Patton's Forces Surge Forward In New Offensive In Mud To Capture Chateau-Salins With Other Villages

Reds Shatter German Tisza Defenses Japanese Using Full Army

WEDGE DRIVEN THROUGH FINAL NAZI COMMUNICATIONS GAP

MOSCOW, Nov. 10 (AP)—Russian troops under Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky drove a wedge across the enemy's last direct railway communications between Budapest and north-eastern Hungary today after shattering the west bank defenses along the upper Tisza river.

A big infantry and armored salient extending westward beyond Mezokeresztes, approximately 70 miles east-northeast of Budapest, curved dangerously toward the rear of German panzer forces which have been counterattacking east and southeast of the Hungarian capital in an attempt to prevent it from being outflanked.

A Moscow announcement said the main Budapest-Miskolc rail line had been severed. The Russian communique said the second Ukrainian army, advancing on a wide front across the middle Tisza had captured 50 towns and villages.

There was no official news about Malinovsky's left flank, which has dug into Budapest's southern suburbs, or about the extreme right flank of his army which previously crossed the upper Tisza in the direction of the southern borders of Czechoslovakia.

The Russian bulletin said Malinovsky's army since Oct. 6 had killed or captured 142,000 German and Hungarian defenders of Budapest.

Field dispatches indicated the new operation employed only about one third of Malinovsky's total strength. While there was no indication when the other two thirds might go into action the developing drive was hailed here as the probable beginning of a winter campaign aimed at reducing Budapest and driving into Germany from the south.

A late Budapest broadcast recorded in Bern, Switzerland, said other Soviet units had renewed their attacks in Budapest's southern suburbs, where fierce house to house fighting has been reported.

Berlin said other Russian troops had crossed the Danube river at Domboldvar, 43 miles south of bomb-battered Budapest. The German radio said that farther south another Red army was on the move again with the crossing of the Danube at Apatin, 15 miles south of the Hungarian border by units of Marshal Feodor I. Tolbukhin's Third Ukraine army.

Texans Set New Election Record

DALLAS, Nov. 10 (AP)—More Texans voted in the last presidential election than in any presidential election in history, a 6 p. m. count last night by the Texas Election Bureau revealed.

A total of 1,054,568 votes had been tabulated, and bureau officials estimated there were approximately 70,000 still uncounted. This would bring the 1944 general election total to around 1,124,568.

Highest previous vote was in 1940 when 1,039,303 Texans voted for Roosevelt and Willkie. The incomplete count already has exceeded this total.

In the first primary of 1940, however, the total Texas vote was 1,189,290.

The bureau's latest tabulation on Tuesday's election showed the following standings in the presidential contests:

- Democrats 759,118
Republicans 175,549
Texas Regulars 118,358
Socialists 515
Prohibitionists 797
America Firsts 231
(This included 254 out of 254 counties, with 144 complete.)

Students Stage Annual Bonfire

Big Spring high school students held their traditional bonfire Thursday night behind the high school building preceding the San Angelo Bobcat-Big Spring Steer football game.

The pep rally got under-way after a minute of meditation and the students singing the school song, "Dear Old Big Spring High."

Lettermen Bo Hardy, Pete Cook, Hugh Cochran, Leo Rusk, "Toar" Bryan and the coach, John L. Dibley each gave short pep talks. Football captain Hugh Cochran struck the match that set the pile of debris burning.

ENEMY HEADS TRY TO BREAK HOLD OF M'ARTHUR FORCES

By LEONARD MILLIMAN Associated Press War Editor Japanese commanders are throwing a full army into the battle for Leyte island in an effort to break Gen. Douglas MacArthur's grasp on the Philippines.

In two weeks 35,000 Japanese have broken through a sea and air blockade to reinforce the virtually annihilated 16th (Bataan) division, MacArthur's headquarters disclosed abruptly today.

The size of enemy reinforcements is far in excess of previous indications—coupled with the recent reckless sacrifice of airplanes and warships were taken in Leyte as a warning that the battle for the Philippines would be considerably longer and harder than was expected after one-sided land, air and sea victories.

Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger's Sixth army still outnumbered Nipponese on Leyte by two to one although MacArthur said the Japanese have replaced all of their estimated losses of 35,000. These losses include wounded and some 5,000 men who fled to the hills. The Japanese garrison on Leyte was originally estimated at only 20,000.

But the picture is not dark. Krueger has superior fire power and armor. His forces and guerrillas dominate most of the island. He still holds the offensive, as the 24th division demonstrated by pressing forward in an uphill battle to make "substantial gains on a wide front" on the northern road to Ormoc in the wake of a typhoon.

Tokyo radio's claim that Liuchow and Kwelin had fallen were without Allied confirmation. Chungking usually announces the loss of a city several days after Tokyo reports it.

Tokyo said tank-led Japanese broke into Kieilin and "completely occupied it" this morning after "furious hand-to-hand fighting." Previously Japanese reported the Chinese were prepared to withdraw a two-months seige.

If the Japanese report is true that Liuchow fell yesterday, U. S. air forces were either using it up to the last minute or have developed other bases from which Liberators can reach the China coast. Liberators of the 14th air force bombed docks at Hongkong.

Chicago Sun Ordered To Reduce Newsprint

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—The War Production Board today ordered the Chicago Sun to reduce its consumption of newsprint by 886,899 tons by the end of September, 1945.

The agency contended the newspaper was in "wilful" violation of an order limiting the use of newsprint.

The Chicago Sun is published by Field Enterprises, Inc., headed by Marshall Field, 3rd.

Nine Negro Soldiers Sentenced For Life

THATCHAM, Eng., Nov. 10 (AP)—Nine American negro soldiers were sentenced to life imprisonment by a U. S. army court martial today on murder charges over the shooting of an Englishman, an American military policeman and a soldier early in October.

A tenth soldier was acquitted of murder but sentenced to 10 years hard labor for being absent without leave.

Roosevelt Says Big Three Will Meet As Soon As Arrangements Can Be Made

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today, he, Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin want to hold another meeting whenever they can arrange it.

Churchill Says Rockets Loosed By Germans Cause Little Damage

LONDON, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Germans for weeks have been plugging V-2 rockets into England at a speed faster than sound and from arcs 70 miles high but thus far have caused little damage, Prime Minister Churchill announced today in commons.

