SPRINGTOWN SHOOTING FATAL

Ferguson Heard By Colorado Through

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

THE Ferguson folks feasted in Colorado last night on Jim's oratory.

Today the people of Howard and adjoining counties are introduced for the first time to Ross Sterling in person.

Mr. Sterling, unlike Mr. Ferguson, is not a professional politician. He can make a living all right without running for office. He is that rare sort of fellow—a big-hearted, democratic rich man. He is rich not only in dollars but in human kindness and wisdom.

Accompanying him on this tour is one of the most influential men West Texas has produced—Walter Woodward. The senator from Coleman knows his business as a senator, besides being one of the most able attorneys among us. He knows, also, what he is talking about when he opposes Jim Ferguson. He has dealt with Jim. In fact, he introduced the famous Amnesty bill. But he declares he knows when he has enough of Fergusonism. Walter Woodward is famous for doing and saying just what he believes.

It is the intention of the Herald to provide in Sunday's issue the facts concerning the method of financing and conducting the work in Howard county of the farm agent, the home demonstration agent and the county health nurse. It is evident there is much misunderstanding with reference to this.

Heard last night of a 4-H club boy who was so red when a man asked his mother to sign a petition for abolition of these three offices in Howard county that he spoke his mind in such strong fashion that the visitor had departed.

There are a lot of farmers, farmers' wives and farmers' children who will stand right up and scrap for the county agent, home agent and health nurse.

NEGRO TRAMPS SLAY YOUTH IN CAR

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 15 (AP)—Floyd Alston, 18, Centerville, Tenn., was killed and a companion, Ernest George, 20, also of Centerville, was injured seriously today by four negroes, who George said attacked them in a railway box car.

George said the negroes boarded the car with them early this morning. When the Illinois Central freight reached Covington, Tenn., near here, George said, the negroes drew knives, beat them and threw them from the car after seizing their money.

Unconscious after plunging from the moving train, George lay near the tracks from 3 a. m. until noon, authorities were told. A farmer found him.

Alston's body was found about a half mile from the spot where George regained consciousness. Alston either was killed by blows or by the fall when he was thrown from the car.

George said he and Alston were being picked up near Shaw, Miss., and were on their way home when they boarded the train here.

Judge Jim Cunningham of Abilene will speak here Monday night in the interest of the candidacy of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for the democratic nomination for governor. It was announced today by C. P. Rogers, president of the Howard county Mrs. Ferguson For Governor club.

The speaking will be held on the courthouse lawn at 8 o'clock.

JIM FLAYS STERLING'S PLATFORM

Bond Issue Target For Chief Verbal Barrage

By BOBBY CAMPBELL, Staff Correspondent

Between 6,500 and 7,000 persons gathered in Colorado Thursday night and heard James E. Ferguson let loose an attack on the qualifications of Ross S. Sterling of Houston, opponent of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, former governor, and candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Declaring "there are two people in this race, one having the brains and no money, the other having no brains and all the money," Ferguson launched his appeal to the voters of West Texas to uphold the "cause of Fergusonism" and "send Ma back to the governor's chair."

Chips Again
He reiterated his statement that "Ma would be right by Ma's side, bringing in the chips and carrying the water" early in his speech.

Thousands of voters invaded Colorado to hear Ferguson make his final appeal in this section for the votes of Clint C. Small.

Ferguson was introduced by C. E. Way, Mitchell county farmer. H. H. Barron of Lamesa, a Bell county native, also spoke before Ferguson. The speaking was held in the street in front of the Mitchell county courthouse.

Probably the greatest verbal barrage of the evening was directed at Sterling and the proposed state bond issue.

"I dare Sterling, I challenge him," Ferguson shouted, "to tell whether he is for or against the bond issue. Stand here tonight and tell you that every man on the stump for Sterling is a political coward. They are all afraid of that bond issue. They have all quit it and Sterling has walked off and left it like a little kid."

"I leave it to you. What do you want? Do you want 'Ma' Ferguson and 3,000 miles of roads a year and no bonds or Ross Sterling and $250,000,000 debt and no roads?"

Discusses Bank
"I appeal to you tonight to give your children an equal chance. Don't let this bond issue be forced on those yet unborn."

Ferguson talked at length about when he was governor and "Sterling was in a bad way with his banks." Ferguson alleged that at that time Sterling had banks at Humble and Neyton and had become "entangled with John Patterson, banking commissioner under me," Ferguson declared Sterling "came to my office crying like a negro because John was going to close his banks."

He read a telegram from "the boys at Houston" which stated that John Douglas, Houston attorney, who was working in the banking department at the time, remembered something of the incident. Douglas said he had been instructed by Patterson to take charge of the banks but that Ferguson went over his head and caused cancellation of the order.

BRITAIN'S GIANT DIRIGIBLE CRUISING ACROSS ATLANTIC

CARDINGTON, Eng., Aug. 15 (AP)—The R-100, Britain's giant dirigible, cruised steadily eastward today across the north Atlantic on its trip back home from Montreal.

The air ministry reported the position of the dirigible at 6 a. m. G. M. T. (1 a. m. EST) as 53:05 north 39:20 west, which is about 1,555 miles from Montreal and 1,722 miles from Cardington.

In the six hours since the last preceding report the dirigible's speed had been cut by a cross head wind from in excess of 60 miles per hour to about 35 miles per hour, and its average cut to about 55 miles per hour.

Should the dirigible not gain in speed over the remaining part of the journey her arrival at Cardington (Continued on Page Seven)

B. Reagan, president of the West Texas National bank, had "nothing to say" today in regard to his appointment Tuesday night as a member of the city commission.

Reagan was unanimously appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of R. L. Cook. Cook was elected to office last April. Appointment of Reagan was made without his knowledge. He was out of the city Wednesday.

He declared today he had "nothing to give out" in regard to the appointment.

Cook's resignation marked the second within the last few weeks, W. W. Inkman having resigned a few weeks ago.

Present Lindbergh With Honor Medal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—Charles A. Lindbergh today was presented with a special congressional medal of honor in recognition of his achievements in the air.

In his office at the White House, with high officials of the government grouped about him, President Hoover smilingly handed the medal to the young aviator.

"It is a real pleasure to present you this congressional medal on behalf of Congress and in commemoration of your achievements in aviation. I am sure the sentiment expressed by Congress is shared by the whole American people."

Lindbergh, replying, said: "Mr. President, I thank you, and wish to express my thanks to Congress and my appreciation to you."

Grouped around the president, in addition to Mrs. Lindbergh, were Secretary Hurley and Secretary Adams, the four highest government officials handling aviation matters and other officers of the government.

HOODLUMS SPREADING Shadow Of Gangland Falling Over Middlewest

CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (AP)—The sinister shadow of gangland spreads over the middlewest.

Three dead near St. Paul, Minn., another dropped by machine gunners at Rockford, Ill., and new slayings at Detroit and Chicago add weight to the belief that the hoodlum element is scattering.

The first tangible evidence that organized outlawry is seeking new territories for its racketeering, gambling and vice, is the usual symbol of the gangsters—a bullet pierced body, shot from behind.

The latest victim is Joe Golvingo, Rockford bootlegger, killed instantly.

Each Has Plan

Each field will have its proration plan drawn up by a committee of operators, subject to approval by the railroad commission.

A general hearing will be held in Austin two days before the date of effectiveness, at which the railroad commission hopes to bring all operators into agreement.

L. D. Parker, oil and gas supervisor for the commission, said that an independent order eliminating small or marginal wells from this or subsequent proration orders would be submitted for consideration of the oil operators at the August 25 hearing, on the premise that many of these wells could not be pinched without irreparable damage.

Four persons charged with counterfeiting the past week were not associated with Wood, officers said. They were G. A. Ryan of Amarillo and Arvil and Leo Eldison and Ralph M. Janies, all of Childress.

Ferguson, Sterling Speakers In Clash

LAMESA, Tex., Aug. 15 (AP)—Sterling and Ferguson forces clashed at O'Donnell where Ross S. Sterling of Houston stopped today for a brief address while en route to Big Spring and Sweetwater.

Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman was assailing Ferguson's record as governor and Mrs. Ferguson's pardon record when someone in the crowd told him Charles E. Coons of McCamey, a Ferguson speaker who had been following the Sterling party, was shaking hands in the crowd.

Pointing his finger at Coons, Woodward cited case after case of convicted men pardoned by Mrs. Ferguson, and challenged Coons to offer justification for them.

Carl Rountree of Lamesa introduced Woodward and Sterling here. Woodward promised his efforts in the senate to obtain relief for farmers in the pink bollworm quarantine area near here.

START TASK OF DROUTH HELP TODAY

Agents And Governors Head Home After Parley

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—The stupendous task of building up a network of state and county relief organizations to tide drought-stricken farm families over the winter, save livestock and prevent the spread of disease, today was under way.

Governors and representatives of the thirteen states most seriously affected by the prolonged dry weather headed homeward to carry out the program agreed upon yesterday at President Hoover's conference. In each state where conditions warrant a drought relief committee will be set up, headed by a leading citizen and including a state agricultural official, banker, Red Cross representative, railroad representative and farmers.

This committee is to create in each affected county a group of similar composition. The county units will receive applications for relief, supplying locally all possible, passing the others to the state groups.

Relief needs reaching beyond state resources will in turn be passed on to a federal committee set up by the president, comprising representatives of the department of agriculture, the farm loan boards, Red Cross, American Railway association and public health service.

Work With State

This group will work with the state committees also in providing credit for purchasing feed and seed, moving livestock to pasture and other large scale tasks. Guarding human suffering, the Red Cross will set up its own committees in each county, with the chairman of each represented on county relief committees. The Red Cross has already allocated $5,000,000 for this work, pending determination of the actual need.

As a further measure, states which have surplus feed, such as Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas, are to set up groups to cooperate with relief committees of states with surplus livestock, bringing the two together.

Meanwhile the department of agriculture was assigned to study possible employment aids by advancing this fall next year's state road allotments in the drought areas.

Today a conference between President Hoover and heads of the federal agricultural and finance agencies was to consolidate the governors' program in the relief move.

Yesterday Secretary Hyde placed before the governors a bundle of sheets analyzing by counties the reports of his department's agents from ten states. They showed a total of more than 287,000 families to supply feed to their livestock.

Crop Damage

The agents' reports on conditions, cut down to single sentences were listed next to columns of figures on estimated crop damage; amount of winter feed needed, how long the feed on hand would last and the number of families in need. Damage estimates of 60, 70, 80 and 90 per cent all through, with the 100 mark of total destruction occurring all too frequently.

Many agents reported exhaustion of the county finances and some told of conditions approaching panic. In poorer counties of some states thieving of food by tenant farm families was mentioned. Kentucky and Arkansas showed worst conditions, with Missouri, West Virginia and Mississippi showing communities unable to go through the winter without outside aid. The other states reported on were Illinois, Ohio, Nebraska, Kansas and Louisiana.

POLITICS IS SERVED HOT

Tenseness of Contest For Governor Increases

By The Associated Press

Persons who like their politics not were gratified today at developments in the race for governor.

They heard "Fergusonism" denounced in burning terms and proudly defended the state highway commission and its chairman criticized and praised and Governor Moody himself attacked and belittled by his enemies and roundly supported by his friends. Through all the speeches ran a peppery interchange between speakers and hecklers denoting increasing feeling.

On a long, hot, strenuous day's journey from Lubbock to Sweetwater via O'Donnell, Tahoka, Lamesa and Colorado, Ross S. Sterling of Houston, opposing Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, stopped here Friday for lunch and a rally at 2:30 p. m. at the Elitz theatre.

Lunch Here
Mr. Sterling was to have lunch at the Crawford with members of the party traveling with him, and later was expected to meet friends and supporters in the lobby of the hotel.

The Howard County Sterling-Ferguson Club, headed by James P. Brooks as chairman, was in charge of the rally at the Elitz.

Judge Brooks was to be chairman of the meeting, and was to introduce Mr. Sterling. Garland Woodward of Big Spring was to introduce his brother, State Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman, who is traveling with Mr. Sterling and contributing much to his campaign through West Texas.

OHIO PENITENTIARY CONVICTS HELD FOR FATAL PRISON BLAZE

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 15 (AP)—Six Ohio penitentiary convicts were being held in the Columbus city jail today in connection with the disastrous fire of last Easter Monday, when 320 prisoners locked in their cells, were burned and suffocated to death. The convicts whose names were not disclosed, were being held on orders of the state fire marshal's office.

The six prisoners were secretly removed from the penitentiary to the city jail last night. This was the first official step by the fire marshal, whose men have been investigating the tragic fire. The fire marshal's office and Warden Preston E. Thomas declined to comment.

For many weeks, Joseph Clear, chief investigator of the fire marshal's office, and Warden Thomas have been investigating in an attempt to ascertain the origin of the blaze. Investigations after the fire failed to disclose the cause. Some held that it was defective wiring, while others contended the fire was started by convicts who had hoped to escape during the confusion.

FARMER IS SLAIN, ONE NEAR DEATH

Find Body Of Man After Shot Is Heard

SPRINGTOWN, Tex., Aug. 15 (AP)—Dock Hinkle was shot and killed and Jeg Woody, who was charged with the shooting, was found probably fatally shot several hours later after a difficulty early today at the home of Jim Poke Matthews north of Springtown in Wise county.

Hinkle, shot in the hip, died about 6 o'clock this morning, five hours after he was wounded. An artery was severed.

Officers went to Woody's home, several miles from the Matthews residence, about daybreak. As they approached the house they heard a shot, according to Sheriff George T. Gage of Decatur.

"We went to an outhouse at the rear of the yard where we believed the shot was fired," said Sheriff Gage. "We found Woody there with a pistol in his hand. He has a bad wound near the heart. One shell in the chamber of the cylinder had been fired and one cylinder was empty."

The charge of assault to murder against Woody was filed in justice court at Boyd before Hinkle's death.

Constable A. V. Isbell of Springtown, who accompanied the sheriff on the call, said that the first shooting was the result of a quarrel at the Matthews home. He said that Mrs. Matthews was the only witness to the shooting of Hinkle.

Hinkle and Matthews had delivered a load of watermelons to Fort Worth Thursday and the two were planning to make another trip Friday.

BARBERS BEAT COSDEN CREW IN LOOSE BATTLE

So it goes. The City League has just about blown up, to be frank about it. Richardson Refinery won the first half, and now it looks as if Richardson Refinery has won the second half. Spikes Henninger, who has piloted the Cosden Redcaps over a stormy sea covered with many obstacles, dropped a nickel by the telephone operator's desk this a. m. and conspired with us at length. He informed that Cosden was through and that games would be forfeited to Coahoma and the Tigers. The Board of Governors refused to uphold the protest lodged by the Barbers against Richardson's win, so the league is three dollars to the good today. All Richardson has to do is battle the Tigers this afternoon to clinch the pennant. Should they win the Barbers will not have a chance to chop off the half game lead separating the two teams.

Regarding the protest. It is too bad it had to come up in the first place. And, having come up, it is too bad it couldn't have been settled some way. As it happened it fell upon the shoulder blades of George Gentry to cast the deciding vote. Messrs. Cuable and O'Brien, so we were informed, were voting in opposite directions. Which let the burden drop on the league president's neck. Richardson was given the deciding vote.

If Moonbeam the Dusky Ball Shagger will come by the office at his leisure we shall be more than glad to pay him twenty-five cents to take back the rabbit's foot which we paid him a dime for in the first place. We hadn't had that pedal extremity of the rabbit for three hours before the Spirit of Rebellion and a culvert had a fight, the culvert winning by a wide margin. Last evening, with the rabbit's foot securely tucked in our vest, our new motor vehicle became suddenly entangled with another of the same calibre, and at the present time all that was mortal of that machine rests on our desk. We're using the motorometer for a paperweight. If Moonbeam knows what is good for him he'll gallop down here with both of his ebony underpins and get that foot before we clout his ears off his cranium.

So the City League roundeth out a year, almost. It has been a success. Any amateur league that lasts three months is a success. It has been successful in other respects. It has gone through the season without having to be bolstered with financial assistance from any Big Spring business firms. The solons adopted the pay as you go plan and it has done just that. There is a small balance in the bank, we don't know exactly how much. So far as can be ascertained by the officials we don't owe a cent to anyone except Tiny Reed and if he gets his he is lucky. It has not been necessary to call on local residents to go down in their jeans for cash. We have been able to finance the thing through the season with the gate receipts. And the gate receipts, it might be said, have been two degrees below nullo this last half. It looks now as if there won't be a playoff, so this afternoon should end matters. The Barbers have one more game on tap with Coahoma. We haven't learned whether it will be played.

