Crisis—Veterans of the union labor movement are following the struggle in the steel industry with mixed emotions.

On conditions that privately is cheering the bellies of Rank & File Committee on. They feel that some aggressive leadership is being given the workers after a lapse of too many years.

Another group views the situation with grave misgivings. Their minds turn back to the bloody Homestead strike of 1892 wherein the radical element took charge and public sympathy turned against the steel workers.

The first school of thought raises a cynical eyebrow in the direction of Mike Tiche, veteran president of the Amalgamated Steel and Tin Workers.

Other conservative-minded union card-holders do not see how General Johnson was able to differentiate between Spang and Forbeck on the one hand and Kush on the other.

The riots of the Homestead strike almost assumed proportions of civil war. Radicals took control of the situation away from A. F. of L. leaders.

Many service-stripped union men are praying ardently that 1934 won't witness a repetition of those walk-outs.

Treasury officials remain mute on the possibility of a further devaluation of the dollar, as predicted yesterday in the New York half of this column.

Secretary Morgenthau will say only—and he does it significantly—that "the treasury is operating on a 24-hour basis."

Howard county will pay $100 per month toward the hire of a county home demonstration agent, the balance being paid by the state.

County Judge Debenport, speaking for commissioners' court, said that the court had felt that in hiring a woman agent that it would cooperate in the policy of the national administration toward readjusting and rehabilitating agriculture.

"If there was ever a time we needed a county demonstration agent," he said, "it is now," adding the man and woman agent were complimentary.

Addition of the demonstration would mean only about 60 cents per annum taxes on the owner of a quarter section of average priced land, he said.

Maxie Baer Gives Carnera Terrible Beating

Champ Down Eleven Times

Druggists Lose To Bankers; Oilers Win 19-11.

Italian Begs Referee To Stop Fight In Eleventh Round

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK (AP)—Max Baer snatched the heavyweight championship of the world from Primo Carnera Thursday night.

The fight ended in a technical knockout in the 11th round.

The switch to Baer was so pronounced by the time the "big shots" got into action with their bank rolls around the ring that the challenger was a 5 to 7 shot to upset the huge Italian.

This was one of the most sensational shifts before a big title fight in years and the first since 1927 that a heavyweight challenger assumed the role of favorite.

The potency of the Baer punch apparently was the principal item in the discussion revolving around the belated switch in betting odds, influenced by a flood of money wagered on the Californian's chances of winning. Whereas Carnera has been a fairly consistent favorite, at odds of 7 to 10, for the past week, Baer entered the ring an even choice.

Baer's own flat prediction, confided to everybody, was that he would knock the "big guy for a loop" inside six rounds.

Boxing officials from more than 15 states were in the gathering, together with a score of old-time champions. Two former wearers of the heavyweight crown, Gene Tunney, who retired undefeated in 1926, and Jack Sharkey, who lost it a year ago to Carnera, were on hand.

Other ring-side seat-holders included Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Kermit Roosevelt, Bernard Baruch, Mr. and Mrs. Enzo Piromonte, Vincent Astor, Mrs. Edward McLean of Washington, George M. Cohan, Clark Gable and Babe Ruth.

The third ex-champion to make his appearance was Jack Dempsey, the old man mauler, who was the target for the flashlights as he climbed into a seat right behind the newspaper rows, stuck a cigar in his mouth and looked on with all about him.

Another former sports king, Robert E. Johnson, 32, of Atlanta, had some slight difficulty making his way around the ring-side due to the demands of handshakers.

Tunney took a seat just behind Dempsey and the two former rivals for the heavyweight championship shook hands warmly.

Carnera entered the ring first and waited impatiently for the challenger to arrive.

Eleven times in eleven rounds the massive Italian, biggest man ever to hold the title, crashed to the floor from Baer's blows, twice in the last round, before Referee Arthur Donovan stopped the fight after two minutes and 16 seconds of the 11th amid such chaos and tumult as the ring hasn't seen since 1927. A two-foot time the giant slid to the floor full-length from lost balance in a wild lunge at his foe.

Helpless at the end of the tenth round, when Referee Donovan almost stopped the fight in between two knockdowns, Carnera staggered out for his finish in the 11th, bloody, semi-conscious, but as brave as any man who ever went to so certain a fate.

The entire crowd, losing one sullen, hoarse roar after another that except in waves across the arena, arose for the "kill." Once the sneering Baer half pushed, half battered the champion to the floor, again Carnera went down from a right high to the head, his tree-like legs barely able to hold him up. Donovan rushed in as Baer set himself for the final smash. Though his crushed and swollen lips, the champion's head to the referee.

