Open Letters by Pa Pampa

To Pampans
DEAR FOLK: Well, I see you got started off to the Centennial in Dallas and Fort Worth in good shape this morning, and I want to wish you a pleasant trip and hope that when you leave to come back home Wednesday morning, the people down there will realize more than ever that this peppy old town up here in the high grass is definitely on the map in a great big way. Give 'em both barrels while you're there.

To Alleged Gamblers
DEAR BOYS: Well, some of you may be in a pickle, as they say, and I can sympathize with you a bit now. Didn't I draw a fine this week for placing a bet on the last World Series? You tell 'em, and I had to pay. It may be food for the grand jury, but boy, I can take it. The World Series is history, but your old Pa is still losing his hard-earned cash on the blamed thing.

To A Critic
DEAR SIR: I got your letter okay last week, telling me that I'm too sweet for words and that you're willing to bet a dollar to a doughnut that I'm an old softie. You say I should rip things wide open. Don't know exactly what you mean, but I'll furnish the white paper and let you shoot the works under your own signature. How's that?

To County Officials
DEAR BOYS: I see in my favorite newspaper that you are putting a ban on "art for art's sake" as exemplified in some of the risqué magazines that have found their way onto newsstands around my town. You got me all curious as to what was contained within their covers, so I took a jaunt around and peeked into a half dozen or so. And, was my face red? I guess you are righter than four rabbits. The magazine publishers probably should stay in their own field and leave that kind of stuff to Sally Rand, who at least gives her public the benefit of a fan.

To W. M. Castleberry
DEAR BILL: Congratulations on your prowess in bringing down that unusual of all animals, the "cactus buck." Yessir, we live and learn. When you brought back your bag, it was a real treat to me. I had to be the first time in my life that I came face to face with a "cactus" deer, of which I had heard but never had seen.

To "Pamper"
DEAR FRIEND: If you can get anything out of that paragraph in "Tex's Topics" the other day, you are a better man than I, Gunga Din. I even took the time out yesterday afternoon to ask the author of the column what it was all about, and all he would do to cloud the thing in more mystery than ever. I think he is just trying to make us believe he's pretty slick and that we are pretty English. At any rate, I got him told off.

To Pampa Ex-Soldiers
DEAR VETS: I notice that you are planning a monster Armistice Day celebration for my town, with the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars hooking in together to make a big success of the day. Civic clubs and merchants are to be contacted by committee this week and I think you will find that everybody down the line will pitch in and give you any assistance they can to put the celebration across in my town. You are deserving of city-wide support.

To Pampa City Officials
CITY DADS: I think you deserve a bit of commendation for having a set of traffic safety signs. I notice in the papers that Beaumont, Texas, has decided to adopt the plan which is now being used in my home town. It shows that we must be completely on our toes here when other cities turn to us for advice on how to do things in a municipal way.

To City Commission
DEAR OFFICIALS: I understand that you have plans in the making to buy a street sweeper. I sincerely hope you will keep this in mind. I believe that point of the Pampa Garden Club is well-taken when they complain that Pampa's dirty streets are pretty much of a sore eye. Merchants, too, I understand, have been kicking quite a bit about "local duststers" blowing up the streets and settling on their merchandise stocks. If a sweeper will remedy this situation, put the thoroughfares into condition and make everybody happy, then I say, buy the sweeper as soon as possible and get it into operation.

To Lions Club
DEAR FELLOWS: Yours was a splendid gesture in setting aside $100 to be used by the thrift room.

RING OF STEEL CLOSING IN ON SPAIN CAPITAL

MILITIA IN DESPERATE FIGHT TO HALT INSURGENTS

ALGODOR, Spain, Oct. 17 (AP)—Fast government pursuit planes roared out to battle insurgent bombers in the night skies above Cas llejo tonight.

Machine guns spat flame in the darkness, and a giant insurgent bomber was seen to fall.

The aerial counter-attack followed upon an attempt by fascist planes to destroy vital railroad communications at Castillejo, halfway between Toledo and Aranjuez.

Troops Rushed In

Immediately, heavy government reinforcements were thrown into this sector in an effort to block the insurgent thrust.

Truckloads of troops were rushed from Aranjuez and Villasequilla to defend the Madrid-Valencia lines after the insurgents had succeeded in advancing to Moejon, about 8 miles from Castillejo, under a heavy screen of artillery fire.

The government commander declared he believed he had sufficient reserves to halt the fascist advance.

LOCAL BOY MAKES GOOD

Joe DiMaggio didn't have as much trouble reaching home for the New York Yankees in the world series as he did reaching his home in San Francisco. Friends of the recruit outfielding and batting hero stormed the Ferry building, cheered, swung his celebrated throwing arm, slapped his back, paraded him up Market street, had him welcomed and honored by his honor the mayor, and—well, they showed that they were glad that he was back and that they were mighty proud of him. Here is the smiling DiMaggio on the shoulders of well-wishers and fellow Italian-Americans of the Golden City's North Beach district.

GROUP READY TO START FOR TWO-DAY VISIT

DELEGATION OFF EARLY TODAY, HEADED BY SCHOOL BAND

Upwards of 100 persons from Pampa and surrounding communities are expected to be in Fort Worth and Dallas tomorrow and Tuesday to attend the Centennial exposition on Pampa Days.

Buses and automobiles, decked with banners and headed by the Pampa High school band of 40 pieces, were scheduled to leave the city at 8 a. m. today, centennial-bound.

The Pampa delegation also was accompanied by a bus-load of radio jingle contest winners who will visit the exposition for the next two days as guests of Radio Station KPND.

To Visit Frontier Show

Pampa visitors at the centennial are expected to arrive in Fort Worth late this afternoon when they will register at the Hotel Hickman, from where they will go to make the rounds of the Frontier Centennial after they have had supper. The Pampa band will parade on the grounds and play a concert in the Pioneer Palace.

Monday the Pampa visitors and band will take part in a radio broadcast from Station WBAP.

FRANCE FEARS BELGIUM LOST AS WAR ALLY

PARIS, Oct. 17 — French government spokesmen tonight expressed fears that Belgium was lost to France forever as a military ally, despite Belgian assurances that for the present she considers all treaty obligations in effect.

Belgium and France have a unilateral mutual assistance pact. Belgium is a member of the League of Nations, and both she and France were signatories to the five-power Locarno pact.

The French ambassador to Brussels, Jules La Roche, reported tonight that the Socialist Belgian foreign minister, P. Henry Spaak, informed him Belgium would seek to terminate military accords at any future Locarno conference.

(Other signatories are Germany, Italy, and Great Britain. The pact virtually became a dead letter, however, when Germany re-armed the de-militarized Rhineland last March.)

Taking his cue from the recent speech of King Leopold, in which the monarch came out for untangled Belgian neutrality, Spaak intimated diplomatic circles said that Belgium in time also would seek to abridge her obligations under the League of Nations covenant.

Officials declared tonight that therefore France was assured Belgian military aid only during the period before any new Locarno conference should meet—unless a "miracle" should change Belgium's internal policy from one of pre-war neutrality.

ABOARD ROOSEVELT TRAIN ENROUTE TO HYDE PARK, Oct. 17 (AP)—Striking across upstate New York, President Roosevelt headed homeward tonight from a 10-day campaign trip, still projecting an argument scattered to voters for 5,000 miles; that under the New Deal the nation is well on the way back to a "real prosperity."

Radio Priest Grapples With 'Feather-Heckler'

DETROIT, Oct. 17 (AP)—An address by the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin was interrupted today by a scuffle between the priest and Woody Hockaday, who, dressed in a brilliant vermilion Indian suit, showered the speaker with handfuls of feathers.

Coughlin was speaking at a rally of Michigan members of the National Union for Social Justice, when Hockaday appeared suddenly on the platform, shouting words which were indistinguishable in the tumult, which arose immediately, and flinging feathers with both hands from a bulging sack.

The priest lunged upon him and grappled briefly with the intruder and then as Coughlin on the platform closed in Coughlin drew back, smiling and waving at the crowd. The spectators were surging forward and shouting threats at Hockaday.

"Don't touch that man," Coughlin shouted, leaning over the railing on the platform. "Don't touch that man. We'll bring him up here and let him talk. I love to talk with Communists and New Dealocrats."

While police rushed Hockaday to a waiting squad car, Coughlin's associates brushed feathers from his shoulders and helped him adjust a microphone worn hanging from his shoulders. It had been torn off in the scuffle.

FOREST FIRES TAKE 3 LIVES IN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17 (AP)—fires crackled fiercely through dry timber, brush and grass from central California to West Central Oregon tonight, still uncomfortable close to picturesque, mother-lode towns and San Francisco Bay resort areas despite control operations.

Three persons died yesterday in the two-score fires which dotted the west coast.

Women and children evacuated Siskiyou and Stuart City in the California mining area where Mark Twain lived and wrote. The fire took 24 shacks on the outskirts of Soudsville and damaged cabins at Standard City before 700 men turned it back.

It raged on to Winona and despoiled many buildings. The Iowa Hill gold mining company was endangered. Fighters worked to keep the blaze away from the Westville, Calif., area, and apparently had it under control.

Phonograph Recording Brings Station Protest

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)—The broadcast of a political speech tonight by Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) was cut off in the eastern section of the United States by a Columbia Broadcasting company employee because, the broadcasting company explained, it violated a policy against the broadcasting of phonograph records—in this instance reproducing the voice of President Roosevelt.

J. G. Gude, press chief for the company, said that Senator Vandenberg had spoken for more than 15 minutes in his scheduled broadcast criticizing the President.

Recordings made of the President's speeches in 1932 and 1933 were used to intersperse the Senator's comments.

NEW BUSINESS GAINS REPORTED FOR TEXAS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—New business gains in Texas for the week ended Wednesday were reported today by the commerce department.

A survey of business conditions showed Dallas retail sales gained 54.3 per cent over the same week last year and, except for department stores, Houston retail lines were from 6 to 25 per cent better. All Houston wholesale business was from 6 to 50 per cent better than last year.

The department said Texas employment and payrolls for September, 6,000-mile trip through the west, ready to play host to his friends at a fish and deer steak dinner.

DRASTIC REVISION ORDERED IN OLD-AGE PENSION LAW

AUSTIN, Oct. 17. (AP)—The Senate went on record today as favoring drastic deliberalization of the Texas old age assistance law and a new administrative setup for the pension administration.

