FIERCE MOORS FIGHT WOMEN, MEN AT GATES

FASCIST PLANES RAIN DOWN DEATH ON POPULATION

(By The Associated Press)
Advancing insurgent troops were temporarily halted at suburban Carabanchel today by battalions of socialist men and women fighting to save the capital.
Artillery battles between fascist and government batteries continued to fill the air with blasting shells on Madrid's outskirts.
Direct advices from the Spanish capital, however, denied two earlier reports that insurgent shells were falling in the heart of the city and that rebellious guards were fighting militiamen in the streets.
Fascist combat planes circled over the capital, however, machine gunning government recruits drilling along Castellana boulevard. Only a few were wounded.
An official report declared that additional insurgent planes were shot down during sky fights in the Alcala de Henares and Leganes sectors.
In a savage attack with bayonets and hand grenades, fascist troops captured El Cerro de Los Angeles ("The Hill of the Angels") two miles southeast of Feteage. An undetermined number of grimly resisting government militiamen were killed and scores of others were captured.
In London it was learned Great Britain has asked the Spanish insurgent junta at Burgos to confine its bombings to purely military objectives.
Madrid's women stood shoulder to shoulder with the men in a "human wall" against the onslaught of fierce fighting Moors at the gates of the capital.
Desperate authorities exhorted all able-bodied men to organize for the defense, warning that the services of women and workmen were "the only way" to save Madrid.
The London Daily Mail said Britain and France had joined in an 11th hour appeal to the Madrid government to reach some sort of an arrangement with Gen. Franco, Franco, insurgent commander, to avert slaughter of Madrid's civil population.

FDR AVOIDS ANSWERING QUERIES

WORKERS FOR RED CROSS TO MEET TUESDAY

FINAL INSTRUCTIONS WILL BE GIVEN GROUP

Team captains and workers in the 1936 roll call drive of the Pampa chapter of the American Red Cross will meet at 10 a. m. next Tuesday to receive final instructions in the local drive, it was announced today by Allen Hodges, general chairman of the campaign which will be launched on Thursday morning, Nov. 12.
At a special meeting of Red Cross directors yesterday afternoon, the local chapter voted to spend $125 a month until the first of the year to supply food for undernourished school children, and also approved another $100 expenditure for the immediate purchase of shoes for school children.
The general meeting of Red Cross drive workers next Tuesday forenoon will be held in the city commission room at City Hall. Territories will be assigned at this time to the various workers. Names of drive officers and team members will be announced Sunday, Mr. Hodges stated.
The management of Radio Station June for passing a forged instrument and speakers will go on the air Tuesday, Nov. 12, opening day of the drive.

Turkey 'Trot' Crisis

CUERO, Nov. 6 (AP)—The Cuero chamber of commerce faced the prospect today of having to pay a premium for turkeys for the annual "turkey trot" here Nov. 11.
Turkeys were plentiful but not at the prevailing prices. Many South Texas growers were holding their birds for higher prices and few had been offered since the Thanksgiving market opened officially Wednesday.
Packers offered 11 cents for number one birds, 9 cents for old hens, 8 cents for old toms and 7 cents for number twos. They predicted the selling movement would start over the week-end but offered no hope for higher prices.
Growers and packers estimated the crop in the Cuero section at five to ten per cent greater than last year and said the condition of the birds was about the same.
F. W. Britman, who produced 700 turkeys this year, said he intended to hold them for 18 cents.
"With the prevailing price being paid for beef and pork, 18 cents is not too high and I believe the farmers can get it if they hold back their turkeys," he said.

Schools to Close After Today in Springfield, O.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Nov. 6 (AP)—This industrial city's 12,300 public school pupils went to their classes today not knowing when they would return.
On the heels of a two-to-one defeat of a proposed special three-mill levy, the city board of education approved, four to one, a resolution to close schools indefinitely after today's sessions because of lack of operating funds and inability to pay $66,000 due the 361 teachers for last month's salaries.
The proposed special levy was designed to raise $240,000 a year for three years. Its defeat, assistant state director of education E. N. Dietrich said in Columbus, left the city "in tough luck."

ROOSEVELT SILENT ON CONSTITUTIONAL PLANS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—The question of whether a constitutional amendment would be proposed to carry out some of the New Deal's objectives was unanswered today as President Roosevelt laughingly parried with inquirers at his press conference.
He asked newsmen who crowded around his desk why they spoiled another happy day? Mr. Roosevelt met reporters in the executive mansion a short while after receiving an uproarious welcome upon his return to the capital.
When another correspondent asked if he would wait until the Supreme Court ruled on pending New Deal measures before submitting his recommendations to Congress, the chief executive again repeated with a smile that this day should be made a holiday.
He did, however, say he was considering making a speedy trip to Buenos Aires for the opening day of the inter-American peace conference which convenes December 1. The President said he had given no thought to new cabinet appointments, or to the question of filling other important posts now vacant.
He said he was starting in on the budget tomorrow with Daniel W. Bell, acting director of the budget. If he does not go to South America, he said he would take a leisurely cruise in Caribbean waters for a fishing trip lasting some two and one-half weeks.
Whichever voyage he makes, the President will still control the budget. The President said he had given his principal task in the next week, going over estimates with department chiefs and other officials.
The chief executive said he probably would reach a definite decision on the Buenos Aires trip next week. If he does not go to South America, he said he would take a leisurely cruise in Caribbean waters for a fishing trip lasting some two and one-half weeks.
In the following either plan, he would leave Charleston on November 17 or 18, with the cruiser of the budget. If he does not go to the Indianapolis, he would leave from Baltimore and which will leave from Charleston, S. C., with the presidential party.
In the event of the latter plan, he would leave Charleston on November 17 or 18, with the cruiser of the budget. If he does not go to the Indianapolis, he would leave from Baltimore and which will leave from Charleston, S. C., with the presidential party.

Theft Puzzles Police

How burglars entered the Barrett Lubricating company service station at the corner of North Ballard street and Francis avenue last night proved puzzling today to city officers and Clarence Barrett, owner. Forty-six dollars in cash was taken from his hiding place.
The burglary was discovered this morning about 6:30 o'clock by Johnny Austin, station attendant. When he opened the station. When he entered the office he found checks strewn about the floor. Only cash was taken from the missing sack. Checks left amounted to $70, Mr. Barrett said.
Exit from the building was through one of the large sliding doors to the grease rack, which was left partially open. Theory that the same door was used to enter the building was exploded when Austin declared he locked the door last night when he closed the station and from the fact that no marks appeared to show that it had been forced open.
Attempts made a deposit about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon or the haul would have been much larger. No oil or grease was taken, a check this morning revealed.

STRIKE SITUATION IN HAWAII IS SERIOUS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6 (AP)—Declaring the maritime strike situation in Hawaii was growing more serious, Governor Joseph B. Poinsett today cabled Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady to take action to relieve the situation.
Gov. Poinsett said more than 600 passengers, all non-residents of Hawaii, were stranded in the islands. "Please wire me immediately orders of strike authorities in San Francisco regarding release of ships tied up in Honolulu," the governor's message said.
"Over 600 passengers held here, all non-residents of Hawaii. Situation for them most serious."
"Urge you have union authorities take action to relieve situation by direct orders to return ships to coast."
"Am informed most of strikers anxious to return to coast. The release of these ships would greatly relieve situation here."
McGrady, who cancelled an air trip to Washington, D. C., said he would turn the request over to federal conciliator E. P. Marsh, who would consult with Harry Lundeberg, secretary of the sailors' union of the Pacific.

SCHNEIDER WILL HEAD FAIRGROUND COMMITTEE

Alex Schneider has been named chairman of a committee, named by John Roby, president of the Board of City Development, to determine what events can be held at Fairground park, now under construction. F. A. Peek was appointed vice-president and Garnet Reeves secretary.
Members of the committee are Howard Buckingham, Ralph Thomas, C. P. Buckler, M. A. Graham, J. B. Massa, Mel B. Davis, John Eturgeon, Jake Garman, Carl Benefield, and George W. Briggs.
The committee will meet within the next two weeks to discuss ways and means of utilizing the park to the best interest. Committee members will welcome suggestions either in writing or orally.
Selection of the committee was advocated by the city commission and approved at a meeting of BCD directors earlier in the week. The directors asked President Roby to make the appointments.
The committee is a temporary one. It will decide how to secure members of a standing body which will in turn elect permanent officers and name the organization. A fair project and race meet are the first two projects recommended.

LEGION TO BROADCAST UNIQUE SONG PROGRAM

Another unique American Legion radio program will be given over station KPND, Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Commander Charlie Malsel stated that it would be a program in which all the listeners can take part.
Except for the best male voices in Pampa will conduct a sign-song on the program, it was said. Songs every one knows will be sung, songs that will revive old memories in the minds of the listeners, it was announced.
A unique feature of the program will be a request for every one who is tuned in to sing. Another announcement of the American Legion essay contest will be made, and plans for Armistice day also given.

Judge Hoover To Unveil Monument

Judge H. E. Hoover, dean of Panhandle jurists and pioneer resident of this section, will deliver the dedicatory speech at the unveiling of the Indian battleground monument at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the monument site on McClellan creek about 18 miles south of Pampa.
Judge Hoover was asked more than a week ago to make an address, according to Judge Ivy Dunbar. He accepted yesterday. A huge crowd is expected to be present at the site where occurred Nov. 8, 1874, the only Indian battle ever fought in Gray county. A complete account of that battle, written by an army officer, will appear in the NEWS Sunday. The battle is famous in army annals because it was the first time in the history of modern warfare that anything resembling the modern tank was used in an attack.
In the McClellan creek battle, Lt. Frank Baldwin unloaded his supply wagons, filled them with infantry and ammunition, flanked at the sides and in the front with cavalry, and over ran Chief Gray Beard's camp of Cheyenne Indians. The American Legion, the Harvard band, the McLean band and Boy Scouts of this area will participate in the program. Spectators are expected from all over the county.
The site of the ceremony is 14 miles south of Pampa on highway 28 and 3 and 7-10 miles southeast. The road will be marked clearly.

LATE NEWS

PARIS, Nov. 6 (AP)—After hours of stormy debate, the French Senate gave Premier Leon Blum's government a vote of confidence today. Officials would prevent recurrence of political demonstrations at naval arsenal. The approving vote followed "regretting" incidents among workers at three naval stations.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—Bethlehem Steel Corp announced today an increase of 5 1/2 cents an hour in basic labor wages, effective Nov. 16 "with equitable adjustment in other rates of pay." The announcement said the wage boost was "responsive to requests of employees' representatives and discussions which have taken place between them and the management over the past several weeks." It followed the wage advance by Columbia Steel Co., Pacific coast subsidiary of U. S. Steel Corp.

MOSCOW, Nov. 6 (AP)—Joseph Stalin, amid a wild, 15-minute ovation, officially opened the nineteenth anniversary celebration of Soviet Russia tonight from the stage of the Bolshoi theater. He appeared in good health and affable.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—Accused of bringing in strike breakers for use in the waterfront strike here, Sam (Chowderhead) Cohen and two other men were arrested today and held in a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Garret W. Coiter. They were taken into custody in a Times Square hotel room during an argument with a committee of striking seamen. The charge was made after they had been questioned for several hours by police and federal agents.

DIES IN CHAIR.
TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark., Nov. 6 (AP)—Dennie Turner, 38, died in Arkansas' electric chair at 6:51 a. m. today for the strangling murder of his wife in Calhoun county. "I am innocent and I am dying for some other's crime," Turner said just before prison attaches strapped him into the chair.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Delaney, their son, Richard, and daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Biford of Illinois, are spending this week-end visiting in Wichita Falls.

COURT TO DECIDE ON THEIR CLAIMS TO $500,000

TORONTO, Nov. 6 (AP)—Toronto's immortal stork, groggy but unbowed, wobbled into court today to demand half a million dollars worth of action.
In a setting as solemn as the stork derby was absurd, the Charles Vance Millar will was finally—after more than a decade—before the Ontario supreme court.
Every seat in the tiny court room, accommodating barely 70 persons, was taken long before the 10 o'clock opening hour. A score of solicitors and almost an equal number of litigants left little space for John Q. Public.
The hearing before Justice Middleton was on a motion of the executor of the Millar will for the liquidation of the bulk of the wealthy lawyer's estate.
Only one clause of the will—clause 9—the "mothers clause"—was at issue. Disposition has already been made of all other bequests.
The moot clause would give about $500,000 to the mother who has since Millar's death given birth in Toronto to the greatest number of children as shown by the registration under the vital statistics act.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULFINGIM
All the newspapers, beginning last Sunday are scattered on the floor of every room. The kitchen is a pandemonium of unwashed plates, pots, pans. (It is the house of a bachelor, and the woman of the house has been gone a week.) A thin glass has fallen off a chair in a bedroom and the trifling man, too lazy to pick up the pieces, has pulled a rug over them. He has slept in all three beds, and now all are unmade. The floors have not been swept for a week. He cannot find the broom. He has awakened with two coat hangers in bed with him. In the living room you can find pyjamas, dirty socks, shirt, handkerchiefs, and a pair of slippers. The furniture. The cereal has boiled over on the stove. There is no clean jar for the milk, but there are many jars sitting around quite grimy and cloudy. There is no soap to wash the dishes and he cannot remember to get the soap, and there is no clean shirt for Sunday, let alone socks. One can feel sugar and salt under foot in the kitchen. Cream has soiled the tablecloth. The men is waiting to get in the mood for cleaning up the chief mess. He is now planning how he's going to scrub those pots and plates (it will take a tub). He will pick up a broom and sweep the floors. But he wants to wait a week to see how big a mess he can make.

