater

City Police, prowling the alleys Tuesday night, virtually caught two Pampa youths in the act of stealing a heater from a parked automobile.

The two young men, both out of school and working, had removed the heater from the car and were prowling around other parked cars when police stopped them. The heater was found in their car and they later admitted, under questioning at police headquarters, to taking it.

Chief Louis Allen said neither of the young men is actually criminally inclined, and declined to file charges after the two agreed to pay for reinstallation of the heater and any other damage caused.

Rumor Is False Says Postmaster

The rumor that is going around that parcels are being stored in Amarillo warehouses has no foundation, W. B. Weathered, postmaster, said this morning.

"Some Pampans are not mailing their Christmas gifts because they've heard they are being delayed in Amarillo," he said. "However, there is nothing to this rumor."

The parcels are being worked through warehouses in Amarillo because of the Christmas rush. However, employees are working 24 hours a day keeping the mail moving.

"All large postoffices use warehouses at Christmas time," he said. "This year is no different from any other year."

Yesterday at the Pampa post-office, card and letter cancellations totaled 36,000, the postmaster said. There were between 6-7,000 packages mailed at the Postoffice yesterday.

The expected peak for letters and cards per day is more than 40,000 and between 10-12,000 packages.

The final contract for drilling three new water wells south of town for the expansion of the city's water system was signed yesterday between the city and the Layne Texas Company of Dallas.

The Layne company, represented by Roy Taylor, bid $31,082.50 for drilling three 600-gallon, gravel well walls and agreed to bring equipment here and begin work in ten days.

The garbage ordinance passed by the commission will be fully explained in The Pampa News tomorrow.

Million Jobs Found For Texans in Year

AUSTIN — (AP) — More than a million jobs have been found for Texas workers this year by the Texas Employment Commission.

R. L. Coffman, assistant administrator, said TEC found 1,014,000 jobs during the first 11 months of this year and expects to find another 45,000 during December.

The commission had set one million jobs as its 1948 goal.

Hearne Insurance Agent Is Man Who Broke City's Bank

FRANKLIN, Tex. —(AP)—S. B. Jones, husky 47-year-old Hearne insurance man, was arrested in Mexico and returned to Texas Tuesday night after a series of check manipulations caused the merging of the First State Bank of Franklin.

W. C. Crane, president of the bank, said worthless checks totaling $81,000 were passed to the bank. Depositors will lose no money, but the bank will merge Saturday with the First National Bank here.

Jones is charged with forging a note. He was held in jail at Austin overnight and was expected to be returned here later. Sheriff Bob Reeves said additional charges would be filed in 24th District Court here.

Mexican authorities found no substantial amount of money on Jones when he was arrested. He had been south of the border eight days and had been "missing" from Hearne two weeks.

The Mexican officials brought him across the Rio Grande and Texas Ranger Gallamore took him to Austin. There he was questioned by Rangers, Reeves and District Attorney J. G. Lyles of Robertson County. Reeves said Jones made a statement, adding: "The case is cracked." Until Tuesday afternoon, the case had been the hottest rumor kicked around Central Texas in years. It was choice street-corner talk at such points as Waco, Bryan, Hearne and Franklin. Officers, though, were quiet as eyes. "We didn't want to scare Jones — and possibly other away," Deputy Sheriff W. O. Baxter explained. Even the filing of the forgery charge was a secret. But Chief FBI Agent C. E. Weeks at San Antonio blew the lid off Tuesday with confirmation to the Associated Press.

A couple of hours later Reeves and Lyles streaked out for Austin, called by an important development in the Jones case. Lyle's wife disclosed. The development turned out to be Jones himself. Greatly saddened by the disaster which toppled the institution he served for 16 years, W. C. Crane, president of the bank, told Tuesday what happened. A man in his seventies, a beloved figure in this quiet little town, Crane sank into a chair in his modest little home and sighed: "I feel like talking."

The gist of what he said: "I had been doing business with Jones 15 years and never had any trouble. I liked him for some things he did. I've known him to go on notes for veterans to let them get a start at farming. A few weeks ago Jones started giving us checks made out on (another) bank to get funds for an automobile venture. He was assembling cars in McAllen and selling them in Mexico and other points.

"These first checks were good. They were made out to 'cash' and we paid him off in bank exchange—checks from our bank payable at other banks. But then, the day before Thanksgiving (Nov. 24) I heard a rumor from Austin that something was wrong with the checks, or might be. That day, Jones came in and I told him the rumor. Then I called the bank, and talked to Mr. 'Blank.' Jones was waiting to cash another check.

"Mr. Blank told me: 'Mr. Crane, that check is OK and any other checks Jones gives you will be OK.' "With this assurance, we cashed the check Saturday, the day after Thanksgiving. Jones came to me with another check—this one for $31,000. I picked up the phone and called Mr. 'Blank' again. I told him Jones was waiting to cash a check for $31,000 and asked him if Jones had that much in the bank. 'It'll be paid just as soon as we get it,' Mr. 'Blank' again assured me.

"Altogether, Jones cashed seven checks totaling $81,000 around the holiday season. "The Monday after Thanksgiving, J. T. McMillan, the state bank examiner from Austin, came in and I told him what we were doing for Jones. Mr. McMillan didn't think it was good practice. Jones was there. He told McMillan that our bank's handling of his checks made it easier for him to handle his business in McAllen.

