Roosevelt Refutes Clark Statement

WASHINGTON, July 30 (Sp) — President Roosevelt said yesterday he hoped none of this country's good friends in Latin America would take seriously a suggestion made by Senator Clark (D-Idaho) that the United States "take over control" of all Latin America and Canada.

Mr. Roosevelt's comment came at a press conference when he was questioned regarding the senator's proposal, made in an interview. Clark had expressed the opinion that "the good neighbor policy has been a failure" and suggested that the United States might gain continental control through puppet governments.

Summer Welles, acting secretary of state, called Clark's suggestion "unbelievable" and said the senator's views were "not shared by any responsible authority in the government."

Miss Laneous Notes

By MARY WEALEY

About the time everybody is huffing and puffing and threatening to blow the house down if it doesn't cool off, stores blossom out in blacks, furs, and woolsens.

That seems sort of odd to us. It looks like they would realize that nobody can get up the proper amount of enthusiasm for a long-sleeved black dress or a fur coat while they are fanning themselves with one hand and wiping off perspiration with the other.

Seems to us that they could make a sale if they would come showing something that would keep the heat at a minimum. Say an eyelid dress and sunbonnet to shade the eyes.

We hear the shop keepers moan about the summer slump. And it licks like to us that this might be the answer. The hardware stores don't put on a sale of snow sweepers in August and the grocery stores don't advertise about foods to keep warm.

Instead they plug out for fans, air conditioners, and lawn mowers and for salads, vegetables and summer foods. Maybe they are complaining about the summer slump, too, but at least its cause isn't from wanting to sell non-seasonal articles.

We appreciate the fact that these folks have been getting on without helpful advice. But the setup seems sort of screwy to us. Fans, black, long sleeves, coats—! Pardon us while we turn up the fan.

U. S. Reveals Seizure Of Jap Vessels In Hawaiian Waters

Arrests Made In Spring By Customs Men

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—The seizure of 19 Japanese fishing boats in Hawaiian waters this spring was disclosed today by the treasury department.

Although the vessels were seized by customs agents on charges of false registry, several authoritative officials here alleged that the ships had been employed in espionage work.

Customs officers reported that, at the time of the seizures, no suspicious equipment was found on the craft. Other informed sources, however, asserted that during the period the ships were under investigation, it was established that they had carried expensive radio and photographic equipment, together with navigational charts of a type unconnected with fishermen's work.

These sources further alleged that most of the ships involved had at least one member of the Japanese naval reserve in its crew.

The seizures took place between Feb. 28 and March 3, and were apparently unrelated to any of the more recent developments in relations between the United States and Japan.

Six of the seized vessels already have been declared forfeited to the U. S. government. Seventy-one Japanese fishermen and three Honolulu fishing companies were indicted on the false registry charges.

Vague reports of Japanese naval officers posing as fishermen have been recurrent along the Pacific coast for many years, and it was learned that the seizures this spring culminated several years of work by agents investigating such reports.

The investigation was under direction of William Jennings Bryan, Jr., son of the great political figure of bygone years. Bryan is now collector of customs at Los Angeles.

Opening Delayed On Mexican Road

McALLEN, July 30 (AP)—Formal opening of the Reynosa-Monterrey highway, connecting the metropolis of northern Mexico with Texas border cities by an all-weather road has been delayed until September 18-20.

Delays in obtaining oil used in the final paving work and other construction difficulties caused decision to delay the opening by a group of men meeting with Gov. Bonifacio Salinas at Monterrey. Sam L. Miller, president of the McAllen chamber of commerce and of the Valley Bridge Co., Hidalgo, Joe E. Pate, bridge company manager, and Franklin Ewers, Mission attorney, visited Gov. Salinas and Ing. Pablo Dominguez, engineer in charge of the road project, and definitely set the September date.

Weekly Oil Review—Despite Ickes Request, Gas Sales Increase In East

TULSA, Okla., July 30 (AP)—

Gasoline sales continued to climb in the east despite the transportation difficulties and oil circles here believe Petroleum Coordinator Ickes may soon sponsor government action to conserve supplies.

Ickes' plea for conservation of gasoline in the eastern states has failed to produce the desired 15-18 per cent saving. With defense industry booming and more motorists on the roads on their annual vacation jaunts, seven large eastern companies reported a sales gain of 1,500,000 gallons of gasoline for the week.

Unless voluntary conservation begins to produce results, Ickes said it might become necessary to use some system of involuntary rationing. New York oil men expect that such a step would not come until after Labor Day, and that the first step would be closing of filling stations 12 hours daily.

Ickes also has indicated that fuel oil supplies might also be limited immediately.

The first move toward constructing a new 1,560-mile pipeline from East Texas to the east got underway this week with the letting of a contract for an aerial survey of the route.

The new line—a $70,000,000 venture—would funnel 250,000 barrels of crude oil daily into the New York-Philadelphia area. Under the most favorable conditions, oil men expect it could be completed in about 10 months.

In the field the Oil and Gas Journal reported 647 completions for the week, compared to 687 the previous week and 693 a year ago. Drilling in eastern fields, Kansas, the Rocky Mountain area, Eastern Texas and Nebraska is running well ahead of last year, and in Oklahoma, West Texas, north Louisiana and Arkansas drilling operations are slightly ahead.

Wildcatting apparently is being carried on at an accelerated pace, with the Mid-Continent area being stimulated not only by better crude prices but by improving markets.

Human province, South China, in enforcing a wartime anti-epidemic project, has established 13 quarantine offices, 15 isolation hospitals, and 100 inoculation centers.

Farm Leader Urges Restraint In Boom Days

FLORENCE, Ala., July 30 (AP)—Edward O. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, warned today that he knew of no more certain method of bringing about wild inflation than for farmers to drive prices now as high as the traffic will bear.

"I counsel farmers to stick to the reasonable demands we have made for 20 years," the federation head asserted. "We have won parity, therefore let us be thankful." In an address prepared for delivery at the 20th anniversary celebration of the Lauderdale County Farm Bureau, O'Neal declared: "Let us not make the mistake of getting greedy and insisting on getting more than parity just because we could possibly get higher prices during the emergency period."

Pola Negri Admitted To US After Delay

NEW YORK, July 30 (AP)—Pola Negri, glamorous Polish star of the silent screen, is back in the United States today with Uncle Sam's blessing as a permanent resident.

When the 41-year-old former actress arrived yesterday on the American export liner E-mailbur she was taken to Ellis Island because her permit to enter the country had expired.

Granted an immediate hearing, she explained that she did not know her five-year-old permit required annual renewal. The immigration authorities ruled in her favor.

College Girls Head Colorado Aluminum Drive

COLORADO CITY, July 30 (SpI)

Four college girls home for the summer—Catherine Sigel, Freddie Watson, Virginia Whipkey, and Nancy Price—composed a special committee staging Mitchell county's successful drive for aluminum-defense, Friday through Tuesday.

The girls assisted Judge W. W. Porter and Mayor J. A. Sadler in arranging the various drive features. The four of them made a house-to-house canvass on Friday, collected aluminum at the Ruddleick park amphitheater program on Friday night, arranged a downtown pen for donations from Saturday crowds, and helped the Palace theater put on an aluminum matinee on Tuesday. The Lions club contributed one piece of aluminum for each member at its Friday luncheon.

Catherine Sigel attends Texas Tech, Lubbock. Freddie Watson is a student in Howard Payne, Brownwood. Virginia Whipkey goes to Baylor university, Waco, and Nancy Price is from the University of Texas.

Huge Contract Let To Texas Arms Plant

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—The war department has announced the award of a $78,000,000 contract to the Lone Star Defense corporation, Akron, Ohio, for management and operation of the Lone Star ordnance plant at Texarkana, Tex. The corporation is a subsidiary of the E. F. Goodrich company.

