Pampa To Close Shop and Go To Gray-Texan Game

Pampa's new baseball park will be officially opened Tuesday, April 12, when Joe Kelly's Amarillo Texans meet the Pampa Grays at 3 o'clock.

19 KNOWN TO BE DEAD AND WATERS RISING

More Warnings Are Issued After Rains

HIGHWAYS ARE COVERED OVER

Traffic and Wire Lines Break Down

(By The Associated Press.)

KANSAS CITY, April 9.—With nineteen known dead in Kansas and Oklahoma and thousands of acres of land inundated, new flood warnings were broadcast today as streams rose to record marks following cloudbursts.

Traffic and communications have been crippled over a wide area. The Arkansas, Verdigris, and Neosho rivers poured most of the water across the Kansas-Oklahoma border.

Fourteen cars of a Missouri-Pacific train were derailed at Englevalle, Kans., by a washout late Friday.

Railroad service was paralyzed with washouts at many places on the Missouri-Pacific, Frisco, Rock Island, Missouri-Kansas-Texas and Santa Fe lines. A mile of track on the Frisco was swept away at Arcadia, Kans., where the rainfall was 5.85 inches.

Virtually all highways in the flooded areas were under water, ranging up to four feet deep.

Flood warnings were issued to farmers along the Grand River in Oklahoma which is expected to rise 3 feet tomorrow.

Several cities in Oklahoma are preparing for floods. Blackwell is threatened by a nine-inch rainfall on the Kansas watershed of the Chickasaw river. The river was reported to have risen three feet at one point in one hour.

Heavy rains north and northwest of Bartlesville along the Big and Little Caneys rivers for a time made the situation there ominous. The river at Bartlesville was said to be four feet above normal. Reports from the upper Caneys, however, were that the river had fallen.

Flood warnings to residents along the Grand river were sent out by the weather bureau station at Fort Smith, Ark.

It was predicted that the river would rise to the 50-foot stage, which is two feet above the flood mark. Potato growers in the Fort Gibson area were taking steps to divert floods from their extensive acreage.

Mississippi High Despite local rains, levee conditions along the twisting length of the Mississippi river from Cairo, Ill., to the mouth of the Arkansas and White river below Helena, Arkansas, appear good and government engineers believed the great dikes were prepared to stand the strain of the tremendous weight of waters moving southward.

Three deaths reported today were attributed to the back water of the big stream near Bigley, Tenn., where three children of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pressley perished when their skiff overturned.

T. K. Underwood, local Buick dealer, spent three days in Oklahoma City this week, and had three new cars brought back for local distribution.

Feeding Them on the Hoof

Couples are getting into training for a 16-mile dancing marathon in April on the boulevard between Venice and El Patio, in Los Angeles. The contestants are not allowed to stop for food, as this couple is practicing eating on the hoof. The "trainer," Fred Stoddard, is at the left. Babe Darling and Jack McTaggart are the dancers.

Big Developments Imminent In Panhandle Oil Field As Decline In Crude Prices Comes to a Halt

Three big wells, including the Bowers test which extends the Wilcox pool four miles to the southwest, came in Saturday to boost the production of the south Pampa field.

Wilcox No. 22 started out with a 1,500-barrel flow and looks like the most sensational of recent producers. It is in the SE of the SW of the SW of section 68, block 3.

The Wilcox Oil and Gas company's No. 3 Combs in the SW of the NW of the NW of section 59, block 3 made 500 barrels Saturday. The Wilcox company has five other wells nearing the pay.

The Maxwell Miller well on the Joe Bowers property was drilled in for what looks like 700 barrels early slow. It is in section 102, block B-2, and will open up a new potentially large producing area in the Pampa field.

With the worst part of the depression in the oil market disappearing gradually as the summer demand for oil products grows, an upward trend is expected to be accompanied in the Panhandle area by many big projects, several of which are ready to begin.

C. E. Crawley, vice-president of the Sinclair interests, is one authority who is scouting the idea of further price reductions, and he advances the opinion that had the heavy production peak been reached during the July season, no depression would have resulted. He cites the reluctance of the large crude buyers to follow the last lead of the Magnolia Petroleum company, as an indication that the price slashes have gone far enough.

Texas production is now around 315,000 barrels per day, but could (Turn to page 10, column 1, please.)

Says Rangers Are Not Instructed In Regard To Pampa

(By The Associated Press.)

AUSTIN, April 9.—Additional Rangers were being recruited here today to supplement the force of ten already sent to Borger; it was learned unofficially.

Two men, both veteran officers, are known to have been signed up. No official confirmation yet has been given the report from Borger that Governor Dan Moody would send ten additional Rangers there, but information considered reliable tends to substantiate the report.

BORGER, April 9.—Fred Williams, chief of police of this city, this afternoon resigned his position.

"Press reports are in error: I have not ordered State Rangers to Pampa.—Dan Moody."

This telegram came immediately in reply to Mayor F. P. Reid's message to the Governor Friday, informing him that local officers need no assistance.

(By The Associated Press.)

BORGER, April 9.—Pressure for firm enforcement of law was felt here today as Governor Dan Moody's demands were made known; along with his pronouncement of possibly impending martial law in case civil authorities fail to conquer the lawless element.

Moody's action brought results when more than a score of women and men were ordered out of town by Rangers and local officers. Most of them slipped away to nearby towns. Others are being held in jail for investigation.

PAMPA SCHOOLS CLAIM COUNTY MEET ON FORFEITURE MARGINS

Possibilities of contesting the county interscholastic league meet held at McLean Friday and Saturday were suggested late Saturday night by Pampa people returning from the events.

Pampa put in a claim for the meet on the grounds of total points won, but McLean took the majority of points in track and field events and a small plurality in senior speaking competition, according to Supt. Campbell. The Pampa schools entered the ward school competition, but McLean did not have representation in this class of work owing to the small size of the town.

Pampa's winnings in the grade division and the many ward events forfeited gave a total of 358 points, which Supt. Campbell placed a claim to in a signed statement made in the presence of four witnesses. The ward school forfeited points would give Pampa the winning margin in the meet. Pampa also was superior in the grade school track and field events.

Records of the meet were delayed enroute from McLean and were not available up to early Sunday morning.

Considerable comment on the management of the meet was heard here, with statements that standard practices were not entirely followed.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE

Revision of criminal codes continues over the country, despite indifference or opposition in high places.

The last Missouri legislature went a long way toward combating a great evil by providing punishment to fit the crime for the highway robber. These measures legalize the death penalty, to be exacted at the discretion of the jury, for highway robbery with a deadly weapon. They also provide a scale of increasing sentences for "repeat" offenses on this charge. A minimum of 10 years will be the sentence on first convictions, a minimum of 15 years for the second, 20 years for the third, and life sentence will be mandatory on the fourth conviction. The increasing sentence clause is expected soon to be made to apply in all felony cases.

Recent Texas dispatches carry the important news of a test case involving the recent Supreme Court appeal case from Ohio. Attorneys for a Houston contractor have attacked the legality of a justice court decision on the ground that the justice of the peace in accepting a fee voided his authority, since the new Supreme Court ruling provides that no judicial authority may sit in a case in which he receives a fee.

The lawyers pointed out that the Ohio case decision "voided every part of the Texas constitution relating to the fee system." Carried to federal court, the Houston motion to quash indictments against three negroes for gaming will have to be ruled upon at once or carried to the United States Supreme Court.

Now that the fee system is everywhere under fire, anyone affected, in Pampa or any other place, stands a good chance to beat every case in which fees were taken out of fines. Such procedure would test the decision by the Supreme Court, and give the public a clearer conception of the need for voting favorably on a constitutional amendment to abolish the fee system all together. This amendment will be put to a vote likely by July, and with the Supreme Court condemning the system its passage is already conceded.

