Artrain seeks publicity assistance

By MIRANDA G. BAILEY
Staff Writer

Help is needed from Pampa merchants to publicize the arrival of Artrain - which will be in Pampa in less than two weeks.

Pampa merchants who have a marquee sign, anything that can be changed to announce items of current interest, are invited to help publicize the train's visit by mentioning the Artrain on these signs, said Artrain Chairman Lorelee Cooley.

Artrain is a real train, consisting of five historic railcars (some which were World War II troop trains) carrying an art exhibit entitled "Art in Celebration."
The exhibit was commissioned by the Smithsonian

The Artrain will be in town for six days, with four of those days booked solid in school tours. The public is welcome to tour the train, at no charge, on Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 21-22. The train will be open for drop-in tours from 10:30 a.m. through 5:30 p.m. both days. The location is the Attebury Grain Elevator south of Highway 60 in mid-town Pampa.

Merchants who choose to participate in publicizing are encouraged to include the business name, something about the train - for example, "Business" ... welcomes the Artrain, dates of the public tours - (Feb. 21-22), hours - (10:30 a.m. - 5:30 p.m.) and/or location (Attebury Grain Elevator, Hwy. 60) if there is any room, said Cooley.

Businesses with questions are welcome to contact the Pampa Fine Arts office at 665-0343, or Lorelee Cooley at 665-7321.

Jury says feed didn't kill chicks

By JEFF WEST

In the case of the local ostrich ranchers versus Muenster Milling Company, a Pampa jury found that Muenster feed was not to blame for the death of 96 ostrich chicks.

"That was a tough case," said Robert Templeton, attorney for the plaintiffs. "It was a fine jury though, I'd try any case in front of that jury."

The case was brought by Wiley Reynolds Jr., Patricia Noel Kennedy, Carl Kennedy and the estate of Wiley Reynolds in March of 1995 against Muenster Milling Co. Inc. of Muenster, Texas.

The plaintiffs, from Gray County, charged that ostrich chick feed they bought from Muenster had a chemical called Gossypol present. Gossypol is a known toxin that can be fatal to birds of all kinds. A lab report they presented concluded that was the cause of death.

The defense offered other tests of the feed that said the toxin was not present in the feed and the reason for the chicks death was disease.

Dee Johnson, attorney for the defense, said the cause was "Fading chick syndrome", a problem she says is common among exotic animals that people try to domesticate.

"It can happen to anyone, anywhere, even good farms. The Reynolds didn't have to do anything wrong, she said. "I think the jury's decision had a lot to do with the scientific evidence on causation."

The trial lasted seven days, filled with scientific data but the jury reached its verdict in less than five hours. Templeton said that there will be no appeal.

Appraisal district to map area for GIS/911 system

By JEFF WEST
Staff Writer

The Gray County Appraisal District has voted in favor of contracting with Gray County and the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission to map the area for a 911 system.

Also on Wednesday, new members of the district board were sworn in including Neil Quattlebaum who was elected president of the board, James Fruge and Wallace Birkes of Miami. A current member of the board, Judge Richard Peet was elected secretary.

Pamela Nielsen the director of 911 operations for the PRPC explained to the board the role of the PRPC in the 911 system and the importance of using the the Geographical Information System (GIS).

The appraisal district board approved the contract from the county to help map and computerize the system. Pat Bagley, chief appraiser for Gray County, says the appraisal district is a natural for the project since it already has lists of all the property in its file. "This project [GIS], is primarily the computerization of the maps of the appraisal district and therefore the county and everything in it," said Bagley. "Then there's the addressing of all the properties."

The addressing is based on U.S. Postal Service standards.

"In essence, what this addressing system will do is to put a street number and street name on all the properties whether they are in the city or out of the city," he said.

The next step is for the appraisal district is put out four requests for proposals which Bagley says is similar to bids but less restrictive since new technology may become available.

"I'm very encouraged about it, very excited about it," Bagley said.

He said that when the system is completed not only will it help emergency personnel but will allow him and his office to offer improved service.

"It will offer more efficiency and more accuracy for the appraisal district responsibilities"

U.S. judge rebukes Oprah as answers stray off point

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — Oprah Winfrey told jurors in her beef defamation trial today that she doesn't believe a cattle industry representative was "ambushed" on her TV show about mad cow disease.

The jury viewed a 20-minute videotape of a rehearsal for her "Oprah" talk show, with Gary Weber of the National Cattlemen's Beef Association being interviewed by a stand-in for Ms. Winfrey.

"After seeing the tapes, it is obvious to me that Dr. Weber cannot in any way say he was ambushed," Ms. Winfrey testified when she was asked to compare the rehearsal tape with her actual show, aired in April 1996.

The talk show host, her production company and vegetarian activist Howard Lyman are being sued by cattlemen who contend Ms. Winfrey edited the show to eliminate pro-beef statements. Attorneys introduced several reports on mad cow disease from national newspapers and television news shows to make the point that Ms. Winfrey's show was following the mainstream media on the subject.

"We don't have the kind of investigative team that goes out and breaks news stories," she told the court.

Ms. Winfrey took the stand for a third day with her fiancé, couple had a brush with Oprah and her "people" at court in the last two weeks.

Joe waved at the talk show host in the courtroom and received a wave back. Sara typed a personalized letter to the host and one of Winfrey's personal assistants took the letter in care of Oprah. Whether Winfrey received the invite for a free meal in White Deer remains to be seen.

Sara Wheeley, who has had the opportunity to be at the Oprah trial three times in the last weeks, was also interviewed on her birthday at the Big Texan by a Houston reporter. Her news bite appeared the next evening on Houston area television sets.

The climax for Sara was a pat on the shoulder she gave Oprah at the courthouse women's restroom. Ms. Winfrey walked into the crowded bathroom and Sara told her she just wanted to touch her. Winfrey smiled.

In other news, White Deer's Nancy Harlan (who was featured as a guest on the "Big Hair show" said she was asked by Winfrey's staff about contacts for a potential "Cigar smoking" show. Harlan is the owner of the Hawaiian Cigar Company.

TRIAL

Stedman Graham, back in the courtroom for a second time. He had not been there for her previous testimony, when poet and friend Maya Angelou was in the courtroom for support.

On the witness stand, Ms. Winfrey has exhibited the skill in front of a microphone that has helped her create a top-rated, Emmy Award-winning show.

