

TEX'S TOPICS

Ladies and gentlemen of the Pampa Daily NEWS audience, it gives us great pleasure (as at least one other person has said at some time or another) to introduce to you this evening a new contributor, "Sibloink," word-maker de luxe, defender of what he calls "hamburger," and all around messer-upper of the King's English.

Sibloink, if you please, is a man of few words—and what words! First of all, the court will please note our exceptions to his testimony about "hamburger." It is entirely irrelevant, immaterial and wholly aside from the point. Judge Webster long ago held against it, and it is nowhere to be found in good standing in any court of the land.

But, in all fairness to Sibloink—and we hope he'll come again—we now give him time and space to present his side of the argument. So here it is, mysterious words and all:

Dear Sir: "As busy as I am trying to make a living, I must pause in my labors to utter a few words in defense of the lowly hamburger. I have no quarrel with you when you mix up something and call it hamburger, however, when you become so arrogant that you try to give us a new name for our beloved hamburger my blood boils with indignation. As Demosthenes said at the river Slicks, 'We won't stand for it, big boy.'"

"Why, half the business men of today were raised on hamburgers. I distinctly remember having lived on them for six months preceding my marriage in order to save enough money to get married on. By Gosh! They are, were, and still are hamburgers to me and the rest of the good people of these parts, so why not fall in line and call them, as we do, instead of trying to be so ridiculous as to give them the cognomen of hamburger? This would not even do for the singular."

"To put it in plain English for you, when the constabulary becomes so divilized that the differential can not plutovia, it is necessary that quekuencia set in immediately. Plutias as they may seem, carburation is effective to the differential in exactly the reverse proportion that swacae produces calweck."

"You're very truly, "SIBLOINK." Mebbe so, Sibloink, mebbe so, but it's still "H-a-m-b-u-r-g" to Noah and us—and what is there left that you can do about it? ... You are talking turkey to an old hamburger addict, son. ... And, excuse it if we say that when you try to argue that subject with this space you are nothing more nor less than lost on uncharted seas with a leak in your oars."

And, now, for you worry head—watch the wires today for that bank robbery. ... This is the date, draw last Monday. ... And, now all you have to do is skip over two columns from here and get the lowdown."

TODAY'S SAFETY TOPIC. THINK BEFORE YOU ACT—BUT THINK RIGHT. Persons usually leave school and strike out for themselves, whereas Fletcher Bob Feller is returning to school.

Cigaret consumption in China has grown in 30 years from insignificant proportions to an annual consumption of over 70,000,000,000 cigarettes, the per capita consumption is less than one-eighth that of the United States.

All German workers earning $120 or less per month and their family dependents are required by law to be insured against sickness, the bulk of the population paying dues to the sickness insurance board.

SENATE PASSES UNEMPLOYMENT BILL

JURORS STILL DEBATING OVER GAMBLING CASE

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL FILED BY DAVE SLAUGHTER

BULLETIN Attaches in district court stated at 2:45 p. m. today that there still was no indication that the jury in the L. G. Deuran case was ready to report.

A jury that took the case at 9 p. m. Thursday, after a night session of district court, still was deliberating testimony this afternoon in the case of L. G. Deuran, of Pampa, charged with permitting gambling and keeping a gambling place at the Belvedere night club just outside the Pampa city limits on the Berger highway.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the jury had had the case for 17 hours with about nine hours of actual deliberation. The jurors spent the night locked in sleeping accommodations at the courthouse.

Trial of the Deuran case, which began at noon yesterday, was featured by testimony of two inspectors of the Texas Liquor Control Board and seven youthful witnesses called by the State.

Inspectors Testify John Willis and Melvin Leslie, the liquor board inspectors, both Amarillo men, told of having visited the Belvedere club on the night of Aug. 31 and the morning of Sept. 1 in the line of their duties as inspectors.

Each testified that he had talked with the defendant and Sam G. Dunn, jointly indicted with Deuran on the gambling counts, and that they argued with the two men about confiscating some evidence.

Leslie testified that he took evidence from a bartender at the place and that Dunn objected to its being

TRAIN TRIP PLANS TO FETES ARE ABANDONED

Plans to get as large a delegation as possible to go to Fort Worth and Dallas on Oct. 19 and 20, Pampa Days at the Texas Centennial, were outlined at a meeting of a Chamber of Commerce committee in city hall this forenoon.

Frederick Cullum, chairman of the committee, called the session to further the arrangements for Pampa representation.

It was decided at today's session to abandon the idea of a special train to carry the local group to the Centennial. However, efforts will be pushed to get a large auto caravan to take Pampa residents to the Texas World Fair on the two dates which have been set aside in honor of Pampa at the Centennial.

FOOTBALL BOYS ARE GUESTS OF LOCAL FACULTY

60 Are Present in High School Cafeteria

A sendoff for the game at Oklahoma City today was given by Pampa Harvesters last evening by the high school faculty, with a dinner in the school cafeteria. About 60 were present.

Supt. R. B. Fisher acted as toastmaster for the impromptu program of talks and stunts. President C. T. Hunkapillar of the school board, Mrs. Hunkapillar, Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejean, Mrs. Mitchell, Principal L. L. Sone, Mrs. Sone, and Mr. Fisher all spoke briefly, and Co-captains Roy Showers and Roy Lee Jones responded for the team.

Harvesters were introduced by Coach Prejean, and teachers by E. N. Dennard, assistant principal. The invocation was by Mrs. Hunkapillar.

Big Delegation Attends Jericho Gap Celebration

Borgans, Pampans Led By Harvester Band

Delegations of Pampans and Borgans joined forces here at noon today and went to McLean where this afternoon they are participating in the "Jericho Gap" paving celebration.

Led by city and county officials from both Hutchinson and Gray counties, the combined delegations left here at 12:30 p. m. by auto caravan.

Headed by the 40-piece Pampa High school band, the delegation of upwards of 150 persons from the two cities was scheduled to march in a parade at McLean this afternoon.

Broadcast of the celebration was on the air over KPND, Pampa Daily NEWS radio station, from 1 to 3 o'clock this afternoon. Highlights of the observance and speeches by various personages throughout the area were carried on the special broadcast hookup from McLean.

The radio program also included talent and speakers from towns along Highway 66 all the way from Amarillo to Oklahoma City. The speaking program at which T. E. Johnson, of Amarillo, will act as master of ceremonies, began at 1 p. m. in the Lone Star Theater at McLean.

A polo game was scheduled for 3 p. m. and a public barbecue will be served at 5 o'clock this afternoon. A feature of tonight's celebration will be a football game between Memphis and McLean high school teams.

Guy McTaggart and Bert Curry were chairman and co-chairman, respectively, of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce committee which made arrangements for the good-will trip to McLean.

FAKE BANK HOLDUP IS CENTENNIAL FEATURE

DALLAS, Oct. 9 (AP)—A bank hold-up, all in fun, headlined police day activities at the Texas Centennial exposition today.

Members of the Dallas police force were given the task of frustrating the bandit raid.

School children from the Texas district had the run of the exposition for their second day. Hundreds of pupils were here from Bowie, Cass, Morris, Camp, Titus, Franklin and Red River counties.

A group of 125 students from Paris, headed by Supt. R. M. White, jumped the gun on the Paris district's scheduled visiting dates, Nov. 3 and 4, and arrived yesterday for a two-day stay.

Yesterday's attendance of 23,106 pushed the grand total to 4,551,845.

Russian Envoy Satisfied With War Conference

(Copyright, 1936, by The Associated Press) LONDON, Oct. 9.—A Russian expression of "satisfaction" came today from the secret session of 27 European states, pondering the grave continental crisis created by Moscow and Madrid charges of Fascist assistance to Spain's insurgents.

"I am satisfied with the proceedings," said Moseyevich Kagam, Soviet representative on European non-intervention committee, emerging from the conference room when the group adjourned for luncheon.

Already, it was learned, the Soviet, Italian, British, French, Belgian and German delegates had spoken.

In Edinburgh, meantime, the British labor party's conference approved a demand that both Britain and France open their arms markets to Madrid if it is shown the neutrality pact either is ineffective or breached.

The delegates, adding to a statement by their national executive, expressed belief Fascist states already had broken the accord.

In Paris, where British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden paused on a dash back home from an interrupted holiday, informed sources said Premier Leon Blum of France and Eden had agreed to exert every effort to prevent collapse of the non-intervention accord.

Before the delegates was the problem of determining a method to prevent glooming European Communist and Fascist camps from stepping openly into the Spanish

TOURIST CASE SUSPECT WILL GO TO PRISON

IDENTIFICATION NOT SATISFACTORY, SAYS PROSECUTOR

DALLAS, Oct. 9 (AP)—Joe Jones, assistant United States district attorney, said today a 29-year-old escaped Iowa convict, detained here in the mysterious Lorus disappearance in New Mexico last year, would be sent "at least temporarily" to Leavenworth penitentiary.

The suspect received a year and a day prison sentence Wednesday from Federal Judge William H. Atwell on a Dyer act charge.

"Identification was not quite satisfactory," Jones said. "There is no reason why he should not be serving his sentence while investigation of the case continues."

Federal bureau of investigation agents said they had sought the man more than a year in the baffling disappearance of Mr. and Mrs. George Lorus of East St. Louis, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. George Herbert of Duquoin, Ill., from near Albuquerque, N. M., May 22, 1935.

Borger Boy Says Minister Tried To Mistreat Him

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 9 (AP)—Winford Dorman, 16-year-old boy brought here from Borger Thursday to face charges of robbery as a juvenile in complaint was released from the custody of his father Friday afternoon and information in the case was filed in district court.

A complaint was filed against the youth after Rev. H. S. Barnaby of Dallas told officers the boy had stolen a pair of shoes after his father Friday afternoon and information in the case was filed in district court.

The youth made a written statement to officials here Friday denying the robbery and asserting that he struck the pastor with the nozzle from a fire hose after the man had attempted to mistreat him. The boy was accompanied here from Borger by his father.

Barnaby was said to be in Abilene Friday.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM Dedicated to those who are figuring on responding to Mr. Clark's plea for scoutmasters:

Here we have a Scout meeting just for fun. The boy sitting over there on the stove which has a roaring fire under it has not lost his mind. He only wants to see how long he can sit there and endure the heat. The little boy lying stretched out on the six-foot-high ledge that goes around the wall in his accustomed seat. He likes to be where he can see everything. That boy hanging by his arms from the water pipe next to the ceiling is daring someone to pull him down. Now they are pulling him down. Those two boys slugging at each other with the boxing gloves are not angry, but they might be if they were not boxing. Every one of the 25 boys has been talking or yelling at the top of his voice. Well, here comes the scoutmaster. He says something. They are quiet long enough to hear him say, "Let's play something." Half of them want to play Steal the Bacon and the other half Stink Base. You'd think the scoutmaster would go nuts or walk out on the boys with all that commotion going on. No. Not he. He would not change places with a dozen Civic Leaders in town. Besides, he is just as rowdy as the boys. Look at him.

