

N.Y. Wins 3rd In Row By 6 To 2

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1 (AP)—The New York Giants, with amazing Dusty Rhodes again in the starring role and pitcher Ruben Gomez giving fine support, whipped the Cleveland Indians, 6-2, today for their third straight victory in the World Series. Rhodes equalled a World Series record by hitting safely for the third straight time as a pinch batsman.

Eisenhower Endorses Plan To Probe Federal Employees

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower has given his blessing to a new investigation program to uncover and prevent any non-criminal misconduct or improprieties on the part of federal employees in broad relation to their jobs.

And the White House says anyone who characterizes the program as a "snooping, Gestapo-like set-up" aimed at prying into the strictly private life of government workers is "completely wrong."

Murray Snyder, a presidential press secretary, last night announced Eisenhower's approval of the program—reportedly prompted in part by the Federal Housing Administration scandal—and said its objectives are:

1. To detect and prevent "loose practices by federal employees."
2. To achieve "better administration" in the executive branch.

Snyder's statement confirmed a published report about creation of the program. But he declared the report was "completely wrong" in saying officials of some federal agencies have criticized it as a "snooping, Gestapo-like set-up."

He also said there was no basis for a further report that the Civil Service Commission and other agencies charged with investigative work have complained that the new order conflicts with their programs.

The order, Snyder said, was worked out in cooperation with the Commission and other such agencies, and supplements rather than conflicts with their investigations.

The press secretary said the program was ordered into effect by Budget Director Rowland Hughes in a letter last June 14 to the heads of about 40 federal departments and agencies.

Home—And No Help, Please

Smiling as if nothing had ever happened, Terora Pat McCormick (center) arrives in Big Spring to spend some time at home convalescing from injuries she received when gored by a bull during a fight at Acuna, Mexico, on the Labor Day weekend. She is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McCormick, who accompanied her home from Del Rio in the Cosden plane. A ambulance and beds were available for doughty Pat, but she scorned these and wanted no help, please. Her recovery has been considered remarkable.

Batchelor Ruled Guilty, Assessed Life Sentence

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Cpl. Claude Batchelor, who volunteered for Army service at 16, faces a life in prison, a sentence imposed by a general Court-Martial that found him guilty of collaborating with the enemy and informing on fellow POWs in Korea.

Batchelor has the right of appeal with his case subject to review. The thin, pale corporal embraced his mother and murmured, "I can take it," when the verdict was returned yesterday after the military panel deliberated his fate for 2 hours and 14 minutes.

Batchelor is the third soldier to be convicted of collaborating with the enemy while a prisoner in Korea. Cpl. Edward Dickenson of Cracker's Neck, Va., was sentenced to 10 years in prison, and last week at Ft. Sheridan, Ill., Lt. Richard Dries, St. Albans, L. I., New York and Pfc. George Plisk, Austin, Tex., of the U.S. Army, who were charged with spying on American authorities at the German border at Waldhaus, at noon tomorrow.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said the embassy had reported this development to Washington. He said the Prague government specified the release point as Rozvadov, which is on the Czech side of the border at Waldhaus, Bavaria.

The two Americans were seized Sept. 17 in the German-Czech border country in the vicinity of Eslarw, Bavaria.

The Czech government sent a note to the United States charging that the men were making photographs, using binoculars, taking notes and making drawings at the time they were picked up, allegedly on Czech territory.

Batchelor's wife says she'll wait for him. The 25-year-old Japanese wife expressed surprise over the stiff sentence given Cpl. Claude Batchelor for siding with his Communist captors in North Korea.

"The life sentence seems to me to be very, very harsh," she told a newsman, "I know Cpl. (Edward) Dickenson got five years, so I thought Claude would get around the same at most." Actually, Dickenson got 10 years.

He was found guilty on three counts of collaborating with the enemy:

1. He was to have headed a Red-inspired postwar organization of former prisoners.
2. He accused the United States of participating in germ warfare in a letter to his hometown newspaper.
3. He took part in Communist study groups, circulated peace petitions in the prison camp and made propaganda broadcasts for the Chinese Reds.

He was convicted of informing on Pvt. John Megyesi, Farrell, Pa., for possessing a camera and for recommending that M. Sgt. Wilbur Watson, Corinth, Miss., be shot.

He was acquitted on charges of informing on Sgt. John Fields, 30, of Galax, Va., and Sgt. Bill Clark, 28, of Dallas, Iowa.

Batchelor's counsel pleaded that the youth was temporarily insane by reason of brain-washing at the time he collaborated with the Reds. Testimony by civilian psychiatrists and depositions from civilian sources backed up that contention.

But Army psychiatrists who questioned him soon after his repatriation and during his eight months confinement here at Fort Sam Houston testified Batchelor was sane and "knew right from wrong."

Former prisoners on whom he was accused of informing testified against Batchelor. Some fellow prisoners, however, said the youth's efforts resulted in better conditions in the prison stockades. Batchelor flatly denied any informing.

The other prisoner who first refused then accepted United Nations sanctuary—Cpl. Edward Dickenson of Cracker's Neck, Va.—was a prosecution witness against Batchelor. Dickenson is serving a 10-year sentence after conviction on similar charges.

Dickenson said he heard Batchelor say, "Master Sergeant Watson, if I had the final say so, you'd be shot." Chinese Communists were present, Dickenson testified, when Batchelor made the statement.

Watson, however, was not shot, Dickenson added.

He said the Prague government specified the release point as Rozvadov, which is on the Czech side of the border at Waldhaus, Bavaria.

The Czech government sent a note to the United States charging that the men were making photographs, using binoculars, taking notes and making drawings at the time they were picked up, allegedly on Czech territory.

Batchelor's wife says she'll wait for him. The 25-year-old Japanese wife expressed surprise over the stiff sentence given Cpl. Claude Batchelor for siding with his Communist captors in North Korea.

London Meet To Give Freedom To Germany

Parts Of State Receive Up To Five Inches Rain

Rains up to more than five inches fell in wide areas of drought-stricken Texas Friday. The heaviest fall was in Central Texas, around Waco which has been going through its driest spell of this century.

Clifton on the Bosque River recorded 5.09 inches. The Bosque, dry for three or four months, was running normal again in that area.

Whitney was drenched by a 4.04 fall, and school was closed there because of water lapping at the floor of a creek bridge in the town.

Coriscana had to call off Friday night's rodeo because of a 1.28-inch rain.

Heavy rain fell in Bosquen, Hill, Ellis, and Navarro counties, all north of Waco. South of Waco, the amount averaged around an inch.

The Rocksprings area of Southwestern Texas also was drenched by heavy rains. Edwards County's fall ranged from an inch to five inches.

The J. E. Epperson family spent the night in a car, stranded on the Brackettville - Rocksprings highway.

General rains fell in the north-central portion of the state Thursday night and Friday morning, and south and east Texas reported good showers. Only in the El Paso and Salt Flat areas of far West Texas was the sun visible shortly after dawn.

Victoria had 2.28 inches of rain up to 6:30 a.m. Dallas reported 1.42, with more expected. Ennis, 30 miles south, had 2.1 inches. Fort Worth had .98, Brownsville 1.05, Palacios 1.33, Corsicana 1.28, Houston 1.42, San Antonio .61, Childress 1.4, Austin .79, Abilene .17, Midland .02, Junction .58, Waco .46, Corpus Christi .32, Del Rio 1.46, Galveston .54, Wichita Falls .04, San Angelo .22, Lufkin .21, College Station .61, Tyler 1.68 and Cotulla .53. Bonham had 3.20 inches.

The Weather Bureau reported this rainfall mainly in the water shed of the Trinity river; Lavon Dam 1.17 inches, Lake Whitney 1.37, Grapevine Dam 1.88, Farmers Branch 1.35, Silledell 1.54, Trenton 2, Little Elm 3.25, Gunter 2.97, Carrollton 1.51, Burleson 1.09, Celina 3.42, Denton 1.91 and Trinidad 3.55.

Big Spring Share Of Rainfall Light

At noon Friday, the wave of moisture touching much of the state, had missed Big Spring. The U. S. Experiment Station showed .01 of an inch. The Herald .02, Texas Electric Service switching station east of town .05.

Other area reports from Texas Electric showed .73 of an inch at Sweetwater, .42 of an inch at Eskota, .20 of an inch at Lamesa, .15 of an inch at Snyder, .05 at Colorado City. In Colorado City proper, another gauge showed .09 of an inch.

Quick Action Held Virtually Certain

LONDON (AP)—The nine-power conference bogged down to night in disagreement after France unexpectedly rejected a compromise plan for controlling runaway German rearmament.

Foreign ministers of the Western Big Three conferred with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to draw up a general agreement for ending the nine-year-old occupation of the Western part of defeated Germany.

German sources said the four agreed to meet tomorrow to put the finishing touches on an Allied declaration of intent to dismantle the occupation.

The nine-power conference decided to speed Germany's entry into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the enlarged seven-nation Brussels Pact with tight safeguards against any revival of runaway German militarism.

"The question of the German entry into the Brussels Pact and NATO has been settled in a way satisfactory to everyone," Canadian Foreign Minister Lester Pearson told newsmen after a plenary meeting.

French Premier Pierre Mendès-France and Adenauer have arranged to try to solve the perplexing problem of the future of the Saar area in a series of contacts over the next two weeks.

A quick grant of political independence to the 78-year-old Adenauer's Bonn government appeared virtually certain as the nine-nation conference on freeing and rearming West Germany neared its end.

The final success of the complicated negotiations designed to enlist West German troops in a defense alliance against communism seemed assured after delegates agreed in principle yesterday on a compromise plan for controlled German rearmament.

Delegates predicted the conference would end successfully tomorrow.

The delegates will leave behind groups of experts to work out details of the program and to draft the necessary treaties. These would be signed later and submitted to the various parliaments for ratification.

Under the plan, West Germany and Italy will be admitted into an enlarged Brussels Alliance, formed in 1948 by Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. At the same time, West Germany also would be taken into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as its 15th member.

Today's meeting on German sovereignty brought together Adenauer, U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Premier Pierre Mendès-France.

Dulles and Eden were especially anxious to get the sovereignty program under way immediately so as to bolster Adenauer's sagging political stock at home.

Informants said Dulles and Mendès-France appeared ready to go along with a proposal by Eden for an immediate Big Three declaration of intent to wind up the occupation as soon as the control system is prepared.

Meantime, the Allies would restore without delay additional political and economic rights to the Germans, in return for guarantees from Adenauer's government covering:

1. An agreement to work out a common policy with the three occupying powers before entering negotiations with the Russians for a peace treaty and reunification of Germany.
2. Approval of continued Allied administration of West Berlin.
3. Permission for Allied troops to remain in Germany as part of the NATO defense force against Communist aggression.

4. Safeguards against the growth of big industrial cartels and other economic developments which might foster a revival of German militarism.

Adenauer also has indicated he is ready to satisfy French demands for a guarantee that the proposed 12-division German army would never be used independently in any attempt to take over Communist-ruled East Germany by force.