Another matter now is the Steer Training Camp. We aren't sure if that is going through. We will know tonight. If it doesn't there will be lots of disappointed boys and one disappointed coach, not to consider one disappointed newspaper scribe. Should the money not be raised what we have will be returned with thanks. The Steers will have to train at home.

Which may be just as well. It is the custom, in the Oilbelt, to give the players and coaches almost anything they want, if what they want will tend to give a winning combination. The year Big Spring puts out a contending team the going will be easy. It has been that way in all of the towns. It takes a winning team, or at least a contending aggregation, to get going. Ask San Angelo. Asking Ranger and Breckenridge and Cisco and Abilene. Inquire of Eastland. The answer is the same. History, so they say, has the habit of repeating.

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 15 (AP)—Three of America's first ten tennis players and an unranked collegian from Tulane University clash today in the semi-final round of the eastern grass court singles championships at the Westchester Country club.
Johnny Van Ryn of East Orange, N. J., ranked No. 4, was to meet Gregory Mangin of Newark in one all-Jersey match. Mangin ranks No. 10 nationally. The other half of the draw brings together Berkeley Bell, the Texan, placed No. 9 last year, and Clifford Sutter, intercollegiate champion from New Orleans. Sutter eliminated Big Bill Tilden yesterday, when the defending champion walked off the court while trailing in the second set.

WASHINGTON LOST ALLOPEZ BECAUSE OF $10,000 PRICE

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Alfonso Lopez, the gay baseball caballero with the blood of old Spain in his veins, stippled part a lot of "ifs" before he finally landed in Brooklyn to become the best young catcher of the season.
If Clark Griffith had been willing to gamble $10,000 on him a few years ago, he might have been a Senator backstop.
If the schoolboy catchers had been able to hold his slants he might have been a great pitcher.
Originally a hurler with the Sacred Heart college nine in Tampa, the local boy turned catcher because none of his teammates could receive his "steam ball."

AL LOPEZ

At 16, he left the sandlots to join the Tampa Smokers of the old Florida state league and hit .270. In 1926, his second season as a pro, he batted .317 and Jacksonville of the Southeastern drafted him for $750.
With the Tars, he hit only .280, but Wilbert Robinson spotted him as a bright prospect and coughed up the $10,000 that Griff refused to pay.
Robby had him at Macon in the Sally and then Atlanta, where he pounded the ball for .317 figures and went right up to Flatbush.

The son of Consuelo and the late Modesto Lopez who settled in Ybor City, Tampa's Spanish suburb, after their arrival from Spain, Al was jabbering Spanish fluently before he was taught a thing about English although he was born in Florida.
With Dolf Luque, the veteran Cuban pitcher, he forms the only Spanish-speaking battery in the big leagues.

Lopez, 22, is the youngest backstop star in the majors.

GRESSETT, PATTEN TWIRL

Cosden Team Torn To Pieces by Lack Of Men

The Barbers definitely eliminated Cosden Refinery from the second half race of the City League Thursday afternoon when they copped a loose fray 12 to 1.
Grissett twirled the orbit for the battling Barbers while Lefty Potter, the remaining Cosden chunker, was on the mound for the redcaps.
With the majority of the Cosden flashes off the team, it was a shifted and loosely connected aggregation that faced the Barbers. Ayres, Pool, Sain and McWhirt were missing from the lineup.
Cosden scored its lone tally in the sixth frame on an error and a triple. Baker blasting the three-ply to score Gould. They reached Grissett for seven hits in seven frames.
Lefty Potter gave up 11 hits during the melee, and Cosden colts contributed to his downfall by chalking up eleven errors. Billie Bass, Barber third sacker was hit with the stick registering three out of four trips to the plate.
The win over the gasoline guzzlers placed the Barbers in second berth, just one-half game behind the league leading Richardson crew.

SPUDDERS BACK ON TOP
BY GAYLE TALBOT JR., Associated Press Sports Writer
Harvey Ballew, well known San Antonio outfielder, juggled a lazy fly ball yesterday and the Wichita Falls Spudders were back atop the Texas League standing.
Ballew's costly muff enabled the Spuds to make it two straight from the Indians, 14 to 12, after a 12-inning struggle. The tallenders were leading, 12 to 11, going into the last of the ninth and had every intention of winning until Harvey went haywire on Euler's looper and Irving Burns trotted in with the tying run. That was all the leeway the Spudders needed. In the twelfth Fitzgerald bused one out of the lot with a mate aboard to make the victory official. It was Fitz's fifth blow of the melee.
The Fort Worth Cats were handed another jolt by the Buffs, 7 to 6, dropping into second place. The Panthers nursed a three-run lead into the ninth, when the Bruins suddenly jumped on Buchanan for four scores to break up the game. Dizzy Dean went in and set the Cats held in order in their half. The win tightened Houston's hold on third place, three and one-half games off the roof.
Waco continued to feel the loss of its regular third sacker, Jodie Tate, as the Dallas Steers handed the erstwhile sensations their sixth straight loss on the road, 6 to 4. The venerable Del Pratt, filling in at the hot corner, messed up a pair of bunts that led to as many Dallas runs and had a miserable

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS
By The Associated Press
NEW YORK—Jose Santa, Portugal, knocked out Al Sherring, Boston, (3).
SEATTLE—on Morgan, Seattle, outpointed Leslie "Wildcat" Carter, Everett (6).

Chicago has won two clashes and went one full game ahead yesterday as Pat Malone pitched a fine game for a 5 to 1 Cub triumph. But still the big advantage for the Bruins is that the difference is in the losing column where Brooklyn is two games to the bad. The future schedules show little possibility of a "break" for either team.
The Cubs, held in check to some degree through the second game, were completely superior yesterday, as Malone stopped the thunder of Brooklyn's big bats. They went out ahead in the very first inning and did all their scoring in the first three to win without much difficulty. Bill Clark, Brooklyn's southpaw ace, lasted less than two innings and Clise Dudley could not check the Cub slugger until the damage had been done. Malone, his speedball working at its best clip, gave the Robins only three hits in the first six innings and had a shutout in hand until two were out in the ninth, when a Cub lurch permitted the only Brooklyn run across the plate.
With four teams kept idle by rain and wet grounds, the National League as a whole made little progress yesterday. The St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Braves divided a close double header that was principally notable for the appearance of some of the league's older pitchers. Socks Seibold lost a tough struggle in the first game as the Cards put on a two run rally in the ninth to win, 4 to 3, although outhit, 11-9. In the second, old Tom Zachery outlasted Burtleigh Grimes and held St. Louis to six hits while the Braves pulled out a 3 to 2 triumph. The Card winning streak went to six games before it was broken in the second game.
Three pitchers, Wes Farrell, Earl Whitehill and Eddie Durham provided the features of the American League's day. Farrell won his 20th victory of the season as Cleveland came back from five straight defeats to pound out a 15 to 9 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics.
Whitehill won his tenth successive game, setting a major league record for the season as he beat the New York Yankees, 5 to 1, on a seven hit and eleven strikeout pitching performance. Elias Funk's triple with the bases full in the fifth gave the Tigers most of their runs. Durham, pitching in a lesser cause, turned in the best hurling job of the day. He shut out the St. Louis Browns with four singles and without a free trip to first to give Boston a 3 to 0 victory.
Washington's Senators used three hurlers in their final clash with Chicago and obtained the best results of them all so far as the standings were concerned although they had something of a struggle to win a 5 to 4 decision. As New York and Philadelphia both lost, the Senators gained a full game on their only important rivals, placing themselves eight games behind the league leaders and two ahead of the Yankees.

YOUTHS SPARKLE

CULVER, Ind., Aug. 15 (AP)—Sparkling play of three California youngsters has provided the unexpected in the national junior tennis championships here.
Favorites from the south and east fell by the wayside yesterday before the smashing attack of Larry Myers and Billy Doeg of Santa Monica, Calif., in the doubles and Charles Hunt of San Francisco in the singles.
Myers and Doeg, the latter a young brother of John Doeg, Davis Cup player, upset two seeded teams, overcoming Karl Kamrath and Joe Bill Bralley of Austin, Texas, 6-2, 11-9, and sweeping aside Kendall Cram of Nashville, Tenn., and William Jacobs of Baltimore, 6-4, 8-6, to enter the finals.
Hunt, who eliminated the third seeded player, Jack Cosgrove of San Francisco, on Wednesday, continued to the semi-finals of the singles yesterday by overwhelming Ray Palmer of Malba, L. I., 6-1, 6-0. Kamrath, Wilmer Hines of Columbia, S. C., and another Californian, James Bobbitt of Pasadena, are other semi-finalists.
Opposing Myers and Doeg in the finals today were Hines and Judge Beaver of Gainesville, Ga., seeded first, who whirled through three matches yesterday with the loss of but nine games.

day at bat. Twice he was the victim of a third out with the bases loaded, and again with two Cublets on. While the Mavs fell on four opposing chunkers in timely fashion, Old Specs Meadows hurled steady ball all the way.
Chick Shiver smacked two homers to account for half of his team's runs as the Beaumont Exporters made it two in a row at Shreveport, 10 to 6. The league's leading hurler, Oscar Tuero, was the victim, being charged with his fourth loss of the year. Beat to a whisper for seven frames, the Sports fell on Mallett for five runs and drove him from the hill in the eighth, but Green hustled in and stopped them before they could do more damage.

Comiskey Birthday
CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (AP)—Charles A. Comiskey, the Old Roman of baseball wars, today looked back on 70 years of life and 54 years of the national game.
At his summer home at Eagle River, Wis., Comiskey celebrated his seventy-first birthday with his son, J. Louis Comiskey, the latter's wife and their two children, hopeful that his youthful Chicago White Sox would give him a victory over the world champion Philadelphia Athletics at Philadelphia.
The Old Roman, the only major league club owner to reach his position from the ranks of the players, has spent most of the last several years in Wisconsin because of poor health, but has maintained an eager interest in baseball affairs.

SEEKS HAUSER
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—An offer by Charles Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, to purchase Joe Hauser, slugging first baseman of the Baltimore International League team for $25,000 cash was announced here today by Leo Barber, secretary of the Chicago team.
Barber said the White Sox had been negotiating for Hauser for nearly two weeks, and that Comiskey was willing to add John "Bud" Glancy, Sox first baseman to the large cash payment if the deal could be closed.
Hauser is leading all organized baseball in slugging out home runs, adding two more to his total yesterday to bring his total to 34, six behind Babe Ruth's all time record of 69.
HAIFI, Palestine (AP)—New excavations have been started by the Rockefeller expedition at Athlith, an ancient Crusaders' fortress south of this city.

Frazier To Steers
CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (AP)—Young Victor Frazier, White Sox right handed pitching prospect, today was on his way back to Dallas to continue his leisure until next February.
Frazier, who was purchased from the Dallas, Texas League club, last fall, deserted the Sox after the spring training season, but later experienced a change of heart. He came to Chicago to see about reinstatement, but learned his application was useless because he failed to file it before August 1.
The pitcher was regarded as a fine prospect by Manager Donie Bush, but for some reason decided he didn't want to leave Texas. Sol Dreyfus, president of the Dallas club talked him out of that notion, and he will have another chance to try for a major league berth in 1931.
BUDAPEST (AP)—Hungary's foreign trade showed in the first three months of 1930 a favorable balance for the first time in five years with exports approximately $5,500,000 in excess of imports.

You are not giving your present tires a fair chance if you are using tubes of an unknown or inferior make. Slow leakage causes under-inflation and you lose thousands of miles of wear.

U. S. Royal Heavy Service Tubes are built to stand up as long as the U. S. Royal tire, and that means longer than any tubes at the same price! They will keep your present tires at an inflation point where they can deliver all the mileage built into them.

The most economical combination is U. S. Royal Heavy Service Tubes with U. S. Royal tires but these tough tubes will save you money on any tire. Start using them today.

He reveals he is married to a widow, whom he has always loved, and who was forced to marry Howard by a fortune-hunting mother. HEAT TABOOS BRIDGE FESTS, BUT KIDDIES PARTIES MUST GO ON; SEND IN RECIPE SUGGESTIONS

Mrs. D. W. Jones and Mrs. Eugene Hargrove Wins Prizes Offered for Best Hot Bread Recipes

One can stop giving bridge parties when the hot weather hits the town, but there is one party that must go on regardless... that is the birthday party for Sister and Junior.

Reaching the age milestones between one and fifteen calls for a birthday party with cake 'n' candles, ice cream and lemonade.

After the score of battling little angels (or demons, depending on the mess they made) has gone you tour the house to check on the damage.

The cat sits disconsolate on the top of the Frigidaire with a full blown green balloon tied to her tail.

Under the divan in the front room you find the remains of two of your best glasses with the deep purple contents soaking blackly into your new rug.

A little girl dashes in the front door and gasps, "My mamma sent me back to tell you that I had a nice time. Miz Jones," and dashes out again to climb into the parental automobile at the front sidewalk.

Worth the Fuss? Two days later you receive, but you wouldn't have taken anything for the expression in Willie's eyes as he gazed up at you and said, "Mamma, that was the nicest party I ever had and the refreshments were so good, could I have some more ice cream?"

And this brings us back to the point—refreshments. For they are the climax of a children's party. They should be simple and inexpensive, for a child does not need rich food and he will not be critical of the service.

Send in your recipes for a child's party—recipes and menus. Let the other mothers in on it if you have discovered a way to cut down the breakage and mess caused by one of these occasions. Tell them of the food you serve and how you prepare it.

The Herald offers a prize of $2 for the best party menu turned in and a prize of $1 for the next best.

This Week's Winners

Threatening Mob Held To Deadline Following Threat

ELMIRA, N. Y., Aug. 15 (AP)—A threatening mob of 2,000 men and boys with a sprinkling of women, were held to a deadline today by Sheriff Harry J. Tift and six deputies, assisted by a dozen state troopers, at the communist children's camp at Van Ketten, following threats last night to burn the camp.

Leaders of a mob of 200 persons from Waverly, N. Y., and Sayre and Athens, N. Y., last night gave camp heads and the 70 children under their charge a half hour to leave before they set fire to the camp. Authorities arrived just in time to prevent the threat being carried out and established a deadline after dispersing the mob.

The trouble began last night when a society's offer of an American flag was refused by Mabel Husa and Allison Holmes, leaders of the International Workers' Relief Camp for Children at Van Etten.

Miss Husa and Miss Holmes were arrested on a charge of desecrating the flag after a mob had torn a red flag from the entrance and had burned a fiery cross there.

At their hearing yesterday the two young women obtained a postponement until tomorrow. Members of the International Labor Defense were present at the hearing.

The 70 children in the camp were terrified when leaders of the mob, wearing white almbands ordered the camp heads to leave before they burned it. Mob leaders said they were determined to destroy the camp before the inmates leave tomorrow, the last day of their stay.

Refreshments Climax The Children's Party

NOT every mother has learned the secret of running a children's party smoothly—supervising the games, keeping the little guests interested and happy in wholesome fun—and then, as a climax, bringing on the refreshments, which always are uppermost in the minds of youngsters.

Mother must be on hand to guide the games; but also, she must have good things to eat. Too often, she is forced to leave the children without leadership in order to prepare the refreshments. Then, the youngsters may fall into aimless roughhousing and the party may become overly boisterous.

Preparing the party refreshments the day before permits mother to keep her hand in the games, because she will have everything ready to serve at a moment's notice. She can make chill jellies, freeze salads and desserts the day before and they will be all ready to life out and serve at the refreshment hour.

As a suggestion for such a menu she could have:
Jellied Chicken
Fancy-shaped Sandwiches
Hot Chocolate with Whipped Cream
Vanilla Ice Cream Sandwiches
The jellied chicken she makes the day before and chills in the refrigerator. Garnished with hard-boiled egg cut in fancy shapes, it looks quite purified in its nest of lettuce and watercress. The ice cream sandwich, also, can be made the day before. Vanilla mousse for this popular dessert can be bought and kept hard in the electric refrigerator tray, or it can be made easily. The sandwiches can be made in the morning, covered with a damp cloth, and kept fresh in the electric refrigerator. If the party is held in the summertime, a milk shake or float can be prepared the day before and kept in the refrigerator. It sounds easy and it really is easy.