"He talked to Mr. McMillan a good while, telling him how much he made, how many cars he owned, how much money he had. After that, Mr. McMillan asked me to come to Austin and talk the check-cashing arrangement over. I told him I would be there early Wednesday. Jones spoke up and said he'd like to go, too.

Walk into Darkness
BY WILLIAM IRISH

JULIA'S STORY: "Julia" tells Durand her name is really Honey Castle. She traveled the river boats as partner of a crooked gambler. "And what of Julia?" she asks. "I've come to that now," she says.

XXVII
SHE drew a deep breath. "We used to go down about once a month, never more often. It wouldn't have been prudent. Stop while, and then go up again. We left St. Louis the 18th of May the last time, on the CITY OF NEW ORLEANS."

"As she did." "The first night out something went wrong. My partner met his match at last. The same kept on for half the night, and he lost steadily. I couldn't signal because I couldn't see the other man's cards. He seemed to play from memory, keeping them turned inward to one another face o face. At last my partner had nothing left to play with.

"But long before that, hours earlier, the other man had already asked me to leave the two of them to themselves. Pointedly, but in such a polite way that there was nothing I could do but obey. "I went out on deck and stood looking over the rail. Presently a woman, unaccompanied like myself, stopped beside me and struck up a conversation.

"She was a fool. Within the space of minutes she was telling me all her business, unsolicited. Who she was, where she was bound, what her purpose in going there was. "I tried to shake her off at first, but without succeeding. She attached herself to me, followed me around. It was as though she were starving for a confidante. She gave me your name, and, stopping by a lighted doorway, insisted on taking out and showing me the picture you had sent her.

Talk Is Not Cheap at U.N. Sessions, Analyst Asserts

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The wag who fathered the expression "talk is cheap" hadn't seen the Assembly of the United Nations in action.

The Paris newspaper France Soir figures that the oratory spilled in the assembly meeting just concluded totaled 10 million words. Since the expenses of the session were 1,700,000 francs, the newspaper draws the conclusion that each word costs 170 francs, which is 53 cents U. S. A.

Of course there are exceptional circumstances which warrant such expenditure. For example, Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky must feel that he has secured a rare bargain when he can divest himself of such language as this: "The cause of the second World War is not so much Hitler, but answering in honeyed tones to reassure her, 'It's your new little friend, Miss Charlotte.' "You had that name upon the boat?" "For that voyage. She opened at once, so great was her trust in me. I delivered my invitation. I complained of a headache and said I thought the fresh air might cure it. I asked if she would walk with me on deck for a while.

"REMEMBER I was strangely uneasy, as to what his intentions might be—I knew he boded her no good, but I didn't dare allow myself to believe he meant her any actual bodily harm; some intricate blackmailing scheme, at most, I thought, to be brought to bear on her later, once she was married to you—and even as I spoke, I kept hoping she would refuse me, and I could give him that for an excuse. But she seemed to have become inordinately fond of me. Before I could ask her twice she had already accepted my invitation.

"We walked the full length of the deck three times, in harmonious intimacy, as women will together." She stopped for a moment and drew a breath, as if again feeling the tension of that night, that promenade upon the lonely, darkened deck.

"Nothing happened. He did not accept us. At last I had no further excuse to keep her out there with me. She asked me how my headache was, and I said it was gone. "I took her back to her door. She turned to me a moment and said, 'I'm so glad we've met, Charlotte. I've never really had a woman friend of my very own. You must come and see me and my—' and then she faltered prettily—"my new husband, visit with us, as soon as we're settled. I shall want new friends badly in my new life.' And then she opened her door and went in. Unharmful, untroubled, I even heard her bolt it fast after her on the inside.

"And that was the last I ever saw of her."

Economist Warns Oil Producers of Coming Struggle

ABILENE —(AP)—A warning that American domestic oil producers, particularly the independent operators, may face one of the hardest struggles in the history of the industry was sounded here Tuesday night.

Minor S. Jameson, economist of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, told the semi-annual session of the West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association that the domestic producer faces threats from two sources.

The economist named these as government seizure, or control tantamount to seizure of the industry and increasing imports of cheap oil from foreign fields. The latter, he said, would destroy

Drunk Charge Filed On State Control Man

Sociologist Reports on Prisoners

HUNTSVILLE — (AP) — Texas prison system General Manager O. H. Ellis today had a comprehensive report on the practice of self-mutilation among inmates.

Dr. Rupert Koeninger of the Sam Houston State Teachers College sociology department said in his report that the Texas prison system is the only one in the nation where self-mutilation is a common practice.

Dr. Koeninger said that almost all the prisoners who mutilate themselves are mentally sick and ought to be so treated.

The report said cutting the Achilles tendon at the back of the heel is the most common method of mutilation.

Prison records show the first mutilation occurred in 1922. Since then, 384 prisoners had mutilated themselves 851 times. The worst year was 1946 when 119 cases were reported. In 1947 there were 85 cases of mutilation.

Koeninger pointed out that during 1948, the first year under Ellis' administration, there were only 18 mutilations, lowest number since

MEXICO CITY — (AP) Foot and mouth disease quarantine was pushed 80 miles further from the U. S. border at noon Wednesday.