"Finish, Finish, finish," Donovan wailed in between times, stayed Baer's finishing hand, pushed him back toward his corner, the new heavyweight champion of the world.

Starts to Protest
 Carnera started to protest and his seconds rose wildly about the ring. Then they threw a robe about his battered, bleeding head and led him down the steps toward the end of the trail for the monster man of the ring, the peasant from Squawville, Italy, eight short may sound a bit odd, of course. But it does set forth a course of action which points, most decidedly, in the direction of a successful marriage.

The First National team got fifteen hits and the C. & P. boys thirteen.

Cosden Oilers made a strong come-back Thursday night to drub the Settles hotel soft ball team 19 to 11.

The Settles team led by six runs until the fourth inning, when the pitcher and infielders went hay-wire and the Cosdenites rallied to turn in seven runs.

The game was stopped by rain in the first half of the sixth inning.

The Oilers hold the cellar position in League No. 1, having won only one out of nine games.

 TULSA, Okla.—Effective pitching by Mac Brown and heavy hitting by his teammates, including a home run by Johnny Stoneham, enabled the Tulsa Oilers to easily defeat the San Antonio Missions here Thursday afternoon. The score was 12 to 3.

While Stoneham and the other Oilers were pounding Earl Caldwell and young "Burr" in a 17-hit onslaught, Brown had the hard hitting padre at his mercy. He held them to three hits up to the ninth inning when he let down a bit and permitted them to make three more for a total of six.

former Mackman had yielded seven hits.

INDIANS 11, A'S 7
 PHILADELPHIA—In three big innings, the Cleveland Indians pulled a ball game out of the fire Thursday and administered an 11 to 7 trouncing to the Athletics to even the current series.

The Redmen's rallies were featured by a pair of long home runs lamed out by Hal Trotsky, rookie first baseman—one in the sixth with one on, and the other in the ninth with the sacks loaded.

ORCHIDS TO THE LIVING ARE MOST PRECIOUS

Those people in Shelby, Mich., who eluded together to express their appreciation of the services that a country doctor had rendered them over many years had an idea that would stand a good deal of copying.

Probably you saw the story. The doctor was William L. Griffin, who is 75 now and who, in his 46 years of practice in and around Shelby, has brought something like 3,500 babies into the world.

Furthermore, he didn't stop at that; after bringing these youngsters into the world, he did all that he could do to make the world a pleasanter place for them.

Thus, during the years Dr. Griffin and his wife provided a home and schooling for 52 boys and girls. For decades their house has always been open to young men and women.

Through it all the physician made his regular rounds, following the steady grind of the hard-worked country doctor, despite the fact that he had been left permanently crippled by an accident in 1902.

So, all in all, the doctor deserved the big celebration that several hundred of his grown-up "babies" put on for him.

Now there are men like this in every town, big and little; men of whom it can truly be said that they are the salt of the earth. They see to have been born into the world for no other purpose than to do a lot of hard, unglorious and unglamorous work for other people.

Nearly all of us, at one time or another, have been indebted to some such person.

But usually we just take it all for granted, saying and doing nothing to show our thanks until it is too late. By and by the man dies; and then we loyally send flowers to his funeral and fall in behind his coffin as it goes off to the cemetery, and tell everybody we meet what a fine man he was and how much we owe him.

The interesting thing about this demonstration at Shelby is that the people didn't wait for the funeral. A man like Dr. Griffin never gets much in the way of a material return for his services. He does what he does because of some inner compulsion, some light in his own heart that makes the way of service and self-sacrifice the only possible way for him.

The least we can do, when we know such a man, is to copy these Michigan people and rally round with the flowers and the fine words while he can still enjoy them.

A KISS FOR THE WIFE

Those Oklahoma City husbands who formed a "Husbands' Gratitude Club" seem to have struck upon a pretty sound idea for promoting happy marriages.

Each member took this pledge: "I solemnly pledge myself daily to embrace my wife, kiss her and tell her I love her."

"I promise to compliment her at least once each day on some particular part of the menu she prepares."

"I promise to perform at least one kind and unexpected deed for her daily."

Reducing it all to a formal pledge

SPORT LINES

By Tom Beasley

Well, we have a new heavyweight champion this morning. He was called after that he had spoken from his heart and his courage more than his senses. He was one of the most terribly beaten champions in all heavyweight history, crushed almost as badly as was Jess Willard under Dempsey's iron-thewed fists at Toledo in 1919.