Sentence Bishop For Conspiracy

NEW YORK, Aug. 14 (AP)—A bishop whose Czech-Slovak flock is scattered through twenty or more industrial cities of the United States was sent to prison today for a year and a day because he used his power in a conspiracy to turn sacramental wine into bootleg channels.

The federal judge who sentenced Bishop Charles Mrzema, head of the Czech-Slovak Orthodox Old Roman Catholic church in the United States, showed that he believed him to be the principal conspirator by letting off with light or suspended sentences thirteen other men who pleaded guilty with the bishop.

Among those whose sentences were suspended was Father John Petrykany of Youngstown, Ohio.

"This man—and I have been troubled about the matter of his sentence half of the night—debauched his priests," Judge Thomas said as the tall, black-suited, wing-collared bishop stood before him for sentence.

"Believing they must do as the bishop they worked for told them, they signed withdrawal forms for hundreds of gallons of wine at a time when a few gallons was all they needed."

Turning to Father Petrykany, the judge said: "Remember, Father, you should not do anything like this, bishop or no bishop. If a bishop ever asks you to do anything of this sort, tell him where to go."

A wine broker, Victor Dumbr, was sentenced to four months, servitude. The other dozen defendants were given suspended sentences ranging from a year to a few months.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

Answered By
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered daily by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Radio Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

Dayton, Ohio.

I am twenty-one, a young woman with average spiritual and material tendencies. The finest man I ever met has asked me to marry him. The spiritual side of me almost worships him. Physically he is unattractive. He does not like me to go to frivolous parties where there is considerable necking and all of us do pretty much as we like. I don't intend to deceive him, so I must give him an answer one way or the other. Yet the old devil in me makes me fear that I may meet another man I could love better.

What do you think of this situation?

The best quality in your letter is its honesty. A woman who can be so frank in self-analysis ought to emerge safely from the doubts besetting her path. But your judgment is not as trustworthy as your candor. Why are you undecided about marrying a man because he refuses to sanction your attendance at frivolous parties, at which young couples and a sprinkling of gay birds of middle age try to be terribly modern by promiscuous pawing of each other? Surely you do not mean that it gives you a pang to part with that kind of tomfoolery. If it does, you had better not inflict yourself on a man who, whatever his inhibitions or prohibitions, has preferences which appear to be superior to your own.

It has been said, not without truth, that the love which fears failure is not an enduring love. Confessedly you do not have confidence in this contemplated marriage. You fear you might meet somebody whom you could love more wholeheartedly. That being so, two courses are open before you. You can tell your fiance the whole truth and retire from the engagement, or you can cut out the fear by an act of psychological surgery, and begin your courtship on the basis of the honesty you manifest. The second course might be the better, but you must judge as to that.

If you still doubt the ultimate issue, talk the whole situation over with him face to face. What surprises me is that a few social engagements with such trimmery accompaniments should be allowed to challenge your life's happiness. Indianapolis, Ind. Would you mind explaining in what way the discoveries of modern science are giving some people a more wonderful conception of God? What recent books along these lines would you recommend?

The best answer I know to your question is found in such volumes as James Y. Simpson's "Spiritual Interpretation of Nature," Arthur Thompson's "Science and Religion," and A. S. Eddington's "The Nature of the Physical World." Supplement these with the more popular works of Mather, on "Science in Search of God" and Slosson's "Sermons of a Chemist."

The intensive study of nature has reacted in a mechanistic view of things which practically rules God out of His own universe. But this attitude is only a passing phase of the great expansion in organized knowledge which must ultimately result in making God more real and necessary to all rational thinking.

The human mind is crowned with the glory of triumphant scientific discoveries. What then must be the magnitude and majesty of the divine mind responsible for all that is here, as everywhere, inevitable. Once it is taken a reasonable faith in Him will shine with new luster for man's lasting good.

What is your estimate of the character of Napoleon Bonaparte?

The faults of Napoleon were those of the politician and the ruler rather than of the individual, and they were as manifest as his military genius. An inordinate ambition made him forsake his earlier democratic ideas in order to advance his personal and family interests. He became, in his last phase, a convinced dynast, a self-deluded man and the scourge of Europe.

Yet he was not by any means abnormally cruel, nor did he wreak his vengeance on those who opposed him as did other despots, including not a few who were far less powerful than he. Nevertheless he sought to deceive where he could not conquer, and his imperial reign ended in subjecting France to complete servitude in order that he might become the master of the world. The chief monument of his work as a legislator is the Code named after him, and it is an enduring monument. It was, of course, largely the work of eminent jurists.

The darkest blot on his fame is the murder of the Duc de Enghien, a crime of which he was unaccountably conscious to the end. He also bequeathed ten thousand francs to the officer Cantillon, who was charged with attempting to assassinate the Duke of Wellington. These dark deeds expose the Corsican beneath the professed liberator and renowned warrior.

Sir Walter Scott justly contends that the verdict on Napoleon must be a fixed one. Few mortals have been tried as he was. He had tasted the sweets of a boundless exaltation only to del at last, like an eagle chained to a rock. Under these circumstances who can estimate what temptations he successfully resisted, or the strength of those to which he succumbed? Read Sir Walter's dispassionate judgment found in his "Life" of Napoleon, Prose Works, Volume 18.

WARSAW, (AP)—Travel to Russia has increased so much that an additional train has been put on the line between Warsaw and Moscow and trains passing through here from Berlin and Paris halt only 60 minutes instead of three hours as heretofore.

accompanied by rad clouds which shortly after filled the sky. The temperature dropped and there was every indication of the setting in of a furious atmospheric disturbance.

The drizzle descended almost precipitately 1,000 feet, and just in time managed to clear the storm zone. A heavy rain followed, but the airship maintained good speed and all is well.

Passengers were loud in praise of the officers' skill in navigation of the ship.

During the early hours of the morning the dirigible passed the halfway mark of its 3,287 mile voyage. The crossing thus far had been extraordinarily tranquil with not a single untoward circumstance or inconvenience to passengers occurring.

sticks just like I was," Ferguson laughed. "We were born poor and raised poor and there was a bond of sympathy between us. I learned to like Sterling and we got along well together. In 1915 when I was elected governor Sterling walked into my office and said the 'banking commissioner is after me with a sharp stick.'"

"He asked for six months," Jim declared, "and said he would be a rich man. He was my friend. I wanted to help him. I told the banking commissioner to blame me for anything. And the blamed wild did come in and made Ross Steyerling rich."

"He declared 'I'll never forget Jim,' and when I'm in trouble he's the first witness on the stand to swear to the biggest lie of his career. I made Will Hobby, I made Don Moody and I kept Ross out of trouble, and those are the biggest mistakes I ever made in my life."

"Just right before last Douglas said in Houston, 'I remember when you came into Patterson's office with your arms around Ross' shoulders.' Oh God, what mistakes I've made."

Business Man

"They say Ross is a great business man. He has been running 90 days and not a dozen big business men have endorsed him. Every big banker knows what I'm saying is true. What about his bankrupt insurance company? They never caught Jim doing anything like that. They say he offered to pay $35,000 to the company. Of course he did. He offered to pay $35,000 to keep from having to pay $700,000."

Ferguson charged Moody knew "something about the Hoffman Construction Co. judgment." He let loose a tirade at Walter Woodward and Mark McGee, Sterling supporters, and compared the Texas campaign with Oklahoma's in which "Alfalfa Bill" Murry was nominated for governor. He defended his wife's pardon record and declared the reason Moody hasn't "let 'em out is because it would look too much like Fergusonism."

"My wife," he declares, "is going to pardon the ones Moody ought to pardon, but won't. Moody claims to be a Christian. Why I wouldn't have that man's record for any office on earth."

Ferguson discussed the time his wife was given a $100,000 appropriation for the penitentiary and they had to establish a $700,000 credit to keep the system going.

"And this bunch today," he declared, "couldn't borrow seven hundred cents on the whole business." "I'm not helping Ma for political honor," he said. "You have honored us both. We have suffered adversity and enjoyed prosperity with you." Ferguson discussed his wife's platform, touching on the old age pension, equity of redemption, the prohibition plank to "reform office holders," and an elective highway commission. He charged the present commission has "gone automatic."

He linked Sterling with Moody and declared "they want to swap jobs."

COUNTY RALLIES

It was announced Friday morning that four rallies in Howard county in charge of the Women's Sterling-For-Governor club, followed by an all-county joint rally here Friday evening of next week, 24 hours before the polls of the run-off primary close, would be held next week.

The schedule is: Knott, Monday evening; Center Post, Tuesday evening; Forsan, Wednesday evening; Moore, Thursday evening; county rally, Big Spring, Friday evening.

CISCO, Tex., Aug. 15 (AP)—For a time it seemed likely Ross S. Sterling of Houston and James E. Ferguson of Austin, rivals in the Democratic gubernatorial campaign, would meet here Saturday but partisans of the two got together and avoided two competitive meetings.

The Sterling rally will be held as planned while a Ferguson meeting was called off. Sterling's date was announced Tuesday by J. E. Spenser, head of the Sterling club. Yesterday J. M. Williamson, mayor and head of the Ferguson club, announced Ferguson would spend eight hours in Cisco Saturday en route to Breckenridge and rival rallies were being arranged. The committees later decided to avoid a conflict in dates.

ROSEBUD, Tex., Aug. 15 (AP)—T. W. Davidson of Marshall, former lieutenant governor, spoke here last night in the interest of Ross S. Sterling, candidate for governor.

He branded proxy governorship as "power without responsibility."

"If Mrs. Ferguson is elected Jim will have the power but he will not be bound by the oath of office," Davidson said. "It is not possible for a witness to perjure himself unless he is sworn in."

Davidson said he supported Mrs. Ferguson's candidacy against Felix Robertson in 1924, but said he knew when he had enough of Fergusonism."

AMARILLO, Tex., Aug. 15 (AP)—A movement has been started here to solidify Hays county's vote for Ross S. Sterling, candidate for governor, in the coming primary.

A San Marcos Sterling club was formed last night with T. G. Harris, former president of the Southwest Texas State Teachers' College, chairman.

Ferguson supporters announced today that W. H. Blanton would speak here Saturday for their candidate.

Politics—

Ferguson of the principals, James E. Ferguson, campaigning for his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, and Ross S. Sterling, but Governor Moody in Central Texas commanded attention. Many other speakers said their pieces in various sections of the state.

Ferguson was booked for an address at Aspermont tonight, and Sterling for addresses today at Lamesa, Big Spring, Colorado and Sweetwater. Governor Moody's schedule sent him to Denison.

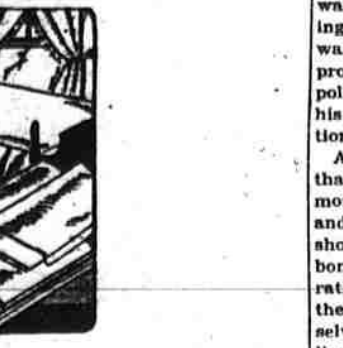

At Colorado last night Ferguson

continued to attack the state highway bond issue sponsored by Sterling. He charged that Sterling was attempting to drop the bonds proposal and declared he was a political coward for refusing to give his present stand in this connection.

At Lubbock Sterling reiterated that counties should be refunded money they had spent on highways and that a state highway system should be built and paid for with bonds financed by a tax on gasoline rather than a tax on land. He said the taxpayers could unbond themselves eighty to one hundred million dollars by placing a tax "on the traffic."

Ferguson emphasized his advocacy of an elective highway commission and termed the present commission as "stuck up you have to send your card in by a nigger before they will see you." He said he and Mrs. Ferguson were opposed to routing highways so they would miss towns, and stated the Ferguson's always had been friends of West Texas.

He defended Mrs. Ferguson's pardon record, saying the way to make convicts work was to hold before them the promise of freedom for good behavior and industry. An old age pension law, a law to keep officers from drinking "bootleg" liquor and his equity of redemption law.

most wholly upon the commission's authority to prevent waste of natural resources. The commission found that enormous waste was resulting by evaporation and loss of volatile elements in the crude in storage and that the storage was being augmented by thousands of barrels daily, the market being entirely inadequate to take care of the supply. It held that such storage and resulting waste was in fact a waste of natural resources, justifying the state to intervene.

A Threat

The Texas industry, it found, was a threat to the entire industry, since in most other major oil producing sections, curtailment had been put into effect by agreement of operators or by regulatory bodies.

The order was the result of months of agitation by a group of independents led by Robert R. Penn of Fort Worth, chairman of a special proration committee. Virtually all the major operators supported the movement.

Allotments of the 750,000 barrel daily output, by sections, follows: Panhandle, 80,000 barrels; north central, 68,000; West Texas, 276,350; East Texas, 41,850; Southwest, 87,150; Gulf Coast, 150,500.

Whether the proration will be continued after the 90-day period will be determined at a hearing in November.

Hoodlums—

ly by the stream of bullets that poured from an automobile speeding through one of the town's main streets last night.

Eleven bullets were fired into Giovino's body, but police felt sure they were intended for Tommy Angbot, well known Chicago gangster, who stood nearby.

Abbt, described by police as one of the chief executioners for the Moran gang, was one of the many suspects in two of Chicago's recent gang killings—the slaying of Jake Lingle, Tribune reporter, and the subsequent killing of Jack Zuta, vice overlord.

The three men killed near St. Paul were identified as bank robbers and gangsters of Kansas City and Minneapolis. Police knew little of their recent activities, however, and could only guess at the motive for the assassinations.

The theories ranged all the way from the conjecture that the robbers had quarreled over division of their loot to the belief that they interfered with an attempt on the part of the Chicago gang leader, George "Bugs" Moran, to organize the Twin City area.

All three of the men were believed to have been members of a gang operating in Kansas City, Minneapolis and other cities. Officers of a William, Minn., bank yesterday identified two of the bodies as those of members of a robber gang that held up the bank July 15, took $142,000 and shot two passersby in making their getaway.

One of the men thus identified was Harry Silverman, alias Tommy Stein. The name of the other victim was not established. The body of the third slain gangster, Frank Coleman, had been started for Kansas City and the bankers did not see it but they said his description fit that of another member of the robber gang.

IDENTIFY ONE

ST. PAUL, Aug. 15 (AP)—The third member of the gangster trio shot and killed near here Wednesday night today was identified as Mike Rusick, Kansas City.

Triple Slayer, 64, Pays For Murder

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 15 (AP)—W. H. (Bill) Howell, 64-year-old triple slayer was electrocuted at the state penitentiary here today.

Howell in whose behalf a long legal battle had been waged, was strapped in the electric chair at 7:05 a. m., and four minutes later was pronounced dead. He went to his death calmly. He was given the death penalty for the killing of Jeff Nicholson, an aged inmate of the infirmary. He was indicted but never tried for the slaying of Superintendent Cliff Deffenbaugh and his wife.

Howell's dismissal from the infirmary as a result of a quarrel in which Nicholson was involved, prompted the killings, the state charged at Howell's trial.

During a long legal battle Howell remained hopeful of having sentence commuted to life imprisonment. Governor Parnell, however, would not interfere.

Prohibition Again Tossed Into Front

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—Prohibition bobbed up again in capital discussions today after having yielded the spotlight to the long-drawn drought.

Another proposal by Representative Laguardia of New York, a Republican wet bloc leader, suggesting a showdown on prohibition enforcement effort, shared attention with a report by a Washington board of trade committee condemning employment of disreputable persons as "stool pigeons and informers" in the district and the alleged disappearance of liquor seized in evidence.

The report was prepared for the law enforcement commission.

Laguardia suggested the department of justice be given every facility for a strong enforcement drive. He said the department was entitled to it in this last attempt to enforce the law.

"If they fail," the New Yorker said, "I think the country should expect from them a fair, frank statement by the first regular session of the seventy-second congress that it can't be done, or what is needed to enforce it against the will of the majority of the people in many states and quite a large percentage in other states."

The board of trade report complained of "lawless conduct by federal prohibition agents, listing employment of "disreputable persons as stool pigeons and informers" as one of the worst.

SEEK FLOYD FARMER

FLOYDADA, Tex., Aug. 15 (AP)—Search was being made today for J. V. Filppen, 39, Floyd county farmer, who had been missing from his home since last Monday, when he was last seen in his automobile near Petersburg. Relatives believed he was either a victim of foul play or amnesia.

Clint Small Speaks At Houston Service

HOUSTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—Senator Clint Small of Wellington, who arrived here today to make an address at the unveiling of a marker at the grave of James Collingsworth, chief justice of the supreme court of Texas, at 4 p. m., avoided making any political pronouncement.