GREEN'S WIDOW SAYS DIAMONDS MADE HER SIGN

Went to See Train Studded With Gems

PORT HENRY, N. Y., Oct. 9 (AP)—Gems of "Diamond Jim" Brady, the magnificent, lured the widow of Colonel E. H. R. Green into signing away her claims to the colonel's $80,000,000 fortune, she contended today in her fight for his estate.

Brady's "transportation piece," a miniature train studded with diamonds, was on display at the offices of a New York trust company in 1917, before her husband and the colonel's widow testified, and the colonel asked her if she wanted to see it. This was before their marriage.

Arrived there, she related, she unwittingly signed away her "rights" to the fortune, her husband told her, the senator, the colonel's mother. The pre-nuptial agreement she signed, she said, gave her $625,000 and an $18,000 annuity in return for renouncing her claims to the estate, but she believed the colonel merely was giving her his money.

"I was very happy," she responded, "and I loved him. I wanted to marry the man I loved."

Read Priest's Tribute to Dead Senator

By D. HAROLD OLIVER Associated Press Staff Writer DUBUQUE, Ia., Oct. 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt opened his western campaign here today with a declaration that he was not "worried" so long as the future conduct of the nation remained in the hands of the people.

Addressing a welcoming crowd of Iowans from the rear platform of his campaign special, the chief executive asserted there was a "great moral lesson pointing the direction which our country must needs go" in an oration given by Father Sheehy at funeral services several months ago for Senator Murphy of Dubuque, Iowa, who was killed in an automobile accident.

He quoted at length from that tribute which included a statement that tribute which included a statement that "drastic measures" were necessary to meet social problems when Murphy took office, and while some of those measures may have been unwise the senator "couldn't stand idly by and do nothing."

The senator, the tribute went on, was determined that no one should starve in a land of plenty and ignored the "swarming cries of rabble rousers who today make both our hearts and aches ache."

Declaring Murphy was a close friend of his, the President asserted he wanted to read Father Sheehy's tribute "instead of talking politics" because "these words, while not political are concerned with better government all over this nation."

Mrs. Roosevelt appeared on the platform with her husband and said, "I'm not here on what some might consider a political trip," the President said, smiling, "I'm trying to

CAPITOL HILL'S FIELD IS WET BUT NOT MUDDY

Fans Are Asked Not To Call Before 8:45 O'clock

A wet but not a muddy field greeted the Harvesters and Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejean as they arrived in Oklahoma City at noon today, according to Harry E. Hoare who will send reports of the game to the NEWS beginning about 8:45 o'clock.

Although interested persons are invited to telephone the NEWS for results they are asked not to call before 8:45. First quarter results will not be available before that time. The game will not start until 8:15 o'clock.

Rain fell on the Capitol Hill field last night and early this morning, a telegram received at noon said, Capitol Hill is favored to win by a large score. Despite the mud, the Harvesters will feature a passing attack and end runs.

The football team is staying at the Kincaid hotel. Numerous Pampans accompanied the team to Oklahoma City.

3 CONVICTS ESCAPE FROM PRISON FARM

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 9 (AP)—Three convicts escaped from the Wynne prison farm under the rifle fire of guards last night.

Ruby Jones, 26, of Glimmer, David Whitaker, 24, of Nacogdoches, negroes, and Nicolas Dianda, 30, of Rankin, crawled from an unlocked building, scaled a high wire fence, and fled to freedom through the surrounding fields.

Guard C. L. Cains fired twice as they ran through the lighted area about the farm buildings. Bloodhounds lost the trail where it led onto a highway.

Farm Manager R. H. Baughn said the building guard "must have been asleep" to let the trio steal from their building without seeing them.

Jones, serving life as an habitual criminal, waded through the main prison gates in 1935 under guard's guns, posing as a trusty. He was free five months, then arrested and convicted in Rusk and Henderson counties on nine counts of burglary. Whitaker was convicted in Cherokee county in July last year and sentenced to 15 years for robbery with firearms. He had been punished three times for fighting.

INSURANCE FOR JOBLESS WILL BE FURNISHED

2 HOUSES MUST GET TOGETHER ON TWO BILLS

AUSTIN, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Senate passed a bill today setting up a state system of unemployment compensation under the federal social security act.

The vote was 17 to 8 with one pair.

The House of Representatives previously has passed a bill which differs in numerous sections from the Senate measure by Allan Shivers of Port Arthur and therefore the Senate action was not final.

The Senate approved the bill after strong opposition from T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, Senate dean, who charged the federal social security board sought to purchase consent of the states to a dictatorship over relations between employers and employees.

The House of Representatives had forwarded to the Senate its first revenue-raising proposal of the special session—the Frazier-James tax bill designed to provide $8,000,000 annually for old age pensions.

Called into conference by Governor Allred for two purposes—to raise money for pensioners and to establish an unemployment insurance system—the Senate has been awaiting tax proposals, which by law must originate in the House.

The lower body yesterday passed the initial piece of revenue-raising legislation with major increases of 37 1/2 per cent on oil, sulphur, natural gas and utilities and a one cent tax on cigars included. Some original proposals had been eliminated.

The bill also would place a ten per cent tax on admissions to various theaters and sport amusements where the price is more than 50 cents and tax all passes the same percentage. Picture shows costing 50 cents or less remained exempt in spite of efforts to include those charging 25 to 50 cents.

The omnibus bill will be referred immediately to the Senate committee on state affairs.

"They are simply attempting to purchase the state's consent to an unconstitutional measure with promises of federal funds," the Senator, a confirmed new deal critic, said.

"The bill is a crystallization of wild ideas and will be stricken down by the courts. The Supreme court already has thrown out nine new deal measures and others are awaiting trial."

He charged Shivers was not author of the bill, but that it had been sent to Texas from Washington.

The omnibus bill will be referred immediately to the Senate committee on state affairs.

POLICE FOLLOW CLUE IN HI-JACKER CHASE

City and county authorities today still pressed a hunt for two robbers who held up and assaulted E. C. Rudrauff in his grocery store at 216 N. Ward-st Wednesday night.

Mr. Rudrauff, 60 years of age, was slugged three times by the bandits when he resisted their efforts to rob him. They ran from the store with a cash register which contained about $70 in cash.

Authorities indicated today they had a clue which may lead to arrests. Mr. Rudrauff furnished police with a good description of the two men.

Final Services Of Revival Are This Week-End

The revival meeting in the First Baptist church is rapidly drawing to a close. There will be a night service on Saturday, as usual, at 7:30 p. m.

Tonight the Rev. Hyman Appelmann, evangelist, will preach on The Lamb of God. Tomorrow night his subject will be The Most Glorious Thing in Heaven and on Earth.

Five people responded to the invitation in the service last night. There have been over 80 additions to the church thus far.

Sunday has been designated as Victory Sunday. It is expected that the Sunday school will reach an attendance of 1000. There is a class for every sex and every age, with a teaching staff of superior quality.

An interesting, instructive, inspirational time is promised to all who come. The Jew will speak at 11 o'clock on The Romance of Cross-Bearing. He will speak again at 7:30 on When the Jewish Day of Atonement Was Finished.

By general request, a special service has been arranged for 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The Jewish evangelist will speak on "Why I Became a Christian." It will be a brief story of his life culminating in his conversion to Christianity.

"The services have been uniformly great," says the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor. "Gospel singer George Reynolds has majored on the old-time Gospel hymns. The people sing them with a will and ask for more. He is backed up by an able choir of male and female voices. His solos are warm, appealing, uplifting. We urgently recommend to all of Pampa that they avail themselves of these last three days of revival effort to have their hearts warmed and their souls stirred."

Exhibit rules and score cards for the Garden club's annual Fall Flower show next Friday have been announced by the committees in charge. The show will be open between the hours of 1 and 9 p. m. in the annex of the Presbyterian church.

The public and all Garden club members are asked to cooperate by bringing their best specimen flowers to be exhibited in the show.

The committee in charge has made certain rules with a view of stressing quality rather than quantity. These rules are being published in order to give each exhibitor information which will enable them to compete on an equal basis.

Divisions of Display. One table will contain the most perfect specimen flowers. Persons having what they consider their most beautiful specimen flower are asked to bring it in a separate container and no container with more than one flower will be shown on this table. The points for the judging of the most perfect specimen are as follows:

- Color 25
Size 20
Stem 15
Form 15
Foliage 20
Total 100

Other tables will display specimen flowers in three divisions, each in a container which are to be judged as follows:

- Color 20
Stem 20
Form 15
Foliage 20
Relation of material to receptacle 05
Total 100

Arrangements Judged. Other flowers will be judged as to artistic arrangement. These flowers may be exhibited in bouquets, smaller flowers, or flowers which would not be considered specimen flowers. These flowers are to be judged as follows:

- Color harmony 25
Points of interest to receptacle 50
Relation of interest to receptacle 20
Points of interest 15
Distinction 10
Total 100

In entering flowers under this classification, it is well to remember that the number of flowers in one container should be an uneven number rather than an even number.

Persons having flowers which they wish to exhibit and not having suitable containers are asked to get in touch with the arrangement committee in charge of the show, as entries will not be taken unless they are in containers. The arrangement committee, consisting of Mrs. Charlie Tuttle, Mrs. J. M. McDonald and Mrs. Joe Gordon, will assist in procuring receptacles if called before Friday.

Persons displaying flowers are asked to give the name of the flower exhibited, so that unusual varieties may be properly listed.

Dahlias will be entered in five classes: Decorative, Cactus, Ball, Pompon and Single. Roses will be entered in three classes, Hybrid Tea, Radiance and Cluster. Chrysanthemums will be entered in four classes, Large Flowering, Korean Hybrid, Daisy and Pompon. Registration of entries will be in charge of Mrs. Fred Cullum, Mrs. Lynn Boyd, and Mrs. H. C. Schofield.

A table of fruit entree promises to be an interesting feature of the show. The fruit shown in bowls or baskets may be purchased, as home grown fruit is not required.

Another interesting feature will be the reproduction of prints. Anyone wishing to compete in this feature is asked to bring the print with the display, together with any properties required to complete the display, such as tables or chairs.

Prize is offered to the one securing the greatest number of blue ribbons.

Out-of-town judges will be secured to judge the flowers. These judges are giving their time without cost and will be fair and impartial in their judging. The committee for

Board Vacancies at Horace Mann Are Filled

Choice of Mrs. George Alden, president, as Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association's delegate to the approaching state convention, selection of several officers to fill vacancies, and completion of plans for the annual benefit carnival made the business session the most important part of yesterday's meeting of the association at the school.

Mrs. Alden will be sent as representative to the convention at Fort Worth.

October 27 was set as the date for the annual Halloween carnival, chief profit-making venture of the association each year. Parents and teachers will arrange entertainment, sideshows, and refreshments.

Vacancies filled on the executive board were in the following offices: Vice president, Mrs. C. W. Moot; corresponding secretary, Mrs. George Friauf; parliamentary, Miss Josephine Thomas; study club leader, Mrs. T. H. Henry; program chairman, Miss LaTrice Quattlebaum; hospitality chairman, Mrs. H. E. Stevens.