The joint U. S.-Mexico commission to fight disease (foot and mouth disease) said movement of the quarantine line 80 miles would add 6,912 square miles to the zone free of the disease among cattle, sheep and swine. The area to be freed of quarantine is a square block of formerly badly infected territory including Tampico, Ciudad Valles and Temazunchale along the Gulf Coast. That is where the diseased animals have been closest to the Texas border.

This makes the fourth time the quarantine line has been pushed away from the United States border this year. Altogether 81,000 square miles have been "freed" this year by the present system of vaccination of cattle, disinfection and the occasional slaughter of diseased animals.

The old methods of slaughtering both infected and exposed animals was too expensive and aroused dangerous resentment and resistance among peasants.

After developing and testing a vaccine that proved effective, Mexico has manufactured it rapidly. A million doses a month are being injected into cattle now, and the commission's program calls for 2,500,000 injections monthly by March. Cattle are vaccinated at six-month intervals, and six months after their second injection they are declared free of the disease if tests there are negative.

Before the wholesale slaughter plan was adopted, Nov. 24, 1947, a half million cattle and many more sheep and swine had been killed.

Gen. Harry H. Johnson, who became the U. S. co-director of the disease commission June 22, has said that he believes as his Mexican colleagues do that artosa can be eliminated in Mexico by vaccination and strict quarantine.

ANTAGONISM EARLY HONG KONG — (AP) — Marshall Li Chi-shen, head of the Kuomintang Revolutionary Committee, predicted the landing of U. S. Marines in Shanghai would cause "antagonistic sentiments and acts" against Americans in China. Li contended the sending of Marines to Shanghai "on the pretext of protecting American nationals" infringed China's sovereignty and would hurt Chinese-American relations.

A snail's pace has been scientifically measured a 123 inches an hour.

1935. Koeninger pointed out that "practically all mutilations occur on prison farms, more often than not during the summer when temperatures are high."

He thinks this is particularly significant when you realize that Texas is the only state where the majority of prisoners come from urban areas and then are sent to prison farms, where conditions are new and particularly disagreeable to them.

Last Rites Held For Publisher

ABILENE — (AP) — Last rites were held here Tuesday for Marshall Bernard Hanks, publisher of the Abilene Reporter-News.

Dr. Jesse C. Northcutt, pastor of the First Baptist Church, characterized Hanks as "a typical son of West Texas and representative of what we understand the American way of life to be."

"He was one who began at the bottom and climbed to the heights of the ladder of success," Dr. Northcutt said.

Publishers with whom Mr. Hanks was associated in the Harte-Hanks newspapers were among those attending the services.

They were Houston Harte of the San Angelo Standard Times, his partner in publishing newspapers at Corpus Christi, Marshall, Paris, Denison and Big Spring; Conway Coss, publisher of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times; Millard Cope of the Marshall News Messenger;

John Gould's Book—Plain, Just Like 'Old John' All Over Again

By The Associated Press

If the American public generally had taken public opinion polls as lightly as John Gould of Wichita Falls, there would have been less surprise about the outcome of the recent election.

John Gould, native Texan, river country, and author of "My Own Fall" was one of the new book, "Words to the Effect," might well be called an apostle of common sense and plain talk.

His book is a marvellous reading built from his columns in the Wichita Falls Times.

"My Own Fall" was one of John Gould's columns, written long before the fiasco of the election forecasts. It is selected at random from the book, as an example of his entertaining style.

Fixed Conn of the Denison Herald, F. W. Whipkey of the Big Spring Herald, and A. G. (Pat) Mayse of the Paris News.

For nearly 40 years, the two men have worked together in the Times office. Gould's columns continue to roll from his typewriter, daily and Sunday, always interesting, usually humorous. Serious material finds its proper place in Gould's writing.

On numerous occasions, Ben Donnell says he was warned that some wife was on the way down to horsewhip John Gould. He always wished her good luck, knowing there was no such intention and that the warning was just a way of saying that John Gould is appreciated.

Now a fine selection of his daily offerings is in more permanent form, between book covers, for those who want to read him again, and for many who await introduction to this quiet, philosophical observer of our foibles, our likes and dislikes.

The range of his humor touches many themes: husbands and wives, bridge players, rock garden birds and their owners, spinach, politicians, cooking, oil men.

He seemed to be warning us that America was going "quintessentially" for Christmas? Do you approve the practice of putting potatoes, carrots and similar extraneous substances into restaurant chicken pie? What do you think should be done to people who sit behind you at movies and eat peanut brittle, popcorn or potato chips?

The outcome of the John Gould poll was in the best pseudo-scientific formula: Yes, 0.0947 percent. No, 99.9053 percent. Not voting, 0.0059 percent, etc. etc. This is only one of the hundred collected columns, which ranged in subject matter from Christmas to buffalo bones.

As Ben Donnell of the Wichita Falls Times and Record News says, the format of the book is plain and without any ornamentation, like John Gould himself.

Price Controls Called No Help For Depression

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — (AP) — President Allan B. Kline of the American Farm Bureau Federation declared a new depression cannot be prevented by resort to price controls and rationing.

In a keynote speech prepared for his organization's 25th annual convention, Kline said the biggest problem facing the nation is the possibility of another "boom and bust" cycle.

The farm leader said the present inflation is "monetary" in nature. He said it reflects the fact that currency in circulation and deposits in banks has gone up from $56,200,000,000 in 1939 to $108,600,000,000 last September.

