RAINS SOAK LAND IN PANHANDLE LAST WEEK

Continued rainfall over the Panhandle in spurring hopes for the winter wheat crop as growers contemplated benefits of precipitation that has averaged from half an inch to two and one-half inches over a wide area during the past few days.

The moisture has heartened wheat farmers and sent them into preparations for planting. Ranges have brightened and row crops have taken on new life with the September rains, heaviest in the area since last May.

More than two and a half inches of rain fell in and around Amarillo Friday evening. Pampa, which was favored with 1.12 inches on the previous day, also received some rain Friday evening, about an eighth of an inch.

The heaviest downpour of Friday, however, had Amarillo as its center, although it reached as far south as Lubbock, a few miles east and west and several miles north.

Pampa temperatures found a minimum of 69 at 4 a. m. yesterday and a maximum of 95 at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. At midnight Saturday the mercury had fallen back to 70.

ALLRED FLAYS LONDON IN OKLAHOMA ADDRESS

MEDICINE PARK, Okla., Sept. 5 (AP)—Governor James V. Allred of Texas launched the Oklahoma national Democratic campaign here tonight with a sharp attack on the presidential candidacy of his brother governor, Alfred M. Landon of Kansas.

He spoke at the annual festival of the Young Democrats of Oklahoma. Governor Allred labelled Governor Landon a "1936 sport model Herbert Hoover," and called upon the people to check the record as to the sincerity of "this typical Republican, whose chief boast of ragged individualism is that he balanced a budget and cut expenses while the funds of other states were used to feed the unfortunate citizens of his state."

He charged that Landon, posing as a believer in states' rights, had actually gone on record for federal dictatorship of the oil industry.

"If there is any word more repulsive," Allred continued, "or anything more tyrannical in the minds of American people than 'dictator' or anything I don't know it, it is worse than socialism, as bad as communism. I have no patience with Governor Landon in his unjust attack upon a president who refused to endorse his plan for either dictatorship or federal control of business."

SUSPECT IN LA JOLLA MURDER CASE ESCAPES

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Sept. 5 (AP)—A man whom officers wished to question concerning the killing of Ruth Muir at La Jolla, escaped from Deputy Sheriff Walter Sibley today, but a little later a suspect answering his description was arrested at Corona, near here.

Sheriff Carl Rayburn said, however, he believed the man was a mental case. He dispatched officers to Corona to return him here.

The man was first arrested here after a rancher reported to the sheriff's office that a man to whom he had given a ride told him he had seen the killer of Miss Muir. Sibley did not handcuff him, and as he turned his automobile around to return to the jail, the man struck him a terrific blow on the head, jumped from the car, and fled.

Miss Muir, who was general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. here, was beaten to death Monday night at La Jolla, a suburb of San Diego, Calif.

All clues uncovered so far in the search for the killer of the 48-year-old socially prominent Texas civic worker have proved fruitless.

MERRILL, RICHMAN TO FLY BACK TO AMERICA

LONDON, Sept. 5 (AP)—Dick Merrill and Harry Richman tuned their plane tonight for a jaunt to Paris as a prelude to a return hop across the Atlantic, probably Monday.

The pair planned first to go to Liverpool to inspect the airport there and then fly to Paris to test their machine, which has been overhauled.

"We'll have sufficient sense to wait for good weather," Richman declared.

"You can take it from me there is no question of our sailing back."

Pilot Merrill and his passenger-plane owner, who were forced down in South Wales on their hop from New York, had their ship at Croydon airfield for conditioning.

Robert Abram Bartlett, American explorer, was born in 1875 at Briggs, Newfoundland.

Glacier Bay National monument, Alaska, contains 1,820 square miles of glaciers and ice-covered peaks.

A non-inflammable cellulose enamel which can be applied at relatively low temperature has been developed in Germany.

ZURICK TEST DRILLING AT 2,380 IN LIME

WELLS ARE EXPECTED TO BE STARTED NEARBY

Zurick test in southern Union county, New Mexico, is drilling at 2380 feet in hard lime and anhydrite. It is reported that this formation is checking with the Hobbs and Eddy county, New Mexico, pools. It is predicted that commercial oil or gas may be picked up at any time after the hard lime and anhydrite beds have been drilled through. This test is being drilled by the Olson Drilling company and the Superior Oil and Gas company of Tulsa, Okla.