GIL JONES

Gil Jones Is Named Demo D.A. Nominee

Gulfford (Gil) Jones, Big Spring, was selected Friday morning by Democratic chairmen of Howard, Glasscock and Martin counties to be the party's nominee for 118th Judicial District attorney.

He will succeed Elton Gilliland, who has submitted his resignation, in this capacity.

The appointment came quickly after the three chairmen—J. W. Purser of Big Spring, Morgan Hall of Stanton, and Mrs. Ronald McDaniel, Garden City—asssembled here.

The scheduled meeting date was shopped up from 3 p.m. Monday to 10 a.m. Friday at Hall's suggestion. He indicated that since a new term of court would be starting in Martin County on Monday and he or other Martin County partisans might be tied up, the meeting might be advanced. This met with approval of other chairmen.

Hall, as senior member of the group, made the motion that Jones be named nominee of the Democratic party for the post of district attorney. This met with unanimous approval. Purser had suggested that Hall advance a recommendation because Martin County had a number of important cases impending.

No interim appointment, from now until Jan. 1, 1954, has yet been announced by Gov. Allan Shivers, who has not yet actually accepted Gilliland's resignation.

Jones has been practicing law in Big Spring approximately four years. He had been a candidate for the state's attorney post of the district in 1952. In addition, he has been active in various civic affairs, including the Lions Club, of which he is president. Boy Scouts of which he is past district chairman, United Fund, and others.

Vishinsky Asks Arms Reduction

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Andrei Vishinsky called last night for a step-by-step program of arms reduction with nuclear weapons to be eliminated at the halfway mark.

The western Big Three cautiously termed the Soviet proposal a move in the right direction.

Winding up a policy speech of an hour and 40 minutes to the U.N. General Assembly, the chief Soviet delegate submitted a long resolution containing the most detailed and complex disarmament program his government has offered in the U.N.'s nine-year history.

Vishinsky brushed over President Eisenhower's proposal of an atomic pool for peaceful purposes. He said the United States so far has failed to come up with any concrete ideas on atomic weapon control.

complete elimination from the armaments of states." Thereafter all existing atomic materials are used for peaceful purposes only.

6. Creation of a permanent international control organ to check on continued observance of the treaty.

In contrast to his dismissal of the U.S. atom-for-peace plan, Vishinsky wound up by calling on the disarmament commission to make recommendations on the British-French proposal last June that U.N. members agree not to use nuclear weapons except in defense.

At the disarmament meetings in London last spring, Russia rejected the British-French proposal as a device to "legalize the use of atomic and hydrogen weapons under the pretext of using them in defense."

The Russian proposal brought quick, but guarded, reaction from delegates of the United States, Britain and France. All said they would give it careful study.

America's Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said he was "glad to see the Russians appeared to be changing their attitude on two important principles: 'the United States has been trying for years to get the Soviets to accept.'

He listed these as: 1. That nuclear weapons be used only for peaceful purposes and for national defense and not for aggression or as a threat of aggression; 2. That the United States should not be subject to effective inspection and control which will protect the security of all states."

Vishinsky did not specify how far the Russians would go in permitting inspection by the proposed control organ.

Nor did the Soviet delegate give any clue to the reduction the Soviet and Chinese Communists would offer to make in their vast land armars.

Reds To Free 2 Americans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Communist Czechoslovakia has advised the U.S. Embassy at Prague that 1st Lt. Richard Dries, St. Albans, L. I., New York and Pfc. George Plisk, Austin, Tex., of the U.S. Army, who were charged with spying on American authorities at the German border at Waldhaus, at noon tomorrow.

Batchelor's wife says she'll wait for him. The 25-year-old Japanese wife expressed surprise over the stiff sentence given Cpl. Claude Batchelor for siding with his Communist captors in North Korea.

"The life sentence seems to me to be very, very harsh," she told a newsman, "I know Cpl. (Edward) Dickenson got five years, so I thought Claude would get around the same at most." Actually, Dickenson got 10 years.

Mrs. Batchelor was advised of her husband's sentence while she was attending a class in a dress-making school.

Mrs. Batchelor was a Tokyo cabaret dancer in 1948 when the 22-year-old Kermit, Tex., soldier met her while on occupation duty here. They were married in a Shinto ceremony the following year.

Arguments Due In Rape-Slaying Case
BRADY (AP)—Arguments were due today in the trial for murder for Airman Jimmy Shaver, charged with the rape-slaying of Chere Jo Horton, 3, July 3.

Attorneys for Shaver rested last night after two Air Force psychiatrists testified the San Antonio airman was insane the night the Horton child was kidnaped.

TO END DISPUTE Segregation Action Taken In Delaware

Racial integration got a severe setback Thursday in Delaware when the new Milford Board of Education voted to remove Negroes from the previously all-white high school they had been attending since the fall semester began.

The board said it was taking the action "in the interest of the welfare of the children and the community as a whole."

Milford for weeks has been torn with dissension over the segregation question. Negroes were admitted to the high school when it opened, but threats of violence later forced the school to close for a week.

The Milford Board of Education resigned last week after the State Board of Education and criticized it for admitting Negroes without receiving prior approval from the state. New board members were sworn in yesterday, and their first action was in voting to remove Negroes from the high school.

About two-thirds of the high school's 1,500 white students have been boycotting classes.

There were several other segregation developments in Southern and border states yesterday.

A group of white parents in Baltimore picketed an elementary school, protesting the admission of 12 Negro children to a kindergarten class. The women also announced plans to picket at least four other schools in the city.

Baltimore began school integration when this session began, acting on a ruling by the city solicitor's office. Maryland at large is continuing segregation.

In Washington, an examiner for the Interstate Commerce Commission ruled that neither the Constitution nor federal laws prohibit segregation of passengers in interstate travel.

Isadore Freedson ruled against Mrs. Sarah Keyes of New York, a Negro who attempted to ride with white passengers on an interstate bus in North Carolina. The case now is expected to receive a full review by the ICC.

The state Democratic convention in Georgia threw full support behind a "private school" amendment sponsored by Gov. Herman Talmadge. Endorsed also by the governor-nominee, Marvin Griffin, the amendment would clear the way for the state to replace public schools with "private schools" to maintain segregation.

Attorneys for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People in Cincinnati said they will appeal a federal judge's ruling deferring action on "enforced segregation" in Hillsboro, Ohio, schools.

U.S. Judge John H. Druffel has stated he will not rule on the NAACP petition hitting at segregation until two weeks after the U.S. Supreme Court outlines how segregation should be ended.

Bureau Will Test Robot Forecaster

By DON WHITEHEAD
WASHINGTON (AP)—A robot that can make weather forecasts better and faster than a skilled meteorologist is one of the exciting possibilities today in the world where men are struggling for a better understanding of what the weather is going to do.
This robot is a high-speed electronic computer which will move out of the laboratory in actual operation by the U.S. Weather Bureau next spring.
Meteorologists hope the computer in time will open up a whole new vista of weather forecasting.

They don't look for immediate sensational results, but they do expect that the weather man, with the robot's aid, will be able to predict more quickly and accurately whether cloudy or sunny skies will prevail tomorrow.
One reason for their optimism is this:
In testing the machine at the Princeton Institute for Advanced Study, scientists found the robot had produced a weather map which predicted a sudden storm for a forecasters themselves had missed.

Since then, the machine had made other forecasts so successfully that the Weather Bureau has contracted for an operational model which is being built by the International Business Machines Corp. The machine rental will run around $400,000 a year.

Dr. George P. Cressman, one of the Bureau's experts, talks of the machine with a sort of affectionate exasperation.
"Don't call this thing a 'brain' or a 'wizard,' because it isn't," he said. "Actually it's a stupid sort of creature. It hasn't the faintest idea what to do unless told. But if you tell it the right things, then it works."

"The machine will assist in forecasting whether it's going to be cloudy, rainy or clear. It can't forecast when rain will turn to sleet or what time the rain will stop. It can't compute the direction of a hurricane. We've still got a long way to go with our work."

The theory of forecasting weather by applying mathematics and physics was first conceived about a half century ago by an Englishman named Richardson. He worked out a set of equations for predicting the actions of the atmosphere. But, without high speed calculators and knowledge gained since his time, his theory didn't work out in actual tests.

The development of electronic calculators reopened interest in the Richardson theory, and after World War II a research program was initiated by the Office of Naval Research. That program now becomes a joint Weather Bureau-Navy-Air Force effort.

In the laboratory, a "model" of the atmosphere was reproduced by mathematical equation, taking into account temperature, pressure, wind velocity, humidity, etc.

The machine, in computing a 24-hour forecast for half the United States, makes 750,000 multiplications and divisions and 10 million additions and subtractions and performs roughly 30 million other operations in a matter of minutes.

When all the equations are fed into the machine by means of punched cards, it produces on paper a series of printed symbols which form the basis of a weather map.

Cressman and a good many others are hopeful that as experience is gained more and more complex models of the weather can be fed into the machine to produce better and better forecasts for interpretation by meteorologists.

"We hope that very bad forecasts will decrease," Cressman said, "while there will be an increase in efficiency. In five years we'll be doing a lot better than we are now."

Jerome Namias, the Weather Bureau's long-range prediction expert, is hopeful the mathematical method some day can be used in the long-range prediction field.
"Up to this time," he said, "we haven't been able to formulate our problem sufficiently mathematically to tell the machine what to do. We don't know enough about the equations necessary."

Namias pushed his forecasts ahead as much as 30 days. He hopes ultimately to make a reliable day-to-day forecast 30 days in advance—and to push the general forecasts out to cover an entire season.

THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

One of the strongest arguments this column has found in the last few days in favor of West Texas as an ideal swine production area has been in the impressive record made with Berkshires and Chester Whites, by Monte Griffin of Lamesa at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair at Lubbock.

For the last past few years it has been our privilege to report the outstanding steer and swine feeding accomplishments of Monte as a member of the Lamesa Chapter of the Future Farmers of America. He has also come to be quite favorably known as a swine breeder. This year he is a student at Texas Technological College at Lubbock, but he manages to get home often enough to look after his stock and see that they're being given the proper care.

As a high school student he became one of West Texas' foremost swine breeders.
Among his winnings at the Lubbock Fair we note the following:
In the Chester White division: Third place junior boar pig; second place senior spring boar pig; second place senior boar pig; first place mature boar; reserve senior champion boar; reserve champion boar; second place junior spring sow pig; first place senior spring sow pig; champion junior sow; reserve grand champion sow; second place young herd; second place get-of-sire; first place produce-of-dam; first place breeder-feeder litter; and grand champion barrow.

In the Berkshire division: Second and third place senior spring boar pig; third place senior boar pig; second place mature boar; third place senior spring sow pig; reserve senior champion sow; second place get-of-sire; second place produce-of-dam; and second place breeder-feeder litter.

Also to be noted is the fact that the Griffin swine didn't win these places in any junior division, but in the open classes against the best that could be offered by the oldest and more experienced swine breeders in the Panhandle and South Plains areas.