Kline said the problem must be met by regulation of the money supply rather than by controls over prices. He urged the new Congress to set up a monetary study commission to find ways of keeping the supply of money from preventing both inflation and deflation.

He said no federal farm program will prevent distress to farmers "if we are not able to stabilize the general price level without a great deflation."

Kline said future farm programs should hold government controls to a minimum.

Illinois Women Join Fight Against Livestock Disease

CHICAGO — Rural women's groups are now joining farmers and veterinarians in the nation's stepped-up fight against brucellosis and its heavy toll of farm livestock and human health, the American Veterinary Medical Association reported.

Women in 24 Indiana counties have set the pace. In how many other states farm women are actively enlisted in the brucellosis campaign the A. V. M. A. did not know, but hope was expressed that such women's activities would be encouraged in every state.

Brucellosis is now one of the most serious problems in livestock health as well as human health, the veterinary organization said. The disease not only causes heavy losses of meat and dairy production; it also is contagious and can be spread by infected milk and contact with infected animals. Six thousand human cases were reported last year.

In Indiana, the project was launched by women's groups in 24 counties, the A. V. M. A.

Grass Judging Will Highlight Ft. Worth Show

FORT WORTH — A grass judging contest and special rodeo first of their kind for any Southwest show will highlight the Ft. Worth show Jan. 29, at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show here Jan. 28 through Feb. 6.

The boys will judge grasses, legumes and seeds common to Texas soils, since Exposition officials believe the knowledge of range grasses is important to Lone Star beef progress. The new contest will be staged in cooperation with the Association of Soil Conservation District Supervisors.

Prizes for the contest will be composed of three boys and two alternates, with not more than one 4-H team from each county and one FFA team from each chapter participating. Over $200 worth of awards and medals will be presented to winners.

A complete special rodeo will be presented for the FFA and 4-H members at 9:30 a. m. Jan. 29 at a special low price by the Exposition. One of the feature attractions will be "Little Brown Jug," starring Don K. Reynolds of Van Nuys, Calif., who uses a pair of matched Palominos for an array of riding and roping tricks. Don has played in a number of Western movies during the past five years, and is currently signed to play "Little Beaver" in coming Red Ryder films.

The young farmers will get a peek at the "giving end" of the rodeo too, when 12 of them six FFA and six 4-H—compete in a junior calf roping contest. Another 12 also will compete in a calf riding contest.

Distribution of Wheat Supply Compared with Average Price Trend 1930-1947

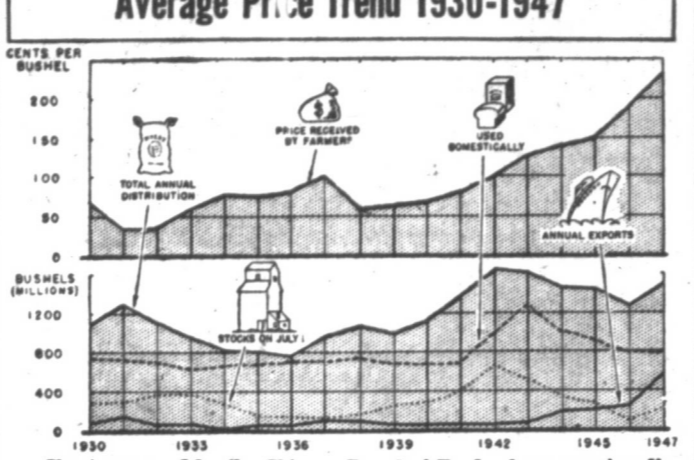

Chart prepared by the Chicago Board of Trade shows varying distribution of wheat from year to year as a result of changes in the relationship between supply and demand. The price graph is based upon the average annual price per bushel received by farmers. Note the coincident rises of price and exports during the last four years. Source of data is the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Texas A&M Extension Man Tells How Japanese Can Get Sounder Basic Agriculture

By LOUIS FRANK Extension Editor

The Konocho Experiment Station near Tokyo consists of 77 acres—62-1-2 in cultivation—and has a staff of 247 people. That's one of the things that struck Dr. Ide P. Trotter, director of the Texas Extension Service, as typical of the Orient. Dr. Trotter, you'll remember, has recently returned from a six-months study of the world cotton situation which took him to Japan, China, India, Pakistan, Turkey, Greece and Portugal.

He was on loan from Texas A. & M. to the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Office of Foreign Agriculture Relations for this purpose. Dr. Trotter's report will be released to the cotton industry, but meanwhile some of the highlights of his trip struck me as revealing in terms of what farmers are up against in the Orient.

This business of having 247 laborers and research workers on a 77 acre farm, for example—all of the Oriental countries use enormous numbers of people and lots of hand work. They have so many people in proportion to the land area that farms of less than a half acre are common. Dr. Trotter said some 15 years ago the Japanese government had decided that after their scientists had come through with a new finding, it should be demonstrated on a government farm by government employees—rather than being brought directly to

Cattle Going Into Winter In Bad Shape

By LOUIS FRANK Extension Editor

A lot of Texas cattle—maybe the big majority of them—are going into winter in poor shape. That is because much of the state had an unusually long and severe drought. And a peculiar thing about this drought is that it hit worse in the sections that usually have fair summer rains; while some parts of the country that are used to dry weather are in pretty fair shape.