Bet Loser Crawls Up And Down Street In Kellerville

KELLERVILLE, Nov. 6.—The gigantic Kellerville oilfield was almost shut down yesterday afternoon when M. M. Robinson, Kellerville grocer, paid off an election bet. "Happy" Bullard, a Democrat, was the smiling victor and Franklin Delano Roosevelt's backer.
Robinson crawled 200 yards each way up and down Kellerville's main street with a cowbell on his neck and adorned with a sign telling that he bet on Alfred Landon in the general election last Tuesday. Robinson is a former Pampa and a native of Kansas.
Bullard, an employe of the Alma Oil company, had his entire "crew" on hand as a pep squad. More than 500 persons watched the "crawl."

KIWANIS CLUB ANNUAL GAMES TOURNEY TO BE HELD NOV. 13

Detailed plans for the Pampa Kiwanis club annual games tournament in Hotel Schneider on the evening of Friday, Nov. 13, were outlined at the noon luncheon of the club today by Chris B. Martin of the committee in charge of the affair.
For entertainment on that night guests may take their choice of contract or auction bridge, dominoes and bingo.
All services and prizes for the tournament will be donated. Alex Schneider has turned over the hotel for holding the affair.
Money derived on that night will go into the Kiwanis club's fund for undernourished children of Pampa. Mr. Martin said today that special invitations will be issued to members of the Lions, Rotary, and Junior Chamber of Commerce civic clubs. Tickets will sell at $1 a couple. The tickets were placed on sale following today's luncheon and an extensive sales drive will be made next week.
"The public has been generous in its support of this worthy project in past years," Mr. Martin said today, "and we are expecting another large attendance this year."

THEIR CLAIMS TO $500,000

DIVORCE CASE ENDS SESSION

ON MOTION OF GOODRICH

THE September term of the 31st judicial district court, which has been in session in Gray county since September 21, was closed today by Judge W. R. Ewing.
A divorce case was the last piece of litigation on the docket to be decided.
Three cases were dismissed yesterday on motion of District Attorney Lewis Goodrich. They were: State of Texas vs. R. W. McQuerry, indicted March 6, 1935, for assault with intent to murder; State of Texas vs. Leo and Lawson Samuels, indicted May 2, 1935, for assault with intent to murder, and State of Texas vs. Fred Hawkins, indicted last June for passing a forged instrument.
Judgment was entered today for the plaintiff in the sum of $275 in the lawsuit of G. I. Tripp vs. Nannie Bell Worley. Costs in the case were assessed on the plaintiff.
Three divorces were granted in the closing days of court: Arville C. Reed from Alice Reed, Cloyd Windom from Agnes Windom, and Alice Cross from Joseph C. Cross.
The district court will move to Wheeler Monday where it opens a seven-week Wheeler county session which will run through Christmas week. The court returns to Gray county for a new term, opening on Monday, January 4.

THREE CASES DISMISSED ON MOTION OF GOODRICH

THE economic conditions of the last few years, and the fact that many veterans are needy, are the reasons for the increased demand for veteran relief," Mrs. Lusby said. "The service and welfare officers of our individual posts, including Post No. 1697 of Pampa, strive in every way to provide for the needy veterans and their families. The vast majority of such work is paid for by our individual members and from the proceeds of V. F. W. activities. Once a year, during the nationwide distribution of Buddy Poppies, the V. F. W. invites the American public to participate in this worthy cause of those heroes who died in this nation's defense."

PAMPA-BORGER SEATS GO ON SALE TOMORROW

Four hundred reserve seat tickets to the Pampa Harvest-Burger Bulldog football game to be played at Huber stadium in Borger Wednesday afternoon will be placed on sale here tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. The tickets will be available at the office of Roy McMillan in the city hall.
Adult reserve seat tickets will be 75 cents. No adult general admission will be available before the game. Two hundred student general admission tickets, however, will be available at 25 cents.
Anticipating the largest crowd of the season, Borger school officials have ordered the construction of 800 additional seats.
Pampans planning to attend the game are urged to get their tickets early because the unsold ones will be returned to Borger Monday night. Ticket sales in Borger are brisk and a sellout is predicted.

THROAT SLASHING IS FATAL TO CITY WOMAN

Mrs. Sally Fannon, 65, died yesterday afternoon at the home of a daughter, Mrs. C. E. Lawrence, 1209 East Francis avenue, from wounds self-inflicted, according to a verdict returned by E. F. Young, justice of the peace and coroner.
A razor was found on a window sill in a bedroom. Her neck slashed, Mrs. Fannon walked into another room where her husband, L. A. Fannon, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence and their son were seated before she collapsed.
Mrs. Fannon, a resident of Pampa for five years, had been in ill health for nearly 30 years. She had been a partial invalid for five years. Her health she started brooding over her ill health.

I Saw...

That Charlie Hughes got stuck under his house this morning while fixing the foundation. He called long and loud for George Briggs, who happened to be down town. Mrs. Briggs and another neighbor heard Charlie's yells and dug him out. FREEZE DUE TONIGHT

DALLAS, Nov. 6 (AP)—The United States weather bureau here issued live stock warnings for the Panhandle tomorrow, forecasting a hard freeze and probably snow. Dr. J. L. Cline said a new "norther" was sweeping in and would bring freezing temperatures to all of the north portion of the state. Conditions today were generally warming, but sub-freezing temperatures early in the week.

WEATHER

West Texas: Mostly cloudy tonight and Saturday; probably snow in the Panhandle Saturday; warmer in south, colder in north portion tonight; colder in north and east portions Saturday with hard freeze in the Panhandle. Livestock warnings in north portion.

TEX'S TOPICS

A discussion on good-looking school teachers occupied considerable space in this column yesterday, and what was said there has brought a rise from an ex-school teacher, now residing in Pampa. She has this to say about it:

"There was just one thing that the inquiring-reporter in Tex's Topics forgot to tell us in regards to those old time schoolma'ams. He forgot to tell us about the school board that hired them, and was largely responsible for the way they looked."

"Three members on that school board. They all wore specks so as to be sure they didn't hire a teacher that used rouge or wore silk stockings. They all had a little spiel on what was expected of you, and you knew darn well it was expected too, even to being the janitor sometimes."

"They didn't dare have a boy friend, so why 'look good', when nobody is interested in you?"
—H. P."

Here is news for Pampa's beautiful girls. Paul Bishop, publicity director of the Southwestern Sun Carnival on New Year's Day in El Paso wants some Pampa entries for princesses in the big carnival. Says Mr. Bishop:

"The color of the Great Southwest will be splashed over the nation on New Year's Day. The romance and glamour of this great region will reach out and touch residents of every mid-west and eastern state."

"Through thousands of loudspeakers in homes in snow-covered eastern sections will come the description of the superbly beautiful Southwestern Sun Carnival "Pageant of Beauty" parade."

"Expertly described by a staff announcer from station WFAA, Dallas, the great procession will command the attention of untold thousands."

"But the atmosphere of the parade will not be lost when the broadcast is finished. Newsreel cameramen will be on hand on New Year's Day to "shoot" for the nation's theater-goers the dramatic highlights of the Southwest's greatest show—the Southwestern Sun Carnival."

"Southwestern residents, thousands strong, already are planning to be in El Paso during the carnival season, Dec. 29 to Jan. 1. Practically all towns in the area are already entering in the pageant; or are making the last arrangements necessary to enter."

"Contests to determine princesses in Southwestern cities and towns will be started in a few days and school and college bands are busy practicing the snappy marches they will play as they march in the Pageant of Beauty parade."

"Prospective entrants in the Southwestern Sun Carnival have until Dec. 1 to get their entries to officials."

So, there you are, girls. If you have ambitions to be a princess in the Pageant of Beauty, opportunity has just banged at your door.

By the way, who of all the entertainers at the Texas Centennial in Dallas did you enjoy most? A state-wide poll is being conducted in an effort to crowd the king or queen of entertainers at the exposition.

The survey to decide the outstanding entertainer—the person whose personality will linger longest in the memory as indicative of "Egypt" of the midway—is being conducted among all Centennial visitors.

The survey is being conducted all this week, and Centennial officials will present the person who totals the most votes with a silver trophy dedicating him or her "Star of the Texas Centennial."

Other fairers have had their personalities, Little Egypt, Sarah, Sally Rand of the fans, and Zorine, queen of the nudists. It is hoped to discover by the survey who will typify in the minds of the world ten

PAMPANS INVITED TO ATTEND LAKETON FETE

A combination circus and carnival will be held at the Laketon school house on the night of Nov. 12, at 8 o'clock, and Pampans have been invited to attend. Letters of invitation were received yesterday afternoon at the Board of City Development office, the Junior chamber of commerce and civic clubs.

Guy McTaggart, chairman of the BCD goodwill committee, announced this morning that he would lead a large delegation of Pampans to the Laketon event. Volunteers trip members are urged to register at BCD headquarters in the city hall.

The evening of fun and entertainment will open with acrobatics, dances, songs and animal acts. That portion of the fun will be followed with games of all kinds and eats.

FEDERAL EMPLOYEES OF CITY STUDY FIRST AID

Federal employees of Pampa studied first aid last night when David Franklin of Wichita Falls, safety engineer for the Humble Oil and Refining company, Cisco division, was guest speaker.

The company official was invited by Postmaster C. H. Walker to address the employees. He discussed all parts of first aid and gave demonstrations on how to stop bleeding, care for persons with broken bones, care of asphyxiated persons and other interesting points.

BORGER JAYCEES WILL GIVE BOWERY DANCE

BORGER, Nov. 6—A Bowery ball is announced by the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the evening of Nov. 16 at the American Legion hall as a benefit entertainment.

Costume prizes will be awarded for the best Bowery dress. Table reservations may be made through Jaycee members, it is announced by A. M. Minton, president.

Attorney George McCarty, of Amarillo, was in Pampa on business today.

Mrs. Jack Mundy of Ennice, N. M. is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Charlie Duenkel.

Flowers and Vase in Harmony

Although the mass of this arrangement is furnished by the Lunar or money plant, it is the frail bitter-sweet berries which make up the lines. The simple white vase with its graceful curves is most appropriate for the long, angular but graceful branches of bittersweet berries that carry out the lines of the vase. The bright orange pods of the Chinese lanterns are placed in the center and low where they give stability instead of making the arrangement appear top heavy. The miniature cat-tails add a pleasing note of brown to the bright mass of orange in the white vase.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By NEA Service. Mince meat bread, in thin slices, and a platter of Camembert and Lieferkranz cheese, garnished with the last of this season's grapes and a few autumn pears, makes a Sunday dinner dessert of surprising novelty.

Mince Meat Bread. For two loaves of bread, use two cups pastry flour; one cup whole wheat flour; 1/2 cup sugar; two tablespoons tartaric baking powder; one teaspoon salt; one egg, slightly beaten; one cup milk; one 9-ounce package dried mince meat moistened with 1/2 cup water; or equal amount of moist mince meat.

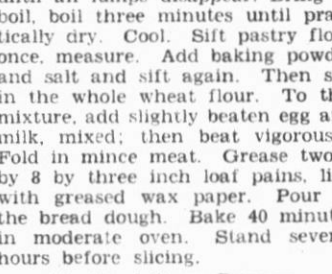

First break mince meat into pieces, add cold water and stir over heat until all lumps disappear. Bring to boil, boil three minutes until practically dry. Cool. Sift pastry flour once, measure. Add baking powder and salt and sift again. Then sift in the whole wheat flour. To this mixture, add slightly beaten egg and milk, mixed; then beat vigorously. Fold in mince meat. Grease two 4 by 8 by three inch loaf pans. Line with greased wax paper. Pour in the bread dough. Bake 40 minutes in moderate oven. Stand several hours before slicing.

Veal and Green Peppers. Veal and green peppers, sliced and jellied is perfect for Sunday night supper. Use two pounds of the cheaper cuts of veal. Place in large pot, cover with cold water, add salt and pepper, and 1/2 tablespoon mixed spices. Boil gently until tender, drain, shred the meat. Save the broth.

Dissolve one package granulated gelatin in one cup cold water. Then add three cups hot veal broth. Season with more salt and pepper if necessary. Cool. Line a salad mold with thin slices of green pepper, then add a little broth. When it begins to set, add a layer of shredded veal and a little gelatin mixture; then a layer of peppers, then of broth, veal, broth, peppers, finishing off with broth. Chill until firm. Serve with mayonnaise, lightened with equal quantity of whipped cream. Season with salt, paprika, and a judicious amount of freshly grated horseradish, soaked for one hour in a little vinegar.

Tomorrow's Menu. BREAKFAST: Grapefruit on half shell filled with orange sections, creamed flinnan haddie on toast, popovers, grape jelly, coffee. LUNCHEON: Tomato soup in cups, jellied veal and green peppers, horseradish sauce, hot biscuits, Boston cream pie, tea or coffee. DINNER: Shrimp cocktail, roast chicken, chestnut dressing, griblet gravy, mashed potatoes, green beans, buttered, spiced cranberry sauce, mince meat bread, cheese and fruit platter, black coffee.

Becomes Rich

A sheaf of old gold mine stock, long believed worthless, boomeranged into a $1,600,000 inheritance for Robert Cumming, above, a struggling young Hollywood actor who not so long ago had a role in a film titled "Millions in the Air." The stock, bought by Cummings' father, now dead, became valuable when the mine, a Goldfield, Nevada, yielded a rich strike. Cummings, who shares the fortune with his mother, expects to continue his movie career.

Minister to Hungary in U. S. on Leave

U. S. minister to Hungary since 1933, John F. Montgomery, has returned to the U. S. on leave. Montgomery was chairman of the 11th National Milk Co. for a number of years and was prominent in work of the Council for National Defense.

Mrs. Matjorie Buckler has as her guests this week-end Misses Corinne Muller of Wichita Falls and Helen Rammung of Floydada.

NEW YEAR FOR CHURCH PLANNED

Week's Interest at Kellerville Is In Election

KELLERVILLE, Nov. 6 (AP)—Reorganization of the Sunday school, church board, and Women's Missionary society of the Methodist church was effected last week. New stewards, elected Sunday, met Monday evening and sent the Rev. Mr. Gilliland pastor, to the state conference at Houston.