The blue and red ribbons, and grand and reserve banners, for both steers and swine (the latter of his own breeding) have never been anything unusual to Monte Griffin at the annual Dawson-Borden County Shows at Lamesa.

On top of all this Monte is an example of the advantages of vocational agriculture training in the high schools through the FFA training and activities.

Maybe it will be better right now if we don't publish the names and locations, but several farmers and ranchers in this immediate area have taken advantage of the opportunity offered them to stock the tanks on their places with fish from government hatcheries. These fish will be delivered soon from the hatchery at Burnet.

Mainly they will be small-mouth bass and blue gill bream. It is also possible to stock these tanks with channel catfish by themselves, or with bass and bream. Deep tanks are necessary and it is estimated that a properly constructed and fertilized tank will annually produce 400 pounds of fish to the acre.

Other farmers and ranchers are showing an interest in Bob White quail. Suitable areas for quail production include spots around stock tanks; desilting areas above tanks, and fenced-in windmills. For proper quail production it is essential that cover and food vegetation be planted. There should be, according to the wildlife specialists, shrubby cover.

John Wayne Suffers Acute Ear Infection

HONOLULU—Movie star John Wayne was rushed from location in Kona, Hawaii, to Hilo Hospital, Hilo, Hawaii yesterday with an acute ear infection, a studio spokesman announced. Dr. Thomas W. Cowan who flew from Honolulu to Kona recommended hospitalization and said the infection was probably due to excessive skin diving. Wayne is filming "The Sea Chase" in Kona.

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), seeking re-election for his second term, was assured of another vote yesterday. His daughter, Jean, 21, appeared in the election campaign office in the city hall and registered to cast her vote in the Nov. 2 election.

Red China Holds Gay Festivities On Fifth Anniversary

TOKYO (AP)—The big celebration honoring Red China's fifth anniversary in Peiping yesterday, was according to the Red Radio, a brilliant social affair.
Two thousand Communist officials and a number of foreign diplomats attended.

When Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov's right hand man, N. S. Khrushchev, got up to make his speech, he started out simply with...

"Comrades!"
This may have seemed just a little too stiff for Red China's top for when his turn came he began...
"Comrades! Friends!"
But it was Kim Il Sung, the roly poly premier from North Korea who must have stopped the show. Kim, addressed his audience...
"Comrades! Ladies and gentlemen!"

Good grasses for the game birds are the native bluestems, Weeping Lovegrass, Sand Lovegrass, King Ranch Bluestem and Sideoats Grama.

Mitchell County Agricultural Agent Jack Burkhalter and Harold Stephens, SCS work unit conservationist at Colorado City, report they were well pleased with the attendance and accomplishments at the recent stubble mulching field day held at the Leroy Lucas farm near Loraine.

On this occasion farm implement dealers from Loraine and Colorado City demonstrated subsoilers, chisels, subsoilers, and deep-running sweeps suitable for use with almost any size farm tractor. One of the principal purposes of the demonstration was to show and explain the latest in tillage operations which leaves crop residue on the surface to prevent wind and water erosion, and also tillage which turns Jack Felts, six miles northeast of Lamesa, has drilled 20 pounds of vetch and 20 pounds of wheat to the acre in 40 acres of sorghum stubble.

W. T. Meeks of Welch has drilled

20 pounds of vetch and 20 pounds of rye in 50 acres of stubble.

J. M. Caldwell place in the Sand Community. The grass averages five feet tall and many of the plants have reached a height of seven feet.

The Caldwell range is in better shape now than at this time last year and the same condition is found on the Luther Lee ranch. On both places many of the grasses are making seed and the density of the grass stand has been greatly improved. Caldwell has been practicing deferred grazing.

Alan Strickland, a neighbor of Hudson's, has drilled 15 acres of wheat.

Pete Weeks of Welch has planted 50 acres of small grain, much of it in his orchard and around his home.

Among other Dawson countians planting small grain are Harold Young, south of Lamesa on the Stanton Highway, and J. A. Hinson of Midway.

Russia To Push Farm Training

MOSCOW (AP)—Ukrainian authorities expect high school graduates of the future will become enthusiastic scientific farmers and machine operators and will stop wanting white collar jobs.

A drastic change in the curriculum of 26 schools in the Ukraine, Russia's richest agricultural area, takes effect today. The program, which the publication Teachers' Gazette calls experimental, extends a similar plan already being tried in the big industrial areas of Moscow and Leningrad.

It provides that students with good records through the seventh grade will receive technical training for 4½ more years instead of taking academic subjects through the 10th grade as heretofore. When they complete their courses, they will receive diplomas listing them as special assistants to agronomists, veterinarians, zoologists, or electrical technicians.

In addition to their school training, they will get practical farm or shop experience during vacations.

Three other schools will train industrial technicians, such as machine operators.

The Ukrainian Council of Ministers said the graduates will be sent to the appropriate ministry to work in accordance with their specialties.

The drop in demand for white collar jobs is expected to result from the added prestige which the new technical assistants will enjoy.

Drunks Don't Respect L.A. City Hall Lawn

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police had a special directive today: keep the City Hall lawn free of drunks.

Every Monday morning of late there have been so many men "sleeping it off" that city gardeners have been unable to mow the lawn. Moreover, says Councilman Gordon Hahn, gardeners have had to remove a truckload of empty bottles each week.

The City Council yesterday adopted Hahn's anti-inebriate resolution, and forwarded it to Police Chief William H. Parker.

Army Must Borrow Mule For Mascot

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The Army sent advance parties into an Ann Arbor today. But their motive was embarrassing.

The Army, which faces Michigan on the football field tomorrow, has a common mule for its mascot. An officer was sent from headquarters at West Point. His objective: to rent a mule for the game.

The regular mascot, as usual in away games, couldn't make the traveling team.

Administration May Face Court Action On Disapproval Of Steel Merger Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration may face a court test of its disapproval of a proposed two billion-dollar merger of Bethlehem Steel Corp. and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. Atty. Gen. Brownell, in announcing the decision yesterday, said the Justice Department had decided a Bethlehem-Youngstown combination would reduce competition in the steel industry. Youngstown president J. L. Mauthe replied by voicing the opinion the consolidation would increase competition rather than lessen it. And Bethlehem President Eugene Grace issued a statement saying the companies "are actively exploring what further action may properly be taken to make the

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Double-decker buses are used in Tunbridge Wells and various other English cities.

TUNBRIDGE WELLS, England—I have come to this city in southern England because it is the home of two of my cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Pape. Mr. Pape has drawn many pictures to illustrate my writing.

It is a custom in England for people to give special names to their homes. My cousins live in Percy House, and I have placed that name, as well as their street address, on letters I have sent them during the past many years. Of course I asked questions about the bombing which was delivered by Hitler's airplanes. Several bombs landed with easy range of Percy House. One of them struck close enough to jar the table on which Mr. Pape was drawing a picture. The picture was knocked to the floor.

Most of the marks of bombs have been removed from Tunbridge Wells, as from other cities, and life in England goes on in the old way. Buses and private cars still move on the left side of the street.

The left-side driving puts England out of step with other countries. I have wondered what would happen if the government ordered a change. Surely the people would feel that revolution of some sort was being attempted!

English folk are careful to obey the law, but I think that they would have a hard time switching to right-side driving. Probably there would be big political meetings and a new election for the House of Commons would come about.

A change in the British money system might prove just as much of a shock. The people have been earning and spending pounds, shillings and pence for hundreds of years. They know all too well that 12 pence make a shilling, and that a pound contains 20 shillings. Countries all over Europe have adopted the sensible decimal system for their money. A Dutch guilder, for example, contains 100 pennies. In the same way a dollar in the United States or Canada contains 10 dimes, or 100 cents.

Some people in Great Britain agree that their money system is clumsy, and should be changed. It seems to me, however, that only a brave statesman would tell the British that their pound ought to equal 100 cents.

Tomorrow: Old England.

DATE DATA

Girl Of 14 Ought To Decorate Own Room

Dear Miss Brandon: What is your opinion of blind dates? Should a girl of fifteen be allowed to have them?

Elaine

Blind dates can be wise or otherwise depending on who is arranging them. Often they are highly successful and the couple feel they could not have done better had the date not been a blind one.

Know the person who is engineering your date. If it is an intelligent person who knows you and your likes and dislikes well, the choice will probably be a good one. Double date with your benefactor if possible. If not, double date with a couple of whom you approve. Always take enough "mad money" to cover taxi fare, just in case.

There's nothing wrong with entertaining him at home. You'll have a better chance to get to know him there, and it will save wear and tear on your nervous system.

Dear Miss Brandon: We are a mother and teen-aged daughter who would like to know who should decide how to decorate the daughter's room. Doris is fourteen. I say she is too young to make wise selections or use good taste; she becomes angry and contends that it is her room. Which of us is right?

Mrs. L.W.

Sorry, but I'm on Doris's side. At fourteen she is no longer a child, but is in the process of becoming a young woman. It is not incredible to believe that she will be married in the next four or five years.

If not from her mother's guidance and the error of her own mistakes, where is she going to gain the wisdom and good taste you speak of?

It is her room, and being a girl with the normal amount of adolescent domesticity, she is naturally quite interested in it. Since it is she who will have to live with it, and since it is the only corner of the house she can really think of as her own, it should reflect her ideas and personality.

We all need someone to call our very own where we are master. Wallpaper or paint can be changed and chairs can be resupplied as her notions change. The experience of planning, and the dreaming are invaluable.

Supply her on books on decoration from the library and late magazines on the subjects. Furniture is expensive, so give her plenty of guidance. Perhaps inexpensive ready-to-be-painted furniture would furnish her imagination and initiative more leeway.

Don't feel sunk. She'll probably surprise you by revealing cleverness and good taste you didn't know she had.

Dr. Sainburg Joins VA Hospital Staff

Dr. Frank P. Sainburg, formerly of East Texas and New York, is now associated with the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital.

He will be on the hospital surgical staff. It was announced by Dr. Jackson H. Friedlander, chief of professional services, Dr. Sainburg is certified in surgery.

The young physician has been engaged, in private practice for the past year in Gregg County in East Texas. Prior to that time he practiced in New York.

Dr. Sainburg is a graduate of Cornell University and the Cornell Medical College. He completed his medical school work in 1943. His wife and three children will join him here in about a week.

Close Governor, Senator Races Are Featured In Massachusetts

By RELMAN MORIN
BOSTON (AP) — A tough election battle is building up in Massachusetts and at this point it looks so close that neither party is making confident victory predictions.

The Maine election heated the Democrats and startled the Republicans.

Chief interest in Massachusetts centers in the races for the governorship and a seat in the U. S. Senate. Both now are held by Republicans. The GOP has an 8-6 edge in the House of Representatives. A Democratic leader would go no further than to say his party will make it 7-7 this fall.

In the Senate race, the veteran Leverett Saltonstall is opposed by a former Democratic congressman, Foster Furcolo, who has risen rapidly in Bay State politics since he came home from World War II.

