

TEX'S TOPICS

Here is something for you to think about... Perhaps you already have read the announcement of the other day of Dr. Longoria, a Cleveland, Ohio, physician...

In the first place, it adds to the horror of prospective war... In the presence of witnesses, the good doctor has used his ray to kill pigeons at such a distance that he could only see the pigeons with a high-powered telescope...

This gave us another thought, too... It might not be such a bad idea for all of us, as nations, to learn how to get along with each other, rather than be messing around most of the time with hot coals that sooner or later are bound to burn-

The prediction that we will not have another national election for years to come has been made by an economist, but, even so, it is pleasant to dwell upon.

If the new crunchless celery succeeds in banishing the other type, radio station KPND may need a new sound effect for elephants coming through the jungle.

The Atlanta woman who slept for a month is recuperating. No relapse is expected, as the husband promised not to discuss his golf prowess.

If all the crooners were laid end to end, in a Panhandle wheat field, it would please the farmer trying out one of the new radio-equipped plows.

The Washington cops who pinched a citizen for sitting in a parked car at midnight and kissing his own wife seem to have had a view of human nature. They obviously believe that they actually had a married couple on their hands; their experience of life, one gathers, was such as to make this doubt natural.

But the judge who rebuked the cops and turned the devoted husband loose would seem to have been almost equally pessimistic. His remarks indicated a tinge of awe at a love so deep and true that it could still want kisses after four long years of marriage.

He seemed to feel that some kind of citation was in order for a couple which could display such unparalleled devotion.

We are not ordinarily optimists, but we do feel that both the coppers and the judge ought to get around a little more. There are some millions of married folk in this land who could testify that not four years, nor any conceivable multiple thereof, could be enough to rob marriage of its taste for kisses.

These Washingtonians must have been meeting the wrong sort of people.

TODAY'S SAFETY TOPIC You must look out for children playing in the street. Sound your horn, use your brakes - SLOW DOWN.

SOME FACTS YOU MAY HAVE MISSED: Giraffes sell for about $1500 a yard, measured from the tip of the horns to the feet... Swans have been known to break a man's leg by a blow of their wings.

Green turtles are not green. The name is derived from the color of its fat, used in making turtle soup... In the United States, the most snow falls in February, the shortest month.

Paul Revere made two rides to warn the colonists; on April 16, 1775, and again two days later... Near Winona, Ariz., there are caverns in which ice may be found six feet below the surface during the hottest months of the year.

If it were not for the rotation of the earth on its axis, the direction of the trade winds would always be the same.

A large "elstern" was part of the furnishings of well-appointed dining rooms in 17th century England. Here the dishes were rinsed at the table. Roasted butterfries were relished as a food by the natives of the Bugong mountains of Australia.

The oldest copper roof in the world is that on the Hildesheim Cathedral, in Germany. It was put on in 1320.

Mrs. J. O. Gillham and daughters, Eleanor and Helen, who recently moved from Pampa to Brownfield, were guests of friends here yesterday and Monday.

I Heard... Roy Showers, Sr., and C. E. "Dan" McCrew sitting on a bench at Eastern field yesterday afternoon chinning about football in the "good old days." Says Dan, with a stick in his hand with which to draw a diagram, "this was our big play. I wonder why coaches don't use it. It comes right back with 'zep,' that was a dandy, but how about this one," as he draws a play. The discussion was still going strong when the team finished a scrimmage which the two didn't even see.

RUSSIA READY TO GIVE AID TO LOYALISTS

MAY SEND PLANES TO FIGHT SPANISH FASCISTS

MOSCOW, Oct. 21 (AP)—Soviet Russia, determined to force supply of aid to beleaguered Spanish socialists, has decided only the immediate dispatch of munitions can save Madrid, informed sources said today.

Soviet commissars were represented as having taken a strong stand for rushing airplanes to the desperately-driven Spanish government forces.

(Russia has charged Italy, Germany and Portugal with sending assistance to Spanish insurgents. Soviet demands for "practical measures" to enforce the non-intervention accord signed by 27 nations have been delayed by the neutrality committee in London.)

Officials did not hesitate to express privately the feeling that these are the "graviest" days Europe has seen in many years.

They are determined, they said, to adopt a firm stand as the only way to preserve European peace.

Overnight, hundreds of thousands of bright-colored posters blazed up in the Russian capital. "Hands off Spain!" they said.

The printed demand, obviously aimed at alleged fascist and Nazi interference in the Spanish revolt, led to renewed clamor by Soviet workers for the Russian government to supply arms immediately to siege threatened Madrid.

While only the top men at the Kremlin know details of the decision taken by the government, enough information has seeped down to indicate Dictator Joseph Stalin feels Europe is rapidly drifting toward war—and the time to make Russia's voice felt is now.

Officials expressed belief all is to be gained and nothing lost by taking a strong stand against the Soviet's "natural" enemy—Germany.

AUSTIN, Oct. 21 (AP)—The house bill issuing interest-bearing warrants up to $3,000,000 for emergency old age pension payments through the winter months ran into strenuous opposition in the senate today.

Japan Shows 'Teeth' to Shanghai

Stern guns of the Japanese warship, Izumi, commanded the area about the Japanese consulate at Shanghai, China, as tension rose after a Nipponese sailor was killed. The Izumi, serving as naval headquarters, maintained constant connection with officials at the consulate building, from which Japan's flag is flying.

Scanning New Books

By JOHN SELBY
You are to see David Barondess returning to his South Carolina village from New York in a mood partly nostalgic, partly defeated, partly made of exasperation.

For although David has been in New York for a decade and has had two novels published more or less successfully, he has had to confess to himself that he cannot bear the pseudo-literary gabble of his New York set. It bores him, and often it nauseates him.

Little clevernesses running around biting each other.

The old square is just as it was when David went away, but David has changed. Worse, the wife he still loves in a hopeless way has left him. Worse still, he has a situation to face in the old house in which his father, with Celina and Lucius, aunt and uncle, still live. His father's sense of justice has made a failure of his life; in the generation before, David's grandfather's sense of justice has done likewise for him. The grandfather had gone from Carolina to the North to fight with the Yankees.

David has his defeated father, his own defeat, and a determination to spur him. He will write a book to express whatever it is that the family history has to teach. He will try to get under the magnolia and camelia veneer of his homeland, to work out the underlying motives. At any rate he thinks he will.

But there is a pattern to the Barondess life which has the habit of repeating itself. Just what happens to David is Hamilton Basso's affair, and he tells it remarkably well in "Courthouse Square." Who needs to be remarked now is that he is actually working out his own salvation in the book, solving a problem posed (at least in bare outline) by his own history.

