

HOW ALLIES THREATEN JAPAN'S SOUTHERN CONQUESTS—Heavy line encloses Japan's major conquests in the Southwest Pacific, the East Indies and southeast Asia. Arrows indicate recent Allied moves, climaxed by the American invasion of the central Philippines at Leyte Island. Americans have won bases from the Marianas

Islands to Morotai and sent naval forces deep into the Formosa-Philippines area just before the invasion. China-based U.S. Superfortresses have attacked Formosa. Mounting Allied activity in the Indian ocean was indicated by a Tokyo report of a task force attack on the Nicobar Islands. (AP Wirephoto).

Reviewing The Big Spring -Week-

Joe Pickle If we are looking for a lesson on how to reach our $28,900 community war chest objective, we don't have to look any further than Coahoma. Folks of this town decided to do it the quick way and held an auction sale Friday night. Result: They over-subscribed their $1,000 quota.

Elsewhere no significant progress was reported in the badly sodden front. Direct air support was cut by rain to a minimum.

The final surrender of Aachen, first large German city to fall into Allied hands, was made by 800 Germans who violated Adolf Hitler's "fight-to-the-death" orders after being hammered into traps from which there was no escape from L. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' savagely-attacking 8th army doughboys.

It was the first formal surrender of German arms on German soil in modern history. Tonight the German homefolks still had not been told of it by their propaganda ministry.

In an offensive which field dispatches said went well throughout its first 24 hours, the Canadians thrust two miles past the important road junction town of Wustewzel, 13 miles northeast of Antwerp on the road to Breda. Canadian spearheads were approximately parallel on two roads leading north to Eschen and Roosendaal.

British infantry operating under Canadian First army command made roughly the same rate of advance on the left flank beyond Calmpouth. On the right flank a combat group reached past Maria Ter Heide four miles.

War Chest Drive Passes Half-Way Mark Here

R. R. McEwen, general chairman of the Big Spring Community War Chest drive, wired the state war chest headquarters Saturday that $15,425.31 has been banked in the drive for Howard county.

"There are many names conspicuous by their absence from this list," McEwen said. "It is thought by the committee that a good number of people who wish to be a part of this program have not been contacted. Do not wait for someone to call on you; be the good sport that you are and send your check to G. H. Hayward, chairman of the special gifts committee, for the biggest amount that your bank will cash. Let's get this drive over with, every man, woman and child in Howard county being a part of it. This is your war; these are your boys and girls in the Boy and Girl Scouts, it is your Salvation Army," he concluded.

The committee reports that employees at the Cosden refinery have already pledged over $1,500 and the company officials, it is understood, will duplicate the contributions.

New Star Plus Familiar Ones Mark Screen Hit

To anyone seeing Columbia's romantic comedy, "The Impatient Years," currently playing at the Ritz Theatre, there will be many things which will linger in the memory. It shows today and Monday.

There's the story itself, which tells of a soldier's return, after almost two years' absence, to his bride of one day. Written by associate producer Virginia Van Upp, it is timely, human and imbued with a tenderness and understanding for the real humor behind such a situation. This same story will happen tomorrow in millions of homes and hearts. You'll laugh and cry with this boy and girl so deep yet so muddled in their love.

Jean Arthur Charm
Then there's the charm of Jean Arthur. She has never been more sympathetic, more comic. The humor behind her portrayal is real and she never misses by even a hairbreadth in bringing out each subtlety. Nor are her broader comedy moments just broad. Never does she lose her sense of balance and projection of reality. But that is to be expected of Jean.

Charles Coburn also doesn't fall in what we have learned to expect from him. As Jean's father, who really has the idea which straightens the lovers out, he is warm, yet enough of a "buttin'ky" to be comic as well.

And now we come to the other star, Lee Bowman. We liked Lee Bowman in "Cover Girl." He gave an excellent performance. But we must admit that he was a surprise to us in "The Impatient Years."

He's a ravel! Here is just what picture companies have been crying for — a leading man who has technique, charm and those human qualities which the movie-going public demands in its heroes. He's handsome, but not pretty. He knows comedy. He has warmth and understanding. It would appear that we like Lee Bowman. We do. We predict that his future career will be meteoric.

Human Comedy
Other members of the cast, even in very minor roles, give the stars every ounce of support to make "The Impatient Years" what it is — one of the most human and feeling comedies on the screen today. Phil Brown as boarder and baby-tender in Jean's home; the baby itself, Viv Beaver; Charley Grapewin as an ubiquitous bell-boy; Grant Mitchell as a hotel clerk; all are there with splendid fill-in performances and characterizations to keep "The Impatient Years" real.

The direction of Irving Cummings leaves nothing to be desired. From the opening shot until the final climax, he keeps his players going at a pace which though comic, never spoils the reality. He has done one of the best jobs of his career.

John Wayne, Martha Scott and Albert Dekker in a scene from "In Old Oklahoma" showing at the State today and Monday.

Dekker Vies With John Wayne For Love And Power "In Old Oklahoma"

Reproducing with nostalgic accuracy the western scene when fortunes were coming in with "black gold" sucked from the earth and a new oil powered era was beginning, Republic has created a picture of action and romance on a scale not previously attempted at that studio. John Wayne, Martha Scott and Albert Dekker head the strong cast — the two men bitter opponents on the question of control of the new wealth, and the girl thrilled by the new spirit of freedom and the glamour of power. Their story, based on "War of the Wildcatters" by Thomas Burris, is American history, often told but exciting nevertheless. Dekker is the "tycoon" who has caught the oil boom at the beginning and hopes to keep it under his control. Miss Scott is a school teacher in search of romance, who finds it first in money but later in love. Wayne brings the lesson home to both when he leads the opposition on behalf of the Indians and the pioneer farmers whose lands carry unknown wealth.

There are scenes of real excitement when oil bursts through after months of drilling and scatters the feeble scaffolding over the surrounding country. But the highlight is the wild ride to Tulsa in a wagon caravan, in spite of brush fires and explosions, to beat a deadline and secure the development company for its rightful owners.

Albert S. Rogell's direction takes advantage of the spectacle without overshadowing the romance. While action might be lightened in a few scenes, the screenplay by Ethel Hill and Eleanor Griffin justifies in its varied elements the 102 minutes' running time. Robert North was associate producer.

Lyric Feature Sparkles With Antics Of Ryan

Peggy Ryan, Hollywood's young and rapidly rising comedienne, is not impressed by the glamor which is one of Hollywood's principal assets.

Peggy claims she is not beautiful, although there are those who will disagree with her. She takes great delight in sticking a pin in the inflated vanity of other Hollywood glamour girls who are overly impressed with themselves.

During the filming of "Chip Off The Old Block," showing today and Monday at the Lyric theatre, Peggy found that she had a day off in which she was not scheduled to work in front of the camera.

"Tell you what," she phoned Ray Jones, Universal's head photographer, "Why don't we take a series of pictures debunking Hollywood's glamor?"

"Peggy Poses" Jones thought it was a good idea, so they posed Peggy in the kitchen, baffled at what to do with a steak. They pictured her doing her own gardening work, using a trowel like a spade and showing her with an expression on her face which was anything but glamorous. By co-incidence, just as this sitting was completed, a magazine photographer arrived at Universal Studio, under instructions from his editor to take a legitimate glamour sitting, so the entire routine was duplicated, this time "straight."

"I thought I was poking fun at the glamour girls," Peggy commented, "but all the time it seems, I was kidding myself."

Peggy is 19 and engaged to be married to marine Sgt. Ray Hirsch. She came to Universal Studios following a year and a half in the successful stage production, "Meet the People." She has been described as the young edition of Fannie Brice.

Land "Not Wuth Taxes" Held Great Oil Pool

A rancher most of his life, Ira G. Yates decided it would be fine to become a merchant, so he traded 218 cows for a store in the West Texas village of Rankin, in Upton county; but, after 18 months of keeping books and selling flour and kerosene, he hankered for life in the open again—so he swapped the store, in 1915, for a ranch "across the Pecos."

And that might be considered the starting point in the chain of events that was to lead to the discovery of the Yates field, in some respects the most remarkable in history—a field that was to witness probably the most gigantic gusher ever drilled and brought under control in the world, a field moreover that already has contributed $8,000,000 to the public school of Texas and that, before its course is run, will have produced (experts estimate) several hundred million dollars worth of oil.

When Yates acquired the ranch, a friend who had formerly been its owner, advised him, "Get rid of it at once," adding that he had lost money on the ranch himself. An acquaintance gibed, "Even the buffalo knew better than to cross the Pecos." Another chimed in, "Why, a crow wouldn't fly over that land," and a third said, "It ain't worth the taxes."

But Yates ignored alike the well-meant counsel and the rough but friendly joshing. A severe drought came and he found 1916 "tough going." But he stuck it out county (Big Lake) field was discovered, "we all got the oil fever," Yates related.

The Pecos, however, was regarded as the deadline for oil production. True, some years before, small production had been found in shallow wells near Toyah in Pecos county; and, in 1921, Fort Stockton, the county seat, was thrilled by a well (some 60 miles from the Yates ranch) that, from the amazing depth of only 96 feet, flowed several thousand barrels in less than 24 hours—then stopped. Other tests around the "Mystery Well" proved dry holes. For all practical purposes, therefore, the Pecos River had come to be considered the deadline for oil.

One hot day, Yates was rounding up drouth-stricken cattle to be driven to Rankin for shipment to market when Charles A. Hitt, in charge of land operations for the Transcontinental Oil company in West Texas, accompanied by Ossie Greene, Transcontinental scout, and others with that company, paid Yates a visit to discuss an option for an oil lease on his ranch. He agreed to talk about the matter with them further at Rankin two days later—and there, sitting on top of a corral fence, he signed the papers for a consideration of one dollar.

This 60-day option was twice extended and had only a few days to run when Hitt was instructed to obtain the lease. The instructions came from the Transcontinental's headquarters in Tulsa where A. M. (Jack) Hagan and other geologists of the company had filed highly favorable reports.

