PEDC lands Dallas firm

Medical billing business will employ 40 workers

By KATE B. DICKSON
Associate Publisher

Going from last on the list to first means Pampa will be the new home of United Medicorp, Inc., which is expected to close its Dallas office and open here around the first of October.

The Pampa Economic Development Corporation had been wooing the company since last March, according to Susan Triplehorn, PEDC executive director.

On Thursday, the PEDC board gave approval to an incentive package for UMI. (See related story.) The package is based on a minimum employee number of 40. On hand were Pete Seaman, chairman of the board and chief executive officer, and Ken Culver, chief financial officer.

The company, which will employ about 40 people early on, processes medical bills for hospitals and physician groups. It also handles insurance claim processing and performs collection services, said Seaman.

A primary reason the company is leaving Dallas is due to the hot job market there that robs UMI of trained employees, Seaman said. Also, wage requirements in Pampa are not as high as in the Dallas market.

"For about two years we have been working with an investment banking firm to identify communities that can provide us with a better environment for

On-campus officer assigned to PMS

Pampa Middle School will have a full time school resource officer on campus when the fall term starts.

The Pampa Police Department was notified today that the Texas Governor's office had approved the local law enforcement agency's grant request to fund the middle school position.

Deputy Chief Terry Young said the department had a school resource officer at Pampa Middle School on a temporary basis last year. The grant from the governor's office will allow them to put a full time resource officer at the school.

Pampa Police Officer Donny Brown will be assigned to the school, Young said.

"Donny Brown has been selected," Young said. "He will also teach the D.A.R.E. program."

Young said Brown had served as one of the temporary resource

Taxes, budget, hiring on Miami ISD agenda

MIAMI — Miami Independent School District's board of education will meet Monday to set dates for special meetings on the upcoming budget and tax rate.

School board members plan to meet at 7:30 p.m., Monday, July 10, in the school administration office, 321 Custer. The meeting is open to the public.

Among the items to be considered by the board is setting of dates for special meetings on the 2000-2001 school budget and tax rate for the coming year. Board members will also look at budget amendments for the 1999-2000 school budget.

The student handbook for 2000-2001 school year is to be presented to the board at the meeting. The daily rate for permanent substitute pay will also be set.

School Superintendent Allan Dinsmore will present reports on the following: calendar of activities, the 2000-2001 budget, media honor roll and TASA/TASB school board convention.

Financial matters to be considered at the meeting include a list of bills for payment, fund balances, and tax collector's report.

A personnel session to consider employment will conclude the meeting, according to the agenda.

The UMI-PEDC deal ...

On Thursday, the PEDC board gave approval to an incentive package for UMI. The package is based on a minimum employee number of 40. It includes:

- A $216,000 grant for relocation expenses
- If the employment number is 40, the company will receive $40,000 at the end of each year for eight years. If under 40 workers there is no payment. If the number ranges from 41-50, there will be an additional $1,000 per employee for 8 years. Likewise if there are 51 or more workers an additional $500 will be paid for them.

- If at any time during the eight years the employee number drops below 30 jobs the company must repay $24,000.
- A $137,000 loan guarantee was made to purchase a building. (Currently the site hasn't been selected).

Special stress managing class offered to emergency workers

Pampa Police Department will host a critical incident stress management seminar for emergency services organizations throughout the area, July 18 and 19, at M.K. Brown Auditorium with Vaughn Donaldson of the Midland Fire Department as presenter.

The two-day seminar is set for 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day at M.K. Brown Auditorium's Heritage Room, 1000 N. Sumner. Cost of the course is $55, reduced from the regular fee of $160. The fee does not include meals or lodging.

Donaldson serves as district chief of the AARE division with the Midland Fire Department. He holds a bachelor of arts degree in psychology from the University of Texas - Permian Basin. He is president of the Permian Basin Critical Incident Stress Management (CISM) Team and coordinator of the Midland Fire Department's CISM team. Donaldson has been approved by the International Critical Incident Stress Foundation (ICISF) as a trainer of basic and advanced CISM programs and peer support strategies.

He has been recognized for his long term service and dedication in CISM for emergency services personnel and is the ICISF regional liaison for Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Missouri, Louisiana and Arkansas. He is a member of the ICISF Association of Traumatic Stress Specialists, American Academy of Experts in Traumatic Stress. Basic CISM training is open to anyone who wishes to know more about crisis intervention strategies. Participants will learn the basic concepts of CISM, an integrated crisis intervention program designed to help mitigate the psychological impact of a traumatic event.

The training program presents the core elements of a comprehensive, systematic and multi-component crisis intervention curriculum. It prepares participants to understand a variety of crisis inter-

