

TEXAS TOPICS

The "un-Americanized Americans" of the District of Columbia—those extremely unfortunate people "without a country," have gone on strike.

In the day's mail comes a letter from A. G. Newmyer, of the Washington, D. C., Times, who wishes that we would call attention to this condition and join in the national movement to see if something cannot be done about it.

Everyone does not know that the residents of the District of Columbia, wherein is situated our national capital, are denied the right to vote. They have absolutely no voice in our government.

The original idea behind this writ of protection was that residents of the national capital were too closely allied with whichever party happened to be in power and that there would be highly influenced by the government jobs which they held.

If this were true, there are many government job-holders outside of the nation's capital who could be placed in the same category. Still these millions continue to vote, and the 619,000 loyal and highly literate Americans in the District of Columbia cannot get the polls.

Says Mr. Newmyer: "Residents of the District of Columbia have all the obligations of citizens of the United States, yet the right which Americans hold most dear—the right of representation in government."

"I am seeking your aid and cooperation in remedying this unfair discrimination against 619,000 loyal, highly literate and largely native-born Americans."

"The District's population (figures of the 1930 census) exceeds that of eight states, and the voting-age population is estimated at 423,900, exceeding the voting-age population of ten states."

"During the last fiscal year the District of Columbia paid in national taxes $17,322,929—more than the sum paid in such taxes by 25 of the states individually; more than was paid by nine states combined. In the levying of these taxes, and in their expenditure, our citizens had no voice."

"During the World War the District sent more men to the colors than any one of 17 states, although unrepresented in the body which declared war, and prosecuted it."

"There are other figures bearing on the District's contributions to the nation, but they pale into insignificance beside the basic principle of Democracy that every citizen should be represented in their government."

"After reading the debates of the Constitutional Congress indicates that there was no intent by the framers of our government to deny application of this principle to those who chanced to live in the national capital."

"The Constitution-makers unintentionally failed to give Congress the power analogous to that which is possessed with regard to the admission of new states, of granting representation in Congress, and in the electoral college, to population of the District when it becomes fit."

"There was introduced in the last Congress a Constitutional amendment which would right that wrong. It will be re-introduced in the Congress which convenes in January. Will you raise the voice of your powerful paper in behalf of this legislation, and the un-Americanized Americans of the District of Columbia?"

Mr. Newmyer's points appear to be well-known. We can see no valid reason why District of Columbia citizens should not have as much right to participate in government as the P.W.A. workers of Podunk, Ind. We are sympathetic with his campaign to remember the forgotten men and women of the D. of C.

An aerial sky-writer caused some consternation over the Panhandle Saturday. The sky-writer, shortly after he had emblazoned across the afternoon's clear sky his commercial message, there came a telephone call to the Pampa Daily News.

An excited voice on the other end wanted to know what it was all about. He was at Wheeler. The sky-writer had released his smoke over Pampa. This man had been driving along a Wheeler county highway. He could see the huge letters appearing in the west was so far away he couldn't see the sky-writer's plane.

What was happening up there was nothing less than a phenomenon to him. He was breathless until reassured from this end that everything was under control. "Well," he said, "I had heard about the hand-writing on the wall, but when

NEW OIL TAX SECTION WILL NET BIG FUND TO RAISE MORE MONEY THAN OTHER ACTS COMBINED

AUSTIN, Nov. 23 (AP)—The oil tax section of the omnibus bill passed at the last legislative session probably will raise more money than the other sections combined.

The gross production levy on oil was increased from 2 cents or 3 per cent of value to 2 1/2 cents or 2 1/2 per cent of value. The percentage tax applies when oil is selling for more than $1 a barrel.

If production should remain as low during the current fiscal year as in the last and there should be no price increase, additional revenue would be around $3,200,000 annually. But oil men are hopeful the allowable will be higher and that prices of crude will rise within a few months.

The legislature ordered a 50 per cent increase in the tax on gas, 37 1/2 per cent on sulphur and new taxes in carbon black, marble, cinnabar, and other ores.

J. W. Byrnes, director of the comptroller's department, estimated additional revenue from a tax of 3 per cent of value on natural and casinghead gas would be more than $150,000 yearly.

Ind that from the sulphur tax increase about $375,000 per year. First payments of the carbon black levy are due December 25. The tax is one-twelfth of a cent per pound when carbon black is selling for four cents a pound or less and three per cent of value when its market value is more than four cents.

Although the present sulphur tax is $1.03 per ton, its four times as large as that six years ago, some in the legislature believe it should go higher.

Byrnes said little revenue would be obtained from the new tax of ten cents a ton on marble and cinnabar and other ores.

The first thousand tons a year of any product are exempt.

It was inadvertently stated in Sunday's NEWS that the plates already were on sale. This was incorrect. The county's shipment of plates, approximately 9,000 of them, was received last weekend.

However, under the law, they cannot be placed on sale until March 1 of next year.

LICENSE PLATES WILL GO ON SALE MARCH 1

Texas' 1937 automobile license plates will not go on sale in Gray county until March 1, it was announced today by Ewing Leech, county tax assessor.

REPORT HITLER MAY ABANDON MOSCOW POST

GERMANY MAY BREAK OFF RELATIONS WITH RUSSIA

(By The Associated Press) Unconfirmed reports circulated in London diplomatic circles today that Germany might be considering breaking off relations with Moscow so the Nazis could assume a free hand in Spain.

The reports followed hard on the heels of a 45-minute conference between Joachim von Ribbentrop, German ambassador to Great Britain, and Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin on an undisclosed subject.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the British House of Commons that Great Britain will protect its shipping from either the Spanish government or the insurgents.

To put teeth into the already strict British arms export regulations, Eden announced the government would introduce a bill to make carrying of arms to Spain by British ships illegal.

Adding indirectly to the Russo-Japanese tension over intervention in the Spanish civil war was the sentencing to death of a German engineer by a Russian tribunal for anti-communist sabotage.

Authoritative Berlin newspapers warned that Germany stands behind every German abroad. The Nazi ambassador to Russia appealed for postponement of the execution until he could lodge a formal protest.

While the British cabinet awaited with concern a report on Spanish insurgent activities, the admiralty received a report from a British destroyer off Cartagena that the Spanish cruiser, Cervantes, was damaged by mysterious explosions yesterday.

A communique of the Madrid government, asserted submarines of a "foreign fleet" attacked government warships at the entrance to Cartagena harbor.

Insurgent air raiders bombed the heart of Madrid, dropping several bombs on the ministry of war as the insurgent blockade continued to evacuate between 300,000 and 450,000 persons to a haven to the east.

Renewed activity on the Biscay front, government reports said, threatened recapture of the insurgent strongholds of San Sebastian and Tolosa.

PAIR'S DISAPPEARANCE IS PROBED BY RANGERS

HARLINGEN, Nov. 23 (AP)—The disappearance of Luther Blanton, 57-year-old farmer, and his 24-year-old son John was investigated today by three Texas rangers.

The rangers, requested by relatives, sought some trace of the men after a posse of 100 officers and citizens searched three days the district in which the farmers were believed to have gone hunting.

The men left their home near San Perita Wednesday to hunt on a large tract of five hundred acres. Relatives feared they met with foul play.

Frank Blanton said he heard a shot about sundown Wednesday, apparently in the section in which his father and brother were supposed to be hunting.

Old timers say eight men disappeared in the vicinity of the lagoon during the past 15 years.

600 Feet Of Hose Received By City

Six hundred feet of hose for the Pampa fire department was received over the week-end. It will replace old hose which has begun to leak and will give the department additional reserve hose.

In the shipment were 300 feet of 2 1/2-inch hose, regular fire-fighting size; 200 feet of 1 1/2-inch hose off which two streams can be thrown from a single connection, and 100 feet of 1-inch hose for use on the booster pumps.

TO REORGANIZE CLUB

A meeting to reorganize Pampa's Townsend old-age pension club will be held at 7:30 p. m. today in the Gray county court room. There will be a census at tonight's meeting of the federal Security Law and of the state pension plan, it was stated today.

There are now enrolled in the Pampa schools at least 100 children who should have free lunches, according to Miss L. Shelby, school nurse. The schools have the facilities for taking care of the hungry children, but do not have the funds to buy food.

