

STEEL STRIKE EXTENDED TO ANOTHER COMPANY

FAMILY ASKS A CHANCE TO CONTACT KIDNAPERS

Reported As Ready To Pay Ransom Sum

Authorities Requested To Stay Out Of N. Y. Abduction Case

HOOVER MAY DIRECT G-MAN INVESTIGATION

Rumor Heard Of Second Note Demanding $25,000 For Return

STONY BROOK, N. Y., June 11 (AP)—In an atmosphere of increasing tension, the husband and wealthy relatives of Mrs. Alice McDonnell Parsons, socially prominent Long Island heiress, made a new plea today to be left alone in their efforts to contact supposed kidnapers of the 38 year old matron.

"We would appreciate it if you would stay away entirely," Roy McDonnell, brother of the woman, told a Brookhaven township policeman. "After all, we are still hoping to make some contact."

Two miles away in Stony Brook village federal officers awaited word from J. Edgar Hoover, their chief, reported en route to take personal command of the investigation.

A coast guard seaplane came to anchor in a nearby cove of Long Island Sound this morning, and a man, reported to resemble Hoover, came ashore. The federal chief left Washington last night after a day of telephonic communication with his men working on the case.

Throughout the night, William H. Parsons, gentleman poultry farmer and Yale graduate, waited nervously, hopeful he would get word from his wife or her abductors.

"In A Jam"

"We can only hope," McDonnell, his brother-in-law said.

"I am in a jam, an awful jam," Parsons said, talking to reporters.

Someone asked him what he meant.

"I am in a jam," he repeated, shaking his head. "An awful jam."

But he declined to discuss this statement further.

He declined to reply to a query whether a second ransom note had been received. A report went around the town that such a note was received, setting forth anew the demands for $25,000 and giving instructions as to when and where and how it was to be paid.

The original ransom note, found yesterday several hours after Mrs. Parsons disappeared demanded $25,000 and included a threat of possible harm to the prematurely gray-haired Mrs. Parsons.

The note ordered him to carry the money to the Jamaica bus terminal, a busy center from which buses run to all parts of Long Island. There, the note said, "my man" would meet him and call to him.

"Do not bring cops," the note said.

PAMPA YOUTH FALLS IN LAKE, DROWNED

PAMPA, June 11 (AP)—Cecil Ogle, 16, drowned last night in a small lake near here when he lost his footing as he waded.

He and other boys were playing in the lake, formed by a dam built about two weeks ago before heavy rains.

His was the second violent death here in two days. Murlie Leith, 20, of Lefors, was killed when the wheel of a truck passed over his head. Clint Sanders, 24, was charged with murder without malice while operating a motor vehicle.

Local-Share Requirements Seen As Issue In Debate On Relief Fund

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—A senate proposal that local communities bear a greater share of the federal unemployment burden started a new congressional fight today over the administration's $1,500,000,000 relief bill.

The measure faced a showdown today in the senate appropriations committee.

Senator Byrnes (D-SC) contended his amendment requiring local sponsors to provide 40 per cent of the cost of non-federal projects would make relief funds go further. The sub-committee approved it, 7-5.

Soil Conservation Plan Is Killed By Governor's Veto

AUSTIN, June 11 (AP)—Governor James V. Alfred vetoed today a bill passed at the recent regular session of the legislature providing for a statewide soil conservation system.

He also struck down a bill authorizing an increase in the list of subjects for which free textbooks for public schools may be adopted, but signed another sharply restricting the liberty of dentists to advertise.

Signing of a number of other bills, including those providing workmen's compensation insurance for state highway employees and authorizing sale of certain land in Bedfish, Corpus Christi and Aransas Bays, left the biennial departmental appropriation measure as the only important one passed at the general session still on his desk.

In his veto messages, the governor said that while the soil conservation bill unquestionably was for a worthy purpose there were serious objections to the plan of financing as well as other features.

Secretary Wallace also had advised that under its terms the federal government probably would not cooperate.

GUARD JAIL IN STRIKE CENTER

Sheriff's deputies armed with tear gas guns guarded all entrances of the Mahoning county jail at Youngstown, O., after Sheriff Ralph E. Elser received a report a "gang" would storm it. Strike tension heightened in the steel center after Sheriff Elser rounded up 100 special deputies.

976 Of 2773 Going Down Safety Lane Found To Be Defective

Cars passing through the state highway department's safety lane in Big Spring Wednesday and Thursday were given the blue "OK" sticker in the ratio of about two to one, a check of figures revealed today.

A total of 2,773 motor vehicles went through the lane, manned by 10 highway patrolmen, for a check of brakes, lights, etc. Of the number 1,797 were listed as in satisfactory condition, 976 had one or more mechanical defects.

Patrolmen reported that of the defective machines, 318 returned to the lane after having repairs and these won an OK sticker. Purpose of the safety program is to encourage remedying of faulty automobiles.

Defects were listed as follows: Faulty brakes, 543; ineffective lights, 329; broken windshield wipers, 288; horns out of repair, 151; faulty mufflers, 34; and defective steering gear, 2.

The two-day program was the second of its kind here, one safety lane having been conducted last year. Patrolmen while here made safety talks before service clubs.

Governor Of Ohio Calls A New Parley

Big Unit Of Bethlehem Concern Next Target Of Unionists

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 11 (AP)—Republic Steel Corp. resumed operations in its focal Monroe, Mich., plant today in the wake of a tear gas attack, but union officials spread their strike call to a unit of Bethlehem Steel Corp., hitherto unaffected by the most extensive steel strike in the nation's history.