ROAD RATES

Jealousy always beclouds the judgment. In a recent issue of the Childress Index, our friend Fred Haskett continues to show his deep feeling typified by the green-eyed monster, by attempting to argue that a paved road from Clarendon to Pampa would be worth more than a paved road from Clarendon to Amarillo. The Clarendon News said that it had no objections to a belt system of roads connecting our neighboring counties, provided we were connected with the centers like Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth and Dallas.

We maintain that we are correct about it, and we hold no jealousy against any of our neighboring towns or cities in the matter. It is a matter of record that the greatest boon to Clarendon truck growers is a large and lively market for their products. It is a matter of record that Donley county truck growers and farmers sold a huge total of products in Amarillo last spring and summer, some have estimated the total as high as $200,000. Pampa is a sprightly little city—little larger than Childress—but very little stuff was trucked across to Pampa, because the market was only about a third as great there as in Amarillo. It is a matter of record that only 48 miles of paved road must be completed to give Donley county farmers an all-weather road to the markets of Amarillo, whereas 60 miles must be built to afford a third as good market to Pampa.

The Clarendon News argued for a "connected system" of hard surfaced roads, then if we can have other hard surfaced roads to other neighboring cities, well and good. The spirit of the Panhandle holds no jealousies—let us build and progress together.

Our exchange desk is enjoying the Pampa Daily News, the youngest of the Nunn-Warren dailies of this section. Editor Hinkle is getting off to a good start and we wish the baby daily long years of able service to the city of Pampa and this section of Texas. —Clarendon News.

TRAGEDY-COMEDY

The staunch little plane with which Commander Pinedo had traversed many miles of either for the glory of Italy and the Fascist "ideal" comes to an inglorious end on a dammed-up river in Arizona. A boy tossed aside a match which ignited waste fuel oil on the water about the plant, and this trivial act accomplished what the warring elements of more than seven seas had failed to do—the destruction of the vehicle of Fascist glory.

It is tragic that the splendid efforts of so courageous a man as Commander Pinedo should thus be terminated by the flip of the thumb of an irresponsible boy. But it is comical that the vaunting pride of Fascism, which Pinedo carried as a sort of super-cargo, should thus be tumbled in the dust. Rome froths at the news. Fascist newspapers see mammoth forces warring against them, sinister plots in this country, and cunning design coupled with ruthless enmity on the puny waves of the impounded waters above Roosevelt Dam.

Be is said in justice to Pinedo that he himself does not take the view of his hysterical partisans in Rome. Being a flyer he knows that even more trivial things may wreck an airship, and no doubt is thankful that fate elected this happening to take place while his ship was comfortably at rest.

Commander Pinedo gets our sympathy as a brave and resourceful man who has carried far one of the most astonishing air voyages in history. As the "symbol" of "unconquerable Fascism" he gets a hearty laugh.—Star-Telegram.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON—Fillbustering in the Senate dates back at least 70 years and probably further.

Here is a diverting account of an incident in a filibuster taken from a Washington newspaper in 1858:

"During the protracted session of the Senate last week, Senator Clark having the floor said 'If it be the pleasure of the Senate to adjourn now it would be very agreeable to me. I have had nothing to eat since 8 o'clock, neither bread nor anything else.'"

"But the Senate wouldn't adjourn and he proceeded till 8:15 o'clock when during an explanation by Mr. Green, having spoken more than 3 hours and a half, he availed himself of the opportunity to indulge in that beverage which 'cheers but not inebriate' with accompanying muffins and sandwiches, which gave his desk the social aspect of a cozy tea-table.

"The honorable senator retained his right to the floor, with a cup of tea in one hand and a huge sandwich in the other. The scene was novel, but a 12-hour fast had created an inexorable stomach. By the call of the yeas and nays he was afforded ample time to finish his repast."

The month's prize for diplomacy seems to go to M. Paul Claudel, the new French ambassador, if the facts are as stated.

The story is that Ambassador Claudel, who did not present his credentials to President Coolidge until the unusually long period of two weeks had elapsed, was delayed by the State Department, which, having looked over the little speech which the ambassador had prepared, asked him to put something in about the French debt.

Hence the delay. The speech as finally made didn't ignore the debt.

But if anyone could have been more diplomatic than was M. Claudel when he first drafted the speech without any reference to the debt, that person has not been suggested for the month's prize.

Nothing can save this country—or Nicaragua—from a large crop of experts on the Nicaraguan situation in the next Congress. Heretofore Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut has been the leading expert who based his knowledge on contact with Latin-American countries. Now Bingham will have plenty of rivals.

Not because senators and congressmen are visiting Nicaragua. On the contrary, they are keeping away from that country as from a pest house. But there are noxies of our national legislators who have gone down into the Caribbean. Some time ago it was reported that congressional party of 83 had entered Haiti. Cuba, Panama, Costa Rica, Porto Rico and other little countries have all been invaded. Mexico shared the immunity of Nicaragua from such visits.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic—Peter's Lesson in Trust.

Scripture Lesson—Matthew 14: 22-33.

22. And straightway he constrained the disciples to enter into the boat and to go before him unto the other side, until he should send the multitudes away.

23. And after he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into the mountain apart to pray; and when even was come, he was there alone.

24. But the boat was now in the midst of the sea, distressed by the waves; for the wind was contrary.

25. And in the fourth watch of the night, he came unto them, walking upon the sea.

26. And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a ghost; and they cried out for fear.

27. But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer: be not afraid; it is I.

28. And he said, Come. And Peter went down from the boat, and walked upon the waters to come to Jesus.

29. But when he saw the wind, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried out, saying, Lord, save me.

30. And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and took hold of him, saith unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?

31. And when they were gone up into the boat, the wind ceased.

32. And they that were in the boat worshipped him, saying, Of a truth thou art the Son of God.

Time—April, A. D. 29, in the third year of Christ's ministry.

Place—Northern portion of the Sea of Galilee, crossing from the plain of Butaiha, near Bethsaida, to Capernaum, a distance of about five miles.

Golden Text—Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid. Matt. 14:27.

Introduction

The incident of today's lesson concerning Peter's trust in Christ was brought about through the most interesting circumstances. Jesus had spent a busy day preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God, healing diseases, and feeding a multitude of five thousand men, besides the women and children, with five loaves and two fishes. When the day's work was over, Jesus "constrained his disciples to get into a ship, and to go before him unto the other side, while he sent the multitudes away." In this wilderness place his disciples were unwilling to leave him alone. Being constrained by him, however, they took ship for the other side and left Jesus to send the multitudes away.

Jesus in Prayer Alone

"And after he had sent the multitudes away, he went into the mountain apart to pray." Our Lord had had a difficult day. He had just worked a most stupendous miracle. Moreover, he was confronted with another temptation of the same nature as those he had met and conquered in the wilderness. Satan this time worked through the minds and voices of the multitude and suggested to Christ with tremendous force: "Become a king, and you will have no difficulty in establishing the kingdom of heaven on earth." Jesus needed the strengthening of will and the peace of mind which he had often before obtained from solitary communion with God, and he needed it as much as ever before. And if he, the Son of God, needed solitary prayer, how much more do we weak mortals need it.

Jesus Saw Them "Tolling in Rowing"

When the ship was in the midst of the sea it was tossed by the waves, the wind being contrary. The darkness of the night was upon the waters. Contrary winds were blowing and the disciples were tolling at the oars. Jesus was miles away out on the mountain side, praying. One of the most beautiful touches in the entire New Testament is given by Mark when he says "And he saw them tolling in rowing." (Mark 6: 48).

The all-seeing eye of the divine Son of God pierced the darkness of the night and he was tenderly watching his disciples, as they rowed against contrary winds and waves. "The eyes of the Lord are ever upon the righteous, and his ears are open to their cry." When we are in the midst of contrary winds, and tolling against adverse circumstances, we have the blessed assurance that the all-seeing eye of the Son of God is upon us.