An appeal was made to the Red Cross and that organization can furnish $125 per month for two months only. At 15 cents per meal it would require $200 per month to feed the hungry children in one

Musical Interlude In Bendix Sitdown Strike

As they waited results of their "sitdown" strike, these Bendix Products Corporation workers in South Bend, Ind., "holding the fort" in the plant, enjoyed a round of singing and "orchestra" music.

Accordions, improvised drums, and megaphones comprised the musical instruments. Union officials said the 1,200 strikers, ignoring demands to leave, remained in the plant rather than wait outside in the cold. Food was passed to them through windows of the plant. Strikers sought unionization of all employes, numbering about 4,300.

AIR RAIDERS BOMB MADRID

MADRID, Nov. 23 (AP)—Insurgent air raiders attacked the Spanish capital today, dropping several bombs on the ministry of war building in the heart of the city.

Windows in the war ministry headquarters for the emergency defense council, were shattered when one explosive missile fell in the patio of the building.

Two automobiles standing in the courtyard were wrecked.

Several other bombs fell in the central district in the renewal of air

Opponents Claim He Married Blonde For Money

BUDAPEST, Nov. 23 (AP)—"Me Against Nine" Sarga (as they call him now in Budapest), donned a derby and Chesterfield and strode today from his modest flat to a gymnasium for a final dress rehearsal of two days' wholesale dueling.

A mite of a man, but bouncing with energy, Dr. Franz was stopped every few yards en route to the gymnasium by dueling-loving Hungarians. They told him to "be brave."

Tonight and tomorrow he's to fight nine opponents in defense of the honor of his blonde wife and their unborn baby. He was accused of marrying her for her money.

The 20-year-old wife, Magda, who now knows all, recovered her composure. She bade Dr. Sarga godspeed with the Hungarian equivalent of "Give it to 'em, Honey."

His 48-year-old mother, who is suffering a heart affliction, told him: "Call me up after it is over."

At the gymnasium, amid a great din of clattering foils, Sarga slipped out of his Chesterfield and shirt to disclose a fencing costume underneath.

Grabbing a foil, he made a series of furious lunges at Fencing Master Santelli, who finally had to give way to the dashing midget.

Santelli removed his mask and congratulated the Herr Doctor warmly.

The ambitious challenger wolfed his last meal before the nine duels in company with the Associated Press correspondent.

He ate a Bismarck herring and a hard roll, and drank beer and cognac.

Dr. Sarga said he probably would fight the duels in his horn-rimmed spectacles, which probably are the most repaired pair of glasses in Hungary. They have been shattered frequently in 17 previous duels.

The jugular veins of the contestants will be covered only with a light cloth about their necks. Sarga is the smallest of the duellists, but his hairy shoulders are the broadest of the ten.

Tonight's first duel will be the toughest, Dr. Sarga opined, and the two following it should be easy "because I'll be warmed up."

Budapest buzzed with speculation over whether Chief of Police Tibor Perceny would stop the duels. Generally, it thought not, because Chief Tibor loves the sound of clashing foils himself.

BOYS TO BE SUBJECT AT MEETING TONIGHT

After a covered dish supper at 7 o'clock today, parents and friends of boys will hear a talk by the Rev. J. H. Boles of Tulsa, first of a series planned to interest adults in boys' activities. The meeting will be in the cafeteria of the red building on high school campus, open to the public.

Parents, employers, and leaders of boys up to 16 years of age will find the program of especial interest, it was announced. Supt. E. B. Fisher, chairman of the training committee for the Adobe Walls Boy Scout council, will preside and introduce the speaker.

HIGHER COURT VOTE EVENLY DIVIDED 4-4

JUSTICE STONE IS ILL WITH DYSENTERY AT SESSION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—The New York unemployment insurance law, which taxes employers to pay benefits to those out of work, was held constitutional today by an evenly divided vote of the Supreme Court.

Announcement of the court was made in these words, after listing the title of three cases involving the act:

"The judgments in these cases are severally affirmed by an equally divided court."

Justice Stone, ill with dysentery, was not present today and did not participate in the decision. That made the vote 4 and 4.

How the justices were divided was not announced.

The New York court of appeals had upheld the insurance legislation.

Fourteen other states and the District of Columbia have similar laws. The states are: Alabama, California, Idaho, Indiana, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New York, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Texas, Wisconsin and Utah.

Under the New York measure, employers of four or more persons—with certain exceptions—are required to pay a tax on payrolls which is to be placed into a pool to aid the unemployed.

While the legislation was supplementary to some extent to the federal social security act, the latter statute was not involved in the litigation decided today.

The New York tax for 1936 was 1 per cent, 2 per cent for 1937 and 3 per cent thereafter. The fund is now in excess of $20,000,000 paid by more than 76,000 establishments for 2,500,000 workers.

Benefits, not to be paid until 1938, are based by the legislation on 50 per cent of the full-time weekly wage, with a minimum of $5 a week and a maximum of $15 to qualified unemployed workers.

Benefits could continue only for a maximum of 16 weeks a year. The money is to be paid into the federal treasury and returned as requisitioned by the states.

Under the federal measure, a tax is assessed against employers but 90 per cent of the amount is to be returned in states which had adopted unemployment insurance plans approved by the Federal Social Security board.

Constitutionality of the New York act was challenged by the Associated Industries of New York State, Inc., and by two Syracuse firms, E. C. Stearns and Co., and W. H. H. Vamberlin, Inc.

WEBB TURKEY DINNER TICKETS GOING WELL

Sale of tickets for the turkey dinner at Webb schoolhouse tomorrow night at 8 o'clock was brisk. Up to noon 25 Pampans had purchased tickets which brought a smile on the face of Guy McTaggart, chairman of the B. C. D. goodwill committee.

The Pampans will leave from the city hall at 7 o'clock. Cars will be available for those not having means of transportation. At least 50 are expected to make the trip.

Women of the Webb community will serve turkey with dressing, potato salad, cranberries, vegetables, pie and cake, all for 50 cents a plate.

Miss du Pont Is Sister-In-Looks To Roosevelts

NEW YORK (AP)—Miss Ethel du Pont, soon to be the sister-in-law of Mrs. John Boettiger, the president's daughter, and Mrs. James Roosevelt, his eldest son's wife, is his sister-in-looks.

Like Mrs. Wallis Simpson, American friend of King Edward VIII, these three represent the coming American type of beauty, says Penryn Stanlows, New York portrait painter and former motion picture director.

New Type In appearance, the finds they are not typically American. Their faces, and Mrs. Simpson's, are more a combination of English and oriental features, but this is the type—more aquiline and more intellectual—toward which he thinks the feminine flower of the United States is evolving.

As an artist he sees 10 similarities in smiling, slender, blonde Miss du Pont, Mrs. Boettiger and Mrs. James Roosevelt:

- 1. Well-balanced foreheads. 2. What you see are calve-boned faces (skulls showing through the flesh). 3. Slender, graceful necks. Especially admirable, Stanlows comments, is the balance between perception and intelligence shown by the molding of the foreheads.

Portraits of the New Deal trio, he says, would differ markedly only in coloring.

Trend Away From Dutch In the pretty English face which they resemble the nose is more aquiline, the teeth more prominent and the chin more delicate than in that of the present-day representative American lass. If depicting the latter, Stanlows would make the nose shorter and the chinbone broader than in painting the Roosevelt group.

But studying faces through the years, this 59-year-old artist discerns a trend away from the broad Dutch countenance toward the kind of beauty put on Page One by the romances of the Roosevelts.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By NEA Service. A Creole potato soup, served in cups, is just what your bridge club needs to improve its playing. This recipe will serve eight. Ingredients: five medium potatoes, one large onion, two quarts water, one tablespoon butter, one-half teaspoon celery salt, one-fourth teaspoon black pepper, one-third cup cream.

Peel potatoes and slice. Cut onion into pieces. Place in large pot with two quarts boiling salted water. Cook until vegetables are tender, about 20 minutes. Then run the soup through a strainer, forcing the potato and onion through with a heavy spoon.

