STATE

FORT WORTH, (AP) — An 18-year-old Mansfield man has been sentenced to a boot camp and fined $600 for dousing a puppy with lighter fluid and setting it on fire.

Angelo Allums was taken into custody after sentencing on Tuesday. He will remain in the Tarrant County jail until the six-month boot camp program begins.

Officials said Allums could be transferred to a substance abuse program after completing boot camp. His sentence includes two years probation.

Prosecutor Richard Alpert, who had argued for the maximum punishment of a year in jail, said Allums recently tested positive for cocaine, heroin and marijuana.

Allums pleaded guilty last month to two misdemeanor counts of cruelty to animals and an unrelated count of evading arrest.

The boot camp is a military-style discipline program designed to rehabilitate younger offenders and to give them a sense of prison life.

Last year, Allums and a 16-year-old associate cornered Zelda, a Doberman-Rottweiler puppy, when she and another dog, Jasmine, escaped from their back yard. The pair pelted Jasmine with rocks, breaking her paw, and Allums then doused Zelda in lighter fluid and set her on fire.

The 16-year-old, whose name is not being published because he was a juvenile at the time of the offense, is serving an indeterminate sentence in the Texas Youth Commission after admitting his part in the crime.

Fatality accident prompts lawsuit

Negligence, alcohol cited

By LAURA HALEY
Staff Writer

A wrongful death civil suit has been filed against Pampa resident Ronald Dean Sanders, 45, for an Aug. 13 automobile wreck that killed 17-year-old Kami Minick and seriously injured Karen Minick of Canadian.

Karen, who survived the accident but suffered severe injuries to her legs, and Kami's father, James Bradley Minick, filed the civil suit in the 223rd District Court last Thursday.

Their lawyer, Joe L. Lovell of Lovell & Newsom in Amarillo, said, "What we'd like from him [Sanders] is everything he has and everything he will have. It he's got it, the Minick's ought to have it."

The original petition filed by Lovell claims that Sanders displayed negligence and gross negligence that resulted in the Aug. 13 wreck at the intersection of Highway 60 and Farm Market Road 2391.

Sanders indicted for manslaughter

By LAURA HALEY
Staff Writer

A grand jury indicted Ronald Dean Sanders, 45, of Pampa yesterday for intoxication manslaughter and intoxication assault charges relating to an Aug. 13 vehicle wreck that killed 17-year-old Kami Minick of Canadian and seriously injured her mother, Karen.

John Mann, 223rd and 31st district attorney, confirmed early last month that a blood sample taken from Sanders indicates he was above the legal intoxication limit. The crash, which occurred about 9 p.m. at the intersection of Highway 60 and Farm Market Road 2391, resulted from Sanders' failing to regard a stop sign while traveling southbound on the farm market road, according to Trooper Guadalupe Deluna, who has been leading the investigation.

The automobile the two Minick women were in ran into the right-hand side of Sanders' truck when he pulled in front

Jail commissary gets county ok

By MIRANDA G. BAILEY
Staff Writer

The County Sheriff was given authorization today by Gray County Commissioners to establish a commissary for jail inmates. Commissioners also gave the Sheriff's Department verbal permission to open a commissary checking account with a beginning balance of $500 taken from a line item portion of the Sheriff's present budget.

County inmates now receive their clothing and hygiene supplies by giving money to jail officials for routine grocery store trips. The commissary will provide an in-house supply store for the inmates, Robert Black and Gerald Compton (front) with the Jordan Unit are helping remove the old Dr. V.E. von Brunow wall at the new park beside the downtown post office. Inmates are setting up scaffolding and removing the fire wall and bricks. The bricks will be used as joint expansions in the park's walkway to tie in a historical theme, said Parks Director Reed Kirkpatrick.

von Brunow Park work starts; clean-up day set

By MIRANDA G. BAILEY
Staff Writer

The Parks Department is staying busy this week with the onset of development of Dr. V.E. von Brunow Park and the upcoming "Parks Pick-Up Day" this weekend.

The development of von Brunow park began today with the tearing down of an old brick wall on the property that once housed the former, prominent Pampa doctor's office.

The addition of this park — at the corner of Cuyler and Alcock, west of the post office — will bring the number of parks in Pampa to 38.

After tearing down the wall, park officials plan to bring in new topsoil and compost to make the area fertile for incoming vegetation.

Inmates from the Jordan Unit have been contracted to help with the wall's demolition and future construction at the site.

Gray County Sheriff Don Copeland got a tour of the National Guard's UH-60 Blackhawk helicopter this week. The twin-engined helicopter was in the skies over Pampa as part of the domestic marijuana eradication school held this week in Pampa. The 60 students enrolled are scheduled to fly over the area later this week in search of wild marijuana fields.

Sheriff hosting state drug school

Some 60 drug agents descended upon Pampa this week, but it was only for training.

Almost 40 students from law enforcement agencies across the state joined 20 Texas National Guardsmen for the Department of Public Safety's annual Domestic Marijuana Eradication school here.

"We've been holding the school since 1991," said Randy Dillard, DPS narcotics officer. "It's been held all over the state."

This year's school is hosted by Gray County Sheriff Don Copeland and his office.

Department of Public Safety, city, county and Texas Parks and Wildlife officers from across the state of Texas are among those attending the five-day school.

Split between classroom instruction and field problems, the school is designed to help officers identify and destroy marijuana plants growing wild or being cultivated in remote areas.

As part of the training, the officers will be flown by helicopter over areas in the panhandle where marijuana has in the past been found growing wild.

"In the last 15 years, we've taken over a million plants out of this area," said Capt. Earl McNeil, DPS narcotics officer in Lubbock.

"There are places where it grows wild around here," Dillard said. "We want the guys to see what it looks like from the air."

A UH-60 Blackhawk helicopter will take the officers on their aerial surveillance tours, officials said. The helicopter belongs to the Texas National Guard in Austin.

The National Guard has been involved in the eradication program since 1985 and in the drug interdiction program since 1989.

LAWSUIT

"The injuries and damages sustained by Plaintiff Karen Minick and the death of Kami Minick were proximately caused by the negligence, gross negligence and intoxication of Defendant Ronald Dean Sanders," reads the original petition filed by the Minick's lawyer.

Sanders, according to the lawsuit, disregarded a stop sign while traveling at a high rate of speed and ran in front of the Minick's automobile. Sanders was also intoxicated, according to the court documents. District Attorney John Mann confirmed in early September that blood test results indicate Sanders was above the legal intoxication level.

The Minicks are seeking both actual and exemplary damages suffered from the wreck. Actual damages asked for in the original petition includes, but is not limited to, monetary compensation in an unspecified amount for: mental anguish suffered by family members, psychological counseling, Kami's medical, funeral and burial expenses and medical and rehabilitation expenses for Karen's injuries. Medical expenses for Karen's injuries only, said Lovell, has already exceeded $60,000.