Every time this grinning, derisive, contemptuous Baer, the Livermore ladies' man threw his cobblestone fists into the great hulk of the Italian he all but tore him apart. That the challenger fought in flashes probably accounted for the fact that Carnera lasted as long as he did.

Floored in First
 Three times Carnera was on the floor in the first round and three times more in the second, he slumped down, terribly hurt, but dragging Baer with him as he grabbed his tormentor's arms trying to keep his balance. Again in the third a right to the chin flattened the mammoth.

There were no more knockdowns until the tenth, although Carnera slid full length in his corner in the eighth as his weak legs failed to hold up his lumbering body. But in the tenth, this murderous successor to California's earlier champion, Jim Corbett, Jim Jeffries and Dempsey, cut loose all over again.

Here was a round that for chaos, drama and throat-choking excitement will take rank with some of the most tense in all ring history. Battered, staggering, his huge face a bloody, gargoyle mask, Carnera came out with the same doggedness and courage that marked every step of his hopeless stand. Baer drove him to a corner, sinking both hands so deep to the body of the huge creature that it seemed the muscles should have boomed protest like the hide covering of a base drum.

The dean said "they were unbecoming to future teachers." Director Franklin E. Pierce of the State Department of Education said he "feared the girls might catch poison ivy."

on the champion's jaw and again he writhed his awesome bulk quivering on the canvas.

Chaos
 Fully as frantic as the roaring, maddened crowd, the learning Baer, the howling seconds, the shouting newspapermen who didn't know whether Baer had fouled or not by hitting after the fight might have been already stopped, the harassed Donovan counted four over the prostrate champion before the bell ending the round came to his rescue as well as Carnera's.

Somewhat they got Carnera off the floor and to his corner and frantically they prepared him for the last measure of punishment in the final round. No champion could have lasted harder, anyway.

Exclusive Marylebone Cricket Club Decides To Increase Its Membership From 6,000 To 7,000

LONDON (AP)—The exclusive Marylebone Cricket club has decided, after considering the plight of membership candidates some of whom are as long as 1901, to increase its long ago 6,000 to 7,000.

Consternation reigned in the ranks at the news, but in spite of what consternation would prevail should the famous All-England Lawn Tennis and Croquet club (Wimbledon) make a similarly revolutionary move!

This latter organization, which, by the way, does not at present include croquet among its activities, limits its members to 250, of which only 85 may be women. It has a waiting list of hundreds, some of whom have been waiting since before the World War.

Pros Are Cast Out
 Sometimes years pass without election of a new member. Preference is given to people who have helped the game of tennis, by their eminence as players or through legislation.

One must be proposed and seconded even to get on the waiting list. Wimbledon champions resident abroad are made honorary members, but Bill Tilden, Ellis North Vines and Henri Cochet were struck off the list when they became professionals.

Five guineas entrance fee and a subscription of six guineas a year give members the use of some of the finest courts in the world—but 5,000 pounds won't buy membership privileges if you don't "belong in a big way."

Sir Thomas Made It!
 But the English Jockey club, limited to 60 members, is the real height of exclusiveness. It rules British horse racing and owns the well known race-course and training ground, Newmarket Heath. Although the members of this club are for the most part rich patrons of the turf, money alone will not obtain admittance to the elite circle, who are entertained at dinner by King George at Buckingham Palace on the night of the classic derby race.

Health is not much of a qualification for entry to the Royal Yacht Squadron, either. The late Sir Thomas Lipton, known the world over as the owner of several America's Cup Challengers, was first suggested as a member by King Edward, who died in 1910. Sir Thomas eventually obtained admittance in 1931. One hundred guineas is the entrance fee to this organization, and each member must own a yacht of at least 15 tons.

Johnny Broaca Hurls Spectacular One-Hit Game Thursday

NEW YORK—Johnny Broaca, bespectacled product of Yale, pitched the Yankees back into first place in the American league Thursday with a spectacular one-hit performance against the Browns, 7 to 0.

It was Broaca's first major league victory although he lost a three-hit game to the Athletics Saturday. Sam West made the only hit. St. Louis blew a single in the third.

Babe Ruth got his delayed tenth homer of the season with two on base and drove Paul Andrews out of the box.

The Big Spring Postgraph had recently demanded that citizens bent upon shooting up the town lay aside their firearms, that a public hall be incorporated, a public hall constructed and the streets improved.