The Germans said V-12 and the earlier V-1 flying robot bomb were being used against both Paris and Antwerp as well as England and boasted that the vengeance weapons would make the hard-won Belgian port "unsuitable for unloading troops and materiel on a major scale."

The intact docks of Antwerp are depended upon by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to supply his offensive into Germany.

Congress Faces Challenge For Lasting Peace

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt and the new democratic controlled congress inherited from the 1944 elections today an opportunity for the greatest teamwork job in American history.

The fourth term president rode to the capital this morning, a ride that was transporting him from the flush of tremendous victory at the polls to sobering, hard work.

The votes of 45,000 Americans had been counted, a majority—better than 3,000,000—for Roosevelt. They gave him and his party a working majority of at least 55 in the house and 19 in the senate.

They also gave the party 25 of the 48 governorships of the nation. Ahead lies the dual challenge for the president and the 79th congress to wind up the war and together write a peace that will last.

This, as the president's opponent, Thomas E. Dewey said in his campaign, is no one-man job. On the president's part, he faces:

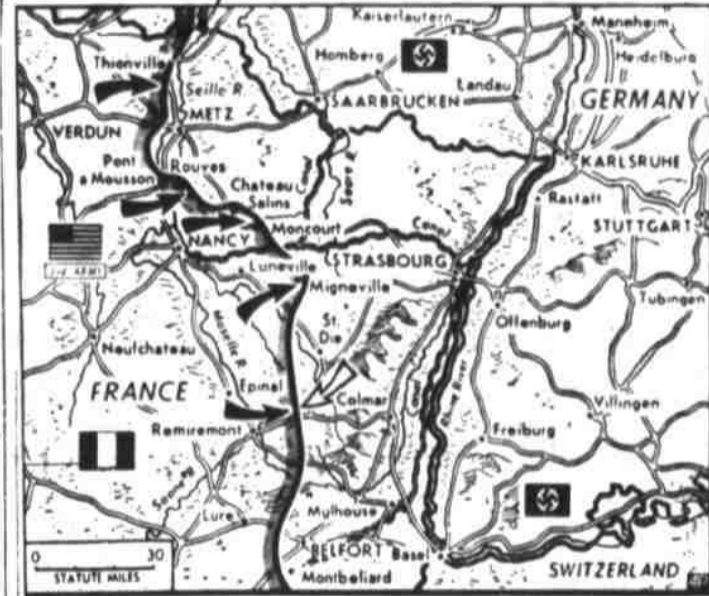

The impending conference with Churchill and Stalin; the Chinese program enhanced by removal of Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell at Chiang-Kai-Shek's personal request; decisions on the makeup of the new cabinet, provided any changes would be contemplated; a number of major appointments now likely to be made momentarily.

The retiring congress meeting next week has some work to do but the spotlight hereafter is on the new one that convenes in January.

Sun To Remain In Early-Morn Hiding

It seems that the working populace of Big Spring, especially those who begin their day at 8 o'clock a. m., will be in the market for tail-lights. This is only a measure of safety for the pedestrian who must walk to work in the dark and desire to arrive without being run down by some driver that hasn't yet gotten used to seeing people hoofing it to town in inky-blackness, a la Braille system.

As reports from the weather bureau indicate, the sun rises at 8 o'clock and after, and goes to bed early at 8:30 p. m. So people go to work in the dark, and come home in the dark—and the only time the sun is out is in the daytime. That is, if it isn't cloudy.

WHERE AMERICANS ATTACK—Solid arrows indicate American Third army attacks north and south of Metz. South of Metz the U.S. troops have taken a dozen towns including Rouves and Montcourt. Southeast of Nancy the Yanks freed Migneville. German counter-attacks (open arrow) were checked east of Epinal. Shaded line is approximate battle front. (AP Wirephoto Map).

Hull To Return To Office Soon

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he supposed Secretary of State Hull will be back at his desk soon.

The secretary, the chief executive reported, is getting along very well at Bethesda Naval Hospital, where he is a patient.

Another reporter asked Mr. Roosevelt if he expects soon to appoint a new ambassador to China but Mr. Roosevelt said he hadn't thought about the matter since his last news conference.

Asked when he expected to make the appointments to the new surplus property board, he said the list was being held up for one name.

British Capture Po Valley Center

ROME, Nov. 10 (AP)—British troops have captured Forli, Po valley communications center 38 miles southeast of Bologna on the Bologna-Rimini highway. Allied headquarters announced today.

Capture of the old fortress city, which has a population of approximately 65,000, was accomplished by a pincer movement. One force moved directly up the Rimini-Bologna highway, while the second advanced up a road from the airfield to the southeast, penetrating into the town.

In addition other Eighth army troops have loosened Nazi positions in the hills south and southwest of Forli.

American negro troops on the west coast sector of the Fifth army front occupied three more villages amid the towering peaks east of Massa. Aggressive patrolling continued elsewhere on the Fifth army front.

Necessity Of Organized Effort To Secure Parity For Farmers

Necessity of organized effort to secure parity not only in price but in all phases of the agriculture industry was stressed Friday at a meeting here of district No. 6 of the Texas Farm Bureau.

Both T. R. Haggard, Mitchell county, district director for the bureau, and R. G. Arnold, Auburn, Ala., president of the bureau in his state stressed these points in addresses during the morning.

Presiding was Walter Hammond, Tye, veteran president of the Texas Farm Bureau. Haggard, who is an ODT director representing agriculture of this area on the regional board in Dallas, reminded bureau members that membership had not increased in No. 6. War conditions, he said, might have contributed to the stalemate, but stressed the need of the agricultural industry becoming and remaining organized.

Advance Made In Sweep Of Some Ten Miles

LONDON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third army shook its mud shackles and surged forward in a full blown offensive today, capturing Chateau-Salins along with dozens of other towns and villages. A total advance of 10 miles was made at places in the three-day drive along a 55-mile arc around Metz.

Artillery pounded on both sides of the Maas (Meuse) in Holland as the enemy displayed nervousness at the possibility of a new offensive into northern Holland.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' U. S. First army prodded the Germans with local attacks in the Hurtgen and Schmidt areas south-east of Aachen.

