THE NATION'S DROUGHT SITUATION AT A GLANCE

This map, prepared by the United States department of agriculture, gives an indication at a glance of the extent to which ravages of the drought have made themselves felt in almost all parts of the country. Crop losses have been so severe in large farming areas that Secretary Henry A. Wallace has announced there probably will be a lessening of crop restrictions next year.

Woman Opens Fire As Car Is Parked

Member Of Pioneer Baylor County Family Is Being Held

SEYMOUR, Texas (AP)—As a result of a roadside shooting, H. Nichols, 38, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Seymour, was dead Thursday, Miss Ruby Britain, 40, member of a pioneer Baylor county family was in jail charged with murder.

Miss Willie Mae Couch, 19, was under an appearance bond as a material witness. Miss Couch told officers that a few minutes after she and Nichols had parked on a road a few miles from town, another car containing a woman stopped beside theirs and without a word the woman opened fire on Nichols.

ROCK SLIDE CHANGES FACE OF NIAGARA FALLS

The dotted line and black spot below show where hundreds of thousands of pounds of rock broke loose from the "lip" of Niagara Falls on the Canadian side. Accompanied by a deafening roar as the huge chunk of rock slid into the whirlpool below, the break was the second of its kind that has occurred since 1931. Mists obscured the scene and to get this view it was necessary to make this picture from an airplane. (Associated Press Photo)

Police Continue Relentless Efforts To Run Down Clues

DETROIT (AP)—In face of denials that definite "leads" had been found, the entire manpower of three police squads were mobilized Thursday to search close here in the kidnapping of John S. Labatt, millionaire London, Ontario, brewer.

The mobilization was ordered after a prolonged conference of Detroit and Toronto police officials.

TORONTO (AP)—In the forty-eighth hour after the kidnapping of John S. Labatt, wealthy London brewer, passed Thursday, a silence enveloped the hotel room where Hugh Labatt, awaited word of his missing brother. It appeared certain no personal contact had been made between Hugh, who is supposed to have $150,000 ransom with him and the kidnapers.

In early morning telephone conversations, over a period of two hours, he talked three times with the kidnapers. After a third call it was indicated Hugh made a rendezvous with kidnapers for Thursday.

Woman Asked About Death Of Cisco Man

Ranchman Dies In Hospital From Bullet Wound In Top Of Head

CISCO (AP)—A woman seen going into a pasture with R. P. Threest, 67, ranchman, before he was shot and fatally wounded there was questioned Thursday about events leading to his death.

An automobile trailed the couple into the pasture, she said. The woman told police two men got out of the car and robbed her and Threest shortly after they entered the pasture.

She said the men tied her hands behind her and forced her to lie on the ground while they attacked Threest.

The couple entered the pasture Wednesday morning.

Justice of the Peace Wilson and others searched for Threest after the woman reported the attack and robbery. They found him lying on a quilt in the pasture, with a jug of water near by.

There was a pistol bullet wound in the top of his head.

He was brought to a Cisco hospital and died early Thursday. Justice Wilson said murder charges would be filed against the woman.

E. E. Schuman, from the Photo Shop of El Paso, passed through Big Spring Thursday morning en route to El Paso.

WASHINGTON

By George Durso

Clashes

When Henry Morgenthau gave all hired hands of the Treasury Department until September 1 to either sever any political connections or get off the government payroll, he stirred up a heap of resentment among the lads who have been directing the Democratic Party nationally and locally.

In fact word reaches Washington that the Secretary may have a mine or rebellion on his hands before he's through.

Certain of the New Deal cogs in outlying districts have told their friends they intend to continue in their dual federal-political capacities and that Henry will have to like it.

It works this way. The Morgenthau order was directed primarily at Collectors of Internal Revenue and of Customs, many of whom are either national or state Democratic committee members. Some already have resigned their political connections and others have been reported considering quitting the government payroll.

The law prohibits Civil Service employees from meddling around in politics so the Secretary will have no trouble in enforcing his edict among his lesser help. They aren't holding political organization jobs anyhow.

Collectors of revenue and customs however are appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate. Except on specific charges concerning their conduct of office Morgenthau would have trouble in forcibly showing any of them the door.

One eastern Collector of Internal Revenue was approached the other day by his two deputies, both preferred to continue their state political connections.

The Collector, a fiery Irishman, also is chairman of his state committee. He responded in effect: "What? Quit your jobs? It was because of the work our organization did—and the work of similar organizations in other states—that President Roosevelt is in a position today to hand those jobs out. Don't be foolish. I was appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate. Morgenthau will have to prefer charges against me to get me out. I'm going to 'keep right on being state chairman as long as possible. You stick!'"

Howard County Takes Advantage Of Bankhead Act

Howard county is practically unanimous in participation in the Bankhead cotton act.