This is a rather difficult job. But Mr. Basso manages it. He also manages to write a Southern novel with all the scents of the Southern night in it, and to keep the scents from cloying.

"Courthouse Square", by Hamilton Basso; (Scribners).

STALCUP TO BE BURIED IN NATIONAL CEMETERY

The body of Roy F. Stalcup, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Stalcup of the Texas company's Taylor lease south of Pampa, will be interred in the National cemetery at San Antonio. The youth, with the United States army in the Philippines, died in a fall from a building in Manila Sept. 28.

Parents received word yesterday that the body will arrive in San Francisco about Nov. 1. At their request, burial will be in the National cemetery, with military honors. Mr. and Mrs. Stalcup and other relatives will attend the services, date of which has not been set.

Private Stalcup was serving his second enlistment when the accident happened. At the time, he was on special duty at the Stenberg hospital in Manila. Stalcup resided in Pampa for three years between enlistments.

Condition of Carl Brashears, critically ill in Worley hospital, was unchanged today, attending physicians reported.

Up And Down The Air Waves

By RAY D. O.

Are you listening to KPFD? We believe the station's programs compare favorably with most day-time programs on any station. You get good music, news, comedy and quite a bit of local talent on your local station.

The "blessed event" has happened. Amos made the public announcement last night, and using Amos' own words, "It is the greatest thing," a 7 1/2 pound baby girl. In all probability Amos & Andy will have new talent on their program, soon. They are heard at 10 p. m. o'clock on NBC.

Here is a bit of interesting information. This morning while the Waker Uppers were on the air over KPFD, a party made a tour of a number of places in down town Pampa to see whether or not they were listening to this program. In the places visited, 19 radios were on, and 14 of these were tuned to KPFD.

Where were the five? Those are the ones KPFD would like to talk with. Did you find a more interesting program on some other station? What kind of program did you turn to? What particular part of the Waker Uppers program is it that you do not like? An answer to these questions would be valuable and appreciative information to KPFD. We think that KPFD should feel grateful that they had this large percentage, but they would also like to have those five, and you would be doing this local institution a real favor if you would write them a letter, telling them just why you don't like this program. Thanks.

It sounded this morning as though someone would have come to the rescue of Uncle Bud on the Waker Uppers program of KPFD. He evidently is out of chewing tobacco. Is there a loyal fan in the audience?

When the mighty symphony orchestra strikes some discords, and the audience boos the villain, you'll know that you're listening to "Opry House Days." From an old "Opry House on the Village Square" in the gay 90's come the modern versions of good old melodramas. A studio audience which enters into the spirit of the production, adding boos, hisses, cheers and applause adds to the real life touch. Don't forget this afternoon at 5:30 for this thrilling event from the KPFD Borger studio.

Tonight, on Columbia, you'll hear, among others, the following programs: 6:15, "Pokey the Sailor"; 6:30, "The Green Creek Parson"; 7:30, "The Cavalcade of America"; 7:30, "Burns and Allen"; 8:30, "Come On, Let's Sing with Homer Redheaver"; and the night-hawks can hear Guy Lombardo's Royal Canadians at midnight.

Hymns and sacred songs always strike a responsive chord in the hearts of most listeners. Each Saturday at 6 p. m. a mixed quartet presents a program of sacred songs from the Borger studio of KPFD. The quartet is composed of Mrs. Earl Estep, soprano; Mrs. E. K. Jordan, alto; Roy Gibson, bass, and T. D. Dean, tenor. Miss Goldie Gibson is accompanist. Many requests are received each week by the quartet, which features request selections on the programs.

Did you ever hear "Oboe"? Just in case you don't know what it is, we'll tell you. It is an instrument that "shores" sounds "purty." Listen to Billie Hunter and his Hollywood Ramblers on Miles of Smiles each day and you'll hear one. Of course, it is on KPFD.

The Lubbock-Pampa football game will be broadcast next Friday afternoon by KPFD. We understand the time will be 3:00 o'clock. Hear Bill Karn strut his stuff on this game. The Lubbock 70-piece high school band will arrive on a special train at 1 o'clock and will parade through the streets.

The KPFD Miles of Smiles orchestra is improving, both in number of instruments and in quality of music. And the "jokers" seem to be generating more pep.

GRANDMOTHER FLYING CLIPPER TO MANILA

ALAMEDA, Calif., Oct. 21 (AP)—A grandmother and five other persons depart aboard the Hawaii Clipper at 3 p. m. today (5 p. m. CST) for Honolulu en route to Manila on the first commercial passenger flight across the Pacific ocean.

The grandmother, Mrs. B. B. Averill, widow of a pioneer lumberman of Aberdeen, Wash., had only one worry about the inaugural flight, which comes less than a decade after the then hazardous 2,400-mile journey to Honolulu was accomplished by two daring army fliers. Mrs. Averill's problem was how to reduce her 64 pounds of baggage to the 55 allowed by the Pan American Airways Company.

Mrs. Averill, who has two young grandchildren, once was told by her husband that she could not fly, so she took up air travel.

"I want to travel, by air, ships and trains, as long as my feet will carry me," she declared. "Crutches and wheel chairs are only for traveling around a room."

NAIL FROM BRAIN. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21 (AP)—Surgeons removed a two-inch nail today from the lung of three-year-old Benjamin Mouchett Jr. of Glendale, Ore. The boy inhaled the nail Oct. 1. The Temple university hospital issued a statement that his condition was good. The operation was performed by use of a bronchoscope and biopsy fluoroscopy.

JAYCEE MOVEMENT IS LAUDED BY PIONEER ATTORNEY OF CANADIAN

The future of our country depends on the youth of the country so why not give them a chance and put some of the old worn out leaders back where they belong," declared Judge H. E. Hoover of Canadian to Pampa Junior chamber of commerce luncheon yesterday at their noon luncheon.

The pioneer Panhandle lawyer lauded the Junior chamber of commerce movement. It trains young men for the future and puts on many worthwhile projects, he declared. Judge Hoover said he believed in young men holding offices and positions of trust, and that he was one man who would help the young man up and the old man down.

In speaking about the Panhandle, Judge Hoover said he saw a bright future. He said he walked into the Panhandle on April 6, 1886, and that he was still here and if anyone wanted him to leave they would have to carry him out.

"This depression through which we have just emerged has done one thing for this country," Judge Hoover declared. "It has gotten rid of those who can't take it and left us with the cream of the nation's citizens."

President Tommy Chesser announced that A. M. Minton of Borger, state vice-president, would be guest speaker next Tuesday. He also named members of the Grandview carnival on the night of October 27 and of the Hopkins Halloween party on the night of October 31.

The program committee for the next month will be Dr. H. E. Howard, Jack Kretzinger and Jim Hatfield.