E. C. Derrick was elected Sunday school superintendent for the year. Miss Virginia Marshall was chosen secretary, Mrs. Gregg teacher of the adult class, Mrs. Harrison teacher of the young people, and Mrs. Marshall of the children.

Twenty women of the church met Wednesday and organized the Missionary society, electing Mrs. Harrison president, Mrs. Strait secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Boyce corresponding secretary. Women not attending another church society are invited to join this group, which will meet next Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the church.

Cold Weather Arrives

Wednesday morning many people were seen stirring around their houses thawing out water and gas lines which they little thought of while listening to the election returns the night before over radios. This spell brought the first freezing weather to speak of in the Kellerville community.

Election Board Busy

The hustle and bustle of the election was of high interest to those that voted as well as the board, which consisted of Luther McCombs, Mrs. L. McCombs, Charlie Roach and Edwin Pugh.

Officials reported a full count of votes of those that had registered. Some few that had come to Texas from other states had to make their records agree with Texas regulations, bringing the largest number of votes ever to be polled in Kellerville.

Students Hear Minister

Monday morning at assembly at the Kellerville school, The Reverend I. J. Lloyd spoke to the student body. His subject was Front Line Experience. He told his experiences while in France as a soldier fighting for Uncle Sam.

"My offenses, or demerits, while in the army," states Lloyd, "helped me to be a soldier." He pointed out that each of us if we would profit by our mistakes, might better our lives in many ways.

Rev. Lloyd is pastor of Kellerville Baptist church.

T. J. Saxe is able to be up after an extended confinement with throat trouble.

George Berlin has recently returned from a business trip to Lubbock and surrounding points.

County Superintendent Ben T. Rucker of Wheeler was in Kellerville a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Lloyd attended a social in the home of Mr. and Mrs. McDonald in Magic City Tuesday night.

Mrs. Lonnie Shoop and Mrs. McAnally were business visitors in Shamrock Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Winn have recently moved back to Kellerville to run their boarding house which they lease several months ago.

MIAMI BRIDES

Bridge Games and a Shower Are Given By Friends

MIAMI, Nov. 6—Mrs. A. C. Wilkinson was hostess at a delightful party Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. Montgomery, honoring a recent bride, Mrs. Miles O'Loughlin.

Two tables of bridge featured the entertainment during the afternoon and at the close of the games Mrs. O'Loughlin was presented guest prize, which was a lovely pair of boudoir lamps. Mrs. C. V. Wilkinson was awarded high score prize and Mrs. Pedro Dial, low. They presented their prizes to the honoree also.

Dainty refreshments were served to Mmes. O'Loughlin, Wilkinson, Dial, Holt Barber, W. E. O'Loughlin, C. B. Locke, Jr., Montgomery, Dale Low and the hostess.

The Baptist Ladies Missionary society were hostesses at the home of Mrs. C. T. Locke Tuesday afternoon at a shower honoring Mrs. Clyde Chisum, who was formerly Miss Edna Chesser. A large number attended and the bride received many lovely and useful gifts.

Mrs. A. J. Montgomery was hostess to her bridge club Tuesday evening. After an enjoyable evening of bridge, lovely refreshments were served to Mmes. Clark Mathers, C. B. Locke, Jr., Holt Barber, Pedro Dial, W. E. O'Loughlin, A. C. Wilkinson, Miss Lucile Saxon and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ward of Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, are visiting her sister, Mrs. Tom O'Loughlin and family.

Sterling Kinney of Amarillo is visiting his parents, Judge and Mrs. J. E. Kinney.

PROTEST EXECUTION LONDON, Nov. 6 (AP)—A Group of labor members of parliament today protested to Berlin's Wilhelmstrasse the execution of the Communist Edgar Andre. The laborites, headed by Arthur Greenwood and Ellen C. Wilkinson, expressed regret at the effect such an execution must have on relations between Germany and Great Britain.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Conley have as their house guest Mrs. Hayes of Charleston, S. C.

EWINGS ENTERTAIN COURTHOUSE STAFF

Party Last Evening Is Given in Their Home Here

Judge and Mrs. W. R. Ewing entertained at their home last evening with a party for girls employed in offices at the court house. Beautiful fall flowers decorated the rooms where progressive forty-two and other games were played.

High score awards went to Miss Lois Hinton and Forrest Rogers of Los Angeles. Delicious refreshments were served.

The guest list included Misses Shaw, Dee Polson, Betty Hancock, Iva Wilson, Clara Pearl Gatlin, Josephine Thomas, Frances Stark, Mmes. Berta Francis, Julia Kelley, and Mrs. Robert Ewing of Shamrock.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hickman, Mr. and Mrs. I. Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cochran, John V. Osborne, R. F. Gordon, Jack Back, Forrest Rogers, Volney Day, Mr. and Mrs. Mert Baines.

GERALD DROUGHT DIES IN HEAD-ON COLLISION

WACO, Nov. 6 (AP)—E. G. Drought of San Antonio (1225 St. Mary St.), was killed and three other persons were injured in an automobile collision on the Temple highway about 1 a. m. today.

Miss Shirley Johns, of Waco, in the car with Drought, was injured seriously.

Two men in the other car, which police said they believed was stolen yesterday afternoon in Waco from R. E. Ford of Reagon, were brought to a hospital in a semi-conscious condition. Their names were not ascertained immediately.

The Drought accident increased the McLennan county list of fatal wrecks to 40 this year.

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 6 (AP)—Gerald F. Drought, member of a prominent San Antonio family, was killed in a head-on auto accident near Waco shortly after midnight.

Drought's companion, a Miss Johns, daughter of Warren Johns, prominent Waco business man, was seriously injured and two occupants of the other car also was gravely hurt, it was reported.

Drought died an hour and a half after the accident in the Providence sanitarium at Waco.

SLAYER TO BE PAID INSURANCE BENEFITS

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 6 (AP)—Insurance companies received orders today to pay death benefits to the guardian of a self-termed "scarlet sin" slayer.

The funds are due for the death of Mrs. Samuel G. Weed and her two children, beaten to death in their home last July 18.

Weed, 40-year old Sunday School superintendent, told police he killed his family because he had committed a "scarlet sin." He declined to explain his statement.

The Erie county court later ordered him placed in an insane asylum.

Judge William E. Hirt ordered payment of insurance benefits to Edward E. Petrillo, legal guardian for Weed, to be used in caring for the asylum inmate.

BANDITS TAKE $636 IN SANTONE DAIRY HOLDUP

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 6 (AP)—Armed with automatic pistols, two unmasked bandits last night held up J. E. Moore, assistant auditor, in the offices of the Metzger dairies and escaped with $636 in cash.

Moore told detectives he was counting the day's receipts when the two robbers, appearing to be brothers, entered the office with drawn guns. He said they ignored a janitress who was cleaning up, and ordered him to hand over the money.

He said one of the robbers did not wait for him to comply, but instead reached over to the desk and grabbed all the currency in sight, leaving several hundred dollars in checks.

One of the bandits attempted to jerk the telephone from the wall but desisted when a customer drove up in front of the place.

JIM MILLS WAS THERE!

PUT your finger on any spot on the globe, and the chances are pretty good that The A.P.'s Jim Mills has been there, covering a story for The Associated Press.

Jim Mills is a veteran of The Associated Press Foreign Service—Moscow to Addis Ababa, London to Bombay, Berlin to Shanghai—the world has been his beat. The golden names, the brass hats, the humble people and the proud—Jim Mills has known them all, in peace and in terror. Crowned heads and premiers have confided state secrets to him, and that humblest of men, Mahatma Gandhi, trusts him as a friend.

Wherever big news breaks, there you may find Jim Mills, gentle in manner, quiet spoken, but patiently and endlessly inquisitive.

Jim Mills never wrote a book, he never made a lecture tour, never was a radio star, never did anything to make a big and glamorous name for Jim Mills. He just asks questions because he wants to know and write the answers.

That is why James A. Mills, of The Associated Press Foreign Service, is one of the world's greatest reporters.

GRID FANS OF AREA TO ATTEND GAMES AT SHAMROCK, LEFORS

ALL SEATS AT IRISH STADIUM ALREADY SOLD

UNDEFEATED TEAMS TO MEET; TITLE IS AT STAKE

Class B football will hold sway tonight in this section with two important games drawing the attention of fans from this section. One game will be played at Shaw park in LeFors where the LeFors Pirates will be at home to the McLean Tigers. The other tilt will be at Shamrock where the Shamrock Irishmen and the Wheeler Mustangs, undefeated to date, meet. Both games will be called at 7:30 o'clock.

Every reserve seat in Denver stadium has been sold. General admission tickets will be available at 50 cents. A portion of the grandstand will be open and there will be plenty of standing room, which is expected to be at a premium by the time the whistle blows.

Both teams will enter the game in good condition. Shamrock rested last week while the Mustangs battled the McLean Tigers. Three Wheeler regulars were on the injured list but two of them played part of the game.

A victory for Wheeler tonight will pave the way for a conference championship because they will meet two undefeated teams for the final contest. Shamrock has still to play McLean and Wellington, two tough teams.

The LeFors Pirates have been pointing to their game with the McLean Tigers for several weeks. Starting off with a complete new team, Coach Francis Smith's boys have been coming to the front every week. The Tigers are scheduled to meet plenty of trouble tonight, it is predicted.

PUNTS AND PASSES

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK—The mystery about whether Fordham has a bad or good attack is solved by Coach Jim Crowley. The attack is good, but the luck has been bad. Explains Jim: Finley's kicking didn't give the offense a chance at more than one touchdown in the Southern Methodist game; penalties ruined one or three touchdowns against St. Mary's, and in the Pitt game, opposing one of the best running attacks in the game, the Rams out-gained the Panthers in 155 yards to 144. Regardless of Finley's kicking, however, the Rams' offense is one first down in the S. M. U. game.

BATON ROUGE, La.—Arkansas may be the "passing" team, but Louisiana State's Tigers are just as effective in the Southern Methodist game. The Rams' offense is one first down in the S. M. U. game.

SALEM, Ore.—Pitt Student Manager Vern Rierson at Willamette. He was due to get a ten-day trip to California with the Bears on their coming invasion, and then appendicitis just about counted him out.

UNIVERSITY, Ala.—This Alabama outfit really is carrying the mail. In six games the Crimson Tide has gained 1,433 yards, better than 242 a game, has piled up 78 first downs to 29 for the opposition, and shows a record of 100 points to the grand total of six by the enemy eleven.

BOULDER, Colo.—Colorado university has a healthy record to aim at Saturday. If it can defeat Utah university, it will be the first Rocky Mountain conference team to beat the Utes for the third successive season in 22 years.

NOBLE KIZER PLOTTING AGAINST OLD TEAMMATE

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—The hopes and fears of Jimmy Crowley and his Fordham football team lay today in the ample lap of Jimmy's old pal and teammate, Noble Kizer of Purdue.

One of the seven Notre Dame miles who cleared the way for Crowley and the other "four horsemen," Kizer was in town today with plans to buck Jimmy and the Fordhams right out of the undefeated class.

"We're in better shape than we've been since the Chicago game," Kizer said, "and I think we've got a good chance to win."

Commenting on his famous "touchdown twins," Cecil Isbell and Johnny Drake, Kizer added: "I think Isbell is every bit as good as Duane Purvis, our all-American of a couple of years ago. He's a shifter runner and a 'kick' horse."

"And besides, we had one of our perfect days when we were here in '35."

'Slingin' Sam' Ready to Hurl Again

'SLINGIN' SAM BAUGH
T.C.U.'s ALL AMERICAN PUNTING AND PASSING QUARTER

Homecoming and Slingin' Sam Baugh in tip-top shape once more! That's the news from the T. C. U. front for next Saturday.

Sammy played 25 minutes against the Baylor Bears last week and tossed his team to a 21-point lead. His mates added 7 more punts and then coasted. His punting averaged nearly 40 yards on four booms, one of the kicks sailing 60 yards out of bounds on the Baylor 4-yard line.

Writing of the Frog-Bear game, Jinx Tucker, Waco sports editor, said: "Baugh was the Baugh of old today, the greatest passer in these United States, the greatest football player in America today."

Sammy is a senior this year and is playing the greatest football of his career, according to Dutch Meyer. Thousands will gather in Fort Worth next Saturday afternoon just to see him "toss 'em" against the strong University of Texas eleven.

Rose Bowl Bee Buzzing In SMU Ponies' Bonnets Again

However, Ags Must Be Defeated on Saturday

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
DALLAS, Nov. 6 (AP)—The "Bowl" bee, once quieted by Fordham, buzzed again in the Southern Methodist bonnet as the Mustangs readied themselves for tomorrow's invasion of a dangerous Texas Aggie eleven.

Southwest conference fans have started the chant for their only "Bowl" possibility, reasoning that the now common Saturday afternoon upsets the nation over could rocket the Methodists back into contention, despite the one-touchdown loss to an outplayed Fordham team.

Coach Matty Bell's Mustangs, however, must pick their way thru a rocky path strewn with such barriers as Texas A. & M., Arkansas, Baylor, Texas Christian and Rice before Rose or Sugar Bowl consideration.

The Methodists, assertedly "out to win 'em all," play the Aggies before a Dallas throng of 25,000 in the week-end's top attraction. Two homecoming day clashes, Texas vs. Texas Christian at Fort Worth and Rice vs. Arkansas at Fayetteville, Ark., and Baylor's inter-sectional tilt with Oklahoma City at Waco, complete the card.

Any "Bowl" hopes the Methodist fans are entertaining could be crushed after a stunning loss to Arkansas, last week, and a "kick" shift to Dick Todd and his running mates in Owby stadium. Caught flatfooted by a perfectly functioning Arkansas team last week, the Cadets, far below form, had their own Rose Bowl dream broken.