By the narrow margin of 15 to 14, it adopted an amendment by Senator Clint Small of Amarillo to the omnibus tax bill previously passed by the House of Representatives, and comment among legislators was that the action would have far-reaching repercussions.

Some thought that accomplishment of one of the chief purposes for which Governor James V. Allred called the legislature into special session, raising revenue for pensions, was endangered, while others said it might be a means not only for working out emergency financing, but also lead to permanent solution of the old age assistance program.

The present old age assistance commission would be abolished and the administration placed under the board of control, each member of which would receive an additional $1,200 salary a year.

It would appropriate $6,500,000 for the next 10 months to pay pensions.

Senators Wilbourne Collier of Eastland and Woodruff contended that all persons should receive equal payments, arguing it would eliminate

DISCOVERY OF BODIES ENDS FEDERAL HUNT

PROMINENT RANCHERS ROBBED VICTIMS; SUSPECT HELD

ELKO, Nev., Oct. 17. (AP)—Four men, three of them prominent Nevada cattle ranchers, were found shot to death in a cabin one mile southwest of here late today.

Discovery of the bullet-riddled bodies ended a search for the three stock men, in which federal bureau of investigation agents participated.

The federal agents for Salt Lake City entered the case after the arrest at Cralin, 26 miles west of here, of a man giving the name of H. S. Kinchabocker.

Police said they learned from the department of Justice at Salt Lake that Kinchabocker was suspected of forcing an Ogden, Utah, youth to drive him into Nevada yesterday in a stolen automobile.

Prominent Stockmen

The three slain stockmen, who vanished from the Elko stockyards yesterday about the time Kinchabocker is believed to have been here, were: Otto Heitman and Walter Godecke of Carson Valley and Manuel Arrasaca of Elko.

Their companion in death was tentatively identified as Joe Steen, an itinerant, who is believed to have occupied the cabin.

Kinchabocker was brought to the county jail here and placed under heavy guard which police said was "for his own protection."

District Attorney Douglas Castle took charge of the investigation. He said Kinchabocker had refused to talk.

Officers expressed belief robbery was the motive for the slayings.

Skeleton Is 'Witness' In Pampa Court

It ain't no sin to take off your skin and dance around in your bones—that's the way the once-popular song went, and that's what jurors thought in district court yesterday when defense counsel in a compensation case brought a human skeleton into the courtroom as a silent witness.

The unusual evidence was worked around the suit of K. K. Clark, of Oklahoma, former Gray county resident, against the Texas Employers' Insurance association.

After deliberating about four hours Saturday afternoon the jury returned a verdict in favor of Mr. Clark, granting him total disability allowance for a back injury.

The jury's verdict gave the plaintiff the limit of $16.89 a week for 401 weeks, payable in a lump sum, making a total verdict of $772.89.

JUDGE HOOVER TO BE ACTING DISTRICT JURIST

Canadian 'Dean' To Serve in Absence Judge Ewing

Judge H. E. Hoover, of Canadian, dean of the Panhandle bar, will sit in district court here this week, it was announced Saturday by Judge W. R. Ewing who left this morning to attend the Texas Centennial exposition in Dallas and Fort Worth.

Judge Ewing, early in his legal career, was a stenographer in Judge Hoover's court at Canadian. Judge Ewing said that the bar formally will approve Judge Hoover as acting judge for the week at a meeting to be held when court opens tomorrow morning.

Monday marks the opening of the fifth week of the present court term, and it has been designated as civil jury week. All business for the week will be given over to the trial of civil actions on the court docket, Judge Ewing stated.

The jury list for the coming week includes the following names: C. T. Hunkapillar, Pampa; Oil Crossman, Pampa; H. W. Brooks, McLean; U. C. Mann, McLean; Clyde Fatheree, Pampa; E. L. Cubine, McLean; G. E. Gatlin, Mobeetie; Jack Goldson, Pampa; F. E. Bull, LeFors; Sam Hale, Pampa.

Politics: Double Bill

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT and Governor Landon spared few feelings, least of all each other's, in a fatiguing week that gave the nation a two-ring circus view of the campaign.

As the special trains traversed much of the midwest and the nominees banged away at each other in several speeches a day, a few rays of humor or charity shone through but in sum each side expressed dire forebodings unless the election goes "our American way" a fortnight hence.

Banging his clenched fist in Denver, the President likened the Republican leadership to the two-faced Roman god Janus. The Republicans promise more spending to the west and retrenchment to the east, he said. Other Democrats echoed his theme the country over.

In militant mood himself, Governor Landon contended in Detroit that the New Deal road leads to dictatorship. He called the extraordinary currency and spending powers granted the President by congress potentially destructive of constitutional government, and considered this "a major issue."

Those were but two high spots in days which left little time for relaxation. The nominees' trains traversed much of the midwest, crossing paths at Grand Rapids, Mich. State leaders crowded in for conferences, messengers brought reports. Record registration in Chicago, New York City and elsewhere called for renewed consideration of strategy. Difficulty in obtaining campaign funds was whispered.

Mr Landon made Mr. Roosevelt's home state of New York one of his first campaign destinations. Now Mr. Roosevelt has returned to comfortment. At Wichita, Emporia and other Kansas communities, his train paused, crowds congregated, he talked: "We are around the corner. . . . We will continue to save the constitutional form of government. . . . Republicans are telling political bedtime stories. . . . Consistency is not in the Republican vocabulary. . . . Forecast: Fair And Warmer."

"Where's my friend Bill White?" he asked at Emporia. Busting William Allen White, the celebrated editor who is supporting Landon, edged forward for an exchange of greetings.

At Kansas City, Mo., enroute to Chicago for another major speech Wednesday night, the President called Missouri a good political barometer and said he read "fair and warmer."

In Chicago the President said that above all the New Deal had fought the "deadly grip" of monopoly. Starting out in farm sections of northern Ohio, Governor Landon charged the President's explanation of his reciprocal tariff policy was "more calculated to deceive than enlighten." He advocated a "same, balanced liberalism" at Akron; and promised a "liberal" relief program based on federal grants and state administration to cheering partisans in the Cleveland auditorium where he was nominated.

Time and again he denounced relief methods under the New Deal. "A shameless political machine" is being built, he said. After the Landon pledge at Detroit to recommend repeal of the powers voted to the President in the name of emergency, Henry Ford announced for the Republican ticket.

"I admire and believe in him," he said of the Kansas governor. Of the New Deal, he added: "We have had about all the country can stand."

Plumbs 'Solid South' Far from conceding the south is "solid," Col. Frank Knox took his arguments as Republican vice presidential nominee before Virginia and North Carolina audiences. A vote for Roosevelt, he said, meant a vote for "boondoggling" and "government by guess."

He agreed with Alfred E. Smith that the New Deal is not the Democratic party. Smith's running mate in 1928, Senator Joe Robinson of Arkansas, took exception. He said Smith's support of Landon would not hurt Roosevelt.

Of the minor candidates, William Lemke of the Union party told a Kankakee, Ill., gathering that Landon "does not know what it is all about."

Norman Thomas, the Socialist candidate, broached a three-pointed farm program at Waterloo, Ia., based on liberalized farm credit, conversion of tenant acreage into cooperative farms, and limited production.

Earl Browder, Communist, planned another attempt to speak in Terre Haute, Ind., Monday. He was arrested the last time there. This time he said he might ask the sheriff to establish broadcasting facilities in the jail.

Singleton Picture Clicks

The veteran New York artist, Leon Kroil, 52, was so busy this year with a mural at the department of justice building in Washington that he had time for only one canvas, "The Road from the Cove," showing two girls, a youth and a sunny countryside. This week an international jury at Pittsburgh viewed the picture, voted Kroil the coveted $1,000 first prize of the 1936 Carnegie Institute exhibit, foremost U. S. competition.

The Bible, Renovated

Thursday 60,000 American book buyers obtained a new Bible, entitled "The Bible, Designed to be Read as Living Literature." Dr. Ernest Sutherland Bates has rearranged the books chronologically, added excerpts from the Apocrypha to fill historical gaps, eliminated Chronicles, the "be-gats" and repetitive matter, substituted paragraphs of normal length for numbered verses. The drama, such as Job, is set in dramatic form, poetry is set as poetry, letters as letters. Result: a Bible as easy to read as a novel.

War: Bets Off

MOSCOW, the red hope of Madrid in its last-ditch struggle with Spanish fascists, came through this week with an ultimatum that jarred the pact-bound chancelleries of Europe.

Russia's first announcement that she would not abide by the neutrality agreement unless Germany, Italy and Portugal "ceased" to aid Spain passed off without an actual break. A stormy meeting of the international non-intervention committee at London acted as a safety valve and the committee adjourned, saying no specific suggestions had been proposed.

Moscow's second note was grimly specific. Her chief proposal: That the English and French navies blockade Portugal to prevent arm smuggling to the fascists. And she wanted immediate action.

But Lord Plymouth, chairman, made it clear the non-intervention committee wouldn't reconvene until Germany, Italy and Portugal had time to frame replies. Both the German press and French rightists raged against the "scheming" Soviet.

In London, Lloyds decided to issue no more war insurance to British landowners—a policy that probably will be permanent.

In Italy, Premier Mussolini had just increased weekly work schedules to 60 hours to step up war materials production.

Test Tube Battle

The fight for Madrid went forward meantime under the cold, professional eyes of foreign military observers.

Castile had become a vast proving ground for foreign airplanes, guns and ammunition. How they were in actual battle may be vital in the "next European war."

Thundering toward the capital gates, the insurgents found opposition stronger than expected. With a "Madrid defense junta" in charge, fierce counter attacks halted first rebel rushes. Winter rains made camp life miserable and slowed operations. Capture of a huge electrical plant cut off most of Madrid's electricity.

At Oviedo near the northern coast dynamite-throwing Asturian miners swept into the city after three months' siege and started "mopping up" fascist defenders.

Gold

Three-Cornered Bloc

A "NEW type gold standard," announced by Secretary Morgenthau this week as another step under the English-French-American gentlemen's agreement towards stabilization, was assayed at varying values.

London viewed it merely as "facilitating technical operations of exchange and control."

Some business men thought it a natural, expected development, making the monetary equilibrium agreement practical.

Treasury officials here, while shy of power control system might force other nations into line on stabilization, said they expected several to join.