FOOD BLOCKADE STIRS UP WIDE CONCERN

Joint Conference

A projected mass movement by CIO workers was called off in Columbus, O., union and company officials gathered for a joint conference called by Gov. Martin L. Davey in an effort to avert "preventable bloodshed"; new repercussions of the union's food blockade against strike-besieged mills were heard in Washington and Cleveland.

In Cleveland a federal court took under advisement a petition by three railroads which sought to enjoin the Steel Workers Organizing Committee and its pickets from interfering with operations of trains into steel plants. Union pickets have sought to thwart movement of food into the plants through stoppage of trains.

The pilot of a plane bearing food to one of Republic Steel's plants reported he was fired upon by an assailant in a moving motor car.

Strike Tonight

The Steel Workers Organizing Committee called a strike for 10 p. m. (CST), in the huge Johnstown, Pa., Cambria mill of Bethlehem Steel to bolster a walkout on a Bethlehem subsidiary railroad.

United Automobile Workers ended a major campaign in procession to Monroe from Pontiac, Mich., where automobile workers declared an industrial holiday to protest routing of pickets last night from a Republic Steel Corp. subsidiary at Monroe.

The vanguard of approximately 750 automobile workers turned back from their rallying point ten miles north of Monroe after cars were halted at the city limits by sheriff's deputies and special officers. They left 34 persons, including two women, in the Monroe county jail as the result of clashes with heavily-armed law authorities.

12,000 Affected

David Watkins, SWOC, sub-regional director, estimated 12,000 of the 15,000 employees in Bethlehem's vast Cambria mill would be affected by the strike order. Other plants of Bethlehem, which has refused to sign a CIO contract and is generally believed to be next on the Lewis union's list, were not affected by the order.

Representatives of all sides were summoned by Gov. Martin L. Davey of Ohio to meet this afternoon in his office in an effort to avert "grave possibilities" in the widespread strike against Republic, Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. and Inland Steel Corp. which has made more than 70,000 mill hands idle for over two weeks and already has cost eight lives.

Sources close to both sides, however, said they remained determined in their positions—the companies that they would bargain in conference with the SWOC but would not sign a contract, the union that contract must be signed.

Bond Issue To Be Studied By School Board

Election Call On Financing May Be Made At Meet Today

Members of the Big Spring independent school district board of trustees are to consider calling elections on two important issues in a meeting called for 5 p. m. today.

Petitions asking that a $100,000 bond issue for remodeling, repair and construction work be forecited to a vote will be studied as well as another petition asking that the district hike its rate from the current maximum of $1 to $1.50.

The district was given authority to vote on the tax hike by a special act of the last regular session of the legislature.

Petitions were circulated Thursday following a report by the board in condemning the auditorium-gymnasium wing of the school building.

The two were circulated simultaneously because those who carried them felt they were inseparably bound together, that it would be useless to vote bonds unless additional revenue were provided.

SHERIFF'S WIDOW WITNESS AT TRIAL

LINDEN, June 11 (AP)—The widow of the late Sheriff Alec Brown of Marion county testified today at the trial of Charley Brooks, negro, accused of the shot gun slaying of Brown last March 10.

Mrs. Brown said Brown was standing with his back to the window in their living quarters in the county jail at Jefferson when "the shot was fired."

"He (Brown) looked at me and put his hand on the foot of the bed," Mrs. Brown testified. "I put my arms around his shoulder and saw several blood spots on his right shoulder. He worked his way around to the side of the bed and I ran and telephoned the doctor. When I returned within a minute he was slipping to the floor."

MAUSOLEUM TO HOLD BODY OF HARLOW

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., June 11 (AP)—Jean Harlow's body will be interred in the mausoleum at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, a spokesman for her family said today.

The decision was reached after the star's mother, Mrs. Marino Bello, her father, Dr. Montclair Carpenter, her aunt, Miss Jettie Chadsey, and William Powell conferred yesterday. They paid a last visit to Miss Harlow's coffin last night.

A motion picture, furnished by General Motors, was shown to the club. Jack Gregory, new Settles hotel clerk, was a guest for the day.

Inquiry Voted Into Interference With Mail In Strike Area

Witnesses Called By Senate Postoffice Committee On Strike Situation

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The senate postoffice committee voted today a broad preliminary inquiry of charges of interference with the mails in steel strikes and of the activities of the steel companies.

Without acting formally either on the Bridges resolution for an inquiry into the mail situation, or the Guffey amendment to include activities of the steel companies the committee voted to call witnesses on both points.

The action was taken on a motion by Senator Holt (D-WVa), despite a protest by Senator Bridges (R-NH) that he had presented a prima facie case of mail interference which warranted a formal investigation.

Call Principals

Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn) insisted, however, that before voting on the resolution the committee should call principals mentioned in testimony today that postoffice officials in Miles, Ohio, had an understanding with union representatives not to accept mail for the Republic Steel company plant there.

It was agreed by the committee, before voting, that Senator Guffey would be permitted to offer witnesses in support of his amendment for an investigation of the importation of gun-men as strike breakers by the steel companies and the storing of arms by the companies.

Senator Bridges told the committee the assistant postmaster of Miles, Ohio, had refused to accept parcels for delivery to strike-bound workers in a Republic Steel company plant because union pickets "will not allow it."