Coach Homer Norton said his Cadets would be in a "wild, gambling mood" for the Methodists, for another defeat means the snuffing of their conference title hopes. The Methodist team that crushed Texas last week, plus "Jarrine John" Harlow, ready for backfield service again, will be intact.

Texas Christian, last year's Sugar Bowl kings, send their mighty pitcher to the mound in an effort to make it four straight drubbings for Coach Jack Chevigny's Texas Longhorns. "Slingin' Sam" Baugh, fully recovered from recent hurts, will have a dry field and all of his pass-catching ends in perfect condition for the Texas fracas. Texas, downed on successive week-ends by Baylor, Rice and Southern Methodist, showed signs of winning against the Methodists last week and may upset predictions.

Two "in and out" teams, Rice Institute and Arkansas, both "in" in convincing triumphs last week, meet in anybody's game at Fayetteville. Rice's new found offensive strength, centered around Tom (Red) Vickers and Sophomore Jake Schrieber, has carried them through to victories over Georgia, Texas and George Washington. Injuries that have beset them are letting up and the Owls will be at almost full strength since the first game of the season.

Arkansas, also hampered by hurts, will have its pass flinging backfield combination intact. Rance Jack Robbins, the triple-threat who, with Dwight Sloan, smothered the Utah schedule the Aggies replace the University of Hawaii, which canceled its game because of the west coast maritime strike.

AMARILLO TO PLAY LUBBOCK ON WEDNESDAY

PLAINS LEADERSHIP TO BE ESTABLISHED AT ARMISTICE DAY

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Nov. 6 (AP)—Amarillo plays Lubbock; Childress, Wichita Falls, and North Side (Fort Worth) plays Polytechnic (Fort Worth) in future Texas interscholastic league football games this week.

The Amarillo-Lubbock battle will establish leadership of the Panhandle district and is regarded as the hardest test for the state champion Golden Sandles.

North Side and Poly are champion for the lead in the Fort Worth district and the winner will become a heavy favorite to come through with the title.

Childress is undefeated in district two. Wichita Falls has the same number of victories but a tie marks the Coyote record. The winner will be generally picked to romp in with the championship.

While most of the other districts will be marking time for Armistice Day struggles there are several other highly important games.

Cleburne plays Waco in the highlight of district eleven. It will show whether the Yellow Jackets can hope to stop the brilliant Hillsboro team Thanksgiving Day. Cleburne is undefeated, but has played what are considered weaker district members.

Edinburg clashes with Harlingen in the district 16 feature. Edinburg is leading the race with three victories and no defeats. Harlingen is unbeaten until last week.

Several of the state's undefeated, untied teams face hard tests this week but, generally, the dope favors them all to come through.

The eight teams with spottier records for the season in Texas are: Amarillo, North Side (Fort Worth), Dallas Tech, North Dallas, Hillsboro, Kerrville, Corpus Christi, and Edinburg.

North Side probably faces the hardest job of any to keep an unsullied record. Poly, on the other hand, doesn't look as strong. North Side but these teams wage a traditional battle when they meet and usually most anything can happen.

TEXAS HIGH SCHOOLS PREPARE FOR YEAR'S BIGGEST WEEK-END

DALLAS, Nov. 6 (AP)—Texas interscholastic league football teams prepared today for the biggest week-end of the season to date.

While less than 40 games are scheduled some of the most important contests of the campaign are on the card.

Three games were played last night though only one was a conference affair. Denison defeated Sherman 7-6 in district five. It was Sherman's first game. Denison went into a tie for second place with Paris with one victory and one defeat. Gainesville leads the district with two wins and no losses.

Paris downed Texarkana 19-0 in an inter-district contest. Marshall won over class B Truett 15-0.

The week-end conference schedule: Today—Childress at Wichita Falls, Olney at Graham, Ranger at Sweetwater, Fabens at Ysleta, Forest (Dallas) vs. Woodrow Wilson, Paschal (Fort Worth) vs. San Jacinto (Houston), Stripling (Fort Worth) at Mineral Wells, Cotrone at Jeff Davis (Houston), Goose Creek at Galveston, South Park (Beaumont) vs. Beaumont High, Corpus Christi at Laredo, Robstown at Kingsville, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo at McAllen, Weslaco at Brownsville, Edinburg at Harlingen, Tomore-Bowie (El Paso) vs. Austin (El Paso), North Side (Fort Worth) vs. Puly (Fort Worth), Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) vs. Milby (Houston).

PAMPA POLO TEAM WILL PLAY CRACK RUNNINGWATER CLUB

Pampa's recently organized polo team will take to the field Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 3 o'clock when they meet the crack Runningwater team on the local field, located a half mile west of Harvester park.

The playing field was dragged and worked over yesterday and will be in good condition for resumption of play. It has been nearly two months since the Rough Riders appeared before a local audience.

Headed by 53-year-old Bruce Masten, mallet swinging farmer, the team from Runningwater, located 10 miles northwest of Plainview, has run up an enviable record since its organization a little more than a year ago.

Pampa's six-man squad, without Dr. M. C. Overton, organizer of the team, has been practicing long and hard the past few weeks. The starting lineup for the Rough Riders has not been released. Available for No. 1 will be Bill Harwell and H. Otto Studer. Joe Bowers will be at No. 2. Hub Burrow and Art Dwyer are No. 3 men. Acting Captain Jack Cooper is the crack No. 4.

Runningwater will bring Bruce Masten, J. B. Masten, Reese Masten, Red Coplin and Skeet Barham.

SPORT SLANTS

That 26-0 beating Pittsburgh handed Notre Dame was bad enough but it was like rubbing salt into open wounds when someone recalled that Marshall Goldberg, the big gun in the Panthers' attack, was headed for Notre Dame when he stopped off in Pittsburgh and decided to continue his football under Coach Jock Sutherland.

Goldberg was the outstanding performer on the Elkins, W. Va., high school football team, and when he was graduated at the tender age of 15 it was pretty well decided that only an outstanding college eleven was worthy of his talents. He was a big, strong youngster—looking old for his years. What he lacked in the way of finesse as a football player he more than made up in amazing speed and endurance.

When he reported to Coach Sutherland for freshman football, the Panthers' tutor took him in hand and made him confine his passing efforts to right-hand tosses. Prior to that, Goldberg used either hand to pass with, and did all of his kicking with his left foot. He does his kicking with his right foot, now.

He has speed—lots of it—a neat change of pace, and, for his 175 pounds, powerful drive. He smashes into the line with knees high and legs churning at a terrific rate. He's hard to tackle and even harder to put down.

He Can Take It
Goldberg looked mighty good against Ohio State and even better while Pitt was losing to Duke. He was in the contest against Notre Dame that the sophomore sensation really stepped out. It wasn't that Coach Elmer Layden's boys hadn't been warned against him. They had been. And they went right to work on Goldberg as soon as the opening whistle blew.

The dark eyed curly-haired youngster the Aggies last week, is in top form.

Humbled by Texas Christian, 28-0, their last time out, Baylor still rates a sizeable nod over Oklahoma City University in their Waco clash. Sophomore Billy Patterson, the runner and pass thrower, has been included in Coach Morley Jennings' rebuilding plan.

He will play a big part in the veteran backfield with Lloyd Russell, Bob Masters, Carl Brazell and "Bubba" Gerard.

DALLAS, Nov. 6 (AP)—The Texas Aggies, who clash with Southern Methodist here tomorrow, will play two games next week, making three contests in eight days.

Coach Homer Norton made the announcement at the Aggies' camp, trained for Dallas last night. After the game here, the Aggies will meet the University of San Francisco Nov. 11 and the University of Utah at Salt Lake City Nov. 14.

On the Utah schedule the Aggies replace the University of Hawaii, which canceled its game because of the west coast maritime strike.

NEW DICTATOR WEARS A SASH, VELVETY SMILE

BUT BEHIND GRIN IS STEEL THAT IS RUTHLESS

SALAMANCA, Spain, Nov. 6 (AP)—Francisco Franco will add a red sash and a velvety smile to the world's album of dictators if Spanish fascism beats down the gates of Madrid.

But behind the smile, say Franco's lieutenants, is that steel which makes dictators brothers under the skin.

How successfully the smile, disarming and even ingratiating, will win the hearts of Spaniards to the general's conception of a disciplined nation remains to be seen.

Although his name and exploits are well known, comparatively few of his countrymen have seen Franco in person. Those who have say the find the figure of leadership in the vigorous generalissimo, who will be 44 next December.

With the red sash of a general around his waist, he fits into the picturesque Latin scene.

His face reflects the calm self-assurance of a soldier who worked his way to the rank of general at the age of 34 by leading native troops and foreign legionnaires through Spain's Moroccan campaigns.

Until he assumed the title of chief of state in a provisional regime, which set itself up at Burgos in scornful independence of the popular front government at Madrid, Franco was strictly a soldier, an instinctive army man, without political pretensions.

SCOUT NEWS

Boy Scouts of Troop 80 were glad last night to have their assistant scoutmaster, Jimmy Sackett, with them.

After a short play period, the troop met in a general assembly. All members of the troop were urged to attend the unveiling and dedication of the Indian battleground monument on McClellan creek at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

It was also announced that the weekly camping trips will be resumed next week-end and unless it rains the troop will spend Friday night at the Hoover-Strader ranch near Canadian, one of the best camping places in the Panhandle.

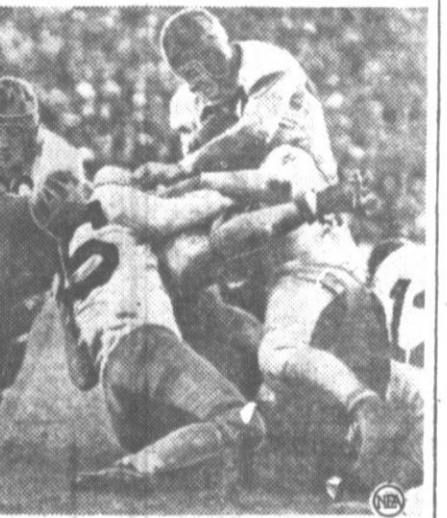

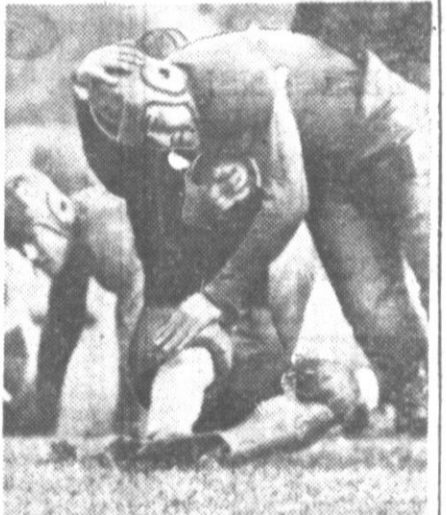

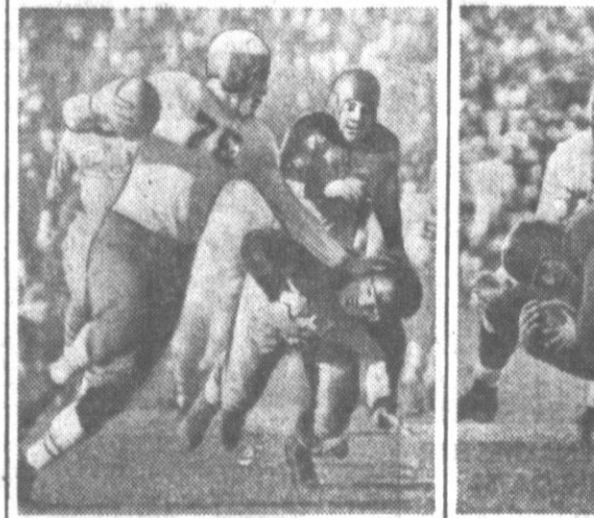

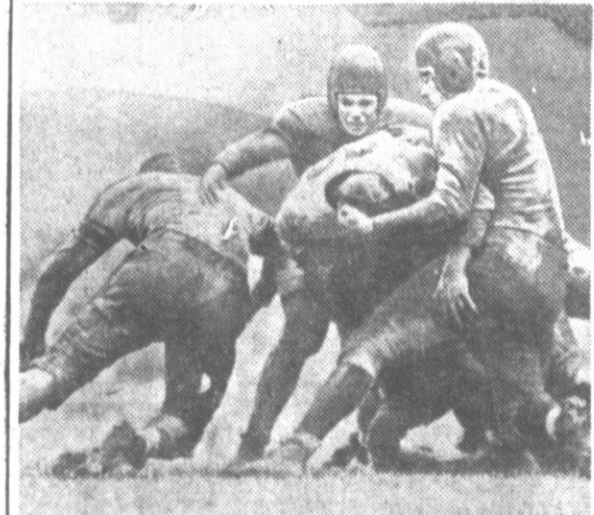

Transportation will be provided for all members of the troop who can attend. Each boy will be required to bring sufficient bedding and food. Food for two meals should be brought, supper and breakfast. The boys will not sleep outside unless they wish, as cabins will be available.

The troop was indeed glad to have two new members last night. One, Billy Mounts, will join "Bill Coons" and James Archer, Road Runner patrol, and Jack Baker who will be 12 in December has not decided which patrol he will join.

Some of the boys have already begun to pass their tests for the next court of honor. Bennett Wray and Richard Kuhl have passed or will have passed by Friday all second tests except those which must be passed on camping trips, and they will pass those tests next week-end.

TACKLING TOUGH PIGSKIN PROBLEMS

Lateral passing makes spine-jarring, teeth-rattling tackling more important than ever. Here is stirring tackling action taken on widely separated football fronts.

After next week-end, boys who do not show some advancement in scout tests and who do not attend scout meetings may not go on the camping trips.

ONION BREATH IS BIG ISSUE IN KALAMAZOO

Should Strong Odor Be Suppressed? No! Yes!