Return to the pot and add the butter and seasoning. Cook about 15 minutes longer, until the mixture begins to turn smooth and creamy. Add the cream, stir, and serve the soup. Sprinkle chopped chives over the top of each cup. For extra richness, put a teaspoon of whipped cream in each cup just as it starts for the table.

Potato and Spinach Soup. Potato and spinach soup is really the above with chopped cooked spinach added. Use the same ingredients, with the exception of the cream. Substitute for the cream one cup freshly cooked and chopped spinach during the last 20 minutes of simmering.

Tomorrow's Menu. BREAKFAST: Orange juice, rice griddle cakes, syrup, coffee, milk. LUNCHEON: Potato and spinach soup, whole wheat nut muffins, grapefruit, tea, milk. DINNER: Stuffed celery, liver and bacon, mashed potatoes, creamed broccoli, cranberry tarts, coffee, milk.

Cream of mushroom soup should be right in season now. This recipe makes enough for one table of bridge. Double it if you want to delight two tables. Use one pound fresh mushrooms, two tablespoons butter, one quart whole milk, salt and pepper to taste. For the thickening, use two tablespoons flour.

Wash mushrooms and slice fine. Heat butter, add sliced mushrooms and cook until highly browned. Add milk, seasoning and bring to boil. In top of double boiler melt two tablespoons butter and slowly stir in two tablespoons flour. Into this butter and flour paste, slowly strain through sieve the mushrooms and milk which has been brought to a boil. Stir until completely mixed, then cook over hot water until soup thickens to desired consistency.

'MESSIAH' TO BE SUNG HERE AT CHRISTMAS

Chorus Invites All Singers To Join In Oratorio

A Christmas rendition of "The Messiah," Handel's oratorio, is announced by the Philharmonic chorus, which invites members of all church choirs of the city and other singers to join in the presentation. A definite date has not been set, but the oratorio will be sung shortly before Christmas day.

All who will sing in the chorus are asked to meet this evening at 7:30 at First Methodist church, for rehearsal. Lester Aldrich, experienced choral director, will be in charge.

Pampa singers have presented this Christmas oratorio before, and those who have sung in previous performances are especially invited to join the chorus this year.

YOU CAN THROW CARDS IN HIS FACE ONCE TOO OFTEN

When you have those awful cramps when your nerves are all on edge—don't take it out on the man you love.

Your husband can't possibly know how you feel for the simple reason that he is a man. A three-quarter wife may be no wife at all if she nags her husband seven days out of every month.

For three generations one woman has had another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the menstrual disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching old age.

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S, and go "Smiling Through." Adv.

Held in Murder He Discovered

Instead of discovering the murder of Morris Erde, wealthy 'Pumpernickel' king, as he claims, New York police charge Michael Bowen (above), handyman and night watchman at the building where Erde lived, committed the murder, hid the body three days, then dragged the body into the street and reported the crime.

'You keep out of trouble when you don't volunteer anything,' J. P. Morgan assured interviewers who crowded around him on return to New York from abroad. Genially parrying all questions, he refused to comment on anything except to admit that he had had 'a good time, good companions and good shooting' during his vacation.

HERE GOES for an OLD FASHIONED WINTER

Roaring Blasts likely to crack down on us for the next decade or so

NEXT time you are within hearing distance when the old timer rubs his grizzled chin and talks about the hard bitten winters of long ago, don't say to yourself, 'Just another, antique gone haywire with the notion that things ain't like they used to be in the good old days.' You'll be wrong if you think this patriarchal gentleman hasn't got something on the ball. It's taken a long time for him to vindicate himself, but there's no longer any doubt he knows his stuff. For it's all true what he says about the old fashioned winters. They were longer, they were whiter, they were colder. It's true that the young people of today have only a sketchy idea of what a roaring blast from the Arctic is really like. Science is authority for these statements—the science of meteorology. For a great many years the weather experts subscribed to the popular opinion that the old timer brigade was suffering hallucinations when it dilated on the biting cold of bygone winters. But they have ceased to scoff. Extensive research tends to prove that those seasons were really what they were cracked up to be. The theory now gaining acceptance is that the weather travels in cycles of cold winters and warm winters. The cycle in which our grandparents passed their youth happened to be one of the cold ones. Of still greater importance is a second conclusion recently arrived at by meteorologists. It is that we are at the threshold of a cycle of cold winters such as those the old folks talk about. J. B. Kincer of the Weather Bureau in Washington points to the interesting thought that centuries, like years, have their winters and their summers. By this he means that long sustained periods of cold weather may be called the 'winter' of the century in which they occur, just as the prevalence of warm weather over a period of years may be termed the 'summer' of a century. Up until last winter we had been passing through one of these periodical summers. With the lower temperatures which made their appearance then, Mr. Kincer thinks it likely we may be entering upon a periodical winter. He explains that it is a surmise on his part, not a prophecy. The reason that little credence has heretofore been placed in the fabulous yarns concerning the tough qualities of old fashioned winters is that the difference in living conditions between the present and the past would make the earlier era harsher by contrast. 'Why shouldn't the people who experienced the discomforts of those times feel convinced in their own minds that the old time winters were much colder than those of recent years?' the skeptics have asked. 'Keeping warm used to be a difficult job; now it is accom-tomobile motors, as they are manufactured now, are capable of withstanding the hardest blows of winter if they are properly protected. Recent surveys have shown, however, that owners are more conscious that ever of the necessity of acting in time to avoid the inconvenience and expense of frozen engines. One of the principal lessons taken to heart is that the motor should be protected by the best anti-freeze obtainable, one of permanent type which will not boil away and leave the owner at the mercy of the elements. With an old fashioned winter on its way, automobile authorities point out that there is more reason than ever that this precaution be taken early. All branches of transportation—railroads, bus lines, airplane companies—are watching closely the course of weather events in the light of Mr. Kincer's 'surmise' concerning the approach of another cycle of hard winters. But none will be more interested than the family of automobile owners for they know that the menace of low temperatures calls for early precautions.

SIXTO LANDS—SO DOES QUINTANA

Service to Women Brings Honor

In recognition of her work and vision in broadening women's opportunities, Virginia C. Miss Gildersleeve holds the medal presented to her at the organization's Friendship Dinner.

Roosevelt Cheered on His Way

This crowd on the pier at Charleston, S. C., sent President Roosevelt on his way to Buenos Aires with a resounding cheer. From the main truck of the cruiser Indianapolis, carrying the president, flies the presidential flag, a blue one bearing the president's seal and four white stars. Below it is the American flag.

City-Laid Eggs Coming Up!

Eggs from some of her 15,000 'penthouse' chickens are gathered by Miss Lillian Swenson, 19, at a Long Island poultry place conducted on modern lines. Eggs laid in the individual coops slide down to a collecting tray. In front of each cage is a chart, and if Biddy isn't laying her quota of eggs, she goes to market. By use of individual cages, chickens are being raised in New York and Chicago skyscrapers, with approval of health authorities. Music is provided to make the hens lay better.

WORLD'S BIGGEST SUCKER IS THE 'WISE GUY'

As a general rule, you will find that the biggest sucker is the world is the wise guy.

The wise guy has a deep contempt for suckers. He's too smart to get caught in any of the ordinary sucker-traps. So he goes his way, forgetting that there is no fool on earth like the fool who doesn't know that he is a fool, and sooner or later fate catches up with him and lets him have it behind the ear.

You will find a good scattering of these wise guys in the country's jails and penitentiaries—lodged there because, in their worldly wisdom, they figured that only saps work for a living. And the biggest suckers of all are the ones you find in the death house.

The New York police recorded an unusually striking case of this kind recently when they arrested a hoodlum named Anthony Garlaus on a charge of murder. Garlaus admitted killing an innocent bystander during the holdup of a barroom.

"I learned my lesson 12 years ago," he calmly told the cops. "I stuck up a store in Jamaica and the fellow behind the counter said 'Please don't shoot.' I gave the guy a break and then, when I was running out, he started to yell for help—and there I was in Sing Sing doing a 10 to 20-year stretch because I was soft.

"While I was there, I made up my mind I'd never give a sucker a break again."

Fortified by this high resolve, Garlaus the other day set out to rob a barroom. While the holdup was in progress, there entered Isaac Shean, 55, who was stepping into a bar for the first—and, as it turned out, the only—time in all his life.