Committees appointed to have charge of carnival food booths were: Candy, Mrs. Emory Noblitt; popcorn and peanuts, Mrs. C. B. Adams; confections, Mrs. Fagan; coffee and pie, Mrs. A. D. Robinson and Mrs. Brack; hamburgers, Mrs. H. E. Houchin and Mrs. E. A. Davis; ice cream, Mrs. C. E. Cary.

Miss Louise Malaise, new assistant health director in the school system, was introduced by Miss Jewell Shelby. Miss Thomas introduced Mrs. Dinkie, a new teacher at the school.

Mrs. Burl Graham, membership chairman, introduced room mothers, who in turn presented new association members from their rooms. Membership contest plans were announced.

A letter explaining the teacher Back, Mrs. E. E. Dishman, Mrs. E. R. Rigdon; class officers: Thelma Jean Dishman, pres; Oran Back, vice-pres.; secy-treas, Junior Bell; reporter, Byvonne Floyd.

retirement amendment was read by the secretary. Miss Thomas, Mrs. K. W. Bunch, and Carol Killebrew were appointed as a committee to select a picture for use as a room attendance award this year. The award this month went to Miss Clara Brown's room.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Lon Blansett, and featured a forceful and interesting talk by James Todd on Influence of the Home on the Child. C. O. Croson played a violin solo, accompanied by James Rodden, pianist. Mrs. Earl Powell gave a reading, Origin of the White Man.

After the meeting, many of the members visited the classroom of Mr. Killebrew, new art teacher in the school, to see a display of his work.

MAKES SITS FOR 3 DAYS WITH DEAD WOMAN

CONVICTED PYROMANIAC CAME FROM FT. WORTH

CHICAGO, Oct. 9 (AP)—The motive for his three-day vigil with the corpse of his divorced wife locked today behind the unconscious lips of Coydon Black, 38, found staggering about in a smoke-filled room next to the South Side apartment boudoir where Mrs. Cordelia Black, 35, lay dead.

State's Attorney Mal Coghlan said Mrs. Black apparently had been poisoned, probably not later than Tuesday. Black, blood streaming from a slashed wrist, lapsed into a coma last night soon after the janitor of their apartment building, investigating a curl of smoke from beneath the door of their quarters, discovered the macabre tragedy.

Mrs. Black's body lay in a bedroom, locked on the outside at least three days. Other residents of the building said they had seen Black leaving and entering the apartment until yesterday. When the janitor found him he was gasping for breath in a room fogged with smoke from the burning upholstery of a chair which police said was fired by a carelessly thrown cigarette.

From papers among her effects police identified her as Mrs. Black, a railroad stenographer transferred early this year from Fort Worth, Texas, to Chicago. They learned she was divorced from Black about a year and a half ago. The identification was confirmed by Herbert Bradshaw, fellow employee of Mrs. Black. He declared Black, arrested six years ago in Topeka, Kas., as a pyromaniac, served two years in prison and was paroled in 1930. During Black's incarceration, Bradshaw said, Black once attempted to end her life.

SENIORITAS RESCUED BY FASCIST TROOPERS

(Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press) WITH THE FASCIST ARMIES AT SAN MARTIN DE VALEIGLESIAS, Spain, Oct. 8.—(Delayed)—Tired and bedraggled Fascist legionnaires charged into this peaceful village today and tore the lock off the town jail to release, among other hostages held by the retreating government forces, three young Madrid girls of excellent family.

Imprisoned for weeks, the senioritas were almost too weak to stand. They told a pathetic story.

Daily, they said, they were in fear of execution. This was but one incident of the dramatic capture of this strategically important town, 36 miles west of Madrid.

Two columns of legionnaires and Moors smashed their way from Almorox, 12 miles distant, in less than twelve hours.

It was a day of bitter fighting, with insurgent planes, again unopposed in the air, raining bombs and insurgent artillery displaying remarkable efficiency.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912, AND MARCH 3, 1933 News, published daily except Saturday, and Sunday, at Pampa, Texas, for October 1, 1936, STATE OF TEXAS, County of Gray.

Before me, a notary public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Philip R. Pond, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the publisher, proprietor, and owner of the Pampa Daily News and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date specified in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, as amended by the Act of March 3, 1933, embodied in section 377, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, managing editor, and business managers are: Publisher, Pampa Daily News, Pampa, Texas; General Manager, James E. Lyons, Pampa, Texas; Managing Editor, Tom DeWesse, Pampa, Texas; Business Manager, Philip R. Pond, Pampa, Texas.

2. That the owner is: (If owned by a corporation, its name and address must be stated and also immediately thereunder the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding one per cent or more of total amount of stock. If not owned by a corporation, the names and addresses of the individual owners must be given. If owned by a firm, company, or other unincorporated concern its name and address, as well as those of each individual member must be given.) R. C. Hollis, C. H. Hollis, Harry Hollis, Santa Ana, California.

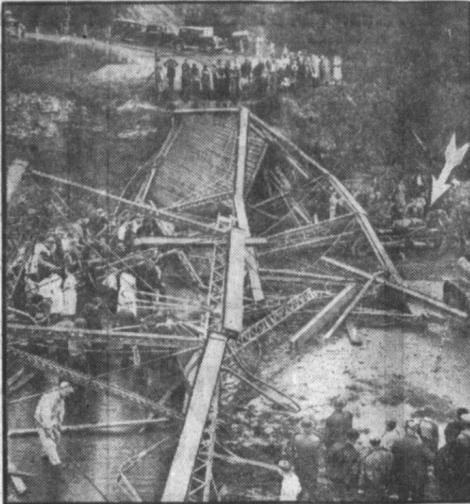

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: (If there are none, so state.) James E. Lyons.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders who appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such stock is held, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, or other securities than as so stated by him.

5. That the average number of copies of this publication sold or distributed, through the mails, or otherwise, to paid subscribers during the twelve months preceding the date shown above is 2,823. (This information is required from daily publications only.)

- NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—Dr. Walter Dammrosch's Music Appreciation hour, which goes via the combined WEAF-WJZ-NBC hookups, resumes today for its ninth consecutive year of broadcasting. This season a time change is being effected, and instead of mornings, the hour's program will be presented from 12 o'clock in the afternoon. Basically the programs will follow the same general plan of past years.
- Another NBC feature also comes back Friday. It is the WJZ-NBC Radio Guild which begins by presenting "The Pillars of Society." Time on the air has been set at 2:30 p. m. the next half-hour after the Music Appreciation hour.
- Its anniversary night for the WABC-CBS Hollywood Hotel at 8 beginning of its third year, Dick Powell, now honeymooning with his bride, Joan Blondell, will participate from New York. Otherwise the program comes from Hollywood.
- Besides doing her own program, Jessica Dragonette will appear as guest soloist in Shep Fields' show on WJZ-NBC at 9. Other guests will be Jones and Hare. Andre

'It' Has Become Merely a Word To Elinor Glyn

"It"—that rare gift of the gods! To have "it," the fortunate possessor must have that strange magnetism which attracts both sexes. He or she must be entirely unconscious and full of self-confidence, indifferent to the effect he or she is producing, and uninfluenced by others. There must be physical attraction, but beauty is unnecessary. Conceit or self-consciousness destroys "it" immediately. In the animal world "it" demonstrates in tigers and cats—both being fascinating and mysterious, and quite unbindable.

—Elinor Glyn in "It."

By ROBERT LETTS LONDON (AP)—Elinor Glyn, who made "it" a household word, isn't interested in it any more.

She has lost touch with modern youth, she says—and after eight years' absence from America, she has almost forgotten what "it" is all about.

The "flaming youth" she made famous seemingly is giving way to sensibility, she said, but "it" will take time.

Sitting on a 200-year old chair in her ornate, gold-decorated living room where hangs a lighted oil painting of herself done 24 years ago, the longtime advisor to the lovers said:

"I'm afraid I don't know much about the modern woman. I've been away from America too long.

No Comparison "Of course, we have modern women in England and on the continent, but one can't compare them with those in the days of Clara Bow—dear little Clara!—because Europe is behind America in such things.

"Dear little Clara! She visited me four years ago. I could have made her the greatest emotional actress on the continent, but she preferred to be good advice. I'm glad she's happily married now."

One of her two large Persian cats, "Tiger," jumped on her lap.

"Tiger, it isn't polite to do such things. Please get down at once." (And said, while the cat prepared to make itself comfortable.) "He understands every word I say."

"Tiger, please get down at once." She lifted the cat, placed it one the floor and resumed her discussion.

Women "Too Individualistic" "From the European and English points of view, the modern woman are a bit eccentric from attempting to emphasize their individualities too much. Gradually, they are realizing this and are finding their balance, but it will take some time yet."

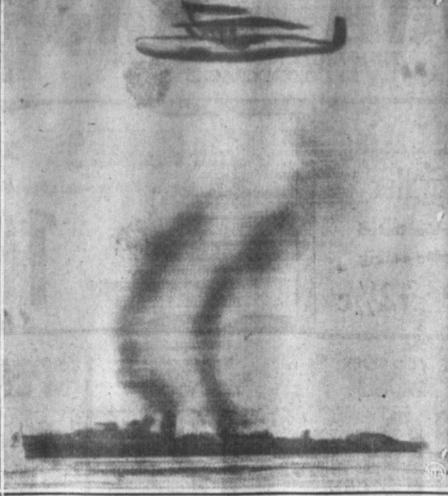

"Easily, too, is finding a balance, though all classes.

"If I had it my way, there would be a statue unveiled in every hamlet and city to the originator of the 'five and ten' stores because he brought cosmetics, stockings and even clothes within the price range of all classes.

"I wish I knew something more about 'the modern woman,' but I'm afraid I don't."

And as she strolled toward the door, she stopped to gaze at her painting, then said "goodbye" and returned to her writings, which are "habits of the 12th, 13th and 14th centuries."

As Plane Sank Spanish Warship

The actual sinking of the loyalist Spanish warship Almirante Juan Fernandez in an air bombardment is portrayed by this remarkable NEA radiophoto. Mortally damaged, the ship slowly fills with water while a rebel bombing plane hovers over it to drop one last for the coup de grace. The sinking occurred near Europa Point in the Straits of Gibraltar.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, Editor of Advance.

The growth of the Christian church through persecution and martyrdom could find no more striking, direct, and colorful illustration than in the conversion of the Philippian jailer.

Because of the uproar that their unpopular religious teachings had aroused, Paul and Silas were arrested and thrust into prison after they had had "many stripes laid upon them," or as we would say in modern terms, "severely flogged."

So intense was the zeal of the persecutors that they had the jailer make sure the prisoners could not escape. For his own protection as well as for the safe-keeping of his prisoners, the jailer not only thrust them into the inner prison, but made their feet fast in the stocks.

Could prisoners in such a plight find any occasion for light or rejoicing? Here, it would seem, was a circumstance that might have daunted the stoutest soul, but Paul and Silas, out of the joy and inspiration of their faith, were praying and singing hymns to God while their fellow prisoners listened.