The Canadian couple is also asking for compensation for the physical pain and mental anguish suffered by Kami before her death.

"Kami Minick," states the court documents, "did not suffer a sudden death, but rather, because of [Sanders'] acts and conduct which give rise to liability, went to her death with full consciousness of the terror which accompanied the crash of the vehicle in which she was riding. During the moments immediately prior to and following the crushing violence which ultimately took her life, Kami Minick suffered mental anguish and conscious pain and suffering on a scale and to an intensity not of this world ..."

In addition, the Minick's are also asking for an unspecified amount of exemplary damages.

"[Sanders'] conduct ... involved an extreme degree of risk, considering the probability and magnitude of the potential harm to others, and [Sanders] was actually, subjectively aware of the risk involved, but nevertheless proceeded with conscious indifference to the rights, safety or welfare of others," reads the lawsuit.

Lovell said he is pleased with the grand jury's indictment of Sanders on intoxication manslaughter and intoxication assault charges.

"We're, of course, pleased with the indictments and we fully expected the indictments with the information we have concerning the wreck," said Lovell. "We're anxious for the prosecution to proceed."

Neither the Minicks or Sanders could be reached yesterday afternoon for comment.

them, according to state highway troopers. Both Rural/Metro and the Pampa Fire Department responded to the scene.

It took firefighters about an hour to remove Kami Minick from the vehicle. She was taken to Columbia Medical Center and pronounced dead at 9:50 p.m. due to head injuries suffered in the collision. Karen Minick was taken via Medivac to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo for injuries to her pelvis and both legs.

Karen has been released and is now undergoing rehabilitation after having extensive reconstructive surgery, according to the Minick's lawyer, Joe Lovell of Amarillo.

Sanders was arrested Aug. 22, shortly after District Attorney John Mann received blood test results confirming Sanders' intoxication level. He faces two to 20 years in prison and up to a $20,000 fine for the intoxicated manslaughter charge, which is a second degree felony. The intoxicated assault charge is a third degree felony.

Sanders was released after his arrest on a $50,000 bond for each offense.

eliminating the regular supply trips.

Inmates who may not be able to always afford supplies will also benefit from the proposed commissary according to jail officials.

A motion was made and the commissioners granted the Sheriff's Department the necessary authorization to begin the project.

In old business, commissioners also approved a contract with Liberty Marketing Company for the printing of new county maps. Commissioner Jim Greene received further information about a potential county map contract agreement and told commissioners the printing of the maps would be no financial loss for Gray County taxpayers.

It pays for itself through businesses advertising on the map, he said, and commissioners then approved the contract.

In new business, commissioners approved a request from Gruy Petroleum to cross Gray County Road Z at intersection of Z and Gray County Road 23 and a request from Attebury Grain for a road crossing was also approved.

Commissioner Jim Greene was authorized to begin bids to advertise for trucks and commissioners approved of an offer received by the City of Pampa on the sale of a delinquent tax property located at 428 Elm.

County Attorney Todd Alvey received authorization to replace an employee and County Auditor Elaine Morris was given permission to make a budget amendment. Commissioners also approved of the bill and salaries and intrabudget transfer requests.

The Gray County Commissioners Court will meet again in closed session on the second floor of the Gray County Courthouse tonight at 5 with the Pampa City Commission and the Pampa Economic Development Corporation concerning an acquisition of real estate relating to the proposal for the Texas Youth commission.

The Commissioners' Court will reconvene in open session following the closed session to act upon any item relating to this agenda.

PARK

Although the completion date has not been set, the layout and design of the park has been finalized and many trees, plants, benches, lights, and other von Brunow park furnishings are being paid for through contributions from citizens and community organizations. The project is not a city budgeted item, explained Parks Director Reed Kirkpatrick.

In addition to the von Brunow development, this Saturday, Oct. 4, the Parks Department is organizing another project - a citywide "Park Pick-Up Day," said Kirkpatrick.

The many residents, local businesses and organizations who serve as the volunteer caretakers established through the "adopt-a-park" program, will be out Saturday morning cleaning up, clearing away trash and supporting the community by caring for Pampa's parks, Kirkpatrick said.

Since implementing the

"adopt-a-park" program about ten years ago, Kirkpatrick said, "vandalism has gone down and the litter in the parks has gone down 50 percent."

"People don't realize that parks are very visible; they are such a draw for businesses and people who come into a community," Kirkpatrick said. "And Pampa has always been proud of its parks."

Business organization sponsors open house

Sherrell Wheeler welcomes parents, employers, student participants and others to an open house sponsored by the PHS chapter of Business Professionals of America. Students in the local program, which has received state and national honors, attend school mornings and work in the afternoon in Pampa-area businesses. Twenty students are currently in the program.

Woman pleads guilty to hiring hit man via Internet

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A woman who used the Internet to hire a hit man to kill her ex-husband has been given 10 years' probation after pleading guilty to solicitation of capital murder. State District Judge Sid Harle sentenced Andrea Lynn Vicker, 34, on Tuesday to 10 years' deferred adjudication, fined her $10,000 and ordered her to perform 1,000 hours of community service. The judge also ordered that Ms. Vicker's parental visits to her children be supervised. Michael Vickery, her ex-husband, said they were married in March 1989. They divorced in 1995, he said, because she was spending up to 16 hours a day on-line on the computer. She initially received custody of their daughter after the divorce, but lost custody to her husband in August 1996.

Clarendon College: Area high school seniors invited to third annual Sneak Peek '97

CLARENDON — Area high school seniors are invited to attend Clarendon College's third annual high school visit day on Oct. 24. Sneak Peek '97 participants will be able to tour the campus, meet with faculty, staff and students, audition for choir and drama scholarships and more! Sneak Peek '97 will begin at 9 a.m. in the Bairfield Activity Center with a welcome from CC President Dr. Scott Elliott. From 9-11 a.m., students will have the opportunity to speak with instructors in their area of interest. The CC Student Ambassadors will provide a walking tour of campus and all visitors will be treated to lunch in the college's Dining Hall. Both parents and students are invited to attend Sneak Peek '97. Overnight on-campus accommodations are available for students. Individuals interested in staying on-campus need to reserve a room by calling 1-800-687-9737 by Oct. 17. High school seniors interested in drama and choir are encouraged to audition for college fine arts scholarships. Administered by Fine Arts Chair Jim Stewart, choir auditions will begin at 1:30 p.m. in the Harned Sisters Fine Arts Auditorium. Students will need to provide their own accompaniment music and prepare to sing one song, of their choice. Drama scholarship auditions will begin at 3 p.m. in the Harned Sisters Auditorium and will be administered by Dr. Carale Manning-Hill. Drama students will need to complete an application and provide a recent, close-up photograph. For the audition, students will need to perform 45-90 seconds of prepared monologue material. Students must call CC at 1-800-687-9737 by Oct. 17, to reserve a tryout position for choir and drama scholarship auditions. Sneak Peek '97 attendees are also invited to attend the annual Clarendon College Intramural Rodeo at 1 p.m. at the city rodeo arena. At 9 p.m. there will be a dance in the Community Center, located next to the rodeo grounds. For more information about Clarendon College's Sneak Peek '97, please call Clarendon College at 1-800-687-9737 or (806) 874-3571.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Let Peace Begin With Me

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. Only when man understands freedom and is free to control himself and all he possesses can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government, and that men have the right to take moral action to preserve their life and property for themselves and others.

Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is, thus, consistent with the coveting commandment.

National database is a scary thought

Beginning today, everyone hiring on at a new job will have his or her employment data fed into a vast new federal government database.

Called the National Directory of New Hires, it is intended to help state and local government welfare agencies identify delinquent non-payers of child support, targeting those who cross state lines to avoid payment. It was passed last year by the Republican Congress as part of the welfare reform package, and signed into law by President Clinton.

About 60 million people take new jobs every year. Their earnings and other data would have to be reported to the government by their employers.

Although the goal is laudable — getting parents to support their children — the unwelcome result will be a vast new database of the innocent along with the scofflaws and, consequently, an increase in the power of the central government.

State and local welfare agencies seeking information on the whereabouts and earnings of parents not paying child support will not be the only ones with access to the database.

"The Internal Revenue Service, the Social Security Administration and the Justice Department will also have access for some purposes," reports The New York Times.

To be sure, such databanks have proved useful at the state level, raising the overall level of child-support payments in some states. For example, in Missouri child-support collections rose 17 percent last year after the state implemented a system similar to what the federal program will be.

Of course, many county and state officials support the national database idea. Having almost instant access to such data provides an increase in efficiency, and it also makes a bureaucrat's job that much easier to accomplish. They tend to argue that privacy safeguards currently in place would protect against abuses.

But in the bottom line analysis, various states have been effective in their approach, and a national directory appears to carry more hazards to personal freedom than benefits. The better way would be to encourage more state-to-state cooperation, rather than establish a new, intrusive central bureaucracy that tracks all working Americans — and their paychecks.

It passes strange that a Republican Congress supposedly dedicated to less government keeps imposing more. Unless Republicans repeal this and other increases in government power, voters are going to wonder why the GOP should be preferred to the Democrats.

Berry's World

I have music in my soul

I am a music person. I can't sing, I can't dance, but I love music. Makes sense, huh?

But, this isn't a column about what I like and don't like. This is a column about learning styles.

When I was younger, I listened to music all the time — while getting ready for school, driving to school, working on homework, even at night as I was going to sleep. My parents didn't seem to mind except when I was working on homework.

"You can't concentrate while listening to that stuff. Turn it off and do your homework," they would say.

I know there are probably many parents out there who would agree with this statement. I do not.

There are a variety of different learning styles. Some people learn by hearing, some by doing and some by watching. Others must have a conglomeration of the styles. I'm a conglomeration person.

In college, I read text books and studied notes with music in the background. And, I could remember everything. I made A's on those exams!

Laura Haley
Pampa News staff writer

When I had to study in quiet, such as the library or when my roommate was sleeping, I made B's or C's on exams. I am an audio-visual person.

I don't remember songs if I hear them. I don't remember notes if I read or write them. I have to have both.

I write notes while the professor talks — listening and doing at once. I remember songs word-for-word if they are played during a particular scene in a movie. I'm also one of those annoying people who remembers the movie dialogue word-for-word if music is playing in the background.

Odd, huh? What brought this subject up?

I listen to music as often as I can at work. It's relaxing and, ultimately, much more productive. Just the other day, my editor was commenting on how quickly I typed two stories one morning; a morning where the CD player headphones were strapped on my head.

The point of this article — everyone's different. It's not just learning styles, but we're different in personalities, clothing choices, music preferences, etc. In order to effectively get along with others, we have to know our own limitations and respect others, even when they are different.

An important lesson for us all to remember is that the world isn't made of carbon copies of ourselves. It is comprised of billions of individuals, each with his/her own philosophy, personality, beliefs, habits, etc. We may not like another's personality, beliefs, etc. but it would do us all good to respect the difference.

Praying at the altar of beauty

Perhaps it was a just punishment for going to this particular bar, which was styled after the beauty parlor that previously occupied the space. But I like this bar. I like the 1940s hair-spray advertisements that hang above the top shelf, and I like the clunky green dryers that line the walls. And I especially like the manicurist, a former employee of the salon, who will do your nails while you sip a Cosmopolitan or a Rolling Rock.

A bouncer proofed me that night, and I quickly realized that I had left my ID at home. So he asked me how old I was.

"I'm 31," I said, almost apologetically.

"Wow," he said. "You're really well preserved."

Now, I confess that for about half a second I was pleased with this response. Ever since I hit the latter half of my 20s, I have taken a secret delight in being carded. I may be angry at the world for judging the way a woman ages so harshly, but that doesn't mean I'm not slathering on the Clinique every morning.

But then it hit me: well-preserved? Isn't that what you say about an octogenarian aunt — or a jar of pickles? Was I already at the point where I would have to be preserved? Where only through the miracle of modern science, through the systematic application of balms and elixirs, could I possibly look the way I do? And what, exactly, was I supposed to look like?

I've been hearing comments of this nature ever since I turned 30 (no one ever seemed surprised by my age when I was 29) and I have always been shallow and vain enough to welcome them. But this time, I realized what a bite they have. Because when people compliment us for looking young, they are essentially saying that the age we are is unacceptable. That we are living on borrowed time. And that we should thank God for our little reprieve because the house of cards could crumble at any moment.

But why should I be happy when someone mistakes me for a 19-year-old? Why should that be good?

Consider how it looks from another perspective. A few years ago, I worked with a man whom everyone in my office assumed was about 22 or 23. He was wide-eyed and sweet and had this odd but endearing habit of bowing to people after he put work on their desks. When he shyly approached one of us to ask a question, we would smile condescendingly and answer in gentle tones. Nice kid, we thought.

So I remember trying very hard not to look shocked the day he told us he was 35. "Oh," someone said quietly. "I thought you were younger."

No one said, "Wow! You look great." No one said, "Gosh, I wouldn't put you a day past 24." No one complimented him for looking so young, because we knew that 35-year-old men do not want to be mistaken for 22-year-olds. That the qualities that age brings — poise, confidence, wisdom — are qualities they want to project, qualities they should want to project.

Which is not to say that men are completely immune from the beauty culture. Indeed, in recent years, men have been going to the gym and the plastic surgeon in record numbers. "I definitely feel the pressure," says a man I know. "When I look at the guy on the underwear package I think, 'Wait a second — is my stomach supposed to have lines?'"