The senator revealed, however, that he might make one on the Sterling-Ferguson race for governor at Dallas later in the week.

The only political comment he made today, in talking to newspapermen, was that "Fergusonism is the only issue of the present campaign."

The marker to be unveiled this afternoon is in memory of James Collingsworth, Robert Barr, postmaster general of the republic of Texas, and Isaac M. Moreland, a captain at San Jacinto, who with other notable early Texans, rest in unmarked graves in the old city cemetery. The cemetery first was used in 1836.

CATHEDRAL ORGANIST WANTS TO GO TO JAIL.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (AP)—Dr. P. Reginald Deighton, 68, who said he once played the organ before King Edward VII and had played in the Rhems and Notre Dame cathedrals, begged Judge William Helander today to send him to jail that he might break the narcotic habit.

Shabbily dressed and unshaven Dr. Deighton pleaded for a chance to cure himself in prison "although it may kill me." He was fined $100 and costs, the sentence affording him opportunity for treatment under state supervision.

Dr. Deighton said he was graduated from the Royal College of Organists at London 40 years ago and became enslaved to narcotics when suffering from rheumatism 33 years ago. He came to this country a year ago.

Explosion Wrecks Cleveland House

CLEVELAND, Aug. 15 (AP)—The pretentious home of Raymond Porello, who has seen two of his brothers meet death in the strife over control of Cleveland's corn sugar trade, was demolished by a terrific explosion early today.

Porello, however, escaped the death which police believe was marked for all seven of the Porello brothers. He and his family were at the home of his mother.

The explosion was caused by gas, Assistant Fire Chief James Nimmo said. He expressed the opinion someone might have opened the gas mains and left a candle burning in the attic.

Porello, the youngest of the brothers, told police he was certain the explosion was a plot to kill him, but declined to name his enemies. Only last week he said, an attempt was made to kill one of the other surviving Porello brothers.

The Porello home, a newly purchased two-story brick structure, was shattered into ruins. The debris burst into flames and it was some time before firemen were certain it held no bodies. Firemen estimated the loss at $25,000.

Passersby told police they saw two men who drove up in a large car shortly before the explosion, enter the house carrying a large package. Their automobile bore an out-of-state license.

Last month Joe Porello, reputed to have gained dominance in the sugar coin industry, and his bodyguard were slain as they stood in a speakeasy. Three weeks later Vincent Porello met a similar fate.

Fredericksburg Man Is Fatally Wounded

FREDERICKSBURG, Tex., Aug. 15 (AP)—Eric E. Hodges, 53, well-known citizen, shot himself to death at his home near here today. Fort Worth Guards Fodrick Lake Dam

FORT WORTH, Aug. 15 (AP)—A policeman and a special watchman were ordered to guard the dam at Fodrick Lake near here after the drowning yesterday of Edwin Reed, 11, the third person to lose his life in the lake in six weeks. Police received threats to blow up the dam with dynamite after news of Reed's death became general. Residents of the lake section recently asked the city to station a lifeguard at the lake, but city departments could not agree as to which should furnish the guard.

MEXICAN SERVICE

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 15 (AP)—The bells of Mexico's national cathedral rang out today, calling the people to serve for the first time in more than four years, in celebration of the feast of the assumption. Thousands attended the cathedral in a steady procession that gave the plaza which the edifice faces the greatest activity since the closing days of massive building in July, 1926. It was just four years and fifteen days since the cathedral doors swung shut, when the priests left their churches at the outbreak of the religious troubles. Although the church and state disputes were settled fourteen months ago and churches started reopening, the cathedral remained closed for repairs, some of which are not yet completed.

The cathedral dates back to the 16th century and stands on the base of an aztec sacrificial altar.

Youths Uncover Plot To Murder 'Chinks' On Wholesale Scale

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (AP)—Through the dark and mysterious maze of a fitfully warring Chinatown today moved the menace of tong slaughter on a strictly cash basis. For behind the arrest yesterday of three Chinese and a Filipino lay a story whose ferocity startled even detectives. The story was told by two white youths whose identities remain a secret with the police to protect them from the fate they were hired to mete out to four On Leong tongmen at $500 a murder.

A nineteen-year-old youth, told him that as he was sitting in Bryant Park, dependent over his inability to find work, he was approached by the Filipino, Emilio, an 18, who asked him whether he was working.

The Filipino, the youth said, then told him he could make some money "if he had any guts." "That's all I have got," the youth said he replied. "What's the proposition?"

"Murder Chinks at $500 a chink," was the answer. The youth said he agreed and promised to bring a companion into the scheme. Arrangements were made to meet at a 26th street laundry last night. The youth tipped off Rosenberg who with four other detectives waited outside the laundry while the youths went in.

The two were introduced to the Chinese who gave them their instructions. Eullaran was to go with them. They were told four Chinese had been marked for death at their hands last night.

When the youths emerged from the laundry with the Filipino, the detectives seized him, but he put up a terrific struggle, and was subdued only after 15 minutes of fight. The detectives then arrested the Chinese.

On Eullaran the detectives found a revolver and a long knife. In a package he carried were two revolvers and six long knives. In the laundry were found cartridges, an ax, a ten-gallon still and a large quantity of mash.

Hillsboro Attorneys Deny Alred Charges

AUSTIN, Aug. 15 (AP)—Austin headquarters for Robert L. Bobbitt, candidate for attorney general today made public a statement signed by 15 Hillsboro attorneys denying that they had refused to introduce James V. Alred, Bobbitt's opponent for attorney general, when Alred spoke in Hill county prior to the first primary.

The statement said that Alred had not called upon them, or even informed them that he was to speak and that Alred's statement in public addresses that members of the bar there had refused to introduce him was small politics, beneath the dignity of the office to which he aspires.

HOWARD CROPS FLOURISHING

Ritz Theatre Rented For Ross Sterling Speech Friday Pioneer Martin County Man Fatally Hurt

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

FRIDAY night a final check-up is being made and if that $300 has not been subscribed for the Big Spring high school football training camp the boys are not going to get to have a camp at all. Then they will open the playing season a lot softer, a lot more clumsy, a lot more short-winded - than otherwise they would.

With $300 in cash and the donation of automobiles to carry 'em down to the Llano river Sunday morning the thing will go over fine. But we got to have the money, also use of enough automobiles to take 'em down there.

Dollar bills are what we need, lots of 'em. Mail them or send them to the Herald office, hand them to any high school official or to "Uncle Walt" Smith or Doc Wofford Hardy. But get 'em in pronto. Friday night will tell the tale.

WE got kinfolks down in the deep black muddy country, El Paso county is exact, who, having wrecked a livelihood from the gumbo for Lo, these fifty or more years, still believe this country of our's out here is on the rim of the Great American Sahara. The cotton stalks grow tall, along with the crab grass in that country. But -

We couldn't help laughin' and at the same time feeling sorry for our beloved kinfolks all day Wednesday whilst feasting our eyes upon the verdant fields of Howard county, West Texas, U. S. A.

Truth, folks, most all of these farmers have got crops that are a feast to the eye. Rode many miles right in the county along with a number of local folks yesterday and we, as well as the others, were surprised at the condition of the whole crop.

First rattle outta' the box, Earl Phillips' place out at Fairview, and E. W. Marion's, right across the fence; they both have fine looking crops. Both men have terraced and contoured their fields. In fact Earl was the first in the county to do so.

Its interesting to notice the 4-H Club boys' milo maize projects. Kinds show their duds up in a lot of instances. The boys plant five acres, two rows milo to one row of peas. They keep a record of labor and seed cost, time of planting and cultivating, total yield, etc. Elmo Phillips, Earl's boy, and Edward Marion, E. W.'s boy, both have fine looking milo projects.

County Agent Bush said both boys would be able to feed off one to three baby beaves from their milo patches.

And, on we went through the Fairview, Richland, Luther, Vincent, Green Valley, R-Bar communities. Seemed that crops got better the longer we traveled. In fact R-Bar has about got the cake for crops north of the T & P. Elbow and Lomax communities southwest of here have fine crops too.

Howard county apparently has as good prospects for a crop, both feed stuffs and cotton, than any county in West Texas and a lot better than almost any other county. We ought to be thankful.

Now, for a market worth a darn.

BASEBALL TOURNAMENT

SHREVEPORT, La., Aug. 24 (AP)—Smashing out a home run yesterday with two or base in the sixth inning of the American Legion regional tournament here, Jimmy Ereaux, broke a 1 to 1 tie with Galveston and won the game 5 to 3 for New Orleans. The team will go to the western tournament at Colorado Springs to represent the southwest.

WOODWARD TO ADDRESS GATHERING

Hot Weather 'Beaten' By Acquisition Of Building

Ross S. Sterling, candidate for governor, will speak in the Ritz theatre here Friday at 2:30 p. m.

State Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman will appear on the program with Mr. Sterling, as he has done throughout the West Texas tour of the Houston candidate.

Here For Lunch

The Howard County Sterling-Ford-Governor Club announced Thursday morning through its chairman, James T. Brooks, that the club had rented the Ritz from Manager J. Y. Robb for the hours 2:30 p. m., to 4 p. m.

The decision to use the theatre, which will accommodate 1,500 or more persons was made on suggestion of a number of persons who pointed out that the hot weather, especially in mid-afternoon, would be "beaten" with the theatre's splendid cooling system.

Judge Brooks, who will have charge of the meeting, will introduce Mr. Sterling. Senator Woodward will be introduced by the only brother, Judge Garland Woodward of Big Spring.

Mr. Sterling is scheduled to reach Big Spring for lunch Friday and will for thirty minutes or more before time for his address be at the Crawford hotel where he will go glad to meet his friends and supporters. He will come here from Lamesa, following addresses at towns between Lubbock and that city and will leave immediately after the local program for Sweetwater. He will stop in Colorado for a brief address, proceeding to Sweetwater for a rally before turning eastward to end the week in Fort Worth.

Women At Work

The Women's Sterling-Ford-Governor Club was busy Thursday canvassing the city with personal calls and by telephone in an effort to assure a large representation of women at Friday afternoon's rally.

The county Sterling club has distributed circulars, as well as news notices, of the local program throughout this and several neighboring counties. Large delegations were practically assured from Odessa, Midland, Stanton, Sterling City, Garden City, Comstock, Colorado, Forsan, Knott and Ackery.

HOUSTON LAD DIES IN FIRE AS SCREAMING MOTHER IS RESCUED BY FIREMEN

HOUSTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—A six-year-old boy lost his life and four persons were rescued when flames destroyed a two story home here early today.

Louis Shafer, six, succumbed to burns and suffocation soon after he was taken from the flaming house by firemen.

Mrs. Shafer, mother of Louis, her daughter Rose, 11, her son, Frank, Jr., 11, and Mrs. N. E. Brown were rescued.

Mrs. Shafer, who was sleeping on the second floor with the two children, discovered the flames and roused the children. Firemen carried the three to safety down ladders.

Mrs. Brown, who was sleeping downstairs, was hurried from the house by a policeman who saw the flames. She was slightly bruised when she was pushed against a column on the porch.

WEST TEXAS CONTINUES BATTLEGROUND OF TWO SEEKING GOVERNORSHIP

Jim Claims He Helped Pass Small Land Title Bill; Sterling Heard In Amarillo

(By The Associated Press)

The campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor took on renewed color today as James E. Ferguson and Ross S. Sterling moved deeper into the hotly-disputed West Texas territory.

Ferguson was booked for an address at Colorado and Sterling for speeches at Tulla, Happy, Floydada, the Hank Smith ranch and Lubbock. Ferguson spoke last night at Floydada and Sterling at Amarillo.

Ferguson's speech bristled with personalities, but he asserted personalities had been introduced into the campaign by his enemies with their "talk of honesty in government."

He said he was instrumental in passing the Small Land Bill over the veto of Governor Dan Moody and declared that he always had been the friend of West Texas. He declared the penitentiary system had been efficiently managed during the administration of his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, and took a firm stand against prison relocation.

He said escapes during Mrs. Ferguson's tenure of office were not as many as during three weeks of Governor Moody's administration.

Defends Pardons

He defended Mrs. Ferguson's pardon record, lauded the work of the highway department during her administration, advocated old age pensions and an elective highway commission and denounced the proposed state highway bond issue, saying he was for "bringing the government closer to the people."

Sterling at Amarillo explained his plan for building a state highway system by means of bonds financed with a gasoline tax rather than a tax on property, saying the present method of financing highway building was inequitable and unfair. He said that under his plan the state would obtain an adequate highway system, it would be paid for by the people who used the highways, and the counties would be relieved of the burden of road taxes.

He advocated improvement of the school system, shortening of hours for labor and improvement of state institutions, and replied to a number of charges made by Ferguson.

"He says he kept me out of the penitentiary," Sterling said. If he did, he violated the law and is unfit to even proxy governor. But I say the story is false.

The governor spoke at Honey Grove and Greenville and attacked the records of Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson as administrators. Plans were laid for a gigantic rally at Dallas next week at which Governor Moody would appear.

Attorney General

The candidates for the Democratic nomination for attorney general, James V. Allred and R. L. Bobbitt, flung more and bigger verbal bricks at each other. Allred spoke at San Augustines, Jasper and Orange; Bobbitt, at Whitesboro, Pilot Point, Aubrey, Argyle and Roanoke, concluding with a radio address at Fort Worth.

G. A. MERRICK, 70, DIES OF INJURIES RECEIVED IN AUTO MISHAP IN STANTON

Struck by an automobile containing two Dallas women, as he was crossing the Bankhead Highway at Stanton, Griff A. Merrick, 70, resident of Martin County for 24 years and a member of one of the best known families in this section received injuries which proved fatal at 12:20 o'clock today.

Merrick died in a local hospital without regaining consciousness. His skull was fractured when his head came in contact with the pavement. He was given emergency treatment at Stanton and rushed to the Big Spring Hospital in an Eberly ambulance. The fatal accident occurred at 8 o'clock.

Exonerated

The two women were exonerated after the crash. It was said the aged man stepped back into the path of the car as he was crossing the street. The car was going at a slow rate of speed at the time of the crash. The two women had been to Carlsbad Cavern and were returning to Dallas.

Merrick was well known in this section of West Texas. He was born in Hunt county. He married Miss Rhoda Beezley in Hunt county, moving to Martin county in 1898. They owned a ranch near Stanton and was in the mercantile business there for 11 years. At the time of his death he owned a large ranch north of Stanton.

He is survived by his widow, and one granddaughter, Bonnie Eugene Merrick, 13. A son, Alvin Merrick, died in 1918.

He also is survived by four brothers, S. M. Merrick, Big Spring, A. K. Merrick, J. B. Merrick, who reside north of Big Spring, and A. H. Merrick of Lamesa. A number of nephews and nieces also survive.

Funeral services will be held at the Church of Christ at Stanton, Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock. He was a charter member of the Church of Christ at Stanton.

Following the crash the two women stopped and summoned aid. Witnesses to the accident declared it was unavoidable. They continued their trip to Dallas following the accident.

The occupants of the automobile which struck Mr. Merrick were Mrs. Myrtle McCawes and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. C. W. McCawes of Dallas.

Believes It's Best

"I don't think it can be done any faster," said Captain Hawks as he landed last night. "Given exceptional weather in the fall, it is just possible my time can be bettered."

A great shout went up from several hundred throats at the field here when the flier appeared overhead, cut his motor and flitted down to a landing. As he taxied up to the hangar, his wife and son rushed up and were the first to greet him.

"When do we eat?" he asked. Later, when the roar of the motor had left his ears somewhat, and he could hear questions, he told of his flight, of a moonlit sky under which he took off in the west, of the dawn that met him over the desert and the sun that glared at him first near Flagstaff, Ariz.

Speed Always

Always it was speed. At Albuquerque, N. M., he made his first refueling, a second at Wichita and a third at Indianapolis. All were quick and efficient. His best time, he said, was made with the aid of wind between Wichita and Indianapolis, when he averaged 250 miles an hour.

Most of the time he flew between

HELD IN BOMBING

Paul Montgomery, a Murphysboro, Ill. flyer, has been placed under arrest after nine bombs were dropped from a plane in the coal mining section near Providence, Ky. A description of the plane used in the bombing corresponded with an orange colored monoplane flown by Montgomery.

Second Aviator Held in Bombing Of Kentucky Mine

PROVIDENCE, Ky., Aug. 14 (AP)—Three arrests in the Monday air raid on Webster county coal mines were followed today by a fire that destroyed the tippie of the Providence Coal Mining Company.