Suddenly there came a great earthquake, in which the foundations were shaken, the doors opened, and everyone's bonds loosed. The jailer, roused from his sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, was about to kill himself when Paul cried loudly, "Do thyself no harm; for we are all here."

It was an amazing scene. Under Paul's example and influence, prisoners with every opportunity for escaping refused to run away. The jailer was so startled that he called for light, and fell down with trembling and fear before Paul and Silas, saying, "What must I do to be saved?"

He may have meant only what must he do to save himself from punishment by those in authority over him, or his question may have had a deeper meaning, for he could hardly have been in contact with Paul and Silas without knowing something of the salvation that they proclaimed. His strange experience may have given him a new understanding, and it may have been with sincere meaning and concern for his soul that he inquired about salvation.

At any rate, Paul interpreted the question in the larger way. The

PNEUMONIA IS FATAL TO GRANDVIEW WOMAN

Mrs. Mattie Mae Brown, 24, died yesterday evening at 7:40 at her home in the Grandview community, 15 miles south of Pampa. She had been ill of pneumonia several days. The funeral will be tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in First Baptist church here, conducted by the Rev. C. E. Lancaster. Pallbearers will be C. P. Coats, Ott Campbell, Ernest Vanderburg, Jim McCracken, Hubert Keahy, and Jack Stevens. Burial in Pampa cemetery will be by Malone Funeral Home.

GOULD HEIRESS WEDS NATIVE OF TEXARKANA

ROXBURY, N. Y., Oct. 9 (AP)—Another Gould—an adopted child, but a Gould nonetheless—today was a bride over a brilliant society wedding yesterday in the church erected to the memory of the famous financier, Jay Gould, a native of Roxbury.

In the presence of 250 guests, most of whom arrived from New York in a special nine-car train, Helen Ann Shepard, an adopted daughter of Finley J. Shepard and Mrs. Shepard (the former Helen Gould), was married to Arthur H. (Buck) Gaines, an advertising man employed on the New York Daily News.

Gaines is the son of Mrs. Le Grand Gaines of Texarkana, Tex., and a former student of the University of Michigan. The bride is one of three children adopted by the wealthy daughter of Jay Gould.

They will honeymoon in Europe and reside in New York.

CUT YOURSELF A PIECE OF CAKE

It's POLY'S Birthday Party

Just one year ago, car owners were given their first opportunity to try the new Phillips 66 Poly Gas... the extra-powered motor fuel resulting from the patented POLYmerization process.

During these twelve months your increased purchases have pushed Phillips gasoline sales to an all-time peak in the company's history.

It has been an exciting, dramatic year. A year filled with the problem—not of how to find purchasers, but of how to meet the constantly growing demand for this new kind of gasoline.

More and more motorists were finding out that there is a difference in gasolines, a difference which they could actually feel in their engines. They were discovering the extra value given by a gas 100% custom-tailored... a gas enriched with added energy units by the scientific Poly process... a gas offered by the world's largest producer of natural high-test gasoline.

Gains in sales followed on top of previous gains. The figures skyrocketed in a way never before seen in the industry. All this is tremendously important to you, because obviously "It takes a great gasoline to grow like that!"

In the spirit of Poly's first anniversary, we say "Cut your car a piece of cake." Give it a chance to give you far finer performance, with a gasoline that really delivers more power, pep, and mileage—that pays off big in your motor for every penny you pay at the pump. And remember that Phillips 66 Poly Gas does not cost a penny more than ordinary gasoline.

HARVESTERS WILL RELY ON PASSING TO CROSS UP HUGE REDSKIN TEAM

NOT LIKELY TO HIT LINE FOR BIG YARDAGE

CAPITOL HILL TO HAVE ADVANTAGE OF 30 POUNDS TO MAN

Age, size and experience once more will be on the "other side" when the Pampa Harvesters face the Capitol Hill Redskins at 8 o'clock tonight in Oklahoma City.

The little Harvesters, coaches and managers left this morning for the "big city" in the team bus, and by car. They will return early tomorrow afternoon.

Unless rain falls today, the game will be played on a dry field, which will be a break for the Harvesters. It will give them an opportunity to pass and sweep the ends. There is little prospect that the Harvesters will be able to pierce the Capitol Hill line which will average more than 180 pounds to the man.

The Harvesters will take the field without their regular quarterback, Woody Woodruff, who will be on the sidelines with a sprained ankle. Albert Ayer will probably be the fourth man in the backfield.

Leading the Oklahomans will be Lamb and Baker in the backfield and Hargrove, Brown, Pierce and Luttrell in the line. All are veterans of from two to three years experience.

Probable starting lineups for the game:

Table with 2 columns: PAMPA and CAPITOL HILL. Lists players like R. Jones, L. Jones, Morgan, Noblitt, Matthews, Nelson, Halsey, Graham, Ayer, Enloe, Showers and their positions.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—Fight fans are saying with 2 to 1 odds that Joe Louis will carve up Jorge Bessada tonight.

More than once he tipped the Yank clouters on what was coming up in the clutch.

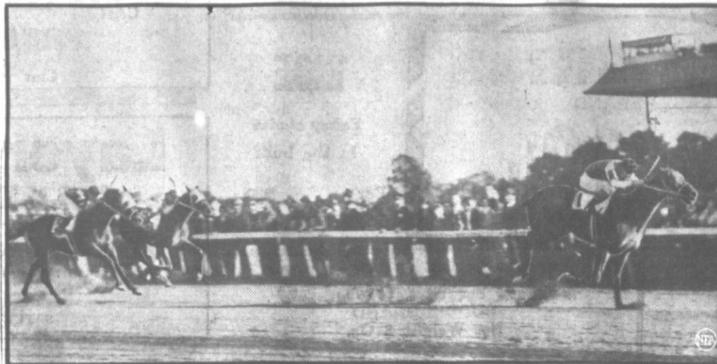

Eric (Pa.) Tech may stop Bradford high's winning streak of 32 straight when they clash tonight.

The Pampa polo team is scheduled to meet the Plainview quartet on neutral grounds on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

The games have been scheduled to be played in Amarillo on the Wolfen stables field in the southwest part of the city.

Joe Bowers and H. Otto Studer, riders will be accompanied to Amarillo by Bill Harwell, Hub Burrow, and Joe Bowers and H. Otto Studer.

$2,000 Colt Winning $56,790 Futurity

Pompoon, colt bought by Jerome H. Lucreim of Philadelphia for $2,000, scampers home far ahead of the field in the $56,790 Futurity at Belmont Park, L. I., to swell his winnings for the year to $78,420.

Barker Names Fordham To Defeat Southern Methodist

Stengel Out

Casey Stengel, likable wisecracker, has been deposed as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, but he may make it unpleasant for some of the club officials if they don't pay off on his contract, which runs through 1937.

Says Ohio State, Rice And Arkansas Will Lose Games

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—Operating on the prize fight manager's theory that "they can't hurt us," here's how this week's football slate looks from this safely-entrenched corner:

Pitt-Ohio State: One national championship bubble goes boom in this, the stand-out game of the day. Pitt has rolled up 87 points on Ohio Wesleyan and West Virginia; Ohio State walked through New York University, 60-0.

Illinois-Southern California: Bob Zupke probably will trot out a half dozen wooden horses to dazzle the Trojans but they ought to be wise to that gag by this time.

Columbia-Army: If Monk Meyer and company aren't one of the country's better teams, Columbia will find it out without recourse to the Marines. A nod to Army.

Notre Dame-Washington Univ.: Without looking, Notre Dame, Louisiana State-Georgia: Generously overlooking that tie with Texas, a vote for Louisiana.

Manhattan-North Carolina State: It's this year or never for Manhattan and the Jaspers get the call.

Tennessee-Auburn: Auburn but the Plainsmen will have to locate the scoring punch they mislaid against Tulane.

Georgia Tech-Kentucky: This may well be the South's best game. Tech on the theory that if an engineer can't cage a wildcat, who can?

Texas-Oklahoma: Probably a tight defensive tussle but Texas rates a fine edge.

Arkansas-Baylor: Arkansas, main-perry customers in their own backyard.

Rice-Texas A. & M.: That 3-0 victory over Hardin-Simmons failed to confirm the impression that the Aggies are on the way up.

MEMPHIS WILL PLAY McLEAN THIS EVENING

WELLINGTON TO MAKE STAND AGAINST LEFORS

The Class B conference race in the Panhandle districts will reach fever pitch this week-end when several games of importance will be played.

The LeFors Pirates of Coach Francis Smith will meet a worthy foe in the Wellington Skyrockets.

History might be made at McLean tonight at 8 o'clock when the Memphis Cyclones face the McLean Tigers in a critical tilt.

Another game that will be watched with interest will be in Shamrock where the Irishmen of Coach Garrison Rush will try to repel the charging Clarendon Bronchos.

Miami will invade White Deer tonight in an effort to break down the rampaging Bucks of Coach Gene McCollum which have gone undefeated so far this season.

Panhandle's giant Panthers will be in Claude today for another conference tilt which will see the Mustangs on the underdog side.

The game between the Wheeler Mustangs and the Mobeetle Hornets will not be played until tomorrow night in Wheeler. The change was made so that fans could attend the Shamrock-Clarendon game tonight.

McGRADY WILL TRY TO AVERT SHIPPING STRIKE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Admittedly gravely concerned lest a strike develop affecting both coasts, Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, prepared today to fly to San Francisco to renew efforts to settle the dispute between the Pacific coast ship owners and maritime workers.

If a strike should be called on the Pacific coast, McGrady said, it would be extended in all probability to the eastern ports.

McGrady said his first move upon reaching San Francisco would be to call a joint conference of owners and unions. He expected to arrive there Saturday.

He will have until October 15 to negotiate a settlement. On that date a 15-day trade under which negotiations are proceeding will expire.

The newly created maritime commission was keeping closely advised on coast developments while awaiting McGrady's first hand impression of the situation there before deciding what course it should follow.

The 1936 ship subsidy act under which the commission was set up gives it broad powers over working conditions and wages paid American sailors.

Communists Will Push Meeting in Alsace-Lorraine

PARIS, Oct. 9 (AP)—French communists openly defied government efforts to restrict their meetings in historic Alsace-Lorraine today.

Amid threats of a civil war in the border provinces, the communist party declared it was proceeding with plans to hold wide-spread demonstrations there.

Fears of open strife immediately are current.

A party committee flatly repudiated previous, semi-official reports to the effect only ten meetings would be held in Alsace-Lorraine. It stated the original number planned—127—had been reduced to 56 by regional organizations, not by the central committee.

Claiming 50,000 followers in the border provinces, the party asserted it refused to curtail its activities "because such is the desire of fascists acting on orders from Berlin."

The abrupt party statement blocked the efforts of Roger Salengro, minister of the interior, to reduce potential dangers of the week-end campaign.

The communists kept the exact times and places of their proposed meetings secret but strong forces of police were on guard throughout the district.