"Salty," as they call the senator in his home state, hit the trail early. Campaigning through the small towns, he often stood on the sidewalk, chatting with the citizens. He talked mainly of his nearly 10-year Senate record and the record of the Eisenhower administration.

Before coming to the Senate Saltonstall, descendant of a colonist family, was a three term governor. He has a dry, down-East humor and a homespun manner that appeals to Massachusetts voters. His present opponent, Furcolo, is 43, a lawyer who served one term in Congress and then was elected state treasurer in 1952 — a year when Massachusetts went Republican. He is the son of an Italian immigrant who came to the United States unable to read or speak English and became a respected doctor in Springfield.

Furcolo worked his way through Yale and the Yale Law School and still had time for the baseball and boxing teams. He resigned from a draft board after Pearl Harbor, enlisted, and went through some of the worst campaigns in the Pacific.

While in Washington, Furcolo spoke at length on foreign policy and advocated federal scholarships for college students. He also devised what he called a "people's lobby," a council composed of his constituents with whom he conferred.

Furcolo is married and has five children. He is personable, a good speaker and a hard worker.

Early in the campaign, he challenged Saltonstall to debate many issues, "including labor, foreign policy, and Sen. McCarthy."

Saltonstall did not reply. Observers generally believe neither party will inject McCarthy further into the state campaign.

Republican Gov. Christian A. Herter was unopposed for renomination. His Democratic challenger is Robert F. Murphy, a former Malden newspaperman and a veteran of the state legislature.

Herter, who—like Saltonstall—comes from old line New England stock, was elected governor in 1952 by 14,456 votes out of 2,300,000. He pointed out in an interview that three-fourths of the total vote was cast in towns and cities with more than 8,000 population. In that bracket, he says, he ran 140,000 votes behind. But he was 155,000 ahead in communities of less than 8,000 people.

Hence, he says, "if there is indifference in the small towns, we're going to be licked this time."

Murphy won the Democratic nomination in his first try at a statewide office. A rugged, energetic man, he has been campaigning since last April. He traveled by helicopter, once covered 300 miles and appeared in 13 towns in a single day.

Both Murphy and Herter list economic conditions in the state as the top issue of their campaigns.

Murphy asserts the people are "fretful and worried." He recently placed Massachusetts unemployment at $1,000 and said incomes have shrunk by reduction of the work-week, frequent shut-downs and loss of overtime everywhere.

Herter said he did not believe President Eisenhower or national policies would play a great part in the state election.

Neither side is over-optimistic about the congressional races. In 1952, narrow margins separated opponents in three districts. They look close again. A Democratic leader said he felt sure the party would pick up one seat, "and possibly two others."

The Republicans say only one of their House seats is seriously endangered.

There'll Be No Haste In Senate On McCarthy Censure Decision

You can perish any thought that the report of the six-man Senate committee equally divided between Republicans and Democrats on censuring Senator McCarthy will go to the Senate in special session on November 8 and there win quick approval or rejection, as the case may be.

Senator Jenner thinks Watkins is guilty of a technical misplay in one of his actions during the hearings, and is able to justify his decision to call Watkins up on the ground that changes in Senate rules are in the works, and questioning Watkins is therefore in order.

GOP Has Erred In Not Building Up Strength At The Local Level

It was foretold a year ago by many who deal with such matters that this would be a difficult campaign for the Republican Party. To establish conformity one was required to believe and say: That it did not matter whether Republicans or Democrats were elected, Eisenhower's popularity would dominate the Congress and Democrats would support his program as well as Republicans.

boycott-of-the-election movement as a sort of indirect primary. To win this kind of an election it is necessary to build a strong party organization at the lowest level. This has not been done since the Republicans came to power in 1952.

Marrying String Saver Can Lead To Problems

NEW YORK (AP)—I married a string saver. Some people say there is nothing worse than a spendthrift wife, but a saving wife can give a man some interesting problems, too.

My wife has developed an inability to throw anything away. She saves everything. She even has preserved our marriage license.

We have enough balls of string now in our home to anchor the battleship Missouri, but I no longer dare point this out to my wife. She's a little touchy on this subject, ever since I read her an article that said people who saved string were often stingy.

Saying About Gals Who Wear Glasses Is Passe

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor
You can be pretty and glamorous even if you must wear eyeglasses. But be sure you keep them as slicked up and flattering as your other fashion accessories.

Eyeglasses come in such attractive styles today that many women keep a wardrobe of them to match their costumes. There are utility glasses for reading at home, smarter ones for reading away from home and the chic styles for fashion wear.

Your lenses must be treated kindly, however. Tossing them into a handbag with compact, lipstick, mirror and other items lying loosely about may scratch and break them.

Besides the fact that they might become abused or ignored, scratched lenses may cause eyestrain, advises eyesight specialist Dr. Roy Marks.
Frames are fitted carefully so that the lenses rest in the proper position. Yanking glasses off the head by one temple or nervously twisting them or pushing them far down on the nose or high up on the forehead or gnawing on the temple ends is likely to throw them out of kilter. Upsetting the delicate adjustment may cause eyestrain which can put furrowed brows on a pretty face, to say nothing of causing headache or nausea.

Our expert also suggests that when taking off glasses the best bet is to grasp the shell temples just behind the hinges, and the more delicate gold-filled temples of eyewear handling. Their lenses with both hands. If an eye-glass case isn't handy, don't lay the frames lens-down on any hard surface. Lay them on their sides with temples outstretched. It'll help avoid lens scratching.
Near-sighted people in particular should be careful about this phase of eyewear handling. Their lenses are thinner in the center and are likely to shatter from undue shock. Far-sighted people, on the other hand, should avoid banging their glasses on the edges where their lenses are thicker.

You can make sure you are getting every benefit from your vision aids by keeping the lenses sparkling clear. Give them a bath with soap and water at least once a week, clean them frequently with a soft tissue or cloth, free of lint. An old tooth brush comes in handy to brush behind nose pads as in the case of rimless mountings.

Plastic frames should be washed in lukewarm water. Hot water may expand them, causing the lenses to drop out. And if adjustments are needed, consult your eyeglass man. Fitting is a precise art and a specialist knows just how much pressure to exert to keep your eyeglass temples at the right level for your eye comfort and beauty.

Reading List Given For Garden Clubs

"The amateur flower show, if it is to fulfill its purpose, must be of educational value. Its definite purpose is to raise the standards of horticulture and floriculture in the community and in the home."

With this in mind, members of the Big Spring Garden Club are making plans for Flower Show School No. 1 to be held here on Oct. 12-13-14. The committee is composed of Mrs. J. E. Hogan, Mrs. Oboe Bristow and Mrs. Cliff Willy.

Details of the school will be announced at a later date. Required reading for all women taking the courses is as follows: Handbook for Flower Shows, "Complete Book of Flower Arranging," by Rockwell and Grayson; "How and Why of Better Gardening," by Manning, and "The National Gardener," national magazine of garden clubs.

In "The Woman's Home Companion Garden Book," which will be used in all garden club schools, the following chapters are required reading for School No. 1: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 21, 24 and 52. Copies of these books are in the library at Howard County Junior College and may be checked out in order that those planning to take the school can read the material before beginning the course.

All garden club members are eligible to take the courses and the examination for credit. Non-members are invited to take the courses, but they will not receive credit. Fees are $4 for both days or $2.50 for a single day. Fifty cents will be charged for the examination.

Sophisticated Lady

Martha Hyer, who started in pictures as a chubby brunette, tells Lydia Lane how she became a sophisticated blonde. "When you change inside you should re-do your type," Martha advises. She'll be seen soon in Paramount's "Sabrina."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

If You Change Inside, Then Change Your Type

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—I've known Martha Hyer since she first came to Hollywood from Texas several years ago. Then she was a chubby ranch girl with long brown hair.

Now Martha is poised, slim and blond. The change is striking! I told Martha this as we lunched at Paramount while she was working in "Sabrina."

"Lots of people don't recognize me at all," Martha said happily. "I've grown up. I feel different on the inside and I want to show it on the outside."

"Change is normal—some grow up more than others," she continued.

Germans Set Religious Aid By Telephone

By TOM STONE
 NURNBERG, Germany (U)—Germans whose troubles stack up too high can now reach for a telephone and get religious comfort.

The Rev. Franz Georg Wartburg, a gray-haired Jesuit priest, started the service here. It will be offered soon in other German communities by members of his Roman Catholic order, he said.

The 51-year-old priest gets an average of 30 telephone calls a night from persons who are despondent or confused and who want spiritual advice.

"Some of them are in real trouble," he said, "and I do all I can to give them comfort. There are others whose burdens are not quite so heavy, but who need someone to talk to."

A young German telephoned that he was unable to get work and was contemplating suicide.

"I talked to him a long time and pleaded with him not to give up hope," the priest said. "Two days later the young man called back and said that he had got a job and was happy."

"Sometimes the callers give their names, and sometimes they do not. Their names are not important. It's their souls that count."

"Once in a while, when a person is in really serious trouble, I invite him to come to see me personally. But most cases are handled by phone."

"Of course I can't hear confessions over the telephone, nor do other things that only a church can do. But we try to help others as much as possible."

Numbers Of Churches To Observe World-Wide Communion On Sunday

Sunday will be Worldwide Communion Day and a number of the Protestant churches in the city will observe the sacrament of the Lord's Supper at their Sunday morning services. These services and the services at other churches throughout the city are noted below.

BAPTIST
 The sermon topic of Dr. P. D. O'Brien at 11 a.m. at First Baptist Church, 511 Main, will be "Atonement" (Rom. 5:11). Communion will be observed at this service. At 8 p.m. the message will be entitled "My Church." The Rainbow Girls will be guests at the evening service.

"Faith" is the topic to be discussed at Baptist Temple, 400 Eleventh Place., at 11 a.m. Sunday by the Rev. A. R. Posey. There will also be a service at 8 p.m.

At Prairie View Baptist Church the Rev. Leslie Kelly will speak on "The Thrilling Program of Our Lord" at 11 a.m. His text will be Acts 1:8. At 7:30 p.m. the sermon will deal with "A Beautiful Friendship" (Gen. 5:24).

CATHOLIC
 At St. Thomas Catholic Church, 506 N. Main, the Rev. William J. Moore, OMI, will say Mass at 7 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Benediction will be after the last Mass. Confessions will be heard from 4:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. and from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Catholic Mass will be said at 9 a.m. at the chapel by Chaplain Hugh H. Lenahan.

Job's Struggle to Understand Life

HE KEPT HIS FAITH THROUGH MANY CALAMITIES
 Scripture—Job 1-3; 19-22.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL.
 IN THIS LESSON we turn from the time when Jesus was on earth and later when the apostles were carrying on His work in the early church after His resurrection, and later still when Paul was writing his epistles to the various churches advising them as to their conduct as followers of Jesus, to several thousand years before Christ's birth.

Our story is of a man who suffered many disasters and his struggle to keep his faith in God through all his suffering.