So Hitt and O. H. Kilpatrick, geologist and engineer for the company, set out from San Angelo on the 130-mile drive. At Sheffield, they picked up J. D. Miller, Jr., land man for the company, and were joined by a notary public whom they found milking on his stock farm. There had been heavy rains and the Pecos was swollen so that it was night when the four reached the ranch house. There, at 11 p. m. on Dec. 29, 1923, Ira Yates and his wife, Ann, affixed their signatures to documents for a lease on 4,000 acres free and on an additional 4,000 acres for a dollar an acre bonus and a yearly rental of 25 cents an acre.

The visitors started back that night so the check could be placed to Yates' credit when the bank opened in San Angelo next morning. They dropped the notary public at his home. "How much do we owe you?" Hitt asked. "Would $2.50 be too much?" the functionary inquired. He was paid $5. Time went by and in the spring of 1926, more than two years after the lease had been taken, Yates insisted that a well be drilled. The Transcontinental made a deal with the Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas company whereby the latter was to put down a test for a half interest in the lease. (The Mid-Kansas had a favorable report which had been made by Frank R. Clark of Tulsa, its chief geologist, assisted in his study by William C. Kinkel, then the Mid-Kansas' field geologist.)

Unlike many tests far from production, the Yates wildcat encountered no heart-breaking difficulties and delays. Only 23 days were required to drill the well. About 9 o'clock on the night of October 28, 1926, the well made a flow.

Charles Kelly, tool-dresser, went to Yates' home, aroused him and told him, "Mr. Yates, we've brought you in a well; it will be a good one." Then the bearer of the news went on to McCamey and awakened George Howard, the drilling contractor. Howard

Plane In 300th Combat Mission

15TH AAF IN ITALY — The 300th combat mission of a B-24 Liberator group based in southern Italy was chalked up recently when its bomb-totin' "Libs" struck a Nazi-held railroad viaduct at Avio, Italy, on the important Brenner Pass route.

This enviable record established in over two years of overseas operations, now finds this group one of the indestructible links in the powerful chain of the 15th AAF bombing forces.

The group is the proud possessor of two presidential citations and a score of commendations for its participation in bombing attacks on every important objective in southern Germany, southern France, northern Italy, and the Balkans.

No special observance of the mission was held except that the boys did "one helluva good job on the target."

First Sergeant Edward T. Smith joined this group several months ago. His wife, Mrs. Naomi Smith, and their 8 month old daughter,

Edwina Beth, reside in Plains, Texas. Sgt. Smith, who left the states in December, 1943, has not yet seen his youngster. Before joining the army in April 1941, he was the Big Spring, Texas, agent for the State Reserve Life Insurance Co. In several short leaves while in Italy, Sgt. Smith has visited both Rome and the famous tourist center of Capri. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Smith, are also residents of Plains, Texas.

Sgt. Barton Finds "Aerial Tour" Of Europe Educational, Hard On Nerves

S-Sgt. Frank R. Barton, having ended his aerial "sight-seeing tour over Europe," is home to visit with his wife, Mrs. Kathryn Barton, 408 State, and with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Barton. With more than 50 missions to his credit, the tall gunner on a B-17 with the 15th AAF in Italy, is due for an assignment in the states.
Sgt. Barton is a graduate of Big Spring high school where he was a football star and attended Southwestern University at Georgetown until entering the army January 25, 1943. He graduated with his gunners wings from the Las Vegas, Nev. gunnery school in Sept. 1943. Today he holds the air medal with three oak leaf clusters.
Dispatches from the 15th AAF upon completion of his 50th mission, which entitled him to membership in the Cinquanta fraternity, quoted Sgt. Barton as observing that aerial tours over Europe might be "educational, but it is far from relaxing when enemy ack-ack gunners try to bolster their tourist trade by throwing explosive steel invitations at a guy."
His first mission was against railroad yards in Brod, Yugoslavia on April 2, 1944 and his 50th was against a German operated synthetic oil refinery at Blechhammer, Germany on Aug. 27, 1944. One of his missions was against the Floestl, Rumanin oil fields.

One of his most vivid memories was a mission against a German fighter plane factory at Weimer-Neustadt, Austria on May 10, 1944. The target was far enough removed that crew members had ample time to think about reception over the ME production center.
"It happened all at once," he recalled. Nearly a hundred Jerry fighters dived on us out of the sun throwing streams of exploding 200 mm shells from all directions. We were still about 15 minutes away from the target.
"If there was any possibility of queezing up inside of my helmet, I surely would have done so after more than 60 flak and shell holes appeared as if magic throughout the ship's tail section."
The fight had all the earmarks of a nightmare, he said, but "we fought our way through to put the aircraft factory out of business and then concentrated on getting out of there."
P-51s and P-38 fighters showed up and after shooting a few enemy fighters down, the others decided to call it a day. But one of Sgt. Barton's ailerons had been destroyed and the No. 2 engine was badly hit. Notwithstanding, the prop was feathered and the craft hobbled home information.
On a June 16, 1944 mission over Vienna, Austria oil refineries, flak got two engines and the ship dropped out of formation.
"We stripped the ship of every bit of excessive weight we could lay our hands on, including our flak suits and ammunition," said Sgt. Barton. "We dodged in and out of clouds and over mountain peaks to avoid enemy flak and fighter areas, and Lady Luck still rode with us. I'm keen on flying, but I can't get use to playing clay pigeon over ack-ack batteries."

Fields, Big Spring, and has a sister, Mrs. H. L. Thurman, and two brothers, T. E. Fields and Arnold Fields, residing here. Another brother, Sgt. W. A. Fields, is in France after 18 months in Italy. Sgt. Fields is with the 96th division and went in on D day. He entered service in January 1941, trained at Ft. Sill, Okla., Camp Wolters, New Orleans, twice at Texas City, Camp Swift, Camp Shelby, Miss., Camp Hood and Ft. Dix, N. J. before going to England in March 1944. Interpreting The War News— UNITED NATIONS CLOSING IN STEADILY FOR DOUBLE KILL

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst
The Nazi-Nipponese war axis was rocking with new portents of approaching doom this October week-end.
From fallen Aachen in Germany to MacArthur's return - to - the - Philippines beachheads on Leyte; from Russian advance lines on German soil in east Prussia to the Nazi lost Balkan peninsula; from the slowly collapsing Nazi mountain ramparts guarding Italy's vast Po valley to the Red army inundated plains of Hungary, and even in far away Burma and the strategic Nicobar Islands in the Bay of Bengal the story was the same. The United Nations were closing in for the double kill.
It could be read clearly in Hitler's wailing appeal to the German people to defend him and his criminal Nazi regime with their lives. His home guard mobilization decree dropped all pretense that victory was still possible. It called only for a fight to the death within Germany itself in hope that a softer peace than unconditional surrender somehow could be gained.
Japanese official desperation was no less apparent: in faked claims of a decisive naval victory over raiding American forces deep in Japan's home waters off Formosa. Invasion of the off for months, the Tokyo radio chanted, hoping thus to hide from the home front the blow dealt Japanese air and sea power.
A fraudulent day of rejoicing was set in Japan. Yet the words were no more than spoken than the Stars and Stripes were flying again over the Philippines. MacArthur, with his men, set foot again in the islands to redeem his promise of return, this time to stay until his liberation task is done.

Howard County 4-H Club Feeds Calves

The Howard county 4-H club now has a total of 61 calves on feed for the March Fat Stock show. In addition to the calves, 19 lambs are on feed.
Over 30 boys have signed up for feeding pigs and Durward Lewter, county agent, is trying to locate pigs born about Sept. 1 for this feeding. The pig show is to be a fat Barrow class with any breed of hogs.
Boys who have been added to the calf feeding are Jack Buchanan, three calves from S. F. Buchanan; Jimmy White, one calf from Jerry Wolf herd, and Melvin Griffith, one from the Tom Roden herd, making a total of 53 boys feeding calves.
Boys feeding lambs are Alford Thieme, Jr., five lambs from the Alford Thieme, Sr., flock; D. C. Bedell, five from the Alford Thieme, Sr., flock; Donald Gressett, five from the Gressett Bros. flock; Wade Choste, two lambs from Mrs. Wade flock; Wayne White, one lamb from Bob Powell flock, and Bobby Powell, one lamb from the Bob Powell flock. Any boy desiring to feed lambs or pigs should contact Lewter, as they should be on feed Nov. 1.

Market Experiences Week Of Indecision

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Investment selectively continued to rule stocks today and the market finished a rather sketchy week without any real indication of its next shift.
The Associated Press 60-stock composite was unchanged at 55.6 and on the week was up .1 of a point. Transfers for the two hours totaled 358,530 shares against 349,380 last Saturday.
Among the day's best performers at tops for 1944 were American Airlines, North American Aviation, Texas Pacific Land Trust, again spurred by word the concern had negotiated profitable leases to two important producers of petroleum; Marshall Field, and Childs Co.
Bonds were narrow.
Childs preferred jumped 4 points in the curb on odd-lot deals. Forward leaders also were Hartford Electric, Rice-Stix Dry Goods and International Petroleum. The aggregate here was 158,955 shares versus 150,125 a week ago.