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—Those who think political fireworks are over for the season had better stay away from Kalamazoo, Mich., and the annual convention tomorrow of the union anti-defamation committee of America.

Maybe, if you don't like onions, you'd better stay away anyway.

First, there is likely to be trouble when the radical minority of the organization, headed by Clarence Teters of Kimmell, Ind., battles the conservative majority over the question of suppressing onion breath.

Secondly, there's a possibility of a holocaust when the new machine for testing the strength of onion breath is demonstrated for the first time.

Recent secret tests of the apparatus, conducted here by Dr. Paul Potetschnke, proved the machine's efficiency to such an extent as to bring out the further need of inventors, as against the radical element, which revels in onion odors, refuses to take preventative measures.

PRESIDENT WILL TAKE HAND IN PORT STRIKE

President Roosevelt planned to confer today with members of the maritime commission and Secretary of Labor Perkins regarding the maritime strike on the Pacific coast.

The strike which entered its second week has spread to other ports and tied up scores of ships.

It began when the Maritime Federation of the Pacific and shipowners' representatives reached a deadlock on "fundamental issues" after long negotiations.

Secretary Perkins returned to Washington last night to direct negotiations, and Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward E. McGrady was to leave San Francisco for Washington today.

McGrady's attempts to settle the strike have had little results.

Meanwhile at Boston union crews dealt a severe blow to the strike of insurgent members of the International Seamen's union by manning vessels outbound from the port.

Building Boom Is Under Way Now at Borger

BORGER, Nov. 6.—Formal opening of the new postoffice building, plans for construction of a county hospital, and progress of work on the Sunray-Dumas highway are all announced this week-end.

A $65,000 bond issue for the hospital, passed once in an election last summer and voided on a technicality, was passed again by a vote of 668 to 235 in the general election Tuesday. The commissioners' court will meet Monday to canvass the votes and make definite plans for starting work.

The new brick and tile postoffice building on Fifth and Deahl Sts. is expected to be open for business within a week, and the formal opening is tentatively set for Nov. 15. Rep. Marvin Jones is to be the speaker at the dedication program, and the date will depend upon his ability to be present. Judge E. J. Pickens of the 84th district will introduce the congressman and an open house will follow his address. Furniture and lock boxes have already been installed, and only a little work remains before the federal building is ready for business. Grading and drainage work is being rushed on the highway by Coke and Braden, contractors. Grading is being done from a mid-point on the highway to connect with highway 9. Concrete is being poured on culverts near Sunray. Work on bridges has been delayed because of failure to receive material on schedule.

CIVIC LUNCHEON TO BE HELD ON NEXT TUESDAY

Regular monthly luncheon of the Pampa chamber of commerce will be held Tuesday at 12 o'clock noon in the basement of the First Methodist church. Dinner will be served by the Clara Hill class of the church for 50 cents. Chamber of commerce leaders announced today that State Senator Clint C. Small will be the chief speaker at the luncheon which will be open to the public. An interesting program is being arranged. The junior chamber of commerce will not hold its regular meeting on that day but members will attend the membership luncheon. Civic clubs will also send delegations to the luncheon.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 6. (AP)—Climbing more than two cents late today, corn reached above $1.00 a bushel for December delivery in Chicago.

This is the highest price December corn contracts have touched since August 12. The fact that the 1936 corn crop in the United States is approximately a billion bushels less than a normal yield was cited as a stimulating influence underlying the market situation.

Corn closed buoyant, 1 1/2-2 1/2 cents above yesterday's finish, Dec. 1.00-1.00 1/2, May new 93 1/2-94, wheat 3 1/2-3 3/4, Dec. 1.14 1/2-3 1/4, May 1.13-1.13 1/2, oats unchanged.

ART OF COMFORTING IS URGED BY CHURCHMAN

HOUSTON, Nov. 6. (AP)—Edwin Holt Hughes of Washington, senior bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, urged Methodist ministers of Texas to "regain the lost art of comforting."

Bishop Hughes spoke to ministers attending the joint meeting of the five Texas Southern Methodist conferences and the southern conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.

"We have become so much afraid of our emotions that we don't tell the truth any more," Bishop Hughes declared. "We have had the greatest opportunity in the last ten years to make pulp history since the war between the states and we have been unconsciously unfaithful to this opportunity."

"Don't think you're going to convert the world with a great message to the intellect. You have to go to the heart of the broken-hearted. That function abides constantly in our ministry, and if you don't give your sensibilities a chance along with your intellect, you will cripple your ministry."

This afternoon Bishop George A. Miller of Chicago, one of the leaders of the Methodist Episcopal missionary movement and an authority on Latin-American affairs, was principal speaker at a joint mass meeting of the delegates and visitors.

At a mass meeting at the city auditorium at 7:30 tonight, the visitors will gather for speeches by Governor Sennett Conner of Mississippi and Dr. Roy L. Smith of Los Angeles, Calif.

FORT WORTH GRAIN
FORT WORTH, Nov. 6. (AP)—Fair demand for grain was reported here Friday. Estimated receipts were wheat 19 cars, corn 8, oats 4 and sorghums 2.

WOOL
BOSTON, Nov. 6. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow: "There has been a continuance this week of the big business in wool which has been in evidence for the preceding fortnight. Added to the strong statistical position of wool all over the world is the belief that inflation is with us more pronouncedly in consequence of the election."

"Foreign markets have shown a distinct tendency upward and it transpires that contracting of the new clip has been heavy in South America. America has been a heavy buyer in the foreign primary markets this week. Further clearances have been effected in the west also, at slightly higher prices."

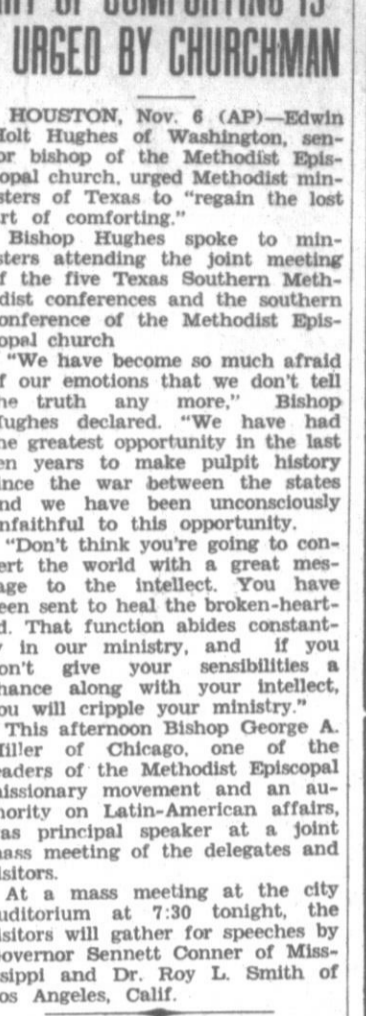

"There is a better tone in the piece-goods markets, especially in men's wear lines. Spinners and topmakers are getting better prices for their products, although still lagging somewhat behind replacement value for wool."

"Mohair is very strong and the trend is against the buyer."

The Bulletin will publish the following quotations:
Scoured basis:
Texas: Fine 12 months (selected) 92-94; fine short, twelve months 89-91; fine 8 months 86-87; fall 79-81.
Mohair:
Domestic: Good original bar, Texas spring 60-61 cents; Texas kid, 75-78; Arizona and New Mexican, 55-56; Oregon 57-58.

Mrs. E. E. Gething of the Webb community was a Pampa visitor this morning.

Buzzing to a Touchdown

Marquette University's best bet for All-America honors this year is Capt. Ray (Buzz) Buivid, a triple-threat back who is one of the nation's greatest passers. Here is the elusive Buivid swinging his slippery hips in action. The Galloping Gaels of St. Mary's will find this fellow a tough one to stop when they tangle with Marquette's Golden Avalanche in Chicago, Friday, Oct. 30.

COLUMN

There are at least 150 striking personalities on the midway, beginning with Eddie (Hum-a-Tune) Goldstein on the Court of Honor and coming on down to Mile Corrine at Streets of All Nations. In between there are Paris Peggy, Mona Luelle, Lisa Chavez, Edith S'rand, Neely Edwards, Queen Elizabeth, Town Crier Rhys Williams, and dozens of others.

Cavalcade can not be classed as a personality, but rather as an institution which has drawn more patronage than any other attraction on the exposition grounds. But when this great production is epitomized by Ed V. Gordin, who reads most of the lines from the sound room of all the Texas heroes, including Sam Houston, or whether Paul Moore, who is Sam Houston on the stage, stands out most in the minds of the beholders, remains to be seen through the survey.

All letters should be addressed to John Rosenfield, Jr., Dallas News, or Fairfax Nisbet, Dallas Journal, and should be sent immediately in order to help speed up the voting. Help select the star of the Texas Centennial.

JUDGE DELAYS ACTION IN BABY DERRY AWARD

TORONTO, Nov. 6. (AP)—Mr. Justice Middleton put over today until Nov. 16 further action on clause 9 of the famous Millar will after 18 mothers, numerous next of kin and the government of Ontario all had made representations as to how the strange legacy to the "most prolific mother" should be disposed of.

The Supreme Court justice, after hearing all sides to the dispute, found there was so much difference of opinion that he would require further arguments before ruling upon the validity of the clause.

The hearing served to bring forth another top flight claimant when Mrs. Elvira Mastroiacci told the court she was the mother of nine children all born in conformity with clause 9 as her counsel put it.

Near the end of the hearing the justice commented that "it looks like the contest lies between the mothers of nine children, as far as I can see."

There was only one mother present claiming more than nine children born during the ten-year period specified by the will. That was Mrs. Lillian Kenny.

FASCISTS AND REDS IN PARIS FILING CHARGES

ACCUSED OF PLOTTING REVOLT AGAINST BLUM

PARIS, Nov. 6 (AP)—French fascists and communists accused each other today of attempting to influence the army and navy in a revolutionary plot against Premier Leon Blum's Socialist government.

Each faction demanded quick measures to put an end to what was described as "danger to the public peace." The charges were scheduled for debate in the Senate this afternoon.

The chamber of deputies, meanwhile, gave solid support to Blum's proposals for revision of provincial finances, voting a preliminary bill unanimously.

Heated accusations were flung between the communist delegation in the senate and the followers of Col. Francois de la Rocque, head of the fascist social party.

The rightists declared their intention of inquiring into the influences behind the signing of the international and the raising of clenched fists (the symbol of communism) by the personnel of naval arsenals at Brest and Cherbourg during a recent visit by a government official.

The communist newspaper, Humanite countered with allegations de la Rocque's supporters were attempting to "split the army into two rival camps."

The fascists were spreading influence through the army, the newspaper asserted, through a "handful of subversive officers who dream of imitating Franco and serving Hitler."

(The charge apparently referred to Gen. Francisco Franco, leader of the Spanish fascist revolution, who has been accused of having secret agreements with Reichsfuehrer Hitler.)

TWO YOUNG LADIES ARE RIVALS IN HORSE SHOW

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—Two young sportsmen, only a few years out of their teens, are providing a show within the national horse show in a personal rivalry for blue ribbons.

Twenty-four year old Judy King of Atlanta has only seven horses in the show at Madison Square Garden—just half as many as her rival, Frances Dodge of Rochester, Mich.—but she is setting the pace with five victories. These were achieved by a string of veteran harness horses by Patrick O'Connell, one of the country's outstanding professional whips.

Miss Dodge, 22, showing eight in the harness division and seven in the saddle classes, has won only three events but is favored to retain the laurels she won last year largely because of the all-around strength of her stable, managed by Reed Bridgford and Wallace Bailey.

Both young in the game as trainers go, Bridgford has charge of the harness horses while Bailey handles the saddle performers. Each is 40 years old.

The Rochester sportsman has 13 horses in competition.

The three-day competition for the trophy presented by President Arturo Alessandri of Chile went into the final round with the French officers leading the United States by a narrow margin of three and a half points. Close behind Uncle Sam's representatives was Chile.

Trailing were Canada, Irish Free State, Great Britain and Sweden.

STATE VERSION OF SLAYING IS TOLD

EASTLAND, Nov. 6 (AP)—Testimony of events alleged to have occurred the night H. L. McBee disappeared from his Rising Star home was before the jury today in the trial of Mrs. Della Henry for his slaying.

The state claims McBee was killed with an ice pick May 1, 1933, his skeleton was found hanging from a tree near Rising Star in December, 1934.

Ted Crosswhite testified he and Raymond Henry, the defendant's present husband, went to the McBee home the night of the disappearance. He said he went outside to wait for Henry after McBee became offended when Henry sat in Mrs. McBee's lap. He testified he heard a "scrapping" noise and then saw Henry running from the house.

"He came out slamming the door and started to jump off the side of the porch which had no steps," Crosswhite said, "and as he turned around I saw an ice pick in his hand. His eyes were sort of glassy."

Henry was sentenced to 50 years in a companion case April 5.

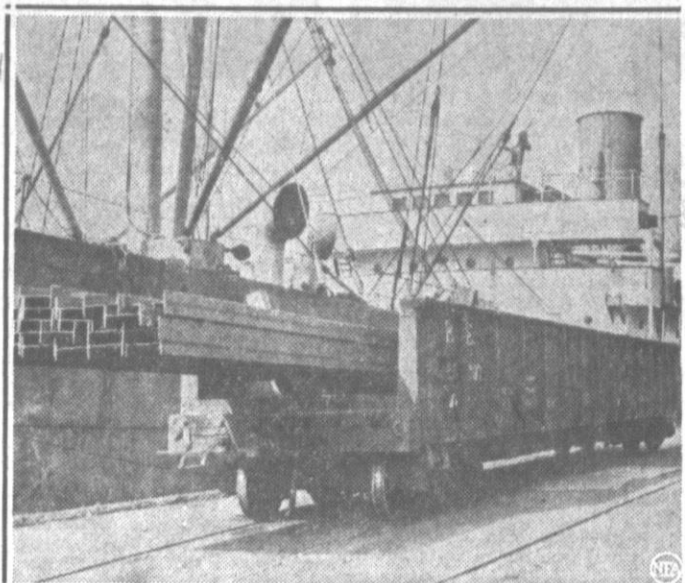

Mrs. W. N. Tyler testified she then Mrs. McBee told her she would "give her interest in hell for Raymond Henry."