"There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job; and that man was perfect and upright, and one that feared God and eschewed evil," we read. The land of Uz was in the northern part of the Arabian peninsula.

Job was a very wealthy man. He had several thousand sheep, and three thousand camels, five hundred yoke of oxen and five hundred asses and a very great household. He was known as "the greatest of all the men of the east."

He had seven sons and three daughters, who were all devoted to their father and to each other and constituted a very happy family.

"Now there was a day when the sons of Job came to present themselves before the Lord, and Satan came also among them."

Though Satan was malignant and evil, he was evidently counted among the angels in heaven. God spoke of Job as a perfect man, but Satan asked, "Doth Job fear God for naught?" and pointed out that Job had everything to make him believe in God's goodness, insinuating that the Lord protected him. "But put forth Thine hand now, and touch all that he hath, and he will curse Thee to Thy face."

So God permitted Satan to strip Job of all his possessions. One day when Job's sons and daughters were feasting in one brother's house, a man came to Job and said his oxen had been plowing and the asses were feeding beside them, when the Sabaeans fell upon them, killed the servants that were guarding them and drove the asses away; only this one man was left to tell Job.

Before he had finished his tale another man came to tell Job that fire from heaven—possibly lightning—had burned all the sheep, and still another man came and said the Chaldeans had carried off the camels and slain the servants—only he had escaped.

Most terrible of all, still another man rushed in to say that while Job's sons and daughters were feasting, a great wind had blown down the walls of the house and all were killed.

Job arose, rent his mantle and shaved his head, and fell upon the ground, worshipping God and saying, "Naked I came out of my mother's womb, and naked shall I return thither; the Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord."

How easy it is for riches to take wings and fly away. Many have suffered such calamities and some lose their faith, often those who have been deeply religious. God could not treat me so if He is indeed a loving father, they say. Job's faith sustained him through these horrible tribulations, but more was to follow.

Satan, seeing Job was faithful so far, tortured him further by sending terrible diseases to destroy his strength and cause him untold suffering.

Job's wife lost her faith in the divine and loving Spirit, and spoke to him in what was a most heartless manner, saying, "Dost thou still retain thine integrity? Curse God and die."

Job's answer was, "Thou speakest as one of the foolish women speaketh. What? shall we receive good at the hand of God, and shall we not receive evil?"

Three of Job's friends came to him—Eliphaz, Bildad and Zophar. For seven days they sat silently by him, saying no word. These were good men but they contended that Job must have sinned and was being punished by God for these secret faults. Poor Job. That was the final blow. He felt himself abandoned, even God had removed Himself from him. It seemed in his desolation Job cried:

"Oh that I knew where I might find Him! that I might come even to His seat! I would order my cause before Him, and fill my mouth with arguments. Will He plead against me with His great power? No; but He would put strength in me."

Poor Job, he sought diligently for God and could not find Him, but his faith held firm, and he insisted "He knoweth the way that I take; when He hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold."

Job's conduct during his bitter trials provides a well-known proverb, "the patience of Job." People react very differently under trouble; this may be noted in even quite small children. Some go away by themselves and grieve; some run to mother or dad; others grow rebellious and "fighting mad" and battle it out. Teach the children patience under their afflictions, which probably are not so dreadful as they appear to their young minds. You may plant a seed in their minds and hearts that will help them to keep their faith and rise above disasters all through their lives.

Brunette Send-Off Due Long Memory

LONG BEACH, Calif. (U)—A sentimental brunette gave Brazilian sailors a send-off they won't soon forget. Nor she either.

As the training vessel Almirante Saldanha was about to sail yesterday, Lucille Lupita, ran to the dockside to toss a flower to her boy friend on board.

She lost her balance and fell into the water. Four sailors dived in for the rescue. The boy friend, presumably, was among them. Miss Lupita was treated by the

Ohio Windstorm Kills 3-Year-Old

CANTON, Ohio (U)—A powerful windstorm smashed into a north-eastern Ohio farmhouse last night killing a 3-year-old girl and injuring her mother, father and infant brother.

The storm—witnesses called it a tornado—levelled every building on the farm of James Smiley near Minerva, Ohio, after his family had gone to bed. Carrie Smiley was killed.

City hospital in Alliance said Smiley, 34, was in fair condition and his wife, Alice, 30, and their 14-month-old son, James Allen, were in "fairly good" shape.

The storm toppled homes, swept off roofs, uprooted trees and tore down power lines in the area and blew itself out in Pennsylvania.

No damage estimates were available.

Nominations Are Placed Before Kiwanis Club

Report of a nominating committee to submit officers for the next year's term was heard at Thursday's session of the Kiwanis Club. Election will be held two weeks hence.

Leroy Olsak was nominated for president; Clyde Nichols for first vice president, and Carl Strom for second vice president. Olsak is now vice president.

New directors offered were Elmer Boatler, Temp Currie Jr., Bob Heine and Hasper Atkins, to serve with Wayne Bonner, Ladd Smith and H. W. Whitney as holdovers.

Medical Clinic Set Here For Oct. 21

Doctors from all over West Texas are expected to congregate in Big Spring on Oct. 21 for a medical clinic to be held at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

The clinic will be sponsored jointly by the hospital and the Permian Basin Medical Society. It will be an all day affair, and a program is also planned for the wives of doctors attending.

Two outstanding speakers have been secured for the clinic. They are Dr. Arthur Grollman, professor of experimental medicine at the Southwestern Medical School, and Dr. Bronley Smith Freeman, professor at Baylor Medical School in Houston.

Dr. C. B. Marcum, president of the sponsoring society, and Dr. Jackson H. Friedlander, chief of professional services at the VA Hospital, will be in charge of arrangements.

Invitations will be sent to physicians and medical societies all over this part of the state.

ALL OVER THE WORLD

Glance at an atlas or give your globe a spin. It's a vast world, encompassing continents, oceans, mountains, deserts and valleys. Its inhabitants number in the billions, and they in turn are divided into many nations, each with varied tongues, creeds, and religions.

But here at last we have struck upon a common denominator — religion. For all peoples in all times have recognized a superior power — their creator.

On World Wide Communion Day, Christians all over the world unite in their churches to partake of the Lord's Supper, one of the holiest rituals of the Church. Together, in His house, their prayers attain a new significance. Their voices blend into one universal voice, from which stems new power and meaning.

Go to your church on World Wide Communion Day. You will be in the fellowship of millions of worshippers, receiving with them new hope for peace of mind and soul—and peace for the world.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sakes. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Edger To Luther Southeast Has Oil Odor; Nolan Adds Discovery

A core at a west edge to the Luther Southeast field had oil odor in a lime formation today, and a discovery in the Caddo lime was logged in Nolan County. An area wildcat was spotted in Sterling County, and prospectors were also staked in Hockley and Crockett counties.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1 Ruby L. Graham is the Luther Southeast project having oil odor, and Roark-Hooker and Chicago Corporation No. 1-J Etta Cascaux, wildcat in Northeast Nolan, flowed six hours on the potential test to make 77 barrels of oil. The estimated 24-hour potential is 308 barrels.

The new Sterling County wildcat is Lee Blackwood and Nichols Company of Midland No. 1 Davis Estate. It is 10 miles east of Sterling City and will be drilled to 1,800 feet. Two area locations were spotted in the Westbrook field by Paul DeCleva.

Crockett Texas Production Company of Midland No. 1-Q University, C NW 14-51-University survey, will be drilled as a 2,500-foot wildcat some 20 miles south of Big Lake. It will have a depth of 10,500 feet, and a test will be made of the Ellenburger.

Hockley Karl Hoblittelle of Dallas and Deifer Oil Company of Corpus Christi announced that they will drill their No. 1 L. E. Mitchell as a 7,800 foot wildcat in Northeast Hockley. It will be 440 from north and east lines, labor 12, league 719, State Capital land survey, some eight miles northeast of Levelland. A test will be taken in the Permian.

Howard Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1 Ruby L. Graham, west edge to production in the Luther Southeast field, cored from 9,905 to 9,929 feet. Recovery was six feet of shale and nine feet of lime with some oil odor. Operator is now coring deeper. This location is C SE SE 15-32-2n, T&P survey, some 13 miles north of Big Spring.

Oceanic Oil Company No. 1-A Veal Memorial Fund, 510 from north and 330 from west lines, 30-32-3n, T&P survey, spudded to 413 feet in redbeds where the 13 1/2 inch casing was set. Operator is preparing to drill plug on the Oceanic field project and go deeper.

Mitchell Sun No. 1 Simpson, C SE SE 46-33-3n, T&P survey, hit 6,970 feet in lime and shale.

Mishap Is Reported Apparently there were no injuries in an automobile collision this morning in the 900 block of Johnson police said. Drivers involved were Mickey Stewart, 1406 Birdwell Lane, and John Thomas Sherrod, Rt. 1. The accident occurred at 9:12 a.m.

White Says States In Drought Section Ask Relief Changes AUSTIN (AP)—Agriculture Commissioner John White said today representatives of drought disaster states have unanimously advocated junking the present federal relief pay program.

White said the decision was reached Wednesday in Oklahoma City and officials from seven drought stricken states will propose a new approach at a meeting with federal agriculture officials in Washington Wednesday.

White said spokesmen for Texas, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Missouri agreed the present system of reimbursing half the hay transportation costs up to $10 per ton should be abolished.

They said the plan is too inadequate and complicated to be of real benefit to needy farmers and ranchmen, White asserted.

The group proposed that federal-state cooperative agreements be revised to permit the payment of actual cost of hay and transportation, not transportation alone. They suggested reimbursement be on the basis of one-fifth the total cost, not to exceed $10 per ton.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—One man picked up $142 on the World Series Wednesday. He took the money from the Smith Distributing Co. while employees were listening to the game on the radio.

Hilton To Take Over Shamrock This Fall HOUSTON (AP)—A spokesman for Hilton Hotels Corp. said yesterday the firm planned to take over operation of the Glenn McCarthy-built Shamrock Hotel in early November.

Hilton will take over more than half the Shamrock's $18,200,000 mortgage and assume a "mortgage in possession" status now held by Equitable Life Assurance Society, local financial sources said. McCarthy will continue as president of McCarthy Center Inc., owner of the hotel.

reels of oil. Flow on test is through a 23-64th inch choke from perforations between 5,506 and 5,531 feet. Gas-oil ratio is 944:1. Production formation is the Caddo lime, and the total depth is 5,700 feet, where 5 1/2-inch casing is bottomed. The new producer is three miles northeast of Trent, drill site being 2,188 from north and 467 from west lines, 31-19-T&P survey. The well is nearly two miles northeast of the American Trading and Production Corporation No. 1 Little, a discovery in the Cambrian from the Mulptay White Flat field.

Choyo No. 1 Sears, C SW SW 151-1A-H&T survey, bored to 6,747 feet in shale.

Scurry Texas Crude and McFarland No. 1-288 Brumley, C NW SW 288-97-H&T survey, is making hole at 6,898 feet in lime and shale.