80 Planes Circle Chinese Capital

NANKING, Oct. 9 (AP)—The greatest demonstration of Chinese air strength in Nanking's history, 80 airplanes circled the capital today.

The display of the cream of China's fast-growing air force was preliminary to the celebration tomorrow the 25th anniversary of the foundation of Republican government in China.

(Complete constitutional government was forced upon the Chinese throne in 1911 when nationalists achieved their demands for a representative administration.)

Chiang Kai-Shek, the Chinese dictator, said China demands the chance to work out her own destiny, "uninterrupted and unembarrassed," in a public message.

While American baseball fans were loudly cheering the antics of Yankees and Giants in the world series, Japan, the land where the United States pastime has caught on as in no other foreign country, was just as vociferously applauding its own series.

4 CONFERENCE GAMES TO BE PLAYED IN OIL BELT TODAY

Keeping His Eye on the Ball

Texas Intercollegiate league football teams squared off today for a hectic round of conference games destined to give a good idea of strength inside a majority of the districts.

Of the fifty-four games on the schedule, twenty-two are conference struggles, the oil belt leading with four, districts ten and eleven having three each and two in each of the Port Worth and Dallas sectors and districts two, thirteen and sixteen.

The conference schedule by districts:

2-Friday: Graham at Quanah, Electra at Vernon.

3-Friday: Breckenridge at Brownwood, San Angelo at Sweetwater, Eastland at Abilene, Cisco at Big Spring.

4-Saturday: El Paso High vs. Bowie (El Paso).

7-Friday: Masonic Home (Port Worth) vs. North Side (Port Worth), Paschal (Port Worth) at Mineral Wells.

8-Friday: Adamson (Dallas) vs. Woodrow Wilson (Dallas); Saturday: Dallas Tech vs. Forest (Dallas).

9-Friday: Kilgore at Texarkana.

10-Friday: Nacogdoches at Palestine, Mexia at Henderson, Jacksonville at Athens.

11-Friday: Waxahachie at Waco, Corsicana at Hillsboro, Temple at Bryan.

12-Friday: Harlandale (San Antonio) at Austin.

13-Friday: Milby (Houston) at Conroe.

15-Friday: Laredo at Kingsville.

16-Friday: Weslaco at Edinburg, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo at Harlingen.

FELLER WORRIES 'NOT A BIT' OVER SQUABBLE

VAN METER, Ia., Oct. 9 (AP)—All baseball, it seems, is worrying, except the farm boy baseball is worrying about—17-year-old Bob Feller, the game's $100,000 problem child pitcher.

But while Commissioner K. M. Landis makes up his mind whether the Cleveland Indians violated the major-league agreement by signing the boy from the sandlots, the co-holder of the major league strikeout record goes to high school, helps his father-father with the chores, pitches a few exhibition innings now and then, and worries "not a bit."

"I don't think," he said today, "the judge would make me quit pitching. And that's the only thing I'd worry about. Of course, I'd rather pitch for Cleveland."

"But I've got to go along with the judge's decision just like everybody else."

Judge Landis can rule that the boy, whose fast ball whiffed 17 Philadelphia Athletics in one game, is Cleveland's property; that he is a "free agent"; or that he should be awarded to the Des Moines Western league club, which protested Cleveland's acquisition of Feller, claiming priority rights.

The Queen of the Rio Grande Valley Fishing Rodeo at Port Isabel, Oct. 7-11, will wear a gown made entirely of giant tarpon scales.

CHIANG BALKS AT TERMS

TOKYO, Oct. 9 (AP)—Japanese officials declared today that the conference between Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, China's dictator, and Japanese Ambassador Shigeru Kawagoe, did not warrant optimism for settlement of the Sino-Japanese crisis.

Christians Will Face Passing Team At Tulsa

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT Associated Press Sports Writer DALLAS, Oct. 9 (AP)—Three intersectional games, one spotlighting the Southern Methodist Mustangs before a predicted "world series" throng at New York, play second string to a pair of Southwest Conference battles tomorrow.

Lined up for kickoffs in four states—Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and New York—will be:

Texas A. & M. vs. Rice, at Houston.

Baylor vs. Arkansas, at Fayetteville, Ark.

Southern Methodist vs. Fordham, at New York.

Texas vs. Oklahoma, at Dallas.

Texas Christian vs. Tulsa University, at Tulsa, Okla.

The "on the spot" Texas Aggies, rushed by heavy publicity to the front of the pack, make their debut in the conference race against a Rice team obviously lacking their cunning of the past two years.

Ballyhoo didn't produce any touchdowns for the Aggies last week-end against Hardin-Simmons. It was the unbalanced kicking toe of Johnny Morrow, their great end, that pulled them through, 3-0.

They look good, however, against an Owl team, beset by injuries, that has dropped successive games to Louisiana, St. and Duquesne.

Dropped last week by a Texas Christian aerial and ground barrage that smacks of last year's attack, the University of Arkansas Razorbacks went back to the Ozarks, dumped over-confidence in the ash heap and smothered the rough spots in the defense with the latest aerial show in preparation for Baylor this week-end at Fayetteville.

Coach Fred Thomsen promises the Razorbacks, sans their preseason "newspaper clippings," will look a trifle better. Scoring duties will be left to Jack Robbins, a great passer; Alan Keen and Ralph Rawlings.

Baylor's Bears, defeated last week by Centenary, have spent the week trying to arouse a veteran backfield which hasn't clicked satisfactorily. Arkansas' passing attack to triumph in this one.

In Gotham, shouldering prestige of the conference, are Southern Methodist's Mustangs, perhaps a trifle larger shadow of the Rose Bowl team than their admirers realize.

Forcing duties will be left to Jack Robbins, a great passer; Alan Keen and Ralph Rawlings.

CZARS OF WALL STREET ABOARD AIRSHIP TODAY

Hindenburg Will Fly Over 6 States In East

ABOARD AIRSHIP HINDENBURG OVER NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 9 (AP)—The zeppelin Hindenburg was turned into a showboat today making personal appearances in six states and carrying the most imposing passenger list in air history.

With a group of 73 of the nation's business and financial leaders aboard, the sky liner took off from Lakehurst, N. J., for a 620-mile trip.

The trip had a double objective—to reintroduce business men in zeppelins in general, and to put the Hindenburg in particular in display over half a dozen states.

Conservative estimate, Nelson Rockefeller, Winthrop W. Aldrich, chairman of the board, Chase National Bank, New York, John D. Hertz and the others probably represent a billion dollars in assets.

PARK CITY, Utah, Oct. 9 (AP)—Mrs. Albert Wymar of Houston, Tex., asked officers today to search for her husband, whom she accused of ending their honeymoon by stealing her automobile and cash.

The car was abandoned in Denver Colo., five days ago, but its ownership established only last night.

Chief of Police J. A. McQuillan said Mrs. Wymar, 65, sprained her wrist and injured a leg in a fall at a Park City apartment where she sought refuge.

McQuillan said the couple met several months ago when Wymar rented an apartment from the widow. They were married three weeks ago, sold the apartment house and started for Alaska.

Mrs. Wymar reported, McQuillan said, that her husband disappeared suddenly after reaching Park City. She wrote to a neighbor, Mrs. Noble Virgin of Houston, asking money to return home.

NEW DEAL LEFT ONLY SHREDS SAYS LONDON

ABCARD LONDON 'TRAIN en route to Chicago, Oct. 9 (AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon asserted today the New Deal "has left us enough shreds of democratic self-government for the will of the American people to be expressed at the polls next month" and "they are going to demand in no uncertain way that their country be given back to them."

Undercover' Men' in Reich Army

A masterpiece in camouflage is this hiding place of an infantry outpost, on the "front" in the recent gigantic maneuvers of the German army, greatest held since the World War, in the province of Hesse. The steel-helmeted and gas-masked foot soldiers are entirely concealed from a foe in the air and only sharp-eyed advancing infantrymen would discern them before it was too late to escape death from their rifles.

RAYBURN AND SENATOR ARGUE OVER NEW DEAL

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 9 (AP)—Senator Warren Austin (R-Vt) and Representative Samuel Rayburn (D-Tex) debated the "right" of the new deal to expect a vote of confidence based on its performance during the past 3 1/2 years.

IS ARABS KILLED

JERUSALEM, Oct. 9 (AP)—Fifty Arab were killed today by British troops in the Nabulus-Tulkaram area during an intensive search for Palestine's "public enemy No. 1," the Syrian leader Fawzi Bey Kawakji. Fawzi was not found. Two British tanks inflicted casualties on an Arab band yesterday before they were stopped by the rebels.

Trains Wrecked by Spikes Laid on Rails for Thrill

This tangled mass of wreckage, representing $100,000 damage, was the result of the derailment of two trains when hit spikes placed on the rails at Welch, W. Va., by a 14-year-old boy who "liked to see the engines hit the spikes." One passenger locomotive and a freight locomotive and 14 cars were wrecked, delaying traffic 24 hours. Juvenile authorities were considering the case of the youth who caused the mishap.

White Perch Biting Again FOR ANGLERS

MOST SKITTISH FISH IN TEXAS WATERS HARD TO CATCH

BY DAVID A. CHEAVENS, Associated Press Staff Writer. DALLAS, Oct. 9 (AP)—October weather stimulates thoughts of corn pone and chittlings in some minds and sends others into a football furor, but to a certain select sector of the populace it means simply that the white perch are biting again.

White Perch Biting Again FOR ANGLERS

The humble perch is no vindictive, bull-backed brawler like the bluegill black bass, nor can he begin to compare in pugacity with dozens of varieties of salt water fish. He is not to be lured with delicate artificial bait cast daintily with a slender fly rod, but nevertheless, he is no cinch to catch.

William Stark Dies at Orange

ORANGE, Oct. 9 (AP)—William H. Stark, 85, who rose from a sawmill hand to a millionaire industrialist, lumberman and philanthropist, died at his home here last night of a heart ailment.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Luther Memorial Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Evergreen cemetery.

Stark was active in his numerous businesses until he was stricken Tuesday. At his bedside when he died were his wife, the former Mrs. Miriam Lutzer, whom he married here in 1881, and his son, H. J. Lutzer Stark, a regent of the University of Texas.

His philanthropies here and over the state were widely known. Born in San Augustine county, he came here 64 years ago and began amassing a large lumber fortune. He had extensive holdings in East Texas and Western Louisiana.

At the time of his death Stark was president of the Lutzer-Moore Lumber Co., First National Bank of Orange, Vinton Petroleum Co., Orange Grocery Co., Lutzer & Moore Lumber Co., Gray and Capital Lumber companies, Texas Creosoting Co., American Southern Life Insurance Co., Orange Products Co., and Orange Car & Steel Co.

JOE LOUIS FAVORED TO KAYO BRESCIA TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—Joe Louis, who has come back to his old theory that a fight every few weeks is just what he needs, takes on big Jorge Brescia of Argentina at the Hippodrome tonight in his third bout since he was beaten by Max Schmeling last June.