Doughboys Think In Terms Of Food And Women; Latter Subject Censored

By KENNETH L. DIXON
WITH THE A.E.F. IN FRANCE, Oct. 15 (Delayed) (AP)—Since 90 per cent of doughboy conversation concerns either femininity or food and since even the Army's hardened censors would not pass their comments on the former subject, it looks like there is nothing else to do but listen to the never-ending chatter:
Mess Sgt. John E. Gaudin of Hennessey, Okla., sat before an old fashioned bakery in a hotly-contested French village and counted the minutes until the bread he was baking for his company would be done.
In came his helper, Pvt. Ralph Thompson of Anadarko, Okla., who reported "the command post says a hundred Jerries have broken through and are coming this way."
Gaudin looked inside the oven. "Ten more minutes," he said placidly, "and the bread will be done. If nothing happens by then, we will bake pie crusts. That will take only a few minutes and then we can beat it."
Pretty soon came a burst of German guns outside, but Gaudin's bakery hadn't had fresh bread since it hit France, so the two men stayed. Eventually they escaped with 50 loaves of fresh bread and eight pie crusts just before the Germans arrived.
"It was the smell of that bread that worried me," Gaudin admitted later, "because I knew that if the krauts ever got a whiff of it they would storm the bakery the first thing."
Less dramatic but more difficult to believe is the story of Cpl. Furman Davis of Center, Tex., an infantryman of the 45th division, who was sitting in

Servicemen Storm Pickett Placards

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 21 (AP)—A group of servicemen, aroused by a work stoppage which paralyzed the huge North American Aviation company's bomber plant, stormed the plant entrances today dispersing pickets and tearing up union placards.
Only a skeleton force of pickets was on duty because of the usual Saturday afternoon holiday. All but one left when the soldiers and sailors, who assembled earlier in downtown Kansas City, appeared.
The service men seized his placard which bore the inscription "NAA-CIO-UAW, Local No. 31," tore it up, and then destroyed several others. Another group moved on to other gates likewise tearing down placards.
The remaining picket told the men that this was a holiday and said no workers were due to report until Monday.
"Well, we'll be back then, and they'd better get in," shouted one of the soldiers.
Military police patrolled the street in jeeps but did not interfere.
No one was injured.
On estimated 50,000,000 acres of land east of the plains in the United States have been abandoned as farm land.

Mr. And Mrs. J.M. Choate Honored On Occasion Of 50th Anniversary

Hale and hearty, in usual good spirits and firm believers in large families, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Choate Friday observed their Golden Wedding anniversary.

At their home at the southern edge of the city, they were up early to daily chores which included a round of soap-making for Mrs. Choate and back-breaking work for Mr. Choate in building on a chicken house. This was their observance, but relatives saw to it that the event did not go unnoticed.

In the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hill, 804 Lancaster, a feast was spread Saturday evening as a "surprise," but even Friday Mr. and Mrs. Choate smiled over the air of secrecy. Having had 11 children, they knew something was in the making.

John M. Choate, a wiry cowboy, and Miss Zaid Gibbs had been keeping company in Mason county for several years when, in 1894, her father, H. B. Gibbs, started northward to Haskell with his family. Enroute, however, he passed at Menardville to help a brother harvest crops. That was close enough for the young cowboy to visit and he and Miss Gibbs decided that there was no use waiting.

The wedding took place in her uncle's home with a Rev. Peters solemnizing the vows. There then was a big dinner spread on long tables out under a lofty oak tree. In typical form for the groom, Mr. Choate was so confused he swears to this day that it was a pecan tree.

Among guests was Joe McKnight, a trapping cowhand who had worked six herds ranging from 1,000 to 2,400 out of the brush country that year. More people know him today as Dr. McKnight, veteran superintendent of the sanitarium at Carlsbad.

The young couple headed immediately back to Mason county where they made a home until 1916 when they migrated to Schleicher county. In 1920 they moved to Big Spring and soon afterward Mr. Choate joined the police force and remained on for more than 15 years.

To the union were born 11 children. Living are Mrs. Jewel Capansky, Hugo, Colo., John Harrell Choate, Mrs. Maymie Hill, Melvin Choate, Curtis Choate, George Choate and Mrs. Merle Grace Haygood of Big Spring, and Reuben Choate, S. 2-c, Norfolk, Va. Wyatt Choate, Mrs. Elsie Petty, and Earl Choate are deceased.

Rearing a large family was easy, Mr. and Mrs. Choate said, for "everyone around the house had a job to do. We got up at 4 o'clock and started the milking, wrangling the horses, gathering wood, and many other chores before breakfast. Both Mr. and Mrs. Choate don't believe juvenile delinquency can exist on a farm with plenty of children and plenty of work."

In Schleicher county the children rode six miles horseback to school, but "soon it took a hack, and whenever the family went anywhere, we had to use the Studebaker wagon." The boys knew how to handle teams and although there were some exciting times and an occasional spill, none got hurt. Likewise there was practically no staying away from school because some youngster decided he didn't feel particularly good.

When the Choates moved to Big Spring, they took over the historical Stewart (Cosmopolitan) hotel Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women are more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy. It helps keep the skin soft and pliable, thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin... for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Mother's Friend highly praised by nurses, many doctors and nurses. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin lubricant. Try it tonight!

Memorial Service Set For Pfc. Blake Talbott

Memorial services will be held Sunday night for Pfc. Charles Blake Talbott, the first member of the First Presbyterian church who has been killed in action. The commemorative services will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the First Presbyterian church.

A war department message received by Mrs. Blake Talbott on October 13 stated that Pfc. Talbott was killed in action in Italy on October 2, 1944.

The program of the services include an organ prelude, "Largo" by Devorak; selected Scriptural quotations; the invocation; "The Lord's Prayer" by Sgt. Bobby Layne Bounces Texas Into 19-0 Win Over Arkansas Porkers

By HENDRIX CHANDLER
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 21 (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Bobby Layne, operating behind a fast-charging Texas line, tossed and ran the Longhorns to a 19 to 0 win over the University of Arkansas here this afternoon.

With the game safely in the Texas column, Texas Coach Dana Bible withdrew Layne midway in the third period and the scoring ceased.

Ohio Scientist Finds Vitamin Treatment for Hay Fever Distress

News of vital interest to thousands of hay fever victims comes from an Ohio college laboratory where Vitamin C has been used with amazing success to check the distress and suffering of hay fever.

The near record crowd of more than 10,000 had hardly settled in their seats before the Texas freshman ace tossed a 44 yard aerial to End Hubert Bechtol to the Arkansas one-yard stripe.

A four-yard bullet pass from Layne to Bechtol brought the Texans their second score near the end of the half and a 30-yard heave from Layne to Fullback LeRoy Anderson gave the Longhorns their third and final touchdown in the third period.

Coach Glen Rose's Razorbacks came closest to scoring shortly before the close of the half when handyman Leon Pense, the converted guard, stood on his own 34 and fired a pass to Frank Schumchik on the Texas 23-yard marker.

After Layne left the game in the third period, the contest settled down to a battle of the two powerful lines.

Off-And-On Host Eleven Has Good Night To Crush Cook-Led Locals

Midland's off-and-on Bulldogs turned on the steam Friday night on home grounds to down a hard fighting Big Spring Steer crew led by Pete Cook 25-8 and shove themselves into a .500 percent average in conference standings, and pushing the Steers down to sixth place in league play.

The canine eleven was sparked by Bill Richards and M. C. Hale, a couple of hefty backs, who led their teammates in a game that featured 60 minutes of thrills with never a dull moment for the fans assembled.

Ohio State Wins 26-6 From Navy Training Station

By HAROLD HARRISON
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 21 (AP)—Those somewhat terrific Bucks from Ohio State bounced off the ropes in the fourth quarter today to ram over three touchdowns and hand the Great Lakes Naval Training Station a 26 to 6 defeat before a tremendous outpouring of 73,477 fans.

It was Ohio State's fourth straight victory and the first straight of the season for the Blue-jackets who were coached by Lt. Paul E. Brown, head coach at Ohio for three years.

After completely dominating the game in the first half, the Bucks sagged in the third quarter to let the Bluejackets tie the count six-all and when the final period started Ohio State to all intents and purpose was well on its way to fade out.

Then came the deluge. The Bucks, seeming to get their second wind, all but ran the Blue-jackets out of the park.

Starting from his own 33, he whipped a 24-yard pass to Jack Dugger and then reeled off 34 more yards by himself to give Ohio a first down on the Great Lakes five-yard line.

Tulane Takes 16-13 Win From Auburn

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 21 (AP)—Tailback Billy Jones' field goal from the 7-yard line in the dying minutes of play gave the Tulane Green Wave a 16-13 victory over an inspired Auburn Tigers team in a bitterly fought game here today.

Tulane spotted the Tigers a 7-0 lead in the opening minutes of play when tackle Joe Wozniak broke through to block Leonard Finley's punt and C. Garner recovered over the Greenies goal.

The Greenies struck back quickly, scoring on an 84-yard drive with Jones going over from the 5. Robinson's 32 yards on a reverse was the biggest blow in the drive. Jones kicked the tying point.

Tulane got ahead 13-7 in the second quarter with halfback Ben Ellender passing 10 yards to Jim Randall who ran 25 yards to score. Jones' try for point was low.

Kuykendall's fourth period touchdown was the most sensational play of the game. Fleet Curtis whipped through tackle, stumbled and almost went down on the Tulane 40, then straightened up and sprinted all the way to score.

There are more than 15,000 different uses for lumber and its by-products.

In the remaining few minutes of game time the fans saw both teams move fast and furiously up the field with neither team able to push another score across the double-stripe.

Iowa Grid Kids Lose 7-26 To Purdue Team

IOWA CITY, Ia., Oct. 21 (AP)—The all-Ivillian Iowa "grid kids" taunted Purdue with a game-leading second period touchdown today, and then saw their challenge fade as the Boiler-makers turned on the steam to win in the last half, 26 to 7.

The joy for Iowa's homecoming fans, as they saw their favorites take the lead—7 to 6—for the first time in their three games this season, was short-lived. Purdue roared back early in the third period to regain the upper hand, and then virtually toyed with the Hawkeys.

Sliding Down The Sports Chute

with BILL

District Three AA is rolling along toward the end of circuit play with the biggest and best battles yet to come in conference play. San Angelo still dominates the conference but Abilene and Sweetwater still in the running and Odessa a bare chance to come out on top after losing to Abilene.

The Bronchos will roll into their most decisive and important game Friday night when they invade Bobcat Stadium for what should be one of the top games of the year. Fans from nearly every section of this area will crowd the stands when the kickoff whistle blows and it will probably prove to be well-worth anybody's admission price.

Local officials have acknowledged local fan's hopes to see that game without missing a Steer clash with Tahoka and have moved the local game up to Thursday night to answer the wishes of supporters.

Local officials have acknowledged local fan's hopes to see that game without missing a Steer clash with Tahoka and have moved the local game up to Thursday night to answer the wishes of supporters.

Angelo is still this corner's choice to come out on top of the district, and to advance well into the state playoff. However the Mustangs over at Sweetwater are not to be passed in ways of recognition and have been making a most impressive showing this year.