"This old guy got in my way and I plugged him," said Garlaus. "He ran at me and I tripped him and when he tried to get up I said to myself, 'I'm giving this guy too much chance.' So I plugged him a couple of times, and when he fell down I gave it to him again."

Now, what was the result, for Garlaus, of all of this worldly wisdom, this wise-guy knowledge with its contempt for softness and suckers?

The result is that instead of facing a stretch in prison, he faces the electric chair, before whose grim finality wise guys and suckers look just exactly alike.

Indeed, the prison and the electric chair and the gallows exist for the stupid. Take this man as a sample. He was too smart to work for a living—and because of his smartness he spent a third of his life behind the bars. Coming out, he was too smart to give a sucker a break; consequently he is getting his feet in shape for a hike through the green door and down the "last mile."

Could anything be dumber than that kind of smartness?

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON.—Among big interests which bitterly opposed President Roosevelt's re-election, but are now making goo-goo eyes—they're known among cynical New Dealers as the "forgive-and-forgetters"—the big electric power companies can expect the least sympathy.

The administration still regards these corporations as the bad boys of big business and believes it has broken the industry's grip on the people. Nearly everyone who has talked about power with the president lately is convinced that there will be no letdown in the steady pressure on various fronts for cheaper and cheaper electricity.

There will be more power legislation in the next Congress. Some of it will be designed to integrate and strengthen existing set-ups.

It's an excellent bet that Roosevelt will again push the St. Lawrence waterways project with its huge possibilities for cheap power in New York state.

Chairman Arthur E. Morgan of TVA, whose ideas as to how to deal with private power companies are far less militant than those of most other New Dealers, is likely to retire within the next few months.

Added bitterness has been injected by widespread belief that the "power trust" made extraordinary effort to drive from public life members of Congress who last year were conspicuous in fighting for the bill to regulate holding companies.

Despite a pro-New Deal sweep, it is charged, most such members had a hard time and Driscoll of Pennsylvania, who exposed the Associated Gas & Electric Company's fake telegrams, and Sisson of New York were defeated by power company efforts, it is alleged.

No one except the president seems to know yet the extent to which his conference a few weeks before election on a proposed power pool in the Tennessee Valley was a campaign gesture, although it is known that politics was a factor.

A three-month extension of the existing agreement for sale of TVA power was arranged, but insiders insist Roosevelt will be hard-boiled in demanding wide-spread distribution of TVA power at low rates and acceptance of the principle that present transmission lines function as common carriers for both private and government-produced power.

Power enthusiasts in high posts agree that TVA power eventually will be serving such large cities as Knoxville, Chattanooga, Memphis, and Nashville.

Power companies now buying huge amounts of electricity from TVA would face a shortage of power if they were to refuse to buy or were denied the government product. They would have a hard time raising money to build new generating facilities in the face of government competition.

On the other hand, their capital structures are said to be so inflated that they can't afford to sell at the cheap rate the government seeks.

The present agreement restricts TVA to distribution in small northern Alabama and Mississippi areas, but it is charged that private companies long since have violated the agreement by trying to compete in these areas.

TVA Directors David Lilienthal, Harcourt Morgan, and others who claim the backing of the president seek to extend public transmission and distribution through large sections so that there may really be a "yardstick."

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

NEW YORK.—The joys of being a celebrity aren't all confined to hero-worship and ne plus ultra limousines. They constantly have to deal with job-seekers, charity solicitors, autograph maniacs, strangers, and spongers. It is interesting to compare their various manners of meeting these obligations.

Arthur Toscanini is eagerly sought by interviewers after each crossing because he contributes excellent copy. He has a pleasant way with strangers but does not encourage aimless conversation.

Then there's Jimmy Walker. No selective list of name personalities would be complete without Ina Claire who is sure to bob up with a wealth of coolly sophisticated small talk. Kathryn Brush talks just like her novels, and so do Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Norris. Happily, Gertrude Stein doesn't talk anything like her berserk writings. Her exchanges of pleasantries are always sane and understandable.

Then there is Jimmy Durante who, though he may give the impression of having staves in his throat, is a surprisingly serious conversationalist. He seldom talks about his achievements unless prodded. Then he opens up.

Pirella LaGuardia's moods are a gauge to his remarks. He usually talks in a frank, open vein, unphrased but friendly. However, he can erupt with volcanic abruptness.

Finally (and you knew he couldn't be left out) Jimmy Walker is still in the van of infectious greeters. Although he isn't about as much as he used to be, the former boy mayor has no peer in the matter of putting a stranger at ease. His glib rhetoric has made for many happy moments in the lives of thousands who met him briefly and passed on to other ways.

Jack Pearl is a sincere person but he never talks in dialect of stage. He is extraordinarily superstitious. Conrad Nagel meets strangers as easily as he faces movie cameras. Carl Huggel puts forward a shay, slow drawl, saying little but meaning what he does say. Babe Ruth is sincere in his anxiety not to be misunderstood.

Talulah Bankhead is frank, generous, talkative. She can, and frequently does, keep three cigarettes lit with as many conversations going at the same time. No thought entering her head is turned away without expression.

HOW'S YOUR HEALTH

Based on DR. LADCO CALISTON for the New York Academy of Medicine

The Clinical Thermometer. One of the important medical instruments in use, the clinical thermometer is no doubt the most widespread. Practically every family has one or more thermometers and many are skilled in reading its cryptic scale.

The clinical thermometer has an interesting history. To begin with, it shares with the blood pressure instrument an uncommon origin in that both were invented not by physicians, but by non-medical men of ingenuity.

Blood pressure was first studied by Stephen Hales, an English clergyman born in 1677. The clinical thermometer, not of course in its present form, was invented by the Italian scientist and astronomer Galileo, who was also among the first to measure the pulse rate by using as a timing instrument the excursions of a pendulum of given length.

The diagnostic significance of body temperature was long appreciated. We find descriptions of fevers in the literature of the Greek physicians. But precise thermometry, that which measures minute variations in body temperature, is an achievement of the last century. The thermometer of Galileo contained alcohol. The modern one makes use of mercury.

The mercurial thermometer was invented by Roemer. At first this valuable instrument was neglected. In 1859, however, the German physician, Carl Wunderlich, made a painstaking study of variations in body temperature in health and in disease. His work served as a foundation for the science of thermometry.

The thermometer in use in the United States, which differs from those used in western, central and eastern Europe, was made by the German instrument maker, Daniel Gabriel Fahrenheit, who died 200 years ago. The scale on this thermometer, registering normal average body temperature as 98.6, was arbitrarily arrived at. It has not for example, the more logical scale of the Celsius thermometer, the degrees of which are 100th parts of the temperature range between the freezing and boiling points of water.

The clinical thermometer is a valuable instrument, but dangerous in the hands of the untrained. Used as a crude index of the severity of illness, it is liable to prove very misleading.

DONATION IS MADE TO RETAIL TRADE COUNCIL

Pampa merchants, members of the Pampa Credit association, and Board of City Development directors voted to raise $50 as a donation to the Council of Retail Trade Association at a joint meeting Friday night in the city hall.

The association is composed of leaders from all craft organizations for the purpose of protecting retail trade against unjust taxation for old age pensions. The money will be used to send out bulletins, traveling expenses, etc.

Plans call for having a representative in Austin whose duty it will be to see that taxes are not placed on the retail dealers when it should be on some other line.

Twenty Pampa merchants and B. C. D. directors attended the meeting.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Frederic J. Haskin

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. How many conventions are held in the United States? C. H. A. The United States has approximately 18,000 conventions a year.

Q. Have any villages been built on the land reclaimed from the Zuider Zee? A. G. A. Two new villages have grown up as a result of the drainage, namely Sloodorp and Middenmeer.

Q. Who are the Americans appointed by the Pope as members of the Pontifical Academy of Scientists? J. W. A. The Americans honored are as follows: Alexis Carrel of the Rockefeller Institute, George D. Birkhoff of Harvard, Robert A. Millikan of the California Institute of Technology, Thomas Hunt Morgan of the California Institute of Technology, George Sperti of Cincinnati, and Hugh S. Taylor of Princeton University.

