400 U.S. Jets Strike Red Targets

Attack Heaviest Since 1968; 10 War Planes Reported Lost

COMON, RUN IT OUT!—A group of boys showed up yesterday for the Babe Ruth League baseball try-outs at Optimist Park. Part of the try-outs, as pictured above, included running. Additional try-outs will be conducted at 5:30 p.m. today and tomorrow at the park. Any boy from 13 to 15 interested in playing in the league must show up for at least two of the three try-out sessions. (Staff photo by John Ebling)

SAIGON (AP) — The United States unleashed today the heaviest air attack on North Vietnam since the bombing halt in 1968, trying to cut off the base of the growing North Vietnamese offensive in South Vietnam.

On ground fronts, North and South Vietnamese battled for a district town 75 miles north of Saigon. The enemy attack rolled into its eighth day on the northern front. Fighting continued in the central highlands.

U.S. sources estimated 400 planes had attacked targets in North Vietnam, half from 7th Fleet carriers and half from bases in South Vietnam and Thailand. The sources said the attacks were ordered by President Nixon.

Three carriers were committed to the air campaign. Five destroyers offshore added their 5-inch guns to the bombardment.

Targets were anti-aircraft batteries and radar stations, surface-to-air missiles, long-range artillery that has been firing across the demilitarized zone, and storage areas.

The North Vietnamese radio said 10 U.S. jets were shot down over North Vietnam during the day. The U.S. Command declined to say whether any planes were lost.

Sources said all the strikes were south of the 20th parallel, which is 200 miles north of the demilitarized zone dividing the two Vietnams.

Planes also attacked the North Vietnamese on the northern front of South Vietnam and adjacent areas in Laos.

North of Saigon, elements of three North Vietnamese divisions were reported to have poured across the Cambodian border and surrounded the district town of Loc Ninh, 75 miles north of Saigon and five miles from the frontier.

Highway 13 between Loc Ninh and An Loc, the provincial capital of Binh Long Province, 15 miles to the south, was reported unsafe. An Loc was threatened from the north, east and west, field reports said.

The highway was reported open from An Loc to Saigon but traffic was restricted.

South Vietnamese troops of the 5th Division were encountering heavy resistance outside Loc Ninh. One officer in the field said casualties on both sides were heavy.

Vietnamese sources said Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, commander of the 3rd military region, met with Gen. Creighton W. Abrams to request more American air support.

Informed sources said the only U.S. air support available is a squadron of American A-7s, which are small subsonic fighter-bombers, and some helicopter gunships.

The South Vietnamese planes are all in the north and the highlands, and the bulk of the U.S. jets and helicopter gunships also were operating above and below the DMZ.

The U.S. Command said the attacks on North Vietnam were "in response to the invasion of the Republic of South Vietnam by North Vietnamese forces who cross the demilitarized zone."

It added that they were ordered "to help protect the lives of diminishing U.S. forces."

The command said the strikes would be of "limited duration," meaning they probably will continue for several days.

It was the first mass onslaught against North Vietnam since late December, when the downing of four American fighter-bombers within two days touched off a five-day retaliatory attack. Since then, one, two or three American planes have been attacking anti-aircraft batteries and radar stations in North Vietnam almost daily.

Preparations for the new big attack began last weekend, when the U.S. Command recalled the carrier Kitty Hawk from leave in the Philippines. All week scores of planes have been striking across the border to hit scattered missile batteries, but heavy cloud cover delayed the start of the big offensive until today.

Spokesmen said that while the strikes are being carried out over North Vietnam, pressure would be maintained against enemy forces in the south and against their Ho Chi Minh trail supply line through Laos.

There was no immediate comment from Radio Hanoi on the large-scale attack today.

but an earlier broadcast claimed North Vietnamese gunners shot down five U.S. planes between Sunday and Tuesday, including two B-52 bombers and three F-4 Phantom fighter-bombers. The U.S. Command said it had no reports of any B-52 bombers or Phantoms being shot down during that period although it has announced the loss of three helicopters and 12 crewmen south of the DMZ since Sunday.

Sen. Gravel Seeks Vote On Declaration Of War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Gravel planned an attempt today to force a Senate vote on a declaration of war against North Vietnam.

The Alaska Democrat said he would make his stand in debate on a bill to restrict the president's war powers.

The bill would limit the president to emergency use of the armed forces for 30 days unless Congress authorized continued hostilities. But, as currently written, it would not apply to Vietnam.

Gravel proposed amendments Wednesday to make the bill applicable to "present hostilities" and to formally declare war on North Vietnam.

Gravel, a leading Senate dove, said he would vote against the second amendment.

He said he favors the first amendment, however, which would require an end to U.S. participation in the Vietnam fighting within 15 days in the unlikely event that the provision became law.

The bill is described by its 26 sponsors as an attempt to restrict Congress's constitutional prerogative to initiate war.

The bill is opposed by the Nixon administration. The administration says the nation has been involved in more than 180 military engagements abroad with only five declarations of war by Congress and that the bill thus would go against historical precedent.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., leading Senate opponent, calls the bill "unrealistic, unwise, and unconstitutional."

The Senate adopted three amendments Wednesday that were offered by the sponsors of the bill to dispel what they called "red herring" arguments against it.

One of the amendments would permit troops committed by the president to continue fighting beyond the 30-day deadline for congressional authorization if the president certified that there was "unavoidable military necessity" to protect troops while effecting "prompt disengagement."

The proviso also could be triggered if Congress were physically unable to meet during the 30 days because of attack on the United States.

Kidney Disease Causes 3rd Death Of Texas Family

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — For the third time, the H. V. Holt family of Austin has lost a child because of a rare, hereditary kidney disease.

Paula Holt, 18, a pretty blonde, died in San Francisco Wednesday, a month after receiving a kidney from the body of a 24-year-old man.

She had depended for two years on a kidney machine, and the transplant was intended to give her a normal life.

Officials at the University of California Medical Center Hospital said Paula died at approximately 4 a.m. Wednesday from "viral-like flu."

"The cause of death was not failure of the kidney," they said.

Paula's brother, Gary, 21, received a kidney from his mother in a transplant operation at the same hospital in October.

Two other Holt children have died of the kidney ailment, acute familial nephritis.

News stories of the Holt family's financial difficulties in providing artificial kidney treatments for Gary and Paula brought more than $100,000 in donations.

These included $30,000 from servicemen in Vietnam.

Paul's survivors include her parents, four sisters and two brothers, including Gary, who lives in the San Francisco area.

Hospital officials said last week that Paula was in "fair to good condition," recovering from additional operations to remove her appendix and a blood clot in the muscle of her stomach. She also suffered late last month from a partially collapsed lung.

County Judge Declares Boy Delinquent

Gray County Judge Don Cain, sitting as juvenile magistrate, yesterday declared a 15-year-old Pampa youth delinquent and committed him to the state training school for boys at Gatesville.

The delinquency petition filed against the boy carried the charge of carrying a prohibitive weapon.

The youth's name had appeared in four police incident reports in one recent week including a disturbance at a downtown Pampa store.

Price To Serve As Speaker For School Model Congress

U.S. Congressman Bob Price will serve as Speaker of the House for the Pampa High School Model Congress to be held in Pampa Saturday, April 22, according to general chairman, John W. Warner, The Pampa Jaycees, Pampa Jaycee-ettes and Social Studies Department of the high school are conducting the project.

Students from 26 area high schools have been invited to attend the congress. The morning session will feature committee meetings to work out wording for the bills the students will consider. A Jaycee will serve as parliamentary for each committee. In the afternoon seniors will go to the cafeteria and will sit at the Senate while students of all classifications will act as members of the House of Representatives in the auditorium.

Howard Graham is coordinating the project at the high school. He is being assisted by a student committee consisting of Kathy Gallman, Nancy Dings and Carolyn Hom. Mrs. Carol Stanley is serving as chairman for the Pampa Jaycee-ettes.

"I am looking forward to participating in Model Congress," Price said. He was first elected to the House of Representatives in November 1966, and has been re-elected every term since then. Price served four years active duty in the U. S. Air Force and was awarded the Air Medal for outstanding service in the Korean War. Congressman Price owns and operates ranches in the Texas Panhandle and Kansas. He serves on the House Agriculture Committee and the House Science and Astronautics Committee.

Daylight Saving Time To Be Issue In Texas Election

AUSTIN (AP) — The Legislature wanted Texans to express their sentiments on daylight saving time on the May 6 ballot, but the earliest they can speak out now will be in the November general election.

District Judge Herman Jones refused Wednesday to order the State Democratic Executive Committee to put a nonbinding referendum on the issue on the primary ballot next month.

That ends the matter for now, said Robert Hughes, Austin lawyer representing the plaintiffs in the suit. The ballots for the primary already would be printed before an appeals court could rule on it, he said.

Hughes said the legislature could pass a law in its special session this summer placing the referendum on the November ballot.

Joe Bob Golden, member of the SDEC, Rep. John Poerner of Hondo, longtime foe of DST, and representatives from restaurant, bowling and theater associations were plaintiffs in the suit.

Judge Jones said it was true that a Senate concurrent resolution ordered the Democrats and the Republicans to put the referendum on the primary ballots, but a referendum is not a law.

"I have to hold we do not legislate by resolution, we legislate by bill," Jones said in denying a writ of mandamus. He also held that the plaintiffs failed to show they had a right to seek the writ.

Hughes argued that the resolution in effect became a law because there is no constitutional provision or law prohibiting what the resolution orders.

He said the resolution "is the voice of the will of the people of Texas, who are paying the cost of this election."

Roy Orr, state Democratic chairman, and the SDEC were named as defendants in the suit.

Texas, and most of the rest of the country, goes on daylight saving time at 2 a.m. on the last Sunday of every April, and returns to standard time at 2 a.m. on the last Sunday of every October.

Lobbyist Admits She Wrote Memo On Antitrust Suit

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Dita D. Beard told Rep. Bob Wilson she wrote a memo linking financing of the Republican National Convention with settlement of an antitrust suit against ITT, the Baltimore Sun quotes the California congressman as saying.

The Sun, in its Thursday editions, also said that Wilson, a Republican who was instrumental in getting the convention for his home city of San Diego, stated that William R. Merriam, Mrs. Beard's boss in the Washington office of International Telephone & Telegraph Corp., admitted receiving the memo from the veteran lobbyist.

Mrs. Beard testified March 26 under oath before a special Senate subcommittee hearing in her hospital room in Denver, Colo., where she is being treated for a heart condition, that she did not write the memo.

Merriam has signed a sworn affidavit that he had never seen the controversial document, made public last month by syndicated columnist Jack Anderson, who attributed it to Mrs. Beard.

Wilson was not immediately available for comment.

In an interview March 3, the Sun said, Wilson told Robert Cox, whom it identified as a reporter for the San Diego Union, that "Merriam personally told me last Monday that he got the memo."

Wilson's remarks were contained in a 45-minute taped-recorded interview conducted March 3 in the congressman's San Diego office, the Sun said. The paper said they have not been previously published.

