FISHERS CATCH UNBELIEVABLY BIG STING RAY

Eyes Of Monster Are As Big As Coffee Cups

GALVESTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Capture of a giant sting ray here ended a long quest off Offat's bayou by big game fishermen seeking a mysterious sea monster that for months had made nocturnal raids on fish and fishing tackle near an island camp.

Jodie Sedgwick, who had been after the monster for months for stealing fish, landed the huge fish with the aid of two fishing companions, W. L. Cooper and Leslie Van Dyke. The sting ray measured four and a half feet and weighed about 150 pounds. From flap to flap it measured 42 inches, and 54 inches from stem to stem.

Always, the fish struck late at night. The camp of Louis Defferari on Anderson Ways became haunted by the water giant, and soon became a nightly rendezvous for big game fishermen.

One fisherman hooked the huge fish once, but it broke away. After hauling the ray into shallow water, the fishermen dropped big stones on the monster to end his career. They cut off a stinger seven inches long from his tail. The fish's eyes were as big as coffee cups.

Sedgwick breathed a sigh of relief at the thought his two friends had been with him at the time of the capture.

"I was afraid," he said, "that no one would believe it."

FASCIST-JAPAN UNION HINTED BY ITALIANS

AN ALIGNMENT AGAINST COMMUNISM IS SUGGESTED

ROME, Oct. 26 (AP)—A tripartite against communism—including Italy, Germany and Japan—was hinted today in the newspaper Giornale d'Italia by the authoritative commentator, Virginia Gayda. "Against communism Fascist Italy and national socialist Germany have decisively reared up in the name of European and world collaboration," Gayda wrote. "We are glad to note that Japan also adheres to these positions owing to a similarity of views and purposes."

Gayda, often described as "the unofficial spokesman of the fascist government," said this about Japan: "Japan is the advanced sentiment of a living, constructive civilization in the Pacific which sustains an open fight for the defense of the entire Asiatic continent against the corruptions of communism."

"Japan also left Geneva (the League of Nations) owing to the incomprehension of the league in vital problem in Manchoukuo which was equal to the incomprehension in the Italian problem in Ethiopia."

Italy and Germany, Gayda asserted, will not be influenced by "savage provocations in the so-called non-intervention committee in London."

Rather, the writer declared, the two totalitarian powers will "repel them by every means if they go beyond the limits of gratuitous denunciations and paper propaganda."

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 26, (AP)—A man identified as J. A. McPherson, 45-year old Chicago advertising man, and his 10-year old daughter, Joan, hurled to their deaths from the twelfth floor of a hotel (Plaza) this morning. Witnesses said the young girl's body struck the street head first at the Villa street entrance of the hotel at about 9:10 a. m. Bystanders rushed to the girl's body. Fully three minutes later the man's body came hurtling to the ground and the crowd scattered screaming.

McPherson and the girl registered at the hotel Saturday night. He identified himself to hotel employes as a Chicago advertising man and said he and his daughter had been held up and robbed of their baggage and money near Roosevelt, Texas. He said he expected to receive some money Monday morning.

Meanwhile San Antonio police revealed Monday morning they had received a wire from John J. McCarthy, chief of police at St. Louis, asking that a man named McPherson and his daughter be arrested in connection with disappearance of a driverless automobile there September 26.

Deliberalization Of Pension Law Is Recommended

Drastic Changes In Law Urged By Committee

AUSTIN, Oct. 25 (AP)—A conference committee recommended drastic deliberalization of the old age assistance law in a report to the legislature today.

The report with the recommendation laid the basis for what was expected to be one of the bitterest controversies in years over legislation, and was made as the legislature met for the final two days of a special session.

Specifically, it was a report on an omnibus tax bill which attempted to reconcile differences between the Senate and the House on a wide variety of levies for old age pensions, the new financing of which was a purpose of the session.

Although the contents of the report had been known generally, copies were grabbed and read hastily by members, interested in the exact provisions and wording of both deliberalization and tax sections.

The first section declared: "It is recognized by the legislature that it is impracticable to pay benefits to persons over 65 years of age, except those who are in necessitous circumstances; in order that the needy aged may be cared for, it is necessary that the state

TRIAL OF SAM DUNN STARTS BEFORE JURY

LAST WEEK FOR TRIAL OF CRIMINAL CASES BEGINS

Last criminal jury week of 1936 opened in district court today as Judge W. R. Ewing returned to the bench after a week at the Texas Centennial in Dallas and Fort Worth.

Trial of Sam G. Dunn, charged with keeping a gambling place, drew attention of the court, and attorneys began selecting a jury shortly before noon today. It was expected the jury would be seated and testimony would begin by mid-afternoon.

Dunn was charged several weeks ago by the county grand jury. He was indicted jointly with L. G. Deuran for keeping a gambling place at the Belvedere night club at the edge of Pampa. Deuran, after two trials in district court, was acquitted of the charge.

Gambling charges still are pending against Bryan Combs, J. D. and Cal White, all indicted similarly by the same grand jury. These cases are expected to go to trial at conclusion of the Dunn hearing.

The September court term will end with non-jury activities next week, Judge Ewing announced today. The court will be adjourned then until the first week in January.

MRS. SIMPSON TO BE AWARDED DIVORCE TODAY

Criminal Cases Are Disposed Of By Justice

IPSWICH, Eng., Oct. 26 (AP)—Justice Sir John Anthony Hawke hustled through a roster of criminal cases at Ipswich Assizes today cutting short Mrs. Wallis Simpson's wait for freedom from her ship's broker husband.

Only one of the criminal cases which must be disposed of before the list of divorces is heard remained to be finished at the noon adjournment.

With this completed, the court will start on the civil cause list. Two cases were listed on this docket ahead of the Simpson divorce, which heads seven undefended actions.

The svelte, dark-eyed friend of King Edward waited anxiously and in seclusion for Mr. Justice Hawke to reach her case. Crowds stood expectantly around the grim, tower-flanked entrance of the old Ipswich courthouse, each eager for a glimpse of the sleek-haired American woman who name has been linked with that of Great Britain's 42-year old bachelor monarch in a thousand rumors, reports, and fragments of "inside information."

The whole case was expected to be over within ten minutes.

Then, if the decree nisi were granted, Mrs. Simpson would enter a six-months "probation" period under the technical scrutiny of a king's proctor before the divorce would be made absolute.

TEXAS' CONSERVATION LAW QUESTIONED IN ARGUMENTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26, (AP)—Two cases involving constitutionality of the Wagner labor relations act were added today by the Supreme Court to the list of new deal litigation awaiting a final decision.

In a brief announcement, the tribunal agreed to pass on challenges of the legislation filed by the Associated Press and by the Washington, Virginia and Maryland Coach company.

The act was sustained by lower courts in both controversies.

The statute guarantees collective bargaining to labor and sets up a national labor relations board to settle industrial disputes.

In acting on approximately 30 appeals, the court also refused to speed up a final ruling on a petition by Illinois Communists to compel state officials to place the names of the Communist candidates for president and vice president on the ballot for the November 3 election.

Seven cases involving new deal legislation already were under review by the court. No decision or any of these disputes is likely before December or January.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Henderson company, operator of a gasoline manufacturing plant at Sanford, Tex., was granted a Supreme Court review today in its effort to escape compliance with provisions of a Texas law designed to limit waste of natural gas resources.

The high court consented to review a decision of a three-judge federal court in Texas, which ruled against the company in its application for a permanent injunction against enforcement of certain provisions of the law.

The company contended an order, which classified its waste as "sweet" and "sour" prohibited the use of "sweet" gas in the manufacture of carbon black, would result in the loss of a carbon black contract with the Combined Carbon company and would be "tantamount to the taking of property without due process."