Under questioning Wednesday by attorneys for cattlemen, who are seeking more than $10 million in damages, Ms. Winfrey often seized on chances to make her own case, repeatedly drawing the ire of U.S. District Judge Mary Lou Robinson.

"Keep your answers restricted to the questions being asked," Ms. Robinson scolded.

But Ms. Winfrey became defiant, and at times overbearing, under questioning by cattlemen's attorney Joe Coyne, repeatedly saying that her talk show was merely a forum for debate, a showcase for opinions - not a newsmagazine held to the strict fact standards of "Dateline" or "20-20."

"I've done over 2,000 shows, and every day I put people on who are expressing their opinions," Ms. Winfrey said. "This is not a news magazine. It's not the evening news."

She added: "I'm not going to sit here and say because we put both sides on the show that every show ends in a tie."

Jurors were attentive but sometimes seemed put off by Ms. Winfrey's sometimes condescending tone.

Ms. Winfrey testified that the lawsuit was the first ever filed against her show and was "the most painful thing I've ever experienced."

"I have used my show as a light, to help entertain and enlighten viewers," Ms. Winfrey said. "To have these charges brought against me hurts. This is America, and you have the right to your opinion, whether you are Oprah Winfrey or Rush Limbaugh."

Cattlemen allege Ms. Winfrey's show favored more ratings-grabbing and alarming statements by Lyman over pro-beef statements.

Lyman said that as long as U.S. cattlemen were feeding ground up parts of cattle back to herds - a possible way of spreading mad cow - there was a chance the brain degenerating disease could hit America and make AIDS look like the common cold.

The feeding process has since been banned by the Food and Drug Administration.

The cattlemen, who are suing under a state law that protects agricultural products from defamatory remarks, say that the show drove already slumping cattle prices to 10-year lows.

Ms. Winfrey testified that she tried to provide balance by putting on Weber and Agriculture Department scientist William Hueston to represent the view that U.S. beef is safe.

"If I wanted to do an anti-beef show, as I'm being accused of, I didn't have to put" pro-beef guests on, Ms. Winfrey said, adding that any of her comments deleted from the show were done so because of redundancy.

"I was there to offer both sides' opinions," she said. "That's why I had Dr. Weber there. If I didn't want to have him there, there is no law that said he had to be there."

After learning on the show that ground up cattle parts were being fed back to herds, a practice known as ruminant feeding, Ms. Winfrey said it had stopped her cold from eating another hamburger.

"To say that my saying, 'It stopped me cold,' got America to stop eating burgers is absurd," she testified.

Attorneys for cattlemen, however, attempted to show that Ms. Winfrey's opinion could indeed stop some 20 million of her viewers from eating beef by showing that when she promotes a book on her television book club it often goes on the bestseller list.

"I never thought that trying to get people to read would be held against me," Ms. Winfrey said.

Contradicting testimony by James Kelley, her producer in charge of editing the mad cow episode, Ms. Winfrey said she had only praise for him.

Kelley previously testified that he had been "chewed out" by Ms. Winfrey for poor editing of the show and felt like he would probably be fired after the lawsuit was resolved.

"I told Kelley I stand by the edit and that he presented both sides and did a good job under difficult circumstances," Ms. Winfrey said. "If we wanted to fire him, we would have done it right after the show. We didn't get sued until six weeks after the show aired."

"I believe he felt the way he did because he was shattered by this lawsuit."

Low-polluting cars to hit U.S. showrooms this fall

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cars that emit substantially fewer smog-causing emissions are on their way into American showrooms.

The country's Big Three automakers — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler — said Wednesday that beginning with new models this fall, cars sold in 12 states from Virginia to Maine will produce at least 70 percent less pollution.

The cleaner cars will be sold nationwide within three years, beginning with 2001 models, the manufacturers said. Toyota also has committed to the cleaner cars and other companies are expected to follow, according to industry executives.

The U.S. manufacturers notified the Environmental Protection Agency that they would produce and sell the less polluting vehicles nationwide even though four Northeast states — Massachusetts, New York, Maine and Vermont — have demanded more stringent emission standards along the lines of what is required currently in California.

Officials at the auto manufacturers said they would comply with the tougher standards in those states. Eight other states as well as the District of Columbia agreed to go along with the compromise offered by the manufacturers. The states are Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Connecticut and New Hampshire.

Vice President Al Gore in a statement called the automakers' decision to market the cleaner car nationwide "an important step to curb smog and protect public health" and an example of government and industry working together on environmental protection.

"It means cleaner cars for the American people five years before Congress would have allowed us to require them," said EPA Administrator Carol Browner, whose agency had urged Northeast states to agree to the manufacturers' proposal.

The automobile companies and Northeast states have struggled for more than a year to work out a way to reduce air pollution from cars in the Northeast where states face some of the most severe smog problems outside of California.

The manufacturers until recently had said they wanted all 49 states, other than California, to agree to a single standard and avoid a "patchwork" of state requirements that would make compliance too costly.

On Wednesday, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler said that even though the four Northeast states insisted on the stiffer California requirements, the companies would go ahead with the National Low Emission Vehicle, or N-Lev, as the cleaner burning vehicles are known within the industry.

"We are prepared to move forward with this historic cooperative agreement," said Jacques Nasser, president of Ford Automotive Operations. Dennis Minano, GM's vice president and chief environmental officer, said the sale of the cleaner vehicles "will result in cleaner air faster and cheaper than by any other available regulatory option."

"With this historic commitment, our vehicles will be 99 percent emission-free," beamed Chrysler Chairman Robert Eaton.

The EPA estimates that the cars, minivans and light trucks of less than 6,000 pounds that the automakers plan to produce will emit 70 percent less smog-causing nitrogen oxide and 50 percent less hydrocarbons than vehicles now in showrooms.

The technology for such improvements has been known for years. The automakers first proposed the cleaner vehicle in 1993 as a counter to what they considered premature efforts to force the sale of electric-powered vehicles. Manufacturers, however, held off on a commitment to put the cars on the market, hoping they would get agreement from all 49 states to join in the program.

While the cleaner burning gasoline-powered cars and light trucks fall short of meeting the California emission standard, the EPA has argued the difference is modest and that the commitment to sell the vehicles nationwide will lead to improved air quality overall.