THE WILD WEST CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Maria Ellis Kepner Reagan, a great grandmother celebrating her 99th birthday anniversary, is still a confirmed Broadway-ite after 47 years in the midwest.

"I belong in the east," she said. "I just can't get used to being away out here."

100,000 SCHOOL CHILDREN HAVE VISITED FETE WITHOUT ACCIDENT

DALLAS, Nov. 6.—One hundred thousand Texas school children have visited the Texas Centennial exposition in Dallas since the opening of the campaign to bring half a million or more to the world's fair before its close on Nov. 29.

Of this gigantic number, not one has been lost from his group, no piece of baggage has been lost and there have been no accidents. Each boy or girl has been housed in a comfortable and high class environment. Special guides, employed by the exposition, have been at their disposal at all times. Careful watch over the hours they are on the exposition grounds, but also during the hours they are in the quarters assigned them.

The railroads have been granted a rate of one-half cent a mile for these students and their sponsors. More than two-score special trains have been operated. Not only has there not been an accident on the grounds, but none on transit in either direction. Cafes on the grounds have made special rates for these students. Meals are furnished them, in well balanced proportions, at prices not in excess of 35 cents for the most elaborate.

The school children see the historic Cavalcade of Texas at half price. Most concessions have granted them special rates. Educational tours which are not obligatory, have been arranged. They are not in the nature of class room lectures. They are full of thrills and excitement. Texas history, as it was made, is seen. The movement has been endorsed in an official proclamation by Governor James V. Alford and by State Superintendent L. A. Woods. Twenty-four administrative Experiments which are hoped to lead to a harder breed of game trout especially adapted to California waters are under way at Bishop, Calif.

TAXI DRIVER AND SOLDIER DIE IN DENVER

DOUBLE SLAYING MAY BE MURDER AND SUICIDE

DENVER, Nov. 6 (AP)—Detectives sought today a man known only as "Shorty," who, Capt. James Childers said, probably could settle whether the deaths of a young ex-soldier and a taxi driver were a murder-suicide or a double murder.

A road worker discovered the body of Claude Glenn, 36, the taxi operator, in a ditch near municipal airport late yesterday. There was a bullet hole through the head and the body was covered with dirt and leaves. Childers said Glenn was murdered.

George W. Preston, 20, who received a disability discharge from the army last month, was found dying in Glenn's wrecked and blood-stained, who told Childers she and the youth had quarreled.

While refusing to discuss further theories, Childers indicated "Shorty" was necessary before the case could be closed.

The missing man and Preston, whose parents live at El Rita, Calif., hired Glenn's cab in downtown Denver late Monday night, an hour before Preston was found dying outside the home where Miss Lorraine was employed. drenched cab in a fashionable residential district early Tuesday morning.

A bullet had entered Preston's head, also, and in his lap was an automatic pistol with two cartridges missing from the clip. Three empty shells were found on the floor.

Captain Childers said the obvious assumption was that Preston shot Glenn, dumped the body in the ditch and then committed suicide because of Miss Nadine Lorraine, 23.

NO CONTEST LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Leonard Jacobson was turned down in a request he submitted to Mayor Charles W. Bryan, but it's all right with Leonard. The request was for permission to pay off an election bet by pushing a peanut down the main street with his nose. Mayor Bryan demurred because of the traffic hazard.

Yes, Jacobson bet on Governor Landon.

DEER SEASON IN TEXAS TO OPEN NOV. 16

TURKEY CROP SAID TO BE PARTICULARLY ABUNDANT

AUSTIN, Nov. 6 (AP)—Texas' vast army of outdoor sportsmen, aroused by the brisk cold weather of the last few days, were preparing today for what appeared to be the state's biggest hunting season to date.

With deer and turkey seasons opening Nov. 16, hunters and trappers were taking advantage of the remaining ten days to haul out their shooting and trapping paraphernalia, oil guns, buy shells, locate favorable sites and otherwise arrange for an early crack at whatever game they might be after.

Will Tucker, secretary of the state game, fish and oyster commission, said game of all types and kinds was plentiful this year, following excellent conditions maintained throughout the breeding seasons. "The turkey crop in some sections should be particularly abundant," Tucker said. "Deer may not be as plentiful as in some previous years, but there will be a goodly number of bucks and they should be fat and healthy."

"We have had good rainfall nearly all over the state the past 10 months as compared with several years of comparatively light precipitation. This has produced large quantities of feedstuffs for our wild-life."

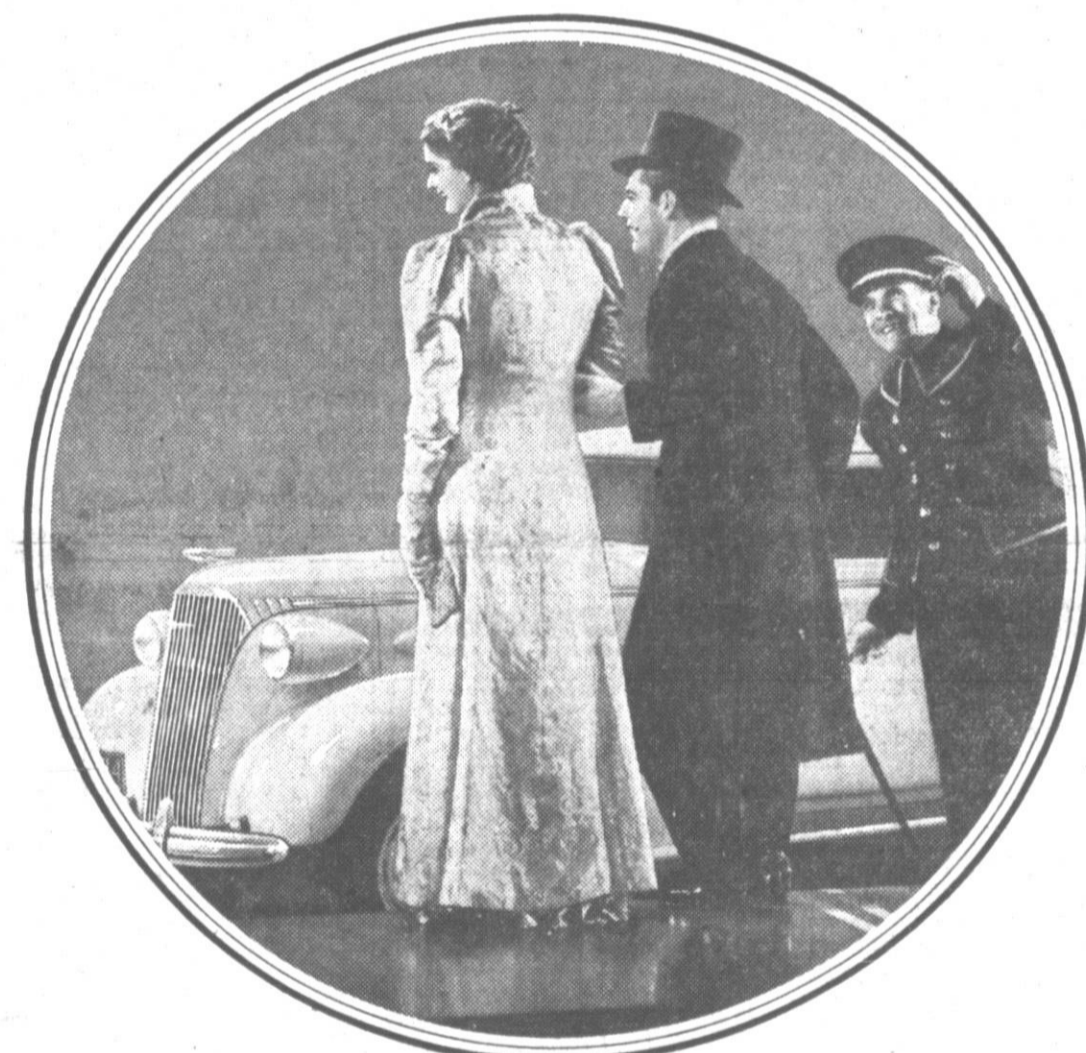

Deer and turkey seasons in Texas open Nov. 16 and close Dec. 31. West of the Pecos, black tail deer may be killed from November 16 to Dec. 1. Waterfowl open season dates are Nov. 26 to Dec. 25. Quail may be shot Dec. 1 to Jan. 16. The fur trappers will be busy from Dec. 1 to Jan. 31.

'AVERAGE AMERICAN?' THERE JUST ISN'T ANY!

Away back in the days of the Coolidge boom, a national magazine descended on Roy L. Gray, storekeeper of Fort Madison, Ia., and announced that he was America's "average man."

In the nine years that followed, Mr. Gray has been the target of innumerable wisecracks. He is beginning to get a little tired of it, which is no wonder at all, and he announces that if it keeps up he will presently do "something that's a long way from average."

It may be some comfort to him to be assured that his selection was pretty phony, in the first place. For the plain fact is that there is no such thing as an "average man" in the United States any more. There hasn't been, since Colonial days.

One of the most noteworthy facts about America, indeed, is that it is a land of infinite variety. We have had a good deal of talk about the standardization of habits and customs in this country, but you do not need to travel about in it very much to discover that the nation contains about as widely differing a collection of human beings as was ever brought under one roof.

Pick out a dry farmer from Montana, a steel puddler from Birmingham, Ala., a Cape Cod clam digger, a two-acres-and-a-mule cotton farmer from Arkansas, an Indianapolis insurance salesman, a Slav production line hand from Detroit, a cowpoke from Wyoming, and a broker's clerk from New York—and just try to average them!

You may be able to pick out one or two traits that all have in common. Beyond that, your attempt to strike an average will have you goggle-eyed in no time.

Even if you divide the land into classes, you can't pick average men. Who, for instance, is your average farmer? The state of Maine potato raiser, the Italian truck gardener from Massachusetts, the Kansas wheat grower, the corn-and-hog man from Iowa, or the cantaloupe grower from the Rio Grande? All these are American farmers, but the mutual resemblance goes little further than that.

Then there are the women. Where is your average among a New Jersey airplane hostess, a short-order waitress in a Minnesota railroad junction town, a New York hosiery model, an Ohio housewife, a student nurse in Seattle, Wash., and a high school girl in a Tennessee small town? The odds are that all of them are trim and pretty—but what average is there, beyond that?

The truth is, of course, that we simply kid ourselves when we talk about any sort of "average" American. There is no average—and it is precisely in that fact that there lies the richness and the strength of our nation.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON.—If you think that millions of Americans are relieved that the campaign is over, you ought to talk to the boys who guard the president.

The tens of millions who have seen the chief executive in the last few weeks have little conception of the tremendous strain the campaign imposed on officers of the U. S. Secret Service.

The task of seeing that the president gets safely there and safely back again is one of the most intricate and important of assignments, and Col. Edward W. Starling's boys are glad it's over.

That is, over for the campaign. For the responsibility of guarding the life of the president goes right on around the clock, every day of the year.

Colonel Starling, genial and alert chief of the White House Secret Service, invariably proceeds as the advance guard of presidential trips.

Starling plots the course the president will take and surveys the terrain at every platform stop. He goes into huddles with police chiefs, instructs them as to the handling of crowds, the placing of their men, the roping-off of certain areas, and the "spotting" of national guardsmen in case it is felt advisable to use them.

He arranges for stationing uniformed and plain-clothes men in hotels and other buildings which the president is to visit.

He consults with rail executives and trainmen, local politicians, hotel managers, waiters, and elevator operators.

When the president is to speak in a large stadium or auditorium, the whole structure is searched as if by fine-tooth comb.

Hours before the presidential party arrives, the building is practically sealed tight, with Secret Service and police officers on constant guard. Through the stands usually are scattered hundreds of local plain-clothes men, under Secret Service supervision.

The presidential party and train are in the charge of Russell Wood, first assistant to Starling. At the outset of every trip Wood goes through the entire train and checks up on everyone on board.

Only the presidential party, Wood's men, railroad men, newspapermen, photographers, and radio men travel on the train.

About a mile ahead dashes a pilot engine to assure clear tracks. Behind is a dummy train, there to prevent possible collision from the rear.

The greatest strain comes when the president leaves the train to be driven through crowded streets to a crowded destination. In cities, motorcycle cops usually travel ahead, followed by a pilot car full of local police and Washington operatives which precedes the presidential car. A Secret Service car invariably follows close behind the president on any automobile drive.

Officials at an eastern college wonder how to tell when a football fan is drunk. They might check up on those who shout, "Kill the umpire."

A New York salesman, who had been having trouble with his wife, was ordered by a judge to hold her hand frequently. It is the safest plan.

Film dance director says, "Go barefoot until you're 18 if you want to dance." It seems to cast new light on the possibilities of the hillbilly quartet.

MR. MUSSOLINI'S PEACE PROGRAM

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

NEW YORK.—What critics generally agree was the stiffest wisecrack of the season came about the other week when George Kaufman fell ill. His new play, "Stage Door," was in rehearsal and the advance sale was startlingly brisk.

As a rule, most plays have no advance sale to speak of beyond opening night, but "Stage Door"—due probably to Margaret Sullivan's appeal—was rounding in dollars at a gratifying rate. John Peter Toohy thought Kaufman should be told the cheering news.

"That's right," he reiterated into the telephone, "$2,000 yesterday and $3,000 today."

"Call off the premiere," cried the playwright quickly. "At this rate we'd be suckers to open."