HOUSTON, Oct. 26, (AP)—Frank Whitaker, 32, field man for the Texas company, was arrested today on a technical fugitive complaint based on a charge of kidnaping his 7-year old son in Atlanta, Ga., last week.

Federal agents arrested him at his office and the complaint filed before U. S. Commissioner W. F. Carothers charged him with "fleeing Atlanta for the purpose of avoiding prosecution on a state kidnaping charge."

When Whitaker was taken before the commissioner for arraignment he said he hadn't realized when he took his son he was committing any crime.

"My wife and I have been separated since 1933," he said, "and the custody of our son has never been legally determined. I have had him most of the time and he has been with my wife some."

Whitaker told the commissioner he went to Atlanta two weeks ago on his vacation and to see his son.

HOW OFTEN CAN YOU KISS AND MAKE UP?

FEW husbands can understand why a wife should turn from a pleasant companion into a shrew for one whole week in every month.

You can say "I'm sorry" and kiss and make up easier before marriage than after. If you're wise and if you want to hold your husband, you won't be a three-quarter wife.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood, 2. Preparing for motherhood, 3. Approaching "middle age."

ARMY BOMBER CRASHES AND KILLS FLIERS

VIRGINIA FIELD SHIPS FALL IN NORTH-EAST TEXAS

BRYAN'S MILL, Oct. 26 (AP)—The wreckage of a twin-motored bomber was studied today by army officers as they sought the cause of a crash near here which cost two fliers their lives.

The aviators were tentatively identified as Captain Charles Howard and Corporal Edward Gibson of Langley Field, Va. Their bodies, burned beyond recognition, were removed to Shreveport, La., by planes from Barksdale Field.

Major B. B. Thompson, commander of Hensley Field, army airport at Dallas, said he was certain Captain Howard was pilot of the plane. A key ring and papers found on the other body bore Gibson's name.

The bomber crashed and exploded on the Wallace Stewart farm near this northeast Texas community yesterday during a heavy rain. Residents of nearby Naples said the plane flew low over that place a short time before the crash. They said the motors sounded as if they were sputtering.

Major Thompson said a plane similar to the one which crashed left Dallas at noon on route for Langley Field with Captain Howard as pilot.

The captain had been in Dallas for a visit with his fiancée, Miss Lorraine Sanders, to whom he was to have been married Nov. 5. Members of Miss Sanders' family said Howard had planned to fly to his headquarters at Langley field for a few days and then return by plane for the wedding.

Howard had been flying for nearly 20 years and was considered one of the best pilots in the air service. He won national acclaim by "bombing" the Navajo Indians with food in February, 1924, when a severe blizzard left the tribe in destitute circumstances. He was a graduate of the University of Arizona.

A wallet containing pilot's license No. 210043, issued to Edward Gibson, 96th Bombardment Squadron, Langley Field, was found near the wreckage.

Patrol pilot killed in Wichita mountains.

ARDMORE, Okla., Oct. 26 (AP)—Frank E. Ormsbee, 44, patrol pilot for the bureau of air commerce, lay dead today at an Ardmore funeral home, his body crushed by a terrific airplane crash in dense weather Saturday night 16 miles northwest of here.

Directed to the spot in the Arbuckle mountains where a farm boy found the wreckage yesterday, searchers saw parts of the plane strewn 200 yards. They had to cut away part of the twisted fuselage to remove the body. They said a wing apparently struck a rocky ledge. The ship's clock stopped at 6:52.

Ormsbee's voice asking flying information was last heard late Saturday by the airways radio station at Ardmore. He was flying from Tulsa to Fort Worth but he told the station he would try to land at Ardmore, then only 15 miles away.

The farm boy who found the plane told his mother, who called the Ardmore airport. Shortly afterward a pilot of one of the planes sent out by L. C. Elliott, manager of the Fort Worth air navigation division, glimpsed the ship.

Ormsbee inspected airline lights and plane accidents.

RECORD VOTE IN U. S. FORESEEN IN A. P. POLL

Registration Figures Surpass Those Of 1932

By PAUL WEIR

(Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—An analysis of the large registration increases being reported in virtually every section indicated today a possible record presidential vote of about 45,473,000. The 1932 vote was slightly below 40,000,000.

Eligible voters may approximate equivalent vote four years ago with the actual vote cast showed from 15 to 20 per cent of those qualified did not vote. In some states of the normally democratic south the figure ran as high as 50 per cent. This was considered in the analysis.

States primarily used as a basis for the Associated Press compilation were California, Montana, New Jersey, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Georgia, Maryland, Nevada and Washington. These are among the few reporting official lists before the election. In each place, averaging a 16 per cent increase to date.

The state of President Roosevelt and Governor Landon are among the many where record votes appear indicated. As against less than 4,574,000 in 1932, the New York total may run over 5,300,000. Some Kansas officials have estimated an 800,000 total there this year; but application of the national averages to that state, where interest is reported abnormally high—raised it to a possible 892,000. The last presidential vote in Kansas was 791,978.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS

BY WILL H. MAYES.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquiries must give their names and addresses, but these inquiries will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. When was the first Mission San Caba built and by whom? R. T. W. A. Mission San Caba, near the present town of Menard, was composed of two missions south of San Caba river and a presidio, or fort, on the north bank. It was built by Catholic Spaniards in 1757 for civilizing, and converting the Apaches. The buildings were destroyed by Comanches, March 16, 1758, and the two priests in charge, Fathers Terreros and Santestevan, were killed.

Q. What part of Texas was once known as the "Brasada"? B. H. A. The "Brasada," or "Brush Country," was the section between Nueces and the Rio Grand, so-called because of the almost impenetrable brush. Because of the boundary dispute, it was claimed by both Texans and Mexicans and no efforts were made to enforce laws by either, the result being that it became the rendezvous of the worst characters and law-breakers of both countries.

Q. I was interested in the tradition recently given as to the introduction of the Bluebonnet in Texas. Isn't there also an Indian legend in regard to it? G. D. A. The Indian legend is that in a time of great drought and suffering, the Indians assembled to appease the god of rain and were told that to bring rain each must sacrifice his most precious possession as a burnt offering, the ashes to be scattered to the winds. The little daughter of a great chief owned a buckskin doll with headpiece of brilliant bird feathers, which she prized above all things. She went at midnight to the top of a nearby mountain, burned her beloved doll and scattered the ashes. The next morning the mountain and sides were covered with beautiful flowers the colors of her doll's bonnet, which soon spread throughout the land of the Indian tribe.

"TEXAS EMPIRE BUILDERS OF '36"

Every man, woman and child in Texas should know the principal events of the momentous period of Texas history from March 1 to April 21, 1936—events that changed the shape and the destiny of the United States.

The facts essential to this understanding are briefly set forth in a 32 page booklet entitled "Texas Empire Builders of '36," selling at the stirring price which all Texans, native and adopted, are celebrating in 1936.

The booklet will be mailed postpaid for 10 cents. Send all orders to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Tex.

FIVE NEGRO CONVICTS ESCAPE FROM TRUCK

HOUSTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—The taste of an afternoon's freedom was too much for five Texas convicts and they sought to prolong it by escaping from a prison truck as it rolled through downtown Houston.

The break was shortlived for two, however, but the others, one in stripes, lost themselves in the traffic as guards and county officers pursued them.