Jaycees will assist in welcoming Lubbock visitors here on Friday. The club will have courtesy cars available to take the visitors anywhere they wish to go in the city and will also have a group at the depot when the special train arrives. Chick Hickman was named chairman of a committee composed of four more "H's," Frank Hill, Harry E. Hoare, Allan Hodges and Dick Hughes.

Santa Day committees will be announced within the next week, A. J. Johnson announced.

KING MAY WED A COMMONER IS NEW DISCOVERY

Bobbies Shoo Idlers Away From Simpson Home

LONDON, Oct. 21 (AP)—Police today shooed loiterers away from Cumberland Terrace, site of the new home of Mrs. Wallis Simpson, King Edward's American friend. They said it was "crown property."

A sergeant and two constables patrolled the district.

Every time anyone tarried outside No. 16, Mrs. Simpson's home, they were told: "You won't see the person you want to see."

Pointing to lamp posts on which was embossed "G. R." (George Rex), one constable announced: "Ordinary garden people don't live here, y'know. This is crown property."

The "G. R." on the lamp posts means they were erected during the reign of the late King George, Edward's father, on ground which belongs to the crown and was leased to building landlords for 100 years or more.

Mrs. Simpson holds only a seven months' lease from Mrs. Cuthbert Stewart, who is the second leaseholder removed from the crown authorities.

The British press will make its first mention of the celebrated divorce case of "Simpson, W. versus Simpson, E. A." in tomorrow's issue of the news magazine "News Review."

A six-line item on page 23 will read: "Reporters were last week laying their lines at Ipswich, Suffolk, in readiness for the divorce suit between Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Aldrich Simpson, expected to come up for hearing next week before Mr. Justice Havers."

However, on a page nearer to the front of the magazine, News Review will devote more than a column under the subheading: "King and Commoner" to exposition of the discovery that the king can marry a woman not of princely lineage.

BRITISH NAVY ORDERED TO RESCUE HOSTAGES

LONDON, Oct. 21 (AP)—The British navy was ordered to stand by today for a "mission of mercy" to rescue thousands of hostages held by both sides in the Spanish civil war.

In messages to both the Madrid regime and the fascist high command, the government stressed fear of "wholesale massacre" of hostages.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden instructed the embassy at Madrid and the ambassador at Hendaye, France, to press for early replies.

The messages, envisioning "terrible consequences" which might ensue, declared: "His majesty's government feels impelled to make an urgent appeal on purely humanitarian grounds to authorities of both sides to come to an agreement for the exchange of all such hostages, and more especially for the release and removal to some place of safety of any women."

Naval authorities today kept in close touch with the situation, ready to send the British fleet to Spanish ports.

FAIR ELECTROCUTED IN ILLINOIS PENITENTIARY

CHICAGO, Oct. 21 (AP)—Frank "Bones" Korzy-Kowski and Andrew Bogacki were electrocuted today, just 11 minutes apart, in Cook county's new speedier and more "humane" electric chair.

They were convicted of killing a policeman after a robbery. Five guards took less than 10 seconds to clamp the 27-year-old Korzy-Kowski into the newly mechanized chair at 1:03 a. m. He was pronounced dead at 1:09. Then they put Bogacki, a year younger than his partner, in the chair. At 1:20 six doctors declared him lifeless.

AMY WILL FLY UNDER OWN NAME HEREAFTER

CHELSFIELD, England, Oct. 21 (AP)—With a broken nose but a firm heart, Mrs. Amy Mollison announced today the famous "flying Mollisons" will set solo marital courses hereafter.

She crashed her plane near here yesterday, wrecking the ship and fracturing her nose. "I've heard rumors about Jim for the past month," she said referring to her husband. "Well, Jim is going his way and I am going mine. Hereafter, I shall fly under my own name as Amy Johnson."

Amy's "forced landing" from domestic skyways left the status of two other members of the aerial triangle still up in the air—Jim Mollison and Mrs. Beryl Markham, the blond English aviator who attempted a solo flight from England to New York and crashed in Nova Scotia, Sept. 5.

Mrs. Markham described Mollison as a "very good friend," but British newspapers, at the time of the flight, hinted of a more romantic attachment.

Roosevelt to save the country from Hearstism.

Judge Albert Owens of the Vigo county superior court was to rule this morning on Browder's petition for an injunction to prevent police interference with his speech.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Oct. 21 (AP)—Earl Browder, communist candidate for president, forced by a belligerent crowd to abandon an attempt to make a radio campaign speech last night, lost a court decision today when Judge Albert Owens denied his petition for an injunction to restrain local authorities from interference with his speaking engagement here.

The injunction petition was filed last week but action on it did not come until several hours after the time Browder had planned to broadcast his appeal for votes.

The injunction was aimed at Mayor Sam Beecher, Police Chief James C. Yates and Sheriff William Baker. The police chief had jailed Browder on a vagrancy charge when he came here Sept. 30 to address a party rally and speak over the radio.

principal address of his two day New England drive tonight. "We believe that the material resources of America should serve the human resources of America," he said.

The President's address, comparatively brief and first of five scheduled for the day in Rhode Island and Massachusetts, was delivered shortly after breakfast. Mrs. Roosevelt met him at the station and motored through crowded streets to the capitol with him. Gov. Theodore F. Green headed a welcoming committee.

"I have said that what the present national administration has tried to do was to adjust statecraft to reality—the reality of 48 states which have agreed to live together in a machine age," the President said.

"When this administration came to Washington March 4, 1933, the machine of our national economy had completely broken down. For 12 years it had been neglected by those who believed that machines did not need tending. We tried to rebuild that machine, to modernize it and to turn on the purchasing power.

"It was the biggest peace time job ever attempted. It called for energy in a hundred direction at once, for imagination, for willingness to face facts.

"How much did we spend? Enough to get results—Enough to be sure not to fail. There would have been no second chance if we had failed once.

"You and I are used to venturing capital to gain profits. And in these three and a half years our venture has succeeded.

"Prosperity measured in dollars is coming back. There are more among you to deny it. But there is a higher measure for prosperity—the measure of permanency—the measure of security.

"We seek not the prosperity of 1929 but the kind which will mean to every American family an assurance of safety of the home, safety of old age, safety of savings, safety of employment."

BENGAL TIGER BOUGHT BY LOUISIANA STATE

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 21 (AP)—Exuberant Louisiana State University students stayed away from classes today to welcome a live Bengal tiger as the mascot of their football team.

Cadets arose at dawn and "picketed" buildings.

Dr. James M. Smith, university president, said there was no "official holiday," but that the students "just weren't going to school today."

He and Lieut.-Col. Roy A. Hill, commandant of cadets, appeared to take the demonstration good naturedly.