Sterling Lee Blackwood and Nichols Company of Midland No. 1 Davis Estate will be drilled as a 1,800-foot prospect in the area some 10 miles east of Sterling City. Operations will be by cable tool, and work will begin in a few days.

A test will be made of the Permian Clear Fork. Drill site is 2,310 from south and west lines, 19-11-SPRR survey.

He Asked For It BRISTOL, Conn. (AP)—Police Lt. E. W. O'Connor said a man walked into headquarters yesterday and demanded a parking ticket.

O'Connor, who declined to identify the motorist quoted him thus: "I saw a woman tagged for overtime parking. I was in the same location and was parked overtime but I got no ticket. How come? It just isn't fair."

O'Connor handed him a ticket and the man paid the fine.

Cash Not Enough PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Leonard Allen has signed a complaint charging two Sunnyside men took $500 from him at gunpoint last Monday — then tried to make him write a check for more.

Allen alleges the men demanded $500 at gunpoint. When he had only $500, they drove him home to get a blank check. He jumped out of the car and escaped.

Charged with robbery are Art Magee, 24, and Joshua Thompson, 22.

Not Easy To Fire GALLUP, N.M. (AP)—A Gallup watchman — recently fired — has asked the town council for payment for 10 days of work he did after his discharge.

Paul Peck, who is hard of hearing, was the watchman.

Insurance Board Cuts Off Salaries In Firing Dispute AUSTIN (AP)—The State Board of Insurance Commissioners cut off yesterday the salaries of the general counsel for its liquidating division, Renne Allred Jr., and four of his assistants.

The board said Sept. 18 it had fired Allred. Allred has contended the board has no such power over him.

The move is expected to bring a quick showdown in what is considered a test of whether the liquidating division and its staff are subject to the board or to district courts which order insurance receiverships.

The four besides Allred whose salaries the board refused to support were V. F. Taylor, Byron Lockhart, Fred Warkentin and W. O. Bowers III.

These, with Allred, were declared by a court order Aug. 14 to be under the jurisdiction of the local district courts. The board disputes the order.

Duval Grand Jury Adds Indictments SAN DIEGO (AP)—The Duval County grand jury has returned 21 more indictments to bring to 101 the total since it began its probe of county and school district finances several months ago.

Names of those indicted yesterday will not be made public until they are arrested.

Two persons were named in one indictment for subornation of perjury; five indictments were returned for perjury, two for theft by false pretext, one for unlawfully paying a poll tax of another, three for advancing money to pay poll taxes of others, and nine for false certificate by notary public.

Milk Inspector Dies EDINBURG (AP)—A state milk inspector was killed yesterday when his car overturned near Donna. He was Walter Gainey, 59, of Edinburg.

Name Port Official HOUSTON (AP)—The City Council and the Harris County Commissioners' Court named J. S. Bracwell, Houston attorney, chairman of the Houston Port Commission yesterday.

Plan Padre Road BROWNSVILLE (AP)—A five-mile highway connecting two county parks at the south end of Padre Island was assured yesterday when Cameron County commissioners awarded a $128,474 contract to the South Texas Construction Co.

Bagley told District Court Judge Luigi DePasquale yesterday that he left work about 20 times at the home of John Harrison, 21, of two speeding charges.

Each time, Bagley related, he was told he had the wrong twin. "Finally, I heard the other twin was in the service," Bagley said, "so I knew the one I wanted was left."

John Harrison pleaded guilty. He was fined $15 and costs.

Court Suit Backfires TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A district court jury backfired yesterday on James Watson, Tulsa, who had filed a $32,500 damage suit against Tulsa City Bus Lines as the result of an accident.

The jurors ruled Watson owed the bus company $71.60 for denting the bus with his car.

Building Permits In City Go Past $2-Million Mark

Construction in Big Spring during September shot the year's building total past the $2 million mark.

With three months yet to go in 1954, there have already been 1,021 building permits filed at the city hall for construction value of $2,132,140.

There were 124 building permits filed in September which carried value of $226,180. This was slightly lower than the August total of 189 permits for $229,815.

Since June 1 there have been 725 permits filed, the most of these being for erecting jobs about the city. Valuation on the construction during these four months alone was $1,057,875.

Top month of the year was February, when only 55 permits were filed but the construction total was $393,580. Second best month was April when 61 permits at $351,955 were filed.

A month by month breakdown of construction follows:

MONTH	PERMITS	TOTAL
JANUARY	52	$ 72,365.00
FEBRUARY	55	393,580.00
MARCH	83	206,055.00
APRIL	61	351,955.00
MAY	45	50,010.00
JUNE	181	250,855.00
JULY	251	350,995.00
AUGUST	189	229,815.00
SEPTEMBER	124	226,180.00
TOTAL	1021	$2,132,140.00

Spence To Attend TWCA Gathering E. V. Spence, general manager for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, will be in Austin this weekend as a participant in the 10th annual meeting of the Texas Water Conservation Association.

In addition to regular convention sessions, he is due to be involved in a number of committee meetings. With R. A. Thompson, San Antonio, and Victor Jaeggli, Corpus Christi, he is on the municipal panel.

Natural Flourine In Water Gives C-Citians Good Teeth

COLORADO CITY — Many cities in Texas spend thousands of dollars installing equipment to add flourides to their water supply but at Colorado City, Mother Nature does it for nothing.

Thursday afternoon, the U. S. National Institute of Dental Research completed a survey of Junior High School students in Colorado City, Colorado. City was selected because of the high flourine content of Colorado City's water, which has been wholly obtained from wells until 1950, and since that time has been mixed with surface water.

From 1937 to 1952, analysis of Colorado City water averaged 1.2 parts of flourine per million parts of water as compared with half that and less in surrounding towns.

"Children who have always used a flouride water like those in Colorado City invariably have less tooth decay than children who have used ordinary water," says Dr. E. R. Zimmerman, of Bethesda, Md., who conducted the survey.

The check for caries was only incidental, since the institute needs no further proof as to the fact that flourine in the drinking water inhibits decay. Rather, the institute was checking for side effects — both good and bad. Dr. Zimmerman was noting tiny white checks and mottles on the teeth, and possibly other factors, which may result from a high percentage of flourine in the water.

"These Colorado City children," said Zimmerman, "have teeth which are in excellent condition. They have fewer cavities than any comparable group I've checked."

Zimmerman found a few cases where teeth were mildly mottled, indicating exposure to water with a high flourine content or that the enamel was prone to mottling.

Steers In Final Pre-Loop Engagement Here Tonight

Ysleta Indians Are Opposition

TEAM RECORDS
BIG SPRING 14 Wins, 7 Losses, 1 Tie
Ysleta 11 Wins, 10 Losses, 2 Ties

Still a question mark as a unit in the eyes of many local fans, the Big Spring Steers will set about to win more friends and influence more observers in an 8 o'clock football joust with the Ysleta Indians here this evening.

The Longhorns already have two scalps hanging from their belts but they were supposed to win both games.

Andrews, an AA power, gave the Steers a lot of trouble before yielding. Stephenville proved less of a problem.

Ysleta will be the underdog in tonight's engagement but may prove capable of making the Steers go all out. Two years ago, the Indians were similar underdogs in a game played at El Paso, yet left the field on the long end of a 12-7 score.

A young man who had a lot to do with that victory, Sal Arzola, is still with the Warriors. Now up to 165 pounds, Sal will be at half-back for Ysleta.

Kike Fierro, Jerry Cosby and Freddie Paz lend Arzola plenty of help in the Ysleta secondary.

The contest winds up pre-district play for the Bovines, who meet Lamesa in a District I-AAA headliner here next week.

Ysleta returned ten lettermen from the club that won only one of nine starts a year ago. Veteran linemen back with the Indians include Charley Rosemond, a fine end; Pat Lockett, tackle; and Paco Esquivel, end.

The Steers will carry a decided weight advantage onto the field but Ysleta can mount a faster, trickier attack.

Brick Johnson will probably be ready to take his place in the Steer secondary, which means that Ronnie Wooten can return to the job of spelling the halfbacks.

Quarterback Tommy McAdams can be expected to throw the ball a lot and will have as his favorite targets Frosty Robinson, Joe Liberty, John Birdwell and Reynolds.

Probable lineups:
YSLETA — Charles Rosemond and Paco Esquivel or John Bernard, ends; Pat Lockett and Phil Reynolds, tackles; Vincent Esparrago and Fernando Basoco, guards; Jerry Rogers, center; Kike Fierro, Sal Arzola, Jerry Cosby and Freddie Paz, backs.

BIG SPRING — Joe Liberty and John Birdwell, ends; Bob Jones and John Davenport, tackles; Dickie Millam and Calvin Daniels, guards; Jerry Graves, center; Tommy McAdams, Frosty Robinson, Brick Johnson and Lefty Don Reynolds, backs.

Forest Stays In Top Ranks

Three undefeated, untied teams maintained their records in a scattering of games last night that launched the biggest weekend of the season in Texas schoolboy football.

Mt. Vernon won the big one, fumbling Atlanta, 13-6, in a battle of unbeaten, untied elevens. A 75-yard run by Charley Yates was the payoff punch for Mt. Vernon.

Forest of Dallas, which hasn't been winning much during the past decade, stayed unbeaten for the season as the Lions clipped Amon Carter-Riverside of Fort Worth, 13-12, in a Class AAAA game.

The Mt. Vernon-Atlanta clash featured Class AA while Three Rivers beat Karnes City, 33-0, to stay with the unbeaten, untied team in Class A.

Tonight is filled with important battles, the No. 1 attraction being the Abilene-Breckenridge game at Abilene. This one matches the top-rated team of Class AAAA (Abilene) against a power of Class AAA. Fort Arthur plays John Reagan of Houston in a Class AAAA fight between undefeated, untied teams.

In Class AA Floydada and Paducah meet in the headliner while Class A features the clashes of Midlothian with Mansfield and Grapevland with Groveton.

Coahoma Bullpups Nose Out Big Spring Eighth Graders

Jimmy Smith's Coahoma Junior High School Bulldogs used a first quarter safety to defeat the Big Spring Seventh Graders, 15-13, here Thursday night.

Don Rich tackled a Big Spring ball carrier in the end zones for the two points that eventually decided the game.

Ray Sanchez, Coahoma left half-back, scored both the Bullpup touchdowns, one on a 60-yard yard plunge.

Sanchez shared honors with Rich as the leading ball carriers for the Coahomans. Rich also added the extra point.

Home Run Coming Up

Cleveland's lead-off batter, Al Smith, is set as the first pitch of the second World Series game comes whistling from New York's left-hander Johnny Antonelli. Smith connected with the ball for a home run. Catching is Wes Westrum. Umpire is Charley Berry. The Giants won, 3-1. (AP Wirephoto).

Rhodes Had To Get Used To Baseball Spotlight

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (AP) — Dusty Rhodes is getting accustomed to being a celebrity.

When he first was projected into the limelight as a result of his fantastic pinch hitting performances, he was uneasy and a little bewildered.