Of the total amount of the contract, $33,500,000 was for construction and equipment on the plant, and $44,500,000 for training of personnel for one year's operation and for one year's capacity output.

The department said a contract for designing and constructing the plant would be sublet by the corporation at a later date.

The plant is a shell-loading factory and will load artillery and howitzer shells, bombs, detonators and artillery primers.

It will cover approximately 24,300 acres. Construction will be started as soon as subcontracts are negotiated.

The plant will be government-owned and operated by the Lone Star Defense corporation as a government agent.

Conditions In Sweden Told

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 30 (AP)—Youthful Bill Pollo is on his way to attend the University of Alabama after a 2 1/2 year visit with his parents in Sweden, which, he said, is fast undergoing economic restrictions because of the spreading European war.

"Sympathy of the people toward the Russians and the Germans is divided," he asserted last night, shortly before departing by train for Birmingham, Ala., after a visit with Arthur H. Zieske, vice-president of the Southwest Cotton company, Goodyear Tire and Rubber company subsidiary. His father is associated with Goodyear in Norrkoping, Sweden.

"Sweden is hemmed in by Germany or German puppet states and has little choice but to aid Germany. She fears the Russians more than the Germans and now her sympathies will be more than ever with Germany since the two rivals are at war.

"Business is terrifically restricted. Everything is rationed."

Of the 65,000,000 women in the United States, about 25 per cent are gainfully employed outside the home.

Washington Daybook— How Exposed Spy Ring Paid Off Its Members

(Last of three articles on the spy ring just broken by the F. B. I.)

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—In the transmission of messages, there is undoubtedly none known to modern espionage that the recently exposed spy ring didn't use. At least a third of the persons in custody are charged with being couriers and it may be assumed that nearly all those 37 persons named as co-conspirators (because they operated almost entirely outside this country) were involved in the transmission of either information or money.

Axel Wheeler-Hill, identified by federal agents as brother of James Wheeler-Hill, former German American Bund official now serving a penitentiary sentence, already has pleaded guilty to the indictment and, according to the charges, operated the ring's key short wave radio station. From his East 129th street apartment in New York City, short wave messages in code were sent and received it is charged.

The use of micro-photography—that is printing letters, messages, blueprints, etc. on inch-square negatives, which can be read either by use of a magnifying glass or a projection machine—has become almost standard in modern spying. Imagine how difficult it is to detect such a tiny bit of evidence, sewed into clothing, hidden in the soles of shoes or slipped between the layers of luggage material covering in addition to this, according to Hoover, the ring used intricate codes, invisible inks, capsule messages and all such other trivia of outmoded melodrama.

MANY MEETING PLACES

Men and women met in the busy whirl of Columbus Circle traffic in New York in a cafe in the Bronx; suburban Glendale on Long Island; on the beach at Venice, in California; in the refuge melting pot at Lisbon, in Portugal; at a small, unassuming bar in Rio and passed the little squares that can be hidden in a handshake or on the underside of a half-dollar. As for the payment of cash to espionage agents, only two methods are used—the actual transfer of cash, and the transfer of bank credits through neutral countries. The latter is not easy, but with so many honest refugees working schemes to get their legitimate funds out of war-torn countries today, it is difficult to detect. The transfer of actual cash may be handled in diplomatic pouches or through couriers.

WORKS BOTH WAYS

That, then, is how a spy ring works—how this spy ring worked. As to how it is caught—well, by the same methods by which it operates. Don't think for a minute that FBI agents go joining spy rings. They don't. Spies work for money and the thrill of it. And there are plenty of persons on Uncle Sam's side of the fence who love to do their spying too.

Chapter Ten
Bombshell For Eve

"Jeff, have you found Lee Gray? Tell us!"
"I don't know if I should trust you with a thing like that, Halia."
"Jeff, stop it! I swear I won't breathe a word to any-one."
"Well, I've lowered his voice and looked around, 'I'll tell you then. It isn't you."
"That's enlightening. Is that all?"
"No. It isn't Eve North or Alice McDonald. It isn't Phoebe Thompson. They thought that note might have been written by one of the women in the cast and signed with a fictitious name. But specimens of all their handwriting show that none of them compares with Lee Gray's."
"Apparently not."
"Well, that's swell. You're getting along fine. Now get off those chairs. Carol and I have a show to play."
Jeff obligingly went and stood in the corner while we made up. I glanced at Carol in the glass. Her hands shook a little as she dabbed on rouge and purple eye shadow and dotted her lashes with mascara, but long before the call for places came she was ready, waiting with her hands folded in her lap.

Defense Bond Quiz

- Q. Will personal checks be accepted for Bond purchases when I buy direct by mail from the Treasury Department, Washington, D.C.?
- A. Yes, subject to collection. Your Bond will be mailed to you shortly thereafter.
- Q. Does a Defense Savings Bond increase in value from the date of purchase?
- A. A Defense Savings Bond is dated the first day of the month in which remittance is received by an authorized issuing agent. In other words, you get a full month's credit on your investment regardless of what day of the month you buy your Bond.

Editorial — New Income Tax Unfair To Women

Married couples may find themselves bearing an extra levy of $300,000,000 a year if the new tax bill is adopted by congress in the form it left the house ways and means committee. It is tantamount to class legislation, the sort of things we have clamored against as a democratic process.

On the surface it might appear innocent enough to forbid the filing of separate income tax returns by husband and wife because the joint exemption is substantially greater than the combination of two single exemptions. The obvious reason for requiring joint returns rather than single ones is that by combining the two incomes, the total rapidly jumps into the higher tax brackets.

The dubious reason is given that it would prevent unfair operation of the income tax law with respect to families where all income is received by one spouse, compared with families receiving incomes from both husband and wife; and would prevent tax evasion through husband and wife transfers of property. It is more reasonable to believe, however, that shorn of all its adornments, the law is designed to wring a huge sum from a particular class.

This is particularly true in community property states such as Texas. In our state it would penalize the institution of marriage. Conceivably it could have an ill effect on those contemplating marriage and induce many to abstain from it. Such would be far more disastrous than the loss of a few millions of dollars in tax revenue.

There is this other aspect. In the past the U. S. supreme court has held that similar state laws were unconstitutional, holding that it was contrary to due process of law to "measure the tax on one person's property or income by reference to the property or income of another.... That which is not in fact the taxpayers income cannot be made such by calling it income." Texas had a similar case which was similarly decided before the high court.

However, the court's complexion has undergone a decided change since these decisions were made and the wisest policy to insure against the enforcement of such class legislation will be to insist that congress does not pass such legislation.

Finally, the federal government has no power over the regulation of marriages. How then can it consistently have the right to transcend state rights by taxation in disregard and contrary to community property laws?

We have gone through a long and progressive fight to give woman equal rights, to lift her above her age-old status of chattel or slave. Enactment of the joint return law, we believe, would, in effect, a step backward in this fight. And we view its threatened enactment with alarm.

Man About Manhattan— O. Henry Would Like To Know These Fellows, If He Were Here

NEW YORK—Some Tombs, Dick and Harrys of Manhattan that O. Henry would have loved!

Harry McArdle — one of those vanishing Americans, the old school, cartoon-type, "Mr. Doolittle" Irishman with his threadbare but dignified blue suit and battered derby. . . . He is a neighborhood patriarch around McSorley's ancient ale houses, where Abraham Lincoln is supposed to have gone after his Cooper Union speech.

Harry is loved and respected by everyone. He is one of those rare natural-born comedians who can't open his mouth without saying something droll, but it wouldn't be fair to attempt a pale ink-and-paper sample of his wit; he has to say it. And when, after about his fourth round of ale, he struts "It's the hat me dear old father wore," you've seen an epochal event.