Q. Who instituted the use of latitude and longitude? R. F. A. Latitude and longitude were first laid down by Eratosthenes, a Greek mathematician and geometer, who lived in the 2nd Century, B. C.

Q. When and where did Mary Baker Eddy's son live? A. G. A. George W. Glover was born at Sanborn Bridge (now Tilton), New Hampshire, on September 11, 1844. He died at Lead, South Dakota, on December 27, 1915. Most of his life was spent in Minnesota, Dakota (when it was a territory), and South Dakota. He left children and grandchildren.

Q. What is the tallest hotel in the United States? The largest? C. K. A. The Waldorf-Astoria, New York City, which is 47 stories is the tallest. The Stevens, Chicago, with 3,000 rooms is the largest.

Q. What State leads in total income from manufacturing? M. S. A. New York is first, with an income of $2,014,000,000. Pennsylvania is second with an income of about $1,352,000,000.

Q. What are the best plays of 1935-36? E. H. A. Burns Mantle, eminent dramatic critic, has selected the following as the season's best plays: Winterest, Idiot's Delight, End of Summer, First Lady, Victoria Regina, Boy Meets Girl, Dead End, Call it a Day, Ethan Frome, and Pride and Prejudice.

Q. What is it about walnut that stains the hands? What will remove the stains? S. S. A. Tannic acid is the acid in the walnut shells which stains. It can only be allowed to wear off.

Q. Who invented the English alphabet? R. F. A. It came directly from the Latin. The Romans borrowed it from the Greeks; the Greeks from the Phoenicians. It is not known whence the Phoenicians obtained their alphabet. It has been suggested that the twenty-two characters were adopted from the hieroglyphs of Egypt, the cuneiform characters of Babylon, or the symbols used by the Hittites or Cretans.

A theory widely accepted today is that the Phoenicians, being great traders and therefore familiar with the various systems of writing used by the nations dwelling around the Mediterranean, chose from them such symbols as they needed and thus compiled their own alphabet.

Q. How many red-caps are there in the Pennsylvania Station, New York? M. H. A. Approximately 400.

Q. Do students take physical examinations before learning to fly? D. L. A. Prospective airman pass physical examinations before students' licenses are given them. There are about 700 examiners, all practicing physicians, who have been designated by the Bureau of Air Commerce. They are distributed throughout the United States.

Q. How large a container is a puncheon? W. B. A. It is a large cask holding from 72 to 120 gallons.

The Wrong Murderer

By HUGH CLEVELY

Chapter 30 LEE-RAMSDEN'S PLAN "But how did Miss Fraser know about Patty Bassett?" asked Terence.

Lee-Ramsden shrugged. "She said she was going for a walk. She didn't go for a walk; she listened outside the door and heard all we were saying."

"But why has she turned against me?" Old Lee-Ramsden shrugged his shoulders.

"Hell holds no fury like a woman scorned," he quoted. "Ruth is in love with you, Mahony. And... well, you did rather push Ella Little down her throat this morning. But I didn't suspect that her jealousy would lead her to such extremes. It was only a momentary madness. She's sorry for it now, and would give anything to undo what she's done."

"Oh, damn!" said Mahony in a hopeless tone. "Things could not very well be much worse, he thought. Yet, in the middle of his own worry, he felt sorry for Ruth. Poor kid, he reflected, she must be feeling pretty rotten."

He looked up at Lee-Ramsden with an air of decision. "I must warn those men of mine, Bassett and the others, at once," he said.

"They've been warned," answered Lee-Ramsden. While Mullins was telephoning he rang up that number who told me and warned Bassett. He has promised to ring me later and let me know where they've all gone."

"Yes. And so far as lying low is concerned, I can fix you up. I own a house in the St. John's Wood Road which is empty at present. I'll give you the key and you can go there and wait till you hear from me again. Here's the key; the house is number 518. You'd better get there as quickly and quietly as you can before anybody spots you."

He handed over the key and they left the tea-shop. Lee-Ramsden returned to his own house. He was well satisfied with his morning's work. Mahony was out of mischief for the time being.

Ruth also was out of mischief. Lee-Ramsden calculated that, finding she could not get into touch with Mahony by telephone, she would go round to his diggings and leave a note for him. That note would never reach him.

Ruth acted as Lee-Ramsden had calculated. To begin with, she tried to ring Mahony up. For ten minutes she tried to ring him up, only to find his number was engaged. Failing to get into touch with him that way she got out her car and drove round to his lodgings.

His landlady told her that Mr. Mahony had gone out a few minutes previously in a great hurry; he had not said where he was going, but she was expecting him in for lunch.

Ruth debated in her mind for a moment; should she wait, or should she not? She decided not to wait; every moment she waited meant a moment's delay in warning Bassett and other members of Mahony's band in the East End. She left a brief note for Mahony, telling him that Bassett by telephone, had come way to the nearest post office, and rang up the number that she had heard her guardian tell Lawson.

The number was engaged. She waited a couple of minutes and rang again. Still the number was engaged. She waited and rang up, and yet again, and each time the number was engaged.

She wasted nearly a quarter of an hour trying to ring Bassett. Lawson had taken his own precautions against anybody sending a warning to Bassett by telephone. Three men in different call boxes in different parts of London, were ringing Bassett's number, putting in calls one after the other in rapid succession.

At last, thoroughly dispirited, she left the postoffice. Her car was outside the postoffice and she stepped into it and set off at once for the East End. Since she could not get Bassett on the telephone, she intended to warn him in person.

Her car was a long, rakish two-seater that could move, and she was a good driver; in spite of the traffic she made good time through the city. Pennyfields, she knew was somewhere off the East India Dock Road. A short distance down the East India Dock Road she stopped to ask a policeman the way to Royal Street.

He looked at her in some surprise. "You'll cause a bit of sensation, miss if you drive along Royal Street in that car," he told her.

"I can't help that, I'm going there," she answered. "And I'm in a hurry."

He shrugged his shoulders and directed her. She drove a little farther along the East India Dock Road, turned to the right, and plunged into the maze of mean, narrow, crooked streets fringing the bank of the Thames.

In a few minutes she reached Royal Street and drove along it. The house she wanted was next door to a small, dingy pawnshop. She stepped out of the car, crossed the pavement, and rapped on the front door. After a short delay the door was opened by a little, squinting, bowlegged man, dressed in a respectable check suit. He stared at her and from her to the car in undisguised astonishment.

"Ah! wot can I do for you, Miss?" he asked with an air of exaggerated politeness.

"I want to see Mr. Bassett, at once; it's very urgent," answered Ruth quickly.

There was a sound of great urgency in her tone, and the man did not waste time arguing. "Hey, Patty," he bawled. "Well, wot is it, Chippy?" "Greta Garbo's called," answered Chippy.

There was a sound of heavy footsteps, and the bowlegged, disreputable figure of Patty Bassett appeared at the top of the stairs leading down to the basement kitchen. He too looked in surprise at the dainty figure of Ruth, and past her at the luxurious car outside.

"Struth!" he observed. Ruth went forward quickly. "Are you Mr. Bassett?" she said.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

The surprisers get a surprise, tomorrow

HOLLYWOOD.—Director selected them early this year for a couple of roles in his new picture, Frank Capra was the director, one who delegates about the casting of even his minor roles.

Each of these ladies had an interesting career on stage and screen, but their names, like those of most character actors in the movies, meant nothing to film fans. Mrs. Margaret Seddon, playing Mrs. Margaret McWade—even today, can you place them?

But the "pixilated sisters" Ah-h! You and Mr. Deeds may go to town and to the head of the class!

Deep In "Pixilation" Margaret McWade thinks it was "one chance in a million" that Mrs. McWade and Mrs. Seddon think it is something out of a book—and perhaps, too, they are wondering when they will be allowed to give up "pixilation" and return to normalcy.

They are at it again with Edward Everett Horton, playing his aunts in "One Man's Bonus," and after that—well, the chances are that the scenarists will begin "writing in" roles for a pixilated pair.

It's unusual, this belated "discovery" of a team. Few enough players strictly are lifted to feature billing or stardom by a bit well played, but it is rarer still when a couple of players have that experience.