47 States Vote For Roosevelt Policies While Bankers Oppose In Literary Digest New Deal Poll

Forty-seven states vote in favor of Roosevelt's acts and policies in 47,373 ballots are tabulated in the fifth report of The Literary Digest's New Deal poll, the returns of which will be published in to-morrow's issue of the magazine.

The president receives 334,904 votes in support of his administration as against 240,569 in opposition. This gives him a majority of 61.09 per cent of the total vote to date, which shows an increase in his popularity of 1.77 per cent over his 1932 election ratio and also an increase in his majority over the previous week's returns of the poll.

Vermont is the only state voting against the Roosevelt policies so far but the poll vote shows an increased sentiment now for the President over the 1932 election ratios he received there.

Twenty-nine states give the President a higher percentage of votes in this poll than they did in the 1932 official election while nineteen states, most of which are in the agricultural regions, give him a smaller ratio than they did eight-months ago.

An "Analysis of How Voters in This Poll Voted in 1932 and How They Vote Now" shows that about 4 out of 5 who voted for Roosevelt in 1932 support his policies now, while more than 1 out of 2 who voted for Hoover mark their ballots now in support of the New Deal.

The heaviest support for the New Deal comes from the southern tier of states which votes an average of over 3 to 1 for the Roosevelt acts and policies.

The industrial centers continue to give the President good majorities. All of New England and New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania return larger ratios for the President in this New Deal poll than they did for him in 1932.

A special balloting conducted among the bankers of the United States upon the same question: "Do You Approve on the Whole the Acts and Policies of Roosevelt's First Year?" shows a majority of "noes."

A special balloting conducted among the bankers of the United States upon the same question: "Do You Approve on the Whole the Acts and Policies of Roosevelt's First Year?" shows a majority of "noes."

Of the 21,320 post-card ballots received from the bankers of forty-seven states to date, 10,045, or 47.12 per cent, vote for the administration, while 11,275, or 52.88 per cent register opposition.

About 1 of every 4 bankers who voted for Roosevelt in 1932 now oppose his acts and policies, while 18.26 per cent of the bankers who voted for Hoover favor the New Deal, as shown by the special poll tabulations.

The southern bankers give a substantial vote for the New Deal, averaging about the same majorities as the popular vote of the poll in the various states.

Another special poll being conducted among leading colleges still in session, in cooperation with their student newspapers, shows a heavy majority vote of approval for the Roosevelt policies among the American undergraduates.

The combined vote from seven universities from which returns are tabulated shows a vote of 5,201 to 3,004, or nearly 3 to 2, in favor of the New Deal.

The ballots, it is stated, have been received so far from Harvard, Yale, Cornell, Brown, University of Virginia, University of Wisconsin and New York University.

Voting in ten other colleges is now being conducted.

"In the fifth report of the main poll, twenty-three hitherto unheard-of states make their first appearance," The Literary Digest will state editorially tomorrow.

"The most impressive entrance is made by California, with 25,356 ballots. Of those ballots 17,564 were cast for the New Deal and 7,792 against—a favorable ratio of 69.27 per cent. In 1932, California gave Roosevelt a 58.41 per cent lead.

ACCUSED LAWYERS FACE ICKES

M. Malm in having sought to blackmail him into obtaining an appointment for Malm as governor of the Virgin Islands. Left to right: Malm, F. J. Karasek, an attorney, and C. W. Larsen, the second lawyer accused. (Associated Press Photo)

"And in the south, Alabama shows up with a 5-1 majority, Georgia 5-1, Louisiana practically 4-1, Mississippi 4-1, South Carolina almost 6-1.

"In the middle west, Kansas returns a New Deal majority of 52.30 per cent, not very far from its 1932 Roosevelt vote of 53.57 per cent. In Iowa and Nebraska, with their farm troubles, the President's ratio has improved a bit.

"Farther west, Utah gives him 70.86 per cent. That silver state gave him 58.52 per cent in 1932.

"Maine provides a real sensation in returning a larger majority for the New Deal, relatively, than Massachusetts or Nebraska. Vermont is isolated in her opposition to the New Deal, with forty-seven sister States against her.

"Pennsylvania returns 55,945 'Yes' votes against 31,443 'No.' Long a Republican state of immense industrial wealth, it remains the leading Roosevelt state in the east—and perhaps in the whole country, all things considered.

"The poll of college students conducted by The Literary Digest in cooperation with seventeen student newspapers continues to show a heavy majority vote of approval for the Roosevelt policies among American undergraduates.