Sam—the blind newsboy at 59th street whom no one ever cheats. He is broad-shouldered with red hair and a freckled face. His sense of touch is so fine that he can tell the denomination of any coin, and he saves Indian pennies. . . . He has hundreds of them stored in a box in his Third avenue room. . . . His favorite tune is "Tipperary," which he whistles softly and constantly. . . . He has been whistling it for 20 years. . . . "It's the greatest song in the world," he tells you. "When I whistle it, it makes me feel good."

Iszy Feldman—he's a necktie salesman. . . . Makes all his own ties from material bought at fire sales and at bargain basements. . . . Sometimes he makes ties from garments that seem to have had a glamorous past. . . . For instance, once he obtained a silk dress worn by the late Tex Guinan and from it he made 20 neckties. . . . Sold them at 50 cents per. . . . Usually he asks 15 cents for his ties. He has original little spels that he gets off, uttering them in glad cries, extolling the virtues of his wares. . . . Iszy is a restless soul and drifts constantly about the city. . . . One day his stand will be at 8rd and 46th, the next it may be on 10th avenue. . . . "You can't do too bad in this business," he says. "After all, everybody wears neckties." Iszy is now married the third time, two former wives having died.

Pop—that's all the name I have ever heard him called. . . . He is Hollywood Sights And Sounds— What Do Screen Lovers Talk About In Clinch?

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Just love wonderful! Look at that couple out there, the way she looks up into the handsome face, the way the stalwart hero in the soldier's uniform looks down at his pretty dove in picture hat and billowing crinoline. What sweet nothings are they whispering, while the camera lines up the shot? Wanna listen? Come in closer:

"Well," says Olivia De Havilland, "here we go again."
"You make it sound unpleasant," says Errol Flynn. "Do you mind so much?"
"Don't be silly."
"Do I marry you this time? Or what happens? I haven't read the script yet." He grins, showing Flynn-teeth.

"I suppose you haven't read this scene, either. Really, you're impossible."
"How many pictures is this? I've forgotten."
"What do you mean—how many pictures?"
Errol reflects. "Seven, isn't it? Yes, seven. There was the pirate one. . . ."
"You mean 'Captain Blood'?"
"Yes, and then the one with the horses. . . ."
"Charges of the Light Brigade?"
"Yes, then the Sherwood Forest one—'Robin Hood,' then. . . ."
"Then 'Four's a Crowd' and 'Dodge City' and 'Elizabeth and Essex' and 'Santa Fe Trail' and now this one and that makes eight." Olivia is out of breath.

"But we've been happy, darling, through it all," says Errol. "You fool," says Olivia. "Raoul Walsh calls for action. 'They Died With Their Boots On' gets under way—and there, as Olivia said, there they go again. . . ."

Rosalind Russell, fluent speaker of R. Russell's mind, spoke it plenty over that report that she had "eloped" to Mexico. When she gets married, she says (1) "The first person to know about it will be my mother"; (2) "I won't elope—I'll go right down to Los Angeles city hall for the license and I'll be glad to have my picture taken—because I'll be happy and I'll like having a picture to remember the day"; (3) "I'll be married in church—I've nothing against 'eloping' except it's not for me."

Miss Russell is in the comedy, "Female of the Species," with Don Ameche. It's about a lady with a great talent for indecision and mind changing—which has nothing to do with the real R. Russell.

There was something novel on the set of "Weekend in Havana," but I couldn't define it, right at first. This is another of those Latin-American, technicolor, Zanuck musicals.

This setting, a gambling casino, was reminiscent. Alice Faye was there, and Cesar Romero, and Carmen Miranda would be on the set soon, complete with glittering headgear. Business as usual, and yet something novel. Something missing.

Bumpers Stops Cats' Winning Streak, 2-0

Rebels Take 6-3 Win Over Sports As New Field Is Opened

By The Associated Press
It took youthful Lefty Bumpers, fresh out of Texas A. and M., to break off the Fort Worth Cats' five-game winning streak.
Holding the Cats to three hits, Bumpers enabled the Beaumont Exporters to rack up a 2-0 victory at Fort Worth last night. Earl Caldwell, Fort Worth pitcher, did almost as well, letting Beaumont down with four hits.
In another close Texas league contest, the San Antonio Missions were unable to convert any of their five hits into runs and went down before the Oilers 1-0 at Tulsa. Ray (Peaches) Davis hurled the shut-out.
The Dallas Rebels dedicated their new stadium with a 6-3 triumph over Shreveport, increasing their margin over the fourth-place Sports by a game and one-half.
The Houston at Oklahoma City game was postponed and will be played as part of a doubleheader next Sunday.

ABCers Hang Up 13-7 Win Over Lions

Back The Bombers
American Business Club won second-place in the Minor city softball league last night by virtue of a 13 to 7 victory over the Lions club. With the count standing at four won-three lost for both clubs, ABC's victory gave it a 5-3 listing over the Lions' 4-4.

Lions' Stanley gave up 13 hits over the route. Blankenship held the opposition to seven walkoffs. Walks, plus errors, sprinkled the contest and played a large part in the outcome.

Middleweights Will Middle-Up Tonight
NEW YORK, July 30 (AP)—The mixed-up middleweight (pardon middleweight) boxing situation gets another minor airing tonight at Madison Square Garden when Champion (New York variety) Billy Soose meets Boatwain's Mate Getrigia Abrams, who has beaten Soose twice and is a stablemate of Ken Overlin, from whom Soose won the title.
Soose's title, which is not recognized in some where the National Boxing association and Tony Zale held sway, will not be at stake, and the boys there will go only 10 rounds at most. Soose, a stylish boxer with considerable kick in his right, is the favorite at 8-5 in spite of Abrams' two decisions over him, both won before Willie had any claim to the championship.

Regular Rules To Apply To Draftes In 21-Year Group
AUSTIN, July 30 (AP)—Men who registered July 1 under the selective service act are subject to the same rules of classification as those previously enrolled, selective service headquarters announced today.
State Director J. Watt Page asserted that under no circumstances will a new group of potential trainees be classified and considered for possible military training en bloc.
He added no local board can classify an individual registrant before his number is reached, except in the case of volunteers.
The second national lottery served as a guide for every board to integrate its new registrants among those who registered last year and that integration must be carried out so that the recent registrants will be classified only in fair and equitable ratio to those men not yet inducted, Page said.

Tatemen Pound Pioneer Hurlers For 15 Hits

CLOVIS, July 30—Willard "Pop" Ramsdell won his seventeenth game here last night as he led the Big Spring Bombers to a 7 to 3 victory over the Clovis Pioneers, allowing five hits over the route. Larry Drake led off in the ninth with a homer over the right field fence to add one more to the Bombers' already commanding lead.
Big Spring pounded Mel Kramer and Charlie Bond for 15 hits, but performed with six errors in the field.
Hayden "Chubby" Greer paced the hitting department with four wallops in five trips to the plate. Drake placed second in line with three for five. Hank Poitras and Jack Lindsey marked a brace of connections each.
The Bombers wind up their series with the Pioneers tonight, then tie themselves to Wichita Falls, where they will engage the Spuders in a three-day stand. Following the Wichita Falls tussles, Big Spring returns home for a home predest operator against the same club.

Lookin 'em Over

WITH JACK DOUGLAS
Jake Douglass, Big Spring kegger par excellence, has returned from Dallas, where he and his partner, Jewell Starr of Dallas, finished in the upper brackets of the mixed doubles, sponsored by that city's Ladies' Bowling association. Jake and Miss Starr won fifth place out of over 100 couples competing in the tournament.
This Miss Starr is on slough when it comes to knocking over the pins. She scored 618 over the course.