Tip sends officers on 'pot' bust

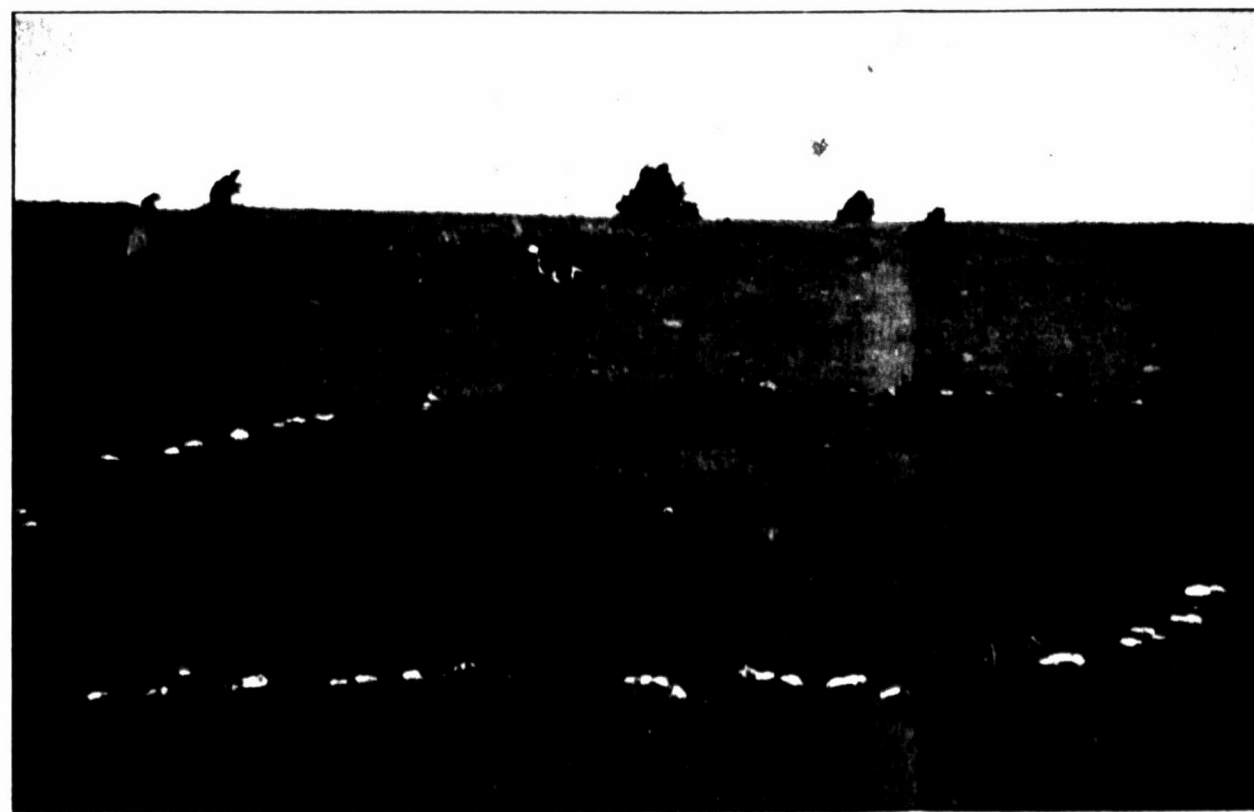

A Pampa woman was in Gray County jail today in lieu of bond after being charged with possession of marijuana.

Anna Marie Villarreal, 35, 112 N. Faulkner, was in Gray County jail today in lieu of $1,000 bond after being arrested and charged with under two ounces of marijuana Thursday afternoon.

Pampa drug task force officers went to Villarreal's home shortly before 3 p.m. Thursday to question her about a report they had received that she was in possession of unspecified drugs. Officers said that when they arrived at the house, they smelled marijuana smoke. After questioning Villarreal, they said, she surrendered a small amount of what appeared to be marijuana along with drug paraphernalia.

Gray County Justice of the Peace Kurt Curfman set bond for Villarreal at $1,000.

Louise Black, Kandice Kempf and Luez Aguilar check out the Fairy Ring found on an oil lease about halfway between Pampa and Lefors.

Could Gray County be invaded by fairies?

By GROVER BLACK
For The News

The recent find of two fairy rings between Pampa and Lefors has created some interest. One is a large ring that has been partially washed away by recent rains. The remains of it measure about 90-feet in diameter. The smaller ring is still intact and measures about 30-feet in diameter.

A "fairy ring" is a ring of mushrooms growing in a full circle around a single mushroom in the center.

Folklore, or fairy tales, has it that when fairies dance at midnight they dance in a circle with one of them in the center. Later, mushrooms will grow where they danced producing a fairy ring. On some occasions, there will be a mushroom in the center where the fairy stood.

Vegetation inside the ring will always be healthier than outside the ring. Grass will grow taller and greener. Folklore says good fortune will come to one if they find the mushroom in the center still growing. It also is believed to bring ill fortune to those that destroy any of the mushrooms.

However, the facts are the rings are produced by mycelium. Mycelium is the vegetative part of fungus consisting of a threadlike growth called hyphae. The hyphae grows underground and spreads our operating center," the CEO said. "We have significant problem attracting and retaining qualified people."

That, he said, is because of the large number of hospitals and physician groups in Dallas that seek the same type of technical skills and knowledge that UMI needs. He noted it takes about six months to become fully trained at UMI.

He says UMI employees may leave for higher pay and some simply leave for a job that requires a shorter commute.

"They can find another job in Dallas at the drop of a hat," Seaman said. "We think in a smaller community like Pampa we can get a higher level of loyalty."

When Seaman was asked by a city official what his firm will bring to Pampa, the CEO said he told them, "We bring a company that will offer new and transferable job skills."

While he doesn't want employees leaving, Seaman knows there will be some who quit to move elsewhere and says the UMI-learned skills will hold the worker in good stead when he or she job hunts.

Seaman said he expects the Pampa jobs will start at about $7.50 and hour with a soon thereafter increase to about $8. The company also provides health benefits and has a 401K plan.

In Dallas, the company pays $11 an hour due to the "overheated" job market, Seaman said. "Every Sunday in the paper there are five or 10 companies advertising job openings in the medical billing field." When Seaman first heard about Pampa, "Frankly we were not really interested in Pampa ... but Susan [Triplehorn] was very persistent and professional. She's a real go-getter."

Originally Seaman wanted to locate near Dallas but ran into some of the same problems he is trying to escape — large hospitals and/or big physician groups. Like Pampa, those towns also offered the company incentives.

Triplehorn said she first learned about UMI when she received a mailing from a site locator with whom she had worked with previously.

And when it looked like Pampa was out of the running because it is more than two hours from Dallas, Triplehorn worked to convince company officials, "Pampa is two hours from Dallas" if you take an airplane.

To make her point, the PEDC flew company representatives here to show them the city and sell UMI on coming here.

PEDC Board Chairman Richard Stowers says he's "excited" about UMI coming to Pampa.