Under the new standard, the three nations, which have a lion's share of the world's monetary gold, pledged themselves to sell it only to each other and only through the stabilization funds. Thus the settling of inequalities in international currency balances, developed during the course of trade, became a governmental rather than a private job.

Secretary Morgenthau believes the new arrangement will promote normal trade relations, curb currency speculation and check exchange fluctuations. The stock market responded to this optimistic view.

The eventual return of America's surplus gold hoardings to the gaping coffers of Europe became possible. Under previous regulations U. S. gold could be shipped only to gold standard countries, and practically none of these existed after the smashing of the old European gold bloc.

The Mark Marks Time

While many currencies are linked to pound, dollar and franc, Germany remains on the outside looking in, shy of cash.

Rudolf Hess, German minister without portfolio, asserts the fatherland has no money to buy foreign foodstuffs after the importation of raw materials for industry and rearmament, threatened "dumping" her manufactured goods unless she is given colonies and raw materials.

Oddly Enough

Most Horrible Sin Participants in a contest started by the Rev. L. A. Crown of Litchfield, Ill., on the "world's most horrible sin" suggested "smirking against the holy ghost," "starting a nudist colony" and dozens of other "transgressions." The 49-year-old Christian minister decided "abuse of high privilege" was the worst, awarded the prize, a picture of "Jesus and the Rich Young Man," to Mrs. Lizzie Largent, a Litchfield housewife.

An Itch In The Case

It's no business of the supreme court whether the second mate of the vessel "Covena" contracted the itch from the ship's cook. The court refused to interfere with a ruling by an Oregon tribunal awarding Mate Ralph Compton $1,000 compensation because of the itch.

Minimum Wage Law Counted Out

The "no man's land" of minimum wage legislation still exists. It was created last June, in the opinion of President Roosevelt, when the supreme court voted 5 to 4 against the New York state law fixing minimum wages for women. Governor Landon declared for a constitutional amendment if necessary to correct the situation, and the Democratic party platform took a similar position.

This week the supreme court, despite pleas by Illinois, New York and Massachusetts to reconsider, declined to take up the case again but did agree to review an appeal on a similar law in Washington state.

Among 57 cases accepted by the court for review are these New Deal matters: A gold contract dispute between the Holyoke, Mass., Water Tower Co. and the American Writing Paper Co. The 50 per cent tax on silver profits, held unconstitutional by the court of claims.

Railway labor act provisions for collective bargaining, held constitutional by fourth circuit court of appeals. The arms embargo against Paraguay and Bolivia during the Chaco war, held unconstitutional by the Southern New York district court.

The Ashurst-Sumners act restricting transport of prison-made goods, upheld by the sixth circuit court of appeals. Reviews were denied by the supreme court on the Wagner labor relations act and the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage moratorium, but

Women Bear Fire To Olympia

Women who felt they just couldn't stand the way some things were in the state of Washington left kitchens for the picket line.

At Seattle, where union labor has been picketing several business houses, a score of them established their own picket line—around the union labor temple. They demanded reopening of the closed Seattle Post-Intelligencer plant, saying, "We're just Seattle housewives and good Americans." A union official called them "poor misguided women who soon will tire of this."

Next day at Olympia 400 women crowded the state capitol steps, demanding that Gov. Clarence D. Martin end "the sway of radicals and racketeers" who have taken tribute, they said, from farmers hauling produce to Seattle. A second group of women accompanied by members of the Newspaper Guild which is conducting the Post-Intelligencer strike it means to be arrested in strike battles. But his peace record as conciliator in more than 35 strikes has been almost 100 per cent. Common sense does it, he says.

Moving Day

When Wallis Simpson quietly packed her bags and moved from the old Simpson apartment to sumptuous new quarters a mile from Buckingham palace, it was the first indication the American-born friends of the King of England actually had decided on divorce. Ernest Simpson himself made the formal announcement, saying he wouldn't contest his wife's action, set for Oct. 27. Adultery is the only ground for divorce in England. The Simpsons have long been estranged. This summer while "Wally" vacationed as a guest of the king, Simpson was traveling on business in Europe.

Specific Gift, $255,000

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who makes a big business of giving away money, told the Northern Baptist conference last November that inter-denominationalism was the best policy in church gifts and that henceforth his gifts for religious purposes would be to specific church agencies. One gift came to light this week—$255,000 from him and his father to the Euclid Avenue Baptist church in called on the governor to "present the other side of the story."

It's An Ill Drought—

American farmers who have just lived through one of the worst droughts on record and experienced a period of the lowest prices in generations learned this week that:

A world-wide scramble for available wheat supplies apparently started as Liverpool prices shot up to a 6-year high and domestic quotations, lagging somewhat, established a 3-year peak.

The agricultural department predicted cash income for the 1936 crops would be $800,000,000 above last year.

The prospective 1936 harvest improved nearly 2 per cent as a result of September rains.

Labor: Peace Or War

John L. Lewis held the answer this week to peace or war in American labor unions.

As head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, a group of leaders ousted from the American Federation of Labor for "insubordination," and representing 1,000,000 workers, he heard a direct peace offer from the federation council.

Lewis and other C.I.O. members wanted reinstatement first, negotiation afterwards. While they inquired how the A. F. of L. stood on this, the peace movement marked time.

Science

Southern Pine Trail Yields Fat Prize

Two years ago Dr. Charles H. Hertzy upset old theories about resin in southern pine trees and perfected a process for making newprint out of them. He found that young pines contain no resin, only a gum that forms over wounds.

This week he announced that the pines contain a fat much like that in animal tissues and that it can be eliminated cheaply, making possible the unlimited manufacture of fine bond and book papers. The fat itself may be sold to the mining industry for the soap it needs to float its ores.

Southerners tempered their optimism with the recollection that no manufacturer has yet established a newprint plant in the south, although several big papers have proved the new product by publishing whole editions on it.

Abroad

Belgium Backtracks To Neutrality

Little Belgium went on her own this week.

Preparing to shake off the alliance with France, King Leopold indicated that his nation would revert to the neutrality role it occupied before the World War. Like Holland and Switzerland, Belgium will rely now on its own forts and compact little army to stave off prowling powers.

It was Germany's advance through Belgium against France, notwithstanding "scrap of paper treaties" that put Belgium definitely on the French side of the international fence. Recently Germany has scrapped more treaties, renounced military inferiority. France's laboriously-fashioned defense plans against Germany might were upset by the Belgian action.

Bloody Knife

Steel-helmeted French guards mobilized in Alsace-Lorraine last week-end to curb communist meetings, but

Quotes

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt (52 years old): "The more you forget your firsts, you grow older, the younger you stay." Lily Pons, singer: "I'm not living, I'm just working. So I quit soon."

French diplomats bore the brunt of the trouble.

The meetings were reduced in number from 52 to 10 on insistence of Premier Blum and disturbances were held to a minimum. The French sighed with relief as the sessions ended but they reckoned without Berlin.

From the Wilhelmstrasse came a protest against "insulting statements" at a Strasbourg meeting by Maurice Thorez, secretary-general of French communists. He was quoted as expressing preference for "an honorable negro to a dishonorable Hitler." Big cartoons at the meeting showed Hitler with a bloody knife in his teeth.

Sterling Diplomacy

When Japan and Russia signed agreements recently on far eastern fishing and oil rights, it appeared that Tokyo would have freer hands to deal with the strained situation in China.

But another dispute developed this week as Russian and Manchoukuoan border guards clashed for the first time in months. There were four Manchoukuoan deaths. In the race to protest, Tokyo got her note to Moscow first, pushed plans to build new strategic railways across Mongolia towards Russia.

More important to Japan than any formal "protest" was the report that China had obtained long term credits on British exports, tantamount to moral backing against Japanese domination.

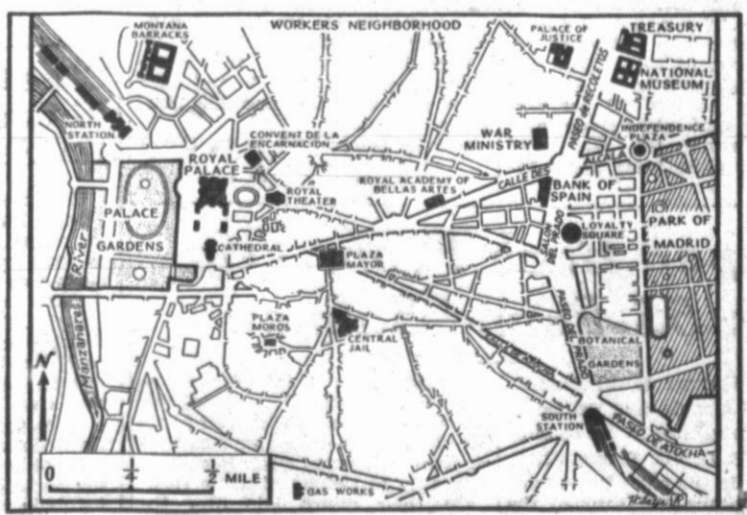

Stopgap Stops Row

Mild-mannered Kurt Schuschnigg, regarded once as a stopgap chancellor, seized supreme power in Austria while the fire eaters, Prince Ernst von Starhemberg and Major Emil Fey, jiggered over control of the heimwehr. Schuschnigg ordered dissolution of the private army, which has survived other bans, and was in a position to act as another Mussolini—if he cared to.

Typhoon Terror

The typhoon, a violent circular storm akin to the West Indian hurricane that ravages American coasts periodically, struck hard this week. The worst one in modern history visited the Philippines when it took hundreds of lives and made 20,000 persons on the island of Luzon homeless.

Map Of The Week

Ordinarily the heart of Madrid, detailed here, is the center of Spain's social and political life. In recent weeks it has been the center of feverish defense activity as rebel legions moved forward. (See "War.")

Mrs. Martin Kenny

Mother's in the race turned out their broods for inspection by police who sought a lost or stolen Detroit baby. The women were "extremely courteous" although Mrs. Martin Kenny, 34, admitted she was "good and mad," then amused at the idea that anyone might suppose a derby mother would introduce a "ringer" in the race.

Courtesy will be thrown to the winds most likely when executors of the eccentric will of Charles Vance Miller try to award the fortune to the mother of the most children born during the 10 years since his death.