Kaufman Gags As gags and rehearsals usually go together, one is reminded of a typical Kaufman witticism that cropped up during rehearsal of "First Lady," that sly jibe at social Washington which amused New York audiences all last winter.

Jane Cowl was the star and she attended rehearsals wearing a gigantic fur piece. Jane also had on her glasses, the better to read her script, and while going through her gestures the piece flew and knocked her glasses to the floor. After this happened three or four times, the star came perilously near to exploding.

Kaufman, managing a straight face while observing this unofficial comedy, strode to the telephone and called Sam Harris, producer of the show. "We just had a most amazing scene here, Sam," Kaufman exclaimed. "Jane's fur piece woke up and dragged her half way across the stage."

The follow-up to this came several

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD.—Film factory: Driving an automobile in the movies is the safe way to drive. Errol Flynn and Kay Francis take a spin under the stars for a scene in "Another Dawn." As in most sequences nowadays, wherein actors are seen riding toward the camera, their roadway and the scenery is all on a screen behind them, a movie within a movie, and the lifelike result is one of the modern screen miracles.

Errol and Kay are chatting whimsically about the stars, and Errol at the wheel turns frequently to look at Kay as he talks, occasionally he turns the wheel slightly to "stay on" the winding road. From the pretzel-like aspect of the road, one might judge stricter attention to driving necessary, but in scenes like these movie stars are exempt from usual caution.

Car On Platform The roadster is mounted on a platform, and prop men jiggle it for vibration while a huge fan blows Kay's hair in the wind. Between shots Kay resumes her knitting (something that looks like a dog sweater). When the camera starts, she drops it to the floor and turns on the gaiety and emotion.

The salt-and-cornflake snow is deep on the outdoor set where Sonja Henie, Adolph Menjou, Arlene Judge, Dixie Dunbar and the three Ritz brothers are performing for "One in a Million." The warm Hollywood sun beats down, but this is a cinematic winter and all the players are in furs. Menjou, with a handful of stage currency, is paying off the girls in his theatrical troupe, and they are having been absent from their lives for some time.

The director, Sidney Lanfield, says after the "take": "Mr. Arliss, do you object to another shot before lunch?" Menjou, for whom this is meant, smiles through his perspiration. Directors will have their little jokes, and of course Lanfield addresses the Ritzes as the Yacht Club Boys.

On the "Happy-Go-Lucky" set Phil Regan, a football fan, has brought a pigskin, and whoever on the set is responsible for a delay in production gets the pigskin passed to him, which is as good an excuse to practice passing as any.

Double Check The scene today, although set in a Shanghai home, has a gridiron flavor. Phil and some other sailors are making a forced entrance, under Aubrey Scott's direction, into the house. They push past the butler, and race in a flying wedge play toward the defending rivals, also sailors. Phil yells, "There they are, boys—get 'em!"

After the "take is done," Regan stands under the microphone and repeats the line, clearly. That is, so the audience will be sure to understand the signals, which might have been lost in the clatter of feet during the "take."

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Frederic J. Haskin

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. What are the symbols of faith, hope and charity? J. L. A. The cross symbolizes faith; the anchor, hope, and the heart, charity.

Q. Is there any federal law against raising marimannas? C. H. G. A. There is no federal law against raising marimannas (cannabis sativa) but thirty-four states and the territory of Hawaii have statutes regulating the cultivation, sale, and possession of this drug plant.

Q. Is it true that the negro has a longer heel than the white man and that there is a racial variation in the leverage of the foot acted on by the flexor muscles? W. E. G. A. The Smithsonian Institution says that no study has been made of the foot bones of a sufficient number of pure negroes to furnish any basis for a comparison between the races. The negro's foot tends to spread more than the foot of the white man. If the individual heel bones of the negro were measured, it is probable that the average would be longer than the average for the white race. If the ratio between the length of the heel bone and the length of the foot is compared for the two races it is doubtful whether any considerable variation exists. It is doubtful whether there is much racial variation in the leverage of the foot acted on by the flexor muscles. Q. Where is P. G. Wodehouse now living? S. W. C. A. Mr. Wodehouse is at present in Hollywood.

Q. What state has the most hunters in proportion to its area? W. P. A. Bird-Lore published tables which show that New Jersey leads with 14.2 sportsmen to the square mile. Reckoning hunters to population shows a different picture with one sportsman to about six people in Montana and Idaho.

Q. Do dogs howl because they dislike music? H. B. A. Howling at music is not uncommon in certain dogs of all breeds. It does not appear to be caused by distaste for music, because the animal usually sits close to the performer instead of running away. It is probably a reflex condition produced by the effect of certain notes, chords, or keys on the emotions of the animals.

Q. Do many workers contract silicosis? M. F. J. A. Out of every 100 men who apply for work as sand-blasters in the United States Navy, 75 are afflicted with silicosis in various stages.

Q. How were the Farm Journal and Grass Roots polls conducted and what were the results? R. M. A. The Farm Journal made a house-to-house canvass of farmers in 30 states in late September and early October. Of the major party vote of 11,869, Landon received 57 per cent. The Grass Roots poll was conducted in September and early October by 3,000 country newspapers, ballots being clipped from the papers. From 39 states 91,441 votes were returned. Landon got 60.5 per cent of those given the major parties.

Q. What has become of Al Capone's home at Miami Beach? F. R. L. A. The Florida home is the property of his wife, Mrs. Mae Capone. It is to be auctioned by the government to satisfy a $51,498 tax lien.

Q. Is the Imperial Valley a desert? E. M. V. A. The Imperial Valley has an annual rainfall of a little over four inches, so that it is a desert country. It is irrigated from the Colorado River.

Q. What are the most dangerous sports? H. J. A. Coach Mal Stevens of New York university says that football is by far the most hazardous of games, producing many more injuries than polo, wrestling, lacrosse, soccer, crew, and boxing which follow in that order.

Q. How many people visit the Dionne quintuplets? G. R. S. A. Approximately 500,000 Americans have visited the children so far this year.

Q. How old is Prof. Einstein? T. N. A. Dr. Albert Einstein was born March 14, 1879, so is 57 years old. He is now an American citizen and appears in Who's Who in America for the first time.

Parliamentary Law Explained

Are you often silent in a meeting when you would like to take part in its proceedings—silent because you are afraid of making a parliamentary blunder? Do you know your rights in debate, the kinds of motions you can make, and when to offer them? Would you be able to preside if you were suddenly called to the chair? If you were named on a committee to prepare a constitution or a set of by-laws, would you have any idea as to how to set about the committee's task? If you were elected recording secretary, would you know how to keep the minutes of your club? These questions point to the value of this booklet, Parliamentary Law. Know the rules. The Wrong Murderer

By HUGH CLEVELY

Chapter 16. NOT CONVINCED.

"Didn't you find out from the newspapers that the police were searching for you?" as the Inspector.

"No," said Ruth. "Anne is a queer sort; she has a tiny cottage miles from anywhere, and she doesn't bother about newspapers. I didn't either, while I was with her," said Ruth.

"And what time did you get back to London last night?" asked Inspector Kennedy.

"I suppose we got back at about four," she answered. "You see, the ignition went wrong and it took... it took us about two hours and a half to put it right."

"Inspector Kennedy made rapid calculations. It was a good two hours journey by road to Harfield in a fast car. Two hours going, two hours coming back, and an hour and a half—allowing for a certain exaggeration on her part—spent in repairing a breakdown—that meant that Mahony had not been in London at the time when the murder occurred."

But was her story truthful? It seemed to the Inspector that there was something very queer about very nearly everything that had taken place. What was the meaning of it all? It simply did not make sense. And who had killed Mr. Little, and why?

He sighed. He had decided, after all, not to detain Mahony for the present.

Lawson also was very perplexed. He could not understand why on earth Ruth should have told that story about staying with a friend. Mahony could not understand it either.

"You say that the name of the friend with whom you were staying is Annah?" asked Inspector Kennedy.

"The White Cottage, near Harfield, Sussex," replied Ruth without hesitation. "But you won't find her there today, I'm afraid." She told me she was going away."

"She did not mention that Anne had said that she was going to Berlin; she hoped that Anne, with her well-known carelessness, had not told anybody where she was going. Heavily I knew what would happen if Anne were to be questioned severely by the police. She would probably throw tubes of paint at them and end up in prison herself. She was like that."

"I'm terribly sorry about your uncle, Elsa," she said. "You will let me know if I can do anything, won't you?"

"Yes, thank you, Ruth," replied Elsa, and then to Mahony: "I owe you an apology, Mr. Mahony. I'm sorry if I've suspected you unjustly."

She spoke a little stiffly, as if she had made the apology with great reluctance.

"That's all right, Miss Little," said Mahony. "Please don't think about it any more."

He and Ruth Fraser left the house. When they had gone there was a short silence. Then Inspector Kennedy shrugged his shoulders slightly.

"It seems that you were mistaken, Miss Little, in thinking that Mahony was the man in the study with you and your uncle last night," he observed.

"Yes," said Elsa, in a doubtful voice. She looked at the Inspector, her blue eyes full of an acute bewilderment.

"I... I still don't think I was mistaken," she said falteringly. "I've got a very good memory for voices. And why did Ruth say she was staying with Anne Dowson?"

"Have you any reason to think that she was not staying with Miss Dowson?" asked the Inspector keenly.

"Well... yes. The day after Ruth disappeared I had a letter from Anne about a picture I wanted to buy from her. In her letter she asked after Ruth. I don't think that even Anne would have done that if Ruth had been staying with her, though she is very absent-minded."

Lawson's first action after leaving the Little's house was to ring up Lee-Ramsden. He found Lee-Ramsden in a somewhat irritable mood.

"I've rung you up twice this morning already," said Lee-Ramsden. "I want to know what happened last night. How did my ward manage to turn up here suddenly like that at four in the morning?"

"I don't know," answered Lawson. "I'm ringing you up to try to find out what happened. I didn't know she'd got away till I saw her a minute or two ago. I also want to warn you that detective is on his way to interview you now."

"I don't care if the whole of Scotland Yard is on its way to interview me," replied Lee-Ramsden. "I've already rung them up and told them that Ruth has been staying with a school-friend in Sussex. They can believe it or not, just as they like. That's all the information they'll get from me or Ruth."

"But..." began Lawson. He did not quite know how to go on. "Is Ruth seriously going to try to keep up the story about staying with Anne Dowson?" he asked.

"Yes. She seems to have some reason for wanting to hide the real story of what happened last night. She won't even tell me the name of the man who got her away."

"I know who he is all right," answered Lawson. "He's an interfering devil named Mahony, who is beginning to know a damned sight too much about my affairs. You'd better slip out of the house and meet me quietly somewhere before that detective arrives. There are a lot of things I want to tell you before you meet him."

(Copyright, 1936, Hugh Clevely.)

Up And Down The Air Waves

By RAY D. G.

We have finally discovered a real group of entertainers, and if you were listening to KPND yesterday at 3:30, you heard them too. It was the Pampa High School stage orchestra, and it sounded like the "Mc-Coy's". We see no reason why some alert business firm doesn't sponsor them for a regular program. Let's have them again, soon, KPND and High School.

A part of the Miles of Smiles program yesterday was dedicated to, and broadcast for the Pampa Lions club. We can imagine that this program paved the way for the "tail-twister" to collect a number of fines. It just appears to us that this was a good stunt. KPND might do well to honor all the clubs, spasmodically, in the same way.

Uncle Bud's barn dance at Berger on Nov. 21 will be supplied with music by the Waikiki Novelty Boys. The pre-dance floor show featuring Elmer Gophius Hoskins, will be worth the money, and all your friends will be there. It's an event of the season, so plan now to attend.

NBC tonight—5:45, Lowell Thomas; 6, Amos and Andy; 6:15, Uncle Ezra's Radio Station; 6:30, Lum and Abner; 7, Jessica Dragonette; 8, Fred Waring's orchestra; 8:30, Court of Human Relations; 9, President Roosevelt; 9:30, Red Grange.

Alice Reinhart, of NBC's True Story Court of Human Relations program, is one of the busiest actresses in radio. She has appeared in as many as 12 programs in one week.

Radio will publicize and advertise. Three Arkansas towns are enjoying remarkable business booms as a result of the attention attracted to them by the radio stardom of their favorite sons. Van Buren, birthplace of Bob Burns; Mena, home town of Lum and Abner, and Waters, renamed Pine Ridge because of those Ozark characters. All are visited daily by hundreds of tourists whose curiosity has been fired by the radio entertainers.

CBS tonight—6, Eaton Boys, male quartet; 6:15, Popeye the Sailor; 6:30, Grose Creek Parson; 6:45, Boake Carter; 7, Broadway Varieties; 8, Hollywood Hotel; 9, President Roosevelt.

Irvin S. Cobb's five rules for fine living: 1, be tolerant of the other fellow; 2, learn to lie gracefully and convincingly; 3, don't be a loan office to your friends; 4, wait 24 hours to say mean things, and then forget them; 5, make virtues of your vices by holding yourself in check. Those are pretty good rules, and you'll hear more from Irvin Cobb tomorrow night at 9:30 on CBS.

Tomorrow will bring us another Radio Roundup on KPND at 4:15 p. m. Why not all you musicians, singers, dancers or what have you, come in for this program and strut your stuff. Uncle Bud will be glad to have you and the listeners would like to hear you. Bring your instruments right in, they will let you on the program and be glad to have you. Be in the studio at 4:15.

Just in case you read an item in yesterday's column that you couldn't figure out, neither could we. The trouble was that a line was left out; however, that may have made a better item.

Did you hear the "Man on the Street" yesterday from Berger that should prove to be a very interesting and popular KPND program, and it will be heard again next Tuesday at 1:45 p. m.

Don't forget the Barn Dance to be held in Berger on Nov. 21, at the American Legion hall. KPND's Uncle Bud will put on a great show for all who attend, and you'll be sorry if you miss it.