The paper also said that contents of the interview were placed at the disposal of Senate investigators.

Election Reform Takes Effect Friday But Still Has Loophole

WASHINGTON (AP) — A broad new election law will take effect Friday, peeling away some of the secrecy that has cloaked campaign contributors and setting limits on how much candidates can spend for television and other advertising.

While the law is the first major election reform in half a century, its disclosure provision has a loophole that has left the way clear for millions of dollars to pour anonymously into the campaign treasuries of presidential candidates, senators and congressmen.

Shortly before the New Hampshire primary, Sen. George S. McGovern made public a list of contributors to his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, and challenged his rivals to do the same. Sens. Edmund S. Muskie and Hubert H. Humphrey and Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York followed suit. Sen. Henry Jackson has said he will not name his financial backers. Gov. George Wallace of Alabama has said he will, but he hasn't.

The new law does not cover campaign contributions made prior to its effective date, April 7. There have been published reports that Republican fund raisers, headed by former Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans, have been contacting party contributors and pointing out that they can remain anonymous by giving now.

Such contributions, to any presidential candidate, can be made through dozens of dummy Washington committees which, through a loophole in the expiring Corrupt Practices Act, do not have to file public accounts.

"We're aware that candidates across the country are using this," said Russell Hemenway, director of the National Committee for an Effective Congress which played a key role in writing the new law. "There is not much we can do about it."

John Gardner, chairman of the self-styled Citizens Lobby which has announced plans for monitoring compliance with the law, said "there is some evidence that before the new law takes effect, the President will have collected the biggest war chest of political contributions in the history of the country."

Nixon aides have said the President plans to comply fully with the law, but would make no disclosures of pre-April 7 contributions.

Names of the pre-April 7 contributors to political campaigns may never be known, but the public will get an indication on June 10 of how much was collected for presidential candidates, and for Senate and House candidates.

That's when the first quarterly report will be required of all political committees that have raised or spent more than $1,000 for any campaign. The reports will include all contributions of more than $100 and must show balances on hand as of April 7.

Prior to the June 10 filing, all committees will be required to register and candidates in primaries will be filing detailed contribution-spending reports 15 and 5 days before each election.

The new law is far tougher than the Corrupt Practices Act, but it has a loophole or two of its own, particularly in the enforcement provisions.

For example, candidates for the U.S. Senate will file their reports with the secretary of the Senate; congressmen with the clerk of the House, and presidential candidates with the General Accounting Office, an arm of Congress.

These three offices are charged with investigating any complaints, then referring cases they believe to be valid to the Justice Department for prosecution.

"The built-in conflict of interest in having Congress monitor its own activities is clear," Gardner said. "So is the fundamental inconsistency of assigning an employe to investigate and supervise his employer."

During the 47-year life of the Corrupt Practices Act, the attorney general never brought a case against a congressman, he said, and "there is no reason to believe that this will change much under the new act."

Capt. Larry Jones of the Dallas Fire Department said it was not determined at once what caused the 30,000 to 40,000 pounds of potassium bromate to explode. The chemical is used widely in the baking industry.

One witness said: "It hurled steel beams and bricks into the air and I saw bodies flying into the air, too."

There were 27 persons working in the building when the chemical exploded in a thunderous roar on Dallas' near northwest side in what is known as the Trinity Industrial District.

"The next thing I knew I was near a door and stuff was falling all around me," one employe said. "I crawled out through the falling debris to safety. I felt sparks hitting my body."

Hospital attendants said five persons suffered compound fractures and skull fractures and one was burned.

Fire roared through the demolished building while firemen braved possible new explosions to remove drums of other volatile chemicals.

Some 90 firemen using 19 pieces of fire equipment arrived at the blaze, which had been declared a four alarm fire.

Witnesses said metal bits and glass were thrown 300 feet from the building by the explosions.

A number of businesses adjacent to the plant received damage.

Eight Persons Die As Blasts Wreck Dallas Chemical Plant

DALLAS (AP) — Eight persons were killed Wednesday when tons of a volatile chemical exploded in a chemical plant, hurling steel girders, concrete and brick through the one-story building.

Firemen searched into the night in the rubble for bodies of the victims. The last of the dead was found seven hours after the first explosion.

U.S. Casualties In S. Viet Rise To 6-month High

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command reported today that 10 Americans were killed in combat in Indochina last week, the highest toll in six months.

Another 15 were listed as missing or captured as a result of air crashes last week.

The number of Americans reported wounded also increased, from 13 week before last to 33 during the period March 19-25, the command said in its weekly casualty summary.

Fifteen of the wounded were injured in operations over Laos.

Four other Americans died from nonhostile causes.

Until last week, the number of American combat deaths averaged 3.3 a week for the year. The command said it could not account for this increase, but it might have been the result of delayed reports. The total of combat deaths was the highest since Oct. 2, when 21 Americans were reported killed.

South Vietnamese casualties last week totaled 466 killed, 1,073 wounded and 75 missing in action, the Saigon government reported. The previous average for the year had been 300 killed, and the higher figures reflected stepped-up fighting in the northern provinces before the Communist offensive that began last Thursday.

The Saigon command also claimed that 2,150 enemy troops, were killed during the week and 90 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were captured.

Gov. Smith Addresses County Judges Meeting

Judge Don Cain is representing Gray County at the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association two-day meeting at Amarillo.

A shuffle was made in today's program so that Gov. Preston Smith could speak immediately after the conference convened this morning. The chief executive had another speaking date at Arlington this afternoon.

The conference opened yesterday afternoon at the Villa Inn on I-40 with registration of the first of some 500 delegates and their guests expected for the three-day meeting.

McGovern Claims He Is In First Place In Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One day after the vote, Sen. George McGovern said he is in first place for the Democratic presidential nomination. Sen. Hubert Humphrey stated that the vote wasn't all that good a test, and Sen. Edmund Muskie said his financial angles still have faith in his shaken campaign.

South Dakota's McGovern swept the Democratic primary in the Dairy State, grabbing 30 per cent of the vote in an election that allowed voters to cross party lines.

City Installs New Disaster Alert Signals

Three new disaster alert signals were being installed today by city and Southwestern Public Service Co. employees.

The new alarms will bring Pampa's total of disaster warning sirens to six.

Installations were being made today near the intersections of Ripley and S. Sumner, Boyd and Wells, and N. Christy and Dwight streets.

City Manager Mack Wofford said two more sirens will be added to the city-wide system next year.

Tests of the three new alert signals are expected to be made within the next day or so.

"With the six alarms in operation," Wofford said, "Pampans should have adequate warning in case of approaching disaster."

Alabama Gov. George Wallace finished second with 22 per cent, a shade ahead of Minnesota's Humphrey, with 21. Muskie of Maine, followed with 10 per cent.

Next was Sen. Henry Jackson of Oregon with 8 per cent and New York Mayor John Lindsay, who had 7 per cent and who announced his withdrawal from the race.

Former Minnesota Sen. Eugene McCarthy and New York Rep. Shirley Chisholm, polled 1 per cent each, and the remaining candidates drew zero per cent each.

"It's 50-50 that we'll go all the way and win enough delegates by the time we get to Miami Beach," said McGovern, who gained 54 committed delegates for a total of 94.5, just one behind front-runner Muskie's total of 95.5. Muskie failed to win any new delegates in the Wisconsin tabulation.

McGovern then flew to Los Angeles to attend dinners aimed at financing his next two major efforts—the Massachusetts and Pennsylvania primaries, both on April 25.

Humphrey, who gained 13 committed delegates in the primary, bringing his total to 20, belittled the importance of the Wisconsin poll.

"A 50 per cent Republican cross-over louses it up and everybody knows it," Humphrey said. "... you really don't know who the Democratic voters want their nominee to be."

Humphrey flew to Indianapolis, where he appointed former candidate Sen. Vance Hartke a co-chairman of his campaign, and then flew to Cleveland to kick off his drive for the May 2 Ohio primary. He later left for Pittsburgh to start campaigning for the Pennsylvania primary in three weeks.

Wallace told a shouting, banner-waving crowd that gathered in Montgomery, Ala., to welcome him home that he will enter the convention with at least 250 delegates in his column. Despite his second-place showing in the popular vote in Wisconsin, the governor gained no delegate support, leaving his total at 75.

The Wisconsin results, he said, will make the "national party leadership warmer to my candidacy. I'm going to insist that I be treated with the proper respect because I speak for the masses of the people."

Muskie flew to Chicago, where he huddled with 60 of his top financial contributors, and emerged from a two-hour meeting with the announcement that they had given him a vote of confidence.

Muskie also said he planned all-out efforts in the Massachusetts and Pennsylvania primaries.

Back in New York after pulling out of the race, Lindsay pledged to "keep my voice heard" in the battle to beat President Nixon in November.

The current tabulation:

Dallas Police Issue Warning Against 'Senseless Assaults'

DALLAS (AP) — The shootings of three city policemen in less than three weeks have prompted Police Chief Frank Dyson to issue a public warning that "senseless assaults on police officers will not be tolerated."

Wednesday's violence, which resulted in the death of Roland Johnson, 47, ended when the alleged assailant accidentally shot himself, police said.

Johnson's wife, Willie, 50, was wounded along with Akins and James E. Lacy, 29, who police said burst into a home where his wife was hiding after a domestic argument and began firing a weapon, killing Johnson and wounding Mrs. Johnson.

Authorities said Lacy later abducted Dallas contractor Harold Walker and forced him to drive to a bar.

Three Dallas policemen, including Akins, were in the bar investigating another matter when they noticed the hostage trying to escape from Lacy.

When Lacy was ordered to raise his hands, police said, he pulled a .38-caliber pistol from his pocket and shot Akins, then fled in a hail of gunfire.

Police said Lacy was running through an alley when he ran into a tree, discharging his own gun into his chest.

All of the wounded were in serious condition.

Police said they located Walker later, unharmed but nervous and frightened.

Texan In Custody

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Freerport, Tex., man who triggered a bomb scare aboard a jetliner flying from New York to Houston has been taken into custody here.

Federal authorities charged Johnny Mac McDonald with furnishing false information concerning an alleged explosive device after the pilot of Delta Air Lines Flight 915 made an emergency landing Tuesday at Friendship International Airport.

Ex-Convict Arrested On Charge Of Plotting To Kill U. S. Judge

DALLAS (AP) — Authorities accused an ex-convict from Honolulu Wednesday of plotting to kill U.S. District Court Judge Ben Connally of Houston.

They lodged the charge against Ronald Frick, 24, after his arrest at the East Texas home of Joe Don Looney, 30, a former University of Oklahoma star.

The complaint alleged that Frick met Saturday with two undercover agents in Fort Worth and agreed with them to knock $5,000 off the sale price of some cocaine in return for killing of the judge.

At the same time Looney was charged with violating the Federal Firearms Act. Officers said they found a .45 caliber submachine gun in his house at Diana, near Longview, Tex.

Assistant U.S. Atty. Cecil Emerson said, "We have no evidence Looney had anything to do with the alleged contract to kill the judge, but agents seized narcotics and syringes in the house at Diana where Looney and Frick were arrested."