The tiger, purchased on a student subscription plan, will be taken to Shreveport, La., in an iron cage for the Arkansas football game Saturday.

What! No Chaperones?

Miss Margaret Chapman of Havana, Cuba, who recently enrolled in Texas State College for Women (C.I.A.), was both amused and surprised when Miss Chaney Miller, senior journalism student, pointed out that girls at the college are permitted to have dates without chaperons. "In Cuba," she says, "your mother or brother must chaperon you at night."

BLAZE IN SAN DIEGO SWEEPS ENTIRE BLOCK

$2,000,000 Damage Done; Two Are Injured

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 21 (AP)—A spectacular skyline fire, sweeping through a downtown business block with damage unofficially estimated at $2,000,000, was brought under control today.

Thousands of persons watched 300 firemen and volunteers win a slow battle against the flames, which broke out shortly after midnight in the Whitney department store and leaped to the full height of the 11-story Wats office building in the same block.

Street car and utility service was cut off in the area as firemen mopped up the blaze.

Two men were critically injured. A fireman, Eddie Baum, suffered a possible skull fracture when the nozzle of a high-pressure hose broke. V. Szczepanski, 21, seaman attached to the Destroyer Dale, suffered a head injury that naval hospital attaches said would claim his life, when he fell through the roof of the burning National Dollar store while handling another fire hose.

The three-story Whitney store was completely gutted by the flames. Only the blackened walls remained standing. The National Dollar store likewise was a total loss.

The fire apparently first broke out in the second-floor stock room in Whitney's. Its cause was not determined.

Fire Chief A. E. Parrish ordered gas and electric service shut off to the menaced area while city hydraulic Engineer Fred Pyle attempted to relieve falling water pressure by tapping another reservoir.

Street cars were tied up and telephone communication was disrupted downtown.

The three-story Whitney Department store, where the fire started shortly after midnight, was virtually a total loss although the walls remained standing.

A smaller building housing the National Dollar store was razed. Smoke billowed into Foreman and Clark. Lion Clothing and other stores.

Practically the entire block, in which the Whitney store stood in the center, was damaged by fire, smoke and water.

The ribbons of flame leaping into the sky and a dense pall of smoke were visible from all parts of the city, attracting thousands to the downtown district.

SLAYER OF WIFE AND DAUGHTER IS KILLED

MT. PLEASANT, Utah, Oct. 21 (AP)—Henry Olsen, 30-year-old farmer who shot and killed his wife and step-daughter, was shot to death by Deputy Sheriff Ulysses Larsen late last night.

Mrs. Emma Kenward, at whose home in this central Utah town the shooting occurred, told officers that Olsen, from Mayfield, Utah, attempted to see his estranged wife yesterday and departed uttering threats.

Mrs. Kenward asked police protection and Olsen was lodged in the Mt. Pleasant jail. He escaped last night, however. A few minutes later his step-daughter, Miss Barbara Blair, 15, was shot through the head as she sat near a window in the Kenward home.

Officers were organizing a posse when Olsen pushed through a crowd at the Kenward home and fired point blank with a revolver, killing Mrs. Olsen, 30.

Deputy Larsen shot Olsen, killing him instantly.

Mrs. Olsen sought refuge at the Kenward home in September after leaving a sanitarium at Syracuse, N. Y.

FAMOUS AGRICULTURIST PASSES NEAR TERRELL

TERRELL, Oct. 21 (AP)—Walter C. Porter, known as the father of demonstration farming in Texas, died last night at his home north of Terrell. The 68-year-old agriculturist had been ill for a long time.

For 40 years he conducted his model farm near Terrell, in addition to actively engaging in banking and business affairs of Terrell. In 1913, in collaboration with Dr. S. A. Knapp of the United States department of agriculture, he established the first demonstration farm on the Porter plantation.

This farm has been conducted along the latest lines in scientific agriculture ever since then. It has been regarded as one of the show places for students of Texas agriculture and many northern visitors have stopped to inspect it.

Establishment of the Porter demonstration farm marked a departure in diversified farming in the south.

OMNIBUS TAX BILL IN STRANGE PREDICAMENT

AUSTIN, Oct. 21 (AP)—The omnibus tax bill returned to its birthplace in the House of Representatives today but had developed a strange complex during its Senate sojourn which was displeasing to its proponents.

The proposal, an answer to Gov. Allred's plea to provide funds for mounting old age pensions and designed to raise $10,000,000, had secured an amendment which would deny assistance to all except those in actual need.

Besides this drastic revision of the pension law, it would abolish the commission and place the administration under the state board of control.

Though a number of features in the omnibus bill were changed by the Senate, authors estimated it would produce the contemplated $10,000,000 and the Senate actually added more producing levies than it deleted.

Increases of 37 1/2 per cent on oil and sulphur remained untouched but the upper chamber boosted the rates on natural gas to 3 per cent of the oil and one-half of the sulphur rate.

It added one-twelfth of one cent per pound on carbon black, two per cent on gross receipts of oil well cementing companies and 20 per cent of the value of prizes at "bank nights." It eliminated taxes on hotel rooms and cafes, certain sports, cigars, malt syrups and mineral water.

TELEGRAPH OPERATOR ATTACKED AND BEATEN

WASKOM, Tex., Oct. 21 (AP)—C. M. Williams, night telegraph operator, was attacked and beaten in the Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas depot here last night by three unidentified men who were accompanied by a woman.

The attack occurred about 10 o'clock when Williams was alone in the station. The men and woman entered the station and attacked Williams who tried to defend himself with a lantern.

The attack was the second assault on L. A. and T. employees since Monday night. R. C. Walker, section foreman, was beaten by a group of unidentified men near here Monday night.

Walker did not identify any of his attackers.

Neither Walker nor Williams is involved in the strike of employees of the L. A. and T. which includes only trainmen.

WALTER STEIN SPEAKS BEFORE ROTARY CLUB

That the wars in Europe were caused largely by the lack of a balance between the industry and source of raw materials of the different countries was brought in a talk before the Rotary club today by Walter F. G. Stein. He pointed out that the countries which have that balance are now at peace and are not likely to be at war except in self protection.

Because of the small size of the countries and their extensive industrial activities it is necessary to have colonies which supply the raw materials. Most of the warring countries are seeking these colonies.

A tacky party-dance was announced for Friday night, Oct. 30, at the Country club. Prizes will be given for the best costumes and bridge will be provided for those who do not dance.

Visitors at the meeting today were J. E. Goff and Rotarians J. R. Harnley, McPherson, Kas.; J. R. Phillips, Brager, and P. A. Zimpfer, Amarillo.

Homer Lively and Dr. R. M. Bellamy were introduced as new members of the club.

The report covered transactions to October 19. The report showed loans and contributions totaling $50,704 in amounts over $100 between September 1 and October 19.