The fire, described by officials as incendiary, was discovered in a shed and consumed it and the tippie and two Louisville & Nashville coal cars on a siding. Loss was estimated at $50,000.

The blaze was laid by Wayne Crow, a deputy sheriff who investigated it, to revenge for the arrests here late last night of Essel Grant, 35, and Ewing Riley, 20, in connection with the raid in which nine bombs were dropped from an airplane on mines in this vicinity.

It was one of a series of disorders which included the dynamiting yesterday of an Illinois Central trestle. Grant and Riley arrested on information furnished by Paul Montgomery, Murphysboro, Ill., aviator who confessed he piloted the bombing plane, were released today in $3,000 bonds each. Their hearing was set for Friday. Montgomery is expected to be brought here about that time for arraignment. Meantime union leaders called a meeting for this afternoon to discuss the situation.

The mine Number 3 of the Providence Coal Mining company, where the fire occurred, had not been operated since differences over wages and working conditions caused a shut down April 1. Officials had planned to resume operations September 1.

Both Grant and Riley denied any connection with Montgomery's air raid and said they did not know him. Montgomery said he was hired to make the flight.

Malone was arrested last night at Duquoin and was questioned here by county and government officials until an early hour today. Lewis said today that Essel

BENEFIT OF TERRACING DISCLOSED

Party From Big Spring Tours Farms of County

A score of Big Spring business men and women spent Wednesday touring their own home county.

With County Agent J. V. Bush piloting the caravan an inspection was made along a 75-mile route, including farms in the Fairview, Richland, Luther, Morris, Vincent, Green Valley, and R-Bar communities.

Trip Pleased

Those who took the trip, sponsored for the purpose of acquainting business men with actual crop conditions, with the benefits being derived by farmers from land terracing and contouring and with the progress of Boys 4-H Club work, came home with a firmer conviction that this is one of the best farming regions in Texas.

The recent rains had saved the crops, every farmer declared. Old feed, except in a few instances, was in good condition. Young feed is in exceptionally good shape and cotton was found to be growing and, in addition, to be more heavily fruited than usual.

One of the chief reasons for the tour was to afford business men an idea of the results obtained by terracing and contouring fields.

Comparisons of terraced land with unterraced land, drawn by the relative condition of the crops, "sold" the Big Spring party on terracing as thoroughly as the farmers who have adopted it are sold.

Members Of Party

In the party were J. V. Bush, county agent; Mrs. M. R. Showalter, county health nurse; Mrs. J. B. Delbridge, home service department of the Southern Ice & Utilities company; Fred Keating, superintendent of the government farm; R. L. Price, T. S. Currie, B. Reagan, W. G. Hayden, Wendell Bedichek, George G. White, Nat Shick, T. W. Ashley, Miss Cora Ashby, Miss Pauline Cantrell, county superintendent of schools; D. H. Reed, George Gentry; H. M. Neel, Mr. Calvert, Mr. Smith.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS
Offsetting the Drought

Kansas City Star:
THE PROLONGED period of drought and abnormally high temperature throughout the country, now, happily, ending, has caused enormous crop losses in nearly all states, with resultant distress to thousands of farmers, but there are redeeming features in the situation.

The corn forecast is for 2,212 million bushels, 600 million less than last year and the smallest crop since the disastrous drought year of 1901.

It is not to be forgotten that the small grain crops matured and were harvested before the drought affected them. The country produced more wheat, oats, barley and rye than last year, and a substantial part of the hay crop was matured in advance of the drought.

Aside from the drying-up of vegetable gardens and curtailment of the fruit yield, the losses from the drought are chiefly in those crops that are fed to livestock, and past experience has demonstrated that in this branch of farm industry readjustments can be made to minimize the shrinkage in crops. Even in the worst drought years an immense amount of rough feeds is saved to carry livestock through the period of feed shortage. This year a special help in maintaining livestock will come from the use of wheat for animal feed. The relatively low price of wheat, compared with corn, together with the large surplus carried over from last year, probably will result in feeding more wheat to livestock than in any previous year.

It is significant that the drought has not yet had the effect of forcing the marketing of unfinished livestock, as has occurred in former years of summer drought. The movement of livestock in recent weeks has been no more than normal for this season of the year. Owners of livestock realize that with present prices, the lowest in several years, it is good policy to hold on. In the belief, justified by past experience, that higher prices ultimately follow a drought year.

A sustaining influence in the livestock markets is the good condition of pastures in most of the ranges of the far southwest and in the mountain regions, which will have the effect of holding livestock of those regions off the market.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS
by ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Movieiland now is language-conscious as movieland has never been before.

A year ago Hollywood was a heaven-on-earth or English teacher, who hung out their shingles and asked in the gold of self-consciousness seeking to learn to fly and falls in love with her. When he is suddenly ordered back to France they are married. Dagger's uncle Jim, who has brought her up on his ranch, dislikes Vanearing from the start. The Captain drinks heavily but promises Dagger he will stop. In New York at Vanearing's home his mother is icily disapproving of Dagger, but his father and sister Kitty like her at once. Vanearing meanwhile is wounded in France. At a reception Dagger meets Dick Welling, now Lord Wenlock, an Englishman who had lived at her father's ranch when she was a child, and they renew old times.

Chapter 17
A STRANGE REVELATION

DAGGER leaned forward over the table, her face suddenly white and strained, as Welling mentioned that he was to marry Emily Howard.

"Blaine's wife?"
Dick bowed his head.
"She—it wasn't exactly her fault. They'd worked on her. Fancy I told you something of how it happened. Of course, I was bitter—not so much against any one person, unless it was her mother—the whole idea of the thing, 'y'know. He was silent a while, twisting his glass around and around. Dagger's face remained white and still. "I met her this last year. We—we rather hit it off. Picked up—where we'd dropped apart—if you know what I mean—"

The stricken look in Dagger's eyes made him wince.
"Legally, she's a widow," he said very low.
"Because—" Dagger swallowed hard—"Blaine's dead?"
"Yes."
"Did they find him?"
"No, dear. But when a man's reported missing in action and no trace of him is discovered, when all the recognized agencies fail to come upon a piece of evidence to prove him alive, that man is—dead."
Dagger's throat continued to work spasmodically.
"How awful!" she said. "No, no, not you, Dick. But this makes me realize—it's like seeing him, dead. I think I must have kept a hope in the back of my heart." A sob choked her. "Silly, wasn't it? And I'm another man's wife!"
Dick reached across and patted her hand.
"Your happy, aren't you?" he asked.
"Yes. I'm as happy as I know how to be. But there are times Blaine seems to come between me and Jack. And I oughtn't to feel like this. It's not fair to Jack. He loves me—and I love him. I really do, Dick. But it's not like the love I had for Blaine—I mean I have for Blaine." She laughed on a note of hysteria. "I'm a queer sort of woman, aren't I. I love two men—and one of them's dead!"

CORPUS CHRISTI LADY GLAD TO PRAISE KONJOLA

MRS. H. L. DYER
"I was badly run down and even the simplest foods brought on attacks of indigestion," said Mrs. H. L. Dyer, for more than fifty years a resident of Corpus Christi, Texas, residing at 1337 Ocean Drive in that city. "I bloated terribly after meals and suffered severe belching spells. Constipation was a source of constant worry and I had severe pains in my abdomen after meals. I was unable to sleep at night."
"I have taken Konjola but a week and I can say that every ache and pain in my stomach is gone. I can now rest well at night and eat what I wish without any of my former miseries. I have never used a medicine like Konjola and although I am 66 years of age I can do plenty of work. I am more than glad to pass my praise for this medicine on to others."
"This is not an exceptional case. Konjola does its work quickly and none the less thoroughly. It is best in most cases to continue the treatment over a period of from six to eight weeks."
Konjola is sold in Big Spring at Collins Bros. drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—adv.

Jim True To Form

MANY accusations have been hurled in both directions since the run-off primary campaign for governor was launched. Jim Ferguson has made many attacks upon the character of Ross Sterling, even though Jim himself knows many of his own supporters do not question Sterling's integrity.

It is very easy, always, to tear down a thing or to hurl charges of wrongdoing. It is especially easy in a short campaign, when the election is less than two weeks away. That is why Jim Ferguson piles false charges upon false charge. It is his nature to do that sort of thing.

Jim, through his wife, has used the recent affairs of a Houston life insurance company in an effort to show that Sterling is not a good business man. He also implies Mr. Sterling would fleece those who invested with him.

Wright Morrow, a well-known Texan, was made receiver of the Security Union Insurance company, a Houston concern which recently went into receivership.

Charges concerning Mr. Sterling's alleged connection with the Security Union and the Lumberman's Reciprocal Association were made at Cooper last Thursday night by Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson.

Read Receiver Morrow's statement concerning Mr. Sterling's actions in the matter:

"The records do not disclose that Mr. Sterling has any connection whatever with the Lumberman's Reciprocal association. They do show, however, that Mr. Sterling owns 25 shares of stock in the Security Union Insurance company, out of a total capital stock of $260,000. The records show that the Security Union has 11 directors, and Mr. Sterling is recorded as one of the directors, but I find nothing in the records to indicate he has ever had anything actively to do with the management.

"When I took possession as receiver of this company on July 31, 1930, Mr. Sterling sent word to me to let him know as soon as possible what he could do to help re-insure the company's business and protect the company's claimants and policy holders.

"Guaranteed $35,000
"I advised him of the situation and Mr. Sterling promptly gave me his written guarantee for $35,000, thus enabling me to conclude arrangements to re-insure the company's outstanding policy holders at the time I took possession as receiver.

"Mr. Sterling made this voluntary contribution, stating to me he was making it because he was unwilling for any claimant or policy holder in a company which carried his name as a director to go un-insured if he could help it. He explained that he desired to do this notwithstanding he had nothing to do with the management of the company nor any legal liability concerning its obligations."

HOW'S YOUR HEALTH?
STANDARD BODIES
The modern craze for weight reduction to conform to the artificial standard of the boyish form reminds one of the tale about the barbaric Russian czar.

This tyrannical potentate desired to have corps of bodyguards of one standard height and so, as the tale goes, he measured his recruits in a standard bed and those that were too short were stretched, while those that were too large were cut to size. This fantastic tale well expresses the illogic of mass reduction in the effort to conform to an alleged physical ideal.

Science has long recognized that there are three dominant physical types of human beings, and many intermediate types. There is, for example, the long thin type, the short and squat type, and the so-called average type. Then there are combination which are hybrid or mixed types.

These types of constitutions differ radically from each other and make it relatively impossible to establish an average height and weight table which is applicable within narrow limits to any large number of individuals.

Constitution and type must be taken into account whenever the effort is made to determine the ideal weight for any individual. This in turn implies a careful examination before reduction is undertaken.

To attempt marked reduction without this information is unwise and to measure oneself against the standard table is to follow the practices of the Russian czar of our tale.

A Business Man At Last

FOR YEARS we have heard the cry up and down this state for a business man in the governor's office.

Good business men have offered for the office, but some flaw in their records or lack of personal force has prevented their election.

Texas now have an opportunity that rarely is presented the people of any state.

We may vote now for a man who not only is one of the outstanding business men of the south, but whose record for personal honesty is without blemish.

ROMAN CATHOLIC MISSIONARY ACTIVITIES

is studying scientific means of lengthening the missionary's active career.

The statistics show that the average span of life of the missionary is 73 per cent of that of the general average span. For missionaries in Africa this percentage is even lower, being only 75 per cent of the life of missionaries in other lands.

In order to better this condition, the Congregation is considering means of instructing missionaries in medical subjects. It is also considering establishment of a corps of medical missionaries.

Ferguson Forces Organize Here

C. P. ROGERS IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

Issue Is 'Fergusonism Vs Moodyism' Say Speakers

Declaring that it has come to a point in Texas history where it is "Fergusonism versus Moodyism" the cause of former governor Miriam A. Ferguson, candidate for governor was shouldered by Howard County supporters at a mass meeting held in the district courtroom of the courthouse Tuesday night.

A Mrs. Ferguson-for-Governor Club was organized with C. P. Rogers, local attorney, as president. A resolutions committee was appointed and will meet today to draw up resolutions.

Rogers, John B. Littler, Sam C. Lamar and D. E. Bishop spoke at the Ferguson rally, attended by more than a hundred men and women. The speakers were cheered time after time as the "reign of Moodyism" was slashed and that of Fergusonism praised. Bobby Campbell was elected secretary.

Rogers opened the meeting and delivered the principal address. He attacked the record of Governor Dan Moody, and declared Ross S. Sterling was running for governor on the demerits of his opponent, without bringing out a single issue of his own except "honesty in government."

RESOLUTIONS

- The following resolutions were drawn by a committee appointed by the local Mrs. Ferguson-for-Governor Club.
- We, as citizens of Howard county, Texas, assembled together as supporters of Miriam A. Ferguson, pass the following resolutions, to-wit:
- 1. We stand for an honest administration of the state's affairs and heartily endorse Miriam A. Ferguson for the governorship.
- 2. We pledge ourselves as Democrats to support the nominee of the Democratic primaries of August 23rd, 1930, at the general election in November.
- 3. We condemn as against the interest of this state the placing of the hands of government in the corporate interest directly or indirectly.
- 4. We condemn as a deplorable precedent the use of large sums of money in an effort to obtain control of the people's state government.

Ferguson for Governor Club, of Howard County, Texas, in the run-off campaign.

"The last few days," he declared, "have seen the combined efforts of a few to make prejudice the outstanding point in this election. Mrs. Ferguson's opponent, Ross Sterling of Houston goes into this second primary without a single plank in his platform. His supporters are crying 'honesty in government' and 'turtal that by opposing Fergusonism. I have never before known a man or woman to base their claims for office on the demerits of their opponents. But the minds of Texas people are too broad, too great, to be swayed from the issues."

Since July 26 there has been an insistent movement to direct the attention of the public away from the issues in this campaign by the cry of Fergusonism. Mrs. Ferguson answered that by enumerating the planks in the Ferguson platform. Those planks have been in there since Jim first entered the political arena, except that Mrs. Ferguson would put teeth in the prohibition law.

"The upholders of the Houston capitalist can't turn a deaf ear to that prohibition plank. They can't turn a deaf ear to the plank which will aid rural schools. They can't turn a deaf ear to the right of redemption of homestead property in two years. They want to ignore everything. Sterling has declared he opposes everything Ferguson stands for. If that is the truth, he is not fit to be governor of this state. If he is not telling the truth, then surely he is not fit."

"I see the writing on the wall. The words of Sterling's speech were dictated in Governor Moody's office. It's the same old song of Moodyism that has been sung over and over. The people have four years to compare Fergusonism and what they term Fergusonism—and the majority prefer the latter."

As To Moody

"Look at that little squirt's record. Why he had so little brains as to call the legislature into session five times. He was so ignorant as to try to whip that body into moving the penitentiary to Austin where nothing but rattlesnakes, coyotes, and Moodyism ever thrived."

Rogers attacked Sterling's stand for not advancing issues, not discussing what he proposes to do. He attacked the "slush fund" being used to "subsidize the press."

"They talk about the impeachment of Jim," he continued. "Yet back in 1924 many were stumping for Ma. Jim had been impeached but they asked you good people to elect his wife. They knew it then. They forgot those things. They forgot about those indictments against Jim. They forgot he walked into the district attorney's office and asked for an immediate trial and was told there was insufficient evidence to convict. They forgot that Sam Houston, that great statesman, was impeached."

Why Impeached?

"What about that impeachment? Jim was impeached because Texas University officials asked for money for chairs that never existed and Jim wouldn't give them a penny. Rather than make an appropriation like that Jim vetoed the whole darn thing. They impeached Ferguson, but they didn't intimidate him. He came back as no man ever did, and they elected his wife, knowing Jim was going to sit there and advise just as he is going to do this time."

"They say Sterling should be elected because he is a business man. Striking oil isn't business. That has happened to many a darn fool in this state. Is it business to be director of a Houston business firm that has gone to the wall? I think not. Sterling has been a director in too many corporations to be governor of our great state. This is another Hogg-Clark campaign. It is a fight of the people against the corporations."

"They say Ross sold all his stock in the Humble. But did he? Wouldn't that old mother and father complex still keep working? Would Sterling turn his back on the Standard Oil Co.?"