In the complaint, the agents of the U.S. Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs said Frick told them he had thought about committing the murder himself but decided "he would be safer hiring it done."

The agents quoted Frick as telling them that Connally is due to sentence Frick's common law wife, Catherine Linda Martinez, 29, and Charles Richard Everett, 29, of Fort Worth in a cocaine smuggling case. Both presently are in custody at Houston.

Describing Connally as "a hanging judge," Frick was quoted as saying he hoped whoever succeeded the Houston jurist would impose less severe sentences for the two.

C-C Officer To Preside At Fort Worth Meet

E. O. "Red" Wedgeworth, executive vice president and manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce will preside at the annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce Leaders Workshop, April 12, in Fort Worth at the Green Oaks Inn.

The event is sponsored each year by the Community Development Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Wedgeworth is chairman of the committee. Executives and leaders from 162 chambers of commerce are expected to attend the 1972 Workshop.

Following the address of welcome by A. L. Scott of Fort Worth, President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, three "How To" sessions will be held for (1) presidents and executives; (2) board members; and (3) committee chairmen and members.

Moderators for these sessions include chamber of commerce executives from Odessa, Denton and San Angelo.

The afternoon program will be divided into five group discussions on problems confronting many chambers of commerce at the present time. The five discussion areas will be: (1) Retail Trade Stimulation; (2) Membership Retention and Recruiting; (3) Downtown Improvement; (4) Area Economic Development; and (5) Establishing Priorities. These sessions will be limited to 45 minutes each, and those in attendance may select three of their choosing.

Discussion leaders will include chamber of commerce executives from Abilene, Wichita Falls, Midland, Amarillo and Lubbock.

Mack Wofford Addresses Council

City Manager Mack Wofford addressed the Council of Clubs at its regular monthly meeting this forenoon in the City Club Room at City Hall.

The city manager spoke on the M.K. Brown Memorial Auditorium which will be dedicated and opened to the public April 23.

Wofford told the women's group details of the auditorium building, the dedication program and how the city-owned structure will operate as a community civic center.

Amarillo Smelting Plant Undergoing TACB Tests

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Testing of an Amarillo smelter's impact on the ecology may become the prototype for testing other Texas industries, the Texas Air Control Board director says.

The tests, at the American Smelting and Refining Co. plant may become the most extensive ever conducted in Texas, said Charles Barden, executive director of the TACB. He said his staff has met with city and plant officials to explain the procedure.

Barden, calling the tests and studies a "total environmental assessment," said, "This is something we hope to do with every industry where there is any question about the toxic emissions from a plant."

Tests and studies will range from the toxic effects of emissions of the zinc smelter on human, animal, and plant life to the economic impact on the city should the plant be closed down.

The tests were ordered by the TACB following a meeting in Austin March 17 and are to be completed by August.

Barden emphasized that the TACB staff will not be in Amarillo to collect evidence to close the plant.

"We are here to gather sufficient information so that we can make an intelligent decision," he said. "We're up here for the people, the health department, and the plant in this study."

Studies also are being conducted by various governmental agencies in El Paso, where the company is facing a $1.5 million suit by that city, which claims high levels of lead have been found in children living near a company smelter there.

The El Paso studies were termed "hurry-up tests" by Barden.

"We are not going to piece-meal the testing in Amarillo," he said. "We are going to make extensive tests so we know what the problems are, if any."

The studies will cover air, water, soils, vegetation, economics and any other aspect of the community which might be affected, he said.

The primary aim of the studies is to find heavy metals such as zinc, lead and cadmium.

To the staff's knowledge the only other study of this scope was conducted by the federal Environmental Protection Agency of the Helena, Mont., region.

"We feel we can do a better job than the federal people can," Barden said. "If we don't, they're going to."

The staff emphasized that the Amarillo smelter and the one at El Paso, although owned by the same company, are two different operations.

"The one in El Paso processes for lead and the one here for zinc," one staff member said.

Obituaries

MRS. MAMIE TEAGUE
 Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in Carmichael-Whately Colonial Chapel for Mrs. Mamie Teague, 62, 729 E. Denver, who died Tuesday in Northwest Texas Hospital, Amarillo.

Rev. Earl Maddux of the Fellowship Baptist Church will officiate, and burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Born March 23, 1910, in Wheeler County, she had lived in Pampa 47 years.

Survivors include her husband, J.C. Teague; two sons; five daughters, including Mrs. Beulah Swingle of Pampa; two brothers, including Carrol Dirickson of Pampa; two sisters, including Mrs. Thelma Law of Pampa; 28 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

MRS. BERTHA ELLER
 Funeral services are slated for 10:30 a.m. Friday in Carmichael-Whately Colonial Chapel for Mrs. Bertha Mae (Wigham) Eller, 63, 1705 Dogwood, who died at 1:25 p.m. Wednesday in Highland General Hospital.

Jack Pape, minister of the Harvester-Mary Ellen Church of Christ, will officiate, and burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Born Feb. 6, 1909, at Wichita Falls, she moved to Carson County with her family in 1920. She lived in White Deer from 1931 until 1959, when she moved to Pampa. She was a member of the Harvester-Mary Ellen Church of Christ. She was preceded in death in 1960 by her husband, W.G. Eller.

She is survived by three sons, George Eller of Panhandle, Ray Eller of Canyon and Roy Eller of Arlington; two brothers, Reed Wigham of San Diego, Calif., and Jack Wigham of Amarillo; five sisters, Mrs. Pearl Speegle of Borger, Mrs. Jewel Sikes of Clarendon, Mrs. Ruby Harmon of Panhandle, Mrs. Johnie Metcalf of Panhandle and Mrs. George Bell McFarland of Austin; and eight grandchildren.

RIDGE RUSSELL
 Funeral services will be held at 4 p.m. Friday in Carmichael-Whately Colonial Chapel for Ridge Russell, 71, who lived 12 miles northeast of Pampa. He was dead on arrival at Worley Hospital at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

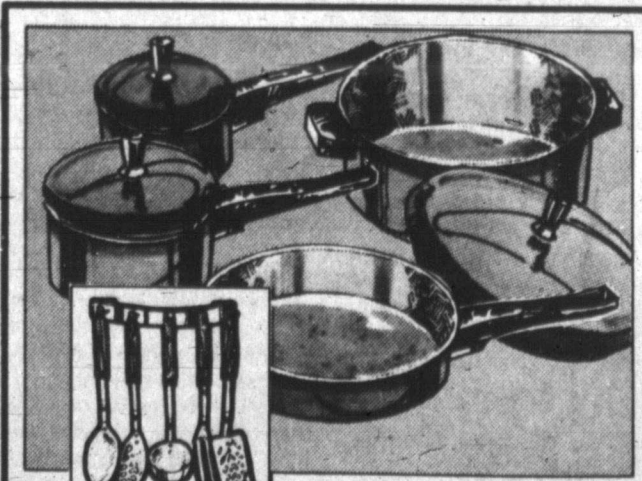

Jack Pape, minister of the Harvester-Mary Ellen Church of Christ, will officiate, and burial will be in the Miami Cemetery.

Born Nov. 30, 1900, at Southwest City, Okla., he moved to Miami in 1918, moving to the farm site in 1927. A veteran of World War I, he was a member of the Harvester-Mary Ellen Church of Christ.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. J.N. Bartee of Dallas, Mrs. Linda Bowers of Cortez, Colo., and Mrs. M.J. Allison of Stroud, Okla.; two sons, Bill Russell of Durango, Colo., and Mark Russell of Skellytown; two sisters, Mrs. Mae Jones and Mrs. Mattie Crowson, both of Pampa; two brothers, B.F. Russell of Borger and C.E. Russell of Buffalo, Okla.; and eight grandchildren.

I want to thank each person who so beautifully supported my candidacy for School Board Trustee. May we all rededicate ourselves to children and young people.

I quote the following, "(Our interest) begins with the children, and gives them a very special kind of education. This education teaches children to marvel at what is sorrowful, suffer at what is ugly and cruel, admire what is heroic, adore what is glorious."

Intense Pressure Of Business Affects Astronauts' Marriage

Pressure on the astronaut starts in training when there's a rugged competition to excel. There are only a limited number of chances to fly and a man earns his ticket into space by doing better than the next guy.

"You work terribly hard and try to impress someone," says one official of the astronaut competition. "They all have a fierce, driving desire to appear promising."

Much of the training is done far from the Manned Spacecraft Center, home of the astronauts. Wives of the spacemen quickly learn they have to get along without their husbands.

"That's the part I hate most," said one wife. "Especially when the lawn needs mowing or there's trouble with the plumbing."

"I don't like him being gone," says Mrs. James B. Irwin of her husband, the Apollo 15 lunar module pilot. "I didn't marry to be left alone. Neither does anybody."

For the more successful astronauts, such as David Scott or John Young, the intensive training has been almost constant since 1963.

Scott and Young have been on prime or back-up flight crews since that time with only the briefest of breaks.

"On the average, they are away from their families three out of every four weeks and, as mission time approaches, they are gone continuously."

Mrs. Scott remembers what she called "a golden time" during those years when her husband was home constantly for almost two months.

After months of training, the pressure builds up rapidly as the astronaut approaches a mission. At this point, the prime mission crew and their wives step onto the stage of public attention.

Many of the astronauts, including Aldrin, called the fame attached to the space business "the worst part of it all."

One space official noted that most of the astronauts are highly technical men with little experience in the publicity game.

"Many of them just weren't cut out to be celebrities," he said.

And the same applies to the wives.

"The fame and the attention is foreign to the average astronaut wife, just as it would be to the average housewife," said the official.

This is a facet of the business that bothered Aldrin, the second on the moon.

"Your life is not the same," he says wistfully. "You're not as free to do what you would like to do because others are watching."

Aldrin was superb as a pilot, astronaut and military officer. But it was the demands of fame and public appearances that sent him into therapy.

"I don't think any of us really knew how to handle it," said Aldrin of the astronauts' publicity. "The day I was to address Congress I was petrified. Landing on the moon was child's play compared to it."

The strain built up, he said, until "I virtually ceased to function for brief periods of time and I couldn't get organized."

He sought psychiatric help and has since retired from the Air Force.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bob Maurice, producer of the Academy Award winning documentary "Woodstock," says he has filed a $5 million breach of contract suit against his partner, Michael Wadleigh.

Maurice said Monday that Wadleigh had agreed to write a script and direct a film biography of George Washington, to be produced for Wadleigh-Maurice Productions by Maurice.

The producer said he filed the suit March 21 in Superior Court, charging that Wadleigh had failed to deliver the script on the agreed date. Instead, Maurice claimed, Wadleigh is attempting to divert the project to himself.

Wadleigh could not be reached for comment.

In 1804, American servicemen burned the U.S. Navy frigate Philadelphia in the Tripoli harbor. It had been captured by pirates.