"To me it's an exciting thing to get into a different area of business," Stowers said. "UMI is a people business and one of Pampa's greatest assets is it's people."

It's expected a few workers will be hired in August in order for them to spend a couple of weeks at UMI in Dallas so they can help train their fellow Pampa workers.

Once the company moves, it will be an almost overnight transition, she said, with all the equipment, down to work cubicles, being moved from Dallas.

out equally in all directions from the original mushroom. When there is a sufficient amount of moisture (such as the recent rains), mushrooms will grow at the end of the hyphae, producing a "fairy ring." If it is found at the right time, the center mushroom will still be there.

This type of mushroom is considered to be poisonous, a fact that could give rise to the part in the fairy tale about misfortune.

So if you find a fairy ring it is considered good luck unless, of course, you forget to get permission from the land owner to enter the property!

Accidents

Pampa Police Department reported the following accidents during the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. Thursday.

Wednesday, July 5
 12:25 p.m. — A 1987 Toyota pickup driven by William P. Poole, 72, Hwy. 152 West, and a 1993 Buick LeSabre driven by Virginia E. Eaton, 77, Phoenix, Ariz., collided at the intersection of Kentucky and Banks. Poole was cited for improper passing. No injuries were reported at the scene.

8:30 p.m. — A 1997 Dodge pickup driven by Amy Hazel Harrison, 28, 414 Red Deer, and a 1995 Chevrolet Lumina driven by Joanna Lyn Workman, 21, 1109 Sierra, collided in the 1400 block of North Hobart. Workman was cited for failure to yield right of way from a private drive. No injuries were reported at the scene.

Correction

Due to an editing error a pull-out quote on a front page story concerning the Henry Skinner murder case incorrectly inferred that Professor David Protes was speaking to District Attorney John Mann. Protes' correct quote is "My goal is getting DNA tests done so the truth be known. It's a tried and true legal procedure that doesn't involve you (the Pampa News reporter) or me." We regret any inconvenience this error may have caused.

Wouth winds at 10-20 mph. Yesterday's high was 92; the overnight low was 69. Only an occasional afternoon thundershower threatened to break the summer heat across Texas this weekend.

STATEWIDE — Mostly clear skies greeted the state Friday morning, with lows in the 60s to 80s. It was 63 degrees at Dalhart and Marfa and 82 at Laughlin Air Force Base. Other readings were 73 at San Marcos, Houston and Victoria; and 81 at Del Rio, Laredo and Palacios.

Light fog was reported in the Golden triangle area around Beaumont. Some patchy low clouds covered Central Texas and along the Rio Grande.

Winds were mostly southeasterly at 5 to 10 mph in the eastern two-thirds of the state, with light and variable conditions over the South Plains and far West Texas. Northeasterly winds of 10 to 20 mph were observed at Guadalupe Pass.

A slight chance of afternoon showers or thunderstorms was forecast this weekend in the southeast and Coastal Plains by the National Weather Service.

Daytime highs should range from the 90s to near 100 in the Rio Grande plains and South Texas, with overnight lows in the 60s to 80s.

Wal-Mart names new manager

Pampa's Wal-Mart has a new store manager.

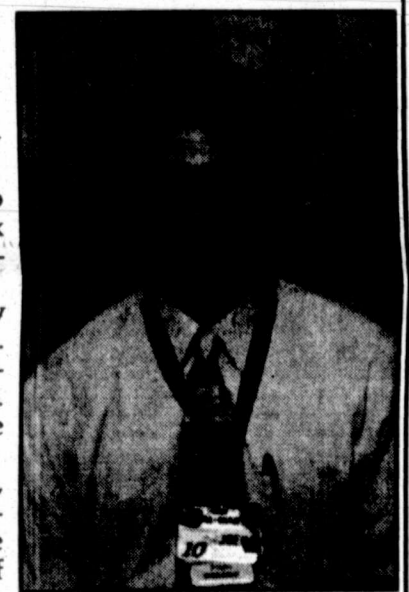

Joe Cumby recently came to Pampa from the Dallas Metroplex area. He has worked for Wal-Mart for almost 13 years.

Effective June 24, Cumby changed the local store's hours. Monday through Friday Wal-Mart will be open from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m. On Sunday the hours are 11 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Cumby and his wife, Brenda, are the parents of an 11-month-old girl, Alexis. He describes the baby as "wonderful" and himself as "family-oriented."

The family lives on Evergreen street where they purchased a home.

The new manager, who likes golf, fishing and working in the yard, said he plans to host a Meet the Manager Day soon.

Edward Jones to host 'Viewpoint' seminar

Economic and market conditions change daily. That's why each quarter Edward Jones brings together some of the top minds in the financial-services industry to identify areas of investment opportunity and risk created for Jones' clients under current conditions.

The recommendations from this group, called the Edward Jones Investment Policy Committee, will be presented in a seminar called "Viewpoint," hosted by Ben Watson, 408 W. Kingsmill, Suite 197A, and Roger David, 1540 N. Hobart, of the financial-services firm Edward Jones. The seminar will be Tuesday July 11, 2000 from 12-1 p.m. and from 2-3 p.m. at 408 W. Kingsmill, Suite 197A and 1540 N. Hobart.

"Investing in today's market can be an intimidating experience if you don't feel like you've got a good road map," Watson said. "This seminar provides the best possible evaluation of the market and how to invest successfully. I'm pleased to be able to provide it to my clients to answer their questions, quell any fears and give them direction."

The Investment Policy Committee was formed in 1987 when the stock market was at a then all-time high and investors sought guidance in making long-term investment decisions. The committee is composed of eight members of Edward Jones and eight outside consultants. The consultants, who are not affiliated with Jones, add financial experience, insight and objectivity to the committee.

This edition of "Viewpoint" features information on buckaroo investing — riding out a jerky market, how much heat from higher rates it takes to cool a sizzling economy, which telecomm stocks are calling and nuances of the new economy.