The Quaker State Oil company, which is owned principally by Pampa people, owns approximately 12,000 to 14,000 acres around this well. Dr. A. R. Sawyer, O. N. Frasher, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Reber, W. H. Vandenberg, W. B. Frost, G. C. Stark and L. W. Tarquenton have returned from an inspection trip of the Quaker State oil company's holdings in southern Union county, the company's Wagon Mound holdings in Moro county and the Cherryvale holdings in San Miguel county, N. M. These people are well pleased with the progress of the company's holdings.

The company will have approximately 50,000 acres on the Wagon Mound and Cherryvale structures on which the Quaker State oil company will drill a well on each of them. There was a well drilled on the Wagon Mound structure in Moro county in 1925 which produced and gauged, according to the state of New Mexico's reports, twenty-six and one half million feet of carbon dioxide gas, known as CO<sub>2</sub> gas, at 1420 to 2225 feet. This is considered one of the largest deposits of Carbon dioxide gas ever found in New Mexico. The Quaker State company expects to drill its first well within 200 feet of the above well. When this has been completed, the Quaker State company will either build a dry ice plant on the Santa Fe railroad, six and one-half miles from this well, for the manufacture of dry ice, or will sell the gas.

The company expects to have the wells started on each of the above structures on or before the first of January, 1937.

JUDGE WARNS AGAINST LOCAL ARSON THREATS

With a "lock-the-barn-before-the-horse-is-stolen" gesture, Justice James Todd Saturday issued a warning to persons who have threatened to commit arson.

Judge Todd said that within the past week two landlords have appealed to him for protection from tenants who have threatened to burn down the houses in which they live if the landlords carry out eviction orders for non-payment of rents.

"The penalties for arson and attempt at arson are pretty severe," Judge Todd said.

Under the law a person convicted of arson may be sentenced to from two to 20 years in the penitentiary and a conviction for attempt at arson carries a penalty of from two to seven years in the pen.

"It might be well," the judge warned, "for any who are contemplating arson to weigh the results of carrying out the threats."

SUICIDE PACT SEEN IN SAN ANTONIO SLAYING

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 5. (AP)—Police found Dr. J. A. Daniels, 71, dead, and his 68-year-old wife in critical condition in their apartment today. Officers said there had apparently been a suicide pact.

Drug-soaked cotton covered Dr. Daniels' face. Mrs. Daniels lay in the full bathtub, (a silk stocking about her throat).

Unsigned notes instructed the couple's 15-year-old daughter, Josephine, who was asleep in the apartment, to leave the door closed and call the manager, and left funeral directions. One note contained a check for funeral expenses.

One note said: "We realize we can neither of us get well, and we can carry on no longer."

Justice Bat Corrigan withheld a verdict until he could interview Mrs. Daniels.

Parents Brave Deadly Germs in Fight to Save Son

With his parents acting as "living test tubes" in a desperate battle to save him from death by streptococcal infection of the specific viridans type, almost always fatal, Philip Levitt, 7-year-old Chicago boy, is shown here as his sister, Florance, reads to him. The parents underwent inoculation with the death-dealing germs and the serum from their blood will be introduced into the lad's veins. Only antidote for the ailment, declares Dr. Morris Fishbein, health writer for NEA Service and this newspaper, is blood from a newly recovered victim, and these are rare, as the infection has a very high mortality rate.

CRASH KILLS TWO AND TWO MORE DUE TO DIE

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 5. (AP)—Two persons are dead, two expected to die, and a man is being held without bail on two murder charges as the result of an automobile collision at a street intersection here early this morning.

The dead are F. A. Hunt, 62, job printer, driver of one of the cars, and Frank Montgomery, 22, employed by Hunt as a circular distributor.

O. L. Weaver of Refugio, oil field worker, has been named in murder charges in connection with the two deaths.

Mrs. O. L. Weaver is in critical condition at a local hospital, suffering from internal and head injuries, and Eusebio Campbell, another employee of Hunt's, is suffering from serious back injuries. Clarence Younts, 17, is being treated for head injuries.

Both automobiles were demolished. Police who investigated the collision said Hunt had made a left turn off of a street running east and west to drive south when his car was struck about the center by Weaver's automobile which was going east.