There's at least one dark horse in the race and two of the eight leaders may give birth to additional offspring before the deadline. Mrs. Kenny, who has had 14 children in all and expects another, became mother of 12 during the 10-year period. Only seven of this group are alive, but deaths aren't a factor in the race. Among the 76 derby babies the mortality rate has been 22.5 per cent, four times greater than that of all Canada.

The death rate and the fate of the also rans has occasioned wide discussion. But Mrs. Kenny is sure of her future plans, if she wins the prize.

"I love children and I'm going to have as many as I can," she says.

Baylor Beats Texas While A & M Tramples Christians

SMU Takes Vandy And Rice Beats Georgia

DALLAS, Oct. 17. (AP)—The "wreckage" of Southern Methodist's 1935 Rose Bowl team—looking hotter than their illustrious predecessors—clamored for recognition again today with an air raid that shelled Ray Morrison's Vanderbilt Commodores, 16-0, before 25,000 shrieking fans.

Passes netted both touchdowns and put them in position for the odd field goal as the sophomore Methodists dazed Morrison, master of passing legdemain and for 17 years of the Mustangs, with his own tactics.

Morrison, until 1935 the ringmaster of Southern Methodist's aerial circus, probably was saved by sentiment from a more thorough defeat.

Rangy Matty Bell, the man Morrison took from the unemployed ranks three seasons ago and named as his assistant at S. M. U., kept a steady stream of second and third stringers running into the game after his stalwart first club had amassed the 16 point lead in the first 17 minutes of play.

Twelve of 22 passes the Methodists attempted were completed for a pair of touchdowns and a total gain of 87 yards. Vanderbilt's passing attack succeeded but five times in 22 attempts for 53 yards.

From the first three minutes of the game the Commodores were outplayed and outclassed. Only twice did they penetrate Methodist territory—the deepest gain being to the 36-yard stripe.

Todd Bests Baugh COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 17. (AP)—Texas A. & M. college Aggies used the airplanes to annihilate an 11-year jinx with an emphatic 18 to 7 victory over Texas Christian university's gridders here today.

The win clearly established the farmers as out standing contenders for the Southwest conference championship, an hour which they have been denied since 1917.

A well-executed offense, featuring Jim Shockey, "Chink" Manning and Dick Todd, and a defense which effectively grounded the famed aerial bombardments of "Slings" Sammie Baugh and company, were responsible for the victory.

Dick Todd, heralded Crowell, Texas, halfback, scored two of A. & M.'s touchdowns.

Shortly after the starting whistle, he raced wide around end for 13 yards after receiving a lateral from Dick Vitrek. Prior to that he had broken away for a 51-yard run to place the ball in a scoring position on the identical play.

The final Cadet marker was chalked up in the fourth when Todd scampered 76 yards to the 65. He skittered off right end after receiving another lateral from Vitrek and floated over untouched.

Johnny Morrow, carried over the second Aggie score on a rainbow pass from Shockey. He raced 77 yards to the chalk mark without having a finger laid on him. All three placekicks tried for point by the Cadets were wide.

Texas Christian's lone tally was an answer to the early quick score of the farmers. Sammy Baugh, apparently angered at the success of Aggie laterals and forwards, swung his attack into the air and from his own 26 marched up the field without much trouble. Passes clicked effectively and the final—a forward to Captain Walter Roach who lateralized to Roberts—scored. Baugh kicked the extra point.

Bears Stage Comeback AUSTIN, Oct. 17. (AP)—The Baylor Bears staged the most amazing comeback seen here in many years as they scored three touchdowns in the final 15 minutes of play today on a team which had held the powerful Louisiana State and Oklahoma elevens to a combined total of six points.

When the smoke of the spectacular offensive battle had cleared, the scoreboard read: Baylor 21, University of Texas 18.

The Steers, heavy favorites to open their Southwest conference season with a victory, amassed 18 points in the first half and seemed able to win by almost any score they chose. Baylor held the upper hand in the third quarter but Longhorns fans still were thinking about next week's game. Then the Bears started and they couldn't be stopped.

Lloyd Russell, the singing back, was the big noise in the Bears' marches, ably assisted by Billy Patterson, sophomore passer from Hillsboro, and the hard-driving Bubba Gerard and Carl Brazell.

The ball was in the Bears' possession on the Steer 6-yard line as that wild last period began. Two plays gained only a yard and it was fourth down. Russell raced wide around the Texas right end and was over for a touchdown. The kick was bad but the Longhorns were offside and Patterson passed to J. Gerard for the extra point.

The green-jerseyed lads from Waco soon unleashed another devastating attack. After Russell had intercepted a toss on his own 25, he found a big hole in the middle and raced 36 yards. The Longhorns roughed him after he was tackled and that cost them 15 more steps. A 12-yard pass from Russell to Brazell and four straight passes by B. Gerard were the main to the 2-yard mark, where it was first down. The Steers pushed back two thrusts but Brazell went over on the third.

Jack Chevigny poured substitutes into the fray but to no avail. The Bears were deep into Texas territory again in a few minutes. Patterson tossed a short pass to Russell and the galloping Baylor captain waded his way for a touchdown. B. Gerard added the extra point, as he had after Brazell's score.

The Longhorns had a wide edge both on land and in the air in the first half. They used their new-found aerial strength to good advantage and capitalized on an erratic Baylor toss.

A long first-quarter pass from Pitzer to Arnold was good for 61 yards and placed the ball on the Baylor 11. It would have been a touchdown then except that Masters caught Arnold from behind after he had run 41 yards. Three plays later, Lawson threw perfectly at Launey, who was just beyond the goal line, and officials ruled it was a touchdown on interference when B. Gerard shoved him down.

Atchison, Sheridan and Wolfe were the big guns in the Steers' next scoring march. They would have been stopped had they missed on a fourth quarter pass from Atchison to Forney. Wolfe made the score on a short plunge.

Jack Collins intercepted a pass and raced 93 yards down the sideline for a touchdown.

Rice Stops Georgia ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 17. (AP)—Rice laid aside its hocus pocus against Georgia today and fashioned a 13-6 victory from alert hard-hitting football. Nine thousand watched.

Siege gun kicking and long distance punt returns by Jake Scheuhle, husky son of a Honda, Tex. sheriff, nullified Georgia's superior running to give the invaders a 6-0 lead at the half.

Georgia overcame a series of reverses to tie it up in the fourth, only to have Rice stage its only sustained drive to push over the playoff touchdown on a drive from the Texans' 43.

The Owls, heralded as an unorthodox Southwest conference club that might do anything with the ball except backpedal, flipped only nine passes and joined Georgia in shunning laterals entirely.

Georgia outmuscled the invaders 271 yards to 118 and gained 29 yards on three completed passes out of a dozen tries while the Owls picked up only 30 yards on two passes completed in nine tries. The Bulldogs had a first down margin of 13 to 8.

Fullback Friedman scored both the Rice touchdowns, plunging over from the 1-foot line in the second period and through Georgia's right flank from the two-yard line in the fourth.

In the last period center Lumpkin grabbed Vickers' pass on the Georgia six and legged it 94 yards over the Rice line.

Officials ruled that Georgia's Olympic hurdling end, Spec Towns, had clipped on the play and the ball was brought back to the Rice 44.

The Bulldogs refused to brood. They went over six plays later, Glenn Johnson escorting the leather the last 13 yards around left end. Towns made amends for his clipping lapse by doing some fine blocking.

SHAMROCK IRISHMEN DEFEAT MOBEETIE 12-2 SHAMROCK, Oct. 17.—A fighting Mobettie football team, continuing to show improvement, led a thrilling 12 to 0 game to the Shamrock Irishmen here last night.

Drake, Shamrock quarterback, scored on the fifth play of the game. The final touchdown came in the first quarter when Cantrell, Shamrock fullback, raced 46 yards across the goal line.

Mobettie played a great defensive game. They never threatened to score, not once passing the Shamrock 30-yard line.

NORTHWESTERN BEATS OHIO STATE 14 TO 13 EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 17.—Don Eyer and Don Heap twice brought Northwestern from behind today to conquer Ohio State, 14 to 13, in a raging gridiron offensive battle.

The Buckeyes were away to a touchdown lead in the first period, came back to regain it in the third period, only to have the Wildcats haul themselves together in the final period for a savage winning drive that had 40,000 spectators almost hysterical.

MICHIGAN IS GOPHERS' TWENTIETH VICTIM MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 17. (AP)—Minnesota marched down football's victory street today as it trounced Michigan's Wolverines for the Golden Gophers' 20th consecutive conquest before 48,600 spectators. The score was 26 to 0.

Minnesota rammed home touchdowns in three of the four periods of its opening western conference game.

FUMBLE COST NAVY VICTORY OVER YALE BALTIMORE, Oct. 17. (AP)—An unorthodox but highly opportune "drop kick" of a fumbled ball by Captain Larry Kelley, Yale right end, paved the way for the Elis to come from behind today and snatch triumph from the Navy, 12 to 7, in a football game the Midshipmen appeared to have under control.

ARMY SWAMPS HARVARD CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 17. (AP)—Grounded by a driving blinding rain, the Army's air-minded cadets sliced and ploughed through the stadium mud for a one-sided 32-0 victory over Harvard today before 25,000 fans.

A. & M. WINS FIRST STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 17. (AP)—The cowboys of Oklahoma A. & M. College rode out of the football wilderness and into the win column today, roping a plucky Washburn college eleven from Topeka, Kas., 6-0, before a small, homecoming crowd estimated at 5,000 fans.

Munday Stars in One-Man Victory For McMurry 'B'

Pampa's own Buck Munday 'as scheduled to be a powerhouse in the McMurry Indian backfield next year. The former Harvester star is playing with the college B team this year and Friday afternoon he turned in a he-man performance to defeat Rockbester high school, 26 to 0.

Here's what Buck did to Rockbester: Ran 10 yards for a touchdown in first half; threw a 40-yard scoring pass to Mahon in the third period, and later in the game ran off tackle for 50 yards and a touchdown. He intercepted a pass and ran 40 for another score; added the two extra points; threw 17 passes, of which 14 were complete and only one intercepted.

The 190-pound former Pampa High School star is ineligible for the Indian varsity this season as a transfer from another senior college.

"Red" Bost, another former Pampa Harvester, is the main cog in the McMurry Indian backfield this year. His playing has been outstanding in every game.