Brady Piper, former Big Spring, is representing the 64th School Squadron of the San Angelo army aviation unit in district amateur boxing affairs, Monday and Tuesday at San Angelo.

Brady won the Big Spring district Golden Gloves championship in the middleweight division last winter, then went on to the state meet at Fort Worth. There, he was eliminated in the quarter-finals. The army lad is again competing in the middle bracket.

Willard Ramsdell must win seven games to beat the mark he made last year, when he was credited with 23 victories. In order to equal or beat the count in '40, when he tied for the lead in games won, Willard needs to win every one of his regularly scheduled duels. In the event that he works overtime, or wins games in a relief role, Ramsdell may best last year's showing.

Tuesday night, he maintained his place at the top of the Bomber list with his 17th win of the season—against the dangerously hitting Clovis Pioneers.

Durward Carnett must be slipping. Heretofore, his fishing expeditions to the wilds of Colorado have resulted in a bumper crop of finny creatures for his creel. This year he had fair fishing, but nothing spectacular. Mebbe, Colorado fish are beginning to look out for this fellow from the waterless wastes of West Texas.

Red Cochrane Decisions Zivic For Welter Title

NEWARK, N. J., July 30 (AP)—The new world welterweight champion is a fellow who once quit the ring because he couldn't win a fight. But he's red-headed and Irish—so why argue.
He's tabbed Freddie Cochrane, but his pals call him Red. He has been beaten 25 times in his career, but he worshipped Mickey Walker as a kid from the same neighborhood in nearby Elizabeth.

He and Fritzie Zivic, who punched a period onto Henry Armstrong's career, battled for 15 of the roughest rounds a bar-room brawl ever saw at Ruppert Stadium last night. And, while it was as close as your whiskers and your razor, Freddie the Red deserved Referee Joe Mangolo's decision for (1) making the fight as the aggressor all the way, (2) taking Fritzie's Sunday shots and charging back for more and (3) poking Fritzie an occasional belt in the breadbasket which did Zivic absolutely no good and which showed up the Pittsburgh joker's shakiness from over-training.

They'll probably fight again in September provided Red, who has a 1-A draft classification, hasn't been measured for a rifle and bayonet by then. But until that time, the rugged little 26-year-old is the head man.

There weren't many of the folks on hand to see this surprise package unwrapped—say 10,000 or so. Freddie was a 4 to 1 underdog going in, and not even his father suspected what was going to happen. In fact, when the mob of well-wishers who always climb on a champ's bandwagon turned up at Red's Hillside (N. J.) drinking emporium to help celebrate, "Pop" looked 'em over, and chuckled, "who'd 'a' thought this was gonna happen."

The new 147-pound boss has been around the business for seven years. Larry Corbett, the old six-foot-hill rider, brought him out of the amateurs. He started going pretty good as a lightweight but ran into a succession of tough fellows like Johnny Jadick. He lost close "dukes" to them. So he quit.

This was in '37, but after three months, he was offered $350 to tangle with Pedro Montez. Pedro stopped him in three rounds. Then Willie Gilensberg, who's been managing fighters around Newark for years, picked him up and brought him back. And now he's the champ.

Indianas Due To Worry Notre Dame

LOS ANGELES, July 30 (AP)—Naming Indiana as the opponent of a hard slate of opponents, Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame believes the 1941 fightin' Irish will prove a strong aggregation as the season progresses.

Leahy slipped quietly into Los Angeles for a brief stay. It was his first visit since he sat as an unused bench-warmer on the Notre Dame squad the year it defeated Southern California, 27 to 0.

NYA, Oilers Take City Loop Honors

ABC, NYA Vie For Title Next Week; Cities' Undisputed

CLOSE OF THE REGULAR 1941 season of the City Major-Minor softball league left Cities' Service Oilers in undisputed control of the fast division of the loop. By virtue of its win over the Lions Club last night, the American Business Club team took second place in the listings for the second half of the season. Previously, the NYAers had snaked up the honors for the season's windup.
The Oilers took both halves of the season without trouble from any of their opponents. A total of 12 wins and no losses in the spectacular mark set up by the Oilers—better than that made when they acquired the first half honors.
ABC and NYA vie for the slow bracket championship in a two out of three game series Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 4-6-8.
Although the early season showing indicated that the '41 city team would be a nip-and-tuck affair in the Major division, Cities' under the management of W. D. Berry, soon showed its superiority and was never closely pushed for the lead.
The Minor league was an entirely different situation. ABC won top-ranking in the initial half only after a tough struggle throughout. Starting the second half, NYA with its "A" team from the first league, combined both "A" and "B" teams and proceeded to clear the field of opposition in Minor ranks.

Red Cochrane Decisions Zivic For Welter Title

NEWARK, N. J., July 30 (AP)—The new world welterweight champion is a fellow who once quit the ring because he couldn't win a fight. But he's red-headed and Irish—so why argue.

Cobb's Putts Defeat Ruth

DETROIT, July 30 (AP)—As golfers, T. Cobb and Babe Ruth have proved to be great former baseball players, but the Georgia Peach still had enough of his bunting technique and flaming competitive spirit to take the rubber match of their links series, 3 and 2, yesterday.

Playing before 2,500 spectators at the Grosse Ile Golf and Country club, Cobb went 15 strokes over par and Ruth scored 18 over for the 18 holes required to close out the match.

Except for Cobb's well-behaved putter on four greens, the match from a golfing standpoint featured two puffing, perspiring left-handers who knew not where their next shots were going.

A higher class golfing flavor was provided by the once-mysterious John Montague, who matched par 71, and Walter Hagen, who went four strokes over.

Cards-Brooks Get 7-7 Tie In Opener

By Associated Press
It's a fight to the finish between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers this week, but they came out of their first meeting with nothing except unfinished business.
With practically the entire country, except possibly St. Louis, agog over their crucial clash for control of the National league pennant race, they fought 12 innings to a 7-7 draw yesterday. This left the Cards still two games in front.
Less than 11,000 customers were in Sportsman's Park for the 3 1-2 hour show.
The Dodgers rolled away to a 6-1 lead with Jim Wadell hitting a two-run homer in the first inning and Delph Camilli following with his 17th and 18th circuit clouts of the season on successive turns at bat in the fourth and sixth.
In this interim big Johnny Mize, the famed St. Louis slugger, left seven runners stranded.
Then in the sixth the Cards took it all back with a six-run inning. Kirby Higbe, who had been wild but lucky, gave three walks and forced in a run. Curt Davis came in and Terry Moore singled for two runs; Johnny Hopp tripped for another, then scored on a wild throw by Du-rocher, and Mize sent the Red-birds ahead with a homer.

In the ninth Joe Medwick, a former Cardinal, made his only hit to single home the tying run for Brooklyn. After three more innings darkness finally forced them to quit. The game was rescheduled immediately for Thursday, previously an open date.
The Pittsburgh Pirates and Cincinnati Reds, in a virtual third-place tie 10 games back of the first-place Cardinals, came through with triumphs.
The Pirates scored four runs in the second inning and coasted to a 5-3 victory before the Boston Braves before rain halted play in the eighth.
The Giants ripped off four runs against Cincinnati's Elmer Riddle in the first three innings and then the Reds fired back with two in the fourth and five in the fifth to win while Gene Thompson held the St. Louis Browns beat the Boston Red Sox, 2-2, behind the six-hit hurling of John Niggeling. Both Boston runs came on Ted Williams' 20th homer.

The Chicago White Sox interrupted the Philadelphia Athletics' parade with a 1-0 triumph.

ON THE SETS with REED JOHNSTON

Well sir, they don't send postcards when they want to keep secrets, so here we are with an item from

REED JOHNSTON said and I wish it were true.