But at this point, men are still not hearing the same relentless commentary that says younger is always better — a mantra that I don't think even squares with reality. Think of Princess Diana. Surely one reason so many women adored her was that she so soundly broke this rule. For no one can deny that Diana-the-36-year-old-divorcee was far more beautiful than Diana-the-20-year-old-virgin-bride.

Anyway, that's what I told myself recently as I scanned my hair for gray streaks. But what I found instead was a small pimple on my chin. I'm sorry to say I was glad.

MEDICAL

Study: Portable blood pressure monitors save many from needing medication

CHICAGO (AP) — Just being in a doctor's office is enough to send millions of people's blood pressure soaring. Now, Belgian researchers think they have a way to tell the difference between so-called "white-coat hypertension" and true high blood pressure.

It involves a Walkman-size portable blood pressure monitor that takes readings in non-medical settings.

That simple step allowed one-quarter of patients who took drugs to lower their blood pressure to realize they can do just fine without medicine, researchers said in today's Journal of the American Medical Association.

However, the study's authors acknowledged that, for now, out-of-office monitoring is too expensive for widespread use where it is needed most — among family doctors, the first line of defense in treating high blood pressure.

Blood-pressure readings in a doctor's office are higher than in people's normal surroundings for about 20 percent of patients.

While that phenomenon has been known for 50 years, this study used routine monitoring of blood pressure outside doctors' offices to determine how many of these people can do without medicine.

Some of them wore monitors on their arms that recorded their blood pressure at regular intervals throughout the day. Other subjects were periodically monitored at the doctor's office. In both cases, they were treated on the basis of those readings.

The authors, led by Dr. Jan A. Staessen of Katholieke Universiteit Leuven, studied 419 Belgian adults who were diagnosed in a doctor's office with high blood pressure and were taking medicine for hypertension.

Some of them wore monitors on their arms that recorded their blood pressure at regular intervals throughout the day. Other subjects were periodically monitored at the doctor's office. In both cases, they were treated on the basis of those readings.

The researchers found that 26 percent of those on the portable monitors were able to go medicine-free with no ill effects, compared with only 7 percent of similar patients monitored in doctor visits.

An expert not involved in the study called it "an important step forward."

Dr. Thomas G. Pickering of New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center in New York, said portable blood-pressure monitors have been used mainly in research and in diagnosing white-coat hypertension.

But an increasing number of studies have documented the value of out-of-office monitoring for assessing the effectiveness of drug treatment, Pickering wrote in an editorial accompanying the study.

And though the use of such monitoring is generally not yet reimbursed under most health insurance plans, he said it may eventually save money as well as improve treatment.

Hepatitis A Prevention methods easy to practice

Hepatitis A, at the top of the alphabet of viruses causing liver disease, puts travelers at risk and worries parents of children in day care.

"Hand washing before eating or preparing food, after using the bathroom or changing a baby's diaper is really one of the best preventions from getting or spreading hepatitis A," said Jean Brender, a Texas Department of Health epidemiologist in the Infectious Disease Epidemiology and Surveillance Division.

The disease is spread by feces-to-mouth contact. The virus can be carried on an infected person's hands and spread by direct contact or by consuming food or drink the infected individual handled. Hepatitis A also can be acquired through oral-anal sex or by consuming water or raw shellfish contaminated by sewage.

Hepatitis A is not spread by coughing, sneezing or other casual contact such as sitting next to a person or being in the same room.

Groups at increased risk for hepatitis A, according to Brender, include travelers to developing countries, injecting drug users, men who have sex with men and possibly children and workers in day care centers where outbreaks occasionally occur.

Symptoms include fatigue, mild fever, flu-like illness, nausea and vomiting, stomach ache and loss of appetite. Some people also have jaundice (yellow eyes and skin), dark urine and light colored bowel movements. "Children, especially young children, may have few, if any, symptoms," Brender said. Diagnosis is made through a blood test.

In Texas, 3,460 cases were reported from 141 counties in 1996, a 13.6 percent increase over the 3,001 cases reported in 1995. These figures place Texas in the intermediate rate of hepatitis A in the United States.

Children are among those at greatest risk of infection with one-third of all reported cases in 1996 occurring in children under age 10. The highest statewide incidence rate is among 5-to-9-year-old children at 57 per 100,000 population.

Treatment, said Brender, is mainly rest, a low-fat diet and plenty of liquids. "Antibiotics are not useful, since hepatitis A is a virus," she said, "but it is not a chronic disease. Once you get it, you will never get it again." People who have recovered from hepatitis A do not continue to carry the virus.

Healthy people rarely die from hepatitis A, and most people recover in a few weeks. People who already have a chronic liver disease when they get hepatitis A are at higher risk of developing very severe, possibly fatal, illness. Two deaths were recorded from acute hepatitis A infection in Texas in 1996.

Until recently, the primary method of prevention along with good hygiene has been immunization with immune globulin, which is made from human blood products. IG provides immediate antibodies to hepatitis A which can last several weeks, according to Dr. Diane Simpson, associate commissioner of TDH's Disease Control and Prevention. "It has been used for prevention when exposure is likely, such as with foreign travel," she said. "Immune globulin also can be used within 14 days after a known exposure to stop the virus."

Within the last few years, however, a hepatitis A vaccine has been developed for use with people 2-years-old and older. The vaccine, given in two doses, provides long-term protection from the virus. Simpson said travelers who will be visiting or living in high risk areas such as countries south of the United States and many parts of Africa and Asia; men who have sex with men; and injecting drug users should consider immunization with the vaccine.

People with chronic liver disease or who have clotting-factor disorders also may want to get the vaccine. These immunizations are available from private physicians and other health care

To help prevent hepatitis A:

- Wash hands thoroughly with soap and running water after using the bathroom, changing diapers and before preparing or eating food. This action is the most important one in preventing hepatitis A.
- Teach children to wash their hands.
- Change diapers on surfaces that can be cleaned and disinfected after each use. A good disinfectant is a tablespoon of liquid household bleach to a quart water.
- Never change diapers on eating or food preparation surfaces.
- Cook shellfish thoroughly before eating, especially if you already have a chronic liver disease.
- Drink water from approved sources only.
- Let your doctor or health department workers know if someone in your family has hepatitis A. They can advise you about immune globulin.
- Get the vaccine if you are in a high-risk group or are planning an extended trip to a country with a high rate of hepatitis A.

Study: Free condom giveaway does not up sexual activity

NEW YORK (AP) — Students

given access to free condoms in high school were no more likely to engage in sex than counterparts who did not have free contraceptives available, according to a study of nearly 13,000 students in New York and Chicago.

The study also found that the free distribution had a modest but significant increase on students' condom use.

"The fear that making condoms available will increase sexual activity, a primary political obstacle to making condoms available to high school students, appears to be unfounded," says an excerpt of the study that appears in Tuesday's editions of the American Journal of Public Health.