GREGORY AND 'FUZZY' TO BASEBALL SCHOOL

Harold Gregory and Howard "Fuzzy" Felner, were to leave today for Tyler where they will spend a week at Charlie Dressen's baseball school. Dressen, of the Cincinnati Reds, has been interested in young baseball players for several years.

Several years ago C. O. Busby started the now famous Busby Indians. Gregory and Felner are two of the boys who spent several years growing up with the red men. Gregory is a pretty fair pitcher, a steady infielder and a crack outfielder. Which position he will work out at in Tyler is not known. Felner is an outfielder.

Gregory and Felner attended a St. Louis Cardinal school at St. Louis during the week of Sept. 14. Gregory was one of the players on the two all star teams selected for a game to close the school.

WE GET BETTER OFFICERS IF WE PAY THEM MORE?

General election on Nov. 3 there will be found of the ticket propositions submitted wherein will be privileged to vote for higher salaries for officers of the state.

Some 100 years ago in 1876 Texas fixed in its constitution $4,000 for the Governor, the same for the attorney general, and $2,500 each for the Land Commissioner, Treasurer and Secretary of State.

At that time the cost of living was simple and cheap. The average man to have and to pay for in modern life is utterly unknown a half a century ago.

It is an old and homely saying that "in this world you get what you pay for"; that is to say, in buying things that we need to eat, use and wear and in employing men to work for us, we can, with a fair degree of accuracy, gauge their worth by the amounts that we pay them.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

BY STUDYING THE "EAR STONES," CURIOUS BODIES FOUND IN THE EARS OF FISH, THE AGE OF THE FISH CAN BE DETERMINED.

ONIONS BELONG TO THE LILY FAMILY.

THERE are two methods in use for determining the age of a fish. Besides the "ear stone" method, mentioned above, there is the "scale" method.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

From bootleg highjacker to con artist—piracy—that's the experience of one Tonderion character whose shady practices have kept him on the alert for detectives for years.

It's an amazing undertaking and so far, a successful one, and it entails so much gall that one finds it difficult to believe.

I was properly startled when the story was outlined to me. It seems that a certain unethical party has appropriated the characters out of America's most widely read comic strips and had a group of artists transcribe them into brochures of erotic literature.

These artists fashion their borrowed adventures in all manner of eye-opening affairs, depicting episodes of the most unsavory nature. A racy script accompanies the illustrations, and the completed work—one that would wretch the vitals of a Paris peep artist, are hawked to likely-looking customers for a dollar.

The approved method of distribution calls for a staff of "salesmen" to scatter through the streets and approach such individuals as they feel would relish such fare.

They rarely are in error, for one slip and the salesman is slapped into jail. Feeding obscene literature is a serious offense in New York. Perhaps it's this fact—the thrill of evasion—that prompts so many to undertake it.

It's a "pick-me-up" similar to the stimulus they obtained by high-jacking liquor in the pre- repeal era.

The English colony now gathering in force, is having a season of brisk trade.

HOW'S your HEALTH

TOOTH CLEANLINESS AND TOOTH DECAY.

Not so long ago, the saying "a clean tooth never decays" was common gospel to the health instructor.

Hundreds of thousands of children and adults were drilled in the technique of mouth cleanliness, in the conviction that frequent and thorough cleansing of the mouth would inhibit if not completely prevent the development of dental decay.

Unfortunately, experience did not validate this conviction, and many found themselves afflicted with dental decay, despite meticulous brushing of the teeth and religious use of mouth washes.

Today the worth of the tooth brush is frequently disparaged and some even condemn it violently. Dr. V. Suk, professor of anthropology of Masaryk university, writes: "The most common cause of tooth decay is the use of some dentifrice containing this or that antiseptic will in itself confer immunity to dental disease is the victim of a fallacy."

But even Dr. Suk does not advocate the primitivism of the Papuans of "Bofocodon." Mouth cleanliness, as all cleanliness, has its esthetic as well as its health conserving values.

If brushing the teeth does not of itself contribute much to their preservation, it is still a highly desirable practice.

And yet Dr. Suk's arguments are of real merit in that they compel a shifting of emphasis from tooth drills to nutrition.

But in addition to nutrition, which means the consumption of a diet adequate in the basic food elements, in mineral salts and vitamins, there are the factors of biting and chewing.

Every home should be furnished with at least a hundred good books.

The 24-year old contender was apparently knocked out on his feet. He lasted until the 13th round, when a left jab to the head sent him to the canvas. The immediate cause of death was an operation for intracranial hemorrhage. Schaaf did not rally from the operation, and died at 4 o'clock in the morning, Tuesday, Feb. 14. The coroner when he decided that death was accidental.

Q. Does balsam wood absorb much moisture? C. G.

A. It is very absorbent and, when placed under water, light pieces may absorb as high as 500 to 600 per cent moisture.

Q. Is it correct to wear patent leather slippers when in mourning? E. A.

A. Patent leather is not used during that period. Dull leather is appropriate.

TRANS-PACIFIC FLIGHT

By DECK MORGAN

Chapter XXIV. Illah advanced menacingly toward the two ship's officers, pistol in hand. "Go into the cockpit," she ordered, and Ted and the navigation officer moved backward, followed by Kay.

The flight crew was taken completely unaware. Busy at their tasks, the men hadn't sensed anything amiss in the chart room. The radio officer looked up and, at Illah's command, he, too, arose with his hands over his head.

The other men stayed at their posts, but Illah's clearly worded warning appraised them of the situation.

"Take it easy," Ted said, "Don't leave your posts, at any event, and keep on the charted course." Over a shoulder, he said to the engineer, "How's the fuel going, Mac?"

The officer glanced at the fuel instruments. "Good for 400 miles more. That's all."

"I am not afraid to die," Illah replied. "But give me the plans for the gyropilot. Quickly!" Her black eyes roved over the table where the drawings were tacked with pushpins to a board. She snatched up the drawings, scanned them briefly, expertly.

"If the ship doesn't weather the storm," Ted asked, "what good will those drawings be?"

"You reply Illah brandished the automatic in the radio officer's face. She gave a call number. "Get in contact with that station immediately," she said. "It's a pearling schooner, anchored at Wake Island."

The radio officer sat down and tapped out the call on the sending set. After a moment he said, "They don't answer."

"You lie!" The radio officer glanced at Ted who nodded. "Don't give her any trouble," he said. "The lives of 10 passengers are in our hands. We've got to save the ship if we can. The gyropilot is—my loss."

The radio officer protested. "But I tell you they don't answer. Since you know the location of the ship, I'll make a call to them."

"Illah smiled. "That is good. That is fate. Send the message at once."

With one eye on the assembled crew she translated a code message in a rapid-fire staccato. The radio officer returned to the chart room and sent Kay into the passenger compartment to reassure the women.

The storm had not abated. Lightning streaked the skies and the rain came down in blinding sheets. The beam winds shrieked and howled as they tore through the guide wires.

A message came in from the station at Midway and Ted took it in with a glance.

"YOUR SIGNALS HAVE FADED OUT. ARE YOU OFF COURSE? HONOLULU SAYS YOU ARE LOST. WHAT'S WRONG WITH RADIO COMPASS? STORM FADING OVER ISLAND. VISIBILITY IMPROVING."

Ted's eyes shone with renewed hope. He went to the radio officer for a new report.

"The message are coming in stronger," the officer said. "We can't be far from Midway."

"If we can only find the lagoon on the island," Ted said hopefully. "We can't come down in the open sea with waves piling 30 feet high over the reefs."

Then he came back to Kay. He called her into the crew compartment where they could be alone. "Kay," he said, "I simply want you to know that I trust you. I don't want things unsaid to come between us—ever. Whatever happens—"

"Sh—faced him, tears in her eyes. "Oh, Ted! Nothing can happen!"

He went on, "I want you to know that I love you. Since I met you there has never been another girl. I meet a lot of women like Illah but I love you more than ever now. There is nothing I can do to prove this to you."

"But, Ted, in a thousand ways during the past hour," she said, "you have proved your love for me. I only wish there was something I could do."

"You are here," he said, "That's proof enough. You came to protect me to protect what was mine. And if anything should happen—"

"Don't say it, Ted! Please!" She clung to him.

When Ted had gone back to his post he found another message from Midway.

"NO SIGNALS FOR LAST HOUR. ARE YOU LOST OVER OCEAN? TRY TO SIGNAL BATTLESHIP U. S. S. MISSISSIPPI LATITUDE 19 DEGREES 15 MINUTES NORTH AND LONGITUDE 167 DEGREES 30 MINUTES EAST."

when the human element will have to take the place of machinery. It's your ship, Ted. I ask you to try to bring us in. One man will have to take the responsibility, and it's yours."

No sooner had Ted taken the controls than the radio officer came with another message. Ted opened the throttles of the four 800-horsepower engines and ordered the engineer to change the propeller pitch. They were steadily increasing speed.

He scanned the message. "NO SIGNALS YET. ARE YOU LOST OVER OCEAN? STORM LIFTING. CHANGING TO HIGH PRESSURE AREA. CEILING 300 FEET."

Ted took the ship through a rift in the black cloud bank and down to a level of 1000 feet. He found a stiff direct wind and low ceiling and went back to 3000 feet. Fifteen minutes later he went down to 300 feet and found a break in the cloud bank. But the rain was still pouring down.

They brought him another message. "The U. S. S. Mississippi is coming in on the radio. They're calling!"

Ted barked orders now. "Get the Midway station and triangulate. Find our position and we'll ride the beam in."

The crew was jubilant. The navigation officer was at work, finding his position on the improvised "beam." It was not as accurate as the direction finder, but it might work in this emergency.

The navigation officer "located" the Mariner, in short order. She was flying in a tangent toward the island, and they were almost overhead!

Ted's uncanny navigation had brought them straight to the island. Sandies 13 to 6 on the previous day, and the town was still wildly excited. "Old Tack" of the Amarillo News had lost a bet to Henry Assley, requiring him to pick 100 pounds of cotton in Gray county.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY. Sheriff E. S. Graves announced that he and his deputies had made 30 arrests in the past 10 days, and that the outbreak of car thefts in the county seemed ended.

S. D. Stennis of Dallas came to Pampa to open a law office.

The grand jury issued its report, signed by C. S. Barrett as foreman and deploring widespread bootlegging and sale of "jake."