Every one of the 815 farms now under contract made application and 170 non-contract farms did likewise, a check by County Agent O. P. Griffin showed Thursday.

The application forms were to be sent in Thursday evening in order to get exemption certificates here at the earliest possible moment.

So far as any community committees knew Thursday, every cotton farm in the county which planted any cotton in 1934 was included in the 955 applications.

Only two farms had to be rejected because no cotton was planted in 1934. Neither of these two farms had a furrow run this year.

Griffin said that he believed the total number of applications about covered the number of cotton farms in the county. The 1930 census, based on 1929 figures, showed Howard county to have 1194 farms but any patch of three acres or more was considered as a farm and many of these were not cotton farms.

The allotment for Howard county will be 15,567 bales for this season, said Griffin. In addition there will be another allotment from the 10 per cent state reserve to about 20 per cent of the farms in the county, some to get just a few pounds more and some to get substantial increases.

Non-contract signers had their farms adjusted as much as possible on the same basis as farms of contract signers.

The yield of these non-contract farms were cut 35 per cent to place them on a basis of equality with the contract farmer whose average cut amounted to that much.

Griffin said that he was confident that exemptions would be sent this county on the allotted number of bales as soon as the figures were sent in, but exemptions on additional allotments would be held up for some time.

Exemptions on 15,567 bales will more than care for the cotton crop produced in Howard county this year.

West Texans Seek Extension Of "Shelter Belt" Into This Area

West Texans are drawing lines for a fight to have the proposed "shelter belt" from the Canadian border to the northern border of Texas extended into this section.

Reception of the federal government's proposal to produce a belt of trees from the northern border to the Panhandle has been varied, but West Texans are proceeding with their plans on the assumption that it is going to become a reality and that it is a good thing.

Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech college, has been engaged for several weeks in leading a fight to have the shelter belt extended into West Texas.

Centennial Stressed By Kiwanis Club

John Whitmire In Charge Of Program; James Little Speaks

John Whitmire was in charge of the Tex's Centennial program of the Kiwanis Club at their regular meeting Thursday noon in the Crawford Hotel.

James Little spoke on "The Commercial Value of the Centennial." He said it had been estimated that approximately 20 millions of people would come to Texas for the event and would spend 650 millions of dollars while in Texas. But this, he said, was negligible compared with the commercial value that would be forthcoming in the future from the advertising given the state by the people who had visited the Centennial.

Tom Coffey talked on "The Patriotic Value of the Centennial." He declared that most people looked upon patriotism in its relation to our country more than to their city and to their state. He said that the Centennial would reawaken the people to a sense of patriotism to Texas, and would remind the country of the history of its most colorful state.

Joe Fisher presided over the meeting in the absence of Rance King, president.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Hendricks have as their house guests, Mrs. Elmo Nickell of Hominy, Ok., and Mrs. W. P. Ledford and daughter of Ada, Okla. They plan to visit here for a week.

SPOKANE (AP)—Northwest forest fire conditions continued critical Thursday.

Fanned into fresh activity by a steady breeze which swept flames through dry timber and brush, the Nelson-Selway fire in British Columbia, raged beyond control Thursday, advancing toward the international boundary.

Efforts of fire crews to check flames were futile and a majority of the men were withdrawn. In Trinity Forest, California, 500 men were seeking control of the fire on a three-mile front.

Paraguayans In New Drive

Fighting Begins Again After Lull Lasting For A Month

ABUJON, Paraguay (AP)—A new Paraguayan drive against Bolivian strongholds in Chaco Territory was believed underway Thursday after a month's calm.

An official Paraguayan announcement said its troops had captured Fort Pileucia from Bolivians, killing scores of the defending forces of 1000.

Indications are that Paraguay is preparing to attack Bolivian communications along the Pilcomayo river from Fort Ballivian. Bolivia's last stronghold in Western Chaco and Paraguay's chief objective.

Abilene Bonds Due, Payments Are Not Made

Mayor Says City Financially Unable To Meet Obligations At This Time

ABILENE — Wednesday about $50,000 of Abilene bonds fell due, and the city did not meet any portion of the payment. The no-action was similar to that taken on August 1, when about $7,000 became due.

Failure to pay does not constitute a default, even technically, yet. Under the law the city will have 90 days in which to meet its maturities; and last year Mayor Johnson and the commission took advantage of 60 days of grace before settling all due bonds in full.

August maturities total $58,312.50 of which all but $5,000 is interest. Next month the city will face maturities of $41,025, all but $13,000 being interest. Total of bond obligations to be met in some form or other prior to January 1, next year, is $108,187.50.

Course, Not Decided

Mayor Johnson said yesterday the city commission has not decided how the problem will be met.