New York City's schools in 1991 became the first in the nation to hand out condoms. Since then, many other cities have followed suit. In 1994, the Board of Education amended its policy, allowing parents to notify the school if they did not want their children to receive condoms. "This is a very low cost AIDS prevention program," said Sally Guttmacher, an associate professor at New York University School of Education's Department of Health Studies and the principal investigator of the study. "It's true that while there is only a modest effect, we have found that making condoms available doesn't do harm and does some good."

A total of 7,119 students from 12 randomly selected New York high schools were questioned, as were 5,738 students from 10 high schools in Chicago, which does not have a free condom program.

It found that free condoms or not, the numbers of students in both cities admitting to sexual activity were virtually equal: 59.7 percent in New York and 60.1 percent in Chicago. But researchers noted that 60.8 percent of New York students said they used a condom during their most recent sexual intercourse, compared with 55.5 percent of Chicago students.

Mom Should Refuse To Trade Her Money For Daughter's Love

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago, my husband passed away. I have a little money, but not a lot. My 40-year-old, twice-divorced daughter wants me to help her buy a house. She has never been able to manage her money. She told me that if I didn't give her $50,000 for the house, I could forget her visiting me or helping me in any way. I offered to loan her $20,000 for the down payment, but she turned that down and demanded the larger sum as a gift.

Abigail Van Buren
 SYNDICATED COLUMNIST

Abby, I am 68 years old and must provide for myself, and $50,000 is a lot of money. What should I do?
MARTHA IN SOUTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

DEAR MARTHA: If you give in to your daughter's blackmail now, she will undoubtedly find some excuse to get the rest of your money. And I wouldn't bet on her visiting and helping you once the money is gone. Face it, Martha, your daughter is manipulative and cold-hearted. Refuse to finance her home. Save your money for your needs and comfort, and look to other family members and assistance should you need it.

DEAR ABBY: I have always been interested in comedy, so when I retired at 62, I entered a comedy contest in a cabaret in Encino, Calif. There were 475 young people in the contest and most of them looked at me as if to say, "Why aren't you home watching your arteries get hard?" Well, I made it to the finals and won. I got $1,000 and a nice write-up in the newspaper.

My wife and I moved to Las Vegas a year ago. A comedy contest was held at the Tropicans Hotel. I entered, and won again. I received $1,000 and a nice write-up in the Las Vegas paper.

Your attitude is what makes you old, whether it's in regard to your sense of humor or your everyday attitude. I know many elderly young people. They're chronological, but they have old ideas. If we judged people with our eyes closed instead of with a closed mind, you'd be surprised how the term "elderly" would disappear.

PAUL ORKIN, LAS VEGAS
DEAR PAUL: If we judged people with our eyes closed instead of with closed minds, I'm sure many of the problems that plague us would disappear. Congratulations on your new career.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for saying, again and plainly, "People have telephones in their homes for their own convenience, not for research and marketing firms." I agree, but because I don't want to act rudely, I've come up with a two-part response to "cold callers" like "M.B. in Belle Plaine, Iowa," who wrote to you.

During the afternoon and evening hours telemarketers seem to like, I screen some of my calls with my answering machine. I've told everyone I know that I do this. So far, no one I'd want to talk with has objected to announcing him or herself to the machine.

When I do pick up the phone and find myself listening to someone I don't know who wants to sell me something, I wait for a pause, then say, "Thanks for calling. I charge $135 an hour for phone consulting, with a two-hour minimum. Where should I send my bill?"

I have never heard any reply — just a click and a dial tone.
JOHN SHAPPER DIBELKA, SPRING VALLEY, CALIF.
DEAR JOHN: Apparently, your mother didn't raise any foolish children. Thanks for writing.

You assess issues, you may give more credence to negative aspects than positive ones. For best results, do the reverse.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be sensitive regarding your work habits today. Instead of pushing yourself to the edge of the envelope, get help when the workload gets too heavy.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You will not enjoy your friends today if you attempt to make them over into your image. Accept their faults and all, and they'll avoid judging you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Today, if you fail to honor a commitment it could prey upon your mind all day. For the sake of your own comfort, keep all of your promises.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Do not be overly concerned today with an associate's evaluation of a development. He or she may see only the down side.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Self-discipline is essential today in managing your resources. Do not spend what you can't afford, even if great bargains appear.

Pampa, Herd meet in afternoon action

Notebook

BASKETBALL

PAMPA — The Pampa Optimist Club will be having signups and tryouts for girls basketball Oct. 13-16 at the Optimist Club Gym.

Girls in grades three through six are eligible and need to attend two of the three dates. Girls will be put on teams on a first-come-first serve basis.

Coaches and referees are also needed. Interested persons can call 669-3615.

TYLER, Texas (AP) — Three basketball players from Tyler Junior College have made verbal commitments to attend Big 12 schools.

The commitments Tuesday came from 6-4, 210-pound guard Rodney Fields (Nebraska), 6-8, 215-pound forward Brodney Kennard (Texas Tech) and 6-7, 245-pound forward John Gilmore (Oklahoma State). They made known their intentions at a news conference at Wagstaff Gymnasium.

They'll sign letters of intent on Nov. 12, the first day of the early signing period, Tyler coach Kyle Keller said.

FOOTBALL

PAMPA — Middle line-backer Zach Thomas and the Miami Dolphins are getting ready to play the Kansas City Chiefs on Sunday. The Dolphins were among four AFC East Division teams with a bye last week.

Thomas, a Pampa native, has 20 solo tackles, 10 assisted tackles and one interception return for 10 yards in four games this season.

BASEBALL

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — The Texas Rangers Tuesday moved six players off their major league roster to the minor league Oklahoma City team.

The players are pitchers Terry Clark and Bryan Eversgerd, catcher Henry Mercedes and outfielders Alex Diaz, Marc Sagmoen and Mike Simms. All of the players except for Sagmoen have the right to become free agents as players being outrighted for the second time.

Clark was 1-4, 5.87 in 9 games and 5 starts with Texas. Eversgerd was 0-2, 20.25 in 3 games with Texas. Mercedes batted .213 with 4 RBIs in 23 games with Texas.

Diaz batted .222 with 2 homers and 12 RBIs in 28 games with Texas. Simms batted .252 with 5 homers and 22 RBIs in 59 games with Texas. Sagmoen batted .140 with one homer and 4 RBIs in 21 games with Texas.

The moves leaves Texas with 33 players on its roster.

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Terry Bevington's sometimes stormy 2 1/2 years as manager of the Chicago White Sox is over.

Frank Thomas' career, which has been consistently good for the last 7 1/2 years, could carry on until 2006. He's had his contract extended and his bank account fattened by a deal that could be worth nearly $85 million.

The White Sox announced Bevington's firing and Thomas' re-signing Tuesday, two days after finishing a disappointing 80-81 season.

The second-place finish, problems communicating with coaches and players and a negative reaction from fans led to Bevington's ouster.