The WPA reports 32,384 persons were employed on its North Carolina projects as of August 15.

Houston leased the place and lived there until his death. At a dinner given by Col. Tom Goree in October, 1872, at "Steamboat House," the question of a state university was broached to Gov. O. M. Roberts, who immediately took steps to establish it.

The house has three rooms on each of the two stories. Steps at the front leading to the second floor open on a parlor. The towers at the front corners extend several feet above the top of the house, and in Houston's time were used for closets.

STEAMBOAT HOUSE HAS BEEN RESTORED TO ORIGINAL FORM

HUNTSVILLE, Sept. 1. (AP)—"Steamboat House," in which Gen. Sam Houston died in 1863, rescued from years of neglect and restored to its original form, is a show-place on the Sam Houston grounds here.

After a chequered career of move-home of itinerant families, the old home of itinerant families, the old landmark was bought to J. E. Jossey of Houston and presented to the state March 2, last, the Centennial of the signing of the Declaration of Texas independence. It is to be maintained as a patriotic shrine.

It was moved from an obscure setting to the Sam Houston Home grounds where the long galleries on either side, giving the appearance of steamboat decks, and the steps to the second story, were restored.

"Steamboat House" was built by Dr. Rufus Bailey, Presbyterian minister and president of Austin college, here. Disliking the prevailing type of architecture, Dr. Bailey designed his home to represent a Mississippi

STATE SOLONS OFFER PENSION PAYMENT IDEAS

Rep. Eugene Worley Suggests Plan in Questionnaire

AUSTIN, Sept. 5. (AP)—Members of the forty-sixth legislature offered a broad variety of tax plans to pay old age pensions in answers to a questionnaire made public today.

They also evinced great interest in other benefits of the federal social security act, regulation of public utilities and revision of court procedure.

The questionnaire by Bob Barker, veteran secretary of the senate, inquired as to members' legislative programs. About half of the total membership of 18 replied.

Sixteen indicated favor for increased taxes on natural resources, although several qualified with the declaration the tax should be "reasonable." Advocates included Senators L. J. Sulak of Lagrange and Jim Neal of Miranda City and Senators-elect Franklin Spears of San Antonio and W. R. Newton of Cameron.

Three spoke for and four against a sales tax, while two championed an income tax. A number suggested heavier taxation of utilities. Others would increase the levies on gifts and inheritances and tax luxuries.

Senator Sulak advocated a law "creating a state tax equalization board, equalizing assessments and holding counties responsible for evasions," with the commissioners' court required to show at the request of the board "why valuations should not be raised to equal assessments in other counties."

Senator Neal would balance the budget "by a sales tax or collecting delinquent taxes," abolish the ad valorem tax for state purposes and replace it with a sales tax or an equitable levy on natural resources and public utilities.

Some members expressed a desire to eliminate "red tape" in administration. Rep. J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene, one of the latter, said he wanted to place "everyone on an equal basis." Rep.-elect W. W. Bridges of El Paso asserted "the old age assistance matter needs a lot of attention."

Rep. Stanford Payne of Del Rio had in mind making the law "conform more uniformly" with requirements of Texas' needy.

Three members of the house, Bradbury, Harry N. Graves of Georgetown and W. N. Sewell of Midlothian served notice they would seek to reveal the law legalizing pari-mutuel betting on horse racing.

Senator-elect Ben H. Sharpe, F. E. Mann of Houston, Arthur Holland of Belton and Ben H. Sharpe of Potts favored reducing the automobile license fees.

Senator G. H. Nelson of Tahoka, Spears and Rep.-elect A. P. Cagle of

Suicides

Wilmarth Ickes (above), 37, foster son of Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, was called an apparent suicide when he was found dead of bullet wounds at the family home in Winnetka, Ill. He had been under medical care for a year and his death occurred on the anniversary of his mother's fatal auto accident.

Waco went on record for a unicameral legislature.

Other measures members indicated they would sponsor included:

By Rep. George Moffatt of Chillicothe—Establishing a cotton research laboratory "to find new uses for 5,000,000 bales."

By Rep. Bradbury—Forcing every candidate for the legislature to file 30 days before the primary with county clerk name of employer.