No Agreements

In his reply to Bridges, W. W. Howes, first assistant postmaster general, asserted no official of the postoffice department had discussed the postal service with union members.

Howes added "no agreements of any kind" had been entered into by representatives of the postoffice department "with any member of the labor organizations concerning the acceptance or delivery of mail matter."

"The postmasters at all of the offices involved state that neither they nor any of their employees have entered into any such agreements but to the contrary, they have insisted that they will tolerate no interference with our mail service," Howes said.

DELEGATE TO A.B.C. MEET LEAVES SUNDAY

A motion picture, furnished by General Motors, was shown to the club. Jack Gregory, new Settles hotel clerk, was a guest for the day.

Chair Set Design

By RUTH ORR

No matter what style is pre- dominant in your living room fur- nishings, a chair set like this one will fit in well. The simple fillet design is elaborated by lacets, so that the finished pieces are espe- cially attractive. And of course, when you want a pattern that will work up quickly, fillet crochet like this is what you should choose. The finished piece measures about 18 1/2 by 12, and 8 1/2 by 12 inches respectively, but if you require larger ones, you may use heavier cotton than we did, and thus obtain just the size you like.

The pattern envelope contains complete, easy to understand illus- trated directions, with two block and space diagrams to aid you; also what crochet hook and what ma- terial and how much you will need. To obtain this pattern, send for No. 380 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Address Big Spring Herald, Needlework De- partment, P. O. READING AND WRITING

By John Selby

"THE PARIS COMMUNE OF 1871," by Frank Jellinek; (Ox- ford: $3).

In the article on France in the Columbia Encyclopedia the only mention of the Paris commune of 1871 is this: "... after the destruc- tion of the radical Paris commune ... " In the article on Thiers, the same excellent reference work says: "He was the chief executive in the Provisional government ... which had taken over Paris on Napoleon's fall." The Commune is not mentioned at all in the article on the war of 1870.

So much to show the relative importance, in the standard his- torical mind, of the 1871 commune, and to indicate the magnitude of, Frank Jellinek's (presumably) 450-page book of this commune which reverses all our perspectives and commands a wondering, if occasionally amused, respect. What we have been passing over in a few phrases he blows up to ele- phantine proportions. The sets of values we have been using he dis- cards utterly, leaving us floundering. For example, Napoleon III is practically ignored most of the time. And old Thiers "gets his" in what the children call "a big way."

Well, the experience of "The Paris Commune of 1871" is good for one's soul. Moment by moment, Jellinek traces the political movements in Paris. These were so horribly complex that even Jellinek has moments when he puts his handkerchief to his brow. One of the leaders scarcely crosses a street that Jellinek doesn't tell about it, and whom he met on the way.

And such a lot of helpful (as well as curious) information comes out of it all. We find that as early as 1837 Blanqui invented the two best Marxian slogans: "The dictatorship of the proletariat" and "the industrial revolution." We find that a program to handle technological unemployment was in the mind of the aged Charles Murray at least by 1862. We find very funny things, too, such as, Flourens madly searching the Belleville theater property room for dummy arms to give his wait- ing army, which consisted of ex-cel- lence one street arab when finally he emerged.

So with this detailed, but de- lightful, record of a failure.

Cal Boykin, who has been in Amarillo on business for several days, returned here Friday.

WEST ARMS WITH SEA GULLS, GAS TO FIGHT CROP KILLING CRICKETS

HUNTING HORS D'OEUVRES
In Utah sea gulls follow the plow for bugs and worms—appetizers for the "Mormon" crickets they'll consume later on.

(By the AP Feature Service)
Sea gulls are still Utah's "old reliable" for protection against "Mormon" crickets, crop vultures which are really more grasshopper than cricket.
More up-to-date is Utah's neighbor, Wyoming, which uses poison gas against its crickets.
Many skeptical entomologists were convinced of the gas's effectiveness after long lines of "hunters" sprayed infested areas in Wyoming and killed off most of the pests. Now the idea is spreading to other stricken western states.

GAS ATTACK
In Wyoming long lines of men fight crop-devouring crickets with sprays of poison gas.

Utah, however, expects the sea gulls to come to its aid this summer when a predicted record-breaking invasion arrives. The birds will have well-whetted appetites for the bugs and worms picked up by following the plow this spring.
The birds once saved the Mormons from starvation by eating the crickets which were eating the crops. A monument commemorating their feathered "rescuers" stands in Salt Lake City.

Marine Needs A Big Subsidy

Ship Building Program Of FD Lauded By Industry Leaders

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—New York shipping men today saw in President Roosevelt's proposal for a new American merchant marine the expression of what they considered a vital need in the country's trade relationship.
The consensus was, however, that the matter of operation after the new fleet is built is just as important as the construction itself.
Builders and operators agreed the direct subsidy to be granted, now that the indirect mail subsidy has been abandoned, must be sufficient to make up the differential between the high cost of operations under our flag and the lower operating cost of foreign shipping.
Vivid figures were presented to show the necessity from a trade and national defense point of view of creation of a brand new United States fleet.
Here are some of them:
1. American bottoms carry only seven per cent of world tonnage in international trade, although our share of that trade is 14 per cent.
2. Less than 35 per cent of our foreign commerce is confined to our own ships. Japanese vessels haul 76 per cent of Nippon's waterborne freight, while 61 per cent of British business goes to British bottoms.
3. The United States is second in world tonnage, fifth in speed of ships and eighth in ranking of modern ships in operation.
4. This country has only 488 vessels, of approximately 3,200,000 tons in the international trade, compared with 2,318, aggregating 14,119,000 tons for Great Britain, 608, of 3,100,000 tons for Japan and 475, of 2,832,000 for Germany.