"Prompt returns were stimulated by the excellent work of the undergraduate newspapers cooperating with The Literary Digest. The papers responsible for the return recorded this week include: The Harvard Crimson, the Yale Daily News, the Cornell Sun, the Brown University Herald, the University of Virginia College Topics, the University of Wisconsin Cardinal, and the New York University Heights News. Newspapers Urged To Help Centennial

Higgs Says State Publications Can Put Texas Celebration Over With Aid

DALLAS, (UP)—Texas newspapers were urged to give their aid to the fullest extent to the proposed centennial celebration in 1936 by President R. F. Higgs of the Texas Press Association when he addressed the opening session of the organization's 35th annual convention here Thursday.

"The newspaper can really make the centennial," Higgs said. "We owe it to our state to put it over. A celebration on the proper scale will do wonders to cure some of the economic ills, and the success of the Chicago Century of Progress points the way for this state."

Approximately 400 delegates were registered, and convention officials said more were expected. The convention ends Saturday.

R. L. Thornton, president of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, speaking on "Texas Today," predicted that on the basis of the state's industrial progress the last 20 years Texas will become the New England of the Southwest before many years have passed.

"We buy from outside the state's borders some 80 per cent of things we want and need to buy," Thornton said. "The changing of this percentage is the change that will fast make Texas the great industrial and agricultural leader of the United States."

Galveston was making a strong bid for the next convention of the next convention of the editors. The 1935 convention city will be selected Saturday.

Ferguson Forum Appears Minus Union Label

AUSTIN, (UP)—The Ferguson Forum, weekly publication edited by former governor James E. Ferguson, appeared Thursday without the label of the Allied Printing Trades Council.

Ferguson has long been a supporter of organized labor. A printers' strike at the shop which prints the Ferguson Forum has not been settled.

Striking printers demand five seven-hour days in their work-week. Employers ask six six-hour days for the work-week. Wages are not directly involved in the dispute.

Editor Ferguson used a box statement on page one of the Forum today to explain why the publication was forced to appear without the union label. "Both sides claim that their contention is right. The Forum does not know and has no authority to decide who is right," the statement read in part.

Most Amazing Proof OF EXTRA STRENGTH • SAFETY AND DEPENDABILITY Ever Known!

THE NEW FIRESTONE WORLD RECORD BROKEN! HIGHEST SPEED TIRE FOR 1934

IT IS almost inconceivable that human ingenuity could build tires that would withstand the terrific punishment of the 500-mile grind at Indianapolis, May 30.

"Round and 'round the blistering track they streaked, hour after hour, under the blazing sun . . . the low moan of powerful motors rose to a terrific roar as they hit the straightaways at 150 miles or better—grinding, pulling, pounding around treacherous tire-destroying curves faster than they ever dared before. Sliding into the turns at these terrific speeds, there was nothing to hold the car to the track except the tire.

Mile after mile, lap after lap, greater and greater heat and increased centrifugal force developed to separate the tread from the body of the tire. Every conceivable force known was working to tear the tires to pieces—yet Firestone High Speed Tires, with Gum-Dipped High Stretch Cords, withstood this most grueling test.

Thirty-three demons of speed—thirty-three cars equipped with Firestone High Speed Tires—all protected by Gum-Dipped High Stretch Cords—entered the Annual Speed Classic. Every tire was bought by the driver or owner of the car.

In all the heat—in all the grinding—in all the straining and pulling—not one cotton strand loosened—not one life was endangered by tire failure—not one car was forced out of the race by tire trouble. Six of the winners finished without a tire change.

What a tribute to the Extra Strength—Safety and Durability built into Firestone High Speed Tires.

WHAT THIS MEANS TO YOU

The amazing record of Firestone dependability at Indianapolis was made possible by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping. Every fiber of every cord in every ply of the tire is saturated and coated with pure liquid rubber; there are eight extra pounds of rubber to every 100 pounds of cotton cords.

There is greater adhesion between the plies of the Gum-Dipped Cord body and between the body and the tread. As a result of this patented process of Gum-Dipping Firestone engineers have been able to build a wider tread of flatter contour, with more and tougher rubber and deeper non-skid, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

Don't delay! Call on the Firestone Service Dealer or Service Store in your community today and equip your car with the new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934. Drive with security and peace of mind.

Give Me Meals that are easy to fix Says Mrs. Everywoman.

Menus Of The Day

"Happy the bride the sun shines on"—if she has plenty of recipes just for two. That, at least, is the conclusion of the cooking columnists, who are now being deluged with requests for recipes to use "when two is company." Most of the requests arrive from this year's crop of June newlyweds, but others come from the mothers who find their families reduced to "just mother and dad" with the children gone. Still others are from business girls and even young men! "Dad-cookery" is what one homemaker calls it. In order that this "duel" may be a harmonious one—sung to the strains of "Tea for Two"—a few hints and some tested two-serving recipes are in order here.