The main trouble with the local district is that there are too many strong teams in it. Angelo, the most powerful, is the most likely one to advance to the state title, while Abilene, Sweetwater and Odessa must pack away their football togs before the bi-district play.

Congratulations to Ladd Smith for an outstanding game last Friday night against Midland. The light-weight center proved that weight is not all there is to football. He blocked the punt that gave the Steers their first score and played an all-round good ball game.

However the entire Steer eleven was more-than-impressive in the department of good play. They certainly looked improved over their spotty performance up at Lamesa. Lets keep the ball rolling against Tahoka, Steers.

See you . . .

Bombardiers Invade Sweetwater Courts

The Big Spring Bombardiers will be in Sweetwater, Tex., Wednesday evening, Oct. 25, to open their season against the crack basketball team from Avenger Field.

Capt. Floyd B. Burdette, 6 ft. 5 inch coach and playing star of the Bombardiers, is taking a 10-man squad to Sweetwater. Accompanying him will be Major Eugene Magruder, Lieut. Roland Reading, Lieut. Jack Cardoni, S/Sgt. Mel Vise, S-Sgt. Flinn Dunham, S-Sgt. Dixon Kirk, Sgt. Ross Doty, Col. John Barbour and Pfc. Rex Alexander.

The teams play a return engagement at the post gymnasium at Big Spring Friday evening, Oct. 27. The home-and-home series originally had been scheduled for Nov. 7 and 9, but was advanced on the request of Avenger Field officials.

The Army Times, a publication with world-wide circulation, this week pointed out the Big Spring Bombardiers have "one of the powerhouse basketball teams in the nation in the making."

LAAF-SPAAF Classic Slated In Lubbock

LUBBOCK, Oct. 21 (AP)—This football-minded community, which already lays claim to having more teams playing full schedules than any other city its size in the Southwest, was divided against itself today as time drew near for the third annual "khaki classic" between Lubbock Army Airfield and South Plains Army Airfield.

The two cross-town rivals, who began their grid feud two years ago, tangle Sunday afternoon and prospects are for the biggest crowd of the season to jam Texas Tech stadium. Ticket sales indicate some 9,000 persons may witness the game.

Already, fans who have been solid behind Lubbock high school's undefeated and untied Westerners, Texas Tech's Red Raiders and SPAAF and LAAF in their games against outside foes now find themselves at friendly odds over the relative merits of the two service clubs.

Frogs Upset Ags In 13 - 7 Thriller

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 21 (AP)—Joe Kucera said farewell to football at Texas Christian University today with a flurry of passes that clouded Texas A. and M.'s Southwest conference hopes under a 13-7 defeat.

The low-headed, 166-pound youngster who came to TCU from Rice via the naval training program, will ship out Nov. 1 and does not expect to play another game for the Horned Frogs, but he left something to remember him by with his work today.

Ramblers Play In Ft. Worth Feature

FORT WORTH, Oct. 21 (AP)—Making their first appearance in North Texas this season, the mighty Ramblers of Randolph Field will meet the 7th armored infantry battalion infiltrators of Camp Polk, La., at Farrington Field at 2 p. m. Sunday.

Overwhelming victors over three Southwest conference teams and the third ranking team in the nation in the Associated Press poll last week, the Ramblers will be meeting their first non-college foe this season. They whipped Rice 59-0; Texas 42-6, and SMU 41-0 and will be heavy favorites over the Camp Polk eleven.

GI Golfers Tee Off Tuesday In Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 21 (AP)—G. I. golfers from 48 Eighth Service Command posts, camps and stations will tee off Tuesday in Dallas in the qualifying round of a tournament sponsored by Eighth Service Command headquarters for its army service forces personnel in five southwestern states.

Two hundred twenty-five officers and enlisted men have won their way to the Dallas tourney.

Mexico City and Rio de Janeiro are the same distance from New York City.

other game for the Horned Frogs, but he left something to remember him by with his work today.

The first period was scoreless but midway of the second the Frogs put over their initial touchdown on a 30-yard march.

First Kucera passed to Harry Mullins for five, then to Zeke Chronister for a first down on the Aggie 14. Kucera ripped into left tackle but could gain only two. Bob Ruff fumbled but recovered for a yard advance. Then Kucera pitched to Mullins who took the ball with one hand for six yards. Cox shredded the line to drive to the two and Ruff smashed to the one-foot mark. Then Cox drove over right guard for the score, Mullins kicked the point and TCU led 7-0.

That's the way the half ended but midway of the third period the Frogs got the winning touchdown with a 59-yard surge after Goff fumbled and TCU recovered on its 41. Kucera passed to Jesse Mason for nine and Cox rammed center for a first down. Kucera hit tackle for four and passed to Bill Garren for five. A backfield in motion penalty halted the Frogs but only temporarily because Kucera picked out Gibson in the clear and flipped him a pass that he sauntered across the goal line with. Mullins missed the conversion.

The fighting mad Aggies came back quickly to stage their touchdown drive, a 65-yard march in which Paul Yates did most of the work. From the Aggie 35, Yates rammed the line for five. Goff made it first down with seven more, then Yates, Scott and Goff combined for another first on the Frog 41. Line tries netted two yards and Jim Cashion passed to Cotton Howell on the Christian 16. Bob Butchofsky hit tackle for four, Yates the other tackle for three, then after losing one on third down, Yates whipped over left tackle for the score. Art Abraham added the extra point.

HOW ADVANCED ENGINEERING Makes Power Farming Simpler, Easier, More Profitable The Ford Tractor with Ferguson System and Ferguson Implements are often referred to as power farming equipment that dared to be "Different"—spelled with a capital D. That Difference started back on the drawing board. Ferguson Engineering has simplified the job of farming, made it cost less, produce more. It started by thinking of the tractor as an integral part of an implement, not simply as a power plant. Since a farmer uses not one but several implements there should be an easy, quick, simple way to attach those different implements to the tractor. That way was found—the exclusive three-point implement connection.

Barney Echols Awarded Silver Star For Braving Storm Of Enemy Shells

Because he braved a storm of enemy fire which had ambushed his patrol to rescue a wounded comrade and succeeded in bringing him to safety, Sgt. Barney L. Echols, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Echols, has been awarded the Silver Star by the commanding general of the First Cavalry division.

His award was earned during the campaign which gained control of the strategic Admiralty Islands.

Although fatigued mentally and physically from long patrol activity, Sgt. Echols volunteered to accompany a reconnaissance patrol moving against enemy troops superior in number and who were well established for lanes of fire on higher terrain which afforded complete observation. When the patrol had advanced a short distance, the enemy suddenly opened fire from concealed positions. One of the men fell wounded into the lane of fire. Without thought for his own safety, Sgt. Echols immediately crawled to his companion and removed him to a concealed spot where his wounds could be treated.

The citation told how Sgt. Echols "thereafter successfully covered the withdrawal of the patrol with the wounded and all equipment, extricating the unit from possible annihilation, and furnishing his commanders with information concerning the enemy dispositions."

Rearred in Sterling City, he worked on the McEntire U ranch until he entered the service July 16, 1940. Training at Ft. Riley, Kans. and Ft. Bliss, he was shipped to Australia early in 1942.

Sgt. Echols has one brother, Pvt. Laverne J. Echols, who had been in the Aleutians for two years on Sept. 20, and another, Loren Echols, stationed at Bakersfield, Calif. after 50 missions. His sisters are Mrs. Ralph Davis, Coahoma, Mrs. H. L. Moody, McCamey and Mrs. Naomi Wright, Galveston.

Navy Jumps Ahead But Tech Wins 17-15

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 21 (AP)—Powerful Navy floored a lighter Georgia Tech team three times today, but each time the stubborn Engineers fought back gamely and came through with a hair-raising 17-15 victory. The lead changed hands six times.

A 20-yard field goal by Allen Bowen, brilliant Greenville, Miss., freshman tailback, supplied the margin after the Middies had gone out front with a safety, 15-14.

The Navy was stopped twice in the shadow of the Tech goal, once by the clock to end the first half on the two-yard line, and the other time at the Tech one, with less than a minute to play.

California Upset By Fleet City Navy

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 21 (AP)—Fleet city Bluejackets rated as a two to one underdog, scored a cooperatively easy victory over the Golden Bears of California here today, by the score of 19 to 2.

California scored two points in the opening period when Jon Baker, Bear tackle, broke through to block Wheeler's punt and the ball bounded back of the end zone for an automatic safety.

After that disaster overtook California. Early in the second period Harmon Rowe, of Texas, intercepted a pass by the California quarterback and ran 60 yards for a touchdown. A few minutes later the Bluejackets smashed 32 yards for another touchdown, Ed Feagan also of Texas, running around California's left end for 19 yards and the score.

The Sailors threatened to take the game apart in the third period but a long march was halted by a fumble on California's 10-yard line. The Sailors were halted only momentarily as they bounded back with a smashing game that netted 35 yards and another touchdown.

Service men from Texas again cooperated in this scoring effort. Rowe and Jerry Rice, alternated the line-crashing, with the latter taking the ball over from the four-yard-line.

Army Cops Easy 76-0 Win Over Coast Guard

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 21 (AP)—Army 76, Coast Guard 0. Net yards gained rushing: Army 443, Coast Guard 53.

First downs: Army 18, Coast Guard 6 (one on a penalty). Those brief statistics explain as eloquently as any Army's top-sided football triumph over Coast Guard Academy today on the soggy turf in Michie Stadium.

But they won't tell you that Army's footballers were forced to punt only twice in piling up their highest margin in 15 years, that Coast Guard never crossed the midfield stripe and that three of the visitors' first downs came in the fourth quarter when the Cadet third and fourth stringers were on the field.

Prior to today's contest the Guardsmen had won four of five, losing only to Yale in a 7 to 3 thriller.

Army didn't give their visitors any chances today. Five minutes after the kickoff Doug Kenna let loose with 29-yard aerial. Ed Rafalko and the scoring parade was on.