"We don't have the money on hand for meeting this month's maturities, and we will be in the same condition as to September's," said the mayor. "Personally, I favor making an alternative offer to the holders of our bonds; that is, to either offer them a cash settlement at market value, which means a discount, or to offer refunding bonds at par, maturing at later dates, with deferred payment certificates covering the interest charges."

Arthur Wilson Brought Back To United States

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Wilson, 29, Cleveland steel chemist, was brought back in irons to the United States from Port of Spain, Trinidad, aboard the liner Pan-America Thursday to answer a charge of murdering Irene DeBolt, 30, near Van Horn, Tex., 2 months ago.

Going under the name of Robert Jones, he sailed as a steward aboard the Canadian national liner Lady Nelson, but was identified later as Wilson.

He admitted the identification as correct Thursday. He will be taken to El Paso Thursday night for trial on charges of murdering Mrs. DeBolt.

Mrs. Tom B. Wood will return to her home in Nowata, Okla. Friday morning. She has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Shine Phillips.

Cotton Carried Over From Last Year To Be Added

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cotton carried over from the last cotton year, ending July 31, is to be added to this year's short crop. It was reported Thursday by the census bureau the crop totaled 7,745,500 bales of lint and 441,211 bales of linters.

BULLETS DO NOT VOTE IN A DEMOCRACY

However great the weakness of democracy may seem in a time of crisis, it is hard to escape the impression that the bloody troubles of Europe today arise in large part because of the denial of democracy.

Austria, swept by the repercussions of an assassination ominous in similarity to that of Franz Ferdinand 20 years ago, is simply the most recent example.

For the underlying cause of such disorders is the fact that ordinary democratic processes have been suspended. Racked and torn by cross-currents of passion, resentment, and despair that have been in the making ever since the war, the central European peoples have but with guns.

Germany furnished an object lesson a few weeks ago.

Discontent with the Nazi policies were working out came to a head and demanded expression. No peaceful means of expression was possible.

Men could not argue their cause; they could not propagandize by means of newspapers and magazines; they could not look forward to a chance to use ballots. The

REFINERS WIN LOOP TILT 4 TO 2

By HANK HART
 The Cosden Lab ten shoved the Carter Knee Action team farther into the second division Wednesday when they administered a sound drubbing to the Carterites by the score of 4-2.

Taking an early lead off Pop Payne, the Cosdenites repelled the opponent's threat during the last inning to come out on top.

Many Subs
 Both teams used several substitutes during the game, the Carterites borrowing Homer Hart, Harve Krauss, and Martin, who has played for every team in both leagues at one time or other.

Martin Gets Good Hit
 Martin contributed a good lick in the fourth that sent the Cosdenites into a three to one lead which they never lost.

Payne came through with the only real offensive blow for the Knee Action boys when he blasted a mighty triple along the right field foul line in the third frame.

machine guns and the revolver became their only recourse—and so, inevitably, the government had to use the same implements in replying to them.

Now it is Austria's turn and the same kind of thing happens. Instead of a political campaign, with speeches, pamphlets, advertisements and so on, there must be a "putsch," with bombs, gunfire, assassinations, and all the rest. There is no other possible outlet for discontent.

One does not need to look at these tragic happenings very long to get a new realization of the inestimable value of democracy.

Democracy has its weaknesses, to be sure—great and glaring, some of them, for which we often pay a heavy price.

But it does provide a safety valve for public discontent. It does make it possible for people to get rid of a government, a party or a policy which they do not like, in peaceful and orderly way. It lets every man have his say about the state of affairs about him; it makes the appeal to force unnecessary.

We need to keep this constantly in mind. There are people in this country who profess an admiration for dictatorship—whether proletarian, Fascist, or whatnot—on the ground that democracy is inefficient and unwieldy.

One look at the woes of Germany and Austria is enough to show that democracy's benefits are almost infinitely greater than its drawbacks.

NEW YORK—The Yankees ended Detroit's 14-game winning streak and reduced the Tigers' American league lead to 5 1-2 games Wednesday as they won the third game of their "crucial" series 8 to 2 behind the fine pitching of Johnny Broaca.

The "freshman" right hander from Yale granted ten hits but he scattered them so effectively that the Tigers were blanked in every inning but the sixth. Alfred Underscores Charge Made By Maury Hughes That Hunter Is Running On 'Dry-Wet' Platform

DECATUR—James V. Alfred underscored the charge made by Maury Hughes before the first primary that Tom Hunter, Alfred's running opponent for governor, "is running dry in the English language and wet in the Bohemian."

Alfred read a telegram stating that in a recent issue of a Bohemian paper published at Hallettsville, Hunter's campaign manager said he had known Hunter personally for the past 20 years, and that the "rumor" that Hunter was a prohibitionist was false.