Hints on Cooking for Two
If possible, use recipes which serve only two. Most recipes in the standard cook books are of six-serving size. In reducing the amounts of ingredients, it is usually ally more satisfactory to halve them rather than to cut them in thirds, even though servings will then be larger. In cutting down recipes, be careful about the liquid; since evaporation is greater in smaller quantities, you will usually have to use slightly more than half the amount called for in the recipe.

An authority on kitchen equipment stresses the importance of using correctly sized pots and pans, so be sure to choose the small sizes. For instance, batter for a layer cake to serve two will be lost in a large-sized pan and will result in a too shallow cake.

Buying for Two
Almost all manufacturers now pack smaller sizes which are suitable for the family of two. The Number One size cans of fruits and vegetables are best for the family of two, and the smaller size packington's recipe, which requires only four ounces of meat (without waste such as ham, ribs, etc.) to each person, and one-quarter to one-half pound of vegetables (according to the amount of edible portions).

RECIPES WHICH SERVE TWO
Baked Ham Slice
3-4 lb. ham (sliced thick), 2 slices canned pineapple, 3 sweet potatoes (medium), cinnamon, nutmeg, 1-4 cup dark karo, 1-4 cup pineapple juice, 1 tablespoon butter.
Parboil sweet potatoes and remove the skin. Remove the skin and excess fat from the slice of ham and sear it on both sides in a large frying pan. Surround the ham with the sweet potatoes and the slices of pineapple cut in half. Sprinkle the spices over the sweet potatoes, add karo, fruit juice and the butter. Cover closely and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) one-half hour. Remove cover and continue baking, turning the sweet potatoes and pineapple every ten minutes until the meat is tender and the syrup is thick and brown.

*The gingerbread and the ham may be baked at the same time, since they require the same oven temperature. The Washington gingerbread in the menu is made with the new mix based on Mary Washington's recipe, which requires only the addition of water and baking. For the small family, half the package may be used at a time, or half the package may be used for gingerbread and the other half used for cookies for a later meal.

Serve with mayonnaise. Two servings.

CALLS ALL-BRAN NATIONAL NATURAL LAXATIVE
Delicious Cereal Checked His Constipation

Here is an unsolicited letter from Mr. Daniels:
"For many years I have been habitually constipated, and have used all sorts of laxatives. So, in fairness to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, I heartily claim it to be a most wonderful remedy for constipation."

"Need I tell you that I have long since ceased using laxatives? Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the National Natural Laxative. If it were used by every family in the United States for breakfast, we would have a much healthier race of people."—Mr. John Daniels, 1090 Third St., North Bergen, N. J.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines and vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.
The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this food much pleasanter than risking pills and drugs? Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

MURDER AT MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

Chapter 31 A GUN TALKS

In his eagerness Harper bent down to reach the revolver, but Lafferty jerked him back by the collar. "You can't get it that way; you'll lose your balance. We need a rick or a pole."

"I'm not going to wait for that. Here, hold me while I crawl after it." Harper stretched down the slope head first, while Lafferty kept a tight grip on his ankles. Lower and lower he crawled until he picked up the gun by the barrel.

Lafferty promptly heeled him back to safety. Without even bothering to shake the snow from his clothing, Harper stood up and later straightened up and muttered, "Not a mark—curses the look!"

"I didn't expect to find any," Harper commented. "We've got to be content with having recovered the gun and that's something at least. Direct proof of chicanery is what we've needed most in this case."

He picked up the distorted bullet rescued from that dark cavity under the stone steps and held it beside the discharged metal shell. "I'm sure these belong together. If they do, we've got our corroborative in place. It won't be hard to check it up."

"Sure, it's a hundred to one this is the gun. Only one bullet has been broken open the revolver.

"There you are! One empty shell! Jack, this is the real murder gun. Now, if we only knew who hid it up here!"

They hurried downstairs, and Lafferty sprayed the heavy revolver with the insufflator. He tapped the gun with steady strokes of an unopened pocket-knife, to dislodge all loose particles, then bent his tall body over the table as he adjusted the circular lens to the proper height and squinted through the glass at the magnified surfaces.

Sergeant Haper stood beside him, watching closely. But his expression did not reflect the extreme disappointment of Lafferty's as the fired and the calibre looks right. The barrel's fouled, too," Lafferty sniffed at the muzzle opening.