Magnolia Trees, Plantation Homes Instead Of Dust Storms In The Old South, Big Spring Traveler Finds

(Nancy Philips, local girl who has been doing some staff work for The Herald, presents here some impressions gained while on a tour of the eastern sections of the country.—Editor's Note.)
By NANCY PHILIPS
I've gotten my foot out of Texas and taken a long step. But that one long step included so many new, beautiful, and utterly different things that I'm left quite speechless.
My already long neck has stretched disgracefully from trying to see everything and my vocabulary has been condensed to "oh" and "ahs."
The first part of my journey began on the train where I encountered a group of sailors who had traveled extensively, as most sailors have, but had never seen a hosed toad. They managed to get hold of one, admired it for a hundred miles, and when I got off they were running up and down the train catching flies for it.
Magnolia Trees Abloom
I left the train at Dallas and continued the rest of the journey in a car and, at the end of the first day found myself in Little Rock, Ark., with a complete change of scenery. The trees no longer looked wind blown but seemed to reach up and shake hands with the clouds, they were so tall. The magnolia trees were in bloom and filled the air with their sweet fragrance all along the highway. These people say they have never seen a sandstorm! Can you imagine it? We've got it over there.
We spent the next night in Mt. Pleasant, Tenn., and there on the outskirts of that lazy little southern town I found a quaint old church where many of the Confederate generals are buried. Also I began seeing those beautiful old plantation homes that I've read about in books. They are so stately looking with their large white columns and long winding driveways that I only wish I had lived during the time they were so popular.
That same day we drove through the grounds where the Battle of Shiloh was fought during the civil war. It was interesting to see the cannons and find the spot where each army camped. It was too lovely a place for a battle field.
At The Hermitage
The third day we spent quite a bit of time in Nashville sightseeing. The first thing we did was to go through the Hermitage, Andrew Jackson's home. It was so beautiful that words can not do it justice. It is situated in the heart of the woods and the tall trees hover over this home as if protecting it from an unseen foe. Inside, the house was exactly as Jackson left it with all the rooms furnished in the mode of his day. From the veranda could be seen the avenue of trees which leads to the main road and it wasn't hard to imagine the place swarming with aristocratic ladies and gentlemen or to see a slave bowing and smiling at the door.
In the garden back of the house are the graves of Jackson and his family and to one side is the resting place of a faithful darky (Uncle Alfred), who served the family for 98 years.
On the last lap of our trip we passed through Frederick, Md., where Barbara Fretchle's home is found. It seems that when she was 95, during the civil war when the town was occupied by the Confederates, she courageously waved a union flag, when Stonewall Jackson and his troops passed by her home. Nothing could persuade her to put the flag down and Jackson, admiring her loyalty, commanded that she be left unharmed and allowed to wave it as long as she pleased.
One of the most picturesque towns I've ever seen is called Harper's Ferry, located on the side of two mountains which are divided by the Potomac river. It is a foreign looking place with steep, narrow winding streets and the houses are built almost on top of each other.
That ends my travels for the time being until I go on other sight seeing tours which will include Washington and New York. By the way, the little streams of water that we call creeks are called "runs" up here. Everything is in a hurry, even the water.

WPA Program Boosts Local Air Facilities

Hopkins Reports Projects 70 Pct. Complete With 44,000 Employed
WASHINGTON, June 11 (UP)—The Works Progress administration has placed hundreds of communities on the national air map with the completion of 70 per cent of its airport construction and improvement program.
The program, Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, reported, will fall short of fulfilling the demands of local officials in preparing for future air travel. Of 2,304 projects submitted to WPA, 1,982 have been approved, and only 864 have been placed in operation due to lack of funds.
More than 44,000 workers have been employed on an average during the past seven months. The estimated total cost of the program—involving draining, surfacing and enlarging established airports, constructing new ones and marking air routes—is $87,939,581, of which $77,092,063 is Federal money.
"The airport program came at a time when there was urgent need for expansion and improvement of landing fields and airport facilities the nation over," Hopkins said.
"With the development in aviation and the increase in size and speed of commercial planes, the nation became aware of the need for airports. As a result of WPA airport activities, hundreds of communities have been placed on the aviation map."
About 7,200 air route markers have been placed and 8,100 others are being completed. Radio facilities and adequate lighting systems have been installed to increase safety in landing at many fields, Hopkins said.
Federal funds expended on the program totaled $54,567,955 at the end of March, 40 per cent more than on Sept. 30, 1936.
Pennsylvania had the greatest share of government money spent under the program as of March 31—$9,369,552. California followed with $7,174,773, Ohio with $4,842,547, New York City $3,986,207, Tennessee $2,714,335, Illinois $2,016,327 and New York state $1,846,315.

GRANT PERMISSION FOR RUSSIAN FLIGHT

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The state department announced today it has granted a request of the Russian embassy for a Soviet aviator to fly over United States territory.
This indicated the Moscow government expected soon to try another flight from the Soviet capital to San Francisco via the North Pole—a venture which failed in 1935 because of mechanical difficulties encountered by Pilot Sigismund Levanevsky.
State department officials would give no further information, beyond asserting the formal permit did not specify the date, starting point or destination of the proposed flight.