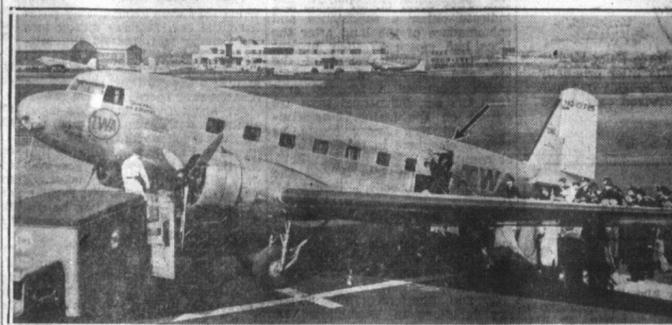

They made their daring break by knocking out the top of an improvised wooden cage as they were being returned to the Retrieve farm with 33 other prisoners after a Sunday afternoon trip to Huntsville to see a prison rodeo.

Clifton Davis and W. L. Mershon were re-captured a few minutes after the break. A close watch is being maintained by officers in this section for Lonnie Jackson, Noble Guthrie and Floyd Seay, all long-termers. Jackson was serving two 99-year sentences.

ROOSEVELT SON FLAYS LONDON'S SCHOOL RECORD

'Proves' Education Has Suffered In Kansas

BOSTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—James Roosevelt, eldest son of the president, claimed today the state of Kansas permitted a system to exist which denied the opportunity of education to many children.

Young Roosevelt made the assertion in a broadcast speech last night as a reply to Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas, Republican presidential nominee, who declared last Friday "utterly untrue" and "malicious" charges had been made against the Kansas school system by a member of the president's "immediate family."

Earlier Roosevelt had said he would "absolutely prove" in his address previous remarks he had made about the Kansas school system.

Roosevelt, in his address, quoted W. T. Markham, superintendent of public instruction for the state of Kansas, as writing U. S. Senator George McGill (D) of Kansas last Feb. 27 and saying "there were 444 school districts in Kansas that made provisions for sending their pupils to other districts and did not open schools at all."

He quoted "another famed educator, William McAndrew" as saying "I cannot pump up my enthusiasm for anything that the Republican candidate has done for education in his own state of Kansas. He has been the principal factor in keeping the school system at a low standard."

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 26 (AP)—A descendant of Huntington's first Mayor awaited questioning by police today about the murder of his 63-year old mother, whose will directed that he receive a $300 a month income for life.

He is Charles Buffington Baldwin, 41-year old lawyer and former coal operator, formally charged with murder in a warrant issued by a justice of the peace.

JUGGERNAUT OF WAR CRUSHES ALL IN PATH

To read of Belgium's recent proclamation of neutrality is to be reminded once more of the desperate plight of people who have to live in the middle of a great highway for armies.

The people of Belgium might be the greatest pacifists, the most pronounced lovers of peace, in all the world; nevertheless they would have to live under the constant shadow of war.

Belgium is one of those supremely unfortunate countries which may, at any minute, be forced into a war with which it had nothing whatever to do.

In the late spring of 1914 the people of Belgium should have been as well able to look forward to continued peace as any people on earth.

All this, as you can remember, did them no good. They simply stood in the way of the juggernaut, and the war was unloaded on their doorstep.

What has happened now is just another valiant attempt on the part of the Belgians to keep that sort of thing from occurring again.

By renouncing the alliance with France, they may disengage themselves from the conflicting rivalries of Europe; yet, if Germany and France go to war again, and the Germans display a canny reluctance to butt their heads against the iron line of French forts, it is all too likely that Belgium once more will find herself a corridor for the passage of armies.

It is a tragic situation; and, in a sense, it is a symbol of the situation in which all the people of Europe find themselves these days.

The thing they dread the most—war, with all that it means in the way of suffering and pain and loss—hangs over their heads, but there by force which, as individual citizens, they are almost powerless to change.

It may come and it may not come—from day to day they cannot tell—but there is very little they can do to prevent it, for they live on a continent in which an infinitely tangled web of rivalries, hatred, fears, wrongs, and suspicions certainly must produce war sooner or later.

Like the Belgians, they live in the path of the juggernaut. Can any American look at their plight without breathing a devout prayer of thanksgiving for the supreme good fortune which puts him in a land able to decide for itself whether it is to have continued peace?

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

DETROIT.—Michigan, where the Black Legion has flourished and where most of the automobiles are produced, seemed slightly better than an even Republican bet before Landon and Roosevelt came campaigning into the state.

Memory of tremendous crowds which greeted Roosevelt in Detroit and other cities has colored all subsequent guesswork. A reorientation of political judgment has led to many private predictions of a Roosevelt victory and has persuaded nearly everyone that Michigan is just another of those large and very doubtful states which Landon must carry to be elected.

Despite a record of political independence and a singular freedom from boss rule, Michigan has gone for a Democratic presidential candidate but twice since Lincoln's time.

Roosevelt took her 19 electoral votes by a plurality of 132,000 in 1932, but there has been a back-swing—especially in rural areas and small towns—and in the Democratic landslide year of 1934 Republicans elected Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald by 84,000.

If Landon loses the state by a small margin, he can blame a state organization which sacrificed him to its candidate for governor, a bandwagon psychology arising from the unprecedented ovations given Roosevelt, or Landon's own course on his Michigan visit.

Republican billboards are plastered over the state, but they say so much more about Fitzgerald than Landon that Chairman John Hamilton is said to have protested.

Republic speaking, Landon seemed to come to Detroit as the candidate of the automobile manufacturers and Roosevelt came as the candidate of the automobile workers. There just happen to be a lot more workers than manufacturers.

The president, according to political experts on pro-Landon newspapers in Detroit, scored heavily by patting the former on the back and mildly panning the latter.

Top men in the automobile industry greeted the governor. But the worst thing that happened to him, one is informed, was his endorsement by Henry Ford.

Ford's labor policies are unpopular in Detroit. The Republican candidate was met by a few hundred persons at the train and, with a bad weather break, pulled only from 8,000 to 14,000 people—estimates vary—for a big speech in a ball park which can hold 44,000. He did much better upstate, but even at Lansing the pro-Landon newspapers say the Roosevelt crowd of 35,000 was twice as large as the Kansans'.

Police estimates of Roosevelt crowds seem almost fantastic—450,000 to 500,000 in Detroit, 150,000 in Flint, as many in Grand Rapids, and 25,000 to 30,000 at minor stops.

All this may not be decisively important, but it explains why some of the most seasoned political observers are betting on "Roosevelt by 50,000."

On the other hand, this is one state where Roosevelt is definitely menaced by the Coughlin-Lemke vote. If Lemke polls anywhere between 5 and 10 per cent of the total vote, the state is more than likely to go for Landon.

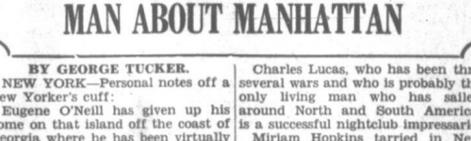

The rural and small town vote usually just about balances the big urban vote, making Michigan a tough state

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

BY GEORGE TUCKER. NEW YORK.—Personal notes off a New Yorker's cuff:

Eugene O'Neill has given up his home on that island off the coast of Georgia which he has been virtually a recluse for several years.

Boasting of the wild pig, bear, stag, and grouse that fell before his gun this year, Lauritz Melchior, nightingale of Metropolitan Wagnerian stars, came back to Manhattan after months of roaming the vast hunting estates of Europe.

HOW'S your HEALTH

DRYDOCKS FOR HUMANS. Fatigue is probably the single most important factor contributing to the development of disease.

But comparatively few appreciate the noxious effect of chronic fatigue, so picturesquely described by the expression "run down."

Such individuals need a "drydock" where they may lay up for a while and be put in trim.

The modern health resort is not designed to care for the sick. Such individuals can best be taken care of in a hospital.

What does the health resort offer? Perhaps most important is the escape from one's ordinary and frequently taxing surroundings.

It is hard to rest while all the world rolls busily by. But the tempo of the health resort encourages leisurely activity and easy resting.