The telegram also stated that the campaign manager had said that if Hunter was a prohibitionist, the campaign would not support him. Attorney General Alfred also produced copies of a circular, supported by affidavit, which was distributed just prior to a Hunter rally at New Braunfels the night before the first primary election. The circular read: "Hunter is not dry, but is for repeal."

Alfred declared it to be another example of Hunter's "demagoguery" of posing as the people's lobbyist while he supported a sales tax to further burden the masses, of posing as the champion of the people while he actually supported the program of major oil companies.

"Both of us are for prohibition," said Alfred, "but I have told where I stand. Hunter says he is for prohibition, but won't tell where he stands. Prohibition repeal is not an issue in this campaign, but demagoguery is."

"The people don't want a man for governor who pussyfoots and runs dry in one section and wet in another. That is not the only reason Tom Hunter is pussyfooting provision of quiet compliance that does not comport with and an alert air of intensity in harmony with her tremendous energy. Her boys are studious, happy and individualistic. Their father's penchant for big game hunting appeals to them, as to little Helen, who recently posed proudly for pictures, standing beside a gun twice her height and between two big deer brought in from a hunting trip.

Maybe to White House

The oil business in some of its phases, such as technician or geologist and its general phases of a business administration, so far seem to have appealed to both the boys more than law, the first love of their father; yet both, just going through college, have the decision of their life work before them.

Whether the outcome of a political race calls Mrs. Hunter to preside over the family home in Wichita Falls, or the governor's mansion in Austin, she will bring to which ever it may be a cultured poise and tact, the atmosphere of happy, normal family life the fine traditions of Texas hospitality. In the political race two years ago, Mrs. Hunter shared the defeat without bitterness or any visible evidence of disappointment; equally on July 28, she shared with her husband and her family the substantial victory of a place in the run-off without evidence of elation. The fine sportsmanship displayed in arduous big game hunting both in failure of a hard day's stalk, or in the triumph of a magnificent trophy, is an everyday part of the life of this Texas woman. In the plain simplicity of a girlnood home in North Texas. In the struggles of early married life as her husband gradually gained his flight for eminence and financial independence and in the years of pleasant home and family comradeship, she has come to know the common trials, experiences, aspirations and ideals of everyday Texans, to sympathize in and share them.

Mrs. Tom Hunter One Of Chief Directors In Husband's Race

By RAYMOND BROOKS

Bride of an obscure 24-year-old lawyer two decades ago, the former Miss Vera Scott of Wichita Falls is now one of the chief campaign directors and workers in the race of her husband, Tom Hunter, for governor of his native state.

Bearing a family of three, church work, big game hunting with her husband and campaigning in his behalf for his first public office have been the four transcendents of Mrs. Hunter's life. Just now, as Wichita Falls women's chairman of the Hunter forces, as a constant speaker before women's groups, as a person of steady office hours in the Hunter state campaign headquarters, Mrs. Hunter is intensely engrossed in the business of politics. It is a business that suits her temperament, one in which she finds happiness and an outlet of abounding energy and strong purpose.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends and we feel the decay coming out of our mouths and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us slumpy, grumpy and no good for anything. What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 plates of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated, and 3% of our food decays in our 25 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath, that we don't and we feel like a whipped ham, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "sometimes better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which honors teeth, erases and seals the rectum on many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—35¢. ©1934, C.M.C.

MONTGOMERY WARD

SPITE MARRIAGE

by Katharine Harland Taylor

Chapter 35 THE BLOW

It was early in March that Bob Powers' life started. As the result of almost superhuman pressure, he forced himself free to go two days before he had thought he could do it and packing.

Packing made him rather absurdly tremulous. Once and again he paused to stare blankly at the most familiar objects: a military hatch, a comb, some such unromantic thing.

Then he would pull himself, with a hard jerk, from that which he viewed as "mooning," to go on... shirts collars, he must not forget to open and to empty the bottom drawer that had turned to a safe during one week of hard rains. Less than six days of travel and he would see his mother, Marsha.

Bartholomew would open the door to him; perhaps his mother would wait his coming in the drawing room, perhaps Marsha would be in the hall.

Or perhaps because of his mother and the game they played for her, Marsha would meet him at the station. He hoped, feverently, that he wouldn't go to pieces to show her how much she still mattered, and to give her hint of the fact that she would always matter. He did not want to bother her in any way.

Young Todd, idle that day because of a touch of the fever that makes nomad cautious, wandered in to say, "Packing?"

Bob laughed. "Might think so," he rejoined, "but in reality, I'm first fishing."

"Dammed funny aren't you?" quizzed Todd. But he was not affronted. It was good to see old Bob coming back to his old self. Bob had been one of the most light-hearted of the crew before his marriage.

"Guess you'll hate to see your sister?" asked Todd.