Even cattle that are in good flesh may suffer from having been off green grass for a long period of time. People at Texas A. & M. rather expect that cases of night blindness will occur in some herds this winter and in the early spring. That is usually an indication of a Vitamin A deficiency. Livestock that have gone for long periods on protein supplement or grain, without having any green pasture or hay or alfalfa with good color, are likely to suffer from lack of vitamin A.

Animal husbandmen are especially worried over the effect of the long drought on the coming calf crop.

China has had only one short period of peace of late, from 1930 to 1937. Now they are handicapped not only by the usual lack of transportation but by the civil war, which drains off 80 percent of the government's income, and by inflation. When Dr. Trotter first got there in May, the rate of exchange was 750,000 Chinese dollars to one American; a month later it was 1-1/2 million to one; three months later, 12 million to one.

The Chinese have two systems of county agent work — cotton county agents of the Cotton Improvement Bureau and county agents who operate in fields other than cotton.

The little cotton farmer in China can't possibly raise enough cotton to make a bale; he produces just a little dab and sells that to a merchant or ginmer who buys 50 pounds of seed cotton here and 100 there until he has enough to make a bale.

In India they have district agricultural officers, who are combinations of merchants, educators and law enforcement people. India does have some very good and ably staffed experiment stations.

The religious disturbance between the Hindus and Moslems has resulted in almost all the Hindus in Pakistan moving to India and the Moslems moving from India to Pakistan. Dr. Trotter visited an experiment station in Pakistan where 90 percent of the staff had been Hindus; when they left a lot of know-how went with them.

But Dr. Trotter is inclined to be a little optimistic about the whole thing. He thinks that if the Japanese, Chinese, Hindus and Moslems can weather their present troubles and get a secutive period of say 10 years of reasonable peace and harmony, they can get their agriculture on a much sounder basis.

Dr. W. C. Banks, extension veterinarian at Texas A. & M., told me that many cows now carrying calves may not quite be up to the job of giving birth and taking care of their young. That's what happened in 1934-35, during and after the last bad drought. Fortunately, when ranchmen and dairymen started reporting cases of night blindness, county agents and veterinarians pretty well knew what was up, because in 1932 Fred Hale of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station had started work on vitamin A deficiency which attracted national attention.

Hale found that when sows had been on dry feed—yellow corn if about the only grain or concentrate that contains much vitamin A—for from about 160 days to six months before being bred, and received no vitamin A during the first month after breeding, their young came up with all kinds of things wrong with them. In severe cases, they were stillborn. Many were born blind, or with cleft palates.

Blind, but otherwise normal, gilts from these litters, when fed a normal ration, gave birth to normal litters; and even gilts that had been on a vitamin A deficient ration for as long as six months gave birth to normal pigs if vitamin A was added to their ration soon—not later than a month—after they were bred. The story is about the same for sheep, goats and cattle as for hogs. All livestock—and humans too, for that matter—have the ability to store a supply of vitamin A in their bodies. But they draw on that supply every day, and unless it is replenished, they soon overdraw their account. That period varies from 120 to 180 days with individual animals.

So livestock that have gone four months or more without any green grass are pretty likely to suffer from lack of vitamin A soon.

In the case of hogs which are fed daily, the vitamin A can be supplied by adding 1 percent of concentrated cod liver oil or one of several commercial vitamin A preparations to the ration—but

Electrified Farming Now Dries Hay, Soothes Cows

BOVINE VERSION of a soap opera audience has its own radio on shelf at upper right in this electrified cow barn.

By NEA Service
LANCASTER, Pa. — (NEA) — New wrinkles in electrified farming are paying heavy dividends to the modern farmer when a hungry world is putting a premium on peak production and conservation of food values. The hay finisher is one of the latest applications of electricity to farming which has been proving its worth in this section of Pennsylvania, where the electric light and power industry began pioneering in rural electrification prior to 1920 and where today more than 95 out of every 100 farms have electricity available. Wet weather continuing for more than three weeks spoiled much of the hay crop in this area which farmers tried to field cure, but it failed to hamper those with hay finishers.

The hay finisher is nothing more mysterious than an electrically driven fan which draws large quantities of air through hay on the hay mow floor, enabling it to be cured regardless of the weather. Ducts built along the hay mow floor carry the air through the hay, not only drying it when it would be impossible to dry it on the field, but preserving food values that would be lost even under good field conditions. The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates that more protein is lost annually through improper curing of hay than is required to feed 7,500,000 head of livestock. It is estimated that electric hay drying develops additional values of as much as $5 to $10 a ton over field curing because it retains greater feeding qualities at a cost of about $1 a ton for power service.

Now farmers are finding also that the hay finisher fan can do many more jobs for them, such as drying grain in sheaves—bags and bins. Some have found it to be cheaper to dry extra corn on the hay finisher ducts than to build cribs. Another type of fan is being used to ventilate barns, for cow comfort has been found to be an important item in milk production. And that radio you see in the dairy barn isn't there for the farmer—it's there for cow contentment.

10 Percent Reduction Ordered In January Crude Allowables

AUSTIN—(AP)—A January reduction of 250,000 barrels daily in the amount of crude oil Texas fields are currently producing was set yesterday.

The commission set the January daily allowable at 2,468,034 barrels, an approximate 10 percent cut that was accomplished by ordering a four-day January shut-down in all fields except in the big East Texas pool and in the Foster field, Ector County.