The static fraternity hardly expects Brescia to give the Brown Bomber any more trouble than Jack Sharkey or Al Ettore did, but since Schmeling proved Joe can be hit and can be beaten, they figure there's always a chance.

The odds are 2 to 1 that Louis will win by a knockout.

Brescia, a big youngster with a good wallop but practically no experience, plans to stake everything on his punch. The Argentine has had only eight bouts in the United States, mostly against "minor leaguers" of the ring, but he has won five by knockouts.

In a 10-round preliminary, Gunnar Barlund, who claims the heavyweight championship of Finland, faces Sandy McDonald of Dallas, Texas.

The appearance of Louis is expected to provide Promoter Mike Jacobs with a capacity crowd of 7,000.

ELEPHANT GRIES AFTER KILLING VIRGINIA BOY

BEAUMONT, Oct. 9 (AP)—Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus officials said they expected no further trouble today from Trilby, massive one-eyed elephant that stomped 22-year old Lee Roberts of Rutland, Va., to death in a sudden rage yesterday.

Normally docile, the elephant seized Roberts with her trunk, flung him against a wall and crushed him under her feet. Lawrence Davis, head trainer, said the youth apparently failed to awaken the animal before trying to place a collar on her.

Trilby had been with the circus 22 years. She went through her routine after the tragedy without signs of fury. Davis said she cried and showed deep remorse.

The sheriff's department said it would take no action in the matter.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE.

STATE OF TEXAS, County of Gray.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain order of sale issued out of the 31st District Court of Gray County, Texas, and to me as Sheriff of Gray County, Texas, directed and delivered, on a judgment rendered in said court, on the 8th day of January, 1936, in favor of J. E. Murfee, Jr., and against Mrs. Nellie D. Eller in the case of J. E. Murfee, Jr. vs. Mrs. Nellie D. Eller, No. 4259 on the docket of said court, I did on the 8th day of October, 1936, at 1:45 o'clock P. M., levy upon the following described tracts and parcels of land situate in the County of Gray, State of Texas, more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

All of Lots Fourteen (14) to Twenty-six (26), both inclusive, in Block Number Two (2), being all of the South half of Block Two, in the Eller Addition to the City of Pampa, Gray County, Texas, and all of Lots One (1) to Thirteen (13), both inclusive, in Block Three (3), being all of Block Three, of the Eller Addition to the City of Pampa, Gray County, Texas, according to the recorded map or plot of said Addition on file in the office of the County Clerk of Gray County, Texas; and on the first Tuesday in November, 1936, it being the third day of said month, at the courthouse door of Gray County, in the City of Pampa, between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M., I will proceed to sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash all the right, title and interest which the said Nellie D. Eller had in and to the above described property on the 14th day of September, 1936, or at any time thereafter, to satisfy a judgment in the sum of Eighteen Hundred Thirty-one and 31/100 ($1,831.31) Dollars together with interest from the 8th day of January, 1936, at the rate of ten per cent per annum and $7.90 costs of suit, and my fee for executing this writ.

Witness my hand this 8th day of October, 1936.

EARL TALLEY, Sheriff, Gray County, Texas.

FIVE HOLE IN ONE SHOTS ARE MADE IN UNITED STATES DAILY

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—Aces, prize shots of golf, are produced in the United States at an approximate rate of five a day.

Since the Associated Press began collecting verified aces of its National Hole-in-One club last Jan. 1, 194 one-shotters have been reported from the nation's shooting galleries, or an approximate average of five daily. Every state in the Union, except Nevada, has produced holes-in-one.

Thirty-one holes-in-one were reported during the last week with Texas still leading the inter-state race with 107 as against 103 members from Indiana. New York was third with 93 as against 78 for Minnesota and 70 for California.

Several aces were scored in tournament play last week. In the women's national championship at Summit, N. J., Patricia Stephenson of Minneapolis scored an ace on the 192-yard tenth hole to square her match with Marion Miley, Lexington, Ky. star, only to lose the duel. New members included: Monty Colvin, Harlingen, Texas, fifth hole, 155 yards, Harlingen Municipal.

G. H. Alsop, Dallas, Texas, tenth hole, 140 yards, Parkdale G. C.
D. Cann, Dallas, seventh hole, 149 yards, Glen Lakes C. C.
Dr. George Brown, Beaumont, Tex., second hole, 152 yards, Beaumont C. C.

BOYS IN PICTURE

In the Kemper News, publication of the Kemper Military School at Booneville, Mo., dated Sept. 22, 1936, four Panhandle boys appear as members of the football squad. They are James Emmett Cooke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Cooke of McLean; Charles Finley, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Finley of McLean; Tom Rose, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rose of Pampa, and Storm of Amarillo.

All Tickets for Ohio State-Pitt Game Are Sold

COLUMBIA, O., Oct. 9 (AP)—Football hysteria—the intensive kind that only Ohio's capital knows—gripped Columbus today as 75,000 fans with tickets, and thousands without them, awaited Saturday's clash between the Bucks and the Golden Panthers of Pittsburgh.

Among the 75,000 will be the republican presidential candidate, Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas. They hung the "sold out" sign on the big concrete horseshoe yesterday, and announced no standing room would be available at any price, definitely limiting the attendance to about 75,000. "Scalpers" immediately came out of hiding with duets but asked $10 a copy.

All Columbus hotels were filled, parking spaces were at a premium, restaurants were feeding customers in relays, and traffic was a snarl. There was but one topic of conversation, and that centered around the age old question: "Who do you think will win?"

NOVICE VERSUS PRO
CHICAGO (AP)—Detectives at the Deering Street police station learned something about their own job from Sam Jones, the negro janitor. After they failed to trace ownership of two homing pigeons found in a crate on the street, Sam took over the job. He attached a note to one pigeon and freed it. The note asked the owner to call for the other pigeon. In two hours the owner, Marlon Knieczy, 12, appeared.

FREE CITY NO MORE.
FREE CITY OF DANZIG, Oct. 9 (AP)—Nazis, pushing their clean-up of all opposition, virtually wiped out social democratic organization in the Free City today. Secret police of the Nazi administration raided Socialist party headquarters and seized membership lists. Then they closed the plant of the newspaper Volkstimme, asserting they had found quantities of ammunition and anti-Nazi handbills in the building.

Dates on the Valley Mid-Winter Fair at Harlingen have been hanging to Dec. 2-6. A Centennial celebration this year, it is designed to attract many of Texas' winter guests.

Two new Centennial celebrations recently added to the calendar are Hamilton, Oct. 7-9, and Rio Grande City, Oct. 25. The former is a county fair; the latter is a patriotic pilgrimage.

FAILURE TO FACE FACTS COSTS AMERICANS DEARLY

When we are afraid of a thing, we hate to hear its name used. And so it happens that the word, "Cancer," is more or less taboo. We shy away from it, as if merely to mention it would somehow bring its menace a little closer.

A reminder of this came during recent sessions of the American Roentgen Ray Society in Cleveland. Three Philadelphia specialists addressed the X-ray experts on the question whether cancer sufferers should be told frankly that they have the malady.

The conclusion was that in most cases they should. The man who knows that he has a cancer will at least do all that he can do to get cured. If he does not realize what is wrong with him, he is apt to go on putting off treatment until it is too late for anything to help him.

Eminently sensible, you say? To be sure—and yet it is the sort of advice which we seem to have an instinctive tendency to ignore.

There are certain diseases which we simply will not talk about. We actually seem to try to pretend that they do not exist.

The ostrich is not the only two-legged creature that likes to hide its head in the sand. We have the same habit. And—because some of these diseases could be brought under control if we would face them frankly—we pay a frightful cost for it.

We won't talk about cancer or even admit that it exists, if we can help it. We won't talk or write about venereal diseases—although you would not be exaggerating very much if you said that this was in some respects the greatest problem that faces the race today.

A social disease is both preventable and curable. A proper program of public education, utilizing to the full all that medical science has been able to find out about the disease, could wipe this scourge of humanity off the books—or, at least, could reduce it to manageable proportions.

But will we stand for such a program? We will not. If a newspaper or a magazine as much as mentions it, we feel offended. If a public speaker touches on it, we feel that he has made a bad social error. We do our level best to pretend that there is no such disease, or that, if there is, it is not especially important.

Yet a reliable authority tells us that there are 10,000,000 cases of the disease in America, with 400,000 new ones developing each year!

And so we go on, paying a horrible price in insanity, progressive physical deterioration, and death. We spend millions for asylums for the insane, workhouses, poor farms, and hospitals which this disease makes necessary.

In some supremely stupid way we seem to find this better than facing the issue frankly, and doing what is necessary to get the malady under control.

The doctor's greatest ally is public enlightenment; his greatest handicap, public ignorance.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

NEW YORK.—The best way to discover the secret campaign plans of a major party seems to be to hang around the opposition headquarters and see what the scouts and spies have brought in.

One party's high command usually knows—or thinks it knows—just what coup the high command of the other party is about to perpetrate.

If the Republicans are ignorant of the nature of the spectacular grandstand play which they expect Roosevelt to pull off on the eve of election—as one gathers they are—it's a fair bet that the president and his advisers haven't worked that one out yet.

This writer's observation has been that the New Deal strategists have usually been only about one jump ahead of the gun in deciding where to place the next shot.

There's a fairly straight tip, however, that Roosevelt will deliver a last-minute radio blast aimed at alleged slush funds and at avalanches of delayed propaganda in the doubtful tier of states running from New York to Michigan.

That, however, will be a counterattack in response to a major Republican effort of which Democrats have had advance notice.

About 40,000,000 letters, according to tips received by Roosevelt leaders, will be mailed from G. O. P. sources to employes and stockholders in the last two or three days before election.

These, it is said, will be of the "scare" type and the mailing list will be taken from stockholder and payroll lists furnished by corporations and other employers. The idea would be to reach nearly every voter, offsetting favorable business news by forecasting disaster to business, employment, and investments in case of Roosevelt's reelection.

This story may be exaggerated, but Democrats are taking it seriously enough to be planning on a fast, punchy comeback from Roosevelt over a national hookup.

Similarly, they hope to offset effects of other last-minute barrages, such as circulation of 20,000,000 tabloids in doubtful states for which they understand the G. O. P. has let a $300,000 contract, and, most of all, the effect of a great outlay of cash which they expect to be unleashed against them in the final clinches.

Of course the Democrats, too, will empty their campaign chest into such important doubtful states as Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio, and Illinois. But it is generally accepted that the Republicans have far more to spend.

Chairman W. B. Bell of the G. O. P. finance division long ago notified National Chairman John Hamilton, in case Hamilton didn't already know it, that the big money was to be saved for the last days, when it would be plunked into the key states.

According to Democrats in Pennsylvania, the biggest financial effort will be made in the Keystone state. Political charges for public consumption are to be discounted and the assertion of Pennsylvania Democrats that Republicans are raising a five-million-dollar fund for use at the polls Nov. 3 probably is just guesswork.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by DR. LAGO CALZOSTON for the New York Academy of Medicine

Essentially, and in its mildest form, migraine is a painful headache. In its more severe forms migraine is associated with disturbances in vision, and with gastric distress in which prolonged vomiting is an outstanding feature. At times, neuralgia of the face or neck is a distressing complication.