Clark Gable sprang from a bit—he was just a truck driver, remember, in "The Easiest Way" with Constance Bennett. And Gable was just a little girl whose doll's head was shot off in a western picture. Bing Crosby sang in "The King of Jazz," and things started picking up for Bing if not for the picture. Hugh Herbert, immensely popular comedian today, built his early screen career on bits that grew from film to film.

But the pixilated sisters? Mrs. McWade has an explanation: "It's not hard to understand. It wasn't we who clicked into each other; even collectively. It was a grand part. If you recall, we turned the tide by our testimony in favor of Gary Cooper at an insanity hearing. He was a beloved character, and by helping him we—helped ourselves."

Lay It All To Part William Powell can trace his first "notices" back to bits, including that dastardly dog he played in "Beau Geste," and Shirley Temple may not remember it but she once was just a little girl whose doll's head was shot off in a western picture. Bing Crosby sang in "The King of Jazz," and things started picking up for Bing if not for the picture. DEER ARRESTED. HEEDLEY, Nov. 22 (AP)—A deer (not deer) was arrested here recently. The young buck was caught by the town marshal as he wandered down a business street. It developed the deer fled the Word ranch after being deborned. Cowboys said they clipped the animal's antlers after it attacked a visitor.

GORILLAS WHO REAPERS TO FIGHT BATTLE TUESDAY AFTERNOON

HOT BRAWLY WILL COME TO THRILLING END

MANY OF BOYS WILL BE HARVESTERS NEXT YEAR

No official championship will be at stake. No cup will be given the winner. No blast of hands or sound of trumpets will herald their feat. Nevertheless, a mighty important football game will be played at Harvester field tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock when the Gorillas of Coach Bob Curry meet the Reapers of Coach Tom Herod in a sudden death battle to close the 1936 football season. No admission will be charged and fans are urged to see the game.

Many of the players on both teams will wear the green and gold of Pampa high school next year. Two mighty interested spectators will be Coach Herod and J. C. Prejan of the Harvesters who will probably select their Harvester material for 1937.

The two elevens have been at loggerheads all season. Each has played and defeated some of the same teams during the season. They have scrimmaged each other and both have battled the Harvesters but they have never met officially.

Although age and experience will be on the side of the Gorillas, dope points to a Reaper victory despite the fact that they represent Junior high school while the Gorillas have advanced a step.

The big job of the Gorillas will be to stop the terrific line plunges of Jack Wear, big fullback, and the deadly passes of Pete Dunaway to Freeman, halfback, and Fleming and Clemmons, ends.

The Gorilla offense will be in the hands of Hubert, quarterback, who is a real ball totting prospect, Esslinger, redheaded halfback, and Coshow, a fullback recently transferred.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Gray County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Ophelia Moseley by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the State Court of Gray County, Texas, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Pampa, Texas, on the first Monday in January, A. D. 1937, the same being the fourth day of January, A. D. 1937, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 12th day of November, A. D. 1936, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 4665, wherein Gordon Robert Moseley, Sr., is Plaintiff, and Ophelia Moseley is Defendant, and said petition alleging as shown in the attached copy of Plaintiff's petition, to-wit:

1. That plaintiff and defendant were duly and legally married on or about April 16, 1921, and were separated without fault on the part of the plaintiff on February 15, 1932.

2. That plaintiff has been a continuous and actual bona fide resident and inhabitant of the State of Texas for more than six months and more than six months, immediately next preceding the filing of this petition. That the defendant resides in Long Island, New York.

3. That there are two children of this marriage, under the age of sixteen years, and that there are no other children of any age and none other under the age of sixteen years. That the names of the children are Catherine Moseley, aged 15, and Gordon Robert Moseley Jr., aged 12. That both children reside in the State of New York, with their mother.

4. That on February 15, 1932, the defendant, voluntarily without fault or provocation on the part of the plaintiff abandoned the bed and board of the plaintiff with intention of living separately and apart from him, and that she has so lived until the present time, a period of more than three years. All of which conduct on the part of the defendant is alleged to constitute abandonment for three years with intention of living separately and apart from the plaintiff.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that the defendant be cited to answer this petition and that upon final hearing hereof that he be granted a divorce from the defendant, and that he be awarded to him the custody and control of his minor children, and that he have his costs, and such other and further relief as he may be properly entitled to either in law or equity.

F. A. GARY, Attorney for the Plaintiff. Herein Paul Noel, and have you before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND and the Seal of said Court, at office in Pampa, Texas, this 12th day of November, A. D. 1936.

ferred from the line where he was a sensation all season. A couple of big lines will function in front of the fleet backs. Either of them will present more weight than the Harvesters could muster. The Gorilla forward line is led by Carl Brown, 210 pounds, and Solomon, 185. Wisley, a guard, is an outstanding prospect.

The Reapers will have to give a little in the line. Rumble, Candler and the ends are strong Reaper linemen who are scheduled to give the bigger Gorillas trouble.

DENNY SHUTE CAPTURES PGA GOLFING TITLE

JIMMY THOMSON LOSES IN FINALS 3 TO 2

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Densmore (Denny) Shute, 32, who failed five times to win the American amateur title, but has collected $30,000 in eight years, today won the professional golfers' championship crown. His money total included the tournament's $1,000 top prize.

He whipped Jimmy Thomson, from Shawnee-on-Deleware, Pa., 3 and 2 in the finals yesterday here.

And he beat Jimmy for the clincher on a hole made to order for the big bomber, the long, 673 yard par five 34th.

He had Jimmy two down and the blaster left an opening by pushing his drive into the woods. Denny spanked a spoon shot smack to the green, four feet from the pin.

That was the last shot he had to hit for Jimmy sliced into a trap and, after missing his put for a four, conceded the match. Shute got the jump on Thomson on the first hole and never let up.

Shute's only other major title—the British open in 1933—was won in a playoff with Craig Wood. His best in the national open was seven years ago when he finished two shots behind Bobby Jones and Al Espinosa. He was runner up to Tom Creavy in the P. G. A. five years ago. He succeeded Johnny Revolta as P. G. A. champ.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Well, if here isn't Prof. Dick Harlow back at the head of the football class again... it's his second visit this season... Harlow's Redskins didn't win but holding the Yale to a 14-13 score is Saturday's No. 1 gridiron achievement in this book... followed closely, of course, by Georgia's 7-7 tie with Fordham, Indiana's 20-20 tie with Purdue and Notre Dame's upset win over Northwestern.

President Dodds has cut down the drinking at Princeton games, but you should see the boys (and girls) catching up on the way home... Jimmy McLarrin continues to get fat and rich on livestock rights... He looks like Alabama for the Rose Bowl... West Coast advices say if Washington is nominated it will choose Alabama... Jimmy Bradcock wants to call the Dodgers the "yals."

Ducky Pond, Yale coach, won his sobriquet by twice swimming to touchdowns over Harvard in 1923 and 1924... Look for a Jimmy Bradcock-Joe Louis bout at Atlantic City to be signed and sealed no later than Thursday.

That Penn team began to function the minute they relieved Murray of the quarterback worries and turned him foot loose at one of the halves, where he belongs... the original guarantee for Jimmy Bradcock to meet Joe Louis was $400,000... this was cut to $300,000 and 50 per cent of the profits over $500,000... Now, the wisecracks say, Bradcock will sign for a $200,000 purse... which may mean that Madison Square Garden will be a party to the proceedings, after all.

HIGH PRICED CALF. FLOYDADA, Nov. 23 (AP)—A fat calf sold at auction here during the recent boys' club show brought Kenneth Martin of the South Plains Community $90.00. The high bid of 1 1/2 cents a pound was made by Jim Taylor, Quataque ranchman, from whose herd the calf was bought by the boy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Stunned by upsets of most of the nation's proud gridiron clubs, the fans are groping around for the answers to two big questions this week.

Which teams will play in the Rose Bowl January 1 for the mythical national title? And who will win the Army-Navy game?

The annual service classic at Philadelphia Saturday signals a thrilling season's end, although scattered games will be played through December. Already the Big Ten and many of the major teams in the East and throughout the country have concluded operations for the year.