"Great headache," Bob agreed. Todd realized he had been wrong about it; he saw Bob's eyes brighten and a flush creep under his tan.

"In a her, don't you?" ventured young Todd.

"Suppose you mind your business, you navy brat," said Bob. He added, as he stepped on a bulging suitcase in order to close it. "And suppose you're full of hog, I'd have stationed him at the front door just in order to tell you that I was not at home. Is that clear?"

Todd admitted it was; he grinned, leaving. As he gained the open he saw Vicente disappearing into the gulch and, he waited. "No one's little racer," he murmured, as Vicente kicked his mile into following the twisting, rising path.

"Letters, you top-earned, unwashed son of a razor back hog?" asked Todd, who tried to be witty, five minutes later.

Vicente held forth a telegram, addressed to Bob. Todd hoped it did not contain bad news. "How fearful that would be!" he murmured, coming back to himself and to nature's expression. He plucked at a bangtail as he looked nervously toward Alexander's and Powers' shack which Vicente had entered in his usual slow way.

Vicente came out. There was no stir from the shack; no slightest noise came from it to liven the jungle silence.

Todd moved, stealthily, toward the open door. And this time a wish to help, not curiosity, took him. At the doorway, he looked in to decide that it must have been bad news, very bad news.

Powers was sitting, slumped by the table, head dropped upon his arms and shoulders moving. There was a brand at his feet. It scurried through crushed papers, darted across the room; up the wall, Todd said a cramped, muted, "Powers!" But Bob didn't answer and Todd backed away.

Bob sat up, squared his shoulders, he never knew how much in awe with looking Marsha as he moved. Then again he read the word that told him that the feeble flame in his mother's weary body had gone out; the message was signed, "Marsha Powers."

He would return now to arrange with Marsha Powers for their divorce, not to pretend for his mother with looking Marsha as he moved. He was thinking too much of that, he said leadenly and aloud.

He realized then, as he stared at a calendar the leaf two months old that he had never once dreamed he would not see his mother again. Marsha had signed it "Love, Marsha Powers."

What an odd thing, a mind when shocked, it went on as it pleased, turning abruptly from one thought to another that seemed unrelated.

It had not—his falling to see his mother again—seemed possible. She had so looked forward to his coming, Marsha had written, because the doctor had felt she would live months, and probably beyond the stretch of that specified year.

And he would never see her again; his mother, a curious, flat fact it was, that numbed him. He had been whittling as Vicente came in, and thinking of Marsha. And then Vicente had come in to say something in his low-class Spanish of telegrams and Bob's heart had dropped. And only after, a real effort could he open the wire. "About to feel so," he had reasoned at that moment. But it had not been "about to feel so." Love, Marsha Powers! she was, whatever else she was, kind. She had been wonderful all through, and square writing him of having had to speak with Geoffrey and of how she regretted it and that it would not happen again. The most doubting soul would have believed her; that line and her promise.

Then came a dull, long interval in which he did the usual things that one does living. He ate; he responded to the sympathy of his crew. They were very kind, he reminded himself constantly, in order that he might remember to tell them so and to thank them.

TO SEND MIDGET BALLOON ALOFT

Dr. Arthur H. Compton (left), University of Chicago physicist, and Prof. J. H. Benada of Lahore, India, are shown inspecting the instruments of a new type of midget stratosphere balloon which they plan to send aloft, unpowered. From reactions of its instruments, relayed by radio, they hope to learn more about the stratosphere. (Associated Press Photo) combination of misery and happiness which, since that day, had been close, but beyond the reach of his arms, no matter how close. Would she sleep in the next room, as she had? Or go forward to the lavender or the blue-guest room?

He hoped she would stay. It seemed to him that that would rather finish the affair for his mother. If she stayed no one could say, "It was only a week after the funeral that she went off; left him!" And so she would drag the little Victorian lady into the mess.

He realized as he neared New York, that he was afraid of the house, and all that its changed aspect would force upon him. He was so certain that it would be different that he was surprised by the presence of small fir trees, which had graced the brown stone steps for so many winters as he could remember.

He fumbled a bit with his keys and before he could find the right one the door was opened by Bartholomew, who, as his eyes blimmed, offered a choked greeting. Then Bob, raising his eyes, saw Marsha hurrying down the stair and toward him.

Big Spring Women Return From Abilene

ABILENE — Mrs. Marvin K. House, Mrs. Shins Phillips, Mrs. M. H. Bennett, Mrs. Yvonne Robb and Mrs. Phillip's sister, Mrs. Thomas Wood of Nowata, Oklahoma, returned late Wednesday to Big Spring after a two-day visit here with Mrs. House's sister, Mrs. Bernard Hanks, a visit made gay with a series of "in honor" affairs.