With more than 5,000 offices in United States, Canada and United Kingdom, Edward Jones is the largest financial-services firm in the nation in terms of offices. Plans are under way to expand to 10,000 offices in the next decade. Still, Jones is the only firm that serves individual investors exclusively, offering a variety of investments including certificates of deposit, taxable and tax-free bonds, stocks and mutual funds. The firm traces its roots to 1871 and today serves more than 4 million customers.

Edward Jones' interactive website is located at www.edwardjones.com.

Minister's musing ...

The celebration of our nation's independence has been celebrated once again. We had picnics, trips to the lakes, fireworks, plus several other activities to celebrate this time. Flags were placed along the streets to commemorate this special time in our nation. Yet I fear that somehow the true meaning of this time has been lost because of the freedoms we enjoy.

We have the freedom in this nation to go where we desire, do what moves us, and say what is in our hearts. Yet I am concerned that the privileges afforded us through the Constitution have been renamed as "rights" so that we can use them to fulfill every desire we entertain. It is amazing that the original meaning of the Constitution has been redefined so often that it no longer looks like the Constitution that our founding fathers set forth.

Our founding fathers were not perfect, but they were men that had a belief in God that directed them in setting forth the basic structure of what would become the greatest nation on earth. We have now seen this nation influence the world for over two hundred years. America has truly been the land of the free and the home of the brave; and only in recent years have we seen the original infrastructure threatened by groups perpetuating their own agendas.

In the beginning, the Constitution was designed to perpetuate a Christian order. The freedom spoke of by our founding fathers was not an ideology rising from a round table discussion. It was a freedom based on the freedom experienced and found in Jesus Christ. The Bible places all mankind on the same level ground when it says, "that all have sinned and fallen short of the glory of God." But He also said in John 8:31b-32 "If you abide in My word then you are truly disciples of Mine; and you shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

By Rev. Paul L. Nachtigall

Since Jesus said in John 14:6 that He was "the Way, the Truth and the Life and no man comes to the Father but by Me," we can be assured that in Him alone we can truly be free. The freedom we have in Christ is from the tyranny of sin and to live obediently to all He commands us to do. Our freedom in Christ is not a license to live any way we want, but liberty to live in a relationship with Jesus Christ and all those who claim the name of Christ.

The freedom we have in Jesus Christ carries with it a great responsibility. A responsibility to serve and honor our God in the manner which He is worthy (Ex. 20:3). A responsibility to abide by the laws of the land, as well as the laws of God (1 Tim. 2:1-5). A responsibility to let others know of Christ and the great gift He offers (Mt. 28:19-20).

The freedom we have in America today is because God was placed at the foundation of this nation. The principles and morals of our nation will be only as strong as our faith and trust in Jesus Christ. It is not a matter of seeking a stronger foundation as we go along, but a matter of committing our hearts and lives to live in a God honoring way. This will be where our strength lies. Scripture says, "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord."

The flag and the Statue of Liberty are two great symbols of the freedom we have in this great land. The Statue of Liberty proclaims a welcome to those who enter this land. The flag proclaims to all who see it that freedom is costly and well worth the fight. So these two things proclaim the wonderful freedom we enjoy in this great land.

For Christians, the banner we stand under, work under, pray under, and witness under, is the cross of Christ. That cross not only proclaims of welcome to all who will come, but also that the freedom of every believer, although costly, was paid for by Jesus Christ, on that cross. It stands as a welcome and an open door to a life liberated by the blood of Christ. It is only in Christ that we can truly be free.

It is now time for America to stand up once again for the freedoms offered us in Christ, to let freedom ring all across this land, and to hold to this freedom dearly as we walk through life. It is now time for Christians to stand before the world and show them the way to live. If in Christ alone you can be free, people need to know Christ alone, so they can be free indeed. Before you can do that you might need to answer this question - "Am I really free?" You are free if you have trusted Christ as your personal Savior and Lord. So let freedom ring!

More than one way to restore harmony

When I was mowing the lawn Sunday about the time of the first congregational hymn, I asked myself what in the world I was doing pushing the Murray instead of flipping through the song book.

Earlier, about the time I should have been revving up the curling iron to get ready for Sunday school, I was writing an e-mail and drinking hot coffee.

Before either of those two events - on Saturday night - I was consciously deciding not to set the alarm clock for 7 a.m. Sunday telling myself that my internal rooster would let me know when dawn came.

Well, the internal clock worked and I was awake in time for Sunday school and certainly awake in time for the worship service, but instead Sunday was no different than Saturday. I mowed and raked, bought groceries and ironed clothes. It was only about dusk, when the sky was beautiful with the setting sun, that my heart and mind felt free enough of daily cares to turn to spiritual matters.

I knew Sunday would be that kind of day, preoccupied with getting ready for another work week, before it was born. But Sunday's dusk did come and with it a longing for spiritual refreshment almost as a reward for a day of duty. By that time, however, there was no community with which to join. Church activities were over for the day and my need out of sync with the organized world.

So at 9 p.m. on a Sunday night, one's only choice is to gather one's Bible, a devotional book and a hymnal and have church on the patio. No crowds, no fussy dressing up, no rush to arrive on time. Just the breeze, the light of the setting sun, and time alone in contemplation. It's a swell way to restore harmony in one's soul.

Vatican reaffirms ban on communion for divorced and remarried

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Seeking to end debate on the issue, the Vatican on Thursday strongly reaffirmed its prohibition on divorced and remarried Roman Catholics receiving communion.

The authoritative declaration restated that the only exception would be couples who refrain from sexual relations. Catholics in the United States, Germany and elsewhere have been pressing the Vatican to loosen the restriction.

The Vatican said it issued the declaration because some theologians "using a variety of arguments" had claimed there were loopholes in church rules that would allow those who divorce and remarry to receive communion.