Commission Chairman Ernest O. Thompson said the reduction was ordered "because the oil cannot be used." He described the oil shortage as "completely met."

Production in the Panhandle field will be cut 148 barrels by the order from the Dec. 15 allowable of 110,892 barrels.

East Texas was kept on the same 30-day production schedule under which it operated in December. The Foster field has been reduced 5,000 barrels daily on Dec. 1 as a flare gas conservation measure and no further change was ordered for next month.

Under the new prorations order, Texas' permissive flow will be 16,034 barrels daily above the January demand for Texas crude estimated by the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

Expected production of another 246,000 barrels of distillate and natural gas during the month would boost total flow of all petroleum liquids to 2,712,034 barrels daily.

At a statewide oil prorating hearing here yesterday purchasers had reported a slackened demand for crude, principally that produced in West Texas for rail shipment. The commission declined to "penalize" West Texas producers by ordering the entire cut in that area, prorating the reduction instead throughout most of the state.

The next statewide oil hearing was set for Jan. 20 here. January allowables and the change in the allowables as compared with Dec. 15 are as follows by commission districts:

1. Southwest Texas—29,995, down 1,821.
2. Southwest Texas—166,599, down 24,032.
3. Gulf Coast—472,653, down 59,466.

5. East Central Texas—48,025, down 5,962.
6. East Texas—291,740, no change.

Waltz into Darkness

BY WILLIAM IRISH

JULIA'S STORY: "Julia" calls herself a gambler. She traveled the river boats as partner of a crooked gambler. On that fateful trip, the real Julia had made friends with her, convinced that she was on her way to marry, right across a man worth $100,000. The gambler, however, had a different plan. He took Julia for a walk around the deck late at night. Nothing happened. He returned Julia to her cabin. "And that was the last I ever saw of her," she claims.

XXXVIII

"No more than that you participated?" he said slowly.

"No more than that I participated," she answered. "About an hour before daylight, when the whole boat was still asleep, he came and knocked surreptitiously upon my door, and woke me. 'Get dressed,' he said to me, 'I want you for something. Your lady friend of last night had an accident awhile ago and fell from the boat in the dark. She never came up again.' That was all he told me, then or ever again."

"But you knew?"

"How could I help but know? He must have inserted himself in the cabin while she was gone from it with me, and lain in wait there on the inside. I told him I knew. But he said if I accused him, he would accuse me in turn. That we would both be jailed for it alike."

"She's gone now beyond recall," he pointed out, "nothing you can do will bring her back up over the side, and there's $100,000 waiting for you when you step off this boat in New Orleans."

"I dressed and he swung back the door for me and I followed him out."

"He took my baggage, the little I had, into his cabin and blended it with his. And here we moved, between us, from her cabin to mine, to take the place of my own. Not forgetting that caged bird of hers. He took from my pocket her letters from you, and the photograph you had sent her, and I put them in my own pocket-book. And then we bided our time and waited."

"In the confusion of docking and disembarking she was not missed. We left the boat separately, he at the very beginning, I almost at the last."

"I saw you standing there, and knew you from your photograph, and when at last the dock had cleared, I approached and stopped there by you. And there's the story, Lou."

SHE stopped, and settled back upon her own upturned heels. Her hands fell lifeless to her lap, as if incapable of further gesture.

"Not quite," he said. "Not quite. And what of What's-his-name? What was the further plan?"

"He said he would send word to me when enough time had passed. And when I heard from him, I was to—"

"Do as you did?"

She shook her head determinedly. "Not as I did. As it seemed to you I did, maybe. I met him once for a few moments, in secret, when I was out on one of my shopping tours without you—that part was by prearrangement—and I told him there was no need for him to count on me any longer, he must abandon the scheme, I could no longer prevail on myself to carry it out."

"Why did you have a change of heart?"

"Why must you be told that now?"

"Why shouldn't I be?"

"Very well then," she said. "I told him I could no longer contemplate doing what it had been intended for me to do. I told him I'd fallen in love with my own husband."

It was like a rainbow suddenly glistening in all its striped glory across dismal gray skies.

"At first he laughed and said I no more knew what love was than the man in the moon. Then he discovered this gave him an even more powerful threat to hold over me. And no sooner had he discovered it, than he brought it into play. That he would reveal my impotence to you himself, anonymously, in a letter, if I refused to carry out our deal."

"I knew he would. Or he'd come himself. Or he'd take me unaware sometime when I was out alone, and I'd be found lying there with a knife-hilt in my side. So I made my decision, and I fled."

"To him."

"NO," she said. "I took the money, yes. But I fled from him just as surely as I deserted you. I fled as far away as I could. And then one day I heard a report that he had lost his life in a shooting affray in a gaming house. But it was too late by that time to undo what had been done. I couldn't return to you any more."

And the look she gave him was of a poignancy that would have melted stones.

"A few weeks ago I met this Colonel Worth, and now I'm as you find me. And that's my story, Lou."

She waited, and the silence seemed to prolong itself into eternity.

"Aren't you going to say something to me, Lou?"

"What is there to say?"

"I can't tell you that. It must come from you."

"Must it?" he said dryly. "And if there is nothing there to give you, no answer?"

"Nothing, Lou?" Her voice took on a singsong timber. "Nothing?" It became a lulling incantation.