Exercise, too, is provided by the regimen of the well run health resort, and is limited to life needs and capacities of each individual case.

But best of all is the new outlook on life that one can gain at the modern health resort.

On the other hand, this is one state where Roosevelt is definitely menaced by the Coughlin-Lemke vote.

The rural and small town vote usually just about balances the big urban vote, making Michigan a tough state

The Wrong Murderer

By HUGH CLEVELY

Chapter Six HOME AGAIN

Almost in the same movement the man dropped sideways to the ground as she up one foot in lightning kick at Mahony's pistol.

"At him 'all of you!' he shouted the trick did not work. Mahony had seen it before. He did not look back over his shoulder.

Then he leaned slightly forward from the waist and brought the barrel of his pistol crashing down on his second opponent's head.

His voice was curt and business-like. No one doubted that he meant exactly what he said. No one else moved. Mahony bent forward, seized the brown monk by the collar, and kicked him up to his feet.

"Turn round. Stand with your backs to me," he ordered sharply. "They obeyed."

"Now walk away from me. If any man tries to turn or takes his hands down before he reaches the end of the yard, I shall drop him," he said.

They walked away for him. When they were about twenty paces from the car, Mahony sprang into the driving seat, pressed the self-starter, and let in the clutch.

He reversed the car neatly out of the yard into the roadway, engaged the first forward speed, and was off.

For about five minutes he drove aimlessly away from the yard, not minding much where he went. Then he stopped the car and climbed into the back to look at Elsa. Her eyes were still closed, but her breathing was even and her pulse was regular.

There was, however, no room in it for servants to sleep in, and the cook and parlor-maid the Littles covered had rooms out. The before when the telephone rang shortly after midnight, Mr. Little had to get up and answer it himself.

"Is Elsa there?" he asked. "Elsa?" Little was astonished.

"No, of course not. She's at the Albert Hall, isn't she?" "No, apparently she isn't," answered Lawson. "Look here, I'm coming along to see you right away; there's something funny about this. When you've heard what I have to say you must decide whether to call in the police."

Ten minutes later he arrived at the house. His usual appearance of smiling good humor had left him; he had a worried, agitated look. Mr. Little showed him into the study.

"What is all this?" he asked. "Who's Elsa?" Lawson made a gesture of bewilderment.

"That's the whole point; where is she?" he replied. "She was missing at midnight when the film stars were introduced, and we've searched the whole Albert Hall for her and find her. The representatives of her company are furious about it. But she knew perfectly well she had to be there at midnight; I can't imagine she would be missing purely."

"I don't like it," he went on. "Mull-gave says that the last he saw of her she was being carried off by a party of black monks. He thought it was just a rag, but he's not so sure now. You see, we've tried to find those black monks, and we can't find them either. Of course, it may be just a rag, but as I say, I don't like it. With all these kidnaping letters."

"Kidnaping?" Mr. Little's face was utterly horror-stricken. His large eyes, always rather prominent, bulged quite alarmingly.

"But... you can't mean... you don't suggest that my niece has been kidnaped?"

A look of slightly amused contempt came into Lawson's eyes. Evidently this stupid old sahib was under the impression that his own relatives ought, by some mysterious law of Nature, to be immune from family, giving special attention to costs and nutrition. It contains daily and weekly menus for families of limited means, families with extremely meager resources, as well as families with sufficient income to have more choice in spending. the attentions of low-caste people like kidnapers.

"I don't know what has happened," he said. "That's why I came along—to consult you about the advisability of calling the police. Whether Elsa's been kidnaped or not, I think she ought to be found at once."

"But this... this is outrageous," exclaimed Mr. Little. "Of course we must ring up the police. What a fool I was not to listen to young Ross' warning."

"Ross' warning!" echoed Lawson in a startled tone. "What do you mean?"

"Why, he warned me that somebody was planning to kidnap Elsa—somebody I trusted implicitly," answered Mr. Little. "He wouldn't tell me who it was. Naturally I didn't believe him. I shall ring up the police at once."

He went to the telephone and raised the receiver. Lawson stood still, watching him bring his lip slightly. So Ross had been blabbing. Luckily he hadn't told Little very much. But had he told Mahony anything?

In answer to Mr. Little's call, he was told that a policeman would be sent to the house right away. As he was replacing the receiver the front door bell rang.

The two men looked at one another. The same thought was in both their minds; who could this be. Lawson licked his lips, which suddenly felt dry.

"I should answer it," he said. "Perhaps it's Elsa."

GALVESTON-HOUSTON INTERURBAN SERVICE WILL BE DISCONTINUED

HOUSTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—On a December day 25 years ago, Young W. G. Baggett conducted the first interurban train to run between Houston and Galveston.

Nov. 1, aging W. G. Baggett, now superintendent of the Electric Railway company, will ride the last train to run between the cities.

For a quarter of a century, Baggett's life was centered around the interurban service and he says it won't be easy to settle down to the job of taking care of the buses that will replace the interurban cars.

"It's sort of like losing both arms," the graying superintendent says.

"Inadequate business," is the cause given by the company for discontinuance of the interurban service which was not interrupted except by weather conditions since Baggett ran the first car over the line.

Baggett, the only man to remain with the company the life of the Houston-Galveston service, advanced through the ranks—from conductor to dispatcher, from chief dispatcher to superintendent.

His life on "the fastest terminal-to-terminal service in the country" was not uneventful.

Aug. 15, 1915, when a severe tropical storm lashed Galveston, Baggett was conductor on the last train leaving the island city before communication with the mainland was severed.

"We left Galveston about 1:30 in the afternoon," Baggett recalls. "A strong wind was blowing from the northwest toward the center of the storm, but the real trouble hadn't hit Galveston."

"We left the island carrying every passenger we could cram into that three-car train and they had all sorts of household stuff—and dogs and cats and chickens under their arms."

"When we reached the Texas City Junction, just north of the causeway, about as many more were waiting. I stopped the train and told them I had a load. The people in the cars opened the windows and all the Texas City crowd climbed through the windows with their livestock and baggage."

"The train was so full I couldn't get into the cars and I know I never collected any of the fares from Texas City."

"At League City we met the car from Houston, the one that was on the causeway when the big bridge crumbled. W. O. Treadwell, the conductor, was killed that night, along with some passengers, when the hotel at Virginia Point where they had taken cover, was blown down and washed away."

"We finally made Houston and I started back with another train. I got as far as Genoa, 30 miles and had to stop because the wires and the causeway had blown down. The storm destroyed miles of track."

In the 25 years of interurban service the cars traveled about 26,789,000 miles with passengers and express, Baggett estimates.

He says no passenger was killed in an accident on the line.

The interurban line has the distinction of being the only one in the country with an oil well on its right-of-way. A well in the South Houston field is on the right-of-way.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—All the funny stories that are supposed to happen in Hollywood, have happened, at one time or another, to Mischa Auer. And this new find among comedians is a good subject. He can take it.

For instance, he relates gleefully: "I spend seven years studying to perfect myself as an actor. I work at time, expression, speech—eleven years. And how do I get recognition at last? How? I do a monkey act—I make faces—I swing from chandeliers and climb gates! Is that a kick?"

Comedian—To His Surprise The "monkey act" was in "My Man Godfrey," since which picture the erstwhile gangland type has become, to his amazement and amusement, a comedian. He is delighted. As Bill Powell told him, "Forget about the Academy awards, Mischa—just make 'em laugh and you're set." Mischa is making 'em laugh. His "silly" heavy-lidded eyes, his distinctly foreign appearance. But does he act like that? No, he fools you. He's a smart hombre with a

Night Teams Are Unbeaten, Untied In Schoolboy Race

Amarillo Heads List Of League's Leaders

DALLAS, Oct. 26. (AP)—Texas interscholastic league football teams prepared today for traditional battles and prospective climaxes down a fading October trail of starting upsets.