The statement said the restriction is based on "divine law" and cannot be modified.

It said pastors should avoid instances of public denial of communion, explaining the reason to those couples "in such a way that they would be able to understand it or at least respect it."

It stressed the declaration did not contradict the desire for those Catholics to participate in church life "in the many forms compatible with their situation..."

Monthly Gospel Singing Sunday

The monthly Gospel Singing at First Pentecostal Holiness Church, 1700 Alcock, will be this Sunday afternoon from two until four o'clock.

Singers, musicians, musical groups, and those who just simply enjoy gospel music have been enthusiastically attending this event for the past several years. It continues to gain popularity as people from various Pampa and area churches participate.

Pastor Albert Maggard and the congregation extend an invitation to everyone.

Weight-Loss Shower Scheme Brings Downpour of Response

DEAR ABBY: A woman wrote to ask you what you thought of the idea of a weight-loss shower for someone who had just shed 30 pounds. The "catch" to this shower was that the guests bring monetary gifts so the hostess could buy a new wardrobe to fit her smaller figure.

At first glance the idea seemed tacky to me. Just as with any other type of shower, it is inappropriate to specify a monetary gift in the invitation. Should someone inquire about gift ideas, the host could indicate that the honoree is trying to save up for a new wardrobe. However, there are many other suitable gifts for someone who has just lost weight. For example, guests could be asked to bring a copy of their favorite low-calorie recipes to be compiled into a scrapbook.

Losing unwanted pounds is no easy feat. If it were so easy, we would not have the obesity problems that we have in our society. I see it as an accomplishment to be proud of. Throwing someone a shower for this reason is certainly justified.

love your idea about the diet-recipe shower. Yours was the most charitable response that letter generated. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: I have gained about 60 pounds in the past four years. Should I throw a party to give my friends the "opportunity" to "shower" me with money to buy new fat clothes? It would amount to exactly the same thing. There are already too many forced gift-giving occasions thrust upon us. My answer is: "No way. Boycott the shower!"

DEAR ABBY: The lady is to be congratulated for the weight loss, but she still has a lot of guts. JOHN IN VISTA, CALIF.

DEAR ABBY: "Twiggy" doesn't need new clothes yet. Fifteen pounds isn't enough. Her letter takes the cake! I know she said she lost 30 pounds, but isn't it pretty clear that the other 15 pounds was her marbles?

I had an ex-in-law who gave her daughter a "shower drawing." She didn't want to make the effort to give a party, so she brought a box of envelopes to our houses so we could pick one. Inside was a photo and the price of the gift you were "asked" to buy! I drew a four-piece set of Samsonite luggage: $169.99. (This was 1966.) My husband thought we should give the bride something in which to carry her honeymoon wardrobe, so he gave her two brown paper bags. Thank God it was his side of the family. Needless to say, we weren't invited to the wedding.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

 Another understands that you want to make up for lost time, and he thinks the same way. Talk about long-term desires. Get together with friends only if it pleases both of you. Your policy of 100 percent tolerance kisses all wounds away. Tonight: Could be nice. This week: Use available resources before committing to a new project. Your perspective transforms.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

 Laugh and make merry. Your natural indulgent streak triggers, and you cannot seem to do anything too much. Even if attached, recognize that you have an immediate circle of admirers. Use discretion. Hurt feelings aren't worth it. Touch base with an older relative. Tonight: So what if tomorrow is Monday!

This week: Associates hold the cards. Let them take the lead. Some risks aren't worth it.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

 Kick back and relax. Another wants to indulge you. Accept an offer for a foot rub or back massage. You renew your energy. A fantasy that keeps coming up just might happen. Take action to make it come true. Rent a movie. Keep events low-key. Tonight: Do calm down, for your sake. This week: Dig into work quickly. By Wednesday, socializing becomes a higher priority.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

 Another appreciates your indulgent attitude, especially on the homefront. Sometimes you can be controlling. Remember that letting go allows others to get closer. Get into a relationship. If you've been attached for many years, revive some of your young-love habits. Tonight: Be a wild thing!

This week: Your magic and ingenuity toss you into the driver's seat. Work flourishes as well.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

 Reach out for another early on. Laughter dances with caring. You simply cannot go wrong. Stay close to home and play the host or hostess. Invite friends and family over. Entertaining doesn't always have to be a grand event; let others chip in. Tonight: Mentally get ready for the workweek.

This week: Shore up details and make security No. 1. Use your imagination.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

 Treat another to brunch. He will love it, and you! Browse through a favorite store or visit a flea market. Wandering around helps you relax your tickertape mind and allows you to recharge at your own pace. Don't back off from an animated discussion.

Tonight: Try acting on an idea. This week: Speak your mind and reach out for others. Still recognize that you are your best ally.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

 A late night might color your morning, but only with smiles and happy thoughts. Indulge a loved one or family member who goes out of his way for you. Say thanks in a way that means a lot. Stop and pay bills. Tonight: Eat at a favorite place. This week: Curb unnecessary expenses. Talk to an expert or an accountant before making a major purchase.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

 Mischief and good times become you. Rope in friends and family, and schedule an adventure that could only be planned by you. Others like your imagination and spirit. Don't forget a parent or older relative who likes this activity. Tonight: Follow your whims.

This week: Command your ship, whether at work or at home. Others respond. Transform a tight money situation.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

 Your instincts to vanish help you recharge. Listen to a favorite piece of music while taking a walk, and let your imagination wander. Given time, your ingenuity comes forth. You might want to do some writing. Follow a hunch. Tonight: Get a good night's sleep.

This week: Mull over options; launch into action only after you are sure, sometime after Tuesday. You could still change your mind.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

 Join friends only after you talk to an elder, parent or boss. Let go. Indulge yourself and others, or visit with your pals. Before you know it, everyone starts telling funny stories. You could make a mistake counting money. Be careful. Tonight: Zoom in on what you want.