Patton's attack, swinging like a barn door from a hinge at a point nine miles south of fortress Metz, moved across sodden forests, hills and valleys in a northeasterly direction toward Germany's industrial Saar border 25 miles away and threatened to cut across the rear communications of Metz.

North of Metz an enveloping movement was in progress at points 18 and 22 miles north of the city where bridgeheads across the Moselle were deepened by three miles. Here the Germans put in their first sizeable counter-attack against Patton's drive now in its third day. But the enemy infantry and two tanks which tried to halt the 90th American infantry division were rooked back on their heels, despite German claims to the recapture of Koelnigsmacker in this area just below the Luxembourg border, Haute-Ham, only 11 miles from the Saar basin was captured by the Americans.

The American Fourth armored division, veterans of the St. Lo breakthrough in Normandy, advanced three more miles beyond Delme for a total gain of 10 miles in the offensive, and crossed heavily-gunned Delme ridge just northwest of Chateau-Salins.

While the 319th regiment of the 80th infantry division captured Delme ridge, the fourth division ranged on to the vicinity of Han-nocourt and Fonteney, three miles beyond, and the 35th infantry division slugged its way into the forest of Chateau-Salins and captured Chateau Salins itself, three miles southeast of the wood.

Before its fall Chateau-Salins was almost encircled by other elements which pushed across the Chateau-Salins-Sarrebourg road.

MARKETS TO CLOSE

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—Major security and commodity markets in the United States will be closed tomorrow, Armistice Day. Some livestock and miscellaneous markets will function as usual.

War Chest Drive Ends With Deficit

The Community War Chest drive for Big Spring and Howard county officially closes Friday, but there is still $3,468.35 to be raised in order to meet the quota. All of this must be raised Friday.

The rural communities have not reported, nor has the report from the Big Spring Bombardier school on the collection made among the officers at the post, drive officials said.

General Chairman R. R. McEwen declared Friday that if the quota was not met on the closing day of the drive, soliciting will continue until the quota is met.

Allen with Mrs. Ray Shaw as co-hostess.

Ickes Hands Usual Resignation To FDR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Interior Secretary Ickes told his news conference today he had submitted his resignation to President Roosevelt, as he had done after previous elections.

Asked if he had any reason to believe his resignation would be accepted, Ickes smiled, replied "I don't know," then added as an aside: "This man Dewey said he was coming down here to fire me anyway."

He had no other comment on the resignation, a customary cabinet action following election day.

As he did four years ago, Ickes quoted to his first post-election news conference statistics from Editor and Publisher, newspaper trade magazine, and asserted that a majority of the nation's newspapers opposed President Roosevelt's reelection in the campaign just closed.

"I wish again as four years ago, to invite, in friendly fashion, American newspaper publishers through their editorial columns, to give the country their explanation of facts which seem to me to indicate a progressively unhappier and dangerous decline in reader confidence without which a free press lacks strength."

Hot Dog Party Tonight At USO

A big time is planned by all who will attend the "Holiday" party tonight at the U. S. O. Bingo will also be played and a band composed of Sgt. Ed Todd, A-T Ed Kubish, A-T Donald Bye and A-T J. Foid will play for dancing.

Business men will be in charge of the party and those who will act as chiefs will be Bill Dawes, C. O. Nalley, C. H. McGibson, R. B. Dunivan, Cliff Wiley, Roy Reeder and J. D. Jones. Prizes for the bingo games will be contributed by local merchants.

The dance will start at 8:30 and last until 12 midnight. All junior hostesses are participating and all military personnel their wives and dates are invited to attend.

Rev. M. B. Norwood of Shamrock was appointed secretary of the conference yesterday morning. He succeeds Dr. Cal C. Wright of Abilene.

Roosevelt Returns To White House With Biggest Job Of Life Before Him

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt came back to Washington today to tackle a 4-year job far greater than when he jumped into the driver's seat of a creaking America in 1933.

Then he faced primarily a domestic job but now the things that he and congress do—or fail to do, singly or together—can affect generations of Americans and change the course of history.

The broad outline of the problem ahead was repeated often enough during the campaign: winning the war, making a firm, lasting and protected peace, and keeping the home front in prosperous, high gear.

And, as a practical politician, Mr. Roosevelt will have to think of keeping the democratic party intact and strong during these next four years and perhaps grooming a successor to himself in 1948.

But all the problems are linked together and a hundred new ones, or a thousand, will arise before 1948.

Germany will go down certainly in 1945, if not before. Then as the nation sledgehammers the Japanese it will at the same time have to work its way back to a peace-time basis.

Wrapped up in the whole problem of keeping the peace are these things: Creation of United Nations' peace machinery on a strong, working basis with military commitments to prevent war again.

Settlement of territorial boundaries of Germany and Poland and parts of the Balkans.

The late of Pacific Islands— which some of us may think we need as outposts against future aggressors.

Tied in with the preservation of peace — and our own economic prosperity — are arrangements with other nations on tariffs, currency stabilization, access to raw materials by nations which lack them, and credits for other nations.

Perhaps one of the most far-reaching problems of all will be this: What shall we do to help Great Britain — now bled white by war but before the war a great trade competitor — to get that country back on its feet?

There will be these problems: demobilization, the size of our peacetime army and navy; compulsory military training; utilization of our merchant fleet, now totaling 40 million tons and the greatest in the world; reduction of taxes, now taking 47 billion dollars yearly from Americans, while at the same time we try to reduce the national debt which is more than 200 billion dollars.

And there will be these problems: Continuing price control, perhaps into peacetime, to prevent inflation which could destroy all the other efforts; disposing of surplus war property, worth perhaps 75 billion dollars; elimination of a number of wartime agencies.

And, of course, the great problem which will really get under way when Germany falls and probably be a problem for the next four years at least is this: how to prevent unemployment.

Reaper's Class Elects Officers

New officers were elected when the Reapers class of the East 4th Baptist church met Wednesday at the church for a monthly business meeting and covered dish luncheon.

Officers were: president, Mrs. Jack Dearing; Mrs. J. W. Cron, membership vice-president; Mrs. Frank Martin, financial vice-president; Mrs. Bob Sanderson, secretary - treasurer; Mrs. Dillard Drigger, class mistress.