The south probably will settle one half of the Rose Bowl question while Washington, the current leader, and Washington state in the East are the ranking candidates. Even before Northwestern took its 26-6 thumping from Notre Dame there was little, if any, likelihood the Wildcats would consider an invitation.

Alabama concludes its conference campaign Thanksgiving Day against Vanderbilt, L. S. U., which warmed up its offense in a 93-0 rout of Southwestern Louisiana, plays its traditional rival, Tulane.

While Southern critics were inclined to rate L. S. U. more highly, indications were that Washington, with an old Rose Bowl beating in mind, would lean toward Alabama should the Huskies come through in the west.

East: The Army-Navy game is "tops" this week and it looks more exciting like a toss-up. The Cadets have one more victory and one less defeat than their rivals but Navy's slate appears to have been a trifle tougher.

Fordham, still the only unbeaten big team in the East despite two ties, holds up against New York University. The oldest of the Turkey Day classics finds Pennsylvania a strong favorite over Cornell's sophomores. Pittsburgh meets its city rival, Carnegie Tech.

Midwest: Northwestern holds the Big Ten title regardless of the outcome. The oldest of the Turkey Day classics finds Pennsylvania a strong favorite over Cornell's sophomores. Pittsburgh meets its city rival, Carnegie Tech.

Nebraska crushed Kansas state, 40-0 to tie up the big six championship. The game was a west coast meet Oregon state, 18-0 conqueror of Oregon. Kansas and Missouri conclude the conference season Thursday.

Southwest: Texas Christian U., which conquered Rice 13-0 on Slingin' Sammy Baugh's day, has a chance to take the undisputed Southwest conference lead Saturday by beating Southern Methodist, last year's champion which went down 13-7 before Baylor.

Arkansas, now tied with the Horned Frogs, plays a non-conference rival, Tulsa, Thursday. Other conference clashes send Texas against Texas A. & M., Thursday and Baylor against Rice Saturday.

Pacific Coast: While the Washington-Washington state struggle is the week's big air the All-Los Angeles encounter between Southern California and U. C. L. A. probably will stir up as much excitement. All four were idle Saturday.

Southeastern: Topped by the Alabama-Vanderbilt and L. S. U. Tulane games, the conference season winds up with a flock of traditionally important games. Auburn plays Florida and Georgia Tech plays Georgia. Tennessee and Kentucky meet Thursday.

Southern: Duke still has to get by North Carolina state Thursday to retain its title. North Carolina and Virginia Military, each with five victories and one loss, have a chance to tie if Duke should lose. They play Virginia and Virginia Tech, respectively.

Rocky Mountain: Denver and Colorado, running second and third to Utah state, vie for runner-up honors Thursday, while the leader encounters Idaho, a non-conference rival. Other Thanksgiving games send Colorado state against Utah and Montana state against Montana Mines.

Santa Clara Waits For TCU Invasion

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23 (AP)—Loyola University's football team unable to shake Santa Clara's Broncos out of an unblemished record looked ahead today to their last appearance here this year.

As Santa Clara headed homeward to prepare for an inter-sectional clash with Texas Christian, the Lions got down to work for San Francisco University's invasion, next Sunday.

Loyola lost to the Broncos, 13 to 6, in a bruising game, rough at times, that saw the Lions score first. The Broncos kicked right back to take a 7 to 6 lead with a pull ahead in the third period with another touchdown.

Louisiana State's first undefeated grid team was the team of 1895, a dozen consecutive points this season.

Sandie Wonder Team Is Confident Of Scoring Riot

With only three days left to taper off training for their big game of the year, the Thanksgiving Day clash with the Amarillo Sandies on Butler field in Amarillo, the weather had to step in and take a hand in the proceedings today.

Rain or shine, hot or cold, however, the Harvesters were scheduled to go through a long workout this afternoon. There was still work to be done on a few pet plays that have been in the process of development for the past couple of weeks.

Then there is the little matter of finding a defense to stop the antics of Amarillo's ballet dancer, Wildhorse Mayes. Although the Sandies have all stater Bob Gleason, Mayes is the big noise this year. Little Jo Jo Davis, up from Masonic Home of Fort Worth, is the third Amarillo threat.

The big Amarillo line, led by All State Eldon Ricketts, who, like Gleason, is having to take a back seat to Miller over the other side of the line, will be another problem.

It will be faced by a thin green line where the largest man will weigh 75 pounds and the next will top sales at 165 pounds.

Although fans don't concede the Harvesters a chance of upsetting the dope, the players themselves are to be convinced. This year's green and gold eleven doesn't know he would be beaten. The score might be against them but they won't be eaten until the final gun.

Kind of determination might break orth and come into its own Thursday afternoon.

Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejan are hoping that they can send their regular 11 men into the game but there was doubt in camp this morning as little J. W. Graham, halfback, reported to school still limping and Norman Cox' split finger was still sore.

Graham received a hip injury in the Berger game which kept him from playing against Plainview last Friday. Albert Ayer replaced Graham in the lineup and played a stellar game. Cox, whose finger was split in the Berger battle, was replaced by Topsy Reynolds who also filled the gap like a veteran.

The Sandies, confident of victory, will hold "only light workouts this week as Coaches Blair Cherry and Howard Lynch prepare their charges for the final hurdle of the district title campaign," according to the Amarillo News this morning.

PAMPA-SANDIE BATTLE HOLDS TOP INTEREST

EYES OF TEXAS TO BE ON HARVESTERS AND SANDIES

DALLAS, Nov. 23 (AP)—Thirty-one teams remained in the race for the Texas Interscholastic league football championship today but almost half of them clung only to a mathematical chance, their hopes resting on possible upsets of district leaders.

Traditional Thanksgiving Day games will tell the story in most instances, but scattering district ties appeared likely.

And as the final week dawned for all but sixteen teams only four remained unbeaten and untied—Amarillo, North Side (Port Worth), Hillsboro and Tivy High of Kerrville.

Dallas Tech fell from the select list last week when Sunset of Dallas sprung a surprise to battle the Wolves to a 6-6 tie.

Here is the state picture as the leaders prepare for Thanksgiving day games:

District 1—Amarillo undefeated, plays Pampa. Can be tied for championship through loss.

District 2—Childress, leading by a game, plays Quannah. Wichita Falls, in second place, meets Vernon. Wichita Falls can tie the Childress for title if latter loses and Wichita Falls wins.

District 3—San Angelo, undefeated, meets second-place Abilene which can tie for championship through victory.

District 4—Austin (El Paso) and El Paso High, both undefeated, meet for title.

District 5—Gainesville, undefeated, plays Sherman. Can be tied for championship through loss.

District 6 — McKinney already champion.

District 7 — North Side (Fort Worth), undefeated, plays Paschal (Fort Worth). Can be tied for title through loss.

District 8 — Dallas Tech plays North Dallas. Can tie championship through loss.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

TRADE. Industrial organizations are operating near capacity levels—plant expansion continues. . . . Holiday buying this week will be large because of Thanksgiving Thursday. . . . Unemployment figures being reduced but relief rolls continue in formidable proportions. . . . Cattle receipts will increase with cold snap. . . . Tobacco industry being watched on chance prices might slip. . . . New building operations easing due to loan conditions—booked contracts better. . . . Shoe industry has passed its seasonal peak—retail sales to increase. . . . Cotton textile industry in excellent statistical position with dry goods sales at best levels in years. . . . Woolen producers report increased demand. . . . New automobile sales volume as anticipated but disappointing because not better than set figures—due to weather conditions. . . . Maritime and warehousemen's labor difficulties did upset deliveries to merchandising outlets and will result of sales losses. . . . Employee salaries for December to be best since 1930. . . . Electric power consumption running at high rate. . . . Carloadings passing peak. . . . Steel industry active on new automobile company orders—rails, too, showing interest. . . . Demand for building supplies helps sales of lumber. . . . Fur demand large. . . . Gift merchandise market active with prices higher—deliveries hard to obtain. . . . Furniture market again showing renewed life. . . . Apparel industry active on spring styles. . . . Retail trade sales up as business gains continue impressive.