HARVESTERS HOPE WEATHER WILL ALLOW PASSING IN LUBBOCK BATTLE

INJURY JINX STILL BESETS PAMPA TEAM

WESTERNERS TO OUTWEIGH BOYS 20 POUNDS EACH

The Harvesters had difficulty keeping their minds on the business at hand yesterday afternoon when Coach Odu Mitchell and J. C. Frejan put their charges through a three-hour practice session in anticipation of a titanic struggle against the Lubbock Westerners Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Harvester field.

It was the north skyline that kept drawing the attention of the squad. Were those rain clouds or were they just advance notice of a norther? Was the question of fishing through the boys' minds. Rain would mean a wet field for Friday afternoon and where would the Harvester passing attack be? A wet field would also give the big Westerners extra advantage, over and above the weight difference which will be about 20 pounds per man in dry uniforms.

This morning the norther had arrived but with only a few drops of moisture. The sky was still overcast, however, and snow or sleet could be snatched on the breeze which wanted this way from the north pole.

Getting back to the practice, the rail birds who looked over the fence saw the Harvesters go through a general session of calisthenics, blocking, tackling, passing, punting and ending with a scrimmage between the A and B teams. It was noticed that Woody Woodridge, crack signal barker, took no part in the heavy work. That almost put up the sign that Woodridge would not be in the starting lineup against the Westerners because of his sprained ankle.

Roy Lee Jones was still being used at left tackle with Norman Cox and Tappy Reynolds fighting out for the end assignment left vacant by Jones' transfer. It was also noticed that on defense, Maxey shifted over to the left end position instead of being at the right end of the line.

The injured showmen worked spells at fullback during the lengthy practice and will be ready for the starting call against the Westerners. Sherman Morgan bobbed up with a leg hurt yesterday and worked only at times. Little Bill Stiles replaced the ailing Morgan and his work was outstanding in the scrimmage session. Smith, Watt, McKay, Williams and McMahan also showed up like sore thumbs during the practice.

The Westerners may be at full strength when they come to town Friday. The Lubbock Avalanche says:

Still somewhat shaken from the jells of last week's game with the bruising Big Redskins of Capitol Hill, Oklahoma City, the Lubbock Westerners nevertheless showed considerable spark and sparkle yesterday as they started making definite preparation for the District I championship opener Friday at Pampa.

Practice yesterday was limited to calisthenics, light blocking exercises and signal running. Coaches Chapman, Keyes and Ayers will bear down today, and for the next two days, in an effort to polish the club for the Harvester battle.

A special train carrying the Lubbock High band and pep squad and what is hoped will be a few hundred townspeople will run to Pampa Friday morning. The game is called at 3 o'clock.

Webster Limp Around
The whole squad, with the exception of Walter Webster, regular halfback, reported out ready for duty yesterday. All of them showed signs of soreness but were otherwise ready. Big Babe Ritchie, dependable tackle, who has been ailing for the past week with a strained back, was back in shape. Harold Ingley, sparkplug of the Lubbock attack, was also ready to go after taking such a pounding Friday as to cause him to be removed from the game.

Webster, rookie who became regular right halfback when Earl Ince was declared ineligible two weeks ago, came out of Friday's fray with what was apparently a broken ankle. But yesterday, after soaking the ailing member in hot water, he appeared upon the field with the ankle heavily taped, and walked about in an effort to limber it up.

Webster May Be Ready
Coach Walden Gnanman said that he thought it probable that Webster would be ready to go against Pampa, thus removing a heavyweight from the minds of Lubbock partisans. If Webster is ready to start next Friday, the Westerners should take the field at full strength physically barring any accidents during practice this week.

GIANT VEGA OUTLAWS TO PLAY WHITE DEER

WHITE DEER, Oct. 21.—Speed will meet weight Friday night at Buck field when the giant Vega Outlaws meet the White Deer Bucks at 8 o'clock. Admission will be 15 and 35 cents.

Inspired by a 7 to 0 victory over the touted Groom Tigers last week, the Bucks, nevertheless, will be the underdogs against the Outlaws who will present a 185-pound line to face the Buck front wall of 150 pounds. The Bucks are undefeated this season and have three conference victories to their credit. The Buck offense is led by Austin, quarterback who passes, punts and spins.

Baylor Drilling To Remove Aggies From Unbeaten List

Mississippi State Is Planning To Stop Christians

(By The Associated Press)

The "in-and-out" Baylor Bears studied favorite Texas A. and M. college plays in detail today as they drilled for the Aggie-Bruin contest at Waco Saturday.

The Bears suffered numerous bruises but no serious injuries in the University of Texas tilt last week and were expected to be in top condition for the Farmers.

The Aggies, meanwhile, anticipated the Baylor strategy and started working on new plays for use against the Bruins. Coach Homer Norton interspersed a strenuous workout with a showing of motion pictures of the Aggie-Texas Christian game last Saturday.

While Coach Ralph Sasse of Mississippi State groomed "Chunkin' Charlie" Armstrong for a passing duel with "Silgin' Sam" Baugh at Dallas Saturday, Baugh was missing from the Texas Christian workout for the second day. Curbstone coaches guessed Coach Dutch Meyer would not count heavily on the injured Baugh against the Maroons.

The Texas Longhorns, still in an ugly mood as a result of Baylor's upset victory last week, laid plans to wreck their vengeance on the Rice Owls, a team they have not defeated since Jack Chevigny became coach of the Steers in 1934.

The Owls had other ideas, however. Coach Jimmy Kitts drilled his charges against Longhorn plays and developed battle plans he hoped would take the Steers into camp.

At Fayetteville, the Arkansas Razorbacks sought to perfect their aerial tactics and develop their ground attack for the clash with the strong Louisiana State Tigers Saturday. Robbins, backfield threat who has been hurt with injuries, returned to the lineup.

Southern Methodist's Mustangs, with no game this week, took things easy.

ELEANOR HOLM DELAYS PROBE ABOUT STATUS

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Eleanor Holm Jarrett will wait until Avery Brundage retires from the presidency of the Amateur Athletic Union and then ask the new A. A. U. regime whether she is a professional or an amateur.

"It's an embarrassing situation, but I really don't know where I stand with the A. A. U.," she said at her Long Island home today.

Back from the most successful vaudeville tour of her theatrical career, Mrs. Jarrett said the A. A. U. had officially barred her from European competition and had refused to give its sanction to an amateur meet in which she was entered after returning from the Olympics, but it had not declared her professional.

"I'm hoping for the best, but I'm prepared for the worst," she stated. "I definitely want to keep my amateur standing and see no reason why I should not. But if they declare me professional I will go on the stage with a vaudeville swimming troupe which will include most of the outstanding amateurs."