Mrs. Carolyn Godwin, Mrs. Mary B. Mize and Mrs. Russell Sanford were hostesses Wednesday afternoon to honor the Big Spring group, entertaining with a theatre party at the Paramount, where "Dr. Monica" is being shown, with Kay Francis in the starring role.

Mrs. Roscoe F. St. John was hostess at 7 o'clock for a smartly appointed luncheon in the Abilene club at Hotel Wooten to honor the five visitors, adding Mrs. Lee F. Signor and Mrs. Hanks to the luncheon list to make up a party of eight. Flowers in a riot of colors graced the board where a dainty summer menu was served.

Suit Filed To Clear Up Land Title

Suit was filed in 70th district court Thursday asking that a contract be cancelled and the title on 40 acres of land be cleared.

Plaintiffs in the litigation were H. Noble and Willard R. Read, West Texas Royalty Syndicate and Kessler Petroleum Corporation of Fort Worth. Defendants named were W. A. Sudderth, R. L. Norris, J. E. Norris, and the State National Bank of Big Spring.

The suit charged that the defendants had failed to carry out their part of a drilling contract and thus the contract, under terms of an agreement, was terminated. Damages of $2,000 and costs were also asked.

Red Cross Board In Morning Meet

The executive board of the American Red Cross, held a breakfast in the Settles Hotel Thursday morning in order to discuss financial matters and other problems that have arisen. Dr. Hardy presided over the meeting. Walton Morrison, chairman of the Life Saving Committee, gave a very interesting report.

A committee composed of Shine Phillips, Mrs. V. O. Hennen and J. F. Hall offered a plan whereby a home hygiene course could be offered this year to Senior girls in Big Spring High school. The committee will submit this idea to the school board soon, where it will be discussed and decided upon.

Plans Made For New Ball League

Softball team managers failed to get together Wednesday night and President Jess Hall said that another meeting would not be called until the race has been narrowed down to the play-off.

The league schedules will be completed next week, and plans are already underway to organize another league of about six teams and make out a new schedule for about six weeks or two months.

Abilene Bonds

"We don't have any idea who holds these bonds, and won't know until the holders present their claims for payment to our depository, the Farmers & Merchants bank of Abilene. As the holders make themselves known, we will be ready to send them a complete financial statement of the city."

Not Ready to Borrow

But in any case, added the mayor, the city cannot at this time meet its present maturities, with the hard cash dollar for dollar, without borrowing from the banks; and the commission is not yet ready to adopt that course.

Heretofore the city has met all of its bond maturities in full. Its present difficulties were fully aired in a meeting of a citizens advisory committee August 1, and again at a taxpayers general conference August 2, both of those groups recommending that taxable valuations be reduced by 30 per cent and the tax rate raised to $2.50 the legal limit, regardless of bond maturities beyond the city's present capacity to pay. The commission took that action.

Abilene city bonds have sold as low as 61 1/2; the city itself buying some at that price, but present offerings range from 80 to 85. No visible reaction downward apparently has resulted—yet—from the city's decision to immediately pass on its bond payments.

Bids For Concessions At Cowboys' Reunion Are To Be Received

Sealed bids on concessions at the Cowboys' Reunion to be held in Big Spring September 3 and 4 will be received by Ira Driver, R. V. Middleton or M. M. Edwards. Bids will be accepted only on the following prices for merchandise: snow cones, cold (soft) drinks, ice cream, 5c; balloons, whips, etc., 10c; hamburgers, 10c; chewing gum, popcorn and peanuts 6c. All bids must be in by August 22, 1934 and will be opened on August 22, 1934.

The committee reserves the right to reject any and all bids. All who desire to bid for concessions at the reunion are urged to have bids in by August 22, 1934. Bids must be addressed to Ira L. Driver, State National Bank; R. V. Middleton, First National Bank; or M. M. Edwards office in State National Bank building.

Mrs. J. T. Rogers and daughter, Frances, returned Tuesday night from a trip to El Paso and also points in New Mexico.

Barbecue Planned For Golf Winners

The golf team headed by Mrs. G. E. Phillips is making plans to entertain Shirley Robbins, team winner in the recent Country Club golf contests, with a barbecue at the Country Club about 7:30 Tuesday evening.

Officials pointed out, however, that definite arrangements could not be made until all players pay their qualifying fee.

Cattle Buying Status Same; Plant Closed

Yards Being Cleared; Agent Anticipates Resumption Of Buying

Cattle buying is still in its 100 per day stage so far as Howard county is concerned.

Only stuff suited for consumption in the local federal meat cannery is being bought in addition to cattle condemned.

County Administrator R. H. McNew said he had received no orders to start shipping of cattle again and until such an order is received, there will be no extensive purchasing of cattle.