BONDS. For better yield Treasury 3s of 1946-48 being switched into Federal Farm 3s of 1944-49. . . . Crowley 5 1/2s of 1946 have a speculative following. . . . Your Laundry and Dry Cleaners

"Pampa's Largest and Most Modern"

BUDDY, WILL YA LEND ME TEN CENTS?

I CAN'T—

ALL I HAVE IS FIVE CENTS—I'M SORRY, SNOOK.

THAT'S ALL RIGHT BUDDY, I'LL TRUST YOU FOR THE OTHER FIVE CENTS.

I trust my friends, like Mom trusts. Your Laundry & Dry Cleaners, where she sends all the family wash. She says "trust them to keep woolsens like new, and to handle the most dainty fabrics with care." You can trust their low prices, too.

U. S. Pipe & Foundry's 1936 net estimated at $4 a share against 88 cents last year. . . . American Radiator's large amount of outstanding common—10,039,719 shares—prevent rapid rise in per share earnings. . . . Chesapeake & Ohio to place orders for 1,000 hopper cars, 500 all-steel box cars and 500 gondola cars. . . . For 1936 Allis Chalmers will show better than $3 a share. . . . Baltimore continues bullish on Continental Oil—has strong position. . . . Investment accounts ready to accumulate American Smelting on all recessions—as inflation hedge. . . . Advertising and circulation of Conde Nast publications show betterment. . . . At current levels United American Bosch is adequately priced. . . . American Sugar has an inflation following—company a refiner not a grower. . . . Small capitalization of McGraw Electric accounts for dull market action—newcomer to Big Board. . . . Professional traders switching U. S. Steel into Bethlehem Steel because common dividend possibilities. . . . And, that automobile insiders expect Willy-Overland to show larger percentage of increased production over next twelve months.

HERD TRAILED. ASHTOLA, Nov. 23 (AP)—The JA ranch delivered 3,900 yearlings to Jack Roach of Amarillo recently, the majority of the herd being trailed to Roach's ranch on Allen creek, east of here. The balance was shipped to his range in Randall county.

Siamese Twin Will Likely Get Well

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Simplicio Godino looked forward tonight to the prospect of getting out of bed soon because his brother, Lucio, is getting well. . . . Simplicio isn't sick, but he must stay in bed as long as Lucio does, for Simplicio and Lucio are Siamese twins. . . . Lucia has pneumonia. It developed from a cold he contracted while motoring with his brother and their wives from Greenville, N. C.

TALENTED YOUNGSTER

DALLAS, Nov. 23 (AP)—Virginia Strong, 9-year-old Dallas singer and dancer, and Nina Jean Cox, 5-year-old acrobatic dancer from McAllen, who rode all night last night in an automobile from her home to enter the finals, danced off with the Centennial trophies in the finals of the talent discovery contest today at the Centennial. Virginia won first prize and Nina Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Cox of McAllen, was second prize winner.

WEBB'S SISTER DIES SUDDENLY AT FUNERAL

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Nov. 23 (AP)—The strange and terrible fate that relentlessly pursued Captain Clarence Webb all this year, struck at him for a fourth time Saturday.

His sister fell dead at the funeral of his daughter, Fay Webb Vallee, divorced wife of Rudy Vallee.

Early this year, Mrs. Myrtle Webb, the captain's wife, died suddenly. A few months later, despite Webb's unceasing efforts, Fay divorced her singer husband.

Three days ago, Fay died after an abdominal operation.

Her father was standing beside her casket today. He saw his 69-year-old sister, Miss Winifred Webb, approaching among the mourners.

Miss Webb bent her head tenderly over the lifeless features of her niece. Suddenly the elderly woman clutched at her heart and sank to the floor—dead.

Green Declared He Was Texan Citizen

AUSTIN, Nov. 23 (AP)—A letter in which the late Col. H. E. Green declared himself a citizen of Texas was forwarded today to his widow by A. Garland Adair of Austin, chairman of the American Legion Museum commission.

Mrs. Mabel Green, the widow, is seeking to establish the multi-millionaire's legal residence in this state in a suit now being heard in a New York court.

Col. Green's letter, written in 1935, said in part: "... My residence is Terrell, Texas. I have never claimed any other home but Texas."

INFANT DIES

Geneva Lee Filippo, 11-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Filippo, died Friday afternoon at the home of her parents in White Deer. She is survived by her parents and one brother, Calvin. Funeral services were conducted at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the family home with the Rev. H. R. Coe, pastor of the White Deer Baptist church, officiating. Burial followed in White Deer cemetery under direction of G. C. Malone Funeral home.

Gilbert Loring had as guests Friday his parents and sister, Ruth, and Miss Janice Thompson, all of Plainview. They attended the Pampa-Plainview football game.

Pampa Woman's Playmates In Childhood Were Indians

Missionary Parents Lived in Mexico For Years

By HELEN PARTRIDGE

From the island of Corsica in Africa to Ireland, England, Scotland, and most every state in the United States goes the memory of Mrs. C. T. Nicholson of Pampa.

Mrs. Nicholson's father was a missionary in Africa and it was there that she was born. Her parents were from Ireland and Scotland. When the father was sent to Mexico in the '70s as a missionary and physician to the Laguna Pueblo Indians, Mrs. Nicholson was quite small and the long trip through the foreign countries before coming to the United States and Mexico are not as clear as the days spent with these Indians.

Until Mrs. Nicholson was nine years old her playmates were Navajo, Mexican and Laguna Indian children, all living in pueblos.

There are many of these pueblos along the Rio Grande and Jemez rivers. To the west of the Rio Grande are three of the largest and most important pueblos of New Mexico, namely Acoma, Laguna and Zuni. Laguna, now the largest and most modern of all the pueblos, lies on the transcontinental highway.

The Laguna Indians make fine pottery. Each clan has its own design. They did some basket making and also weaving. The Apaches are the basket makers, and the Navajos weave blankets.

There were many dances throughout the year. At the harvest dance everyone ate corn on the cob. A huge pit was dug and large stones put in it then the fire made. When the stones were the right heat, water was thrown on them, the ears of corn in the husk tossed in and all covered with earth and left to cook.

When they were done everyone ate corn and a big dance was held, the dancers all being dressed in dancing costume.

At the Christmas dance the little girls were all given Indian dolls, and the boys boys and arrows. The dolls were made of either round or flat pieces of wood. The eyes, nose, and mouth were painted and the rest of the doll painted and gaily decorated with feathers.

Mrs. Nicholson's school days were spent in Illinois, Ohio, and later in Albuquerque, New Mexico. One of the biggest thrills in Mrs. Nicholson's childhood was crossing the Ohio river in a row boat to speak a piece in Kentucky.

It would take a book to cover Mrs. Nicholson's life, and it would be interesting.

'GEORGIA PEACH' ASKS $1,000,000 IN ACTION

DALLAS, Nov. 23 (AP)—Seventeen married Mrs. Virginia Cogswell, 28-year-old former beauty queen, once called the "Georgia Peach," sued the Frank Rubenstein Store company of New York for $1,000,000 today for alleged breach of contract.

The charming woman, who won the "Miss Georgia" title in 1924, asked damages because, she said, the company replaced her as manager of a Dallas store without giving a contracted two-weeks' notice. She said the act caused her to suffer a heart attack.

The oft-married widow, born Virginia Overshiner, said she was through with marriage.

"I'm writing a book," she said, "called 'Seven and Out.' The first part of the title refers to my seven marriages. The 'out' means I'm through."

Mrs. Cogswell estimated her husband's aggregate wealth to have been more than $10,000,000, and boasted she had "never asked a single one for alimony."

Alaheed Faculty Defeats Mobetteie

ALANREED, Nov. 23.—The Alanreed school faculty basketball team defeated the Mobetteie Profs here Thursday night in a thrilling contest 47-39. The game featured many long counters and a close score throughout the game.

At the half the game was even with each team having 20 points. Early in the third quarter the local profs pulled away and held a leading margin until the game was over. The Alanreed team consists of the five male members of the faculty and one bus driver.

They have played three games so far this season. Two of the games have been played with the LeFors profs. Each team winning on its own court. A third game will be played with the LeFors team here Monday night with both teams confident of a win.

These pre-season games are in preparation for a proposed conference faculty team in this section.