To Herald Editor

The fight is on, and I want to say here to the editor of the Big Spring Herald that we don't need the advice of a Republican editor, head of a Republican paper in a Republican state in this campaign. Such an editorial as the editor of the Big Spring Herald reproduced from the Kansas City Star has no place with us Democrats.

"But let them buy all his papers. Let them go to Kansas City. The majority of us are going back to the Jeffersonian Democracy."

"I defy the opposition to show where Ferguson has ever put his hands on a cent of money belonging to Texas. They say he grafts from the individual. If he does I would rather see that than see this paper sold to the moneyed interests."

"The bond issues—that $350,000,000 bond issue that Sterling sponging every day." Last campaign by that "honesty in government" clause. Sterling would shake your grandchildren with state highway bonds. He would take money from your rural schools. If he has merit, he and his supporters should bring it out. If he has none, then he should quit running, around imitating Monkey Dan. Moodyism is becoming more disgusting every day."

Ford, Not In New Social Register, Is Giant Transportationally But Gnat Socially, According to Will Rogers

By WILL ROGERS

Well all I know is just what little I read in the papers. Somebody just sent me a clipping I see here, and it says who has been left off and who added to the Social Register. Now that is a laugh ain't it? (I would be dropped if I ever got on for saying "ain't"). Of all the undemocratic things you can think of just offhand, that is the prize "Hokey," a book to tell you who is a good Parlor Mound and who is a sort of a Mongrel around the table.

I see just off hand here that Polly Lauder (a niece of Harry Lauder) who married Gene Tunney, has been dropped from the "Register." If she had married a Society Bootlegger she would have made the grade, but when she married Gene, a man who had been a pretty fare type of gentleman whose only fault in his profession was that he shook hands with you before knocking you Cuckoo, why they right away said that Polly didn't grade up to par. She had been negligent in picking a May-flower weed. Tunney's name never had been in "Baloney sheet." But it had to tell in there who she had promised to love, honor and break clean in the clinches-with, so in that way it had to name Gene. So in a kind of a back alley way his name was in there, not intentional but in there. So I guess that's why they had to drop Polly. They left her in there for one year to see if she would repeat and come back to Cocktail cavalcade, but as she didn't why they just got themselves a great big eraser and she dropped in Social oblivion. And I bet that just about broke that girl's heart. For here she has spent a lifetime picking out parents who were eligible, and now she had gone and flopped after working hard to make the grade, and here at the last minute flunk. Now what can she do, where can she go? Decent people won't have anything to do with her. Every body will look at her and say, "Why, that's Polly Lauder. She used to be somebody and was fine and social, but they dropped her right off the Book and here she is practically destitute of all the ablest members of the great Fraternity of those who are somebody by grace of proper propagation (and ordering enough books.)"

You see there is something you might not know. If your name goes in you order so many books it's not exactly a philanthropic organization and its not exactly to keep track of those worth while. Its just sorter like all the rest of us are when we really admit it, its to get the dough. Now about what Gene did was (as he couldn't fight Dempsey any more and that big income wasnt coming in why he decided to cut down on his Charities and this happened to seem to them to be the least necessary, way they discontinued their subscriptions to this Elite Periodical and they give em so many months warning and then when the Tuesdays didn't come through way they just washed em up.

All of which gets us back to "What is Society and what is a Gentleman?" Well of course its easy in defining a Gentleman, a gentleman is to my way of thinking a man that can play golf and dont say so. But as there is so few in fact it has been discussed whether there is any at all.

Now as to "What is Society?" Society is any band of folks that kinder throw in with each other, and mess around together for each others discomfort. Any little or big group of folks that sorter flock together are "Society" in some form or other. The ones with the more money have more to eat and drink at their affairs, and their clothes cost more, and so thats called "High Society." Now the morals or personal behaviour of its Members have nothing to do with it. The oftener they can crash the front page the soliders are in their fraternity. And its sortly hereditary. No matter who you raise up in your family Zoo, why they naturally inherit your space in the "Social Register." Your personal accomplishments have nothing to do with it. Mind you Tunneys are not alone. Cause Caruso's wife was in there, and after she married him, they scratched her out. So they evidently have a pet aversion to "Tenors." Now there I kinder agree with em. There should be something done about Tenors, otherwise you encourage em.

Rear Admiral Byrd is among the missing. Guess he has been running around these Poles when he should have been at home taking care of his duties in the drawing room. But can you imagine leaving Byrd out, when his family have more record-of-breeding-and-tradition than the book put together?

Then here is a fellow that I bet it just broke him right square up when he opened the book and found he was out on his ear. That's Henry Ford. Transportationally he is a Giant, but socially he is a Gnat. I can just imagine his embarrassment when he found that out. For he has been so ambitious, and has strived all his life to be somebody, and now to find that he didn't make it. Little boys will be pointing him out on the running boards, "Oh look, there is Henry Ford, he is not in the Social Register! Dont touch him he will contaminate you."

So for downright amusement in reading matter that Register will compete with the Congressional Register and College Humor.

Small Says He Will Vote For Sterling Aug. 23

ABILENE, Aug. 9.—Senator Clint C. Small will vote for Ross Sterling August 23, he told the Abilene Morning News last night over long distance telephone from his home at Wellington. His statement was in confirmation of a telegram he had sent earlier in the day to Representative Penrose Metcalfe, member of the legislature from Tom Green county.

Senator Small told the News that he did not know Metcalfe intended releasing his telegram for publication, but that he had no objections to its being published. He said he would not be active in the runoff campaign, and said he did not care to amplify the simple statement that he would support Mr. Sterling.

Criticism Editorial

In the interview, Senator Small voiced resentment at a recent editorial in the Morning News charging him with poor sportsmanship for not immediately taking a clear cut stand in the Sterling-Ferguson race. He said the editorial was unjust, and not a true description of his position.

Metcalfe had wired Small that many of his former supporters in the primary of July 26 were awaiting word from him, and urged him to express himself at once on the run-off primary.

The reply was short but illudicated. Small wired: "I expect to vote for Sterling August 23."

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 9.—Representative Penrose Metcalfe's telegram from Senator Clint Small, announcing he would vote for Ross Sterling in the second primary gave the Sterling campaign a big impetus here yesterday. Organization of the Tom Green county Sterling club was completed with W. A. Wright chairman of the men and Mrs. George E. Webb of the women. A drive for 2,000 members is being launched.

A county-wide Sterling rally is planned for next week. Governor Dan Moody is to speak here, it is announced.

Frank Dickey, lawyer of Ballinger, has been made chairman of the Rannels county Sterling club, and Ples Childers, ranchman and banker of Ozona, chairman for Crockett county.

Mrs. C. Harvey underwent a major operation Saturday at Bivings and Barcus hospital.

Former Gov. James E. Ferguson, campaigning for his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, spoke at Whiteboro Saturday night, and not so far away, at Cooper, Gov. Dan Moody championed the cause of Ross S. Sterling of Houston, Mrs. Ferguson's run-off opponent. Sterling himself rested preparatory to an arduous week of stumping in West Texas beginning Monday in a bid for the votes that went to State Senator Clint C. Small of Wellington in the first primary.

96 CENTS IS TOTAL FOR NEXT YEAR

Valuations Remain Same In Most Instances
An order establishing a county tax rate of 96 cents per $100 or twenty-four cents lower than that of 1929, and one-third lower than the rate of 1928, will be adopted at a session of the County Commissioners, to be held Monday, it was announced Saturday.

At a meeting of the county solons Saturday, the 96-cent on the $100 valuation was agreed upon.

Final passing of the order creating the next and lower rate will be before the commissioners Monday. The tax rate for 1929 was $1.20, twenty-four cents above the new rate. The 1928 tax rate was $1.44, forty-eight cents above the new schedule.

The 96-cent rate is divided as follows:

General fund, twenty-five cents; road and bridge fund, thirteen cents; road and bridge special fund, fifteen cents; jury fund, six cents; court-house and jail bonds, three cents; Howard county road bonds, five cents; Howard County good road bonds, fifteen cents; jail warrants, two cents; courthouse and jail warrants, two cents; paving warrants, two cents; Gregg Street viaduct warrants, two cents; permanent improvements, two cents. The new tax rate is based on a $15,000,000 valuation, the commissioners declared Saturday.

According to the commissioners the rate was lowered, with the valuations, in the majority of instances, remaining the same.

200 FARM WOMEN GREET ICE MAN AS HE TRAVELS THE ONLY RURAL ROUTE IN WEST TEXAS

Six Communities Now Have Refrigeration Equal to That in the City and at the Same Prices

Two hundred farm women regularly receive ice delivered at their farms every other day by the Southern Ice and Utilities Company...

So far as Mrs. Delbridge knows, this is the only county in Texas with ice delivery in the rural communities...

In six communities, R-Bar Highway, Lomax, Elbow Fairview and Luther, housewives regularly meet the ice-man every other day just as in the city.

And these women, according to Mrs. Delbridge, pay only seventy-two cents a hundred a hundred pounds. This is the regular price of ice as it is delivered in Big Spring.

If, however, the women had to buy the ice at the community stores, they would have to pay $1.00 a hundred pounds. According to Mrs. Delbridge, the farm women are buying much better refrigerators than the town people...

The whole system is but an experiment, said Mrs. Delbridge, but the women have made it more than that; they wouldn't know just what to do without ice now.

LIBRARY IS DISCUSSED BY DUNCAN

E. F. Duncan chairman of the Lions Club committee on the county library project, was the principal speaker at the regular session of the Business Men's Luncheon club, held today.

Duncan outlined the plan for obtaining a library for Howard county, declaring Big Spring is the only city of its size in Texas without an available book for the public.

He declared the local Federation of Women's Clubs sponsored the movement and enlisted the help of the Lions Club.

He outlined the usual procedure in obtaining the library. He declared having been refused by the county commissioners, petitions carrying a majority of voters signatures could be presented and the library would become mandatory.

The library, he explained, provides free books to urban and rural districts. He declared that a two cent assessment on the $100 valuation would net approximately $2,700, enough to finance the project.

The Dallas county library cost $1,854; Cook county, $4,600; with the former having 5,000 volumes, the latter 15,000.

He expressed the opinion the Howard county library should have between 4,000 and 5,000 volumes. At the present time, according to Duncan, the signatures of approximately 1,800 voters have been obtained. The Lions Committee will endeavor to raise this to 2,500, he declared.

The cemetery again was before the club for discussion. A committee appointed to work on the project will meet with the city commissioners at the next meeting in an effort to establish some agreement in obtaining aid for the plot.

Announcement of folders and stamps being placed in West Texas by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was made by C. T. Watson, secretary of the local commercial organization.

He suggested the material be sold by the club, the profits to be applied to the cemetery fund. J. E. Kuykendall, Bonehead club candidate for governor, discussed his platform of "I'm agin it, and don't believe in a governor anyway" in his initial campaign speech.

Announcement of the drive now on to raise funds for a summer enrichment for members of the 1930 high school football squad, was made by R. C. Campbell.

MISS DAVIS HERE: Miss Georgia Kirk Davis of Midland, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Lige Davis, stopped in Big Spring for a short while yesterday. She was returning to her home after attending the summer session at Texas University. Miss Davis will teach here again next year.

CAMPBELL, N. J.—This looks like a record of some sort. Miss Cornelia L. Jones, 17-year-old daughter of a Palestine banker, made her first solo flight in an airplane after only four hours instruction.

MRS. LARGENT, 83, IS BURIED IN COLORADO

Funeral services for Mrs. Nannie Brewster Largent, who died Friday evening at seven thirty, were held yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Gary at two thirty in the afternoon.

Rev. S. B. Hughes of the East Fourth Street Baptist church read the funeral service to a group of relatives and friends. The body was then removed to Colorado for burial.

Mrs. Brewster, who was 82 years and 10 months of age, was born in Clarksville, Georgia, October 8, 1847. She had been a widow for almost fifty-eight years. She had lived in Big Spring with her daughter Mrs. Frank Gary, since 1913.

She was the daughter of Captain Jack Smith, of Civil War fame, and married to Texas in her early youth.

She is survived by two children, Mrs. Frank Gary and Walter Largent, both of Big Spring, a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Stenemet of Fort Worth, a brother, Nat L. Smith of Colorado, four nieces, Mrs. A. W. Boucher of Post, Mrs. R. W. Pringle of Fort Worth, Mrs. Charles Mann of Colorado, and Mrs. Hunter Runie of Colorado.

Grandchildren are: Mrs. C. K. Bivings of Big Spring, Mrs. F. H. Etheridge of Los Angeles, California, McCall Gary of Caracas, Venezuela, and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were: Nat Shick Tom Mercer, Dr. E. O. Ellington, Ira Thurman, J. D. Biles and Edwin A. Kelley.

The Midland youth, arrested a few days after the slaying, and held for several days, was released two days ago.

Mrs. Loyd, former wife of a Midland chiropractor, was slain Sunday morning, July 27. Since that time dozens have been questioned by Reeves county officials in regard to the slaying. Letters found near the body are still being probed by officers.

Biggs had no statement to make Saturday night, declaring the investigation was still underway.

It is known, however, that another man is being searched for by Pecos officers.

AMARILLO, Tex., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Johnson of Lovington, N. M., parents of Mrs. A. D. Payne, blown to her death by dynamite placed by the hands of her husband, today claimed two of their three grandchildren, closed the three bungalow and left for their home.

"My daughter knew nothing of Payne's alleged financial troubles, illegitimate practices and plots and never had a thought of committing suicide as he claimed," Johnson said.

"She was a good mother and a kind and loving wife. She trusted her husband, loved her children and was innocent of all those things," Payne told. He could not say anything that would shake his faith in her.

"Bobbie Jean and Ladell Payne left with their grandparents and the boy, A. D., Jr., who will go through life as a cripple—maimed by the blast that killed his mother—will make his home with his uncle, Sidney Payne, of Tulsa.

"We will give the girls a good home," Mr. and Mrs. Johnson said through tears as the little girls tore themselves away from their bungalow yard and said goodbye to their playmates. They were lugging dolls and toys.

Little Ladell Payne stopped to leave a message for her father. "She loves her daddy," the grandfather explained. "Of course the children love him, but they are not old enough to know what it really means."

STINNETT, Tex., Aug. 8.—(AP)—A. D. Payne, Amarillo attorney, who confessed that it was he who planted the dynamite that blasted the life out of his wife and the mother of his three children, today had acknowledged the truthfulness of his sordid statement of murder with his signature.

When he stepped back in the presence of Potter and Hutchinson county officers after affixing his name to the long document which told a tale of convicting at the life of the woman he courted a few years ago while working his way through West Texas State Teachers' College at Canyon, he expressed only one regret.

He said he was sorry that the infernal machine that dismembered Mrs. Payne and maimed his 11-year-old son did not in fact murder the boy that had been given the name of his father and who now does not believe him guilty of so dastardly a crime.

Appears Composed Payne seemed remarkably composed considering the ordeal he had been through, when, at 4 o'clock this morning he sealed the $3-page confession, detailing a series of attempts on his wife's life before he finally succeeded. Newspaper re-

Questions Of State Federation Of Labor Secretary Answered By Candidate Ross S. Sterling

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 8.—(AP)—A declaration favoring amendment of the eight-hour law so that its provisions will apply in fact to all employees engaged in public works was made this week by Ross Sterling of Houston, gubernatorial candidate, in reply to an inquiry by George H. Slater of Dallas, executive secretary of the Texas State Federation of Labor.

Four inquiries were submitted by Mr. Slater, who said in a letter to Mr. Sterling: "In the struggle for economic justice for the workingmen and women of Texas, whether organized or unorganized, the Texas State Federation of Labor during the thirty years of its existence has stood for certain well defined governmental principles."

One of the questions was whether, as Governor, Mr. Sterling would favor passage of a "workable minimum wage law for the protection of the workingmen in industry in this Commonwealth." Mr. Sterling said in reply that he favors a minimum wage law to "insure that the state, women and children of this state who have to work for a living shall receive a living wage and not be oppressed by unfair wages."

He added, "I want to see our laws improved to further protect children and grown people from being required to work in sweat shops under dangerous conditions."

The third question dealt with Mr. Sterling's attitude toward a constitutional amendment making possible the underwriting of workmen's compensation by the state itself.

Mr. Sterling said opposition to the proposal has been expressed in certain quarters, but added that the experience of the United States Government in writing war risk insurance in huge volume at low rates "gives evidence that the state could underwrite workmen's compensation and thereby secure for injured employees a better scale of compensation and lower rates for the employer."