McNew did receive notice to clear the yards here to relieve congestion and the job was completed Thursday.

County Agent O. P. Griffin said he believed buying would probably start again Monday. His office was preparing Thursday to make out an appraiser and inspector's route for Monday to anticipate of an order authorizing McNew to ship more cattle.

Meanwhile, Griffin said that the appraiser and inspector would call on farms where a request had been voiced. In making such a request at this time, Griffin said that the inspector and appraiser would take all stuff suited to cannery consumption and condemned meats, but that the person receiving the special call would forfeit his place on the regular schedule.

The canning plant remained closed Thursday while the chilled meat supply was being replenished. Indications were that operations would be resumed Friday morning.

Commissioners Consider Budget

A lone reporter was the only person attending the public hearing on the proposed budget for Howard county for 1935.

Commissioners were unvisited as they plodded religiously through the entire budget asking questions about the various items. Judge H. R. Debenport, who prepared the budget, presided over the commissioners' court and explained his estimates.

At noon study of the budget had not been completed and it was expected that no final action on the budget would be taken until Thursday afternoon.

An unusually small number were on hand when a hearing was held on the city budget this year. The county budget calls for a tax rate out of 15 cents to make the rate 50 cents for 1934 taxes.

Inspects Buildings For "Flying Ants"

A. B. Richards of Memphis, Tenn., is in Big Spring inspecting buildings for termites.

Termites, more familiarly known as flying ants, wreak great damage to many structures before their presence is noted. These creatures are able to completely undermine foundations and will consume supporting timbers in buildings, leaving only a shell.

Among the places already inspected by Richards is the Tom Good home and the municipal building. He will inspect others free of charge, it was learned at the city hall Thursday. He is with the E. L. Bruce company of Memphis.

Crash Injures Stanton Man

Cars Collide Head On At Intersection Of Old And New Roads

(Special To The Herald)

STANTON—T. C. Haeten, Stanton, received painful injuries Wednesday afternoon in an automobile collision within the city limits.

The car in which Haeten was riding crashed with one driven by tourists on an outing to Carlsbad Caverns.

The wreck occurred at the intersection of the old and new highways near the school in the west part of Stanton. The cars crashed almost head on.

Haeten's injuries, although painful, were said not to be serious. He was being treated in Stanton.

Occupants of the other car received only scratches and bruises. Sheriff Milt Yater of Stanton said the crash appeared to be unavoidable.

'Army' Makes Appeal Here

Annual Solicitation For Funds In Howard Co. To Be Made Friday

The annual appeal for funds to carry on the work of the Salvation Army in this section and in Texas will begin here Friday with W. D. Pedigo of Dallas, campaigner, in charge.

The Salvation Army is a non-sectarian Christian organization, giving its services to the destitute and neglected, regardless of denominational leanings. And they do a service not reached by any other organization.

Part of the work that was carried on in this division during the past year included feeding meals to 467,000 transients, giving clothing to 5,990 transients and employment was found for some 2,000 men and women. Two hundred unfortunate girls were cared for in the maternity homes and hospitals.

The appeal which will be made in for the entire year and any other canvass will be without authority from the organization, it was said.

Cattle-Moving Loans Available

Emergency loans to farmers and stockmen in the emergency drought areas to pay the cost of moving live stock to new pastures and range lands from the recently appropriated drought relief fund are available through the emergency crop and feed loan office, it was announced Thursday. Application may now be filed with the local committee in the county in which stock are located.

The announcement states that the loans for transporting live stock will be made only for the purpose of moving animals to and from pastures and ranges to avoid drought conditions and not for the purpose of paying the costs of transportation or pasturage on live stock which are on the way to terminal markets.

The money loaned to pay transportation costs will be limited to a maximum not exceeding $3 per head for farm cattle, $1.50 for range cattle, $4 for farm work stock, $2 for saddle horses, 50 cents for sheep and 35 cents for goats. These respective maximum allowances for transportation are the same as the maximum base rates now being allowed to purchase feed for livestock for one month.

Where the live stock moved from drought areas to new pastures or range are to be returned, the allowance for transportation must cover the costs both ways; and farmers and stockmen who obtain such loans are urged to utilize the greatly reduced freight rates on live stock shipments which are now in effect.

In addition to the allowance for transportation, loans may also be made to pay the costs of pasture or range rent, not to exceed 50 cents per head per month for any class of live stock for which a base rate is allowed under the regulations.

According to the announcement, the loans may be made for the purpose of moving live stock to new pasture or range lands outside the emergency drought areas or to transport animals within the emergency areas.

The advances for transportation and pasturage are available through out the emergency drought areas which now covers 233 counties in Texas, 27 in New Mexico and 11 in Arizona.