Browner called it "a commonsense, cost-effective step in cleaning the nation's air and protecting public health."

British Prime Minister Tony Blair comes as Clinton's personal, political ally

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Clinton laid out a big welcome mat today for British Prime Minister Tony Blair, an ally who supports him in his personal travails and his efforts to stop Iraq's weapons development.

"The thing that I think is so important to emphasize to our people, to the American people, to the British people, is that this threat from Saddam Hussein is a real threat," Blair said today on ABC's "Good Morning America."

Making the rounds of television morning talk shows, Blair embarked on a key effort over two to three weeks to line up public support for a military attack on Iraq if diplomacy fails. He reeled off statistics of the Iraqi president's arsenal of chemical and biological weapons.

Of his other big aim in Washington, to stand by Clinton through personal troubles, Blair sidestepped a question linking moral rectitude and political leadership. He said all that matters is Clinton's political skill.

"You've just got to have some sense of balance and perspective about the issues that really matter to people," Blair said. "You have a president who is doing a superb job, who has huge respect and standing on the international stage ... to me that is what counts."

The packed three-day visit is for Clinton an opportunity to demonstrate his foreign policy skills at a time of personal trouble over allegations he had an affair with a young White House intern and tried to cover it up.

For Blair, on his first visit to Washington as prime minister, it is a chance to show he will prove as staunch an ally of the United States as were his more instinctively bellicose Conservative Party predecessors.

The Conservatives governed for 18 years until Blair's left-of-center Labor Party swept to power last May.

Blair sounded resigned to standing at Clinton's side while the president is grilled about the former intern at a joint news conference Friday. It will be Clinton's first formal meeting with reporters since the case of former intern Monica Lewinsky erupted.

"I would have thought at a point in time in which we are poised possibly, if diplomatic avenues fail, to take military action against Iraq, I would have just thought possibly people would want to ask us about that," Blair said.

Clinton was formally welcoming Blair today with a 19-gun salute at the start of a schedule that will keep the two leaders and their wives together for much of the time until the Blairs leave on Saturday.

The schedule includes an official dinner at the White House tonight and a joint radio address Saturday. Blair and his wife, Cherie, will be guests Friday night at Camp David, the presidential retreat in Maryland's Catoctin mountains.

Blair, who arrived Wednesday evening, told reporters aboard his plane from London that he thinks an education campaign about Saddam's arsenal is necessary. Aides said he contemplates that it will take two to three weeks to exhaust diplomatic efforts with Iraq and simultaneously build support for military strikes against it.

Danish woman reunited with children

CONROE, Texas (AP) — A Danish woman reunited with her children after she served time in a Texas jail says she would have stayed as long as it took if it meant her children would be kept from her ex-husband.

Montgomery County Jail a week ago as part of an agreement with her ex-husband, Mitchell Kite. Ms. Kite had been in jail since May 29 for violating her ex-husband's visitation rights to three of the couple's children: Matthew, 8, Michelle, 11, and Lisa, 16.

Box office: Disaster epic shatters big screen predictions

By JOHN HORN
AP Entertainment Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It's one of Hollywood's hottest parlor games: What movie will sink "Titanic?"

No new film in the immediate future appears capable of bumping the disaster epic from the top spot on the weekly box office charts, and some analysts say the blockbuster could hold onto No. 1 into March or April.

For the seventh weekend in a row, "Titanic" was by far the nation's most popular film. It is headed for a potential worldwide theatrical gross of $1 billion, which would surpass the all-time leader, 1993's "Jurassic Park," which pulled in $913 million.

Last weekend's returns of $25.9 million were off 9 percent from the film's Dec. 19 debut weekend. A co-production of Paramount Pictures and 20th Century Fox, "Titanic" has domestic ticket sales of $308.1 million to date, seventh on the all-time U.S. list.

"This thing has built momentum like we've never seen before," Gerry Rich, president of worldwide marketing for MGM, said Monday. "I don't see anything in the near horizon that will knock it off its perch."

An informal survey of Hollywood executives suggests "Titanic" may be the nation's No. 1 film until at least March 6, when Warner Bros. releases "U.S. Marshals," the sequel to "The Fugitive" starring Tommy Lee Jones and Wesley Snipes.

If that film doesn't capsize "Titanic," it may be up "The Man in the Iron Mask," due for release March 13. The only reason the 17th century drama is expected to do well: It stars Leonardo Di Caprio — of "Titanic" fame — in not one, but two, roles.

"Titanic" has elevated Di Caprio's star appeal," Rich said. "And that's part of why 'The Man in the Iron Mask' will be an event. Leonardo's star has never shone brighter."

And if "The Man in the Iron Mask" doesn't bump "Titanic," the latter could be in first place through April 3, when "Lost in Space" premieres.

The record for consecutive weeks in the top spot is 12, held by "Home Alone." If it remains No. 1 through March 13, "Titanic" will break that record.

Some prognosticators believe the romantic comedy "The Wedding Singer" could topple "Titanic" over the President's Day weekend of Feb. 13-16. The problem is Oscar nominations are read Feb. 10 and "Titanic" is expected to dominate.

"The award nominations are definitely going to help it," said Tom Sherak, the executive vice president of 20th Century Fox's movie group.

Made for a record $200 million, "Titanic" now seems certain of passing No. 2 "E.T. The Extra-Terrestrial" and No. 3 "Jurassic Park" on the domestic box-office charts, which grossed a respective $399.8 million and $357.1 million.

A film of the popularity of "Titanic" would typically lose about 15 percent of its ticket sales over the next several weekends, but if the movie wins the best picture Oscar on March 23, that formula probably won't hold.

Yet even with that steady erosion, "Titanic" could pass "Star Wars" by midsummer to become the top domestic film of all time.

Counting international sales, "Titanic" has a worldwide theatrical gross exceeding $608 million, though it has not opened in some foreign territories and has played only a few weeks in some countries. The movie is about to open in both China and the former Soviet Union.

"This film has broken every rule and every other record," said Jim Gianopolous, president of Fox International Theatrical. "I don't see any record out of reach."

Why all the Fuss?!

Angie Davenport
editor

With all the scandals that surround Bill Clinton and the White House, I sometimes wonder how the President ever has any time to address the real issues.