"I'm not going to sit here and knock him," general manager Ron Schueler said. "I think a lot of managers would like to be over .500 and they aren't. ... We just wanted to change leadership."

Bevington had a 222-214 record after taking over in June 1995 for Gene Lamont, fired two years after being named AL Manager of the Year.

"I feel bad for him right now," Thomas said of Bevington.

"There were some problems and it became obvious a change had to be made. Sometimes the manager takes the fall when players don't fulfill expectations."

PAMPA — The Pampa Harvesters have shined against the Hereford Whitefaces during the football wars of the 1990s.

Pampa has won five of seven meetings with Hereford in the 90s and one game ended in a tie. But coach Dennis Cavalier doesn't see the Harvesters winning by a 41-0 score like a year ago.

"We see Hereford as a team in transition," Cavalier said. "They're playing younger players and they continue to improve."

Pampa and Hereford meet at 2 p.m. Saturday in Harvester Stadium for the annual PHS homecoming game. Pampa has a 1-3 record for the season while Hereford is 1-4. Both teams opened District 1-4A play with losses last weekend. Pampa fell to Dumas, 13-0, while Hereford lost to Borger, 41-13.

"Hereford has played a pretty tough schedule, but they've been hanging in there," Cavalier said. "We're getting ready to play another quality opponent."

Pampa has also played some tough opponents. The Harvesters lost to Lubbock Estacado, 19-3, and Amarillo High, 14-7, and both the Matadors and Sandies have 3-1 records. Dumas is District 1-4A's only unbeaten team at 4-

0. Pampa's win came against Plainview, 14-7.

"We've played a very difficult schedule. We just need to score some points. Our defense has been great. We've held our opponents to a minimum amount of yardage. I feel like we're getting closer to getting our offense going," Cavalier said. "Hereford is getting better, but I feel we are too."

With the return of running back Ronnie Proby, the Harvesters will have some more offensive punch. Proby missed the Dumas game with a knee injury. He leads the team in rushing with 297 yards and has scored two touchdowns.

"Proby's condition is guarded right now, but he's determined to play," Cavalier said. "He's not going to be 100 percent."

Homecoming activities

Two major activities leading up to Saturday's 2 p.m. game against Hereford, are Friday's parade at 4:15 and the Friday night pep rally at 7 in the gym.

The parade will line up on Harvester in front of the high school, then will make its way south on Mary Ellen and Cuyler and travel through downtown before disbanding on Atchison.

Plans call for former football players to ride in the parade and sign-ups for this may be made by calling Steve Randall by Thursday at 665-2561.

Senior nominees for Homecoming King are Tyson Alexander, Lynn Brown, J.T. Hamilton, Brian Sprinkle and Jeff Sublett. Homecoming queen nominees are Aretha Brown, Katy Cavalier, Sarah Fields, Mandy Parks and McKinley Quarles.

Pampa downs Perryton in non-district tennis tilt

PAMPA — The Pampa High School varsity tennis team stepped away from its district schedule by defeating Perryton, 17-1, at the PHS courts yesterday.

The girls' squad dominated play by losing only nine games in their nine matches.

"The team went out and played very loose and relaxed and appeared to have a lot of fun," said PHS coach Larry Wheeler.

Players of the week are juniors Russell DuBose and Valerie Lee, sophomore Emily Waters and freshman Michael Cornelison. Lee became the eighth player in PHS history to reach 100 career wins with her victory in girls' doubles.

The team next plays at Caprock on Oct. 11 at 1 p.m.

Results from the Perryton match are as follows:

Girls' singles
Emily Waters (PA) def. Melanie Symons, 6-1, 6-0.

Mandy Wells (PA) def. Nicki Castor, 6-1, 6-0.

McKinley Quarles (P) def. Brenda LaFebre, 6-1, 6-0.

Valerie Lee (PA) def. Amber Pichcuskie, 6-0, 6-2.

Kellen Waters (PA) def. Kim Rock, 6-0, 6-0.

Emily Curtis (PA) def. Teresa LaFebre, 6-0, 6-0.

Extra: Katy McComas (PA) def. Nena Tarango, 6-1, 6-2; McComas (PA) def. Kelsey Lamb, 6-0, 6-1.

Girls' doubles

E. Waters-Quarles (PA) def. Symons-Castor, 6-3, 6-0.

Wells-Curtis (PA) def. B. LaFebre-Pichcushie, 6-0, 6-1.

Lee-K. Waters (PA) def. Rock-T. LaFebre, 6-0, 6-0.

Boys' Singles

Russell DuBose (PA) def. Darin Stollings, 6-0, 6-1.

Jason Vickery (PA) def. Jaren Cunningham, 6-3, 6-4.

Note: More results from the boys' matches will be published in Thursday's Pampa News.

Switzer speaks highly of Giants' special teams

IRVING, Texas (AP) — So how special are the 1997 Dallas Cowboys?

Through four games their special teams certainly are.

Look at the NFL statistics and the Cowboys sparkle on special teams.

But coach Barry Switzer said Tuesday the New York Giants, Sunday's opponent in the Meadowlands, are right there with the Cowboys in a phase of the game that doesn't draw the same attention as offense and defense.

"New York has as good special teams as we do," Switzer said. "They have the best special teams we have seen. And you know what special teams means to us."

Indeed. Deion Sanders returned a punt 83 yards for a touchdown Sunday in a 27-3 win over Chicago.

The Cowboys special teams of coach Joe Avezzano have been among the best in the NFL through the first four games of the season and one reason Dallas has jumped out of the gate with a 3-1 record.

"We take a lot of pride in our special teams," said wedge-buster Bill Bates. "It's how you can win games when nothing else is going right."

Sanders leads the league in punt returns with a 17.3-yard average while Herschel Walker is third in kickoff returns with a 26.1 average.

Canadian set to open district

CANADIAN — Canadian has an open date this week and the Wildcats will try to get back on the winning track Oct. 10 when they host Spearman in a District 1-2A opener.

Canadian was off to a 3-0 start when Childress derailed the Wildcats, 27-19, last week.

Canadian's Jose Morales scored twice in the first half on a 41-yard pass from John Ashley and on an 82-yard punt return. The two teams went into intermission tied at 13-all.

Canadian's only TD in the second half came on a one-yard plunge by Tyler Tubb in the third quarter. Childress scored twice in the fourth quarter on TD runs by Willie Thomas.

Childress finished with 292 yards in total offense while Canadian had 228. Childress had 14 first downs and Canadian 10.

Turnovers hurt the Wildcats as Childress intercepted two passes and recovered a fumble.

Childress improved its record to 4-0.

Pampa Special Olympians win Invitational Bowling Tournament

BORGER — Last Saturday, 17 athletes from the Pampa Sheltered Workshop traveled to Borger to participate in the Special Olympic Invitational Bowling Tournament. They competed against 13 teams and 160 athletes.