Lots were advertised in a new townsite, Skellytown, in the heart of the Roxana oil field.

LEFORS PLANS UNITED DRIVE FOR COMMUNITY

INTERESTING NEWS OF ACTIVITIES IN NEAR-BY TOWNS

A concerted community chest campaign is to be promoted at LeFors by the Parent Teachers association, the Federated clubs of the town, the Kiwanis club, and the Boy and Girl Scout organizations. Since each of these organizations is seeking to promote many worthy community enterprises, all of which call for funds from the people living in and around LeFors, a plan was conceived by which they could spread one huge campaign for funds at one time during the year and let this suffice for the needs of each of these organizations. The approximate date for the campaign is October 20 through November 10.

Signed by Congressman Marvin Jones and addressed to C. G. Miller or A. B. Crump, a telegram received last Friday morning reads: "Have word from FWA that presidential approval has just been given Wheeler school application, Dec. 1, 1935, in the amount of $20,454, grant only."

(Signed) MARVIN JONES.

The Margaret Simms-Emple oil well, located in the north half of Section 12, block 7, about 8 miles northeast of Panhandle, is reported as looking like a producer and is causing considerable interest in this community.

The well is a mile west of the J. W. Fields oil producers, which are the pioneer wells in this section of the Panhandle. The well was spudded in about six weeks ago. The depth Thursday was 3,365 feet. Each well was bringing out a good

LOW COST HOME TO MEET NEEDS

The problem of many people contemplating building, that of obtaining a house suited to their present day needs, yet suitable for future expansion, is solved by a house of this type.

Nothing is sacrificed in the original home. It is compact, yet very attractive. The architectural details are authentic, and the house itself has the appearance of a completed home. Each addition adds to the general charm of the place as well as to the floor space, a result difficult to achieve when each step in expansion is not planned carefully in advance.

The original house contains three rooms; a living room (the future dining room) with adequate wall space and cheerful windows, a completely modern kitchen with built-in refrigerator and sink, and a good sized bed room. The bath is located off in the living room, a convenient arrangement where guests would use the roll-away bed contained in a closet off the living room. A medicine cabinet and modern fixtures are provided in a compact space here. The bedroom at the front of the house, is large enough to accommodate twin beds, and contains two windows. Closet space throughout the house is carefully considered; the bedroom has a large clothes closet and a linen closet; the vestibule has a coat closet, and the bed closet in the living room can accommodate extra wearing apparel.

The original home, containing three rooms, contains 12,750 cubic feet; the rooms on the second floor contain 3,850 cubic feet; the living room and porch 4,250 cubic feet, and the garage 1,800 cubic feet. Local building costs can be determined by contractors on the basis of these figures. The original house is twenty-two by twenty-nine feet in size.

MANY SUGGESTIONS OFFERED TO AID IN HOME MODERNIZATION

Fall, with winter entertaining just around the corner, draws attention to the home interior. New wall and floor finishes vie with new furniture for attention in almost every case; in others modernization will take the form of improvements on a larger scale. Where such changes are planned, some investigation of recent developments should be made.

Where door and window openings are contemplated, some attention should be paid to metal frames for plaster arches. These come in a variety of designs, readily adaptable to present day interiors, and are easy to install.

New wall finishes come in for attention in most homes, and the variety of materials available today makes it possible to develop many distinctive interiors. Kitchens, bathrooms and sun porches are most often attractive when finished in tile.

but the expense of setting such walls sometimes prohibits their use in moderately priced homes. Substitutes for ceramic tile have been developed during recent years, however, which can be installed at very reasonable cost, and they generally possess most of the qualities that have made tile so favored a building material for years.

Wood paneling, for years the finest and one of the most expensive wall finishes it was possible to obtain, is today a possibility in all except the cheapest homes. New developments in methods of handling wood veneers make it easy for every home to have at least one room furnished in this desirable manner. Numerous styles are available, ranging from copies of period designs to very modern panels without molding or decoration of any kind. These panels can be stained or varnished, painted, oiled or merely waxed.

Up And Down The Air Waves

By RAY D. O.

KPND must be using some lively transcriptions. Yesterday we heard on a transcribed program, the announcer say, "The orchestra has chosen for its next number..." Our guess is that the announcer made the selection himself.

Two women were discussing a mutual acquaintance. "She has a very magnetic personality," said one. "She ought to have," said the other, "everything she has on is charged."—Miles of Smiles.

During the high school program Thursday, we learned something about school teachers that we didn't know, and that is they start out strong but weaken quickly. The master of ceremonies' voice boomed out for one or two words and then got rather weak.

The Girls' Trio, appearing on the high school program, did some really entertaining numbers. Their voices blended, and they sang their numbers well. We have since learned that they will appear on a KPND regular schedule in the future. Watch for their schedule and hear a most delightful program.

"He ran into a door," no, that wasn't his alibi. His watch had stopped. That was the alibi offered by Mel Marshall of the KPND Borger studio when he wasn't on hand to take his program from the Borger studio.

On the Columbia network, you'll hear this evening, among others, the following: At 6:30, Phil Baker, with Hal Kemp's orchestra; 7, "Vick's Open House"; 7:30, Eddie Cantor, on Texas Fin Chief Program; 8, Ford Sunday Evening Hour; 9, Original Gillette Community Sing; 9:45, "Split Seconds," dramatic sketch.

Pampa lost another football game. Too bad, but somebody must lose in all games. Pampa put up a gallant fight, but Greenville was just too much for our local lads. We are sure you heard the recreation of the game just as it happened in Greenville Saturday night. This play by play report of the game was heard here KPND yesterday from 11 to 12 o'clock, and they did a swell job of bringing you this game, and we are sure you got a thrill from this splendid reproduction of the game.

We have been promised some new programs on KPND during the coming week, so we will all want to keep our dials set at 1310 and enjoy everything they have in store for the listener.

Those of you who have been followers of this column, may have reached the conclusion that the production is "ragged," but in reality it isn't. We were just giving you many of the little inside comic happenings and incidental bobbles. We are of the opinion that the listener got most of this information through this column and not by listening to KPND. In fact, the programs run quite smoothly, insofar as reaching the air is concerned. Try listening in and see if you can catch any bobbles.

Daily you hear many artists coming to you over KPND, and we will let you see how these artists look. Beginning today, we will, at times, have pictures in this column of many of the famous artists whom you hear regularly on the transcribed programs of KPND.

Radio has developed rapidly during the past decade. Who would have thought, ten or 15 years ago, that a football game could have been recreated so realistically as the one heard on KPND Saturday? There was the band, the pep squad, the crowd noise, and cheering and a complete descriptive word picture of a football spectacle, and all being produced in a small room. We hardly know what to expect from the future.

You will want to have your dials set at 1310, KPND, Sunday afternoon at 2:45 and hear a classic piano program to be presented by Mrs. Powell. We feel sure you will enjoy this program, so tune in.

Do you believe that a person, thoroughly familiar with the activities of a radio station, would walk into a studio while a program was being

SETTLEMENT IS SEEN NEAR IN BRIBE SEQUEL

Fall's Right to Remain on Ranch At Stake

EL PASO, Oct. 17—(AP)—An out-of-court settlement appeared today as the possible end of a long drawn and bitter sequel to Albert B. Fall's conviction of accepting an oil man's bribe while Secretary of Interior under President Harding.

From negotiations started by attorneys here today may come a decision as to whether Fall, aged 61, will hold right of residence in the beautiful ranch home at Tres Ritos, N. M., which figured prominently in his bribery trial.

Fall has been fighting an eviction suit brought by the Petroleum Securities corporation, a unit in the vast oil empire built by the late E. L. Dohney, from whom, the United States Supreme Court found, Fall accepted a $100,000 bribe.

Contended It Was Loan

Fall contended the money was a loan. He used much of it for improvements on his ranch home. Later, after the former cabinet officer had served a year in prison and Dohney died, the corporation foreclosed a mortgage on the ranch and sold it to the Palomas Land and Cattle company. The eviction suit followed.

H. B. Holt, Jr., Las Cruces, N. M., attorney who represented the corporation at eviction hearings, said today that settlement of the case has been offered. He declined to comment further, but conferred here with members of Fall's family and E. R. Wright, Santa Fe attorney who said he represented "certain parties interested."

Fall, in a hospital here recovering from a recent attack of pneumonia, could not be reached for comment. Others were silent.

Friends, however, recalled how bitterly the central figure in the notorious Teapot Dome and Elk Hills oil lease scandals had fought attempts to oust him from Tres Ritos.

The huge ranch itself he surrendered, but the home and about 300 acres of surrounding land he claimed were not included in the mortgage.

Scarcely, he refused an offer of Palomas Land company officials that he and his family "feel they are welcome to remain on the ranch indefinitely as our guests."

He fought the eviction suit and he filed a separate motion seeking to set aside the foreclosure judgment. Litigation in both cases is pending.

IOWA TIES ILLINOIS

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Oct. 17 (AP)—Illinois battled Iowa's sturdy Hawkeyes to a scoreless tie here today in a home-coming football game before 25,000 persons.

Coach Bob Zupke's crafty boys could not produce the final scoring punch, but several times they surged deep into Hawkeye territory.

Iowa's only real scoring threat came in the second quarter.

LIVESTOCK COMMISSION FILES DISTRICT REPORT

There was employed in Amarillo district for the month of September, one State man, one B. A. I. man and two county men who spent their entire time in an effort to eradicate scabies infection, and a total of approximately $175, was expended by this department in its regular eradication program.

Thirty-two herds, and a total of 15,691 cattle were inspected or dipped. None was classed as exposed or infected.

All exposed or infected live stock were systematically treated.

The Livestock Sanitary commission of Texas will continue the work in the Amarillo district in an effort to protect the live stock in that district from imported infection, and affording the necessary scabies certificates demanded by other states on live stock moving from Texas.

The work was conducted under the supervision of Chas. B. Alford supervisor of scabies eradication work, Amarillo.

BORGER POSTOFFICE TO BE FINISHED TUESDAY

BORGER, Oct. 17—Tuesday has been set as the official date for completion of the new postoffice building here, and Borgans have set the second week in November as the time for a formal dedication.

Congressman Marvin Jones, has been invited to attend the ceremony, and the definite date will depend partly upon his convenience. The arrangements are in charge of Postmaster J. E. Morris.