In the clubhouse of the New York Giants after they beat the Cleveland Indians, 3-1, to take a 2-0 World Series lead yesterday, Rhodes, who hit a homer and a single, was as relaxed as all get out.

Of his home run, a really solid poke, Rhodes said:

"He (Cleveland pitcher Early Wynn) threw me five knucklers. He wanted one fast ball. It was a knuckle ball I got hold of."

"But I was only following orders. My son told me to hit one for him before I left home."

Rhodes seemed happiest that his home run wasn't of the "Chinese" variety, meaning a short one like the one he hit to win the first game.

While Rhodes was drawing the huzzahs, many of the Giants pointed to Catcher Wes Westrum as one of the big reasons why Leo Durocher's outfit won the first two games. He has been doing a fine job handling the pitchers.

"We won the game," said the modest Wes. "What more would anybody want. Johnny Antonelli pitched a great game. He was a little wild in the early innings, but from the fourth on, his fast stuff was his best and we went for that."

"The Indians left 13 men on base again. That ought to be the answer to the kind of pitching Johnny did in the clutch. I don't want any credit. He had to throw the ball."

If Westrum wasn't looking for any credit, he would have been embarrassed to hear Captain Al Dark call him the "unsung hero."

"He was terrific behind that plate," said Dark. "He called for a tremendous assortment of stuff and Johnny went with him except for only one pitch that I know of. Johnny shook him off on a change up to Vic Wertz in the ninth inning, but otherwise, they worked perfectly."

Antonelli denied that there was really anything wrong with his control.

"It was just that I was being so careful," he said. "So much depended on every pitch. I was tired at the end. But I still felt I had my good stuff."

How about the opening pitch home run by the Indians' Al Smith?

Yearlings Win Two Decisions

COLORADO CITY, (SC)—Big Spring Junior High grid teams won two games here Thursday evening, the Ninth Graders prevailing, 18-14, after the Eighth Grade had won, 27-0.

In the Eighth Grade game, Wayne Fields raced for two touchdowns for Big Spring. Buddy Barnes and Earl Mays each accounted for one.

Fields also made an extra point on an end sweep. Mays got another while the third was scored by Earl Phillips.

The Big Spring line played fine defensive ball. Charles Priest proved a standout.

The Big Spring Eighth Graders return to action against Crockett of Odessa in Odessa Saturday morning.

In the 9th Grade game, fumbles and pass interceptions kept the Yearling attack off-balance. The Big Springers fumbled and lost the ball ten times and Colorado City intercepted two Big Spring passes.

Doyle Hooper went 50 yards on a punt return for one Big Spring score. Wayne Fields got another on a pass interception, moving 40 yards to pay dirt. Duane McCrory accounted for the other on a 25-yard jaunt.

SWC 11's Are Picked To Win This Weekend

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Baylor's furious Bears slap at Miami's Hurricane in the Orange Bowl tonight to open an all-out Southwest Conference football schedule of five important inter-sectional games and the start of the championship race in which Texas Christian lashes at Arkansas.

Baylor is one of four conference teams favored to win their inter-sectional games. The Bears are 7-point choices over Miami.

Tomorrow afternoon Texas plays Washington State at Austin and Texas A&M tries Georgia at Athens, while night games send Rice against Cornell at Houston and Southern Methodist against Georgia Tech at Dallas.

Southern Methodist will be opening the season—the last conference member to swing into action—and the Methodists are 1-point favorites over Georgia Tech in a game due to draw over 30,000 into the Cotton Bowl.

Texas is given a 23-point bulge over Washington State and Rice is expected to triumph by 20 points over Cornell, but Texas A&M is a 7-point underdog to the unbeaten team at Georgia.

Texas Christian, which leaped into the limelight last week by giving mighty Oklahoma the fight of its short-lived No. 1 ranking, is favored over enigmatic Arkansas. Just what the Razorbacks have can best be shown at Fort Worth tomorrow night against the highpowered Christians. They beat Tulsa, 41-0, last week without half-trying but Tulsa apparently has only what the little boy shot at.

Baylor faces a Miami team that should be stronger than last season. It has 20 lettermen and a thunderous ground attack. But Baylor is generally conceded to be better, too, and the Bears whipped the Hurricane, 21-13, last season. Featuring its sensational Bobby Jones, Baylor is a terrific offensive outfit.

Washington State, with its single wing attack, may make some yards on Texas through its talented passer Frank Sarno, but the Cougars' record doesn't indicate they can handle the big, tough Longhorns, who will be pouring it on in an effort to avenge last week's 21-0 defeat by Notre Dame.

Texas A&M faces a Georgia team with a strong passing attack featuring James Harper and the Bulldogs also are bigger and more experienced.

Cornell lost its first game of the season, unexpectedly, to Colgate and comes to Houston pretty well bunged up. Its Bill DeGraff is a good passer and Rice's pass defense isn't ironclad but the Owl running game should be a wide difference.

Coahoma, Sundown Tangle Tonight

COAHOMA, (SC)—The Coahomans get their baptism of fire in District 4-A football competition here tonight, and it could be the roughest sort of beginning.

The Bulldogs, champions of District 5-B last season, challenge the defending champions of the conference, the Sundown Roughnecks, in an 8 o'clock engagement.

Sundown will field a team that includes four letterman backs, plus a classy line that has paced the team to three straight non-conference wins.

The Roughnecks operate off the T and Split T with great success. The Roughies have scored 60 points in two games while holding the opposition to 18.

Coahoma has broken even in two starts, winning from Slaton and losing to Ozona.

The Bulldogs were fairly hard hit by graduation but held good promise.

Sabas Torres is filling Skeet Williams' shoes as quarterback on the Coahoma team.

David Hodnett is the chief running threat for Coahoma but Rickie Phinney and Don Kennemer also lend lots of help in the Bulldog backfield.

All-District Center Bob Garrett leads the Coahoma line, along with Billy Paul Thomas, Grady Barr and others.

The game is the only one being played in District 4-A this weekend and is due to be well-scouted, for that reason.

The Coahoma coach is Putt Brandon. He is helped by Grady Tindal. Sundown's mentor is Herman Smith.

The contest begins at 8 o'clock.

Ward School 11's Active Saturday

Ward School football teams resume league competition at Steer Stadium Saturday morning, with the first game pita for 8 a.m.

The opener pits College Heights against Central Ward. At 9 o'clock, Washington Place meets Park Hill while Airport and North Ward clash at 10.

Kate Morrison and West Ward play the final game, starting at 11 a.m.

Bison Gridders Barbecue Guests

STANTON—The Buffalo Squad was entertained with a barbecue and all the trimmings, Thursday evening in the back yard of Mr. and Mrs. Tull Ray Louder.

Also present at the barbecue were the coaches, their families, and the football boys' dates.

Mr. Louder is the owner and operator of the Stanton Electric Store here.

Maryland And UCLA Meet Tonight In Los Angeles

By ED WILKS
AP Sports Writer

Maryland and UCLA, both ranked among the nation's top ten, open a full weekend of inter-sectional tests tonight in Los Angeles, but the game that really excites fans is scheduled in the shadow of the Golden Dome at South Bend, tomorrow.

That's where Notre Dame, still in the process of proving the ability of young Terry Brennan as head coach, lines up against Purdue, a team seldom mentioned among the nation's best, but always "up" for the Irish.

It was on a bright October afternoon just four years ago that the Boiler-makers crushed Notre Dame's proud 39-game winning string—a performance that marks them for special attention by Brennan, who made an impressive entrance to big time coaching with a 21-0 victory over Texas last week.

That opening success made Notre Dame the No. 1 choice in this week's Associated Press poll, supporting their pre-season selection as the nation's finest.

While the clash between Notre Dame and Purdue, a winner in a breeze against Missouri last week, waits for the kickoff, the weekend action gets under way in a big way with tonight's game between fourth-ranked UCLA and sixth-ranked Maryland.

The Terps, dropped two notches in this week's rating after an idle weekend, were easy winners over Kentucky in their opener. The Uclans, defending champs of the Pacific Coast Conference, have scored 99 points in two starts, defeating San Diego Naval Training Center and Kansas.

That's the only game matching teams listed in the top ten, but except for Oklahoma, rated No. 2, all of the other leaders are scheduled.

Two other top games tonight moved Baylor to Miami (Fla.) University and Wichita to Drake.

On tomorrow's schedule: Iowa, ranked No. 4 on the basis of its 14-10 victory over Michigan State last Saturday, slips away from Big 10 Conference action to what should be a breather against Montana, but Michigan State continues its tough opening schedule against Wisconsin, the No. 5 team, at East Lansing in a "must" game for both Big 10 hopefuls.

Surprising Duke, rated seventh after shutting out Penn and scoring 52 points, is at home to Tennessee, and Mississippi, No. 8, plays at Villanova. Southern California, No. 9, mixes it up with Northwestern at Evanston, Ill., in another inter-sectional match, while Penn State, an unexpected top ten member by virtue of its upset vic at Syracuse.

The Pacific Coast Conference and the Big 10, in addition to the Southern Cal-Northwestern meeting, also collides when Illinois plays Stanford at Palo Alto, Calif., and California travels to Ohio State.

Other top inter-sectional contests send Washington State to play at Texas, Cornell to Rice, Georgia Tech to Southern Methodist, Army to Michigan, College of the Pacific to Indiana and Minnesota to Pittsburgh.

The Big Seven gets started on its conference championship with Missouri at Kansas State and Colorado at Kansas.

Other major games tomorrow: EAST—Brown at Yale, Navy at Dartmouth, Massachusetts at Harvard, Colgate at Holy Cross, Fordham at Rutgers, William & Mary at Penn, Princeton at Columbia, Boston College at Temple.

SOUTH—Vanderbilt vs. Alabama at Mobile, Auburn at Florida, Texas A&M at Georgia, LSU at Kentucky, North Carolina at Tulane, North Carolina State at Wake Forest, Arkansas State at Mississippi State.

SOUTHWEST—Arkansas at Texas Christian, Texas Western at Arizona State, Utah State at New Mexico, Oklahoma A&M at Texas Tech.

WEST—Washington at Oregon State, Utah at Oregon, Denver at Wyoming, Brigham Young at Colorado A&M.

Gainey, Track Champion, Uses Speed On Gridiron

COLORADO CITY — Each Friday, coaches who oppose Colorado City place mythical horns and a tall on a tall slender lad who plays at left half for the Wolves. The object of their description is Hollis "Hoss" Gainey, 145-pound breakaway back, who has scored 43 points this fall for Colorado City's — so far — unbeaten team.

The speedy Gainey, who does the hundred in 9.8, won first place in that event at the state track meet at Austin this spring, as well as a first in the 220.

The trouble with the "Hoss" is that he hasn't been convinced that the track season is over and keeps up his sprinting clad in a football uniform.

He has rolled up 335 yards in scoring his seven TDs, with his longest run covering 90 yards. Four of his scoring jaunts were for more than 60 yards. His yards rushing in three games totals 483 yards on 34 carries — an average of 14.5, well above his 1953 average of 11.3.