Migraine is a condition which tends to recur with regular frequency. The onset of the disease may occur at any time in life, and is not uncommon in childhood. The condition is frequently found among several members of one family, and a hereditary predisposition is believed to contribute to its development.

The specific cause of Migraine is unknown. Many factors are known, however, which tend to precipitate and to aggravate the attacks. Among these are eyestrain, allergic reactions, sensitiveness to foods, dusts and foreign proteins, faulty dietetic habits, such as irregular spacing of meals, and over-eating.

Occupation also affects migraine. Individuals whose work entails responsible and exacting brain-work, and those laboring under high pressure, especially if they are obliged to be physically inactive, are especially likely to suffer migraine. Again, those who are obliged to travel much on trains or in autos, and individuals whose eyes are strained by prolonged application, glare, flicker or dazzle, may suffer migrainous headaches.

Despite the fact that we are ignorant of its basic causes, much can be done to avert attacks of migraine and to render them less painful and shorter in duration.

The common attack is preceded by a warning period. If this warning is heeded, the attack may be staved off, or rendered mild. What is required then is for the sufferer to "go easy," to avoid all nervous and physical strain. Sedatives prove valuable in this condition, but should be used only on the physician's description, and precisely as he advises. Many migraine sufferers become, so to say, "sedative addicts," with little benefit to the condition proper and much harm to themselves.

Correction of hygiene and dietetic faults is clearly indicated as is the improvement of general health by exercise and outdoor living.

Finally, many cases of migraine are of psychogenic origin. The migraine appears when emotional stresses are placed upon the sufferer. Such a sufferer needs psycho-logical treatment, for though the headache is real enough, its causes reside not so much in the person proper as in his personality, an environment, either or both of which require adjustment.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD.—Today, girls, is the day—and it's leap year besides. John Barrymore, the "great screen lover" and no romantic slouch in real life, is a free agent. One year ago Dolores Costello won the decree parting her legally from the "wicked" and today, under California law, that divorce becomes final.

Elaine A. Memory, too Elaine Barrie, too, appears to be just a memory to her former Caliban, who was lying ill in a sanitarium when his erstwhile Ariel departed for New York, announcing she had "broken her engagement" to John but was keeping the ring.

John, 54 now and no longer the romantic idol in pictures, recently left the sanitarium and was pronounced on the road to recovery. So he'll be making pictures again, and how about romance? Is the "great lover" one of Hollywood's eligible bachelors?

SHH Eligible Hollywood on the theory that a bachelor John Barrymore is always eligible, says "yes." He was decidedly eligible, for instance, back in 1928 when he first glimpsed the beautiful daughter of that earlier screen idol, Maurice Costello.

They were married in November of that year, and the hilltop mansion he built, and the yacht—rechristened the Infanta when their child Dolores Ethel Mae was expected—proved happy homes for the man who gladly left the eligible list. Happy homes, that is, until the parting and divorce proved them otherwise.

When he married Katherine Harris, the society girl who became his first wife, he had already played the dashingly romantic lover, along Broadway. After the divorce, romance led his way to socially prominent Mae Oelchles, whose pen name is Michael Strange. Divorce again, and Dolores Costello of the acting family was to become the third Mrs. John Barrymore.

SHH Has Money Until John became ill, Hollywood thought for a time that his protegee Elaine Barrie would be the fourth Mrs. Barrymore. They went places together, and their cross-country train-plane-airplane flights had paved the way for romantic speculation. But that, too, seems to be ended.

A really "eligible bachelor" has to be wealthy, and John probably can qualify on that score, too, although his exact financial status is just a matter for conjecture. He has been in depression, and various lawsuits have kept him involved, but he has kept on making pictures, drawing a star's salary, and he has that yacht and hilltop house. If legal troubles have hit him now, he can still act and make more money while his health lasts.

And John himself said recently: "I'll never stop falling in love. Women, to me, are as mysterious and charming and attractive and wonderful as they were the day I opened my eyes and realized they were on earth!"

TRANS-PACIFIC FLIGHT

By DECK MORGAN

Chapter XVII When Ted returned home, three days after Christmas, Kay met him at the dock with Dickie at her side.

"The little wife waiting with open arms!" she thought, as the giant flying ship settled down in the harbor and taxied up to the landing.

Ted came to her, his tanned face beaming. He gathered her in his arms, and for one quivering moment, under the feeling of his hard embrace, she yielded completely to him again. But the moment was quickly gone.

She began to talk of things that had happened since he had left. "Was old Santa Claus good to you?" Ted said to Dickie. "Sorry I didn't make it home with my presents in time for the tree, but I've got them in my duffle bag."

"I want an aviation helmet with 10,000 hours in the air on it," Dickie said. "All right, you'll have mine!" Ted replied, laughing. "It's practically worn out, anyway."

"And what do you want?" he said to Kay. She looked up at him. "You always seem to know just what pleases me, Ted," she said quietly.

"But nothing special? Nothing in jade to match those gorgeous eyes?" A. The German educator Froebel, who introduced the kindergarten system which bears his name, was born in 1782 and died in 1852.

"Oh, Ted, don't tease!" she said. "Of course I'm teasing to see what you brought."

He took a box from his pocket and opened it, disclosing the loveliest jade bracelet she had ever seen. "Oh, it's beautiful!" She stood up on her toes and kissed him.

But they were both strangely quiet during the drive back to the house built on the sands. Ted sensed that something had come between them.

He said, "Darling, you're not worried about anything?" "Did I miss a big Christmas dinner? Whom did you invite?"

"Doris and her crowd. And, of course, Jerry."

"I'm glad you asked Jerry," Ted said. "We hadn't missed a Christmas dinner together for almost 20 years."

Kay laughed. "That's what he kept telling up. I'm afraid he talked too much. He told what a gay dog you were in Paris in wartime."

Ted smiled. "Good old Jerry." "People drifted in during the evening," Kay said, "and they went to the Palace and danced until almost morning."

"Ted gave her a quick look. 'Doris' and Ralph. We went to hear Dudley Dix sing. He has a grand orchestra."

For a long while Ted was silent, and he appeared to be thinking hard about something. But when at last he turned to her he squeezed her hand. "I'm glad you had a good time," he said. "After all, Christmas only comes once a year."

Kay thought about those words for some time. The more she thought about them the more she imagined it was Ted's way of telling her she was forgiven for an escapade that might happen one year. Kay, however, wanted to dance once a week, twice a week—not once during the year. Evidently Ted hadn't come to understand her need for gaiety.

But they did not mention the party again that day. Next morning Kay heard from Doris that Ted had called Monte in and lectured him. It was something, Doris explained elaborately, about Monte's overtime night in Honolulu, had done some celebrating and it had been reported to Ted.

Ted had said sternly, "Monte, you're my friend, but there are some things about you that make me doubtful about your ability to fly the trans-Pacific route. The old order of courageous flying demons is out! On this trans-oceanic flight you must be merely an engineer."

Everybody in the colony knew that Ted had bawled Monte out, and everybody knew that Monte had been seen dancing with Ted's wife Christmas night. Quite naturally, they connected the two.

Kay herself thought that this was Ted's answer to her harmless escapade. She waited until Ted came home, tired and worried over some detail of his previous escapade. He had picked up a newspaper to read when she interrupted. "Ted," she said, "I heard about what you said to Monte Blaine today. Everybody knows you jacked him up about something."

He put down the newspaper and merely looked at her. "Old—Monte," he said. Ted then smiled. "He needed it, the young devil. Monte is a bit spoiled. I could hardly keep from laughing at the hurt-puppy look on his face. Don't worry about that. We're still good friends, and—"

"But that isn't what people will say at the airport," she objected. "They'll say you bawled him out because he went dancing with me."

Ted seemed actually surprised. "But—but I never thought about that! It's just that we can't tolerate it!"

"Tolerate!" Kay exclaimed. "Monte goes out with a pretty girl in Honolulu to dance, and you can't tolerate it!"

"That wasn't my information," Ted said slowly. "Monte disobeyed rules."

One dollar a month for cosmetics and twenty for gasoline! That's what planning means to a man.

Ted smiled indulgently, and it made Kay more furious. "Don't look at me as though you were indulging a silly little girl!" she exclaimed.

"Kay!" he said, with feeling. But she raged on. "The trans-Pacific flight is everything to you. Nothing else counts."

For the first time Ted looked troubled. But he let her continue. "This home," Kay went on, "is just a place where you rest your weary head. The little wife, waiting in port with open arms. Poor, simple thing with her household duties! A well-ordered life ashore. Dickie is just a reflection of yourself—an engine! Where do I fit in? I'm a glorified housekeeper!"

"Kay! Kay!" Ted said, "you don't mean all that. You've let some gossip prey on your mind. You're hysterical—"

"Look at me," she said, on the verge of tears. "I married a man, and now what have I become—a trained engineer! I wanted you to be crazy about me. I thought we'd have fun together. We're human—not robots or gyro pilots. Automatic steering devices in a plane—"

"Kay!" Ted tried compassionately, gathering her into his arms. "You don't mean what you're saying. I have my job, and I have you. I can't be with you as much as other men who have jobs on land can be with their wives, but I do love you, Kay, I'm crazy about you. It wouldn't matter to me if you threw all the housekeeping overboard, and hired a raft of servants! But I don't you'd want that. Now what do you want?"

Kay was sobbing on his shoulder, and he held her in his arms. "I don't know what I want," she said, "except you! I want to enjoy more things with you. I want you to care whether I'm happy."

He laughed and picked her up in his arms. (To Be Continued)

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS

BY WILL H. MAYES.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquiries will be made of their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. Will you tell a Massachusetts reader what is meant by cattle "milling"? M. B. O. A. At times herds of cattle being driven get to going round and round in circles, which is called "milling." It then becomes necessary to rush into the circle on horseback, to break up the "mills" and start the cattle going in the right direction.

Q. When was the area around Henderson first settled by Anglo-Saxons? S. S. A. The date is not definite, but believed to be about 1830. Gen. James Smith, hero of the war of 1812 and famous Indian fighter, for whom Smith county was named, settled on the present Henderson townsite in 1836 and later donated the land on the condition that it be named for his friend, Gen. J. Pinckney Henderson, afterward first governor of Texas.

Q. Is Ann Elster, now playing prominent parts in CBS radio plays, a Texan? B. K. O. A. She formerly lived at San Benito and has two sisters living there now.

Q. Where are the Texas automobile license plates manufactured, how many are made and at what cost? W. W. R. A. The State penitentiary at Huntsville. Nearly 3,000,000 plates are made each year at a cost of about 6 1/4 cents a pair delivered to Texas county seats. Steel consumed is approximately 1,200 tons and the work keeps about 80 men employed for eight months.

Q. What are the principal industries of the Texas penitentiary system? W. W. R. A. Shoes, clothing, mattresses, printing, canning, brickmaking, furniture manufacturing, all of the products being used either in the system or in the State eleemosynary institutions.