FILM CRAFTSMEN RETURN TO WORK

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., June 11 (AP)—The 42-day strike of major film studio craftsmen, which harassed production and nearly led to a walkout of the screen actors' guild, ended today in a "satisfactory agreement."
Union painters, makeup artists, hairdressers and scenic artists voted to go back to work this morning.
Unionists said their demand for a closed shop was granted by the studios and wage adjustments were left for further negotiations.

TREASURY OFFERING FAR OVER-SUBSCRIBED

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The treasury reported today that its $800,000,000 note offering this week was about six times over-subscribed.
The $800,000,000 note issue was designed to provide for a $300,000,000 maturity of discount bills June 15 and to put new cash in the treasury's dwindling working balance.
—$9,369,552. California followed with $7,174,773, Ohio with $4,842,547, New York City $3,986,207, Tennessee $2,714,335, Illinois $2,016,327 and New York state $1,846,315.

HIGHER STANDARDS FOR NEWSPAPERS ASKED IN ADDRESS

BROWNWOOD, June 11 (AP)—Texas editors today had heard praise for themselves and a plea for higher standards for their newspapers.
Chairman Robert L. Bobbitt of the Texas highway commission told the annual Texas Press association convention that a state press had shown itself accurate, courageous, intellectual and independent.
Past president Will H. Mayes of Austin then proposed the state's newspapers should assume greater leadership and attempt to raise the intellectual and moral standards of the readers. "I believe the people will like it," he said.

LIBBY HOLMAN AND JACK DOYLE LINKED IN ROMANCE STORY

LONDON, June 11 (AP)—The Daily Mail today linked the names of Jack Doyle, handsome prize-fighter and blues-singer, Libby Holman, in a possible romance.
The newspaper read the name of Miss Holman, widow of Smith Reynolds of the Reynolds tobacco company family, into an interview Doyle gave before he sailed yesterday for the United States.
In the interview Doyle said he expected "to marry a beautiful, young, brunet, American widow who is a millionaire with a fortune in tobacco."
Doyle also declared his prospective bride was in London recently to see him.
Miss Holman, who recently left for Paris after an engagement here during the coronation, fits all these qualifications, the paper hints out.

Warm Weather Is Factor In Aiding Retail Business

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—The abrupt arrival of warm weather stepped up the tempo of trade this week with many retailers reporting the largest sales thus far in 1937. Dun & Bradstreet reported today in the weekly review.
Sales of summer clothing took the lead in merchandising promotions, the agency said, adding that the sudden demand for seasonal merchandise was reflected in wholesale markets by reorder, which indicated the inadequacy of retailers' stocks.
Labor difficulties in some industries, notably steel, threw production totals out of gear in the industrial division, although average operations in other lines changed little, the resume noted.
Percentage increases over last year in the major geographic areas were: New England, 10 to 16; East, 12 to 25; Middle West, 1 to 20; Northwest, 15 to 23; South, 19 to 32; Southwest, 15 to 25; Pacific Coast, 10 to 22.

Reading Well

Reports from San Angelo said that P. C. Leatherwood was resting fairly well at a hospital there. He received a fractured right ankle, a fractured left jaw, a bad cut over the left eye and several minor cuts and bruises.

The accident occurred, said reports from San Angelo, as Willcox and Leatherwood were leaving the filling station on the other side of Broome driving north in a Chevrolet coupe. Mims was motoring with his wife and son in a Plymouth coupe, headed south. Apparently there was a misjudgment on part of the drivers as to who was going to stop to let the other pass. Keith Whit, assistant police chief at San Angelo, said indications were that both tried to reverse to avert the collision, but hit head-on full force.

Both autos were badly wrecked, the motors pushed up into the cabs, Whit said.

An ambulance from Sterling City took Mr. and Mrs. Mims to the hospital at San Angelo. Jack Mims was taken to the hospital by a motorist, and Willcox and Leatherwood by ambulances.

Relatives from here went to San Angelo Thursday afternoon immediately on receiving word of the crash. Willcox and Leatherwood were en route home from Houston when the mishap occurred.

Owens Wins From Howard County, 13-9

Refiners Rush 3 Pitchers Into Game Before Bats Silenced

A big fourth inning in which the Gassers scored eight runs, enabled Owens to defeat the Howard county Refiners, 13-9, Thursday night.

The Refiners used three pitchers in that stanza before the Gassers could be retired. Red Cunningham was driven from the mound to be succeeded by George Neel. Neel later gave way to Frank Standfield.

The Refiners tallied five runs in the first two innings but their offensive runs were silenced after those two uprisings.

Tax Dodging List Compiled

Names Will Be Submitted As Committee Starts Investigation

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Treasury officials disclosed today they have compiled a secret list of wealthy persons who they contend have dodged federal income taxes.

They said the names will be handed to a congressional committee when hearings start in an investigation of tax evasion and avoidance, probably next week.

Officials were silent regarding the identity of men and women on the list, but informed persons said it was dotted with names high in the business and financial world.

The investigating committee will decide whether to make public individual tax cases. When names are disclosed, the individuals are expected to be called for testimony.

The committee, composed of six senators and six representatives, will be appointed as soon as President Roosevelt signs the resolution for the inquiry, approved by the senate yesterday.

Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) of the house ways and means committee was expected to head the investigators.

With reparations for the inquiry well under way, the house took up today the proposed extension of three-cent letter postage and "nuisance" taxes which bring in more than $500,000,000 a year.