OUTSTANDING BACKS OF U. S. NAMED IN GOULD'S ROUNDUP

BY ALAN GOULD.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Like the words of a well known football song, "The Backs Go Tearing By," is this week's all-America roundup. Superb blocking made it possible for two headliners, Lew Elverson of Pennsylvania and George Matisak of Duquesne, to produce ball carrying exploits that accounted for the season's biggest upsets on eastern grids.

For the second successive week, the roundup of backfield stars includes Monk Meyer of Army, Clint Frank of Yale, Don Heap of Northwestern, Cecil Isbell of Purdue, Ace Parker of Duke, and Sam Francis of Nebraska.

Francis, Cornhusker scout report, was the difference between defeat and victory for Nebraska over Indiana. To quote one expressive dispatch: "Without Francis first half Indiana nine Nebraska nothing stop with Francis second half Nebraska thirteen Indiana nothing stop final score Francis thirteen Indiana nine."

Credit for one of last Saturday's best quarterbacking jobs goes to Ed Goddard of Washington State, who outlasted his Southern California rival, Davie Davis, in a scoreless duel. Another conspicuous entry is Baylor's Lloyd Russell, who sparked his team's 21-point comeback to victory in the fourth quarter against Texas.

Other backs nominated in the latest Associated Press poll: East—Sid Luckman, Columbia; Bill Ingram, Navy; Bill Kurlich, Pennsylvania; Jack Batten, Cornell; Bill Osmani, Holy Cross; Boyd Brumbaugh, Duquesne, and Jack White, Princeton.

South—Bucky Bryan and Noel Loftin, Tulane; Tom Burnette, North Carolina; and Bill Guckeyson, Rice.

Southwest—Jim Shockey and Dick Todd, Texas A. & M.; Bob Finley, Southern Methodist; Jake Scheuhle, Rice; and Jack Collins, Texas.

Far West—Byron Haines, Washington. Midwest—Don Geyer, Northwestern; Bob Wilke, Notre Dame, and Ray Bulvid, Marquette.

Familiar roundup figures, on the line, include Ed Widseth, Minnesota's co-captain and tackle; Joe Routh, Texas A. & M. guard who rates high among all Southwest observers; Jim Hauze, Pennsylvania's stalwart center, and Larry Kelley, Yale captain and right end.

Other ends who come well recommended this week are Jim Benton, Arkansas, and John Morrow, Texas A. & M.

Tackles—Dave Gavin, Holy Cross; Bill Moss, Tulane; Averill Daniell, Pittsburgh; Chris Del Sasso and Ted Livingston, Indiana; Joe Ober and Walter Shinn, Pennsylvania; Red McKenna, Manhattan, and Charley Toll, Princeton.

Guards—Ed Howell, Army; Rivers Morrell, Navy; John Shavely, Yale; and Harry Wheller, Manhattan.

Centers—Porter Tull, Tulane; Geo. Miller, Indiana; Basrak, Duquesne; Red Conright, Oklahoma, and Carl Ray, Dartmouth.

SPORT SPARKS

BY FELIX R. MCKNIGHT.

DALLAS, Oct. 21 (AP)—Just to keep the record straight... It was Sophomore Billy Patterson, not Lloyd Russell, who started last Baylor surge against Texas last Saturday. The fleet halfback grabbed the ball from Russell on a "Statue of Liberty" play and scampered 40 yards to the six stripe... Russell got newspaper credit for it... It was one of the few things Baylor accomplished in the last period he shouldn't be applauded for.

Ticket sales at the gate for the Aggie-TCU game set a new high at College Station... Gross receipts totaled $18,000, with $10,000 crossing the counter the afternoon of the game... Raymond (Bear) Wolf, the old Texas Christian-line coach, is holding his head up as head coach of North Carolina... He has four wins to his credit.

Babe Didrikson, the wonder girl, who says she makes $100 a day on golf exhibitions, wants to quit golf for a living within the next two years... Says she's tired and wants to rest... Baylor publicists insist Lloyd Russell, the "crooning quarterback," was found after Saturday's sensational triumph singing "It's My Night to Howl."

Its true what they said about the Texas Aggies' Dick Todd... He's another Joel Hunt, the Aggies tell you... Pete Cawthon, Texas Tech coach, says Centenary, their Saturday foe at Lubbock, is the "best team we've met on our home field." There have been some fair teams on that field, Coach.

Five hundred thirty-two musicians, members of five bands, will give football's largest spectacle between halves of the Baylor-Texas Aggie game at Waco Saturday... The Texas Aggie, Baylor, Waco high and two Waco junior bands will merge into one unit... It's the big welcome to Baylorites on homecoming day.

Louisiana State, Arkansas' Saturday foe at Shreveport, is the Razorback's old grid rival... The started its back in 1901 and have played 39 times since... L. S. U. has won 18 and lost 13 of the series... Back in 1906 they tied.

GUNGIRLS. CHICAGO—Arnold Moore is ready to concede that the female of the species is as deadly if not deadlier than the male.

A blonde and two brunettes walked into the mortuary where he is employed.

The blond demanded the "fish box" as she flashed a pistol. "Money," she added when Moore failed to comprehend. He handed her $550. Then the brunette companions relieved him of a ring, a $40 wrist watch and $10 in cash.

Expected to Lead Defensive Attack

NOBLITT, 175

Defensive high lights in the Pampa-Lubbock clash at Harvester field Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock are expected to be flashed by Ivan Noblitt, Pampa center, and Wilburn Piercey, Westerner guard. Noblitt has been outstanding in every game played this season. His tackling has been true and deadly from his position backing up the line. Piercey stands out in his uncanny ability to get through the opposing line to smear the ball carrier before he can break away.

DEFENSIVE FOOTBALL IS GREATLY IMPROVED SAYS GALLOPING GHOST

CHICAGO, Oct. 21 (AP)—Take it from Harold ("Red") Grange—the going is a lot tougher on collegiate football's big time circuit today than it was 12 years ago when he ran wild on the nation's grids as the famous Illinois "galloping ghost."

Grange, the most publicized player football ever has known, has been out of the game as a player since 1934. But it's still his great love, and when he's through with his duties as assistant coach of the Chicago Bears, he enjoys studying intercollegiate eleven and their styles of play.

"In the main, the running plays of today and when I played are practically the same," he said. "Lateral passes have opened up the game a little and some teams concentrate more on speed than on power, but the big difference I see is in the improvement in defense."

"We used to play a seven man line and a diamond or box defense. We never heard of the 6-2-2-1 defense or the 6-3-1-1 or all these numbers you hear of today. Nowadays, coaches have different defenses for every game—and it's tough on the backs when they're up against something like that."