Night teams remained unbeaten and untied but the spotlight of interest did not rest on that achievement. The battle for district honors takes the center of the stage as the teams drive toward November's crucial struggles and turkey day classics.

Conference games of the past week served to establish definite favorites in practically every district but several contests, postponed because of the weather, have distinct bearings on championships.

Poly and Paschal, two of the Fort Worth leaders, clash tonight. They called off their game last week rather than get mixed up in something resembling water polo.

Thomas Jefferson, one of the teams favored in the San Antonio district, plays San Antonio Tech tonight in a game postponed from last week.

The crucial Dallas Tech-North Dallas game in district eight was rearranged for November 7 and Woodrow Wilson and Forest will meet November 6.

Marshall and Kilgore of district nine also postponed their game until today.

Amarillo, North Side (Port Worth), Dallas Tech, North Dallas, Hillsboro, Kerrville, Corpus Christi and Edinburg remained in the undefeated class over the week-end. Amarillo beat Port Arthur, unscathed on until meeting the Golden Sandies, 21-10; North Side downed the Mississippi champions, Kosciusko high, 18-0; Dallas Tech, North Dallas, Hillsboro and Edinburg were idle; Kerrville beat Trefugio 40-6 and Corpus Christi won over San Jacinto of Houston 6-0.

Unbeaten but tied are Olney, Breckenridge, Longview, Temple and San Benito, Austin (El Paso), Paris and Palestine fell from unbeaten, untied class last week, Austin losing to Glass (Houston), 20-0, and Palestine defeated by Gainesville 38-0 and Lufkin 26-7.

Ted Carpenter complains that Ray (Buz) Buivid, captain of the Marquette football team, is not getting his due in the way of national recognition. Carpenter writes: "Buivid is really the greatest of them all (especially when it comes to passing), but Marquette is not a tough spot geographically to get him across. Not being in any conference, we usually have to travel to all members of the Big Ten (no matter how bad some of their teams may be) and to Notre Dame when it comes to getting space in the newspapers. But I am confident that you will be hearing plenty of Buivid before the season is over."

The Marquette publicity offices have a natural in the husky athlete, but not quite the headline sensation they envisioned when Ray broke loose as a sophomore and announced he was "a Macedonian, a descendant of Alexander the Great and my father is a missionary to Siam!" It seems that this small-town boy, sorely beset by interviewers who confused him, took the advice of a jocular friend and concocted that fantastic story about his background. As a matter of fact, Buivid is a Lithuanian and his father is a tavern-keeper in the little fishing town of Port Washington, 23 miles north of Milwaukee on Lake Michigan.

Buivid's coach, Frank Murray, now in his fifteenth year at Marquette, wouldn't trade him for any other varsity back now in the game. Buivid might well be the answer to any coach's prayer for the ideal halfback. Twenty-one years old, six feet tall and weighing 190 pounds, he is exceptionally fast and shifty; a vicious blocker, a hard tackler, a great runner and pace-changer and, above all, a sensational passer.

Kilgore of Alabama beat Mississippi State with an 83-yard run from a fake punt formation. Florida was beaten by South Carolina when Hinson reeled off a 63-yard run that ended over the Florida goal line. Texas beat Oklahoma on a 55-yard pass and Michigan State beat Carnegie Tech with a toss that carried about half the length of the gridiron. Pittsburgh beat Ohio State on Stebbins' 35-yard run to pay dirt.

NORTH CAROLINA ACE IS TOUCHDOWN LEADER

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—While an injury kept Bob Davis, Kentucky's touchdown ace, on the sidelines as the Wildcats played Florida Saturday, a new national gridiron scoring leader bobbed up in Len Wilson of the high-scoring Appalachian state team of North Carolina.

Wilson collected two touchdowns in a 27-0 victory over South Georgia teachers to go one point ahead of Davis in the scoring race.

Records of the leading individual scorers in leading groups or conferences follow:

CHICAGO BEARS LEAD PROFESSIONAL LEAGUE

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Chicago Bears are doing quite a job of dominating the National Professional football league's western section race but there's an altogether different picture today in the league's eastern division.

While the Bears topped the western section with six victories and no defeats, the New York Giants had taken first place in the eastern loop away from Pittsburgh. The Giants beat Philadelphia 21 to 17 yesterday as Pittsburgh was losing to Green Bay, 42 to 10.

The Giants, trailing 17 to 14 with less than three minutes to play, won on a touchdown by Richards after a pass was ruled complete on the Eagle 15 because of interference.

New York has won 3, lost 2 and tied 1. Pittsburgh has won 4 and lost three.

WILDCATS ARE FILING CLAWS FOR GOPHERS

PITTSBURGH, FORDHAM WILL TANGLE ON SATURDAY

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Gathering force as it goes along, the football hurricane strikes at Evanston and New York this week.

Big Ten as well as national championship hopes will be at stake in Evanston where Northwestern's undefeated Wildcats attempt to check the Minnesota juggernaut that has rolled over 21 successive rivals. At New York, Fordham's unspectacular but effective Rams tackle Jock Sutherland's Pittsburgh Panthers, riding on high once more since that stunning set-back by Duquesne.

Elsewhere the firing will be heavy but these are the two spots to watch. Otherwise this week's schedule lines up about like this:

East—The unbeaten list among major schools now has struck to seven—Holy Cross, Villanova, Army, Fordham, Yale, George Washington and Georgetown.

Yale faces trouble from Dartmouth. Holy Cross tackles Temple. Army plays Colgate. Villanova meets Bucknell; Georgetown plays Shenandoah; George Washington invades the Southwest to tackle Rice.

Outstanding on the card from a traditional standpoint is the first of the "big three" classics—Harvard vs. Princeton at Cambridge.

Big Ten: The leaders, Northwestern and Minnesota, top the program but Notre Dame's tussle with Ohio State's Buckeyes should draw a near-capacity crowd to South Bend. Wisconsin and Chicago, Indiana and Iowa, Michigan and Illinois are Big Ten pairings. Marquette will be tested by the touring St. Mary's outfit.

Nebraska, virtually assured the Big Six title, plays Missouri. Oklahoma and Iowa State are paired in the other conference game.

Southwest: Although held to a scoreless tie by Baylor, Texas A. & M. still tops the conference standings with Southern Methodist yet to be heard from. S. M. U. starts its conference drive against Texas, beaten by Rice, 7-0, last week. A. & M. meets Arkansas, 19-7 victim of Louisiana State. Baylor plays Texas Christian with Mississippi State ended in a 0-0 tie.

South: Vanderbilt runs into Louisiana and Alabama tackles Kentucky. Georgia meets Tennessee's Volunteers. Mississippi State plays a weak Sewanee array while Tulane cases off with Louisiana Tech.

The Southern conference games this week will pit Washington and Lee against Duke, North Carolina against North Carolina State, Virginia against Virginia Military, Virginia Tech against Richmond, Furman against Davidson and South Carolina against Citadel.

Far West: California meets Washington State, U. C. L. A. plays Stanford, Oregon encounters Washington, and Oregon State meets Montana. Southern California will be idle.

Rocky Mountain: Utah State plays Denver and Colorado university meets Colorado college this week. Other conference pairings include Utah and Brigham Young and Wyoming and Colorado Mines.

Aggies' Next Foe Will Be Aerialists From Arkansas

Methodists To Play University Of Texas

By FELIX B. McKNIGHT

DALLAS, Oct. 26 (AP)—Slowed down a trifle, but not halted, by Baylor's Bears, the Texas Aggies encounter Arkansas' aerialists as the next step hurdle along the unbeaten path at College Station Saturday.