"In the Fourth Watch." v. 25

"And in the fourth watch of the night he came unto them." This was about three o'clock in the morning according to the Greek and Roman method of reckoning time, used by the Jews at this time, although formerly they had divided the night into three watches, recognizing the fourth watch, but considering it a part of morning. The four watches (Mark 13:35) were called "even," "midnight," "cock-crowing," and "morning." The disciples had rowed against the wind, as John tells us twenty-five of thirty furlongs. Christ would emphasize their entire dependence upon him, and let them do their best without him, and fail. How often he does not come to his tolling disciples until "the fourth watch" of their night or struggle! But he always comes at the best time for us.

"Be of Good Cheer." v. 29.

"But straightway Jesus spake unto them saying, Be of good cheer." "The words are given, but the mere sound of his voice would be enough".

"Son, be of good cheer." Christ had said that to the palsied man whom he was about to heal. (Matt. 9:2).

Is not that, in a very true sense, Christ's message to all mankind in their sorrows and fears? "It is I, be not afraid." "It is I"—the same Lord of the temple who only a few months ago on this same sea stilled the storm by a word (Matt. 8:23-27) why should they be afraid now that this Controller of the winds and the sea was with them? And why should any man fear, in any of the storms of life, if he was sure that Jesus is beside him in the tempest?

Peter "Walked upon the Waters"

"And Peter went down from the boat, and walked upon the waters to come to Jesus. Probably Peter the confident and courageous, was the only one among the disciples who at this time had boldness enough and sufficient faith in Jesus to accomplish this miracle. Peter could not keep it up, but he it said to his everlasting credit that he made a beginning, and was the first of the Twelve to work a miracle. Thus he proved the great truth that not only did Christ possess supernatural power, but he was able to communicate it to others.

"Lord, Save Me" v. 30.

"And beginning to sink, he cried out, saying, Lord save me." Note that Peter does not try to swim, nor does he call to his friends in the boat to throw him a rope or to row towards him, he will honor him once more by fresh confidence in his power and love. The apostle is sinking, but even as he sinks, he sinks "looking unto Jesus!"

In Ford Trial

—NEA, Detroit Bureau.

E. G. Pipp, who started the Dearborn Independent for Henry Ford a few days after the armistice in 1918 and remained as editor until 1920, is one of the important witnesses in the trial of the $1,000,000 libel suit brought against the paper by Aaron Sapiro. Pipp is expected to testify as to Ford's anti-Semitic views.

"Thou of Little Faith." v. 31

"And saith unto him, O thou of little faith." Even Peter's little faith was more than the rest of the disciples possessed, for it enabled him to walk on the water a little way. Christ at one time said that even a little faith, faith as a mustard seed, the smallest of all seeds, would enable one to cast a mountain into the sea by a word. Nothing seems to have aroused Christ's admiration more and gained his praise than this quality of faith. He recognized it as the miracle-working quality, the quality which puts man in touch with God.

When Christians Fall

"Peter began to sink when he began to fear. And the Scripture tells when he began to fear; it was when he took his eyes off his Lord. There is not a trace that the wind had grown more fierce, and the waves had been just as boisterous, when he had sprung from the gunwale of the boat. But then he had thought of nothing but the Master; he had eyes for nobody but the Master, and so long as that continued he was safe.

Looking to Christ he could go anywhere. The very sea was as a pavement to him. Looking away from Christ he was as other men, and the perils that surrounded him were terrible. It is a simple message—looking unto Jesus, and yet it is the message of salvation. To trust in him, and to keep the eye on him, is the one secret of all Christian victory."

Now he walked on the angry wave,

Now he sank in the watery grave; Now he rose in triumphant faith, Now he fell toward threatening death Peter, the wave man.

Rough old fisherman brotherly dear, Near to my weakness, very near, Far from your folly I would flee, Brave with your boldness I would be,

Peter, a rock man!

FEATURES FROM OTHER LANDS

French Designers Avenge Silk Tariff

LONDON—French fashion designers are credited here with saving French silk manufacturers from possible disaster due to a British protective tariff.

Sir Samuel Courtauld, head of a corporation manufacturing artificial silk, gives this as the explanation for adverse conditions in the industry:

When the high tariff went into effect to protect British manufacturers of artificial silk, he says, many French manufacturers of silk were badly hit. But fashion designers came to their rescue by sponsoring fashions which will not permit the use of materials with marked luster.

King George's Yacht's Mast Must Be Smaller

LONDON—Four feet will be cut from the mast of King George's yacht "Britannia," in accordance with a recent ruling of the Yacht Racing association.

Major Philip Hunloke, the King's yachting adviser-in-chief, in making this announcement at a dinner said the Yacht Racing association's decision was in the measurement of sail areas. The big classes up to now had never been measured.

Major Hunloke said yachting for most classes was going to be very good this summer.

"Another new feature," he continued, "will be developed by the Prince of Wales giving a cup for competition by dinghies. It will result in a very large ownership of that small class. I am told there are to be 50 of these boats starting at Cowes this year and I am rather anticipating some exciting times."

Hired Dance Mates Expensive Luxuries

LONDON—The hiring of professional partners by London society women is proving costly.

A school of dancing that supplies reputable and skilled partners charges a fee of from one to three guineas for a "tea dance," and two to five guineas and expenses for an evening dance.

When it is remembered that besides the fee and "expenses" which cover taxi fares and tips—the expense of the dinner or supper and the guest fee, if the partner is taken to a club, are included, the hire of a dance partner is a very expensive matter.

John Bull Quits Mutton for Chicken

LONDON—John Bull is abandoning boiled mutton with onion sauce in favor of boiled chicken and boiled pork.

The old fellow still insists on having his meat boiled, also his vegetables. But mutton is going out of fashion. There were 20,000,000 sheep in England and Wales in 1908, but now there are less than 14,000,000. Poultry farms are springing up everywhere. Pig farms are also increasing and much more pork is being eaten. The acreage of cultivated land is steadily decreasing, but official reports show the land occupied by dairy farmers is steadily on the increase and milk production is growing. The number of persons engaged in agriculture and horticulture in England and Wales is 1,190,000 and has been practically the same for many years in spite of the prevalent opinion that it is declining.

Once Proud Notaries Considering Strike

PARIS—The notary, for centuries a powerful figure in French life, has lost his proud position.

The notaries claim they are "starving to death" and even talk of joining a union and going on a strike. They regret the days when popular belief held their greatest worry was where to store their money.

The government has doubled the pre-war scale of fees, but with paper francs worth only one-fifth of their pre-war value the notaries claim the fees hardly pay the clerks who do the work. Also marriage contracts are becoming rarer, people with money to invest are doing their own investing, and more and more persons are doing business through large corporations.

PARIS—Libraries and museums, rarely lighted or heated, are surrendering to electricity.

The usefulness of the National Library has been doubled by recent installation of electric lights. Likewise, the famous Cluny museum, one of the most charming in Paris, is being wired. In winter months these and other public treasure-trove were available to students only during the two or three hours a day when sunlight slipped in through narrow, high windows. Often on dark days the museum was closed. Both light and heat have been kept out of these places largely because they were and are regarded as gravely dangerous sources of fire.

Society Dressmakers Rap Second Hand Sales

LONDON—London dressmakers are in arms against the sale by wealthy members of the aristocracy of their cast-off gowns to no-so-well-to-do friends.

The dressmakers declare their busier cast off gowns to not-so-well-to-do practice continues many of the evils which has suffered perceptibly and if through loss of trade. The dressmakers claim that many fashionable women, when their pocket books can afford it, wear a gown but once, and then offer it for sale at an attractive price.