Group captains elected were Mrs. Howard Brooks, Mrs. J. E. Getters, and Mrs. V. H. Williams. Luncheon was served to Mrs. Dearing, Mrs. Getters, Mrs. Florence Baker, Mrs. Leonard Telford, Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Cron, Mrs. Sanderson, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Drigger, Mrs. Allen Wiggins, Mrs. Roy Clark, Mrs. Dale Puckett, and Coley Arender.

Covered Dish Lunch In Thomas Home

Health Improvement Sought For Texas

GALVESTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Methods of improving the health of Texas were recommended here last night by scientists of the University of Texas school of medicine to members of the Texas Academy of Science assembled at the medical college for a three-day session.

Recommendations included conservation of water resources to prevent sewage pollution of oyster beds, stricter enforcement of sanitation regulations for food handlers, and a vigilant rat control program along the coastal area.

Texas was urged to get more sanitarium beds for tuberculosis patients. Dr. Wesley F. McKinley, making the suggestion, said this is necessary if the disease is to be controlled.

A new discovery that as persons grow older the accommodation of lens in the eyes fall through change in fluid distribution was announced by Dr. John N. Sinclair, professor of anatomy of the University of Texas medical school. His report was one of a series of age changes.

Charity Wins Election

CHICAGO, Nov. 10 (AP)—No wagers were made, but the United Charities of Chicago, was a winner on presidential election bets. Superintendent Joel D. Hunter said yesterday's mail included checks from many persons who won election bets and wanted to give their winnings to charity.

"The Charities benefit both republicans and democrats," said Hunter "so everybody wins."

Those present were Mrs. Helen Elliott, Mrs. Arlene Johnston, Mrs. Frida Chad, Mrs. Pat Moon, Mrs. Temple Williamson, Mrs. Ruth Salisbury, Mrs. Jeannette Allshury and Mrs. Thomas. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Chad at 10:30 next Thursday morning.

Writer Declares First Pullman Ride Is Certain To Be Final One

By CHAMPE PHILIPS

On November 4, 1944, I took my first ride in a Pullman, and have vowed it shall be my last. The family rushed me down to the station and without giving any advice what-so-ever, dumped me and whizzed off to the party they were already late to.

As fate would have it, I was to sleep in an "upper". After backing up and making a few long leaps in my attempt to get up in the thing, a porter came along and informed me (just as I was in mid-air), that there were ladders for such use. I demanded one. After all, I had paid extra for the privilege of said berth, and I certainly wanted my money's worth.

It would have been easier for all involved if I had slept in the Big Spring Host To Mighty Bobcats Of San Angelo

Yearlings Close Season With 12-6 Win From Pups

Turning on the steam against a group of Midland Pups who were completely bewildered and out-billed at the Big Spring Yearlings ran rampant and charged to a 12-6 victory behind the superb playing of Ervis Campbell, who passed and ran his teammates to an avenging victory over the team that had held them to a 7-7 tie some two weeks ago in Steer Stadium. This game was played on the loser's home grounds and found them much to weak to stop the vicious onslaught of the Yearlings.

The local line, led by Marvin Wright, Wesley Rogers, Pete Fuglar and Joe Jones again turned in a sterling performance that held the hosts to practically no important gains, and stopped their offensive cold. Ceaseless fast charges by the forward wall caused fumble after fumble by the Midland eleven and left them dazed and more thoroughly beaten than the small score would indicate.

For the opposition it was full-back Ley and halfback Good who turned in the outstanding performances against the locals. Ley scored the lone Midland touchdown while Good was a spark all evening, although it was his fumbles that kept the Pups in the hole most of the time.

In the backfield for the local team it proved to be Campbell and his hard charges, along with Paul Shaffer, Horace Rankin, and Gordon Madison who were the mainstay for the locals. These lads continued to plug at the Midland line, sling passes, and tear off long end runs all evening to completely confuse and break the Midland defensive. The local defensive, on the other hand was airtight, and with the exception of one play, the forward wall held tight holding Midland to short gains all evening.

The Yearlings got off to an early and fast start by scoring in the first quarter. Sparked by the dynamic Campbell the Yearlings moved downfield toward the Midland goal with plays alternating between passes and running and headed for their first score. Campbell heaved a long pass toward the goal which a Midland halfback stepped into, but as he hit the ball it bounded over his head and into the waiting arms of Jones who stepped across the goal untouched. The conversion was bad.

Midland came romping back in the next quarter and Ley charged through the Yearling line and crashed 60 yards to the ten before he was halted under. Then on the third play the hard-running fullback for the host eleven crashed across for the score. Again the kick was bad and the score was tied at 6-all.

But the fast-moving Yearlings were not to be denied a win and came roaring back in the third period to march almost the length of the field for their final score. Campbell climaxed the drive when he crashed over from the six for the final score of the evening. The next quarter was scoreless and the game ended 12-6 in favor of the invading Yearlings.

This closed the season for the up-coming Steers and left them with one loss against three wins and one tie. They lost their season-opener to Tahoka B, gained revenge in a 25-18 win, downed Hermleigh 13-0, won last night by tying their first encounter with the Pups 7-7.

McAllen Star Leads State In Scoring

McALLEN, Nov. 10 (AP)—Tough? Brother, this Melvin Ramsey is like a keg of nails. McAllen high school has played seven football games this season—5 hours and 36 minutes—and Ramsey hasn't been off the field yet.

His work has paid off with 103 points and there's no other player in Texas with more. In fact Ramsey is tied with Perry Samuels of Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) for the state scoring lead.

Ramsey—they call him "Dog", a signal honor on a team known as the Bulldogs—made 26 of his team's 38 points last week when McAllen beat the Kingsville Grammas. And as usual, he got them the hard way. No passes, just runs and a hard pounding from the opposition.

Best Schoolboy Team In 1943 To Exhibit Wares

Most vaunted and feared of all schoolboy teams the San Angelo Bobcats roll into Big Spring today to give battle to the Big Spring Steers tonight in Steer stadium with the sixly-minute clash scheduled to begin at 8:00 and the finest team in Texas football in 1943, and fast rolling toward that select title in 1944, is picked to put on an exhibition that will make local football boosters gasp with awe and admiration.

The Bobcats come to town with a heralded record of two years of football almost complete with but one loss on their record sheets, and that in a huge upset and by one point, and all outside onlookers give the local eleven little or no chance to win the encounter, figured from all angles as already in the Bobcats' bag with no bones left.