The media is partly to blame for this. When they get wind of any little tip that might lead to wrong doing, they immediately enlarge the problem by spreading it across the nation without any real facts. If they are going to run a story, they should use one of the most important aspects of journalism-objectivity. They should use only facts and use them in a completely unbiased manner. They should also wait for all the facts instead of running half the story to be the first one to break the news.

In the case of Monica Lewinsky, it is a basic case of he said, she said. What I don't understand is why the majority of the public believes her over the President. Even her high school and college friends have told the press about her past.

The taped phone call is also irrelevant. Why wouldn't she make things to sound good for a friend? Often times people embellish what actually happened to impress friends. There is no reason she would be telling any more or less of the truth because of who she was talking to. She might have even known it was being taped.

The bottom line is, if we want the President to do a better job, why don't we just stay out of his personal business so he can do his duties. There is no proof that he has done anything wrong, so why are we making such a fuss about it? Everyone needs to remember the old saying, "Don't believe anything you hear, and only half of what you see."

Lefors School Receives Grants of $2,500

Katisha Kidd
Staff writer

This year the Lefors high school added a new course, Childhood Professions, in which only juniors and seniors can take. This course is a school to tech. prep. course. Which means students with an average of 80 or above can receive free college credits, just by taking ECP.

Geneva Alvis, Scott Carothers, and Paula Whitney, wrote a grant proposal and Lefors was chosen to receive a $2,500 grant, to set up an early childhood lab.

Students from Mrs. Whitney's ECP. class have aided Billy Lynch's P.E. classes, and lunch duty and have aided or observed the elementary classes from kindergarten to fourth.

Some kindergarten and first grade students come to the ECP. Lab every day so that the ECP. students can give them one on one help with their studies.

Some time in the near future the students will begin to work with children outside of the school. They would like the community to get involved by letting them watch and work with the younger children.

Special thanks from Mrs. Whiney for those who helped with the grant.

The Lady Pirates fall twice!!!

Heather Howard
staff writer

The Lefors Lady Pirates lost to McLean Lady Tigers by the score of 58-40 on Tuesday January 27.

The Pirates tried hard but were unable to pull out a win. The highest scorers were Penny Summers with 13, Misty McMullen with 6, and Melody Seely also with 5 points.

The Lefors Lady Pirates were defeated by the Miami Warriors at Home on Friday January 30 th.

The Pirate offense wasn't able to make the shots fall, and the defense was unable to stop the Warrioretts offense. Three of the Pirate starters fouled out in both games which was a drawback.

The Lady Pirates fought hard in both games and they put forth a lot of effort.

"Don't take life seriously, you won't get out alive."

Hunting Do's and Don'ts

Do's:

1. Do bring bullets
2. Do bring GUN!!
3. Always keep eyes open while shooting.
4. Always wear bright clothes even if they clash.
5. Shoot to kill.

Don'ts:

1. Never look down the barrel of the gun (even if you are double dared to).
2. Don't get caught illegally hunting.
3. Never shoot at all moving objects (It could be your hunting buddy).
4. Don't exaggerate your hunting stories (This is for all you guys out there that always have the same story: "I had the big one but it got away.")
5. Don't recycle your own bullets.

Driving Do's And Don'ts

Do's:

1. Always use your blinker.
2. Watch out for pedestrians.
3. Go the correct speed limit (to your ability).
4. When waving always use more than one finger.
5. Keep your eyes on the road (or anything else interesting).

Don'ts:

1. Never cover someone's eyes while they are driving.
2. Don't run over any animal larger than your car (that could be really bad for your paint job).
3. Don't play chicken while driving your vehicle (always use your friend's car, so that you don't mess your's up).
4. Don't try to hit as many kids as you can (all at once) to raise your quota.
5. Don't pick your nose in a car (you don't know how many people actually see you do that).

Yeltsin: Clinton could provoke World War III

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Iraq's Parliament met in emergency session today on the crisis over U.N. weapons inspections, while American efforts to secure support foundered. China and France were balking and Russia declared it "shall not allow" a military strike against Iraq.

Russian President Boris Yeltsin directed unusually critical remarks at President Clinton for the second straight day, renewing warnings that bombing raids on Iraq could spark a much broader conflict.

"We must not allow a strike by force, an American strike. I told Clinton about it: No, we shall not allow that," Yeltsin said in Moscow.

China stressed its opposition to a U.S. attack in a letter to Secretary of State Madeleine Albright and French Foreign Minister Hubert Vedrine told Europe 1 radio that France would not participate. "It would not resolve the problems," he said.

Iraqi lawmakers said Parliament will hold off, probably until next week, on any of its own initiatives to give the high-level diplomacy under way a chance to resolve the crisis.

Diplomats from Russia, France, the Arab League and Turkey are in Baghdad to try to persuade Iraq to end its impasse with the United Nations over U.N. weapons experts' access to presidential palaces and other sites. Iraq says inspections at those sites would violate its sovereignty.

The inspectors must certify Iraq has eliminated its weapons of mass destruction before the United Nations will lift tough economic sanctions imposed after Iraq's 1990 invasion of Kuwait. The invasion led to the 1991 Persian Gulf War.

Iraq says it has done so. But inspectors say it is still hiding information and material for biological and chemical weapons.

In Beijing today, Chinese Foreign Minister Qian Qichen emphasized his nation's objections to the use of force against Iraq in a letter to Albright.

"China is extremely and definitely opposed to the use of military force because its use will result in a tremendous amount of human casualties and create more turmoil in the region and even could cause new conflicts," Qian said on state-run television.

In 1990, China was the only one of the five permanent Security Council members not to authorize military action against Iraq.

Vedrine, the French foreign minister, said of diplomatic means toward ending the crisis: "One must not think that it's all over. It's an error." France also is a permanent member of the Security Council.

Albright and Washington's U.N. ambassador, Bill Richardson, have been lobbying Security Council members and Arab allies in support of a possible military strike against Iraq. So far, only Britain has given unequivocal backing.

On Wednesday, Yeltsin warned that a strike against Iraq could lead to "world war." The president's aides scrambled to clarify his remarks, saying there was no prospect of Russia retaliating for a U.S. attack on Iraq. Yeltsin repeated the comment today, though he has not explained how an attack on Iraq might ignite a larger conflagration.

Yeltsin also claimed the peak of the crisis was over and that Russian diplomatic efforts were winning more support.