The building, at the corner of Fifth and Deahl-st., is practically completed inside, and very little outside work remains.

HIGHWAY 41 GROUP TO MEET IN BORGER

BORGER, Oct. 17—Highway 41 association will convene in Borger on Oct. 23, when plans for designation and improvement of the oilfield highway will be continued. C. R.

Stahl of Borger, president, will be in charge. Garnet Reeves of Pampa is inviting delegations from cities along the route. The Oklahoma City chamber of commerce has notified local officials that a delegation will be sent from there.

SHERIFF'S SALE

THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Gray. Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain alias order of sale issued out of the honorable 78th district court of Wichita County, on the 2nd day of June, 1936, by R. L. Sanderford, clerk, by Edna Berner, deputy of said 78th district court, of Wichita county for the sum of thirty-seven thousand one hundred twenty-five and no 1/100 dollars in favor of the First National Bank of Wichita Falls, Texas, a national banking corporation, in a certain cause in said court, No. 30154-B and styled The First National Bank of Wichita Falls, Texas, a national banking corporation, vs. T. B. Noble, placed in my hands for service, I, Earl Talley as sheriff of Gray county, Texas, did, on the 3rd day of October, 1936, levy on certain real estate, situated at Gray county, Tex., described as follows, to-wit:

An undivided one-half interest in sections 9, 10, 15 and 16 in block A-6, H&GN RR. Co. surveys in Gray county, Texas, each section containing 640 acres, and the northeast quarter of section 49, block A-9, H&GN RR. Co. survey, containing 160 acres, said and being located in the middle-eastern part of Gray county, Texas, and levied upon as the property of T. B. Noble and that on the first Tuesday in November, 1936, the same being the 3rd day of said month, at the court house door of Gray county, in the city of Pampa, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., by virtue of said levy and said alias order of sale I will sell said above described real estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said T. B. Noble.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Pampa Daily News, newspaper published in Gray county.

Witness my hand, this 3rd day of October, 1936.

EARL TALLEY, Sheriff, Gray County, Texas. By BUFORD REED, Deputy. (Oct. 4-11-18.)

Suggestions On Building And Remodeling

LIVING ROOM

Comfort is the keynote of the living room, and nowhere is adequate, restful lighting more important. Ceiling and wall fixtures, table and floor lamps all can be used advantageously. Care should be taken to avoid glare or shadows and at least 60-watt lamps used for reading in order to avoid eye strain.

A radio for market reports, entertainment and education, an electric fan to provide refreshing breezes on sultry days; an electric heater to radiate cheerful warmth in fall or winter are conveniences you will enjoy and appreciate.

"All of us know how the pension program has been delayed and delays have been chiefly due to investigations to determine how much should be granted," Collier said. "Equal payments would eliminate much of the investigation."

The Senate adjourned for the week-end with the omnibus tax bill still pending, the House having adjourned yesterday. Eight days of the session remained.

Prior to approving the Small amendments, the Senate rejected another Senator Grady Woodruff of Decatur which would have authorized equal payments to all pensioners. The vote was 20 to 8.

On both amendments, the debate was long and at times sharp, with senators alternately pleading that Texas' old folks not be humiliated by additional restrictions and that pensions be given to those who actually needed them and the state be relieved of a prospective burden it could not bear.

ginning at 8:45 a. m. At 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon the local group will be photographed and will participate in a parade. The parade will leave Fort Worth about 2:30 Monday afternoon, arriving in Dallas an hour or so later and will go immediately to the Centennial grounds there.

Will Visit WFAA
 At 7 a. m. on Tuesday the visitors will go to Radio Station WFAA in Dallas for the broadcast of the Early Bird program, and probably the local band will play one selection on the morning program. Dallas photographers will shoot the group at 9:30 a. m. then the Pampa delegation will go to the centennial grounds.

Between 3 and 4 p. m. Tuesday the High school musicians will play a concert at the Grand Plaza on the centennial grounds.

Pampa Days and the Centennial have been set aside by the centennial management and has been dedicated to the citizens of Pampa, with visitors from here being guests of honor on the two days.

Fred Cullum and Guy McTaggart, of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce have been in charge of the committees which made the arrangements for Pampa's part in the Pampa Days program at the centennial.

Late last night officials stated that approximately 100 persons from here were expected to be included in the delegation in addition to many others who already have gone to the exposition and others who plan to leave tomorrow.

Winners in the KPDD jingle contest are being taken to the centennial through special arrangements made by Roy Quinn, manager of the Panhandle Trailways. The contest winners will ride in one of the company's new and modern buses.

EVANGELIST TO SPEAK AT ADVENTIST CHURCH

J. J. James, on furlough to the United States following 30 years of service in India, will speak at the Seventh Day Adventist church at the corner of West Browning and North Purviance streets at 8 o'clock tonight.

Evangelist James, editor and lecturer in India, will tell about the life, customs, and religion of the people of India.

The evangelist is a forceful and interesting speaker. No admission will be charged and the public is urged to attend.

CORRECTION

Through an error an illustration appearing in the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Pampa advertisement last Sunday stated that deposits were insured up to $5,000. The correct illustration which should have been used states that safety of your "investment" insured up to $5,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

MANY ATTEND SEITZ FUNERAL AT WHITE DEER

Last Tribute Paid to Longtime Resident of Panhandle

Funeral services for Joseph W. Seitz, 65, longtime resident of the Panhandle, were conducted yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the White Deer Methodist church. Services were read by the Rev. I. E. Walker, pastor, and the Rev. Herman Coe, pastor of the White Deer Baptist church. Burial followed in White Deer cemetery in charge of the Charlie Duenkle Funeral home.

Mr. Seitz, with his family, moved to White Deer community in 1913. Several years ago he retired and moved to White Deer to make his home. He was a steward in the White Deer Methodist church.

Nearly 200 relatives attended the funeral services which were read in an overflow crowd of friends and relatives. Recently a family reunion was held at Mobeetie with 252 relatives present.

Mr. Seitz is the second member of the immediate family to die in many years. His wife, Mrs. Edith Burgess of Mobeetie, preceded him in death several years ago.

Surviving Mr. Seitz are his wife, four daughters, Mrs. J. V. Wright and Mrs. Pearl Ferguson, both of Mobeetie, Mrs. Grover Holcomb and Miss Edith Seitz, both of White Deer, and two sons, Grover of Pampa and Joe of White Deer. Other survivors are three sisters, Mrs. Fred Johnson, Clarendon, Mrs. John Vanmeter, Ada, Okla., and Mrs. Bud Heath, Rush Springs, Okla., four brothers, George of White Deer, Pink of Miami and Jeff and Fate of Mobeetie.

Mr. Seitz died suddenly at his home in White Deer Friday afternoon.

Mrs. DeLea Vicars and Mrs. H. H. Heiskell of the invitation committee again asked that names of former Pampa students who now live in other towns be given to them, so invitations may be sent.

Hosts for the evening were named Friday: Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Williams, Mrs. Dude Balthorpe, Mrs. Mack Graham, Mrs. Wilson and Frank Lard.

A nominating committee to present a list of officers for next year includes Mrs. Harrah, Mrs. Mel Davis, and Mr. Gilliland.

All persons who have ever attended Pampa schools, and all former teachers are invited to the homecoming. No cards are being mailed to local exes, and no formal invitation is necessary. Tickets may be secured from Gene Fatheree at Fatheree Drug, No. 4.

$11,400 IS ISSUED FOR BUILDING HERE LAST WEEK

Building permits amounting to $11,400 were issued last week by J. R. McKinley, city building inspector. The new permits hiked the total for the year to $380,487.

Largest permit was issued to W. W. Braden of Amarillo who will construct a $5,000 service station at the corner of North Russell street and West Francis avenue. It will be a Sinclair-Prarie station.

T. S. Bunting was given a permit for $2,500 for an addition and remodeling of a residence in the East End addition.

John Haggard applied for a permit for an $1,800 brick residence in the North addition.

Mrs. L. J. McCarty was given a permit for addition of a $1,600 addition to her residence at 1028 East Browning avenue.

The other permit was to Ralph Kiser for repairs to his residence.

BOND ELECTION AT BORGER IS HELD ILLEGAL

Hospital Issue Held Invalid Under New State Law

BORGER, Oct. 17.—County Judge Norman Coffee was notified yesterday that a bond election in which $65,000 was voted for construction of a county hospital was invalid because the election notice did not conform to a new state law.

The old law required that notice be posted for two weeks before an election, Judge Coffee explained, but a new ruling requires both posting and publication in a local newspaper. The election was held in August.

Bond elections in various parts of the state have been declared invalid under the same circumstances, the county judge said, and the legislature has been asked to amend the law to validate those of recent date.

If this is not done, a new election will be held on Nov. 3 with the general election. The election order was passed at Stinnett yesterday by the county commission. Members are Judge Coffee, George Collins, S. B. Lasater, G. O. Terry, and J. B. Patterson.

SALVATION ARMY SETS UP BRANCH POST IN PAMPA

The Salvation Army has opened a Pampa post, it was announced here Saturday by Capt. H. G. Lembrecht, formerly of Amarillo, who has moved his family to Pampa and opened temporary headquarters at 210 E. Brown-st.

Captain Lambrecht, who will be assisted in the work here by his wife, said that decision to open a branch in Pampa was decided upon when it was felt that there is a program here for the Salvation Army.

The Army official said that he had moved his wife and three sons to Pampa to become permanent residents and that he is now seeking a place to conduct religious, social and welfare activities of the post. Several locations are being considered, he stated, and a permanent headquarters is expected to be announced within the next ten days.

Captain Lambrecht is an experienced Salvation Army worker and formerly was head of the post at Harlingen, Texas. In recent months he has been associated with his father in the conduct of the Salvation Army work at Amarillo.

BUSINESS OPTIMISM STIRS MARKET AGAIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—Apparently inspired by further optimistic business sentiment, the stock market today posted another new high record for the past 5 1/2 years.

Dr. G. F. Border of Mangum, Okla. was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Le McConnell Friday night. He flew here with Dr. C. F. Border, Miss Williams, and Pilot Ray Shifflett. Dr. Border is well known in this section as a flying physician, and Mr. Shifflett as pilot of his ambulance plane.

Juan Brashears left Friday for Clapham, N. M. after a three weeks visit in the home of his brother, L. N. Brashears.