Winning first place medals were: Liberty Bloxom, Chris Bradley, Dicky Don Hendricks, Taisey Phillips, Linda Lou Pierce, Cordell Schneider.

Winning second place medals were Stanley Barnett, Debbie Ellis, Gladys Kysar, Teresa Lyles, Mark McMinn.

Third place winners were: Jaime Arebalo, George Pearce, Donald Stuart. Fourth place winners were Gary Carr and Jennifer Roden. Fifth place winner was Amy Hammer.

Coaches and helpers on the trip were Jeannie Conner, Cindy Cooper, Kaci Cooper, Stacey Brown, Lori Paul and Tyler Paul.

These athletes will travel to Amarillo on Oct. 25 to participate in the Area 16 Special Olympic Area-Regional Bowling Tournament to be held at Western Bowl.

Following the Area-Regional Tournament, some of the athletes will be traveling to San Antonio for the winter games.

PHS girls rout Caprock

Pampa's April Lopez helped lead the Lady Harvesters to victory over Caprock.

PAMPA — Pampa's Lady Harvesters were in complete control against Caprock Tuesday night.

The Lady Harvesters won, 15-3, 15-5, in District 1-4A volleyball action for their second win in a row. Pampa is 11-8 for the season and 2-5 in district play. Caprock is 4-14 overall and 0-6 in district.

"This was by far the best match we've played in a long time," said Pampa coach Sandra Thornton. "I kept telling our players to take it to them and they really responded."

In hitting, Katy Cavalier was 15 of 16 with 8 kills while teammate Lisa Dwight was 17 of 19, also with 8 kills.

In blocks, Dwight had 7 while Tiffany McCullough and Tandi Morton had 5 and 4, respectively. In serving, Keili Earl was 9 of 11, scoring 7 points and 2 aces.

April Lopez was 28 of 29 in sets with 12 assists while Deidre Crawford was 23 of 23 with 6 assists.

In passing, Cavalier was 12 of 12 while Earl and McCullough were each 10 of 10. Crawford was 8 of 8 in digs.

In serves received, Cavalier and Earl each both 8 of 8.

Pampa plays Borger at 10 a.m. Saturday in McNeely Fieldhouse. The match was moved to Saturday morning because of the Harvesters' football homecoming game with Hereford that afternoon.

There is a three-way tie for first in the district between Randall, Hereford and Dumas. All three teams have a 5-1 record.

Local gymnasts take top honors at Big Spring District Qualifier

BIG SPRING — Gymnastics of Pampa team members took top honors at the Big Spring District Qualifier last weekend. Over 100 gymnasts from San Angelo, Odessa, Midland, Big Spring, Lubbock, Amarillo, Dumas, Abilene and Pampa participated in the meet.

Leading Team Pampa in Level 5 competition was Jaclyn Spearman, who won the All-Around honors in the 10 year old division. Spearman took the gold medal with a meet high All-Around score of 35.3. Her nearest competitor was almost two points behind her.

Spearman also wowed the crowd and judges with a 9.45 on floor exercise for the gold. It was the highest individual score of the meet and a personal best. She also dominated the competition by winning the uneven bars — 8.8; the balance beam, 8.9, and earned the silver on vault, 8.15.

Taking top honors in the Level 5, 11 year old division, Alyssa Bromwell remained consistent in competition. Her All-Around score of 35 points was nearly two points higher than the nearest competitor and was good for the gold. She had the highest score of the meet on bars — 9.2 for first place. Bromwell also won gold.

Team Pampa had excellent performances for its three newest members.

Competing for the first time in Level 4 were Becky Diggs, Brittany Warminski and Amy Freeman.

Diggs earned a red ribbon on bars, 8.3, white ribbon on beam, 7.65 and floor exercise, 7.85, and yellow on vault, 6.15, and All-Around, 29.95.

Warminski earned red ribbons on floor exercise, 8.4, and beam, 8.1, a white ribbon on bars, 7.15 and yellow on vault, 6.0, and All-Around, 29.65.

Amy Freeman earned red ribbons on floor exercise, 8.2, and balance beam, 8.1, white on bars, 7.2, and yellow on vault, 6.1 and all-around, 29.6.

The Team Pampa gymnasts will be going to Midland this weekend (Oct. 4) for the Judges Cup.

Harvesters shut down 4-A's top rusher

Even though the Pampa offense couldn't do anything going in the 13-0 loss to Dumas last week, the defense can take some solace in knowing they shut down Class 4A's top rusher.

Dumas running back Astolfo Venzor came into the game No. 1 in rushing with 755 yards in just three games. Antonio Perez of Alvarado was second with 600 yards.

Apparently, Pampa's defense isn't impressed with individual statistics. They held Venzor to just 63 yards on 20 carries. Venzor discovered early he was going to have problems with Pampa's defense. On Dumas' first possession of the game, the 200-pound Venzor was stopped cold on consecutive plays. Strongside linebacker Vincente Martinez led a defensive charge that stopped Venzor at the line of scrimmage. On the very next play, Venzor was thrown for a two-yard loss by middle linebacker Jared White.

There was more of the same in the second quarter. Venzor was tossed for losses three different times as tackle Justin Ensey, White and linebacker Brent Phelps led the defenders.

Venzor did score both Dumas touchdowns, the last one a 29-yard run with 9:10 left in the fourth quarter that broke the backs of the Harvesters.

"I don't know if we were just wore out or what. I know we missed some tackles on that play," said Pampa head coach Dennis Cavalier.

The Harvesters were without their leading rusher, senior running back Ronnie Proby, who was sidelined with a knee injury. Pampa could have used his 275-pound bulk in the backfield. He slated to return for the homecoming contest Saturday against Hereford, but he won't be 100 percent.

For the most part, Pampa did turn in a superb effort on defense. White turned in 17 tackles, including five for losses. Phelps and senior end Shawn Harris had 14 and 13 tackles, respectively. Martinez, a senior strongside linebacker, had a pass interception.

"After evaluating the Dumas film, we're not going to change from what we're doing. We just want to do it better," Cavalier said. "We ran many plays where I felt it was just a fraction of an inch from being a good play."

Wheeler was a second-half football team against Memphis last week. Head coach Jim Verden doesn't care much for that back-handed label, even though the Mustangs won, 20-13.

Like any high school football coach, Verden wants to field a team that's mentally and physically prepared to play a full 48 minutes. "We had a heart-to-heart session at halftime," Verden said after his Mustangs went to the dressing room trailing, 13-0. "We just weren't busting ourselves out there."

The Mustangs didn't have a change of strategy the second half, just a change of heart.

"We just started blocking the right way and controlling the line of scrimmage. The kids found out they could still play football," Verden said.

Wheeler displayed a balanced rushing attack in the comeback win over Memphis. Aaron Dunnam rushed for 89 yards and a touchdown while Jeremy Davis rushed for 89 yards and two touchdowns.