"Say—if some big team next Saturday used the defense we used 12 years ago they'd probably get beat 40 to 0!"

GENTLEMEN TO PLAY TEXAS' TECH RAIDERS

CAWTHON SEES TEAM AS BEST OF SEASON

(Special to the Pampa NEWS)

LUBBOCK, Oct. 21 — If the Texas Tech Red Raiders survive the pounding shocks of heavy practice sessions to which they are being subjected this week, an ordinary ball game Saturday night would seem to them, more like a light scrimmage, or a busman's holiday, but not so Take it from Coach Pete Cawthon, Saturday night's ball game will be anything but an ordinary scheduled appearance. The Centenary Gentlemen from Shreveport are to be Tech's opponents.

"You can say, without fear of having to take it back," Cawthon from Tuscon where he scouted the Gents against University of Arizona Saturday night, "that Centenary has the best team we've ever met on our home field."

Cawthon by nature is a pessimist, but never has he returned from a game or a scouting trip with a longer face than he is wearing now. He was jolly, by comparison, after returning with his own defeated team from Wichita, Kas.

"Centenary should have beaten Arizona by at least two touchdowns," Cawthon reported. The game resulted in a 13-13 tie, with the Gents marking up 20 first downs to 4 for Arizona. A forward pass, ruled complete because of alleged interference, put Arizona in position to score the tying touchdown.

Tech's team is definitely on the spot this week. The game with Centenary features the annual homecoming day program. More than 8,000 seats, or approximately half the capacity of the new Tech Stadium, has been reserved and with decent weather the place is sure to be packed.

Furthermore, it's Tech's chance to make good on a promise offered six years ago, to give Centenary a good ball game. Cawthon has been dickering with Centenary for six years for a contract. Saturday night's contest marks the first meeting of the teams.

Tech and Centenary have been applicants for membership in the Southwest conference for several years, but the circuit has never been able to choose between them. This week's game, sure to be a thriller, should make a definite impression on the conference.

It is now a quiet, peaceful rural community.

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY. By E. C. SEGAR

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG
BY LOUIS SCHNEIDER

FAVORED.
Wall Street's finest have again run wild in making utility share commitments because of a so-called leak from Washington. The grapevine report is that Joseph P. Kennedy, former head of the Securities Exchange Commission, will be named by President Roosevelt as chairman of an arbitration committee on the pooling of electric power in the region capable of being served by the TVA, Commonwealth & Southern and others. When Mr. Kennedy was head of the SEC he played ball with financial interests. Now it is said that with him as head of the arbitration committee "it goes without saying" all will run smoothly for utility corporations." In other words the utilities are expected to be favored.

NO!
International money interests look for a free gold market in the United States. According to high Treasury officials that isn't in the cards. The tri-power gentlemen's agreement is for the purpose of doing away with price fluctuations in the currencies of France, England and this country. The stabilization funds of these nations will be used to "steady" the prices of these currencies. No gold dealers or money brokers will be able to—under the agreement—to get yellow metal from any one else but the agents of the countries. Officially it may be stated that a free gold market in the United States is not in the immediate offing.

BITTER.
As rail insiders had expected for months New York Central finally declared open war on Baltimore & Ohio. But it is being done via subsidiaries. Starting early next month Central will ship freight to Baltimore via its subsidiary Universal Carloading instead of via B. & O. It is officially said that Universal will give Pennsylvania Railroad preference in using freight cars running to Baltimore. Universal may even use the Pennsylvania for its shipments as far as Pittsburgh. At present B. & O. is enjoying this Universal and Central freight confidence.

And what's the cause? There are two reasons. The first is that B. & O. has a contract with the Keeshin Highway & Transport company—a motor truck freight service doing a nationwide business. Rails fear that B. & O. would thus undermine the rate structure. The second reason is the B. & O.'s approval of the I. C. C. order to reduce passenger fare rates to two cents per mile. All other railroads are legally fighting the I. C. C. order while B. & O. remains on the sidelines. That is why carrier feeling towards B. & O. is bitter.

ICKES CHARGES ARE ANSWERED BY CANDIDATE

LONDON EXPLAINS HIS STAND ON STATE SOCIALISM

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—An exchange of campaign blows, in which Secretary Ickes called Gov. Landon a former "state socialist" and the Kansas governor replied that the New Deal was like a "losing team throwing the ball around wildly attempting to score," intensified the presidential battling today.

Questioning Landon's "sincerity," the interior secretary declared in a radio address last night that in 1935 Landon was a state socialist advocating state owned telephone and natural gas distribution systems but that recently he became a "rugged individualist" overnight.

Landon came back with a statement that New Dealers had been charging he was a "puppet of big business" but now say he is "a socialist and the enemy of big business." Landon declared this was "typical of the confusion" of the Roosevelt administration.

On Feb. 7, 1935, Ickes said, Landon wrote to him suggesting loans to states for "public state wide telephone systems." He added that in December, 1934, William Allen White, Kansas editor, was sent to Washington with a Landon proposal.

"Enjoining great secrecy because the governor of Kansas did not want his colleagues in the oil business to get wind of it," Ickes said, "Mr. White unfolded a plan by which Kansas, as a state enterprise, would build a pipe line to the natural gas fields in southwestern Kansas and market that natural gas in competition with private industry."

"It also developed later that Gov. Landon did not propose to take the people of his state into his confidence until it was too late for them to block his ambitious plan. . . . The cost of Mr. Landon's little pipe dream would be $35,000,000."

Landon, in a statement issued in Los Angeles, said the gas negotiations were undertaken in a successful fight to obtain lower gas rates. He said he favored "public ownership as a gun behind the door" in adjusting rates.

"The reason he asked Ickes to keep the negotiations secret, he said, was that if they had been made public 'the private gas interests would have pre-empted all the available gas reserves and we would have been out of luck.'"

Heroes of Black Bean Episode to Have Monument

LA GRANGE, Oct. 21 (AP)—The state's highest officials will gather Sunday at Monument Hill to dedicate the $10,000 memorial tower to men who drew black beans—meaning execution—during Texas' punitive expedition to Mexico in 1842.

George Lenert, LaGrange, master of ceremonies, said Gov. James V. Alfred, Attorney Gen. William McCraw, Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul and State Senator L. J. Sulak would speak.

Following dedication of the state-donated memorial, Bishop C. E.

Seamen Saved in Lake Erie Disaster

Seven seamen were saved and 20 were missing when the freighter Sandmerchant capsized in one of the worst storms in years on Lake Erie, 18 miles northwest of Cleveland, near Avon, O. Above are shown the lifeboats being towed into Cleveland by coast guardsmen. At left below is William Gifford, 37, of Newcastle, N. B., and at right is Fred Morse, 28, of Windsor, Ont., two of the men saved, in a Cleveland hospital.