If one-half of the original purchase price is realized on a used gown, the woman for whom the creation was made thinks she has made a good bargain indeed. As a matter of fact, the dressmakers assert, most of the gowns go at one-fifth, or even less of their first cost, and this has raised havoc in the dressmakers' trade, with no end of the difficulty in sight.

Mrs. Wilfrid Ashley, wife of the Minister of Transport, set the pace some time ago, disposing of her dresses to friends, little realizing the outcome of this move.

Albert No Longer Is Popular Name

LONDON—Albert is not as popular a name in England as it was prior to the war.

The Order of Victoria and Albert (Albert having been the German prince consort of Queen Victoria) is to be allowed to dwindle and in time will disappear entirely.

Originally instituted by Queen Victoria in 1882 in memory of the prince consort, it is now confined to a slowly decreasing number of distinguished women. It is the one Order of Chivalry in the 300 pages of Debrett's Peerage to which additions are no longer made.

Apart from the Queen and other royal ladies there are but twelve members of the order living, Lady Lansdowne being the most prominent of these.

Paris Scab Woman Hated Millionaire

PARIS—A millionaire scab-woman, who rummages in garbage cans and begs on the side, has been found by the police. Privations, they say, are killing her.

Keeping secret her name, the authorities nevertheless vouch for her ownership of the apartment building where she lives in an unheated attic room.

Her income exceeds that of Premier Poincare. Besides the Paris building, she owns two houses in Arras, three farms and some securities all valued at more than 2,000,000 francs.

When her day's work is done she begs at church ceremonies. She fishes for food, clothing and saleable articles out of the garbage cans that line Paris sidewalks at dark or dawn.

MEN WHO DO NOT LIFT

The world is full of sympathy. This statement has no doubt; When A's in trouble don't you think That B should help him out?

Of course we haven't time ourselves To help just anyone, And yet we hope that someone else Will see that it is done.

We want the care and strife Of this whole world relieved; We'd have the battles grandly Fought, the victory achieved.

We do not care to take the lead— The bristles are too blunt. At lifting we're a failure. But we're splendid on the grunt.

There are others often found As on our way we jog, Who want to do their lifting on The small end of the log.

They do a lot of blowing and They strive to make it known, That if there were none else to help They'd lift it all alone.

If talking was effective There's scores and scores of men, Who'd move a mountain off its base And move it back again.

But as a class, to state it plain, In language true but blunt, They're not worth a cent to lift. For all they do is grunt. —By Jack Harris, Pampa School student.

SEES EMPLOYER AND LABOR DRAW CLOSER

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(AP)—A spirit of co-operation between employer and employe is increasingly evident in the industrial world, says the Federal Council of Churches' handbook, made public today.

"Employe representation has grown until approximately 1,000 concerns with a million workers are using democratic methods in solving the problems in industrial relations as they arise in the daily operation of mills and mines" the statement continues. "In several of our more important industries employing about four millions of workers, employes and regular labor unions are now working with reasonable harmony and efficiency."

"The day of the docile organization is gone." "The churches," it declares, "must stand for an industrial order which is democratic in its ideal, human in its methods and cooperative in its spirit."

Discussing employe representation the handbook, which is published every two or three years, holds that "labor's solidarity is not sacrificed by any of their regulations and it concedes the principle of organized labor."

"Free and intelligent cooperation affords the only sure foundation for American industry."

DEAF AND DUMB BOXER IS IN JAIL

Mike Doran, deaf and dumb boxer charged with highway robbery, had his preliminary hearing Saturday morning before the justice of the peace. He was bound over on a $2,000 bond, but was unable to give bond, and may be held over until the June session.

Thursday afternoon Doran is alleged to have assaulted and robbed Wilson Brown. The alleged robbery took place near the Willys-Knight garage on West Foster street. Brown was hit in the eye and his face was badly cut by the blow.

Doran admits hitting Brown but maintains that he did not rob him. In the encounter Doran broke his hand.

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, April 9.—If policemen were stationed along the airway cross-roads of the world this year they would have a busy time directing the traffic as the birdmen of four continents zoom along the atmospheric highways to bring new glory to their homelands.

"Even if only a majority of the proposed flights are actually made," an official of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America told the ASSOCIATED PRESS today, "there will be more countries represented in long flights this year than ever before."

"Besides the flights already announced, there also are a number of other noteworthy flights planned for the year, the details of which cannot yet be made public. Among these flights will be attempts to break existing distance, duration, altitude and speed records."

Included in the flights already announced are a race across the Atlantic, flights to the North and South poles, a circuit of the Atlantic, a jump over Mount Everest, a duration flight from France to Indo-China, a Pacific race from the West coast to Hawaii, and a Buenos Aires-New York round trip.

The Raymond Orteig prize of $25,000 for the first to fly between Paris and New York will be contended for by several nations. Capt. Rene Fonck of France, whose attempt last year halted as he took off when his giant plane overturned, announced that he will try again this year. Commander Richard E. Byrd, who flew over the North Pole last year, and Commander Noel Davis, have announced their intention of attempting to capture the honor for America. Captain C. A. Lindbergh, reserve officer and air mail pilot of St. Louis is another American who plans to try for the prize.

Captain Charles Nungesser of France, also has announced he will enter the flight.

Two attempts are proposed for the summer to establish regular trans-Atlantic air passenger and mail service between Germany and the United States.

Other proposed trans-Atlantic non-stop flights which have no connection with the Orteig prize have been announced by Major Franco, Spanish aviator who flew across the Atlantic and hopes to fly direct from the Spanish coast to New York, and by the Italian De Bernardi who expects to fly from Rome to New York in a hydroplane.

Captains Estevez and Barbaran of the Spanish Air Force also hope to fly from Spain to New York and thence to Cuba.

There will probably be no such congestion of polar flights as there was last year, but already one flight is assured for the North Pole, and there are two possibilities of South Pole flights.

Capt. George H. Wilkins and his party have already left for the Arctic to resume their search for land in the polar regions begun last year. They take to the air from Point Barrow, Alaska.

Commander Byrd is planning a South Pole flight, but his entrance into the Orteig race may necessitate postponing that for another year. Antonio Pauly, of Argentina, also plans a South Pole flight but that is too indefinite and may be delayed.

Three attempts are proposed to fly to Hawaii. C. K. Vance, air mail pilot, has announced his intention of making a noon-to-noon flight from San Francisco to Honolulu; former members of the Royal Air Force from Canada and Australia have planned to try for the same point from Vancouver, and Lee Schoonhair, former army flier will make an attempt, backed by the San Diego Chamber of Commerce.

Both British and Spanish air officers have been reported preparing for an attempt at the non-stop record by flying over India. The present record of 3,345 miles is held by two Frenchmen who last year flew from Paris to Jask, Persian port in the Arabian Sea.

French fliers plan to circle the Atlantic by air, taking in Dakar, Buenos Aires, Panama and New York, a distance of 40,000 kilometers.

A round trip from Buenos Aires to New York and return is planned by Jorge Carriotte of France and Hector Peirano, Argentine.

Pelletier D'Oisy, French flier, proposes a 12,000 mile flight to Indo-China with only one stop in India, each leg of his journey being far longer than the Paris-New York flight.

The Royal Australian air force proposes a flight to Samoa in a sea-plane via New Guinea, Solomon Islands, New Hebrides, New Caledonia and Fiji.

One flight is proposed with height as its purpose. Jean Calliso who holds the French altitude record, intends to attempt to fly over Mount Everest, 29,000 feet above the Indian plain. Photographs will be taken in the hope that they may be of assistance to expeditions on foot attempting to scale the unreach height.

Notable among the flights already completed this year or now under way are the following: The American good will flight to South America, the Dupinedo four-continent flight, round trip from Madagascar to France completed in February by Lieut. Marc Bernard of France, round the world flight begun by Sarmiento Beires of Portugal, and the flight of the Uruguayan Larre-Borges.