Miss Madeleine Carroll is acknowledged to be a honey, and to be with her in or among the Bahamas is something we have been looking forward to, quite without hope, for many years. Consider then the delightful plight of Mr. Hayden who, of all things, got himself lost on an island which seemed to be deserted and which on a second inspection proved to contain no less a person than Madeleine Carroll. Madeleine Carroll herself. Yes sir. There she was. There she was and, if you want to know just where she is this week we can tell you that she is being her own cool and beautiful self right here in Hollywood, even in the presence of that same Mr. Hayden with whom she wandered on this supposedly deserted island. As we have said, to be lost on a deserted island with Miss Carroll is one thing, but to be marooned on a promontory where you (and Madeleine Carroll) were followed by the usual train of publicity men, advisors and still-camera-men presents a picture in which any normal man wouldn't want to be caught with his Aunt Maisie. So, never having been lost with anybody, we tried it out last week in a sound-stage at Paramount. Miss Carroll was at large on that same stage, too. But somehow this wanderer didn't get lost with that blonde and winsome person. Somebody came and found Miss Carroll—probably hired for that happy occupation—and the scout who had planned to get lost with her, meaning your correspondent, still doesn't know whether the north end of that sound-stage has a boundary this side of the Arctic Circle—or not. But considering this department's well-known luck in the matter of meeting the beauties of the studio lots, it would be too much to ask of good fortune to expect ever to be lost with Madeleine Carroll. With the kind of breaks we get in this world we can count ourselves lucky even to see the lady from a distance.

Erskine Johnson's HOLLYWOOD

EXCLUSIVELY YOURS: Out-topping as well as out-tapping her Hollywood dancing rivals, Ann Miller will do an intricate tap dance with cowboy spurs in Columbia's western musical "Go West, Young Lady." Cast as a saloon entertainer, Miss Miller, wearing regulation western boots will tap out the routine with spurs on the polished surface of a 50 foot bar . . . George Sanders' brother, Tom Conway, an actor at MGM, and Lillian Eggers, former New York model, eloped to Las Vegas July 4 . . . Producer Samuel Goldwyn is trying to make up his mind between Henry Cooper, Spencer Tracy or Pat O'Brien for the film biography of baseball's iron man, Lou Gehrig.

ERSKINE JOHNSON

Have you noticed those rival sheet headlines announcing Erroll Flynn in a film biography of James J. Corbett? We broke the story two months ago.

Odd situation in a new Fox picture, "Hot Spot," which features Vic Mature, Betty Grable, Carole Landis and Laird Cregar. Mature, who just married Hal Kemp's widow, once was reported engaged to both Grable and Landis. Although they play sisters in the film, Betty and Carole are leading and can get along without each other very well. And Mature and Cregar both were discovered at the Pasadena Community Playhouse.

Hedy Lamarr will age from a girl of 20 to a woman of 45 for her role in "H. M. Pulham, Esquire." Story behind Metro's new ace, Holland's Phillip Dorn, turning down the lead opposite Helen Hayes in her Broadway play was because he'd be required to speak with a French accent. He didn't choose to jeopardize the English he's mastered . . . Forrest Evashevski, the Michigan football star, who came to Hollywood with Tommy Harmon, and his wife are expecting a baby. She's the daughter of Senator Brown of Michigan . . . Douglas Fairbanks' widow, Sylvia Fairbanks, is planning to finance a Hollywood dress shop for Gene Tierney's new husband, Count Oleg Cassini.

The movies have written a new ending for the film version of the best selling "Kings Row." Ronald Reagan, as Drake, doesn't die. But he still loses both legs, an episode in the book, which the studio at first considered too gruesome, then left in because of its importance to the story.

MC Jerry Lester was ribbing Maxie Rosenbloom at Charley Foy's supper club. "Why don't you speak English?" said Lester. Snapped back Maxie: "Speak English and starve to death—not me."

Loretta Young's kid sister, Georgiana, and Billy Halop were back together at Victor's . . . Virginia Egles gets a nice role in "Obliging Young Lady." . . . Production delays on outdoor film sets caused by low fliers are always accounted for by script girls in their daily reports. Time lost by Columbia's "You Belong to Me" company while on location near the busy Burbank airport was listed by script girl Agnes Postage as: "Time Out For National Defense" . . . Myrna Loy and Carole Lombard have been putting on weight in the wrong places and both are on rigid diets . . . Milton Berle is breaking all records at the Ches Pares in Chicago.

NIGHT TAKES: Director Alfred Hitchcock, still trying to solve his own mystery in "Before the Fact," is shooting another ending—the fourth—for the film . . . Rochelle Hudson is considering an offer to star in three pictures in Mexico City . . . Joan Blondell can take a bow for donating the money she received for a fur endorsement to a kids' radio show . . . Raymond Massey is considering an offer to direct a Broadway stage play in the fall. And, talking about a certain Hollywoodman, Blake Garner cracked: "He's so swanky that in addition to having an unlisted telephone number he has an unlisted draft number."

They're telling about the producer who called in a writer and bawled him out for putting stale phrases into the mouth of a character. The writer insisted that was the way such a character would talk—in platitudes. "Well, all right," said the producer. "But you better think up some fresh platitudes."

Discussing a newcomer to Hollywood whom he had just met, Lou Breslow, the Fox writer, commented: "He abuses the privileges of being stupid."

KEN MORGAN'S HOLLYWOOD KEYHOLE

Real western lore will again be uncovered by producer Walter Wanger in "Cheyenne," another super-western which will depict the epic of the rodeo. John Wayne, who was made a star through Wanger's "Stage Coach," has been recruited for the lead. He will be aided in the cast by Bruce Cabot, whose stock has risen considerably since appearing opposite Marlene Dietrich in "Flame of New Orleans." Henry Hathaway will direct the picture.

I understand the Marine Corps is up in arms because of the neglect of their branch of service by Abbott and Costello. The pair have made "Buck Privates" and "In the Navy" but no mention of a plan to film a Marine picture. Universal Studios, where the duo is under contract, have received hundreds of letters from the "leather-necks" demanding recognition.

There's a lot of agitation going on around town to produce the life of the late Will Rogers. If the picture is made, my vote for the lead goes out right now—the only logical man is Stuart Erwin, who, too long, has been neglected by this man's town. And I'm sure Mrs. Will concurs.

The surprise elopement of Katharine Grayson and John Shelton really upset her Hollywood boss, L. B. Mayer. Extensive plans had been made for the young lady by the studio who were planning a buildup similar to the one given Desmae Durbin. Joe Pasternak, who produced the Durbin pictures at Universal, was secured by the studio and plans were being whipped into shape for a series of films showing Miss Grayson as a talented adolescent—frankly, the studio claims, it is a little embarrassing to have her a married woman. For a while, it appeared that an annulment would be demanded by the family, but they have now been reconciled.

THE GOOD RUMOR MAN: Anna Lee, British star now in Hollywood with her husband, Director Robert Stevenson, will greet the stork in December—oddly enough, she is playing the part of an expectant mother in "How Green Was My Valley" . . . Laurel and Hardy have a radio deal in the fire . . . John Carradine will play a romantic lead in "Swamp Fire" . . . Victor Mature is raising pigeons for use in the Army's Signal Corps . . . Richard Quine, brought to the coast by MGM from the Broadway show, "My Sister Eileen," will marry Susan Paley, former Earl Carroll beauty . . . Jeffrey Lynn and Margaret Hayes have kissed and made up, as you all know—but the interesting angle on the affair is that the split originally occurred when Lynn did not want to marry, fearing a hurt to his career—now Miss Hayes is going great and it is her turn to turn a deaf ear to the preacher call . . . Sheila Ryan has realized her dream—a house in San Fernando Valley . . . Paramount is sorry they gave permission to Stirling Hayden to buy a yacht—he now wants a four months vacation to sail it . . . How does Virginia Gilmore feel about her supposed flame, Fritz Lang, squiring Miriam Hopkins? . . . Mickey Rooney is back with Linda Darnell . . . Harold Lloyd's 17 year old dotter, Gloria, is crazy to act . . . Edmund O'Brien will leave shortly for 21 per month . . . Mickey Rooney's Pa, Joe Yule, an ex-buclesque headliner, is teaching the strip-teasers routines for MGM's "Panama Hattie." Adios!