Persons Making Over $1,680 Are Required To File Report

Persons who got one or more monthly social security checks in 1971 and who earned over $1,680 in 1971 must file an annual report of their earnings with social security by April 17, according to Howard Weatherly, social security branch manager in Pampa.

The annual report shows how much a social security beneficiary earned last year in wages and self-employment income, and what, if any, he expects to earn this year. The key word is "earn." Income from interest, dividends, other retirement plans, rent, or sale of real or personal property (unless received by a real estate dealer), should not be included in the report of earnings, according to Weatherly.

The annual report is used to determine if a beneficiary was paid the correct amount of payments last year. It's also used to adjust his monthly payments for this year according to his estimated earnings, Weatherly said.

Agency Official Pleased At Supermarket Prices

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The chairman of the federal Price Commission came here to do some comparison supermarket shopping and found himself more pleased than other shoppers he talked with.

"That's amazing," C. Jackson Grayson Jr. said Tuesday after finding 17 items selling for less than before the price freeze Aug. 15, three selling for more and seven at the same price.

Grayson wheeled a shopping cart through a supermarket west of downtown Los Angeles, which he said was chosen because it has customers of differing incomes.

At the meat counter a gray-haired woman stopped him and said that "most people on Social Security can't afford to eat."

Eugene Morgan, 72, told Grayson: "Meat is sky high."

ITT Allowed To Purchase Subsidiary

NEW YORK (AP) — Shortly before settlement of three anti-trust suits against International Telephone & Telegraph Corp., the Justice Department allowed ITT to buy a major subsidiary from its ITT Levitt & Sons Inc. unit, the Wall Street Journal said today.

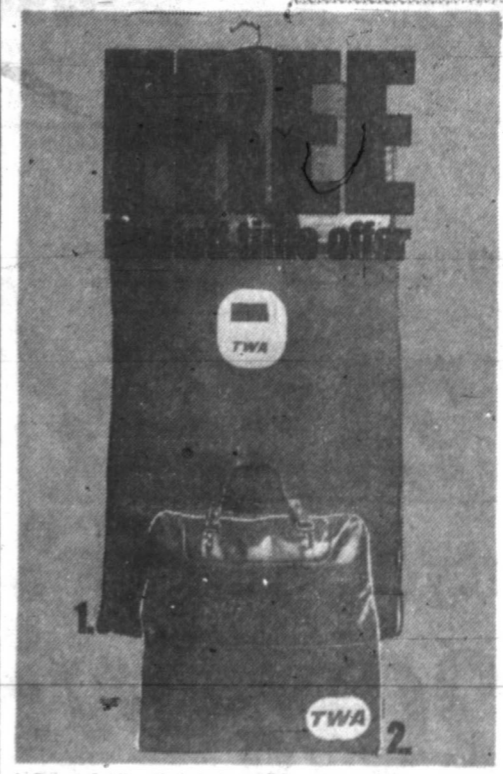

The out-of-court agreement is being investigated at Senate hearings because of allegations by columnist Jack Anderson that a contribution by an ITT subsidiary in connection with the Republican National Convention in San Diego may have played a role in bringing about a favorable settlement for ITT.

ITT was required by the settlement of the suits to divest itself of Levitt & Sons, a housing and development operation. But by the time of the settlement, ITT Levitt Development Corp. no longer belonged to Levitt & Sons.

The sale may have cut Levitt & Sons' earnings in half, the newspaper said, but it wasn't mentioned in any of the Justice Department agreements or in any of ITT's public filings or disclosures.

Both Levitt & Sons and ITT refused to comment on the transactions on advice of counsel.

Furr's Meat Prices are Down!

We have not waited on Govt. Prices talks to lower ours! Look what has happened... In Feb. grocery prices took the biggest jump in 14 years.—1.9% March 16—Meat Prices took a drop. March 20 prices were cut for Example! Round Steak then $1.09 was lowered to 98¢, Sirloin Steak then $1.09 was lowered to 98¢, Club Steak then $1.35 was lowered to $1.29, Rib Steak then $1.09 was lowered to 98¢. March 29—John Conally, Secretary of Treasury met with National Supermarket chain heads in Washington. March 30, some national chains cut meat prices. Since March 20, Furr's has sold top quality beef for as low as 98¢ lb. on steak cuts well under its local competition. It has not waited for the government to ask for lower prices. Furr's is proud to lead the way. It pledges a policy of dropping meat prices when the meat packers lowers its prices!

Communication Explained At Varietas Club Meeting

Mrs. Otis Nace presented the program for Varietas Study Club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. N. B. Ellis. Mrs. Aubrey Sprawls presided for the business session.

Mrs. Ellis, incoming president and club delegate, reported on the recent district convention, which six Varietas members attended. Additional reports were given by Mrs. Clyde Ellis, Mrs. Sprawls, and Mrs. J. E. Gibson.

Mrs. Sprawls presented the awards which the club won at the convention, including awards in the field of club ethics, outstanding club program, technical and vocational training and special needs, overall reporting on public affairs, international affairs, conservation, public education and student aid, and best complete reporting.

The afternoon's program topic was "Public Affairs." Mrs. Clyde Ellis introduced Mrs. Nace, who spoke on "Today's Vision - Involvement in Communication Media." Her talk was a review of the book, "The 26 Letters" by Oscar Ogg, in which she traced the history of our alphabet, which is the most widely used in the world today.

She began with primitive man's first attempts to communicate with his fellows by means of cave paintings, first of still life and later of moving life.

She said, "This picture writing covered a period of 20,000 years, after which man began to make his pictures tell a story which other men could understand."

Mrs. Nace told of the contributions of the Egyptians who left mostly pictures; the Phoenicians, who created a marking system for use in their international trade; the Greeks, who produced well-formed characters to give an improved system of lettering; and the Romans, who created an alphabet to record their military victories -- the alphabet which we use today, except that the Romans had no J, U, or W.

She said, "When Rome was conquered by invaders, the alphabet went underground and was preserved in the sheltered monasteries, from where it eventually spread to the world."

She told of the earliest hand printing in China, the first movable type by Gutenberg, and the evolution of the present-day printing presses.

She concluded by saying, "Our alphabet is not a geometric code, but is a form of art that is our priceless heritage. We should remember its history and treasure its value."

Present at the meeting were Miss Anna Pierce, and Meses. W. A. Bohot, W. H. Burden, F. A. Cary, Cecil Dalton, Clyde Ellis, N. B. Ellis, S. C. Evans, J. E. Gibson, Lee Harrah, J. E. Kirchner, Otis Nace, Aubrey Sprawls, Ralph Thomas and Sherman White.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

One of the outstanding features of an expert's dummy play is his ability to select the best line of play when several lines appear to offer equally favorable chances for success.

Here is a hand played many years ago by the late Helen Sobel Smith that illustrates this.

She put up dummy's jack of hearts as a starter. East was a very good player and would have played the 10 if Helen had played low. West might well have led away from the ace. East played the ace on the jack and led the suit back. Helen was in with the queen and promptly led the five of diamonds toward dummy.

West took his king and led the nine of hearts to Helen's king. Helen's next play was a club toward dummy. West ducked (his best play) and Helen went up with the king. Then she cashed dummy's queen of diamonds, returned to her hand with the ace and threw West in with his last heart.

West had three tricks in but could do no better than cash his ace of clubs and give up. He had been caught in an end play.

The final end play was automatic for someone like Helen, as was the failure to cash the last diamond. As for the early decision to attack diamonds, not clubs, this was just expert's clairvoyance.

Quotes Quotable

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"Someone was trying to put a fast period to my existence" — TT lobbyist Mrs. Dita Beard in claiming just before a heart seizure that a controversial memo from her was a forgery.

"Please help me, please help me. Oh, it hurts." — Mrs. Ethel Kennedy after suffering a fall skiing in New Hampshire, breaking her leg.

"Beautiful" — Angela Davis commenting on the acquittal of the two surviving Soledad Brothers on murder charges.

"I felt she monopolized my husband. She looked at him like a schoolgirl having a crush on her first boy-friend." — Mrs. Kathleen Jensen testifying at the court-martial of her Navy chaplain husband, Cmdr. Andrew Jensen, who was accused by two other women of having affairs with them.

"I have nothing against the military, but it's not for me." — Maryanna Brown, 21, who received a letter from a Marine Corps recruiter by mistake asking her if she were interested in signing up.

Dear Abby

Her problem is carried to extremes

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We have two fine sons, 13 and 16. The 13-year-old is very large for his age, and unfortunately, the 16-year-old is extremely small for his age.

When we introduce them to friends, some will ask, "Are they twins?" Others just assume that the smaller one is the younger one, and I know the older boy is hurt and embarrassed. When it's possible to do so, we tip off our friends in advance so they don't make that mistake when they meet the boys, but when we're not able to, I can see the hurt in the older boy's eyes.

Will you please print this in your column so thoughtless people will not make that mistake. You'd rate a big thanks from a lot of little fellows. Thank you. A MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: It's done. But don't be overprotective. You'll not be able to run interference for the smaller boy all his life. Little fellows often compensate by trying harder, and therefore make it big, in spite of their size.

DEAR ABBY: I am the wife of the ex-Marine whose old girl friend, "Semper Fidelis," wrote, asking you if she should try to get in touch with him after all these years. She said also she hadn't seen him since 1944, she still felt the same about him, and if he happened to be single (as she was), maybe they could pick up where they left off.

Please tell her she would be doing me a big favor if she would take this ex-Marine back. He hasn't changed much. He's lost a few teeth, a lot of hair, and most of his zip. But to make up for his losses, I'll throw in the 30 pounds he's gained, all his debts, and his mother. HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Don't be too hopeful.

DEAR ABBY: The best belly laugh I've had in years came from two of your letters. The first from "Practically Untouched in Tulsa" complaining that her husband had made love to her only five times since Jan. 1, 1970. (You advised her to see a lawyer.) The second letter, signed "Anonymous Attorney" said that you would have earned the undying gratitude of the nation's judges had you advised her to see a judge instead, as judges had fewer social contacts than lawyers.

Your readers might like to know that in St. Louis County we had a case where the woman did exactly that. The resulting criminal trial of the judge was widely reported in daily installments that nearly destroyed the ratings of the soap operas on television. Eventually the whole affair acquired a name, taken from the town where the trial was held—"Clayton Place."

Sincerely yours,
EUGENE AUSTIN, CHAIRMAN
MO. COUNCIL ON FAMILY LAW

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ENRAGED AT THE SELFISHNESS OF SMOKERS." You are not alone. But I've observed that the more one likes the smoker, the less the smoke bothers him.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

FRIDAY, APRIL 7

Your birthday today: Most of the year is taken up with experimental ventures and learning. Material progress is normal but not the major issue. Personal habits improve. Emotional experience is rich and complex. Today's natives are prone to glamorize ordinary circumstances, seek dramatic expression, sometimes write piquant memoirs.

Aries (March 21-April 19): Routine meets no opposition, but try something new and all sorts of fun develops. Suit your own taste.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) The greater part of the day seems devoted to a low build-up for an evening rush, perhaps some personal celebration.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Gentle and persistent tact thru the day brings results in the evening. Long-sought triumphs are at hand. Older people are helpful.