Amusements

Dorothy Mackall craves to be a parachute jumper. Recently she went over to the Curtiss Flying field at Mineola, Long Island, to take part in scenes for "Just Another Blonde," which Alfred Santell directed in New York for Al Rockett's First National unit.

While there a parachute jumper at the field went up and made a jump for the entertainment of Miss Mackall, Louise Brooks, Jack Mulhall and William Collier Jr., who have the principal roles in the picture. After it was over, Miss Mackall asked permission to make a jump too.

Of course she was refused, and became more than peeved over it. "I want to make a parachute jump," declared Dorothy. "Some day I would like nothing better than to get a job as a professional parachute jumper and make exhibition jumps. I imagine there must be many thrills connected with it."

But Producer Al Rockett only smiled, winked at Director Santell, and walked away, still firmly refusing to let the young lady risk her neck.

"Just Another Blonde" is the Monday feature at the Rex theatre.

Queen Mary Favors American Hostesses

(By The Associated Press.)

LONDON, April 9.—In common with the late King Edward and Queen Alexandra, King George and Queen Mary show a predilection for having American hostesses.

Since the beginning of the present London season they have honored with their presence at dinner the Duke of Roxburgh, whose duchess was a daughter of Ogden Goelet of Newport and Earl and Countess Beatty. Lady Beatty is a member of the Marshall Field family of Chicago. Their majesties similarly honored Lord and Lady Astor (again American) and the Countess of Granard, who was Miss Ogden Mills of New York.

Trial Run For New Firemen Made

The firemen made a trial run Friday night at 8 o'clock when a fire was started near the water wells. The reason for the run was to train some new men.

Speed was missing on the run, but the new men were quick to learn. Chief Ben White now has 22 men on the force.

At a meeting of the fire-committee Friday afternoon, delegates to the Fire Prevention convention in San Antonio, June 14, 15 and 16 were chosen.

The Pampa delegates are Bonnie Rose and Lloyd Bennett. They will be accompanied by Ben White, fire chief, John Andrews, fire marshal, and Alex Schneider, ex-fire chief and an active worker in the fire department.

Seventy Couples At Legion Dance

Friday night the American Legion gave an overall and apron dance in their rooms, and 70 couples dressed in overalls, aprons, house dresses and street cloths enjoyed the music by the Dixie Troubadores orchestra.

Shreveport Team Adds Young Men During The Winter

(Special To The News.)
SHREVEPORT, La., April 9.—In some respects the Shreveport Sports will resemble the team that finished fourth last season, in others the resemblance will not be so marked.

Freshening touches in the outfield and infield, additional strength behind the bat and new pitchers galore the majority of them just beginning to cut their Class A teeth—such are the results of a winter's effort by Manager Art Phelan at the auction block and the trading posts.

The loss of pitchers Charlie Barnabe and Homer Blankenship by transfer to the Chicago White Sox so distressed Manager Phelan that he corralled pitchers from the far corners of the land in an effort to discover worthy successors to the two. And his efforts have not gone entirely unrewarded. Several of the juveniles have shown promise in the spring exhibition games, among them Maurice Clark, Mark Rainey, Albert Williamson and Fred Polvright. And with Grady Adkins and Harry Thompson and possibly Joe Gleason and Bill Whitaker are the veteran members of the staff, pitching prospects of the Sports are somewhat brighter than they were expected at first.

Two Good Hold-overs
Behind the bat two hold-overs from last season, Roy "Peaches" Graham and Fred "Red" Wilder. The third backstop is Pete Ritchie, late of Mobile who has been handicapped during the spring by a lame thumb.

The infield is 50 per cent new with Roy Moore, at first, Pete Kildruff at second, George Distel or Al Maderas at short and Andy Woehrs or Sammy Barnes at third. Moore was at one time a pitcher with the Waco club in the days of the Ellis Hardy regime and became a first baseman when his pitching arm went lame. He was one of the leading sluggers in the South Atlantic league last season. Kildruff, veteran of major and minor league baseball, has been the spring sensation here with his terrific hitting. Rarely do the Sports play a game that Kildruff does not get from two to four hits. It is a close race at short between Distel and Maderas, but the latter has a record of thirty home runs last season with Springfield of the Three-Eye league to recommend him.

Barnes Is Back
Woehrs will in all likelihood beat Barnes out at third, but the latter may be used in the utility role because of his ability to play all over the infield. Barnes is back with the Sports after a two year suspension for refusing to report.

Byman (Chief) Nason and Chink Taylor, both members of the Sports last season, will play left and right field respectively and the third outfield will be played by Spencer Harris, whom Shreveport bought from the Chicago White Sox to succeed Joe Bonowitz in center.

Players of the last year's team who will return include infielders Jay Kirke and Dutch Hoffman; pitchers Blankenship and Barnabe and outfielder Bonowitz. Blankenship was recalled by the White Sox and Barnabe was sold to the same team and Bonowitz was sold to Oklahoma City, later being peddled by that team to Fort Worth. Kirke was sold to DeCatur.

Paper Route Helps Pen Athlete Pay For His Education

(By The Associated Press.)
PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—One pair of legs that flash along the cinder path at the University of Pennsylvania help their possessor pay for an education.

A former Penn track captain and intercollegiate half-mile champion, Earl Eby, living in his father-in-law's parsonage at Chester, near here, made this discovery.

Eby was aroused one morning by his barking dog. Wanting a little more sleep before leaving for his day's work, he let the dog out of the house just as a newspaper was tossed on the porch.

Looking up, Eby recognized the carrier as Charley Giles, the best two-miler on Lawson Robertson's University of Pennsylvania track team. Surprised, Eby stopped him for a talk.

For two years, the runner said, he had been carrying newspapers to help him through the university. After completing his paper route, he comes to Philadelphia, attends his classes, does a turn at practicing on the track and returns to Chester for study and sleep.

"I don't mind being crowded for time," Giles told Eby. "Getting up at that hour is not a novelty or a hardship. It isn't pleasant, of course, but I am quite used to it now."

Eby told Coach Robertson in the hope that an easier job could be found for the runner and permit him to spend more time with his studies and in track work.

In the intercollegiate indoor championship competition in New York, Giles finished a strong leader over Roger Fouracre of Pennsylvania State, one of the best distance runners in the east. Robertson did not understand Giles' haste to catch a train for Chester after the race, but it now develops he had to get back to the home town to deliver the Sunday papers, the heaviest load of the week.

Giles feared to let "Robbie" know what he was doing as he felt he would have to give up either the paper route or running.

"I want to be a champion and I think I can, especially with 'Robbie' as the coach," he said.

ACADEMIC GOWNS POPULAR
LONDON.—Professors who look for their gowns and hoods for the approaching commencement season may find that their daughters have purloined the garments.

The academic hoods have become very popular with the chic young debutantes of Mayfair and are worn draped over the back just as the professors wear them. Jokers insinuate it is the nearest approach the wearers will ever make to real learning.

Ruth's Trainer Expects Another Season For Him

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, April 9.—The Yankee Stadium frequently has been labelled "The House That Ruth Built." Now the catch-phrase artists have tagged Artie McGovern, New York gymnasium instructor and physical culture expert, as "The Man Who Built Ruth."

McGovern has been chiefly responsible for keeping the Babe's famous waist-line down to something like normal proportions in the past two years. Ruth's great come-back of 1926 came after an intensive training and dieting campaign under McGovern's direction and when the big slugger wanted to get in shape again early this year, while dabbling in motion pictures at Hollywood, he sent a trans-continental call for Artie's assistance.

There is some authority, therefore, to McGovern's contention that "Colonel Jake" Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, hasn't taken such a tremendous gamble in signing Ruth to a three-year contract calling for the grand total of $210,000.