This week: Zero in on what you want. Think about information coming forward on Wednesday. Trust an associate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

 You often seem nebulous or vague to others. You see life differently than most, and you also have a different set of values. Bring others together, listen to friends and enjoy the moment. A friend grabs one of your suggestions and runs with it. Call a key family member. Tonight: Start thinking in terms of work. This week: You are in the limelight. Celebration is in order.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

 Pack a lunch, invite another along and take off for a favorite spot to relax and catch up on news. You have a hunch about another and what is going on. Make a statement. Open a door so the conversation can become easier.

Emphasize what you do so well. Tonight: Catch up on e-mail. This week: Surf the Net for answers. Avoid office gossip. Fulfill demands.

BASKETBALL

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Roy Williams ended an agonizing week that kept two states and two great college basketball programs in suspense, giving up a chance to coach his beloved North Carolina and deciding to remain in Kansas.

Williams, a North Carolina native who went from his alma mater to Kansas in 1988, was offered the job to replace the retired Bill Guthridge as coach of the Tar Heels.

Williams has a 329-82 record in 12 seasons at Kansas, the winningest record for a coach in that many seasons. He has taken the Jayhawks to two Final Fours and won seven conference championships.

CYCLING

TOURS, France (AP) — Defending champion Lance Armstrong dropped almost six minutes behind the leaders at the Tour de France.

Dutch champion Leon van Bon won the sixth stage as the race again was settled by a furious sprint, while the favorites chose not to push hard.

France's Laurent Jalabert, who like Armstrong finished almost eight minutes behind the breakaway sprinters, lost his overall leader's yellow jersey. Italy's Alberto Elli of Deutsche Telekom became the new leader with a time of 18 hours, 58 minutes, 40 seconds.

Jalabert, who rides for Once, fell from first place to 10th, 5:40 behind Elli. Armstrong was 12th, 5:54 back.

FOOTBALL

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — No charges have been filed in the shooting death of NFL running back Fred Lane, although investigators determined his wife shot him during a domestic dispute.

The former Carolina Panthers runner, traded to the Indianapolis Colts in April after several brushes with the law, was shot and killed Thursday at the couple's home.

Authorities said Deidra Lane, 25, shot her husband, but after speaking with her late into the evening, Charlotte-Mecklenburg police decided not to file charges.

"The investigation to this point has revealed that Deidra Lane shot her husband during a domestic dispute," the police said in a statement.

The District Attorney's office will determine if charges will be filed once the investigation is complete, police said.

The 24-year-old Lane, a 5-foot-10, 205-pound running back, became the Panthers' leading career rusher in November before he was traded to the Colts. He was pronounced dead at his Charlotte home at 3:15 p.m.

A 7-day-old infant was with Deidra Lane at the police station. Their house was decorated with pink balloons and a pink stork. The Lanes also have a 5-year-old son.

The Colts said the team was "shocked and saddened" by news of Lane's death.

Lane's father, Fred Lane Sr., said his son and daughter-in-law had been having difficulties recently. Lane spent the past couple of weeks at the family home in Nashville, Tenn., but visited Charlotte briefly a week ago, his father said.

He left Tennessee on a flight to Charlotte about two hours before he was shot, the elder Lane said.

Deidra Lane filed a complaint against her husband in March, saying he snatched a necklace from around her neck during an argument, causing her to fall. She did not press charges.

Lane also had a case pending against him related to his Feb. 3 arrest in Tennessee.

Pampa girls stay unbeaten in district

Local All-Stars can clinch tournament crown tonight

DUMAS — Pampa's Senior League All-Stars remained undefeated in District One play, downing Borger 14-4 in a run-rule shortened contest Wednesday night.

Stephanie Clark and Chelsey Davis combined their pitching skills in holding Borger to just three hits.

Offensively, Pampa pounded out 15 base hits. Stacey Johnson led Pampa at the plate, going 5 for 5 with three singles, a double and a game-ending two-run RBI triple.

In the first, Clark retired Borger in order. A strikeout, a ground out to first baseman Casey Fisher and another strikeout ended Borger's at bat.

In the bottom of the first with one out, Johnson hit a bullet down the third base line for a double. She then stole third and was driven home on a Tess Kingcade RBI single. Pampa took an early 1-0 lead into the second.

Borger had two runners reach in the second inning on base on balls, but two strikeouts and a 4-3 ground out ended the threat.

Pampa added four runs in the bottom of the second. With one out, Lindsey Ledbetter singled and Erin Norris and Jessica Leos drew base on balls to load the bases. A single by Casey Fisher drove in Ledbetter to make the score 2-0 for Pampa. A two-run RBI single by Johnson scored Norris and Leos. Kingcade followed with a single advancing Johnson to third. A 1-3 groundout ended Pampa's at bat with Pampa leading 5-0.

In the third, Borger plated two runs on two base on balls and a triple to bring the score to 5-2, Pampa's favor.

In Pampa's half of the fifth, Ledbetter singled with one out. Then, with two outs, Leos reached on a dropped third strike to keep the inning alive. Ledbetter scored from third on an attempted pickoff by the Borger catcher. An RBI double by Fisher scored Leos and an RBI single by Johnson scored Fisher to increase Pampa's lead to 8-2 going into the fourth.

Chelsey Davis at third retired Borger's first batter in the fourth on a 5-3 ground out. The next batter singled, but a pop fly to Davis at third and a strikeout by Clark stranded the Borger runner.

Pampa failed to score in the fourth. With Pampa leading 8-2, Davis came in relief of Clark. Davis struck out the first batter she faced. With two outs, Borger loaded the bases on two walks and a hit batter. Davis pitched herself out of the jam by striking out the next batter, stranding all three Borger runners.

In Pampa's half of the fifth, with two outs, Fisher reached on a walk, then stole second. Johnson singled, but aggressive baserunning caught up with Pampa when Fisher was tagged out at the plate attempting to score from second to end the inning.