Cancer (June 21-July 22): Pleasure and its pursuit tend to crowd out much of today's planned activity, with no particular or irrecoverable loss involved.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): Yesterday's minor errors show up now and no ready correction is in sight. Do the best you can, knowing that all eventually comes out straight.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Continued efforts thrive, new starts falter. Stay with group efforts, avoiding rash adventures. Tall tales for the future are born today.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Your initiative releases tension so you can pick up again, perhaps further ahead than where you left off.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): An effort to see the other fellow's viewpoint leads him to see yours more clearly. Get together with old friends for a lively evening.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): It's an adventurous day within the broad borders of your present habits; circumstances may change for the better.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Yesterday's direction can be changed if you care to make a serious effort. A pleasant distraction becomes a main interest in later hours.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Energy builds as the day grows. Bring together obvious extremes, see them merge and come to balance.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): Clear away your backlog of work wherever you can. Domestic questions find answers. Take time to pray now.

Rare Breed To Compete In Dog Show

PERRYTON (Sp.) — Mrs. Mavis McAnally will have entries in the all-breeds dog show scheduled by the Panhandle Kennel Club of Texas, April 23.

The show will be at the fair park coliseum on the Tri-State Fairgrounds.

She will show Electra, an Ibizan hound and will also show a black-and-white Banenji named Chief. The Banenji is one of the first of this breed in the Panhandle.

There are only 400 Ibizan dogs in the United States and this will be the first of the breed in the Amarillo show.

Steals Day's Take PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A man went up to the cashier's window of a theatre just before closing time, poked a gun at her nose and demanded the day's receipts.

The film being shown was "The Hot Rock," a story involving the theft of a priceless diamond.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

The Alcohol Problem

To be sure we in the United States have serious problems with the abuse of many drugs, licit and illicit alike. It has become increasingly evident that one of the most serious of these problems is alcohol consumption.

cent of all robberies, and homicides relate to drunkenness, he says.

"Alcoholism is a severe problem in the Soviet Union," Connor says, and adds that in Soviet society "Alcohol appears as a virtually indispensable adjunct to many pleasant events and a refuge from painful ones."

According to a University of Michigan criminologist, alcohol also ranks as a severe problem in the Soviet Union. True, the Soviets aren't too free with their statistics in such areas, but after long research into the area, Prof. Walter Connor has produced some striking observations in his recent book, "Deviance in Soviet Society: Crime, Delinquency, and Alcoholism."

There are no taverns in Russia, so typically one might find a man standing outside a liquor store, looking for one or two others to share the price and contents of a bottle with him.

Criminologist Connor suspects that behind the Soviet government's denouncement of drunkenness, there is ambivalence. Why not, since the production of alcohol there is a lucrative state monopoly?

What's Life Worth?

It is impossible to place a dollar value on a human life. Sometimes, however, it is cold-bloodedly necessary when deciding for or against proposed safety standards, notes the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety.

estimate of the value of a life in an air crash as $275,000, based on "lost productive services and resources expended."

The Fromm study cautioned that the setting of specific values for human life "is difficult, controversial and necessarily arbitrary."

The most commonly cited dollar-value of a human life is that of the National Safety Council. Its figure of $45,000 is based on wage loss, medical expense, insurance administrative costs and property damage.

Certainly there will be no argument there.

In attempting to determine the cost-benefit ratio of proposed underrides for large trucks (special guards to prevent automobiles from running under the rear), the National Highway Traffic Administration reached a "more realistic" estimate of $200,000 per life.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Maple syrup is made from the sap of the sugar and black maple trees. The World Almanac notes that the sap is tapped in the early spring when it begins to rise. An average maple yields between 10 and 20 gallons of sap, but to produce a gallon of syrup about 40 gallons of sap must be boiled.

Another Safety Administration study on passive restraints in vehicles placed the dollar cost of a human fatality at $300,000, but noted that "this is the highest estimate known to be used in conventional cost-benefit analysis and may be challenged by some as being too high."

A 1960 report on aviation safety by Gary Fromm, published by Duke University, made a "conservative"

"You See Any Interference in That Picture?"

Paul Harvey Are TV 'Soap Operas' Providing Bad Trips?

By PAUL HARVEY Most of TV's critics, professional and amateur, are most anxious about sex, crime and violence.

But here is a school of psychologists suggesting that one of the more worrisome effects of TV is not the overstimulation of children but the depressant effect on grown women. This refers to the daytime "Soap-opera" schedule.

I'm going to stay out of this. I oppose superimposed censorship. But the theory is worth considering that housewives at the tube are subjecting themselves to a "bad trip."

Mrs. Phyllis Albrecht, 29, with two children, weathered in, in Salt Lake City, found herself taking daily doses of daytime TV.

The observations and conclusions I am about to relate are hers.

"I watched The Doctors. Another World. One Life to Live."

Quick Quiz

- Q-In the Olympic parade, what is the order of procession in which nations pass in review?
A-By tradition, the Greeks, heirs of the athletes who competed in the first games more than 2,000 years ago, lead the parade.
Q-How does the New Testament of the Bible compare in length with the Old Testament?
A-The New Testament consists of 27 books, and is about one-third as long as the Old Testament.

Live, and Love is a Many Splendored Thing-regularly, I could not count one happy ending in any show any time.

I tried others: same formula: amnesia, divorce, rape, incest, bastardy, depression.

"With all that a housewife has to cope," says Mrs. Albrecht, "if there is anything we don't need it is induced depression."

"You live daily with a lurid diet of everybody cheating on everybody and inevitably cheating becomes the norm, the usual, the expectable."

"We quickly become like the company we keep and housewives are keeping company every afternoon with lecherous husbands, narcissistic daughters and anguished everybodies."

"Heaven knows there are lots of seamy situations in suburbia but," says Mrs. Albrecht, "need we wallow in it?"

And though a cause-and-effect relationship is not establishable, Mrs. Albrecht is convinced that drugs, booze, divorce and suicide rates are compounded by the many fractured marriages and clandestine romances and dark trysts on daytime TV.

In Young Widder Brown, Anthony was tricked into marriage by Millicent so that he and the Young Widder could spend the rest of their lives getting together again.

To "merchandise misery is to spread it," says Mrs. Albrecht, remembering that during one pre-Christmas week crashed an airplane with much resultant anguish.

Well, I don't know. I don't watch Angel and I go to movies only after our son has censored them to make sure they're all right for adults.

Mostly because a newsman deals with more than enough "reality" I prefer that any diversion be "cheerful" diversion.

So, as I say, I don't know. But Chicago psychologist, Stan Dale, who has watched TV from both sides of the lens, suspects that the daytime "soaps" vicariously feed an infantile appetite for self-indulgence and self-punishment and we're going to have to live with them, however unhappily.

STRAIGHT TALK

TOM ANDERSON

Politics being what it is - a filthy, unprincipled business, consider for a moment this possibility: A Democratic Presidential ticket of Humphrey and Wallace.

Such a ticket would sweep the South; would take millions of conservative votes from Nixon; and would not lose many Negroes because they have no better place to go.

To think of Wallace mated with Humphrey is as horrible as to think of your daughter married to Clifford Irving.

If George Wallace had thus become Vice President, I'd hate to be President Humphrey's food-taster.

C.B.S. Is King We all make mistakes. As much as I admire J. Edgar Hoover, I realize that when he makes mistakes, like when he called Martin Luther King "the biggest liar in the country," King was not the biggest liar in the country - C.B.S. was, and is.

Victory Comes From Both Outside and Inside What most Americans want, deep down, is not a withdrawal or surrender in Vietnam, but victory.

Most Americans want in Vietnam an Appomattox, a Gettysburg, a Rheims, and unconditional surrender by the enemy. This, until Korea, was what Americans were used to. With the Communist conspiracy and underground warfare being what it is today, there can be no total victory anywhere.

Dear Dr. Lamb-Recently I had a CBC (complete blood count) because I had what seemed to be a cold and cough. The blood test showed 13 per cent eosinophils (I was told normal was 2 per cent). I am bothered with sniffles and sneezing almost every morning but several times a year it gets almost unbearable.

What could some of the possible causes be? I am getting tired of being checked and told I have a cold, as surely it should go away sometime.

Dear Reader-Your story suggests that you have an allergy, not a cold. There are different types of white blood cells. The group called eosinophils have a special color and are often more prevalent in people who have allergies. This, of course, could also account for your other symptoms.

You should see an allergist and have studies done to identify your allergies, and then treatment. Some people can be desensitized to whatever they are allergic to by the injection of very small diluted amounts of the same substance. The amount of the substance injected is gradually increased until the person's tolerance is increased.

Dear Dr. Lamb-About two years ago I injured my foot on the inside directly over the large joint. Within a short time a cone-shaped growth appeared under the skin and my surgeon removed it. He warned that I would have a sore foot and I did. It was extremely disabling and took six months to heal. The doctor identified the problem as a keloid, saying that there was a good chance that it would grow back. He asked if there was any Negro blood in my family as they seem to have a higher susceptibility to these growths. There is none.

Now, if I walk this irritates the skin. Recently it has been reddish and itching, especially at night. Could this mean it is healing inside or that further growth is taking place? It is impossible to find a shoe that will not press on it other than a toe thong sandal. Maybe I should move to the tropics and go barefoot. Will it give me trouble as I grow older? Any information will be appreciated.

Dear Reader-A keloid is a form of skin tumor that is related to overgrowth of scar tissue where the skin has been injured or cut. It is true that they occur more frequently in dark-skinned individuals and they are more apt to occur in individuals before the age of 35.

A person who forms keloids is apt to form a new keloid at the site where the old one is cut out. That is probably what your surgeon meant. Sometimes keloids can be cured by cutting them out and then applying radiation to the area. The radiation helps to prevent a recurrence of the scar tissue tumor.

America has done more to help Communist dictators succeed than have all the non-Communist nations of the world combined. The Export-Import Bank (that's mostly us) has quietly extended credit guarantees to cover the "sale" of U.S. goods and services to Communist Russia, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland and Rumania.

Next will be Red China. Aiding the enemy used to be treason. What is it now? Yugoslavia's tyrant, Tito, made the following statement in 1946: "The capitalist forces constitute our natural enemy despite the fact that they helped us to defeat their most dangerous representative. It may happen that we shall again decide to make use of their aid, but always with the sole aim of accelerating their final ruin. Our present policy should therefore be to follow a moderate line in order to gain time for the economic and industrial reconstruction of the Soviet Union and other states under our control. Then the moment will come when we can hurl ourselves into the battle for the final annihilation of reaction."

Our "Best Interests" At the request of "our" State Department, spy charges against a Russian translator for the United Nations were dropped recently. U.S. Attorney Stan Pitkin said the charges were dropped "in the best interest of the foreign policy of the United States government."

What is the foreign policy of the U.S. government? Obviously, it is to help the enemy.

The spy's attorney says that in his opinion the charges were dropped because "the government thought it sensible not to go to trial where it would be necessary to indicate what information Tikhomirov (the spy) was charged with wanting."