LEO RUSK... shifted to offensive end for tonight's battle with San Angelo, leaving fans with hope of seeing him star in third position he has played for Steers.

Sliding Down The Sports Chute

with BILL

Twenty-two correct guesses out of 34 tries is the score of this corner to date, after last week's stadium full of upsets that knocked the average down to where it now stands. If it had not been for the upsets maybe my ego would not be at such a low ebb at present but confidentially I was mighty happy to miss my choice in the game played at Houston.

Here we go again in the top schoolboy games of the district, Southwest, and a few scattered returns across the nation.

San Angelo-Big Spring: This one really hurts my home-town loyalty but facts are facts. The Steers stand no chance of stopping the fast moving champions unless a miracle occurs... so let's pick Angelo and pray for a miracle to upset the dope.

Abilene-Lamesa: The Lamesa team may as well stay at home. Saturday afternoon's game in Eagle stadium will be just a skirmish for the romping Abilene eleven. Lamesa will lose by a big score.

Odessa-Sweetwater: On comparative scores it is Odessa but they seem to have lost heart after the Angelo game. If they can get back on their feet they should win over the Mustangs unless Leeper proves too much for them. I'll take the Broncos.

Into the Southwest picture we go with eyes closed and a big fat "I hope" on our lips:

Texas-Oklahoma Aggies: The Ags are potent with Fennimore. Texas has Layne but no more Bechtol. It should be a close one with Layne passing for one more teedee than Fennimore can make. The Ags will not upset me much by winning.

SMU-A&M: The game is Homecoming for the Mustangs and pit the two worst teams (in standings) in the conference. The Ags should come through however, with a win. They are potent and mad and will be hard to hold... if they can hold the ball. Ags by two touchdowns.

Rice-Arkansas: The Owls go to Fayetteville for the game smarting from an embarrassing upset by Tech last week. They have the club to win and should take the Porkers in a very close one.

TCU-Texas Tech: I picked both teams to lose last week and they both won. Tech has the ball club to take this one and unless something turns up will make it four straight over the Frogs.

Now that the worst is over let's take a quick look at the big games in the national picture; Michigan over Illinois, Mississippi State over Auburn, Purdue over Northwestern, Georgia Tech over Tulane, Army over Notre Dame (the Irish may upset them with no surprise), Oklahoma over Missouri, and Tulsa over Southwestern by a big margin.

Ratliff Picks Ags, Texas, Rice And Tech To Take Week's Clashes

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
Southwest conference football teams close out three-fifths of the schedule tomorrow but there's not a chance of any team taking a definite hold on the championship.

Rice has its hands full at Fayetteville despite the fact that the Razorbacks come up to this game with ace halfback Alton Baldwin, the team's leading ground-gainer, likely to be out with injuries and Frank Schumchyk, starting halfback, unable to play because of a leg hurt. However, Arkansas has plenty of reserve strength.

Hurricane Plays Pirates Saturday
TULSA, Okla., Nov. 10 (AP)—Tulsa's Hurricane detailed on two successive Saturdays by the Iowa Seahawks and Oklahoma Aggies, hope to get back on the victory trail tonight against highly touted Bobcat opposition.

Randolph Field Plays Marauders
SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 10 (AP)—Randolph Field's rock-ribbed defense that has yielded only 10 yards per game around this season is somewhat battered for its second stern test within a fortnight—tomorrow night's meeting with the Maxwell Field Marauders.

Record Awards To Be Made
CHICAGO, Nov. 10 (AP)—A record $60,000 in awards will be paid to winners at the Chicago Horse Show Dec. 9 to 17. The heavy prizes offered are expected to bring the nation's leading show ring performers to the show. Stake and grand championships will account for $37,000 and the remaining $23,000 will be distributed among the various class winners.

after a triumph over Texas. Rice should be back "up" for this one. It better be—playing determined Arkansas on homecoming.

Texas and Oklahoma A. and M. are well-matched if you consider comparative scores a criterion. Both beat Arkansas 19-0.

Texas Christian doesn't look quite up to stopping Texas Tech although the Horned Frogs beat Texas A. and M., which defeated Tech but a lot has happened since then—mostly to T.C.U. players who have departed in Navy transfers or through scholastic ineligibility.

Texas A. and M. if it can cure its fumble trouble for a day, should defeat Southern Methodist. But it's homecoming on the hilltop—the first game the Mustangs have played on their own field since early October.

Last week we got two out of four. Hoping to do better this time the selections are (anticipated attendance in parentheses): Rice vs. Arkansas at Fayetteville, 2 p. m. (7,000)—Rice by a touchdown.

Texas A. and M. vs. Southern Methodist at Dallas, 2:30 p. m. (15,000)—the Aggies will roll to a two-touchdown victory.

Texas Christian vs. Texas Tech at Fort Worth, 3 p. m. (5,000)—a good ball game with Tech edging out on top.

Texas vs. Oklahoma A. and M. at Austin, 2:30 p. m. (13,000)—a weak vote for Texas.

Fortunes Of War Follow Doughboys In Campaign Across French Country

By HAL BOYLE
WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN GERMANY, Nov. 2 (Delayed) (AP) Battle briefs:

Three times the German artillery has taken the seat of the pants of Pfc. William G. Mashburn of Covington, Ky.—but that's all. He hasn't been nicked personally.

Bill lost his first trousers seat at Brest while bending over helping dig a command post. Later he lost another while taking cover in a sunken road. The third disappeared when he took his attention off the Nazi artillery to watch a strafing plane.

Now he's on his fourth pair of pants—and looking both ways every time he stands up.

Equally lucky is Staff Sgt. Frank V. Leeper of Washington, Pa., who twice in one day almost lost the other end of his anatomy by being buried in a fox-hole by shellbursts.

Getting buried once in a fox-hole no longer is a novelty in the European war, but Leeper, also a Second-division doughboy, is one of the few to survive this as a double feature within 12 hours.

One afternoon a German shell crashed nearby, caving in his fox-hole and covering him completely. That night he had just crawled thankfully into a new hole when another shell buried him up to his neck. His mates dug him out again.

A patient soldier is Pfc. Troy L. Doss of Warrior, Ala., and also a stubborn soldier.