Wheeler's offense should pick up a little more steam with the expected return of all-state running back Bryan Judd this week. Judd, who rushed for 1,453 yards and 19 touchdowns a year ago, suffered an arch injury during Wheeler's scrimmage against Clarendon.

Dunnam led the Wheeler defense with 6 tackles and 4 assists.

Wheeler plays at White Deer this coming Friday night and Verden is hoping his troops get their act together with the opening kickoff. No more of that second-half stuff, especially against a 4-0 team like the Bucks.

Of course, Wheeler was a first-half team in an 18-14 loss to Wellington two weeks ago. The Mustangs scored the first two touchdowns of the game and were ahead, 14-12, at halftime.

Braves edge past Astros in NL Division opener

ATLANTA (AP) — Whatever Darryl Kile does, Greg Maddux does it a little bit better.

Take Game 1 of the NL division series between Kile's Houston Astros and Maddux's Atlanta Braves.

Kile, looking completely comfortable in his first postseason game, allowed only two hits and two runs in seven innings Tuesday afternoon — nothing after the first pitch of the second inning.

How did Maddux eclipse that? The four-time Cy Young Award winner gave up just one run on seven measly singles and the Braves grabbed the lead in the best-of-5 series with a 2-1 victory.

"The only way you pitch better is if you win," Kile moaned. "It's frustrating, but I feel I didn't do my job and that's the only thing that matters."

Kile is used to losing these sort of games to Maddux. Since 1993, the Houston pitcher has a 1.69 ERA in head-to-head matchups with Maddux, but his record is only 1-3. That's because Maddux's ERA is even better, 1.32.

John Smoltz, Atlanta's Game 3 starter, watched the latest Kile-Maddux duel from the dugout.

"Greg was not pinpoint," Smoltz said. "But he gutted it up late, making pitch after pitch in the clutch. I watched with my mouth hanging open. What an artist." Smoltz was equally impressed with Kile.

"He was unhittable after the second inning, so Greg had to be on," Smoltz said. "Everybody expects Maddux to win, but it's not automatic. Greg is human. He makes mistakes. Believe me, he was not automatic today. Greg earned it."

Despite a 19-4 record, Maddux received some criticism for his failure to finish games this season — in particular, a Sept. 12 contest against Colorado when he pulled himself out after the eighth inning with a 1-0 lead, despite throwing only 88 pitches. Atlanta wound up losing 3-1.

"You have to have a lot of confidence in what you're doing, let those things bounce off of you and do what's right for the team," said Maddux, who had five complete games and ranked eighth in the NL with 232 2-3 innings. "I made a decision (against Colorado) and I stand by it."

Kenny Lofton, hampered most of the season by a pulled groin muscle and unfamiliarity with NL pitchers, showed how speed and daring on the base paths can make the difference in a close game.

Leading off the first for the Braves, Lofton blooped a hit just inside the left-field line and turned on the speed to stretch it to a double. He tagged and sprinted for third on a fly to medium right, sliding in just ahead of the throw from Derek Bell, then scored on Chipper Jones' sacrifice fly to left.

"My job is to get on base and get myself in scoring position, somehow, some way," said Lofton, who had only 27 stolen bases after being acquired in a blockbuster spring-training deal with the Indians.

Yankees rally past Astros

NEW YORK (AP) — That is why they're the defending champions.

The New York Yankees, using some leftover magic from their 1996 World Series run, became the first team in postseason history to hit three consecutive home runs, rallying to beat the Cleveland Indians 8-6 Tuesday night in the opener of their AL playoff series.

Trailing Orel Hershiser 5-0 after the first inning and down 6-3 entering the sixth, New York got a game-tying, two-run shot-by Tim Lincecum and solos by Derek Jeter and Paul O'Neill to stun the Indians and give a record crowd of 57,398 in Yankee Stadium a charge like it hadn't felt since last October.

After an off-day on Wednesday, the best-of-5 series resumes Thursday night with the Indians starting 21-year-old rookie Jaret Wright against Andy Pettitte.

Sandy Alomar hit a three-run homer in Cleveland's five-run first inning off David Cone, who lasted only 3 1-3 innings and must have New York manager Joe Torre thinking about what he'll do for Game 4 — if there is one.

Raines' sacrifice fly pulled New York within three, and Hershiser was replaced after giving up a single to Jeter. Lefty Alvin Morman came on and walked O'Neill to load the bases before Eric Plunk came in.

Plunk, who pitched three seasons for New York, got Bernie Williams on a foul pop and struck out Tino Martinez looking. Alomar ripped off his catcher's mask, pumped his arm and screamed toward Plunk in celebration.

With two outs, Rey Sanchez hit an RBI single off Plunk (0-1) and Raines followed with his homer off the upper deck in right to tie it 6-6. Jeter left behind 0-2 before homering to left and O'Neill had almost the exact same at-bat against Paul Assenmacher, homering on an 0-2 pitch.

1 Public Notice

NOTICE OF APPLICATION
Hoechst Celanese Chemical Group, Inc., has applied to the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission (TNRCC) for renewal of Air Quality Permit No. 5083A for the existing Pampa Plant boilers, ash handling, and coal handling facilities located on US Highway 60, West of Pampa, Gray County, Texas. The facility emits the following air contaminants: oxides of nitrogen, sulfur dioxide, volatile organic compounds, carbon monoxide, and particulate matter. A person who may be affected by air contaminants emitted from the existing facility may request a hearing. If the applicant demonstrates the existing facility will comply with all applicable air quality requirements, the applicant will qualify for issuance of a permit renewal. The subject of a hearing would be limited to applicable air quality requirements, which do not include issues such as water quality, noise, traffic safety, or zoning. If a hearing is held, it will be a legal proceeding similar to civil trials in state district court. To request a hearing, you must submit the following: (1) your name (or for a group or association, an official representative), mailing address, daytime phone number, and fax number, if any; (2) the applicant's name and permit number, (3) the statement "I request a public hearing." (4) a brief, specific statement of how and why emissions from the facility would adversely affect you in a way not common to members of the general public; and (5) the location of your property relative to the facility. Hearing requests or comments on the application must be received in writing at the Chief Clerk's Office, MC-105, TNRCC, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711-3087, within 15 days after the second publication of this notice. This notice is to be published on September 25 and September 26, 1997. A copy of the registration is available for review and reproduction at the TNRCC Office of Air Quality, 12124 Park 35 Circle, Building C, Austin, Texas 78753. Registration documents and further information may be obtained from the TNRCC Amarillo Regional Office, Air Program located at 3918 Canyon Drive, Amarillo, Texas 79109-4996, telephone (806) 353-9251. Individual members of the public who wish to inquire about the information contained in this notice or to inquire about other agency permit applications or permitting processes should call the TNRCC Office of Public Assistance, toll free, at 1-800-687-4040.

1 Public Notice