Borger added two runs in the top of the sixth on a single and two errors — the only errors committed by Pampa — to bring the score to 8-4 going into the bottom of the sixth.

Pampa plated six runs in the bottom of the sixth. With one out, a single by Clark got things going. Clark stole second and third during Abbi Covalt's at bat. Covalt drew a walk and stole second. Hollie Gattis also walked, but aggressive baserunning again cost Pampa as Covalt was thrown out attempting to take third. Haley Bowen singled to center moving Gattis to third. A line drive by Kelly Tripplehorn to center scored Gattis. Davis and Fisher were issued back to back walks to load the bases. Johnson stepped to the plate with Pampa leading 12-4 and runners on first and second. Johnson drove a 2-0 pitch to deep right field for the game-ending two-run RBI triple to make the score 14-4.

Pampa remains in the winner's bracket and will face the Borger-Dumas winner at 6 p.m. today in Dumas. A win by Pampa would clinch the District 1 Senior League Softball title and send them to the Sectional Tournament in Graham, beginning July 17.

So far in the tournament, Pampa pitchers have struck out 25, given up just five hits and issued 10 base on balls. In contrast, Pampa batters have 22 hits, been issued 14 base on balls and have struck out 12 times.

Arizona sweeps Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Geraldo Guzman made his long-awaited major league debut look easy.

Guzman, a former carpenter, scattered four hits over eight innings to lead the Diamondbacks to a 2-1 victory and a three-game sweep of the Houston Astros on Thursday night.

"He's been pitching in Latin ball, and there you are pitching for your country and city," Arizona manager Buck Showalter said. "I've been allowed to go down there and you can cut the tension with a knife."

"From where he came from, I don't think he felt this as pressure."

Guzman (1-0), who left baseball in 1990 and worked seven years as a carpenter in the Dominican Republic before resuming his playing career, certainly didn't appear awestruck. He struck out three and walked one.

"There was no reason to fear any type of situation, it was just a baseball game," Guzman said through an interpreter. "I was only trying to do what I know to do, keep the ball down and throw inside and outside."

Matt Mantei pitched the ninth for his third save to send the Astros to their 11th loss in 13 games. Houston was swept for the fifth time this season in a three-game series.

"The first one is always the best one, so I hope I made a good one," Guzman said.

Center fielder Steve Finley made a wall-crashing catch with two outs and a runner on second to help preserve the lead for Guzman to end the eighth inning.

Gooden's promotion adds juice to Subway Series

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees and Mets will play four games this weekend — two in one day in two stadiums — with both teams having a chance to regain first place.

What could be better than that?

How about bringing one of the favorite Mets ever to Shea Stadium in a Yankees uniform to pitch against his original team?

That's what will happen Saturday, when Dwight Gooden begins his second stint with the Yankees by pitching against the Mets for the first time.

"As if the Subway Series doesn't have enough plots already," said Yankees right-hander David Cone, a teammate with Gooden on the Yankees and Mets. "It will be great for Doc. He deserves this chance. I know he'll be really psyched for the game."

The series, the second between the teams this year, has enough attention on it normally. Throw in Gooden's return and Saturday's unique day-night doubleheader, and there will be even more hoopla than normal, even for a Mets-Yankees series.

"I'm not sure the players are looking forward to this weekend," Yankees manager Joe Torre said. "The weekend will be hard. But you know when you're playing the Mets that the fans will be all excited."

Especially when Gooden walks to the mound at Shea for the first time since June 24, 1994, when he allowed nine runs in 5 1-3 innings of a 9-4 loss to Pittsburgh.

Most of Gooden's memories of Shea were more positive. He was the NL Rookie of the Year with the Mets in 1984, the NL Cy Young winner the next year and won a World Series ring in 1986.

"It's a great story, especially with him back at Shea Stadium," Cone said. "Doc has had some great moments in that stadium. It will be exciting to see."

Gooden and Roger Clemens — perhaps the two most dominating pitchers in the '80s — will pitch Saturday's doubleheader for the Yankees. What would have been a marquee pitching lineup 15 years ago is full of questions.

Clemens is 5-6 with a 4.48 ERA and has lost three starts to the Mets since joining the Yankees last season. Gooden was 2-3 with a 6.86 ERA for Houston and Tampa Bay this season.

But Yankees executives picked Gooden over Triple-A left-hander Ted Lilly and major league relievers Jason Grimsley and Ben Ford.

"That was the recommendation from down below," Torre said, referring to the team's minor league complex in Tampa, Fla. "You have to go on the recommendations. We needed a starter and they said he'd be the best guy for it. He has experience. He has been down this road before."

Gooden has added a splitter to his arsenal since signing a minor league deal with the Yankees last month. In two minor league starts, he has allowed four hits in eight shutout innings.

Yankees owner George Steinbrenner gave Gooden a chance before. The right-hander joined the Yankees in 1996 after missing the 1995 season because of a drug suspension. Gooden pitched a no-hitter in 1996 and helped the Yankees win the World Series.

Al Leiter (10-1) will start the opener on Friday night against Orlando Hernandez (7-6). The teams split two games last month at Yankee Stadium, with the third game getting rained out, leading to Saturday's doubleheader.

The Yankees have an 8-6 edge overall in matchups with the Mets.

"It'll be exciting for both New York fans rooting for their team and hearing the chants all night long," Leiter said. "It's still the regular season. The Yankees have won three of four World Series, so to them it's a nuisance. They don't have anything to win."

It's more than a nuisance for the Yankees this time. They also need the wins. The last two years, the Yankees have been in control of the AL East when they played the Mets. They are a half-game behind Toronto entering the weekend.

"We just need to win games and finish the first half on a good note," Torre said. "We're fortunate with how much we've struggled to be this close to first place. We have to take advantage of that good fortune."