Herewith displayed is a solid light-maple cabinet, on top of which incidentally sits Mary Anderson, whom you'll see in motion shortly in "Henry Aldrich for President" and "Bahama Passage."

JOE FISHER'S Reviews of Previews

MGM presented "RINGSIDE MAZIE" starring Ann Sothorn, another in this astonishing series which has clicked in such a big way. But this time there is just something lacking from the wallop these films invariably have, and a close inspection reveals that it is the fact that despite Miss Sothorn's Al tramping the story doesn't give her a big enough part. In other words, in typical movie fashion, somewhere in the story the author got off the main track and onto a branch line.

The branch line in the picture is the introduction of a prize fighter, Robert Sterling, and his manager, George Murphy. They enter the story when Mazie, tired of her job as a taxi dancer in a jitterbug joint, and after trying out as an Apache dancer, decides on a more simple life, and takes a job as companion to the prize fighter's invalid mother. Up to this point Miss Sothorn has plenty to do, and does it with her customary verve. Following this are lengthy prize fight sequences, and the ending will surprise you.

Murphy and Sterling are splendid, with topnotch individual performances by Margaret Moffatt as the invalid mother, Maxie Rosenbloom and John Indrisano as the fighter's handlers, Jack LaRue as the Apache dancer, and a delightful bit by Eddie Sims.

If you're a dyed in the wool Mazie fan, and your reporter confesses he is, you'll enjoy "RINGSIDE MAZIE" to the full, for it's good adult entertainment.

20th Century-Fox previewed two films, one, the long expected "CHARLIE'S AUNT" with the redoubtable Jack Benny, assisted by Kay Francis, Jimmie Ellison, Anne Baxter, Edmund Gwenn, Reginald Owen and a host of others.

It's an amazing thing how this forty year old stage play (which has also been made into a movie twice before) can come back and once again ring the bell.

No need to repeat the story of the unfortunate Oxford student who is forced to impersonate the aunt of one of his classmates, except to say that director Archie Mayo and George Seaton, who wrote the script, very wisely made no attempt to modernize the story from its setting of the early 1890's. This results in a somewhat slow start . . . but from the moment Benny starts his impersonation, the fun is fast and furious, the quips falling where they may.

For Jack Benny the play is indeed a triumph. Jack has played himself for so many years in vaudeville, the stage, pictures and radio, that the turnover to a role which required acting was a novelty in itself.

Kay Francis does herself well as the real aunt, with Jimmie Ellison and newcomer Robert Hayden bearing up fine as Benny's schoolmates. The list of other players is much too long for individual mention; suffice it to say it's a well cast picture that no one lets down.

Unhesitatingly recommended to all movie goers; whether you've seen past versions or not you'll get a bang out of the film, and particularly enjoy Jack Benny.

THUMB NAIL PREVIEWS: The second 20th Century-Fox film was "DRESSED TO KILL," latest adventure of Lloyd Nolan in his Michael Shayne portrayals. It's a pretty complicated story and far from the best in this series. Nolan needs no commendation from your reviewer, he always does a good job. But why waste Mary Beth Hughes? Ditto Sheila Ryan? If you're a detective story fiend you'll doubtless enjoy "DRESSED TO KILL."

Monogram wound up the current season's "EAST SIDE KIDS" series in a bright small budget picture titled "BOWERY BLITZKRIEG." Starring Lee Gorsey and Bob Jordan the film is a lively, well done story of the regeneration of a group of New York's East Side kids through the medium of a policeman who takes his job seriously, and turns their over-buoyant spirits from serious mischief to intensive interest in sports, more particularly boxing. It's a well knit tale which carries interest right to the final fade out, with performances all up to standard. Recommended to all people with a love for just boys, and the kids, too, will like it.

MEET THE STARS WITH VIC BOESSEN

When Chief Justice John Marshall of the United States Supreme Court married Miss Jacqueline Ambler, he would very likely have dissented if he could have been told that it would take the men of an industry not to arise until a century later to restore his bride's name to the family. Harry Sherman trainer called "Stick to Your Guns."

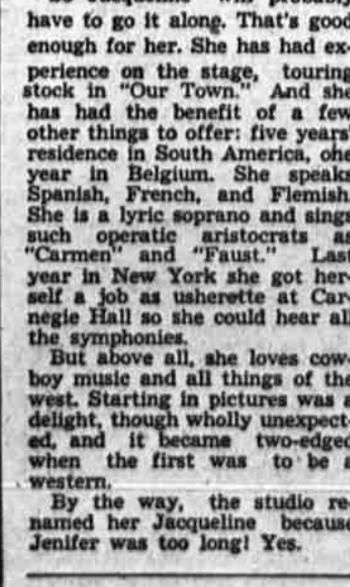

It is suggested that rival aspirants to the upper levels at least keep their guns within reach, if not actually in their hands, for Jacqueline is equipped with some gadgets that should carry her pretty high. To begin with, her father is Jack Holt, and, although she prefers to fend for herself, Dad may draw on his thirty-three years' acting experience to give her a pointer or two. Then, too, there is her brother Tim, and he has been around the block once or twice himself in pictures.

But Jacqueline tells me there is a strong tendency in the family circle to discuss nothing but horses, of which there are many on their ranch, including one for Jacqueline. Jack, who was a bona fide cowboy before he crashed the movies by riding one off a cliff into a river, refuses even to see his own pictures, let alone discuss the business. "I make them," he says. "Don't ask me to see them, too!"

So Jacqueline will probably have to go it alone. That's good enough for her. She has had experience on the stage, touring stock in "Our Town." And she has had the benefit of a few other things to offer: five years' residence in South America, one year in Belgium. She speaks Spanish, French, and Flemish. She is a lyric soprano and sings such operatic aristocrats as "Carmen" and "Faust." Last year in New York she got herself a job as usherette at Carnegie Hall so she could hear all the symphonies.

But above all, she loves cowboy music and all things of the west. Starting in pictures was a delight, though wholly unexpected, and it became two-edged when the first was to be a western.

By the way, the studio renamed her Jacqueline because Jennifer was too long! Yes.

HOLLYWOOD FASHION SCENE

By MARGARET McKAY

Five thousand buyers from stores throughout the United States as well as from Hawaii, Alaska, Dutch East Indies and Central and South America, descended upon Hollywood last week for the Fall Fashion showings, which unquestionably are the highest point in their history.

As a result, the fashions exhibited here will be the prevailing clothes found in your local shops, and so for this week I will devote most of my column to giving you a full report on the blaze of glamour that burst forth at the show.

The predominant silhouette in most clothes is the dolman sleeve with padded shoulders; loose above the waist blouses for coats and frocks; close fitting hip-lines on fitted coats and dresses; long torso lines and pleated skirts and surprisingly, décolletage in evening clothes is not especially favored, but dirmdls are seen in both afternoon, play clothes and evening frocks.

The fabrics are jersey, soft woollen, twill, corduroy, cashmere, gabardine and taffeta. In the way of color, plaids splash their way among woolen suits and dresses. Mexican pottery shades are found in all kinds of clothes and yellow will go into fall clothes for the first time I can remember. Yellow and brown, yellow and green and yellow and red.