"That certainly was an inspiration, looking in the gutter of the roof. Whoever put it there was a fast thinker, no doubt about that."

"Mrs. Whitmore's chance words gave me the idea. For no particular reason they called up a vision of a window being raised and the gun dangling outside with the string doubled through the trigger guard. At the same time I remember how the eaves projected over the top-floor windows. The gun could be swung higher and higher until it landed very neatly in the gutter overhead and out of reach."

"Free one end of the string, draw it down, close the window and there you have it. The wet section, where it rested in the snow, should have told me that, and I suppose it would have eventually, but Mrs. Whitmore unknowingly jogged up the process."

"Well, if Dufresne did it, we've got to credit him with a smooth working brain. Not many people could think up a good trick like that under sudden pressure. If he hadn't dropped the twine we might still be at sea."

"Just a moment, Jack. We really have no proof that Dufresne hid desperate or an infuriated woman from firing it. That fiasco of mine with Andrews seems to have ended all hope of getting at the ownership of the gun. They all know about it now and they'll deny ever having seen it."

"You can't expect them to give their bow away at this stage of the game. You know how servants are."

"There are two ways of looking at that. These four walls enclose two separate and distinct stages. There is one for the Dufresnes and the Crydens and their friends of the same class. The other stage is for the servants."

Typesetter Able To Set Type In Three Languages

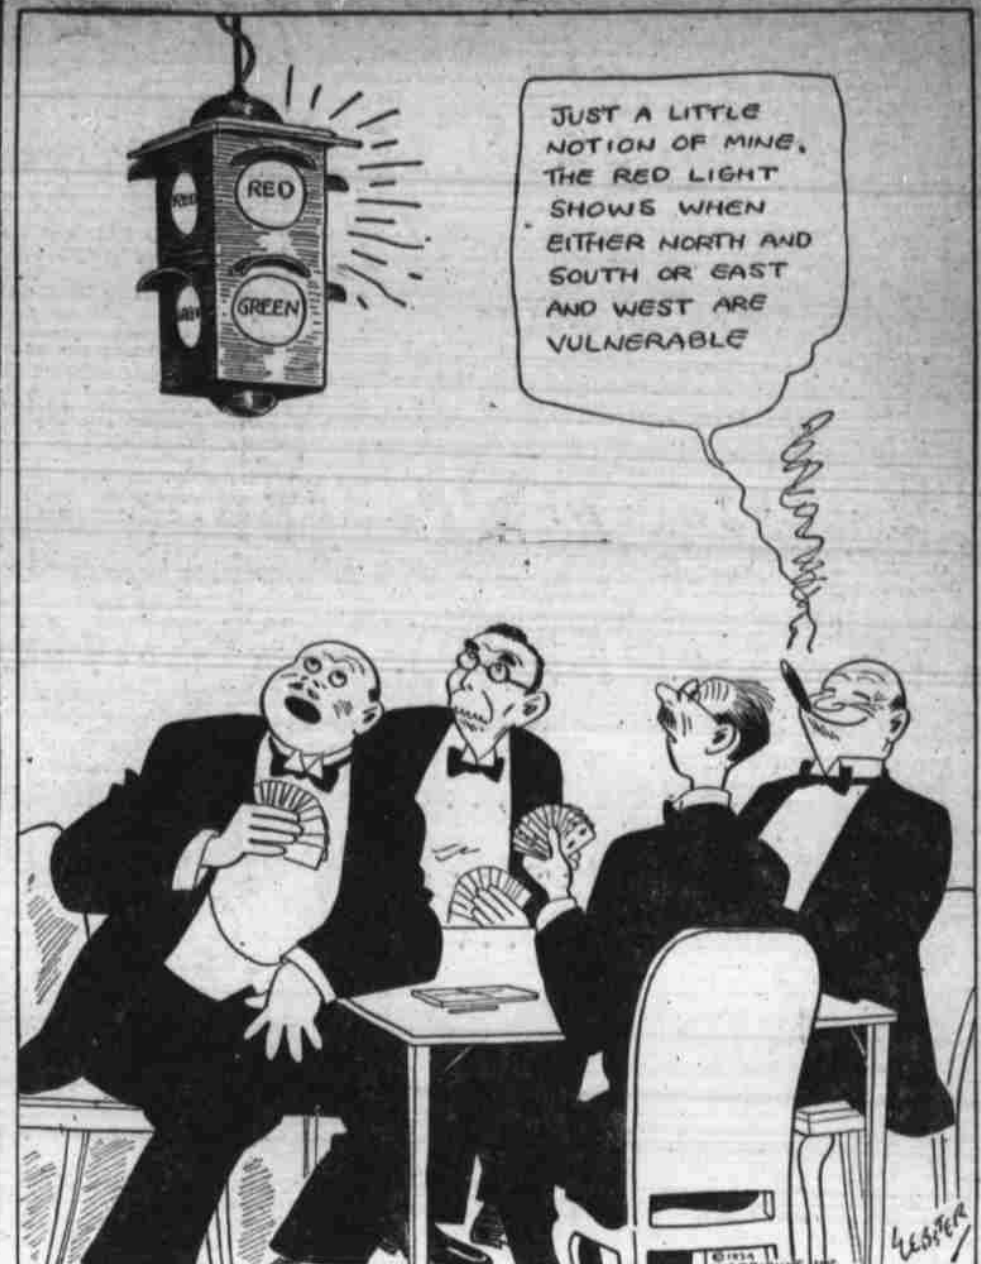

AUSTIN—A typesetter at the University of Texas Press, R. G. Haas, has the distinction of being able to set type in three languages, English, Spanish and German, with equal rapidity. Born in Texas of German parents, Mr. Haas learned to speak and write German. Because of close association with the Mexicans in Texas, he learned Spanish, and at the public schools he learned English. When he started out in the printing trade at the age of fourteen, he learned to set type in all three languages.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

For a number of years one of the unsolved problems in eastern intercollegiate athletic councils has been what to do about the habit of Pacific coast teams in romping off with the I. C. A. A. track and field championship.

The obvious answer at first when it was a novelty to entertain the brawny lads from the west coast, was to build bigger and better track teams to meet the challenge, but the futility of that measure is best shown by the fact only once in the last 14 years has an eastern team been able to outscore the visiting delegations.