Still at the head of the Southwest conference race, despite a half a game won and a half a game lost in the scoreless tie with Baylor, the Aggies started today to perfect some sort of a backdrop for the pitches Arkansas is certain to toss.

A mud-covered gridiron left the Cadets' vaunted offense hopelessly bogged down at Waco last Saturday. The timer's gun and the flying feet of "Doc" Pitzer may have saved them from defeat. The Bruins, featuring Lloyd Russell's fine pitching, once drove to the seven-yard stripe but the half ended there. Masters, away with a pass interception, scooted 40 yards before Pitzer thundered up from behind and dropped him in a clear field.

Dick Todd, the sophomore running sensation, left the game in the fourth period with an ankle injury and it was not immediately known whether he would be in top form for the Arkansas game. He kept the Cadets out of serious trouble with sparkling punt returns.

The debut of Southern Methodist's sophomores in the conference chase shares the spotlight with the Aggie-Arkansas battle. Matty Bell's charges, losers of only one game, meet Western Reserve, North Dakota and Tennessee Wesleyan, and the high scoring Appalachian team from Boone, N. C., by whipping South Georgia Teachers 27-0, Appalachian brought its point total up to 218 in five games against two for its opponents.

Western Reserve, with 167 points, was second in scoring.

The nation's undefeated and untied teams:

Western Reserve, North Dakota, Tennessee Wesleyan, Appalachian (N. C.), Cortland (N. Y.) Teachers, Kansas Wesleyan, Santa Barbara State, Carroll (Wis.), Villanova,

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

EXTRAS.
Your correspondent has already disclosed that General Motors will show about 75 cents a share net for the third quarter. It was also mentioned that insiders see the full year's net reach as high as $5.25 a share. Within a week directors meet for dividend action. It may be so it is intimated—that a $1 a share extra will be declared. The more conservative, however, say that it will be a 75 cent a share extra in addition to the regular quarterly 50 cent payment.

On the action next week the $2 annual rate will have been announced. Two 75 cent extras have already been paid. If the extra next week is another 75 cents it makes a total of $4.25 a share for the year. But since the GM organization is not very anxious to pay to the FDR administration a tax on its undistributed profits it is the opinion of insiders that another special distribution will be announced early in December. A total of $4.50 may be paid this year on the General Motors' shares.

TRADE.
Industrial activity to ease because of elections—trade will be spotty. Carloading has reached peak and will turn off. Furniture demand continues large—same goes for floor coverings. Cotton manufacturers doing better volume of business. Wool market dull. Electrical household equipments continue active on holiday demand. Machinery sales show easier trend for a time. Shoe industry at best levels in months. New building permits running above those of previous periods of last year but easing from past weeks or months. Electric power output maintains high levels. Steel operations to ease unless automobile manufacturers place orders. Rail equipment buying best in three years yet below normal. Employment situation bullish. Unsettled labor situation in Akron has brought about a large inventory position which might ease payrolls. Apparel industry to continue active on winter styles. China and glassware in demand. Household accessory demand large. Coal production at best levels in months. Office machine and equipment prices to rule lower—will increase sales volume. Sales of farms are on the increase. Financial markets strong which helps public sentiment and brings out increased spending. Retail trade figures above those of last year with average sales running ten per cent better.

BONDS.
City of Los Angeles' proposal to purchase properties of Los Angeles Gas & Electric regarded as fair—but other municipalities not as liberal as California is. Pure Oil 4 1/4% notes have warrants to purchase common shares at sliding scale. Mobile & Ohio Ref and Imp 4 1/8% of 1977 fixed charges will be covered about 50% this year. In anticipation of favorable reports on September and October earnings speculative buying evident in rail issues. Holdings of Italian corporations and municipalities being retained—new commitments not being made. Based on first nine months' earnings Erie will cover fixed charges this year. Interstate Powder Deb 6s of 1952 held as speculative risk. Holders of Pittsburgh Hotels 1st 8 1/8s of 1948 asserting to management plan. West Texas Utilities 1st 8s of 1957 held for yield. Businessman's risk: Birmingham Gas 1st 5s of 1959. Warner Brothers Pictures to refund outstanding obligations—announcement due soon. Botany Consolidated Mills 6 1/2s of 1934 strong due to pending reorganization move. Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific 5s of 2000 higher on speculative buying.

COMMODITIES.
Consuming cotton orders from all over the world have been coming into New York market—about 70 per cent of current crop has been ginned. Constant tightening taking place in world wheat supply which strengthens Canada's position as a world price factor. Barley steady to strong. Corn does to get much of a speculative following these days

Long-pull egg situation favorable. Potato prices point higher. Butter situation taking temporary turn for worse. All indications point to increase in rubber consumption—traders like futures on dips. Sugar outlook strong with prices holding on election returns. Stocks of raw silk in New York show no marked increase but trade is cautious. Absorption of large portion of speculative selling on part of manufacturing creates tight cocoa situation—squeeze due. Traders feel that hide futures may be accumulated. Lead prices continue strong. Red metal demand large with new foreign buying. Silver prices to hold. So will gold. Well advertised speculative boom in platinum is a fizzle.

1936 per share income. Consolidated Cigar being "talked" to higher price levels. Anchor Cap will show about $1.25 a share for 1936. Amsterdam traders think Union Pacific "interestingly priced at current levels." Pennsylvania-Dixie Cement and Lehigh Portland Cement will not merge—rumors are contrary. And, that 1937 fire company earnings will run well above those of 1936 which are expected to be well above those of 1935—trade says replacement and new casings demands will be unusually large next year. CHAPMAN FOUND GUILTY IN ATLANTA ROBBERY

LINDEN, Oct. 26 (AP)—Doris county jury, after deliberating an hour Saturday, found Charlie Chapman guilty of attempting to rob the Atlanta National bank August 31, and sentenced him to 60 years in the penitentiary. The state had demanded the death penalty. Defense attorneys immediately filed motion for an appeal. Five witnesses for the state told of the robbery and how Chapman and two other escapes met blazing guns in the hands of citizens when they attempted to escape with $300 loot. Cashier Paul Dunklin said he escaped through a rear door when Chapman and O. H. Lindsey entered the bank and forced customers and employees to raise their hands. "Evelyn Manning Williams, Miss Evelyn End and Miss Elsie Jackson, confirmed his testimony. Dunklin spread the alarm and citizens swarmed from stores and other business establishments to meet the robbers as they emerged from the bank. A rifle bullet wounded Chapman in the shoulder. Lindsey was captured after a short chase. Buddie Sadler, third member of the convict trio which had left a trail of violence through East Texas in a week of freedom, started the gunmen's automobile and escaped. He was captured several days later.

DROWNS IN MILK

ABILENE, Oct. 26 (AP)—Doris Merle Hollingad, 10-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hollingad, drowned in a five gallon refuse container at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Key, near here Saturday. The child was crawling about the kitchen when members of the family left the room. The body was found by an aunt, Mrs. T. J. Key, 15 minutes later. She drowned in a quantity of milk which had been mixed with refuse to be fed to livestock.

There is more war scare in the United States than in Europe

According to M. K. Brown, who with Mrs. Brown and Miss Marjorie Buckler returned to Pampa Saturday night

They flew from New York to Amarillo where they were met by Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Buckler

Mr. Brown was a busy man this morning. He tried his best to concentrate on some business at the office of the White Deer Land Co.

but too many visitors interrupted and he "took to the street" where he was stopped every few feet.

"European countries are in no condition to go to war and they all know it," Mr. Brown declared.

"Of course, war is in the air and it won't be at one another's throats again."

Germany and Italy are the hot spots in Europe, Mr. Brown said.

The present threat, however, is in Asia with Japan, Russia and China as the major contestants.