Tulsa Rolls Over Mississippi 47-0

MEMPHIS, Oct. 21 (AP)—A big, tough Tulsa team with a potent pre-war punch rolled over the University of Mississippi's "juveniles" here today, 47 to 0, to keep alive its hopes for a fourth straight bowl invitation.

It was triumph No. 4 for the hurrying Hurricanes, unbeaten in regular season play since 1941.

The powerized Hurricanes, spearheaded by a 200-pound line and a galaxy of mercury heeled backs, punched over touchdowns in every period—two in the first, third and fourth stanzas.

Mississippi's outmanned "fuzz-kids" never seriously threatened their deepest penetration coming in the third period when they pounced on a Tulsa fumble on the Hurricane 28.

The sharp passing arm of Maurice (Red) Wade, the blasting drives of big Camp Wilson and the fancy-free anking of first-year Bobby Jack Stuart kept the Rebels in almost constant retreat. One-armed Ellis Jones kicked five straight placements.

Senate Rules Council Hits Knotty Problem

By DONALD HYNDMAN
WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—Those staunch guardians of the traditions and customs of the United States senate—the gentlemen of the committee on rules—ran smack up against a knotty question today.

The question before the group, which in the past has been less than enthusiastic about modern gadgets in general:

Small motion pictures to be shown in the senate chamber. As a matter of historic fact, a few reels actually were run off in that hall this week. But Wall Doxey, the senate's sergeant-at-arms, made it clear this was experiment, not precedent. Furthermore, the screen was taken down quickly.

Whether it ever is allowed to go up again depends pretty much on the verdict of the rules committee whose chairman is Senator Harry Flood Byrd of Virginia.

Senator Byrd wasn't on hand to watch the experiment but Senator Reynolds (D-NC) was there. As chairman of the military affairs committee, Reynolds took full responsibility for the test showing of an official military film.

Reynolds explained that the military committee has been seeing war department films and finding them helpful.

"This practice could be very beneficial to all members of the senate," Reynolds said. "Not only war films, but official films of various kinds having a bearing on legislation could be shown."

Texas League Hopes For Revival Soon

DALLAS, Oct. 21 (AP)—Texas league owners at a called meeting today voted to wait until the National Association of Baseball Clubs' meeting in December before making a final decision of re-suming operations.

President J. Alvin Gardner said that if he had put the matter to a vote the owners would have bailed in favor of 1945 play.

"If each club had 20 players, we'd be set to go. As it is we're forced into the wait and see action," said Gardner.

Officials attending were George Schepps, Dallas; Ernest Lorbeer, Beaumont; John L. Reeves, Fort Worth; H. O. Pope, E. J. Humphries and C. R. Virtue, Oklahoma City, and Bonneau Peters and Bert Kuns, Shreveport. San Antonio, Houston and Tulsa were represented by proxies.

Jack Zeller, general manager of the Detroit Tigers, sat in on the executive sessions. Also attending was Larkin Bailey, representing a group which seeks to purchase the Tulsa franchise from the Chicago Cubs.

Alabama Battles To Tie With Tough Vols

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 21 (AP)—Alabama and Tennessee turned loose impotent fireworks here today and wound up with a scoreless tie.

Alabama's line, led by Center Vaughn Mancha of Birmingham, held the Vol backs in check except in the third quarter. The Crimson Tide's Harry Gilmer filled the air with passes, one good for 37 yards, but was not able to connect on his pay dirt flinging.

Billy Fields' attempted field goal in the closing minutes was wide and another Alabama threat was stopped on Tennessee's 12.

St. Mary's Navy Is Victor Over Bruins

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21 (AP)—Julius Davis, an 18-year-old naval aviation cadet without any college football experience, powered St. Mary's Pre-Flight to a startling 21 to 12 upset victory over the U.C.L.A. Bruins today.

Davis, a 175-pound slasher from Clarksdale, Miss., high school, was pretty much the whole show for the first three periods while the navy team was scoring three touchdowns on straight football. He ripped the dazed Bruin line for long gains on spinners and off-tackle smashes. U.C.L.A.'s line simply couldn't stop him and the backfield was making all the tackles.

Unbeaten Oklahoma Ags Take Denver

DENVER, Oct. 21 (AP)—An unbeaten Oklahoma A. and M. turned loose its ace triple-threat, Bob Fenimore, for three touchdowns today and handed Denver University a 33-21 football licking.

Fenimore's speed cashed in for two touchdowns in the first period. In the fourth, after Denver had scored to crawl within six points, at 27-21, the kickoff went to halfback Cecil Hankins on the Aggie ten. Hankins reversed to Fenimore, who raced 80 yards to a final touchdown.

Sooners Take 68-0 Win From Kansas

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 21 (AP)—Using virtually every man on the squad and every type of scoring play, the University of Oklahoma whipped the Kansas State 68 to 0 today in opening defense of its Big Six conference football championship.

Sparkling blocking enabled the wide awake Sooners to clip off one long gain after another. Never missing an opportunity to score, the Big Six champs intercepted three passes that led to pay dirt and scored after recovering the ball on a fumble and blocked punt.

Production Cutback Seen As Problem

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP) — Big cutbacks in war production—foreseen as an employment and morale problem this fall—have failed to materialize in anything like expected volume and no major cuts now are in sight before victory in Europe.

War Production Board figures revealed today that 85,000 employees of prime contractors have been displaced by cutbacks since June 15, or fewer than one in one thousand war workers. Lay-off figures here however, do not show what the impact might be on sub-contractors.

Official sources said that if the fighting in Europe runs deep in 1944 "more and more runouts"—contracts completed and not renewed—will take place.

This would mean a gradual tapering-off next year, so the V-E day would bring a smaller industrial dislocation than the 40 per cent slash now officially predicted.

In the four months since the armed services began reporting cutbacks through WPB's production executive committee staff, it was disclosed, those large enough to be reported have numbered 800—representing armament cuts of about $980,000,000.

Fewer than a dozen, however, have had serious repercussions on employment in the cities involved, and in many cases the lay-offs expected by Washington authorities did not take place or were substantially lower than estimated.

PRISONER OF WAR: Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Lauderdale of Ackerly have been notified by the war department that their son, Pfc. Leonard D. Lauderdale is a prisoner of war. Lauderdale has been missing in action in France since August 7. He entered service April 7, 1943 and has been overseas since May, landing in England at that time. He has two brothers in service serving in the Southwest Pacific. They are T-Sgt. Ben H. Lauderdale of the Army Combat Engineers, and Claude E., who is in the Marines.

Gas Connection Only Way For Kentucky Fuel

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP) — Testimony that a connection with the Tennessee Gas & Transmission company's new pipeline offers the only possibility for meeting winter needs of the Kentucky Natural Gas corporation was given the Federal Power Commission today by J. E. Ingham, company vice president and general manager.

Kentucky is one of two distributors seeking to tap the new pipeline, now nearing completion from the lower Texas Gulf coast to the Appalachian industrial area. A connection also is sought by the Louisville Gas & Electric Co.

Ingham assented to a statement of Thomas McGrath, attorney for a group of coal and railroad interests, the Kentucky's present interest was only in an emergency supply for the coming winter. The Kentucky official acknowledged that his company's future interest in the connection would depend on how much gas the Tennessee line would have available and what alternative arrangements could be made.

Margo Store Enlarges Its Facilities Here

A gala formal opening behind, the new Margo's shop at 204 Main now is replenishing its stock of dresses and women's apparel in addition to the complete line of women's shoes in which Margos has always specialized in Big Spring.

Manager of the new concern is E. E. Wood, who is aided by a sales staff of approximately 10 people in quarters expressly designed and remodeled for Margos by contractors under direction of Barney Arnold, Dallas, assistant to president of the company.

Glickman, whose brother, Capt. Joe Glickman, operated Margo's here before his entry into the service, and Mike Larsen, Dallas, president, have returned recently from New York City where they made connections for new and latest lines for the store.

Among those who were here for the formal opening of the store were Arnold and Aubrey Stinson, Wichita Falls store manager and special assistant. Margo's operates in several Texas points and expansion of the store here is in keeping with a policy of the company to handle women's apparel as well as shoes.

became a sea cargo officer in Hawaii where supplies were loaded for various Pacific destinations, and his work took him on flights in that part of the globe. Transferring to the Air Transport Command, he was assigned to North Africa and again had flights over most of the European area in connection with his work before being recalled to the states.

Colonel Impressed By Williams Action

M-Sgt. John H. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Massey, 407 W. 4th, has an admirer among high officers with the Peninsular base headquarters in Italy.

He is Lt. Col. J. E. Breth, Hershey, Pa., who took time out on his return from Italy to write Mrs. Massey that he had seen Sgt. Williams just before leaving.

"He's getting along fine and smiling all the time. It's been a great pleasure to have been with him and I think a lot of him. He's just the type we need more of," said Col. Breth, who added that "I'm just a little biased in my opinion because I'm red-headed too!"

Sgt. Williams is a graduate of Big Spring high school, has been in the service since July 14, 1942. He will have been overseas two years on Jan. 1, going over after training at Camp Wolters, Indian Gaptown, Pennsylvania and Ft. Mead, Md. His unit is responsible for supplying the Peninsular base headquarters with everything from trucks to thumb-tacks and cares for rations for 4,500 people daily besides. Mrs. Floyd White is his sister.

Traffic Light Situation Presents Problem To Big Spring City Heads

By BETTY GLENN

Red — stop! Yellow — caution! Blank! — Do you go or stay where you are? Or maybe its green — go; then suddenly nothing. No red, no yellow — no nothing. What do you do then?

We will not stop to count the number of drivers who have seen red when the red light was out. Nor will we try to count the number of Big Spring citizens who know how many traffic signals are out. Though it probably wouldn't be hard to do. The list will probably include two or three policemen, the city electrician — and me. At least a day or so ago it would have included me.

At the risk of having my friends think "Tch, tch. She's really losing it" and strangers think "Isn't it a shame about these underprivileged people. She's probably never seen a traffic signal." I checked the lights downtown and counted the ones which were out. Strangely enough, on my tour of inspection I found that every signal was in order and blinking as every good traffic signal should.

Very happily I started home when — Piff, one little yellow caution refused to caution.