The postoffice department has estimated a return to two-cent postage would cut its income by $80,000,000 or $90,000,000 in the next fiscal year.

The "nuisance" levies, which would expire or be reduced on June 30 unless their continuation is ordered, include admission and import taxes and excise taxes on products ranging from gasoline and chewing gum to automobiles and watches.

ARIZONIANS LEAD IN COWBOY CONTESTS

SALINAS, Calif., June 11 (AP)—Asbury Schell and Carl Shepard of Tempe, Ariz., traded places during the past month in the point-race for this year's title of world's champion cowboy. Standings of the rodeo association of America today gave Schell 2,270 points for first place and Shepard 1,904 points for second.

Division leaders this month include:

Steakback riding—Shorty Hill, Venus, Tex., 292.

Steer wrestling—Dogtown Slim, Tilden, Tex., 693.

Restoration Of Dust Bowl A Big Job For New Government Official

By PAUL D. SHOEMAKER
Associated Press Farm Editor
AMARILLO, June 11 (AP)—The toughest job in the "dust bowl," the nation's agricultural problem area, rests on the 35-year-old shoulders of Roy I. Kimmel, assigned by Secretary Wallace to coordinate the government's efforts to restore the vast acreage to proper use.

Everywhere in the area people admit thousands of acres should never have been plowed by the plow.

In his new assignment Kimmel will undertake to encourage communities, districts and counties to initiate land zoning programs as provided under enabling laws passed by the five states. If farmers in an area decide certain lands should be restored to grass, or that other lands should be seeded to wind-resistant crops, and they so vote, it becomes compulsory.

It is a far-reaching soil conservation program, with government agencies standing by, willing to advise and aid.

Gradually farmers are beginning to follow the recommended land uses, but there are many complaints against the owner unwilling to cooperate because "he has an idea the government is trying to boss him."

Rainfall of the last three weeks found thousands of acres unprepared to receive it. Much moisture, which should have been conserved in the sub-soil, was lost through run-off. Rivers and creeks filled to capacity. In some instances serious water erosion resulted.

H. H. Finnell, regional director for the soil conservation service, said: "Moisture alone is not enough to halt the dust storms."

POULTRY MEETINGS CONDUCTED IN COUNTY

George P. McCarthy, poultry specialist from Texas A. & M., associated with the extension service, conducted two poultry meetings with 4-H women and girls in Howard county Thursday.

During the morning he directed his remarks and demonstrations primarily to 4-H girl club poultry problems. While the meeting was held in the Knott community, there were representatives from three other clubs in attendance.

AMELIA COMPLETES ANOTHER AIR HOP

FORT LAMY, French West Africa, June 11 (AP)—Amelia Earhart landed here today to complete a 1,000-mile leg of her flight around the world.

She set her twin-engine monoplane down at a 655 a. m. CST, after flying from Gao over equatorial Africa.

PARIS, June 11 (AP)—Jub Hollis, who has been assistant football coach at Paris Junior college, today was appointed principal of the Graham grade school, succeeding the late W. J. Morrow.

Ex-Officers In Red Army Face Trial

Once-Trusted Generals, Now Called Traitors To Soviet Govt.

MOSCOW, June 11 (AP)—Eight once-trusted Red army generals were called to secret trial today as acknowledged traitors to Soviet Russia, conspirators with an enemy power.

They face swift execution without the right of appeal, under the law. An official communique said every one had pleaded guilty.

A military tribunal heard them behind locked doors at a secret meeting place, and the Russian press called them "black traitorous fascist spies" who schemed to wrest the soil from the peasants and the factories from the workers.

The trial, the third great treason case in less than a year, differed from the others in that the generals were not accused of "Trotkyism."

Sixteen who were shot last August and the 13 last January were convicted of conspiring for a counter-revolution with Leon Trotsky himself once the supreme command of the Red army and now in exile in Mexico.

Pravda, the communist party newspaper, proclaimed in stinging tones that no mercy would be shown and that there would be no delay in "getting the defendants before a firing squad."

WARDROBE CONTESTS SLATED TOMORROW

Contests eliminating three years of wardrobe activities will be held here Saturday by home demonstration groups of the county.

Miss Kate Adele Hill, director of demonstration work in district No. 6, will judge first three places in three groups, children, co-operators and demonstrators.

In a transaction completed this week, J. D. Elliott, Big Spring drug store operator, acquired the property of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Ruhrup on Rannels street.

Included in the deal was the house and lot at 511 Rannels and a house and two lots at 202-04 E. 6th street. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott are to live in one of the duplex apartments on Rannels street. The other house also contains two apartments.

REPRESENTATIVE

George Barber, secretary of the Sweetwater board of city development, Friday was assured that Big Spring would send a representative to the water carnival beauty parade in that city July 8. The Sweetwater Legion post is sponsoring the affair.

Billy Rose Writes About Facilities For Big Production

Billy Rose, director of the far-flung line of amusement enterprises bearing his name, has inquired as to the size of the municipal auditorium as a possible showing place for a gigantic road show he is said to be contemplating.

In a letter to City Manager E. V. Spence he disclosed that his plans were to select spots from Casa Mann at Fort Worth, Aquacade at Cleveland, and Jumbo at New York and combine them into an extravaganza of contrasts. The show would have several hundred employees and would require 15 coaches, said Rose.