"Not even a word?" Her face rose subtly nearer to his. "Not even—"

And suddenly he was caught fast, entwined with her as with some treacherous tropic plant. Lips of fire were fused with his. He seemed to breathe flame, draw it down his windpipe into his breast, where the dry tinder of his loneliness of his long lack of her, was kindled by it into raging flame, that pyred upward, sending back her kiss with insane fury.

Mexico Planning Duty Free Zones

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Mexico announced Wednesday it plans to set up duty free trade zones at principal cities along the U. S. border.

The zones will be established under a new law granting the President the power to designate them wherever he sees fit. In these areas, no duties will be charged on imports from the United States. Present prohibitions and restrictions on imports of luxury items probably would not apply.

Ramon Beteta, treasury secretary, said free zones are being considered first for all the territories of Northern and Southern Baja California, and for Piedras Negras, opposite Eagle Pass, Tex.

Beteta said that study will begin shortly on creating free zones at Ciudad Juarez, opposite El Paso, Tex., Nuevo Laredo, opposite Laredo, Tex., and Matamoros, opposite Brownsville, Tex.

Blind Attorney Files for Senate

HOUSTON—(AP)—J. A. Pollard, 80-year-old blind retired attorney, Wednesday filed as a candidate in the Jan. 8 State Senate special election.

Pollard was accompanied to County Judge Glenn Perry's office by one of his opponents, S. F. Hill, 66.

Eight candidates now have filed for the unexpired term of Senator Maribelle Stewart, resigned. Others filing were William Calvin Montgomery and Troy T. Stokes, both Houston attorneys.

Stokes' candidates have announced for re-election.

No Basic Change In Election Law Called Likely

DALLAS—(AP)—It is unlikely that there will be any basic changes in Texas election laws resulting out of recent agitation, Speaker of the House W. O. Reed of Dallas predicted.

There undoubtedly will be a number of minor changes, consisting primarily of eliminating conflicting statutes and clarifying ambiguous provisions, Reed said, but the fundamental process of conducting primary and general elections in Texas will remain virtually the same.

Two changes which will receive consideration are:

1. Steps to insure secrecy of the ballot.
2. A shift in dates of the party primaries, moving the primaries up a month or so to allow sufficient time for election contests between the primaries and the November general election.

Reed recently returned from Austin, where he attended the first meeting of a special committee appointed by Gov. Beauford Jester to study proposed election law changes. The committee, of which Reed is a member, will meet again shortly after Christmas to draw up recommendations to the Governor.

There will be no change in the party primary system of nominating candidates, and there will be no recommendation for a preferential primary in which voters would express their choice for president, Reed said.

The Governor's committee will not consider proposals to abolish the poll tax, since legislation amending to that purpose already is in the mill, the speaker said.

Rain Brings Tears to Banker — Tear Gas

BUCKHOLTS, Tex.—(AP)—There was tearful reaction in the Buckholts State Bank to the first rain here in quite a spell.

Not tears of joy—nor of despair. A bolt of lightning struck near the bank Wednesday and set off a burglar alarm tear gas bomb in the bank lobby.

Bank President Ed Kolbe and two cashiers were the only ones in the bank when the bomb went off. He said they didn't know what was the matter for a little while, but it didn't take long to find out.

Municipal Stadium for Houston

HOUSTON —(AP)—Houston may go ahead and build a 100,000-seat municipal stadium—but not call it a war memorial. That, apparently, would get around objections raised by the Gold Star Mothers Organization. Several months ago Mayor Oscar Holcombe said the city will construct a war memorial costing at least $1,000,000. City Councilman W. A. Kirkland last week proposed that the memorial take the form of a stadium. But the Gold Star Mothers want the memorial to be a Museum of Natural History.

Holcombe appointed a committee to study proposals for the stadium. A few hours earlier Glenn McCarthy, Houston oilman and industrialist, had offered to give 100 acres of land as a site for the stadium.

UCLA Grid Staff Quits

LOS ANGELES —(AP)—The University of California at Los Angeles is looking for a new set of football coaches today following the en masse resignation of the entire Bruin varsity coaching staff.

Head coach Bert La Brucherie, who in his four seasons at UCLA had 23 wins and 16 losses; line coach W. P. (Dutch) Flering, and coach Shelby Calhoun and backfield coach Ned Matthews turned in their unexpired contracts yesterday.

"Touchdown Happy"

NEW YORK —(AP)—College football became more "touchdown happy" during 1948 and went in for fishier and trickier attacking maneuvers. Participating in the Associated Press year-end poll, a large majority of the nation's sports writers said defensive football became an abandoned baby as the teams went for taller and taller scores.

Sports Round-Up

By YORK FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK —(AP)—Henry Iba of Oklahoma A & M refused to "bite" the other day when Rhode Island's Frank Keaney went into his No. 5 routine for the basketball writers. That's the talk in which Keaney starts by blasting professors and finishes by blasting anyone who tries to slow down his "firehouse" style of basketball. It's good for a lot of laughs that temper Frank's charge that a slow-down "ruins the game." Iba, who believes in the slower "control" style, also has another theory. "It helps the game to have a different style," he commented later. "It stirs up a bit of argument and controversy and keeps interest alive. I think that's one trouble with pro basketball and football. They all play the same way so there's nothing to talk about."