All of this I describe to point out that seeing that the signals are all in order is no mean task. The electric company in Big Spring is operating at capacity, and it has become difficult to maintain an even voltage. The surge of higher voltage causes the traffic lamps to short out. The present lamps can accommodate only 330 volts, but new ones of 250 volts have been ordered. City officials believe that these lights will stand up under the voltage surges.

The policemen hope so. The city electrician hopes so. I hope so.

Cooper Asserts Free News Need For Peace Plans

CHICAGO, Oct. 21 (AP) — Kent Cooper, executive director of the Associated Press, asserted today that an "unhindered flow of information" was necessary to preserve the postwar peace.

He told the National Editorial Association "none of the world organizations or systems now being discussed for the peace to come can possibly succeed unless the first basic step is taken to assure unhindered flow of information."

At conclusion of his talk the editorial association's advisory council adopted a resolution expressing its "profound appreciation of the great crusade" of Cooper "for the right of all men to get, send and publish the news" for "the freedom of the press, and for the enlightenment of the people everywhere as a means of perpetuating peace."

The council resolution also expressed its "hope that there may be a sustained effort toward keeping the people aroused to the importance to them of having the peace conference adopt an international compact such as that suggested" in the resolution adopted by congress Sept. 21.

Cooper stated communities live peacefully because the people of a community know each other and that the world must learn to apply the same principle on an international scale.

"Peace can only be attained by short-circuiting self-seeking, predatory governments through letting the people of each nation really know the peoples of other nations through the medium of a world-wide free press and freedom of international news exchange," he said.

"If government will only stand aside, with a beneficent attitude toward the effort, the principle of community interest and understanding can, through truthful news exchange, ultimately come true internationally. Then you will need neither pact nor military power to enforce friendly relations in international society."

First Cavalry Has Good War Record

EL PASO, Oct. 21 (AP) — The First cavalry division, which reports tonight said captured Tacloban airfield on Leyte in the Philippines, has a good record in the Pacific.

The division, commanded by Major Gen. Innis F. Swift of El Paso, early last spring spearheaded the attack on the Admiralty Islands in the Southwest Pacific and captured Los Negros Island, 850 miles southwest of Truk. Conquest of Los Negros was under the immediate command of Brig. Gen. William C. Chase. Generals Swift and Chase left El Paso with the division last year.

Organized at Fort Bliss in 1921, the First cavalry division before the present war was known as the only division in the army that had trained, marched and maneuvered together as a full unit.

Some of its regiments have records extending back to the Civil war. The Seventh cavalry regiment is one of the best known. It was the Seventh which made the famous last stand with its commander, Gen. George A. Custer during the battle of the Little Big Horn during the Indian wars of the last century.

The disaster the Japanese suffered at the hands of American navy and army airmen and fleet units in the Oct. 9-18 period preceding the Philippines invasion was disclosed in a check of communiques. The reports, still incomplete, showed 1,477 Nippon planes destroyed and 461 ships and small surface craft sunk or damaged. Most of this destruction was credited to carrier planes in the strikes against the Trukyu islands, Formosa and the central and northern Philippines.

The American Review at Chungking said defeat of large, self-sufficient Japanese armies in China depends on the breaking of the Burma road blockade. The Review added that these Japanese armies "are not likely to surrender even if the Japanese islands are taken."

The Review said approximately 24,000 square miles of territory on the Chinese side of the Burma frontier have been regained since the start of the Yunnan offensive by Chinese forces trained, equipped and advised by American officers and men.

going against machine-gun fire, mortars and mine fields in watery and wooded country. Infantry and armor had to slog through the mud and clear small pockets of Germans out of virtually every thicket.

On the American Third army front around Metz and Nancy, there was sporadic shelling, with American artillery particularly seeking to knock out an 11-inch gun with which the Germans have been harassing Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's men for weeks.

Cadet Class Arrives For Training Course

Another large class of aviation cadets arrived at the Big Spring Bombardier school this week to begin a comprehensive 16-week course of training as "Hell from Heaven" bombardiers.

Bulk of the class, to be known as 45-7B, came here from pre-flight training at Kingman Field, Ariz. The men have been quartered in the cadet area, and have been launched on the routine that will prepare them for precision bombing. After three weeks of preliminary ground school training, they will be introduced to the AT-11 bombing planes.

Five Men Killed In Landing Vessel Wreck

Roosevelt Faces Heavy Rains In Tour Of N. York

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

Associated Press Staff Writer

President Roosevelt put on the bad weather togs of earlier campaigns yesterday and in an open car showed himself as a fourth term candidate to thousands of cheering and flag-waving New Yorkers in a wide sweep of New York City's environs.

His four-hour drive in an alternating cold downpour and drizzle through four of the city's five boroughs was a prelude to his first away-from-Washington address of the campaign last night before the Foreign Policy association. It included brief informal remarks at Ribbets Field in Brooklyn in behalf of re-election of Senator Wagner (D-NY).

Mayor F. H. LaGuardia quoted the chief of police as estimating that 3,000,000 persons saw the president during his tour.

LaGuardia said Mr. Roosevelt was "moved—really impressed" by the reception and stood the weather "better than I did."

Even before the president spoke last night, his opposition made another attack on his handling of international affairs, following up Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's blast at what he called presidential "personal, secret diplomacy."

While the president rested in the Washington square apartment of Mrs. Roosevelt in the afternoon, Gov. John W. Bricker told an audience in Provo, Utah, that Mr. Roosevelt's vaunted indispensability for foreign affairs is pure myth.

Arrangements Made For Store Movement

Final arrangements were made Oct. 9 for the operators of the Big Spring White's Auto Store to take possession of the building located at 202-206 Scurry street.

The building will be completely remodeled, given a new front, floors and ceiling and fluorescent lighting fixtures will be installed. Due to extreme difficulty in obtaining building materials and fixtures, no date has been set for moving, but Fred Skaggs, manager, said that the improvements probably will not begin until sometime in 1945. In the meantime the building will be rented.

The new store will be 100x150 feet in size as compared with the present one of 40x80 feet. The new store will carry a full line of nationally known brands of furniture.

The White's Auto Store has been in Big Spring since 1941 and Skaggs assumed its management in February, 1944.

Those with an eye to thrift may well be reminded they have only eight more days in which to take advantage of three per cent discounts from the city, county and school district for October payments. As little as one may think, this three per cent is the equivalent of whacking up to 11 cents off the aggregate tax rate, a pretty good cut.

County Bond Chairman Ira Thurman has renewed his appeal for heavier purchases of E bonds this month. Howard county missed out last month by around $41,000 and the month before slipped worse than that. It's about time we made a quota.

Appearance of Helen Smith's book, "If My People," swells the group of authors here until an authors club might be appropriate. Of course there is Shine Phillips with his "Big Spring," and daughter Champe has co-authored a book of poems, "Spaghetti and Meat Balls." Ada Lingo Hatcher, now of Los Angeles, was the first with her West Texas murder mystery written while she was a Herald staff member. Mrs. T. C. Thomas and Mrs. James Sullivan have marketed quite a number of stories.

Incidentally, when Mrs. Smith's book was made available here, the first person to buy a copy was Mrs. Kella K. Agnell, who had been Mrs. Smith's first teacher.

We spoke too soon last week on the 4-H club feeding. Instead of 16 calves having been picked out, Durward Lewter, county agent, now has around 50 selected and placed. Now he's hunting a score or so good feeder pigs to fill the demand. Probably sheep are next on the list. Looks like a good county show next spring.

We've seen drives come and go, but never before in our memory was it ever necessary to beg people not to give more as was the case in the VFW Iron Lung campaign conducted through The Herald. The shock almost made an iron lung prospect out of us.

Vernon Man Joins City Staff Here

Charles Green, 41, manager of the Vernon chamber of commerce, has accepted appointment as assistant manager of the Big Spring chamber of commerce and will assume his new duties sometime between Nov. 1 and Nov. 10, it was announced Saturday.

He will fill a new office created by the board of directors in order to give assistance to Manager J. H. Greene in the execution of plans for current and post-war development of Big Spring and area.

A veteran newspaperman before entering chamber of commerce work, Green spent 12 years on the Sweetwater Reporter and Nolan County News before becoming editor of the Texas Hereford Journal. He then was manager of the Stamford board of city development for four years before going to Vernon nearly a year ago.

Green is married and he and his wife have three children.

DOES YOUR CHURCH, LODGE, OR SOCIETY WANT TO RAISE MONEY?

How many times have you had to say, "We'd like to do that but our organization just hasn't got the ready cash." Here's one of the easiest ways of raising money—and at the same time of patriotically serving your country—save waste paper!

Waste paper can add to your income. You won't have to increase dues or fees. Just sell enough waste paper to your own local dealers at standard market prices.

At the same time you'll be helping to win the war. Remember this year we need 2,000,000 extra tons of waste paper.

Paper makes ammunition cases, helmet linings, flares, supply parachutes, and blood plasma containers. Our boys in uniform need the waste paper which you can collect for them.

Have every member of your organization bring a bundle of waste paper to your next meeting... Save waste paper, sell it, and help to shorten the war.

Victory Stepping Stones

Cool Off For Vote

By FRANK GRIMES
Herald Writer

After a jury has heard all the evidence presented by both sides, has listened to the learned judge's charge, and has paid heed to the opposing counsel's arguments, it retires to the jury room to deliberate its verdict in the privacy and calm of solitude. At least it is supposed to, and if it falls to quarreling among itself the public rarely hears of it. If jury verdicts seem screwy at times, the fact remains that an overwhelming majority of them are just and dispassionate.

We have been thinking of this while contemplating the quadrennial presidential election in the United States. We the jury have been listening for weeks to the prosecutors, the counsel for defense, the complainants, the defendants, the jurors, the judge, and the assorted peoples of the outside world argue it out hammer and tongs, until few of us are fit to render a just and reasoned verdict. And it has occurred to us that it would be nice to have the privilege of a court juror and retire to the peace and quietude of one's own padded cell to deliberate the matter for as long as might be necessary to reach a verdict free of prejudice and bias.