Miss Lake Meredith Pageant winners

Nine Madeline Graves Dance and Gymnastics students, coached by Madeline Graves and Shauna Graves-Munsell, competed in the Miss Lake Meredith Pageant held recently in Borger for various titles.

Courtney Lang was crowned Teen Miss Lake Meredith 1998. Lang competed against five other girls between the ages of 14 and 17 in the areas of interview, modeling and talent.

In the Junior Miss Lake Meredith division, Brianna Bailey was awarded first runner-up. Bailey competed against five other contestants between the ages of 10 and 13 in the areas of interview, modeling and talent.

The next division was Miss Minnow, which included contestants between the ages of seven and nine. These contestants competed in interview and modeling. In this division, Audrey Dunn won second runner-up and Natasha Bailey won first runner-up going up against a total of ten contestants.

The Mini Miss Minnow category had a total of eight contestants between the ages of three and six who also competed in interview and modeling. Skyla Clift won second runner-up and Jenna Munsell was crowned Mini Miss Minnow 1998.

Other students competing in the pageant were Shayla Clift, Megan Poole and Kellie Stokes.

Two El Paso deputies suspended following sexual assault charge

EL PASO (AP) — Two El Paso County deputies have been suspended without pay following their arrest on sexual assault charges, officials say.

Peter Calzada, 38, a 14-year veteran deputy, and Michael Duran, 32, who has been a deputy for more than six years, were arrested Wednesday on sexual assault charges.

A Canutillo woman told investigators the deputies sexually assaulted her in a secluded part of the suburb of Vinton last month.

The victim, who was not identified, told authorities she was attacked after the two pulled up behind her the night of Jan. 31 on an isolated stretch of road.

"She had car problems, and they came by and were supposed to take her home," Sheriff Leo Samaniego said. "They went somewhere else, and that's where the offense occurred."

"Information developed during the investigation led investigators to obtain arrest warrants for the two deputies involved," Samaniego said. "The warrants were issued on Feb. 2 charging the individuals with sexual assault and a bond was set at $100,000 for each."

Gray County Farm Service Agency has announced 70 percent of Conservation Reserve Program bids have been accepted for a total of 13,743.7 acres. These acres will be devoted to grass and/or wildlife cover for a term of 10 years.

Producers placing bids last October and November will be notified by mail whether their bid was accepted or rejected. Producers must in turn notify Gray County FSA within 30 days as to whether they want their offer approved. Producers also need to contact the Gray County Natural Resources Conservation Service office to discuss their plan of operation prior to making any changes on the land.

For more information, contact the Gray County FSA at (806) 665-6561 or the Gray County NRCS at (806) 665-1751.

Samaniego said investigators believe the two deputies may have committed other sexual assaults.

"There may be more victims, and we'd like to know if they did it to someone else," the sheriff said. "We'd certainly like to talk to them."

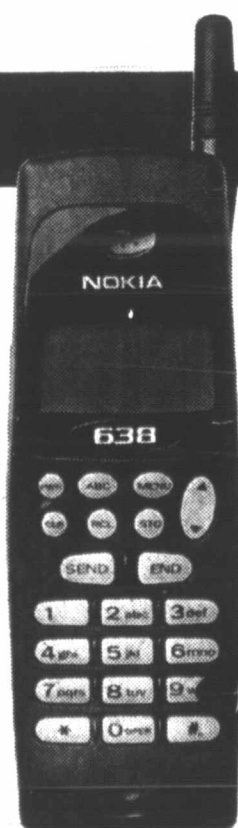

Calzada was released on bond Wednesday afternoon, but Duran remained in the El Paso County Jail late Wednesday.

Treatments Can Bring Relief For Tinnitus Tintinnabulation

DEAR ABBY: How would you like to be one of 44 million people in the United States with a loud screeching, roaring, whistling, ringing or chirping in your head? Can you imagine going to a doctor and being told: "You have tinnitus. There is nothing I can do for you. You'll have to learn to live with it." This is the answer millions of tinnitus sufferers hear repeatedly.

Abigail Van Buren
 SYNDICATED COLUMNIST

In 1993, a loud ringing sound began in one of my ears. It was driving me crazy and made it impossible to sleep. I became stressed out and depressed. It was impossible to continue to work because I was always tired. Not a single doctor could help.

Finally, one doctor referred me to a local American Tinnitus Association (ATA) support group. When I called, they gave me immediate assistance, empathetic care and understanding, and helpful information which led me to realize that I could manage this condition and lead a productive life.

The ATA was founded in 1971. It publishes a magazine, "Tinnitus Today," that keeps its members up-to-date on the latest research and treatments for tinnitus. In addition, it sponsors research, testifies before Congress to encourage more research and has support groups all over the United States.

Thank you, Abby, for spreading the word.

JOHN NICHOLS,
 SCOTTSDALE, ARIZ.

DEAR JOHN: I have mentioned the Tinnitus Association before, and I'm pleased to do it again. Until recently, there was no help for people afflicted with tinnitus. However, a number of procedures such as sound "masking," drug therapies, biofeedback and tinnitus retraining therapy now exist that can bring relief to some tinnitus sufferers.

For more information about the ATA, call (toll-free) 1-800-634-8978, or write: The American Tinnitus Association, P.O. Box 5, Portland, Ore. 97207-0005.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the 26-year-old man who wants to marry the 32-year-old woman with a teenage daughter:

My mother married my stepdad when she was 32. He was 24. I was 14 years old at the time.

I know about problems with disapproving families, and even racism. My mother's family and stepdad's family didn't want to acknowledge the wedding. Despite the opposition, my mom and stepdad have been married for 11 years. Because of the union, I have a little brother I couldn't love more. I also have a great stepdad who loves and respects my mother.

In a way, my stepdad and I grew up together. He's a friend as well as a dad, and he taught me that love and trust conquer all.

N. BOMAGAT, RENO, NEV.

DEAR N. BOMAGAT: I'm certain the man who wrote will appreciate your supportive letter. Now it's up to him to decide if he's emotionally emancipated enough from his family to follow his heart. Let's hope he makes the right decision for all concerned.

DEAR ABBY: I noticed you wished Happy Hanukkah to your Jewish readers, and a Happy Kwanzaa to the African-American readers. Perhaps you would consider wishing a Happy Eid to your Muslim readers on Jan. 29. Thank you.