FREE SILVER CAMPAIGN OF '96 RECALLED

BRYAN HAD TO BORROW MONEY DAY BY DAY TO TRAVEL

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 9.—The events of the great political battle of 1896, whose outcome for a time seemed uncertain, are of such occurrence as to live in the memory of many people. It witnessed the breaking down of more of the old party lines than any other fight since the beginning of the Civil War.

Cleveland's start in his second term in office was not promising. The storm clouds of a panic were on the horizon before he was elected, and caused the Harrison administration to order the preparation of plates for the issuance of bonds to keep up the treasury reserve. By the time Cleveland was inaugurated hard times had arrived, and before the Wilson tariff bill was written, they were pressing down upon the nation. The Cleveland administration was blamed for it.

Democracy turned to free silver in its bid for popularity and support, but here it found itself at cross purposes with its chief in the White House. Cleveland advocated a gold standard country. Before this happened, he had named a rag baby for president in 1896 and "win at the polls." The two real candidates were William McKinley and Thomas B. Reed. The opposition to McKinley sought to break down the backbone of his strength by bringing out favorite sons everywhere.

Iowa brought out Senator Allison, and they tried to bring out Senator Cullom in Illinois. First, the McKinley managers sought to sidetrack the Cullom boom by offering him a good position under McKinley. Cullom himself said he could have had anything he wanted. When he declined, the McKinley managers decided to carry the state for their candidate, Cullom boom or no Cullom boom, and they succeeded.

The McKinley managers—with Mark Hanna as their chief—decided to straddle the money question. They held an early state convention in Ohio for the purpose of adopting a platform which should serve as a guide in other states. The money plank was a complete example of concealing thought with language. Both silver and gold men read it with endorsement of their varying views.

Gold Versus Free Silver
Some say that Hanna wanted a sound money plank, but held out against it long enough to carry out several other objects he had in view. An eastern commiserate walked upon him at his hotel and told him they would sacrifice McKinley if he did not let them have a sound money plank. It is said that Senator Platt, the Easy Boss of New York, announced to Hanna that he had an hour in which to come to terms, and that Hanna did so in half an hour. When the platform finally was adopted, the money plank declared for gold. Twenty-two Republican state conventions had declared for free silver.

The Democrats were a badly split party when they arrived at Chicago. The silver wing was so violently opposed to Mr. Cleveland that they defeated a resolution endorsing their own administration, something perhaps unexampled in party politics in the United States. In the Republican convention, the Silverites who could not favor the platform walked out, some of them with tears streaming down their cheeks; but the anti-Free Silver Democrats sat tight, until after the convention. Bryan's

Handy Thing About Black-Draught So Many Folks Like

When it comes to the proper size dose of a laxative medicine, different persons and different ages naturally need different doses. Proper size doses thoroughly do the work expected without harsh purging. Black-Draught laxative is prepared in a dry powder so the size of the dose easily can be adjusted to the needs of the person taking it. Not too much, but just enough thoroughly to relieve constipation. Black-Draught is credited with leaving the digestive tract more able to continue elimination, regularly, every day. "crown of thorns and cross of gold" speech swept him up the political ladder from a contesting delegate to the nominee of the convention, after one of the most dramatic scenes in the history of political gatherings.

The Silver Republicans ratified the action of the Democratic convention, the Populists put up Bryan and Watson, and the bulk of the Prohibition vote went for Free Silver. Later, the Gold Democrats met and gave the Cleveland administration the endorsement it had been denied by the regular Democratic convention, and nominated Palmer and Buckner on a Gold Democratic platform.

Five Million People Hear Bryan
The Republicans found that they had serious business on hand, for Bryan and Free Silver, it seemed, had at one step carried more voters away from the Republican party than the Republican leaders could hope to get in recruits from the Democratic party. Bryan went to New York, and imitating Lincoln, read a carefully prepared speech of acceptance, rather than take any chance of sacrificing his thoughts for oratorical efforts. Bryan found himself handicapped by poverty—personal and political. He often had to borrow money to get from one stopping-place to another, and the first part of his tour was made in day coaches.

Meanwhile the Republicans conjured with the prosperity argument and the threat of worse times if Bryan came into power. Debtors were informed that their creditors would want their money if Bryan won, factory workers were warned to expect a shut-down in the event of his success, and with the biggest campaign fund yet collected and three-fourths of the business men on their side, nothing was left undone by Hanna and his associates. In September, the tide that had been flowing toward Bryan turned back and kept rising toward McKinley until election day.

When the campaign was over, Bryan had spoken to more than five million people, while over 700,000 had made pilgrimages to Canton, Ohio, to hear and greet McKinley in his famous front porch campaign. The Republicans had won an easy victory, with more than a hundred electoral votes to spare. Only in two of the states did the Gold Democratic ticket figure to any extent. McKinley got a quarter million popular votes more than all his opponents combined.

When McKinley came into power he brought a great change into the White House. Cleveland and Harrison knew nothing of the fine art of conciliation. Both failed to agree with their party leaders, and each of them was ready to fight at the drop of the hat. But McKinley was a conciliator. He preferred to follow the advance guard in a political contest rather than to head it. He tried to carry out the will of his party rather than to control it. Some said he had the backbone of a chocolate éclair, but his friends realized that he was the man to keep his party together by compromise rather than split it by opposition. Cleveland and Harrison go down in history as the only two presidents who ever defeated one another. John Quincy Adams defeated Jackson before Jackson became president, and afterwards was defeated by Jackson, but this was not a case of an ex-president defeating a president.

Girl Denies She Threw Baby Off Apartment Roof

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—Elizabeth Smith, 18-year old unwed mother, fought back today at the State's efforts to send her to the electric chair on charges she hurled her infant son from the roof of an apartment building a few minutes after his birth.

Her baby, the frail girl testified yesterday, was born to her while she was alone in the family bathroom in the dead of night last April 11.

She sworn there was no sign of life—that the boy never breathed—as her counsel sought to refute the charge she killed the infant to escape the shame of unwed motherhood.

"Did you throw your baby off the roof?" Judge Harry Stackwell asked after she told of her seduction. "No," she answered. "I didn't." "I held the baby. I went up to the roof. I thought I would kill myself. My mind was blurred. I had to rest.

I sat down on the roof. As I rested, I fainted. . . . I don't know what happened."

When she revived, she said, the baby was gone and she dragged herself back and went to sleep.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

BY LOUIS SCHNEIDER

THOUGHTS.

How does the financial district look at security price prospects? Here's the inside: By the close of this week we shall know what chance Gov. Landon has for victory. If good, security prices will rise until immediately after the elections. Then a sharp decline will start which carry up to the close of the year. Should President Roosevelt's chances for re-election improve, security prices are expected to rise sharply until immediately after election day. Then a rally into the early part of next year. That's how insiders think these days.

FINANCING.

Gulf States Steel is to issue $70,000,000 of 4 1/2 per cent first class mortgage bonds with a maturity date of 1961 and 98,569 shares of common stock. The stock will be offered to holders of record as of November 2 in the ratio of one new for each two held.

Funds obtained via the bond sale will be used to retire the outstanding issue of 5 1/2 per cent bonds due in 1942 and also for plant improvements. These bonds will be called at 102 1/2 on December 1. The proceeds of the new common stock will be used to retire the outstanding 200,000 shares of first preferred. They will be called as of January 2, 1937, and paid off at $110.

The new financing and refunding plan suggests that the anticipated merger with Republic Steel may be held off until early next year. Interests close to both managements say that there's nothing ahead to prevent the merger from being completed. Plans are now being discussed.

SUPPORT.

Foreign currency unsettlement was expected to have an effect on United States government bond prices. Some traders went so far as to assume a short position—for a quick turn. But profits were small if any. This because the Federal Reserve Bank stepped into the picture and spoiled the party. Government bond dealers say that because of the Federal Reserve support institutional portfolio holdings were not liquidated. This a sharp price decline was prevented.

ZENITH.

Early last year Zenith Radio had about 3,500 dealers on its list. Now it stands just above the 15,000 mark. Insiders say that by the close of 1936 the company will have about 18,000 retail sales outlets.

With the rapid expansion of distributing outlets earnings have increased rather sharply. For the current quarter a net of $2 a share is expected. Earning at the rate of about $5 a year Zenith Radio insiders expect that a $3 annual dividend rate will be established.

CONSTRUCTIVE.

There is reported to be a well sus-

Creamery will show $2.50 a share or better. Motor Wheel's third quarter net estimated at 40 cents a share with $2 expected for year—balk current of a dividend extra this year. And, that Standard Oil of Indiana is to sell all its oils in tin containers.

TOWNSEND LENDS HIS SUPPORT TO LONDON

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9 (AP)—The California campaign of Gov. Alf M. Landon, republican presidential nominee, today bore personal support of Dr. Francis E. Townsend, whose followers in this state claim a voting strength of 750,000.

Dr. Townsend's California director, Edward J. Marget, announced yesterday he had received a telegram from the pension plan founder announcing intention to vote for the Kansas governor.

"Not being permitted to vote for Mr. Lemke (William Lemke, union party candidate) as my choice for the presidency, I shall cast my vote for an untitled man, Mr. Landon, in the hope that he may prove of greater value to the nation than the gentleman who has occupied the White House for the last four years," Dr. Townsend's message said.

Backers of Lemke were unable to obtain sufficient petition signers to qualify a slate of electors in California for the presidential election.

ISOLATION POLICY IS FAVORED BY WOODRING

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 9 (AP)—Harry H. Woodring, secretary of war, said today he believed the United States would accept an isolation policy rather than become involved in war.

Speaking before the annual convention of the National Guard association of the United States, Woodring said in his prepared address that "the desire for peace has never been so universal among our people," and described President Roosevelt as "a great champion for the cause of peace."

The war secretary called the neutrality act "a unique example among maritime powers of the world in renouncing the rights of its citizens to trade and travel as they are fully authorized to do by the rules of international law."

"We contemplate this sacrifice," he said, "as a further effort to keep this country at peace."

"If isolation is thrust upon us as the only alternative to becoming embroiled in wars of others, I am certain we will accept it, and make this additional sacrifice for the sake of peace."

GRIDIRON HEROES

IOWA has turned out some great gridiron heroes in Big Ten competition. One of the greatest was Aubrey Devine, captain and All-America quarterback in 1921. With Duke Slater, giant Negro tackle, opening huge holes, and Craven Shuttleworth and Glen Devine running interference, Aubrey probably gave the greatest exhibition of his career against Minnesota that year, the Hawkeyes winning, 41-7.

Devine scored four touchdowns and made five of six place kicks after touchdown for 29 points. In addition, he passed to Lester Belding for Iowa's other two counters.

The likable field general did all of his team's punting in addition to most of the ball carrying. His total yardage on return of punts and plays from scrimmage was 342, and his longest gain was 50 yards on a kickoff. At present he is assistant to his old Iowa coach, Howard Jones, at Southern California.