A bullet nicked his trousers leg as he was digging a foxhole. He kept right on digging. A second shot grazed his legging. He looked around, then went back to his digging. A third shot nicked his finger. Stopping only long enough to be sure it wasn't more than a scratch, he resumed his digging, this time with some irritation.

Then a fourth shot tore through his overcoat. Doss sighed and gave up. He found a less exposed site for his foxhole.

Mortar shells flushed two German snipers from a factory building and gave Staff Sgt. Francis Courville of Bark River, Mich., a chance to demonstrate some fancy long range shooting.

He grabbed his rifle and took a careful bead on first one Jerry and then the other. He fired only two rounds and got both.

His buddies later paced off the distance and found it was more than 600 yards to where the two dead Germans lay sprawled.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—When Troy, N. Y., high school played Catholic Central for the city football title recently, both tries for points had to be attempted at the opposite end of the field from where the touchdowns were made.

The upper part of one goal post was missing and authorities apparently couldn't get pipe to replace it. . . . And when Greenville, S. C., High defeated Porter Military Academy of Charleston, 46-13, Greenville averaged only one yard on punting.

The victor's single kick was blown back almost to where it started. . . . Croton, Ohio, High has only a 13-man squad, including 71-pound Gilbert Duncan and 94-pound Jack Clayton, but has played eight games this fall. Naturally, it's lost them all.

One-minute sports page—Bob Fennimore, star Oklahoma Aggie back, was rejected for Army service because a football injury suffered last year keeps him from bending one knee more than one-third of the way. Still he ran and placed in the Texas and Drake relays sprinting last spring though his inability to crouch left him at the post in every start.

Sgt. Walter (The Great) Malls is out of the Marines and hopes to catch on as coach or publicity man with some Pacific Coast league club. . . . The Hamburg, N. Y., trotting track management is considering building a cover over the half-mile oval so racing can go on even when it rains. . . . Coach Jimmy Phelan reports that his daughter saw him herding the St. Mary's (Calif.) football team into a train and asked: "Dad, how many half fares did you buy for this trip?"

Daily double—Turf historian Alex Robb supplies the information that in the old days each Epsom Derby was followed by an unofficial "press derby." . . . Before telegraph wires were available, the scribes would cover the race and then mount horses chosen for speed and stamina and gallop off at full speed to deliver their "copy" in London.

Boy, a $2 ticket on Seabiscuit and the Morning Bugle. Service dept—When the Iowa Seahawks trounced Tulsa U. last week, three former Tulsa players were in the lineup for the Navy. . . . Naturally, they wanted to make a good showing. . . . Late in the game Don Samuel broke loose and Dell Taylor, last year's Tulsa captain, went along to look after the blocking. As they reached the 20-yard line, with no one to block, Dell asked: "Hey, Don, isn't that ball getting kind of heavy?" . . . Samuel didn't hesitate, but handed the ball to Taylor, who went the rest of the way for a score.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...
"Now that you mention it, Judge, I can see this really has been a war of jobs."
"Yes it has, Fred, and the biggest job of all is the one being done by our armed forces across the sea... the actual physical fighting that is bringing victory closer day by day."
"And here at home, Judge, our job has been to supply our men abroad with the ammunition and equipment they need to finish their job. And to provide the money to buy these supplies through our purchase of War Bonds. By and large, I think we've taken our job seriously, too."
"You're right, Fred. We have. But there's one more big job we've got to do for our men over there. That is to abide by their wishes that this country should be kept the same way it was when they left it... not changed around while they're away and can't express their opinions."
"In all fairness, Judge, that's a simple request no one can afford to disregard."

A Problem With Angles

In a recent address before the Sixth Texas Personnel conference, Claude E. Belk, state director of the War Manpower Commission of Texas, made some interesting observations concerning the post-war employment problem.

Pointing to a 24 per cent employment increase within Texas from 1940 to 1944, he then reminded that servicemen will be returning for jobs, without going into the method of arriving at his figures, he estimated that "Texas must create at least 300,000 jobs after the war than she had to offer in July of 1944; and more than 600,000 than she had in April of 1940.

How will this be accomplished, Mr. Belk believes it must be handled locally. He then injected the element of better relations between management and labor, expressed the belief that "if you hold the line on these gains, they will pay off in the future" because it all adds up to money in the pocket of the worker who is the ultimate consumer.

He added that "industry must be brought where the skills are, while permanent industries must be brought to Texas." Chambers of commerce, etc. formerly sought industries on the basis of low power costs, good plant sites, accessibility, good transportation, etc. with little consideration to available workers.

Most of us will agree that Mr. Belk has some worthy suggestions. Certainly they are fine from a personnel point, and there is absolutely nothing wrong about this prime consideration. However, he leaves unanswered two important questions: 1) What conversion can be brought about to turn war jobs in Texas into civilian productivity? 2) Specifically, what new industries can be brought here where there doubtless will be an available worker supply?

If the solution is on a local level, as he contends, then we need more than a sound personnel policy to meet the problem. The chamber of commerce will do well to stress his point of available, competent labor; but it must be able to come up with a more versatile supply of skills and figures, with a wider range of ideas and vision to not only bring in new industries, but find ways to build other industries at home without outside help.

Armistice Day In The Heart

Saturday will present a curious picture in Big Spring. Part of the business houses will be open and part closed on Armistice Day. We have no quarrel with those who remain open or those who see fit to close. The matter was thrashed out in democratic fashion at an open meeting and a decision reached. Individuals may do what they wish.

Closing a business or not closing is not the issue. It is maintaining in our hearts a solemn respect for Armistice Day and what it means. We

Rum Supply Gives Congress Trouble

By CLAIR JOHNSON (Substituting For Jack Stinnett Who Is Ill)

WASHINGTON — What to do about the rum-producing industry is providing some congressmen with headaches as big as though they had consumed an over-supply of the liquor.

Here's the trouble: Puerto Rico produces a large portion of the rum and due to the whiskey shortage in the States, has sold heavily ... at boom prices.

The price has included a heavy tax fixed by the U. S. Congress. This levy, however, goes into the Puerto Rican treasury. Accordingly, the island has received millions of dollars of additional revenue, and the U. S. hasn't had to appropriate huge sums for island relief as in the past.

Now the problem is what to do when whiskey becomes plentiful again. Most lawmakers say rum won't sell then at the top prices it now is attracting.