Germany and Italy may start something earlier than expected but it is doubtful that they will succeed.

Spain's situation is also delicate.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown spent six weeks with relatives in England.

They went over on the Queen Mary when the giant liner set a new record.

The return was on the same boat.

Miss Buckler returned after six months during which she visited points of interest in Great Britain, France, Italy, Austria, Germany and Belgium.

LAREDO, Oct. 26.—Eugenio Gonzalez, 21, released his dancing partner and slumped to the floor dead while the orchestra played the last selection of a wedding celebration dance early today.

Miss Olivia Garcia, who danced with young Gonzalez, said her partner did not utter a word as he collapsed. Physicians said the youth suffered a heart attack, probably brought on by excitement.

SHOCKS SHAKE TOKYO

TOKYO, Oct. 26.—Severe earth shocks in Tokyo and Kokohama sent the sleeping populace fleeing into the streets in their night shirts early today.

The tremors began at 12:30 a. m. No immediate damage was reported and there were apparently no casualties.

Seismologists declared the fact that the center of the earthquake was at sea saved Japan from a possible major disaster.

They gave their destination as Catagena and Alicante, Spain.

DICTATORSHIP IS ISSUE SAYS GOP CANDIDATE

LONDON STILL BEING TREATED FOR COLD AND HOARSENESS

ABOARD LONDON SPECIAL EN ROUTE TO PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26 (AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon said today the "overwhelming issue" of the presidential campaign is whether the American people "want dictatorship," and contended "this foreign pattern" is "becoming clearer" in the new deal "jig saw puzzle."

The republican nominee was treated enroute for a head cold and sore throat, by Dr. L. P. Spake, of Wilmington, Del., before reaching Philadelphia for a major radio address to be delivered at 8:30 o'clock (CST) tonight.

Landon quoted "a high official" of the new deal as saying that "planning will necessarily become a function of the federal government. Either that or the planning agency will supersede the government."

Landon enumerated the "new deal" policies, every one of which would be a major issue in an ordinary campaign:

"The debauching of civil service. "The alliance with corrupt city machines. "The extending of Farleyized methods throughout the states with the WPA. "And, finally, the illegal use of your money, the taxpayers' money, for propaganda to build up class hatred and entrench the new deal in power."

FAIRBANKS HIRES GARY COOPER AS FILM STAR

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 26 (AP)—Film stars fairly often will produce their own pictures or put money into them, but comparatively rare is the star who gets behind a picture in which he does not appear.

Douglas Fairbanks is the latest. Doug, long a star in his own right, has teamed with Producer Samuel Goldwyn to make "The Adventures of Marco Polo," which will star Gary Cooper. This is a picture long close to the Fairbanks heart, and always before Hollywood understood the "Doug" himself planned to appear in it.

Now it appears that Fairbanks, like his ex-wife Mary Pickford, has put aside a personal acting career at least for the time, to leap into the bigger venture of producing. Again like Miss Pickford, Fairbanks is no novice at the game, for he was producer of all his later starring films.

Cripples Are Better After Lubbock Game

Pampa's mighty little Harvesters, who lost a 7 to 0 game to the Lubbock Westerners on Friday afternoon, entered the game with several crippled and emerged with the boys in better condition than when the opening whistle blew.

Despite the fact that he injured the member over again, Woody Woodruff reported to school this morning with his ankle in better shape than before Friday's game.

He was unable to work his pet spinner play against Lubbock but feels he will be OK for the game with the Clovis Wildcats in Clovis Friday night.

Ivan Noblitt, who gamely played the full 60 minutes with his leg taped from ankle to knee because of torn tendons, reported to school this morning with much less limp than when he started the game.

Roy Lee Jones and Glen Maxey, who played with knee injuries, also came to school with only a slight limp.

An aroused band of Clovis Wildcats, early season weaklings, rose up to smear the state championship hopes of Pampa, 25 to 0, Friday night in Roswell. A Panhandle boy, well known to fans over this section, scored all the Clovis touchdowns.

The hero of the Clovis victory was Leamon McIntyre of Shamrock. When the 19-year old rule went into effect, McIntyre moved to Clovis where he has continued his sensational play. McIntyre, Pampa fans will remember, was the powerhouse for Shamrock when he lost the district title to McLean here last year.

Assisting McIntyre in the ball-toting department is O. E. Dulaney, passer, punter and safety man, and Johnny Stockton, a dangerous ball toter. Leading line play, and Clovis has a fast, hard-charging line, led by a boy by the name of Allen Head, tackle and end. Besides smearing Roswell plays, Head broke through to block two Roswell punts.

The Harvesters will not leave for Clovis until Friday morning. The return trip may be made after the game, although official action has not been taken.

This week Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prjejan will work on offense. Only four times this season has the feet of Pampa backs felt the opposing goal line under them and those occasions were against Childers. Without a power threat, the Harvesters must depend on speed and passes. Opposing teams therefore use a spread defense which is hard to penetrate.

A defense to Shamrock's contribution to New Mexico football will also receive major attention.

TWO BAGNATOS NOT REGISTERED IN BABY DERBY

Mrs. Lily Kenny Is Named As Likely Winner

BY DALE HARRISON. TORONTO, Oct. 26 (AP)—The fact that two of the children through whom she hopes to win Toronto's $500,000 baby marathon never have been registered, alarmed Mrs. Grace Bagnato today.

Mrs. Bagnato, long considered a leading aspirant for the prize left by Charles Vance Millar, is virtually out of the running unless she can prove her claim of nine births in the last decade. The claims of the self-acclaimed leader, Mrs. Lily Kenny, are perhaps most important, for if she can back them up with birth certificates from the government records, she is virtually assured of winning. She claims a dozen births, and says she can prove them all.

Mrs. Alice Timleck, declining to discuss proof of her motherhood of ten in the specified ten year period, was more concerned today about her youngest baby than about the Millar gold. The child, saved by a blood transfusion last week while seriously ill with influenza, is still in the hospital, but much better.

Mrs. Pauline Clarke, whose claim is confused because five of her ten children were born after her separation from her husband, was reported to have made a week-end trip to New York for an unexplained purpose.

Premier Heppburn, branding the mothers' marathon a "racket," is awaiting the return from England of Attorney General Arthur Roebuck before determining what action his government will take in what he called the "disgusting, revolting exhibition."

HALLOWEEN PARTY TO BE HELD AT GRANDVIEW

Pampa will move to Grandview schoolhouse for Halloween fun tomorrow night when the Grandview community will have its annual carnival. Cars will leave from the city hall at 7 o'clock.

Today the Board of City Development headquarters received many reservations for "rides." Most of the callers had made previous trips to Grandview and "wouldn't miss the fun for anything."

at home—Mon, Buddy, Al and Joan. Sheriff Albert W. West Jr., said he had asked Postmaster Dan J. Quill to ascertain if letters had been mailed by the man to Chicago Monday morning.

Justice of the Peace Bat Corrigan returned inquest verdicts of murder and suicide. He explained: "I can see no reason why a child would jump out of the window. He must have pushed or thrown her out and then jumped out himself."

Corrigan said cards found indicated the man was a member of the East Gate Blue lodge of the Masons, Chicago; the Covert lodge No. 323, Covert, Mich.; I. O. O. F.; honorary member of the Chicago Association of Detective Sergeants; the International Association for Criminal Identification; and a representative of Lord and Thoms.

He said what was apparently a planned itinerary found in his room included the names of cities in Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, South Carolina, Florida, Louisiana, and Texas.

Mr. Whitaker lived in Pampa about a year and was employed in the engineering department of a local carbon black company. The child lived with him at a residence on Russell street, and had been living with him alone since he was 2 years old.