"If such an amendment were proposed in the legislature, I would favor submitting it to a vote of the people."

The last inquiry dealt with a proposed increase in appropriations for the Labor Commission of Texas and the Industrial Accident Board. "To permit these two important departments to properly function, as was intended by the legislature in enacting the law."

Mr. Sterling declared that "with the available revenues, I favor the better support of these departments."

In his letter to Mr. Slater, Mr. Sterling declared that "I have directly under my supervision paid out in excess of $10,000,000 in wages to men and women who work."

Preparations for Sterling Speaking Started Thursday Preparations for the appearance here next Friday at 2:30 p. m. of Ross S. Sterling, candidate for governor, were started Thursday afternoon in a meeting of the steering committee of the local Sterling-Ferguson Club.

Mr. Sterling is expected to reach here about noon and following luncheon will be at the Crawford hotel until time for the speaking program, which will be held on the court house lawn. The local sponsors of the program, on which Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman, also is expected to appear, especially urge the attendance of voters from other Howard county communities, as well as those of neighboring counties.

BEAUTE CLUB SWEETWATER, Tex., Aug. 8.—(AP)—A Sterling-Ferguson Club has been organized at Beate, Coke county, with 51 of the 65 members having supported another candidate in the first primary.

John M. Hendrix of Sweetwater is handling the Sterling organization in five counties of West Texas.

SPEAKING DATES The following message was received today morning from West Texas headquarters in Fort Worth: Ross, Sterling, accompanied by Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman will speak in Wichita Falls Monday night, August 11, Memphis Tuesday night, Amarillo Wednesday night. Breakfast will be had in Canyon at 7:30 a. m. Thursday, visiting Happy at 9 o'clock, Tulsa 10:30 to 11 a. m., arriving in Plainview at 1:30 p. m. He will speak in Floydada at 3 p. m., arriving in Lubbock at 5:30 p. m., where he will speak Thursday night. Friday morning he will separately.

Payne laughed when he told of taking an uncle of Mayor Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo for a ride in his car "loaded with dynamite" at the time.

"It was fun, as I sped along not caring if the dynamite exploded," Payne commented.

Carried Fuse He told one officer that he carried a fuse around in his pocket for a week after Mrs. Payne was killed.

Several of the methods Payne described as considered by him to destroy not only Mrs. Payne but himself were marveled at by officers who regarded them as far-fetched and in several instances uncanny.

He said he planned to place dynamite under his pillow and let a long fuse dangle out his bedroom window.

"I intended to rush outside, light the fuse and then hurry to bed so it would appear someone murdered me," he said.

"He got a great kick out of explaining how he secretly employed a private detective to run down the murderer of his wife," one officer recalled.

Rice Flake "Goodies" Are Good for the Children

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON Have you ever tried to coax a child to eat vegetables?

Just why young appetites should refuse this necessary part of the diet no one knows. But thousands of mothers do know that they have overcome one of their greatest meal-time problems by serving delicious rice flakes in various forms.

Besides being a nourishing energy food, rice flakes are peculiarly valuable in the diet of children, because they furnish the effect of vegetables in promoting regular health habits. Their gentle roughage is just what Nature intended for the growing child. And their crisp, crunchy goodness needs no urging to be eaten.

Following are a number of novel ways in which these healthful rice flakes may be served to round out the diet of spinach-shy youngsters:

Rice Flake Waffles—1 3/4 cups flour, 2-3 cup rice flakes, 1 1/2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons sugar, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon melted butter, 1 egg. Mix and sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Beat egg, yolk thoroughly, add milk, and then add to dry ingredients, beating thoroughly. Add melted butter, and fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Add rice flakes, and bake in a hot waffle iron.

Rice Flake Muffins—1 cup rice flakes, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 egg, 1 cup flour, 1-4 cup sugar, 1-2 cup milk, 1 tablespoon melted butter. Sift flour, salt and baking powder, sugar. Add rice flakes, which have been crushed with rolling pin. Add milk to beaten egg, and mix with fork into dry ingredients. Add melted butter and bake for fifteen minutes in a moderate oven in well-buttered muffin tins. This recipe makes 8 large muffins.

Scalloped Tomatoes—2 cups rice flakes, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons butter, 3 cups stewed tomatoes, canned or fresh, 1-2 cup grated American cheese, few grains ground clove. Cook tomatoes, salt, pepper, sugar, cloves and butter together 15 minutes. Put a layer of rice flakes in the bottom of a greased baking dish, and cover with a layer of the tomato mixture. Repeat the process until all the ingredients are used, and sprinkle with cheese. Bake in a hot oven (375 degrees F.) 20 minutes.

Spinach with Rice Flakes—1 can spinach, 3 cups rice flakes, 1-4 cup milk, 4 tablespoons melted butter. Drain and chop spinach. Crush rice flakes with rolling pin and add to spinach all but enough to sprinkle over top of loaf. Add butter, milk and mix thoroughly. Place in buttered casserole. Sprinkle a few buttered, crushed flakes over top. Set in pan of hot water and bake in a slow oven until the custard is set.

Fluffy Omelet with Rice Flakes—4 eggs, 6 tablespoons hot water, 2 cups rice flakes, 1 teaspoon salt. Add hot water to beaten egg yolks, then salt. Fold in stiffly beaten whites, and then rice flakes. Turn into pan and cook over slow fire until light brown underneath. Place in oven until top is dry. Fold in half, and serve at once.

Rice Flake Brittle—2 cups granulated sugar, 1-2 cup white corn syrup, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1 cup water, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 package rice flakes, 1-3 cup peanuts. Cook sugar, syrup and water to 300 degrees, or until small amount dropped in cold water is very brittle. Do not stir after the sugar is dissolved. Remove from fire, add butter, stirring only enough to mix well. Add rice flakes and peanuts, and turn onto greased marble top or slab. Smooth out with spatula. Take hold of edges, and pull as thin as possible. Break in irregular pieces.

HONESTY IN OFFICE NOW CHIEF ISSUE STERLING DECLARES IN OPENING CAMPAIGN STATEMENT

AUSTIN, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Ross S. Sterling, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, opened his campaign here today with an attack upon James E. Ferguson, former governor, whose wife, Miriam A. Ferguson, opposes Sterling in the runoff campaign.

In a statement Sterling relegated his highway bond plan to second place as an issue, declaring the paramount issue now to be "honesty and efficiency in government."

He said he believed "other candidates in the primary stood for honest government and were opposed to 'the cooperation and support of all right thinking people.'"

Sterling then reviewed some of the episodes in the administration of the Fergusons. He referred particularly to Ferguson's pardon record, administration of the road fund and the facts of Ferguson's impeachment.

Unheard Of The spectacle of an ex-governor, impeached in office, with his wife as governor in name only, while he, in fact, directs her official actions, is unheard of so far as I have known in the history of any free government except one, and that was in our own great state," the statement said.

"If Ferguson's administration had lasted 90 days longer it would have been virtually necessary to nail up the doors of the highway department. The federal government withheld all federal aid from Texas until that regime was out of the state capital."

"Will the people of Texas once more permit this man to enjoy immunity from the law while he with one hand practices law and acts as an individual citizen, and with the other hand dominates and controls the highest office within our gift?"

No Speculation "We do not have to resort to speculation or conjecture to find out what Fergusonism means. It is spread on the records of the state. Elevated to the office of governor leave Lubbock at 7 a. m., breakfasting in Tahoka at 8 o'clock and stopping in Lamesa at 10 a. m., reaching Big Spring for lunch, and speaking here at 2:30 p. m. He will speak in Colorado at 5:30 p. m., and at a rally in Sweetwater at 8 p. m. He will spend Saturday morning in Abilene, stopping briefly in Cisco and Eastland, speaking at Ranger at 9 p. m. Saturday, August 15.

Restates Position Sterling also restated his position on various issues brought to the fore during the primary campaign. They included advocacy of taxation of natural resources; enactment of a production tax on sulphur; correction of inequalities in the taxing system; improvement of the prison farms; generous support of eleemosynary institutions; support of measures designed to protect the working man; and vigorous enforcement of the law.

Sterling declared his bond issue plan had been mis-stated. He pointed out that it was the right of the legislature to submit, or not to submit, this question or he direct vote of the people.

"I want it clearly understood," the statement said, "that I will not favor the submission of such an amendment unless it expressly provides that the state highway bonds be authorized shall never become a charge or liability upon or against the real estate or personal property of Texas citizens, so that homes, farms, ranches or other property shall never bear the burden of such bonds, but they shall be paid solely out of other tax resources, particularly the gasoline tax. This could be without increase of the present tax."

REFINERY AT TIDEWATER IS RUMORED

Increased Capitalization Being Considered

FORT WORTH, Aug. 7 (AP)—Expansion of refining and marketing operations which will probably include the acquisition or erection of a plant on Tidewater or other the Atlantic or gulf coast is involved in an announced increase in capitalization of Cosden Oil Company, according to reports here, where the company maintains general headquarters.

Concentrated Here The reports could not be confirmed here due to the absence of J. B. Cosden, head of the company, who is not expected to return to the Fort Worth office until after stockholders meeting in the New York office on August 14. Plans contemplate increase from 300,000 to 500,000 shares. Production of the Cosden Company, until recently, has been largely concentrated in the Howard-Glasscock area, where the company has a large refinery at Big Spring, which is supplying material for its aggressive marketing operations in the interior. Recently it has proved up valuable producing properties in Southwest Texas near the gulf coast and a Tidewater refinery would have this as a nucleus, at least of its raw material supply.

primary for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Yesterday Earle E. Mayfield, eliminated candidate in the first primary, lent his tacit support to Mrs. Ferguson's candidacy by issuing a statement of unequivocal opposition to Sterling.

Mayfield repeated charges made in his campaign asserting large expenditures of money were made in the Sterling campaign and declared that if Sterling were nominated, the Republicans would have no difficulty in barring his name from the ballot.

Sterling answered with a statement asserting that Mayfield and James E. Ferguson, former governor who was impeached, and his band of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson were "birds of a feather."

"Although I invite the support of all good citizens who voted for Earle E. Mayfield in the recent primary," he said, "I have not invited Mayfield's support and do not want it."

Jed C. Adams, Democratic National Committeeman from Texas, announced that he would support Sterling but gave notice that he would support Ferguson if Sterling were defeated.

Cracks In the Dome

By THE POLITICAL ANALYST
AUSTIN, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Texas seems sure of having five women legislators when the lawmakers convene next Jan. 6.

This despite the voluntary retirement of Mrs. Laura Burleson Nesley as a member from San Antonio.

Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, widow of the former representative from Bryan, has been nominated for his seat, the seat held during the past two years by Speaker W. S. Barrow.

Mrs. Helen Moore, Texas City, has been renominated.

Mrs. Sarah T. Hughes, distinguished woman lawyer of Dallas, has a run-off race with a reputedly "wet" opponent and reports from Dallas said her nomination is assured.

A woman has been nominated from a southwestern Texas district, according to information received here, defeating a candidate for renomination.

Sen. Margie Neal, only woman ever to serve in the senate, was renominated without opposition in the Carthage district.

A sister of Mrs. Edith Willmanns, first woman legislator of Texas, was among the candidates defeated for the run-off for the place Mrs. Hughes is seeking.

A novel method of presenting favors to the guests was a fishing pond where each child "cast" for his present. Balloons were also given as favors.

Games were played and contests were held. The following were guests: Josephine Timmons, Wanda Estes, Leona Lois Clay, Joanna Winn, Billie and Justine Danner, Olan Wright, James Duckworth, Morris Lee Carter, Miles D. Carter, Russell Latson, Laird Remels, Charles Moore, Billy Moore, William Edgar Davis, Wilkins B. Winn, Thomas B. Bowdre of Fort Worth.

Reagan Is Named Commissioner To Succeed Cook; Coffee Is Elected To Fill City Attorney's Post

H. Reagan, official of the West Texas National Bank, was appointed a member of the City Commission, to take the place left vacant by the resignation of R. L. Cook, at the regular meeting of that body last Tuesday night.

Cook, who resigned because he "was not in accord with major policies of the commission" had his resignation accepted. He asked that it go into effect immediately.

The commission declared the resignation was "very unexpected." Cook did not attend the meeting last night.

Reagan could not be reached this morning for a statement in regard to his appointment, as he was out of town. It is not known if he will accept the post.

The city commissioners also accepted the resignation of James T. Brooks as City Attorney, and named as his successor, Thomas L. Coffee.

Brooks resigned over a month ago.

Commissioner Talbot was named as mayor pro tem in the absence of Mayor Piche, who will leave for a two week's vacation today.

PANHANDLE IS BATTLEGROUND OF FERGUSON AND STERLING AS BID FOR SMALL VOTE IS MADE

(By The Associated Press)
Out over the broad plains of the Panhandle the storm center of the campaign for the governor's chair swirled today.

Former governor James E. Ferguson, working for the nomination of his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, moved into Clarendon, while Ross S. Sterling turned toward Memphis.

Scores of adherents of the two candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination either spoke or prepared to speak in many sections of the state.

Predictions made after the first primary that the current race for the governorship would rival any in the history of Texas for forensic pyrotechnics were somewhat borne out in addresses by Ferguson and Sterling last night.

Bank Charge
Speaking at Dallas, Ferguson charged that Sterling as president of a group of banks 15 years ago when Ferguson was governor had subjected himself to possible prosecution through making loans intended for his personal use. He stated that Sterling had asked his help and he prevailed upon the banking commissioner to give him six months in which to pay the money back. During that time, Ferguson said, Sterling's "oil wells came in" and "luckily" became wealthy and paid off the loans.

In this connection, Charles I. Francis, preceding Mr. Sterling on the platform at Wichita Falls last night, denounced as entirely untrue Ferguson's statement that Sterling had sought Ferguson's aid.

Ferguson asserted that Sterling was not a good business man, but had made his money through "luck." He asserted Sterling wouldn't "stand the gaff," but would "blow up like a balloon" in a tight place.

He defended Mrs. Ferguson's pardon record while governor and said that the 2,000 convicts whom his wife would parole should be again be elected were prisoners who should have been freed by Governor Moody under "custom of the last fifty years."

At Wichita Falls, Mr. Sterling declared he had learned early in his life to tell the difference between right and wrong and to distinguish his "money from that of someone else." He reviewed the financial struggles of his early business life, saying he wished to show that he was honest.

Highway System
He discussed his plan for building a statewide highway system, saying "you now pay for highways with taxes on your property and when you go out on the highways in your car you pay for them again with a gasoline tax." His plan calls for highway building by a bond issue based on a gasoline tax.

He said the issue in the campaign was whether "we shall have responsible government or irresponsible government."

State Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman, a supporter of Clint C. Small in the first primary, spoke in favor of Mr. Sterling and denounced Ferguson's record, asserting that if Mrs. Ferguson were elected and kept her promise to liberate 2,000 convicts he would introduce a bill in the legislature to repeal the anti-pistol law "so Texans will be able to protect themselves."

Dan At Bonham
Governor Moody spoke at Bonham last night in favor of the Sterling candidacy. His program called for action all the week.

The race for Attorney General between James V. Allred of Wichita Falls and R. L. Bobbitt, incumbent, continued to attract attention.

Allred, speaking at Jacksonville, said that before the first primary Bobbitt had "centered his attacks and insinuations" on Cecil Storey of Vernon, but that after Storey had been eliminated Bobbitt had turned the attacks on Allred. He predicted an overwhelming victory.

Bobbitt told a Greenville audience that Allred was a man who entered a "community telling voters he was running on his merits and qualifications" but then launched "a bitter attack against the incumbent."

DALLAS, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Official canvass by the state Democratic executive committee revealed that 833,442 votes were cast in the July 28 Democratic primary, the greatest number in the history of the state.

"The canvass showed run-offs necessary for six state offices, governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, treasurer, commissioner of Moody can get a response from a large number of Texas voters than anybody else could win. After a five-minute ovation for Moody at the Sterling meeting, his comment was "That shows 'em."

PRIMARY LEADERS FAVORED

Murray Overwhelms Buttram; Gore, Robinson, Norris Lead

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 13.—(AP)—The lead of W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, grizzled veteran of pre-statehood political battles, flitted with the 80,000 mark today for the Democratic nomination for governor. With 3,880 of the state's 3,335 precincts reported, the spellbinder from the cotton country led Frank Buttram, his millionaire opponent in yesterday's runoff primary, 194,205 to 114,674.