The seven rescued, including the captain, Graham McLelland, clung to the overturned lifeboats for nearly 10 hours before the steamers Marquette and Thunder Bay Quarries reached them.

Patriotism is born early in Syria, as this 4-year-old member of the Iron Shirts militia demonstrates. ROPEVILLE TENANTS DOUBLING INCOME IN SECOND R. A. YEAR

DALLAS, Oct. 21 (AP)—Thirty-three farm tenants at Ropesville are doubling their income this year as the first stage in home ownership under the Resettlement program, says D. P. Trent, regional director of the R. A. here.

The majority, he says, were sharecroppers and farm hands last year, and their average income was $412.50. This year they will average more than $900.

"These families moved to 120-acre farm at Ropesville last January, and their experience will be used in the farm tenancy conference to be called by Gov. Alfred late this month."

Ranging in age from the 21-year-old husband who is getting an early start toward home ownership to the older man who has "cropped his way to Oregon and back," and from the veteran who spent last year in a CCG camp to the third-and-fourth tenant who had most of his equipment, these families are considered a fair cross-section of the 286,000 farm tenants in Texas. They were chosen from more than 1,000 applicants.

Most of these families came to the project without teams, tools, or supplies, and an average of $952 was loaned to each for equipment and subsistence. They also owned an average of $63. An inventory made this month shows the total assets of these families are now $462 in excess of liabilities. Their average assets, $1,477; average liabilities, $1,015. In the meantime, they have lived and fed their livestock for the year.

ANN HARDING DECLARES HUSBAND IS NOT FIT TO CARE FOR DAUGHTER

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21 (AP)—The custody contest between Ann Harding and her ex-husband, Harry Bannister, today found the blonde film actress repeating charges that Bannister is not fit to care for their daughter.

"As far as I know," Miss Harding set forth in an affidavit, "he does not devote any time to serious business matters and earns no money. I struggle for my living. He does not keep me."

The affidavit was filed here in behalf of Miss Harding by her attorney, Roland Rich Woolley, in connection with a petition asking court permission to keep seven-year old Jane Bannister with her in England until May, 1937.

The actress is working for an English motion picture concern. Under a court order issued several months ago, Miss Harding must return Jane to California before next December 10.

Miss Harding must remain abroad longer than she anticipated, she says in the affidavit, "because of illness and delays in her screen work."

"I submit very respectfully that it is to Jane's interest to remain with her mother," the affidavit read.

SPEED, SAFETY AT LOW COST IS AIM OF AIRMEN

Improvements Made Rapidly on Transport Lines

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 21 (AP)—Jack Herlihy used to chase horses and cows out of pastures before he could "set down" his biplane.

In 1928, long before he had approached his present record of 1,000,000 miles of flying, he was surveying possible airports.

Herlihy had vision, but some of the great flying fields he helped select will be too small for the ships which the great air transport companies of the United States will be flying in 1938.

The passenger capacity of today's airliners will be doubled in about 18 months when 40-seat airliners are expected to go into service.

Big Airports Aid Safety.
Big airports assist the aeronautical engineers in attaining their principal objectives—increased safety and greater speeds. They also seek greater economies of operation.

In the field of safety, the automatic pilot is the flier's right bower. The human pilot guides his great machine aloft, then twists a knob on the instrument panel and releases the manual controls.

The plane now is in the hands of "the machine that thinks," the gyro-plot.

Take a peek at its mechanism: There are two small gyros, actuated by air streams. One is for lateral control, the other for vertical flight. The gyros respond to the movements of a number of oil plungers which transmit to its variations in air currents. Through "boosters" to increase the strength of its commands, a gyro accommodates the airplane to any air conditions, to wind drift to shift in the load in the fuselage.

Dozens of Instruments.
Augmenting the gyro as a safety device are dozens of instruments, better airports and ground crews in constant radio communication with the plane. Plane design itself has contributed a large safety factor in a decade of air engineering.

Ice on propellers and wings is no longer a problem; skelins of oil and flexing rubber shields on the leading edges of the wings destroy the ice which once altered the contours of the wings and made planes unstable.

"Beam" flying utilizes a system of dots and dashes transmitted by radio, spread fan-like from transmitting stations. The beams advise a pilot whether he is "on course" or to the left or right of his scheduled line of flight. So perfected has the beam system become that instrument panels now are being built with visual indicators.

Landing gear always was a problem. It retarded flight. New construction designs enabled aeronau-

Judge Ponders TVA Decision

Early decision in the suit of 19 power companies challenging validity of TVA was promised by Judge John J. Gore, above, in federal district court at Nashville, Tenn., after long arguments on the motion of federal attorneys to dismiss the suit for lack of jurisdiction. The case will be carried to the U. S. Supreme Court.

tical engineers to increase air speed as much as 25 miles an hour with retractable gear. The moment a pilot throttles his motors, a siren blares in his ears and red lights dance on his instrument board if his wheels are not in landing position.

The 1936 transport pilot has no less than 75 dials on his instrument board. Half of them are duplicates—for safety. Just a sample, for the motors alone: Gauges for oil pressure, oil temperature, Carburetor intake, temperature, fuel, vacuum (actuating the gyros and de-icers), cylinder head temperature and tachometer, which shows the number of engine revolutions.

It has been only a decade since private companies took over the air mail from the government, but that decade has been one of achievement. On land the 5,000 to 7,000 pound machine has been increased in size to 25,000 pounds and more. Machines now under construction will weigh more than 50,000 pounds.

On the sea, where the problem of landing a great mass of weight is much simpler, huge flying boats ply the air over the Pacific and along the coasts of South America.

Soon they will span the Atlantic.

Choking Caused Death, Doctor Says at Trial

FLOYDADA, Oct. 21 (AP)—Dr. Albert C. Traweck Jr., state witness at the murder trial of Everett McArthur, testified Tuesday that the allegedly slain man, "Uncle" Ben Speegle, died of suffocation "and that his most serious injuries were caused by choking by someone's hands."

Speegle, 60-year old Motley county pioneer, was killed in a tourist camp at Matador the night of Nov. 22, 1935. McArthur, 23, is a member of a well-known pioneer Dickens county family.

Dr. Traweck testified his examinations also disclosed that Speegle's jaws were fractured and several vertebrae in his neck were dislocated.

The doctor testified further that he saw the defendant, McArthur, "about midnight" after the alleged killing. He said he saw blood spots on McArthur's clothing.

J. L. Koonsman, sheriff of Dickens county, arrested McArthur, along with Melvin Ensey and Russell Smith, in a Dickens cafe and took them to Matador, he testified. The sheriff said McArthur had blood on his shirt and trousers.