"ALL-BRAN SAVED ME FROM A LIFETIME OF SUFFERING"

"I had suffered from constipation for three years. My condition was becoming really serious, when I read of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

"I bought a package. Within two weeks, my bowels were regular, and I began to enjoy living again. It has saved me from a lifetime of suffering."—Mrs. Lloyd Baird, 384 S. Bannock St., Denver, Colo.

Try ALL-BRAN yourself. It corrects the common type of constipation. Within the body, it absorbs twice its weight in water, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Three times daily in severe cases. As a cereal with milk or cream, or in recipes.

Isn't it better to eat this wholesome food than to take pills and drugs that may be harmful and often lose their effect? ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

THE REAL PROBLEM

How to prevent another depression, which some economists assert is on the way, is a problem that is receiving attention from yet other economists, but so far none seem to have found the answer. It ought to be easy to find the answer. Preventing the depression is another matter altogether.

The answer is for people to live within incomes and to reduce as far as possible their dependence on government aid, pensions, loans and grants, and similar makeshifts that were invented to ease the pains of the recent depression, not to cure it.

When a man spends more than he earns he is in trouble and the people he owes are in trouble, and if the man is in very deep his failure to pay will involve others and like a house of cards, when one falls others topple in succession.

Reasonable deferred payment buying is not subject to criticism, for such buying is based on an established income with enough margin to allow for unexpected contingencies. It is indiscriminate credit buying, with the hope that something will turn up to enable the debtor to meet his obligations, that leads to trouble.

It is not necessary to stop all buying in order to prevent a depression. Needed things and even unnecessary things, if the buyer be able to afford them, should be bought.

When Jeanne Eagels was confiding to her friends, "They want me to do a new play, and I'm going to do it, but it's been turned down by so many managers that I wonder whether it's any good." The play was "Rain."

When Jimmy Walker was the Boy Mayor and first nights were really ebullient affairs.

When Tex Guinan was coining money by coining phrases, and two of them were "Hello, sucker," and "Give this little girl a great big hand."

When Barbara LeMarr was the epitome of sophisticated sirens and Fatty Arbuckle was the funniest of all comedians.

When John McGraw said it with fists whenever one of his players flouted his authority.

When Maurice Stiller got off a boat from Sweden leading a tall, gawky girl by the hand and said to the ship reporters: "Gentlemen, this is a new personality and I am going to take her to Hollywood and make her a great star. Her name is Greta Garbo."

Where are they now? Stiller, Jeanne Eagels, Jimmy DeForest, Valentino, Tex Guinan, Barbara LeMarr, Fatty Arbuckle, McGraw, Diamond and Rothstein are all dead.

Sugar-coated court bill "compromise" offered.
Eleven justices would be the sectional representatives.
Backing expected from south and Midwest.
Hugh Gibson believed slated for promotion.

SUGAR
WASHINGTON, June 11 — A catchy new "compromise" on supreme court packing has been waited softly within congress by White House wafers. It is likely to be the one pressed in the end, instead of the generally known compromises which are being publicly discussed.

Evening Up
This is a well thought-out proposal which is the result of more than one sleepless night of official thinking. It sounds so orderly that it successfully disguises the fact that the president would get two additional supreme court appointments to uphold his legal interpretations.

Promotion List
There is something behind mild printed rumors that Ambassador Hugh Gibson in Switzerland may be brought back here as under-secret of state. At present, the talk really represents interdepartmental discussion of such a possibility, with a fair chance that it may work out.

No Jokes
It may be the heat, and it may be the stupidity, but something has lately disturbed the normal good humor and friendly contact among a number of officials around the White House.

Loyalty
Mr. R. is being quoted as saying the selection of a New York mayor is a local matter (although he laughed outright at the suggestion of Senator Copeland as the democratic nominee).

Where are they now? Stiller, Jeanne Eagels, Jimmy DeForest, Valentino, Tex Guinan, Barbara LeMarr, Fatty Arbuckle, McGraw, Diamond and Rothstein are all dead.

CHAPTER XX
"Around the first turn in the Kentucky Derby," droned out the announcer in rapid, sing-song tones. "It's Hibiscus by two. Parader a neck, Blackamoor third, and Robert, respectively. A vacancy now exists for the Van Devanter appointment from Wyoming."

Kelly saw Gordon's hand dart out for his reins again.
She could hand to Duke $76,000 reclaim Brookdale Breeding Farm and marry Hartley Madison. She could leave forever the tracks. And she knew now she did not want to marry Hartley! But, inconsistent though it was, she did want to win that race.

Tip was sputtering with rage. "Every worth-while race I've seen for ten years," he said, "and if that race was on the square—I know Dixie Gordon!"
"Run down quick," snapped Duke, "and find out how badly Kelly's hurt. Pretty tough for that little guy—an accident like that can wreck a man's nerve."

Hollywood

Sights and Sounds
By Robin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—Paul Muni calls "living the character."
Laine Rainer calls it artistic interpretation.

What Garbo calls it I wouldn't know first-hand. But Akim Tamiroff, of all the "artistic" artists of the screen, is the first one to call it "poison." "You cannot act," he assures you, "unless you become literally poisoned by your role. It must get your blood, your stomach, and your sleep a nightmare until you get it out of your system."

Tamiroff, short and on the plumpish side, is still Russian in Hollywood. He looks Latin rather than Slavic, which makes him suitable for a greater variety of roles. With make-up he can do a passing fair Chinese, too. His dawn-dying general was runner-up, remember, for an academy award. Lately he's been running to Italians.