AZRA HAQQUE,
 LOUDONVILLE, N.Y.

DEAR AZRA: Thank you for the suggestion. Eid is the festive holiday that follows the month-long, dawn-to-dusk fast of Ramadan. To my Muslim readers, "Eid Al Fitr!"

Horoscope

Friday, Feb. 6, 1998

Improvements in status, position and reputation are in the offing for you in the year ahead. You have learned a lot of valuable life lessons that you'll utilize to your advantage now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A recreational break could serve as a healthy release today to alleviate pent-up tension. Set adequate time aside for a pleasurable activity. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences that will govern you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions by mailing $2 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Give priority today to involvements that include your immediate family and relatives. You are apt to have more fun with kinsfolk than with outsiders.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) There isn't much that will escape your attention today. You will be curious and a quick study. What you learn you'll be eager to share with your peers.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Conditions in general look favorable for you today where your material interests are concerned. You should be able to improve upon something good.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) There is something you can do better than most, and that is to juggle several assignments simultaneously. You will work well under this pressure.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) It will be obvious to your friends today that you're pretty good at keeping secrets. You won't reveal any confidential information.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You are likely to be more at ease today with people who don't take themselves or life too seriously. Let the worriers focus on one another's woes.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Substantial personal gratification will be acquired today from situations where you use your mental prowess to meet and overcome challenges.

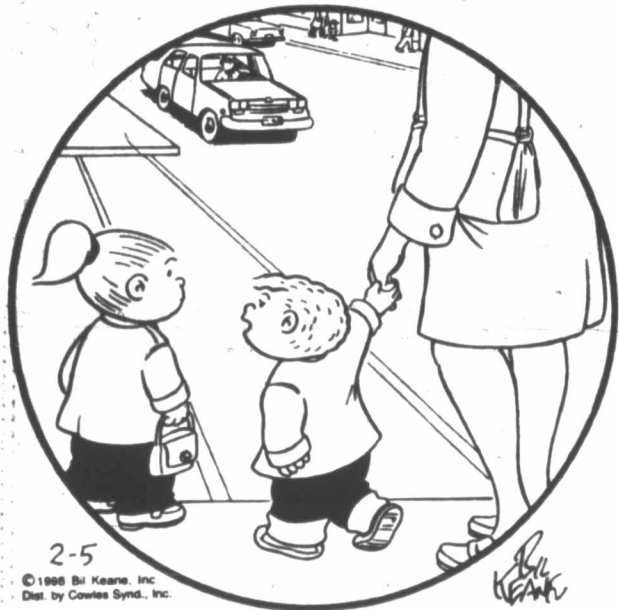

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Usually, it isn't too wise to offer unsolicited advice. Today, however, if you have any suggestions that could help a confused friend, speak up.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If someone invites you to participate in a joint endeavor today, don't reject it before analyzing it in depth. His or her proposal may have merit.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Today, you may have to decide an issue in which the alternatives appear to be of equal value. Tilt your judgment toward what was recently most successful.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) This is a good day to talk things over with co-workers in order to resolve any misunderstandings and improve productivity.

BASKETBALL

PAMPA — Valleyview defeated Pampa, 46-32, in 9th grade boys' basketball action earlier this week.

Shawn Strate led Pampa in scoring with 9 points, followed by Kenneth Reed with 7.

Pampa's record is now 6-13 for the season and 4-7 in district.

Valleyview also won the B team game, 52-39.

Derrick Cummings had 12 points and Heath Bentley 10 to lead Pampa B in scoring.

Pampa B team is 1-16 for the season and 0-11 in district.

The Pampa freshmen close out the regular season Saturday at Canyon with the B game starting at 10 a.m. followed by the A game at 11:30 a.m.

Pampa hosts the District Freshmen Tournament next Thursday and Saturday.

RANDALL — Randall defeated Pampa, 99-59, in a junior varsity boys' game Tuesday night.

Gary Alexander scored 30 points while Casey Owens added 9 to lead Pampa in scoring.

PAMPA — Monday night, the Pampa Lady Pacers defeated Amarillo Christian School, 47-28, improving their record to 14-5.

The Pacers jumped ahead early in the first quarter as Angie Edmondson and Erin Raber scored eight points each. Ande Shank and Kendra Raber led the overall scoring with 10 points each. Brienna Taylor added 6, Amy Robbins and Kaylee Shank each had 2 points and Sarah Fraser sank a free throw. Leading rebounders for the game were Taylor and Ande Shank.

The Lady Pacers play their final home games of the season Tuesday in a doubleheader against All-Saints of Lubbock and Amarillo Christian School. Gametimes are 4 and 6:30 at First Assembly Church gymnasium.

SHAMROCK — Wheeler swept Shamrock in District 2-1A basketball action Tuesday night.

Craig Bass had 16 points and Andy Bradstreet 11 to lead Wheeler to a 53-35 win in the boys' game.

Brian Doss and Hugh Shannon had 8 points each for Shamrock.

In the girls' game, Wheeler handed Shamrock a 53-42 setback.

Angela Jolly was high scorer for Wheeler with 18 points. Brooke Verden and Brooke Stevens added with 11 points each.

Starla Angton had 16 points and Laci Russell 11 for Shamrock.

BASEBALL

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees and Minnesota Twins are near agreement in trade talks for second baseman Chuck Knoblauch.

Ricky Ledee, one of the Yankees' prized outfield prospects, has been dropped from discussions, a lawyer familiar with the talks said Wednesday night on the condition he not be identified. Pitcher Ramiro Mendoza also has been dropped.

Instead, the Twins will receive pitcher Eric Milton, outfielder Brian Buchanan, shortstop Cristian Guzman, another prospect and $2 million to $3 million for Knoblauch, a four-time All-Star. Because of the money involved, the deal also needs the approval of the ruling executive council.

"I think everybody involved would like to have that happen," Twins general manager Terry Ryan said. "The Yankees would like to have that happen. I've said we would like to get this done as soon as we can."

While the MSG Network reported the deal had been completed, two sources familiar with the talks said small details remained to be worked out and that there still was a minute chance the trade could fall through.

Pampa's Proby signs with WT

PAMPA — Ronnie Proby, a 6-0, 270-pound defensive lineman-running back at Pampa High School, has signed a letter of intent to play football at West Texas A&M University next season.