SUNDAY GUEST EDITORIAL

By JOHN KETTLER, President of the Young Democratic Club of Gray County

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of "guest editorials" by prominent residents of Pampa and the northeastern Panhandle.

HEARST'S BRISBANALITIES

In a recent subtle but banal attack on President Roosevelt and the New Deal, Arthur Brisbane, Number One Hearstling who is paid $52,000.00 a year to conduct William Randolph Hearst's spite campaign, the clever propagandist drew a comparison of living conditions between France and America that was calculated to appeal to the type of American reader who is used to following the shallow reasoning of the man who favors whom his chief favors.

The fatal defects of that editorial are the same that flaunt themselves so notoriously in every Brisbane column. To the average Pampian, or American, it is futile to point out why Mr. Brisbane's daily attacks on the New Deal and President Roosevelt are insulting to the intelligence.

If Mr. Brisbane had not ignored early American history, he could have stated that the early Americans left Europe to enjoy, among other things, a higher standard of living on the American continent than they enjoyed in the Old Country.

Our Declaration of Independence and the intent of our Constitution set forth the ideal social and economic equality and most Americans contend that those concepts are the essence of the New Deal. In every line written by Mr. Brisbane, who helps keep Mr. Hearst Over Topeka and would keep him Over the White House, there is the blind, brutal contention that all was well with America before Roosevelt and that it would be much preferable if the economic royalists were returned to plunder and to pillage.

Red-Baiter Hearst's most favored sport to gain power and oppress long has been the tilting at fictitious Communist bugaboos. Mr. Hearst, through Mr. Brisbane, is now sensationally trying to convince the American people that Roosevelt has already run the gamut of Fascism and is headed straight in a dead run toward Liberty Leaguer Al Smith's "godless Moscow."

Mr. Brisbane is paid to fight the battle for the power-thirsty vested interests who begrudge the money the New Deal has spent for relief and shout New Deal waste and extravagance. The gist of the matter is, they were content to accumulate their millions and let millions starve while Roosevelt is not. They favored voluntary contributions but failed to give their share and are now crying because they are afraid they might have to pay a portion of their share in the form of taxes.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

ADMIRAL PEARY NAMED AND PLACED CROCKER LAND ON THE MAP. YEARS LATER, THIS "EXTENSIVE NORTHERN LAND" WAS FOUND TO BE A MIRAGE.

FOR centuries, there had been little doubt that land existed in the area which Peary later named Crocker Land. So realistic was the mirage, which existed under certain atmospheric conditions, that anyone who saw it was convinced. Later, MacMillan attempted to explore the land, and it vanished before his eyes.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

BY GEORGE TUCKER. The paradoxical axiom that the villains and blackguards of the theater are really sentimental, kind-hearted folk still stands.

At any rate, Basil Rathbone cannot bring himself to poison a puppy. "I know I thrashed a child once (David Copperfield), but I can't feed ground glass to a dog—not even for the cinema. The public has a too long memory; it would never forgive me."

An alert smile lighted his darkly handsome features as, between attacks on a tray of caviar sandwiches, Rathbone qualified his position. "To transfix an antagonism with a yard of steel is one thing, but—out in California I've got five dogs, a springer, a cocker and two highland terriers. I couldn't go home and look them in the eye if I mistreated one of their canine cousins, even in make-believe."

HOW'S your HEALTH

It is said that when persons become lost in the woods, they tend to wander about in circles. Eugene O'Neill, in his "Emperor Jones," makes dramatic use of this human tendency. But many of us "go about in circles" even before we are lost, and failing to anticipate emergencies, face them with added handicaps.

Finally, one should be thoroughly acquainted with the community's public health services, those of the local department of health, and of the state division.

Talks to Parents

By Brooke Peters Church. "Take your spoon out of your cup, Mary." "Why?" "Because it is bad manners to leave it in." Many of the lessons in manners which parents give are just as futile as this one. Manners are based on common sense. If not, they are useless.

TODAY IS OURS

Chapter XI. Judith looked at the headlines which Virginia Bent spread before her. POLITICAL SCANDAL INVOLVES NORTH END PIPE LINE CO.

At first glance she did not see the significance of the news story to which Virginia pointed. Then, with suddenness, with a catch in her throat, she remembered that this was the deal in which Steve had been engaged.