T. F. Gore, blind former senator seeking to again occupy the seat he relinquished ten years ago, had close to 40,000 majority over C. J. Wrightman, Tulsa oil man. The county from 2,774 precincts for the Democratic senatorial nomination was Gore 150,816; Wrightman 112,325.

Buttram, whose defeat was conceded by his proponents before last midnight, today pledged himself to support the Democratic ticket next November.

By The Associated Press
Leading figures in Tuesday's five state primaries appeared on the basis of the steadily mounting count of ballots today to have safely weathered the test.

Senator George W. Norris, the Nebraska Republican insurgent who supported Alfred E. Smith in 1928, was gaining an increasing lead over William M. Stebbins, candidate of the "regular" faction in the party, Gilbert N. Hitchcock, former senator, apparently was nominated by the Democrats to oppose Norris.

Senator Joe T. Robinson, Democratic leader and vice presidential candidate of 1928, had a lead of more than three to one over Tom W. Campbell in the Arkansas senate race.

Thomas F. Gore, blind former senator, had a commanding lead over Charles J. Wrightman, Tulsa oil man, for the Democratic senate nomination in the Oklahoma runoff primary. William H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray, was far in front of Frank Buttram of Oklahoma City for the gubernatorial nomination.

In Alabama early returns gave John H. Bankhead a considerable lead over Frederick I. Thompson, Mobile publisher, in a senate race marked for its light vote.

Wet Senator
Ohio Democrats gave leads to a wet for the senate and a dry for the governorship. Robert J. Bullock of Cleveland, advocate of dry law, was well ahead of his four opponents for the senate while George White, endorsed by the anti-saloon league, had a substantial margin over Stephen M. Young for the gubernatorial nomination.

Both in Oklahoma and Ohio, the Democratic choices for the senate will contest in the election with Republican incumbents who were opposed within the party. These are Senators W. B. Pine and Roscoe C. McCulloch.

In Alabama the Democratic winner will battle Senator J. Thomas Heflin, ousted from the primary for failing to support the party's 1928 presidential standard bearer. Speculation developed in the state over an indicated large difference in total vote for gubernatorial over senatorial candidates in view of Heflin's appeal to his supporters to abstain from voting until the November election. Lieutenant Governor Davis led five other candidates in the gubernatorial race.

The Nebraska primaries appeared to have yielded a victory also for Charles W. Bryan, brother of the Comover, who sought the Democratic nomination for the governorship. He was the 564 vice-presidential candidate of his party and formerly was governor of his state.

BUTTRAM SPEAKS
OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 13 (AP)—Frank Buttram, Oklahoma City oil man defeated in yesterday's run-off primary election by W. H. Murray, Democratic nominee for governor, said today that he would support the ticket in the November general election. Buttram and Murray exchanged bitter personal attacks in the runoff campaign.

Mexican Deputy Out of Danger

Juan Parez and Pedro Gallardo, deputy sheriff, wounded in a gun fight in Mexican Town, Sunday night, were reported out of danger today by attendants at the Big Spring Hospital.

Gallardo was only slightly wounded, a bullet from a .45 Colt revolver having penetrated his abdomen along the surface. Parez alleged to have been Gallardo's assailant, was more seriously wounded, having received a bullet wound in his back, the slug entering from the right and going through his body. An operation was performed Monday morning.

George Urias, also a deputy, shot Parez after Gallardo had fallen. The two deputies were recently appointed by Sheriff Jess Slaughter upon a petition signed by residents of Mexican Town for a peace officer.

No charges have been filed in Justice of the Peace Cecil Collings' court.

Store Theft Is Charged to Mexican

Charges of theft were filed in county court this morning against Antonio Colzado, alleged to have stolen a quantity of merchandise from the Austin-Jones store.

The Mexican was arrested by City Policeman Howie. The goods, consisting of shoes and hosiery, were recovered.

Dr. W. M. Long with 44 out of a possible 50, was third.

In a 50 bird contest between L. D. Morrow and Dr. C. W. Deats, each cracked 49 out of a possible 50. In an additional 50 shots, Deats missed one after a total straight run of 91. The final tally was Morrow, 99 out of a possible 100, and Deats 98.

Holdsclaw was given a brass gun rod, and hunting knives were awarded Dr. Long and H. C. Cummings.

The C. & C. Hardware company gave a knife to L. D. Morrow, winner over Dr. Deats.

According to the officials of the club, the organization is gradually growing and the shooters are improving weekly. A small club house has been donated by M. L. Tinsley.

TEXAS W.C.T.U. TO SUPPORT STERLING FOR GOVERNOR, SAYS MRS. T. D. MURPHY

Word Received from State President Also Indicates that Organization Favors Strong for Lieutenant Governor

The Women's Christian Temperance Union of Texas will support Ross Sterling for the nomination of governor of this state, according to a letter received by Mrs. T. D. Murphy of Midland, the president of the organization in this district.

The letter was from Mrs. Claude De Van Watts, state president of the W. C. T. U. It was written after the executive meeting in Austin held at the first of the week.

"Of course," stated the letter, "we are disappointed over the defeat of Love for the candidacy.

"But I feel that it is imperative that we work unceasingly for the nomination of Ross Sterling.

"The office of Lieutenant Governor is most important because he appoints the senate committee. The prohibitionists have not had a friend in this office for many years. This is the reason why many of our bills failed to get to the floor for discussion.

"We therefore endorse the candidacy of Sterling Strong and will work to put him in office."

3,000 Strong "The actual number of W. C. T. U. members in Texas is only 3,000, but their influence is much more far reaching than their size indicates," said Mrs. Thomas D. Murphy of Midland today.

"Texas has never had a W. C. T. U. organization until recently. It is gaining impetus daily, however, and new local chapters are being formed everywhere."

Midland has one of the oldest and strongest organizations in the state.

FERGUSONS IN WICHITA FALLS WHILE STERLING PREPARES FOR OPENING SPEECH IN HILLSBORO COOPER AUDIENCE HEARD BY JIM AND WIFE

By the Associated Press Ross S. Sterling of Houston tonight was to start his final charge with the Texas gubernatorial campaign at Hillsboro, where elaborate plans had been completed to give him a rattling good send-off.

At Cooper Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, who was defeated for a second term by Gov. Dan Moody four years ago, made her debut at Cooper last night to a big audience. Delta county farmers having contributed generously to swelling the crowd.

Former Gov. James E. Ferguson, Mrs. Ferguson's husband, made one of his typical speeches after the candidate read his speech.

Gov. Moody, who had thought of seeking a third term until Sterling, appointed by him to the chairmanship of the highway commission became a candidate, made his first speech for Sterling at Waco last night and tonight will speak at Waxahachie. He will speak daily until the second primary August 23, Sterling headquarters announced.

The Fergusons were in Wichita Falls today and a big rally was to be held tonight.

Numerous speakers for both candidates were to stump the state in behalf of their favorite.

Campaigns in the other run-off, Wichita Falls, where they were to the boys to get up. Louis ran into the room crying: "I'm on fire, mama!"

"I grabbed him to me. I ran with him, Frank and Rose to the front porch. The firemen ran up their ladders. Louis jerked away from me, screaming that he couldn't stand it and ran back into the house.

"I started after Louis and one of the firemen grabbed me. He warned me not to go back in there as I would get killed. I fought. One of the firemen called downstairs for help in handling me. You know how a mother is. I pleaded with them to get Louis. But it was fully ten minutes after the firemen got there that they rescued my child.

"I finally went down the ladder. I know that they were going to make me do it. When I reached the ground, I was trying to get back into the house to get Louis when a curious thought flashed through my mind. It was the advice of an uncle who had been a fireman to the effect that it was best to let the firemen handle the situation at a fire."

The firemen denied that there was any unnecessary delay in the boy's rescue.

Dr. P. C. Coleman, president of the Colorado Sterling club.

Dr. Coleman announced that the first delegation, scheduled to leave here at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon, would motor to Big Spring to hear Sterling in his address there at 2:30. The local citizens are to accompany Sterling from Big Spring to Colorado where the Houston candidate will deliver a short address from Walnut street entrance to the Colorado Hotel at 5 o'clock.

The second auto caravan, carrying boosters for the champion of "honesty in government" will leave at 7 P. M. for Sweetwater to attend Sterling rally in the Nolan county capital city beginning at 8 o'clock.

In a statement, Bobbitt said he would resign as attorney general if charges that he had been guilty of unethical conduct in management of an oil company suit were substantiated. He further proposed that if the charges were proven to be false Allred should make public retraction and apology for having circulated false charges.

Allred called attention to the fact that Bobbitt did not carry Hill county, where he was reared, in the first primary, while Allred did carry his home county of Montague.

Sterling's itinerary for the concluding week of the campaign was announced as follows: Monday, Gainesville and Paris; Tuesday, Terrell and Ennis; Wednesday, Marlin and Cameron; Thursday, Georgetown and San Marcos; Friday, La Grange and Galveston.

The Ferguson itinerary for next week: Monday, Fort Arthur; Tuesday, Naacodoches; Wednesday, Terrell; Thursday, Fort Worth; Friday, Marlin.

Candidates for other offices in the runoff primary showed increased energy. They included candidates for lieutenant-governor, state treasurer, commissioner of agriculture and railroad commissioner.

BEAUMONT, Texas, Aug. 14 (AP) James V. Allred told an audience here today that he was too busy with the race for attorney general to run for governor "as my opponent is doing."

Turning from the other issues of the campaign for a time, Allred hit back at R. L. Bobbitt, present attorney general by appointment, for trying to make an issue of the governor's race.

"The present attorney general seems to be laboring under the impression that he is running for governor," Mr. Allred said. "It was generally understood around Austin that he had intended to run for governor, but that he got the appointment as attorney general to keep him out of the governor's race."

"Evidently the blow he got on July 26 has left him in a somewhat dazed condition and he no doubt imagines that he is now running for the governor's office as he formerly intended to do before Governor Dan changed his mind for him."

W. C. Rogers and W. A. Rogers of E-Bar and Arlis Reed and Thomas Lee Payne, Bisco 4-H club boys, joined the party.

Leaving the courthouse at 8 a. m. the procession first drove through the fields at the U. S. experiment farm just south of town, and proceeded to the Earl Phillips place in Fairview community, the first farm in Howard county to be terraced and contoured.

Poisoning Worms The result of thus conserving moisture and soil was readily visible. Adjoining the Phillips is that of E. W. Marlon, who was in the field with his boys busy at poisoning leaf worms. In fact, farmers all along the route were already poisoning these worms, which appeared simultaneously with the recent rains.

The 4-H club mite projects of Elmo Phillips and Edward Marlon, on their fathers' place, were seen. They have five acres each, planted two rows to mite and one to peas. They keep detailed records of County roads were in excellent condition everywhere. They had already been dragged and conditioned since the rains.

The G. N. Grant and J. W. Wooten farms were inspected. Morris and A. C. Wooten, sons of A. C., are active 4-H club boys. They have a mite project and one in poultry. On five acres planted two rows to one of mite and peas, it appeared Morris would harvest two to three tons of pea hay, in addition to the mite.

J. W. Wooten said he had less cotton planted this year, a good portion of it having been blown out early in the season and mite planted in its place.

"You'll be better off" some one told him. Mr. Wooten has 30 acres of terraced land and plans raising the level of the terraces, making them broader and cultivating them.

Up to this point in the tour, Mr. Bush said, the terracing had followed that on Earl Phillips' place. Results he obtained were so obvious his neighbors did the same thing. He was making a fourth of a bale of cotton and a ton of mite to the acre, compared with an eighth of a bale and one fourth ton in other fields.

Richland N. H. Montgomery's farm, the field in the Richland community to be terraced was next inspected. A sloping hill in his field, which formerly raised little, has been made as prolific as lower ground because moisture has been controlled and conserved.

Fuckett Brothers The W. R. and W. B. Puckett farms were next. These brothers joined forces in laying out terraces for their adjoining fields. Water that formerly wasted itself down the road ditches was turned into the field from the west side. Water that once tore a gully across the middle of the large field, from north to south, was turned around the higher ground and controlled with terraces. A shallow lake that once was formed by this water at the south end of the field now grows the best crops in the entire field.

Next to Sid Oliver, Rufus Oliver and L. S. Proctor places were visited. They total about 600 acres of terraced land, and flourishing crops are growing there.

What many in the party declared to be the best all-around crop visited during the morning was that of Tom Spencer, an energetic young farmer of the Luther community. His feed is planted on the two-rows-and-skip-one plan, which is declared to result in higher yield in a region where annual rainfall is comparatively light. His young feed was beautiful, up to a full stand, evenly developed. His old feed was fairly good with well developed heads. Spencer's cotton, which was being sprayed with leaf worm poison, was very heavily loaded. One stalk less than knee high had 25 bolls and squares. Part of it will make a half bale to the acre barring hail or some other elemental destroyer.

Lunch From the Spencer place the party drove to Luther store, operated by Mr. Lawrence, well-known pioneer. A picnic lunch was spread at the store. Messrs. Smith, Calvert Neal and W. C. and W. A. Rogers joined the group there. They had missed connections in Big Spring.

In the Morris community after lunch W. P. Anderson's contoured field was seen. There followed a close inspection of A. C. Henry's

Churches

FIRST BAPTIST The Rev. James P. Peden, field secretary for the Baptist Standard, will occupy the pulpit at the First Baptist church Sunday morning and evening. Subject for the evening will be: "The Earnest of Our Inheritance." The evening subject will be "The Glorious Gospel Invitation."

crop. Mr. Henry, after attending a terracing demonstration by the county agent, went to work and did a fine job of terracing and contouring his own land.

Asked what he thought about terracing Mr. Henry replied that he thought "it's the idea. I've got the best crop I've ever had on this place in seven years."

The Ben Whitaker place and those of his mother and others adjoining, totaling 1,100 acres offered perhaps the finest example of good terracing. The terraces were comparatively high, 40 feet wide and cultivated. Mr. Whitaker is responsible for the terracing of this neighborhood. He learned the art in the county agent's terracing schools.

The J. A. Appleton place, near Whitaker's, was another beautiful example of the benefits of terracing.

Green Valley The farms of N. E. McMinn and J. S. Thomas in the Green Valley community were seen. A stop was made at Vincent. A ride through the R-Bar community ended the journey.

R-Bar, one of the oldest communities in the county, had, as a community, the finest crops seen. A visit was paid at the W. C. Rogers' home, where poultry right now is returning sizeable dividends. Hubert Hayworth, one of the best 4-H club boys of the county, who was scheduled for a talk at Luther at noon, but missed connections with the tourists, was visited in the R-Bar community. F. D. Rogers, son of W. C. Rogers, was a member of the county boys' judging poultry judging team at the recent A. & M. College Short Course. It was reported that Roger Miller's mite project is perhaps the best in that part of the county.

Grant, president of a local union in Clay county, Kentucky, and Ewing Riley of Providence, were arrested last night on the strength of Montgomery's confession naming them as the two men who accompanied him in his flight over the Kentucky fields. Montgomery said, according to Lewis, that Grant and Riley tossed out the nine bombs which threw the coal field into an uproar but did no actual damage.

Five miners from Zeigler, Ill., brought here for questioning by Franklin county authorities last night, were released today when they were unable to throw any additional light on the bombing.

8,000 and 10,000 feet up, he said. "I picked up a 34 mile an hour tailwind out of Albuquerque and then we started going to town," he remarked. "At St. Louis I hit the rain, but climbed over it."

Hawks had to "crab" it from the Mississippi east where a tricky crosswind had taken place of the westerlies.

"I was getting hungry when I left Indianapolis," he said, "but I figured I'd be in New York in plenty of time for dinner."

ST. LOUIS— (Continued from Page 1)

O'Brine for fulfilling their pledge to bring the world's record for endurance flying back to St. Louis. A heavy downpour precluded a large crowd from being at the air field when the fliers actually regained the record yesterday morning so the real celebration was put off until last night.

There was a huge fireworks exhibition and a carnival of noise making by the throng which remained late.

The aviators, whose flight for nearly three weeks had attracted comparatively little attention, were regaining fame and there was assurance they would regain fortune. From the moment they exceeded the 554-hour record of the Hunter brothers they began earning $100 an hour, that sum being promised by an oil company for the first seventy hours after beating the previous record. Various attractive offers from commercial organizations and some cash donations were among the message of congratulations that poured in.

Jackson and O'Brine earned about $40,000 when they made their 420-hour record flight a year ago and hope to "cash in" again.