Members of the V. F. W. auxiliary and their families will have a basket picnic at the city park Saturday at 3 o'clock. All members are urged to attend.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pop... Vigor... Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with low freemont bladder passages with weary aching evening burning and discomfort, the 15 miles of kidney tubes need washing out. They need a signal may be the beginning of serious backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, numbness, swelling feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty a point every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. They want a doctor's prescription... which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called kidney cures that claim to do you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Buy only a doctor's prescription... the old reliable that contains no "drugs" or "harsh" drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934. Foster-McMillan Co.

NONE OF US CAN DODGE THE ISSUE

We all have to play the game. In the game of life, like other games, team work counts for success.

It should be simple for our people to recognize the proven facts. It takes profits to employ people. People must be employed profitably before we might even hope for economic security. If we are cheap buyers, we must of necessity sell cheap when the table turns.

Let's do a little team work along the fair practice line and watch old Big Spring grow bigger and better.

A hot race is due in the Texas interscholastic league football circle again this fall. The campaign looks about like it did at the start last year but much can happen by November as shown last fall.

Manager Ivey of the Carter Chevrolet soft ball outfit is planning to organize a first and second team so that all players may get to see some action.

It's at least a month or two yet until the sting of fall but we just can't get football out of our mind. Bristow, Brown and Moffett have a goodly array of letter men to work with. However, letter men mean very little to us, for frequently players rate letters one season that are entirely unworthy the following year. Too many times the glory of winning a letter goes directly to the athlete's head. He sometimes forgets that he attained his letter by virtue of hard work and by his struggle convinced those in charge of athletics that he had his heart and body devoted to that particular sport.

Such has been the case in Big Spring High athletics for several years. Jealousy was rampant last year and training was practically nil. One couldn't say it was the coaches fault, because it wasn't at least not directly. The boys that reached the point where they were a moral degradation to the squad should have been ousted in a hurry. The players that argue with the coaches over trivial matters gradually undermine the spirit of harmony so essential to a winning football team. The sad part about the whole matter is that most of the players in question have potentialities of developing into star players.

Perhaps one little sermon won't do any good, but it's true just the same. And Big Spring High athletics will never prosper until those matters are eliminated.

The Herald Type Lice are almost afraid to play a return game with the Humble softball team at Foran. The Humble boys played here Tuesday night, and pounded the big 14-inch ball into the dark time after time. The Newbies are wondering what will happen when they connect with the small 12-inch ball—the regulation pellet in the Foran league.

Church Of Christ Revival To Close With Tonight's Service

The service tonight at the Church of Christ open air gospel meeting will bring to a close these series of services that have continued for the past 12 days. Good crowds have attended every service; and today, the minister, Melvin J. Wise, expressed the appreciation of his congregation to the public for the splendid crowds that attended this revival. Wednesday night a fine audience heard the sermon "The Day of Judgement". The minister, used for his text II Pet. 3:10: "But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth and the works that are therein shall be burned up."

The speaker said in part: "The day of judgment should mean something to every accountable human being. On that last great day man will not be judged in the aggregate—that is, collectively, but each one by himself and for himself. —II Cor. 5:10. Sometimes man can serve by proxy for a friend on special occasions, but upon that great day, every man must answer for himself."

"Peter calls the judgment 'the day of the Lord'. And why? Because Christ will be the judge on that day. John 5:22, I Cor. 4:4, II Tim. 4:1. It is the day that Christ shall demonstrate His power and justice in saving the righteous and punishing the wicked."

"Next, Peter says the day of the Lord 'will come'. He did not say that it might come, but he emphatically said that it will inevitably come. This is no dream, it is a great coming fact. This is a profound truth taught throughout the Word of God."

"Peter next says that the day of the Lord will come 'as a thief in the night'. That is unexpectedly, unawares. The thief does not send word stating when he will come. Neither has Christ revealed in His Word just when He will come. 'But of that day and that hour knoweth no man; not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father'—Mk. 13:32. In the very face of this passage some re-

Galveston Bucs Take Ninth Straight To Keep Even With Santone

FORT WORTH — Galveston's rollicking Pirates came from behind twice Wednesday night to defeat Fort Worth, 9 to 3. Their triumph in the opening contest of the three games series was the Pirates' ninth straight and kept them moving along in an even race with the San Antonio Missions for first place.

The five run attack was started off Claude Jonnard, who started for the Cats and continued at the expense of Dick Whitworth, his successor.

INDIANS 2, SHIPPERS 1
OKLAHOMA CITY — The Oklahoma City Indians, holders of a long-term lease on the Texas league cellar, rose up Wednesday night and swatted a 2 to 1 victory from the Beaumont Exporters. Kennedy went the route for the Indians, allowing only four hits.

MISSIONS 2, DALLAS 1

Southpaw Fred Stely finished for the Steers and was hit for three blows.