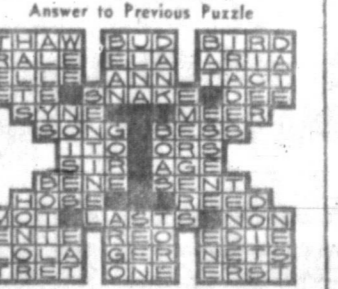

Of course, the Communists already know all our secrets, since they have their spies in all our key defense industries and in all levels of our government. So who are we keeping the secrets from? Only from the American people.

Would You Believe? More than one million dollars has already been spent on the Angela Davis trial. Even if the farmer would still sell for more than twenty cents a loaf. The real income of Congressmen is something like $100,000 a year, counting all their "extras" stolen from you while you weren't looking. A couple of years ago they voted themselves a salary increase from $30,000 to $42,500, while opposing increases for the rest of us as "inflationary." They get, either free or "wholesale," meals, haircuts, telephone service, mail service, trips, etc., etc. When you leave the honey jar open, you've got to expect ants.

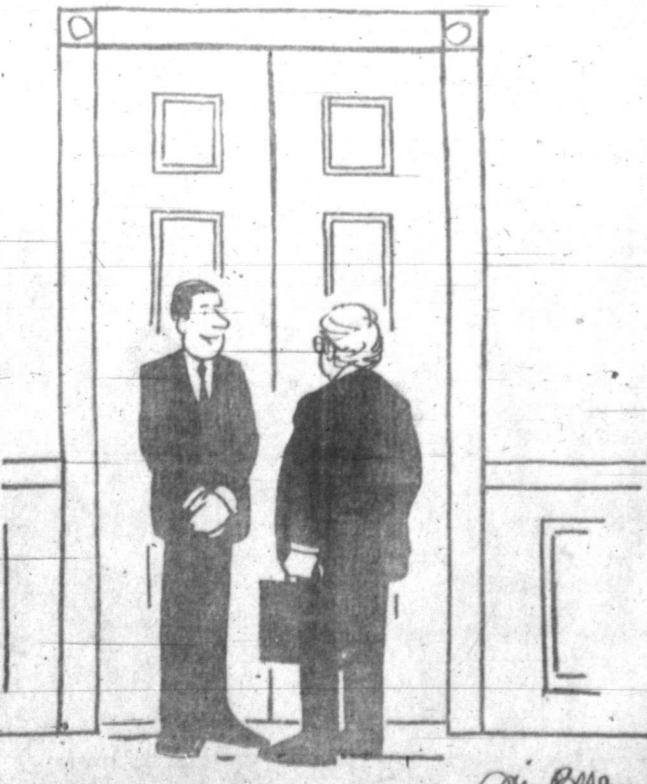

There are two worlds: the world that we can measure with line and rule, and the world that we feel with our hearts and imagination. -James Leigh Hunt English Poet

BERRY'S WORLD

"I'm sorry, senator, the President's time is very limited. If you have something to say to him, I suggest you tell it to some sports superstar and ask him to pass it on!"

EXPRESSIONS OF DETERMINATION are on faces of most of these Israeli soldiers as they stand inspection in the Sinai, where they mounted the biggest war games since the six-day war in 1967.

Mrs. Lewis Named To Head Texas Division '72 Crusade

Miss Harriet Henderson, Gray County Cancer Crusade Chairman, announces that Mrs. Jim Lewis of Kerrville is serving as the Texas Division 1972 Crusade Chairman for the American Cancer Society.

"Mrs. Lewis brings an enthusiastic determination to achieve the Texas $1,000,000 Crusade goal," Miss Henderson said.

Mrs. Lewis has been active in the Kerr County Unit of the ACS since 1964, and has served on many district and state committees. She has an impressive list of civic accomplishments, including the Outstanding Young Woman of American Award. Her broad interest include the Republican Party where she was recently elected as Vice President of the Texas Federation of Republican Women.

In accepting the state appointment, Mrs. Lewis said, "We are launching a four year attack on uterine cancer, aimed at getting all women over 20, and those under 20 at risk to have a Pap test. We want this year's women Crusaders who have not had a Pap test to do so before they visit their neighbors. Then," she said, "we want American Cancer Society Crusaders to go out and educate their neighbors."

Mrs. Lewis said the American Cancer Society is not a charity organization to which one gives and gets nothing in return, but a "people" organization which insures the donor that his contribution is an investment in his own health.

"We are dedicated to one urgent goal," she added. "That is the goal of complete control of cancer."

Senate Unit Liberalizes Payment Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee agreed 11-0 Wednesday to liberalize welfare payments for the aged, blind and disabled. The action would help remove four million of them from poverty.

The proposed new plan still would leave 2.4 million of these needy persons below the poverty line but would give them substantially increased benefits over what they now receive.

Under the new provision, all persons in the three categories would be guaranteed a cash payment of $130 a month paid by the federal government if they have no other income.

An aged person who also receives Social Security—and 60 per cent of those over 65 on welfare do—would get at least $180 a month.

For a couple in each case, the amount would be increased 50 per cent. Thus a couple on welfare with Social Security income would receive at least $270.

The $180 for an individual or $270 for a couple would move them above the poverty line.

The average cash payment for the elderly individual on welfare at present is $76.39 a month.

There now are about 3.1 million persons on the welfare rolls in the adult categories. The plan adopted by the committee would boost this to 7.4 million.

The removal of 4 million persons from poverty would be accomplished by a combination of three things, two of which have been adopted by the committee.

One, agreed to last week, would establish a $200-a-month minimum Social Security payment for persons who have paid Social Security taxes at least 30 years.

The second, adopted Wednesday, is the welfare liberalizations.

Church May Sue Navy On Behalf Of Chaplain

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The American Baptist Convention says it may sue the U.S. Navy for damages on behalf of Cmdr. Andrew Jensen, the chaplain who was acquitted last week in a court-martial on adultery charges.

"Until there is a satisfactory resolution of difficulties, we will supply no further chaplains to the Navy," the Rev. Dr. Paul O. Madsen said at a news conference Tuesday at the convention's headquarters in nearby Valley Forge. He is associate executive secretary of the American Baptist Home Mission Societies, which endorses chaplains for the armed forces.

Masters Championship Not All Its Made Out

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The life of a Masters champion is not all gold and glory—it can be disappointment and disillusionment. Charles Coody said today as he reflected on his 12 months as possessor of the coveted green jacket.

"It seems I've done nothing but try to prove that it wasn't an accident—a giant mistake," the tall, good-looking Texan said after finishing preparation for defense of his title over the Augusta National course, starting Thursday.

"I didn't expect everybody to jump on my bandwagon after I won. Neither did I expect them to say, 'How the Hell did this happen?'"

The green coat with the flagstick insignia on the pocket comes up for grabs again this week with 86 of the world's top players—72 professionals and 14 amateurs—competing over 72 holes Thursday through Sunday.

The windup of the final two rounds will be shown on national television by CBS.

Coody would like to become the second repeat winner in the 38-year history—Jack Nicklaus won in 1965-66—but, he isn't, he warns that the new champion should not expect too much.

"The report that the Masters can be worth a million dollars in extra money to the winner is greatly exaggerated," Coody said. "Maybe in the case of a Nicklaus, a Palmer or a Trevino. But in my case, no."

The 6-foot-2, 185-pound native of Abilene, Tex., owner of a spotty nine-year pro career, makes no attempt to hide the fact that he has never been fully recognized as a true champion.

"Maybe it's because my hair is cut short, my dress is drab or because I don't drink or smoke," he lamented while a steak sandwich grew cold in the Augusta locker room. "For some reason, I don't turn people on."

With the tee-off in the 36th Masters a day away, Coody continues to find himself a lonely, almost forgotten champion—overshadowed by the so-called glamour boys of the game.

Nicklaus, thinner, more golden in looks and riches, already winner of more than $100,000 this year, is the strong advance favorite at unofficial odds of 6-1.

Arnold Palmer, the charger, the pants-tugger, a four-time winner and still a potent force at age 42, is "back on his stick," as the boys say. Lee Trevino, the glib, good-looking Texan who was 1971 player of the year after sweeping the U.S., Canadian and British Open titles, has ended his two-year boycott of the Masters but not his outspoken flair for controversy.

Trinity Attempts NCAA Triumph

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — It began in 1968 with a sixth place finish. Now armed with a team of super stars, Trinity University is in sight of winning the NCAA tennis title.

"This is the year we've been building for," says All-American Bob McKinley, who helped defeat Southern California in a showdown that made Trinity the undisputed No. 1 team in the nation.

Veteran Coach Clarence Mabry says his squad has "a good 50-50 chance" of winning the 1972 NCAA championships at Athens, Ga., in June.

"We've proved we have the ability," Mabry said, referring to Trinity's recent 6-3 win over USC. "And we've been so close in the past."

After finishing sixth in the NCAA tournament in 1968, Trinity placed third in 1969, tied for second in 1970 and stood alone in second place last year.

This should be the year for Trinity, Mabry said. "We're not over-confident. We have a job to do and we're going about doing it."

Mabry says his top four players, who will be returning to the NCAA tournament "this year, are basically equal."

"They're capable of beating any player on any day I think you could say they're on the college level of 'super star' status."

Heading the squad will be Dick Stockton of Garden City, N.Y., ranked 14th by the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association, a senior who has been playing tennis since he was six.

"It's something we've been wanting for a long time," Stockton said of the NCAA title. "We finally beat USC, so maybe that's a good sign."

Although he's defeated some of the top players in the nation, Stockton suffered an upset defeat to USC All-American Marcelo Lara. "I never got going," said Stockton. "I ran out of time, and he was playing so well. It's the third time he's beaten me."

Joining Stockton will be All-Americans Brian Gottfried, McKinley and Paul Gerken, ranked 18th, 19th and 20th, respectively.

McKinley's brother, Chuck, won international fame for Trinity in 1963, taking the singles crown in the Wimbledon Classic and later teaming with Southern California's Dennis Ralston to win the Davis Cup.

McKinley, 21, of St. Ann, Mo., who says it was "kind of natural" to follow in his brother's footsteps, thinks Trinity has a good chance in the NCAA tournament. "But it's not going to be easy," he said.

Gottfried takes a cautious view of the tournament. "We're ranked No. 1 and that's enough incentive for the other teams to be really up for us. They've got nothing to lose."

Trinity will go into the NCAA matches with one purpose in mind, he said. "And there's no doubt in our mind what that purpose is."

Gottfried, 20, a sophomore from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., is seriously considering turning professional.

Then there are Bill Casper, Gary Player, the South African with the physical fitness fetish, Li Liang-Huan of Taiwan, who was runner-up in the British Open, and long-hitting Masashi Ozaki of Japan, the six-foot former baseball player making his masters debut, plus a host of young blond-haired tigers such as Larry Hinson and John Miller.

All are being given greater pre-tournament attention than Coody—to no surprise to the defending champion himself.