They add that about the only way to cut the price enough to attract large-scale buying is to reduce sharply the federal tax. If that is done, then the congressmen are afraid they'll have to resume their old routine of dishing out revenue to Puerto Rico every year.

Any way they look at it, they can't see how they'll win. More than 25 congressmen—including two of the lady lawmakers, Reps. Bolton (R-Ohio) and Rogers (R-Mass.) — have "hitch-hiked" to Europe recently to talk over Anglo-American relations and study battlefront conditions.

They obtained their rides merely by letting British government agencies here know of their desire. Then, whenever our Allies had a seat open on a plane headed that way, they filled it with a congressman.

The U. S. government had declined to furnish the transportation, but the British thought it would help build good will. They guessed right, too, because nearly every one of the returning tourists has said he understands British problems better.

There have been some klick-backs, however. Rep. Mundt

(R-SD) and Richards (D-SC) and others have demanded an immediate accounting of Lend-Lease and others have had some uncompromising things to say.

The shortage of "available men for single girls in Washington still prevails—as an angry group of young ladies at one of the government dormitories will testify. It seems the gals lined up a Saturday night dance and arranged with the Navy to send a couple of busloads of sailors in from a nearby station.

Came the night, and the bus drivers somehow got on the wrong road—and ended up at a different housing unit. The girls there thought that was a wonderful idea, though, and talked the boys into sticking around. So the bewildered gals in the other dorm had a maleless dance and didn't find out until the next day what had happened.

Ernie Pyle: British Pilot Calm And Polite Even After Eight Days Of Being Trapped

Editor's Note:— This is the 52nd the Ernie Pyle war dispatches that are being reprinted during Ernie's vacation.

BY ERNIE PYLE

ON THE WESTERN FRONT, August, 1944 — We ran to the wrecked British plane, lying there upside down, and dropped on our hands and knees and peered through a tiny hole in the side.

A man lay on his back in the small space of the upside-down cockpit. His feet disappeared somewhere in the jumble of dials and rubber pedals above him. His shirt was open and his chest was bare to the waist. He was smoking a cigaret.

He turned his eyes toward me when I peeped in, and he said in a typical British manner of off-hand friendliness, "Oh, hello."

"Are you all right," I asked sturdily.

He answered, "Yes, quite. Now that you chaps are here."

I asked him how long he had been trapped in the wrecked plane. He said he didn't know for sure as he had got mixed up about the passage of time. But he did know the date of the month he was shot down. He told me the date. And I said out loud, "Good God!"

For, wounded and trapped, he had been lying there for eight days!

His left leg was broken and punctured by an ack-ack burst. His back was terribly burned by raw gasoline that had spilled. The foot of his injured leg was pinned rigidly under the rudder bar.

His space was so small he couldn't squirm around to relieve his own weight from his paining back. He couldn't straighten out his legs, which were bent above him. He couldn't see out of his little prison. He had not had a bite to eat or a drop of water, all this for eight days and nights.

Yet when we found him his physical condition was strong, and his mind was as calm and rational as though he were sitting in a London club. He was in agony, yet in his correct Oxford accent he even apologized for taking up our time to get him out.

The American soldiers of our rescue party cursed as they worked, cussed with open admiration for this British flier's greatness of heart which had kept him alive and sane through his lonely and gradually hope-dimming ordeal.

One of them said, "God, but these Linties have got guts!"

It took us almost an hour to get him out. We don't know whether he will live or not, but he has a chance. During the hour we were ripping the plane open to make a hole, he talked to us. And here, in the best nutshell I can devise from the conversation of a brave man whom you didn't want to badger with trivial questions, is what happened —

He was an RAF flight lieutenant, piloting a night fighter. Over a certain area the Germans began letting him have it from the ground with machine-gun fire.

The first hit knocked out his motor. He was too low to jump, so — foolishly, he said — he turned on his lights to try a crash landing. Then they really poured it on him. The second hit got him in the leg. And a third bullet cut right across the balls of his right hand forefingers, clipping every one of them to the bone.

He left his wheels up, and the plane's belly hit the ground going uphill on a slight slope. We could see the groove it had dug for—about 50 yards. Then it flopped, tail over nose, onto its back. The pilot was absolutely sealed into the upside-down cockpit.

"That's all I remember for a while," he told us. "When I came to, they were shelling all around me."

Thus began the eight days. He had crashed right between the Germans and Americans in a sort of pastoral no-man's land.

For days afterwards the field in which he lay surged back and forth between German hands and ours.

The metal sides of the plane were speckled with hundreds of shrapnel holes.

He lay there, trapped in the midst of this inferno of explosions. The fields around him gradually became littered with dead. At last American strength pushed the Germans back, and silence came. But no help, because, you see, it was in that vacuum behind the battle, and only a few people were left.

The days passed. He thirsted terribly. He slept some; part of the time he was unconscious; part of the time he undoubtedly was delirious. But he never gave up hope.

After we had finally got him out, he said as he lay on the stretcher under a wing, "Is it possible that I've been out of this plane since I crashed?"

Everybody chuckled. The doctor who had arrived said, "Not the remotest possibility. You were sealed in there and it took men with tools half an hour to make an opening. And your leg was broken and your foot was pinned there. No, you haven't been out."

"I didn't think it was possible," the pilot said, "and yet it seems in my mind that I was out once and back in again."

That little memory of delirium was the only word said by that remarkable man in the whole hour of his rescue that wasn't as dispassionate and matter-of-fact as though he had been sitting comfortably at the end of the day in front of his own fireplace.

It's A Standing Offer

CHICAGO, Nov. 10 (AP)—A thief took two artificial legs from W. H. Swinburn's automobile, but if he returns Swinburn says he will fit them for free—provided he needs them.

Swinburn, reporting the theft to police, said a few months ago he made a similar offer when one artificial leg was stolen from his car. The culprit showed up and, Swinburn said he attached the leg without charge. That's his business.

Bogart And Bacall Make Great Hit

By JACK O'BRIAN AP Drama Editor (One star means poor, four means excellent.)

"To Have and Have Not." With Humphrey Bogart, Lauren Bacall, Walter Brennan and Dolores Moran.

Warner Brothers' favorite money maker, Humphrey Bogart, probably is fated to be a rough character for the rest of his cinematic existence. And for the same period, probably, the Freres Warner will be attempting to make another "Casablanca," which was the most successful of recent Bogart portrayals.