Hats are widely varied, but the off-the-face type received a big play. Feathers are definitely high fashion for fall and you will find some bonnets completely covered with feathers in pastel colors. They are for afternoon and cocktail wear or evening. Pinks, blues and white are the outstanding shades.

Then there are the velvet turbans in gorgeous jewel tones, combined with feathers, feathered flowers and jeweled ornaments in the South American style. Two arresting pieces of millinery that caught my eye were the orange velvet high draped turban with a green ostrich feather to one side of the top, and a ruby red velvet with yellow and red tulips, made of smooth feathers, diagonally caught across the front.

BEST DRESSED GIRL OF THE WEEK: Brenda Marshall, honeymooning with new husband, Bill Holden, at El Rancho Vegas in Las Vegas, Nevada, introducing the broomstick skirt have been seen about all summer in cottons, but now in the taffeta version it is something new and delightful. Her taffeta skirt was electric blue and her sheer white blouse was edged about the neckline with blue rick-rack, while in her hair she clipped a red rose with a diamond bowknot. Watch for the broomstick twisting of taffeta for evening clothes this winter.

Summer Care Saves Lives of Many Babies

AUSTIN, July 30.—The lives of thousands of Texas babies are being saved this summer by intelligent parental care during hot weather. However, many more infant deaths could be avoided if parents would have a keen realization of the value of simple common sense precautions, states Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

Records of the state health department's bureau of vital statistics show that 2,506 babies died of diarrhea and dysentery during 1940, many of them occurring during hot weather. The infant death rate for diarrhea and dysentery in Texas is too high, as can be seen from the above mortality figures. Public health officials cannot solve the problem alone; parental cooperation is the real key to its solution.

The following suggestions, if followed by parents of infants, would go far in further reducing deaths from diarrhea and dysentery:

Whenever possible, infants should be breast-fed for the first 6 or 8 months. When bottle milk is used it should be boiled or pasteurized. Drinking water for the baby always should be boiled.

Personal cleanliness should be the rule for every member of the household. Those handling milk or food should be particularly careful.

Any members of the family or visitors showing symptoms of disease, no matter how slight, should be kept away from the baby.

The house should be screened.

While most of the above suggestions are applicable at all seasons of the year, the following precautions are important in hot weather:

The baby should be kept as cool as possible; he should be kept clean; clothing should be reduced to the simplest essentials; should be protected against insects; should not be overhandled; should be kept in the open as much as possible; water should be increased internally and externally; should not be overfed; and finally, if there are signs of illness, the family physician should be consulted promptly.

even you must know by now, Mr. Troy, that I'm not a good actress. For further details see your favorite newspaper." The bitterness drained from Eve's voice and she went on, sounding very old and very tired. "No, I didn't do it... I didn't poison Carol Blanton... I... I..."

If Eve said anything more, Tommy calling "Places" at our door drowned out her words. He went next door and we heard his incredulity at finding Eve still in her first act costume. Then we heard Clint Bowers in the hall outside talking to Tommy, telling him to hold the curtain a few minutes. Jeff came back looking grim.

There was only time for Carol and me to take hasty, unseeing glances in the mirror and run out. Alice was outside the door and Carol said as we passed: "Don't go away, Alice. We may need you yet."

It was said lightly, jestingly, but the light-lipped smile that accompanied the words showed what an effort it had been.

The second act went some better. The detectives were still keeping vigil but they were listening to the lines. Sullivan seemed frankly puzzled by Greeley Morris' brilliant display of wit, but Peterson smiled in the right places.

Philip Ashley had toned down his performance and the rest of us gradually took his pace. I trembled when Eve made her entrance in that act. From the moment she swept on, her hand tinkering at the collar of the icy white jacket she wore over her evening dress in a gesture that had long ago been famous, I knew that it would be all right. Eve had tramped too long and too hard to let anything ruffle her stage composure.

Her voice, as she threw her lines away, might have been a little tense and her mannerisms a little stilted, but not enough for an audience to notice. I knew I had been waiting nervously for that moment when she entered, and her serenity was reassuring.

It wasn't until we were three-quarters through the second act that it happened.

Capital Stock Tax Deadline Is Extended

A general 60-day extension of the period for filing capital stock tax returns has been announced by the secretary of the treasury. The extension makes Sept. 29 the final day for filing such returns and interest will not be chargeable on unpaid taxes until after that date, it was announced.

Any corporation, which has filed its return under the assumption that no general extension would be granted, may amend the declared valuation by an amended return filed on or before Sept. 29, 1941.

According to word from Washington the extension was granted because of the uncertainty and difficulty of calculating valuations under the contemplated changes in the revenue law and because the ways and means committee's recommendations to increase the capital stock tax rate from 1.10 to 1.25 per thousand dollars of valuation is intended to apply to the taxable year recently concluded, for which returns would have been due July 31.

Funeral Today For Famed Geologist

DALLAS, July 30 (AP)—Following funeral services in a Dallas mortuary at 4 p. m. today, the ashes of Dr. Robert T. Hill will be scattered from atop Round Mountain in Comanche county where he began study of geology.

Dr. Humphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist university, will officiate at services for the eminent scientist who died last Monday in a Dallas hospital of a heart ailment.

The body will be sent to San Antonio tonight for cremation in accordance with Dr. Hill's wish that his ashes be given to the winds from the mountain whose odd formations led him to take up the study of geology.

The laying of new mains. Prior to that the reservoir and pump station had been installed to give pressure from a hilltop south of Edwards heights. Sewer lines have been extended and revamped extensively in the 10-year period. Effect of the surface water supply has been to give the city a dual system.

The water rate has been adjusted several times. In 1931 it stood at $3.00 for 3,000 gallons minimum with a 40 cents per M excess. Then came the summer residential irrigation rate of $3.50 for 10,000 gallons with a scale-down on higher consumption. Recently it was adjusted again to hold to the same minimum but with a 25 cent per M excess charge.

City pavement has been more than doubled in the time, approximately 100 blocks having been constructed. Perhaps a third of this was along the two U. S. highways which bisect the city. All paving was carried out without necessity of a bond issue.

The city park was just being started 10 years ago. There was a limited amount of playground equipment and a few wooden benches, tables, etc. Since then the park area has been increased by 330 acres, a stone amphitheater seating more than 6,500 constructed, stone tables, benches, barbecue pits, restrooms, park area guards built, four surfaced tennis courts installed, drive and park ways paved, a $32,000 swimming pool built with PWA aid and non-tax revenue bonds, a community center (now used by the NYA resident center, accumulated, a lighted softball field and rocket courts provided, the golf course extended from nine to 18-holes grass greens. The city also spent $8,000 out of its cash reserve to purchase lands needed for development of the Scenic Mountain state park.

The past decade has produced an impressive gain in city equipment. From a total of only six pieces of equipment, including a small street maintainer and five cars, the city has increased its store to items including trucks, cars, etc., for seven departments of which most is in the street department and embraces street paving equipment of varying types, tractors, blades, etc. The water department now has its own drilling and welding equipment. Departmental expansion has been pronounced. Added have been the building division, created with erection of the city plant; the airport department, which the city purchased out of cash reserves for $38,000 and on which $150,000 in WPA-city funds were spent in addition to a $687,755 city-WPA-CAA project now in under way (plus a $50,000 NYA airport terminal building); the swimming pool and park department; the city cemetery department.

Added services include the installation of free garbage collection (four pieces of equipment added); two-way police radio; flood control program including erection of two detention dams; unit system of valuations; revised traffic codes; more than doubling the number of traffic signal lights; addition of a fire truck (now on order); and perhaps others.

No credit was claimed by the manager for the development, rather he passed it along to his staff, which has increased by about 27 in the 10 years.

The gains were, he said, of such nature none could claim credit above the other, but from which he believed the city would be the winner.