Already planning to try the pro route after the NCAA meet are McKinley, Stockton, Gerken, and another key player, Pancho Walthall, all seniors.

Mabry says Stockton probably could have won nearly $20,000 last year if he had gone professional. Stockton said he seriously considered it, but decided that "there's plenty of time when I get out of school. And besides, he said, "if possible, I wanted to bring the national championship to Trinity."

Gottfried and three other sophomores are the only underclassmen on the team, meaning a severe blow for Trinity when the four seniors leave this year.

"We'll be in great danger if we're unsuccessful in our recruiting," Stockton says. "But recruiting has always been one of Trinity's strong points—the players themselves literally select their teammates and successors."

"Our players analyze the junior players in the nation and the state and select the ones they would enjoy being with and who they think have good potential," Mabry said.

"It's all on a team effort basis," he added. "The team participates rather than my just saying, 'There's a good player down there and I'm going to recruit him.'"

The players admit next year will be much more difficult for Trinity. "Any time you lose four players, no matter how good they are, you're in trouble unless you recruit," McKinley said.

But Mabry doesn't seem to be that worried. In 16 seasons, he has produced 10 All-Americans and two Wimbledon champions—and he has never had a losing year.

Indiana's Mike Stamm defeated teammate Gary Hall in the men's 200-yard backstroke and bettered Hall's AAU championship record at the same time. Stamm finished in 1:51.03.

PAMPA, TEXAS 66th YEAR Thursday, Apr. 6, 1972

Measles Strikes Pampa Tracksters

Eight members of the Pampa Harvester track team had come down with three-day measles by late Wednesday, according to coach Ed Lehnick.

Included in the group are three members of the mile relay team, Larry Marlar, Bobby Owen and Terry Riddle.

Riddle was the first to be stricken by the illness and had progressed enough since the week-end to be able to work out by Wednesday.

Whether or not the "epidemic" will spread and what effect it will have on the teams' performance at the Amarillo relays this Friday and Saturday remains to be seen.

Pampa is scheduled to compete against Amarillo, El Paso Bel Air, El Paso Burgos, Hirschi, Iowa Park, El Paso Irvin, Midland Lee, Muleshoe, Palo Duro, Ysleta Parkland, Plainview, Tascosa, Ysleta High, Hereford and Wichita Falls. It will be the 23 Annual Amarillo Relays Meet.

Pampa teams are also scheduled to compete in golf and tennis action. to be held in conjunction with the Relays.

The Pampa track B-team travels to Borger this week-end to participate in the meet there.

Volleyball Ends Play

The last match of the volleyball season will be staged tonight in Harvester Fieldhouse as the female Harvester invite Amarillo High to Pampa.

The Harvester have already beaten the Sandies earlier in the year and are expected to do so again.

Pampa is ranked in the number one bracket along with the Caprock Longhorns and the Tascosa Rebels. All three teams have a 7-2 conference record.

If Pampa defeats Amarillo High, Tascosa beats Borger and Caprock defeats Palo Duro, the three way tie will remain in tact.

It is not yet determined whether the tie will be played off. It is, however, known that there will be no play to go further than district competition.

Mrs. Lynn Wolfe, volleyball mentor, is very proud of her first year team and is pleased that it has achieved first place in the new sport.

Volleyball has been played during physical education classes, but never in district competition before this year.

In fact, until this year, the farthest the p.e. volleyball girls went was to the junior highs of Pampa for competition.

Volleyball was made a district sport at the District 3-AAAA coaches meeting earlier this year.

The meeting was held in Pampa and at that time several proposals were made. Girls and boys volleyball were decided upon, and the girls competition will begin next spring. Other things discussed were girls basketball, track and a mixed swimming team.

The expense of these activities is above the district schools' present budgets, but further discussion in the future is expected.

Tonight's play begins at 6:30 with the B squad game and the A Teams clash at 8 p.m.

Littler Remains Hospitalized

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Golfer Gene Littler will remain hospitalized here until at least Friday while he recovers from a cancer operation, says a spokesman for Mercy Hospital.

Littler, 41, had surgery Tuesday to remove lymph gland-bearing tissue under his left arm. A malignant tumor was removed from under the arm two weeks ago.

The tissue is being analyzed to see if the cancer had spread, and a report will be made Friday, the spokesman said. He added that Littler will remain in the hospital until then.

The spokesman said Littler was in satisfactory condition. The golfer won the U.S. Open in 1961 and has earned more than $800,000 in an 18-year professional career that may have been ended by the surgery.

Major League Strike Continues Thursday

NEW YORK (AP) — The second day of the season arrived today with no baseball yet but a count of one strike and with rival pitchers Marvin Miller and John Gaherin warming up again in the bullpen.

The players' walkout, which began Saturday and caused an early end to spring training, forced postponement of Wednesday's scheduled opener in Cincinnati between the Reds and Houston Astros, along with the eight contests on today's slate and two games listed for Friday—Philadelphia at St. Louis and the Chicago Cubs at Montreal.

With bitter feelings continuing to spread forth from both sides and with Paul Richards, vice president of the Atlanta Braves, warning that there might not be any baseball "for a long, long time," the only encouraging sign was a meeting scheduled here today—time and site unknown—between Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, and Gaherin, representing the 24 club owners.

Richards said the owners aren't against the players but are "fed up" with Miller and "simply aren't going to let Marvin Miller run over them any more."

Miller's target, meanwhile, was Earl Weaver, manager of the Baltimore Orioles. Weaver had said that 21 of his 26 players had been willing to defy the walkout and open the season on schedule. He added that 16 of those 21 had been willing to play an exhibition game last Saturday, the day the strike started.

Miller met Wednesday with 18 members of the Orioles at Brooks Robinson's house in suburban Baltimore and accused Weaver of illegal attempts to break the walkout.

"There's a fine point in labor laws and he's gone way overboard," Miller said. "His attempts to break the strike have been as a representative of management—which have nothing to do with being a field manager."

Robinson disputed Weaver's version of the balloting. "Actually," he said, "the vote was 16-4 that we would be willing to play, but only if the owners would agree to accept figures of the actuaries on the amount of surplus already existing in the pension fund."

The latest move came Tuesday night when the owners met in Chicago and reaffirmed their rejection of an offer by the players that a surplus in the pension fund be used to meet their demand for a 17 per cent cost-of-living increase in retirement benefits.

The owners have offered to boost their yearly pension contributions of $5.4 million by $490,000—with all of the increase earmarked for health care.

White players from most teams practiced whenever and wherever they could, 16 members of the Chicago White Sox worked out in White Sox Park and the Pittsburgh Pirates announced that Three Rivers Stadium would be available today for any players who wanted to do the same.

3—Countering Cool Weather

mented that warm golf balls go farther than cold ones. It's a good idea to keep your golf balls where they'll stay warm.

My own little gimmick is to tuck a ball under the armpit of my sweater as I'm walking to a hole, then I switch balls on the following tee. It can make more difference than you might guess, even if you don't qualify for deodorant commercials on TV.

And if the ground is wet, don't take much of a divot with your iron shots. Use one more club than usual and try just to graze the turf.

On the green, your putts should be slower in cool, damp weather. Give the ball a firm rap.

McLean Tops Rodeo Circuit

DENVER, Colo. —Kenny McLean emerged the big winner at the recent Edmonton, Alberta, rodeo.

In placing fourth in the saddle bronc competition and second in steer wrestling, McLean, a Canadian, won $2,667.

Phil Lyne of George West, Texas, maintained his position as the season's leader for all-around cowboy-by winning $881 in bull riding at the rodeo.

Larry Mahan of Brooks, Ore., moved into second place for the 1972 all-around title by finishing in the money in saddle bronc, bareback and bull riding for a total of $1,161.

Lyne has won a total of $14,407 for the year while Mahan has earned $12,580.

Lee Cockrell, formerly of Pampa and now a resident of Panhandle, is ranked seventh in calf roping with a total yearly earnings of $5,297.

Jo Russell of Shamrock is in second place in GRA barrel race competition with winnings of $2,778.

Snake Hunts Abundant Now

This week-end provides abundant opportunity for those interested in the sport of rattlesnake hunting.

The Mangum, Okla., Chamber of Commerce is holding its seventh annual Rattlesnake Derby on April 7, 8 and 9.

Bob Jenni, noted natural science authority from Oklahoma City will give a talk on the habits and characteristics of poisonous snakes. Jenni will also demonstrate the technique of extracting venom from rattlesnakes.

A Flea Market is slated to be held in conjunction with the rattlesnake hunt.

Awards will be given in several different categories: largest snake, most pounds of snake, most snakes and shortest snake.

The Waynoka, Okla., Saddle Club, merchants and boosters will also sponsor a snake hunt on April 8 and 9.

Various trophies and prizes will be awarded in this hunt also.

The following week-end will see the Okene, Okla. Jaycees sponsor their annual Rattlesnake Roundup. The hunt will get underway Friday, April 14 and continue through Sunday.

Sam Groom Lands 7 Bass

7 bass was a good days fishing for Sam J. Groom of 1711 Dogwood. He made this catch in a farm pond in Roger Mills county in Oklahoma, about 80 miles from Pampa. His bait was minnows. These bass were reported to the Sports Afield weigh in station at Pampa Tent & Awning Co., 317 E. Brown, east on Highway 60.

TV And Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Television's real suspense drama is contained these days in the network fall entertainment schedules which were made public during the past week. The schedules are really war plans in their competition for public attention.

Each of the three major networks schedule represents an attempt to keep intact program lineups that have demonstrated audience appeal and, at the same time, beef up weak points.

NBC, for instance, had its worst problems this past season on Tuesday nights. They started when two new series, "Sarge" and "The Funny Side," crumbled before ABC's and CBS's strong competition. Both were canceled and time periods reshuffled. Since mid-season NBC has been tossing into a two-hour time block all sorts of odds and ends—specials, documentaries and, this week, reruns of a seven-year-old action and a circus show presented last season as a Saturday children's show. Next season NBC will move "Bonanza" and "The Bold Ones" into the Tuesday night breach.

ABC would have preferred to leave its popular Tuesday night schedule alone but the Federal Communications Commission turned down its request for a second season waiver permitting it to broadcast 3½ hours of network programs. Networks are limited to three hours per night of programming in the 50 major markets. As a result, ABC was forced to move its hour-long "Mod Squad" and replace it with a new half-hour situation comedy about doctors. "Temperature's Rising." It will compete with "Bonanza," which is tough competition.

ABC's problem night has been Wednesday—it had a couple of early losers in Shirley Maclaine's and Anthony Quinn's series. Next season it will try to turn the situation around with Julie Andrews' variety hour and a Paul Lynde situation comedy.

CBS, whose Saturday night schedule of situation comedies, starting with "All in the Family," has been almost impregnable, will move a couple of them to Sunday nights in an effort to strengthen that lineup. "The Sandy Duncan Show"—a revised version of "Funny Face"—will be moved and so will "The New Dick Van Dyke Show" and the long-playing action show, "Mannix."