Next in the line of suggestions was one that the western members, namely California, Stanford and Southern California, be politely requested to resign and play in their own backyards, so far as the old guard of the I. C. A. A. was concerned. This gained no serious headway, however, for the double reason that the eastern colleges did not want to put themselves in a ridiculous light and the western colleges had no idea of taking the hint.

The fact is that the western teams are welcomed, their prowess admired and all that sort of thing but it is also clear that the existing competitive conditions offer no real chance to determine the best eastern track and field team. Other sections have their own conference meets and then, if they choose, send the winner or a picked group to compete in the National Collegiate. Only in the east it is impossible, as matters now stand, to determine a sectional champion in this particular sport.

Hence the decision now to en-

St. Louis Wins From Boston

Victory Enables Cardinals To Remain in Second Place

ST. LOUIS—Thirty-four hits, including three home runs, a triple and ten doubles rang off the bats of the Cardinals and Braves Thursday as St. Louis won over Boston, 12 to 9. The victory enabled the Cardinals to remain in second place, ahead of the Chicago Cubs.

Frisch, Delaney and Durocher of the Cardinals hit for the circuit, Durocher's coming in the fifth with the bases full.

Washing the windows of the Sky Ride towers, 600 feet above the Chicago World's Fair, is a job so ticklish that not even the professionals applied for it, but Joe Hrab, shown here, was one of the two who finally tackled it. He doesn't seem to mind the dizzy height.

Seven" on the gridiron. Yale, for instance, plays five of the six others in the group this fall, Cornell being the only exception.

By eliminating warm-up or early season set-up games, likewise doing away with the unsatisfactory practice of open dates (such as Cornell has a habit of doing) it would be feasible for all seven to engage in a football round-robin each season and still have room for a couple of intercollegiate contests on an eight-game schedule.

Or they can find plenty of neighboring opposition to fill in the balance of the dates, Cornell by playing Syracuse and maybe Colgate, Yale and Harvard by tackling Brown and Army, Princeton by meeting Rutgers, Columbia by renewing relations with New York university and Pennsylvania by taking on any of its numerous state rivals.

DODGERS 3, PIRATES 2

PITTSBURGH—Sam Leslie's double and Joe Stripp's single in the tenth gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 3 to 2 victory over the Pirates Thursday and handed Van Mungo his ninth mound victory.

GIANTS 3, CINCY 0

CINCINNATI—The league leading New York Giants again ran into difficulties against the last-place Reds Thursday but came out with their third straight victory because of Hal Schumacher's 'jinx' against the Reds. Schumacher gave only four hits and bested Bennie Frey, 3 to 0.

Frey, who was knocked out in the first inning two days ago, did somewhat better Thursday.