It might not be possible, but it would be desirable, to call a halt on all argument pro and con for the last two weeks before election. Let everybody have his say until then. Let the welkin ring. Then shut 'er down. No another yap out of anybody. Then open the doors of the polling places and let 'er rip.

That would be a heavenly experience, and there is not the slightest doubt that it would contribute to a saner and juster understanding of the issues, and a fairer and more intelligent decision at the polls.

Of course it is impossible, either by law or by common consent; but each and every individual voter has to do this very thing, voluntarily and alone, if his ballot is to be marked intelligently and free of personal bias. If he doesn't he is apt to be confused, and in his confusion he is likely to vote whatever particular prejudice is uppermost in his mind at the moment of decision. And if he is confused and uncertain, who can blame him?

If he is strong-minded and strong-minded enough to cast aside all the arguments he has heard and decide the issue for himself by careful and prayerful thinking, his verdict may not be the best possible, but it will do honor to him in his role as sovereign voter, right or wrong.

That is precisely what he is, a sovereign, master of his country's destiny. If the average voter thought of himself in this light, he would vote rather than become a mere cipher by staying away from the polls. He would be less inclined to use the terrible weapon in his hand, the ballot, as a means of getting back at somebody than as a flaming torch of justice and right.

It was Thomas Jefferson who held that "the sum total of the common sense of the common

The long awaited return to the Philippines is underway, and across the globe Aachen has fallen into our hands. The war continues to progress favorably for us.

As dramatic as the return of Gen. Douglas MacArthur to the Philippines may be, it is but an episode to the larger story of conquest of Japan and her mainland occupations. One property thrills at the knowledge that the colorful general is going back to the islands where he labored under restrictions but well to shape up a defense for the insular outpost. It will be a glorious day when he marches down the streets of Manila.

Similarly, the knowledge that historic and strategic Aachen has fallen will cheer the Allied cause, for here is an opportunity to plunge the dagger of invasion deeper into the homeland of the Nazis. With this bastion gone, the Huns must fall back at other points on the line.

Nevertheless, our government and military leaders have significantly warned us that the Philippines and cracking of the German west wall are but stepping stones to Tokyo and Berlin. Although they are symbolical, they are our objectives. No American citizen has the right to be called such if he lets up until victory is won.

Only a week ago another Gold Star became the heritage of a Big Spring home. There will be more, and still more. Can anyone do less than his best in the face of these grim reminders, these American stepping stones to victory?

Time To DO Something

It is a tragedy that the life of one fine young man has been sacrificed during the past week in a traffic mishap. A week ago one of potentially greater proportions was averted only through the kind hand of Providence. Only a short time ago a youngster's life was snuffed out as he crossed a highway near here. A few weeks ago a pedestrian suffered a broken leg when struck by a car, and in past weeks collision escapes have been many and narrow.

If all these are not enough to wake us up to the necessity of doing something, then we are incapable of sensibilities.

At the root of this rise in traffic toll is carelessness. It may be dressed in prettier terms, but that is what it boils down to. Adults and juveniles alike are afflicted, and in adults it is even more to be condemned.

Our streets are daily being turned into race tracks. The fear of bad tires, of being fined, or having rations revoked seem to have gone by the board. A sense of irresponsibility at the wheel appears rampant.

Thus far, splendid lip service has been given toward combatting the trend. Without implementation, this has fallen short, and a spirit of resignation has set in.

The time has come for talk to produce action. Short as we are on police, we need some cracking down. We need stiff safety lessons in schools, before safety clubs. We need more safety material in the columns of this paper. We need to get to work and lay it on the conscience of the people.

people is the greatest and soundest force on earth." By common people he meant the rank and file, the great mass, the general run of people, including rich and poor.

Ernie Pyle: It Is Flabbergasting To Listen To Wounded Soldiers Beg To Fight

Editor's Note: This, the 35th of the Ernie Pyle war dispatches we are reprinting while Ernie takes a rest, was written while he was recuperating from an illness in an Army tent hospital.

By ERNIE PYLE
SOMEWHERE IN SICILY, August, 1943—It was flabbergasting to lie among a tentful of wounded soldiers recently and hear them cuss and beg to be sent right back into the fight.

Of course not all of them do. It depends on the severity of their wounds, and on their individual personalities, just as it would in peacetime. But I will say that at least a third of the moderately wounded men ask if they can't be returned to duty immediately.

When I took sick I was with the 45th Division, made up largely of men from Oklahoma and West Texas. You don't realize how different certain parts of our country are from others until you see their men set off in a frame, as it were, in some strange faraway place like this.

The men of Oklahoma are drawing and soft-spoken. They are not smart-alecks. Something of the purity of the soils seems to be in them. Even their cursing is simpler and more profound than the torrential obscenities of Eastern city men. An Oklahoman of the plains is straight and direct. He is slow to criticize and hard to anger, but once he is convinced of the wrong of something, brother, watch out.

These wounded men of Oklahoma have got madder about the war than anybody I have seen on this side of the ocean. They weren't so mad before they got in action, but now to them the Germans across the hill are all "sonabitches."

And these quiet men of the 45th, the newest division over here, have already fought so well, they have drawn the high praise of the commanding general of the corps of which the division is a part.

It was these men from the farms, ranches and small towns of Oklahoma who poured through my tent with their wounds. I lay there and listened for what each one would say first.

One fellow, seeing a friend, called out, "I think I'm gonna make her." Meaning he was going to put through.

Another said, "I'm hungry, but I can't eat anything. I keep getting sick at my stomach."

Another said, as he winced from their probing for a deeply buried piece of shrapnel in his leg, "Go ahead, you're the doc. I can stand it."

Another said, "I'll have to write the old lady tonight and tell her she missed out on that $10,000 again."

WASHINGTON—Your capital in wartime:

Far eastern experts at the State Department won't talk at all for publication, but it is estimated that the primary cause of recent military setbacks in China is lack of transportation.

You can't fly big trucks, little trucks, tanks and half-tracks over the "Hump," and there has been no other way to get them in since closing of the Burma Road.

This, it is said, is the reason China's northern armies can't get back to the south and east to stem the Japanese drive in that area. When the war front refugees, arriving in Chungking recently, wanted to know why a Japanese column of only 5,000 men was allowed to advance 100 miles in ten days, the alibi was simply that the Chinese didn't have a division equipped with sufficient transport to cut them off.

If it's true, preparations are being made so quietly that it hasn't leaked out yet officially, but the rumor is persistent that thousands of Italian prisoners of war soon will be sent back to Italy to be released, after which they will immediately join Italian legions to fight with the Allies against the Axis.

The Italian prisoner situation has caused the Army plenty of grief. Most Italians sincerely desire to become active co-belligerents, yet several efforts to establish their status as even non-combatant troops here in the United States have met with considerable civilian criticism, especially when they were allowed a certain amount of "supervised freedom and recreation."

Sending them back to Italy, where they could fight for the Allies or work for rehabilitation, would cause much easier breathing in a lot of Army circles.

If this plan is carried out, it will not include known Fascists and recalcitrants, of which there are many.

Political observers are watching with keen interest the next few campaign speeches of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. What they are look-

Today And Tomorrow Peace Talk Is Sleepwalking

By WALTER LIPPMANN

My colleague, Mr. Mark Sullivan, has introduced the word "exegesis," which means the expounding of texts, into the political campaign. Perhaps a better word for what he has in mind would be "pettifoggery," or even "pettifoggling," which means not the expounding of texts but their tortuous construction.

Be that as it may, the fact is that much of the discussion among civilians at home, in the campaign and outside of it in regard to peace-making, to the Dumbarton proposals, and to demobilization and reconversion, is based on what is almost certainly a giganticly false estimate of the state of the war. For there is an underlying assumption that for all practical purposes the war is just about over, or at least completely in the bag.

This is not true, and to believe it is sleepwalking. The notion that victory and peace are just around the corner is so thoroughly untrue that if we allow ourselves to entertain it we shall invite heartbreaking disappointments and we shall multiply and prolong the agonies of war.

In Europe, no doubt, we are in a late phase of the organized fighting. But this late phase, whether it is a matter of weeks or of months, is almost certain to be bitter and bloody, and even when military resistance is crushed, our men will enter a country which will have been organized with fiendish cunning to make life hard, tricky and dangerous. They will find themselves on a continent in which the wreckage of men's nerves will be even more terrible than the material devastation.

For all the fierce fighting they still have to do, and for the subtle and intricate tasks which will follow as soon as the fighting ends, they are entitled to have, and will need, the unflinching support of the people here at home. We are withholding from them the kind of support which they need the most when we behave here as if, so far as the civilians are concerned, the war is over and what remains to be done can be discounted and written off.

The true position in the war with Japan is, if one judges by the campaign talks, entirely unrealized. The victories of the Navy have been so brilliant, so majestic in plan and execution, that it seems to be taken for granted that with a little more of the same thing, Japan will be down and out.

No one in the Navy thinks that, and no one else thinks it who has taken the trouble to inform himself about the strength of Japan and the extraordinary difficulty of getting in a decisive blow against Japan. The truth is that there is not a shred of evidence which permits us to doubt that the greatest battles of the Pacific war not only lie ahead of us, but lie so far ahead of us that we are not yet able to plan and prepare them.

We are succeeding, no doubt, in cutting the connection between Japan and the rich southern lands which she conquered in 1942. Even then the task of rooting out the Japanese garrisons in the Philippines, the Indies, Malaya and Burma, is going to be a tremendous one.

DROP GAMBLING CHARGES.
The case brought by the city of Big Spring against three men charged with gaming was dismissed in city court Friday morning due to insufficient evidence.

Four men were arrested October 12 in a local hotel and had been out on appearance bond since that time. Only three of the men appeared in court.

There are more than 100 geysers and 4,000 hot springs in Yellowstone National park.

ing is something more than meets the eye: Has he definitely abandoned the organizational policy of playing ball with the 26 Republican governors?

Some think (and among them a number of GOP senators) that prior to his Oklahoma City speech Gov. Dewey had been dipping too much into state situations rather than going all out on national and international problems.