Proby also visited the University of Wyoming and was recruited by the University of New Mexico and Abilene Christian University.

Proby, who runs a 4.8 in the 40-yard dash, averaged 22 carries and 101.3 yards per game last season for the Harvesters. He had 110 yards against Amarillo High, a Class 5A Division 2 regional semifinalist.

Proby has 60 yards on seven carries in his only game at fullback in Pampa's 21-12 win over Randall, which reached the Class 4A Division 1 semifinals. He only played two full games at defensive tackle and ended the season with 35 tackles and six sacks.

Proby started at defensive tackle for Pampa's 1996 Class 4A Division 1 semifinalists and district champions.

He was a team captain last season. Proby was named to the All-District 1-4A team at defensive tackle, playing only three of six games at that position in district play.

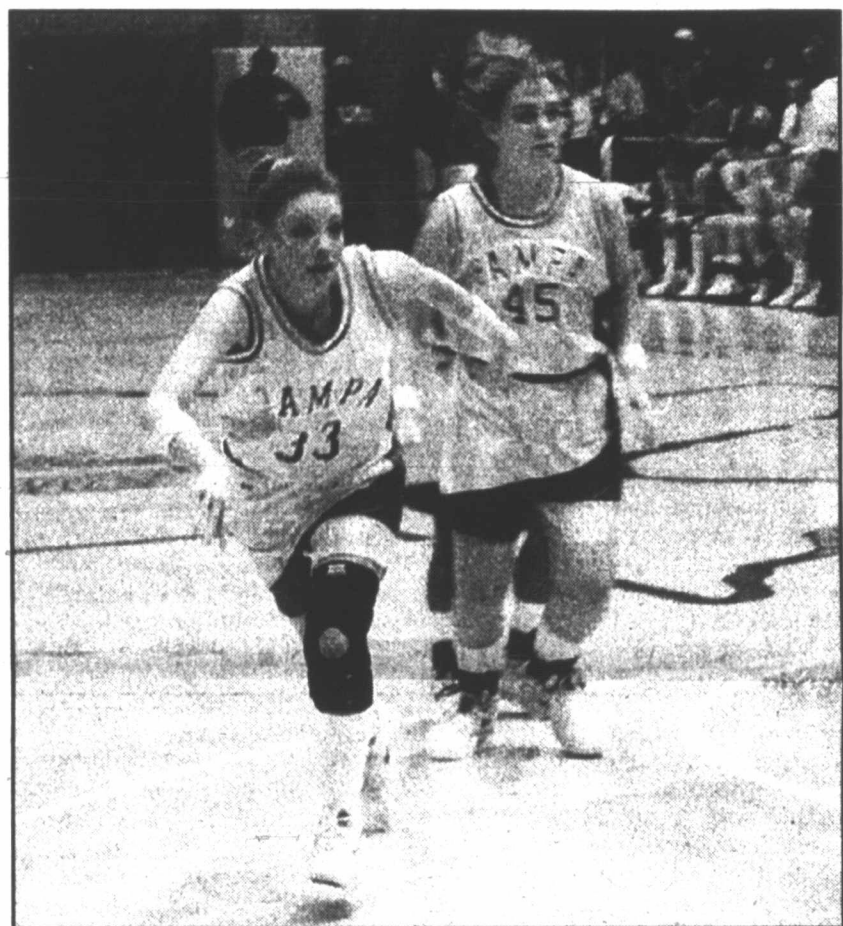

Proby's other 1997 honors include Dave Campbell's Texas Football Top 300 Players in Texas; Top of Texas Football Pre-Season Second-Team All-Defensive Team (defensive line) and Top Of Texas Football Pre-Season Class 4A Honor Roll defensive lineman.

Wednesday was the first day high school seniors could sign a national letter of intent. The national signing period extends to April 1.

Proby is the son of Ronnie Sr. and Tommie Proby of Pampa.

Pampa senior Ronnie Proby signs a letter of intent to attend West Texas A & M to play football. Looking on are Proby's parents, Ronnie Sr. and Tommie Proby, Pampa athletic director-head football coach Dennis Cavalier (standing, left) and assistant coach Larry Wheeler.

PHS seniors Jami Wells (33) and Faustine Curry will be playing in their final basketball game for the Lady Harvesters Friday night. Both Pampa boys' and girls' teams host Canyon.

Texas Tech nips Oklahoma

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Corey Carr hit a 15-foot jumper with 3.9 seconds to play as Texas Tech scored the final 11 points of the game and beat Oklahoma 70-68 Wednesday night.

Evan Wiley scored five straight points to give Oklahoma a 68-59 lead with 2:43 left in the game, but the Sooners didn't score again.

Stan Bonewitz made a 3-pointer. Cliff Owens hit two foul shots and Carr sank two foul shots as Tech rallied.

Oklahoma's Ryan Humphrey missed an 8-foot baseline shot with 20 seconds left and the score tied, and the Sooners' Michael Johnson missed a 3-pointer at the buzzer.

Tech (11-8, 5-4 Big 12) was led by Carr's 26 points. Bonewitz had 19 points and Rayford

Young 10. Oklahoma (16-7, 7-3) was led by Corey Brewer's 22 points and Humphrey's 17 points and 11 rebounds.

Brewer scored 15 points to lead Oklahoma to a 39-26 half-time lead.

The Sooners led 53-41 on Johnson's 360-degree spinning shot. But Tech then scored 13 straight points, eight by Carr, to take a 54-53 lead.

Oklahoma rallied with a 13-2 run, led by Wiley's inside scoring.

The Sooners, playing without injured starting forward Eduardo Najera and his backup, Eric Martin, shot 49 percent.

The Red Raiders shot 43 percent but made 10 of 25 3-pointers. Carr missed seven of his first eight shots but finished 7 of 19 from the field.

Lady Harvesters welcome No. 1 ranked team in season finale

PAMPA — The Pampa Lady Harvesters close out the basketball season against Class 4A's top-ranked team Friday night in McNeely Fieldhouse.

Canyon comes to town sporting a sparkling 23-1 record. The Lady Eagles lone loss was to District 1-4A foe Randall.

Tomorrow night's game, which tips off at 6, will be the final one in a Lady Harvesters' uniform for seniors Yvette Brown, McKinley Quarles, Faustine Curry and Jami Wells. Curry has been the team's top rebounder in most of the games and is averaging around 7 points per game.