A lawyer was retained to begin proceedings intended to entitle Whitaker to the custody of his son, he told the commission.

Whitaker was held in the United States marshal's office. A $5,000 bond, recommended by the United States attorney's office here was described by Carothers as "exorbitant" under the circumstances of the case. It was lowered to $1,000.

When Whitaker was arrested at his office, his son was with him. Both were taken to the department of justice office. Later, accompanied by Deputy United States Marshal C. V. (Buster) Kern, the oil man took the boy to the building lobby, where he turned him over to a friend, on the pretext of him to go out of town on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Boyd attended the Texas Tech-Centenary football game in Lubbock Saturday night.

Up And Down The Air Waves

By RAY D. O.

Believe it or not—it is just a little chilly up here in the air-conditioned air waves this morning. Another "Pinch Hitter" that hit a homerun, musically speaking, was heard yesterday on KPND, when a Vanderberg boy appeared in the role of substituting for the Vanderberg Trio. We believe he did a better program than the trio. What do you think?

Tune in the "Rhythmets" this afternoon on KPND and hear a program of pleasing harmony as the three beautiful girls burst forth in song.

We sometimes wonder just why KPND should be so secretive with their broadcasting. Most of the time, when one enters the lobby you are greeted by drawn curtains on all studios. Open up, folks, let's see just how this broadcasting is done.

On NBC tonight: 6:15, "Uncle Sam's Radio Station"; 6:30, "Lum and Abner"; 7, "Fibber McGee and Molly"; 7:30, "Margaret Searles"; 8, "Greater Minstrels"; 8:30, "Richard Himber's Orchestra"; 9, "Contented Program"; 9:30, "Musical Toast"; 10, "Amos and Andy."

Two old maids went for a tramp in the woods, the tramp escaped.

There must have been some kind of "slip-up" yesterday on KPND. At any rate Mel Marshall announced that we would "Now have some transcribed music," but it seemed for a while that he must be mistaken—but he wasn't, finally.

Why not visit the studios of KPND and see as well as hear the programs broadcast. You'll find a very comfortable lobby and you're always welcome.

On CBS tonight: 6:15, "Popeye The Sailor"; 6:30, "Goose Greck Parsons"; 7, "Horace Heidt's Orchestra"; 7:30, "Pick and Pat"; 8, "Radio Theater"; 9, Wayne King.

We have been led to believe that it is very bad production to have a duplication of any musical number during the same day. Last night we heard on one of the chain programs a very noticeable repetition. An orchestra closed their program by playing a certain number—the station break was made, another orchestra followed and their first selection was the same just heard by the other orchestra. Each program must have had different program directors, or maybe we have been taught wrongly.

The "pinch hitter" for "Paula," heard Saturday at 1:30 from the Borger studio of KPND, failed to go by the way of most pinch-hitters, that of "striking out." In fact we think she did a mighty swell job of handling the program. Better be careful, Paula.

America is a great nation in which a cigaret testimonial by a famous football player who has never smoked in his life is regarded as persuasive publicity.

We have "hinted" a time or two that KPND would like to have you suggest the type of programs you like best, so we are going to illustrate our suggestion by making some suggestions of our own. Here they are: A dramatic play each week. A 30-minute, live-talent, show each week. A 15-minute comedy newscast, three times weekly. A sport review. A dramatized news program each Sunday afternoon. A daily comedy musical program. Now that will give you the idea, so we will expect your suggestions real soon.

D. headquarters or Jim Collins, chairman of the highway committee, by Tuesday night so that reservations at the Lions club luncheon at noon Wednesday in Borger can be made. The meeting is scheduled for 1:30 o'clock with delegates attending from points between Oklahoma City and Lamar, Colo.

PETROLEUM ENGINEERS MAY ORGANIZE HERE

Organization of a society of Panhandle petroleum engineers will be discussed at a meeting called for 7:30 Wednesday evening at the Standard community hall. All petroleum engineers of the Panhandle field, their helpers and apprentices, and others interested are invited to be present.

Long Illness Fatal To John H. Hurley

John Henry Hurley, 64, died in a local hospital this morning following an illness of more than a year. He had been a resident of Pampa for seven years, making his home with a daughter, Mrs. E. E. Noel, Russell street. Besides his daughter here, Mr. Hurley is survived by Mrs. T. D. Moore, Canadian, another daughter, and two granddaughters, Shirley Hazel Noel and Nancy Ellen Moss. Funeral services will be conducted at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning in the chapel at Pampa Mortuary. The Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of First Baptist church, will officiate. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery. Pallbearers will be J. B. Barrett, Sherman White, John Haggard, Irvin Cole, H. G. Smith and Oliver Lynch.

TO ADDRESS NEGROES WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—

Aside from a speech to negro students and educators, President Roosevelt devoted most of today to preparing for his final campaign swing into some of the east's most populous districts. His only public appearance on today's program was a talk at the dedication of a chemistry building at Howard university, negro institution of higher education here. Funds of PWA financed the structure.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—It required only light offerings today to shake down the stock market fractions to around 3 points. Steel, motor, rail, utility and mercantile issues were among the principal casualties. A little support appeared in the final hour, but losses were widely distributed at the close. Transfers were around 1,650 shares.

There was no speculative buying on the decline, and the trade was the only supporting influence on the dip.

have funds on hand to meet the accruing obligations therefor. It further said two incidental objectives were necessary as follows: the number receiving old age assistance must be decreased, and more revenues must be provided.

Administration would be transferred from the present three-member old age assistance commission to the board of control, members of which would be paid $1,200 annually in addition.

The section was in substance the amendment to the omnibus tax bill sponsored by Senator Clint Small of Amarillo, who was chairman of the conference committee.

It would instruct the old age assistance authorities in determining eligibility of applicants to consider "all facts and circumstances" concerning the applicant, "including his earning capacity and opportunity to obtain support from other sources."

A total of $7,000,000 would be appropriated for the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, 1937, for pensions. Senator Small had estimated the annual cost would be approximately $8,500,000.

COUZENS OFFERED POST WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—

The White House said in a statement today President Roosevelt had requested the late Senator Couzens of Michigan last September 17 to become chairman of the new Maritime commission next January 1 and that Couzens told the president he would "talk the matter over with him after the election." Couzens, who died last Thursday, was defeated in the recent Republican primary for renomination.

DENTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—

R. H. Evers, 77, reputed to be one of the wealthiest men in Denton county, died today in a Dallas hospital. He was in the hardware business here for 51 years. deliberation and some sort of tax bill but said he did not plan to appear before it again to urge such action. In a dramatic appearance the other day, he did make such appearance, declaring the state was faced with a serious situation unless the pension law was deliberated.

The senate was first to consider the report, Senator John S. Redditt of Luban, member of the conference committee, making a detailed explanation.

Redditt said the bill would yield approximately $7,315,000 annually, and, should it become effective immediately, and taking into consideration cash in the old age assistance fund and accruing from other state sources, should make available for pensions in the next 10 months about $6,179,000.

Under the bill, he said, available school fund would pick up from $100,000 to $300,000, losing some revenue under the liquor and cigaret tax sections but gaining elsewhere. He estimated the general revenue fund would gain not less than $692,000.

The conference report was signed by all of the senate conferees and by three of those from the house. House representatives signing were Harold Hankamer of El Paso, B. A. McKinney of Huntsville and R. H. Good of Cooper. Reps. Jesse James of Cameron and Hollis Srazer of Amarillo did not sign.

A conference committee report on the unemployment insurance bill, however, had priority in the house over the omnibus tax proposal.

The legislature sent the governor a bill to validate Wichita Falls school district refunding bonds aggregating $1,850,000. The house approved a senate resolution authorizing the city of Peos to renew certain indebtedness incurred for relief expenditures.