"Ruth is good for at least five more years of top-notch baseball because he has convinced himself that he must keep in condition and, at the same time discovered how to do it," McGovern declared.

"In fact, the success that has come from following just ordinary common-sense systems of exercise and diet have converted Ruth from a free and easy liver almost to a physical culture fiend.

"Up until a year or two ago, Ruth followed no set system of living. He indulged and thought he could get away with it until he was brought up with a jolt against the cold fact that his baseball days were numbered unless he turned over a new leaf. How well he did that was illustrated by his wonderful record last year, in the pennant race and world's

SEEN About New York

NEW YORK, April 9.—Southern "colonels" who get their titles by "being good to shine boys" have their counterpart in a suburban town on the shores of Long Island Sound. The townspeople explain the presence of innumerable "captains" by saying that every time a man gets even a row boat he paints his name on it with captain in front and the title sticks.

The best nickle's worth in town is the ferry ride from South Ferry to Staten Island, in the opinion of some New Yorkers.

Despite unusual handicaps, boating still claims its thousands of addicts in the metropolis.

For a city entirely surrounded by water Manhattan offers little encouragement. I look for him to have another big season in the coming campaign.

Last spring Ruth handed McGovern a check for $1,000 after completing his conditioning course. This year, in addition to a substantial fee, he paid McGovern's expenses for the trip from New York to Hollywood and return.

agement to scullers and the skippers of small craft. The Hudson, due to the serrated building line, is subject to confusing wind streams and the East River is jammed with snorting tugboats and ferries whose wash would throw a Henley crew off stroke. Yet both rivers are lined with boat clubs and many boats are out every fair day, threading the dangerous traffic.

One New York store that guarantees its silk hose against runs, offering an exchange for any stocking that runs, has an entire department busy satisfying claims.

The department is "Ford-red," an inspector passing on the damage, a clerk writing out a check and another clerk making the substitution.

The news butcher on a train that passes a college town within commuting range of New York declares that he has to censor his stock whenever he hears that and other towns where college girls are likely to get aboard. "The chaperones will let the girls buy almost any magazine but two," says the butcher, "and the girls want those two most of all. I like to sell these because they carry the largest commissions. But if I do I have a row on my hands."

Congress Grows Younger and More Athletic—Golf Leads, But Many Other Sports Enjoyed by Solons

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON—Congress is growing younger, and more athletic, as time passes.
That epigrammatic condition is attributed by supporters of the direct primary to the direct primary, by defenders of the younger generation to the increasing influence of each succeeding younger generation, by others to the fact that, several years ago an unusually large number of members died within a short period. Some even go so far as to suggest that it may be due to the spreading popularity of outdoor recreation among people in general and constituents in particular.

Whatever the cause, more members of congress, and noticeably of the senate, where the average age is traditionally higher than in the house, are interested now in various forms of exercise than ever before. With a long recess ahead of them, they can be expected to pay more attention to the development of their skill during the spring and summer than has been possible since last fall.

The majority, of course, is made up of golfers, headed by Vice President Dawes, and including at least one Representative, William B. Oliver of Alabama, who shoots consistently under 90. Tennis, however, is represented, together with horse-back riding, hunting, fishing, swimming, walking, gymnasium exercises, and the well-known "daily dozen."
Several have notable athletic careers behind them. Representative Daniel A. Reed, of New York, prime mover in the organization, back in 1820, of the house gymnasium, which is maintained through private subscriptions by members, was a football and wrestling star at Cornell, where he later served for fifteen years as gridiron coach. He also was coach for Penn State for a time, and Representative Albert H. Vestal, of Indiana, one of those who became interested in the gymnasium idea, has given him credit for restoring his health.

Senator Henry W. Keyes, of New Hampshire, once was the stroke, and later coach, of the Harvard crew, while Senator Daniel P. Stock, of Iowa, and Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., of New York, were celebrated football players.

Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, is one of the most widely known horsemen; Senators Harry B. Hawes, of Missouri, and Stock share enthusiasm for hunting and fishing, while the senate golfers number Walter E. Edge, of New Jersey; Frederick H. Gillett, of Massachusetts; both Joneses, one of New Mexico and the other of Washington, and Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas; the democratic floor leader, among the ablest of their pellet chasers. George Wharton Pepper, of Pennsylvania, was the leading exponent of strenuousness in the form of tennis during his term, which ended with the last congress. Speaker Longworth is a hiker, and so, after a fashion, is Representative Tilson, when it is considered that he lives two or three miles from the capitol and walks to and from work whenever he is not too pressed for time, or too depressed by the weather. He also is a "daily dozen" devotee, likes water sports, and lists

"wrestling with other congressmen" among his exercises.
Representative John N. Garner of Texas is a hunter by choice; Florello H. La Guardia, of New York, an aviator; Fred A. Britten, of Illinois, a boxer; Isaac Bacharach, of New Jersey, a yachtsman, and Martin L. Davey, of Ohio, a doctor of trees. In addition, the house could produce a sizeable golf tournament without admitting any of the secretaries, and it has become necessary to add an indoor tee to the gymnasium equipment to satisfy the craving for dexterity.

Mr. Ernest was on his way to Amarillo in a Dodge touring car.

No Immortals In Movies Says Mary Pickford

(By The Associated Press.)
By O. E. WADE WERNER

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—Who are the immortals of the movies?

There aren't any, says Mary Pickford. Deathless popularity on the screen is not within reach of film players; the medium in which they work is too constantly changing.

The actress, whose screen span has seen the rise and fall of many brilliant film meteors, was in a philosophical mood.

"We of the pictures," said she, "are of the moment only."

"Ten years from now the films we are so proud of today will be mere curiosities. And I, for one, don't want to see myself in a picture ten years old."

Miss Pickford confessed she found nothing to cry about in the situation.

"It is all very well to talk about pleasing future generations, she observed. "But after all, are the people of tomorrow more worth pleasing than the people of today?"

"I am content to bring enjoyment to the great multitude of picture-goers of today. I would rather live in their memories than in film which when resurrected after many years, would seem crude and old-fashioned in comparison with the pictures of a later period of technical development."

Miss Pickford appreciates the fact that a historian of motion pictures probably would relate something of her career, and in that sense there would be an immortality of the movies.

Asked if she ever thought of playing one of the queens of history, she replied:

"It would be too difficult. People would go to the theatre expecting to see Mary Pickford, and it would be impossible to make many of them see any historical character I might portray as anything else than the girl they knew as Mary Pickford."

"Film stars are too vividly well known to play successfully the great characters of history."

"THE CAREFUL DRUGGISTS"

PAMPA SPORTSMEN HAVE PLANS FOR ATHLETICS

First Unit of $75,000 Athletic Club Property Is Baseball Park Now Under Construction In City

The Pampa Athletic Club, through its board of directors, F. P. Reid, Otto Studer, M. K. Brown, and Earl Rice, has commenced operations on the building of an athletic field on the Miami road a short distance north of the Cook-Adams addition, and every effort is being put forth to have the field in as good condition as possible for the game between the local team and the Amarillo Western league team Tuesday. Work is being carried on under the direction of F. G. Alsop, who expects to have the field in good shape by that time.

The club is now taking memberships, and during the next few days will cover the city on its drive.

To Cost $4,000

The athletic field will cost approximately $4,000 including the grand stand, fence, showers, and dressing rooms, and getting the ground in shape for a real baseball diamond. The stands, when completed, will have a seating capacity of 1,500 and at a later time, the club expects to continue the bleachers along the sides of the field for football purposes.