"It's quite a mess," she heard Virginia saying. "And they've indicted Steve." Judith dropped the newspaper to her desk. "But how can they? All he did was sell them the pipe?"

"I don't know how they can, darling. Of course I'm not saying he's guilty. Nothing has been proved yet except that somebody in the city had made money on the deal."

With that she left the speechless Virginia. Downstairs she saw the taxi and was soon at the offices of Steve's company, resolved to talk with Steve himself. In her excitement she had forgotten that it was the noon hour, and she found the place almost deserted, except for Steve Fowler!

Without another word, Judith turned and left him. But she wasn't finished. Before she had reached the street again she had her plan in mind. Steve Fowler was in trouble because he loved her, Judith told herself, and she must help him.

"Without another word, Judith turned and left him. But she wasn't finished. Before she had reached the street again she had her plan in mind. Steve Fowler was in trouble because he loved her, Judith told herself, and she must help him."

"How do you know Steve will fancy my coming up in this?" "I don't care about that," rejoined Judith impatiently. "Bob, if you've ever been a friend of mine—"

"With relief, Judith emerged from the telephone booth and hurried back to her desk. "What happened? Did you see Steve?"

Judith nodded, taking the cover from her typewriter. "Yes. And I telephoned Bob. He's going to get John Grose on the case."

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—"If it's a good scene without dialogues, it's a good scene." That is a simple rule, and it is one that George Marshall puts high on his list of things a movie director should watch for.

He started out with such veterans as Frank Lloyd, Frank Borzage and Harold Lloyd at the old Universal studios. Like them, he learned thru experience that one picture is worth a thousand words, and he practices today what he preaches.

Always Revising. "But no matter how good a script a director is handed," says Marshall, "I believe there will always be a certain amount of rewriting on the set. Scenes that sound well in story conferences, scenes we think are going to 'play' well, often don't. It may be because the character in the playing, has built up into something different, or because the particular scene may not be suited to the actor's interpretation of the character. You can't tell those things in advance—if you could you might not need a director. You could hand anybody an iron-clad script and tell him to follow it, and you'd get your picture. But you'd lose all those things that pop up spontaneously on the set, and they include some of the best items in many pictures."

Scene Gets Laugh. In the next scene the medical fraternity boys were to celebrate the passing of a test. While setting up for the scene was in progress, the orchestra played to while away time, and one of the boys seized the skeleton and started a fox-trot. Marshall had him do it in the scene, and it got laughs.

"Another thing," he says, "when you've worked on pictures a long time you can tell when the pace is beginning to lag. The picture is going along fine, at a good clip, and then suddenly you see it's dragging. When you can sense that, pop up something cutting; in fact, can do your cutting on the set."

PERRYTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—Sheriff F. P. Talley of Ochiltree county tonight said he believed the purported confession by two long-term Oregon convicts of a triple-slaying here was "a fake."

Talley was commenting on a report that Claude and Elmer Tension, prisoners in the Oregon penitentiary, had confessed to Warden J. W. Letson the killing of Gene Cone of Perryton on June 1, 1932, and his two sons, 9 and 6 years old.

The Tensions claimed they buried the bodies of the two boys about 27 miles southeast of Perryton. "Those old boys just want to get out of jail and a trip back home," said Talley.

LANDON LEADS FOR IN FIRST DIGEST COUNT

Landon leads Roosevelt by over 2 to 1 in the first scattering returns from four eastern states in the Literary Digest's nation-wide presidential poll.

The combined vote in Maine, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania, from which ballots are reported in a copyrighted article in the current issue of the magazine, shows 16,506 votes for Landon and 7,645 for Roosevelt.

Lenke polls 754 of the total of 26,689 votes tallied which is fractionally over three per cent. The Socialist candidate, Thomas, receives a total of 109 ballots and the other four minor candidates divide 125 votes.

Landon's lead is greatest in Maine, where he gets 1,831 to Roosevelt's 522 votes.

New Jersey voters sent in 2,660 ballots marked for the Republican candidate and 1,621 for the Democratic nominee.

The early returns from New York show the President trailing with only 2,724 votes to his opponent's 5,591.

Pennsylvania, which was one of the six states to give Hoover a plurality four years ago, now ballots 5,634 for its native son, Landon, and 2,778 for Roosevelt.