Quarles, another of Pampa's top rebounders, averages around 5 ppg. Wells has been hampered by a knee injury throughout her career, but she emerged as a starter this season. One of her best outings this season came against Caprock when she scored 11 points in Pampa's 60-49 win.

Brown has been a scrappy defensive player from her guard position.

Pampa lost to Canyon, 80-35, earlier, but the Lady Eagles have been ripping almost every team this season. Canyon rolled by Borger, 73-25, Tuesday night. Candi White (5-6 senior) had 20 points and T'Nae Thiel (5-11 freshman) had 15 to lead the Canyon scoring attack.

Pampa and Borger are tied for fifth place in the district standings with 3-8 records.

Canyon, Hereford and Randall have already clinched the top three post-season playoff spots.

PAMPA — Pampa can play a spoiler role when Canyon comes into McNeely Fieldhouse Friday night for a District 1-4A boys' contest.

The Eagles are 3-6 in district play and need to stay in the playoff hunt with three games remaining. Canyon's hopes were dimmed Tuesday night with a 66-57 loss to Borger. Randall is the only 1-4A team which has clinched a playoff spot.

Pampa, 1-9 in district, lost by only four (51-47) in the first meeting. The Harvesters almost rallied for the win after being down by as many as 10 points early in the game. Pampa was down by only two points in the final minute.

Canyon used a balanced scoring attack and a height advantage to hold off the Harvesters. Cale Burkes (6-4 senior) and Stephen Bentley (6-3 senior) had 10 and 9 points, respectively, to lead the Eagles.

Lynn Brown (5-8 senior) was Pampa's leading scorer in that contest with 14 points. Jesse Francis (5-9 sophomore) followed with 13.

Pampa's home finale is next Tuesday night against Dumas. Tipoff is 7:30.

Tara and Akebono: The Odd Couple

NAGANO, Japan (AP) — Tara Lipinski knew there would be big moments at her first Olympics — but THIS big?

The tiny U.S. figure skater stared in wonder today as she was encountered the immense Japanese sumo wrestler grand champion Akebono in a staged-for-TV show.

She is 15 and so small — 4-foot-8 and 82 pounds — she almost could be weighed on a postage meter. He's so big — 6-8 and 516 pounds — that he would dwarf any NFL lineman.

"Ahh, it's beauty and the beast," Akebono said as they exchanged flags and smiles in a segment taped for the

CBS-TV show "48 Hours."

Akebono, a native of Hawaii who is the most revered athlete in Japan and will take part in the opening ceremonies, waited patiently for nearly 80 minutes as Lipinski skated at the Olympic practice rink.

Naturally, he got hungry, so he hustled the CBS crew out the door and through the drive-through line at a nearby McDonald's. When he placed an order for 15 hamburgers, the manager came out to explain he needed a car.

When he realized his customer was the best-known athlete in Japan, the order was quickly filled.

When the two athletes finally met in a small room off the rink, a beaming Lipinski, smiling and presented Akebono with an American flag. Even standing on tippy-toes, her head was only stomach-level with Akebono.

"C'mon in, c'mon in," said Akebono, who formerly was known as Chad Rowan. "I've always wanted to meet you."

Lipinski couldn't get over Akebono's size, repeatedly looking up at him, smiling, then shyly dropping her eyes.

Would Lipinski like to be Akebono's size for just a day?

"Uhh, maybe — if I wasn't so-o-o-o big," she said.

Switzer becoming hard coach to replace

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Dallas Cowboys owner Jerry Jones has apparently scrapped his timetable in his search for the man who will be the fourth head coach in the franchise's history.

Jones has been looking for a new head coach since Jan. 9, when Barry Switzer resigned at the end of a 6-10 season.

Earlier, Jones said he expected to hire a coach by "mid-week," but that deadline has passed, and it appears he is no closer to hiring one than he was a week ago. Jones has had a total of seven interviews with three candidates.

Jones now says it could be April or later before he finds one he wants — after the NFL scouting combine and perhaps the draft.

"I don't need to have this done by this week or before the combine or after the combine or before the draft or after the draft," Jones said. "There's no reason to set a time frame and compromise my decision."

The Cowboys will attend the NFL combine in Indianapolis this week without a head coach to judge the college players working out there.

Jones' third interview with former UCLA coach Terry Donahue soured just when it appeared they were on the verge of a deal.

A perplexed Jones now says "the timing is not a problem of mine. We're still going down a lot of roads."

Jones said hiring Donahue remains an option, although he didn't make him a firm offer.

Donahue, a football analyst for

CBS the last two years after a 20-year career at UCLA, said he thinks he still might get the job.

Donahue told CNN-SI: "I'm confident enough to believe I'm the right guy for the Dallas job if the conditions are right." Donahue would not comment when asked if he received an offer.

However, former UCLA coach Pepper Rodgers, a friend of Donahue, told The Dallas Morning News that Jones offered the job on Monday, but talks hit a snag when they got down to details.

"Terry was upset about certain conditions," Rodgers said.

Donahue had a change of heart in 1987 and turned down the Atlanta head coaching job after he accepted it. He said then he didn't think he would get another chance to coach in the NFL.

Former San Francisco coach George Seifert and Green Bay offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis are still on Jones' list, along with a "mystery" candidate, and possibly several college coaches who have yet to be contacted.

Seifert and Lewis have had two visits each with Jones, who also needs to hire an offensive coordinator to replace Ernie Zampese, who has gone to New England.

The team hired Clarence Shelmon from the Seattle Seahawks as running backs coach to replace Joe Brodsky, who left for Chicago.

Jones also extended the contracts of defensive coordinator Dave Campo, linebackers coach Jim Bates, kicking-offensive quality control coach Steve Hoffman, offensive line coach Hudson Houck and secondary coach Mike Zimmer.

"Whoever I name as coach will have some quality assistants to work with," Jones said.

This time is different from Jones' other hirings, when he quickly turned to Jimmy Johnson and Switzer, both friends. In hiring Johnson in 1989, he fired Tom Landry, the only coach the team had in its first 29 seasons.

But the interview process with strangers has been a bumpy ride for the Dallas owner.

"We're not going to lose one first down in 1998 because I waited another three weeks or so to hire a coach," he said.