The general plan of the club is to build a downtown athletic club building, including gymnasium, showers, lounge and recreation rooms, a boxing room, wrestling room, fencing room, pool and billiard room, bowling alley, library, dining room, and kitchen, which will be a center for all kinds of inter-organization activities, and where contests of various kinds can be held. The club will sponsor and control semi-professional baseball, football and basketball teams, and will also conduct baseball, football, and basketball ball games between various organizations in and around Pampa. It will be in all ways a metropolitan athletic club with all features included that can be found in any club. The club expects also to be able to put in a number of tennis and handball courts in connection with the downtown club house.

Ultimate Value $75,000

The cost of the club and athletic field when completed will amount to about $75,000. The athletic field is the first unit in this building plan, so as to furnish a home field for the baseball team already organized and running. The club is the first building the athletic field and when this is completed will turn its attention to building a downtown home.

The cost of a membership in the club is $100.00 which carries with it voting powers and all of the privileges of the club.

However at the present time the club is only collecting the sum of $25 per member, and in the event that for any reason it may not be practical to build the club house, the $25 is the only amount that will be collected from the subscribers to the club. In that case the subscriber will receive stock in the athletic field, and on such stock the subscriber will receive 15 per cent of the gate receipts less expenses on the amount that he subscribes bears to the ratio of the amount subscribed for the building of the athletic field on both baseball and football events. If the club building is organized, however, there will be no dividends paid on the memberships, and the earnings of the club will be used in increased services and a fund for additional building.

To Be Chartered

The maximum amount for which the club will be organized will be $75,000, in which case it will not be necessary to take a loan on the club property, but in all probability it will only be necessary to charter the club on a basis of $40,000 to $50,000. This will be a matter for the board of directors and the membership to consider at a later time.

The all-important thing at the present time is putting across the athletic field so that athletic teams will have a place to work. With the advertising space on the fence of the ball park and the memberships, the club expects to finish the athletic field within a short time.

Net Stars Spread Tennis In France

PARIS.—The success of Suzanne Lenglen and her illustrious compatriots, Cochet, Borotra and Lacoste, has gone far toward popularizing tennis in France.

Until the names of French champions began to blaze across the sky of the racquet world tennis was only for the wealthy. The few courts that were available belonged to exclusive clubs or even more exclusive and high priced hotels.

That is slowly changing and popular enthusiasm is demanding more courts. It is estimated that more than 200 new tennis "parks" where the game may be enjoyed for a small fee are being built in the neighborhood of Paris this year.

Kopecky is a panther when it comes to wrestling, and is to meet one just as good in Bobbie Chick, the Lincoln flash. They are hurling newspaper talk at one another now and when they meet it is going to be worth seeing.

Mayor Proclaims Part Holiday For Baseball Game

After talking with the secretary and management of the Pampa baseball club, Mayor F. P. Reid yesterday issued the following proclamation:

"Being advised by the secretary of the local baseball club that they have arranged to have the opening ball game of the season Tuesday April 12, with the Amarillo Texans entrants in the Western league, and whereas the people of America and the citizens of Pampa all agree that 'all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy', and further, since baseball is recognized as our great American national game and one of science, skill and athletic ability, I, F. P. Reid, Mayor of Pampa, do hereby proclaim Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 5 p. m. a holiday in the city of Pampa, and urge that everyone that is inclined to baseball attend the game, and by your presence give the players encouragement.

Given under my hand and seal this seal this ninth day of April 1927.

Signed, F. P. REID, Mayor.

C. H. FISHER, city secretary.

The game will be played at 3 p. m. at the new home of the Pampa Grays, on the Miami road, one mile north of the city, which is now under construction and will be ready for Tuesday's game.

Schulte, Poor Track Man, Is Star Coach

LINCOLN, Neb.—Henry 'Indian' Schulte, track coach at the University of Nebraska, was a great football star on Michigan's point-a-minute team, but no track performer. He made himself a track coach.

At Missouri, Schulte made a world record holder of ob Simpson, hurdler, with the arm-action-and-body-pitch form he is credited with originating. Then he developed Jackson Scholz, sprinter. At Nebraska he tutored Locke last year to a 100-yard record, and this year he is grooming Wirsig, 13-foot vaulter. He devised the palm-back method of passing batons to speed up his relay teams.

Athletic Pitchers Have a Fast Ball

PHILADELPHIA.—A group of American league umpires and players at Tampa before the training camp began breaking up were discussing the best "fast ball" boasted by lefthanded pitchers in the American league.

Grove of the Athletics was about to win the honor when a "dark horse" entered, another Athletic pitcher. The discussion turned to Walberg, who was credited in the group with an even faster ball than Grove, "when he lets it go." Walberg, according to the experts, holds back some of his stuff and seldom puts it on display.

May Elect Woman To French Academy

PARIS.—France is wondering if the French Academy will actually elect a woman to its "40 immortals" when the vacancies are filled some time this month. Frenchmen are reputed to be apostles of gallantry, but their deference to women has not yet extended to opening the portals of the sacred academy to them. The Countess Anna de Noailles the poet called the "Edna St. Vincent Millay of France," is one woman often spoken of as a probable choice if the bars of the academy are let down. Madame de Noailles is Roumanian by birth, but is married to an aristocrat of France.

Soviet Women Ignore Changing Fashions

SAMARKAND, Uzbekistan Soviet Republic.—Moslem women of this remote part of the Soviet Union are unaware of changing fashions, and Samarkand and its women are much the same as they were in Tamerlane's time. Women of the western world would be amazed at the weird standardized costume, the "yashmak," a black garment whose back is fashioned in the shape of a coffin lid. The grim appearance of a walking coffin which this gives to many natives is heightened by the wearing of a "ferige," a black hood, which enshrouds the entire head. When groups of these spectre-like figures move furtively through the narrow streets the scene suggests an animated cemetery.

English Portia Seeks Vote For Women Under 30

(By The Associated Press.) LIVERPOOL, Eng., April 9.—A modern Portia has arisen to lead the Young Suffragists of England to the polls. She is Miss Nancy Stewart Parnell, a descendant of Thomas Parnell, the great Irish leader and poet of the eighteenth century. Her father, prominent as a poet and playwright, is a first cousin of Lord Congleton. Miss Parnell is an honor graduate of Liverpool University and was a leader in the efforts of women students in obtaining their emancipation. She is a debater and is secretary of the Liverpool branch of Saint Joan's Social and Political alliance. She came into prominence as spokeswoman of the Young Suffragists when a deputation called on Prime Minister Baldwin to petition the government for the ballot. "The Young Suffragists of England," Miss Parnell informed the premier, "are the women less than 30 years old. They include teachers, professors, doctors, mothers, office and factory workers, and strangely enough parliamentary candidates, for a woman may be elected to the House of Commons at 21 years old, though she may not vote until nine years later."

DID YOU KNOW

—that we have been in the gas business fourteen years and there has never been an accident to any consumer on our system, much less one of the terrible tragedies from gas that we read of in the papers every few days.

There must be, and is a reason for it. We have men that know the business and spare no expense to put in the most modern and best safety devices known to the industry. We have seventeen such devices on our system in Pampa, installed at a cost of hundreds of dollars, to protect the lives and property of our customers.

When nobody else would think of risking a dollar to put gas in the town we put in thousands to give you gas; then before we ever took a dollar out the boom came on and we have continued to put in thousands of dollars of outside money to extend our lines where others did not dare to go, until today we have over eighteen miles of mains in the town alone and fifteen miles in the field.

We have never taken a penny out of the town or system, but have on two different occasions made two substantial reductions in rates and have never at any time been asked or approached by the City Council of Pampa or any other City Council for a reduction.

Not only is Pampa enjoying the lowest gas rate in the state with the exception of Amarillo, and we have the same rate they have, but we assure you that we will continue our same efficient regardless of cost and if cheaper gas is sold in Pampa, we will sell it!