The Literary Digest cautions in its editorial columns that these returns are meager and should not serve as a base for any extensive predictions of the final outcome.

HOT WEATHER BLAMED FOR NUMBER OF FREAK ACCIDENTS IN TEXAS

AUSTIN, Sept. 5 (AP)—The drivers' license bureau blames extended hot weather for an unusual number of freak automobile accidents.

Riding with his feet on a chunk of ice rather than on the brake pedal cost one driver a broken collarbone. He was unable to stop in time to prevent crashing into another car, a report to the traffic accident division says.

Another report revealed that an automobile of ancient vintage, buzzing along at top cruising speed of 18 miles an hour, went over an embankment when its shady interior attracted a swarm of bees. The driver lost control in the scuffle for possession but escaped injury except for painful stings.

A stray bull, probably completely out of sorts because of the heat, was angered by the brilliant red color of a car and plunged through the wind-

Feminine Touch Behind Front

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS

BY WILL H. MAYES.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquiries must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Other accidents included one in which a hornet stung a woman passenger who, from the sudden shock, threw her arms about the driver. The car went over an abutment.

The humanitarian instincts of a driver, who sought to dodge across the highway to prevent striking a mother opossum and her family out for an evening stroll, was climaxed by a collision of three cars which sent seven persons to a doctor.

An argument over the efficiency of brakes led to demonstration so successful the wife of the owner of the automobile received head injuries when she was tossed into the windshield.

The briefest report read: "Doing 60. Curve. Too late."

NO POLES WANTED

LYNCHBURG, Va.—The Butterbeans on O. C. H. Chambers' garden are climbing poles and that's why he sued Charles T. Light, seed merchant, for $348.50.

Chambers claimed he asked the clerk for bunch beans, which do not need poles and mature about two weeks earlier than the pole beans.

The municipal court awarded Chambers $50. Light said he might appeal.

Commercial fox ranches in Alaska contain about 36,000 animals.

California spends more than $2,000 a year for paper on which to print state warrants.

Q. What was Sterling C. Robertson's record before coming to Texas, and what service did he render here? D. S. Cisco.

A. He was born at Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 2, 1785, was well educated, fought with General Jackson at New Orleans in 1815 and came to Texas first in 1823. He and his nephew, George C. Childress, were delegates to the 1839 constitutional convention from the municipality of Milan. He introduced more settlers into Texas than any empresario except Austin and raised a company to fight for Texas independence.

Q. What two Texas towns were named for the same hero? S. A. Leaky.

A. Crockett, in Houston county, and Davy, in DeWitt county, were named for David Crockett.

Q. Who was the first Chief Justice of the Republic of Texas? J. J. Cooper.

A. James C. Collingsworth, a native of Tennessee, who had served Brazoria, in the constitutional convention.

Q. Where was New Birmingham, Texas, and what became of it? G. S. McDavid.

A. It was near Rusk, Cherokee county, where there was iron ore that gave promise of large industrial development and at which a large hotel, for that period, was built by the developing company. The field and mines were abandoned, but a saw mill employing some 60 or 70 families, is being erected there now to utilize the timber of the surrounding section.

LORD'S PRAYER ENGRAVED BY MACHINE ON POINT OF PIN

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Editor RACINE, Wis. (AP)—By engraving the Lord's Prayer on a pin point, a machine has outdone the best feat of the human hand.

Two months' preparation of the machine was required for this job. Twelve ball bearings were used to transmit the movement from the master copy to the cutter point.

The engraving was done with a pantograph, a machine having a pointer set to be run over any pattern. The pantograph will copy this pattern in reduced proportions down almost to invisibility.

Fred Knapp made the pin point engravings. The prayer which he used as a pattern was printed within a circle about half the diameter of his hand, all capitals.

OBSERVATORY TO BE LARGEST IN WORLD FOR AT LEAST 50 YEARS

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Work is proceeding steadily on the new $6,000,000 Palomar observatory, which astronomers predict will be the world's greatest for at least half a century.

An 18-inch telescope already has been installed, and with it Dr. Fritz Zwicky is searching for and studying super novae, giant exploding stars. These stars, he believes, may help solve the mystery of the origin of cosmic rays.