FOURTH "APES" FILM HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Conquest of the Planet of the Apes," producer Arthur P. Jacobs' fourth film trek into the world of highly-advanced apes, recently went before the cameras.

Earlier "apes" films were "Planet of the Apes," "Beneath the Planet of the Apes," and "Escape from the Planet of the Apes."

Texas Has Unusual Stability In Employers, Work Force

Texas employers are paying less unemployment tax per worker than are employers in any other state of the union, according to William Ragsdale, manager of the Pampa office of U.S. Texas Employment Commission.

For every worker covered by unemployment insurance, the Texas employer pays out an average of $9.17, a survey of 1970 UI taxes compiled by Texas Employment Commission shows.

At the other end of the spectrum, Alaska employers pay out $276.18 per worker to support unemployment insurance benefits. California is next high with $97.41, and Virginia is next lowest to Texas, paying out an average of $11.89.

"Texas has unusual stability in its employers and in its work force, and their cooperation in the program administered by Texas Employment Commission accounts for this record," says W.D. Birdwell Jr., employer representative on the Commission.

"The Commission is proud of this record for Texas, and is determined to maintain it. To that end we have launched an intensive program to improve our services to the public."

The Commission collects taxes from more than 162,000 Texas employers who are covered by the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act, to finance unemployment insurance payments. The worker pays no part of this tax, Ragsdale said.

The law requires employers with one or more workers in 20 weeks on the payroll, and employers who pay $1,500 or more in wages in a calendar quarter, to pay the tax. Certain nonprofit, charitable and educational organizations are subject only if they have four or more workers.

The money collected is set up in a permanent trust fund.

The tax is based on wages up to $4,200 paid to each employer in a calendar year, but wages are reported to the Commission up to $9,000, which are used to calculate unemployment benefits.

The experience rate and the amount of tax each employer pays is based on chargebacks to his account which is based generally on the rate of his worker turnover. The minimum tax which an employer may have is 0.1 per cent and the maximum tax is 4.0 per cent. Ninety per cent of experience rated employers in Texas pay the minimum rate of 0.1 per cent.

Employers who come under coverage for the first time in 1972 (other than the successor in change of ownership) are assigned an entrance tax rate of 1.0 per cent. Newly subject employers in subsequent years are assigned entrance tax rates of 2.7 per cent. Within two years, employers become eligible for an experience rate, based on chargebacks to an individual employer's account.

Questions & Answers On Social Security

By H.L. WEATHERLY
 (Have you a question about social security? Address it to: Howard L. Weatherly, Branch Manager, Social Security Administration, 1541 N. Hobart, Pampa, Texas 79065. You will receive an answer in this column or by mail.)

Q. I will be age 65 in a few months but have no immediate plans to retire. Will it be necessary for me to go to the social security office to enroll in the Medicare program?

A. You will need to apply with social security about 3 months before you become age 65. However, a trip to the social security office will not be necessary. Telephone your local social security office and explain your situation. They will complete the application forms and mail them to you to be signed and returned by mail.

Q. My first husband died about 10 years ago. My child, now age 14, and I received social security checks following his death. About 3 years ago I remarried and my check was stopped but I still receive a check for my child. My last marriage ended in divorce recently. Would I be eligible for social security checks again?

A. It appears you need to complete an application with social security for benefits on your first husband's record. You should telephone the local social security office and they will explain what is needed to start your benefits from social security again on his record.

LEWISBURG, W. Va. (AP) — The 160-year-old Greenbrier Military School has announced it will close at the end of this school term.

"We can no longer operate on tuition alone, and without an endowment expenses far exceed the income," Col. W. A. Rawl, the school's treasurer, said.

The school will graduate 34 seniors May 25. The student body of 145 is down from a high of 340.

"Enrollment has declined steadily for the past three years," he said. "We had hoped to build it back up, but it just couldn't be done. This is an age of permissiveness. Parents let their boys do just about what they please. Military schools aren't as popular as they were some years ago."

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M.D.

At age 94, you might think a woman would not be so vain about her cosmetic appearance. But notice how socially conscious my mother still is, despite the fact she forgets names and misplaces her eye glasses and false teeth!

CASE T-546: Jennie Crane, aged 94, is my mother.

When my wife and I are at our summer home in Indiana, we often take her out to the local restaurant.

"Hello, Mom," I thus phoned her recently. "How would you like to go to the restaurant with us for a bite to eat?"

"Oh, you know me," she replied. "for I am always ready to eat away from home!"

"Well, we'll be over about 6 o'clock to pick you up," I told her.

And when we arrived, she was still not quite ready.

"How does my hair look?" she anxiously inquired and I reassured her that it was quite O.K.

"Do you think this dress is all right?" she asked.

Then she fumbled around in her jewel box for a necklace of green beads and tried to fasten them around her throat.

She is always partial to green beads and green scarfs, as well as dresses of that color.

For she had dark, mahogany red hair until recent years when it has become rather gray.

But her initial fondness for green still persists.

So she always praises my automobile because it is of a green hue.

When she couldn't get the necklace fastened, she finally asked me to help. Usually, I make no offer to assist her.

since it is better for elderly people to do their own work.

This enhances their ego and also keeps their joints in action!

As my mother got out of the car, the wind loosened a lock of her hair.

She expressed chagrin.

"Oh, I must look a sight!" she added.

This may have been partially a bid for a compliment from me, for older folks often "fish" for praise.

But the reason I have mentioned my mother's concern about her looks, is primarily to show that women often retain their feminine vanity till death.

At the age of 94, you might wonder what difference it would make whether my mother wore beads or left them off.

But she still wishes to put up an impressive looking "front," which shows she is still socially oriented, though she may forget names and misplace her glasses, as well as her false teeth.

Do you readers think men or women are more vain about their appearance?

Which sex pays more attention to newspaper ads about clothing, cosmetics and the latest styles?

Which carries rouge, lipstick and a pocket mirror?

Which (except for the feminized hippie males) stresses beads and other juvenile barbarian ornaments?

Which wears many rings, plus bracelets, jeweled pins, etc?

(Always write to Dr. Crane, Hopkins Bldg., Mott, Indiana 47958, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

WTSU President Names Committee To Probe Officer

CANYON—President James P. Cornette of West Texas State University appointed today a three-member panel to participate in an administrative investigation of allegations against former WTSU security officer Kenneth L. Chambers.

"At my invitation, the following individuals have consented to serve as a representative panel to assist in the evaluation of all information received on the 'Chambers matter,'" the president said.

They are Dr. Ronald Huffstutler, chairman of the Faculty Council, who will serve as panel chairman; Gary Blanset of Pampa, president of the student body; and Weldon Trice, assistant dean of student life for men, a former resident of Pampa.

Chambers, 42, resigned last week after three years as a member of the university police department.

A hearing on student allegations against Chambers was canceled after he resigned to accept employment with an Amarillo construction company. The hearing was to be Wednesday.

Although Chambers' resignation made impractical a need for the hearing, Dr. Cornette said he still has an "administrative interest in the matter and in the circumstances surrounding it."

Tourists Visiting Texas Showed 8.9% Rise In '71

AUSTIN—The Texas Highway Department today released its annual summary of the state tourist industry, showing a healthy 8.9 per cent upsurge of auto tourists from out of state who visited Texas during 1971.

Following two years of successive slight declines after the banner HemisFair year, out-of-state auto visitors returned in numbers totaling 16,452,000.

Even more encouraging than the volume of visitors were tourist expenditures, up 33.7 per cent for a total of $1,306,367,000. Earned elsewhere and added whole to the Texas economy, the sum represents an immensely valuable stimulus of new money.

The Highway Department's survey covers auto travelers from other states and foreign countries who entered Texas during every month of the year.

Statistics are derived from questionnaires reported by nearly 22,000 tourist parties, and are supplemented by visual traffic counts on all major highways entering Texas.

The substantial increase in tourist expenditures was attributed by the Highway Department partly to inflation, but more significantly to an expanding state tourist industry.

Tom H. Taylor, director of the Department's Travel & Information Division, said, "Apparently tourists are finding it easier to spend more than just time in Texas. More attractions and recreational choices offer more opportunities to spend the travel dollar."

The report showed the average spending per person per day was $13.92 in 1971. Thus the average visitor party of 2.8 people spent $39.26 per day.

Vacationing was the main reason 68 per cent of the auto travelers came. Business was cited by 15 per cent, while 6 per cent combined both vacations and business. Other factors included conventions and arrival of new residents.

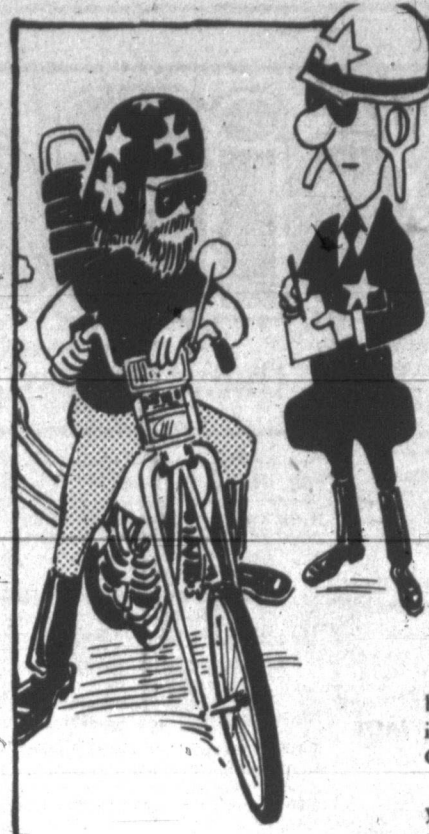

"Continuing a trend noted in recent years, auto travelers covered more miles while vacationing in Texas during 1971. Staying an average of 5.7 days, the typical visitor party drove 1,144 miles in Texas, over 100 miles farther than an average trip the previous year.

While June, July, and August continued to be the heaviest vacation period, other months showed increasing popularity.

The report pointed out that factors such as the 12-month school year may cause substantial changes in traditional vacation patterns, spreading "the season" more evenly throughout much of the year.

Houston ranked as the most popular city destination, cited by 12 per cent of all travelers. Dallas followed closely with 11 per cent. In terms of region, the report showed that tourists are visiting all areas with near equality.

The North Texas region was listed as a destination by 4 per cent of travelers, while the Coastal, East and Valley regions each claimed 3 per cent.

'Magic World Of Electricity' To Be Shown On TV Saturday

"Electrifying Beauty," the fourth 4-H film of "The Magic World of Electricity" television series, will be presented on television station KGNC, Channel 4, Saturday, April 8 at 12:30 noon.

The film, according to County Extension Agents Richard Guggisberg and Patricia Henderson, is about a group of 4-H members who visit Six Flags Over Texas to learn about special lighting effects.

The 4-H members take time for some electrically operated rides and later explore special lighting effects at an architect's home. They also learn how to make a decorative lamp from a soft drink can.

A feature of the film is the appearance of Vonda Kay Van Dyke, a former Miss America.

The film is being made available by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with Southwestern Public Service.

The University of South Carolina opened its doors in 1805.