SOONER OR LATER
Jules Verne Sikes, Kansas U. football coach, gave his squad one look at the films of the game Kansas lost 60-7 to Oklahoma and then consigned the films to the darkest corner of the storeroom. Here's how he explained: "When Ray Evans graduated, his jersey and number were retired. No Kansas player ever will use that number again. A great tribute to a great football player. Well, like Ray Evans, we have retired the pictures of the Oklahoma-Kansas 1948 game. No one will ever see them again—a great tribute to a great Sooner football team."

ed once to have been the baby of the Southwest has invaded the nation at large," said Wendell Foltz of the Battle Creek (Mich.) Enquirer and News.

The San Francisco 49ers of the All-America Conference this season went through an entire game with New York without receiving a kickoff.

Army Deposes Salvador President

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador —(AP)—The army has overthrown the government of President Salvador Castaneda Castro.

The President was deposed after an exchange of machinegun fire Tuesday between army and the garrison of the Presidential palace.

An American embassy spokesman at San Salvador said no U. S. citizen has been hurt and no U. S. property damaged.

Conditions returned to normal in the country. Buses resumed runs and stores opened.

Most of the shooting was machinegun fire with a little mortar and small arms display. Four civilians were reported killed and a few wounded. Property damage was slight.

The President's desire for extension of his four-year term of office for another two years from March 1, 1949, appeared to be at least one of the factors. Elections for a constituent assembly to pass on that question were to be held Thursday and Friday.

Four Latin American governments were overthrown earlier this year. These were in Costa Rica, Paraguay, Peru and Venezuela.

An American embassy spokesman at San Salvador said no U. S. citizen has been hurt and no U. S. property damaged.

Conditions returned to normal in the country. Buses resumed runs and stores opened.

Tenant Farming Is at Lowest Level Since 1880

One of the great changes in the structure of American agriculture in recent years—a change of deep social and economic significance to the nation at large as well as to agriculture itself—is the increase in farm ownership and the bid decline in tenant farming.

Figures compiled by the Bureau of Agriculture, Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture disclose that approximately 72 percent, or more than seven out of every ten, of all farm operators this year were owners, in full or in part. (Part owners operate land they rent in addition to their own.) This farm ownership proportion is the highest since such figures were first compiled in 1900 and compares with a ratio of well under 60 percent in the '30s.

At the same time, the number of tenant-operated farms declined to approximately 27 percent this year, the lowest such proportion since 1880. An interesting aspect of this decline is the greater relative decrease in the number of share-croppers than in tenancy as a whole in recent years.

These changes strengthen the basis of the nation's agriculture and, combined with other developments such as greater farm income and savings, indicate marked progress in the well-being and security of an increasing number of farm families.

One of the important factors in the decline in tenancy was the general prosperity in agriculture in recent years, a development which gave many tenants the financial means to buy farms of their own. Likewise, greater opportunities for employment off the farm in business and industry since 1940 led many tenants to give up farming entirely. Contributing to this trend were the great technological improvements in farming and rapid mechanization in recent years which permitted agriculture to raise more food and fiber than ever before with fewer people.

Norton to Return?
GALVESTON —(AP)—"Certain circumstances" could bring Homer Norton back to football. The former Texas A & M coach yesterday denied that he was a candidate for the head coaching berth at the University of California at Los Angeles. He said: "I'm not looking for any coaching job. I am happy here on Galveston Island where I'm constructing an apartment hotel." He added that "under certain circumstances I might be interested. It would be hard for me to stay out of football."

Louis vs. Comiskey
PATERSON, N. J. —(AP)—Heavyweight champion Joe Louis meets Paterson's Pat Comiskey tonight in a six-round affair billed as an exhibition.

For Comiskey it will be a chance to exhibit whether he is good enough to rate a fight with Ezzard Charles.

Louis, as in all of the other exhibitions, will be putting his crown on the line, when he walks into the ring.

The fighting weapon of the coceros is a horn on the nose. A slight nose but its hearing and scent are acute.

Wichita Falls Rail Strike Set Today

WICHITA FALLS —(AP)—A strike against the Wichita Falls & Southern Railway was scheduled to start today at 9 a. m. The strike was announced Wednesday by the four operating railroad brotherhoods in support of wage demands.

Operations are expected to halt on the 169-mile line from Wichita Falls to Dublin, Tex.

H. C. Hobart, Houston, assistant grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, refusal of the management to grant a pay increase of $3.92 a day was the reason for the scheduled strike.

Some 70 employees will be affected. Unions involved are the engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen & Enginemen; Order of Railway Conductors and Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, president of the railway, last night said he was in sympathy with the wage demands of the operating employes but said "The road can't pay what it doesn't earn."

Bullington said employes had been given pay raises totaling 19 cents per hour since 1941. He said the railway in that time had not paid its stockholders one cent of interest.

"We have offered to divide the entire 1948 earnings of the railway among our employes," Bullington declared. "This will be computed after Dec. 31, after standard deductions for depreciation, and should amount to about 5 cents an hour every hour the employes worked during the year. The offer was refused."

Hobart said the employes of the line are now working for $3.92 less per day than workers are paid on other railroads for similar work.

The line serves Archer City, Olney, Newcastle, Graham, South Bend, Crystal Falls, Breckenridge, Eastland, Carbon, Gorman and DeLeon, in addition to Wichita Falls and Dublin.