With "To Have and Have Not" the Warners and Humphrey have hit the formula almost directly on its familiar nose. It is extremely similar to "Casablanca," without quite attaining its exceptionally fine standard of cinematic excellence. There is even a piano-playing counterpart for Dooley Wilson, the dark-skinned delight of the earlier film. He is Hoagy Carmichael, undoubtedly destined for further movie prominence. He has an unusual voice, melodic, and full of bright rhythm and sly insinuation.

"Mrs. Parkington," with Greer Garson, Walter Pidgeon, Edward Arnold and Agnes Moorehead.

This is another formula movie. Greer Garson is an old woman at the film's beginning who has something like $30,000.00 and a collection of unattractive children and grandchildren. All they want is the dough which they plan to waste on extra husbands, whisky, fabulous Wall Street gambling and other expensive sports, all indoor. The film is almost as dull as it is laden with riches. They keep bringing Walter Pidgeon back from the grave to relive his life in flash backs and maybe it just seemed to this reviewer that he appeared to be embarrassed about it. I know I was.

Lauren Bacall makes her movie debut and all but steals the picture from Bogart, a feat that normally would seem impossible. She is sultry, tough and beautiful. Her acting seems to bear just a hint of John Garfield's movie resentment against the world; her facial movement or lack of it, is very reminiscent of Garfield, but with overtones which only can be described as sex appeal.

The film is an adaptation of the Ernest Hemingway novel, with the locale changed to the island of

Deposits Show Bulk Of O'Daniel's Money Came In Big Contributions

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)— Bank deposit slips of the Common Citizens Radio Committee of Texas, made public by the senate campaign expenditures committee, show the source of the $109,000 raised to back Senator O'Daniel's radio and newspaper activities. Most of the money came from large contributors.

Action on the O'Daniel case is expected upon resumption of the senate sessions following the national election, committee aides said.

Of the $109,000 raised, $79,000 was turned over to the W. Lee O'Daniel News as a "foundation" fund, a reserve on which the anti-new deal weekly newspaper can fall back in an emergency.

Senator O'Daniel stated that the newspaper has not had to use any of the $79,000. He said the newspaper has taken in some $80,000 from subscriptions that pour in after the senator's daily radio programs of hillbilly music and comments carried on 116 stations over the country.

Investigation by the official campaign expenditures group brought out only the $109,000 fund, but O'Daniel, when questioned by a reporter as to the success of the O'Daniel News' radio program appeal for new subscribers' disclosed the separate $80,000 account in a Washington bank.

This amount came largely in small sums, most of them ranging from individual $5 subscriptions to block orders of 50 subscriptions, the senator said. He estimated about 10,000 of the 70,000 names on the mailing list of the paper represented individual subscriptions at $5 each.

Mrs. O'Daniel, who manages the paper, had asserted that the paper will continue to be published in the interest of its "housecleaning" principles, regardless of the outcome of the election. Letters from all over the country are coming in daily with checks for new subscriptions, she added.

The senate committee made public photostatic copies of Dallas National bank deposit slips showing there were 37 contributions of $5 received by the Common Citizens Radio Committee, for a total of $185. One hundred contributions were for less than $100 each.

There were two contributions of $25,000 each, by Senator E. H. Moore (R-Okla.) and H. R. Cullen of Houston, both oil men; seven contributions of $2,500 each, thirteen of $1,000 each; seventeen for $500 each; thirty-one for $100 each, with various other contributions between $100 and $500.

There were 31 contributions for $100, seven gave $150, another 10 gave $200 each, 17 gave $250 each and three gave $300. The contribution list above $500 follows: Those of $500—R. T. Morgan, E. G. Tobin, H. L. Kokernot, W. W. Stevens, R. Morgan, P. Sandridge, Deedavenport, Long Island Produce, R. Morrison, Frank M. Lewis, A. A. Buchanan, W. D. Sutherland, Gaylord J. Stone, W. P. Bomar, D. M. Jones, Jack W. Frazier, L. K. Dunnam, E. Firnhaber ($600), R. C. Bowen ($750).

Those of $1,000 — John H. Hirsch, J. M. McCauley, C. Starage & Bro. Inc., J. J. Beach, R. Lacy, R. H. Hawn, H. E. Butt Grocery Co., R. J. Morfa, Lamar Fleming, Jr., A. R. Dillard, Bridwell Oil Co., C. Starace & Bro., G. F. LeBus, Mission Provision Co. ($1,250). (Starage and Starace are separate entries and spelled as shown on deposit slips.) Those of $2,500—W. O. Yarbrough, Kay Kimbell, T. R. Armstrong, King Ranch, Maco Stewart, Marrs McLean, R. W. Briggs.

Officials of the senate committee said that when members of the investigating group meet next in executive session they will have ready for their review an official transcript of the testimony taken when the group inquired recently into the O'Daniel News.

The investigation was made to see if and to what extent the radio and newspaper activities of the Common Citizens Radio Committee and the O'Daniel News was influencing the election campaign.

The Washington Post, in an editorial commenting on the O'Daniel investigation said, in part:

"What was revealed here no resemblance at all to the uprising of 'common citizens' which the senatorial sonster from Texas had represented himself as leading. No wonder he was so reluctant to have the names of his financial backers revealed.

x x x "A rather maudlin attempt was made to disguise the O'Daniel paper as an ordinary business venture. Its contents provide the best answer to this pretense. Its purpose seems plainly political. Whether or not the individual contributors to it in excess of $5,000 violate the technical meaning of Section 13 of the Hatch act, they seem to us clearly to defy its spirit. x x x

"The senate campaign expenditures committee is performing a decided public service in bringing these facts to light."

Army Ordnance Gives Approval On New Plant

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10 (AP)—Immediate construction of an $8,000,000 plant at Karnack, Tex., to "design, build and operate a facility for production of a new ordnance development" has been authorized by the U. S. army ordnance department, the Monsanto Chemical company announced yesterday.

The new plant will adjoin the Longhorn ordnance works which Monsanto operates at Karnack. The first unit will occupy 2,000 acres.

Plant personnel will total about 700. The product to be made was not announced but had been perfected in the past two years.

There are about 30,000,000 men, women and children on farms in the United States.