Though an important cog in the "TV" attack fashioned by his coach, Dillard Adair, the 18-year-old senior wears the same size headgear as he did before he began to read his name in the sports pages, and actually refused to pose for a publicity photo last fall, unless the rest of the team was included in the shot. This, of course sets well with his teammates, who block as enthusiastically for the Hoss, as they do for less heralded backs.

"Finest team man and one of

the shyest and most modest kids I ever saw," says his coach.

With opposing coaches pointing for Colorado City — and Gainey — it is fairly certain that some team will hobble the speedy "Hoss," but when they do, some other member of the Colorado City backfield may break away. Bud Windham, at full, and Tommy Jamison, at right half, both weigh in at 160 pounds, and each has scored a brace of TDs.

Quarterback Billy Williams has added a pair and Don Flippen at left end has made two trips across the double stripe — both on passes from Williams.

Windham has the respectable average of six yards plus on 21 carries.

Frank Mackey mans the extra point division and has converted eleven times on 15 opportunities. Actually the record is better than that since two of the fumbled points resulted on hobbled snafus with Mackey unable to put toe to the ball.

With three victories under its belt, Colorado City plays T-AA Monahans Friday at Colorado City. Monahans has won from Wink and been defeated by Kermit and Andrews, both Permian Basin powerhouses.

John Reeves Still On Job As Prexy

FORT WORTH (U)—Reports that John Reeves will resign as president of the Texas League have drawn only this comment from the man. "I'm still here."

Reeves, under fire from a number of the club owners, gave no indication of whether he plans to step out before the fall meeting here Oct. 11.

But apparently a determined effort will be made to oust Reeves and reports are that Eddie Dyer of Houston, former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, has been offered the job.

At Houston Dyer said he had not been contacted officially. He said he had talked to Art Routsong, general manager of the Houston Buffs; Allen Russell, president of the Beaumont club; Spencer Harris, president of the Fort Worth club, and others.

"I have not asked for the job and I have not been offered it," Dyer said.

R. W. Burnett, owner of the Dallas club, and Routsong are spear-heading the move to fire Reeves, said Lorin McMullen of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, who reported on a secret meeting in Houston last week when the stage was set for the ouster. Six of the eight directors attended the meeting at which time Burnett teamed with Routsong in mustering the six votes needed, McMullen said.

Burnett became irred at Reeves when six Texas League clubs filed a complaint with George Trautman, president of the minor leagues, charging Burnett's July campaign to bring major league baseball to Dallas was hurting the league. Burnett said Reeves instigated the complaint. Burnett was silenced by Trautman.

Routsong didn't like it because Reeves censured the Houston club for not providing sufficient police protection the night Fort Worth Manager Al Vincent went into the stands to clout a heckler.

Reeves' ruminations and the handling of umpires have been other reasons for complaint.

Baylor Favored By 7 Points

MIAMI, Fla. (U)—Coach George Sauer brought his big-scoring Baylor Bears to Miami convinced they'll have "a real rugged team" against Miami's Hurricanes tonight.

Baylor, ranked 11th in the nation in the Associated Press football poll, is favored over unranked Miami by only seven points, although the Hurricanes have not yet been tested by a major opponent.

A crowd of 45,000 is expected to turn out to see whether the young Miami team can live up to its pre-season billing as the best eleven here since the 1950 Orange Bowl club. The kickoff is scheduled for 7:15 p.m. (CST).

Sauer, whose team racked up 78 points while defeating Houston and Vanderbilt, said the Bears had worked hard on passes this week and would "throw quite a bit" against Miami.

This seemed a logical thing for Baylor to do, in view of the fact that the Hurricanes allowed Furman to complete 14 out of 35 passes for 149 yards last week. Miami won, 51-13.

Baylor has a dangerous passer in Quarterback Bobby Jones and unless Miami's aerial defense has improved sharply he could wreck the Hurricanes.

Sterling Invades Mertzson Tonight

STERLING CITY, (SC)—W. L. (Diddle) Young, coach of the Sterling City football team, takes his Eagles to Mertzson tonight for their first conference test of the campaign.

The War Birds have beaten Kon-dike, 46-12; Fort Davis, 40-24; and Akerly, 30-20, in that order.

The district championship may be decided a week from tonight, when Forsan hosts Sterling City.

On Saturday, Oct. 16, the Short-horns play idle this weekend, returns to action Saturday, Oct. 9, at which time it invades Colorado City.

On Saturday, Oct. 16, the Short-horns play idle this weekend, returns to action Saturday, Oct. 9, at which time it invades Colorado City.

Harris Takes Detroit Post

DETROIT (U)—Bucky Harris today was named manager of the Detroit Tigers. He succeeds Fred Hutchinson, who resigned yesterday after refusing to accept a one year contract.

The 53-year-old Harris was released as manager of the Washington Senators last week.

Harris managed the Tigers from 1928 to 1933. He never finished in first division.

In making the announcement, President Walter O. Briggs Jr. of the Tigers said:

"Harris comes to us highly recommended. He agreed to a one year contract."

Faulk And Phelps Trans-Miss Foes

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (U)—Former National Amateur titleholder Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville clashed with Atlanta City champ Janice Phelps today in the quarter-finals of the Trans-Mississippi Golf Tourney.

Miss Faulk downed Grace De-Moss Smith of Coral Gables, Fla., 3 and 2 yesterday while 18-year-old Janice was defeating Mary Ann Villegas of New Orleans 1-up on the 18th.

Mary Crawford of Americus, 1953 Georgia State champ defeated Joan Prentice of Birmingham, Ala. in a 25-hole battle yesterday and was to meet Polly Riley of Fort Worth today in another quarter-finals contest. Miss Riley beat Mrs. George Wilcox Jr. of Miami 2-up yesterday.

Vonnie Colby of Hollywood, Fla., who beat defending champion Edean Anderson of Seattle, Wash., 6 and 5 yesterday, faced Greta Leone of Chicago, who beat Mrs. Norma Shook of Morganton, N.C., 3 and 1.

Matched in another quarter-finals bracket were Marjorie Lindsay McMillen of Decatur, Ill., who beat Marge Burns of Greensboro, N.C., 4 and 3, and Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, who beat Joyce Ziska of Waterford, Wis., after 21 holes.

Wallace Clashes With Bob Baker

CLEVELAND (U)—Coley Wallace of New York and Bob Baker of Pittsburgh, each hoping to earn a match with the No. 1 heavyweight challenger, Nino Valdez, meet tonight in a nationally televised 16-round bout at Central Armory at 10 p.m. EST.

Wallace, who once defeated Champion Rocky Marciano while both were in the amateur ranks, was a 2 to 1 favorite over Baker and you could get even money that the bout would not go the distance.

Baker currently is ranked ninth among the heavyweight contenders. Wallace, at present, is unranked. Wallace has knocked out 15 men, while Baker has 18 to his credit. The Pittsburgh fighter once won a decision from Valdez.

NEW FORD TRIPLE ECONOMY PICKUP

Look at all the features ONLY FORD gives you — in the three areas where they count most!

1. POWER 2. DRIVING EASE 3. CAPACITY

One of the most powerful, compact engines in any Pickup.

New Power King V-8 develops its 130-h.p. from only 239 cubic inches of displacement for more efficient, gas-saving power! In either V-8 or Six, Ford's Shock-absorb design cuts internal friction, gives up to 22% more usable power. Shows piston speeds lengthen engine life.

Most comfortable cab ever built. It's DRIVERIZED!

Ford's 3-man Driverized Cab has the widest one-piece windshield in any truck. New, woven plastic upholstery... exclusive seat shock absorbers. Power Braking (Ford exclusive in Pickups). Overdrive and Fordomatic Drive... all at worth-while extra cost.

Biggest spring and axle capacities in any Pickup.

Strong, low-weight construction allows big payload capacities. Highest spring capacities and combined front-rear axle capacity in any Pickup make the 6 1/2-ft. F-100 Pickup the most rugged truck in the 1/2-ton field. Rated for up to 1,550 lbs. payload.

—And man, what a deal we can give you! Come in today and hear the most realistic price talk you've heard in years.

McCarthy Asks Senate To Vote Against Censure

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) kept under wraps today most of the defense strategy he plans against a special investigating committee's report asking the Senate to censure him.

McCarthy and his lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, formally rejected the censure findings yesterday in a bill of exceptions filed with the committee.

They urged Senate members to keep an open mind—"avoid predilection and predisposition"—until McCarthy's defense is heard.

The bill of exceptions listed arguments as to why the unanimous committee report should be turned down. But it gave few clues as to how McCarthy intends to persuade the Senate to do this when it meets in special session Nov. 8 as a jury to "try" the censure charges.

The bill of exceptions did indicate this: McCarthy's defense will be lengthy, and will include references to "myriad precedents... countless precedents" designed to prove wrong the committee's findings.

Williams refused yesterday to say whether McCarthy will demand a right to call witnesses before the Senate to attack the charges. The bill of exceptions, prepared by Williams, noted that the committee had barred from evidence in its public hearings McCarthy's efforts to point to the conduct of other senators, past and present, as precedents for his own conduct.

"All of this evidence... can and will be developed, however, in the defense of this case on the floor of the Senate," the bill said.

It held that McCarthy had been "clearly contemptuous" of a Senate Elections subcommittee which in 1952 investigated some of his financial dealings; that he used "vulgar" language "unworthy of a member of this body" on Jan. 2, 1953, in denouncing Sen. Hendrickson (R-N.J.) for signing the subcommittee's report; and that he had abused Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker in "inexcusable" fashion that reflected on the Senate itself.

The bill of exceptions said part of McCarthy's defense against the first two counts will be that this 83rd Congress has no power to punish members from actions committed during the 82nd Congress which expired on Jan. 3, 1953, and that the charges would not be censurable in any event.

"Never in the history of Congress has a senator been censured for conduct which took place in a prior Congress," Williams wrote.

He said Senators Flanders (R-Vt.), Fulbright (D-Ark.) and Morse (Ind-Ore), chief accusers of McCarthy and members of the elections subcommittee "sat silent" while McCarthy took his oath at the start of the 83rd Congress following his 1952 election.

Capehart 'Amazed' Dispute Of Mitchell, Weeks In Open

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) said today he was "amazed" that an Eisenhower administration family squabble had broken out publicly between Secretary of Labor James Mitchell and Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks.

Mitchell freely acknowledged at a news conference yesterday that he was having differences with Weeks on labor policies. It would "disturb" him, Mitchell said, if Weeks' views should prevail in the administration.

For his part, Weeks denied in a statement having any "split" with Mitchell but admitted that "our initial views on some subjects do not always coincide."

Assistant press secretary Murray Snyder, at the Summer White House headquarters in Denver, said the President would have no comment.

Capehart, saying he hadn't been aware of any differences between the two Cabinet members, told a newsman "I'm amazed that they'd wash their dirty linen before the public—I'm amazed that Mitchell would bring out into the open what seems to be personal matters between the two."