A Slave To Work
It is when talking about acting that Tamiroff becomes Russian and intense. His entire career has been characterized by a sort of slavery to his work.

Concentrates On Dialog
He decided to make each bit of dialog given him as complete a work of art as possible.

Muni, Hopkins Co-Featured

'At The Ritz In War-Time Drama, "The Woman I Love"

Two of the screen's ablest players, Paul Muni—his ability won him the 1936 Academy award—and Miriam Hopkins, are co-starring in a romance of wartime aviation, "The Woman I Love," booked at the Ritz there Friday and Saturday.

In the picture, the two have dramatic roles equal in scope to any of their brilliant careers. Muni portrays a shy, sensitive war-time flier, unpopular with his fellows and bitter over his own failure. Miss Hopkins has the role of his wife, a woman who has never known what love is until she is suddenly and irrevocably attracted to a young aviator who, as she learns too late, becomes her husband's closest friend at the front.

The gripping situations that arise make the film an unusually powerful one and afford both stars, as well as Louis Hayward, who portrays the youthful flier, exceptional dramatic opportunities. Colin Clive, Wally Albright, Mady Christians, Paul Guilfoyle, Owen Davis, Jr., Adrian Morris and others are in the supporting cast.

'Gold Diggers' Film Booked At Queen Sunday - Monday

"Gold Diggers of 1937," most recent of the famous series of musical comedies made by Warner Bros., returns here for a showing at the Queen Sunday and Monday, with a midnight matinee preview Saturday night. Dick Powell and

Joan Blondell are the stars. It has, like its predecessors, a lot of fast-stepping, lovely-to-look-at dancing girls trained by Busby Berkeley (no less than 200 of them this time), and is interspersed with new hit songs by Harold Arlen and E. Y. Harburg, and Harry Wrenn and Al Dubin.

Million," a pleasing film release that marked the debut in films of Sonja Henie, a twinkling little blonde who not only is a sensational ice skater, but is definitely an attractive screen personality as well.

Don Ameche, Adolphe Menjou, Ned Sparks, the Ritz Brothers, Borrah Minneville and his harmonica rascals, Dixie Dunbar, Leah Ray and Shirley Deane are others contributing to the entertainment.

The plot of the story has to do with a troupe of American entertainers, headed by Menjou, who, touring Europe, are stranded in a Swiss mountain resort. There Menjou discovers the marvelously gifted ice skater in the person of Miss Henie, attempts to put her into his show. Her father, however, is determined that she shall win the Olympics championship, and the battle of amateurism vs. professionalism becomes a factor.

WOULD AUTHORIZE CURRENCY ISSUANCE

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) advocate of monetary expansion, announced to the senate today introduction of legislation authorizing issuance of currency against the treasury's "sterilized" gold cache which he put at $800,000,000. Metal to this amount, he said, had been removed from circulation to discourage inflation.

Thomas said the treasury's hoard of gold and silver totaled $13,432,311,965, adding "yet all the kinds of actual money in circulation does not amount to half that sum."

His bill, Thomas said, would provide that in the future the treasury would issue currency against its gold acquisition instead of issuing interest bearing bonds. This, he said, would provide "a duplicate of the silver purchase program" for gold. He said the silver program had made money cheaper and raised prices, resulting in "raising prices to the producer to the point where he had a better chance to live."

BOND SET
SWEETWATER, Texas, June 11 (AP)—Bond of $10,000 had been set today for Bill Dawson, charged with murder in the slaying last week of Mayor A. J. Parker of Roscoe. A habeas corpus hearing was to be held late today.

Through the help of a newspaperman (Don Ameche) who also is at the resort, and who falls in love with Miss Henie, the girl wins honors, money and love.

Western Fare For Weekend

Bob Custer, Dick Foran
Have Leading Roles
On Local Screens

The customary Western fare is on the local screen menu for the week-end. At the Queen Friday and Saturday will be an adventure melodrama, "Ambush Valley," in which Bob Custer has the starring role.

In the picture, Custer appears as a western sheriff who faces the unpleasant task of having to arrest the brother of his sweetheart, on murder charges. A fatal brawl is the outgrowth of a bitter feud of the old range days, the feud forming the background of the exciting story. How the young sheriff finally brings guilty persons to justice and succeeds in bringing peace to his section forms the climax of the story.

In the supporting cast are Victoria Vinton, Vane Calvert, Eddie Phillips, Wally Wales, O. Gahan, Ed Cassidy and Denver Dickson. Dick Foran, the muscular young man who also possesses a fine singing voice, has the lead role in the outdoor story at the Lyric Friday and Saturday. He appears in "Guns of the Pecos," a stirring melodrama of early days of the range. Anne Nagel has the feminine lead opposite him and Eddie Acuff has a featured role.

Alfred W. Oliphant, Jr., an auditor with the Texas state board of control, has collected 38,000 postage stamps in 14 years.

TENANCY BILL GETS GROUP'S APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—The senate agriculture committee sent the administration's farm tenancy bill to the floor today with a unanimous recommendation for its passage.

The measure calls for establishment of a farmers' home corporation empowered to spend $10,000,000 during the next fiscal year in aiding worthy tenant farmers to buy their own land.

It authorized a $25,000,000 expenditure the next year, and $50,000,000 annually thereafter.

A conflicting tenancy bill has been reported by the house agriculture committee, but senate leaders said they were confident a compromise could be reached.