YES, THIS FOOD ENDS YOUR CONSTIPATION

Look out for those half-sick days, when you feel listless, headachy, out-of-sorts. Your trouble may be constipation. The real cause of common constipation is too little "bulk" in meals. Your system misses its regular exercise. Get this needed "bulk" in a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Within the body, its "bulk" absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently sponges out the system. Why keep on feeling bad when you can feel good? Millions of people use ALL-BRAN. Tests prove it's safe and effective. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Serve as a cereal, with milk or cream, or cook into porridge. Remember, ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron. Certainly you'd rather eat a food than take pills and drugs. Buy ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Texas School Plays Must Be Comedies

AUSTIN, Nov. 6 (AP)—Tragedians will yield the boards to the comedians in future Interscholastic league drama competition. Member schools voted to limit one-act plays in league competition to comedies, or farces, a league headquarters official announced.

Heretofore a large percentage of plays were tragedies, Morton Brown, dramatics director, says. Many coaches believe the lighter form of drama has no chance in competition with tragedy, he reports. In the past 10 years comedy was awarded first place only once. One-act play competition is conducted throughout the state in pyramidal fashion, beginning with county competition which leads to district, regional and final competition. Last season 591 schools competed.

REVAMPED CABINET FOR NEXT TERM IS LIKELY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—The prospect of a revamped cabinet loomed large in Washington today, but President Roosevelt has given no hint of the cabinet changes he may make, and in the absence of official word, rumors flew thick and fast.

In general, they pointed only to the widely held conclusion that Mr. Roosevelt would follow the precedent of previous chief executives and have several new faces in his second cabinet. Secretaries Hull, Morgenthau and Wallace, were expected by most to retain their present jobs. Uncertainty as to the other cabinet positions prevailed, however.

Some said that Secretary of Commerce Roper and Secretary of the Navy Swanson would drop out, along with Postmaster General Farley. The department heads themselves remained silent.

Outside the cabinet, some 30 major New Deal posts remain to be filled as the President returns to his administrative tasks.

Chief among these are undersecretary of state, comptroller general, director of the budget, two maritime commissioners, one social security board member, one federal reserve board member, ambassador to Russia, minister to Denmark, and high commissioner to the Philippines.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS

BY WILL H. MAYES.

Electric's 1936 net at about $2.25 a share. . . . Rail share buyers believe Chesapeake & Ohio to be adequately appraised. . . . Sun Oil's 1936 net privately estimated at $3.25 a share.

American Radiator's previous 1936 net of $1 a share now revised to 75 cents. . . . Pittsburgh talking $3.50 net for General Refractories. . . . Hudson Motors will not pay a dividend this year. . . . Barnsdall Oil's 1936 net estimated at $1.25 a share. . . . New York Central to resume common share dividend payments either late this year or early 1937—beneficial to D & H. . . . Businessman's risk: Central Illinois Public Service $6 preferred. . . . And, that Indian Refining will clear all its preferred dividend arrearages which leaves way open for payments to common—Texas corporation has a 90 per cent control. (Copyright McClure Newspapers)

NO NEEDLES NEEDED
 NEW YORK (AP)—Albert K. Dawson isn't planning a hemstitching career for his son and he wants Mayor F. H. LaGuardia to do something about it. The mayor received Dawson's letter of protest about the ways of modern education yesterday. His son Robert, 11, precipitated the complaint when he came home from school with "a little pink square of cotton cloth" and "asked his mother to show him how to hemstitch."

The mayor acknowledged the letter but did not disclose his views on hemstitching in the classroom. An educational movement to imbue and familiarize Italian youth with the elemental phases of aeronautics is being carried on throughout Italy.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquiries must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. Why was the Charco postoffice in Goliad county so named? G. T.
A. The word means "mudpuddle" or "mudhole," and the place fitted the description when it was named.

Q. When and where was Mirabeau B. Lamar inaugurated president of the Republic of Texas, and what were the most memorable words of his address? I. P. H.

A. December 10, 1838, in front of the capitol at Houston, when he succeeded Houston. The most quoted part of the address was: "It will be my policy to awaken into vigorous activity the wealth, talent and enterprise of the country, and, at the same time, to lay the foundation of those higher institutions for moral and mental culture without which no government on democratic principles can prosper, nor the people long preserve their integrity."

Q. Who took part in the Goliad declaration of independence of December 20, 1835? J. D.

A. The consultation was called by Major Ira Graham and there were 92 citizens in the meeting, mostly citizens of Goliad, members of Capt. Phillip Schmitt's volunteer company stationed there and 31

Irish colonists of San Patricio and Refugio.

Q. What was the substance of the Goliad declaration and how was it received? J. D.

A. It was a well-framed statement declaring "that the former province and department of Texas is and of right ought to be a free, sovereign and independent state." When it was presented to the provisional council, the majority appeared to be in accord with its sentiment, but regarded the declaration premature and not the authorized expression of all the people of Texas.

GRIDIRON HEROES

A BRILLIANT student and a great football player left his mark at Cornell when George Pfann left that Ithaca, N. Y., school in 1924. Pfann's best year probably was in 1923, when he led "Gloomie Gil" Dobe's squad through an undefeated season, and finished at the top of the scoring column in the east with a point total of 98. The great gridder that year scored 15 touchdowns, and registered eight conversion points, but the scores he made didn't in half-measure account for his brilliance. Pfann probably was the greatest field general Cornell ever had. He had a great head on his shoulders, and was master of every situation. He was awarded a Rhodes scholarship in 1925.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

BY LOUS SCHNEIDER

SWITCHING

A short while back your correspondent disclosed that the Argentine government was to refund its six per cent bonds with 4½%. Substantiation of this disclosure is had in the fact that holders of the issue are switching into Buenos Aires 6s, 4-1-8s, 4-1-4s, and 4-3-4s. The buying is based upon the belief that there are price appreciation possibilities in this group. The governments are priced above par while the municipality's issues are to be had in the 70s.

Buenos Aires is the most populated municipality of the Argentine Republic. Its bonds have the strength of the government's but they do rate high as a semi-investment. It is the wealthiest province and its commercial activities are broad. It is a wheat and corn producing area and should benefit from the drought which hit North American fields this summer. Tax receipts are at the highest levels in years. That accounts for the switching.

LONG-FULL

Recent buying of Cerro de Pasco has been traced to interests close to the management. The additions to current share holdings aren't made because stronger silver prices are anticipated. It's because higher prices are ahead for lead. Even though Cerro de Pasco is called a copper and silver producer it also might be considered in the other field.

This year the company completed a program which brings it into the limelight as a lead producer. The production schedule for 1937 calls for an output of over 65,000,000 pounds. The 1935 figure was 16,400,000 pounds. The current year's output will run a bit above that. With copper demand strong, silver prices steady and a new output of lead with the market rising, Cerro de Pasco insiders look for much higher earnings and dividends next year.

FORECAST
 For the first nine months Celotex netted $1.10 a share. Insiders say that October profits ran close to $100,000. They believe that the normal November-December dip will not be as great as previous years. That is why previous private estimates of $1.65 a share for the year have been jacked up so that $1.75 a share is expected.

REPORTS ARE THAT

Weekly trade and industrial reports aren't as bullish marketwise as they were a year ago—in some cases they are below previous weekly figures. . . . Standard Oil of California to show $2 a share for last. . . . American Bank Note has lost its market following—price action confirms this. . . . American Snuff retained its investment portfolio. . . . Island Creek Coal to fall short—by few cents—of covering $2 annual dividend requirement. . . . Speculation following of Crown Cork & Seal has switched into General Motors. . . . L. S. Starrett Common said to have interesting possibilities. . . . Utility circles see American Gas & Electric at a price above the 46 cents.

EXTRA

Insiders report that Irving Chute's foreign plants are going 100 per cent capacity on the government contracts. It was said that such operations will continue for many months. The domestic plants aren't doing as well. In fact operations here are expected to ease.

It was also stated that the company will net as high as $1.75 a share for the full year. The stock is on a $1 annual dividend paying basis. With the tax on undistributed corporate profits in effect insiders anticipate an extra payment of at least 50 cents a share.

SPECULATIVE

At this time every speculative quarters turn their attentions toward department store and retail shares. Optimistic reports regarding heavy Christmas sales volume account for this. The pending holiday season is expected to be a market for public sentiment brought about by improved business conditions, higher security prices and the large amounts of dividends received by stockholders. There is also a belief current that even workers will spend more freely. But even speculative circles admit that positions being assumed in the merchandising shares are only for quick trading profits.

IMPROVED

According to White Motors insiders the company is beginning to show benefits from its reorganization. The recovery in business activity has helped the corporation's sales volume. Profits for the second half of the year will run about ten cents a share above the 46 cents.

Trains, Buses, Autos Carry Texas Children to Exposition

Happy and carefree, school kids by the thousands are forming a modern cavalcade to the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas these autumn days. They come by train at half cent a mile, they come by bus and in private autos. They get in for half price, they see the shows for half price and they view free attractions that educators have declared are worth weeks spent in school. One hundred thousand children have visited the exposition since the invasion began. None has been hurt, none has lost a piece of luggage, all have been comfortably housed. Officials expect half a million before the exposition closes November 25.

FOR ARRIVES 'TO BALANCE THE BUDGET'

REVISION OF SECURITY LAW IS SOUGHT BY LABOR WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—The triumphant return of President Roosevelt to the capital today found powerful labor groups, who backed him so strongly for re-election, pressing for new legislation reminiscent of NRA's aims, and for a major change in the social security act.

American Federation of Labor chiefs tentatively mapped plans to ask the next congress to shift the whole social security payroll tax to employers, instead of collecting part of it from workers, as provided in the present law.

As Mr. Roosevelt came home to receive an uproarious greeting from throngs of Washingtonians at Union Station and to plunge into work "to try to balance the budget," aides expected him to give renewed attention to the problem of unemployment.

This problem is linked directly with that of relief expenditures, which in turn bulk huge in the present unbalanced budget. In the effort to cut unemployment, diminish the necessity for relief, and thus make headway toward making both fiscal ends meet, the administration is expected by some informed observers to make a new move to attain certain NRA objectives.

Speculation as to what this move would be ranged all the way from a proposal to amend the constitution to an attempt to obtain the Supreme Court's approval of some new plan designated to raise and stabilize wages, shorten "over-long" hours and ban "unfair" trade practices.

Belated returns continued to underscore the magnitude of the New Deal victory in Tuesday's election. With more than 12,000 election districts still unreported, the Roosevelt popular plurality was near the 10,000,000 mark. It stood at 25,909,546 to 16,049,201 for Governor Landon.

The line-up in the new Congress convening Jan. 5 will be: Senate—Democrats, 75; Republicans, 17; Farmer-Labor, 2; Progressive, 1, and Independent, 1. House—Democrats, 334; Republicans, 89; Progressives, 7, and Farmer-Laborites, 5.

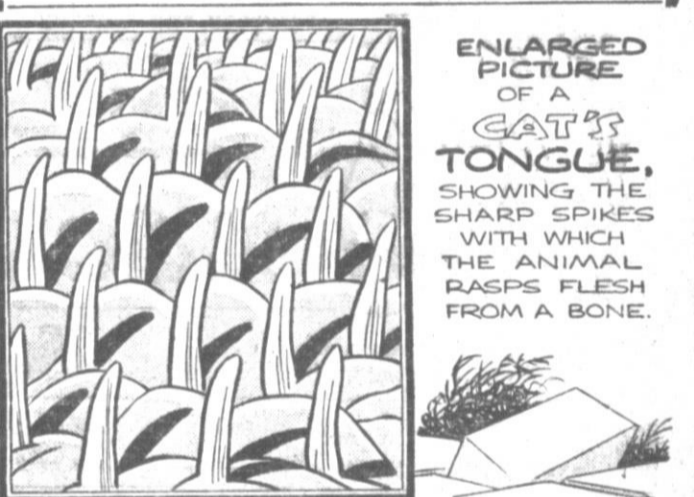

This is a gain of five Senate seats and 13 House seats for the Democrats, as compared with the old congress. The village whistle sounds a 9 p. m. curfew at Plain City, Ohio, for all youths under 18. Mayor C. D. Perkins said the curfew would be enforced rigidly.

American cotton seeds planted in Szechuan province, West China, produce twice as much fiber as native strains. The larva of the ant-lion digs a trap in the ground, hides at the bottom, and devours ants that venture into it.

Thomas Paine, the Anglo-American philosopher and author, died in 1809. He was born in 1737 at Theford in Norfolk, England. The only record yet discovered of the Usonian movement in Ohio is the Nestorian stone dating from 881 A. D. It is a monument.

California is vigorously prosecuting confectioners who sell "ice milk" under the name of ice cream. Another outstanding engineering honor will be paid Ambrose Swasey, above, on Dec. 2 in New York, when the Cleveland manufacturer will receive the Hoover medal, given "by engineers to a fellow engineer for distinguished service." THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

ENLARGED PICTURE OF A CAT'S TONGUE, SHOWING THE SHARP SPIKES WITH WHICH THE ANIMAL RASPS FLESH FROM A BONE.

A 3-OUNCE MOLE HAS BEEN KNOWN TO DISPLACE A NINE POUND BRICK. THE mole is one of the most vigorous of all the animals of the earth. Its every movement is made with zest. The feat of moving a nine-pound brick is equivalent to a man of normal weight moving a three-ton object.

Discarding Another Royal Custom

Unlike his father, King George V, who rigorously maintained the dignity of his royal office on all occasions, King Edward VIII of England prefers informality when from the pomp and circumstance of the throne. This picture contrasts the two men's attitudes sharply: King Edward (right) discarded precedent, strolls along in the wake of Mrs. Wallis Simpson (center foreground) during a visit ashore on his vacation cruise. The late King George usually exercised the royal prerogative, "The King walks ahead," Queen Mary bringing up the rear.