The Yankees enter the series having won two, straight. But pitching is still a question. Clemens and Hernandez are making their second starts back from injuries, Ramiro Mendoza is on the disabled list and Cone has one win since April 28.

Cone's struggles will cost him a chance to start against his former team for the first time. Torre will skip the struggling Cone in the rotation and pitch Andy Pettitte on three days' rest Sunday.

"My pitching put Joe in that position," said Cone, who is available in relief. "I feel awful about it."

Mets manager Bobby Valentine will likely pitch Mike Hampton on three days' rest Sunday in place of left-hander Bobby M. Jones.

"I just want to get another start in before the All-Star break," Hampton said. "The Yankees are a test in itself. It's what a pitcher looks for to find out how good you are when facing a team of that caliber."

JULY 2000

Low-key Lindsay

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — No hype, no hoopla, no hysteria.

For Lindsay Davenport, the most overlooked player in women's tennis, it's been another low-key run all the way to the Wimbledon final.

The first-week headlines were all about Anna Kournikova, the Russian cover girl who was bounced in the second round. Since then, the spotlight has focused on the Williams sisters and their unconventional father.

That's just fine with Davenport, who defends her title Saturday in an all-American championship match against Venus Williams, who beat her kid sister Serena in straight sets in Thursday's semifinals.

"A lot of the times, that's the way I like it," the 22-year-old Californian said. "I don't really like to have a lot of hoopla and a lot of action and activity around what I'm doing."

"The only reason why I'm here is just to play tennis, get through it, see what I can achieve."

There were no distractions Thursday when Davenport swept 17-year-old Australian Jelena Dokic 6-4, 6-2 in just 51 minutes.

The match hardly caused a ripple, coming in the wake of the Williams sisters' showdown.

After Venus beat Serena 6-2, 7-6 (3) before a capacity crowd, Centre Court had hundreds of empty seats and a nearly deserted press section when the Davenport-Dokic match began.

Now, Davenport is one win away from adding a fourth Grand Slam title to victories at the 1998 U.S. Open, 1999 Wimbledon and 2000 Australian Open.

The men's semifinals were set for Friday.

In the first match on Centre Court, second-seeded Andre Agassi was paired against No. 12 Patrick Rafter in what shaped up as a fascinating duel between counter-puncher and serve-and-volleyer.

Defending champion and top-seeded Pete Sampras, bidding for his seventh Wimbledon title and record-breaking 13th Grand Slam championship, faced 237th-ranked qualifier Vladimir Voltchkov in the second match.

Until last year, Davenport struggled at Wimbledon, failing to advance past the quarters in six appearances. But with her booming groundstrokes and improved mobility, she's now thriving on the grass.

"I've gotten a little bit more used to it," she said. "Last year was just amazing. I didn't think I could do it. This year, I know I can do it."

Davenport sailed through the draw last year. This time, coming off a back injury, she's had a much rougher road.

"Last year came so easy," she said. "It seemed like I was playing so well. Everything just clicked from the first match. This Wimbledon I've had to fight a lot harder, come back in a few situations and really hang in there."

Davenport holds a 9-3 edge in career meetings against Williams, but the two have never met on grass before.

The Williams vs. Williams showdown failed to live up to expectations, undermined by a slew of unforced errors, particularly by Serena. The 18-year-old younger sibling was a different player from the one who lost only 13 games in her first five matches and was the consensus favorite against her 20-year-old sister.

Nice catch

James Laden of Pampa caught a pair of channel cat, weighing 8 1/2 and 9 pounds, recently at Lake McClellan. He caught the fish in 8 feet of water.

Price ties record at Western Open

LEMONT, Ill. (AP) — At the Western Open, Nick Price took a glance at the leader board every once in awhile, expecting to see Tiger Woods' name on top of it. Instead, all he saw was his own name and his score dropping lower and lower.

While Woods was coming back to the rest of the players after his 15-stroke victory at the U.S. Open, nobody could touch Price. He played so well, he even let thoughts of a 59 creep into his mind after his eighth birdie.

He didn't get the 59. But his 9-under-par 63 in Thursday's first round was good enough to tie the tournament record and give him a 3-stroke lead.

"All in all, a really good day for me," said Price, who won the Western in 1993 and '94. "I needed something like that because the last five, six, seven weeks, I've been floundering a little bit."

Woods, playing for the first time since his record-shattering victory at the U.S. Open three weeks ago, was a little off all day. He left a lot of shots short, and the long putts that fell at Pebble Beach didn't drop.

He finished at 2-under 70, seven strokes behind Price. Jim Furyk was at 66, and Carl Paulson, Steve Stricker, Fred Couples and Stuart Appleby were another stroke back in the tournament sponsored by Advil.

"I just didn't hit the ball very close, and when I did, I didn't make the putts," Woods said.

For weeks, Price has felt as if he's hitting the ball well, only to have his scores creep into the 70s. But on Thursday morning he just got on a roll.

He had six birdies in the first nine holes, and then birdied Nos. 10 and 11.

"I got off to such a good start, I just kept going," he said. "When I birdied 11, I thought I may have an outside shot at 59. But once again, if you get too far ahead of yourself, it comes up and kicks you in the backside."

He picked up another stroke on the par-4 16th when he put his second shot a foot from the pin from 170 yards out.

Price had a chance to claim the tournament record all to himself on 17, but his birdie putt from about 5 feet rolled around the cup. The crowd gasped, and a frustrated Price swung his putter like a baseball bat before tapping in for par.

"It was the easiest putt I had all day — uphill, left to right on the right edge — and I just pulled it," he said. "That was a little annoying because I had holed a lot of putts that were tougher than that with more break. But hey, it all evens out in the wash."

Woods hadn't played since winning the U.S. Open, his third major title, on June 18. There was even a 10-day stretch where he didn't touch his clubs at all.