The West Texas Oil and Gas association has adopted a resolution asking Governor Dan Moody to submit for legislation at the called session next month the subject of laws requiring publication of oil statistics particularly regarding storage. These facts, given adequate publicity, would do much to stabilize the Panhandle market, the association believes.

The Panhandle field showed a decline last week, but averaged 122,448 barrels a day as compared with 124,123 barrels for the previous week. Wheeler county, with several new completions, gained 747 barrels to reach a new high limit of 2,747 barrels. By counties the totals were: Hutchinson, 104,890; Gray, 7,717; Wheeler, 2,747; Potter, 35.

Denver Contract Let

The Empire company signed a contract this week for the 20 inch line from the Pampa field to Kansas City, and a contract between the Public Service company and the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and the Prairie Oil and Gas company to take gas from the Panhandle to Denver. The Colorado metropolis expects to have natural gas to sell for 30 to 40 cents below the present rate, and Kansas City is jubilant over the prospects for cheap gas for industrial and domestic use. Work on the mammoth lines—the largest yet to be attempted in any part of the world, will begin as soon as the material can be assembled.

Hellum Plant Planned?

Inspection trips by government agents recently has encouraged the belief that the government may be contemplating a helium plant somewhere in the Panhandle field. A plant is now located at Fort Worth, but additional supplies of the highly important non-inflammable gas for aviation use are needed. The Panhandle gas, tests have shown contains some helium, which may be extracted without impairing the gas for industrial or domestic use; in fact, the stripped product is as good or better than the natural flow.

The Magnolia Petroleum company has obtained a permit to start operation on its carbon-black two-unit plant a few miles southeast of Pampa, on block 3, section 64, of the I&GN survey. Each unit will have 36 burners, and together will use an open flow of 15,300,000 cubic feet.

Indiana's Prettiest Blond-Brunet

—NEA, Cleveland Bureau
Here are two interesting testimonials—one blond, one brunet—to the beauty that blooms in the state the Wabash river helped make famous. They are Miss Helen Service (left) of Greenfield, Ind., and Miss Frances Louise Murphy of Logansport. They were chosen as two of Indiana University's prettiest co-eds.

Another Plant Asked

The company has just applied for a permit to build and operate another plant on its Worley lease in Wheeler county, and a hearing will be held on the request April 14 at Austin.

Starting off with a flow of 30 barrels an hour initial, the J. K. Hughes Development company's No. 1 Percival this week enlarged the Parks-Noel area, but caved and dropped to 10 barrels an hour. It is being clean-out and steps are under way to handle the production. It is in the NE of the NW of section 139, block 3, in the I&GN survey.

The Roxana-Bryan pool of the Pampa field has been extended two miles to the west by the bringing in of the No. 1 Jordan-Brown, a White Deer Oil company well. It picked up the pay from 3,018 to 3,027 feet and started off at 10 barrels an hour. The Roxana Petroleum company got a producer in its No. 1 Jordan in section 107, which made 60 barrels the first hour and 302 barrels the next fifteen hours. Several other good looking tests are being brought in in this same vicinity.

Drillers Are Surprised

The Texas company drillers got a surprise when a stream of oil beat the tools out of the No. 1 McConnell and a 50,000,000-foot gas flow damaged the rig.

Drilling operations in the Mid-Continent field dropped off somewhat during the past week, sliding from 2,370 to 2,254. New Mexico drilling remained steady, however. Texas reported 989 operations as compared with 1,022 for the preceding week.

Earl Van Dale of Amarillo, land man, and A. G. Post, field superintendent with headquarters in Pampa, were Magnolia representatives from the Panhandle to the annual conference of officials at Dallas.

Oil City Grows

The fastest growing town in the Panhandle oil area at this time appears to be Oil City, now five weeks old. It is the closest railroad station for the eastern half of Moore county. Fifteen supply houses have located there and $150,000 worth of building sites have been sold. Activity has recently been stimulated by the routing of the Great Plains highway through the site. The Rock Island railroad is now grading through on its Amarillo-Liberal line.

LOCAL GOLFERS ARE PRACTICING REGULARLY

The Pampa Golf club has its greens and fairways fixed and members are out every day practicing for the coming season.

Situated within the city limits in the northwest part of town, the course is one with hazards placed there by nature. The course has seven holes, ranging from one to three hundred yards and on account of the draws only three holes can be seen from the drive-off.

Moody to Clean Up Borger With Own Forces

Kimes and Ray Terrell, Texas-Oklahoma outlaws who are believed to be hiding here.

What further action will be taken has not been disclosed, but Governor Moody has demanded that the city marshal and two justices of the peace be brought to account for purported neglect of duty.

"If Borger can't furnish local officers that will cooperate with the rangers, maybe they can cooperate with the national guard if they are sent to Borger," Moody said in a telegram to the wide open boom city's mayor.

The governor based his declarations on reports of investigations made at his direction. State Adjutant General R. L. Robertson and W. Boyd Gatewood, the governor's secretary are in Borger.

Reports indicate, Moody said, that Borger's city marshal is not performing his duty. "The first step in a clean-up," Moody wired the mayor, "is to get rid of that man (chief of police) and put in one who will enforce the law."

"Neglected Duty" Moody told the county judge at a hearing indicated that "the sheriff and two justices of the peace of Stinnett that the investigations men your county have neglected the discharge of their duties and tolerated a condition of open law violation that is not to be countenanced."

The commissioner's court could "straighten these men out" and if necessary the governor said, take action looking forward to their removal and replacement with officers who will properly enforce the law.

"If local agencies are impotent to correct conditions," Moody added, "it will be my plan to take drastic action to see to enforcement of the law at its early date as possible."

"Vehement protests will not prevent declaration of martial law" Moody replied to a telegram from Marvin Thomas, secretary of the Borger chamber of commerce.

"Reports reaching me from investigations made at my direction by persons in whom I have confidence indicate a condition of lawlessness existing that is not to be tolerated. The way to prevent martial law is to see to immediate correction of the conditions existing. This cannot be accomplished until certain local conditions have been corrected by removal of some who have not been seeking to enforcement of the law."

In his telegram to Borger's mayor Moody further said,

"There are three things that you may depend upon. First it being a constitutional duty to cause the laws to be faithfully executed, I expect to carry out that duty. Second that power exists to carry out the law, and that I know how to use that power. Third, that unless conditions are corrected in Borger, steps will be taken immediately to correct them."

AUTO LOCKS PROTECT FORGETFUL DRIVERS

CHICAGO, April 9.—(AP)—Locks to safeguard automobile drivers against their own carelessness are being tested in the Underwriters Laboratories here.

The forgetfulness of drivers of insured cars who park their cars unlocked and walk away with the feeling that the insurance company "can do the worrying," has induced the National Automobile Underwriter's conference to withdraw recognition of locking devices in the writing of insurance. To meet the situation, a new lock is being developed.

The new lock is so designed that when the driver switches off the ignition to stop his engine he automatically locks the car. Few drivers, insurance companies find, are in the habit of forgetting that an engine needs gasoline to keep running.

FOES OF DUELLING WIN COURT TEST

BERLIN, April 9.—(AP)—Opponents of duelling with sabers among students of the German universities are continuing their fight against what they call a "barbarous survival of the middle ages."

In the most famous test case of recent years the Berlin court of appeals sustained a district court which sentenced Paul Kruschko, Berlin University law student to five months in jail. Kruschko was convicted of manslaughter after the death of his friendly opponent in a duel.

The student's counsel argued that "duelling with sabers is one of the least dangerous forms of sport, less dangerous than boxing." Since 1864 the council pointed out, nine students have died as a result of duelling. All possible precautions, such as the attendance of a physician were taken, he said, and the fact that Kruschko's opponent died from blood poisoning from a wound in the chest, must be considered an unavoidable accident. The higher court, however, failed to see the argument.