Flood Control On Rio Grande Is Proposed

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., July 30 (AP)—A 200-mile system of reservoirs and silt barriers stretching from the Colorado-New Mexico line to southern New Mexico was offered today as the solution to Rio Grande floods as the state swept the river channel all this spring.

The proposal was made to the Rio Grande floods such as swept National Resources Board by Arthur Fife, regional flood control officer of the Soil Conservation Service; and Stanley Phillippi, engineer for the Rio Grande conservancy district.

Attending the session were representatives of federal and state agencies in Colorado and New Mexico. Texas, third basin state, was not represented.

One plan offered by Phillippi contemplated the building of a 450,000 acre foot reservoir on the Colorado-New Mexico line at Ute mountain. The site already has been surveyed and he recommended its use in developing of hydroelectric power.

It would be coupled with a proposed White Rock canyon dam, midway between Albuquerque and Santa Fe, both in flood storage and possible power development.

The engineers agreed that the reservoirs would safeguard the $3,000,000 Elephant Butte flood control, irrigation and power dam in central New Mexico by preventing silting, and also might provide additional water for irrigation.

Channelling of some 100 miles of the Rio Grande from above Albuquerque to Elephant Butte was recommended by Phillippi.

Clouter Jones Is Shreveports Best, Biggest Asset

DALLAS, July 30 (AP)—Every time big Murrell Jones clouts a homer—and he's doing it often these days—the grin broadens for Bonnan Peters, dapper president of Shreveport's Sports in the Texas league.

Jones is quite a baseball asset for Peters with big league clubs casting longing glances at the handsome young giant upon whom a price tag of $25,000 has been placed.

The 6 feet 4 inch youngster, playing his third season of professional baseball, is fulfilling predictions made about him last season.

He is battering all kinds of pitching, he's leading the league in home runs with 16, he's hit in 15 straight games—a loop mark for the season—and he's a Fancy Dan fielder who should look like a million on some major league club's first sack.

"If they had him out on the Pacific coast where prices are always good, they'd be asking $50,000 for him," Peters said.

Shreveport aims to sell him before the major league draft reaches down. He's eligible for the baseball Jones hit only 258 in his first 48 games this season but since then they haven't been able to get him out. In his stretch of 15 games in which he has gotten at least one hit per game, the big fellow has bounced the ball for a .444 average.

Shreveport finished up a series with Dallas last night and the Rebels were glad to see Jones depart. He socked three homers and two doubles, getting six hits in eleven trips in the three games.

More than a third of his blows this season have been for extra bases, Jones mixing in 18 doubles and four triples with his 18 homers.

"He's a clean young fellow who wants to make good in baseball and is willing to work to do it," said Manager Francis (Salty) Parker. "And he doesn't smoke, drink or have any bad habits."

Markets At A Glance

NEW YORK, July 30 (AP)—Selling was the dominant force in leading financial markets today and chief coloring came from a near-collapse in cotton futures.

Prices for the staples plunged down about $5 a bale from early levels after publication of President Roosevelt's message to congress requesting broad authority to establish price ceilings to head off inflation.

Other speculative staples weakened with cotton, but stocks, lower in the early proceedings inclined toward an irregular recovery after the president's recommendations were disclosed. Steels came back after a fairly sharp dip. Rubbers showed independent firmness and rails were in forward momentum at the close. The trading pace was slow throughout, transfers amounting to about 650,000 shares.

NEW YORK, July 30 (Herald Special News Service)—Red Cochran proved to Fritzie Zivich that a fighter and a race-horse are "cousins"—the old all work and no play gag . . . Fritzie looked as stale as last week's rye bread, and no wonder . . . He's been in training so long he gets his mail at the gym . . . What's the fight game coming to when a guy like Cochran, who's been licked more times than you have fingers—five times by one man alone—comes along and wins the welterweight title! . . .

Last-minute Special: Chances are better than 50-50 the Louis-Nova shindig will wind up in Chicago . . . Only dates available at Yankee Stadium are September 22 and 23, which are too close to the Jewish holidays for Mike Jacobs to risk a postponement . . . Besides, Chi hotels have guaranteed Uncle Mike they'll kick in for $200,000 worth of tickets . . .

When it comes to naming the year's gamest guy, don't forget your old pal Oom Paul Derringer, who shoulda been in a hospital weeks ago . . . Whisper out of Detroit says Ray Robinson is about ready to toss over Curt Hornmann, who built him up to a lightweight contender shot, and will go in the Louis stable under John Roxborough and Julian Black . . . Say it ain't so, pals . . . West 9th street gambling guys are cryin' in their beer since the Arlington classic . . . Attention was their four-star-Kentucky Derby special, but he didn't get to the Blue Grass . . . First time he tangled with Warlaway was the classic, but they'd forgotten all about him by then . . .

Headline: "Durocher Returns to Short to End Dodger Slump." The Dodger boss is Lippy Durocher. At shortstop he is strictly kosher. Pee-wee Reese is a whole lot younger. But he gets rattled and plays from hunger. Leo the Lip may be an old cogger. But he's steadier for the Dodgers. Roger.

Here 'n There

The horse had nothing to do with it, swears Dr. M. H. Bennett. It's just that he chose high grass in which to run him. Anyway, to get to the point, Doc is a sore and stiff man not to speak of some visible abrasions on the right side of his face. You guessed it, the horse fell.

Summer revival meeting for the Baptist church at Ackerly will begin this evening at 8 p. m. and will continue for 10 days, according to the pastor, the Rev. Roy Clayton. Preaching will be by the Rev. O. C. Curtis of Seminole. The pastor will be in charge of song services and Mrs. Opal Phillips will be at the piano. The Rev. Curtis is a former resident of Big Spring, having been converted and called to the ministry while living here.

Big Spring was subjected to a naval invasion for a short while today as approximately 120 sailors stopped over for their mid-day meal. The sailors were enroute from their West Coast base to Chicago.

Japanese Liner Expected To Dock

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30 (AP)—The Japanese liner Tatuta Maru was granted special permission to discharge its passengers today, and officers of the NYK line said they believed the vessel would put in here within a few hours. It was understood to be about 30 miles offshore at 10 a. m. Around 100 American citizens are aboard.

The permission came from the commissioner of customs, W. R. Johnson, in Washington, who said the ship also could take on fuel and other supplies if application is made to the Federal Reserve Bank for a permit.

After Seeing President—Mrs. L. R. F. Jordan (left), who went to Washington from her home at Reidsville, Ga., for a personal glimpse of President Roosevelt before undergoing an operation she fears may leave her blind, was all smiles as she emerged from the White House after meeting the president. Rep. Hugh Peterson (D-Ga) accompanied her.

US Naval Help To England Reported

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—Chairman George (D-Ga) of the senate foreign relations committee said today that the United States naval patrol of sea lanes to Iceland appeared to have been of such assistance that Great Britain was "slowly gaining the upper hand" in the battle of the Atlantic.

Emphasizing that he based his observations only on unofficial reports that had come to him, George told reporters there were indications that the American defense patrol of the sea lanes had been of "great value" to the British in efforts to move supplies to beleaguered Britain.

Delegates Report On Convention

Reports from delegates to the international convention held last week in New Orleans were heard at the Lions club meeting Wednesday.

Those reporting were Dan Conroy, Schley Riley and Otis Grafe. They gave interesting sidelights and spoke of the inspirational convention sessions dwelling on the theme of "our nation's safety."

C. L. Rows also reminded Lions of a move to enlist the aid of individuals and business concerns in purchase of baseball tickets to be used as good will and advertising matter. The ticket sale, he said, is in an effort to give financial support to the Big Spring baseball team to compensate for losses this year and to show appreciation for a winning brand of ball.