Promising the west coast a new industrial empire and greater representation in government may make friends there but will find little favor in the industrial east; while direct attacks on the administration and its policies might find favor in both areas.

The question now is: Will he continue with the broad policy attacks he began at Oklahoma City?

dous ordeal for American, Filipino, British and Dutch troops.
Yet the main strength of Japan is not in these outposts of her conquests; her main strength is in northern China, in Manchuria, and in the Japanese homeland. It may be as much as 70 per cent of her army. Japan has a somewhat smaller total population than the United States; nevertheless because of her higher birthrate, she has a younger population and nearly as many men of military age as we have. The Japanese are, moreover, close to their main bases of supply, whereas we have to use enormous numbers of men to transport and supply our forces across the Pacific.

We should deceive ourselves dangerously if we did not realize that in the places where the decisive battles will have to be fought, the Japanese will outnumber the Americans in available combat troops.

Our task is so great that only those who have no conception of it, and of what it means in American lives and treasure, will indulge in glib and self-righteous pecking and sniping at our British, our Chinese, and our Soviet allies. For anything like a reasonably rapid and decisive ending of the Japanese war, and without exorbitant cost to American families, we need full and unhesitating co-operation among the Allies. We need to remember this paramount fact in discussing the Dumbarton Oaks project, keeping in mind that its great purpose, which is to preserve and stabilize the grand alliance, is of such supreme and vital importance now, and for the next immediate years, that every criticism must be made in the light of that purpose.

Of course, the Dumbarton Oaks project is not the plan of a settled and ordered international society. If we achieve such a settled in the course of a generation, posterity will think well of us.

Of course, the Dumbarton Oaks project concentrates authority in the nations upon which rests the main responsibility for winning the war that is not yet won, and for providing a minimum of stability amidst the misery, the devastation, the chaos, which the greatest of all wars is creating. How else but by holding together closely the victors and survivors of the war is mankind to be given any kind of assurance that it can begin to bind up its wounds, and to rebuild, and to rehabilitate itself, without being haunted by the constant fear that war will break out again?

Hollywood— Gardner Air Show Of Elite's Eating

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Leave us now (to borrow Archie's phraseology) review the status quo concerning one Ed Gardner, the man who built and operates a famous eating establishment in thin air.

Big, tall Gardner summed up the status of his quo effectively in one word "Lousy!" Tomorrow, perhaps, he will be happy again about his film debut in "Duffy's Tavern," the air show about the mythical spot where "the elite meet to eat." Today, operating with a very sore back, he found it rather wanting in cheer.

"I hurt the back playing tennis," he said. "It's an old injury I got playing baseball, falling flat on the same spot. A lumber injury, though for a while it was sacroiliac, or perhaps ceremonial," he added, slipping easily into the Archie talk which by now is as close to him as his make-up or the small hairpiece he wears at his forehead.

He had just done a scene with Victor Moore. Seeking Moore's consent to marry his daughter (Marjorie Reynolds), Archie was plying the venerable, elfin character with quantities of brandy. Archie opined, in an aside that the brandy-guzzling papa was a "dipsoniac," and it was a funny scene — to everyone but Archie. Director Hal Walker almost laughed out loud, but swallowed it.

"I don't feel good," Gardner said, "and when I don't feel good you can't tell it. No bounce, too slow. This getting up at 7 a. m., too—it's no good."

He went back into the scene, trailed by one of his writers who wanted him to check the next week's air show. You stay around a while and you notice Gardner is usually trailed by somebody — there are visitors to meet, soldiers to chat with, questions to answer, and once in a while a scene to do. He's a table-hopper without the tables, here, there and everywhere about the set, good-natured, garrulous, amusing.

The rise of "Duffy's Tavern" to a top spot on the air and now to films is almost as amazing as its creator's. Big Ed started from his native Long Island as a piano player when he was 14, a job he promptly lost as soon as his mother heard of it. After that he sold pianos and typewriters—with ingenuity if not complete success, served as architect for miniature golf courses in the "minnie golf" craze of depression days, directed for WPA theater, and held down if you could call it that) any number of other jobs.

His success as director of the MGM "Good News" air show put him into the ether, and he was working at it when Archie first made his voice heard on a program called "This Is New York."

When that show folded, Archie remained and became the center of "Duffy's Tavern."

The film tavern, like the air's will be minus Proprietor Duffy, but the whole air show is in the picture, and the elite who meet to eat there will include most of Paramount's stars.

Tokyo Claims Ship Aground
The Tokyo radio claimed today an American "battleship" had run aground Tuesday evening (Japanese Time) at Bunga Point on Samar Island "in its desperate attempt to attack the Philippines."

The English-language broadcast reported by the FCC, said the ship's stern was submerged and its bow was high aground.

Air is a mixture of gases and not a chemical compound.

Texas Hears Governor Kerr Say GOP Candidate Is Ignoring Agriculture

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 20 (AP)—Governor Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma told a Roosevelt-Truman campaign rally here that republican presidential candidate Thomas E. Dewey had "thus far made 12 major campaign speeches without any pretense of discussing agriculture."

"Is it possible that the greatest industry of our nation, the foundation of our wealth and our existence, the means of livelihood of more than 40 per cent of our entire population, is of such little note to him that he would up to this late hour ignore it?" said Kerr last night.

"Can it be that he is entirely ignorant of it, or is he still waiting for some 'Gallup poll' to guide him to what would be the vote getting position to take?"

"As the polls go, so goes Dewey!"

Kerr, militant supporter of the Roosevelt administration, made the principal address at a gathering of Texas and Oklahoma democrats in Memorial auditorium which the Record News estimated numbered "nearly 3,000."

He was introduced by Speaker Sam Rayburn, who in a short talk aside from his introduction, de-

Natchez Parkway May Be Linked To Mexico

NATCHEZ, Miss Oct. 20 (AP)—A prediction that the 448 mile Natchez Trace Parkway will be linked with Mexico City after the war by an extension connecting beauty spots in Louisiana and Texas, was made to the Natchez Trace association yesterday by Senator Bilbo D-Miss.)

The route of the Trace, an Indian trail later used by early settlers, extends from Nashville, Tenn. across a corner of Alabama, through Mississippi to Natchez. It is now being restored by the government as a paved national parkway.

"I propose to make it an international highway connecting Mexico City and Washington," said Bilbo. He said a parkway from Mexico City to Laredo, Tex., had been completed in anticipation of some future extension of the trace.

William W. Wells of New Orleans, chairman of the Louisiana Park commission, told the association his state was making plans to extend the trace from Mississippi to Texas.

Connally Slated To Address Last WTCC Sessions

ABILENE, Oct. 21—The 1944 referendum convention season of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is "under full steam, going strong," the organization's headquarters office said Saturday.

The first phase ended Friday, Oct. 13, with adjournment of the eighth of a series of district conferences around the territory of directors, chamber of commerce secretaries and small town groups. WTCC President M. C. Ulmer and Manager D. A. Bandeen made the entire 1,750-mile circuit with meetings at Odessa, Lubbock, Amarillo, Sweetwater, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Stephenville and San Angelo.

In the second phase, underway, the affiliated towns are holding their local sessions for consideration of the vote on the nine-point referendum ballot. Also, they are nominating their local directors to serve in 1945. To date, 16 meetings have been held with ballots voted and mailed to WTCC headquarters from in order, Hale Center, Floydada, Tulsa, Levelland, Memphis, Farwell, Lamesa, Mineral Wells, Ralls, Sonora, Abilene, Eastland, Midland, Iowa Park, Clarendon and Santa Anna.

The windup of the referendum season will come on Wednesday, Nov. 8, with the assembly of all officers and directors, or the latter's proxies, local chamber managers and committees that have put forward the seven policy planks for voting. This affair will be held at the headquarters assembly hall, at Abilene. It will be a seven-hour session, all business, broken only by a luncheon at the Hilton hotel. The luncheon speaker will be Tom Connally, senior U.S. Senator from Texas.

Coahoma Sale Nets Chest Over $1,000

By MRS. A. J. WIRTH
COAHOMA, Oct. 21 — Items ranging from a "pig squeal" to home-cooked pastries were sold here Friday night, as Coahoma residents rallied to the National War Fund drive and raised a total of $1,051.21 through an auction sale and cash contributions.

Highest price received for a pig was $5 and highest for a cake was $12. A $20 bill donated as an auction item brought $21. Auctioneer Cliff Wiley scored the prize sale of the evening, however, when he sold a pig for $15 and received and additional $2.50 when the pig squealed. The drive here was concentrated in the one-night effort and drive officials were pleased over its success, the total having gone above the $1,000 they had set as a goal.

Held in Coahoma streets, the program included music and a talk by L. Joseph Gabriel, who is stationed at Big Spring Bombardier school after having completed 50 missions from bases in Africa and Italy. Lt. Gabriel has won the Air Medal and nine Oak Leaf Clusters. He told some of his experiences overseas and discussed services made possible through the National War Fund.

Items sold in the auction were donated either by individuals or firms. Chickens, butter, eggs and other farm produce, pastries, sheep and hogs and other items were given by individuals. Boxes of groceries were given by grocery stores, oil and batteries by filling stations and 1,000 pounds of cottonseed meal by each of the firms.

Of cash donations received, the largest from an individual was $20 from Mrs. Cora Echols and the largest from a business firm, $50 from Lone Star Chevrolet company.

W. T. Farris and George M. Boswell were co-chairmen of the drive. Donation for the auction were obtained by Mrs. Les Adams, Mrs. Charles Rerf, Mrs. Tom Barber and Mrs. Ralph White.

An estimated 400 to 500 persons were present.

Colorado Lions To Sponsor Triplets

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 21 — The Colorado City Lions club has voted to sponsor the triplets born to Mr. and Mrs. Willie Nowell on October 9 at Root hospital here. The babies, two girls and a boy, have been named Striley Sue, Mary Lou, and Jerry Lee, and are said by Dr. Harry A. Logsdon to be "still doing fine, although we are keeping them in the hospital for a while yet to be on the safe side." The Lions will buy all food for the Nowell triplets and have delegated themselves general-godfathers to the first triplets on record in this county.