Misses Margaret Stockstill and Marie Farrington, students at Texas Tech, Lubbock, are spending the week-end with their parents here.

the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and it is earning money must it pay an undistributed profits tax? That's the question uppermost in the minds of many executives. There's no ruling on the matter. According to the Bureau of Internal Revenue, such corporations will not be pushed for undistributed profits tax payments until a ruling is made.

Railroad officials are worried. Many roads are now showing profits. But they owe money to the RFC. Most all of these loans prevent dividends from being paid to shareholders until the debt is paid. Yet there's the new tax hitting them between the eyes. What shall they do?

According to New York experts the tax will not be forced on organizations in debt to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. They are certain that such will be the final ruling. But it does mean that owners of railroad shares will not receive dividends until the RFC debts are wiped out.

FOOD

Food markets are dull due to the inactivity of wholesalers and distributors. Retailers having stocked ample supplies and coupled with no fears of immediate rising prices buying will be delayed until next month. Public consumption is reported running about 12 per cent ahead of last year. The trade admits that it isn't unlikely that higher food prices will rule during the winter months.

MOVING

Bankers inform your correspondent that French foreign funds are being repatriated since the franc devaluation announcement. Thus far the heaviest movement has been from out of London. But now signs are evident of money in this country starting to move back to France. The first to go will be bank balances. After that it is expected that a liquidation of American securities will start. That is expected to be under full steam within the next sixty days.

FINANCING

Bond dealers are getting their shelves set for a flood of financing late this year. Refundings have been completed—to a great extent—during the first half of the year, a new program is expected. It is said that new financing will be for capital for expansion and improvements. Rails, steels and utilities will lead the parade.

Nothing is expected until after the elections. That out of the way the opening gun will be fired. All is being withheld pending the outcome of the elections. Said one bond dealer: "If Governor Landon is a winner all will be well. But if FDR comes out on top the new financing will be cautious." This attitude is taken because it isn't known as yet how President Roosevelt will shape his administration during his second term.

VALUABLE

The New York World's Fair—in 1939—is the main reason why portfolio investors have been accumulating railroad shares. New York Central is being given preference.

The $125,000,000 cost involved is expected to attract some 50,000,000 people. It is hoped they will spend close to $1,000,000,000. This means big things for New York City hotels and real estate. That's where New York Central stands to benefit.

PENSION CHECKS BEING MAILED OUT THIS WEEK

AUSTIN, Oct. 17 (AP)-Old age assistance headquarters said today transfer of nearly $50,000 from the permanent to the available pension fund, authorized by the legislature, had brightened the outlook for aid to Texas aged.

Orville S. Carpenter, director, stated the transfer would enable addition of more names to the rolls during October, but would not be sufficient for the state's share of November payments.

A total of 85,270 checks were mailed this week after receipt of $840,000 from the federal government to match state funds.

Carpenter said approximately 3,000 persons were filing applications each month and this sum was expected to be the minimum monthly receipt. Approximately 212,000 have been received.

Gov. Alfred said he would not sign the pension transfer bill for several days to allow money to accumulate in the fund.

Famed Anthony Adverse To Open At City Theater Today

Fictional Character Lived on Three Continents

Definitely not a historical picture, Hervey Allen's "Anthony Adverse" which opens at the LaNora theater today, is the story in which Allen shows the emotions, thoughts, and adventures of his chief fictional character Anthony while he is traveling in five countries on three different continents.

Frederic March has the stellar role, with beautiful and talented Olivia de Havilland playing the leading feminine role.

In order to give this sweeping panoramic story the magnificence and magnitude it merited, Warner Bros., the producers, are said to have spared neither time, nor effort, nor cost. In fact more than two years were spent in preparing the script, in research work to make perfect the atmospheric settings, and in the actual filming of the many and intricate scenes.

The scene opens in France, in the beautiful countryside and a great chateau, sweeps through the Swiss and Italian Alps to the quaint city of Leghorn, Italy, then to Havana, Cuba, on to Africa and the great slave marts of other days, back to Italy and again to France to the court of Napoleon Bonaparte.

Steffi Duna has the part of the half white, half African sweetheart of Anthony's at the time he was conducting a slave market on the Dark Continent. The role of Anthony's grandfather's sensuous housekeeper is played by Gale Sondergaard. The grandfather, a rich Scottish merchant doing business in Leghorn, Italy, is portrayed by the noted English actor, Edmund Gwenn.

Anthony's mother, married under pressure of her father to a Spanish nobleman, and who dies at her son's birth, is portrayed by Anita Louise. Claude Rains plays the role of the grandee of Spain who slays his wife's lover in a duel. The latter part is enacted by Louis Hayward.

There never has been a cast to approach this one in size, and few that will equal it in talent. There are 98 principals with speaking parts, 2,550 bit players and extras, and nearly 3,000 artisans and technicians worked behind the cameras to make the picture letter perfect. More than 1,000 scenes were "shot" for the production on 131 mammoth sets.

Anthony Adverse Is Here

Frederic March and Olivia de Havilland play the stellar roles in "Anthony Adverse" which opens at the LaNora theater today.

'SING BABY SING' HAS LARGE ASSEMBLY OF COMEDY PLAYERS

With Alice Faye and Adolphe Menjou as the only two half-way sane characters, "Sing, Baby Sing" shows at the LaNora Friday and Saturday with the largest assemblage of comedy stars ever crammed into one picture. With Menjou and Miss Faye's roles bordering to comedy the balance of the cast cannot be mistaken as to their intent in the picture. They are Gregory Ratoff, Ted Healy, the inimitable Patsy Kelly, Michael Whalen, and the Ritz Bros, who really stop the show with their antics.

The story opens as Alice Faye is given her notice at a night club in which she has been singing. She goes to see her agent, Gregory Ratoff, to get another booking, and finds that Ratoff is about to lose his office for neglecting to pay rent.

During Alice's last evening at the cafe, Ratoff notices the celebrated Adolphe Menjou in the audience. Menjou has come east for a rest and to get and remain as pie-eyed as possible.

As Alice is singing her last song Menjou rises up on his chair and begins to do "Romeo and Juliet" with her. Ratoff, quick to sense the possibilities, rakes a connection with Menjou who is too tight to know what he is doing.

Menjou is carried from the night club and rushed to a hospital for alcoholics. Ratoff gains entrance to his room by passing Ted Healy off as Menjou's personal physician. Menjou is ready to promise anything for a drink, and they get him a bottle of bay rum, telling him that it is South American brandy. Menjou develops a terrific thirst for this new beverage, and as Ratoff and Healy are the only ones who are able to get it, he sticks to them closely.

Ratoff gets Alice a contract with a radio chain—the provision that Menjou also appear on the opening program. However, Menjou's manager arrives from Hollywood, kidnap the errant celebrity, and is about to whisk him back to the movie capitol when Healy and Patsy come to the rescue.

With the laughs literally tripping over each other, the action becomes more and more wildly hilarious, climaxing in one of the most riotous scenes that ever reached a movie audience.

March Active in University Plays

Frederic March was born in Racine, Wisconsin and had no thought of a theatrical career until after he had graduated from the University of Wisconsin, though he was prominent in college theatricals.

Winning a scholarship in banking at the University, he was sent to New York City, where he was put on training to become a banker at the National City Bank. He did not fancy the work, however, and determined to crash Broadway. He finally did, in a mob scene in David Belasco's production of "Deburau." But before the play finished he was assistant stage manager and playing second lead to Lionel Atwill.

March then went on the road in "The Guardsman" for the Theatre Guild. Later he drifted to Denver, Colo., and then to Los Angeles, where he appeared in "The Royal Family." He also played in this for the films.

afternoon. Fall flowers made lovely bouquets in the rooms where games were enjoyed.

A box of cleverly wrapped packages, each attached to a string, was placed in the center of the room. Guests were told to race in following their strings to the gifts. Mrs. E. R. Hawkins, winner in the scramble, received a bouquet of dahlias and roses as prize. When the packages were unwrapped, they disclosed such jokes as clothespins and buttons.

Mrs. J. C. Jarvis received a prize in another contest, and when the last contest was finished it announced that refreshments were on the way. Sailed with Jack-o-lantern faces, wafers, and coffee were served. Special guests were Meses. Jarvis, J. W. Lee, Dallas Bowsher, Henry Johnson, Marshal Coulson, Tom McAchran, O. L. Satterfield, Jack Tomlin, and Mrs. I. C. Looman.

Club members present were Meses. J. R. Stansell, Richard Barnes, Pat Norris, E. M. Stafford, Berry Barnes, H. E. Patton, Earnest Hatchell, E. O. Conyers, A. B. Corley, Lee Harvey, L. Feigenspan, E. E. Crawford, Earnest Hawkins, W. W. Hughes and the hostess.

THOMAS PREDICTS

CHICAGO, Oct. 17 (AP)—Norman Thomas, in an interview today, conceded the reelection of President Roosevelt.

"Not because I wish it," said the socialist candidate for the same office. "But because the people are going to vote for him. All Roosevelt has to say is 'Remember Hoover' and the voter cries, 'Papa, save me!'"

COATS ARE DRAMATIC NEW YORK (AP)—The most dramatic winter coats the fashion world has seen have come to town. Beaver borders swirling on a full-skirted model as dashing as a Cossack's coat, silver foxes spilling down a black broadcloth breadth with four heads meeting at the waist and rich cloth milled to show a figure's most glamorous curves spell drama for modish moderns.

White violets grow on stalks four feet high in the Hawaiian islands.

ROBERT BENCHLEY NOW TELLS HOW TO VOTE

Robert Benchley, who last year won the Hollywood award for the outstanding short of the year with his one-reeler "How to Sleep," can be expected to bring just as many guffaws with his antics in "How to Vote" which is scheduled to be released this month. According to studio reports Benchley includes every error that has ever been committed at the polls. From one's own experience a person can easily see the amusing incidents he might include while trying to vote properly on a ticket that is anything but familiar to him.

At the Harman-Ising laboratories, which are considered on an equal par with Walt Disney's colored cartoons, there are four comedies being readied for early release, with the fifth already having been shown in Pampa.

At the Hal Roach studios "Bored of Education" was found to be the first of a series of twelve one-reel "Cur Gang" comedies which Hal Roach will release this season. These one-reelers feature "Spanky" McParland with Alfalfa Switzer in the principal supporting role.
